Ask Federal Budget Cut; Push Employment Aid

New Yorker Advocate of Huge Slash

Wants Billion Dollars Drop in Expenses of Government

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A billion dollar slash in the federal budget was advocated today by Bernard M. Baruch as a prime essential to business recovery.

The New York financier and wartime head of the war industries board, in the leading article in the current number of the "Nation's Business," said unless such a cut is made "none of the palliatives thus far devised will succeed," and if it is done "these palliatives should soon prove unnecessary."

Baruch said the cost of government had risen to "alarming proportions in recent years," and estimated the cost this year for federal, state and local government at $15,000,000,000. This, he added, "must be taken out of the probable income from wealth-producing effort of $45,000,000,000 before anything is available for interest on debt and, after that, of sustenance."

"Obviously," he said, "that leaves little or nothing to activate business. It is an impossible situation."

The financier recommended a definite reduction in the budget of $1,000,000,000. By a moderate return to first principles of the American government and slight relaxation in political exploitation of the public purse, he said, the following savings should be effected:

Bureau Savings
Veterans bureau $400,000,000; war and navy departments $175,000,000; post office department $150,000,000; farm board $138,000,000; department of agriculture $100,000,000; commerce department $300,000,000; and revision of pay schedules, relinquishment of improper functions, restriction of federal aids and subsidies, regrouping and redistribution of functions and merger, abolition and regrouping of independent agencies, $200,000,000.

He said the $400,000,000 saving in veterans cost could be effected in 26 words: "No part of the appropriation under this act shall be paid to any person except for or on account of an actual war-connected loss or disability."

Congressional Aid
Congress, he wrote, should return to the president any budget carrying more than $2,000,000,000 for purely administrative purposes.

Declaring issuance of short-term obligations by the treasury for such spending as is not covered by revenue is a "process of dilution," Baruch added:

"It is not money that is scarce; it is confidence in money. If the stability of money and credit were established beyond peradventure in the eyes of all the world, timid money would rush from hiding here seeking investment, and from abroad in quest of a safe haven. Here would be more sound money asking to work than all the inflated money we propose to create. It is the key to recovery and it depends upon the simple expedient of balancing the budget in the only way left to us—by reducing spending by about one billion dollars."

Hall Speaks on Bonuses
TAMA, Aug. 27 (AP)—The bonus question "is a passing proposition, a temporary division of opinion," Commander W. Earl Hall of the Iowa American Legion told war veterans and their families at a reunion here today.

Roy Hunt Winner of Transcontinental Air Derby at Cleveland

CLEVELAND AIRPORT, Aug. 27 (AP)—Roy Hunt of Norman, Okla., today won the 1932 transcontinental handicap air derby, opening event of the national air races, by crossing the finish line here at 3:05 p.m. (CST).

Hunt was fourth of the derby flyers to set his plane down but he was assured of first place regardless of his standing in the final lap from Akron, as he was so far ahead in point standing that it was impossible for any of the other contestants to overtake him.

Art Carnahan of Bloomington, Ill., was the first of the flyers to cross the finish line here.

Picket Army Near Capital in Campaign

Six Highways Covered Into City; Quiet Covers Action

(By The Associated Press)

Picketing activities in the Farmers Holiday movement centered about Des Moines Saturday, with 6 main highways covered by peaceful blockades and plans being laid for establishment of camps along other roads into the Iowa capital.

Governor Green of South Dakota called a meeting of governors of 15 agricultural states at Sioux City Sept. 9 to consider his plan of a general anti-marketing campaign along peaceful and lawful lines.

Turner Will Go
Governor Bryan of Nebraska frowned upon the idea, but refused to say whether he would attend the conference. The Iowa governor, Dan Turner, said he would be willing to attend.

Resentments by motorists to picketing activities was noted by Sheriff P. A. Lanson of Council Bluffs. He said he had received about 50 protests to the action of pickets in stopping passenger cars as well as trucks.

County Attorney Dickason of Council Bluffs announced that a grand jury investigation would be started Tuesday of the blockades.

Milk was permitted to pass blockades at Sioux City following settlement of the price dispute, original cause of the strike movement, Friday night.

Milk Fight On
The milk dispute at Omaha continued unsettled as distributors announced they would not negotiate with dairymen until the blockade was lifted.

Establishment of peaceful blockades about Ft. Dodge, Ia., Monday was announced following a meeting of Farm Holiday adherents.

Pipestone, Minn., Holiday leaders announced that posting of pickets about there probably would be postponed until later next week to permit completion of the county organization.

The blockade at Walthill, Neb., was lifted to permit farmers to obtain living expenses through sale of produce.

Senator William E. Borah, at Boise, Ida., termed the strike movement an "outward expression of a condition which prevails throughout the agricultural region of the west."

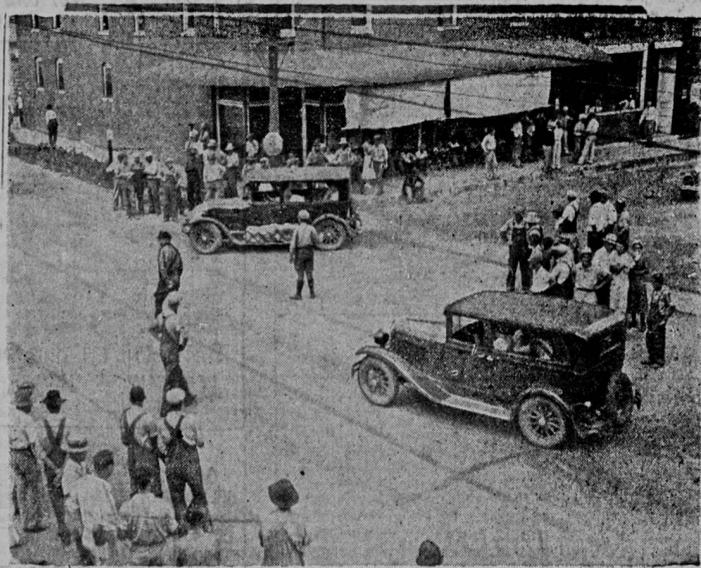

Receiver Sells Pennant Plant

Reopening of the Hawkeye Corporation of America, 221 to 227 S. Capitol street, early in September and resumption of manufacturing activity with a force of about 30 persons was in sight yesterday when the company was sold by George H. Frohweh, receiver, to J. G. Tilden of the Tilden Manufacturing company of Ames.

The company, which has been in the hands of a receiver since early this year, was formerly operated under the management of Fred W. McChesney. It was at one time known as the Hawkeye Pennant company. It is expected that it will retain the present name.

Death Threat to Republicans

Senator's Death Might Cut G.O.P. Control in Chamber

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Charles W. Waterman, U. S. senator from Colorado, died here today, threatening Republican control of the senate for the remainder of President Hoover's term. The Colorado Republican died early today in his apartment after a long illness. He was 71 and his term would have ended next March.

If a Democrat should be elected in November to succeed Waterman for the remainder of the seventy-second congress, the Democrats would have a voting strength of 48, while the Republicans would have 47, with one farmer-labor senator, Shipstead of Minnesota, holding the balance of power.

Republicans would not necessarily lose control of the senate even if a Democrat were elected to succeed Waterman. Senator Shipstead has voted with the Republicans for organization purposes in the past, and if he continued, the Republican strength would equal Democratic strength and Vice President Curtis would have the deciding vote.

Senator Waterman's widow, and a close personal friend, Elroy N. Clark of Denver, were at his bedside when he died.

Private funeral services will be held here Monday. The body will be cremated.

Bind Pair to Jury in Death

Both Enter Pleas "Not Guilty" in Day's Hearings

MANCHESTER, Aug. 27 (AP)—Luther Tesch, 23, of Hopkinton, and his stepmother, Mrs. Martha Tesch, 45, were bound to the October grand jury of Delaware county tonight on charges of murdering Louis Tesch, 48, early Thursday.

Both pleaded not guilty at preliminary hearings today before John J. Pentony, justice of the peace. The couple signed yesterday. Mrs. Tesch's bond was fixed at $2,000 which she was expected to furnish. Young Tesch's bond was fixed at $5,000.

A. M. Cloud, attorney for both, declared the youth shot in self-defense when his father attacked him during a quarrel and that Mrs. Tesch knew nothing of her husband's death until afterwards.

County Attorney Thomas H. Tracey said Mrs. Tesch had admitted aiding her stepson in throwing the body in the Wapsipinicon river where it was found Friday.

Committees Get to Work After Parley

Group Will Attempt to Eliminate Further Unemployment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Confident hope of making a dent in unemployment or checking further loss of jobs came from the first of the new national business committees to get to work today in response to President Hoover's economic conference.

The committee, charged with promoting the campaign for sharing of jobs, headed by Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, took up the unemployment problem at a lengthy conference to which Secretary Doak and labor department officers were invited.

Speaking cautiously but confidently, Mr. Teagle said:

"Make a Dent"
"We do earnestly believe that we can start making a dent in unemployment—how big a dent I don't know—but if successful we certainly can prevent any more unemployment."

"The proposition must be in the hands of each employer and employee. How it is done is up to them. Of course we don't want the standard of present workers cut below the cost of living. It is a job for the individuals and district committees."

Asked about the five day week plan, Teagle replied: "We don't talk about the five day week. It is a question of sharing work. We hope to make it a national movement. The slogan on the west coast where this movement was started is 'Job security by job spreading' and that sounds pretty good."

Meanwhile, a note of confidence spread over the capital that the exhortations given the men who control the nation's credit at yesterday's conference by President Hoover and Democratic leaders would lead to a fresh and determined move for improved conditions.

Will Outline Plan
A. W. Robertson, chairman of the special committee for expansion of capital expenditures by industry through replacements of obsolete equipment, left for Pittsburgh where he will outline a plan on Monday to a group of executives at the Chamber of Commerce.

Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker who heads the central committee to direct the six-point program adopted at yesterday's conference, joined President Hoover today at the Rapidan fishing camp where further plans will be discussed over the week end.

But Washington leaders believe the task of extending credit to make jobs is now one largely in the hands of business leaders themselves whom Mr. Hoover asked "to assume further initiative and responsibility" in the "new setting" which he is convinced is being by overcoming "the major financial crisis."

Mystery Surrounds Disappearance of Young Boy, Mother

LENA, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—Mystery tonight surrounded the whereabouts of Mrs. Lucille Mordick, 26, and her son, Philip, 5, reported by relatives to have disappeared three weeks ago with a man who hired Mrs. Mordick as a housekeeper. Relatives said they feared the mother and son had come to harm.

Leo Mordick, a motorcycle policeman and brother of the missing woman, said a man giving the name of Leon Neff hired his sister on Aug. 5. The man posed as an owner of a 700 acre farm between here and Winslow. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Williams, brother-in-law and sister, respectively, of Mrs. Mordick, said Neff told them he had $30,000 in a certain bank.

Roosevelt in "Broadside" on Dry Laws

Hits Republican Plank in Talk; Favors Temperance

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 27 (AP)—Praising temperance as "one of the cardinal virtues," and labeling the eighteenth amendment a "stupendous blunder," Governor Roosevelt delivered today what party leaders called his "prohibition broadside."

He termed the Republican plank "long, ambiguous, insincere, false." "Once upon a time," he told his vast audience "an orator who was describing the scenery of his state remarked that in the north it was 'mountainous' and that in the south it was 'moisterous.'"

"That classic description reminds me of the Republican national ticket this year—'high and dry' at one end, and at the other end increasing moisture."

The presidential nominee described the Democratic prohibition plank as "so plain and clear and honest that no one could doubt its meaning."

In a direct attack on President Hoover and his acceptance speech, Roosevelt said:

"To anyone who will read the prohibition plank in the Republican platform and the remarks of the president on this question in his acceptance speech, the difficulty under which the president labors will become obvious, and the reason for his use of meaningless words will become clear."

"It is the difficulty that always attends sacrificing principles for votes, and attempting to conceal that fact by the use of pussy-cat words."

"That statement can be no better substantiated than by the president's own statement that 'I have always sympathized with the high purpose of the eighteenth amendment.'"

"Does that spell out a prohibitionist attempting to retain the support of the dregs?"

In the acceptance speech, Roosevelt continued, the president "proceeds deliberately to misrepresent the position of the Democratic party, on prohibition."

In this connection, he said, an attempt had been made "to mislead the people of this country."

The Democratic standard bearer then accused Republican leaders of trying "a circus stunt," with one foot . . . on the wet horse and the other foot . . . on the dry horse.

"The answer of the voters," he continued, "will be precisely the same" as the result in 1930 in New York state when the Republicans "fell to the ground" between the two horses.

Thousands packed the parade grounds near the "little white house" as the New York governor delivered the second major speech of his campaign.

Several hours earlier he had driven through the thronged parade grounds and waved a welcome to the crowds that pressed close against police lines.

Board Names State Capital as Iowa Site

Subscriptions of Stock Next Step in Full Organization

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The federal home land bank board tonight announced its twelve banks will be located at Cambridge, Mass., Newark, N. J., Pittsburgh, Winston Salem, N. C., Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Evanston, Ill., Des Moines, Little Rock, Ark., Topeka, Kans., Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles.

In announcing the selection of the sites the home loan board said it felt it its duty to locate the banks in states whose institutions were legally authorized to purchase stock.

The board also said that with the sites chosen, its next activity would be to make arrangements for opening subscriptions books for stock. This it plans to do in the immediate future.

"As a second policy," the statement said, "the board felt that there were a sufficient number of eligible and available cities outside of the federal reserve and federal land bank cities to enable it to carry out a further distribution and decentralization of the major financial instrumentalities set up by the government."

Comment Favors Moratorium

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—From banking authorities in nearly half the states the home loan board today received favorable responses to its appeal for suspension of foreclosures on all mortgages held by closed institutions until its banks get into operation about Oct. 15.

Twenty state banking commissioners and superintendents telegraphed Chairman Fort their endorsement of the plan which already has been put into effect in connection with closed national banks by J. W. Poie, comptroller of the currency. In addition, banking authorities of three other states have announced they would comply with the board's request.

Fort expressed gratification over the response and said the 60 day respite probably would enable many mortgagors to regain their equities.

Says B. E. F.'s Papers Forged

Legion Meeting Boos at Suggestion; Votes Favor Bonus

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—An assertion by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war, that many of the discharge papers carried by members of the Washington bonus army had been forged by a communist press disrupted the state convention of the American Legion temporarily today.

In a mixture of boos, hisses, cheers and applause the delegates made so much noise that Davison was unable to continue for several minutes. He was also interrupted frequently during the remainder of the speech.

State Commander Hubbard pleaded for "fair play" and threatened several times to call in police to keep order. The assistant secretary of war, who is also a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of New York, was applauded as he finished.

The state organization finally voted 499 to 138 in favor of immediate payment of the bonus.

Davison told the Legionnaires that President Hoover averted a serious disturbance by sending troops to disperse the stragglers of the bonus expeditionary forces.

"If Mr. Hoover's capacity for quick decision had not provided troops, the loss of life, suffering and destruction of property would have been appalling," he said.

He was interrupted at almost every sentence.

"Let Waters talk," someone yelled. Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus army, was in the galleries as a spectator.

Davison said he had "absolute proof" that the B. E. F. was "infested with impostors who posed as patriotic veterans while they were actually waging war upon American institutions."

Prohibition Broadside

GOV. FRANKLIN Delano Roosevelt, at bat for the second time yesterday in his road tour of Democratic camps, took another swing at the Republican platform plank on prohibition with a view to laying it low for the rest of the season. Devoting most of his talk to the wet and dry angles of the G.O.P. plank and to the "plain and clear and honest" wording of the Demo plank, Roosevelt fired a broadside at President Hoover's speech of acceptance that punched it full of holes.

No doubt President Hoover can come right back with a counter attack and split up Roosevelt's platform almost as effectively, except that his use of "pussycat" words might leave his hearers in doubt as to his real meaning, according to Roosevelt, at least.

Roosevelt spent some time telling his listeners how wrong it is to allow drunkenness in a machine-society, that the intoxicated man is a peril: "I need not point out to you that general encouragement of lawlessness has resulted; that corruption, hypocrisy, crime and disorder have emerged, and that instead of restricting, we have extended the spread of intemperance."

Placed side by side, the Democratic and Republican planks on prohibition represent similar views on identical bases—liquor for the wets, none for the dries; no saloons, no drinks—and leaves nothing in the balance for those who want to understand either of them. Each party is sold on its platform, just as certain as each is opposed to the other.

Continued emphasis on prohibition leads one to believe that the political leaders who foresaw the liquor question as the issue of the November elections are well on the way to making their prophecy come true. There have been no broadsides against the economic or foreign policy planks in either platform. Everyone is agreed that no one wants the saloon again, that those who want to remain dry should be allowed to, and that those who want to drink should be given the chance. But hardly anyone seems to know just how the millions of unemployed will be taken care of this winter, or how the country will stand financially at the end of the fiscal year—liquor or no liquor.

Do It By Hand

NEXT FRIDAY night plans will probably be submitted to the city council for the construction of an ambitious system of storm sewers.

The fact that Iowa City is in need of adequate drainage facilities has often been demonstrated. Many of the sewers, especially in the north part of the city, are far too small and have caused much damage in times of heavy rains.

In the not far distant future, Iowa City, in common with many other cities, will be forced by the state board of health to provide a disposal plant for its sewage and to discontinue contamination of the Iowa river. This project, which will not be a matter simply of choice on the part of the city, must be planned for and funds must be provided for its construction. Plans which are now being made by the city engineer for the new drainage system will contemplate such a plant.

But whatever the necessity for the improvement, the ostensible reason for its proposed construction this fall, as expressed by councilmen, is the employment of men who are badly in need of work.

The job will cost, according to unofficial estimates, between $40,000 and $50,000 which, if administered properly, should go far to relieve the local unemployment problem.

It must, therefore, be administered, not alone with the view of getting the cheapest bid for the work, but with the avowed purpose of providing employment for the largest possible number of men for the longest possible time.

A $50,000 job can be done quickly, efficiently, and with good profit by a firm fully equipped with machinery. But machines were invented for the purpose of doing away with manual labor and they are all too successful in their purpose.

A project of this kind lends itself admirably to the use of labor, to the employment of the very type of men most in need of work. It should be done, if the council is sincere in its intentions, as nearly as possible by hand.

No Release?

IN A SUIT recently filed in a federal court at Los Angeles, a former student at Coe college in Cedar Rapids has brought an action to recover $103,500 in damages. His allegation is, that while he was enrolled in the school in 1929, he suffered injuries to his back in a cross country run.

The student claims that he fell into a ditch while participating in the run, and received the injury. He also claims that he was forced to run while he was at the school, although he did not want to participate in athletics.

The cross country coach, now track coach at the institution, said Friday that the student was never forced to run, but had worked voluntarily in competition before receiving his injury.

The question of who may be right is not one to be settled editorially; that lies with the court.

One question which has not been answered in the newspaper reports of the suit is that of whether or not the students at Coe college were required to sign a release which exempted the school from liability in case of injury to a participant in athletics, other than proper medical aid.

Such releases are, at least at present, common to most schools. They provide an efficient method of meeting just such a circumstance as has come up in this case.

Belonging in Iowa

(From the Kansas City Times)

Henry Field, the republican nominee for senator from Iowa, is negative in a good many statements about himself. He belongs, he says, to no particular bloc or faction, and he is neither a radical nor a standpatter. But that leaves possible quite a bit, for Field asserts that he is "an average Iowa business man," and belongs to that state, "the Republican party and the United States." To the Republicans, at least, that ought to represent a big gain. Senator Brookhart, who was defeated by Field, belonged to mighty little, so far as any good Republican could see. Maybe that was the reason Iowa members of the party decided to take a chance with a man who was ready to acknowledge that he belonged to something.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

Today's book bit, which you'll find at the foot of this column, bridges up the question of a backward civilization. The Good Earth, as you already know, is about China—and China, as you also know, is a backward nation.

If you think the United States of America—yourself in particular—is hard up, just read this book by Mrs. Buck, if you haven't. It is enlightening on the want of every day life for millions of Chinese. The book bit today just provides one sample.

It's not so hard to understand. China is very, very heavily populated. China is very, very backward. Put the two together and you have a bad combination.

Disorder in government, chaos in much of it, doesn't help a situation where most of the farm labor is still done by hand—labor is far cheaper than machinery in over-populated China.

So far so good. That condition, however, makes the vast, sprawling conglomeration of provinces known to the western maps as China an easy prey for the penetration of Communism. And that's another story.

But the thing I had in mind today is the lack of western superiority to China in the extent you'd expect it in this year of passing depression.

China is riddled from bandit wars, and pays dearly for its soldiery. The western world has an especially bad headache from the World war, beside which China's scraps appear like the popping of a few firecrackers. The bill for that war has come due, and it's a prime factor in this depression. Not only that, but soldiery and battleships cost the western world a pretty penny.

It is well known that the "civilized" nations have the improvements of modern science and invention—the machinery of a glorious new age of speed and achievement in almost every field of production, transportation, and organization. Yet these advanced nations are suffering from an economic ailment that, relatively, is fully as serious as that in which China now finds herself.

In China it is a case of plentiful resources undeveloped, of over-population, of faulty equipment and mobilization. The nations with European civilization have little of the same excesses.

Maybe you're tired of hearing that the current U. S. depression is largely a case not of inability to produce enough goods for everybody to consume but lack of a setup to get them to those who need them most. But it's just as true as the first time you heard it.

Senator Borah told a University of Minnesota audience that "this is a man-made depression"—that nature hadn't gone back on him. Man himself in his social organization had jammed the works.

There was an amusing legal substantiation of the Borah viewpoint here. A man with a lease which he could void in case of an "act of God" declared the depression was an "act of God" and pulled out. In a suit between him and his landlord the judge decided that the economic crisis is not an "act of God."

Among the other mean pups of the wolf at the door is the threat of Communism here, as in China—not very strong by comparison, because bellies are fuller in the United States, but a threat that promises trouble in the future.

When the United States begins to expand in population far over the point where it is now—and the trend is in that direction—dire problems are in store. Now is the time to start thinking of those problems, and to check the flaws that show up. For if Communism ever does get a hold on this country, it will be because capitalism has fallen down on the job.

Book Bits—

(From The Good Earth, by Pearl S. Buck)

"When the rich are too rich there are ways, and when the poor are too poor there are ways. Last winter we said two girls and endured, and this winter, if this one my woman bears is a girl, we will sell again. One slave I have kept—the first. The others it is better to sell than to kill, although there are those who prefer to kill them before they draw breath. This is one of the ways when the poor are too poor. When the rich are too rich there is a way, and if I am not mistaken, that way will come soon."

VICTIMIZED BY BOGUS COPS

Mrs. John J. Chandler, of Seattle, Wash., is shown with her husband following her harrowing experience at the hands of two Colon, C. Z., natives. Mrs. Chandler, known professionally as Betty Andrews, a dancer in a local cabaret, was taken from her home by the two men who posed as police authorities, and savagely attacked. Colon authorities are conducting a vigorous hunt for the criminals.

SAMUEL SEABURY—A CHALLENGE, by WALTER CHAMBERS, $2.50. Reviewed by ROLAND WHITE.

"Popular government can be no better than public opinion and the public conscience insist upon. In the absence of dishonesty or wilful neglect or incompetency dangerous to the public welfare, removal of elected officials by the governor is not the remedy for public indifference in the nomination and election of public officers."

Uttered by Hero Seabury and italicized by Hero Worshipper Chambers, that is the basic theme of this biography about a man who is not yet biographer's material of the first magnitude.

In his treatment of the remoter past Chambers illustrates the gap between journalism and history, as in his style he demonstrates the gap between journalism and literature. Journalism has produced Claude G. Bowers to give lessons to historians, but Walter Chambers is more in need of historical accuracy than he is of journalistic fluency.

Interesting as are some of Seabury's political relationships—support of single taxer Henry George for mayor of New York in 1897, bolt to Populist Thomas B. Watson of Georgia, against anti-Bryan gold Democrat Alton B. Parker for president in 1904, support of William Randolph Hearst against Charles Evans Hughes for governor of New York in 1906, break with Theodore Roosevelt's Republican brand of Progressivism in 1916 because of pro-Wilson Democratic leanings (splitting the New York Progressive party wide open between its two outstanding leaders)—nevertheless, too much of the narrative seems to rest on the word of Judge Seabury alone.

Chambers might have heeded in its broader implications the dictum of Seabury that "I know of no precept in law which accepts the word of a gentleman in substitution for legal evidence." At least if there is other evidence he seldom discloses it, except for rare references to such sources as John K. Winkler's biography of Publisher Hearst.

This fault shows at its worst in a "Father, I cannot tell a lie" type of incident where Seabury nobly refuses the support of Hearst in a state election (and does not run) because he does not choose to be indebted to anyone for campaign funds in any form. It may be true, but there's no evidence.

Seabury's biographer disposes implicitly of the accusation that the prosecuting judge wants to boost himself into the presidency, but he is prominently eligible for attorney general or the supreme court, which he is qualified to grace if his biographer speaks truly. Although it stops short of being hot 1932 campaign material by closing with January of this year, before dapper Mayor James J. Walker had strutted to the witness chair, the book also gives much evidence that Judge Seabury did not aim solely or primarily at the scalp of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt. If the passage with which this review began can be trusted, his target is really bigger even than Tammany itself.

Chambers convinces me that Investigator Seabury has more claim to the label Progressive than blustering Theodore Roosevelt and at least as much as his fellow Democrat, Governor Roosevelt. His is a record more conspicuous for independence than for election victories.

In handling the hot potato which Seabury has flung his way at an embarrassing moment, the Democratic nominee for president has a chance to demonstrate superior political deftness. It's too bad Chambers squandered 211 of his 331 pages before getting into the field of his personal experience—the investigation of "an era of corruption not equalled since the days of Tweed."

Anyhow, if Governor Roosevelt can dispose of Mayor Walker without losing Tammany support or its equivalent elsewhere in the country, the non-Tammany but not anti-Tammany candidate may merit from the investigator he approved a left-handed tribute like that accorded Alfred E. Smith: "the best representative of the worst element in the Democratic party in this state."

The Columbian Cabin Murders by Prof. Philip Mechem of the college of law of the University of Iowa; Released Aug. 26 by Scribner's. $2. Reviewed by Mrs. Fred M. Pownall.

This is Professor Mechem's first published novel, and is an exciting combination of crime, humor, romance, accusations and alibis. There are many complications, surprises and unexpected denouements, but all of them mean something. The author never cheats. There are no scratchings or screechings or phantom figures which have nothing to do with the plot. Every character and every situation is part of an intricate tangle which eventually unravels in an exciting final chapter.

Professor Mechem is particularly adept at plot construction and character portrayal. The reader will not soon forget Joe Cartwright, the busy district attorney; Cy Young, the philosophical storekeeper and amateur detective; the glamorous Irene, the icy Wilson Taggart; the stolid Daisy; Apthorp, the mystery man, or Kirk, the half-crazed youth who plays an important part in the solution of the mystery.

The story is told with straightforward simplicity, so important in novels of this type.

STUDIO GOSSIP

By HARRISON CARROLL

SCREEN COMMENT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—The young fans of the screen are to have their innings.

At the same time, the second generation of Hollywood's actors is coming into its own.

Universal has decided to do a series of early western adventure films, glorifying the young pioneer. In this series, they will star Noah Beery, Jr.

Carl Laemmle, Jr., has signed Armand Schaefer to direct this series. He is working on the first story. Young Noah Beery will take up the role of the young frontiersman in about two weeks, when this first picture gets under way.

The decision to star Beery, Jr., came after his work in "Heroes of the West" and "Jungle Mysteries."

This series of early frontier thrillers is the second western company at work on the Universal lot. Tom Mix recently signed for six more hoof symphonies.

Carl Laemmle, Jr., is going in for the young idea in full force. In addition to an original story now in preparation for Andy Devine, operational contracts have been awarded three other young players.

They are Theodore Hecht, who came out to take tests for "Laughing Boy," Earl McCarthy, and Carlton Keadell, a Broadway stage juvenile.

With these three new names, the young Universal executive is building up a strong juvenile stock company.

It might have been to make Boris Karloff feel more at home, but, at any rate, the property man put in an order for 20 mosquito cases for a scene in "The Mask of Fu Manchu."

The order calling for 20 sarong-plagi got cross-tracked to the man in charge of the animal barn. He reported back: "I've got rattlesnakes, tarantulas, and lizards, but I've never heard of that reptile sarong-plagi."

Cubs Continue Winning Streak With Double Triumph Over Giants

Homers Help Bruins to Win Both Clashes

Grimes Hurls 6-1 Win in Opener; Smith Triumphs, 5-0

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—The pitching of Burleigh Grimes and Bob Smith enabled the Cubs to add another half game to their margin of leadership today as they defeated the New York Giants 6 to 1 and 5 to 0, in a doubleheader.

The two-ply victory gave the Cubs a lead of seven games over the second place Brooklyn Dodgers. An overflow crowd of 40,000 was on hand for the triumph.

Six Hit Masterpiece
Grimes, hurling his first complete game since mid-June, turned in a six-hit masterpiece on until the eighth inning when Gilbert English doubled and came home on two outs, Kiki Cuyler's homer with two aboard in the first inning sent the Cubs off ahead and they never were threatened.

Fred Fitzsimmons pitched steady ball after that blow, which followed singles by Herman and Woody English, allowing only seven more hits.

Smith Scatters Hits
Smith gave up nine hits in the second clash but kept them scattered. A homer again opened the scoring, Riggs Stephenson driving one into the right field bleachers following Cuyler's single in the fourth.

The Cubs added another tally in the sixth on Hemsley's double, Koenig's single and an error by Hogan and got two more off Adolfo Luque in the eighth.

Grimes' homer was the first and a double by Smith and Herman's single scored the other.

Dodgers Don't Play Cubs—Win 8 to 3

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers celebrated their escape from Chicago by trouncing the Cardinals today, 8 to 3, behind the five-hit pitching of Van Mungo and Joe Shauts. The victory enabled them to hold second place.

The Dodgers combined two doubles and two singles with four walks off Carleton in the third inning to score five runs and clinch the victory. Hack Wilson drove in three tallies with a pair of two-baggers.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27 (AP)—Pushing across four runs in the seventh inning, the Pirates today downed the Boston Braves in the initial game of their series, 7 to 4.

Comorosky, Pittsburgh outfielder, and Knothe, Boston infielder, garnered three hits apiece. Paul Waner banged his 52nd double of the season. Floyd Vaughan, Buc's shortstop, received an injury to his left ankle while making a double play in the first stanza.

IT'S BURLEIGH AND KIKI IN FIRST—

In the first game of yesterday's doubleheader in which the Cubs increased their first place lead by a double victory over the New York Giants, it was the six hit pitching of Burleigh Grimes and Kiki Cuyler's first inning home run that brought about the verdict.

Foxx Starts Final Spurt

Collects Four Homers, Adds to Hitting Average

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Jimmy Foxx, the young man from Philadelphia, who has a chance of beating Babe Ruth's major league home run record, appears to have started his final big drive of the season.

After a brilliant start, the A's first baseman started to sag after the week ending July 1, and from then on until the past week, lost 34 points from his individual average.

Last week, however, was much better. He improved his mark two points to .356, and better still, connected for four more home runs, giving him a total of 47, with 28 games left in which to match or better Ruth's standard of 60.

Holds 3 Leadership Alone
He held three other leaderships all alone, and was tied with Heinie Manush of Washington, in base hits with 171. He clubbed in eight runs during the week to increase his total to 136, and scored six times for a season total of 125 runs. His hits last week were worth 35 in total bases, giving him a best mark of 355.

The other three individual leaderships remained in the same hands, two of them without improvement. Roy Johnson of Boston failed to get a double, but his total of 38 was still good, and Buddy Myer of Washington, continued to lead in three base hits without getting another, his 15 holding up. Ben Chapman, on the way to his second American league title in base stealing, added another pair to his collection and had 32 for the season.

Gomez Wins No. 21
Ranking behind Foxx, among the leading regulars were: Lou Gehrig, New York, 348; Babe Ruth, New York, 346; Heinie Manush, Washington, 345; Rick Ferrell, St. Louis, 333; Sheard Jolley, Chicago, 326; Joe Cronin, Washington, 323; Gerald Walker, Detroit, 322; Jack Burns, St. Louis, 321; and Earl Combs, New York, 318.

Verhulm Gomez of the Yankees attained his twenty-first pitching triumph of the season, and had only 6 defeats marked against him. Johnny Allen, a teammate, and young Tony Freitas of the Athletics, however, ranked ahead of him. Allen was credited with three victories during the week, giving him 14 against two defeats. Freitas won one and had nine won and two lost.

Charlie Ruffing, another Tank ace, led in strikeouts, with 169 in 217 innings.

Late Rally Gives Senators 6-2 Win

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Washington made it three straight from Detroit today, winning 6 to 2, with a sudden onslaught late in the game.

Just when it appeared that the visitors were headed for victory behind the slants of Hogsett, who had yielded but four hits, the Nationals' batting attack came to life in the seventh. Three hits and an error scored three runs. Three more tallies in the eighth on four safeties and a walk sewed up the game.

Crowder, touched for eight hits, was the winning pitcher though taken out for a pinch-batter in the seventh.

Chicagoan in 5 and 4 Loss to Texas Ace

Invited to Take Part in Walker Cup Matches

By PAUL MICKELSON
ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—Gus Moreland strode off the Rockford country club fairways tonight with the western amateur crown perched on his brow and an invitation to compete on America's Walker Cup team in his pocket.

It was the biggest day of the 21 year old Dallas, Tex., boy's golfing life. He was king for a day.

The western crown came his way with comparative ease today as he turned back the challenge of the husky Ira Couch, Chicago golfer, by the one-sided margin of five and four. The invitation to play for Uncle Sam against the British next week at Brookline, Mass., came in recognition of his stirring march to the throne even before he quite reached there.

Whoops With Glee
Moreland had just ended a back nine of par golf on his morning tour to grab a three up lead over the Chicagoan when he was handed a telegram from Herbert H. Ramsay, president of the United States Golf association. He ripped it open and let out a whoop that echoed far across the fairways.

It was an invitation to play with the nation's best amateurs in Walker Cup play, one that he expected weeks ago but never got until his big war clubs put in a clincher for his bid yesterday, defeating Charlie Seaver of Los Angeles, a Walker Cup member, in a thrilling match, one up.

"That's the best news I've heard," he shouted with glee. They couldn't stop him after that and Couch was his victim along with the championship.

Putter Magic
Moreland lost the decision to par today by four shots but his golf was more than good enough to defeat Couch, a victim of heart breaking putts on the morning round and an erratic iron shooter in the afternoon. Over that morning 18, Gus was so wild with his approach shots that he landed on but 17 greens with the regulation number of shots.

His putter more than came to his rescue, rolling one-putters on seven greens to hand him his three up lead with a medal score of 73, two over par. He rolled 'em in with one putt from 20, 15, 12 and 8 feet while Couch's putter refused to work.

Over the afternoon route, Moreland played cautious golf, weathering a series of stymies and coming back to win three of the final four holes in par as Couch cracked after redding the Texan's margin to two holes at the 29th tee.

Moreland Gets Started
Couch led until the fifth tee but after that the struggle was all Moreland. Starting out, they halved the first two holes in par. Couch drew ahead on the 420-yard third even though he missed a birdie from six feet as Moreland overshot the green with his second shot and took a five. At the fifth, Gus' putter started to chime. On in three after a second to a trap, he canoned one from 20 feet to win the hole and square the match.

He fired in a 12-footer on the next green to start climbing, lost his advantage on the seventh by getting 60' trippingly with a sand trap and then bounded ahead to stay by winning the eighth with a par as Couch missed his putt for a half from four short feet. Bad putting by Couch sent his colors flying two up on 11 but another trap hauled them down a notch on the long treacherous twelfth.

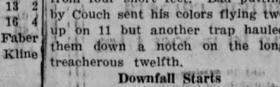

Downfall Starts
That was the beginning of famine for Couch, however, as he didn't get another hole until the twenty-second when he laid Moreland a dead stymie which he failed to negotiate. But by that hole, Moreland was sailing four up and it was too late.

After the presentation ceremonies tonight, Moreland said he would board a train at once for Boston to train for the Walker Cup engagements Thursday and Friday of next week.

"Guess you know I'm not going to play in the Iowa open next week as I planned," he beamed to this writer. "Say, when can I get a train for Boston?"

-AND BOB AND STEVIE IN SECOND

In the second game of the double header, Bob Smith's nine hit chugging that blanked the New York outfit, while Riggs Stephenson's fourth inning four base drive provided the winning margin. Later in the game, Manager Charley Grimm added a home run to the attack after he had already hit a single and double.

Bambino Gets Three Hits to Pace Yankees

Major Star in 5 to 4 Triumph Over Indians

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Yankees ran into a few early difficulties today, but conquered them in the end and wound up with a 5 to 4 victory over the Cleveland Indians and a clean sweep for the four-game series.

Once more it was Babe Ruth who provided the winning punch for the Yanks after he had opened a four-run rally in the sixth inning to give New York the lead for the first time. The Babe broke a 44 deadlock in the seventh sending Combs home with his third hit of the game.

The Yanks got a "break" in scoring their winning run. Combs' fly was turned into a two-base hit when Averill lost it in the sun. Joe Sewell's sacrifice put him in position to tally on the Babe's blow.

Harder blanked the Yanks with four runs in the first five innings while Cleveland piled up a 3-0 lead. Joe Vosmik's triple, and Luke Sewell's single netted a run in the second and a single by Vosmik, Kamm's triple and Montague's fly brought two more in the fourth.

The Yanks bunched four hits with a pair of walks off Harder to tally four times and go ahead. Ruffing's pinch single with the bases full drove in two runs and finished Harder's stay on the hill. Connally finished.

MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY
BY ANTHONY ABBOT

SYNOPSIS

Following the receipt of a death threat, Lola Carewe, known as "The Night Club Lady", is mysteriously slain in her penthouse apartment at 3 a. m. New Year's. Dr. Hugh Baldwin reports death due to heart failure. The only clue to the murderer is a medical laboratory specimen box found outside Lola's window. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt attaches importance to the young man whose photograph is found in Lola's room, and whose identity Lola had refused to reveal beyond his first name, "Basil". At the mention of "Basil", Mrs. Carewe, Lola's mother, becomes hysterical. It is known that Lola quarreled with Guy Everett and Vincent Rowland, a lawyer, over investments. Eunice, the maid, confesses she was employed by Everett to report the goings on in the apartment. The mystery deepens with the finding of the body of Christine Quires, Lola's guest. Christine had been killed before Lola and her body hidden until an opportune moment arrived for the murderer to place it, saking wet, in Lola's room. The findings are similar to those in Lola's case except that Christine's neck was bruised after death. Everett, Christine's last escort, claims he left her at the apartment elevator at midnight New Year's Eve, and then went for a ride on the Motor Parkway, alone, arriving home after 3 a. m. Mrs. Carewe informs Colt that Christine lived with a brother, Edgar, in Rochester, and was to receive her inheritance shortly. Lola's room is vacuum cleaned and the dust particles sent to Professor Luckner for analysis. Colt sends to the medical examiner a hypodermic syringe taken from Baldwin's bag and a strap for analysis, also a strand of Christine's hair found near Lola's window. The Commissioner orders Basil's picture telephoned to M. Dupont, head of the Paris Police.

In Eunice's room Flynn had found a box of writing paper and a small bottle of ink identical with the materials of the death note.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE
WITHIN half an hour after reaching Headquarters I had performed my several and diversified errands. The hypodermic syringe was in the hands of a department chemist, yanked from between warm sheets and called to the cold glare of the Center Street laboratory. To him was also entrusted the buckled strap which Colt had found and to which he attributed such enigmatic importance. Finally, I had turned the photograph over to Gavin, the telegraph manager. When the grizzled old operator heard what was wanted, he looked at me with a skeptical squint.
"Telephoto—to Paris?" he repeated in a nasal tone, full of complaint. "And with the government trying on the wires trying to argue with the French about money?"
He leaned forward and grabbing my shoulder, fixed me with an eye as glittering as the Ancient Mariner's.
"So the Commissioner wants me to send that photo to Paris, eh? Does he know what that means? Of course he does not! You tell him for me that to wire this picture to Paris it has to be specially prepared—chemically. Never thought of that, eh? Then it has to be exposed, a minute area at a time, to a transmitting device by means of which the line current is varied proportionately—never thought of that either, did you? The fastest time we've ever made to get ready over in Paris—if we can do the job at all—"
"The Commissioner said it had to be done," I cut in impatiently, "telephone him when the picture is over there."
Gavin eyed me dourly. But I knew he would do it. Such men—veterans—are never able to do their best work unless they have a free tongue to grouch. Any of them would give his life for the department.

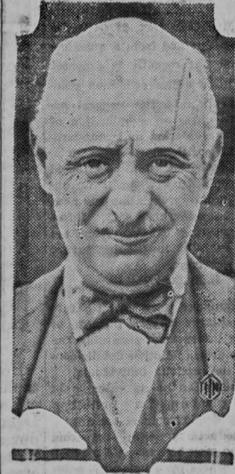

On my desk at Headquarters I found several messages from my home. I looked at my watch. It was deep in the morning now. I wondered if Betty had fallen asleep. Poor kid! Police work is exciting, but not for wives. I decided it was better not to risk waking her. My tasks at Headquarters were done and I returned uptown in a department car. In quick time I arrived at the gray-stone house with the green trim on West Seventieth Street that used to be called "Little Headquarters" because Thatcher Colt transacted so much official business in his own home. Arthur, Colt's dusky Jamaican butler, greeted me with an ivory smile and led me to the east library occupying the third floor of the house. There, in easy-chairs before the fire, I found the chief and the District Attorney. Beside them were whiskey and sodas and a third chair was drawn up for me, with a tall drink, waiting and undefiled. A bright fire of logs crackled and sparkled in the open grate. On Thatcher Colt's shoulder crouched a Siamese cat with blue eyes and blue-pointed ears—Judah was his name because once he had scratched his master. Now they were great friends.
When I entered the room, Colt was talking on the portable telephone beside his chair to the Rochester police chief. Their conversation was brief.
"Tony," the chief divulged as he hung up the receiver, "the brother of Christine Quires received a telegram from New York early yesterday afternoon. The Western Union won't disclose its contents without a court order. However, I expect to find out what was in the message, just the same. But we do know Edward Quires and his wife left at once for New York—around ten o'clock last night. Find out what train is due to arrive in New York from Rochester. Have one of our men board the train at Harmon and page Mr. Edward Quires. Bring him and his wife to Headquarters."
As I relayed these messages to Flynn, still over at the pent-house and functioning from there, Colt and Dougherty conversed in low tones, their voices almost obliterated by the cry of the wind in the dark street below. But presently Flynn told me something which seemed so startling to me that I held the Inspector on the wire while

Bonds Rally; Rails Strong

Enthusiasm Lacking in Short Saturday Session

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The bond market rallied mildly today with the principal recoveries confined to the speculative rail group which has been subjected to considerable pressure recently.
There was a notable lack of enthusiasm in the brief Saturday session. Sales totaled only $5,347,000, par value, the smallest aggregate since June 25. The average for 60 corporate bonds advanced one-tenth of a point.
Besides the rebound in low-priced transportation issues, some special utility and industrial loans were in demand. The market, as a whole, however, was extremely thin.
The principal rail rallies were registered by some issues of Baltimore and Ohio, Chicago and Northwestern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, Pennsylvania and Southern, Chicago and Northwestern general 4 3/4s were up to 10 1/2 points on a turnover of 6 bonds.
New York traction loans came back for sharp gains following the Interborough Rapid Transit receivership yesterday. American Telephone bonds, whose bonds of International Telephone were a trifle irregular.
The foreign section was quiet and mixed. The Australians were strong, but the Germans were reactionary. United States government loans were dull and barely steady.

Fruit Conditions in Better Shape for '32

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Iowa Horticultural society's survey, fruit and vegetable conditions are materially better than last year, particularly in vegetables. R. S. Wheat Soars Up as Sales Take on Life

Small Recessions Felt at Close; Oats, Corn Strong

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Wheat prices were swept sharply upward today by a broad general buying wave engendered by stock market strength and a sensational advance in cotton. An initial advance of 2 1/2 cents a bushel was registered in wheat for December delivery before profit-taking, selling against offers and closing of "spread" operations between Chicago and Winnipeg could check the market. Recessions were only minor, heavy buying appearing on each fractional downturn. Oats and corn were strong. Provisions also were firm, in sympathy with grains.

Up From Friday

Wheat closed strong, not far from the day's top levels and 1 5/8 to 2 1/8 cents above yesterday's finish. Corn 3/4 to 1 3/8 up, oats 5/8 to 7/8 advanced, and provisions 5-13 cents stronger.

Commission houses came into the market with huge buying orders at the start, the bulk of them attributed to eastern sources.
The Chicago December delivery sold at a premium over the same month at Winnipeg. On Aug. 18, December wheat was selling at 1 1/8 cents more in Winnipeg than it was in Chicago. Bullish sentiment was enhanced by the theory of buyers that wheat and other grains will have to show some response eventually to the improvement in outside conditions and which have made wheat look cheap by comparison.

Export business is still lacking and United States hard winter wheat is there is virtually no inquiry for foreign markets.
Corn Climbs
Prices for corn moved up sharply, mainly on the rally in wheat. Offerings from the country were fair, but shipping demand remains quiet. Oats were firm despite heavy hedging pressure.
Provisions were higher in sympathy with other commodities.
Closing Indemnities: Wheat—Sept. 52 1-4, 54 1-2; Dec. 56 1-4, 58 3-4 to 7-8; May 60 5-8, 63 3-8. Corn—Sept. 30 1-2, 31 3-4; Dec. 32 5-8 to 3-1, 34 3-4 to 7-8; May 37 3-8, 38 5-8 to 3-4.

Large Crowds Enjoy Iowa State Fair Despite Drizzling of Rain

Veterans Get Free Tickets for Festivity

Motorcycle Races Cut From Program, Wet Track Cause

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—This was "thrill day" at the Iowa state fair and the exciting entertainment program kept thousands of Iowans at the grounds despite a drizzle of rain.

It also was World war veterans day, with former service men admitted without charge, and Des Moines day, and attendance marks were high throughout the day.

Officials were forced to call off the championship motorcycle races because of the condition of the track, but the balance of the program was staged practically as scheduled.

Engines Smash
Two large locomotives thundered down the tracks to collide head-on in front of the grandstand as the grand finale of the thrill program. A derby race of antiquated cars and other auto stunts were other features.

Visitors packed the pavilions, barns and exhibit halls for the showing of Iowa stock and produce. Judging of boys' baby beaves and boys' and girls' lambs held first place attention among competitive events.

Sunday's headline attractions are the sermon of the Rev. William A. "Billy" Sunday in the afternoon and the Washington bi-centennial celebration in the evening.

Politicians Meet
Next week politics will play a three-day stand at the fair, with party political meetings on schedule at the grounds. Republicans will have their day on Tuesday, while Thursday will be Democratic day. State central committees of both parties will meet here on the eve of the days at the fair.

State day will be observed as usual on Wednesday, with senators, congressmen, state officials and members of the legislature as guests.

The harness races, opening Monday, already have 264 entries and fair officials said today that the races might be split in two divisions to take care of the turn-out.

Winners Named
Announcement of winners in the various contests staged since the opening of the fair also went forward today.

H. S. Hicks, 67, of Carlisle, won the old fiddler's contest. He played "Draper's Reel," "Johnson's Hornpipe" and "Lardner's Reel" in the competition. Second place went to L. R. De France, 73, of Rogers and third to W. E. Tanner, 66, of Grimes. There were 75 in the contest.

In the small native fruits, L. C. Knudson of Le Grand took seven firsts in the plum awards in the northern district with Carl Theiss of Ft. Dodge getting second with five firsts. E. O. Worth of Mondamin took 10 firsts in plum awards in the southern district.

Grape Winners
C. H. Truitt of Edgewood scored 10 firsts in grapes from the northern district and Mrs. J. C. Hol of Des Moines led winners from the southern district.

Stocks Higher After Trades on Good Day

Utilities Lead Parade; Securities Peak for Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—A fresh supply of bullish enthusiasm swept over the security markets again today and stocks, led by the utilities, topped off a week of nearly uninterrupted price advances by working moderately higher.

A number of securities reached new peak prices for the year. Traders showed an inclination to take profits in the closing minutes, but their selling orders were not heavy enough to erase an earlier advance. Stocks closed with average prices, as measured in the Associated Press-Standard Statistics Index, gaining 1.4 points to the highest level yet reached on the recovery and only a few points below the year's highest level reached last March.

Big Day

Sales totaled 2,201,980 shares, the largest Saturday of the month with the exception of Aug. 6.

The commodity markets furnished the springs from which the stock market drew its fresh supplies of encouragement. The sight of buoyantly advancing cotton prices which carried that staple to within striking distance of 10 cents a pound attracted fresh buying to stocks of manufacturing companies. Firmness of the woolen and silk markets also inspired fresh confidence. Shares of companies which are largely dependent upon conditions in the country's grain belt registered gains as a result of advances of nearly 2 cents a bushel in the prices of wheat, and other grains.

Stock market advances were cut down somewhat in the late trading, but profit-taking failed to make much impression upon the utility stocks, some of which reached their best levels of the day in the late dealings. Consolidated Gas, Public Service and United Gas Improvement were up 1 or more points while gains of 2 to as much as 4 points were made by American & Foreign Power, Electric Power & Light and North American.

Steel's Climb

The steel stocks figured in an early advance, but lost most of their gains under late profit-taking. The copper stocks were strong. J. I. Case went to a new high for the year and International Harvester was up a substantial fraction. The rails were quiet.

The weekly carloading statement, showing a gain over the preceding week of only 6,211 cars, was somewhat disappointing to investors who had hoped for a more clearly defined reflection of business improvement. The week end trade—industrial reviews were cheerful.

Steel trade reports showed scattered gains.

Smith Jailed for Robbery

Ray E. Smith, 28, 720 E. Burlington street, was in the county jail yesterday awaiting a hearing on two charges of robbery.

He was arrested late Friday night after Jacob Goldberg, proprietor of the Bowery street grocery at 518 Bowery street, gave police a description of a man who held him up at 9 p.m. as he was closing his store and robbed him of more than $30 in cash.

The man carried a revolver and wore a handkerchief over the lower half of his face. Perched on his head was a small boy's cap with the words United States navy across the front.

Officer Charles Boeck, who arrested Smith at his home last night, found a revolver which was identified as the gun stolen from the George Unash home, 510 N. Van Buren street, last week by a midnight prowler.

The city of Kenitra, in French Morocco, has been re-named Port Lyautey in honor of its founder, Marshal Lyautey.

Will Change State House Salary Level

Questionnaire Sent Out by Committee Will Prompt Solons

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—Information obtained from a questionnaire sent out recently is expected by the interim tax reduction committee to prompt the general assembly to order an equalization of state house salaries and standardization of positions.

The equalization could be effected by the legislature when it formulates the new appropriation law next spring, the committee said. Information obtained by the committee will be supplied to the legislature and the governor.

Individual Data

Questionnaires were sent to state house employes for the purpose of obtaining information regarding the duties, salaries and other details concerning the various individuals.

This ought to be as valuable in presenting information protecting deserving employes from too drastic salary reductions as in revealing those who may be over-paid as compared to others performing the same work, the committee asserted.

The method followed in obtaining the information on the duties of the employes is the same as that which has been used in a number of other states and cities where attempts have been made to equalize

Copies of the questionnaire were sent to department heads with the request that they be placed in the hands of the various employes. Return of the forms by Sept. 1 was urged.

Youths Confess to Robbery at Osceola

OSCEOLA, Aug. 27 (AP)—Three youths arrested by Sheriff A. T. Stansell early this week have signed confessions to the robbery of a filling station and lunch room here the sheriff said today.

P. T. A. Conference Ends at Des Moines

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Iowa congress of parents and teachers closed its summer meeting today with the selection of Marshalltown for its next meeting and accepting in full the program submitted by its legislative committee.

The board approved a policy of watchfulness over the various laws which it has sponsored, and which it feels the state legislature may be called upon in its next session to repeal.

Dean Gilmore Will Speak at Meeting

Dean Eugene A. Gilmore of the college of law will be a speaker on the program of the Missouri State Bar association at its meeting Sept. 30.

He will discuss various phases of law and government in the Philippines, the islands of which he has successively been acting governor, general, vice governor, and secretary of public instruction.

Plucky Play Triumphs

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Twenty-five thousand persons cheered Plucky Play to victory in the $25,000 Hawthorne gold cup race today. Fairno, the odds on favorite, finished second, with Mate third and Gusto fourth.

The 398 South Carolina farmers who entered the 1931 cotton contest made an average profit of $10.79 per acre.

Employees were asked to describe their duties, and supply information on the number of years employed by the state, amount received from the state, working hours, education, and other details.

Department heads were requested to certify to the correctness of the replies.

HUNTING IN CANADA

WIDE VARIETY OF BIG AND SMALL GAME EASILY REACHED

SEASONS OF GENEROUS LENGTH

Wild Fowl Abundant
The uncounted lakes and ponds of northern Canada are the breeding places of the main waterfowl population of the American continent, consequently ducks, geese and other waterfowl are plentiful, in normal years. The ruffed grouse or partridge is the most important upland bird and is common to every province, while woodcock, prairie chicken, Hungarian partridge and ptarmigan provide good sport, in certain districts.

Hunting Grounds Easy of Access

Accessibility is an outstanding feature of much of Canada's hunting territory. That country is well served by roads, railways and steamboat lines, over which the sportsman may travel in comfort, to the "going in" point. Areas previously inaccessible may also now be reached by airplane in a few hours' flight. De-training or "going in" points are numerous throughout game areas and at these will be found reliable outfitters and qualified guides, who are prepared to look after the sportsman's every need and guidance while in the hunting territory.

Vast Hunting Areas
Canada possesses over 1,000,000 square miles of forest, which shelters game animals ranging from the timid rabbit to the huge and dangerous grizzly bear. Moose, caribou, elk, deer, bighorn sheep, mountain goat, timber wolf and bear are plentiful and may be hunted during open seasons of generous length.

Conservation of Game
In Canada a practical form of conservation is found in the setting aside of tracts of public lands, as game reserves, and in the rigid protection of game in its extensive national and provincial parks. In these areas the game multiplies rapidly, under protection, and spreads over into the surrounding country. This favorable condition, coupled with sound protective legislation regulating the open seasons, bag limits, issuing of licences, etc., assures continuance of a supply of game animals and birds in their native habitat. Canada is thus able to offer the hunter exceptional opportunities for sport in season.

Hunting with Camera

To the camera-hunter and the student of wild life, Canada offers unusual opportunities for interesting experiences and records. There is no closed season on game, to the camera-hunter and, throughout the year, he will find favorable conditions to study the habits of game animals and birds and to photograph them in their natural surroundings.

Game Laws of the Provinces

The game laws of the different provinces of Canada are drafted by the provincial Governments with a view to meeting local conditions; consequently there is no uniform game law for the Dominion as a whole. As these game laws are subject to revision from year to year, persons contemplating a hunting trip to Canada are advised to obtain copies of the current game laws and regulations of the province they intend to visit, before making definite arrangements. The National Development Bureau of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa will gladly supply information on hunting in Canada, by either complying with requests, or referring same to other sources from which the particulars desired may be obtained.
