R.F.C. REFUSES IOWA'S LOAN PLEA

Demos Claim Iowa Majority in Coming Elections

Predict More Than 100,000 Vote Victory

Native State of Hoover to Change Banners, Say Leaders

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Iowa, President Hoover's native state, was claimed tonight for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket by two of its Democratic leaders.

"Iowa, which normally goes Republican by a 100,000 majority, will this year reverse the order and give a much larger majority to Governor Roosevelt and Speaker Garner," said Charles D. Huston, state chairman.

Sweep State, County, Village

He claimed the ticket not only would sweep the state, but would be victorious even in the president's native county and native village of West Branch.

Richard F. Mitchell, national committeeman, said he had seen many indications already of a "great Democratic majority."

Iowa's electoral votes have been in the Republican column in 14 out of the last 15 presidential elections.

Among the other political developments of the day were:

Confess on Senate Seat

Charles S. Whitman, whom "Al" Smith succeeded as governor of New York in 1928, conferred with W. Kingsland Macy, Republican state chairman, about the possibility of his running for the U. S. senate seat now occupied by Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner.

Charles Hand, former secretary to Mayor Walker, who worked for "Al" Smith before the Chicago convention, was appointed campaign aide to Speaker Garner. He will accompany the Democratic vice presidential nominee on his tours.

Sign Favors Demos

W. W. Howes, Democratic national committeeman from South Dakota, representative of his state, North Dakota, Iowa and Minnesota on the campaign advisory committee, said the "enormous Democratic primary vote" in those states this year "indicates better than anything else the way the wind is blowing."

All four states, he predicted, will give Roosevelt sizeable majorities.

Iowa City Voters Slow to Register at Polling Booths

Voters

Only three more days to register. Places: first ward, court house; second ward, city hall; third ward, C.S.P.S. hall; fourth ward, American Legion Community building; and fifth ward, Iowa City Bottling works. Polls are open from 7 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Iowa City voters yesterday appeared reluctant to go to the polls and register.

Complete figures for yesterday's registration were not available last night, but registration clerks and deputies said the response from the voters was less than they had ever seen.

Date for registration was set early this year to allow time to complete the records of the new permanent system, recently purchased jointly by the city and the county. This fact was given yesterday as partial reason for the lack of response.

The registration stations will be open three more days from 7 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Japan Wants Explanation of Stimson Talk

League of Nations Sees Friendly Gesture in Speech

TOKYO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Indignant at Secretary of State Stimson's references to Japan's line of action in Manchuria, the foreign office today called for a detailed report of his Monday night address in New York with a view of protesting to Washington.

The Japanese embassy in the American capital was instructed to make clear exactly what the secretary said. The foreign office may make "suitable representations" in the event that the official version bears out press accounts of the address.

Refers to Jap War

The chief point of Colonel Stimson's speech was that the Briand-Kellogg treaty outlawing war implicitly provides for consultation among the signers to mobilize moral disapproval of acts of aggression. In explaining this point the secretary referred to the Sino-Japanese conflict, noting that the United States, and subsequently the league, informed Japan and China that no settlement resulting from the use of arms would be recognized.

Tokyo officials said they especially disliked what they described as an unmistakable implication that Japan was the aggressor in Manchuria against whom the whole world organized and mobilized as never before.

Voice Indignation

All of today's afternoon papers gave prominent display to interviews with the foreign office spokesman in which he was quoted as voicing indignation over the Manchurian references in the Stimson speech. Influential official elements were behind the move to make representations to Washington.

Geneva, Aug. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Stimson's New York speech was interpreted by League of Nations commentators today as a solid basis for cordial—although independent—cooperation with the league by the United States.

Consultation Inevitable

League commentators especially emphasized what they declared was a reversal of the doctrine of neutrality, as well as realization by the American secretary that consultation by the United States on world problems is inevitable.

Colonel Stimson's reiteration of the policy of refusing to recognize set-

AS BROADWAY ACCLAIMED LIBBY HOLMAN

Four interesting studies of Libby Holman Reynolds as she was known to New York theatrical audiences when at the height of her fame as a "torch singer." It was while appearing in the "Little Show" that Libby first met Smith Reynolds for whose alleged murder she must stand trial.

Local Mercury to 87 Degrees, Back Again to 77 at Night

Marching back up the scale, Iowa City temperature reached a high mark of 87 degrees yesterday. Along with the hotter than usual weather, the air was more than ordinarily heavy and sultry.

The ragged clouds which came in from the west Monday night thickened after midnight and let fall .03 of an inch of rain. By morning they had all disappeared.

Last night, spotty clouds came again from the west, thickening slowly. By 7 p.m., the mercury had dropped to 77 degrees.

Libby Wants Murder Trial to Start Soon

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., Aug. 9 (AP)—Libby Holman's whereabouts remained a deep secret tonight, more than 24 hours after the former Broadway singer made a brief court appearance to surrender and make bond on a charge of slaying her young tobacco millionaire husband, Smith Reynolds.

Her father, Alfred Holman of Cincinnati, looking haggard as a result of strain, would not say where Libby had gone, and her local attorneys asserted they did not know.

Rides by Night

One of them, Benet Polkoff, indicated she was probably riding by night and resting by day to avoid the stress of the curious. Polkoff revealed that this arrangement had been followed when she baffled officers of several states seeking to arrest her, and arrived unannounced in Wentworth, a village 50 miles from here, yesterday, to give herself up and provide bond.

The Winston-Salem lawyer admitted he knew his client planned to leave Reidsville, where she had gone after the bail proceedings, yesterday, as soon as she was rested, but said he was uninformed of her detailed plans.

Flees at 2 a.m.

After resting several hours in the seclusion of her hotel room, the singer, wearing a natty sports costume slipped out of the hotel at 2 a.m., entered an automobile, and sped swiftly into the darkness.

Since then there has been no word of where she is.

Polkoff said he did not know where the singer had gone, but expected to confer with her within a week or 10 days. She will advise him where to come, he said, when she feels strong enough to discuss with him her defense against the state's allegation that she and Albert Walker, young chum of her husband, were responsible for the latter's death from a pistol wound, July 6, after a corn whiskey party at the family estate.

Wants Early Trial

No definite defense plans have been made but Libby wants an early trial, her attorney said.

Her first concern, he said, is the protection of her unborn child; her next, vindication of the murder charge.

Asked if it was likely his client would be prepared for trial at the Oct. 3 term of court here, the next regular term, the attorney answered:

Depends on Doctor

"We hope so. It all depends upon what the doctor says."

Solicitor Carlisle Higgins has given no indication of his plans, except that he does not expect to call the case for a special term scheduled for Sept. 5.

Holman left by train for Cincinnati this afternoon. He refused again to say anything about where Libby had gone, or her plans.

Communists to Meet

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Charles Gay, chairman of the Iowa election campaign committee, announced that a state communist party convention would be held here Aug. 27 and 28.

Resent Tax

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—The State Bankers association was in receipt of reports from a number of Iowa bankers that there is a strong resentment to the present operation of the new federal tax of two cents on checks.

Money Must Go Through State Banks

Rule Iowa's Proposals Will Not Help Unemployed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Iowa's hopes of obtaining a $20,000,000 loan for its state sinking fund for public deposits were blanketed today by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Attorney General John Fletcher and State Treasurer Ray Johnson were told by officers of the corporation that it could not lend money directly to the state as proposed.

Banks May Borrow

The Iowa officers were advised to seek aid from state banks within the state. The banks would be in a position to obtain loans from the corporation, it was pointed out.

Advisers to the corporation held the view that as the relief bill passed by congress provided for loans only for purposes that will create employment and that the Iowa proposal would not come in this class.

Would Pay Claims

Of the $20,000,000 sought by Iowa about $15,000,000 would have been used to pay outstanding claims against the sinking fund, $2,500,000 to retire outstanding warrants and a like amount to meet future claims.

Refusal of the corporation to make the loan will have no effect on the request Gov. Dan Turner of Iowa plans to make for between $6,000,000 and $10,000,000 for relief work, or on loans sought for closed Iowa banks.

Special Law Takes Effect in Germany

Death Penalty Invoked to Curb Political Riots

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—The government tonight invoked extraordinary powers, including the death penalty, in an effort to put a stop to outbursts of political violence which have resulted in the killing of at least 140 persons and serious injuries to more than 1,000 since June 1.

With the approval of President Paul von Hindenburg, three emergency decrees were issued by Chancellor von Papen.

One of these extended the political truce to Sept. 1. Another set up heavy penalties, including sentence of death, for acts of terrorism. The third instituted special "speed" courts to deal summarily with offenders.

Critical Situation

The situation was considered so critical that the government did not wait for President von Hindenburg to return from his country estate at Neudeck in East Prussia. The substance of the three decrees was conveyed to the president by telephone, and he approved them.

Meanwhile Adolf Hitler, whose Nazi storm troopers are held accountable for much of the violence, took steps to check the political passions of his followers.

Furious because of outbursts in which storm troop detachments participated, notably in East Prussia and Schleswig-Holstein, Herr Hitler issued most stringent orders that discipline must be maintained.

Statistics Not Available

Complete statistics on the casualties since Lieut. Col. von Papen became chancellor June 1 are not available. But it is certain that the dead include 50 communists, 18 members of the Republican reichsbanner organization, 27 Nazis, one member of the Steel Helmet War Veterans organization, five policemen and 39 innocent bystanders, including four women.

Opposition newspapers expressed fear that the government has moved too late to put an end to the riots and sabotage which have kept Germany in turmoil for weeks. But members of the cabinet voiced the belief that the emergency decrees were sufficiently drastic to stamp out the regime of terror.

Child Burns

ROCK RAPIDS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Luette Lucille, 18 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aeltis, who live northeast of here, was burned to death in the yard of her parents home. She was playing with a 5 year old brother. How the fire started was not known.

Detain Agent

DAVENPORT, Aug. 9 (AP)—Police detained D. F. Ellsworth, federal narcotic agent from Des Moines, for several hours because it was alleged he forced three Moine, Ill., youths into his car and drove several miles into the country to question them about a government case.

Chicago Lawyer Named District Judge by Hoover

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—George E. Q. Johnson, United States attorney at Chicago, and his young assistant, Dwight H. Green—both leading actors in the courtroom drama that climaxed in the imprisonment of Al Capone—were promoted by President Hoover today. Johnson to be a district judge and Green to the district attorneyship.

Johnson was named judge for the northern district of Illinois. Both are recess appointments and must be confirmed by the next senate.

Elevation of the two federal prosecutors marked the third promotion awarded by the president for those who were active in sending the notorious Chicago gangster to the penitentiary.

Last March Mr. Hoover nominated Judge James H. Wilkerson, who sentenced Capone, to the circuit court bench, but the appointment never got out of the senate judiciary committee and it died with adjournment. He can be given a recess appointment or his name resubmitted when congress convenes in December.

Several public hearings were held on the Wilkerson nomination, Senator Glenn (R., Ill.), leading the defense of the jurist against charges of discrimination in his granting of an injunction in 1922 in the railway shopmen's strike.

Warrants Not Taken

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—The attorney general's department held that poor fund warrants stamped "not paid for want of funds" cannot be received by the county treasurer for payment of ordinary taxes. The opinion was requested by County Attorney John S. Gwynne of Waterloo.

Faculty Men Aid in Survey

Results of Research by Ruckmick, Stoddard Appear in Article

"To the movies—but not to sleep," is the title of the first of three articles to be published in McCall's magazine, dealing with the work of Prof. George D. Stoddard and Prof. Christian A. Ruckmick, among others, in studying the effect of motion pictures upon children.

Professor Stoddard, who is director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station, and Professor Ruckmick of the psychology department, are both members of the Motion Picture Research council which has been directing a four-year investigation on the subject.

The research, supported by the Payne fund, has analyzed the influences of various motion pictures upon the sleep, health, and conduct of America's children.

A third Iowa citizen, the Rev. Wendell S. Dyringer, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, has also been associated with the project of the council, having worked under the direction of Professor Ruckmick.

Henry James Forman is the author of the articles, the first of which has just been released in the September issue of McCall's. While these articles deal more especially with popular interest in the findings of the research, it is planned to later publish seven or eight volumes on the technical aspects of the investigations.

British Nations Still Disagree

Britain, Canada Fail to Reach Terms in Trade Parley

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 (AP)—Britain and Canada were as far as ever from a new trade agreement today but Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of the dominion has laid by a stock of reserve ammunition in the event of a breakdown in negotiations.

The list of manufactures on which he offered the British tariff concessions in the Canadian market, in return for preferences in the British market on Canada's agricultural products, did not contain all the items about which Mr. Bennett was prepared to negotiate.

Still May Negotiate

It was revealed that the prime minister has gone as far as he can on the basis of the commodities included in his original offer. But the British rejection of that offer as inadequate did not close the door to further negotiations.

Representatives of American interests here were concerned about whether Mr. Bennett's "spare ammunition" meant an offer of preferential treatment for additional iron and steel products and cotton textiles. Any such program would affect adversely the trade of the United States with Canada.

Two Main Barriers

Two principal barriers stood in the way of an agreement between Canada and Britain. The British have not received all they asked in the matter of modifying arbitrary valuation of imports by Canada for duty purposes and Canada has received no preference on wheat from the British.

Scrubwoman Adventurer Finds Happiness on Southern Shores

GRAND ISLE, La., Aug. 9 (AP)—Randi Lerohl, the Wisconsin scrubwoman who braved the terrors and discomforts of a trip in an open boat down the Mississippi in search of sunshine and peace, has found the happy land she sought.

Iowans who remember the graying, independent, poorly clothed woman as she struggled with the elements last winter, and those who helped her with encouragement and aid in several Iowa river cities will be interested in knowing that she maintains that staunch independence among the descendants of the pirate Jean Lafitte.

Natives of many extractions offered frugal hospitality when she came here three months ago. She refused it. She is left alone, but apparently is happy.

The coast guard takes care of her. Her skiff was towed to the sheltered water of Bay Des Lettes and anchored.

She basks in the warm sun of the Gulf of Mexico, and hopes to find by scrubbing miles of floors up relief from the ailments brought on north.

To the island's post office and store she comes once each month. She buys provisions with the old large one-dollar bills and asks for letters from St. Paul—letters with money in them. On the latest trip she bought cord, and said she would make a crabbing net.

Iowa Republican Criticizes Democrats

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Congressman Cyrenus Cole of Cedar Rapids, Ia., charged tonight that the "Democratic publicity machine is attempting to delude the farmer with half truths and distorted facts" in connection with President Hoover's pocket veto of the Norbeck agricultural credit bill.

The Iowa Republican said the Norbeck bill was passed during the confusion of the final hours of the last session of congress and that no one noticed it was a duplication of work already provided for by the Reconstruction Finance corporation act.

Cole pointed out that the Finance corporation is authorized to set up 12 agricultural credit corporations throughout the country which will be able to furnish about a quarter billion dollars credit to farmers.

Tuesday Morning Beer Party Costs Anciaux, Bock $30

For a few bottles of beer, Carl Anciaux, 417 S. Capitol street, and Paul Bock, 830 E. Jefferson street, paid a total of $30 and trial costs yesterday.

They were arrested at 2 a.m. yesterday after complaints had been made by citizens. They were placed in jail, but Mrs. Anciaux took her husband out in trust.

Not more than 45 minutes later, police were called by the driver of one of the Swamer dairy company's milk wagons. Anciaux had ventured out in his car a second time and had crashed into the milk wagon in the 1100 block on N. Dodge street.

He was found a short time later at University hospital, where he had gone to have some cuts, which he received in the accident, patched up. He and Bock were fined by Justice of the Peace Elias J. Huxley. Anciaux was charged $25 and Bock $5 for intoxication.

British Flyer Reveals Love

Tells of Five Year Affair on Witness Stand

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 9 (AP)—Capt. W. N. Lancaster's mental anguish at the loss of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller's love was brought into court records today by the flyer himself in his trial for the slaying of Haden Clarke, young author who supervised Lancaster in Mrs. Keith-Miller's affections.

Lancaster's testimony was the story of a man in love for five years, his love upholding him through financial reverses until he learned that the woman he had loved since he flew with her from London to Australia in 1927, had decided in his absence in search of funds, to marry Clarke.

Heard Rumors

"I felt pretty blue when I learned that news," Lancaster testified. "I had heard rumors of their love affair while I was in Los Angeles on business, but did not believe the rumors until I got to St. Louis on my way home.

"Then," the British flyer said slowly, "I received two letters from Haden and two from Chubbie (Mrs. Keith-Miller)."

Told Marriage Plans

The letters told Lancaster that Clarke and the aviatrix had fallen in love during his absence as they worked on a book portraying her life story. They told him of their plans to marry, the defendant testified.

"I was puzzled. I didn't know what to do."

"Finally I sent the pair a telegram wishing them luck."

"No Dog"

"Am no dog in manager," was the terse opening sentence of the measure.

Former Champion Shows Might in New York Subway Fire

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, was a hero of the underground fire which trapped thousands of New York subway riders today.

After some difficulty, Tunney forced open a door in one subway car in which frightened passengers were stalled with him. Then he placed a long subway seat from his train to another train parallel with it, and tried his own weight on the improvised bridge before permitting other passengers to follow him. The bridge crossed a third rail.

A Daily Hint to Hostesses on Tempting Appetites While It's Hot

Luncheon Dish

A delightful main dish for a luncheon, suggested by Mrs. C. H. Weller, 18 S. Governor street, is Jellied Ham and Vegetable Salad. The salad is doubly attractive to the hostess for it includes vegetables as well as meats. Mrs. Weller's recipe is as follows:

- 1 pint boiling water
- 2 tbsp. beef extract
- 1/2 teas. celery salt
- 1/2 teas. onion salt
- 1 minced pimento
- 1/4 c. mixed cook peas

- 3/4 c. shredded cabbage
 - 3/4 c. diced cucumber
 - 1 c. diced cooked ham
 - 1 1/2 tbsp. gelatin
 - Mayonnaise and lettuce
- Add the seasoning and beef extract to the boiling water. Then stir in the gelatin which should be allowed to stand in cold water to barely cover. Add the vegetable and ham. Let mixture stand until it barely begins to congeal. Then transfer to individual molds which have been lightly rubbed with olive oil. When stiff, unmold and garnish with lettuce and dressing.

New Interest Seen as Wild Life School Nears Finish

McGREGOR, Aug. 9 (AP)—Increased interest is being shown in the wild life school now in its final week here. Additional students are arriving daily.

In a recent speech before the nature lovers, Mrs. Frances E. Whitley of Webster City, chairman for Iowa of the Garden Clubs of America, declared:

"Sometimes I think that the whole geology of the state is being massed up by rock gardens. In the souvenir spoon craze of a few years ago, folks were reminded of their travels by spoons marked 'Atlantic City' or 'Washington'; now they remember the places they have been by rocks collected hither and yon."

"May God pity us when we forget to play." I. T. Bode, newly elected state game warden, said in another address. "People are demanding places to play in the out-of-doors, and their demands are becoming more insistent."

Society Woman Sinks Slowly

Mrs. McCormick Loses Ground; Chances Doubtful

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Hope for the recovery of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, ill in a "Gold Coast" hotel, waned today.

Attendees described her chances as "very doubtful" but said they expected no danger point for "two weeks or more."

Her sickbed was in the Drake hotel, fashionable hostelry of the near north side and adjacent to the great stone mansion which she closed less than a month ago.

The health and fortune of the "world's richest woman" had given way almost simultaneously, announced Edward Krenn, Swiss architect who came to this country with Mrs. McCormick many years ago and has been her business associate and social escort.

Tonight her three children hurried to the bedside. Fowler McCormick and Muriel McCormick Hubbard were already here. Mathilde McCormick Oser, who married a Swiss riding master without her mother's consent, was in Cherbourg, France, ready to sail tomorrow on the Majestic for New York.

Mrs. McCormick, the daughter of John D. Rockefeller and estranged from him since her divorce from Harold F. McCormick in 1921, is 59 years old. Her ailment, according to physicians, is a general rundown condition due partly to financial worries.

Show Interest in Government at Convention

Williams of Tuckahoe, N. Y., national president, and Mrs. Gwendolyn W. MacDowell, national secretary.

On this afternoon's program were round table discussions on Americanism, national defense, family care, community service, rehabilitation, and unit activities. Past presidents met for their annual dinner tonight.

Party Heads O. K. Speech

Republican Managers Scan Hoover's Address

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Members of the Republican high command, in conference late today with President Hoover, discussed and perfected campaign plans for the eastern battleground and placed a stamp of approval upon the chief executive's nearly-completed acceptance speech.

Senator Hebert of Rhode Island, eastern manager for the Republican campaign and an opponent of prohibition, reported upon leaving the White House he had surveyed that section of the president's address dealing with the dry laws and had found it "satisfactory."

Hebert was accompanied to his second White House conference of the day by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, eastern manager of the Republican campaign in 1928. Moses conferred twice with Mr. Hoover yesterday, and it was understood authoritatively that he, too, had scanned the president's words upon prohibition. He declined to speak publicly about the matter, however.

The Rhode Island senator, asked about the president's coming statement on the wet and dry issue, replied: "I think it will satisfy my views."

But beyond saying further that Mr. Hoover's words upon this question would be "general," he would not amplify his statement.

Sportively Speaking

By Ron Tallman

With the big part of the Olympics over with, track and field athletes of the world are now casting their eyes toward the many post-Olympic meets planned within the next few weeks.

First of these meets is the United States-British Empire competition at San Francisco this Sunday, in which Iowa sports fans should have special interest.

Then follows the big meet at Soldier Field in Chicago the night of Aug. 18, with premier performers of many nations of the world competing.

White Saling is not at all certain, nor is Ed Gordon, broad jump champion, it is entirely possible that he will compete in Chicago in the 400 meter event in an effort to crack the world mark of 52 seconds which he came close to in his only two races at this distance this summer.

On the possibility of Saling and Gordon competing at Chicago, John O'Donnell, sports editor of the Davenport Democrat, made the following comment in his column "Sports Chats":

Continuing, "Coach Bresnahan has produced Olympic winners before, but Saling has given him more publicity than any other Old Gold athlete. George did not emerge the winner in the trials at Palo Alto, but when it came to putting out the supreme effort, Saling was tried and not found wanting. He equalled the world record in the hurdles and to the spectators' surprise, came through with the honors in the broad jump.

Paavo Nurmi, on the sidelines while the Olympic marathon he had hoped to win was being run and won by Juan Carlos Zabala, was quoted afterward by saying the course was "easy" and that he believed he could cover it in 2 hours and 20 minutes.

The new found spirit of the Chicago Cubs and the continued fall of the Pittsburgh Pirates gives hopes to baseball fans in this locality of seeing a world's series in Chicago this fall.

This Bruins, evidently bolstering their reserves in the event they compete in a world series, added another infielder to their roster of youngsters.

It is quite a break for Mr. Koenig. Coming as he does from a tall end team in a minor league to a team which has visions of winning a pennant, he has prospects of making considerably more.

Japanese 800 Meter Free Style Relay Team Sets New World Mark

37.8 Seconds Cut From Old World Mark

Australian Girl Wins 1st in 200 Meter Breast Stroke

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Japan won its second swimming championship of the tenth Olympiad here today when a speedy quartet of sprint swimmers captured the 800 meter free style relay by 10 meters before 10,000 persons. The United States was second.

Clare Dennis, 16 year old girl, from Sidney, Australia, sent that nation's flag to the championship mast for the first time during the games when she won the 200 meter breast stroke final.

The winner's time in the relay was 37.8 seconds faster than the former Olympic record set by the United States in 1928, with the Yankees, Hungary, which was third, and Canada, fourth, all under the former mark.

The Japanese jumped into the lead from the start. Y. Miyazaki, who set an Olympic record in the final of the 100 meter free style, built up a four meter lead over Frank Booth of the United States, swimming the distance in 2:14 flat.

In the 200 meter breast stroke the United States entries were completely outclassed, finishing fifth, sixth and seventh respectively, as the Australian school girl, set a new Olympic record of 3:06.3, bettering her own Olympic mark of Saturday.

Miss Dennis also again eclipsed the recognized world's record of 3:14 set in 1929 by Hilda Schrader, Germany.

Summaries 800 meter free style relay finals (men) won by Japan (Y. Miyazaki, M. Yusa, H. Toyoka, T. Yokoyama); second United States (Frank Booth, George Fisser, Malola Kallil, Manuella Kallil); third, Hungary; fourth, Canada; fifth, Great Britain; sixth, Argentina, seventh Brazil.

Time 3:58.4 (new Olympic record. Old Olympic record 9 minutes 36.2 seconds by United States, 1928. Mark probably will be recognized as world record. Relay records previously not recognized by I.S.F.)

200-meter breast-stroke finals (women). Won by Clare Dennis, Australia. Second, Hideo Maehata, Japan; third, Elise Jacobsen, Denmark; fourth, Margery Hinton, Great Britain; fifth, Margaret Hoffman, U.S.; sixth, Anne Vozednik, U.S.A.; seventh, Jane Cadwell, U.S.A.

Time 3:06.3. New Olympic record. Better world's record.

Old Olympic record set by Miss Dennis last Saturday at 3:08.2. Recognized world's record 3:14 set by Hilda Schrader, Germany, 1929.

Bunnies Upset Rocks CEDAR RAPIDS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Eddie Myers held Rock Island to four hits tonight and the Bunnies resumed their winning ways by hitting Mills in the pinches for a 4 to 2 victory. Seghi, rookie Cedar Rapids third baseman, fielded brilliantly to cut off several promising Islander rallies.

Issues Warrants DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Fred Porter, acting state auditor, issued warrants for $34,639 representing the cost for caring for about 3,000 indigent patients in the state University hospital during July. This sum included $51,982 for board and room, $15,445 for special fees and $16,308 for transportation.

Of the more than 318,000 retailers of gasoline in the United States, only 38.5 per cent are filling stations, says the commerce department.

Charley Retzlaff Battered Down in First by Spaniard

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Isador Gastanaga, Spanish heavyweight, knocked out Charley Retzlaff, the Duluth dynamiter, in the first round of their 10 round fight at the Queensboro stadium tonight.

Retzlaff did not have time to land one solid blow in the brief battle. They both came out of their corners swinging hard and Gastanaga landed the first wallop, a hard right to the jaw. He followed it with a left that opened a cut under Charley's left eye and then smacked him with a left hook to the jaw that sent the Minnesotan down for a count of nine.

Retzlaff arose and promptly ran into a crashing right to the chin that sent him down for a seven count. Staggering from the punishment, the Duluth lad came back for more and got it in the form of a left and right that sent him down for the third and last time.

A general revision of team standings resulted from last night's play in the local diamond ball leagues.

The other contest in the Hawkeye league found the Bell System boys nosing out the Knights of Pythias, 11 to 10, and switching positions, the lodge team dropping to last place.

The T. Dell Kelley entrant continued its fast pace to hang up a win over the last place Coralville 10 by 8 to 1. The remaining contest in the Municipal league saw the Swanner's outfit raising a third place tie with the Knights of Columbus by a resounding 25 to 5 win over the Terraplanes.

Betts Holds Leaders to Four Blows

BOSTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Huck Betts, star righthander for the Boston Braves, handed the Pirates a 4-0 shutout today, giving the Braves their third win in a row over the league leaders and the Pirates their tenth straight defeat.

The Tribe fell on Remy Kremer for three runs in the second inning, on three consecutive hits and a long fly to the outfield. Harris, who succeeded Kremer, allowed but one hit until the eighth, when he retired for a pinch hitter.

The Braves picked up another run in the eighth, off Glenn Spencer.

Betts was in rare form and was never in trouble. The four hits obtained by the Pirates were scattered over six innings.

Baxter Jorgan, new Tribal first sacker obtained from Baltimore to replace Art Shires, fielded sensationally, hit a single and stole a base.

Errors Costly to Hubbell, Giants

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs got within striking distance of the National league lead, only a half game behind the wobbling Pittsburgh Pirates, as they came from behind in the ninth inning today to defeat the Giants, 4 to 3.

Up to the last stanza Carl Hubbell had a slight edge in a mottled but a slug tinning. But with two out in the ninth and a runner on second, Hubbell dropped Terry's toss to first and then threw wild to the plate and let the tying run score. Woody English then singled to send Bill Herman home with the winning tally.

Sends Tribe Full Contest Behind A's

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9 (AP)—Although forced from the box in the ninth, "General" Alvin Crowder lasted long enough today to outpitch Mel Harder and give Washington a 4 to 2 victory over Cleveland.

The triumph gave the Senators an even break in the four game series and pushed the Indians a full game below the second place Philadelphia Athletics, rained out at Chicago.

The Senators jumped into a quick lead, nicking Harder for three hits and two runs in the first inning. Crowder protected it with air-tight hurling with the exception of two frames.

Manush and Cronin, each with a triple and two singles, supplied the winning punch and accounted for six of the Senator's eight hits.

The Indians got seven hits off Crowder, who was relieved by Marberry in the ninth after Tribe had scored one run, and had the tying runs on bases with two men out. Marberry then forced Cissel to ground to him for an easy out.

Comment of the Most Exacting Film Critic in New York

"Freaks" is a little gem; there can be no doubt about that. It stands in a class by itself, and probably won't be forgotten in a hurry by those who see it. I don't think that everyone on earth should see it. It's certainly not for susceptible young people—if there are any of those left—and it's not for those people who find it difficult anyway to work up an appetite. As a very special case, though, as a little venture into the grisly and the gruesome, it has its remarkable qualities, and leads our gullest fancy into curious fields of speculation.

... Its morbidity lies beyond the boundaries of anything like dear, simple sex, and no one could imagine that the film would exert a subversive influence...

... Considered as a straight horror picture, "Freaks" differs from others of its kind, like "Dr. Jekyll" or "Frankenstein," in its strict realism. It's a perfectly plausible story...

Saling Will Compete in Coast Meet

Olympic Champion George Saling will run his first high hurdle race since his international triumph when he competes in the United States-British Empire dual meet at San Francisco Sunday.

But he won't renew his hurdling feud with Jack Keller of Ohio state, for his rival, who placed fourth in the Olympic race, has returned to his home in Columbus.

Saling rested for three days after his Olympic triumph but began workouts again Sunday, according to information from the star received here yesterday. He reports that he is in first class condition.

It is his hope that he will have a chance to run the 400-meter hurdles in one of the post-Olympic meets, attempting to set a new world's record. He ran within one-tenth of the mark of 52 seconds in the sectional trials here in June.

Gordon Undecided It is his hope that he probably will not compete in the international meet in Chicago August 18 so that all of the rest of his races this summer will be run on the Pacific coast.

Edward Gordon, the Iowan who won the Olympic broad jump, is reported to be undecided about further competition this month. There is a possibility, however, that he will enter the Chicago meet.

Northwestern Plans to Continue Grid Broadcasts in Fall

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 9 (AP)—Northwestern university will permit radio broadcasting of all its home football games again next season, Director of Athletics Kenneth "Fug" Wilson said today.

"While we know that broadcasting does cut down attendance at football games, we feel that we should continue broadcasting for the benefit of those loyal fans, who can't afford to come out in these times."

MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY
BY ANTHONY ABBOT

SYNOPSIS

At 11:30 on New Year's Eve, Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt arrives at the exclusive Mayfair Club in response to a mysterious summons from District Attorney Merle Dougherty. The latter informs Colt he believes Lola Carewe, known as "The Night-Club Lady", widow of Gaylord Gifford, the cotton millionaire is the "higher-up" responsible for numerous jewel robberies perpetrated recently which baffle the police. Though her husband died practically penniless, Lola lives in luxury. She arrives at the Mayfair accompanied by Vincent Rowland, an attorney. At Lola's urgent request, Colt joins her party. She voices the fear that she will not leave Mayfair alive, adding that her dog and parrot were mysteriously killed. And, tonight, she received a note threatening death before three a. m. Accompanied by detectives and one woman operative, Colt goes with Lola to her apartment.

CHAPTER FIVE

In silence we rode up the elevator shaft to the pent-house which Lola Carewe called her home,—an aerie perched high in the New York skyline like the nest of some predatory bird. On the twenty-second floor, our way led down a long, heavily carpeted corridor, mysterious in its dim light, to the foot of an iron staircase leading up to the pent-house door. Still without talk, we began the ascent of those steps. Four times the iron staircase turned in its climb to Lola's dwelling place. At each landing, I noticed that Thatcher Colt held back the party while he turned first, Dougherty, puffing and blowing, kept pace bravely with him; Lola followed, with Vincent Rowland, Harris, and myself bringing up the rear.

At the top of the stairs, we found the detail from Headquarters. In charge of the party was Lieutenant Falkner, Colt's personal staff, with Detectives Langley and Schwartz, and a group of lesser known men, with one of our girl operatives, Dorothy Cox, an ample housewife with a blonde, later famous for her help to Colt in the Chinatown Seven Murders case.

As Fallon saluted, he reported: "I got the building plans from the office downstairs; they think it's a burglar scare. We can guard every window and door of the pent-house, except the ones that open on a sheer drop to the street, with plenty of men for the terrace and roof—and you can use Miss Lox inside."

"Let me see the lay-out."

The chief studied the paper—a printed diagram showing the floor plans of the pent-house.

"Very good," he said, after a moment. "Let's go!"

Waving aside the key Lola offered him, Colt rang the apartment bell. Fallon saluted and nodded toward the other detectives, who scattered toward the places assigned to them. All approaches to the pent-house were now under heavy police guard.

The door was opened by a short and rather stout Chinaman, with a completely bald head, and a face inexpressibly homely. The yellow man was wearing a house-robe of green silk, loose-flowing, girdled with a rope sash and ornamented with a pattern of dragons wrought in golden thread. Rich apparel for a man-servant! He was a bizarre apparition, our first encounter with Lola Carewe's singular household.

I wondered if Colt would not compare him with a pensive sea-elephant in repose. Standing with his yellow hands folded at his thighs, and his large head slightly swaying from side to side, the Oriental butler said, evenly and distinctly: "A happy new year to you, madame, after the custom of the forty-eight states of this independent country."

"Thanks, Chung!" The mistress of the pent-house seemed to accept her butler's round salutation as merely a casual greeting. I wondered if he pattered around these rooms all day long making heroic speeches like that. Or whether he was just another player in a show that Lola Carewe was staging—for what possible purpose?

We were in a small reception hall and the front door of the apartment had clanged shut, closing us in. The air was stiflingly warm. Later we were to find the whole apartment overheated. Chung took our wraps and waddled to a closet. We were about to follow our hostess down the broad corridor, when the Commissioner said:

"Miss Carewe, you are not to be in any room alone at any time. When I cannot be with you, Miss Lox here must attend you."

With a martyr's smile, Lola agreed.

"Anything else?" she inquired. "I shall wish to make a tour of your apartment, terrace, and roof. I want to see every room. Then I should like to meet all the members of your household."

Before Lola could reply, a young woman in maid's costume hastened down the corridor.

"Mother awake, Eunice?" asked Lola quickly.

"She retired to her room hours ago. The door is closed."

"And Christine?"

"Still out on her New Year party, madame."

"Awaken my mother, at once. Tell her not to worry, but the police are here. They may want to talk with her. Now, Mr. Colt"—as the maid darted off—"we shall begin your tour of my little home. This door leads out to the terrace."

The apartment formed an immense rectangle, two sides of which opened on the flag-stoned terrace, now deep in slush. Borrowing a pocket torch from one of the detectives, Thatcher Colt led the way out into the raw and gusty night. The exploring circle of his electric lamp came to rest on the icy rungs of a perpendicular ladder fixed into the bricks of the nearest wall. Still in top hat and evening coat, the Commissioner quickly counted the slippery ascent and reached the roof. Bent forward against the wind he personally examined every square foot of the roof. Descending again, he traversed all the area of the terrace. But he found nothing. Indeed he could feel secure for there was not the slightest evidence in the slush of one human footfall.

The area above and around the pent-house was empty in the clasp of the storm.

Shivering and wet, we returned inside, leaving a man on the sleety roof and two on the storm-swept terrace. Lola was at the door and led us down the corridor and into the living-room.

We found the living-room a place of chaste elegance and angular splendor. The walls and fireplace made a discreet background for the furniture which, so Vincent Rowland revealed, had been specially designed by Lola herself. The four walls of that large chamber were covered with a heavy linen of natural hue, a light ecru color, the dull uneven weave of which seemed to smother the lamp-light in a warm embrace. Nun's velveting draped the windows, a little deeper than the color of the walls, and matching the upholstery of the chairs and couch. The velvet carpet of raisin brown was also without a sheen, so that the coverings of the furniture, walls, and floor all held and subdued the illumination. There was an esthetic honesty everywhere apparent, in the square lines of unfinished wood, waxed to give a mellow appearance of age. A real fire burned on the brick floor of the fireplace.

Standing by the fireplace to warm himself, Colt was about to light a cigarette, but suddenly he dropped the still lighted match into the fire. Then from the mantel the Commissioner lifted a crumpled white object in his hand.

U.S. Boats Take Defeat Three Times

Olympic Single Scull Champion Wins Easily

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 7 (AP)—In a day marked by three straight setbacks for Philadelphia oarsmen, representing the United States in the Olympic regatta, Bobby Pearce of Australia convinced a crowd of 100,000 he will have little trouble successfully defending the Olympic single sculls championship.

The giant Australian outrowed William G. (Bill) Miller of the Penn. A. C., American champion, in their first test over the picturesque 2,000 meter course and projected himself at once into the finals. Pearce beat Miller by a scant length in 7 minutes, 27 seconds. Miller was timed in 7:29.15, the second best time of the day's first trials, but was clearly no match for the champion.

Pearce's path to the final was made easier by the withdrawal of Herbert Buhtz, German star. Buhtz withdrew with a slight touch of influenza and an infected tooth.

Leslie F. (Dick) Southwood of Great Britain, in the second sculling heat, staged the day's big comeback by a spurt in the last 100 meters that overhauled the giant Uruguayan, Guillermo Douglas, and carried him to a one-length victory in 7:42.35.

Pearce's oarsmen scored decisive victories over the United States in the other two features of the Olympic regatta's opening day of trials. The Polish four-oared crew, with coxswain, defeated the American combination from the Penn Athletic club, by a length. The feather-weight Clark twins, Tom and Gene, from the Undine Barge club, Philadelphia, trailed Poland as well as France in the first heat for pair-oared boats, without coxswain.

The remaining winners this afternoon were Italy's four-oared combination, with coxswain, defending champions, and Great Britain's pair-oared boat, without coxswain.

Something of an offset was talk that Buffalo appeared to be buying corn for shipment east from Chicago, and that 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 bushels would thus find its way to San Francisco via the Panama canal.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, the New York Yankee's star southpaw, recorded his nineteenth victory of the season today with the aid of Babe Ruth's thirty-second home run of the season, defeating the Browns, 5 to 3.

Gomez allowed eight hits, two of which were homers by Rick Ferrell and Jim Levey. Ruth clouted his homer in the sixth behind singles by Combs and Sewell to provide the margin of victory. Sewell batted in the other Yankee runs with a double and a fly.

OLD MASTER STILL KNOWS HOW

Profit Taking Exact Toll in Stock Market

Tired Feeling Grips Mart After Week of Steady Gains

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—The advance in stocks and some commodities began to look a little frayed today as offerings by profit-takers and other sellers made a sharper impression on quotations.

For the first time in a week the share average closed lower, although the decline amounted to only three-tenths of a point. Sales totaled $3,011,610 shares, well under yesterday's volume.

Stocks churned nervously through the session. Bulls attempted several times to get the market to throw off what appeared to be a tired feeling, using rails, utilities and oils for their purpose, but getting only temporary advantages so far as the general list was concerned. Power and light company equities displayed some durability and closed higher; both rail and industrial groups were off on the day.

Brokers with foreign customers said European orders were still being received in volume, although the selling side was slightly favored. Numerous commission houses were advising their clients that a setback seemed about due; in addition, shorts were undoubtedly exerting greater pressure.

Many Stocks Vary

Many stocks swung widely. American Telephone, for example, swayed up and down, two points higher and two lower, closing with a small net advance. Wall street watched closely the market fortunes of this leader whose advance has been fought by a stubborn short interest. Steel shares were rather heavy; there seems to have been some shading off in current production, and tomorrow's backlog report by the industry's largest unit is expected to show its sixteenth consecutive monthly decrease. Steel common was down 1 1/2 net, while the preferred lost more than 2.

Narrow net changes either way were recorded by American Can, Allied Chemical, General Electric, Du Pont, General Motors, Case and International Harvester. Members of the electric bond and share group were among the strongest utilities. American Power and Light, National Power and American and Foreign Power returning gains of a point or more. In rails, Canadian Pacific was heavy on deferment of its dividend. New York Central strengthened.

Banking statistics leaned rather definitely toward the constructive or anti-deflation, side. The weekly condition statement of reporting reserve member banks in 101 cities showed a sharp expansion of credit, and although most of the total rise was due to absorption of recent treasury financing, security loans increased $44,000,000 and other investments gained $6,000,000. At the state time, "all other" loans, including commercial accommodations, were off $40,000,000.

Grain Market Declines With Profit Taking

backward from an 8-cent straight-away advance, wheat today lost 2 cents of the gain and then showed power to rally.

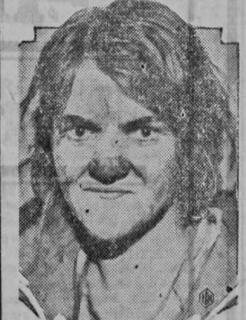

General selling to realize profits attended the reaction, which was influenced also by declines in stocks and cotton and was preceded by sudden downturns of wheat quotations at Liverpool. With United States and Canadian government crop reports due tomorrow, the aggressive new buying that of late has been so conspicuous was missing today.

Wheat closed unsettled, 13-8 to 15-8 down yesterday's finish, corn 7-8 to 11-8 down, oats 5-8 to 1 off, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of 5 cents.

Suggestions that reduced crop estimates in Canada were likely owing to heat, drought and premature ripening tended to spur late rallies to wheat prices.

A drag on the wheat market,

Observers to Take Notes on Meteor Falls

Next Three Days Will See Shower of Perseids

Out of the northeast heavens at the rate of about three meteors a minute will come the little Perseids in the three hours before dawn tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday.

The 1932 version of the annual exhibition will be observed by professional and volunteer astronomers under the direction of Prof. Charles C. Wylie of the University of Iowa. Concentrate on Counting, Plotting

While Professor Wylie and his aides are checking nightly the Perseid shower which began Sunday, they will concentrate most of their efforts on counting and plotting the meteors at the climax of the display.

Their best observations will be made Friday between 2 and 3 a.m. when the meteors are expected to accelerate to about three each minute, or perhaps will appear even more numerous.

First Assistants

Prof. Thomas Poulter of Iowa Wesleyan college and the Rev. John Theobald of Dubuque university are Professor Wylie's first assistants. Using telescopes placed in adjoining positions, Poulter and Wylie expect to achieve better results than in 1931 if the sky is clear. Skies will be scanned also by men at Dubuque and Mt. Pleasant and the summary of results compiled for official records. The Perseids, seen each August for more than a century, first will appear about 70 miles above the earth and will vanish at a height of about 55 miles after a swift bright sweep.

AROUND THE TOWN with DON PRYOR

All Talk?

We thought there would be lots of interest in politics this year, but judging by the number of voters who turned out yesterday to register, it must be just all talk. In the first hour and a half at the second ward, three persons straggled in. At the first ward station in the court house, the number was 45 at 5 p.m.

You Really Would Think

And with such a nice new system of registration, you really would think everybody would rush to register. Reports are that the registration officials are much in favor of the new system. Partly, of course, because it is less work.

Canning Factory

By the front steps of the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon stood five baskets full of apples and several more baskets full of empty fruit jars. This morning the job of getting the apples into the fruit jars begins. The work is being done by a group of women under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Bywater for the social service league. Eventually, of course, for Iowa City's less fortunate families.

Worse and More

It's just one tough year for the unemployed. When five men were sent out by the American Legion Unemployment Relief association to clean up the city park they all caught poison ivy. Some got it bad and some not so bad, but it was all, they say, pretty bad.

All Over

With approximately $900 raised, the Farm Bureau has ended its campaign to get funds for the Johnson county 4-H club show, which begins Aug. 17.

Lesson

Both Ernest and Frank Triska, brothers who took part in a brawl at the Mullinex dance pavilion Sunday night, were sent to the county jail for 10 days yesterday by Justice of the Peace B. F. Carter. Ernest was found guilty of assault and battery and Frank of intoxication.

Hope It's Good

Cement for the new driveway at the You Smash 'Em I Fix 'Em garage at 128 S. Gilbert street was poured yesterday, forcing pedestrians to take to the street.

They'll Get Started Soon

Appraisers of the water works report that a fifth man will be selected to complete the group within the next few days. Engineers from neighboring towns are being interviewed at the present time.

All New Ones

The new car business seems to be picking up just a little. Yesterday four of them were registered with A. A. Farick, head of the auto department in the county treasurer's office. They were registered by: C. J. McGillicuddy, Ford coupe; Horrabin Construction company, Ford coupe; Francis Sook, Pontiac sedan; and Mary L. Howell, Chevrolet coupe.

On the Air

Leo Carmody, manager of the Boone Coal company, reported the theft of a five tube radio set yesterday morning from the company's office, 18 E. Benton street.

Two Business Men Review Local Trade

Two Iowa City business men, Edward S. Rose and Harry Bremer, spoke on local trade conditions at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Jefferson hotel yesterday.

Both of the men, representing the drug and clothing fields, were optimistic concerning the trend of business. Although drug prices have fallen 20 per cent and sales 15 per cent, the drug business is doing rather well in the depression, Mr. Rose said.

He described the types among the 60,000 retail drug stores employing 100,000 registered pharmacists in this country, telling of the chain stores, the individual merchant, and the cooperative systems.

The merchants must make a profit before the depression will end, said Mr. Bremer. He said that the furniture and clothing lines were the hardest hit in Iowa City, but may recover in the fall when better styles will be offered for lower prices. Iowa City people are unusually fastidious in their clothes, and demand advanced styles, he claimed.

O. H. Brainerd; Dr. Robert Aurner of Madison, Wis.; and Dr. C. F. Marbut of Washington, D. C. were guests at the luncheon.
