City Council Adopts 1933-34 Budget With Appropriations Reaching Total of $247,768

Unanimous in Accepting Plan in Meeting Last Night

The proposed 1933-34 city budget with a few minor changes was unanimously adopted by the city council last night. The new budget calls for appropriations of $247,768.25. Last year's budget totaled $237,959.95.

There will be $17,769 of the budget total raised by taxation, making the levy 56.65.

The total of the proposed budget was not changed but some of the items in the consolidated fund were shifted. There was $1,578 taken from the corrected and cancelled assessments fund, reducing it from $3,500 to $1,922. The $1,578 was distributed between the rest room, $168; balance to pay on audit and examination of city records, $50; and new lights, $1,360.

Gives Notice

Because the premium on the treasurer's bond has been doubled, Alderman C. Rollin Sherck gave notice to bring in an ordinance reducing the bond from $40,000 to $20,000 to keep the city expense on the treasurer's bond at $200.

Rosecoe Ayers introduced a motion to reduce the city nurse's miscellaneous expense in the budget from $400 to $150 and was seconded by Sherck. Alderman Ed Sybil protested such a drastic reduction, maintaining that she did not have enough to pay for the telephone last month. His statement was confirmed by City Clerk George J. Dohrer on looking up the records.

Sybil also said that she would need more supplies this year because many of the supplies used last year were brought with her when she took office. "If you're not going to give her anything to work with what's the use of having a city nurse?" he asked.

A vote was taken with only Ayers and Sherck endorsing the proposed reduction. Ayers raised the proposed allotment from $150 to $250 but it was again rejected by a vote of five to two, Ayers and Sherck voting aye. Ayers upped it to $300 and another vote was taken with the same results. From $300 it was raised to $350 and again turned down five to two. Another $25 was tacked on, making it $375 and was turned down. Ayers then proposed $399, a $1 reduction, and it was turned down with only Ayers and Sherck voting aye.

Consolidated Fund

The consolidated fund in the new budget is as follows: general city government, $17,763; city hall, $4,150; police department, $16,390; street department, $25,791.50; sewer department, $8,250; health department, $2,675; street lighting, $13,380; hydrant rental, $16,680; miscellaneous, $7,990.50, totaling $114,070.

The specified funds are: fire department, $16,320; bond and interest fund, $54,572; bridge bond and interest fund, $10,240; fire bond fund, $5,480; cemetery fund, $6,560; sanitary district fund, $6,863; bridge maintenance fund, $6,500; city road fund, $181; library fund, $19,000; park maintenance fund, $7,912; airport fund, $7,064.25, totaling $133,698.25.

The consolidated fund is $121.148 less in the new budget than in last year's. The specified fund is $30,956.30 higher.

Permission for extension of water mains from Riverside drive north on Myrtle avenue 400 feet was granted by the council and installation of one fire hydrant voted. Election officials were approved.

A resolution was introduced by Alderman Ayers endorsing the action of C. N. McHugh of Cedar Falls, with regard to a bill pending in the state legislature which provides for municipal control and regulation of telephone rates and services. The council voted to endorse McHugh's action. A copy of the resolution will be sent to Representative L. S. Mercer and Senator Paul W. Schmidt instructing them to do all in their power to support the legislation.

The council adjourned until 7:30 p. m., March 31.

Railroad Shops Re-Open

BURLINGTON (AP)—Burlington railroad officials today announced opening of the local shops. Two hundred men will be re-employed, probably throughout the summer.

Find Body

DES MOINES (AP)—The body of Frank Caldwell, city employe, was found today in a highway ditch south of Des Moines. Dr. William Chase, Jr., deputy coroner, said death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mellon Back in U.S. as Private Citizen to Take Up Active Life

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, private citizen now after serving his country for 12 years, came back to America today, "glad to be free" of the cares of public office.

But although today was his seventy-eighth birthday, the erstwhile ambassador to Great Britain made it clear he has no thoughts of pursuing an inactive life.

"There will be plenty to interest me," he said.

"I'll meddle in business when I feel like it."

Back in Pittsburgh he has a business empire—corporation in which his family and close friends dominate—with assets above the $3,000,000,000 mark.

F. D.'s Relief Measure Will Get Revision

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt's plan to enlist 250,000 men in a "civilian conservation corps" apparently was scheduled tonight for extensive revision by congress after organizing labor had denounced it as "smacking of Fascism, Hitlerism and a form of Socialism."

Redrafting of the bill was predicted by chairmen of both house and senate labor committees as they concluded joint hearings on it today, but there was strong support among members of the two committees for retention of the measure's essential outlines.

Calls Meeting

Chairman Walsh of the senate committee called a meeting for tomorrow to begin "revamping" the bill, a process which he predicted would take several days.

Chairman Connery called a meeting of the house committee for Monday. He said he would submit a substitute proposal which he predicted would take several days.

Chairman Connery called a meeting of the house committee for Monday. He said he would submit a substitute proposal which he outlined at the White House conference Wednesday night but for which he failed to obtain President Roosevelt's approval.

Organized labor's opposition to the bill was expressed at the joint committee hearing by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. He said it provided for "the regimentation of labor in peace times" and would demoralize the nation's wage levels.

Not in Spirit With American

"The regimentation in Fascist Italy, in Hitler Germany and Soviet Russia," he said, waving his arms for emphasis, "but it seems to me the spirit of America is not in favor of the regimentation of labor here."

"Let us do it in a way that is in accord with the spirit of America. Let labor work, but let it work voluntarily and freely."

In strange contrast to Green's contention the bill constituted "a form of Socialism," the committee were told by a Communist leader, Herbert Benjamin, that his organization was "unqualifiedly opposed" to the measure.

Arrest Iowa Woman

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A woman who gave her home address as Waterloo, Ia., was arrested Thursday night with Frank Miller, 35, a former patrolman who escaped from prison at Columbus, Ohio, where he had been serving a life sentence for murder.

Announce Scholarships

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Among scholarship awards for advanced study at Harvard university announced by the Harvard corporation were those to Edward G. Jennings, secretary to W. S. Kenyon, U. S. circuit judge at Ft. Dodge, Ia., and Laurin M. Jones of Clear Lake, Ia.

Someone's Always Taking the Joy—!

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (AP)—Somebody discovered today that this, the nation's fifth city, cannot have legal beer until 1 o'clock the morning of April 7, or 11 hours later than the rest of the Pacific coast.

A city ordinance prohibits the sale of beer between the hours of 9 p. m. and 11 a. m. An initiative petition to give the people a vote on the ordinance June 6 is being circulated.

House Okays Measure for Repeal Vote

DES MOINES, March 24 (AP)—State action on the Blaine resolution repealing the eighteenth amendment.

The governor's announcement followed passage by the house of the senate bill setting up machinery for a constitutional convention.

Herbert E. Boss, 61, was in a serious condition late last night at University hospital as the result of injuries which developed following burns received in a fire at the home of his son, Arthur Boss, a week ago.

The fire in which Mr. Boss was injured when he was overcome with smoke nearly destroyed the Boss home, at 822 Rundell street, March 16. Members of the family were summoned to the bedside yesterday afternoon.

Condition of H. Boss Regarded as Serious at University Hospital

DES MOINES, March 24 (AP)—State action on the Blaine resolution to repeal the eighteenth amendment became a virtual reality today when the house passed the senate bill setting up machinery for a constitutional convention.

Bulwarked behind a Democratic caucus action that bound the party members for the measure, the convention proponents rode roughshod over all opposition, refused to adopt any amendments that would alter the senate bill in any important part, and then passed the measure 78 to 28.

Four Democrats voted against the bill in its final form, but eight Republican pro-convention votes more than offset these.

Minor Amendments

As passed by the house the bill contains some minor clarifying and corrective amendments which will require concurrence by the senate.

The upper chamber received the bill this afternoon, but decided to delay action until the amendments are printed in the journal. Inasmuch as tomorrow's session will be brief, it is expected that the bill will not be ready for Governor Clyde Herring's signature before Monday or Tuesday.

Anticipating prompt action by the senate, Herring was making plans for issuing a proclamation to begin formation of the convention machinery.

Herring Plans Conference

Herring plans to confer soon with farm members of the legislature to determine with them the most advantageous time for the holding of county wet and dry caucuses to select delegates and for the election.

Charles Kennett, chairman of the American Legion Unemployment Relief association, led the discussion of stamp money system, adopted this week by Iowa City merchants to increase funds available for relief of unemployment.

Following a program of music and dancing refreshments were served by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Prof. Moses Jung, director of the lecture series, announced the following program for the next two weeks: March 28, Prof. Sudhindra Bose, "Unemployment in India"; March 31, Prof. Ivan L. Pollock; April 4, Prof. W. Ross Livingston, "Clives"; April 7, concert by the music department, Louis Diecks, director.

Hinman Talks to Unemployed Speaks of Sanitation in Meeting Held Last Night

Sanitation, especially as applied to purification of water supplies and disposal of waste, was discussed by Prof. Jack J. Hinman, university water analyst, at the unemployment meeting in the American Legion Community building last night.

Care must be taken, he stated, to keep files and other pests away from drinking water and waste material of all sorts. He cited the prevalence of typhoid fever during the Spanish-American war as an example of improper sanitation.

With slides he illustrated good and bad wells and waste disposal plants, and explained methods of construction by which sanitary conditions may be improved.

Local Politics Near Climax

Spouting past the lukewarm stage toward the boiling point, the campaign for city offices is resolving itself into a final two day rush for economy.

And while the parties argue it out to the finish, officials proceed with arrangements for the voting. Voting machines have been set up in the polling places, one to a ward. They will be supplemented by the manual system to take care of the anticipated 8,000 voters.

Polls in all wards will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. Monday.

OHIO RIVER FLOOD HAVOC IN THREE STATES

Made in three states, the above pictures present a graphic idea of the extent to which the Ohio river is running rampage. At top is a group of citizens of Pomroy, Ohio, huddled on one of the few remaining dry spots in town, which happens to be the city hall. Boatmen are furnishing "taxi" service. Lower left is a dismal scene, showing a business section of Louisville, Ky., completely deserted except for a lone occupant of a flat bottom boat. At right is the township of Tinicum, Pa., absolutely isolated by the flood.

Hisses, Boos Greet Defense of Dance Rule

INDIANOLA, March 24 (AP)—Violent student protest, emphasized by flying eggs and oranges and the firing of blank cartridges, today marked an indignation demonstration of Simpson college students seeking to abrogate a 50 year old rule forbidding college dances.

A. V. Proudfoot, president of the college board of trustees, was the target of the eggs and oranges as he finished a chapel talk this morning in which he declared "it is better to close the doors of the institution than to have the rules violated and abrogated."

Students Attend

He referred to two recent dances attended by the college students in defiance of the rule by which those attending this Methodist institution have been guided for more than half a century.

During his talk he was interrupted several times by boos and the firing of blank cartridges and once he turned to John Horsley, alumni secretary who introduced him, to inquire if there was "anything that we can do to quiet this crowd."

The immediate cause of the demonstration was the temporary suspension yesterday of six students, four of them coeds, who refused to sign pledges not to violate any of the college rules. The pledges referred specifically to dancing. Today, however, the six signed and were reinstated, college officials said.

Six Suspended

The six were Marion Guth of Des Moines, Harriet Harlan of Indianola, Geraldine Hughes of Norwalk, Lola Frances Hubbard of Old Hickory, Tenn., Ronald Masters of Guthrie Center and Yvonne Yager of Nebraska City, Neb.

The student council announced itself in support of the six by issuing a statement in which it commented on the "unfairness" of college authorities in selecting only a few for punishment whereas numerous students had attended the parties in question.

The statement said that "they know that at least 50 students were involved in the first dance and at least 150 students were involved in a later dance—at the country club."

800 Enrolled

The total enrollment is around 800.

Proudfoot refused to say what further action may be taken in view of developments today. President John L. Hillman is on a vacation.

Agitation to modify the regulations of the college was begun by students two years ago when they sought permission to hold dances. The board of trustees at that time refused to permit it.

Matsuoka Says Japan Asks No Aid of U. S.

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Yosuke Matsuoka, who headed the Japanese delegation which walked out of the League of Nations special session on Manchukuo, arrived today on his way home and disclaimed any intention of appealing to the United States, because, he said, Japan "is not a vassal state to America or any other nation."

A chunky little man with a thick mustache and horn-rimmed spectacles, Matsuoka expressed the opinion Japan was misunderstood in this country. He said, however, he was on no mission in that connection.

Burger Injured in Accident on Road 161

A man who gave the name of Burger was slightly injured at 11:30 p. m. yesterday when a car driven by Vern Potter of Iowa City skidded on U. S. highway 161 north of Red Ball Inn and broke off a light pole.

The car was going south at the time of the accident. The extent of Burger's injuries could not be learned last night, as he had not been taken to a hospital or to a doctor.

Fire Razes Diehl Home

A bare chimney sticking stark black through a gutted house greeted Mr. and Mrs. Harold Diehl when they returned to their four room home from the Sophomore Cotillion at 1 o'clock this morning. The house is at 421 Garden street.

The fire, which had spread over the entire house before it was discovered, left only the bare walls standing. It was believed by firemen to have been started by an overheated furnace.

The fire was noticed at midnight by a pedestrian two blocks away on Seventh avenue. He reported the fire, then awakened Joseph Waneke, who lives next door to the destroyed house.

The first thought of the Diehls when they saw the house in ruins was of their canine. Both were dressed in formal evening clothes. All their belongings were totally destroyed.

Mr. Diehl said he carried insurance on the house, although he was not certain of the amount. No estimate of the damage was made last night. Mr. Diehl drives a delivery truck for the Unique cleaners.

German Jews Spike Reports

BERLIN, March 24 (AP)—A statement that certain foreign newspapers are printing "irresponsible distortions" concerning the treatment of Jews in Germany was issued today by the Central Union of German citizens of the Jewish faith.

Reports of anti-Jewish atrocities are "pure inventions," the statement said.

The Central Union is an incorporated society with headquarters in Berlin and it comprises 21 affiliated organizations in the different German states and 1,200 local centers.

The aims of the union are given as to combat anti-Semitism and to promote the inner peace of the German people. The official organ, the weekly Centralverein Zeitung, has a circulation of 50,000. The publication is rated very highly by Vice Chancellor von Papen.

Man Held for Theft of Leigh Hunt Books

CEDAR RAPIDS, March 24 (AP)—Sheriff Joseph Petrus said today that Arland Loucks was being held at Newton in connection with the theft of three books from the Leigh Hunt collection of Luther Brewer, Cedar Rapids bibliophile.

One of the volumes was an original manuscript of notes. The stolen books were sent to New York where it was found they bore Brewer's bookplates. The Brewer collection is reputed to be the best on Leigh Hunt works in America.

Upper House Delays Action on Triple Tax

DES MOINES, March 24 (AP)—Consideration of the Beardsley triple tax bill was set over until Monday after the state senate spent its entire day in discussing the measure.

The lengthy discussion of the bill on which tax revisionists in the upper house had pooled their strength gave definite indication of the rocky road ahead of any tax revision legislation in the present session.

Meanwhile, the house after passing the prohibition repeal constitutional convention bill, ground away on its calendar of bills of less controversial nature, and passed nearly a score during the day.

Ditto Bill

Among the measures which received house approval was the Ditto bill providing for an annual $1 license fee, payable into the county general fund, for permits to carry concealed weapons. A senate bill which was passed requires the state to build and maintain bridges and culverts on highways adjacent to state parks.

Senator Wm. S. Beardsley of New Virginia and other sponsors of the triple tax bill explained their measure at length during the day. The bill was taken up section by section and a cross fire of questions was under way when the senate finally decided to adjourn for the day.

Reach Understanding

Senator George Wilson of Polk, who was presiding, later announced that proponents and opponents of the bill had reached an understanding by which consideration of the bill might be resumed Monday afternoon.

Tax revisionists went ahead in their effort to push consideration of the bill today in the face of an announcement by Gov. Clyde L. Herring that he would not approve passage of the measure. The governor urged that the consideration of tax revision go over until the special session in August when the results of a survey will be available.

Senator Beardsley explained that the bill, sponsored by a group of five Republicans and five Democrats as a substitute for his original measure, would relieve property of part of its present tax load and would widen the tax base.

Proponents estimated that the

England Asks for Reduction in Payments Due as British Envoy Confers at Washington

Muzzle for "Major," Mrs. Roosevelt Says

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—From now on, if "Major," Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's police dog, wants to accompany her on her daily horse back rides through Rock Creek park, Washington, he'll have to wear a muzzle.

"I've taken him with me twice," she said today on her arrival in New York to attend a dinner in honor of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. "Both times he got into dog fights."

U. S. to Insist on Action Favorable to Better Trade Conditions

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Britain's plea for downward revision of the war debts was carried to the Roosevelt administration today to be met with renewed indications that the United States will insist that any reduction be balanced by definite accomplishments for the restoration of world trade.

For the first time since President Roosevelt took office, the subject was broached by Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, in a long interview with Secretary Hull at the state department.

Hull called in Assistant Secretary Raymond Moley, regarded as one of President Roosevelt's closest advisers, and there began the careful diplomatic fencing which the British hope will result in greatly slashing down the four and a half billion dollars which they owe to the United States.

State Department

A state department announcement afterward made clear that the United States on the other hand desires above all things in the international field the complete success of the world economic conference to be held in London this summer. The administration was represented as believing that upon it depends the hopes of all nations for ending the depression.

The American government will emphasize at the conference the importance of agreements for the reduction of tariffs and the removal of trade barriers. It will place little emphasis on the war debts.

While the administration regards trade and debts as subject to separate treatment in theory, it is believed by well posted observers that the attitude of the United States toward reducing the debt of any one nation will be determined to a great extent by that nation's contribution to revival of trade.

Trade to Benefit

The theory behind this is that by sweeping away trade restrictions that have grown up as each nation sought to sell but not to buy, American trade would be benefited in an amount which would far exceed the actual sums written off.

Officially, the administration's position is, however, that the installments totalling $144,000,000 which fall due June 1 are to be paid in full. No word has been said publicly to imply that there would be any deferment or reduction but the purpose behind the preliminary sparring has been clearly indicated.

After his conversation of more than an hour and a quarter with Hull and Moley, Lindsay declined to comment, but it was learned that his government had requested him to ascertain the Roosevelt administration's attitude on the debts because of conflicting reports—one that another moratorium would be undertaken and another that full payment would be demanded June 1.

Parole Board Gets Case of Winnie Judd

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 24 (AP)—One of the west's most notorious criminal cases entered what may prove its final phase today as the Arizona board of pardons and paroles took under advisement Winnie Ruth Judd's plea to be saved from the gallows.

Under sentence to be hanged for the murder of Agnes Anne Lerol one of her two women victims, the blonde woman has only 20 more days of life before her unless the pardon board acts within that time to stay the hangman's hand.

The day set for her death is next Good Friday—the ninth anniversary of her marriage to Dr. William C. Judd.

Having sat, both as judges and jurors, for more than a week in hearing contradictory and often apparently irreconcilable testimony, the board members extended to the 50 year old physician a personal invitation to confer with them in private before they took formally under advisement his 28 year old wife's plea for mercy. He was closeted alone with the board before the hearing closed.

The theory behind this is that by sweeping away trade restrictions that have grown up as each nation sought to sell but not to buy, American trade would be benefited in an amount which would far exceed the actual sums written off.

Officially, the administration's position is, however, that the installments totalling $144,000,000 which fall due June 1 are to be paid in full. No word has been said publicly to imply that there would be any deferment or reduction but the purpose behind the preliminary sparring has been clearly indicated.

After his conversation of more than an hour and a quarter with Hull and Moley, Lindsay declined to comment, but it was learned that his government had requested him to ascertain the Roosevelt administration's attitude on the debts because of conflicting reports—one that another moratorium would be undertaken and another that full payment would be demanded June 1.

Parole Board Gets Case of Winnie Judd

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 24 (AP)—One of the west's most notorious criminal cases entered what may prove its final phase today as the Arizona board of pardons and paroles took under advisement Winnie Ruth Judd's plea to be saved from the gallows.

Under sentence to be hanged for the murder of Agnes Anne Lerol one of her two women victims, the blonde woman has only 20 more days of life before her unless the pardon board acts within that time to stay the hangman's hand.

The day set for her death is next Good Friday—the ninth anniversary of her marriage to Dr. William C. Judd.

Having sat, both as judges and jurors, for more than a week in hearing contradictory and often apparently irreconcilable testimony, the board members extended to the 50 year old physician a personal invitation to confer with them in private before they took formally under advisement his 28 year old wife's plea for mercy. He was closeted alone with the board before the hearing closed.

375 Couples Dance to Music of Larry Funk Last Night

Brilliantly Hued Gowns Blend With Severity of Tuxedos as Dancers Sway to Strains of "One Thousand Melodies"

Brilliantly hued gowns, their coloring accentuated by soft pastels of light and the severity of black and white tuxedos, swayed last night as 375 couples attuned themselves to the thousand melodies of Larry Funk and his orchestra at the Sophomore Cotillion. The party, which was the fourth all-university formal of the year, was held in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Programs were of black and white embossed with a dancing couple. Chaperons for the party were Dean and Mrs. George F. Kay, Dean and Mrs. Chester A. Phillips, Prof. and Mrs. O. K. Patton, Prof. and Mrs. Claude J. Lapp, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Fitzgerald, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cobb.

David Elderkind, A2 of Cedar Rapids, chairman of the committee in charge, escorted Frances Teeters, A3 of St. Louis, Mo. Miss Teeters was attired in a gown of pink pebbly crepe, designed with cape sleeves and a cowli neckline. She wore no jewelry, but the sequins on the sleeves of the dress lent color. Her slippers were pink crepe trimmed with silver, and she wore a wrap of white bunny.

Light Pink Lace

Madeline Riddell, A2 of Oskaloosa, was gowned in light pink lace. Her dress was fitted tightly at the waist with a deep pink sash, and flared from the knees to the floor. Long crystal earrings, white kid pumps, and a black velvet evening wrap were her accessories. Miss Riddell, and her escort, Roswell Johnson, A2 of Ottumwa, were members of the committee.

The gown chosen by Ruth Lotspeich, A3 of Muscatine, was of light blue crepe, fashioned with straight lines, and no trimming, except for a rhinestone neck band and back strap. She wore rhinestone drop earrings and bracelet. White moire pumps and a black velvet evening wrap, completed her costume. Claude Houck, E2 of Carbon, and a member of the committee, was Miss Lotspeich's escort.

Simple Lines

Cherie McElhinney, A2 of Washington, a member of the committee, was gowned in a pink lace gown of simple lines. A semi-sash in the back was held in place by a rhinestone buckle. Her silk sandals corresponded in shade with her dress, and her evening wrap was of white fur. She was escorted by Howard Rudolph, L1 of Atlantic.

Delta Gamma

Mrs. H. H. Roberts and son, Charles, of Maywood, Ill., and Jean Fairweather of Chicago, were dinner guests at the Delta Gamma house last night. Mrs. Roberts and Miss Fairweather are spending the week end at the house, and Charles Roberts is staying at the Sigma Chi house.

Gown of Gold

Phebe Jamison, A2 of Oelwein, a committee member, wore a gown of gold, rough crepe with large petalled flowers of gold and brown crepe forming a wreath over one shoulder. Two large flower petals comprised the buckle of the belt. Gold and brown accessories completed the costume. Her escort was Rex Blount of Des Moines.

Escorted by Carl Brachtel, P2 of Davenport, a member of the committee, Maxine Menefee, A2 of Ottumwa, chose a gown of gold and brown crepe with a full skirt having several rows of ruffles along the bottom. A crystal necklace, black gloves, and black shoes added to her costume. She wore a black velvet wrap.

Small Puffed Sleeves

Alice blue taffeta with small puffed sleeves and a ruffled skirt was the choice of Grace Donovan, A4 of Iowa City. She wore blue evening sandals and rhinestone and silver accessories completed her attire. Kenneth Braun, A2 of Davenport, who escorted her, was a member of the committee.

Alpha Chi Omega

A formal of pale grey rough crepe with pink puffed sleeves was worn by Mary Moran, C4 of Melrose. Pink evening sandals, long white kid

Make This Model at Home

The Iowan's Daily Pattern

Adorable for Youngsters

Pattern 2400

By ANNE ADAMS
It's youthful, gay, and attractive . . . in fact, it's exactly what the smart younger set adores. The little scalloped collar is fashioned of white pique to contrast with a very blue cotton print. The drop shoulders repeat the scallops and the bodice closing was captured from a "grown-up" frock. Three perky little buttons are just right for trim.

Pattern 2400 may be ordered only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 8 requires 1 3/4 yards 36 inch fabric and 5/8 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with this pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for this pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED. THE SPRING FASHION BOOK contains 82 colorful pages of lovely Paris-inspired models for every Spring need. It shows how to be chic at every hour of the day. Every style is practical, and easy to make. There are models for the larger figure, and pages of delightful junior and kiddie styles. Lovely Spring lingerie, and accessory patterns, too. SEND FOR YOUR COPY. PRICE OF CATALOG, FIFTEEN CENTS. ### Shaw Visits in California

Disembarks From Ship After Arrival at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24 (AP)—Retiring temporarily from the public gaze, George Bernard Shaw, Irish playwright and wit, today became the guest of William Randolph Hearst at San Simeon, 20 miles south of San Francisco. The dramatist and Mrs. Shaw, accompanied by George Hearst, son of the publisher, flew to San Simeon from this city in a private plane immediately after disembarking from the round-the-world liner Empress of Britain, which brought them to the United States mainland for the first time.

Refresh for all stages... Rebekah lodge... Mrs. Shaw will remain in southern California until next Tuesday, when the Empress of Britain will leave Los Angeles for the Atlantic.

Fraternities' Debate Plans Suffer Delay... The first round of contests in the interfraternity debating tournament, originally scheduled to be held today, has been postponed until Tuesday.

15 Junior Colleges Send Debaters for Annual Tournament

The addition of Estherville and Centerville junior colleges to the list of entries will bring 15 junior college groups to the campus for the fourth annual forensic tournament March 30, 31, and April 1. Contests in debate, extempore speaking, oratory, and artistic reading will be held. Awards will be medals to be given to the individual winners in each division.

The request of the Johnson County Taxpayers' association to examine the books of the overseer of the poor was denied by the board of supervisors yesterday. The board passed a resolution saying that the request was denied for want of authority under the law. The request asking permission to examine the books of the poor was made by C. G. Sample, chairman of the tax association committee on poor relief.

New Beer Bill Presents Puzzlers to Authorities

Are a Few That Have Come Before Them

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The new beer bill never is presenting as many puzzles as a jig saw puzzle to those with its enforcement. Every turn officials who must legislate into effect on are finding fresh entanglements which are rushing to their aid. Measure hardly was enacted before a difference arose over exact day and hour that it be effective. And that was but beginning of a series of questions. Here are a few that have not been answered and others awaiting a detailed study:

- 1. Can beer be sold on coastwise vessels within United States jurisdiction after April 6 and on ships flying the American flag on the high seas? It can.
2. If advertising is admissible to the mails, can a newspaper published in a dry state but with a large circulation in an adjoining wet state carry brewers' advertisements? No official answer yet.
3. Will the parcel post deliver beer? Yes.
4. Will it deliver in dry states? No.
5. Can beer be shipped by rail from one state to another through a dry state? Yes and no, according to your attorney, with no official ruling yet.
6. Can the beer be delivered now from the breweries to retail establishments to get it ready for the trade after the stroke of midnight, April 6? No.

And so the questions go. But officials have not attempted to answer the one which is being asked most generally, namely: If the beer cannot leave the brewery until midnight and gets to the retail trade sometime afterward, how long will it take to cool it? Meanwhile, wets and dries appeared today before a senate District of Columbia sub-committee and argued their respective points of view.

The hearing followed passage of a bill yesterday by the house to regulate the sale of beer in the national capital. Congress has the same power in this respect over this city as state legislatures have over the states.

"Unconstitutional" Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the women's national committee for law enforcement, termed the bill "unconstitutional" because, she said, it had been admitted by brewers that 4.2 per cent beer was the same old brew of pre-prohibition days. She held congress ignored the constitution.

Fred W. Buck of the federal district court, said the bill is unconstitutional because it takes away from the states the power to regulate the sale of beer. He said the bill is unconstitutional because it takes away from the states the power to regulate the sale of beer.

1934 Beauty Queen

The fact that 32,000 beauty culturists can't be wrong was demonstrated when they chose Ethel Hampton, New York society hostess, as "Miss 1934" at the International Beauty Show in the metropolis. Miss Hampton was chosen because she conforms to the experts' idea of what the trend of beauty is today.

Accused Banker

Charles E. Mitchell, recently resigned as chairman of the National City bank, who was arrested on orders from Attorney General Homer Cummings and charged with income tax evasion. The charge arose from Mitchell's testimony before the senate committee investigating the stock market, recently. The financier was arrested at his New York home and later released on $10,000 bond.

Suggests Parley on Alcohol-Gasoline Bill

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—A conference of representatives from Iowa, Indiana and Illinois to consider alcohol-gasoline blending legislation now pending in congress was suggested today by Representative Dobbins (D., Ill.).

Declaring that five measures have already been introduced in the house Dobbins said "I think it is best that we get together and decide which one to support."

Representative Wearin (D., Ia.), said his Iowa colleagues have shown little interest in the blending proposals. "I am personally for it, however," he added.

Letter to the Editor

Chairman of International Relations Club Writes Concerning Message to Ambassador

To the editor of The Daily Iowan: Headlines in The Daily Iowan of March 24, 1933 state that "Ambassador Gets Protest of I.R. Club." "Political Persecution in Germany Basis of Message." The message is worded as follows: "To the ambassador from Germany. Protest vigorously on the basis of reports of persecution of Jews, political and racial minorities. International Relations Club, State University of Iowa."

This action is not consistent with the objectives of the club or with the spirit in which it was organized. The object of the club is to cultivate an interest in international relations; to provide an organization for the exchange of ideas among campus representatives of various nations; to foster a better understanding and an appreciation of the ideals, objectives, cultures, and philosophies of all nations; and to support the movement toward international cooperation and peace.

The club has no closed membership. All meetings are open to the public. The discussions are informal and expected to be conducted on an intellectual level and not on an emotional level. The view of any member of the group is to be respected. Trying to understand, trying to get the other person's point of view, are within the spirit of the club. An individual speaker may show bias in his speech, but the group may form opinions only as individuals and not as a group. Group criticism or prejudice is out of order. The group was not organized for political action, or for the purpose of interfering with the internal affairs of any nation.

The resolution was not based on first-hand facts concerning conditions in Germany but upon rumors, assumptions, and newspaper reports. Possibly many of the reports and stories of persecutions are being invented and circulated by political enemies of Chancellor Hitler.

It is possible that a message of protest works to the disadvantage rather than to the advantage of political minorities. The resolution was imposed on the group attending the meeting. The vote can be considered only as the vote of the individual persons in attendance, and not as the vote of the club. If the message was sent, the name of the club was appropriated by those sending the message. The message, or resolution, was not sent or signed by any member of the committee.

I am writing this letter because I feel apologetic regarding this situation. I have faith that our ambassador to Germany will take care of the interests of our citizens in Germany. I do not think that Germany wants unofficial groups of the U.S.A. to meddle in her political affairs any more than we want German groups to interfere in our methods of government.

It is unfair to criticize Chancellor Hitler. He has been in office but a few days. He has the strongest following in Germany. Germany needs strong leadership. Chancellor Hitler should be given a chance to stabilize conditions in Germany, and to bring about good internal and international relations.

If we are to protest against the alleged persecution of political minorities, we should not show partiality. There are other nations, even the United States, where it might be said that minorities are persecuted. Energetic individuals and groups

Get Into the Game

CIRCULATION of stamp money in Iowa City was assured Thursday night at a meeting of the Merchants Bureau; it remains for the buying public to give the plan its enthusiastic endorsement and make it a success. The effectiveness of the plan depends entirely on the readiness of the public to accept the scrip and the speed with which it circulates.

The money, which will be issued in the single denomination of $1, will probably be definitely limited so that it will not be good for more than three months. This will insure its rapid circulation; but it will be necessary for the citizenry to enter into the spirit of the venture and to spend the scrip immediately.

The purpose of the plan is to provide work for the unemployed of the city without increasing the tax load and without adding appreciably to anyone's burden. The unemployed will be paid for their labor in scrip which will be accepted at local stores and retired by means of two cent stamps attached to the back with each purchase. Fifty of these stamps, to be sold by the Merchants Bureau, on the back of a scrip bill will make it eligible for redemption in cash.

This, obviously, amounts to a two per cent sales tax. Its effect will be to aid unemployment appreciably and to stimulate local business. Properly functioning, it might also prove a valuable aid in leading idle currency back into the stream of business. But it needs enthusiastic support!

Iowa's Bird

THE GOLDFINCH will be Iowa's official bird. After considering the robin, cardinal, and dickcissel, the Iowa senate this week acted upon a suggestion by the Iowa Ornithological union and selected this bird, commonly called the "wild canary," to symbolize the Hawkeye state.

The sturdy little songster haunts Iowa winter and summer, changing its plumage, like the seasons, from gay to drab, and gay again with the coming of spring. Summers he glints golden in the sun, with head and wings of black; winter finds him subdued to rusty landscape brown.

"Per-chio-o-ree" he sings as he soars to the crest of a flight wave, then sets his wings and glides groundward. It is a warble as distinctive as his flight which looks like a long undulating wave against the horizon.

Spring comes late for him. Long after other birds have nested he selects his home-site—the limb of a low-growing orchard tree, perhaps, or hawthorn bush, nothing higher than 10 feet above ground—and builds a compact little nest. He sings late, when other songsters have closed their singing season.

"The thistle bird" folks call him, because he perches atop a thistle bush snipping seeds from the stalk, letting the unused plumes flutter to the ground.

He'll make a cheery representative of the corn state. Iowa welcomes him to his place alongside her state flower, the wild rose, her official seal, and her motto which says, "our liberties we cherish, our rights we maintain."

Taking the Stage

REMEMBER Prof. Charles Gray Shaw, the New York university philosophy professor who caused a near riot among whistlers in 1931 when he called them morons?

Well, he has something to say about jig saw puzzle fans.

"The jig saw, like the cross word puzzle," he declared Thursday, "is a self-imposed intelligence test, by which the puzzler wishes to assure himself that he is not in the moron class."

"Such tests, on a smaller scale, are used in determining degrees of imbecility. The present craze for puzzles is a neurotic condition, a symptom of nervous disorder."

For which sage explanation the world is properly grateful. The next question to be solved is the reason why Professor Shaw and his fortunately un-abundant ilk insist upon seeking the limelight. Perhaps the reason for whistling and working jig-saw puzzles would cover that also.

Blue Law

A FIGHT for repeal of the generally-ignored Iowa "blue law," led by Representative Mitchell of Webster county, failed Thursday when a one-vote majority of the Iowa house voted for its retention in the statute-book.

The legislators may expect to find themselves dubbed at once as "Puritans," "hide-bound moralists," "prejudiced trades," and the like. Does such an attitude take into consideration the true motives of those who refused to have the outworn statute stricken from the code?

Certainly the representatives know that the Sabbath observance law is consistently broken throughout the state and that many residents of the state would favor its repeal. But there is another factor to be considered.

Even in this day of shifting moral standards, there are thousands of Iowans, in the tiny hamlets and in the cities, who like to cling to the old rules and the old ways. They are happier in the knowledge that Sunday is still protected by law from desecration.

If the unobserved and unenforced "blue law" serves little useful purpose, it at least does no harm, and there are hundreds to whom it brings immense satisfaction. Under these conditions no legislator should be condemned for humoring the prejudices of a large number of his constituents.

Statesman or Politician

SOON President Roosevelt will begin to disperse to the faithful their just rewards. A judgeship here, a postmaster there, a collector of internal revenue to you, and a bureau chief to you.

He holds the magic grab-bag of prizes. And therein lies an explanation, in part, of the obedient attitude of congress.

The president, the nation's key politician, knows the value of patronage. So far he has held the bag of sweets just out of reach of the congressmen, but always within sight. Holding it there significantly, he presented his program to them and asked them to vote. They voted.

This policy has, of course, not escaped the notice of Republican members of congress, who have been quick to call attention to it. That is the province of a minority party.

But although the strategy of President Roosevelt's policy can be easily appreciated, it is to be hoped that he will institute sorely needed reforms in the matter of patronage.

Postmasters and internal revenue collectors, for instance, should no more be appointed by the president than should railway mail clerks. They have been used as a sort of skeleton for the nationwide political machine of the party in power. Their inclusion in the classified service would not only increase the efficiency of the departments, but would remove much of the common distrust of government.

The president's actions affecting matters of national policy have been almost universally admired. If he can lay aside political considerations sufficiently to support these new reforms, he will have become a great statesman as well as a great politician.

Worth and Wealth

WHAT 10 men should receive the world's highest salaries? To 1,171 men who receive nothing at all—who, homeless, are cared for at a Salvation Army lodge—this question was put. These 10 won the decision:

- (1) The President of the United States—any president.
- (2) Babe Ruth—(3) Al Smith
- (4) Jack Dempsey
- (5) Franklin D. Roosevelt
- (6) Henry Ford
- (7) Charles M. Schwab
- (8) Herbert Hoover
- (9) Joe E. Brown, movie comedian
- (10) Joseph V. McKee, who was acting mayor of New York city for a few months after James J. Walker resigned.

No one is worth $80,000 a year, 572 of the interviewees asserted—this being the salary formerly drawn by Babe Ruth. The rest agreed that the selected 10 should receive such a stipend. One of the voters claimed he himself had once earned $75,000 a year.

Monetary worth, it seems, can be judged on any merit from an enormous mouth to a powerful punch with a pair of gloves.

Clear All Wires

(From The Baltimore Sun)

Herr Hitler's censorship of news in Germany having increased the difficulty with which the foreigner receives a correct picture of the situation there, it was inevitable that anxiety for the fate of Jews in a country under the control of anti-Semitic fanatics should be widespread.

Secretary Hull's request to the American embassy in Berlin to gather information from American consular officials throughout the country provides a means by which people outside Germany may receive information which, under a less restrictive regime, would come as a matter of routine from American correspondents.

Although it is quite likely that there has been exaggeration of the danger to Jews, it is, nevertheless, obvious that there is something seriously wrong with Germany when Dr. Albert Einstein's house can be searched for arms and Einstein himself unwilling to return to his own country; when Bruno Walter, the eminent conductor, and Herr Wolff, editor of the Berliner Tageblatt, are forced to live in exile.

A regime which can provide no protection for large racial political groups, vide the Communists, is risking its reputation among the nations of the world and, although that will doubtless seem a small thing to the group of hoarse ignorants now in command of Herr Hitler's police, it is no small thing, as Germany will quickly discover when she faces the necessity of dealing with other countries.

Book Bits

(From He Went Away For a While by Max Miller)
"He would make the message appear as though it were startling, as though the message had not first been said when these speakers were still hazy microgametes in still hazier microgametes years and years ago. They were still microgametes, for that matter, but they were microgametes which during the interval had gained lungs and a vocabulary."

(From He Went Away for a While by Max Miller)
Persons of one century became famous by creating dogmas. Persons of the next century became famous by proving the falsity of these dogmas. Persons of another century became famous by introducing cruelty. Persons of a succeeding generation attracted attention by crying out against this cruelty. Up and down. Down and up. Up and down. Yet through it all the one big accomplishment remained unaccomplished, the accomplishment of discovering why there is life and why there are orbits of materialistic bodies for supporting this life, the mystery of why there is anything. This would be the news-story.

General Notices

TO ALL STUDENTS WHO EXPECT TO GRADUATE AT THE CLOSE OF THE PRESENT SEMESTER, JUNE 5, 1933
EACH STUDENT WHO EXPECTS TO RECEIVE A DEGREE OR CERTIFICATE, AT THE UNIVERSITY CONVOCATION TO BE HELD JUNE 5, 1933, MUST HAVE MADE HIS FORMAL APPLICATION, ON A CARD PROVIDED FOR THE PURPOSE IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE, IN UNIVERSITY HALL, ON OR BEFORE SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1933. It is of the utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately; for otherwise it is very likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester. Making application for the degree, or the certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee at the time the application is made, the payment of this fee being a necessary part of the application. Call first at the registrar's office for the application card.
H. C. DORCAS, Registrar

TO STUDENTS WHO ARE EXPECTING TO REGISTER IN THE COLLEGE OF MEDICINE FOR THE YEAR 1933-34
The university examiner's office is mailing to such students now on the campus as can readily be identified as "pre-medical" students, and who are likely to be ready for admission to the college of medicine for next year, double post cards requesting that if they expect to enter the college of medicine here next year they promptly return to the office of the registrar "their halves" of these double post cards answering the question. But since it is hardly possible for the office to identify every "pre-medical" student who may now be on the campus, we are adopting this method of asking the attention of such students as may be thus overlooked in the mailing of the double post cards, to the desirability that all such students let us know before Saturday, March 25 that they expect to enter this college for next year. We wish to review immediately the record of every such student in order to see whether there may be any difficulties in his preparation for admission; and to notify him accordingly, so that he will have the best opportunity possible to make provision against any such defects between now and the middle of next September.
H. C. DORCAS

Examination for Lowden Prize in Mathematics
The examination for the Lowden prize of $50 in mathematics will be held in room 222, physics building, Saturday, May 13, from 8 to 11 a.m. This prize is given annually by Governor Lowden of Illinois, an alumnus of the university. Competition is open to all sophomore students who are finishing, with the current year, the sophomore work in pure mathematics. Contestants should submit their names to Prof. Henry L. Rietz, physics building, at an early date. Further information will appear on the bulletin boards in the physics and engineering buildings.
COMMITTEE
ROSCOE WOODS
JOHN F. REILLY

Illustrated Lecture
Prof. Percy A. Martin of the history department, Stanford university, will give an illustrated lecture entitled "Past and present day Brazil," Monday, March 27, at 4:10 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. This lecture will appeal to anyone interested in the historical, social, and economic evolution of Brazil.
W. T. ROOT

Kappa Phi
The annual spring banquet of Kappa Phi will be held in the Methodist church parlors, Saturday, March 25, at 6:30 p.m. Initiation will immediately precede the banquet. Reservations are to be made at the student center on or before Wednesday, March 22.

Recreational Classes
Recreational classes for faculty, faculty wives, wives of graduate students, and administrative staff now offer a unit of eight swimming meetings Wednesdays and Fridays from 4:45 to 5:30 p.m. beginning Wednesday, March 29.
MARJORIE CAMP

University Swimming Test
All sophomores who have not passed the university swimming test must register for swimming the spring term, which begins Monday, March 27.

BEHIND THE SCENES - IN HOLLYWOOD -

By HARRISON CARROLL
STUDIO GOSSIP FILM SCANDAL SCREEN COMMENT

HOLLYWOOD PARADE
In his usual retiring manner, Ronald Colman slipped out of Hollywood last Saturday, allowing but few of his friends to know of his departure. He is now abroad the S. S. Lucia, bound for Havana and possibly for Europe. Al Weingand, a friend, is going along to keep him company. As for the Samuel Goldwyn dispute, it is still up in the air. I have an idea, however, that Ronnie will be back here making pictures long before the two years we have been hearing about.

DID YOU KNOW—
That the first motion picture studio in Hollywood, the barn where Cecil B. De Mille and Jesse Lasky started, is now used as a gymnasium on the Paramount lot?
That Myrna Loy has played over 50 roles in pictures and, though American-born, has portrayed an Oriental in all but five?
That Wallace Beery, unknown to passengers, has frequently flown tri-motored commercial planes between Los Angeles and San Francisco?

All unknown to themselves, two bit players in "Reunion in Vienna" are the cause of mild hysterics at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. When the picture was going into production, the studio sent east for Bela Loblov and Morris Nussbaum, two musicians who had figured briefly in the Broadway version of Bob Sherwood's play. Arriving here, the two were given one of those form biography cards to fill out for the publicity department. Each gave "Reunion in Vienna" as his favorite play and Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt as his favorite players.

In due course of time, the musicians left for New York. The next day an air-mail, special delivery letter arrived at the publicity department. It had been written on the train. It read: "Dears Sirs: Will you kindly fill out the sheet we made in your office and change our favorite actors to John Barrymore and Diana Wynyard. Yours very truly, Bela Loblov and Morris Nussbaum."

What with a play on her hands, and, if you can believe reports, a successful one, the actress may find it difficult to get away just now. The fact that she invested her own money in "Forsaking All Others" will make her all the more careful of its continued well being.

On the other hand, "The Worst Woman in Paris" is said to be a swell Bankhead type of picture. It's a story by Monta Bell about an American girl who is the soul of propriety in her Kansas home, but who makes plenty of whoopee in Paris. Jean Harlow was mentioned for the role, but M-G-M is settling with plans of its own for the platinum-haired star. When the picture gets under way, Monta Bell will be directing his own story.

Children Will Give Plays in Union Theater

Will Present Works of Totheroh This Afternoon

"The Stolen Prince" and "The Lost Princess," plays in the Chinese manner by Dan Totheroh, will be presented by Children's theater this afternoon at 2:30 in Studio theater at Iowa Union.

Nineteen children will have roles in the two plays, one of which is a sequel to the other. LeRoy Frazier and Betty Puckett will have title roles as Joy, the stolen prince, and Tee Wee, the lost princess.

Following the fashion of the Chinese theater, scenery and properties are created with mere suggestions to the imaginations of the audience. Thus, tables and chairs may suggest a mountain, and a sheet of blue silk becomes a river.

Instead of the pantomime found in many Chinese plays, however, these plays contain dialog, spoken by the characters. A properly placarded property man arranges properties and settings.

Among the characters will be a great green dragon, and a little duck which swims in the blue silk river.

Both plays are under the direction of Helen Langworthy, director of the children's group. She is assisted by Betty Andersch, G of Rock Island, Ill., in "The Lost Princess," and by Mary Schilder, A4 of Omaha, Neb., in "The Stolen Prince."

RELIEF BILL

To Get Revision in Both Houses

tional committee of unemployed councils, said it would "legalize a system of forced labor." He demanded unemployment insurance and cash payment of the bonus.

Earlier, Chairman Connery had suggested the bill in its present form was like a "draft act" under which men would be picked up on the streets and forced to go to the work camps for a year.

Douglas MacArthur, army chief of staff, said the plan seemed to him "entirely voluntarily."

Members of the committee pointed out the president had consented to modification of the legislation to make it clear that the enlistments would be voluntary. Walsh said that was one of the changes that probably would be made in the bill.

Connery said, however, he would push a substitute proposal under which men would be enlisted for a month instead of a year and paid $50 or $80 a month, depending upon whether or not they were married, instead of $30. The president had opposed this.

Lewis Douglas, budget director, testified the president's plan would be financed for the remainder of this fiscal year from $40,000,000 of unobligated public building funds.

Green testified the bill would establish a "dollar a day" wage level for unskilled labor.

Several members of the committee told of laborers in their districts working now for less than the compensation proposed in the bill, but Green insisted "you can not relieve conditions by adding misery to misery."

Farmers of Iowa, Nebraska Move to Speed "New Deal"

OMAHA, March 24 (AP)—One of the cards in his "new deal" has reached the hands of Iowa and Nebraska farmers President Roosevelt was informed today in a telegram from the Nebraska-Iowa Cooperative Milk association.

Referring to higher retail prices for milk which will go into effect Sunday the association declared: "In line with your new deal program for farm relief, the city of Omaha is the first large city to take action to promote agricultural prosperity in its own market. All dairies here and in Council Bluffs, Ia., yesterday agreed to raise the retail wagon price of milk to 8 cents a quart.

"Our 3,000 farm members are united in extending support to you in the hope that other chaotic markets may be likewise stabilized."

Farm Representative Dies in Washington

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—J. M. Byrnes, 71, who came to Washington shortly before inauguration as a representative of a group of middle western farmers, is dead of pneumonia.

A Democrat, he is said to have taken an active part in the political affairs of the farm region near St. Paul, Minn.

The body will be taken to Waverly, Ia., late today for burial.

Byrnes is survived by his widow and a brother. The latter is in Washington.

Jail Term Awaits Harlan Farmers

HARLAN, March 24 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarthy tonight faced the alternatives of leaving their farm home by six o'clock tomorrow morning or going to jail.

Judge Miller so ruled in foreclosure proceedings today. McCarthy refused to vacate Feb. 1 at the expiration of a lease and lost a plea for a new lease in a hearing at Logan. A second hearing here resulted similarly and a lease was granted to George Geltsen.

Prof. Frank L. Mott Goes to Des Moines for Board Meeting

Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism, will go to Des Moines today to attend a meeting of the board of judges which will decide on the awards to master editors and publishers of Iowa. The awards will be made at a meeting of the Iowa Press association at Des Moines April 21 and 22.

Those selected for recognition last year were: Harvey Ingham, editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune; J. F. Grawe, publisher of the Waverly Democrat; and Elmer E. Taylor, editor of the Traer Star Clipper.

Nominations for the awards are made by editors throughout the state. The project is financed by Grant L. Caswell of Des Moines, managing director of the Iowa Press association.

University Alumnus Author of Article for Water Works Journal

An article in the latest issue of the "Water Works and Sewerage" magazine was written by Martin S. Fleagle, an alumnus of the University of Iowa chemistry department. It is called "Evaluation of powdered activated carbon for water works use—a discussion."

The magazine is a trade periodical for engineers and city employees interested in municipal water and sewer systems. The article deals with the value of activated powder carbon in the filtration and purification of city water.

The author, a graduate of 1921, is at present superintendent of Purification Company, New York city.

May Commit Slayer to Hospital for Insane

ESTHERVILLE, March 24 (AP)—A request that Joe Berven, 33 year old farmer who murdered his wife and three children March 16, be committed to the state hospital for the insane will be made to the grand jury Monday, according to County Attorney William Bale.

Psychopathic specialists at Iowa City termed Berven "violently insane" after an examination Thursday. He battered his wife and children with a shotgun barrel when he found a meal unprepared.

Awarded Restraining Injunction CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Mike McGuire, 73, city detective, today was awarded a temporary injunction restraining W. C. Benesh, chief of police, and Dan Kruidenier, commissioner of public safety, from enforcing a 30 day suspension.

Almost Forgotten Needle Craft Revived By Depression Economy

Women Kept Home by Retrenchment Programs Turn to Crochet, Knitting and Patchwork Quilting to Keep Fingers Nimble.

NEW YORK—One of the most interesting outcomes of the past lean years is a nation-wide movement among women to revive home sewing. In the palmy '20's a great many housewives put in a full eight hour day with shopping, lunching, bridge and matinees; so that when the less palmy '30's arrived and money ceased to grow on trees, these women found a lot of spare time on their hands.

But not for long, since the American women do not fake readily to twiddling their thumbs. They began searching through their attics and bringing down old dresses and bundles of pieces left from making these dresses. They recut these and made quilts as beautiful as those their grandmothers had turned out.

It is very smart today to belong to a quilting bee or a sewing circle. These circles of women are again learning to appreciate fine hand sewing done on fine fabrics with good thread. Crocheting is one of the most popular types of hand work. Many of the smartest blouses and hats shown in the Paris openings are crocheted by hand with heavy cotton thread.

If you want to be in the running you will polish up your old crochet hook, get a couple of balls of cotton and begin to crochet yourself. If you are not already expert in this art, you can learn it easily with a little practice.

It is one art which belongs exclusively to women and in which women will always be interested.

Not only is there a satisfaction in creating useful and decorative things for the home and for personal wear, but there is a real joy in the doing.

While we are on the subject of the revival of interest in crocheting, it might interest you to know that statistics collected from several magazines which publish articles on crocheting received almost four times as many requests for crochet directions from readers in 1932 as they did in 1931. This means that four times as many women in the United States are crocheting today as were crocheting a year ago. That is quite an increase, you know.

Quilting, as we mentioned before, is also having its share of popularity among needle women. Quilts give a magnificent outlet to any creative powers you may have. There is real artistry in the design and color combinations of quilt blocks. The actual quilting is one of the simplest yet most beautiful expressions of fine needle work. When you do quilting be sure that you use good six cord thread and a steel needle which is strong and sharp pointed.

The photographs on this page are suggestions of smart apparel crocheted of mercerized crochet cotton which you can make yourself. Nothing will give your spring wardrobe quite such an air of distinction as something made entirely by hand. And many, many years from now they will be just as beautiful as they are today.

Formidable Efforts to Change Farm Relief Measure Loom

Farm Union President Attacks Proposal in Senate

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Formidable efforts to change the administration's farm relief bill, interrupting the smooth flow of Roosevelt measures through congress, came into the open today in the senate agriculture committee.

As an answer to the opposition, George N. Peek of Moline, Ill., announcing his appearance as in behalf of Secretary Wallace, told the committee the house approved Roosevelt bill should be passed and broad powers given the secretary to cope with the farm problem.

John A. Simpson, president of the National Farmers union, later attacked the administration proposal as "a price fixing bill which would not give the farmer half the cost of production."

"It is ridiculous," Simpson declared. "It would guarantee the consumer can eat the farmers' bread and butter at less than the cost of production."

The president himself, meanwhile, watched the progress of the bill.

Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, presented a substitute proposal—which some senators privately intimated might be acceptable to the White House. This would sharply curtail the contemplated grant of power to Wallace by eliminating a section of the administration bill providing for reducing acreage through agreements with producers under a modified version of the domestic allotment plan.

Eliminate Licensing Fee The senate agriculture committee chairman's substitute would eliminate also the proposed licensing fee on distributors and seek to modify the processing tax to provide only sufficient revenue to pay for retiring land from production by leasing.

he felt further hearings would be unnecessary.

Whether the administration's proposed farm mortgage program will be included in the bill, Smith said, would depend on whether it got to the committee in time. Regardless of this committee's action, it was expected the mortgage plan would have to be passed on by the banking committee before it could be considered by the senate.

Not in Final Shape At the White House it was said that the mortgage measure was not yet in final shape. The president considers that one of the many problems here is in getting the interest rate for the new mortgages down to the point desired and at the same time protecting the par value of land bank bonds.

The bonds for refinancing agriculture probably will be of 30 or 40 years' maturity, it was indicated, with the same principles to be applied to home mortgages after plans for the agricultural activities have been completed.

Records Fall as Clinton Wins Mississippi Valley Track Crown

SPORT Potshots by EUGENE THORNE

Of course there have been times in the last few years when people have shaken their heads sadly while gazing at Iowa's huge field house...

High school athletes have taken over the field house this week end for indoor track meets. So not only do the students at Iowa get the benefit of the fine plant...

THE weather continues to disrupt Coach Otto Vogel's plans for getting his team in shape for the coming season. With a goodly number of veterans back...

In regard to football, however, it is another matter. Although this cold, sloppy weather isn't the most perfect condition in which to drill a football squad...

DURING the fall, however, not a whole lot can be gotten out of a drill on a wet field. But in the spring, with no games to poll for...

Be the weather what it may, baseball fans will concentrate attention on the national pastime from now until fall. Several of the major league clubs promise to put on interesting demonstrations this season...

OVER at the field house, Coach Carl Kaufman is working with his boxing squad, getting the men in shape for the annual all-university tournament. Although the mitt game at Iowa is not what it is at Wisconsin, Michigan, and several other Big Ten schools...

Hagen Leads Field in Charleston Open Meet CHARLESTON, S. C., March 24 (AP)—Walter Hagen, the veteran bell ram of the golfing fraternity, marched out in front tonight as the field of 70 pros and amateurs reached the halfway mark in the first annual Charleston open tournament.

Added by his putter, "The Haig" toured the rugged Wappoo course in 69 today, two strokes under par, to add to his 70 of yesterday to mark up a grand total of 139. Joe Kirkwood was close behind Hagen with a 140.

Ten Records Destroyed in Great Show

Carl Nelson Tops All Performers With Three Records

Table with 2 columns: Name, Record. Includes Davenport, Dubuque, Washington (CR), Grant (CR), West Waterloo, Iowa City.

In the greatest orgy of record smashing ever exhibited in the field house, thy Carl Nelson stood head and shoulders above all other competitors as he broke three records to lead Clinton high school to its first Mississippi Valley indoor track title...

Although 10 records were broken to leave but two marks unviolated it was the work of Nelson that was outstanding. Entering the low hurdles, the dash and the broad jump, the leader of the new champs proceeded to erase all three of the marks, just as he did a year ago.

Runs in Relay But even before that he had a hand in another record setting race when he anchored the one-third mile relay team to a first place in the time of 1:01.7 for the first record in the finals. He clipped the lows in 36.8 in a trial heat and then ended his work with a final effort of 22 feet 9 1/4 inches in the broad jump.

Pushing Nelson hard for scoring honors and adding a record of his own and tying for another, Connolly of Dubuque won two firsts and tied for another to score 16 1-3 points. In the trials for the high hurdles he set a mark of 38 flat and then tied for the high jump record with Allen and Schiebel of Davenport.

City High Counts Dale Marshall and Ferguson accounted for Iowa City high's three points with a fourth in the shot and a fifth in the 440.

The three oldest marks on the books were blasted last night when Bob Brown, Clinton 440 ace, turned in a 52.8 race to wipe out Kit-tredge's old mark and then a few minutes later a teammate, John Sturtz, eclipsed the mile mark set by Jepson of Davenport in 1930.

Davenport, defending champion, had little chance for a first last night as Clinton jumped into the lead from the opening event and steadily built up its overwhelming margin to smother any possible threats from the other schools.

Get Eight Firsts Eight firsts out of 14 possible well demonstrated the superiority of Clinton's red-shirted team as it made easy work of ending Davenport's two year reign of Valley clin-dermen.

The only marks that were not broken were the shot and pole vault. Winners of these events were Schiebel and Nelson of Grant in the vault and Connolly in the weight event.

More Records Set Other record smashing performances came almost as regularly as the events were called and many of them were broken not once but twice. Brown, Clinton, set the 440 mark and in the next section of the same race Bates of Cedar Rapids (Washington) was under the old mark. The same was true in the 880 where Edwards of Clinton chipped one-tenth of a second off the mark only to see his fellow runner, Johnny Sturtz, cut it still lower. Sturtz, incidentally, was the only man besides Nelson and Connolly to count more than one first and to send more than one record into the discard.

Wins Decisive For the most part all the races were decisive victories as the winners were able to open up big gaps at the finish. One of the few races that promised to be close gave up the ghost when Nelson and Wussow hooked as third and fourth man on the sprint relay team. Wussow took the baton in second place and passed it to the Clinton senior on about even terms with Ashby of Davenport. Running at what appeared to be top speed, Nelson had but a yard advantage as they came into the stretch but here he opened up with his reserve and finished going away with a 10 yard lead.

Some Irony A bit of irony so often dealt out to track men was present in the half mile where Don Vonah of Dubuque, former record holder in the event could do no better than fifth in a heat that went but one-tenth faster than his winning mark last year.

Another disappointment was the showing of Larry Dennis, Grant miler, who pushed Vonah to the 880 record last year.

Dies of Wound

Dr. F. A. Lambert (above), 47, of Columbus, Ohio, football official and member of the advisory council of the national football rules committee, died Wednesday morning from a bullet wound received Tuesday during a family quarrel. He was fatally wounded by his 17 year old son, Samuel (below). Dr. Lambert was graduated from Ohio State university in 1910.

IN MAJOR LEAGUE TRAINING CAMPS (By the Associated Press) GIANTS BEAT BUCS LOS ANGELES—The New York Giants, in their last exhibition game here, again proved too strong for Pittsburgh and defeated the Pirates, 6 to 5.

With the count tied at five all in the last half of the ninth, Mel Ott singled and worked around to third by an error and a stolen base. Gus Mancuso singled and scored him.

In their exhibitions here the Giants won 10 out of 15 games, playing the Chicago Cubs and White Sox, Pirates and Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league.

RUTH LOSES ONE ST. PETERSBURG—Babe Ruth, making his first appearance of the year, hit his initial home run of the exhibition baseball season as George Pipras and Wilcy Moore pitched three hit ball to give the New York Yankees a 7 to 1 triumph over the Boston Braves.

The Babe's circuit drive, planted over the right field fence, came in the fourth inning with "Dixie" Walker on base and paved the way for the downfall of Bobby Brown, youthful Boston right hander. Brown was followed by Fred Frank-house, who throttled the Yankee attack.

INDIANS DOWN SOLONS BILOXI, Miss.—The Washington Senators took a licking from the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 5. Two Cleveland rookies, Twogood and Craghead, held the Washingtonians to a half dozen hits, while the Senators' recruit pitchers, Thomas and Linke, were allowing the visitors 14. Knickerbocker, New Cleveland shortstop, slammed out a homer with one on base.

LEFT AT HOME BRADENTON, Fla.—Rogers Hornsby and Sparky Adams were both left at camp when the Cardinals departed for Miami for games with the Brooklyn Dodgers tomorrow and Sunday. Hornsby was receiving electric wave treatments for his legs, which have been irritated by blisters. Manager Street wants Adams to strengthen his knee by mild exercise.

buque, fifth. Time—2:16. (New record. Old mark of 2:16.5 by Davenport in 1932.)

60-yard low hurdles—Won by Nelson; Gill (C), second; Gibbs (Dub), third; Simmons (C), fourth; Kinch (Wash.), fifth. Time—37. (Nelson set a new record of 36.8 in the preliminaries. Old mark of 37.2 by Nelson in 1932.)

High jump—Allen (Dav.), Schiebel (Dav.), and Connolly (Dub.) tied for first; Blackwell (Wash.), fourth; Abel (C), fifth. Height 5 feet 7 3/4 inches. (New record. Old mark of 5 feet 6 3/4 by Tracy of Dubuque in 1932.)

880-yard run (first section)—Won by Edwards (C); Lockwood (Gr), second; Maney (Wash.), third; Cutter (Dav.), fourth; Vonah (Dub), fifth. Time—2:09.8.

880-yard run (second section)—Won by J. Sturtz (C); Clemens (Gr), second; Wesley (WW), third; Fox (Gr), fourth; Schmidt (Dav.), fifth. Time—2:09. (New record. Old mark of 2:09.9 by Vonah of Dubuque in 1932.)

Iowa Relay Team to Make Principal Title Bid at Drake

A mile relay team which ran faster indoors than any other Hawkeye quartet will be the University of Iowa's principal contender for a championship at the Drake relay next month. Iowa has won the event at six of the last 10 Drake carnivals. The victories began in 1923 when the team set the mark of 3:16.9 which still stands as the meet record and which was the American intercollegiate mark until 1930.

The 1933 team, composed of Capt. Calvin Hoskinson, Russell Henry, Sidney Dean, and Bernard Page, has an indoor mark of 3:22.1, made when it ran second to Michigan in the Big Ten record-breaking race. It is probable that the state university will be represented in about half of the 18 events at Des Moines April 28 and 29.

Line Candidates

Placing special emphasis on blocking and footwork, Coach Carl Kaufman demonstrated to the men entered in the all-university boxing tournament some of the tricks of the game at the practice session in the field house yesterday afternoon.

Sig Nu Beats Tau Delt 5-1 in Water Polo Contest

Placing three men in the first five high pointers in the inter-fraternity physical efficiency contest held Wednesday night, Sigma Chi came through to win the event hands down, for the second consecutive year, with a total of 9,943 for 15 contestants. Sigma Alpha Epsilon ranked next with 6,517 and Delta Tau Delta trailed the group with 5,098. Whinnery of Sigma Chi scored the highest total with 356.

The winners got 30 fellows out for the competition of which the highest 15 were counted. The other two teams failed to get more than the permissible 15. The reward for the ranking place is a statuette in silver of a poised athlete, mounted on a black pedestal. The trophy is nearly two feet in height.

Prep Conference Meet at Field House This Afternoon

Coach Van Antwerp's Bulldogs return with the avowed purpose of proving their right to the championship and remove any doubt that might have clouded last year's crown. Six men who counted points last year return today, led by Schmidt, mile champion. The other point winners include Beebe, third in the mile; Apley, second in the fastest section of the 440; Kingsinger and Hood, winners of second and third places in the half; and Anderson who was third in the high hurdles and fourth in the shot.

Stock Market Prices Show Firm Trend

Dull Day of Trade Views Little Variation

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Stocks groped through a dull market today, improving in the afternoon after a mild morning reaction.

Fractional variations prevailed at the close. The average net change was a small loss. Volume fell to 642,970 shares.

Improvement in wheat found shares quietly responsive, though the market's lethargy suggested that Wall street had retired to the sidelines pending legislative developments affecting farm products, railroads and relief. U. S. government obligations softened, so did loans of France and Germany.

Rail stocks were again firm and several leaders showed small net gains. Louisville & Nashville and Delaware & Hudson rose a point. Union Pacific was half a point higher at the finish. Beer issues moved upward and farm products followed wheat. A number of utilities and industrials, notably American Telephone, Allied Chemical and American Can, sagged. U. S. Steel nearly recovered a decline of about a point. Tobaccos steadied. Corn Products, whose directors voted a regular dividend of 75 cents was off a shade, along with U. S. Smelting, which also sets another regular quarterly payment of 25 cents. New York city traction improved on indication developments.

The market paid virtually no attention to the strikingly favorable Central bank statements.

The Dun & Bradstreet review said business had "more vigor," helped by spring activity. General conditions, however, added this comment:

tators, indicate that an upward movement will hardly be sensational.

Senator John N. Calhoun of Keosauqua and Senator George Patterson of Burt were subjected to a barrage of questioning as they explained and supported the measure in the afternoon session. The questioning became so frequent on both sides that speakers finally refused to yield to further inquiries.

Nineteen Passed
Of the 19 bills passed by the house, seven would repeal Iowa code provisions for additional salaries for county officers in counties over 50,000 population when court is held in two places within the county.

Proponents of the measure said only Lee and Pottawattamie counties would be affected.

The seven measures would deduct the $500 additional salary allowed county attorneys, recorders, auditors and treasurers; the $400 allowed district court clerks, the $300 allowed sheriffs, and the one-half of the salary of the clerk of court allowed deputy clerks.

Representative Ditto
Representative Ditto told the house that his measure providing for a $1 licensing fee for permits to carry firearms would bring in between six and seven thousand dollars annually. The measure was approved.

The house also approved a senate bill transferring responsibility for maintenance and repair of highways to state land from counties to the state highway commission.

The Caldwell-Shanghae senate election contest appropriation was accepted after considerable debate. The appropriation was $890. The election contest brought by Warren Caldwell of Oskaaloosa, Republican, resulted in the seating of Senator Shanghae, also of Oskaaloosa, Democrat.

tion contest appropriation was accepted after considerable debate. The appropriation was $890. The election contest brought by Warren Caldwell of Oskaaloosa, Republican, resulted in the seating of Senator Shanghae, also of Oskaaloosa, Democrat.

Will Inspect Boats
Approval was accorded Moore of Harrison's measure to provide appointment of an inspector of passenger boats on inland waterways of the state. Licenses would be required for boats operating for hire, for pilots and engineers operating the boats.

Representative Hill's measure to clarify school election laws encountered no opposition. Representative Hill said it made no change in existing laws, but clarified them as to interpretation.

The house also approved a senate measure by Senator Wilson of Polk, relative to lease of municipal airports. The bill would allow cities to lease such ports for not more than 20 years.

County officials would be relieved of liability for public funds on deposit in a defunct bank under a fifth measure, sponsored by Foster of Cedar, which was passed.

Support Roosevelt
The house today adopted a resolution memorializing congress and the Iowa delegation to support President Roosevelt's emergency program particularly as it pertains to agriculture.

Reduction in the number of judges and court reports in eight of the judicial districts is provided in a bill introduced by the appropriations committee of the house. The reduction would be: first district from two to one; second, from four to three; third, three to two; fourth, four to three; seventh, five to four; eighth, two to one; ninth, six to four and twelfth, four to three.

A second bill by the appropriations committee would reduce from 10 to five cents a mile the amount of mileage allowed township clerks.

Bills Passed

Bills passed by the house included:

By Wenig—Permitting municipalities to regulate and license itinerant motor trucks delivering merchandise within their limits and impose an occupation tax on the operators and drivers.

By Gallagher—Granting relief to county farm mutual insurance companies by inter-company loans secured by a pledge on future assessments.

By Craven—Providing liens in favor of hospitals furnishing care, treatment and maintenance for persons injured in accidents.

By Johnson—Providing for the regulation, supervision and licensing of persons, firms, corporations or associations which sell memberships or certificates of membership entitling the holders to purchase merchandise at a fixed basis.

By Foster—Relieving counties from liabilities for state funds deposited in closed banks.

By Mercer—Defining a newspaper

recognized for publication of legal notices as one established and regularly published for more than a year and having a bona fide circulation recognized by the postal laws.

Defense in Trial of Cochran Scheduled to Start Monday Morning

ELK POINT, S. Dak., March 28 (AP)—The defense in the trial of Nile Cochran, Merville, Ia., farmer, for slaying of R. D. Markell, Elk Point milk trucker, was scheduled to begin Monday morning.

Cochran is accused of having fired the shot that resulted in the death of Markell February 3 when the Markell truck was stopped by a group of highway pickets near Sioux City, Ia.

Frank Markell, son of the slain man, Tom Collins, sheriff of Union county, and two additional witnesses completed the state's case today and it was expected that the court would recess until Monday morning.

Held for Counterfeiting
DES MOINES (AP)—Charles Denton, 23, and Clifford Hays, 32, both of Marshalltown, were held in the county jail today on charges of having passed counterfeit $20 bills.

Grain Market Prices Show Added Gains

CHICAGO, March 24 (AP)—Brisks rallies in grain prices late today followed a buying spurt that traders ascribed to plans of a senate substitute for the house agricultural bill.

Upturns of cereal value were in the face of the fact that export call for North American wheat was disappointing and despite talk that the technical position of the wheat market had been weakened by yesterday's sharp bulge in prices. Early losses of 1-1/2 cents a bushel for wheat were more than wiped out, and final transactions were at the day's top figures.

Wheat closed firm, 1-9-5/8 above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 3/8 higher, oats unchanged to 1-4 and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal advance.

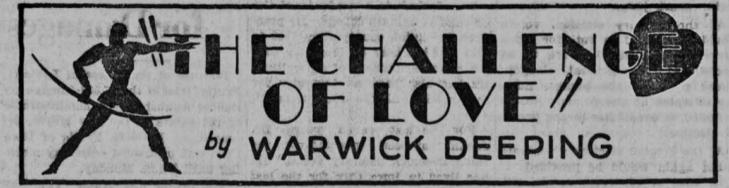

Persistent commission house buying in the last hour of wheat trading today suggested to some observers that a widely known speculative leader had become aggressive on the purchase side of the market.

It was temporarily without avail that friends of higher prices pointed to evidence of lessening of wheat supplies, and emphasized that crop complaints continued numerous from the domestic hard winter wheat belt, where reports said the outlook was the poorest in many years. Assertions that United States farm and visible stocks of wheat totaled 100,000,000 bushels less than was the case a year ago were virtually ignored for the time being.

Later, however, much notice was taken of statements that immediate delivery wheat in Chicago was scarce, and that milling purchases here so far this month totaled 1,275,000 bushels.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. There was an excellent shipping demand for corn. Weather conditions in the corn belt were unfavorable.

Provisions ruled irregular, responsive to changes in hog values.

THE CHALLENGE OF LOVE

by WARWICK DEEPING

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

In dealing with the state of Navestock town the "Wannington Clarion" disappointed all those readers who liked to coat their texts with mud before they slung them. The paper had been disciplined, and taught to handle facts. There was an absence of rant that surprised Navestock, and made mean, circuitous gentlemen such as Mr. Wilks feel uneasy. Some good stood behind the gods, restraining, directing, launching these cool, judicial revelations. Boxall's profane sheets were slashed and amended by some autocratic and shrewd blue pencil. Personalities were banned. There were the facts to quarrel with, and nothing more.

Turrell sneered, but there was exasperation behind his scorn. He had a suspicion that he was being attacked by some new sort of scientific artillery.

Then those who ruled "The Clarion" did a subtle thing. In the same week's issue there appeared, side by side, a description of Lord Blackwater's admirably managed estate and a survey of a portion of Navestock town. No conclusions were drawn, no morals pointed. Just the stark contrasts were set down in plain language. Those who read the two accounts could not set facts beside facts, and draw their own conclusions.

Yet Navestock—proletarian Navestock—was not in the least grateful. It had been born and bred in dependence and servility. It mistrusted these over-strenuous people who seemed inclined to turn everything upside down.

and genius and joy." Hecor Turrell arrived at Mrs. Loosely's gate. He prodded it open with one end of his cane against Mrs. Loosely's maid. Mrs. Loosely's maid was polishing the brass knobs on the green front door.

"Mr. Wolfe in?" "No, sir." "Know where I can find him?" "I do believe he went across to Mr. Crabbe's, sir."

"Right." He made off in the direction of Josiah Crabbe's, waving his cane to the Brotherhood of the Billiard Room that had waited at a discreet distance.

Chance so arranged it that Wolfe was coming out of Josiah Crabbe's gate when Hecor Turrell appeared at the end of the lane leading to Eve's Corner. It was a quiet part of the town, and the only other person to be seen was the Navestock knife-grinder and mender of umbrellas at work at his hand-cart under one of the Lombardy poplars farther along the road. Hecor Turrell, galloping for the dramatic moment, would have preferred more publicity. Yet the Fraternity of the "White Hart" would be there to witness the episode, and Timothy Bumbly the knife-grinder was as ubiquitous a gossip as could be desired.

Turrell walked on to meet Wolfe, who had turned in his direction. The footpath running at the bottom of Josiah Crabbe's stone wall was a narrow one, and there was not room enough for two people to pass each other without one of them either stepping into the gutter, or standing back against the wall. Wolfe was walking with his eyes on the ground.

"Good morning." Wolfe was brought up sharply within five feet of young Turrell. The shallow glare in the eyes, the grin about the mouth, were ominous. Wolfe, who had fought navies in his time, knew the look. It was the glowering face of a bully, insolent and triumphant.

"Good morning." He tutted at something in his pocket, and brought out a copy of the "Wannington Clarion."

"One word, please." "What do you want?" "You know this rag, I suppose?" "I suppose I do."

Wolfe's voice was curiously quiet. His face seemed to harden and grow more rugged. He heard Josiah Crabbe's gate open. Adam Grinch had come out and was standing there, watching. Moreover, along the railings on the opposite side of the road half a score "gay dogs" had hung themselves in attitudes of fawning expectancy.

"Look here, did you write this stuff?" "What has that to do with you?" "A good deal, when it comes to blackguarding my father."

"It says nothing against your father." "None of your beastly quibbles. Did you write it?" "I did."

There was the sudden whirl of an arm as Turrell dashed the paper in Wolfe's face. He raised his cane, and made a grab at the collar of Wolfe's coat. The clutch was parried by the jerk of an elbow.

"Wait. If you want—"

"You warn you—"

"I'm going to give you the best thrashing—"

Adam Grinch was clumping along the path, but fate had struck before he reached the pair. Hecor Turrell had been sent sprawling by a drive on the jaw.

The Brotherhood of the Billiard Room had lost some of its jauntiness. Adam Grinch had come up behind Wolfe.

"He's a powerful young beast, Mr. Wolfe, sir."

"All right, Grinch."

"Darn it," said the knife-grinder, "he is all right—surely."

tors, indicate that an upward movement will hardly be sensational.

Senator John N. Calhoun of Keosauqua and Senator George Patterson of Burt were subjected to a barrage of questioning as they explained and supported the measure in the afternoon session. The questioning became so frequent on both sides that speakers finally refused to yield to further inquiries.

Representative Hill's measure to clarify school election laws encountered no opposition. Representative Hill said it made no change in existing laws, but clarified them as to interpretation.

The house also approved a senate measure by Senator Wilson of Polk, relative to lease of municipal airports. The bill would allow cities to lease such ports for not more than 20 years.

County officials would be relieved of liability for public funds on deposit in a defunct bank under a fifth measure, sponsored by Foster of Cedar, which was passed.

The house today adopted a resolution memorializing congress and the Iowa delegation to support President Roosevelt's emergency program particularly as it pertains to agriculture.

Reduction in the number of judges and court reports in eight of the judicial districts is provided in a bill introduced by the appropriations committee of the house. The reduction would be: first district from two to one; second, from four to three; third, three to two; fourth, four to three; seventh, five to four; eighth, two to one; ninth, six to four and twelfth, four to three.

A second bill by the appropriations committee would reduce from 10 to five cents a mile the amount of mileage allowed township clerks.

Bills passed by the house included:

By Wenig—Permitting municipalities to regulate and license itinerant motor trucks delivering merchandise within their limits and impose an occupation tax on the operators and drivers.

By Gallagher—Granting relief to county farm mutual insurance companies by inter-company loans secured by a pledge on future assessments.

By Craven—Providing liens in favor of hospitals furnishing care, treatment and maintenance for persons injured in accidents.

By Johnson—Providing for the regulation, supervision and licensing of persons, firms, corporations or associations which sell memberships or certificates of membership entitling the holders to purchase merchandise at a fixed basis.

By Foster—Relieving counties from liabilities for state funds deposited in closed banks.

By Mercer—Defining a newspaper

recognized for publication of legal notices as one established and regularly published for more than a year and having a bona fide circulation recognized by the postal laws.

Persistent commission house buying in the last hour of wheat trading today suggested to some observers that a widely known speculative leader had become aggressive on the purchase side of the market.

It was temporarily without avail that friends of higher prices pointed to evidence of lessening of wheat supplies, and emphasized that crop complaints continued numerous from the domestic hard winter wheat belt, where reports said the outlook was the poorest in many years. Assertions that United States farm and visible stocks of wheat totaled 100,000,000 bushels less than was the case a year ago were virtually ignored for the time being.

Later, however, much notice was taken of statements that immediate delivery wheat in Chicago was scarce, and that milling purchases here so far this month totaled 1,275,000 bushels.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. There was an excellent shipping demand for corn. Weather conditions in the corn belt were unfavorable.

PECCANT BANKERS—PRISON BOUND

Flanked by deputy sheriffs, Bernard K. Marcus (A) and Saul Singer (B), president and vice president, respectively, of the wrecked Bank of the United States, are shown as they entered the gates of Sing Sing prison, Ossining, N. Y., to begin a three-to-six year sentence in expiation of their financial crimes. Following the collapse of the bank they had misruled, with losses to millions of depositors, the pair fought desperately to keep out of jail, but all their appeals were futile.

Jury Indicts N. Y. Banker

Mitchell Enters Plea of Not Guilty to Tax Violation

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the board of the National City bank, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on a charge of evading income taxes of $573,312.81 for the year 1929.

Within two hours, the wealthy banker was arraigned before Federal Judge Goddard and entered a plea of not guilty.

When April 3 was fixed as the time limit for making motions and the day on which the date for the trial will be fixed, U. S. Attorney Medalle announced there would be no delay in pressing the case to its conclusion.

Hires Max Steuer

At the same time Judge Goddard told Max D. Steuer, Mitchell's counsel, that "this case will be treated just as other cases are treated."

The remark was made when Steuer pleaded for more time in which to prepare the banker's defense. Neither Mitchell, whose bail of $10,000 was continued, nor Steuer would discuss any phase of the case as they left the court room.

Mitchell spoke only two words—"not guilty." He uttered them in a low, clear voice, while he looked straight at the judge.

Charges

The indictment charged that Mitchell received a net income of $2,823,405.95 in 1929, although in his income tax report for that year he set forth that he had had a net loss of $48,000. In the tax return the banker acknowledged a gross income of more than $2,700,000, but charged off the difference between the price he had paid for 18,300 shares of National City bank stock and the price at which he had sold the stock to his wife.

Bond Market Prices Slump

Government Securities, German Obligations Slow Trade

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—The bond market was depressed today by further softness of United States government securities and a rather sharp break in German obligations.

Trading in other listed loan categories was usually indifferent. It was punctuated by some feeble rallies generally followed by moderate relapses. Sales totaled only $9,824,000 par value, with the government section accounting for nearly $3,000,000. The average for 60 domestic corporate bonds was off one tenth of a point.

The federal reserve little inclination toward recovery, apparently ignoring an excellent federal reserve statement disclosing further dehoarding of gold and currency and a heavy reduction during the last week of member bank borrowings.

The treasuries were somewhat heavily traded for losses ranging from 6-32nds to 29-32nds of a point. Liberty fourth 4-14s escaped with only a decline of 2-32nds of a point.

German bonds of all classes slumped 1 to more than 6 points, several of them selling around their lows for the year. Prices of other foreign loan groups were spotty.

Of the domestic groups, the secondary rails rallied sufficiently to hold a small average gain. The utility and industrial averages, however, sagged.

Grand Jury Probes Political Activities of School Officials

SIoux CITY, March 25 (AP)—The Plymouth county grand jury today deliberated evidence introduced by County Attorney Max Duckworth concerning alleged activities of school teachers and members of the board of education in circulating political petitions.

The jury heard testimony from five teachers, six members of the board of education, parents of school children, and four or five children.

The board members and teachers are alleged to have violated the state law dealing with political activity by circulating petitions through school children which protested against the Harrington bill now under consideration by the state legislature. It provides that school elections be held on city election day.

William F. Riley Heads Speakers at Meeting in Ames

AMES, March 25 (AP)—William F. Riley of Des Moines, chairman of the committee on state governmental reorganization, was the principal speaker at a luncheon meeting today of 200 economists, historians and political scientists who are attending a two day convention.

G. R. Davies of the University of Iowa college of commerce, opened the program today with an address on "Capitalism and the world crisis."

Fairbanks' Shower of Troubles Newest Hollywood Sensation

Doug Jr.—Shaken in Earthquake—Cut Fifty Per Cent in Salary—Sued for $60,000 as "Love Pirate"—Lost Wife, Joan Crawford, as Grand Finale.

HOLLYWOOD, March 23—Troubles, like measles, never come solo. For supporting testimony to that statement, ask Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who is the storm-center of the latest furor in the film capital.

The entire colony was astounded recently when young Doug was named in a suit for $50,000 by Jorgen Dietz, a Los Angeles chemical engineer, who charged that the screen star had alienated the affections of his wife, Mrs. Solveig Dietz, a scenario writer. In a second action, Dietz is seeking $10,000 for false imprisonment, alleging that Fairbanks, Michael Leves, the actor's manager, and District Attorney Burton Fitts conspired to deprive him of his liberty.

Coming on top of rumors, now confirmed, that all was not well in the Fairbanks-Joan Crawford marital camp, an earthquake, a bank holiday and a 50 per cent cut in salary, this new bolt from the blue might try the patience of any man, so one can readily understand young Doug's scathing characterization of the charges as "an open and shut case of blackmail."

Following the disclosure of the suit, it was revealed that the charge of false imprisonment made by Dietz grew out of an incident that occurred last December. According to District Attorney Fitts, "the investigation revealed that Dietz was attempting to compel Fairbanks to purchase of one Lucy Doraine a diamond necklace valued at $300 for the sum of $6,000. Dietz threatened, it is charged, that unless this purchase was made, he would file an alienation of affections suit against Fairbanks."

Fairbanks' side of the story is that Dietz tried the necklace extortion racket on him, but backed down when taken to the District Attorney's office and tearfully begged to be let off.

Moved to pity, the star said he dropped the whole matter and that was the last he heard of it until the suit was filed.

The alienation suit complains that Fairbanks began showing attentions to Mrs. Dietz early in 1931, and that he induced her to leave her husband and home. Mrs. Dietz is now in Copenhagen.

The Lucy Doraine mentioned in connection with the case is a Hungarian actress, who once won a measure of renown as the possessor of the most beautiful legs in Hungary. She has been in Hollywood for several years, seeking fame in the movies. At the time of the necklace incident, Dietz was quoted as saying that he needed the money to marry Miss Doraine.

Coincidentally with the filing of the double-barreled suit against Fairbanks, a report emanated from Phoenix, Ariz., to the effect that Jorgen Dietz and Helen Kovacs, both of Los Angeles, were married there. Friends of Miss Doraine in Los Angeles said her real name is Helen Kovacs.

Miss Doraine was formerly the wife of Michael Curtiz, movie director in the studio where Fairbanks makes his pictures. She has played small parts in many films, but never attained the fame, in pursuit of which she invaded the United States.

As if salary cuts, earthquakes and alienation suits were not enough, another straw was added to the Fairbanks load when his lovely wife, Joan Crawford, announced that she would no longer remain under the same roof with him. Not only that, but the glamorous Joan revealed that she and her husband have been separated for the last year, although they continue to reside in the same house, thus confirming rumors that the Fairbanks-Crawford romance was on the rocks. However, Miss Crawford is insistent that her decision to part company with young Doug has nothing to do with the alienation suit.

Roosevelt Will Ask Issue of Bonds to Aid Nation's Poor

States, Cities May Get Direct Loans for Relief

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt is prepared to authorize direct federal grants to states and municipalities if necessary to prevent human starvation.

Determined also to balance the lopsided government budget, he is going to ask relief funds for the crisis through a bond issue to be paid over a period of years.

The president believes that, if federal money is required to meet human relief, it might as well be given as a direct grant rather than a loan, feeling it would be impossible for the states or cities to repay such loans.

Reverses Hoover Policy This is a flat reversal of the Hoover policy. The direct relief proposal will go forward to congress shortly. It is understood there are sufficient funds available in the Reconstruction Finance corporation to meet relief needs until May.

AROUND THE TOWN with DON PRYOR

Footped Mania

For speeding on Clinton street Ward L. Abbott paid a fine of $10 and costs yesterday in the court of Police Judge Charles L. Zager.

Not April 6

For drinking a much discussed liquor and becoming intoxicated on it Sam Williamson went to the county jail for three days. He appeared before Police Judge Zager yesterday and took the sentence rather than pay a fine of $10 and costs.

Didn't Knock

Walking in the front door sometime between 2 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Thursday some person went to the rooms of two members of Theta Tau fraternity, 4 E. Market street, gathered up $1.05 in change, a pocket knife, a wrist watch, and seven keys and walked out again. Two members of the fraternity reported at the police station that a man was seen at the door that afternoon but he told them that he was a bootlegger.

Sparks

A roof fire starting from sparks from the chimney caused small damage to the home of Sarah Paine Hoffman, 530 S. Clinton street, at noon yesterday.

To Pay

The Farmers State bank of Solon will pay out a 10 per cent dividend. L. A. Andrew, receiver of the bank, was authorized and directed by a court order signed by Judge J. P. Gaffney yesterday to pay the general depositors of the bank on their claims a sum equal to 10 per cent of the general deposit.

Grocery Store Robbed

DES MOINES (AP)—A youthful bandit today held up Harry Smalls, grocery store proprietor, and obtained between $100 and $125.

REPEAL House Okays Plan on Convention

demonstrations of speed in its action today. The senate facilitated action by giving unanimous consent to message to the house at once the bill it passed yesterday. Under regular procedure it would be held over a day to permit filing of a motion to reconsider.

Every Member

With a call of the house in effect to require the presence of every member, Rep. Carl B. Stiger of Tama introduced a motion to substitute the senate bill for a similar measure previously introduced in the house.

Stiger assumed the leadership of the repeal forces, which promptly pushed through the amendments correcting and clarifying the bill.

The anti-repeal group waged its main fight by introducing a series of amendments which would call for major changes in the measure.

The first of these, introduced by Rep. H. H. Gissell of Buchanan, Democrat, would make selection of delegates on the basis of one for each 10,000 of population or major fraction thereof in each county. It lost by a 66 to 39 vote.

Another Amendment

Another important amendment introduced by the group would delay the election of delegates until the next biennial general election, which takes place in November, 1934. This suffered a 69 to 34 reverse. Both these amendments were introduced yesterday during the senate consideration of the bill and lost by decisive margins.

Joining with Gissell in leadership of the anti-repeal forces were the Republican representatives D. R. McCreery of Linn, A. C. Hanson of Lyon, John Speld of Washington, D. E. Goode of Davis, E. O. Ellisworth of Hardin, and B. B. Dornan of Boone.

Prompt action of the Democrats in crushing these amendments brought the vote on the bill before the noon recess and the measure ing of $280,000,000 and possibly as much as $400,000,000.

It is probable the new government salary scale will go into effect on the first of April. Cuts up to 15 per cent are allowed under the present economy bill.

Veterans representatives will be heard before the new rates for compensation are fixed and it may be a month or two before these go into effect.

To the Voters of Iowa City:

You may expect from me an answer to the Carroll advertisement which appeared in Friday morning's Daily Iowan.

My reply will be ready for Sunday's paper and will be a plea for "A New Deal" for Iowa City.

The answer to Mayor Carroll will be based on facts and not on falsehoods, to which Mayor Carroll unfortunately stoops—all because of a mad ambition to be mayor for a fifth term, or is it for life?

Sincerely yours,

HOPES RAISED BY BEER BILL

Here are some of the thousands of men who waited outside the Pabst Brewing company, Milwaukee, to apply for jobs after President Roosevelt signed the 3.2 per cent bill. Police were called to maintain order among thousands who clamored for jobs at eight large breweries.

Bill Would Change Method of Election for Iowa Judges

Places Choices Upon Non-Partisan Basis

DES MOINES, March 24 (AP)—Judges of Iowa courts would be nominated and elected on a non-partisan ticket under a sifting committee bill placed on the house calendar today.

Heretofore, Iowa judges have been nominated by party judicial conventions. In the general elections, each party's judicial candidate was named on the ballot along with other candidates of the party.

The proposed measure would provide for nomination of supreme court, superior court and district court judges at the primary election. A separate judicial ballot would be provided, and the names of candidates listed without party designation.

To have his name placed on the primary ballot, a candidate would be required to file with the secretary of state a petition signed by 5,000 electors for supreme court judge, 500 for district court judge, 250 for superior court judge.

At the primary election, voters would be entitled to vote for twice as many candidates as are to be elected at the general election. Those receiving the highest number of votes at the primary would be listed as candidates at the general election.

At the general election a separate ballot again would be provided. In case of tie votes at the primary, the secretary of state would determine the nominees by lot, except for superior judge. Superior judge nominees would be determined by the county auditor in case of ties.

In the event of resignation or vacancy of the office of a judge, a successor would be appointed by the governor until the next general election, or until a successor is elected.

Merchants Set Spring Opening, Confidence Days for April

Local Business Men Will Exhibit Wares

Iowa City will celebrate "Spring Opening and Confidence Days" April 5, 6, 7, and 8, a special committee of the Merchants Bureau decided yesterday.

The event will offer merchants of the city an opportunity to display new spring styles and will also attempt to re-establish popular confidence in a return to prosperity.

Stores will remain open the nights of April 5 and 6, the committee decided, but will sell no merchandise at that time. Merchants are expected to plan style shows and other displays of products for these evenings.

Bargains will be offered in Iowa City stores all four days and Saturday night. Mr. Rawland stated, and every effort will be made to bring about a resumption of normal buying in the city.

Among the special events planned by the committee were an official burial of "Old Man Depression" and was returned to the senate during the afternoon.

While it is possible the senate may act upon the clarifying amendments tomorrow it was generally thought the bill would be held over until next week. It contains a clause making it effective upon publication, which will make it possible, for Governor Herring to proclaim the special election next week.

Dr. A. H. Joehnk to Start Veterinarian Work in Iowa City

Dr. A. H. Joehnk has opened an office at 309 E. Church street and will engage in veterinary practice in Iowa City, he announced yesterday.

Dr. Joehnk is a graduate of the Chicago Veterinary college. He practiced in Clinton county from 1908 to 1924 and has been an inspector with the state department of agriculture. He has also been an inspector for the American Aberdeen Angus association.

For the last seven years Dr. Joehnk has been connected with the same livestock sanitary board. He has lived in Iowa City for the last four years.

Railroad Will Offer Special April Fares

Special April fares to Chicago were announced yesterday by P. E. Meacham, local ticket agent of the Rock Island railroad.

The round trip excursion fares will be good on coaches from April 12 until midnight April 17. Also Mr. Meacham announced special first class fares, good on Pullman cars, from April 3 to 5 for the convenience of shoppers attending the third anniversary of the Merchandise Mart.

C. of C. Postpones Meeting for Monday

Because of election day, there will be no Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday noon, D. W. Crum, secretary, announced yesterday.

Instead a dinner meeting will be held Friday night, he said. A special program for the event is being planned, and will be announced next week.

Stamp Money Plan Still in Early Stages

Plans for the issuance of stamp money, to be paid to the unemployed, were still indefinite following a meeting of the Merchants bureau committee yesterday. Committee members will meet Monday for further discussion.

It has been indicated that the stamp money will be issued in $1 denominations to the amount of $1,000, with the possibility of a further issue later if needed.

D. W. Crum, a member of the committee, said yesterday that the stamp money will be entirely a city project, unrelated to county scrip plans in use over Iowa. The choice of several plans, all similar to that instituted at Hawarden, is open to the committee, he said.

Legal opinions must be sought, Mr. Crum said, before the stamp money is issued. It is undetermined whether the new currency will be printed in Iowa City or by the state in Des Moines.

The committee hopes to have the stamp money in circulation within three weeks, Mr. Crum stated.

Illness Calls Halt in Trial for Damages

Because of the illness of Lysle G. Frutig, trial of the $7,500 damage action of August Meyer, administrator of the estate of Dorothy Meyer, deceased, vs. Lysle G. Frutig of Iowa City, was postponed yesterday morning until 9 a.m. Monday.

The action was begun Thursday morning in district court before Judge J. P. Gaffney. Meyer is seeking damages as the result of an auto accident which occurred west of West Liberty, Dec. 17, 1931. Dorothy Meyer, returning from school, was fatally injured when struck by Frutig's car.

Jurors impaneled in the case are John Kent, Fred Beck, Esther M. Kepler, Ned Yenter, Glenn Haun, Charles Forbes, Arnes Rohret, J. R. McGinnis, Lester W. Means, Charley Meyers, Cloyd Shelladay and W. J. Benda.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are Messer and Nolan of Iowa City and Drake and Wilson of Muscatine. The defendant is represented by Popham and Hayek of Iowa City and Dannelly, Lynch, Anderson, and Lynch of Cedar Rapids.

Marble Tournament Delayed by Weather

The marble tournament for Iowa City elementary school boys, to have been held on the track south of the university stadium at 1:30 this afternoon, will be postponed because of the weather.

For several years past Mayor Carroll and his administration have steadily reduced actual city expenditures. 1929-30 was an exception. The airport and the street sweeper were bought that year. Last year expenditures were reduced approximately $21,000. The days of depression, now passing, rouse bitter resentment against the still heavy tax load, a load Mayor Carroll and his associates did not cause. But there are certain expenses Mayor Carroll and the council cannot reduce. Those are bond and interest charges. The public has been loaded down with bond issues and the bonds will have to be paid. These are fixed charges. Iowa City now owes over $300,000 bonded debt.

Plain Facts About Taxes

In 1916 and 1917 the city went into debt $100,000 for bridges over the river on Iowa avenue and Burlington street. This year you must pay $10,901 bonds and interest. Mayor Carroll and his administration cannot justly be charged with either the $100,000 bond issue or the $10,901 to be paid this year.

This year your tax-money must be used to retire approximately $5,000 bonded debt on a fire truck bought ten years ago. While fire equipment is necessary you cannot charge this expenditure to the present administration.

$5,303 airport bonds and interest must be paid this year. The voters of the city—not Mayor Carroll and his co-workers—bonded themselves through a general election for $65,000 for an airport. Whether you favored or opposed the purchase of the airport the bonds and interest will have to be paid. But you cannot blame Mayor Carroll or his administration for this expense, no matter how hard these dollars are to get nowadays.

During the first year of Mayor Carroll's administration and just after he took office the city bonded itself for paving inter-section work done the year before. That meant $30,000, but Mayor Carroll was not responsible for that, either.

The present democratic administration inherited a huge debt, well over $100,000, which preceding administrations had brought about through overdrafts and general city expense, and sometimes through tax methods and failure to properly budget—something the present city administration has been doing regularly. But this year your hard-earned tax dollars to the extent of $54,712, will go towards paying off part of this obligation. Mayor Carroll and his administration cannot justly be blamed for this expense, nor for the bonds and interest.

Since 1928 approximately $45,000 of your tax money has been paid out annually for bond, retirement and interest charges—debts Mayor Carroll and his associates did not contract and with which they had nothing to do. Most of these things you are now paying started in the whoopee days, when municipalities, frequently under the influence of high-pressure specialists, went head over heels into debt with the idea of letting the next generation do the paying up. You are this next generation—and you have to pay.

Mayor Carroll and his ticket pledge themselves, if elected, to oppose to the limit each and every new bond issue, unless positively necessary. They pledge themselves to let nothing more to be added on the already heavily over-burdened home owners, the payers of rent, and the business property owners. They pledge themselves to use every means, through measures of drastic economy, to get Iowa City out of debt as soon as possible. They tell you taxes can be lightened immensely the sooner the city is free from debt. Remember, more bonds means more taxes.
