Hawkeyes Take On Touted Carleton Five Tonight Defers Plan for Message to Congress

Iowa Minus Services of Two Regulars

Break, Blackmer Not in Lineup Against Champ Carls

PROBABLE STARTING LINEUPS
Iowa Carleton
Krumholz LF/LF Arney
Moffitt RF/RF Strom
Bastian C/C Raasch
Selzer RG/RG Taylor (c)
Grim LG/LG Thoeno

Officials: Referee, H. G. Hedges (Dartmouth); umpire, Jack North of Des Moines.
Time and place: Saturday, 7:35 p.m., Iowa field house.
Broadcast: Station WSUL.

Although two regulars and two reserves will not be available for the game tonight, Coach Rollie Williams yesterday afternoon declared the Hawkeye cagers "ready" to take on the highly-touted invading Carleton quintet.

The game will be the last for the Old Gold until after Christmas vacation.

Ivan Blackmer, lanky recruit forward, is confined to his bed with influenza, and Ed Break, flashy guard who is in his first year of competition, has been excused from the squad in order that he may return to his home in Chicago to work a mail carrying job. Break is a real carrier, and must report during the Christmas rush to hold his standing.

Two Reserves Out
Harold Eshleman, substitute forward, and Harold Swaney, substitute guard, will also be unable to report tonight because of slight cases of flu.

Coach Williams has remodeled his first string, however, and will be able to put a team on the floor that should force the veteran Carleton team, composed of four seniors and one sophomore, to the limit.

Johnny Grim, Iowa City sophomore, will get the call to fill the vacant guard position, and Guedner Krumholz, a junior, will probably start at Blackmer's forward.

Howard Moffitt is certain to start at the other forward, with Howard Bastian at center, and Ben Selzer handling the other guard.

Carls Fast
The Carls, fresh from a victory over Wisconsin, and with four of the same five men in the lineup that won 17 out of 18 games last season, are rated as one of the fastest aggregations in the middle west. They will be seeking their thirteenth straight victory.

Led by Dick Arney, rated as one of the finest forwards in America, the Northfield team is sure to put the Hawkeye defense to its most severe test to date. Arney himself earned 184 points last year while he, Captain Taylor, and Raasch, combined to collect a grand total of 400.

While the Carls, like the Hawkeyes, are sure of their attack, neither has found just how potent their defense is, and the game tonight may be settled on that angle. Carleton allowed Wisconsin 29 points although defeating the Badgers by four points, and the Iowa defense wobbled against both Bradley Tech and Monmouth, but smoothed out in the Drake game to hold the Bulldogs to three field goals.

Long Record
The game is rated as the toughest one that the Old Gold will play before the conference season opens. Five-time winner of the Midwest conference championship, and victorious in 31 out of the last 32 games, Carleton is probably as strong as at least half of the Big Ten teams, and will test the Iowa team in every department.

The game will start at 7:35 p.m.

Thomas Martin Will Address C. of C.'s

At the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this year, Thomas E. Martin will discuss the important problems confronting the nation and the community today at the weekly luncheon meeting Monday.

Jane Boyd, Sister of Education Board Member, Succumbs

Word was received here of the death early yesterday of Jane Boyd, sister of Chairman W. R. Boyd of the finance committee for the state board of education. She was a resident of Cedar Rapids.

Although she began her 38 year career in Cedar Rapids schools as a teacher, she gradually took over many of the worries concerned with the morals, manners, home life, and general welfare of her pupils. It was while sorting clothes about a month ago for some of the less fortunate children that she received a pricked finger which led to blood poisoning and caused her death.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the First Christian church of Cedar Rapids. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

Debate Snarl Delays Action on Philippines

Senator Long Hints on Broken Compromise Agreement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—The senate agreed today to free the Philippines in 14 years if the islands vote for it, but the latter qualification so angered sponsors of outright independence that the legislation was tied up in a snarl of debate.

Senator Long (D. La.), an advocate of irrevocable independence for the Pacific possessions, hinted strongly that a compromise agreement had been violated in that it had been his understanding the plebiscite clause was to be stricken out.

Takes Floor
He took the floor after the vote and warned that no bill would be passed unless the plebiscite provision is removed.

He said he would talk indefinitely, despite the fact that he was only "a country boy away from home," and then moved reconsideration of the 35 to 33 vote which rejected a motion by Senator Byrnes (D. S. C.) to strike out the plebiscite.

Long had voted for the Byrnes motion, but when he saw the result was going to be a tie—which means defeat—he changed his vote from "aye" to "no," and served notice he would ask reconsideration.

Will Delay Action
He held the floor the remainder of the day, saying he was prepared to go into all the "direct and indirect abstract principles of the fundamental theory of the statutory laws involved" and then the constitutional question before asking another vote.

Senator Bingham (R. Conn.), warned that President Hoover would veto any bill without a plebiscite provision.

At the outset today the senate agreed to a limitation of debate on a motion to reconsider the amendment, previously approved, granting independence in eight years.

Following a discussion of a new rate schedule, a resolution was passed asking that the city clerk write to Burns and McDonald, Kansas City engineers representing the city during the appraisal of the water plant, and ask their opinion of the proposal to take one cent off of each step in the present rate schedule and give 100 cubic feet of water for the $1 minimum charge.

Refer Bill to Attorney
A bill from Bert Kent asking for $77 for repair of his automobile following a collision with the police car on Jefferson street Saturday was referred to the city attorney and claims committee for investigation.

Joseph Braverman appealed to the council for permission to escape the ordinance prohibiting the use of galvanized pipe in plumbing. He objected to installing lead or cast iron pipe at 419 E. Washington street. No action was taken by the council.

William Trumm was re-appointed to the board of plumbing examiners. At the next meeting the council will pass on the revision of the milk ordinance and the water rates ordinance. It was announced.

Joseph Paul-Boncour to Try Hand at French Leadership

Chautemps Fails in Attempt to Form Ministry

PARIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—Dynamic Joseph Paul-Boncour, who astonished the world by declaring France was ready to place its army at the disposal of the League of Nations, tonight was trying his hand at forming a French government and settling the serious problem of France's debt to America.

Camille Chautemps had failed. The young radical leader gave up the task of constructing a cabinet because he could not find a compromise between the former cabinet's decision to pay America and the chamber of deputies resolution to postpone payment pending examination of France's debt with a view of revision.

Having failed to find this compromise, which would be acceptable to parliament and presumably agreeable to Washington and would assure belated payment to America, M. Chautemps definitely lost the col. laboration of Edouard Herriot, the retiring premier.

Then he surrendered. He had proclaimed in advance that without M. Herriot he would not accept the premiership. He also surrendered because he found no spontaneous rallying among the chamber leaders to his formula of compromise and hence of payment.

M. Paul-Boncour was cautious as he emerged from his consultation with President Lebrun. He said he had told M. Lebrun he could not foresee the possibility of establishing a ministry until after he had talked to M. Herriot, to whose office he hastened.

"I shall give an answer to the president tomorrow," M. Paul-Boncour said, nervously running his hand through his white hair.

M. Paul-Boncour, for a number of years has represented France at Geneva conferences, especially on disarmament, where he worked side by side with such men as Hugh Gibson, American delegate to the world disarmament conference; Hugh R. Wilson, American minister to Switzerland; Senator Swanson, disarmament delegate, and Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson himself.

He drafted the French plan of disarmament and security and his slogan is: "National security against invasion and against war."

City Council Holds Meeting

Members Debate Water Rates; Take Little Action

Although members of the council debated stormily on the water rates problem at the regular meeting in the city hall last night, little action was taken.

Opening the lengthy discussion, Councilman Roscoe B. Ayers asked that some immediate action be taken to settle the controversy. He reminded the group that the water company had agreed to a $12,000 yearly reduction starting Jan. 1, and that each month of delay meant a loss of $1,000 to consumers.

Await Answer
The council, which has held out for free water for the city besides the $12,000 cut, saw no way to bring the matter to a close in the near future, and decided, unofficially, to wait until the water company answered the proposal concerning the free city water.

Following a discussion of a new rate schedule, a resolution was passed asking that the city clerk write to Burns and McDonald, Kansas City engineers representing the city during the appraisal of the water plant, and ask their opinion of the proposal to take one cent off of each step in the present rate schedule and give 100 cubic feet of water for the $1 minimum charge.

Refer Bill to Attorney
A bill from Bert Kent asking for $77 for repair of his automobile following a collision with the police car on Jefferson street Saturday was referred to the city attorney and claims committee for investigation.

Joseph Braverman appealed to the council for permission to escape the ordinance prohibiting the use of galvanized pipe in plumbing. He objected to installing lead or cast iron pipe at 419 E. Washington street. No

William Trumm was re-appointed to the board of plumbing examiners. At the next meeting the council will pass on the revision of the milk ordinance and the water rates ordinance. It was announced.

40 Year Old Iowa Tradition Falls—No Soph Cotillion

Warring political factions were responsible for the absence for the first time in almost 40 years on the University of Iowa campus of the traditional Sophomore Cotillion, all-university formal, which was to have been held at Iowa Union last night.

Cancellation of the party by the university social committee Dec. 1 along with the Junior Prom, followed boycotting of the Freshman party by the Pan-Hellenic council, consisting of nine old-line fraternities. The boycott was the result of the omission of Pan-Hellenic members from the Freshman party committee.

The social committee, in its ruling, declared that curtailment of the two remaining class parties would be lifted if both the Pan-Hellenic and non-Pan-Hellenic groups could agree to definite and satisfactory plan of party committee selection.

Several such plans have been drawn up but no action has been taken by the faculty group.

Killer's Gun Gets Deputy in Waterloo

Second Victim Hovers Near Death in Hospital

WATERLOO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Two fugitives captured by a posse of sheriff's deputies in a cornfield late today after killing one deputy and wounding another in a gun battle at a farm house, confessed the crime and admitted they had planned to "shoot it out" if officers apprehended them, Sheriff H. T. Wagner announced tonight.

WATERLOO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Eimer Brewer and Patrick Griffith, captured by a posse of sheriff's deputies in a cornfield five miles west of here, were held by police tonight for fatally shooting Deputy Sheriff W. F. Dillworth and critically wounding another deputy, H. M. Mitchell, when the officers sought to arrest Brewer on a charge of "ape."

Flee Farm Home
The men were apprehended after they had fled from a two room farm house where the deputies went to make the arrest. They offered no resistance to officers who discovered them hiding in the field.

Both men were brought immediately to Sheriff H. T. Wagner's office where they were identified. The sheriff said that Brewer did the shooting, while Griffith, a friend of Brewer's, was present at the farm home and fled with his companion.

As the deputies entered the home they were met by Brewer wielding an automatic pistol. He warned the officers "I am going to shoot you."

Dies Instantly
The officers stepped closer and Brewer fired. Dillworth was struck in the left temple and died almost instantly while Mitchell was hit in the abdomen and back.

Mitchell staggered to a nearby inn and was taken immediately to a hospital where physicians said his wounds would probably be fatal.

Mrs. Bernice Graves and her five year old daughter Darlene, occupants of the farm home, witnessed the shooting, police said.

William Kahn, proprietor of the inn, brought Mitchell to the hospital here and reported the shooting to police.

James Ignatius Varecha's wanton career of murder, rape and robbery was thus brought to a close sooner than he could have finished high school.

Chief Justice John Prystalski ignored the plea of the lad's defender that he is "mentally sick" and sentenced him to die Feb. 17 for the murder he confessed.

Deft Surgeons at City High School Patch Wooden Bones, Tin Drums to Assure Merry Christmas for Needy

Squatty, the wooden duck with the long neck and the mechanical quack, fell one day and fractured his left front wheel . . .

Betty, the carmin-lipped Mama doll, fell from the second floor of a top house and broke her neck so that the sawdust spilled all over the floor . . .

Bimbo and Bombo, the laughing clowns who rattled their mechanical drumsticks on a painted tin drum, were caught in the debacle that tumbled Sister's toy ironing board when Buddy slapped her that time . . .

And Ginger, the erratic wooden kangaroo who used to hop with a prodigious stride when he was pulled across the floor, slipped one day and tumbled down the stairs . . .

They all met at the hospital this week, where deft surgeons in the Iowa City high school manual training department set the wooden bones and patched the tin drum and put new sawdust back in Betty's neck.

Restorative Magic
They were only four of the many patients at the hospital. On the operating tables beside them were hundreds and hundreds of other toyland derelicts, all undergoing the magic of deft fingers and sharp tools.

Others, sturdy and strong again and shining with new paint, stood lined against the wall of the manual training room ready to be sent to the city hall where they will be put on display in the Social Service league's annual Toy Shop Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Upstairs in the home economics department about 25 girls worked with needle and thread and bright colored cloth, making whole dolls out of broken ones. Some, of course, had to be discarded, but all were put to some use. A good leg here and a good head there, and 75 dolls took shape from the 120 on hand.

Tuesday all the toys and all the dolls will meet again in council chamber at the city hall. They will be lined up shoulder to shoulder in rows after row to make the city hall look like a real toy shop.

Short Reunion
But their reunion will not last for long. Mothers invited by the Social Service league will decide that Squatty is just the right playmate for Bill, that Sister just couldn't be happy without Betty, that nothing would make Roger quite so delighted as Bimbo and Bombo, and that Ginger's erratic hops will bring hilarious laughter from Buddy.

Each mother who comes to the shop to select toys for her children will present a blue card given her by the Social Service league. Each card will contain the number of children in the family and their ages, so the attendants at the shop will be able to aid the mothers in the selection of toys.

More toys are being donated each day. Lucille Bruner, head of the Social Service league, expects to receive hundreds more during the week end so there will be enough to go around.

DES MOINES, Dec. 16 (AP)—King Winter will continue his icy reign in Iowa tonight although temperatures are expected to be slightly higher than those registered Thursday night, weather bureau officials predicted today.

Official readings Thursday night and Friday morning shattered a low December record of eight years' standing when the mercury dipped below 21 degrees below zero in at least two places.

At Ledges state park the reading was 25.5 below; at Webster City it was 25 below. Creston reported 21 below.

The lowest temperature reading for the state for December before Thursday night was 21 degrees below zero taken on Dec. 28, 1924.

Iowa City still huddled around the snow yesterday as icy temperatures prevailed.

Starting at 12 degrees below zero at 7 a.m. yesterday, the mercury climbed to 6 above at 2 p.m. At midnight yesterday the thermometer showed 4 degrees below, with a decided tendency to slide farther downward.

Expected temperatures will range between zero and five below tonight, forecasters said, with the prospect of an additional five degrees more cold in the open country.

Snow flurries will accompany the zero weather tonight, prognosticators said.

Miner Attempts to Save Daughter in Fire; Near Death

CENTERVILLE, Dec. 16 (AP)—An attempt to rescue his daughter whom he believed was trapped in the upstairs of their burning home will probably cost the life of John Scott, 40, a miner living here.

When the fire was discovered at their home early today, the miner raced frantically upstairs. Not finding his daughter, he leaped to the ground, severely burned.

Meanwhile, his wife and two daughters, four and 16 years old, had gone to a neighbors for aid. They were in a hospital tonight suffering from exposure while physicians said Scott could not live.

One Dies as Bandits Make $30,000 Haul

Two Others Wounded in Daylight Robbery at Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—A policeman was killed and two other persons critically wounded today by bandits who held up the Third Northwestern National bank and escaped with approximately $20,000 in cash and $10,000 in securities.

Sixteen persons, six patrons and 10 employees, were in the bank located in a small neighborhood community two miles from the St. Paul municipal limits, when the bandits entered. An employe pressed a burglar alarm button connected with police headquarters as customers and workers were lined up.

Broadcast Alarm
Police broadcast an alarm and Patrolmen Ira L. Evans, and Leo R. Gorski, cruising nearby in a police car, hurried to the bank. They arrived just as three bandits rushed out of the bank, their arms filled with bundles of loot.

A fourth bandit, armed with a machine gun, followed, noticed the police car drawing up to the curb and opened fire. Evans fell with more than 20 wounds. He died before reaching a hospital. Gorski received at least five wounds. Physicians said he had only a slight chance of recovery.

Use Machine Gun
The bandits drove to Como park, St. Paul. They left their automobile and several of them had entered another when Axel Erickson and Arthur Zachman, who were peddling Christmas tree wreaths, came along. Erickson cut down the speed of the car he was driving and again the machine gun went into action.

This time Erickson slumped forward. Zachman pushed his companion from the driver's seat, took the wheel himself, and drove hurriedly away. At a St. Paul hospital tonight, physicians said Erickson was not expected to live. Part of his scalp was torn away by one slug.

F. F. Kromer suffered about a $200 loss when fire broke out in his home at 732 Rundell street at 2:30 a.m. yesterday. The fire, caused by a faulty fireplace, damaged a rug and some of the furniture.

A fire in the home of Fireman Louis J. Villnour, 1111 Keokuk street, which is believed to have been started in an upstairs clothes closet by children looking for clothes with a match, spread to the attic but was quickly extinguished.

Roof Fire Does Damage
At 8:35 a.m. firemen answered a call at the home of J. E. Kirkpatrick, 805 S. Capitol street, where a roof fire caused slight damage. At 4:30 p.m. another roof fire was extinguished at the home of Mrs. Sarah Paine Hoffman, 530 S. Clinton street.

Besides the six city fires the home of T. W. Terry, located 2 miles west of Coralville, burned to the ground sometime before 11 p.m. Thursday while Mr. and Mrs. Terry and their four children were visiting at a neighbor's. All the contents of the house, including the winter's supply of canned goods, were destroyed. It is thought the fire was caused by a faulty chimney.

Varecha Gets Death Verdict

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—A 17 year old boy today was condemned to death in the electric chair.

James Ignatius Varecha's wanton career of murder, rape and robbery was thus brought to a close sooner than he could have finished high school.

Chief Justice John Prystalski ignored the plea of the lad's defender that he is "mentally sick" and sentenced him to die Feb. 17 for the murder he confessed.

WEATHER
IOWA—Possibly light snow, somewhat warmer in central and east; and colder in extreme northwest Saturday; colder in east and south Sunday.

Defers Plan for Message to Congress

Say Negotiations Will Proceed Slowly Until March 4

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—With the reverberation of five nations' war debt defaults still sounding, President Hoover stood fast today for a new review of the debt field but deferred decision on his next step pending developments abroad.

An authority close to the president disclosed late today that plans for his special debt message to congress, recommending a commission to review international financial obligations, had been changed and the communication would be dispatched only after further developments in Europe.

Earlier there were indications the message would go to Capitol Hill Monday.

Impression was given that, until the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the government will seek principally to keep the negotiations with foreign powers in proper form for action after March 4.

Throughout official Washington today there was close but silent examination of developments. The efforts of France to form a new government were observed particularly, but comment was withheld.

With the expressed intention of not doing anything that might interfere with efforts of French statesmen to win parliamentary approval for making the payment now defaulted, Senator Harrison (D. Miss.), called off at the last minute his intended address which had been expected to set off a war debt bombardment in the senate.

Hold Conference
President Hoover and his chief aides in the debt negotiations, Secretaries Stimson and Mills—held a round of individual conferences and a discussion with the cabinet.

Ambassador Claudel of France conferred with the secretary of state. Asked what the course of the United States might be in the face of collections of only $98,685,910 yesterday out of the $124,000,000 due, Stimson would reply only:

"That is a big question. I do not care to discuss it now."

A responsible official, who asked that he not be quoted, gave the following outline of the situation as viewed by the president.

Mr. Hoover still feels a review of the debt situation is necessary.

He is informed that the temper of congress is against the creation of a commission to make such a review.

He feels the need for stop watch speed in acting upon the debt situation passed with yesterday's debt installment deadline.

While he himself has the power to review the debt field, he feels it would be a futile gesture without congressional approval.

Further, the president feels that he could accomplish little in the 10 weeks remaining of his administration.

In the light of these statements, the official declared that while it was entirely possible the chief executive might send his special debt message to congress as early as next Monday, he felt that the developments abroad at present did not call for immediate action along this line.

Jury to Decide Appeal Case

A district court jury will be called upon today to decide the market value of property north of Iowa Union owned by William and Agnes Medders and condemned by the state for university use.

The trial, which began Thursday, is the second case of appeals from appraisements of property to be used in the building of the new university fine arts group. The owners contend that the property is worth $15,000.

Indiana Debaters Meet Iowa Today on Tax Question

University of Iowa debaters will meet Indiana in the second debate of the Western conference series this afternoon at 2:30 in natural science auditorium.

Iowa speakers are Fred Moran, A2 of Jefferson, and George Palmer, A1 of Omaha, Neb. They will uphold the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, that at least 50 per cent of all state and local revenues should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property."

The debate will be judged by Prof. J. H. Deesburg, director of forensics at Northwestern university. Prof. R. W. Nelson of the college of commerce will serve as presiding officer.

The University of Indiana will be represented by Milton K. Fineberg and Frank K. Edmondson. Although Western conference debate teams are ordinarily composed of three speakers, two men teams will be used in this debate, through a special arrangement between the two universities.

Christmas Atmosphere Will Furnish Decoration Theme at Campus Parties Tonight

Three Sororities, Five Fraternities Plan Frolics

Christmas trees, holly, bells and a variety of red and green decorations appropriate to the holiday season will form a Yuletide background for three sorority and five fraternity parties tonight. Chapter houses, the Jefferson hotel, and Red Ball Inn will be the settings for the pre holiday frolics.

Alpha Xi Delta sorority members will entertain at an informal dance at the chapter house; members of Beta Theta Pi fraternity are planning a formal dinner dance; Chi Omega sorority will give a formal dance; an informal party at the chapter house will be given by Delta Sigma Delta fraternity; a formal in honor of senior members will be given by Phi Beta Pi fraternity; a joint party of Phi Delta Phi and Phi Alpha Delta, law fraternities, will be given at Red Ball Inn; members of Phi Mu sorority will entertain at a "goofus" party at the chapter house; and Sigma Nu fraternity will number among those who will give formal dinners which dine and dance at the Jefferson hotel.

A giant Christmas tree, Christmas bells and holly will be the settings for the informal dance given by Alpha Xi Delta sorority in the chapter house. Programs are of red metal paper decorated with the sorority's crest, and the orchestra is Dusty Keaton's. Charlotte Manning, A1 of Evanson, Ill., will sing several popular numbers.

Chaperons will be Prof. and Mrs. Walter L. Daykin, Prof. George W. Martin, and Miss Ada B. Culver.

Committee Members
Committee members in charge of arrangements are Dorothy Hunt, A4 of Ottumwa; Betty Whittlesey, A4 of Davenport; Louise Carpenter, A3 of Marion; and Marea Schenk, A1 of Des Moines.

Red and green decorations will be used at the Beta Theta Pi house tonight when they entertain at a formal Christmas dinner-dance at 8 o'clock. The programs, which will be blue, will be created in white. Johnny Crittelli's orchestra from Des Moines will play, and several specialty numbers will be given by fraternity members during the evening.

Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Parks A. Nutter, and Mr. and Mrs. William Coast.

David Elderkin, A2 of Cedar Rapids, is chairman of the party, and he is assisted by John Adams, P1 of Mason City, and William Morrison, A2 of Iowa City.

Christmas Formal
Colored lights, red and green ribbons, and tinsel will provide a fitting atmosphere for the Christmas formal which will be given by Chi Omega sorority in the chapter house. Programs will be in cardinal and straw, the sorority colors, and the music will be provided by the Varsity Rhythm Kings. The orchestra will stage several stunts and songs during the program.

Prof. Fred J. Lazell, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boell, and Mrs. Nell Parham will chaperon the forty couples who are expected to attend.

Chairman for the party is Helen Baxter, A2 of West Liberty, and her assistants are Helen Brandt, A4 of West Liberty, and Edna Hirsch, A4 of Dubuque.

Twenty couples will be entertained at an informal party given by Delta Sigma Delta dental fraternity at the chapter house. Christmas decorations will be used, and the Campus Aces will furnish the music. Chaperons will be Major and Mrs. E. R. Kennebeck, and Mayor and Mrs. E. L. Titus.

Kenneth Barker, D3 of Bloomfield is chairman of the party. Other members of the committee are David Hibb, D4 of Oskaloosa, and Bob Henderson, D2 of Independence.

Medes Entertain
Medes who are members of Phi Beta Pi fraternity will be entertained at a Christmas formal at the chapter house to be given in honor of the seniors in the group. Christmas decorations will be used, and programs will be silver, created in black, and tied with a white cord. Chaperons are Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Brown, and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Richmond. The committee consists of Howard Weatherly, M3 of Iowa City, James McCloskey, M3 of Dubuque, and Bob Wray, M2 of Hazelton.

One of the largest affairs tonight will be the joint party given by Phi Delta Phi and Phi Alpha Delta law fraternities at Red Ball Inn. Mickey McGowan's orchestra will play for the 75 couples who are expected to attend. Chaperons are Prof. and Mrs. O. K. Patton, Prof. and Mrs. P. L. Sayre, and Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Sheldahl.

Manage Arrangements
Fred Berger, L4 of Davenport, a member of Phi Alpha Delta, and Robert Harrington, L3 of Algona, affiliated with Phi Delta Phi, are in charge of arrangements for the party.

A "goofus" party will be given at the Phi Mu house by chapter members tonight, at which time the Campus Serenaders will play for dancing from 9 to 12. Every program will be different, and the covers will bear some particular trait of each guest. The guests will arrive in costume, and Christmas decorations will be utilized. Professor and Mrs. John P. Pinkerton, Mrs. Fannie Casady, Mrs. Beth Hoyt, and Mrs. Clover Coleman will chaperon. The committee consists of Lois Steelsmith, A4 of Des Moines, Marjorie Keiser, A4 of Keokuk, and Lillian Entz, A4 of Waterloo.

Thirty-five couples will attend the formal dance to be given at the Jefferson hotel by the Sigma Nu fraternity. Christmas decorations will predominate, and music will be furnished by Golly and his orchestra. Chaperons will be Prof. and Mrs. Vance Morton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reequist, and Mrs. Lucy Reeves.

John Rolleston, C3 of Perry, chairman, Robert Jones, A3 of Storm Lake, and Norman Stefkun, C3 of Rolfe, are in charge of arrangements.

Announce Marriage of Lucille Kendall, R. Hotz in Omaha

Announcement was made Monday of the marriage of Lucille F. Kendall of Omaha to Robert H. Hotz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hotz of Iowa City. Mr. and Mrs. Hotz were married Sept. 5 at St. Bernard's church in Omaha.

Mrs. Hotz received her M.A. degree from Creighton university and since that time has been an instructor in commercial subjects in the university. Mr. Hotz graduated in 1925 from the college of law at the University of Iowa, and is now practicing with his brother, William J. Hotz in Omaha, where Mr. and Mrs. Hotz will make their home.

Order of Rainbow Girls, DeMolay to Hold Party Tonight

Balloons will bob tonight until they are broken as members of Order of Rainbow for Girls and DeMolay dance to John Ruby's orchestra tonight from 8:30 to 11 at the Masonic temple. A prize will be given to the person whose balloon lasts longest.

A Christmas tree and red and green lighting effects will form the setting for the party. Janet Spielmann will tap dance during intermission. Santa Claus will arrive late in the evening with a gift for everyone.

Members of the committee in charge are: Ethel Nelson, chairman; Helen Rohrbacher, Dorothy Sybil, and Betty Lou Vogt.

Members of Contract Bridge Class to Meet

Members of the contract bridge class which is being conducted by University club will meet tonight in the club rooms for the weekly lesson. The instruction will begin at 7:45. Following the lesson, there will be a series of practice games. Lunch will be served at 10 o'clock.

Tomorrow night the club will entertain at a Christmas party at 6 o'clock supper which is to be served in the club rooms at Iowa Union. Hostesses will be Mrs. H. L. Beve, Lucille Bruner, Ruth Ferichs, Mrs. F. D. Francis, and Mary Cresap.

Professor Halsey Back From Kansas

Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, head of the women's physical education department, returned yesterday from Emporia, Kan., where she attended a dance cycle directed by Edna McCulloch, head of the physical education department at Kansas State Teachers college.

The cycle was part of Miss McCulloch's work on her master's degree. All her other work toward this degree has been done at the University of Iowa.

Professor Blattner to Address Meeting

Prof. Helene Blattner of the speech and dramatic art department, will address the American Association of University Women at a luncheon, to be given this afternoon at 12:15 at the home of Mrs. George D. Stoddard, 724 Bayard street.

Material on the proposed bill for the certification of teachers in Iowa, is to be presented by Lena Horton, assistant at the university experimental school, and Frances Camp, director of the teachers' appointment bureau.

Phi Beta Kappa to Elect Members

Members of Phi Beta Kappa will meet this afternoon at 4:30 in room B4, university hall, for election of new members.

The organization, an honorary scholastic group, elects members from the junior and senior classes who have maintained a grade average of 3.2 during their entire course of study.

Names of new members will be announced shortly, according to Prof. Estella Boot, secretary of the organization.

Phi Beta Kappa Meet at Clark Home

Mrs. Paul Clark, 619 E. Burlington street, was hostess Thursday night to the Sigma Kappa alumnae club. Assistant hostesses were Helen Mattes and Lorraine Hesig.

Iowa City Churches Form Plans to Observe Christmas With Carols, Plays, Festivals

Programs Show Young, Old Will Take Part

As Christmas time draws near Iowa City churches are making preparations to celebrate the occasion with carols and plays and festivals portraying the birth of Christ. Advance programs sent out from these churches show that both young and old will take part in the holiday festivities.

Christmas services and programs of the Congregational church will be held next Sunday morning and afternoon. At 10:45 a. m. the choir under the direction of Mrs. Ella Zopf Woods will present the Christmas message in music. This ceremony will be given in four parts: the prophecy, the vision of the shepherds, the quest of the magi, and the fulfillment of the prophecy.

Cast and Soloists
Soloists for this affair will be Mrs. Wayland Hicks, soprano; Ella Zopf Woods, contralto; Dr. E. B. Woods, tenor; and Robert Hood Buell, basso. Dorothy M. Scheldrip will play the accompaniment on the organ.

Other members of the choir are: Mary Margaret Ayres, Frances Crayne, Lucille Knox, Mrs. Earl Nelson, Mrs. Merton Tudor, Jane Anderson, Mrs. Ruth Crayne, Mrs. George Frohwein, Mrs. E. P. Korah, Mary Louise Trumby, and Helen Wildish, sopranos.

Eunice Howell, Elizabeth Palmer, Catherine Smith, Ruthelaine Smith, Marjorie Henderson, Mrs. G. E. Johnston, Blanche Schultz, Mrs. Robert Smith, Wilma Smith, and Mrs. W. J. Weeber, contraltos, and Dr. E. B. Wood and John W. Howell, tenors; Myrlyn Buhle, Lucien W. Ide, C. Armand Barnes, Albert C. Houghton, and Keith Weeber, basses.

Teachers and children of the church school will give the Christmas vesper service at 4 p. m. in the church. This will include solos by Mrs. Margaret Ayres, Betty Holt, Mary Margaret Ayres, Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. Dorothy Scheldrip, Lucien Ide, Robert Buell, and Keith Weeber. Kenneth Jones will read "The story of the wise men."

English Lutheran Program
At the English Lutheran church Mrs. Mildred Boell will direct a Christmas festival in song starting at 10:45 a. m. Sunday in the church. Many familiar Christmas carols such as "Away in a Manger," "First Noel," "The Coming of the King," and "Adeste Fideles" will be sung by members of the choir. Mrs. M. H. Taylor will play the organ.

In the evening at 7:30 the church school members will enact two choral dramas, "The Little Princess who traveled far to worship the king," by Schenck and "The Christmas message of the holy grad," by Bowie. Directors of these plays will be Myrtle Berts, Louise Ann, Mrs. W. S. Dylinger and Fred Jones.

Members of the First English Lutheran choir are: Mrs. H. L. Bailey, Myrtle Berts, Gladys Jones, Arlene Riecke, Dorothy Riecke and Maxine Riecke, sopranos; Phoebe Benson, Gretchen Neumann, Elythe Riecke, Mrs. J. D. Zeller and Edna Hirsch, altos; Karl Benson, Herbert Neumann, Carl Jetter and Donald Helm, tenors; and Fred Jones, Edgar Boell and George Jay, basses.

Christmas in other lands will be the theme of the Christmas musical program in the First Baptist church next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. The student chorus choir of 21 voices under the direction of M. T. Henderson will present several Christmas folk carols of foreign lands. The organ selections and two readings will also be in keeping with the general theme of Christmas in other lands.

The Baptist student choir consists of Wilma Walker, Mrs. Orlo Crissey, Miriam Gunter, Florence Andrews, Harriet Stull, Mrs. Noble Kelly, soprano; Mrs. Harold Burdick, Ruth Catherwood, Alta Tolliver, Mervie Jahnik, Helen Fleck, alto; Harold Burdick, Kenneth Miller, Wilford Sorenson, Ray Andres, Allen Johnson, tenors; and Vergil Foggall, Orlo Crissey, Robert Lass, Marshall Gayle, and Lowell Nevlin, basses.

Yule activities at the Trinity Episcopal church will be a holiday party and dance next Wednesday at 8 p. m. of the Gamma Kappa Delta, organization of Episcopal young people, at the parish house. Next Saturday at 3 p. m. a church school Christmas service will be held in the church and will be followed by the annual Christmas party for the children in the parish house. Christmas eve at 11 p. m. a midnight service with the celebration of holy communion will be held in the church. At this midnight service Herbert O. Lyte, organist and choir master, will direct the choir in "The First Noel," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," and "Silent Night, Holy Night." The choir will use as a processional hymn "O Come, All Ye Faithful."

Sunday at 6:30 p. m. the Westminster Fellowship members of the First Presbyterian church will enact a Christmas operetta, "The Nativity." At the morning worship service at 10:45 a. m. the choir will sing selections relating to the Christmas season.

Students belonging to the Morrison club of the Trinity Episcopal church will gather at 6 p. m. Sunday in the church for a supper and a Christmas party during which an exchange of gifts will be made.

Z. T. A. Wins Tournery Final

Finals in the women's intramural shuffleboard contest last night found Zeta Tau Alpha winner of first place in the first team class, with Delta Delta Delta in second place, Alpha Chi Omega third, and Gamma Theta Phi fourth.

Of the second teams, Delta Delta Delta won first place, followed by Kappa Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha. Third class winners were the Alpha Chi Omega, with Delta Delta Delta in second place.

Kappa Delta seconds beat Zeta Tau Alpha seconds last night, 11-45 and 57-50, and lost one game, 11-41. Zeta Tau Alpha's team was Margaret Asthaker and Norma Miller. Margaret Bridgens and Mary Spragens playing for the victors.

Finals in the deck tennis tournament were postponed until 4 p. m. Monday. Winners in last night's first team games were: Delta Delta Delta, class A; Kappa Delta, class B; and a tie between Zeta Tau Alpha and Chi Omega in class C. Chi Omega third team was winner of the class A game; Alpha Chi Omega, class B; and Delta Delta Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha tied for class C, with the play-off scheduled for 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Committee to Plan State-Wide G. A. A. at Meeting Today

Plans for a state-wide Girls' Athletic association will be discussed at a meeting which will be held at the women's gymnasium at 9 o'clock this morning.

The committee consists of Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, head of the physical education department; Prof. Marjorie Camp; Helen Hayes, director of physical education at University high school; and Fern Davis, G. of Nora Springs, formerly director of physical education at Clarinda high school.

The committee was appointed at a teachers' meeting in Des Moines, and will work on a point system to be used as part of its program.

Debaters From 12 High Schools Open Practice Tournery

Arguments and discussions will be the order of the day as debators from a dozen high schools in towns surrounding Iowa City meet in the house chamber of Old Capitol for a practice tournament this morning.

The following high schools had indicated definitely last night that they would attend the meeting: Muscatine, Ft. Madison, Fairfield, Iowa City, Ottumwa, Marion, and Centerville. Several others had tentatively accepted the invitations issued by Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of university debate.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Iowa High School Debating league for its member schools.

University Gets Rare Book Describing Guttenberg Bible

Gift Comes From Iowa Graduate Now in Washington

One of the few copies of a privately printed description of the Gutenberg Bible, oldest type-set book of them all, is now the property of the University of Iowa, the gift of George Henry Carter, B.A. '28 and government printer of the United States at Washington, D. C. The book conforms in appearance with an original St. Paul copy of the Gutenberg Bible purchased by the government two years ago. The Bible, along with other incunabula in the Volhehr collection, was secured at a cost of $1,500,000, and is now in the library of congress at Washington, D. C.

The description was written by Prof. Frederick W. Ashley, chief assistant librarian of the library of congress, and was incorporated into book form by Mr. Carter, in commemoration of the acquisition of the Gutenberg Bible by the government.

Bound in parchment and printed in Old Glesster type, the book resembles the ancient work which it explains. But the text, instead of being in Latin, unfolds in English the history of the "Book of Books" and other works which were secured by the government at the same time from St. Paul's monastery in Carinthia.

The book will soon be placed in the university libraries.

Couple Die From Carbon Fumes in Parked Automobile

DES MOINES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Sweethearts for several years and engaged to be married, Ruth Carter, 22, and Eugene Jenson, were found dead today in Jenson's car parked eight miles north of Des Moines.

The couple apparently were the victims of carbon monoxide poisoning. Coroner William Carpenter said the deaths were accidental.

Miss Carter was employed as stenographer in the office of the Des Moines superintendent of schools.

The finding of the bodies ended an all-night search for the couple, instigated by the girl's parents when she failed to return home.

Plum to Lead Talk at Triangle Club Forum

Prof. Harry G. Plum of the history department, will lead the discussion at the Triangle club open forum from 7:30 to 8:30 tonight in the club rooms at Iowa Union. The group discussion will immediately follow the 6 o'clock dinner. "England of today, its problems and outlooks" will be the subject discussed at the open forum. The evening will be spent informally and lunch will be served at 10 o'clock.

Last night members of the club entertained their sons at the Fathers and Sons night.

Salesmen? Missing Quantity at Iowa

Student salesmen are a minus quantity on the University of Iowa campus, Benj. W. Robinson, director of student employment, believes.

He has many letters from business firms offering agencies to students on a commission basis. So far none of these offers have been accepted.

"No, thanks, I don't want my foot pinched off by a slammed door," has been the attitude of the students, Mr. Robinson said.

Children Will Present Play

Will Take Place This Afternoon in Iowa Union Studio

"No trespassing" signs, which he had ordered to keep the children out of his yard, being a strange situation upon Josiah Benton, in "The Enchanted Christmas Tree," to children's theater production, to be given this afternoon at 2:30 in Studio theater at Iowa Union.

Josiah Benton is a bitter old man who hates children and cannot understand the spirit of Christmas. When his package arrives, instead of "no trespassing" signs, he finds a strange Christmas tree, capable of performing odd and miraculous deeds.

The play is brought to a climax when the children whom he has driven out of his yard, hold a trial to pass judgment upon him for his misdeeds.

The parts of Josiah Benton and his wife will be taken by Lloyd Kent, C4 of Iowa City, and Hazel Louise Olson, A3 of Marshalltown. Other leading roles will be played by: Jeanette Bryan, Fredrika; Marian Glassman, district attorney; Billy Raymond, foreman of the jury; Marvin Chapman, Kathryn Reeds, and Bobby Alderman, witnesses.

Following the performance, a party will be given for all children who have season tickets for the theater production, in the river room of Iowa Union.

entertained their sons at the Fathers and Sons night.

Description of Pearl Button Industry Features Palimpsest

A description of the pearl button industry along the Mississippi river is the featured article in the December issue of the Palimpsest, monthly publication of the Iowa State Historical society. The article is entitled, "Argonauts of the Mississippi" and has been written by Marie Haafner, A3 of Muscatine, assistant librarian in the historical society library.

In the article the author gives a complete history of the development of the pearl button industry in and around Muscatine.

"Thieves Beware" is the title of the second article of the current issue. This is a reprint of the original constitution of the Grand River vigilance committee, Grand River is a small town in Decatur county and this particular vigilance committee was organized there in 1876.

While the idea of such committees for frontier protection was common, the constitution of the Grand River committee is unique in early police history.

The editor of the Palimpsest, Prof. John Ely Briggs, comments on "Cooperative individualism" in the same issue of the publication, showing the significance of community responsibility in the early settlements of Iowa.

As the present issue of the Palimpsest is the final one of the year 1932, it completes volume 13 of the periodical; in the issue is a complete table of contents for the articles published during the entire year.

Wylie Writes Article on Leonid Meteors in Science Magazine

A preliminary report on the 1932 Leonid meteors, by Prof. C. C. Wylie, university astronomer, appears in the December issue of "Popular Astronomy," a review of astronomy and allied sciences published monthly at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

Professor Wylie's report gives the results of the Arizona expedition of Iowa astronomers in November, at which time two stations were set up in Arizona. Clouds thwarted successful observation on the maximum night; but several bright meteors were seen through the clouds.

Reticle observations at Iowa City and Mt. Pleasant and inspection of the Aug. 10 meteor fall at Archie, Mo., are briefly mentioned.

The number of daylight meteors, two of which were originally reported by Prof. J. A. Theobald of Columbia college, Dubuque, has since been raised to five, the article says.

The Cave of Paradox—The Ice Cave of Decorah, Iowa, one of the sights of the town, is hung with icicles in the summer while hot steam issues from its yawning mouth in the winter. It is said that housewives of the town in close proximity to the cave, dispense with electric refrigeration in the summer. The hotter the summer the heavier the ice coating of the paradoxical Ice Cave. Tomorrow: "A Phenomenon of Memory."

CONGRESS HOLD-UP AND CAPTOR

Apparently satisfied with the scare he threw into the assembled members of the house of representatives, Marlin Kemmerer of Allentown, Pa., is shown after his arrest with the man who averted a panic and, maybe, a tragedy. Kemmerer "help up" congress with a pistol while he demanded that he be given the floor in order to make a speech. While members scurried for safety, the youth was approached by Representative Maas of Minnesota, who quietly disarmed him. Representative Maas is shown above holding the weapon he took from Kemmerer. Two sticks of dynamite were later found in the man's Washington lodgings.

Joel H. Hirsch, engineering '30, formerly of Mason City and now of New York city, has recently been appointed publicity director and a member of the engineering research staff of the De Florez organization of New York. The organization gives advice on oil cracking and refining to the major oil companies of America.

David W. Hopkins, '26, has been re-elected to the United States house of representatives from the St. Joseph, Mo., district. He served as dean of the St. Joseph Junior college from 1924 until 1930, when he was elected to the house, the youngest member of that group.

Prof. Hoyt C. Graham of New Mexico State Teachers college has been elected vice president of the New Mexico Association for the Advancement of Science, which is affiliated with the American Association of the Advancement of Science. Professor Graham received his M.S. degree in 1925 and his Ph.D. in 1927.

Paul E. Peters has accepted a position with the research department of the North Shore Coke and Chemical company at Waukegan, Ill. Mr. Peters received his M.S. in 1928 and his Ph.D. in 1930.

Another Iowa alumnus is the author of two articles recently published in engineering publications. C. M. Stanley, who was awarded his B.S. degree in 1926 and his M.S. in 1929, and who is now working with Young and Stanley, Muscatine consulting engineers, has written "Studies of stilling basin design proceedings," which appeared in the November issue of "American Society of Civil Engineers," and

Children in Hospital Go to Top of Santa's Christmas List

Many Aides Labor on Yuletide Party Plans

Some of those at Children's hospital will get to spend Christmas at home with mother and dad, but the 100 boys and girls who will have to stay over the holidays are going to have a lot of fun, too.

When Santa Claus made up his Christmas list for Iowa City, he placed these youngsters at the top and has had several of his helpers working for the last two weeks on plans for a big yuletide party at their hospital.

Festivities will begin on the Friday afternoon before Christmas, according to the plans which have just been completed. Everyone will gather in one of the wards for a big movie party. Santa Claus' assistants have been considering the films of several stars for this program, and although they have not yet made a selection, they have indicated that "Krazy Kat" and "Mickey Mouse" will probably be chosen.

Christmas Personal Appearance
Christmas eve old Saint Nick has promised to make a personal appearance in every ward. He has set aside so many toys for these boys and girls that he may have to bring Mrs. Santa Claus along to help distribute them. She has declared herself willing to help, for she says she always likes to meet the children.

Sometime during the evening, probably just before the ringing of sleigh bells announces that Santa has arrived, the lights will be dimmed and a group of nurses, dressed in their uniforms and carrying candles, will appear singing carols. They will take part under the direction of a special Santa Claus representative.

Music Program Planned
Several programs of music are being planned by the assistants, and a huge dinner with turkey and all the trimmings will be the feature on Christmas day. No doubt there's going to be a lot of the children who will say when they come back, "Gee, I wish I could have stayed here for Christmas."

Fellowships Announced for Iowa Students

Twenty Lydia C. Roberts graduate fellowships will be offered by Columbia university this year to eligible students from one of Iowa's universities or colleges, and must be in "real need of financial assistance to pursue an advanced course of study."

Last year, eight former students of the University of Iowa were appointed fellows, with three named as alternates.

Paul H. Engle, who was chosen Monday as one of the four Rhodes scholars from the midwest, has been studying at Columbia university this year on one of the fellowships.

The late Howard A. Cornelius, who was drowned in Cedar Rapids last spring shortly before graduation, was another of those named.

Others selected to study this year are: Weldon Baker, '31; Viola Curry, '31; Marlin Fogle, '24 and '26; Wayne Neely, '29; Winifred Starbuck, '28; Leon Wirlinga, '31 and '32. The three named as alternates are: Edward Alexander, '31; Rebecca Fatherson, '29 and '30; and Walter Porter, '31.

of this book in the current issue of "The Midland";

"Mr. Calverton has set out to survey American literature as the product of class cultures. He specifically disclaims the purpose of literary criticism; he is interested in placing writers and movements in their proper relation to the several social classes, and in showing thereby what cultures those classes have produced."

Henry Seldal Canby, in the course of a leading article in a recent issue of "Saturday Review of Literature," further says:

"It is . . . neither radical propaganda nor fanatic movement, but a scholarly, documented study of American literature by a man who has drawn his evidence from knowledge, even though his premises are often based upon the winds of doctrine."

IN THREE-WAY DIAMOND DEAL

Here are four of the five National league baseball players who will change uniforms as a result of the three-cornered deal just commenced between the New York Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Nationals. Fred Lindstrom (left), Giant third baseman and outfielder, goes to the Pirates, and his teammate, Chick Fullis (lower right), goes to the Phillies. In return, the Giants get George Davis (top right) from the Phillies, and Glenn Spencer (center) from the Pirates. The Phillies also get Gus Dugas from the Pirates. There was cash involved in the transaction, but the amount was not disclosed.

TONIGHT the Hawkeyes meet Carleton on the field house basketball court in what promises to be one of the hardest games of the season, and surely the hardest pre-conference season game. There are likely to be some tense moments. And according to Iowa custom, the crowd will probably "boo." It is just an old Iowa tradition, and one we could do without. It doesn't do a bit of good, and may do harm, for officials have been known to take out their spite on the team—both in calling fouls on technicalities, and calling fouls on the crowd. Many referees do that. And they are within their rights.

Aside from that, it just isn't good sportsmanship. The officials are trying to do their best, but it is no soft job to work a close, hard-fought basketball game. Try it for yourself some time and see what a time you have trying to keep everyone satisfied, even the 10 players on the floor. And Iowa has the reputation of having the biggest bunch of "wolves" in the Big Ten conference. Anyone can be a good winner, but not everyone can take a tough break and still be a good sport. Why not get into the game and use energy cheering instead of booing.

IOWA has a good team this year. The outfit should go whether it gets the breaks or not. And as Rolfe Williams points out, if the crowd starts riding officials, the players will get the idea that they are not getting a fair deal, and start playing their opponents instead of the ball. The result is the same as what happened in the second half of the Monmouth game. The contest turns into a rough, sloppy exhibition.

If the crowd keeps it head and just pulls for the team to win, the players will keep right on playing the game to win, and not to score falls and knockouts. Most of the time we've been crying before we were hurt. Let's at least save our means for the few times when we are actually hurt. Iowa has a team this year that will play it out with the best of them. Get behind the team and pull for it—there is a place where poor officials go when they die away.

THOSE wrestling fans who failed to attend the all-university mat championships last night missed some good matches, besides the laugh of the year. Griswold and Nielson do all that the pros do, and some besides. Plans are under way to stage a bout between the two between halves of some basketball game. The night they go on, don't miss it. For good clean fun, it can't be beat. Potshots rates it FOUR STAR.

Little Hawk Sophs in Win

Remain Undefeated in Loop Race With 35-28 Victory

Just one real hot streak and it was over and City high's freshman-sophomore team was still undefeated as Dubuque fell, 35 to 28, in the curtain raiser at Iowa City high gym last night.

When the third period opened last night the Little Hawks were holding the short end of a 17 to 14 score and then they started pouring the ball into the basket as though they couldn't miss and tied the score at 18 each. Dubuque went ahead two points and then little Jake Snider cut loose for four points with the rest of the team following his lead and the period ended with the winners ahead 28 to 20.

Good Defense
The last quarter was fought up and down the floor with neither team displaying a concerted attack.

Except for the scoring spurt of Snider in the big rally it was just a case of Dubuque coming down the floor until they came close enough for a City high man to take the ball and then down to the other end of the floor. Despite the high score the local team displayed a clever defense that left the invaders empty handed under the basket time after time.

Ballard Leads
Picking an outstanding man in the game is almost impossible for the entire team worked together smoothly and eliminated any chances for individual stardom. Fred Ballard, freshman guard and center, was the rallying post for the Red and White, pulling his team together every time it threatened to blow and sharing high scoring honors with A. Snyder and Ferguson.

Captain Tops Winners' Big Second Half

Cecil Jackson Scores 18 Points to Lead Game Scoring

By RON TALLMAN
(Assistant Sports Editor)
The man of the hour for Dubuque's high school quintet at the City high gym last night was Capt. Cecil Jackson, highly touted and justly so in view of his scoring activities of the evening.
It was this big blonde's sensational near-basket accuracy that was the main factor in the 29 to 18 defeat handed Iowa City's Little Hawks in a Mississippi Valley conference contest, played before a near capacity crowd.

Close Start
The Red and White started as if to give the 1932 league champions more than they bargained for, but after being held at an even count of 4-4 at the quarter and on near equality through most of the second period, the Key City boys pulled away to a short lead, added to it in the third period as the Little Hawks failed to count, and then checked a short-lived Iowa City rally to chalk up their second victory of the young campaign.

Held to just six points in the first half of the game, which was close and well played but for his great scoring, Captain Jackson took charge of the proceedings from there on and counted five times from the field and garnered a free toss to pile up a point gathering total of 18.

K. Jackson Checked
Kermit Jackson, his younger brother, was held well in check, but his floor game and defensive play was the outstanding factor in the visitors' otherwise well-balanced team.
The rangy Little Hawk boys, showing considerable improvement and more smoothness of attack, put on a nice defensive exhibition, but were not equal to the task of stopping their chief nemesis in his shots from the pivot position under the basket.

After Steve Petrakis, clever Dubuque floor guard, had missed two free throws at the outset of the contest, "Doc" Lind tipped in a follow shot to give the Little Hawks the lead. Petrakis came back with a free throw made good as C. Jackson went under to count his first field goal. A free throw by a pair of charity goals by Soucek left the score tied at the end of the first quarter.

Soucek Scores
Petrakis opened the scoring in the second period with a long shot from the side of the court, being followed by C. Jackson with another of his pivot specialties. Soucek tossed in one from close range to narrow the count and Dale Marshall, Iowa City guard, counted once, K. Jackson made a field goal on a follow and scored by the charity route. Three rapid fire goals by the big captain advanced the count to 22 to 7 before the Red and White quintet could start a rally at the outset of the fourth period.

Brown Sarts Rally
Walt Brown came into the game to score clearly from mid-floor. Lind followed in before Thalhammer made a foul goal. Don Chapman, elongated Little Hawk forward, made good on two free throws and Brown tossed in another from the center, adding a free throw a moment later. J. Petrakis scored on a set-up and C. Jackson sewed up the game with a close shot and one-handed overhead flip. Chapman's two foul goals ended the scoring.

Skating Rink Opens Today

Track, Baseball Squads Seek Support From Proceeds

Where once magic feet of Aubrey Devine and his mighty championship eleven marched to gridiron history now lies a huge skating rink that carries the hopes of two Iowa coaches that it will finance their sports for the next year.

Faced with the necessity of curtailing the competitive program in baseball and track, George Brasnahan and Otto Vogel inaugurated the construction of the University of Iowa's first outdoor skating rink, on old Iowa Field, returns from which will be used to defray expenses of the track and baseball teams.

With the speed and dispatch that has characterized the existence of the two sports at Iowa, the rink was started last Thursday and will open today at 1 o'clock with the western half completed and the eastern half promised for Monday at the latest. As a special favor to the ice skating fans who would like to attend the Iowa-Carleton basketball game the rink will be lighted and open after the game.

When finally completed the rink will occupy the entire width of the old gridiron and most of its length. More than five inches thick, the ice will present a smooth even surface, eliminating all the bumps and cracks that interfere with skating on the river.

Regular hours for the use of the rink will be from 1 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 10 o'clock at night with the possibility that it will be extended to 11 o'clock week ends. For use at night two rows of flood lights have been installed along the rim of the stadium, furnishing enough light to make safe and comfortable skating.

Iowa City's Junior Chamber of Commerce has offered to help the two coaches in the promotion of the project.

Working steadily for nearly two days, university workmen cleared the field of snow with heavy drags pulled by small rollers. The clearing, banked around the side with heavy planks reinforced with sod and snow, was flooded slowly and steadily to assure a smooth even surface and then allowed to freeze. The first layer was only about three inches thick and was covered yesterday with a second flood of water to fill the enclosure to the thickness of six or seven inches.

college of Iowa 33 to 24 tonight in a basketball game.

The Osteopaths led by a narrow margin most of the way, but five minutes before the end of the contest Parsons rallied to tie the score 18-18. The Osteopaths put on a whirlwind finish, however, to win the game. Marquess of Parsons was high scorer with nine points. The teams will play again tomorrow night.

175—John O'Leary.
Heavyweight—Frank O'Leary.

By DON SAN GIOVANNI
Three falls featured the finals of the university wrestling finals last night as champions were declared in eight classes. Favorites came through with easy wins in every case but one. Finals of the championships, which were being boosted as much for the purpose of raising money for the team as to declare champions proved the most successful in years as about 200 persons turned out for the show. Many ticket buyers failed to show up because of the extreme cold. Coach Howard intends to put on another show next semester in order to raise the balance of the necessary funds.

Good Feature
Fans were entertained between the regular matches by the antics of Larry Griswold and Steve Nielson. The pair put on a comic professional bout, using every phase of the hair pulling, yelling, fouling, and torture holds of the pros.

The closest regular scrap of the evening was in the 145-pound division as Bill Minkel eked out a narrow overtime decision over Loren Heller. Minkel won the match when he not only got away in the first period of the overtime but also got behind to pile up a sizeable margin of time. Heller cut it down later in a powerful comeback but could not slice off enough of the time.

55 Second Fall
John Stephens provided the shortest match of the evening in the 125 pound class when he pinned Henry Mortenson in 55 seconds after having his opponent in jeopardy from the going.

One of the other two falls came in the first bout of the evening, the match between Wayne Deegan and Bill Sedlacek in the 118 pound division. Deegan had the advantage throughout and finally managed to pin his man with a reverse headlock and bar arm.

The third fall came when big Frank O'Leary tossed Bill Hass in the heavyweight division. Behind for the majority of the time, he had never seriously threatened Hass until the latter attempted a trick to get away and fell into a body scissor and half nelson.

Others Easy Wins
The rest of the matches were won by wide decisions as Burton Dull, Bob Larson, Pat Righter, and John O'Leary stayed behind their men most of the time. Casey Jones did offer O'Leary some opposition at times while Carl Larson surprised many by his stubborn resistance of the experienced Righter.

Summary of matches:
118—Deegan threw Sedlacek in 3:55 with reverse head lock and bar arm.
126—Stephens threw Mortenson in 55 seconds with crotch hold and half nelson.
135—Larson won decision over Gordon Benn.
145—Minkel won overtime decision over Heller.
155—Dull won decision over San Giovanni.
165—Pat Righter won decision over Carl Larson.
175—John O'Leary won decision over Jones.

Heavyweight—Frank O'Leary threw Hass in 6:30 with body scissor and half nelson.

Blue White Attack Slows in Last Half

Alumni Cut Down on Big 12-4 Lead of Half

By AL MITCHELL
University high school gathered enough momentum during the first half of its contest with an alumni team last night to coast through the second portion of the game and emerge victors by the slim margin of one point. The count was 16-15 at the final whistle, although the Klitler 1932 edition and enjoyed a 12-4 margin at the half.

A blocky young fellow named Myers caused no end of excitement during the first half, pushing in three field goals and three free throws while his running mate, Dever, was getting one basket from the floor and Jessup was sinking a free shot for University high.

Dill Leads Alumni
During the second half, Thomas, University high center, was the only Blue and White man to score from the floor. He also added a free throw and Myers rang up another.

Fuhrmeister and Barron, alternating at guard for University high, contributed nothing to the score sheet, with the exception of Fuhrmeister's two personal fouls.
On the alumni end of the argument, Dill had the best night with a field goal and four free rides, to the foul line. Meintzer was a close runnerup with a pair of baskets, Wyjack and Crumley added one each, and Beck took another free shot.

Check Rally
The big alumni spurt came with the opening of the second half when a total of 10 points were counted in the space of five minutes, but the rally fell away gradually, in dwindling down to a single free throw in the last quarter.

The same tendency as was evident last week when the University high crew met Oxford in the season opener held throughout last night's conflict. The play hurried from one end of the court to the other, the defense and offense hunched in halves of the court, while shots went wild from tough angles, setups were hobbled, and passes trickled out of player-tangles.

A few of the alumni club members tangled with the new center line rulings. On the whole, the University high team showed better style than in the opening contest with Oxford, except in the lack of second-half punch.

Reiff Leads Attack Against Pitt Five

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 16 (AP)—Northwestern racked up its third straight pre-conference basketball victory of the season tonight, defeating Pittsburgh's touring five, 31 to 22.

The Wildcats, paced by Joe Reiff, pulled away to a seven point lead at half time and stalled off a Panther rally that fell only two points short of a tie early in the second period. With the score 27 to 16 against them with about five minutes to go, the Panthers started another outburst which netted two field goals by Oschenhirt and another by Hughes.

Georgia Tech Meets Bears

Californians Favorites to Cop Intersection-Tilt Today

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 16 (AP)—With no championship standing to worry about but keyed up over an intersectional football rivalry that began four years ago in Pasadena, Georgia Tech's Engineers and California's Bears will meet here tomorrow.

Four years ago the Bears took one on the chin in the tournament of Roses game best remembered by the 75 yard reverse run by Roy Riegels, California center. Last year at Atlanta the Ramblin' Wreck of Georgia Tech fell to pieces, 19-6, before a high geared California eleven.

Bears Favored
The Bears this season won six games, lost three and tied two. Georgia Tech brings a standing of four wins, four losses and one tie to the west coast.
The Bears are overwhelming favorites in the eyes of local fans, but Coach Bill Ingram has warned all to "watch out for those tricky southerners."

Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia welcomed the role of under dog.
"This isn't the strongest team we have had," he said, "but it has much fight per square inch as any I've coached."

Rain started falling today with prospects of a wet field tomorrow. California functioned all season on mostly power attack, but in practice this week spent much of the time perfecting an aerial offense. Georgia Tech has tossed passes all year.

The Bears will have the advantage in weight, both on the line and in the backfield.

All-University Track Meet on January 21

Iowan will battle fellow Iowan in individual track and field events and relays at the University of Iowa's thirteenth annual relay carnival in the field house Jan. 21. With the meet involving more than 200 men, the program will include nine individual events and four relays. It will be the first official testing of the 1933 varsity track material as well as the only indoor appearance of university men in intramural competition.

McLarnin in Eight Round Knockout Win

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, pride of the Irish clouters, knocked out little Sammy Fuller of Boston in eight rounds of a 10 round bout tonight, but added little to his fighting laurels before a dissatisfied crowd of 30,000.

Scalping barely above the light-weight limit while baby faced Jimmy came in a shade under the water-weight poundage of 147 pounds, Sammy bit off altogether more than he could chew. He was on the floor four times in all.

Book Fierce Beating McLarnin banded him to the canvas with two crushing left hooks to the chin for a count of nine in the first round. The second punch caught the chunky Boston youngster as he bounced off the ropes. Again in the second, four seconds before the bell, Sammy hit the resin under a left hand blast to the chin that caught him just as he swung his own left and deposited him as much from the recoil as the force of the punch.

For the next five rounds, the courageous New Englander took a fierce beating as McLarnin, a head taller, with a wide edge in reach, stalked him about the ring, smashing his head with left hooks, cornering him repeatedly on the ropes to drill his heads with both hands.

DIXIE DUGAN—Yes, What?

BUT WHAT CAN SCRAGGLES HAVE TO DO WITH MICKEY'S DISAPPEARING ???

Never Stopped Trying Fuller kept off the floor during these 15 minutes of battle, but few in the crowd could understand what kept the dogged Italian up. He was at a terrific disadvantage, forced to do all the leading, but he never stopped trying.

Battling desperately from a bobbing crowd, swinging wide left hooks to the head and thumping McLarnin's body with both hands when they came to grips, Fuller even managed to hold McLarnin even in the third and took a slight edge in the fourth where he surprised Jimmy with his sweeping left to the head, as McLarnin missed repeatedly. Sammy managed to get over a series of rights that raised a lump on Jimmy's left cheek.

Boo McLarnin The crowd booed McLarnin's tactics steadily, as the methodical Irishman took every possible advantage of his extra weight, roughed Fuller considerably and even hit him a couple of times after the bell rang ending the fifth. But the feelings of the crowd did Sammy little good. The steady beating gradually wore him down and he was a target for the dynamiter when McLarnin set out to finish things in the eighth.

A left and right caught Fuller in one of the corners and he went down for a count of nine. As he arose McLarnin bashed the reeling youngster full on the chin with his right.

Strength Gone Sammy, considered the best of the light-weight contenders, went down on his back under the ropes. He rolled over and reached his knees by seven but his strength was gone. He stayed there, head down, blood seeping from his nose and lips, as Referee Hartley ran the count to 10 and out. Fuller weighed only 136 pounds tonight, a pound over the light-weight title limit, while McLarnin scaled 145 1-2.

Florida Will Meet Uclans in Grid Game

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Florida's sophomore eleven, seeking to climax a disastrous season with an inter-sectional triumph over a representative of the far west, faces California's Uclans here tomorrow.

tem while U.C.L.A. employs a variation of the Warner style of play. Some 18,000 to 20,000 fans are expected to see the game. The kickoff is set for 1 p.m. (CST).

This college town is ready for the biggest gridiron celebration in its history. A long parade, featuring floats, floats and modeled after the "Tournament of Roses" made famous by Pasadena, will be held tomorrow morning with civic and fraternal organizations and delegations from most of Florida's 67 counties participating.

The California outfit from Los Angeles, which detoured here this morning and snapped through a short drill, was looked upon as the favorite to repeat its decision of a year ago over the Alligators. Florida slightly outweighs the visitors in the line but the Uclans hold a large advantage in the backfield.

won in an overtime period, 35 to 32. It was the third win of the season for the Golden Eagles in four non-conference games.

Shallgunkamp, visiting center, kept Normal in the lead most of the game with his consistent basket shooting. He netted six field goals and four charity tosses for high point honors.

Maxwell led the Western Union offensive with an even dozen markers. Welch, veteran forward, contributed timely scores late in the game to share honors with his teammate.

Iowa State Quintet Rallies in Second Half for 31-19 Win

AMES, Dec. 16 (AP)—A spirited Iowa State basketball team trampled Central college's Green cagers, 31 to 19, in State gymnasium tonight. The Dutchmen were unable to penetrate State's tight defense and when in scoring position failed to sink goal many times.

The Cyclones took the lead early in the game and held it until near the end of the first half when Central forged ahead by one point. Just before the gun sounded Wegner, rangy Cyclone center, sank two free throws to place his mates in an 11-10 lead.

Central lead off in the second period, but Ludwig and Wegner countered with goals in rapid succession to place the Cyclones well in the lead. A new Central team was rushed into the game but it failed to halt State's scoring rally which continued until the end of the game.

State Teachers of Macomb, Ill., 34 to 27. The Little Nineteen conference squad led 20-10 at half time. St. Ambrose jumped into an early lead but Day and Grisby of the Teachers went on a scoring spree late in the first period. The second half saw the Saints speed up only to slump again, and the visitors put the game on ice with four baskets in a row in the closing minutes.

Bob Austin, star forward, was outstanding for St. Ambrose. He dropped in six field goals and a charity throw for 18 points and individual scoring honors.

SYNOPSIS

In the year 1690, when piracy was rampant on the Spanish Main, Priscilla Harradine sailed from the West Indies bound for England aboard the "Centaur." She is accompanied by middle-aged Major Sands, the aide of her late father who had been Captain-General of the Leeward Isles. The Major aims to win Priscilla's hand and fortune.

Monsieur Charles de Bernis, former lieutenant of the notorious buccaner, Henry Morgan, is aboard. The Major is hostile toward de Bernis, considering the latter a pirate, but Priscilla is fascinated by his charm and wit. Morgan now is Governor of Jamaica, and employed by his King to rid the sea of pirates. A few still elude him—among them the scoundrel Tom Leach, for whose capture Morgan has posted a reward. Leach, on his ship, "The Black Swan," engages the "Centaur" in combat and captures her, killing all hands on deck. In the cabin, de Bernis cautions the Major and Priscilla against denying anything he says as their lives may depend on it. He introduces Priscilla as his wife and the Major as his brother-in-law. De Bernis whets the pirate's greed with a story of a fortune to be gleaned from a Spanish plate fleet sailing shortly, adding that he left Morgan to search for Leach and enlist his aid in its capture. De Bernis and Leach sign an agreement that the former will lead the pirates to the plate fleet and receive one-fifth of the treasure. Leach begrudges de Bernis such a large share, but later, the pirate's lieutenant, Wogan, infers that the promise can be broken after the spoils are in their possession. He also reminds Leach that Priscilla would also be a fair prize. De Bernis and the Major overhear the negotiations between de Bernis and Leach, wonder if the Frenchman is in league with the pirate. When questioned, de Bernis only reminds them that so far they are safe and he will do his best to get them to England. He is given command of the "Centaur." The suspicious Leach appoints two of his men, Wogan and Halliwell, lieutenant and sailing master under de Bernis to watch the latter. De Bernis shows no resentment, but coolly turns to the task of having his ship cleaned.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

Leach eyed him malevolently, with the suspicion of a sneer, but offered him no hindrance. Within ten minutes a score of hands were at the work.

An hour later, when the two ships were ready to part company, and none but the crew of a hundred men appointed to the Centaur remained aboard her, Leach himself was disposed to return to his own vessel.

On the point of doing so, he must, of course, require at last of de Bernis to be informed of their destination.

"We steer a course due southwest, for the islands at the mouth of the Gulf of Maracaybo," he was answered. "If we should become separated, our rendezvous is off Cape de la Vela."

"Is that our destination? Do we wait there for the plate fleet?" Keenness gleamed in the little dark eyes of the buccaner as they watched de Bernis' countenance.

"Oh, no," he was answered. "That is merely the first stage of our voyage."

on his heel, and so departed to his own ship, there to wait until the restoration of the Centaur's steering-tackles and repairs to her yards should enable them to proceed.

Meanwhile, the Black Swan was warped away by sweeps from the other vessel, and stood by, to have to Miss Priscilla, listless on the stern-locker, leaning sideways against a bulkhead, called the Major's attention to the other vessel's withdrawal.

He rose from his seat at the table, where he had been fortifying himself out of the rum left there by the buccaners, and crossed in silence to her side.

"Heaven knows what it means for us," she said.

His answer was first a dismal sigh, and then, since what fills a man's mind excessively must be flowing over, he began again upon a theme which had already led them as near the edge of disagreement as was possible for two persons so closely allied by a common peril.

"It is incredible that you should for a moment have believed in this man, Priscilla. Incredible, stab me! Let it serve you as a warning against your own inexperience. Another time perhaps you will trust to my ripper judgment."

"The man may not be another time," she reminded him.

"Indeed, I fear that there may not be."

"If there is, it will be thanks to Monsieur de Bernis."

This was to reopen the discussion at its bitterest point. It looked as if it would lead again to sharp disagreement.

"To Monsieur de Bernis? To him! Thanks to him?" The Major turned away in his annoyance. He strode across the cabin and back again. He and Miss Priscilla were alone there, Pierre having withdrawn to the little pantry that had been the unfortunate Samuel's stronghold at the forward end of the cabin on the starboard side.

Guessing them to be base, Why?" She smiled a little wanly. "If he had let them cut your throat, you could not now be speaking evil of him."

"Gad, life, madam!" He grew almost apoplectic. "For obstinacy commend me to a woman. I hope the sequel may justify this stubborn, unreasonable belief in a black-guard, I hope it may. But to be frank, I cannot hold the hope with confidence. Stab me if I can!"

"Now that is brave in you, Major Sands. Brave—is it not?—to have so little regard for the anxieties of a woman in my case."

He was stung to penitence. "Oh, forgive me, Priscilla. It is just my anxiety for you that goads me on. Blunderingly, perhaps, I would give my life for you, my dear..."

It was Monsieur de Bernis that interrupted him. "Let us hope, my dear Major, that so much may not be required of you."

Started, Major Sands swung round, to see the Frenchman standing within the cabin doorway. He entered, and closed the door. He advanced towards them, his manner quietly assured. "All is now arranged," he informed them, in his pleasant, level voice. "I am in command of this ship, and you will regard yourselves as my guests."

"And Captain Bransome, sir?" she asked him, her voice a little out of control, her eyes watching him the while.

His dark, saturnine face, however, was entirely unchanging. It was as expressionless as his tone when he answered her after a perceptible pause.

"Captain Bransome did his duty by his ship. Had he behaved as bravely earlier, he might now be alive."

"Dead! He is dead?" The horror of it drove her white to the very lips. It seemed so impossible that a man so vigorous and hearty, so full of life, going home in such fond expectancy of reunion with his wife and the family which scarcely knew him, should have been cut off so abruptly and cruelly.

De Bernis slightly inclined his head. "He said last night that this was his last voyage. Oddly prophetic, yet falsely so. He is at peace. He looked to the future, he said, to make amends to him for the past. He is spared the discovery that the future can never do that."

Simpson Bows to Grinnell by 24-16 in Ragged Contest

GRINNELL, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Grinnell basketball team opened the local cage season with an unimpressive 24 to 16 victory over the Simpson quintet this afternoon.

Both teams displayed ragged ball during the first half, dropping passes and missing many set up shots. The period ended 7 to 5 with Simpson leading. The brand of play improved in the second half, however, and both teams showed promise.

Lanky Hank Duncan, Grinnell captain, led the scoring with 10 points. Liddicoat was outstanding for the visitors.

Art Lasky Kayoes Doctor in Fourth

ST. PAUL, Dec. 16 (AP)—Art Lasky, heavyweight from Minneapolis, scored an easy fourth round knockout over Joe Doctor, Buffalo, N. Y., in a scheduled eight round fight here tonight. Lasky weighed 193 1-2 pounds and Doctor 187 1-2.

Lasky scored repeatedly with a left to the body and an occasional left to the face and had Doctor at his mercy throughout. Art scored two knockdowns in the third, the last just before the bell. At the start of the fourth, Lasky unleashed a flurry of lefts to the body and face and a terrific left to the liver floored Doctor for the full count.

Sioux Falls College Trims Morningside

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Dec. 16 (AP)—Outpacing its opponents throughout, Sioux Falls college basketball team defeated Morningside 43 to 29 here tonight.

Sioux Falls led 21 to 10 at the halfway mark. Harrington, Rayl and Helfert accounted for more than half of Sioux Falls' points, getting 14, 10 and 8 points respectively. Strom, Morningside center, did most of the scoring for the visitors. He garnered 11 points. Bones, Morningside forward, accounted for 9.

Football? Not Me!

Disregarding the old college tradition which rules that the son of a famous coach or athlete shall play the same game as his father did, Tad Jones, Jr., son of Yale's former mentor, has no aspirations to gridiron fame. Young Tad likes basketball and is shown on the court as a member of the Yale freshman team.

Stock Market Drops Points in Slow Day

Trade Finishes With Prices Somewhat Above Lows

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Stocks drifted lower in a sleepy session today. Closing prices, slightly above bottom, represented fractional losses for most leaders and the market still appeared to be waiting for something that would provide a basis for action.

French bonds were steadier, while Germans hewed to the line of advance they have been following this week. U. S. governments eased. Heaviness of Chicago wheat, may have influenced the direction shares took, though selling was light.

U. S. Steel preferred, being more or less of a key stock, at present, doubtless had something to do with the general list's tone. This issue dropped about 2 points, which put it in the late 50's compared with the year's low of 51. Steel common was less sharply depressed, but yielded a major fraction on the day. Coppers were down a bit further, Anaconda losing nearly a point. Oils still looked soggy, though rails fared more comfortably and utilities closed with a fairly firm tone.

Pennsylvania, Canadian Pacific, Public Service of New Jersey and Consolidated Gas improved a point. Allied Chemical, Loew's, Standard of New Jersey, Case and Kennecott sagged. Aviation corporation held closer to the ground than yesterday, but added a fraction to recent advances. Sales totaled 916,211 shares.

Wheat Drop Affects Other Grain Values

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Septimberized wheat markets in Winnipeg and Liverpool, with all time bottom price records reached at both, had decidedly unsettling effects today on grain values here.

Wheat in Winnipeg fell 4 cents a bushel, but Chicago quotations stopped at a 2 cent setback, and then rallied. Scarcity of wheat available for immediate use was apparent in the market here, and did much to counteract the influence of big stop-loss selling that appeared to have swamped traders in Winnipeg.

Chicago prices for wheat future deliveries closed nervous 5-8-34 under yesterday's finish, corn at 14-12 advance, oats 3-8 off to 14 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

An element of the acute weakness of wheat prices at Winnipeg was reported here as a rush to sell farmer-owned storage tickets, on which money had been advanced at higher prices. Pressure from Canadian banks for liquidating of wheat loans was mentioned in this connection. On the other hand, large export buying of Canadian wheat, about 2,000,000 bushels appeared to have resulted from today's price break, wheat values in Canada being cut to about 3 1-2 cents a bushel under Argentine prices.

Despite transient effects of wheat weakness, corn and oats developed strength, largely as a result of the fact that government estimates showed less corn production in 1932 than had been looked for.

Provisions averaged higher with hog values. Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 46-1-8, 47 1-8-1-4; July 46 3-9-1-2, 47 3-8-1-2. Corn—May 27 1-8-1-4, 27 1-2-5-9; July 28 1-2, 28 7-8.

Rites to Take Place Sunday

Funeral service for Mrs. J. G. Stover, 57, who died at her home seven miles southwest of Iowa City at 5 a. m. yesterday, will be held at the Outhout funeral home Sunday at 1:30 p. m. Burial will be in the Grout cemetery.

Mrs. Stover, Sophia Hauth before her marriage to Jacob Stover, came to Iowa from Ohio shortly following her birth in 1875. Since her marriage in 1892 she has lived on the farm near Iowa City. She was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America and the Methodist church. Local relatives surviving her, other than her husband, are three daughters, Mrs. Nelson Sleighing, Miss Mattie Stover, and Mrs. Harold Jacobs, all of Iowa City; three sons, Horace, William, and Stanley, all of Iowa City; and a brother, Frank Hauth of Iowa City.

CANCER TREATED BY THUNDERBOLT

Above is the apparatus used in the most sensational experiment in the history of science, which was conducted recently in Berlin. The machine generates the synthetic thunderbolt with which scientists sent an electrical charge of 2,500,000 volts through the cancerous arms of a 55 year old farm hand in an attempt to cure the disease. The fact that the subject of the "kill or cure" experiment still lives gives scientists hope for their success. Inset is Dr. Fritz Lange, who developed the apparatus, used for splitting atoms, which made the experiment possible.

Millers See Formation of New Illicit Industry in U. S.

Predict Bootleg Flour If Allotment Plan Accepted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—The creation of a new illicit business—"flour bootlegging"—was predicted today by the milling industry as an entirely probable result of the proposed domestic allotment farm relief law.

Further, its spokesman told the house agriculture committee, the bootlegging of flour "would be one of the most profitable industries in the United States."

The witness was Fred J. Lingham of Lockport, N. Y., chairman of the legislative committee of the Millers National federation. He spent two hours answering the questions of committee members who are considering legislation to boost the price of wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs through a farmer benefit paid out of a procession tax.

This tax was the subject of most of Lingham's criticisms. He called it a super sales tax that would increase the price of flour as much as $3 to $4 a barrel and added that every $2 increase would be reflected by a one cent increase in the price of the average loaf of bread.

"We believe that unless there is a policeman beside every grinding mill there would be bootlegging of flour," Lingham testified. "Such a law would prove so obvious it soon would be repealed."

"Fundamentally Wrong"
"We regard a sales tax on foods on any such basis as this as fundamentally wrong. I consider stamps a parallel. It was argued that increasing postage from 2 cents to 3 cents would not decrease the use of stamps because they were essential."

"The government has a monopoly on postage stamps and yet when the increase took place, sales of stamps dropped."
"The demand for bread under present prices is so reduced that many bakers have been forced out of business. If you double the price, I don't know what they would do."

Representative Lannagan, Democrat, Virginia, asked why if millers could sell flour ground from $1 wheat before the war at $4.36 to $5 a barrel, they now contend they would have to charge $7 a barrel if wheat prices were increased to $1.

"Because we can't get any prices on our byproducts today," Lingham replied.

The seasonal activities will open this afternoon when 15 girls gather at the American Legion Community building to fill 1,500 sacks with hard candies, to be distributed to children attending the community sing Tuesday night.

Contribute Sacks
Candies for the sacks were contributed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and 11 local grocers. Mrs. E. B. Woods is in charge of the sacking.

Christmas spirit will prevail at a dinner for girls of troop six Monday at St. Patrick's school. Decorations will be of traditional red and green, and gifts will be exchanged following the meal, according to Mrs. P. F. Campbell, troop leader.

Members of troop four, led by Ruth Frerichs, Girl Scout executive, will walk the streets Wednesday night, singing Christmas carols under the windows of persons confined to their homes.

Artistic Activities
The activities of troops one and 10 are along artistic lines. Under the supervision of Marjorie Keiser, Iowa City junior high school Girl Scouts are assisting local charities in their task of repairing toys for needy children by sewing doll dresses.

War veterans confined to the Oakdale sanatorium will receive attractively decorated boxes received at Christmas from University junior high school girls.

The boxes will be filled by Nelle Kinney with contributions of candy, toothpaste, razor blades, soap and other toilet articles from the American Legion auxiliary. Mrs. Hugh Carson is leader of the troop which is decorating the boxes.

PT. MYERS, Fla., (AP)—The body of Mrs. Adeline H. Burroughs, widow of N. T. Burroughs, middle-western banker and capitalist, who died Thursday night after a brief illness, will be sent to Cherokee, Ia., for burial.

Students Will Give "Nativity" Play at Church Tomorrow

Twenty four students will participate in a presentation of "The Nativity" at the vesper service of the Westminster Fellowship at the Presbyterian church tomorrow at 6:30 p. m.

"The Nativity," by Ekman and Fyffe, is a mystery play translated and adapted from old French noels. Special costumes and lighting effects have been arranged for the production and the public has been invited.

The group is planning a Christmas supper for 5:45 p. m., for which a special program of Christmas carols and stories has been planned by Eleanor Henkes. Arvilo Simonson is chairman of the supper committee.

Post Office Extends Today's Service to Avoid Holiday Rush

Special hours will be observed today at the post office for the accommodation of persons sending Christmas mail and to avoid a rush next week.

The stamp and parcel post windows will be open until 5:30 tonight and the money order window will not close until 5 o'clock.

Postmaster Charles A. Bowman asks that Iowa Citizens take advantage of this extra service and mail their Christmas packages today.

Dies in California
LOS ANGELES, (AP)—William Irwin Walker, retired lawyer and capitalist, for many years proprietor of the Walker Manufacturing company of Council Bluffs, Ia., died at his Hollywood home.

THE LEADER CAN ACCOMPLISH

WHAT OTHERS DARE NOT TRY

TODAY CHEVROLET PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

TODAY is Chevrolet Day throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—goes on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Aer-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly streamlined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proved six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Synco-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try! All Hands

All hands were on duty at sundown last night looking for the pair from Waterloo who killed the Blackhawk county sheriff and wounded the deputy. They were said to be heading for Iowa City and were expected to reach here about 5:30. But they didn't.

Fire Weather
The sudden dive of the mercury into the lower ranges of the thermometer brought an unusual outbreak of fires yesterday. Overheated fireplaces and furnaces kept firemen busy most of the night and day.

Commerce Votes
Chamber of Commerce Secretary D. W. Crum, in his weekly bulletin issued yesterday, urged all members of the chamber to be sure and vote on their choices for members of the board of directors.

Last Issue
Yesterday's issue of the Chamber of Commerce bulletin is the last of the year. And Monday's luncheon meeting, at which Thomas E. Martin will speak, will be the last meeting of the year.

Underwear
Activity at the Red Cross and the American Legion Unemployment Relief association yesterday centered around the distribution of underwear and stockings to men and women. The goods were part of a supply sent here by the Federal Farm board. The work of giving it away will continue today. Mrs. Martin Pederson, head of the Red Cross unit, said.
