Inflated Education

ELSEWHERE IN THESE columns this morning is reprinted an editorial from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch entitled "Deflation in the Universities." It calls attention to the fact that colleges and universities, like industrial plants and other institutions, suffered severe cases of overdevelopment in boom times, implies that now they must suffer the consequences of universal deflation.

It is to be expected that while the demand lasts, production is bound to increase, and in universities the law finds no exception. But it has only been since the World war that the large universities of the country have developed. Their growth was, in some cases, phenomenal, yet it was mainly in the line of experimentation. In some cases, too, the growth and development was overdone, but hardly out of proportion with the times.

Business and industry developed during the period of good times accordingly with loose credit, easy money, and high pressure salesmanship. The depression that began in 1929 was not the first these institutions had witnessed. It was not their first experience in relative high and low values, and adjustment to meet those changing conditions. But it was the first to most of the newly-great universities, that "expanded to sizes unknown in history."

The analogy suggests an interesting relation between after effects in education and business. Colleges and universities might easily be expected to show a clearer conception of deflation than business and industry. Whether deflation in the universities will leave the deepening scars in educational circles that it has left in the nation's business is a matter of time.

Why the Post-Dispatch editorial writer selected as an example the office of the dean of men to show how inflation affected the university is easily seen. That office is comparatively a new feature and a most worthwhile one. The work of the dean of men in most universities can hardly be dispensed with. If there were no such office, the necessary function would have to be placed in other administrative officers' hands.

Have You Registered?

RELUCTANCE OF Iowa City voters to register at the polls this week is hardly indicative of the cooperative spirit shown on other occasions but willingness to aid the city in obtaining a complete, permanent registration file of voters has fallen far below expectations.

The city has gone to an expense to put in a new system of registration that will be permanent, efficient, and economical for future use. Unless, however, an appreciable percentage of voters make use of it, none of those advantages will be realized.

Of course, that is not the major consideration but it is important. The effect of the system is lost if prospective voters trail into the city hall during the next month and a half with requests for registration.

There are still two days, today and tomorrow, to register. Polls are open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. and two persons comprise the registration board at each poll. Registration centers are the regular polling places used during regular elections.

Why not try for as near 100 per cent registration today and tomorrow as possible?

A Dangerous Intersection

ALTHOUGH there have been no recent serious accidents to prove it, the intersection of Iowa avenue and Riverside drive, at the west end of the Iowa avenue bridge, is becoming more dangerous with increased use, both to pedestrians and autoists. Two "stop" signs, seldom heeded and little noticed, hardly protect the right of way.

interest among politicians as well as the general public are slated to fill the calendar and news columns. Tomorrow, editorials throughout the nation will reflect and comment on them.

At Washington, D.C., President Hoover will deliver his speech of acceptance, signifying that he has not changed his mind about running for re-election since the Republican national convention in Chicago in June. At Albany, N. Y., Democratic Nominee Franklin D. Roosevelt will listen to Mayor James Walker wisecrack in answer to Investigator Samuel Seabury's charges of maladministration, and ponder what to do with New York's best dressed man.

Deflation in the Universities

(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch) Colleges and universities were not unlike industry and government during the years of so-called prosperity. They expanded to sizes unknown in history. Three departments blossomed where one grew before and departments were subdivided into divisions. Unless the professor in charge could report an increased number of projects each year, calling for a larger item in the budget, it was a sign his branch of knowledge was standing still, and so the race went on. Spiraling upward like the holding companies, instructors were added so new courses might appear in the catalogue, so a larger appropriation might be sought the next year.

One of the branches of university administration which reached full glory in those years was the office of the dean of men. Beginning modestly, it grew after the manner of a government bureau and in its heyday, on many a campus, required a dean, a couple of assistant deans and a bevy of assistants to the dean. Occupying an extensive suite of offices, this staff proceeded to care for the college student with unflinching watchfulness. Nothing he did went unnoticed or unrecorded. Dean Thomas Arke Clark, who died recently at Urbana, led the way, and his setup at the University of Illinois was widely copied. Now, reduced appropriations and smaller budgets are forcing the elimination of non-essentials, with the result that the office of the dean of men is hard hit. Few there will be aside from aspiring assistant deans who will mourn its decline.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

With the promotion of Chief Federal Prosecutor George E. Q. Johnson as federal district judge for northern Illinois and of Assistant U. S. Attorney Dwight Green to the position formerly held by Johnson, President Hoover has elevated all three of the men instrumental in putting Alphonse Capone behind the bars of Atlanta penitentiary.

The other recipient of recognition is Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson who was nominated for the district court of appeals bench but whose appointment was held up pending another session of congress. It died in committee with the adjournment of congress.

That sort of recognition will, in time, prove to be one of the greatest weapons of law enforcement. Promise of advancement is nothing to sneeze at in these times and the advancement in the bar is slow. All three men have notable records, none of Johnson's income tax prosecutions having been defeated by an acquittal.

While it seems ludicrous that a government must tolerate lawlessness to the extent that gangsters, illegal beer wholesalers, and racketeers in other branches pile up fabled fortunes in defiance of its statutes, there is some consolation in the discovery of loopholes such as income tax violations as the basis for convictions.

And the attorneys and investigators, as well as the judges, who are energetic enough to battle against the huge odds of costly proceedings and clever defense counsel are deserving of recognition. They should, however, on the whole be the rule rather than the exception but that might be too much to ask. When the last of the gangster great of the country fall into the traps set by resourceful prosecutors, there will be time enough for great rejoicing.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders are predicting success for their side in Iowa in the November elections, leaving Iowans as the only parties in doubt. Whichever party receives a majority in this state can then say, "We told you so," on the basis of recent news reports.

Just how secure each side feels will be evidenced during the campaign, the party with the least hopes putting up the biggest fight. Although Henry Field declared yesterday that "Iowa is going Republican" as usual Charles D. Huston, state Demo chairman declared the preceding day that "Iowa, which normally goes Republican by a 100,000 majority, will this year reverse the order and give a much larger majority to Governor Roosevelt and Speaker Garner." They both might be basing their claims on the same signs; nevertheless, one of them is bound to be wrong.

International political squabbling as well as internal troubles in several countries are brightening the news for those who like a good war now and then to take their minds from financial and domestic upsets. In Spain, the monarchists have already counted for seven lives in their attempt to recoup the government and warm up the throne again. In Germany, President von Hindenburg is cogitating the matter of placing Adolf Hitler into the chancellorship. In South America, Bolivia and Paraguay are still at odds over the important Gran Chaco strip, while over in Japan, the government is busily writing nasty notes to Washington over what Secretary of State Stimson had to say about Manchuria. But Stimson has the edge because his secretaries get at the notes first.

at that time, or a little before, so they can be picked up by one of the two cars and taken to the pool. Don't forget bathing suits, either! New Age The judges of the contest want more letters, so send them along. With the changes in the rules so that boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 13 may enter, there should be lots of kids who can go. Write the letters and tell how you have earned money this summer, in less than 50 words, put in your age, and have dad or mother sign it. Put in your address, too, and mail the letter or bring it to The Daily Iowan.

You want to watch the papers, too, to see that your letter is printed as one of the winners. If it is you know that you are entitled to one of the big free swims. The Winnahs! Here are the winnings letters for today: Dear Editor: I have earned my spending money by washing and drying dishes and running small errands for my mother. I have earned 31 pennies this summer. I hope I win a free swim. I am 9 years old. My birthday is July 24. Sincerely yours, Anna May Schroeder

Mr. Editor of The Daily Iowan: Two of your men told me of your offer of learning how to swim. I earn my money by peddling cantaloupes for my father. I get 10 per cent of all my sales. I wish you would come Thursday. Yours, Bob Lagomarcino

Dear Editor of The Daily Iowan: My name is Robert Paukert. I earn my money by selling mushrooms, peaches, watermelons, tomatoes, and sweet corn. I sell for a man that has a car and in that way we do not have to walk very much. That is about all I can say. Truly yours, Robert Paukert

Errand Boy Dear Editor of The Daily Iowan: I thought I would like to go swimming so I will tell you how I earn my money. I go to the store for my mother and father. My father runs a restaurant and in that way I always have some errands to do. Truly yours, Norman Paukert

Dear Editor: I am 8 years old. I have earned my money by cleaning my mother's white shoes and wiping dishes for my mother and I earned some money by taking care of my neighbor's baby. I hope I can go for a free swim in the Big Dipper some time. Yours truly, Anna Mae Tidman

Dear Editor: I am 7 years old. I have earned money to spend by helping my mother. I get a penny when I wash dishes. I saw the kids have fun in

Inspired Van Doren march waxed afresh. In assimilated performance the band played the "Spanish Suite" of Safranek with unified and pervaded spirit, while Grabel's opus found place to catch the attention of a new time. Reveal Progress Altogether the performance left the professional listener without words for his admiration and wonder at the progress revealed by the band since last Wednesday's bow. The precision of technique, the finely adjusted balance, the ever-gleaming intonation, the vital rhythmic impulse (notably in the Coronation March of Meyerbeer) achieved a total of artistic completeness such as one rarely associates with high school musicians. Thus and so does Professor Richter perpetuate the treasures of the classical repertoire. The band was clapped in delight. May we again remind captious subscribers to this column that these young musicians are also learning the importance of "good music, its capacity for spiritual discipline, its real addition to the sum of human happiness especially, in last night's performance, do I want to applaud the expressive lustre of Morton Kapt's lush tone on the cornet. Here was promise happily blended with performance.

FILM SCANDAL

SCREEN COMMENT

Hollywood has been greatly shocked by the death of James Quirk, editor of Photoplay. Jim was respected and loved by the film people about whom he wrote. His arrival in Hollywood always was the signal for many gay parties given in his honor. All of Cinemaland, from the smallest to the greatest, is extending sympathy to his widow, May Allison.

Ena Gregory... Ina Claire dropped in for a midnight snack... it's very pleasant these warm nights, dancing under the stars. Maybe you didn't see that cable story that five people were taken to the hospital after the rush to see Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in Glasgow the other day. These comedians are just as popular abroad as they are in this country. Which brings me to the fact that they will make another feature comedy on their return to the Hal Roach studio.

This ought to be in the middle of next month. Since Stan and Oliver signed with Roach in September, 1926, they have turned out over 40 pictures. Two of these were feature-length. What a break for some autograph hunter if he had happened to attend the performance of "Reunion in Vienna" the other evening. Three of Hollywood's most elusive stars were in the audience—John Barrymore, Clive Brook and Ronald Coleman. Bert Wheeler and "Sugar" Geise,

Petite blonde chorine, are making eyes at each other these nights at the Frolics. The two were as thick as that before Bert went east... They're saying that the romance between Martha Sleeper and Randolph Scott is cold. Stanley Smith squibber to the opening of Jimmie Grier's band at the Baltimore... Mary Carlisle and Jerry Horwin are seeing each other regularly... The personal appearance racket snags another Hollywood star, Chic Sale will entertain San Francisco audiences for a week... ## Ripley Explanations

EXPLANATION OF YERZER'S CARTOON
The mental marvel: In 1913 M. C. Berg of New York city discovered the boy wonder, Zerach II, in a Leeds, Eng., slum district. Though Zerach never had any schooling he had a supernatural mind for mathematics and was able to solve any difficult problem in but a few seconds. The boy was exhibited throughout Great Britain and the United States as a featured vaudeville attraction, and his prowess with figures was tested thousands of times, without failure. Physicians who examined the boy could not account for this power, outside of the fact that the boy's brain was abnormal.

But in the early part of 1916, when Zerach II was but 19 years old, he commenced to lose his peculiar power and within a year he was absolutely helpless in so far as mathematics were concerned.

Tomorrow: "Under fire 800 times."

Hansen Will Give Talk on Job Research

Prof. Alvin W. Hansen of the University of Minnesota will discuss "The Minnesota unemployment research project" at a public lecture tomorrow at 2 p.m. in room 213 of university hall.

Speaking under the auspices of the division of social administration and the extension division, Professor Hansen appears as an authority on economics, theory, labor, and business cycles, according to Prof. Dale Yoder of the college of commerce.

He is the author of the book, "Economic Stabilization in an Unbalanced World," which Professor Yoder said had attracted a great deal of attention recently. After having received his B.A. degree from Yankton college, S. D., Professor Hansen attended the University of Wisconsin, where he was granted his M.A. in 1915, and his Ph.D. in 1918.

He served as assistant instructor at that university during 1915-16, was an instructor at Brown university from 1916 to 1919, an associate professor at the University of Minnesota from 1919 to 1923, and has been a professor since 1923.

This is the final of a series of lectures upon topics of social administration which have been given during the summer session.

What has happened TO THE MILLIONS WHO DRANK BEER?

WHAT are they drinking now—all those who drank the old-time beer? They have tried home brews—but certainly something so crude and impure cannot hope to satisfy.

To find the answer for yourself, as millions of others have done, we recommend this new-day brew. Atlas Special Brew is so pure, so healthful that doctors endorse it and a famous laboratory certifies every bottle.

The zest is there, the sparkle and foam, the flavor and aroma. The digestive helps are in it, and the aids to sleep. The tonic qualities, the soothing factors, the delights are there.

The same masters make it in the same old way. The same selected malt and the same domestic and imported Bohemian hops. In the brewing we develop the old alcoholic content. After the brew is aged for months to ripen, we extract the alcohol to meet the law. All else is there.

Let us prove to you how much this Atlas Special Brew can mean to you and yours. It costs only 15 cents a bottle at your neighborhood drug, grocery or delicatessen store. Look for the green Atlas Special label on each bottle.

Iowa Senator Urges Need of Cooperation

Demands Backing for Marketing Act to Aid Farmers

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—United States Senator L. J. Dickinson, (R., Iowa) made a plea over the radio tonight for farmers to unite for preservation of the agricultural marketing act, which he termed the first real "effort to put cooperatives on a national basis."

Stating the main purpose of the act was to encourage co-operative marketing, he flayed "self-appointed salesmen for the farmers" who he said endeavored to bring repeal of the act.

Accuse Farm Board
"It is my belief," Senator Dickinson said, "if the present law creating the federal farm board were to be repealed and the board abolished, agriculture would suffer a setback from which it would not recover for 25 years."

"Naturally those opposed to co-operative marketing are also opposed to the farmer having any agency through which he can operate for himself. These selfish interests have joined in a chorus of complaint, insisting that the federal farm board is responsible for price declines. The absurdity of the charge is illustrated by the fact that commodities over which the farm board has never had any authority have declined to lower proportionate price levels than those over which it did have authority."

Farmers Entitled to Privilege
Senator Dickinson referred to the barring of the Farmers' National Grain corporation from the Chicago Board of Trade clearing house privileges and said: "I can not help but believe that the farmers are entitled to this privilege and that the

BREMER'S

Iowa City's Finest Store for Men

Sportively Speaking By Ron Tallman

As the greatest athletic spectacle of all time, the 1932 Olympic Games of Los Angeles, rapidly draws to a close, the United States, already victor in men's and women's track and field, catch-as-catch-can wrestling, even choice with Japan to win the swimming championship and heavy scorer in the rest of the events, seems assured of winning the unofficial title to athletic supremacy of the world.

In the nip and tuck battle with Japan's surprising forces, Uncle Sam's natators went up somewhat yesterday as a result of Buster Crabbe's smashing and surprising victory in the 400 meter free style final. He was the only U. S. entrant to qualify for the final and Japan with three men, any one of them outstanding in his own right, there seemed to be little hope that the athletes from the far east could be restrained from taking the lead.

While on the subject of swimming, it might be well to note that Helene Madison, recent winner of the women's 100 meter free style Olympic title and possessor of practically every world's free style record under 400 meters, has intentions of retiring from racing after the Games are concluded. Her father, Charles Madison, recently remarked that her competition had been expensive to him and added, "This amateur swimming is quite a business. I'd like to see her get something out of it."

California's great eight-oared crew, 1928 Olympic champion, winner of the national collegiate and A.A.U. crowns this summer, was the second United States entry in the sculling championships to score a victory in the preliminaries after Garret Gillmore and Kenneth Myers of Philadelphia had ended a four event losing streak by defeating Germany in the double scull heats. The university boys from the coast school now rank as favorites for their second world title in the finals Saturday.

Even the greats of sports have their bad days. Take the instance of Gene Sarazen, winner of the 1932 British and U. S. open golf championships, when in the district qualifying play for the Professional Golf association tournament at St. Paul, August 30-September 2, he failed to qualify. Since he had won the U. S. title, he had automatically qualified for the play, but he waived this right, saying that he wanted to qualify in the regular manner. And now he is out of the meet completely.

Cubs fans of the middle west will center their interest on the one game the Bruins play at Pittsburgh today before they return west to meet the Cardinals. Pittsburgh ended its 10 game losing streak yesterday in the first game of the doubleheader with the Boston Braves yesterday, but they dropped the second so the Chicagoans remained just a half game behind, their game being rained out when rain fell in torrents during their second inning at New York. Whether the Cubs will advance to the lead after today, or fall a game further behind remains to be seen. Come on you Cub fans, let's pull for a Chicago victory!

CHARLEY GRIMM seems certain to become the manager of the Cubs for the 1933 season, not just a "fill-in" manager for the rest of the year. President William Veech, when he returned from the east after "firing" Hornsby and elevating Charley, said he was pleased with the results Grimm is attaining and as far as he was concerned the managerial problems for next season have been solved. He is also extremely optimistic in regard to the Cubs winning the pennant this year, feeling certain that under "Grimm's" direction the team will do it.

Five Veteran Wingmen Loufek, Clearman, Fisher, Trickey, Swaney All Boast of Varsity End Experience

Five young men who took turns last fall trying to stem the flood of enemy backs sweeping wild around ends will bring their hard-won experience into the battle for wing positions on the 1932 University of Iowa football team. By the end of the season Robert C. Loufek, 184-pounder from Davenport, was doing a creditable job, as was Eugene R. Clearman of Iowa City, 165 pounds. Both will be seniors this fall. What they learned under fire also will aid two other 165-pound athletes, Raymond R. Fisher of Des Moines, a junior, and Kenneth W. Trickey of Iowa Falls, senior. Harold J. Swaney, 185 pound Grinnell man who was handicapped by a bad knee, completes the major letter quintet.

Crabbe Cops 400 Meter Free Style Final; California Crew Qualifies

Comes From Behind; Nips French Star

Japanese Aces Fail to Come Through as Expected

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10 (AP)—Clarence (Buster) Crabbe, who learned swimming at the Hawaiian islands, came from behind today to stage a surprise victory for Uncle Sam in the 400 meter free style final of the tenth Olympiad before 12,000 persons.

In bringing to the United States its first racing championship of the men's division, Crabbe set a new Olympic record of 4 minutes 48.4 seconds and also bettered Arne Borg's world record, posted in Sweden at 4:59.3 in 1925.

It was a riotous finish which gave Crabbe the title. Jean Taris, a Frenchman, had set a terrific pace from the start, jumping into a lead of two meters and maintaining it until the 300 meter mark had been passed.

Crabbe's triumph enabled the United States to retain its team lead with a total of 42 points, against 37 for the Nipponese, who finished third, fourth and fifth respectively.

The United States women's springboard divers started the fifth day of the aquatic carnival nicely for Uncle Sam by sweeping the first three places, just as the Yankee men divers had done.

Georgia Coleman of Los Angeles, who placed second in 1928, won the event with a total of 87.52 points. Her 14 year old teammate, Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach, Fla., was second with 82.5 and Jane Fautz of Chicago, third, scoring 82.12.

For the first time since the swimming championships opened Saturday, an event survived the record breaking epidemic. Sixteen men went through the 100 meter back stroke preliminaries without bettering the Olympic mark.

Divers Too Classy Masaji Kiyokawa, Japan, won the fastest heat in 1:08.9, seven-tenths of a second slower than George Kojae's world's and Olympic record. America's divers were far too classy for the invaders. It was a contest among the three down the line, with Miss Coleman winning by virtue of a perfect one and one-half gainer in the optional jumps.

Saling Now Joint Holder World Mark

The name of George J. Saling, U.S.A. and University of Iowa, officially has been inscribed in the record book of the International Amateur Athletic federation as joint holder of the world's mark for the 110-meter high hurdles. Just five days elapsed between the 14.4 race by Saling in the Olympic semi-final heat and the acceptance of the time by the I.A.A.F.

U.S. Double Scull Team in Triumph

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) MARINE STADIUM, LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 10 (AP)—The unbeaten record of American eight-oared crews in four successive Olympic naval battles was kept intact today by the University of California's powerful boatload with a spectacular victory over Canada's formidable entry.

Racing in their first trial heat, the American collegians, picking up the thread of triumph where their California predecessors left off exactly four years ago, drove their shell across the finish with a terrific force to lead the Canadians by a scant length, with Germany and New Zealand close behind.

It was the most exciting finish of the two days of the Olympic regatta, with all four crews within nearly two lengths of each other at the finish.

Italy Shows Power Although the California eight conquered the crew generally picked as its most formidable rival for Olympic eight-oared honors, the trials developed an unexpectedly powerful contender in Italy's oarsmen, who won the first heat in faster time than the Americans as both winners advanced automatically to the finals, scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Italy negotiated the 2,000 meter straightaway in 6 minutes 28.15 seconds in handling a surprisingly decisive defeat to the Cambridge university boatload, representing Great Britain, as well as Japan and Brazil. The Italians won by a good length and a half showing plenty of drive and finishing "kick" that left the favored Britons floundering.

Wind Bothers California's time was 6:29, which was considerably off the time of 6:06 registered by the Golden Bears in the final American tryouts over the same distance but under different conditions. Canada had shaved six minutes at home but both of these crews had to buck a brisk breeze today.

Completion of the heats in six of the seven Olympic events, in two days, found Italy and Great Britain each producing three winners, the United States and Poland two each, Australia and Canada one each. All winners automatically went into the finals, to be rowed Friday and Saturday. Meanwhile all defeated boatloads will row off in another series of trials tomorrow to decide two other finalists in each event.

U. S. Pair Wins The other winning American boat today, which ended a streak of four straight setbacks for the U.S. oarsmen, was the double sculling combination of W. E. Garret Gillmore and Kenneth Myers of the Bachelor's Barge club, Philadelphia. These veterans rowed away from the crack German pair, Buhtz and Boetzelen, in 7:14 3-5, much the best performance in this event.

Great Britain's veteran four-oared boat, without coxswain, took the measure of the Penn A. C. combination, representing the United States, by two lengths, with Germany third.

AT FINISH OF RECORD MARATHON

Completely exhausted, Juan Carlos Zabala, young Argentinian winner of the marathon race at the Olympic Games, is shown being assisted into his sweat-trousers at the end of the grueling grind. Zabala, 19 year old Buenos Aires high school student, defeated the world's greatest distance runners in the 26 mile 385 yard race in the record time of 2 hours, 31 minutes, 36 seconds.

Yankees Back Allen's Relief Pitching With 17 Blows to Sweep Browns Series, 7-6

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10 (AP)—Young Johnny Allen chalked up his tenth victory of the season against two defeats today with relief pitching that enabled the league leading New York Yankees to defeat the Browns, 7 to 6, and sweep the four game series.

Allen relieved Penneck in the third and gave only five hits in the remaining innings. The Yanks wasted a lot of base hits, getting 17 blows and having 16 left on bases. They scored their winning run in the eighth on a pass to Gehrig and singles by Luzzi and Chapman.

Rube Walberg Wins 14th; A's Trim Sox CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Rube Walberg hung up his fourteenth victory of the season today by pitching and batting the Philadelphia Athletics to a 6 to 3 triumph over the White Sox. The victory gave the A's a two to one edge in the series.

13 Innings Needed to Win Finale, 10-9; O'Doul Stars

BROOKLYN, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Dodgers battled the Cincinnati Reds for 23 innings and four hours and 53 minutes of actual playing time today, but they finally came through to win two games, 6 to 1 and 10 to 9 and wind up only one game behind the third place Boston Braves. The second game went 13 innings.

Brooklyn had little trouble winning the opener behind Van Mungo's six hit hurling but the second was an entirely different matter. The only likeness was that Frank O'Doul was a big figure in both games. He clouted two home runs in the first and scored the winning run in the second.

O'Doul Wins Game The great Lefty broke up the game that started out to be a slug-fest and wound up as a mound duel between Silas Johnson and Dazzy Vance. He led off the thirteenth by drawing a pass and stole second. Hack Wilson fanned and Cuccinello was purposely passed. Slade forced Cuccinello at second and as George Grantham tried for a double play he made a wild heave past Hendrick at first and O'Doul came home.

The Dodgers took an early lead in the see-saw struggle, lost it when Cincinnati rallied for five runs in the third and regained it in the seventh when Johnny Frederick hit a pinch homer with two on and Wil-

MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY BY ANTHONY ABBOT

SYNOPSIS

At 11:30 on New Year's Eve, Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt arrives at the exclusive Mayfair Club in response to a mysterious summons from District Attorney Nerle Dougherty.

Coach Armbruster Conducting Tests During Olympics

Olympic swimmers now competing at Los Angeles are unconscious subjects of a series of stroke tests conducted by David A. Armbruster, University of Iowa coach.

Occupying a vantage point close to the pool's rim, Armbruster is counting the strokes of the free style men as the athletes churn through the water in quest of Olympic titles.

Coach Armbruster wants to know about the accuracy of the theory that the oftener the arm enters the water and is pulled hard in the stroke, the faster the swimmer will travel.

Bucs Split Pair With Braves, 5-2, 2-3

BOSTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Home runs by Berger and Schulerich gave the Braves a 3 to 2 win over the Pirates in the second game of a double header today after the league leaders had broken a 10 game losing streak by winning the opener, 5 to 2.

French held the Braves to four hits in the second game, while the Pirates found Brandt for nine. But the two circuit blows, plus a squeeze play, gave Boston the edge.

Cards Rally in 11th to Win, 11-5

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10 (AP)—St. Louis bats broke out in a sudden barrage of hits in the eleventh inning today and the Cardinals scored their fourth straight victory over the Phillies, 11 to 5.

The Phils tallied five runs in the first inning to gain an early lead after the Cards had scored three, but the champions tied up the game in the fifth and then went on to score 6 runs in the eleventh, Chuck Klein rapped out his thirty-third

Stock Market Renews Battle to New Highs

Surge on to Second Largest Turnover of Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Renewed enthusiasm for the advance appeared on all financial fronts today.

Wheat Prices Gain Despite Profit Taking

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Advancing strongly in a revival of big general buying, wheat today withstood onslaughts of profit-taking, and held most of its gains.

and Chesapeake & Ohio closed 2 to nearly 4 higher, while Norfolk & Western jumped 7 1/2. Allied Chemical, American Can, Johns-Manville, Consolidated Gas, American Smelting and Coca Cola were other prominent gainers.

Improves Despite Statistics Improvement ran against the tenor of most statistics coming to hand. Steel production was slightly lower at 14 per cent of capacity against last week's 15 per cent.

With wheat higher and other raw material prices appreciating, it was hard to keep down spirits on the stock exchange. U. S. Steel's unfiled tonnage statement, appearing at noon, reported the sixteenth consecutive monthly decline, but the drop of 88,466 tons was less than advance forecasts.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1 1/4-1 7/8 above yesterday's finish, corn at 1 1/4-1 1/2 decline, oats unchanged to 1 1/4-3/8 higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Highest prices of the day in wheat came during the late dealings, and showed a maximum upturn of 2 3/8 cents to the topmost point reached on the present movement.

Persistent reports of drought and excessive heat in Canada were received. Late advices also told of appreciable crop deterioration in Italy.

Corn prices sagged on account of increased rural selling and of poor shipping demand here. Oats reflected vessel on the charter for 250,000 bushels to Buffalo.

Provisions were responsive to hog market strength. Closing indemics: Wheat-September 53 5/8-3/4, 59-59 1/4; December 57 1/8-1/4, 62 3/4-7/8; May 61 3/4-67 1/2. Corn-September 31, 33 5/8; December 32 1/8, 35 1/4-3/8; May 37, 39 3/8.

Members of an Oklahoma City service club spoke from 87 pulpits one Sunday as part of a "safe-driving" campaign.

for United States hard winter grades, and in some quarters belief existed the government wheat crop report from Washington after the close would contain a bullish surprise similar to that which recently electrified the cotton market.

On the contrary, domestic spring wheat production was officially estimated 11,000,000 to 16,000,000 bushels more than latest private forecasts. Government figures on corn production, however, were construed as decidedly bullish.

Bond Markets Skyrocket Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Railroad bonds skyrocketed today and all classes of loans trailed the high-speed carriers.

It was the most active market since Jan. 14, sales totaling $17,023,000, par value, and the average for 60 corporate issues gaining 1 1/10 points, the largest advance since June 4.

The increased demand for senior securities came in the latter part of the session after the list had moved somewhat indifferently in early trading. Speculative loans displayed the most noticeable buoyancy, although those of higher class were not neglected.

Government Bonds Follow Even the United States government section, which has been marking time recently, joined the upward movement and five treasury issues recorded new highs for the year.

The most conspicuous advances, ranging from 1 to 6 or more points, took place in loans of Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake corporation, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Burlington, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, Great Northern, New York Central, Nickel Plate, Southern, Union Pacific and Wabash.

Western Union Leads Some utilities and industrials were especially strong. Among these were bonds of Western Union, Armour & Co., American Telephone, Detroit Edison, International Telephone, Morris & Co., Federal Light & Traction, Goodyear, Goodrich, Kansas Gas, Standard Oil of New York, and Utility Power & Light.

The foreign department was relatively quiet and steady.

State Departmental Expenses Show Gain of 13.9 Per Cent

Conclusions Reached After Survey of Costs Extending Through Eight Year Period

Department Trust Funds Blamed for Most of $3,000,000 Rise; Road Construction Excluded From Estimate

Annual state expenditures for the 1924-1930 period as obtained from the state budget director, together with the percentage of increase, were tabulated as follows:

Year Ending	General State Offices	Board of Control Inst.	Board of Education Inst.	Depts. Under Trust Funds	Pct. Incr. By Years
1924	$3,711,394	$5,013,177	$10,458,719	$1,931,319	.5
1925	3,604,719	5,262,898	10,583,712	1,674,935	2.7
1926	3,939,525	5,132,614	10,455,521	1,869,427	11.6
1927	4,370,006	5,108,952	11,516,926	1,952,531	9
1928	3,398,614	5,421,392	11,559,864	2,796,994	2.6
1929	3,947,169	5,495,642	11,295,840	3,047,810	.9
1930	3,506,359	5,746,049	11,124,636	3,114,809	1.9
1931	3,988,499	5,657,041	10,942,213	3,473,837
Per cent increase 1931 over 1924	7.8	12.8	4.6	79.9
Av. annual per cent increase for 8 years	1.9	1.6	.58	9.9

DES MOINES, Aug. 10 (AP)—An increase of 13.9 per cent in total state expenditures for all departments, exclusive of road construction in the period from 1924 to June 31, 1931, was noted today by the legislative tax reduction committee.

The increase in the eight year period amounted to nearly $3,000,000 the committee reported, the total expenditure amounting from $21,114,000 in 1924 to $24,061,000 for the year ending June 31, 1931.

Trust Funds Blamed

Most of the gain was attributed by the committee to departments under trust funds, including the highway commission, banking department, fish and game commission and others. These were found to have raised their expenditures from $1,931,000 in 1924 to $3,473,837 in 1931, or about 79.9 per cent.

Board of control institution costs showed an increase of about $600,000 in the same period, amounting from $5,013,000 in 1924 to $5,657,000 in 1931 or about 12.8 per cent.

State Offices Costs Advance
Expenses of general state offices advanced by about $270,000 or 7.8 per cent. Board of education institutions, which spend the largest single amount, required $10,458,000 in 1924 and $10,942,000 in 1931, a 4.6 per cent increase.

The committee also noted that in 1930 all departments spent $23,591,000 as compared to $24,061,000 in 1931, or an increase of nearly $500,000.

General state office expense increased $380,000 in 1931 over 1930, the committee found. Board of education institution expenses decreased in the two years while departments under trust funds added $540,000 to their expenditures over 1931.

"Few people of the state appreciate the vast difference between the amount of money appropriated by the legislature and the amount actually spent by the institutions," the committee said.

"For example, for the year 1931 about $15,200,000 was appropriated as compared to an expenditure of $24,000,000, or a difference of about $9,000,000 over which the legislature has little control."

Recommendations Change
The committee said it "is inclined to believe that the law should be changed so that all state expenditures should be appropriated by the legislature."

AROUND THE TOWN with DON PRYOR

Picking Up
Registration zoomed yesterday. What is, it zoomed in comparison with Tuesday. Voters seemed to be getting slowly aware that registration was in progress, at least. At the first ward, more than 140 voters had filled out the cards of the new permanent system by 5 p.m.

Not Enough?
Nelson Glider filed a petition in district court yesterday asking for a reconsideration of the appraisal of his land north of Iowa Union which the state is condemning for the erection of the new fine arts group. He claims the property is worth $8,000. Robert L. Larson is his attorney.

Until Death Or
Asking for a divorce from his wife, Alfred J. Hornung filed a petition in district court yesterday asking for a temporary injunction restraining her from interfering with his care of their child, Dorothy. Messer and Nolan are his attorneys.

Just Beginning
Clerk of Court Walter J. Barrow issued a license yesterday to Paul Heber Bush of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, to marry Eloise Walker of Johnson county.

All in Jars
Canning of apples for Iowa City's hard-pressed began yesterday at the First Baptist church by a group of women under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Bywater. More and still more apples can be used to good advantage. Those who have apples to give away should call Lucille Bruner at the social service office and the apples will be called for.

In Settlement
George H. Frohwein, receiver for the Hawkeye Corporation of America, applied to the court yesterday for authority to release some furnishings and other property to the Lawrence M. Stein company in settlement of the balance due on two conditional sales contracts.

To Drive It
If readers are getting tired of this paragraph, no one blames them. But here it is, nevertheless. Six Iowa City residents applied for drivers' licenses at the office of Sheriff Don McComas yesterday. They are Mack Vanhorn, Mrs. D. J. Newkirk, H. L. Schmitt, Raymond Chittenden, Dale Ressler, and Mrs. Henry Ruppert.

Line Forms to the Right
Some charitable farmer whose name is not revealed donated five gallons of lard to the American Legion Unemployment Relief association. He also offered the unemployed 10 bushels of potatoes if they would dig them up.

10 Days to Cool Off
For the assault of Charles Smith, John Henry Williams was sent to the county jail for 10 days yesterday by Justice of the Peace B. F. Carter.

To Visit Hooverland
Clem Boyle, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, leaves today to attend the supreme council meeting of the organization in Washington, D. C. He takes the place of Judge D. E. McGuire of Dubuque, who is ill.

The liquor question this vote will be split 50-50."
Hull said this vote in Wisconsin, North Dakota and Minnesota might average 50 per cent of the total, and that in Michigan, Illinois, South Dakota, Montana, California and Washington it might range between 37 and 50 per cent.

Its Whistle Sounds Good But There's a Bounty on Its Head

If that black bird with a yellow bill, short tail, and conspicuous triangular specks on back, shoulders, and rump, whistles its pleasant notes from your orchard or cornfield, shoot on sight.
For any bird answering to that description is a dangerous renegade—a European starling—which will drive off beneficial native birds, menace fruit crops, and devour corn on the ear.
That was the warning sounded yesterday by Homer R. Dill, director of the university museum. To acquaint Iowans with the hardy and voracious pest, he has prepared a life-like exhibit of specimens to be shown at the state fair Aug. 24 to Sept. 2. Two years ago, he said, there were practically no starlings in Iowa.

Phillips Tells Lions Club of Saling's Race

The Olympic games and Iowa's part in them were described by Dean Chester A. Phillips of the college of commerce, speaking before Lions at their luncheon in the Jefferson hotel yesterday.
Telling of George Saling's victory in the 110 meter high hurdle race, he said that Saling and Beard were "neck and neck" until the final hurdle, when Saling pushed ahead in a last minute spurt.

Dean Phillips told of the 4,000 meter race, when the crowd cheered the Japanese runner who finished a lap behind, appreciating his sportsmanship in finishing a race when he was the last man on the track.

Political observers expressed the belief the object of the movement was to enthrone Prince Juan Carlos, third son of Alfonso, who now is a cadet in the British navy.
Spain has been seething with political unrest for months while the Cortes indulged in seemingly endless debate over the momentous problems presented by Catalonia's insistence on autonomy and by agrarian reform measures which would parcel out the great estates among the peasants.
This unrest reached a bloody climax at dawn today when rebels and loyalists met in battle before the ministry of war, in which Prime Minister Manuel Azana has his office.

Government authorities had been informed in advance an attack was imminent, and the attackers were met by bursts of machine gun fire from detachments of the Madrid police under the command of Director of Public Safety Menendez.
The action started when two automobiles loaded with rebels drove up in front of the ministry. These men were soon dispersed by the fire of the defenders under the personal command of Director Menendez.
