Iowa House Passes 3.2 Per Cent Beer Bill

Administers First Smash of 'Bung Starter' Yesterday as Members Okay Plan 65 to 43

Party Lines Tighten Throughout Debate

DES MOINES, April 11 (AP)—The first legislative smash of the "bung starter" in Iowa was administered today by the Iowa house of representatives.

By a vote of 65 to 43 the members passed a bill which would legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer. The measure now goes to the senate for action.

Party lines were drawn rather tightly in both the debate and the vote. No Republicans spoke for the bill and the 12 speakers against it only one was a Democrat. Three of the 32 Republicans voted for passage, but despite the fact of a plea for party solidarity plus the fact that the administration favored the measure 14 of the 76 Democrats registered negative votes. Eight members spoke for the bill.

Party Leader Surprised

The vote surprised even some of the majority party leaders. They figured that the constitutional majority of 55 could be obtained but few ventured a guess that the roll call would show an excess of 10 votes. A party caucus last night showed 45 sure votes.

Amendments offered today are believed to have won some last minute friends for the bill as did the plea to stand by the party platform.

Galleries Filled

When it became known that the measure would be up for consideration today the house galleries filled rapidly and scores of spectators lined the walls and foyer of the chamber. Several times the speaker threatened to clear the chamber as cheers and applause followed the speakers. When the final vote was announced a loud roar went up from the spectators and it was with difficulty that the members were able to hear a motion to adjourn.

Proponents of the measure urged its passage on the grounds that the people were demanding the right to purchase beer, that it would aid in the elimination of the bootlegger and that it would increase revenue.

"Step Backward"

Opponents claimed passage of the bill was a step backward, that beer was an intoxicating beverage, that it violated the federal constitution and that its consideration should have been postponed until the people could have expressed themselves in the vote for delegates to the state convention to pass on repeal of the 18th amendment.

Three attempts to sidetrack the bill failed, two by Representative Peet, Republican of Guthrie and one by Representative Feltner, Republican of Warren. The speaker ruled out of order a motion by Peet to defer further consideration until the August special session and the house defeated 40 to 67 his attempt to table the bill.

Feltner raised a point of order.

Senate Sitting as Trial Jury Listens to Louderback Plea

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The senate today sat for the eleventh time in history as a trial jury—listening to a plea of not guilty from Federal Judge Harold Louderback of San Francisco to five articles of impeachment brought by the house.

It then set May 15 for the trial and gave the six house prosecutors until May 1 to reply to Louderback's answer.

Louderback appeared before the bar of the senate accompanied by two attorneys—Walter H. Linforth and James M. Hanley. These three sat to the left of the vice president's dais with the house managers on the right.

Louderback's denial of the house charges that he mishandled equity receivership cases and conducted himself in the "scandal and disrepute" of his court was contained in a 36 page document which was read alternately by two clerks.

Congress to Push Work on Power Plan

Force of Administration Speeds Measure Into Law

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The compelling force of administration approval today sped toward legislation to translate into law President Roosevelt's vision of a vast Tennessee river basin development encompassing the government's valuable Muscle Shoals property.

Swiftly, closely allied bills were introduced in both the house and senate. Then, before the day was done, the house military committee had held the first of brief hearings designed to send the plan to the floor by the week end.

Norris Introduces Plan

The veteran Senator Norris (R., Neb.), whose name long years of effort have linked inseparably with the principle of government operation of Muscle Shoals, sponsored the senate bill to consider this end. It went to the agriculture committee for early consideration.

In the house, Chairman McSwain (D., S. C.), of the military committee introduced a very similar bill, which immediately was made the subject of the late afternoon hearing.

Both measures embodied the principles for Tennessee valley development outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt. Also, they heeded the chief executive's advice that "it is time to extend planning" and would authorize him to make surveys and recommendations for "fostering an orderly and proper physical, economic and social development" of the basin and adjoining territory.

Principles of Plan

Briefly, the bills would: Create a "Tennessee river authority of the United States" administered by three directors appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate; Entrust this authority with the Muscle Shoals property and clothe it with tremendous powers to operate and enlarge the plant including the use, if necessary, of the government's right to condemn land; Direct the board to operate the nitrate and power plants, to sell surplus power, giving preference to governmental units, and to build power transmission lines; Direct the construction of the Cove creek dam on the Clinch river in Tennessee, a project army engineers have estimated would cost $34,000,000; Direct payment to Tennessee and Alabama of five per cent of the gross proceeds from sales of surplus power generated in the respective states.

The differences between the Norris and McSwain bill were not of a major character.

Will Submit Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt informed Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the party leader, tonight he would submit his proposal for refinancing of home mortgages to congress on Thursday.

Mrs. J. W. Howe Wins Title of City Ping-Pong Queen

Queen of Iowa City's women ping-pong players was the title awarded Mrs. J. W. Howe last night as the result of her winning the finals of the city ping-pong tournament for women, held at Strub's before an audience of more than 100 persons.

Winners in the individual flights were:

Iowa City women—Mrs. Howe, first; Mrs. Harold Smith, runner-up; University and high school women—Alice McCollister, first; Betty McDermott, runner-up; Con-solation—Mrs. Frank Peterson, first; Mrs. Dale Yoder, runner-up.

Judges were: George Frohwein, Jr., Harry Wade, and Prof. Clyde W. Hart.

Fire Paralyzes Traffic

NEW YORK (AP)—Fire in a four story Broadway building that houses the Strand theater today took one life, sent the audience of 2,200 scurrying to the street, paralyzed traffic in busy Times Square for an hour, and sent a couple of huge electrical signs crashing to the pavement in a roar of popping light bulbs.

Kidnaper Given 25 Year Sentence

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 11 (AP)—A kidnaping brought a prison sentence of up to 25 years today to Ray Robinson, unemployed railroad worker of Edmonton, Alta.

He had pleaded guilty to complicity in the seizure of Haskell Bohn, 21, freed on payment of $12,000 last summer after being held nearly a week in Minneapolis. Bohn is the son of a local refrigerator manufacturer.

Judge J. W. Boerner said he gave Robinson a maximum of 25 years rather than the 40 year limit allowed by law because he was not the principal in the kidnaping and aided the state.

Work Halted on Financial Control Plan

G. O. P. in State Senate Block Action Until This Morning

DES MOINES, April 11 (AP)—A determined Republican faction in the state senate today defeated an attempt to obtain immediate consideration of the financial control act, first measure of the administration's governmental reorganization program.

Consideration of the measure on final passage was set for 9:30 a. m. tomorrow after a parliamentary battle lasting late into the afternoon.

The senate virtually completed consideration of the salary reduction bill while the house rejected the senate appropriations proposal and passed the bill to legalize 3.2 beer in Iowa.

Motion Voted Down

As the financial control act was brought up in the senate an effort was made to defer consideration until the special session in August. This motion, by Senator George Wilson of Polk, was voted down 22 to 28.

Three Republicans, Senators Kimberly, Klemme and Knudson, joined with the solid Democratic force of 25 to defeat Wilson's motion.

After Senator John K. Valentine had explained the bill briefly he moved that the bill be placed on third reading and final passage. Senator M. D. Cooney of Dubuque then sought to move the previous question, which would have shut off debate.

"Republican Filibuster"

A number of senators were on their feet to address the chair, however, and Lieut. Gov. Nels G. Krauschel told Cooney that he believed a Republican "filibuster has beaten you to it."

Senator Wilson took exception to this remark and other senators subsequently denied any attempt was being made to filibuster, contending that they had not had ample opportunity to study the bill in its final form as amended today.

Several attempts to force adjournment for the day were defeated, and then after a brief recess the motion to set the consideration for 9:30 a. m. tomorrow finally was adopted.

On motion of Senator Valentine it also was agreed that after the financial control act had been disposed of the centralized auditing system measure and a companion coordinating bill, the uniform auditing bill, and state sinking fund measures be considered in the order given.

Backs Short Work Week

Perkins Puts Okay on Principle of Plan

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Federal legislation for a 30 hour working week in industry appeared certain tonight as an administration spokesman—Secretary Perkins—endorsed the principle of the enacted bill.

Miss Perkins, after a conference with Secretary Roper and Senator Black (D., Ala.), author of the measure, announced, however, she would recommend modifications to make the legislation "more workable."

Considerable easing of the restrictions provided by the senate is in prospect to make more elastic the administration of the six hour day and five day week.

Miss Perkins will go into conference tomorrow with the house labor committee, which has been awaiting a report from the White House before giving attention to the bill.

President Roosevelt designated Miss Perkins and Secretary Roper to make the study and to present the administration viewpoint. They conferred with Secretary Black after the cabinet meeting today at which the bill was believed to have been considered.

The measure, which was passed last week by the senate by a convincing vote, remains entangled in that chamber by the motion of Senator Trammell (D., Fla.) for reconsideration.

MacDonald Clears Decks for Voyage to Washington, D.C.

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will preside at cabinet sessions tomorrow and Thursday to clear the decks for his trip to Washington, on which he starts Saturday.

The prime minister considers the purpose of the talks with the president to be simply to exchange views with no attempt to make agreements, but to lay a sound foundation of common understanding for the world economic conference.

He will take with him to Washington Sir Robert Vansittart, permanent head of the foreign office; Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, chief economic adviser to the government; A. E. Overton of the board of trade, and J. A. Barlow, the prime minister's principal private secretary.

River Falls After Running Two Feet Above Flood Level

Iowa river was falling yesterday after reaching a mark two feet above flood level Monday afternoon. The river had gone down more than six inches yesterday afternoon according to Prof. Floyd A. Nagler. Lowlands in the city park and in the municipal field south of town were still covered with water yesterday.

With freezing weather of 23 degrees and a heavy frost Monday night the temperature yesterday rose from 32 degrees at 7 a. m. to a peak of 48 degrees falling again to 40 degrees at 7 p. m., according to Prof. John F. Reilly. A light frost was predicted for last night with warmer weather today.

Arrested Robbery Suspect Identified

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—Clyde Bridges, arrested last Friday as a participant in a bank robbery at Minneapolis, today was identified, police said, as a member of the gang that held up the People's State bank of East Chicago, Ind., on April 3 and escaped with $9,000.

The identification was made by John Bucknowski, Jr., son of the bank's president, who pointed out Bridges as the man who pointed a machine gun at people in the bank.

Villard Tells of Problems Facing F. D.

Lays Blame for War Clouds on Treaty of Versailles

The magnitude of the problems confronting President Franklin D. Roosevelt was impressed upon an audience that packed the aisles and lined the walls of chemistry auditorium last night to hear Oswald Garrison Villard, publisher of "The Nation."

Hitler militarism in Germany, Japanese aggression in Manchuria, high tariff and war debts responsible for international hatred and misunderstanding, and the world's stubborn unwillingness to disarm were pointed to as the most serious of the new president's problems.

"The Versailles treaty is responsible for the fear and the hatred which have brought Europe in sight of another war," the earnest speaker declared. "The United States is to blame for some of the worst causes in it, American citizens are today interested in a revision of it."

Villard maintained that this treaty had divided the world into two camps, those for it and those against it. He said that at least two of the major countries who signed it are now ready for revision. Present German militarism, which the Allies sought to destroy in the war, is a result of this treaty.

Only through a revision of the treaty and a rectifying of existing conditions in Europe can the United States regain economic stability, in the opinion of Villard.

For this observer, the maintaining of high tariff walls and the insistence that war debts be paid is economic folly. He considers the money owed the United States a trifling sum compared with the losses which Americans undergo because of their position on these two matters.

Senator Robinson Praises Roosevelt's Accomplishments

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—In the nearest thing to an old fashioned political debate, the senate has seen this session, Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, today characterized President Roosevelt's record of accomplishment as the greatest thing in the history of the nation.

Aroused by what he denounced as "unfair" criticism of the president by Senators Long (D., La.) and Robinson (R., Ind.), the Arkansas senator took the floor to uphold the administration.

His speech drew from the Indiana Robinson a warm attack on the president for sponsoring the economy bill and an assertion from Long that he was "advising" rather than "criticizing" the chief executive.

WEATHER

IOWA: Fair in south, partly cloudy in north, warmer in extreme east portion Wednesday; Thursday partly cloudy to cloudy.

Train Hits Stalled Car; Kills Three

WATERLOO, April 11 (AP)—Three persons were killed shortly after midnight last night when an Illinois Central passenger train crashed into their stalled automobile.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and Lloyd Steinmayer, all of Waterloo.

Ed Stark of Waterloo, engineer, said he whistled for the crossing and repeated the warning when the car appeared to be stalled on the tracks. He was unable to halt the speeding train before the crash.

City to Issue Stamp Money

New Administration to Support Measure for Relief

Issuance of stamp money in Iowa City within the near future was practically assured yesterday when members of the new city administration expressed their willingness to support the measure.

Mayor Harry D. Breene, member of the city council, City Attorney Thomas E. Martin, and City Engineer J. F. Spratt conferred yesterday afternoon with the Chamber of Commerce stamp money committee at the American Legion Community building.

The city, according to the agreement yesterday, will accept the stamp money and utilize it for unemployment relief and will provide the necessary workmen's compensation insurance.

Plans outlined at yesterday's meeting contemplate the circulation of petitions among the merchants to obtain signatures of those who will agree to accept the stamp money. Stamps will also be sold to the public to aid in the circulation of the money, the committee said.

The money will be issued to the unemployed for work done on community projects, according to present plans.

Hearing Will Test Prohibition Statutes in Supreme Court

BISMARCK, N. D., April 11 (AP)—North Dakota's prohibition statutes will be tested before the state supreme court here April 18, counsel for the newly organized association for ratification of the twenty-first amendment to the federal constitution said today.

The attorney, M. C. Fredericks of Jamestown applied to the court for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Chris Aipperspach, 50, of Jamestown, arrested Monday and charged with engaging in the liquor traffic by possessing two pints of beer.

The supreme court directed its clerk to issue an order to show why Aipperspach should not be released immediately and by stipulation the hearing was arranged.

Fredericks claimed the liquor has more than one half of one per cent of alcohol by volume but not more than 3.2 per cent by weight.

185,000 Expected to Turn Out for Openers in Face of Chilly Weather Forecast for Today

Fight Grows Hotter Over Farm Plans

Currency Inflation Cry Gains Strength as Senators Argue

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Clarion demands for currency expansion to float the farmer out of the bog of his low price troubles sounded in both house and senate today as the administration agricultural relief program stumbled along its path through congress.

Evidence of a widening breach between the White House and some Democratic senators appeared on the senate floor in reiteration by Chairman Smith of the agriculture committee of hostility toward some sections of the Roosevelt farm aid plan.

Limit Debate

While the senate roared to vigorous debate—attack and counter-attack that embraced the entire Roosevelt program—the house by a vote of 154 to 130, limited debate on the two billion dollar administration mortgage refinancing program to eight hours and excluded amendments other than those from its agriculture committee.

This presaged passage tomorrow afternoon, but the chances of senate approval by the end of the week dimmed. The senate is considering the mortgage bill as part of a general bill, seeking to lift farm prices to 1909-1914 levels by giving Secretary Wallace broad powers.

Threatens Strike

Representative Boileau (R., Wis.), urging expansion of the currency in the house, told members that unless the so-called Frazier currency-mortgage aid proposal were passed, 3,000,000 farmers would lay down their tools on May 3 and strike.

Under the Frazier plan, advocated by Senator Frazier (R., N.D.), and backed by the national farmers union, it is proposed to issue currency to refinance farm debts at 1 1/2 per cent interest and 1 1/2 per cent on the principal yearly.

Frazier is offering it as a substitute for the administration plan to refinance farm debts at 4 1/2 per cent through a two billion dollar bond issue and $400,000,000 from the treasury and reconstruction corporation.

A "liberal" currency policy was (Turn to page 5)

F. D. R. to Toss in First Ball at Senators' A's Conflict

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Shorn of its boom time opulence and featuring instead a return of the old time fighting spirit, by official request, the uniformed ranks of major league baseball will march into action tomorrow in a campaign deftly calculated to recapture national popularity and, incidentally, to end the domination of the New York Yankees.

The return of one of America's greatest and most colorful sporting institutions to its old familiar battlegrounds, scattered from the shores of the Potomac to the banks of the Mississippi, will be celebrated, weather permitting, with a display of old time enthusiasm, gala ceremonies, and beer on sale "neath the stands, in four of the eight opening day parks.

185,000 Expected

Despite an undesirable wave of chilly weather and a prospect of showers in at least three big league cities, the eight American and National league openers, based on predictions tonight, will draw 185,000 spectators—the poor weather outlook was concentrated in the east, but, in spite of this and opposition only from the tallied Boston Red Sox, the Yankee management predicted a crowd of 40,000, largest of the day, for the opener in the big Bronx ball park. It was chilly but clearing in the west.

The record major league opening turnout, 249,000 customers, was made in 1931, but the average over a 10 year period has been little more than 200,000. The magnates will be happy, indeed, if they come close to that, under the conditions, tomorrow.

Roosevelt to See Game

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the nation's first fan, will throw out the first ball for the getaway game between two of the American league's foremost championship challengers, Washington's Senators and Philadelphia's Athletics.

Of baseball's official family, Commissioner K. M. Landis will witness the Detroit-Cleveland game at Detroit, President William Harridge of the American league will attend the Browns-White Sox game in St. Louis, and President John Arnold Heydler of the National league will be a guest of honor for the Brooklyn-Phillies contest, at Philadelphia, where a capacity turnout of 18,000 fans was forecast.

Nothing Undone

Despite rigid economy, club owners have left nothing undone to stimulate greater popular interest and closer pennant races this year. Wholesale player shifts have brought about greater balance of strength in both big leagues, although injuries and mishaps will keep an unusual number of veteran stars out of the opening day line-ups.

The two league presidents have joined (Turn to page 3)

Lembke Wins Jessup Prize

Will Represent S. U. I. in Northern League Contest April 28

Russell Lembke, A3 of Sioux City, last night triumphed over five other speakers in liberal arts auditorium to win not only the Jessup Oratorical contest prize of $25, but the honor of representing the University of Iowa in the Northern Oratorical league contest to be held in Iowa City April 28.

Mr. Lembke's topic was "Learning to live," in which he stressed the value of education, but more especially the need for improved teaching methods.

The five other competitors in last night's contest were: Geraldine Beard, A1 of Bedford; Earla Blaine, A1 of Hampton; Frederick Schwartz, A1 of Boone; Jack Siddens, A1 of Council Bluffs, and C. LaVerne Kluss, C4 of Postville.

Judges for the contest were: Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, who also served as chairman of the evening; Prof. Harry G. Barnes, and Prof. A. Craig Baird. All three men are members of the speech department faculty.

Governor Drafts Special Message

Former Iowan Held as Bigamy Suspect

DENVER, April 11 (AP)—Ray Merchant, 28, former Des Moines, Ia., resident was detained by district attorney operatives today pending investigation of a bigamy charge preferred against him by his 18 year old wife, the former Bernice Gallagher.

Merchant denied his wife's accusation. He said his first wife was Hilda Nelson of Des Moines, who was 16 when he married her eight years ago. He said he had the marriage annulled.

Three years later, he said he married Althea Brace in Eaton, Colo., but they were divorced at Oroville, Wash. Authorities did not say on what Mrs. Merchant based her accusation.

Captures Ping Pong Honors

Francis Weis Takes First in Union Tourney

Francis Weis, C4 of Muscatine ping-ponged his way through three rapid games to the all-union championship in the finals of Union Board's annual ping-pong tournament held in the main lounge of Iowa Union last night. Approximately 200 spectators witnessed the match.

Opposed by Warren Sparks, L1 of Oskaloosa, Weis was never in danger and combined placements with forehand drives to run the match out in straight games, 21-11, 21-7, 21-6. In the final game, Weis ran up 12 straight points before Sparks, who was plainly "off" his game, could break through for a point. Gold and silver medals were presented the finalists by Union Board after the match.

Sparks and Weis were the finalists from a group of 48 contestants who entered the tournament.

In the preliminary match of the evening, John Donnelly, G of Burlington, defeated Ronald Reddig, C4 of Rock Island, Iowa tennis captain, 21-14, and 21-7 in two spirited games.

Robert A. Miller, supervisor of departmental libraries acted as referee for both matches. The tournament was in charge of Edward Becker, C3 of Des Moines.

Kay Lectures at New York Universities

Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts, accompanied by Mrs. Kay, is making an automobile trip through the eastern United States this week, appearing as guest lecturer at three eastern universities.

After visiting with his mother near Toronto, Ontario, Sunday, Dean Kay drove to Rochester, N. Y., Monday and spoke yesterday before two meetings of students and one general evening meeting at the University of Rochester. His evening subject was "The great ice age."

This afternoon he will address a Cornell university audience at Ithaca, N. Y., on "Criteria for determining the relative ages of drift sheets." This evening his topic will be "Glaciation."

Friday Dean Kay will again speak on "Glaciation," before an audience at Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Dean and Mrs. Kay plan to spend Easter Sunday in Philadelphia, Pa., as the guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. McLaughlin, Jr. Mrs. McLaughlin was formerly Marjorie Kay.

They will return to Iowa City next week.

Stoddard Announces Child Study Institute at University of Iowa

Child study leaders of the state will attend an institute at the University of Iowa between June 19 and 24, according to announcement from the office of Prof. George D. Stoddard, director of the child welfare research station.

The institute will occur in conjunction with the seventh annual Iowa conference on child development and parent education which will be in session during three days of that week.

Those who enroll for the institute work will have the advantage of discussions with such authorities as Dr. Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau at Washington; Mrs. C. E. Roe, field secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers; and Dr. Harry J. Baker, director of the Detroit psychological clinic.

1,000 to Get Degrees at University of Iowa June Commencement

The seventy-third commencement, when more than 1,000 persons will receive degrees and certificates, will be observed at the University of Iowa June 2, 3, 4, and 5.

A program of more than a dozen events now is in process of construction. Some of the principal ones are the formal commencement exercises, June 5; the baccalaureate services, June 4; and alumni day June 3, when 43 class reunions will occur.

No visiting speaker will give a commencement address, but the baccalaureate speech will be delivered by Charles R. Brown, Iowa alumnus now dean emeritus of the Yale divinity school.

Iowan Arrested on Manslaughter Count

MODALE, April 11 (AP)—E. E. McPherrin, president of the Modale school board for 15 years, was arrested today on manslaughter charges growing out of the death of Benjamin Satterfield, who was fatally injured by a hit-and-run driver.

He was released under $2,500 bonds after preliminary hearing had been set for tomorrow.

McPherrin was arrested after John McQueen told authorities that he had loaned his car, similar to one described as the death car, to McPherrin. Stains on the automobile are being examined.

McPherrin, operator of two elevators here, is also president of the Harrison County Taxpayers league.

by the Brookings Institution, seeks to give the governor control over state finances through the office of a state comptroller. The governor would have authority to reduce departmental expenditures when revenue was insufficient to meet appropriations.

In considering the bill to reduce the salaries of state, county, city and town officials the senate defeated by a 16 to 34 vote a motion by Senator E. R. Hicklin of Wapello to reduce the salary of the governor from $7,500 to $7,000 a year.

Ten Republicans joined with 24 Democrats in defeating the proposal. Senator L. T. Shangle of Oskaloosa was the lone Democrat voting for the amendment.

Numerous Changes The senate made numerous other changes in the bill which was the Stevens substitute for the original measure drafted by its sifting committee. It struck out provisions which would have reduced the salaries of county sheriffs and deputies, leaving these as at present.

An amendment which would have eliminated the provision for a five per cent reduction in the compensation of state legislators and the lieutenant governor was defeated and the record on the action was expunged.

One of the major fights was waged over the salary of judges of the state supreme and district courts. These finally were increased from the $6,600 and $4,000 respectively, allowed in the bill to $7,000 and $4,500.

Defeat Salary Motion A motion by Senator Hicklin which would have provided that these salaries would not be affected by act was defeated 23 to 27 and it was after this that Hicklin moved to cut the governor's salary, contending that the senate ought to be "consistent" by reducing all salaries.

Senator Valentine later told the senate that the governor had told him he was willing to accept voluntarily a reduction in salary in accord with those set by the legislature for other officials.

House rejection of the biennial general appropriations bill sent that measure more definitely on its way to a conference committee. The house refused the senate measure allowing about $478,000 a year more than the bill which it had approved earlier.

As the house then tacked its own bill on as a substitute for the senate amendments it now goes back to the upper house. Senate refusal to concur is a foregone conclusion so the measure then will be sent to a conference committee.

Members of Pershing Rifles Hold Banquet

Thirty members of Pershing Rifles, university military organization, attended a banquet on the sun porch of Iowa Union last night.

Speakers on the program were Ted MacDougall, E4 of Conesville; Col. Converse R. Lewis, head of the military department; and Capt. W. G. Murphy. William Ellsworth, A3 of Omaha, Neb., and W. V. Allison, A3 of Taberville, Mo., were in charge of the program.

ed in appealing to the players to employ a maximum of aggressiveness, minus rowdiness, into the competition and avoid fraternizing on or about the fields.

Beer to Flow Beer will flow, at concession stands only, in the New York and St. Louis American league parks and the Cincinnati and Chicago National league stadiums tomorrow. Only the failure to get a license in time will keep the 3.2 per cent beer from being sold by the Boston Nationals. No beer will be sold at Washington or Detroit, or by the Philadelphia Nationals.

Although no developments of the last few days have altered the widespread view of experts that the Yankees and Pirates are the two clubs to beat, surprises are looked for in both pennant races. It is apparent anything may happen in the National league, with five teams—Pittsburgh, Chicago, Brooklyn, St. Louis, and Philadelphia—all conceded to have real pennant chances.

Tougher Task American league rivals will shoulder a tougher task, in trying to dislodge the opulent Yankees, but at least three of them, Washington, Philadelphia and Cleveland, think they have a chance to do it. Meanwhile, improvement has been manifested by all the other clubs, notably the Chicago White Sox, whose one man wrecking crew, Aloysius Simmons, is genuinely feared by one and all.

Wool Growers to Hold Discussion on Marketing of Lambs

Discussion of marketing lambs on a graded basis, and election of officers will be the program of the Johnson County Wool Growers' association in session at the Farm Bureau office tonight at 8 o'clock.

C. W. McDonald, Iowa State college extension specialist, will explain methods and advantages of early feeding and home grading of sheep. Wool sacks and twine for an amount similar to the 21,750 pounds of wool pooled here last year for 54 members are ready for distribution, announced County Agent S. Lyle Duncan. The date of the 1933 pool will be decided at the meeting, he said.

Professor Travis to Serve on Committee

Prof. Lee Edward Travis of speech pathology at Psychopathic hospital, has been appointed to the committee which will bring out the year book of the National Education association. The symptoms, causes, and treatment of all the physical handicaps and maladjustments which make getting an education difficult will be treated in this work.

Stuttering and defective reading ability will be among the difficulties diagnosed. Educators representing the entire country will collaborate with Professor Travis.

Television Display Features Meeting of Engineers' Club

A television program and demonstration featured the April meeting of the Iowa City Engineers club in the electrical engineering building Monday evening. Dinner at the Hawk's Nest preceded the regular program.

Prof. C. J. Lapp of the physics department gave a brief lecture on "Equilibrium"; E. J. Hartman, G of Cedar Rapids, gave a violin selection; Charles E. Brokenick, G of Dodge, Neb., gave a selection on the piano accordion; and C. J. Posey, instructor in mechanics and hydraulics, sang. The program was broadcast over station WSNK.

Papers were read by Prof. E. B. Kurtz, director of the television station, on "Some engineering aspects of television," and by J. L. Potter, instructor in electrical engineering, on "Television systems," following the television program.

A motion was passed by the club members to have a committee on city planning appointed by the chairman to cooperate with other community planning agencies of the city. Inspection of the television broadcasting equipment completed the program.

Grocers Announce Opening of Retail Store on Saturday

H. J. Neathery and C. G. Eymann, both of Iowa City, have announced the opening of their new retail grocery store, "The Food Mart," to be located at 127 S. Dubuque street, for Friday and Saturday of this week.

A complete line of groceries, fruits, vegetables, and cold meats will be sold by the firm. On Saturday, the formal opening day, patrons will be served cake, cookies and coffee.

Mr. Neathery has been in the grocery business for 14 years, having moved to Iowa City a year ago from Illinois. Mr. Eymann has been a resident of this city for 16 years.

VILLARD Tells of Problems Facing F. D.

a year for every dollar owed us by the Allies," said Villard, condemning the American stand on these issues. "Our import and export trade is down to where it was 30 years ago."

Since 1914, Villard thinks, the nation has been going backward, and only now is President Roosevelt picking up the threads dropped by Wilson when the war came.

A firm stand against Japanese aggression in Manchuria, along the principles of the Stimson policy, was urged by the speaker. He believes the United States ought not to recognize a government set up by such aggression.

If this country refuses recognition to Russia for moral reasons and for fear of an undermining of American institutions, it ought also, in Villard's opinion, refuse to recognize the Hitler government in Germany.

Increased armaments both in Europe and America are causes for alarm, he believes. He urges President Roosevelt to cooperate with the League of Nations.

"We've got to try new paths if we are to find a way to peace," insisted Villard. "If we can only bridge over the next few years, I believe we'll be able to build up peace machinery in Europe if Hitler does not meanwhile

Cheapest Demagog of Modern Times

"The cheapest and most despicable demagog of modern times—a man with childish economic ideas who owes his rise in power only to his voice plus a certain amount of organizing ability"—thus Mr. Villard described Adolf Hitler to a capacity crowd in the senate chamber of Old Capitol yesterday afternoon.

Villard, in discussing the German situation, presented Hitler as a vehement orator whose very presence is disagreeable to many, yet a leader who could organize a private army of 400,000 men, uniform them, put them in barracks, and then use them to forward his designs. To find another such character the speaker insisted it would be necessary to go back to the Middle Ages.

"Hitler's hatred of the Jews can be described only as a kind of mania," this vigorous journalist declared. "He has blamed the German Jews for originating the World war, he has blamed them for the Dawes and the Young plans—he has blamed them for everything he doesn't like."

The speaker pointed to Hitler's recent move against the Jewish lawyers in Berlin (of whom there are 3,000) which forbids all but 33 the right to practice. This was later modified so that 800 or 900 may now go about their duties, but the others whom he has deprived of a livelihood are unable to draw their own money from the banks, and when they ask per-

Invite Mother Now

HOME AGAIN, back to mother's cooking and all seems good, doesn't it?

Don't be quite so selfish. Where does mother come in? It might be easy to get teary and sentimental about the goodies she has sent in the laundry bag, the sacrifices she is making to help make possible this year at Iowa. But, as Will Rogers so aptly said, "Too much is said about Mother in songs and not enough done about it in real life."

It will be much more sensible to give mother something in return by enabling her to share for just a little while the university life of son or daughter. The brief glimpse afforded by Mother's day may well prove a snatch for her to treasure as something she shared with her children.

For those whose mothers have come before, the program is new, with abolition of the banquet toast program and introduction of television entertainment among its features. For those whose mothers never have been campus guests, it is an entirely new experience that can come only once a year.

Mother has gone about her business quietly to make a university opportunity possible. It isn't too much to give her a brief bit that will be all her own, one day when it is she for whom things are done. Invite her down for Mother's day when you go home for spring vacation.

Tax-Exempt Bugaboo

BY A UNANIMOUS vote, the Minnesota house of representatives passed a resolution last week memorializing congress to propose an amendment to the constitution of the United States prohibiting issuance of tax exempt securities.

The proposed amendment would strike directly at the heart of one of the most serious problems of modern taxation. It would go far toward distributing the top-heavy tax load on the shoulders of those most capable of paying.

There is, of course, one serious objection to the scheme. Its opponents claim, potently, that taxes against municipal, state, and federal securities would definitely limit their attractiveness.

That, perhaps, is true. Moreover, it is argued that the interest rate would necessarily have to be increased to offset the reduction in the marketability of such securities and that this increase would make itself felt in tax rates on incomes and property.

All of which, whether based upon fact or not, is an effective argument. It has been all the more effective because of the desire of taxing bodies to make their bond issues as attractive as possible.

But that it is an altogether sound argument is doubtful. Until governments borrow far beyond their taxing capacity, their bonds will always command first place in the conservative securities market.

It is hardly conceivable that the conservative investor, looking for gilt-edged securities, would refuse to pay a small tax (from 2 to 4 mills, for instance) unless the interest rate were increased. And unless he did, the argument that such a tax would be reflected in property and income revenues would be invalid.

Hysterical Inflation

APPARENTLY untiring in the drive toward increased currency inflation Republican and Democratic blocs alike were quietly busy Monday in their plans to attach expansion riders to the administration farm relief bill.

What form the currency expansion proposals would take had not definitely been decided by their sponsors, but one under consideration was to permit issuance of currency against the $2,000,000,000 bond issue proposed to finance the mortgage program. Proposed reauthorization of silver is also being considered.

That the immediate results of a broad inflationary program would be seemingly beneficial there can be little doubt. Money would become cheaper and prices would automatically rise. Farmers and debt-ridden owners would be able to pay off old debts and start anew.

But that would be only the immediate result. And the inflationary "sponsors" in congress apparently see little beyond the immediate result. What they do not take into consideration is that currency expansion is easy to start, but hard to stop. After prices once rise to the desired level what is to stop them from going right on up?

As American money loses value and keeps right on losing it, what is to save American credit in foreign markets? And for that matter what would eventually save credit within American boundaries? No sensible merchant will extend credit without knowing what his dollar will be worth a week or a month from date of sale.

Sponsors of inflation need only to look to the German mark or the French franc during and after the World war to see what they are inviting into their own country.

Now that Hitler is more powerful in Germany than Napoleon was in France, it remains for someone to become more powerful than Wellington.

Geneva is getting to be a place where all a visitor sees is Japanese leaving town. Hard on the tourist trade.

H. L. Mencken has pronounced the new beer "not bad." Since Mencken's "not bad," may be taken as synonymous with Carl Laemmle's "stupendous," the beer is probably passable after all.

Before another Fourth of July passes, jungle pictures, broken ankles among the Chicago Cubs, and disarmament conferences may be on the down grade. Points to a safer and saner celebration.

Although the Democratic platform contained some strong statements about lowering the tariff, so far the only step in that direction has been a speech by Secretary Hull to the Washington newspaper men. Perhaps a platform is only a speech to the newspaper men.

TODAY'S TOPICS

BY FRANK JAFFE

REPORTS OF GERMAN terrorism and repression continue to seep through the lines of strict censorship imposed by the Nazi rulers—a censorship that has spread to include even personal letters.

Restriction from Germany of the Manchester Guardian because that estimable publication continued to print detailed reports from its correspondents close to the German scene is the latest significant action of the Nazis. It serves as further proof that those in power are fearful that the outside world will discover that official denials of atrocities have been a series of lies.

Last Saturday's issue of the Guardian contained reports from its Frankfurt correspondent citing instances of persons subjected to beatings by the Nazis and then sent home to die or taken to hospitals. "Thousands of Germans have only one wish," the correspondent wrote, "to get out of the country. Germany is being converted into a huge prison."

There were further instances of men taken to police stations and beaten with rubber bludgeons, then told "it was all a mistake." Women have not been spared in the Nazi attack on "undesirables"—Communists, Socialists and Jews.

AN INTERESTING COMMENTARY on the German situation, in "The World Tomorrow" of April 5, recalls the movement of "American Hitlerism" that swept across the U. S. in 1923 and 1924.

"Started by a Dearborn, Mich., automobile manufacturer, our anti-Semitism finally wrapped itself up in a glorified bed sheet, took the name of Ku Klux Klan, attacked Catholics and Negroes too, and was off to a swell pogrom on more than one occasion."

POLISH RESENTMENT against the Hitler program of persecution, with emphasis on persecution of Polish Jews, that has led to the furnishing of periodic lists of cases brought to attention of authorities, is somewhat remarkable in the face of years and years of pogroms in Poland.

In fact, one ordinarily associates the word "pogrom" with Poland, not alliteratively, either, but because of the repeated massacres of hundreds of Polish and immigrant Jews.

WRITING OF HITLER, in the "Nation" for this week, Oswald Garrison Villard, heard and seen on this campus yesterday, observes:

"From Madison Grant has come his doctrine of pure Aryanism; from Henry Ford's book on the Jews, much of the material for his crusade against them; from our Republican and Democratic politicians, the technique of extracting huge campaign funds from the great industrialists; and from our immigration laws, his plan to shut off Germany so that new elements from outside may not enter. . . Hitler in his folly undertakes to rebuild Germany with the aid, advice, and consent of the Hugenberg group of bankers and industrialists and reactionaries, while his own platform is the most extraordinary melange of opposing and contradictory doctrines ever brought together in modern times."

And further: ". . . it must never be forgotten that last summer he (Hitler) asked Hindenburg for a three-day suspension of all laws so that his Nazis might wreak their vengeance on their enemies. He did not ask Hindenburg's permission this time. . ."

Keeping Up With the New Books

By JOHN SELBY

"LAST POEMS"

NEW YORK—For some mysterious reason, D. H. Lawrence was considered, up to his death, material for that mythical dimension of humanity known as the intelligentsia. At least in America.

He had scarcely been carried, for the last time, down the muddy hillside upon which he lived in Southern France before his discovery by the "larger public" began. It is still going on, aided enormously by four posthumous publications, the latest of which is his "Last Poems."

One of the four, the "Letters," already has taken its place among the masterpieces. "The Lovely Lady," a group of short stories, is slighter in value; "Etruscan Places" has considerable charm and contains a good deal of information about the Etruscan civilization.

"Last Poems" confirms previous judgments, which is to say that although definitely on the upgrade from "Netties," for example, Lawrence had not arrived at the stature of a great poet, and may never have arrived there. But among the 273 poems in the volume there is an abundance of fine work.

What this new volume does do is to show again that fluid, personal, questioning genius that underlies all the Lawrence work, whether prose or poetry. The poems represent, in the language of Richard Aldington (who edited them with Giuseppe Oriol):

"A series of inconclusive adventures only related because they all happened to the same man. There is," he continues, "perpetual intercourse with the Muse, but the progress is as surprising to the parent as to anybody else."

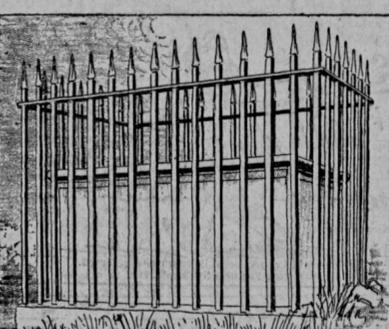

It is only necessary to add that the poems cover the widest range of subjects and of value, some trivial, some as magnificent as the last one, beginning: "Give me the moon at my feet, put my feet upon the crescent, like a Lord!"

STUDIO GOSSIP

By HARRISON CARROLL

SCREEN COMMENT

HOLLYWOOD—As every feminine eye in Hollywood is focused on Easter fineries, Hedda Hopper cracks filmland's serenity by a sensational resumption of the old argument as to who are the best dressed women in the motion picture colony.

Hedda, a chic dresser herself, names Constance Bennett, Joan Crawford and Kay Francis.

But what the gossips will do on she takes a sharp dig at Marlene Dietrich and Lilyan Tashman.

Says Hedda: "Both Miss Dietrich and Miss Tashman have chosen bizarre styles to attract attention to themselves. To me, it has always seemed possible to be an actress without carrying the theater around on your back."

"I think Lilyan is one of the most amusing people I know, but I believe she dresses in too flamboyant a manner. Where some women wear one, or two, diamond clasps, she wears four. Of course, it may be jealousy on my part. I have only one diamond clasp and it is so small you could put it in the corner of your eye.

"has carried the trousers fad too far. She lays herself particularly open to the charge of bad taste when she dresses her little girl in masculine fashion."

It is Bill Rankin who tells the story of the New York writer who was so bitter over a studio experience that he could see nothing good about Hollywood.

One evening there was a fire on the boulevard and the department went clanging by.

"Snappy work, isn't it," observed a bystander.

"Yah," said the writer, "in New York they come back faster than that."

Iowans Drop Behind After Early Margin

Victors Collect 11 Hits off Blackman, Ricke on Wet Day

A FITTING trophy to be awarded the winner of the Iowa-Iowa State football game—that is what the Iowa club is looking for at present. The letter men, feeling that some sort of traveling prize, such as the Brown Jug which is passed back and forth between Michigan and Minnesota, will add much to the Cyclone-Hawkeye grid battles, are searching for some fitting emblem. An announcement is expected to be forthcoming within a short time.

The added color which the winning of such an emblem would give this traditional battle is great. It is just the sort of thing that makes football games what they are. It would be something to really cherish. Such a trophy should deserve a special case in the "show room" of the winning school. —And don't think it won't get one.

TODAY is the day. Every baseball fan in the country will be in shape by this afternoon, and every one of them who can get to a radio will be listening to the first game of his favorite, if possible. Pops Harrison appears to have a pretty nice freshman baseball squad this year. The Iowa yearlings have knocked over the varsity reserves twice in two days. The phys. ed. majors are hard at work on their circus. They claim it will be twice as big and twice as good as last year.

Yearlings Get Another Win

Set Reserves Down for Second Time, 10-4, Behind Smith

For the second time in two days, the freshman baseball team defeated the varsity reserves at Iowa field yesterday by a score of 10 to 4 in seven innings. Bob Smith pitched for the freshmen and did a good job, holding the reserves to five hits and two earned runs while his teammates were pounding the offerings of Fritz Ardema, Harry Frohwein, and Red Andrews for 13 hits which they turned into 10 runs. The freshmen got to the side arm delivery of Ardema in the fourth inning and before the side was retired, scored four runs. Norris, freshman left fielder, made four hits in four trips to the plate while his teammate, Underwood, got three out of four; the fielding of both teams was loose, both teams making three errors apiece. Two of the four runs that the varsity scored off Smith, came as a result of misplayed fly balls on the part of the outfielders. The freshman squad was under the direction of "Pops" Harrison, while Dale Fitch had charge of the varsity reserves.

POOR MIKE!

Krasawasky Plans Bad Things for Coach

Things are looking bad for Coach Mike Howard, if you can believe Ivan Krasawasky, The Terrible, whom the Hawkeye mentor has signed to meet at the circus to be staged by the physical education majors April 20.

The following letter was received by the sports editor of The Daily Iowan:

"I have reached my ears that Mike Howard has stated that he did not believe that I would meet him on April 20 as scheduled because it is a benefit match, and because I DID NOT WANT TO MEET HIM.

"He is badly mistaken for he does not realize how glad I am to get an opportunity to meet him. I have not forgotten the raw deal he gave me back in 1927 when he refereed a match for me. Because of his rotten decision and false accusations I have been blacklisted in many wrestling circles.

"I am, as you know, the undisputed champion of Palovsky, a Russian province, and I fear no living being. It is with pleasure that I look forward to giving Howard a lesson in modern wrestling, which he does not seem to think much of.

"I will not consider even expenses for the bout, as I have a policy of settling grudge fights on my own."

(Signed) Ivan Krasawasky, The Terrible.

Meet Attracts Champions GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—Every champion trotter and pacer of 1932, with the exception of the Marchioness, which won the Hambletonian, will be raced during the Grand Circuit meeting at Goshen, August 14-18. The Hambletonian will be trotted August 15.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 11 (AP)—Western State Teachers baseball team today defeated the University of Iowa, 5 to 3, in a contest played on a wet, raw afternoon here. It was the season's opener for the visiting Hawkeyes.

The Old Gold nine started off in the lead with runs in the first and fourth innings, but the Teachers got the offerings of Bill Ricke, veteran Hawkeye right hander, for two runs in the fourth inning to tie the score.

Both teams counted in the sixth and then Miller's double following a single by Wood brought about the winning run in the seventh inning for the home team. The victors tallied again in the eighth.

Western State hit Ricke and Charlie Blackman, sophomore southpaw who relieved the Hawkeye starter, for 11 safe blows while the visitors could garner only five safe knocks of Brandt.

Stempel Today Coach Otto Vogel will probably start Franklin Stempel on the mound in the second and final game of the series here tomorrow with Ken Blackman again behind the bat. Today's game was the first of five for the Iowans in Michigan.

The score by innings: R. H. E. Iowa 100 101 000—3 5 2 Western State 000 201 11*—5 11 2

Batteries—Ricke, C. Blackman and K. Blackman; Brandt and Thomas.

Baer Weighs 230 Pounds

Surprises Experts With Size; Starts Training for Schmeling

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Max Baer, curly headed young California giant, hauled off his street clothes today, climbed into fight togs, and gave the experts who haven't seen him in action here for almost three years one of the biggest surprises of their lives.

He was an immense fellow weighing 202 when he last departed the New York scene after beating Levinsky in 1930, and he looked even larger when he stripped today, but few of the assembled experts were ready for the shock that came when he stepped on the scales. He weighed exactly 230 pounds.

Baer arrived yesterday from Livermore, Cal., to start training for his 15 round bout with Max Schmeling here June 8. He announced then that he weighed "about 218." He was diffident today about getting on the scales after shadow boxing, rope skipping, exercising a half dozen rounds, and displaying less than half a dozen excess pounds on his huge frame.

"He's such a daffy kid," said Dempsey, "he was afraid to let any one know how heavy he's gotten. He's the biggest, best looking young heavyweight I ever saw."

"The 20 round fights he had out in Reno have made that youngster. He can take all kinds of punishment, can fight all day, and he's the hardest right hand puncher in the ring."

Tall Fellow Baer, an extremely tall fellow, has built up an amazing muscular structure. As he stood beside Dempsey for comparison, he dwarfed the old man mauler.

Many of boxing's master minds, watching Baer's speed and powerful display, hedged on the idea that has been rather general that Schmeling, former champion, would have an easy time with the brawny Californian.

Baer immediately started talking himself into a fighting fury. "Every time I hit that Dutchman with a right hand," he said, "I'm going to tell him 'Here's one for Hitler.' There's just enough Jewish in me to make this a whale of a fight."

Huck Betts Named as Starting Pitcher for Boston Braves

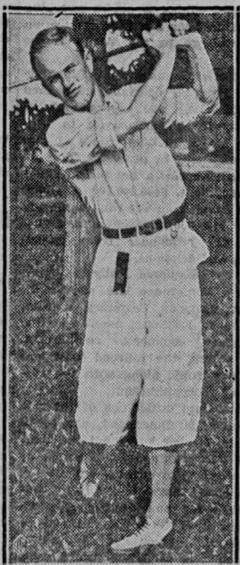

BOSTON, April 11 (AP)—Sturdy Huck Betts, Boston Braves weatherproof right hander, tonight was delegated to start against the New York Giants in tomorrow's opening game at Braves field. Betts, who won 14 out of 24 for the Tribe last season, will be paired with Frank "Shanty" Hogan, former Giant catcher.

Betts will be pitted against chubb by Freddy Fitzsimmons, the Giants' 31 year old right hander, with Gus Mancuso, former Cardinal backstop, on the receiving end.

Iowa to Hold Cage Clinic

Meeting Planned for Dec. 2, Date of First Game

Basketball coaches and their squads from Iowa high schools and colleges will be guests of the University of Iowa athletic department next Dec. 2 at a cage clinic, first plans of which have just been announced.

Rollie Williams, head Hawkeye mentor, Bill Boelter, freshman coach, and "Pops" Harrison, assistant to Williams with the varsity, will all give talks in a morning session. In the afternoon, Iowa cagers are to demonstrate various styles of play for the different positions.

To Attend Game In the evening, all those attending the clinic, will be guests of the university at Iowa's opening contest of the 1933-34 season with James Millikin university of Decatur, Ill. It was at Millikin that Coach Williams first coached, three months after his graduation from Wisconsin. He was there through the academic year of 1923-24 and then came to Iowa as assistant to Sam Barry in the fall of 1924.

Coach Williams announced yesterday that a number of inter-sectional opponents will probably be lined up for the Hawkeyes in the pre-season encounters. While a definite schedule has not yet been planned, games with Pittsburgh, Centenary of Shreveport, La., and Arizona are possible for the local floor in that each of these quintets are planning trips through the mid-west.

Other Games If agreements as to dates and financial guarantees can be reached all of these teams and possibly other inter-sectional opponents for late December and early January will be played at the field house. An Iowa team has not engaged in an inter-sectional foe since December, 1929, when Pitt played here.

Conference regulations allow the team to play eight non-conference games, but Williams has not yet decided whether he will book that many engagements. Last season the Hawkeyes played eight such contests in addition to the 12 Big Ten clashes.

Northwestern, Indiana, Minnesota, Illinois, Purdue, and Wisconsin, each to be played twice, are the opponents in the championship race. Dates will be arranged at the Big Ten coaches' meeting next month.

Fay Mack, a filly owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., is called the only "promising youngster" on harness circuits this year with a gray coat.

Move to Cut Expenses for Loop Season

Possibility of 8 Team Circuit; Seek Aid From Majors

KEOKUK, April 11 (AP)—Mississippi Valley league officials moved today to meet the depression on a strictly "deflated" basis.

Taking full cognizance of the economic situation in an effort to save the league from the fate of many other minor circuits, they established a maximum for salaries and player expenses and eliminated the minimum admission price for the fan.

A six team league seemed assured after President C. R. Logan laid down his plans, and possibility of eight teams participating in the flag chase appeared dependent upon ironing out difficulties at Cedar Rapids.

Eliminate Guarantee Under the revised rules each team will be able to carry five veterans, five "simon pure" rookies, and four men who have played one year in a class D organization. The daily guarantee of $50 for visiting teams was eliminated.

The monthly salary limit of $1,000 and the player limit of 14 men, both including the manager, were retained. Player expenses were limited to $1 per man a day for meals on the road.

Forfeit fees of $1,000 to insure participation in the race must be posted by each team by May 1, and the 15 day practice season will open April 26. The playing season will open May 11 whether there are six or eight teams in the league. In case six teams participate the season will close Labor day and if eight teams the closing date will be Sept. 11.

To Select Sixth Keokuk, Davenport, Rock Island, Springfield, and Peoria will be members of the league. Participation of a sixth club, representing either Burlington or Quincy, was to be decided in conferences between Dr. Logan and representatives of these cities.

Should the club representatives decide upon an eight team league, Cedar Rapids and either Des Moines or Decatur are being considered, but it was indicated that any expansion of the plans to the eight club basis was contingent upon getting difficulties at Cedar Rapids.

Logan, who has been working for some time in an effort to save the league, laid before the club representatives today a proposed schedule for either six or eight teams together with the results of his conferences with representatives of prospective member cities and with major league clubs willing to extend aid. It is expected that most of the clubs will have some major league connection to aid them in defraying expenses incidental to getting the playing season under way.

Chilly Weather Speeds Up University High's Outdoor Track Drills

Despite the sunshine, a cold wind swept old Iowa field and forced the University high track drills into brisk activity yesterday noon as they continued heavier workouts.

Van Phillips seems to be rounding into outdoor form as he breezed through a fast 220 yard dash in 24.3.

More than 71,000 fans paid to see a double-header soccer game in St. Louis, winding up the municipal season.

Golfers Get Set for Meet With Ambrose

Coach Kennett Plans to Rely Upon Veterans in Opener

The Hawkeye golfers will take on St. Ambrose tomorrow morning in the first match of the season. With only a few days practice in which to get the feel of the clubs, Coach Kennett's men have rounded into shape nicely, as evidenced by the manner in which they downed the freshmen Saturday.

On account of the spell of bad weather, Coach Kennett has been unable to decide whether any of his recruits have shown enough ability or punch to take part in intercollegiate competition, and he is relying on last year's veterans to lead St. Ambrose over the links.

The team of four men will be selected from the following veterans: Ralph Harmon, who finished first in Saturday's match; John Jacobsen, second place winner; Joe Schlanger, third; LeRoy Vanderwicken, George Clark, Charles Van Epps, and Bob Beck.

DES MOINES, April 11 (AP)—Jim McMillen, former University of Illinois football star who has gained prominence among the heavy-weight wrestlers, has been signed to meet Allen Eustace of Wakefield, Kan., in a finishing heavyweight wrestling match here Tuesday, April 18.

Eaton to Conduct Final Life Saving Demonstration Today

R. F. Eaton, field worker from the St. Louis district of the American Red Cross and Life Saving association, will complete his three day series of lectures and demonstrations in the field house this afternoon.

"Those who pass the examiner's test are obligated to teach swimming and life saving. It is not merely a process by which one acquires an insignia," Mr. Eaton has explained to the approximate score of persons who have been attending the demonstrations.

Stock Market Puts Up Fight Against Sales

Offers Good Resistance With Net Changes Narrow

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Stocks were worn down a bit by profit-taking today, but offered good resistance and net changes were mostly of the narrow variety.

Extreme fluctuations for many leaders were small and volume was reduced to 1,434,000 shares.

Commodities maintained their higher trend, led by wheat, which re-ported buoyantly to the sharply reduced crop estimate. Some non-ferrous metals, together with rub-ber and cotton, improved their posi-tions; sugar turned slightly irregu-lar after early strength.

Realize Profits
Realizing in the share market seemed a logical consequence of a half-dozen consecutive advances and bullishness inclined Wall street quar-ters were pleased by the ready ab-sorption of offerings, especially in the first half hour when trading was brisk. Metal stocks turned quiet, giving up fractions here and there. Steel issues eased slightly and representatives of the commodi-ty group generally returned small losses. Utilities were fairly firm, while rails lost a little ground.

For U. S. Steel, American Can, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Harvester, Case, Sears Roebuck, and American Tobacco "B," net declines were measured in major fractions. Union Pacific and Santa Fe dipped nearly a point, but a number of other prominent carriers were steadier.

Firm
Procter & Gamble, learning of a regular quarterly dividend of 37 1/2 cents, firmed. American, Tele- phone, whose first quarter earnings, soon to appear, are expected to be rather poor, was down 2 1/4. National Lead rose 2 points as lead prices were advanced 1 1/2 cent a pound. Coppers traded briskly and at steady quotations; the foreign market for that metal was stronger.

DIXIE DUGAN—Just a Suggestion

Nash motors lost more than a point on deferment of the dividend which had long been maintained against decreasing income. General Foods had a similar setback after its quarterly payment had been cut to 40 cents from 50, although the company said the old rate had been more than earned in the first quarter.

Escapes from Jail
FT. MADISON (AAP) — Al Sporkman, 22, of West Point, Ia., escaped from the county jail today where he was being detained after his arrest by West Point officers on charges of driving while intoxicated and resist- ing an officer. Officers suspected an accomplice in the jail break.

American Wheat Growers Gain $3,500,000 in Wealth

Prices Leap Upward in Response to Report

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—American wheat farmers found their crop value increased approximately $3,500,000 today in almost nothing flat. A jump of 1 to 2 1/2 cents a bushel in the price of wheat on the board of trade on the opening transac- tion brought about that Aladdin lamp result. A roar, like pounding surf on an ocean beach, swept the 100 foot high room of the board of trade before the echoes of the open- ing gong had died away. Growers of the grain profited little today, but have seen large advances in the last few weeks.

Trade's Answer
It was the trade's answer to the government crop report, issued late yesterday, forecasting a wheat crop smaller than any since 1904. It was also a reply from Washington that there would be no official interference with grain prices.
Based on official figures showing 178,000,000 bushels of wheat in bins on farms in the United States, each cent of the advance increased the net value of wheat $1,780,000.
The official estimate on the size of the wheat crop was 324,000,000, only 9,000,000 bushels in excess of the crop harvested in 1904. Last year's harvest was 462,000,000 bush- els. Causes of this tremendous shrinkage were hot dry weather over the wheat country last fall and severe cold weather last winter with freezing temperatures and sheet ice crippling the growing crop in the last few weeks.

10 Cents Since March 28
The upswing today, which at the finish ranged from 1 5/8 to 2 3/8 cents a bushel on wheat, carried the September delivery to 62 1/2 cents a bushel. This is an advance of 6 cents in the last week and 10 cents since March 28.

Taking the close on March 2 as the base, wheat prices have scored a gain of 14 1/2 cents a bushel, nearly 30 per cent on the Sep-tember delivery. This delivery rep-resents wheat which has yet to be harvested. The May delivery, rep-resenting wheat harvested last year, has shown a maximum rise of 13 cents a bushel during the same pe-riod.

$25,000,000 More
Taking the estimated supplies of wheat yet on farms, 178,000,000 bushels, and using 14 cents a bushel as the average rise for all grades and options, American wheat grow-ers are today worth approximately $25,000,000 more than they were on March 2.

During the same period, the price of wheat for immediate delivery on the cash market has risen almost 20 cents a bushel, or nearly 45 per cent. Today, a single ear of No. 2 red wheat, a prime milling favorite, sold at 65 cents. The farmer would sell cash wheat about 10 or 12 cents below this figure, as freight, com-missions, and incidental expense are paid after the wheat leaves the farm.

At the same time, corn prices have increased 9 and 10 cents a bushel, oats are 4 to 5 cents a bush- el higher, rye is worth 13 cents a bushel more, and barley has advanced 7 cents. Cotton was higher in sympathy with the higher wheat market.

Wheat for immediate delivery in Chicago today brought 65 cents a bushel, 5 1/2 cents above simultane-ous quotations on the nearest fu-ture delivery. Ft. Worth, Tex., re-ported spot cash wheat there com-manded 67 to 70 cents.
Corn and oats prices were held back by government reports, indicat- ing plenty of corn in the country. Provisions reflected upturns of hog values.
Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 58 3/4—7 1/8, 61 1/8—1 1/4; July 59 7—8

Wheat Prices Whirl to New Record Highs

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—In storms of buying, wheat repeatedly whirled toward the zenith today, and closed buoyant at about the top-most point reached.
More than 10 cents a bushel gain in less than three weeks resulted, sweeping the market above any quotations for over a year. Official crop estimates which trade experts said were suggestive that the country might be in a serious position regarding supplies took first place among reasons given for excited rushes to purchase.
Some specialists figured that the United States this season would produce 50,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels less wheat than the usual home requirements. Giving further stimulus to the market was a sudden expansion of overseas demand, with Europe today taking 2,000,000 bushels from North America.

Wheat closed strong, 1 5/8—2 3/8 cents net higher, corn unchanged to 3/8 off, oats 1-8-1 1/4 up, and provisions showing 7 to 17 cents ad- vance.

Maximum prices today came right at the opening and just before the close. Late upturns were ascribed largely to a government correction eliminating 30,000,000 bushels of seed wheat from the amount reported as part of farm reserve stocks in spring wheat states northwest.

This correction brought the official figures on farm stocks practically into line with recent private esti- mates, and cut out an offset to sen- sationally reduced prospects for 1933 production.

Bond Market Shows Gain

U.S. Securities Continue Firm; All Prices Improve

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Con- tinued firmness of United States government securities and further recoveries of German obligations heartened the bond market again today and prices in all categories registered moderate improvement.

The average for 60 domestic cor- porate loans showed a gain of three-tenths of a point. This was the sec- ond average gain this month. Sales totaled $9,855,000 par value.
The majority of federal issues ad- vanced 1/32 to 9/32 of a point. Lib-erty Fourth 4-14s were the firmest; and most active of this list, appar- ently reflecting the belief in invest- ment circles that the treasury would not announce the calling of this is- sue for Oct. 15.

German bonds led a general re-covery in the foreign division with gains ranging from 1 to 2 around 4 points. Loans of Argentina, Aus- tralia, Denmark, Italy, and Japan were up a point or more.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

SYNOPSIS
Mary Faith, young and comely fiancee of Kimberley Farrell, hand- some blond youth, just out of law school, leaves her position as secre- tary to the wealthy Mark Nesbit to marry "Kim." Mary Faith receives a note from Kim's mother inviting her to dinner.

CHAPTER III

"Kim, what's the matter? Are you angry with me?" she was beginning when he brought his hand down hard on hers, interrupting her.
"Wait, let me tell you about my mother," he said. "She was awake last night when I got home and I told her that you and I had just about made up our minds to get mar- ried on the first—"

"Just about made up our minds?" echoed Mary Faith as he stopped. "Why, Kim, we have made up our minds, haven't we? I thought we settled everything last night."
Surely there had been no ifs-an'-ands about their getting married when they had talked it over the night before. Kim had been very clear and definite about their plans then.

They would be married on the first day of October, a Saturday, and leave town in his little roadster for a week's honeymoon "just bumming around the state." Then they would come back to the flat where he and his mother lived and settle down to be Mr. and Mrs. Kimberley Farrell for the rest of their lives.

"Of course, we did settle every-thing," he said now. "But you asked me what my mother thinks about our getting married, and I'm telling you. She thinks we ought to wait until I'm making more money—enough to give her a flat of her own somewhere. She doesn't want to live with us. She says it'll never work."

In the darkness Mary Faith's face flushed. "She's been saying that for almost four years, Kim," she re- minded him. "She knows it will be years before you'll be making enough money to keep up two homes. You're twenty-eight and I'm twenty- four, and we know we care for each other and that we're old enough to marry and settle down. I'm sure we won't mind a little poverty to- gether, if we have to. Suppose we do have to pinch pennies? Who cares?"

She bent her head and her lips brushed the sleeve of his coat. "I shall love pinching pennies, I shall be the most stingy wife under the sun—as well as the happiest one," she added.
"You're sure you won't mind hav- ing her live with us?" he asked after a minute or two. "I never could stand listening to two women bickering every night when I came home, let me tell you!"

His voice was harsh and his eyes were straight ahead of him on the lamplit road. He took his hand from hers and laid it on the steering wheel.
"Kim, please don't say things like that to me. Haven't I always been nice to your mother?" she asked him. "And you know I won't mind hav- ing her living with us. I won't care who lives with us or where we live—so long as you and I are together."

Kim and his mother lived on the ground floor of an old-fashioned apartment in Wilton Street.
Mary Faith always enjoyed her visits there because it was Kim's home; but it was a depressing sort of place.
The living room was crowded with upholstered furniture. All of the chairs had little lace doilies on their backs. A big brown crock filled with pampas grass stood in front of the fireplace. On a shelf above it stood a cupid clock made of silver gilt. The cupid was much too fat, and he smirked.

"Why, Kim, we have made up our minds, haven't we?"

Over the whole flat hung the smell of dusty carpets, coffee and meals cooked in grease long ago.
Mrs. Farrell was sitting beside the window, reading the evening paper, when Mary Faith and Kim walked into the room at fifteen minutes after eleven. She glanced up at the cupid and Mary Faith saw that she had been crying.

"I had dinner ready forty-five minutes ago," she said, getting slowly to her feet. "I made a cheese soufflé. It's ruined by this time, but if you don't care I'm sure I don't. . . . Would you like to put your things in my room, Mary Faith?"
Mary Faith followed her down the dark narrow hall to her bedroom. She took off her hat and coat and smoothed her hair back from her forehead.

Mrs. Farrell stood watching her for a second or two with her red- dened eyes. Then she muttered some- thing about the soufflé and went hurrying out of the room. She bumped against the door as she went. She was the awkward kind of stout woman who is always bumping into doors or dropping dishes.
Mary Faith hurried after her.

"Can't I help you with dinner?" she asked. "You know what a treat it is to me to help around a kitchen." She had always had a mortal long- ing for a kitchen of her own. A bright new little kitchen, all colored tiles and shiny pans and white dotted curtains with sunshine and wind coming through them.
"You know I learned quite a lot about cooking when I took that course at the Business Woman's Club last winter," she went on, look- ing round for an apron. "What can I do to help?"

Kim's mother didn't answer her question. A smile flickered in her plump face for an instant. A tight- lipped smile.
"I guess you didn't learn to keep a soufflé from going to nothing an hour after it was made, did you?" she asked as she pulled a baking dish from the oven of the gas range. "Just look at that thing!"

The soufflé lay flat as a pancake in the bottom of the dish. It was plain to see that all the life and soul had gone out of it.
"It's only fit to be thrown out," she said. "There are eggs in the ice- box. How would you like to fry some the way you learned to fry them at that wonderful woman's club last winter? There's dripping in that bowl on the stove and the frying pan's hanging under the sink."
She began to scrape soufflé into a bowl on the drain board.

"This is the sort of thing you'll have to learn to expect when you're married to Kimberley," she said presently. "Meals spoiled because he's not here to eat them on time! Whole dinners put away untouched sometimes because he doesn't show up at all! But I suppose I shouldn't complain, because it's all my fault. I've spoiled him all his life. I've made a rod for my own back!"
There was bitterness in her voice and in her face. Bitterness that nar- rowed her eyes and drew down the corners of her mouth. And yet it was apparent that she had once been very handsome. There was still a kind of beauty in her straight fea- tures and the poise of her head with its bright brown hair.

"What time did he get to your place tonight?" she asked suddenly. "Around seven."
"Did you ask him where he had been until that time?" Kim's mother was lighting the gas ring under the coffee pot now.
"He said he had been delayed at the office."
"Did you see him last Sunday?" Mrs. Farrell asked next.

"I saw him last Sunday night. He spent the whole evening with me," said Mary Faith, turning to look at her with puzzled eyes. What was Kim's mother getting at anyway, she wondered.

Van der Zee Sees Reduced Utility Rates in Iowa City

Council Determined to Lower Levies, Says Speaker

"Difficult though the task is, the city council is determined to give Iowa City lower water, gas, and electric rates," said Prof. Jacob Van der Zee, newly-elected alderman-at-large, before members of the American Legion Unemployment Relief association last night.

"Although water rates have been lowered once," he continued, "I am convinced that they are still higher than they should be after studying other Iowa water systems. Only two cities in the state, Keokuk and Ft. Madison, pay more for water. I feel we are behind the times in having a privately owned water system, but the company's 15 year franchise apparently makes municipal ownership impossible for some time.

"Even a more difficult problem is the lowering of gas and electric rates. We pay eight cents for each of the first 30 kilowatt-hours, while most Iowa towns are paying from 4 1/2 to seven cents. It requires almost expert knowledge to adjust the rates fairly, but the council will do its best."

No Partisan Politics

In his talk on "local government," Professor Van der Zee urged that city elections be divorced from partisan politics.

"The sooner we get the labels 'Republican' and 'Democratic' off the city ballot," he asserted, "the better it will be for all concerned."

In his discussion the new councilman explained the functions of the three branches of city government, executive, legislative, and judicial. Police judge, the only judicial officer, is here to stay, he believes. The office nets the city about $2,500 a year, he said, adding: "Since the candidates spent their time and money in the campaign, the council considers it unfair to abolish the office, so long as it remains profitable."

Explains Labor Plan

Professor Van der Zee explained the new labor plan of rotating labor at the cemetery and on the streets, which, he said, will give part-time work this year to many more than the usual 30 city laborers.

If the scrip plan goes through, he stated, the council will work with the Unemployment Relief association in giving special work to additional employees. He expects 75 per cent of Iowa City merchants to cooperate in the plan.

In response to a question, Professor Van der Zee said that he believed the city manager plan, which has been rejected twice by Iowa City voters, was adaptable to a city of this size. It is not a "czar" plan, he said, and does give unity to the city government.

Eight Die in Fire

HARRIS, Minn. (AP)—Eight persons, the mother and seven children, were burned to death, and the father was missing tonight, as fire destroyed their farm home four miles northeast of here early today.

Liquor Conspiracy Charges Dismissed Against Six Iowans

CEDAR RAPIDS, April 11 (AP)—The federal court jury in the liquor conspiracy case against six Cedar Rapids defendants was dismissed late today by Judge George C. Scott.

The jury deliberated more than 25 hours and reported it was unable to reach a decision. The jurors revealed they were deadlocked six and six.

D. C. Browning of Sioux City, assistant district attorney, who handled the case with Glenn Beers of Waterloo, also an assistant attorney, said the government would seek to try the men again in September.

The defendants are John Wencil and William Prochask, Ed and Lloyd Malsh and Frank Spina. Charges against 11 others previously were dismissed by the court at the close of the prosecution's presentation of evidence.

Bandit Suspect Dies After Gun Battle With Two Police Officers

DES MOINES, April 11 (AP)—Wounds suffered when he tried to "shoot it out" with police officers cost Frank Houck, suspected burglar, his life today.

Houck was wounded five times in the stomach and chest yesterday when he fled after a police auto crew surprised him and another man in the doorway of an east side business establishment.

Houck had emptied his pistol at two pursuing officers before Policeman Robert Burns returned the fire, fatally wounding him. Burns and his fellow officer then were fired upon by a person standing in the doorway of a nearby house. The buckshot charge wounded them in the legs.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Burton, arrested at the house, were being held today. Fred H. Lee, also picked up in the raid, was released.

AROUND THE TOWN with DON PRYOR

Quad Car

W. C. Goodman and Henry Christenson were being held by police yesterday pending a preliminary trial on a charge of larceny of an automobile belonging to a student staying in the Quadrangle. Christenson was arrested by Officers Frank Burns and Joe Dolezal. Goodman was arrested on Riverside drive by Officer Herbert Beranek.

Gone

Members of Delta Upsilon fraternity, 320 Ellis avenue, reported that someone entered the house early yesterday morning and made off with about $18.

Be Prepared

After the house passed the 3.2 per cent beer bill yesterday City Clerk George J. Dohrer received a number of calls asking for information on the procedure for getting licenses to sell the amber liquid. Until the bill is a law there will not, of course, be any licenses issued. According to the bill, a person wishing to sell the beer to customers who will drink it on the premises will pay the city $100. Persons selling the beer to customers who take it home in wrapped packages will pay the city $25 for a license.

Red Cross

The board meeting of the Johnson county chapter of the Red Cross will be held tomorrow evening at the American Legion Community building.

Speedy

The fastest motorized passenger mail-express plane in the world flew over Iowa City yesterday morning. The plane, a new United Air line machine, was enroute from Omaha to Chicago and flew the distance in two hours and 23 minutes—an average of 186 miles an hour. Jack Curtis, manager of the local airport, said that another of the new two motored planes is expected to be in Iowa City within a week and may stop here.

HARRIS, Minn. (AP)—Eight persons, the mother and seven children, were burned to death, and the father was missing tonight, as fire destroyed their farm home four miles northeast of here early today.

Liquor Conspiracy Charges Dismissed Against Six Iowans

CEDAR RAPIDS, April 11 (AP)—The federal court jury in the liquor conspiracy case against six Cedar Rapids defendants was dismissed late today by Judge George C. Scott.

The jury deliberated more than 25 hours and reported it was unable to reach a decision. The jurors revealed they were deadlocked six and six.

D. C. Browning of Sioux City, assistant district attorney, who handled the case with Glenn Beers of Waterloo, also an assistant attorney, said the government would seek to try the men again in September.

The defendants are John Wencil and William Prochask, Ed and Lloyd Malsh and Frank Spina. Charges against 11 others previously were dismissed by the court at the close of the prosecution's presentation of evidence.

Bandit Suspect Dies After Gun Battle With Two Police Officers

DES MOINES, April 11 (AP)—Wounds suffered when he tried to "shoot it out" with police officers cost Frank Houck, suspected burglar, his life today.

Houck was wounded five times in the stomach and chest yesterday when he fled after a police auto crew surprised him and another man in the doorway of an east side business establishment.

Houck had emptied his pistol at two pursuing officers before Policeman Robert Burns returned the fire, fatally wounding him. Burns and his fellow officer then were fired upon by a person standing in the doorway of a nearby house. The buckshot charge wounded them in the legs.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Burton, arrested at the house, were being held today. Fred H. Lee, also picked up in the raid, was released.

Governor General

Mayor Murphy, one of the original Roosevelt men in Michigan, will succeed Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. The post was originally intended for Homer Cummings, whom the president has decided to retain as attorney general.

W. R. Bradley Dies at Home

Walter R. Bradley, 73, employe of the Rock Island railroad for more than 50 years, died at his home, 1113 E. College street, at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Mr. Bradley was brought to Iowa City from Virginia when he was less than a year old. He was born Sept. 17, 1859. Residing in Iowa City and Cedar Rapids the remainder of his life, he retired as railroad conductor Sept. 30, 1929.

He was a member of St. Patrick's church, Knights of Columbus, Order of Railway Conductors of America, and the Catholic Order of Foresters. Surviving are the widow and one daughter, Florence, at home.

Funeral service will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Patrick's church and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The body is at the Hohenschuh mortuary.

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the outstanding Democratic house leaders—Representative William B. Bankhead of Alabama—today suffered what was variously reported as a heart attack and "acute indigestion" just as he completed a vigorous speech for the administration's farm mortgage refinancing bill.

F. D. Opposes Guarantee Plan

Moves Against Blanket Insurance of Bank Deposits

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Taking the lead in the formation of permanent banking legislation, President Roosevelt sent word to congressional leaders today that he was opposed to a blanket insurance or guarantee of bank deposits.

The chief executive's views, related on Capitol Hill as having been expounded to Senator Glass (D. Va.), at a White House conference today in which Secretary Woodin participated, upset the plans of congressional leaders who had agreed upon a non-governmental two billion dollar deposit insurance fund.

Late in the day, aides close to the chief executive said that he himself would speak publicly when he considered the time ripe. They undertook to emphasize that Mr. Roosevelt had not made his decisions so irrevocable that changes could not be made.

As outlined at the capitol, however, President Roosevelt's objections to the deposit insurance provision and other sections of the revised Glass bill foreshadowed possible redrafting of the tentative measure that had been agreed to by a senate banking sub-committee.

The president was reported also to have dissented from the branch banking provisions of the Glass bill and proposed restricting branch banking to county limits, while his treasury secretary was reported in senatorial circles to have objected to certain features of the proposed requirement that national banks divorce their security affiliates.

Conservation to Deal With Erosion Control

DES MOINES, April 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt's conservation program in Iowa probably will consist largely in erosion control, it was indicated in advices from Washington today.

Extent of the program will be determined by Robert Fechner, director, within about 10 days. Some consideration is being given to improving a rough, wooded section of the Pellow river, in Allamakee county.

Ray Murray, secretary of agriculture, was in Washington conferring with federal officials regarding the Iowa phases of the reforestation program. It was indicated that recruiting of unemployed for the conservation army would be done by counties, the recruits then being sent to army conditioning centers.

BEER BILL

Passes House by Vote of 65 to 43

contending that the bill as a revenue measure should have been referred to the ways and means committee. The speaker ruled the point not well taken.

Three major amendments, in addition to numerous correctives, were incorporated into the bill.

The bill as passed by the house provides:

Non-Intoxicating

That 3.2 per cent beer is non-intoxicating and may be manufactured in Iowa upon authorization by proper authorities.

Three classes of beer licenses: Class A, manufacturers and wholesalers, license fee $250, bond $5,000, permit to be issued by the state treasurer. Class B, retailers who sell for consumption on or off the premises (drug stores, restaurants, etc.), fee $100, bond $2,000, permit to be issued by municipality. Class C, merchants who sell for consumption off the premises (grocery stores), fee $25, bond $1,000.

Exceptions

Certain exceptions to the license fees: clubs within city limits and having 50 permanent members, incorporated in Iowa at least two years prior to Jan. 1, would be licensed under Class B. Hotels, Class B permit, license for 250 or more rooms $250, 100 to 150 rooms $100, less than 100 rooms $100.

That persons under 21 years of age may not purchase beer.

That beer may not be sold from midnight Saturday until 7 a.m. Monday.

Subject to Penalty

That consumption of beer on the highways or in any vehicle operating on the highways shall be subject to penalty of $100 or 30 days in jail.

That a tax on wholesalers of $1.24 for each 31 gallon barrel go with fees from Class A permits, into the state's general fund.

That fees for Class B and C permits revert to municipal general funds.

That the words bar, barroom or saloon may not be used in referring to any establishment selling beer.

Opposes Bill

Representative Weed of Madison opposed the bill declaring "woe to the man who introduces a bill for liquor that has nothing back of it but death and destruction." It was contended by Representative Sours of Floyd that the bill discriminated against the farmer and should have been postponed until the people voted on the state convention.

In answer, Representative Grell of Scott said that the present prohibition laws have created a condition which is obnoxious, while Representative Mitchell of Webster said it was an economic measure to bring revenue into the state. He appealed to the Democrats to stand by their national party and the president on the question.

Pick Flaws

Flaws were picked in the measure by Representative Goode of Davis who claimed the regulatory provisions were poorly drawn. On the other hand Representative Peaco of Clinton said the bill would provide labor and asserted that $20,000 left the state the last two days of last week for the 3.2 per cent beer sold in neighboring states.

The bill was called a "joke" by Representative Speidel of Washington who asked deference until the August session. An appeal to the majority party to stand by its platform was made by Representative Wenig of Clay who contended that congress knew its business when it said 3.2 beer was not intoxicating.

Representative Hanson of Lyon contended that 3.2 per cent beer was intoxicating, that passage of the bill would be a backward step and that it was not for the best interests of the state. Representative Peet contended the bill should have been postponed as were other tax raising measures.

Prohibition was called a "ghastly joke" by Rep. Ada Garner of Butler who said "let's at least try to regulate it."

Representative Gissel of Buchanan, Democrat, asserted he did not want to see a return to the saloon and claimed the beer was sufficient in alcoholic content to create an appetite for it in children.

It was contended by Representative Brady of Pottawattamie that the country is entering a new era "when we are going to be governed by good common sense and nothing else."

"We are going to have beer in Iowa whether this bill passes or not," said Representative Alesch of Plymouth. He said there was nothing in the bill to make it mandatory for people to use beer.

That beer of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content is intoxicating was the assertion of Representative McCreery of Linn, who contended the bill was

Rev. L. Owen Talks in Holy Week Series

Three beliefs gave Jesus the "life-giving convictions that put iron in his soul" said the Rev. Llewelyn A. Owen, pastor of the Congregational church, yesterday noon at the second of the series of Holy Week services being held in the Englert theater. The program is under the auspices of the Iowa City Ministerial association.

With the "Power of conviction" as his subject, the Rev. Mr. Owen explained that to Jesus human life was sacred, that the degradation of the common man shocked Jesus' sensitive soul.

"The sight of viciousness and unrighteousness did not trip him up in the cynic's folly. He was too far-sighted for that. He realized that spiritual forces could not conquer Rome in a day."

The Rev. Mr. Owen also noted that Jesus kept his convictions in the face of his physical suffering and mental anguish. Underneath these two powerful convictions for human righteousness there were the deep waters of Jesus' spiritual reserve, noted the pastor.

That Jesus' hope and faith were being rewarded he saw in the "devastating effect upon evil-doers in high places" pointed out by the associate editor of The Congregationalist, as arising from fear of the law. Ivar Kreuger, Al Capone, Samuel In-legislation intoxicating liquor back into Iowa.

Speaking for the bill, Representative Gallagher of Iowa attacked the eighteenth amendment claiming that it "brought in a corruption of morals and a destruction of homes."

Representative Ditto closed the argument referring to the Democratic party platform. He pointed to the fact that three bordering states had legalized beer and claimed that passage of the bill would not mitigate against either the election of delegates to the state convention or the convention consideration of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

suil, and Mayor "Jimmie" Walker of New York he cited as men receiving their due punishment.

In the recent bank disturbances that led to the arrest of conviction of four high bank officials he saw a furthering of the truth of these convictions Jesus held.

Speaking of the true Christian way of life, the speaker said: "Calmly he faces life with the conviction that he is a co-worker with God and he knows no fear can overwhelm him. This conviction comes only to the one who is ready and willing to discipline himself. It is through silence and quietness of mind that we experience the power of the Infinite."

This noon the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor of the Baptist church, will speak at the open service on "The power of faith." The services are held each noon this week from 12:05 until 12:30 p.m.

Yesterday's service was sponsored by the Kiwanis club. The Rev. C. C. Garrigues presided. Mrs. Maud Whedon Smith is serving as organist for the services.

Why is the Stem removed from the tobaccos used in Chesterfield?

That's a very simple question to answer. The stem in a tobacco leaf, like the stem in most other plants, is "woody". It hasn't any of the flavor or the aroma that you want when you smoke. And it doesn't burn right.

So after tobacco has been properly aged, one of the first things to do is to remove the stems.

But what has this to do with your enjoyment of Chesterfield cigarettes? Just this. It means that we start right when we make Chesterfield—the right kind of leaf with the stem removed, the right manufacture—everything that science knows that can make CHESTERFIELD a milder cigarette, a cigarette that tastes better.

That's why people say "They Satisfy."

Tobacco used to be stemmed by hand—Now this machine stems 14,300 leaves every hour.

Wherever you buy Chesterfields, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door
