ASSEMBLY SPLITS ON RELIEF BILL

Professor Larsen Resigns Post on Athletic Board

C. C. Williams Evades Report on Own Status

Larsen Resignation Not Yet Acted Upon, Says Jessup

Prof. Henning Larsen, member of the eligibility committee of the University of Iowa board in control of athletics, tendered his resignation from the board Jan. 4, it was learned yesterday.

The resignation was offered to President Walter A. Jessup the morning after a long meeting of the board, at which that body reversed the decision of the eligibility committee on the Break-Blackmer case.

A report which was circulated around Iowa City yesterday that Dean C. C. Williams, chairman of the Iowa board and member of the eligibility committee, had also tendered his resignation, was neither confirmed nor denied last night.

Dean Williams denied that he had tendered his resignation along with Professor Larsen, but would neither admit nor deny that he had done so independently.

President Jessup, when reached in Chicago last night, stated that he did not know whether or not notice of a resignation from Dean Williams had been received at his office.

Professor Larsen's resignation was verified by President Jessup, but he said that he had not yet acted upon it.

Professor Larsen would not, last night, amplify his earlier statement that he had tendered his resignation because he felt that a board divided on a matter of principle could not function properly.

"That tells it all," was his laconic comment.

The controversy started when the eligibility committee, composed of Dean Williams, Prof. F. G. Higbee and Professor Larsen, declared Ivan Blackmer and Eddie Break, star Hawkeye basketball players, ineligible for violating Rule 7 through participation with Alberts Cleaners, an A.A.U. quintet of Cedar Rapids.

At a meeting of the entire athletic board, on Jan. 3 the men were declared eligible, pending an investigation by the Western conference.

The eligibility committee of the conference declared the men technically ineligible, and petitions for their reinstatement were later refused by the members of the Big Ten.

Jury Probes Death of Real Estate Man

Pleasanton, Kan., Feb. 1 (AP)—Fragmentary evidence introduced at a coroner's inquest today only deepened the mystery surrounding the fatal shooting of Luther D. Marr, 57-year-old Kansas city real estate dealer, after he attended a farm foreclosure sale at Mound City, Kan., Monday.

The coroner's jury found Marr was killed by a bullet in the head, fired at close range by a "person unknown."

Witnesses testified they saw a strange man at the scene of the shooting on a road near here at about the time Marr was picked up in a dying condition.

FARM RELIEF STANDINGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The farm relief situation in congress at a glance tonight:
Domestic allotment price lifting bill, passed by the house, still undergoing hearings before senate agriculture committee.
Bankruptcy bill passed by house given to senate judiciary sub-committee for study, including amendment backed by organized agriculture to provide for nation wide system of "conciliation commissioners" to adjust farmers' debts with creditors foreclosures would be banned during pendency of these proceedings.
Farm mortgage relief proposals under study by senate and house banking committee.
Crop production loan bill carrying $90,000,000 for planting and harvesting 1933 crops still awaiting action by President Hoover, having passed both houses.

I-Men to Occupy Special Section at Basketball Game

The first official I-block will make its appearance at the Iowa-Creighton basketball game tomorrow night at the field house. If present plans materialize, more than 60 I-men, wearing their old gold sweaters, will occupy a reserved section.

I-men are requested to get in touch with Charles S. Gallier, athletic business manager at the field house, or to contact members of the I-club in order that places might be reserved for all.

The plan grew out of a meeting of the I-club at Iowa Union last night. Further details of the meeting may be found on page 6.

Chamberlain Outlines View on War Debts

Rules Out Prospect of "Great Swapping Deal"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Frank warning from senate leaders that Great Britain cannot expect debt adjustments without providing compensations was issued tonight in response to Neville Chamberlain's statement that Britain does not regard the approaching debt discussions as "a great swapping deal."

LONDON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Britain's clear cut stand for settling the war debts without "swapping" economic concessions with the United States or pledging return to the gold standard except on definite conditions, was outlined today by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain as the guest of the American correspondents association of London.

Mr. Chamberlain dealt in the main with an analysis of the world economic depression, the solution of which, he said, was largely dependent on the return of confidence everywhere.

Answers Questions
But the chancellor said he was willing to answer questions and the reporters, availing themselves of a rare opportunity of cross-examining the British chancellor of the exchequer, shot them fast.

When the barrage was ended they rushed to the cables with the most comprehensive and authoritative declaration of the policy likely to be put forward by the British government during the forthcoming Washington discussions and that has as yet been made available here.

Ruling out any policy of looking on the Washington war debt talks as a "great swapping deal," Mr. Chamberlain said:

Defines Adjustment View
"The British view is that these obligations are not those of an ordinary debtor and creditor, but that adjustment is as much in the interest of the creditor nation as of the debtor."

He remarked that the trade agreements drawn up at the imperial economic conference at Ottawa last summer "cannot be torn up" and emphasized that those agreements tied the hands of the British government so far as any arrangements at Washington can be concerned.

Party Committees Remain Unsettled After Two Meetings

Selection of committee members for Junior Prom and Sophomore Cocktail was a step nearer last night at the conclusion of a special meeting of a sub-committee of the university social committee.

Unable to study sufficiently the qualifications of more than 70 candidates at its first meeting Tuesday afternoon, the committee appointed its sub-committee to make a careful survey of the individual petitions and report back its findings to the social committee at its next meeting.

From those recommended by the sub-committee, the final 22 party committee members will be named.

ENVOY DINING WITH MRS. F.D.R.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States, is shown dining with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president-elect, when they met at Atlanta, Ga., enroute to the "Little White House" at Warm Springs, where the British envoy held a four-hour conference with Mr. Roosevelt on the debt question. At the conclusion of the discussion, Sir Ronald said he had had a "wholly informal and unofficial, but very satisfactory, conversation" with the president-elect.

Supervisors Request Loan

Apply for $9,630 for Johnson County Poor Relief

A federal loan of $9,630 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation is being asked by the Johnson county board of supervisors for use in poor relief, members of the board said yesterday.

Application for the loan was made last night through County Auditor Ed Sulek to Gov. Clyde L. Herring at Des Moines. Because county efforts to obtain loans direct had been blocked by a conflict between state law and the corporation's rules regarding collateral, Governor Herring decided to apply for a loan for the state to distribute. No amount was decided upon, the size of the loan to be set according to the needs of the counties.

County officials are seeking the loan for poor relief during February, March, and April. At the first of the year the Johnson county poor fund was overdrawn $16,152.10, of which $15,712 was refused by a county treasurer before Jan. 1, 1933, because of lack of funds to meet the demands.

Plans for a bond issue to take up the refused warrants of $15,712 soon, are being made by the county board of supervisors. The federal loan is being asked for current relief.

University Players Will Repeat Ervine Play at Art Gallery

University Players will present "The First Mrs. Fraser," a comedy by St. John Ervine, at the Municipal Art gallery in Davenport tomorrow at 8:15 p.m.

The play was originally produced by the group several weeks ago as the January production in the University theater series, under the direction of Prof. Vance Morton of the speech department. The cast which produced the play here will appear in the Davenport presentation.

Tomorrow's performance is under the auspices of the trustees of the gallery and the Friends of Art. "The First Mrs. Fraser" is the second University theater play to appear in Davenport under the sponsorship of the art group.

Following the play, a reception will be given in honor of the members of the cast.

Named Receiver

DES MOINES (AP)—A. H. Blank, head of the Central States Theater corporation, Wednesday was appointed receiver of Public-Iowa, Inc., following a voluntary bankruptcy action brought by the latter firm in federal court.

Troops to Suppress Disorders
BUCHARST, Rumania, Feb. 1 (AP)—Troops were rushed tonight to Ploesti to suppress serious disorders resulting from wage disputes at the Rumanian-American Oil company's refinery.

Mob Strikes at Body Plant

Stops Trucks Carrying Supplies for Ford Company

DETROIT, Feb. 1 (AP)—Trucks which the Briggs Manufacturing company said were delivering parts to the Ford Motor company were raided in the streets today by men who police said, were members of the 6,000 Briggs employees who went on a strike a week ago.

Two trucks were set upon by the men as the drivers moved from the company's Mack avenue plant. A mob of 300, police reported, scattered the contents of one truck into the street before police intervened, while at another location a few men pulled a truck in the streets and pulled the driver from his cab. They were dispersed.

The Briggs company, however, declared they were "in full production" again after the week long strike which forced the Ford factories to suspend when their supply of auto bodies was cut off. Ford officials said they were awaiting word from Briggs officials as to a definite schedule of production there before deciding when they will reopen their factories throughout the country.

Ask Pay Slash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Two Democratic representatives today asked the house expenditures committee to cut the salaries of all members. Whittington of Mississippi wanted a slash to $7,500, Mitchell of Tennessee suggested a $5,000 salary.

MORE WINTER? Will the Groundhog See His Shadow?

Mister Groundhog, having cast a helpful eye at Old Sol and at his own silhouette this morning, will have a bosom grown rusty by hibernation, sneak back to another six weeks' slumber.

These, at any rate, were indications late last night. Weather experts at the Iowa City airport and the local bureau of the Department of Commerce united in vouching that today's weather will be fair, for the most part, and colder.

This continues the trend of yesterday's temperatures, which was downward. Figures recorded by Prof. John F. Reilly give 23 degrees as highest for the day, with 28 degrees at 7 p.m. last night.

The month of January, with a maximum daily high temperature of 22.1 degrees, was one of the warmest ever recorded in Iowa City. The mercury climbed to a point above 50 during seven days of the month, records reveal. Below freezing temperature was experienced in only five days during the period.

Four drizzles and a sleet storm were the ingredients of the month's precipitation. The icy day was the result of a 4.1 inch downfall. Total precipitation measured 72 inch, unusually light for January.

Thornton Wilder to Speak in Iowa City This Evening

Scheduled to Make Two Appearances on Campus

Thornton Wilder, author, playwright, and literary authority, arrived in Iowa City last night preparatory to his two scheduled appearances on the university campus—the first of which is set for 8 o'clock this evening in natural science auditorium.

Again at 9 a.m. tomorrow Mr. Wilder will address an Iowa City audience, when he conducts a university round table in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Although only slightly more than 30 years old, the speaker has already attained worldwide recognition through his writings. His novel, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," proved the author's worth, 100,000 copies of it being sold in the first 90 days of its publication.

Written Works
Other works written by Mr. Wilder include "The Cabala," "The Woman of Andros," "The Angel That Troubled the Waters"; the play, "The Trumpet Shall Sound"; and the more recent "Lucrece," transcribed from the classic version for the Katharine Cornell production.

Concerning "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," Arnold Bennett has said: "It is an absolutely first rate work. The writing has not been surpassed in the present epoch. It dazzled me by its accomplishment."

Born in Wisconsin
Born in Madison, Wis., Mr. Wilder soon moved to California with his parents and began his preparatory education in Berkeley high school. Then when his father went to China as American consul-general, Wilder went along and entered the high school at Chefoo, China.

After finishing his secondary schooling in Thacher school, Ojai, Cal., he took college work at Oberlin college, Ohio, and at Yale university, receiving a B.A. degree from the latter institution in 1920.

He studied abroad at the American Academy in Rome for a year, and returned to America to take his M.A. degree from Princeton university in 1925. During the war, he served as corporal in the coast artillery corps on Narragansett Bay, R. I.

Mr. Wilder has taught at Lawrence school in New Jersey, and is at present a staff member at the University of Chicago.

Kenderdine Selected for State Office

The appointment Wednesday of G. A. Kenderdine, local attorney and city council member, as deputy superintendent of state securities raised Iowa City's representation in the new state government to four.

The appointment, confirmed yesterday in a message from Des Moines, was made by Secretary of State Alex. Miller and became effective immediately.

Mr. Kenderdine, active as a Democratic worker here for a number of years, is at present a member of the party county central committee and chairman of the city committee. He is a second ward alderman on the city council and a candidate for alderman-at-large.

The new appointee graduated in law at the University of Iowa and practiced in Lisbon, his birthplace, and Williamsburg before coming here. He served in the Red Cross unit during the war.

Besides being a delegate to the Democratic national convention last summer, Mr. Kenderdine has been a candidate on the Democratic state ticket for attorney general, for lieutenant governor, and for the state supreme court.

Fire Losses Total $2,021 for January

Fire caused a loss of $2,021 in Iowa City during January, with the fire department answering 26 alarms, according to the report of Fire Chief Herman Amlich.

The loss was on buildings and contents valued at $58,000. There was $27,900 insurance on the buildings and contents. There was no loss not covered by insurance.

Kennett Talks at Meeting of City Jobless

Continued Cooperation Asked at Gathering Last Night

A plea for continued co-operation between the unemployed of Iowa City and American Legion Unemployment Relief association was made last night by Charles Kennett, chairman of the association, to more than 125 local unemployed citizens. The meeting was held in the American Legion Community building.

Explaining the plans of the association and problems which have confronted it, Mr. Kennett said that it was established last October for the purpose of relieving some of the distress of the depression by finding employment for local citizens and with the help of all people of Iowa City it has been successful in its work so far.

"Persons with jobs have realized the necessity of giving aid to the more unfortunate and have been very generous in donating to the chest fund as well as providing work for the needy," said the chairman. The committee in charge of the relief work is very well pleased with the attitude taken so far by both the employed and unemployed, he declared.

$1,000 Per Month
The association will probably have about $1,000 a month for the next six months to spend in connection with this work, said the speaker as he asked that the unemployed realize just how much help they can expect. He also asked that they make the county's burden as light as possible during these times when it is having so much trouble making its budget balance.

"Do not become discouraged," Mr. Kennett continued. "You should consider that people are doing their best to end these trying times."

It was then explained that the association is trying to provide work for persons with families depending upon them. Single men must wait until the married ones have been taken care of. Non-residents of the city are considered for work under no conditions, it was explained.

Provide Free Ground
Mr. Kennett announced that the committee has been discussing plans whereby it may provide free ground for truck-farming next spring to the unemployed if there are enough persons interested in the proposition. If such a plan is carried out the gardens must be taken care of and not permitted to run down as other cities have experienced, he said. All men interested were requested to register at the association's office sometime today.

Men who have not re-registered at the unemployment office since Jan. 1 were asked to do so as soon as possible in order to keep the records straight.

Bank Reorganizes
ATLANTIC (AP)—The Atlantic National bank closed for a one day holiday Wednesday while it was being reorganized to resume operation as a state bank. Officers said it would resume operation Thursday under the new state law.

Official Colorado Liar Appointed by Governor Johnson

DENVER, Feb. 1 (AP)—Phil McCarty of Denver, proclaimed the champion liar of the United States by the Liar club of Burlington, Wis., today was appointed official Colorado liar by Governor Johnson at a salary of $1 a year.

"For some time I have felt that too much lying was being done at the state house," the governor explained. "Hereafter one man will do all our lying."

McCarty's friends said he told his first official lie when he commented, "the governor needs the money worse than I do so I won't accept the dollar."

Germans Get Hitler's Plan for Salvation

Dissolving of Reich Precedes Word of Two Projects

BERLIN, Feb. 1 (AP)—After President von Hindenburg had dissolved the reichstag tonight, Adolf Hitler, the new chancellor of the reich, issued a proclamation to the German people in which he announced his government would put through two four year plans to effect the salvation of farmers and workers.

Compulsory labor service and the establishment of farm colonies, the chancellor said, will constitute "the main pillars" of his program for the reconstruction of the fatherland.

Set Election Date
New elections to replace the reichstag dissolved by presidential decree were set for March 5. Between now and that day the government will go to the people in an intensive campaign on the slogan "Hindenburg and Hitler."

The president dissolved the reichstag because of the failure of negotiations designed to bring about the support, or at least the toleration, of the Centrist party, which would have permitted the Hitler cabinet to command a majority.

Report Violence
The stirring political events of the last few days—including the resignation of the Von Schleicher government and the unexpected elevation of Hitler—have been reflected in reports of political violence coming from many parts of the reich. Since the National Socialist leader became chancellor on Monday, 11 persons have been killed and 44 wounded seriously enough to require hospital treatment. Most of these casualties resulted from clashes between Communists and Nazis. In the last seven days 20 persons have been killed and 60 dangerously wounded.

Raps Conflict
The long standing warfare between National Socialism and Communism was reflected in the chancellor's proclamation, in which he bitterly inveighed against the red movement and called upon the people to combat it.

"The parties of Marxism and its confederates have had 14 years to prove their ability," he said, "the result is a field of destruction."

"One year of bolshevism would destroy Germany. The section of the world representing the richest and most beautiful culture in the world would be changed into chaos. Even the sufferings of the last 15 years could not be compared to the suffering of a Europe in whose heart the red flag of destruction was hoisted."

Lease Grabbers
Stanley's measure is aimed in part at so-called "lease grabbers," and also it was hoped, would eliminate the race of junior lien holders to foreclose ahead of the first mortgage.

Specifically, it would establish the priority rights to rents, profits and income with the holder of the first mortgage instead of with the first mortgage holder to foreclose, would make the recording of the mortgage notice to the other lien holders of the pledging of such rents, profits and income, and list the manner in which these would be applied by a receiver.

Seek Prevention of Bank-Rail Trouble

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Legislation to prevent the banks from dominating railroad reorganizations was urged today by the legislative committee of the interstate commerce commission as one means of helping the carriers.

The proposal was made to a senate judiciary subcommittee studying bankruptcy reform, while a committee under the leadership of Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, investigating Reconstruction Finance corporation loans to the railroads, received testimony opposing a resolution to prohibit further advances of this nature.

Senate Puts Latest Plan Up to House

Cold Reception Expected in Lower Branch for Measure

DES MOINES, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Iowa senate tonight had left its farm mortgage foreclosure relief "baby" on the doorstep of a decidedly unfriendly house of representatives.

Although the senate child shed some of its swaddling clothes in the course of its stay with the senate, it nevertheless was expected to be accorded a cold reception in the lower branch.

Confronted with a situation in which the two houses had drafted divergent bills for the relief of the farmer, the senate resorted to parliamentary procedure to place its own plan before the lower branch for consideration.

Stand Firm
House leaders tonight indicated that they plan to stand firm against the adoption of the senate plan and in support of their own measure which goes considerably further to provide what in effect might be an actual suspension of farm mortgage foreclosures.

Both plans contemplate the creation of state and county arbitration bodies which would seek to prevent foreclosures through conciliation and to keep the farmers on their lands. The house bill, however, would provide for the suspension of mortgage foreclosures from the time of filing application until as late as 1935.

Substitute Bill
Refusing to substitute for its own plan that passed last night by the house the senate proceeded today with the consideration and passage of its own measure. It then substituted its own bill for that of the house, and by a series of three motions left only the house file number of the original house bill.

Should the house refuse to accept the senate plan, the measure would go back to the upper branch and upon the refusal of the senate to recede from its amendments the measure probably would go into the hands of a joint conference committee for settlement of differences, if possible.

Unconstitutional?
Numerous members of the senate believe that the house plan would go too far and would be held unconstitutional on the ground that it violates contractual rights. Their own measure, they consider, would be held constitutional in that it does not violate these rights but merely changes procedure for foreclosure.

Both bills provide that before commencing a foreclosure action the mortgage holder shall file affidavit that he has submitted the matter to arbitration or has the consent of the owner of the property. There would be no appeal, under the terms of the house bill, from a decision of the county arbitration board.

While awaiting house action on its proposal, the senate planned tomorrow to turn its attention to a more permanent form of farm mortgage relief legislation. A bill drafted by Senator Claude Stanley of Corning was a special order of business on the senate calendar for 10:30 tomorrow morning.

Lease Grabbers
Stanley's measure is aimed in part at so-called "lease grabbers," and also it was hoped, would eliminate the race of junior lien holders to foreclose ahead of the first mortgage.

Specifically, it would establish the priority rights to rents, profits and income with the holder of the first mortgage instead of with the first mortgage holder to foreclose, would make the recording of the mortgage notice to the other lien holders of the pledging of such rents, profits and income, and list the manner in which these would be applied by a receiver.

The house had on its calendar as (Turn to page 7)

Reorganization Plan Unsettled

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 1 (AP)—The fate of Gov. Charles W. Bryan's plan for reorganization of the state code departments remained unsettled tonight after Republicans today forced a reduction in maximum salaries allowed department heads. Democrats failed to hold party lines intact for support of the bill.

WEATHER

A regular meeting of Girl Scout troop No. 8, was held yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium at Henry Sabin school under the direction of Mrs. Harold Smith and Katherine Heath.

Patrol leaders were given record books for attendance and the troop discussed the dinner to be given Feb. 10 at Iowa Union in honor of Ann Root, member of the national Girl Scout field staff.

Publication Members Give Surprise Dinner for William Weber

William F. Weber of Iowa City, who graduated from the university Tuesday night, was surprised by the employees in the publications department last night at dinner held in a private dining room at Iowa Union. Mr. Weber has been associated with the publications department for the last three and a half years.

Members of the department who entertained for him were: Prof. and Mrs. Fred M. Pownall; Ruth Weller, J4 of Iowa City; Ruth Pieper; Myrtle West, A2 of Iowa City; Agnes West,

Musicians to Exhibit Work at Conference

Talent of Cleveland, Chicago to Attend Meeting

Musical talent from Chicago and Cleveland will predominate among the expert demonstrators at the University of Iowa's conference for the state's school of music supervisors and teachers.

The conference's distinguished personnel, numbering both individuals and organizations, was announced yesterday by Prof. Charles B. Richter of the music department and Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division. Dates of the affair are Feb. 17 and 18.

Dasch Brings Orchestra

George Dasch not only will bring his 'Little' Symphony orchestra of Chicago for a concert, but also will serve as a special lecturer on instrumental music.

The other Chicagoan whose appointment was announced is Harold Bachman, conductor of Bachman's band and instructor in the Columbia music school of Chicago.

From Western Reserve University of Cleveland will come Jacob A. Evanson, director of the acapella choir of that institution. Dasch, Bachman, and Evanson all have served as judges at previous state music festivals here.

Ensemble to Play
 In addition to the orchestra, the Artists' woodwind ensemble of Chicago, a six-member organization, will demonstrate, and Alice Inskoop, music supervisor of Cedar Rapids public schools for 30 years, will speak.

It is the function of the conference to assist the school officials in preparing their entrants for the May festival. Some 400 schools are members of the music association.

Word Received of William Evans' Death

Word was received here yesterday of the recent death of William J. Evans of Williamsburg. Interment was made at Williamsburg last Saturday.

Mr. Evans is survived by his wife and two daughters. One of the daughters, Ethel, graduated in 1929 from this university, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She is now supervisor of music in the Perry public schools.

Co-Eds Plan to Cut Cost of Annual Formal

MISSOULA, Mont., Feb. 1 (AP)—The women will go on paying but it won't cost as much as in previous years to entertain their "dates" at the annual state university co-ed formal.

The management suggests that women refrain from taking "dates" to dinner before or after the dance. It's an economy move.

Jury Indicts Iowan for Robbery, Assault

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 1 (AP)—The county grand jury today indicted Leonard West, 29, of Ft. Madison, Ia., on charges of attempted robbery and assault with intent to kill.

West was wounded in a gun fight several weeks ago with three deputies following the holdup of an oil station at Beecher, Ill.

Physical Education Division Sponsors Class for Children

First meeting of the posture class for children of elementary school age will be held in the women's gymnasium at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The class is a new project conducted by the physical education division for women, with classes to meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. until spring vacation.

Fifteen children were enrolled Tuesday when the mothers met with the class supervisor, Lorraine Frost, an instructor in physical education. The children will be given posture and foot examinations during the first class meeting; corrective exercises and games will then be followed.

Miss Frost will be assisted by Frances Keefe, instructor in physical education; Helen Brandt, A4 of West Liberty; Marjory Kaiser, A4 of Keokuk; Pearl Richards, A4 of Winterset; and Irene Turner, A4 of Kellerton.

Lampe Will Renew Series of Addresses

Resuming, for the second semester, the 1932-33 series of Baconian lectures, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, will speak tomorrow at 7 p.m. in chemistry auditorium on "Contemporary tension between religion and the social order."

Having made a careful study of the direction which social radicalism is taking today in the organized religion of America, Professor Lampe is able to appraise the degree to which this factor becomes manifest.

Since the war, pronouncements of all religious bodies on various social questions have been forthcoming with increased volume. They deal with a variety of subjects affecting the very foundations of our capitalistic order, Professor Lampe believes.

He will describe this trend in detail and discuss the question as to how far the movement has progressed beyond the circle of the few leaders. The views of several religious groups regarding this movement will also be considered.

Tryouts Begin for Shakespeare Plays

Tryouts for "Taming of the Shrew" and "Twelfth Night," plays which are to be produced during the Shakespearean festival at the University of Iowa in March, are to be held weekly in Studio theater of Iowa Union.

Parts are open for both Apprentice players and University players. Those trying out should report to the theater Wednesdays or Thursdays at 7:30 p.m., or Saturdays at 1:30 p.m.

Nurse Leaves on Five County Trip

Edith Holmstrom, assistant to Dr. Charles L. Drain in the university bureau of dental hygiene, left last night on a field trip to Polk, Dallas, Adair, Audubon, and Carroll counties.

She will spend about two weeks conferring with school and city authorities on various phases of the bureau's work with the Iowa plan of dental hygiene.

Local Firm Lists Assets

Iowa Water Service Company Makes Report

Total assets valued at $1,129,187.57 were listed by the Iowa Water Service company in its financial report for 1932, filed yesterday in the office of City Clerk George J. Dohrer. The report was attested by V. C. Schilling, company auditor, and George J. Keller, manager.

Liabilities on Dec. 31, 1932, were $87,854.63, the statement showed. The surplus account had a balance of $1,041,332.94, and capital stock totaled $105,600.

The largest single asset consists of plant and equipment valued at $993,942.33, of which all except $21,999.83 is located in Iowa City. Taxes paid during 1932 amounted to $11,719.58. The funded debt, including a first mortgage and bonds, is the largest liability item at $571,000.

The company's total income from the sale of water during the year amounted to $137,364.93. Sales in Iowa City accounted for $133,455.66 of this. The net operating income was $69,688.10, and the net income forwarded to surplus totaled $15,525.10.

Dentistry Graduate Gets Army Medal for High Average

Capt. Clarence P. Canby of the United States army dental corps at Washington, D. C., who graduated from the college of dentistry with the class of 1927, has been awarded the army dental corps medal for having attained the highest general average at a session of a dental school course which closed last Monday.

According to word received yesterday by Dean Alvin W. Bryan of the college of dentistry, Captain Canby ranked higher than five majors, one captain, and one lieutenant who also took the course.

Besides dental subjects, the course embraced studies in roentgenology, bacteriology, pathology, and chemistry. It is an annual five-week curriculum in post-graduate work offered to officers of the dental corps.

Captain Canby has been assigned to duty at the Army Medical center at Washington.

Card Game Hard Luck for Farmers

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—A card game that cost two Iowa farmers all the proceeds of cattle sales in the Chicago stockyards led to the arrest today of Thomas Thoresen, 41.

The farmers, Amandus E. Pitzberger of Rockwell, Ia., and Robert Conliss of Pocahontas, Ia., identified him as one of the four men who participated in the game.

Dr. Charles Drain Returns From Ames

Dr. Charles L. Drain, acting director of the bureau of dental hygiene, returned Tuesday from Ames, where he addressed dental authorities of Story and Greene counties on "The care of the child patient."

Next Tuesday he will speak on the same subject at Waterloo, before members of the district dental society.

Senate Will Push Relief

Will Make Changes in House Bankruptcy Measure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Senate party leaders joined today in an effort to push bankruptcy relief legislation at this session, but they agreed considerable revision of the bill passed last week by the house would be made before the proposal reaches the senate floor and that its ultimate chances of passage were in doubt.

Controversy over the legislation was broadened with receipt by senate sponsors of a report from the legislative committee of the interstate commerce commission which found fault with both the house bill and the original proposal of Senator Hastings (R. Del.), as they dealt with railroad reorganization.

The report, signed by Commissioner Eastman said if emergency legislation is needed the house bill was preferable but suggested a measure going fundamentally into the railroad receivership question for future consideration.

Democratic Leader Robinson proposed amendments to the legislation designed to separate the farm debt phases from the railroad section; to simplify the farmers procedure in petitioning courts for readjusting their debts; and to reduce the cost of this procedure.

Hear Economic Report
 WASHINGTON (AP)—President Hoover and Secretary Mills today listened together to a report from Edmund E. Day and John H. Williams, state department economic experts, upon their negotiations abroad in connection with plans for the world economic conference.

The Super-Sailor Myth

(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch) There's no end to the disillusionment in this old world. Take John Masfield, the poet laureate, for instance. For years the merest mention of his name has called up the sea. And not a calm sea, either. His famous "Sea Fever" tells what kind. A lonely sea, with a gray mist in its face, the wheel kicking, the white sail shaking and the wind like a whetted knife. A running tide if one is available, and if there is some flung spray or blown spume, or both, on deck, so much the better. Which of the seven seas does not matter. A star to steer by, a few gulls and whales for company and a merry yarn from a fellow rover are enough and more for the longest trick. Such is the Masfield long pictured for us by his stirring answer to the "clear call that may not be denied." But it is not the man in flesh and blood. Not by a couple of bowsprits and a half-dozen capstans! He lands in New York after passage from England, and what do you suppose has kept him in his cabin? Ordinary seasickness! "It was too uppity-downy," says Mrs. Masfield in pitiful apology. High and dry, our anchor dangling in the air, we face the grim reality that the super-sailor myth, like most other myths, now sleeps in Davy Jones' locker.

TODAY'S TOPICS

Huey Long, who confessed to his senate colleagues the other day that he didn't know there was a senate barber shop until he read about it in the papers, rose to a point of "personal explanation" in the upper house the other day and went on record as follows:

"In order that the gentlemen of the press may get the matter straight I wish it to be understood that while I have never been shaved in the senate barber shop, Abraham Lincoln was shaved in it, Daniel Webster was shaved in it, John C. Calhoun was shaved in it, Grover Cleveland was shaved in it, as were other gentlemen from 80 years ago down until the present time."

The gentlemen of the press stand corrected. On the basis of facts revealed, they hereby go on record to accord the gentleman from Louisiana a chair where the mighty have sat. Next!

Ever wonder what the vice president receives in the morning mail? Last Saturday, Mr. Curtis received these:

1) A resolution adopted by the Men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church of White Plains, N. Y., favoring the passage of the bill for the exclusion and expulsion of alien communists;

2) A resolution adopted by the Merchant Tailors society of New York city favoring the balancing of the budget, reductions in governmental expenditures, elimination of hospitalization or medical attention to war veterans with nonservice-connected disabilities, the taxation of the incomes of government officials, a fair and equitable foreign debt settlement, and the repeal of the prohibition laws;

3) A resolution adopted by Sangamon Post, No. 32, the American Legion, Department of Illinois, of Springfield, Ill., favoring the maintenance of national defenses upon the same standard at least as now existing, and urging a continuation of citizens' military training camps.

The Bible students, the tailors, and the ex-soldiers added thereby a few more names to the list of so-called pressure groups, and supplied three more reasons why the senate expenditures contain a $6.80 item for aspirins.

Gleaned from the Congressional Record of Saturday, Jan. 28:

Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York submitted to the senate a 205-word telegram from the International Apple association stating that the organized apple growers of America were in great financial distress and would it please His Honor to tell congress not to raise the tariff, because:

1) "We must be willing to receive in order to sell;"

2) "We cannot constantly slap rest of world in face and survive."

Who said senators had no aesthetic sense? There being no objection, the following poem by Anna Flournoy Bassett of Pine Bluff, Ark., was read into the record upon motion of Senator Hattie Caraway:

Farm Woman to the Earth My bondage year to you will soon be past, They'll fold my hardened hands upon my breast, And I shall lie within your arms at last, In that still state men call eternal rest, You have been a strange lover, Earth, to me— You have asked all in strength and time and art; And in return you have but let me see, A fleeting glimpse of what is in your heart.

I have not had the things that women crave— The touch of silks, perfumes, and jewels bright; But in the years when I have been your slave I have seen dewdrops in the morning light, And I have felt your warm sweet breath arise And with your changing under changing skies, Earth, I was wedded to you, mind and soul.

Now when death makes you take me to your heart, And I become at last a part of you, Let cool, green leaves and fragrant blossoms start, From my poor clay, and let their brilliant hue Draw butterflies to me who served you well; And as they greet the blossoms with a kiss, Let me be living in the buds that swell. This is my prayer; O Earth, you owe me this.

Moral: Write to your congressman.

Book Bits— (From The Woman of Andros, by Thornton Wilder) (She cited often the saying of Plato that the true philosophers are the young men of their age. "Not," she would add, "because they do it very well; but because they rush upon ideas with their whole soul. Later one philosophizes for praise, or for apology, or because it is a complicated intellectual game.")

BEHIND THE SCENES - IN HOLLYWOOD -

STUDIO GOSSIP. By HARRISON CARROLL. FILM SCANDAL. SCREEN COMMENT. HOLLYWOOD.—Over in the Paramount publicity department they were looking at some new pictures of Carole Lombard, that kind with the trick shadow effects. "Aren't you crazy about women with hollows in their cheeks?" "Yeah," said Jack Oakie, providing they aren't hungry. Thinking of becoming a motion picture extra? Don't do it. Dave Allen, head of Central Casting Bureau, has just given me a look at his report for 1932, and it contains some chilling facts. For instance, only 205 men and women worked two or more days a week last year. One hundred and eighty-two of these were the first-line dress extras—the ones you see in swank party scenes. These aristocrats of the atmosphere people must maintain wardrobes far greater than the average person. The men must have tuxedo, full dress, riding habit, several business suits, light and dark overcoats. The women must have light and dark evening gowns, a dinner gown, sports outfit, riding habits, street and afternoon clothes. In 1932, these favored few averaged 2.23 days work a week. Their average salary was $24.90. And, for you parents who think your boy is a second Jackie Cooper—only 10 per cent of the children registered with the bureau got as many as 10 days work during the entire year. Thanks to heavy production since August, the bureau placed 214,000 extras in 1932, a gain of almost 25,000 above the 1931 total. On the other hand, the average daily wage dropped from $9.32 to $8.65. The reason for this drop is the increased demand for $3 extras. In 1931, the bureau placed only 718 of these low wage-earners. In 1932, the total jumped to 9533. Such extras are not even called individually. The bureau simply gets in touch with relief agencies and tells them how many people are needed. What about the 1933 outlook for extras. Allen says it depends largely upon the success of such pictures as "Cavalcade," "Farewell to Arms," "State Fair" and "Sign of the Cross." If they go over, the studios will gamble on more big pictures. In 1932, these favored few averaged 2.23 days work a week. Their average salary was $24.90. The man who used to change the names on the doors has a real job now. Mounted on a steel scaffolding yesterday, he was scraping the "Paramount Public Corporation" off the front of this studio. Under the receivership, it will read "Paramount Products, Inc." Lillian Harvey is seeing Hollywood night-life with Ernst Lubitsch. She was dancing with him at the Beverly Wilshire supper-room. Incidentally, you should see the cream-colored stream-lined racing car that the Fox star brought over from Germany. And she can relate... Connie Bennett has a new fad for Spanish, gypsy and Italian phonographs. She plays them constantly in her dressing-room. If Paramount will let her, Frances Dee wants to make a picture in England. Frances has never been in New York even, and the travel urge is strong upon her. Wonder if Richard Wallace will make that picture in England. He has an offer to direct Jeannette Macdonald and Herbert Marshall... DID YOU KNOW—That Warren Hymer attended 14 prep schools before entering Yale.

Farmers Act as Government Debates on Relief Measures

Leader Assails House Bill as "Imbecile Attempt"

DES MOINES, Feb. 1 (AP)—National and state legislators debated farm relief today while farmers themselves again took action into their own hands in various parts of the country.

At the national capital hearings continued on the domestic allotment plan and the Robinson emergency farm credit bill. The Iowa state legislature, working in the heart of the mortgage-depressed farm belt, was caught in a disagreement between the senate and the house. In a three-hour session, the senate voted unanimously for a mortgage arbitration bill which was considered less drastic than the house measure.

Assails the Bill

Meanwhile, at Des Moines, Milo Reno, militant leader of the Farmers' Holiday association, declared that the Iowa house had not gone far enough. He called the house measure "an imbecile attempt to provide an alibi for the legislature's refusal to consider a legal farm moratorium."

The Texas house of representatives adopted a resolution requesting the governor to ask for a suspension of farm mortgage foreclosures until relief legislation can be passed. Rep. Joe Greathouse of Ft. Worth said that unless the legislature stopped foreclosures, "we'll bring on a situation like they have in Iowa where they'll almost lynch a man who tries to foreclose on a farm."

While legislatures debated future policies, there were several outbreaks of farm unrest over the country.

Escorted From Town

A group numbering approximately 1,300 farmers joined at Cherokee, Okla., to escort a representative of a mortgage holding concern out of town, thus preventing an auction of a widow's farm.

In South Carolina efforts to stop land sales under mortgage foreclosures was seen in the posting of placards reading, "Stop land sales Monday by your presence at the square at Anderson. Protest against land sales." H. E. Bailey, probate judge, said 10 sales had been scheduled for Monday.

A 10 cent sale developed at Aurora, Neb., where 800 farmers came to the W. C. Brock farm and bid in farm equipment on which the defunct Fidelity State bank of Aurora had a chattel mortgage for 10 cents an implement. The property was returned to Brock.

Army Flyer Demonstrates New Camera

A multiple lens camera taking five pictures simultaneously over an area of 20 miles in width from a height of 20,000 feet was demonstrated yesterday afternoon at the Iowa City municipal airport, by Capt. Bruce C. Hill, director of aerial mapping at Wright field, Dayton, Ohio.

Captain Hill talked on the principles of aerial mapping and showed members of the military and engineering faculty and students how pictures were taken through a hole in the bottom of his plane and then "stretched out" by means of other cameras to make an aerial map.

Lt. James F. Phillips, graduate of the college of engineering in 1922 and now pilot and observer at Wright field, gave a short talk on the construction of the special plane they used for their mapping, it being unique in the air corps.

The local chapter of the Society of American Military Engineers was instrumental in bringing the men to Iowa City, through the courtesy of Brig. Gen. Henry C. Pratt, commandant of Wright field.

It contains what is said to be the oldest house in the United States, erected by monks of St. Francis, who came here with the city's founder, Pedro, Menendez, in 1565. It stands in what is now St. Francis street, and is made of coquina, the ancient cement made of shells and shell lime. Its age is said to be attested by the records in the archives of the church at Rome.

Ramblers Take 25 to 17 Verdict From Rock Island Quintet

Slippery Floor Hinders Play; Bradley Outstanding Man in Contest; Belger High Scorer

Ramblers Postpone Tilt at Cedar Rapids Tomorrow

By RON TALLMAN
(Assistant Sports Editor)

The Irish slipped while the Ramblers were sliding over at the City high gym last night and therein lies the main reason for St. Mary's second victory over St. Joe's of Rock Island this season. The final score was 25 to 17.

On a floor that was so slippery that it hindered the ball handling and floor play of both teams, Coach Francis Suedepel's boys forged to the front at the start of the game and easily held the advantage after a considerably shaky start.

Bradley Outstanding

Most credit for the win should go to Bob Bradley, southpaw guard, who turned in one of his best performances of the season despite the slick playing floor and slipped in two long shots in the first half to keep his mates out in front.

Visitors Score First

As in each of the quarters, Coach Bob Burditt's team opened the scoring in the first period on Enright's free throw. Bradley's two field goals, both nice shots from a medium long distance, and Belger's free throw gave the Ramblers a 5 to 1 lead.

St. Joe's First Field Goal

St. Joe's first field goal, an under basket shot by Vanderkerchove, big center, opened the second period. Consamus dropped in a free throw before Kahle made a basket from close quarters and converted on a charity toss to tie the count. Belger looped in a free throw and Consamus followed on Bradley's long shot before Moran counted twice from the foul line to narrow the count again.

Belger Made Two Rapid Side Shots

Belger made two rapid side shots and Moran scored from the field. Maher's free throw found the Ramblers in a 14-11 lead at half time.

Postgame Game

The Ramblers stretched their lead to 19-13 by the end of the third period with Dick Lumsden, game captain, making his first field shot during that time. After a free throw by Vanderkerchove and Naab's field goal, the Ramblers went far ahead with shots by Lumsden, Consamus and Maher before the Irish center ended the scoring with another charity goal.

The Game Scheduled for Tomorrow

The game scheduled for tomorrow night at St. Pat's of Cedar Rapids has been postponed and will probably be played some time next week.

Iowa City One of Sectional Tournament Sites

March 3, 4, 5 Dates of 1st Round Games

800 Schools Will Take Part in Annual State Play

DES MOINES, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sites for the 42 sectional basketball tournaments which will inaugurate the chase for the state high school championship were announced today by George A. Brown, executive secretary of the Iowa High School Athletic association.

The meets will be held March 3, 4 and 5, with the winning teams competing the following week in eight district tournaments. Teams will be classed in A or B divisions according to enrollment until after the district meets, the surviving 16 losing their class identity in the final tournament at Des Moines March 16, 17 and 18.

The Sites

Sites of the tournaments are: Algon, Alta, Ames, Bedford, Belmond, Boone, Burlington, Cedar Falls, Centerville, Charles City, Chariton, Council Bluffs, Decorah, Denison, Des Moines, Fairfield, Fondak, Ft. Dodge, Glenwood, Grinnell, Grinnell, Guthrie Center.

Hawarden, Iowa City, Jefferson, Keokuk, Knoxville, Mapleton, Marion, Mason City, Monticello, Muscatine, Osceola, Okaloosa, Paullina, Reinbeck, Sioux City, Spirit Lake, State Center, Stanton, Vinton, Webster City.

District Sites Later

Brown was still busy today assigning the 800 entering teams to the various tournaments. Selection of the district tournament sites will not be made until after the sectional winners are determined.

Theta Tau to Play D. U.'s in Section 4

Delta Tau Delta, representing section one of the inter-fraternity class A basketball league, tripped Phi Alpha Delta, section two, in the first game of the round robin play-off last night, 18 to 13, and Theta Tau won the right to meet Delta Upsilon for the section four title, defeating Alpha Tau Omega, 20 to 15.

The Theta Tau win pits them against Delta Upsilon in the section four playoff.

Five Groups Have Entered Teams

Five groups have entered teams in the inter-fraternity relay next Saturday and because of this small list it has been decided that the closing date will be extended until Friday night in order that any other teams wishing admittance might do so. Last year's champs, Phi Epsilon Kappa, physical education fraternity, have not entered.

Six Games Were Completed

Six games were completed in the freshman physical education league last night, the Centrals defeating the Hot Chas, 12 to 2 and the Cyclones nipping the Vulchers, 38 to 6, both in section one. Section two games found the Wets defeating the Wild Cats, 30 to 20, and the Panthers trouncing the Wild Bulls, 37 to 5.

A Quick Perfomance Exchange

A quick perfomance exchange of baskets was performed by Christen and Dill in the section three Demon-Zippers game. The former pulled a "Roy Ricgals" and dropped a score for his opponents, the Zippers and in less than a minute Dill came back with a basket for the Demons so that the gift scores were evened up. The Zippers won, 64 to 23 and the Spartans defeated the Hawks, 22 to 21, which was less spectacular than the score might indicate.

The Fresh League Swings into Action

Coach Solem Opens Indoor Grid Drills With 30 Candidates

Installation of his style of football at the University of Iowa now is being continued by Coach Ossie Solem.

He began work yesterday with a squad of more than 30 candidates for the 1933 eleven. Until weather permits outdoor drill, the athletes will learn fundamentals in the field house.

Football players who are not competing in other sports at present will report to Coach Solem, with the work designed especially for freshmen who will enter intercollegiate play next fall.

Tom Moore, captain-elect of the 1933 team, will report only at intervals, since he is busy as one of the veteran shot putters on the track squad.

Hawks Look to 'Jay Clash

Iowa-Creighton Cagers to Match Speedy Attacks

Driving attacks of whirlwind speed, each featuring quick-shooting forwards and giant centers, will be launched against each other in the Hawkeye field house when the University of Iowa meets Creighton in basketball.

No seats in the field house will be reserved for the Creighton-Iowa basketball game tomorrow evening.

But, beginning with the Chicago game Monday, a section of 200 seats in the center of the north bleachers will be reserved for each Big Ten contest. Charles S. Galiber, business manager of athletics, has announced.

Each reserved seat will sell for $1, tax included, and tickets ordered several days in advance of each game will be mailed to the purchaser.

Admission to the Creighton game is 25 cents, and general admission to all conference affairs is 40 cents.

For Iowa, it is the season's last non-conference game and the final preparation for the championship race which reopens here Monday against Chicago. The game promises to Creighton, 1932 Missouri Valley conference titlist a chance to upset a first division Big Ten quintet.

Collin, Schmidt Dangerous

Conrad Collin, high-scoring forward of the Bluejay team, has his counterpart in either Howard Moffitt or Guedner Krumholz of Iowa, while Willard Schmidt, whose height is 6 feet 8 inches, will wage a personal dual with 6 foot 5 inch Howard Bastian.

The Nebraskans will enter the game fresh from a sensational victory over Butler, previously undefeated conference leader. Their fast attack and tight defense reached its zenith in that 35 to 25 win. Both Hawks and Bluejays have won their last three games.

Free-Scoring Probable

It is probable that the game will develop into a free-scoring affair, with the victory going to the team which has a "hot" night in shooting. Schmidt is likely to win the center tip-off somewhat consistently, so Iowa's defense will be tormented more than usual.

Since basketball relations began nine years ago, Iowa has built up a six to two lead in the series because of four successive victories in the field house.

Relay Teams Selected for Sorority Run

Captains Pick Members Yesterday; to Race Against Time

After a conference that lasted nearly two hours, the captains of the 19 sorority relay teams in the thirteenth annual indoor relay carnival announced the personnel of the teams.

With each captain picking one man at a time, the group worked over a squad of more than 90 men to select the 76 runners that will compete Saturday.

Since the race is against time, the teams are divided into three sections and the four fastest quartets get the ribbons. In the first section, running in the lanes in the order they are named: Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Delta Pi, Phi Mu, Sigma Kappa, Phi Omega Pi, Zeta Tau Alpha and Delta Delta Delta; in the second section: Currier, Theta Phi Alpha, Alpha Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Chi Omega; in the third section: East Lawn, Delta Zeta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma, Kappa Delta, and Gamma Phi Beta.

The membership of the teams with the captains first, follows:

East Lawn—Peter Bannon, John Mitchell, Tom Corcoran, Ken Higgins.

Phi Omega Pi—John Murphy, Nick Cuthbert, Harry Nehls, Charles Tabbi.

Kappa Alpha Theta—Kenneth Wilcox, Robert Henderson, Ted Marech, Frank Marquette.

Theta Phi Alpha—Frank Folwell, Calvin Hoskinson, Bob McCloy, Ray Latham.

Currier—Bertram Metcalf, Robert Brown, Mark Panther, Anchor Bobrow.

Alpha Delta Pi—Charles Folwell, Harley Block, Alvin Ragan, Bob Kitteridge.

Zeta Tau Alpha—John Wilson, Howard Rudolph, Byron Bury, Clyde Hutton.

Delta Delta Delta—John Carver, Max Latta, Howard Wiley, Lee Smith.

Alpha Chi Omega—Don Gordon, Jackson Brownson, Emmet Stopher, Nick McCleary.

Kappa Delta—Don Pavlicek, Martin Morrissey, James Sweeney, Ed Becker.

Gamma Phi Beta—Bob Meeker, John Maxheim, Don Stutsman, George Saling.

Delta Zeta—David Flage, Russell Henry, Frank Cretzmeier, Elmer Kewley.

Alpha Xi Delta—Max Wiggerhof, Bernie Page, Lawrence Haltom, Bill Ash.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Sid Melnick, Sol Mandelblatt, Don San Giovanni, John Magrim.

Sigma Kappa—Norman Rosenberg, Leo Siegel, John Wagner, Burns.

Chi Omega—Bob McElroy, Sidney Dean, Dick Crayne, Charles Williams.

Phi Mu—Verne Schlaser, Robert Cook, Stuart Skowbo, Clifford Berkley.

Pi Beta Phi—Wendell Taylor, Ed Drew, Merle Hall, Elfus Johnson.

SCORED ON ICE FOR U. S.

Eddie Schroeder, Chicago skating star, who won a great victory in the 10,000-meter race of the international ice meet, now being held at Oslo, Norway, between Norway and the United States. This was Schroeder's second victory during the meet. King Haakon of Norway personally congratulated the United States star on his victory.

Sickness, Ineligibility Hinder Iowa Tank Chances at Chicago

Mohl Fails to Make Grades; Nielsen Has "Flu"

Handicapped by the ineligibility of one of its members and by the sickness of its captain, the University of Iowa swimming team worked all afternoon and evening yesterday in an effort to reach the peak necessary to turn back a strong Chicago team at the Windy City Saturday.

Chet Mohl, who had been counted upon heavily in the sprints and as a running mate for Bruce Grove in the 440, is temporarily ineligible and will be unavailable for this week end at least. Capt. Steve Nielson has been out of the pool all week with an attack of the flu and only yesterday returned. He is in a weakened condition.

Tryout Today

A tryout will take place today over the 100 yard free style distance for the purpose of determining the fourth man on the 400 yard relay team. Bill Busby, who has been turning in good times lately and who will also perform as a diver, will battle it out with Bill Ross for the right to join Captain Nielson, Augie Anderson, and Harry Huskins on the team. Ross was formerly a sprinter.

Especially important has been placed on polo by Coach Dave Armstrong the last few days as the Maroon team is reputed to have an exceptionally strong aggregation this year. Last year they were runners-up in the Big Ten. Mosier, a recruit is being worked at the goalie position and will no doubt make the trip.

Iowa's talented divers, Busby and McCloy, will receive a severe test at the hands of the Maroon brothers Saturday as will Bruce Grove in the 440 by the Maroon star, Connelly. Connelly was placed on the all-conference 440 yard team last year.

In other classes the Chicago strength is unknown except for the hint of powerful rookie strength moved up from an outstanding freshman team last year.

The Iowa squad of about 12 men will no doubt include the following: Dashes—Anderson, Huskins, Nielson; 150 yard back stroke—McClinck; 200 yard breast stroke—Bert Myer, Bill Ross; divers—McCloy, Busby; 440—Grove; polo—Mosier, and others making trip.

The annual winter discussion of football rules and changes of them is now on, with mentors on both sides of the fence. Perhaps the fans shouldn't have a great deal to say on the matter, for of course there is a good deal about the "inside" of the game that they don't know, but the general feeling is that the rules should not be changed any for another year at least. The public likes the game as it is, and changes should at least come slowly.

It is the thrills that help make the game. And yet, some of the coaches would have the penalty for two incomplete passes in the same series of downs cut a team 15 yards instead of five. It is doubtful if the added yardage would make much difference in the number of passes thrown. Certainly if a team was behind, and the only possibility of scoring was through the air, 10 more yards wouldn't make a whole lot of difference.

COACH HOWARD JONES at U. S. C. would have the ball moved in whenever it got within five yards of the sidelines. That would either mean more work for the men marking the field, or else more hair-line measuring for officials. Coach Jones is one of those who thinks that the penalty for incomplete passes should be increased, although he indicated that he would favor a 10 yard penalty for the second incomplete pass, and 15 for the third. All this would certainly cut down the desperate scoring rallies in the closing minutes of the game.

Announce Feb. 23 as Date for Annual Quad Wrestling Tournament

A further step towards the completion of the Quad athletic program was made yesterday with the announcement of the wrestling tournament to be held in the field house gym the night of Feb. 23. The tournament is to be an elimination affair and classes will be arranged according to Olympic weights in order to give greater variation. Entries for the following weights may be made: 123 pounds, 134 pounds, 147 pounds, 158 pounds, 175 pounds, and heavy-weight.

All Quad men wishing to enter the tournament must hand their entry blanks into their section proctor or Pete Affre, athletic manager, on or before Feb. 21. No entries will be accepted after this date.

Of interest to Quad swimmers is the announcement that the annual swimming meet will also get under way in the near future, the definite date not having been set as yet.

50 Baseball Men in First Practice; Plans for Dances Completed

A squad of 50 candidates was on hand yesterday to usher in the 1933 baseball season and held its first workout at the field house under the direction of Coach Otto Vogel.

The initial drill was brief and consisted of a short fielding and throwing session. This was followed by a short talk by Coach Vogel in which he outlined plans for the coming campaign.

Among the veterans of last season's team who were in attendance were: Bill Riecke, "Ham" Schulte-henrich, Dutch Schmidt, Frank Stempel and Joe Laws.

Light workouts will be continued every afternoon until Saturday afternoon when infield and batting practice will begin.

Plans are complete for the dances to be held Friday and Saturday at Varsity and Shadowland dance hall, the proceeds of which will go to help defray the necessary expenses of the track and baseball teams.

Capt. Johnson Wins 165 Berth in Trial

Capt. Clarence "Swede" Johnson and Wayne Deegan won their places on the Iowa wrestling team which is to travel to Minneapolis to meet a Gopher team Saturday, by virtue of tryout victories at the field house yesterday.

Captain Johnson, forced out of the 155 pound class by Randall Whinnery Tuesday, eked out a narrow win over Loren Heller and will compete at 165 pounds. Deegan won handily over George Aherns for the privilege of wrestling in the 118 pound division.

Child Audience Rated Above Assembly by Senator Frailey

DES MOINES, Feb. 1 (AP)—Senator Joe R. Frailey of Ft. Madison, today was proudly exhibiting to his friends the following invitation to dinner:

"Dear Mr. Lon Chaney Frailey: I was glad to see your picture in the paper every day, and was wondering if the wind still blows Peter or the rope broke?"

"When are you coming for dinner and give us some more of the honey you did two years ago?"

"P. S. If you are still at it, I will have my gang out here to hear you."

The invitation came from Art Sheurman, 9 year old son of Sol Sheurman, Des Moines manufacturer. Mr. and Mrs. Frailey were at Sheurman's for dinner two years ago, after which Joe told the youngsters stories.

"I'd rather have those kids for an audience than this august body," Frailey said.

Grain Market Shows Lower Price Trend

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—Instability of the New York stock market and also of Canadian currency went hand in hand today with a regular downward trend of prices for grain.

Big export buying of Canadian wheat failed to act as more than a temporary counterbalance. In the general overturn of grain values, the oats market outdid the season's bottom price record.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-4 to 1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/2 down, oats 1/4 to 1/2 off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

Oklahoma Farmers Halt Mortgage Sale

CHEROKEE, Okla., Feb. 1 (AP)—More than 1,000 farmers, shouting "there'll be no mortgage foreclosures in Alfalfa county," halted auctioning of a widow's farm and escorted the representative of a mortgage holding concern out of town today.

Measures in Assembly Conflict

a special order for tomorrow the joint resolution providing for the creation of a new committee for the reduction of governmental expenditures, first step in Gov. Clyde L. Herring's program for the study of the state and local governmental structure with a view to reorganization and consolidation.

The measure was under fire before it passed the senate but survived unscathed an effort to reduce the appropriation from $25,000 to $12,000 when numerous Republicans lined up with the Democratic members to support the plans of the Democratic state administration.

Will Introduce Amendment

However, a similar move was under way in the house, Representative Sours declaring that he planned to introduce an amendment to cut the committee's appropriation to $10,000. Such a move would make it impossible to conduct the state survey as planned with the state bearing half of the estimated $30,000 cost.

The senate completed preparation of its farm mortgage foreclosure relief bill late yesterday and put it through first and second reading at that time. It then placed it on third reading today, substituted it for the house bill and passed it 48 to 0, with one member absent.

Several amendments were adopted and a few rejected or withdrawn before the bill was placed on passage.

An amendment approved, by Senator Frank Beauty of Sigourney, would permit the court to take possession of the property and an amendment to this amendment, by Senator Wilson of Polk, would allow the court to retain possession after sale and during the period of redemption.

Might Hold Possession

Under this change the court might allow the owner to continue in possession. It would, in effect, amount to a moratorium on foreclosure for the period covered, during which time the farmer might have the use of the land but the rights of the mortgagee would be protected, it was argued.

The senate defeated an amendment proposed by Senator E. J. Wenner of Black Hawk which he said would deprive the court of jurisdiction in foreclosures in which the matter had not first been submitted to the arbitration body or did not have the consent of the landowner.

As the senate took up consideration of the bill Senator M. X. Geske, chairman of the committee on emergency legislation, proposed that the house bill be submitted for the senate measure, explaining that he had been informed that this was the proper parliamentary practice. He withdrew his motion, however, when it was opposed.

'Object Surrender'

Senator Joe Frailey of Ft. Madison declared that such a step would constitute "object surrender" on the part of the senate and would be "dangerous strategy."

While the senate was working on its farm mortgage relief bill the senate waded through its calendar of 11 bills, received a number of new messages and then, tired out from its long session of yesterday, decided to devote the afternoon to committee hearings.

The senate and house both received bills to permit counties to adopt the scrip plan, and measures to rearrange and rotate names on the general election ballots. In addition, the senate received a bill by Knudson to strike out party circles wherever they appear in front of a party designation on the ballot.

Fall by Wayside

In the house three bills fell by the wayside on committee recommendations for indefinite postponement. They were the Crouch measure requiring the highway commission to maintain primary highways in cities of 7,500 or under and two tax reduction committee bills increasing the retirement age and service period in pension and firemen's pension.

and giving judges the right to limit time of argument.

Measures passed by the house were:

Combining the assessment books and levies.
Requiring publication of all levies including those on bonds.
Requiring the posting of costs in actions filed for the removal of public officials.

Fix Salaries

Permitting county boards of supervisors to fix the salaries of deputy county superintendents and clerks.

The one debate of the session hinged about the bill reducing the penalty in the redemption of property sold for taxes. There was a wide diversity of opinion on a proposal to reduce the monthly penalty from one to one half per cent, the matter finally being ironed out by making it three fourths of one per cent, after the first payment is due. In addition the bill provides a penalty of four per cent and an interest rate of six per cent after Dec. 1.

Two bills affecting mortgages were introduced. One by Representative Simpson of Jones provided that a mortgage on realty shall constitute the only security for debt and that sale or foreclosure shall relieve the mortgagee from further liability even though the sum realized is insufficient to meet the debt in full and in such case no deficiency judgments shall ensue.

Provides Credit

The other bill offered by Representative Stanzel of Sac would provide a 5 mill credit to a mortgagor on property mortgaged provided the assessor is given the name of the mortgagee, amount of mortgage and district in which the land is taxable.

A bill was introduced by Representative Craven of Jasper which would eliminate assessors, require persons to make affidavit of taxable personal property and would provide for quadrennial realty assessments after 1935 by the county auditor.

The house judiciary committee had a filed day in deciding to recommend bills for indefinite postponement. Those receiving this treatment were two Beswick measures which would assess mortgages as monies and credits when held by a non-resident of Iowa and would prevent foreclosure on any mortgage until taxes legally due on the mortgage are paid.

Post Tax Sales

Other bills recommended for indefinite postponement are Falvey measure which would permit posting instead of printing delinquent tax sales and three by the tax reduction committee which would reduce the county's clerks fees, would give the chief justice of the supreme court the right to transfer district judges, and would eliminate publication of the declaration of independence and bill of rights in the code.

Two bills reported by the committee would require approval of district judges for interstate trips by deputy sheriffs and would permit the taxing costs against the plaintiff in injunction and nuisance actions.

The house roads and highways committee reported two Spelid bills would legalize the acts of supervisors who refused to make the 17 mill secondary road levy and permit the levy to be rebated where it was paid last year.

The committee also recommended for passage the McParlane bill prohibiting jay walking on primary highways.

In Idaho it is illegal to catch fish while sitting on a horse or other animal. This measure was enacted to prevent fishermen riding a horse into a river and casting from such an advantageous position.

SYNOPSIS

Sam Perkins, Dr. Montague Threadgold's bottle boy, meets his employer's latest assistant, Dr. John Wolfe on the latter's arrival at little Navestock in a wet winter dusk. Sam notes mentally that the new doctor's luggage is very light as he conducts the stranger to the Threadgold house.

CHAPTER TWO

Sam gave a tug at the bell handle. "I'll take the box around the back, sir."

John Wolfe nodded to him, scraped his boots on an iron scraper let into the wall, and saw the great green front door of Prospect House swinging back over a brown doormat that carried the word "Salve."

"Dr. Threadgold at home?"

"Yes, sir."

"In Dr. Wolfe you might take my matter, and get it dried. Mind your apron. The thing's wet through."

The maid smiled at the big man with the quiet voice. He was laughing to himself over that word "Salve," and his mouth and eyes looked very pleasant when he was amused. A few details are full of significance to a man who has learnt to observe and to weigh impressions. Dr. Montague Threadgold was either a wag of a fellow or an affable person with no real sense of humor. Salve! Turn the word from Latin to English, and the mat might as well have whispered "pills."

A mahogany door at the end of the hall opened, and a short, stoutish man in a neat pair of black-and-white check trousers came sailing out.

"Mr. Wolfe, I presume. Glad to see you, sir, glad to see you."

Dr. Montague Threadgold was the most affable of men. He was round, pink-faced, wore gold-rimmed glasses, and spent twenty minutes each morning in training a number of well-oiled hairs across the bald crown of his head. His affability and his energetic worthiness expressed themselves even in the play of his check-patterned legs. They were legs that twinkled, went at a quick strut, and patterned up and down stairs very quickly. His mouth was one of those prim mouths that purse themselves into a straight line and insist on seeming shrewd and determined. A little wind-bag of a man, he bounced and floated through the life of Navestock and its neighborhood, bringing children into the world with unction and patting them on the head three years later, with still greater unction, uttering sweet, shallow solemnities at bedside; drinking his port at dinners and twinkling through sly, beaming spectacles, subscribing his guinea to all charities, and living very fatly behind the heavy rep curtains of Prospect House.

Dr. Threadgold's chubby hand disappeared into Wolfe's great fist. Urbanity hid some of the elder man's condescension. He looked through his round spectacles at Wolfe and seemed a little bothered by the surgeon's height and by the grave and steady way he had of staring people in the face.

"A wet journey, I'm afraid," Dr. Threadgold always looked on the point of saying "my young friend."

"It is a disgrace that there is no branch line to Navestock, a positive disgrace. But privilege, vested interests—ah, well, I'm a bit of a Liberal, Mr. Wolfe. And luggage—what about your luggage?"

"I think I heard it going upstairs."

"Ah—to be sure. I expect you would like some supper. We take that informal meal at half-past seven—precisely."

"Ah—let me see—your room, yes—Sykes will show you your room. You will find Mrs. Threadgold and myself in the drawing-room. No, no professional questions to-night. They can stand over till the morning."

Threadgold had begun to talk very fast, as though his composure had run away from him, and he was trying to catch it again. His affability appeared a little hurried and out of breath. All because this tall and rather ugly young man had a reserved air, and steady, watchful eyes.

"Sykes—Sykes—"

"Yes, sir."

"Conduct Mr. Wolfe to his room, Sykes."

And Sykes led the way up three long flights of stairs.

John Wolfe's room was on the top floor of Prospect House, a room whose single window opened upon a leaded gutter and the brick face of a parapet. By standing on one of the chairs he could have seen over the parapet and, by daylight, the mulberry trees and the green below. The furniture of the room was very simple, a three-cornered mahogany washstand with a blue Spode jug and basin, a wooden bedstead, painted yellow, a chest of drawers of the same colour, a couple of chairs, and for a dressing-table a plain deal table draped with pink glazed calico and muslin, rather dirty. The carpet was in four strips, arranged about the bed.

Wolfe stood in the middle of the room, and his head came within six inches of the ceiling. He looked round critically, with just the slightest twitching of the upper lip.

He moved next to the little Georgian fireplace, put a boot into the opening and felt for the register.

"Down-of course!"

Wolfe kicked it up, and a shower of soot descended upon the white shavings and the pink paper fronting that decorated the grate.

"I'll wager that man's an old duffer. Fussy and amiable. I wonder what sort of life he lead down here? Quiet and sleepy and harmless?"

He laughed and turned to the portmanteau that the fat boy had left at the bottom of the bed. Nor was his unpacking a very lengthy business. Out of the portmanteau came two shirts, rather ragged; a pair of slippers; washing-hat; a comb and brush; a pair of boots that had been re-capped at the toes; a razor; a strop; a brown leather instrument case; a meerschaum pipe wrapped up in a paper bag; two pairs of trousers; a tall coat; two night-shirts, with the buttons showing metal; five collars; a tie, and two or three well-worn books. Wolfe packed most of these possessions away in the chest of drawers before he went to the wash-hand stand and washed himself in the blue Spode basin.

Boyd Speaks to Lions Club

Gives Talk on Part Played by Diet in Teeth Care

The part played by proper diet in the care of teeth was revealed yesterday by Dr. Julian D. Boyd, assistant professor of pediatrics in the college of medicine before the Lions club at the weekly luncheon in Reich's Pine room.

Professor Boyd explained that cleanliness, though important, contributes less to the health of teeth than proper nourishment. Even clean teeth can be effectively checked if are deprived of correct diet.

He traced the development of research during the last 15 years by which the relations between diet and the health of teeth was confirmed. Recent figures, he said, show that 95 per cent of the nation's children have decayed teeth, a direct reflection on the diet.

He explained that the decay of teeth can be effectively checked if the diet is adjusted in time.

For proper care of the teeth, he said the following items check if included in the day's diet: one or two eggs, a quart of milk, two or more vegetables and the same amount of fruit, and a teaspoonful of cod liver oil. A half pound of butter should be eaten each week, he said, and other body building materials should be taken.

He pointed out that all of these foods are common and inexpensive and can be added to the diet at no extra expense.

J. W. Holland Rites Set for Tomorrow

Funeral service for J. W. Holland, 79, who died at 9 p.m. Tuesday after several days illness, will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's church. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The body will be at the Hohenschuh mortuary until tomorrow noon when it will be taken to the home, 330 S. Capitol street, until time for the funeral service.

Mr. Holland was born in Ohio and has lived in Johnson county for more than 60 years. He served as city clerk of Iowa City for several terms and has conducted an insurance agency here for more than 50 years. He was the first president of the Iowa City board of underwriters, trustee of the St. Patrick's church, and a member of the Holy Name society.

He is survived by his widow,

Hot Pancakes Will Open Special Three Day Sales

Expect Thousands of Bargain Seekers Here Today

Steaming hot griddle cakes, with all the syrup, butter, and coffee essential to discriminating pancake devotees, are expected to tempt thousands of bargain seekers here today.

Serving will begin at 11 o'clock in the Burkley Tea room on Washington street. Enough food to allow the appetites of from 10,000 to 12,000 persons during the day has been garnered by Joe Munkhoff, president of the Iowa City Merchants bureau, and his crew of assistants. Mr. Replogle of the Replogle company of Red Oak, who, with several griddle artists, will supervise preparation of the cakes, announced that about 20 persons a minute will be served cakes and coffee. Special oversize griddles will be employed.

For the benefit of aspirants to the title of champion pancake consumer it was learned that individuals who wish more than one serving will have to leave their place at the table and await another turn in line. Children must be accompanied by their parents.

Today, designated pancake day by sponsors of the event, marks the opening of a three day sale by Iowa City stores. Merchants, in anticipation of a steady influx of visitors to the city during the period, have planned special offerings. Though the event will continue through Saturday, pancakes will be served only today.

Fees to the extent of $675 flowed into the county's coffers under the old system, while but $265.50 has been collected under the five day plan. Indications are that Johnson county couples harboring intentions to wed either trek to neighboring states or give up the idea.

The August bill now before the state legislature calls for repeal of the five day plan. The bill passed the house with a vote of 39 to 19 and now rests with the senate.

Newly Formed Radio Club Meets Tonight
Everyone interested in amateur radio or short wave reception has been invited to attend the opening meeting of the newly formed Iowa City Radio club at the Chamber of Commerce room in the American Legion Community building at 7:30 tonight.

The club has planned to consolidate the amateurs of the city in such a way that the utmost cooperation will be obtained, it was said yesterday. Entertainment will be arranged and code classes will be started if the demand is great enough.

Dr. Woods Making Annual Eastern Trip

Dr. Andrew H. Woods, professor and head of psychiatry at Psychopathic hospital, is now making his annual trip through the east for the purpose of selecting new interns. He is interviewing applicants in Chicago, Cincinnati, and New York city. If time permits, he will also visit Montreal.

Dr. Woods will return to Iowa City Monday.

Masonic Lodge to Hold Special Meeting

Members of Iowa City lodge No. 4, A.F. and A.M. will hold a special meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Masonic temple for work in the third degree.

An invitation to members and visitors has been issued and refreshments will be served.

F.D. Ponders Tariff Plans

Confers With Senator Hull on Currency Situation

WARM SPRINGS, Feb. 1 (AP)—Details of a plan for world wide lowering of tariff walls and stabilization of currencies in exchange for war debts relief were worked out today by President-elect Roosevelt with Senator Hull of Tennessee at his side.

The arrival of the Tennesseean provoked a fresh outburst of conjecture about him for the cabinet and he was listed by some of the cabinet makers here for secretary of state. Before going to the "little white house" Senator Hull would not talk.

As for the approaching war debts and economic meetings in Washington, President-elect Roosevelt rigidly maintained his silence. He is going to play a lone hand and he is keeping his thoughts carefully shielded.

However, he did laugh at newspaper reports which stated he had discussed a three year moratorium with Ambassador Lindsay of Great Britain.

The speech today of Sir Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the British exchequer, stating that England was not regarding her war debt as a bargaining proposition, also brought no response.

Leighton Ewell, Jr., a 4-H club boy, was awarded the grand prize at the second annual Louisiana-Mississippi market hog show at New Orleans.

Food for 75 Equals $2.72

Pinchots to Entertain Mrs. Roosevelt With 'Unemployed' Meal.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—That dinner the Pinchots are to give Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight will cost them $2.72—without the ice cream.

Preparing for "company"—the wife of the president-elect and 50 other guests—the Governor and Mrs. Pinchot hit on the novel idea of buying the food from the York community market, which supplies balanced rations for unemployed families.

Enough food was bought for $2.72 to feed 75 persons, the governor said today.

It was Mrs. Pinchot who thought of this type of dinner for the next first lady of the land. She wanted to show the quality and value of the food supplied the needy through the community market plan.

The state emergency relief board has been busy the last few weeks endeavoring to convert opponents of the plan.

Today, both the governor's office and the relief board pointed to the menu:

Black bean soup.
Sticks of corn bread.
Cabbage rolls stuffed with salmon and rice.
Bread sticks of whole wheat flour.
Hamburger steak with white cornmeal shells.
Spinach.
Apple and orange salad.
Desert—the ice cream.

As explained by the governor, the desert is not included in the foods procured from the commissary.

The quantities of food for the dinner and the cost:

One dozen eggs, $0.17; 3 dozen oranges, .36; 6 pounds of beans, .11; 5 pounds of cabbage, .05; 3 pounds salmon, .25; 1 pound rice, .03; 3 pounds of corn meal, .02; 10 pounds beef, .85; 5 pounds onions, .05; 10

Month Search for Moline Man Ends

DES MOINES, Feb. 1 (AP)—A month's search for Emil Satnat of Moline, Ill., named in a federal liquor conspiracy indictment at Peoria, Ill., ended here today when he was identified during a hearing before U. S. Commissioner J. E. Piper.

Satnat was arrested last night, police claiming they found 200 gallons of alcohol in his car. He was arraigned on charges of illegal possession and on the conspiracy warrant, total bonds being fixed at $4,500. A municipal court charge of possession was dismissed.

It's fun to be fooled — ...it's more fun to KNOW

Like to see through tricks? Then let's look at another... the illusion in cigarette advertising called "Cigarettes and Your Throat."

The audience is told that by certain magic processes tobacco can be made as soothing as cough medicine.

EXPLANATION: The easiest cigarette on your throat is the cigarette that is made from the choicest ripe tobaccos. Cheap, raw tobaccos are, as you would naturally expect, harsh in their effects upon the throat.

If you have to consider your throat, the quality of the tobacco in your cigarette is important.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Camels are as non-irritating as a cigarette can be because Camels use choice, ripe, tobaccos.

And because of the matchless blending of these costlier tobaccos Camels have a rich bouquet and aroma... a cool, delicious flavor.

Keep the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack on your Camels... to assure yourself and your companions a fresh, cool smoke.
