Iowa General Assembly Winds Up Session

Houses Fail to Set Up Tax Study Plans

Adjourn Sine Die After Clearing Out Final Tasks

DES MOINES, April 21 (AP)—The forty-fifth Iowa general assembly adjourned sine die at 5:18 p.m. today, although the legislative clocks registered 12 o'clock noon, Thursday.

Clocks were stopped yesterday at 11:40 a.m. when it was discovered that the members would be unable to complete the last minute rush by the noon hour.

Many of the legislators had left for their homes before final adjournment, today being spent in waiting for the enrolling clerks to finish their work. However, it was necessary that some of the members remain because bills must be signed by the presiding officers in the presence of the house and senate.

Final Day
The final day of the session brought the defeat of plans for the creation of an interim committee to study tax revision legislation and report its findings to the special session in August. The senate and house disagreement as to the size of the proposed committee caused rejection of the proposal.

A conference committee report recommending a committee of 11 members, four each from the senate and house and three to be named by the governor, was rejected by the upper house today 24 to 17. The house had favored a committee of nine and the senate of 15.

First Business
Earlier in the session the assembly had agreed to postpone consideration of all tax revision legislation until the special session when it is proposed that it be taken up as the first order of business.

Accomplishments of the forty-fifth session, as the members left for their homes, included the passage of such major measures as those dealing with tax reduction and relief; prohibition revision and the constitutional convention on repeal; and bank, farm mortgage and insurance moratoriums and governmental reorganization.

Receiving 72 measures prepared by an interim tax reduction committee, the assembly passed about 43 of these and rejected the remainder. It was estimated that the savings made possible by the passage of these and other economy measures might amount as high as $25,000,000 a year.

3.2 Beer
Legalization of 3.2 beer was accomplished by the concerted drive of the Democratic members, aided by a number of Republicans in both houses. A bill passed earlier set up the machinery for the constitutional convention this summer on repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Relief from mortgage foreclosure actions was extended in several ways, virtually giving the courts custody of the property involved until March 1, 1935. A bank stabilization measure and a uniform bank reorganization act did much to reshape the state banking structure, while a moratorium measure gave the state insurance commissioner authority to control withdrawal of cash from insurance companies.

North Platte Men Charged With Murder
NORTH PLATTE, Neb., April 21 (AP)—Charges of first degree murder were filed in county court here today against three North Platte men in connection with the fatal gunshot wound suffered by Patrolman Noah F. Harrison, 40. The officer died early today.

The men held, County Attorney C. S. Beck said, confessed the shooting early yesterday and gave their names as Roy Crow, Charles Robinson, and I. Chapman, alias "Slim" Malone. County Judge Oscar Sandall said the arraignment will be held early next week.

Ed. O'Connor Rules Legislators Receive Usual $1,000 Salary

DES MOINES, April 21 (AP)—Iowa legislators collected their second $500 compensation for the current legislative session today after Attorney General Edward L. O'Connor ruled they were entitled to the full $1,000. The legislators previously had been paid $500.

The attorney general's ruling was requested after legislators learned that State Auditor C. W. Storms intended to pay on a $10 per day basis, as fixed by the constitution, only for the days in which the legislature actually was in session.

Such payment would have allowed the legislators a check for only $260 each today, or $760 for the entire session.

The warrants issued today were marked "not paid for want of funds." However, Governor Herring arranged with a Des Moines bank to cash the warrants, which draw six per cent interest until paid by the state.

G.O.P. Opens Fight Against Inflation Plan

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—A biting denunciation of the Roosevelt plan for controlled inflation was issued tonight over the signatures of four prominent congressional Republicans, while Democratic leaders stood their ground confident of more than enough votes for approval of the program in both senate and house.

To a statement that the presidential proposal will cause "no permanent property," that it "violates the most elementary principles" of economics and is "better designed to defeat than promote business recovery" were attached the names of Senators Reed, Pennsylvania, and Walcott, Connecticut, and Representative Snell of New York, the party floor leader, and Representative Luze, Massachusetts.

Hold Conferences
It was prepared in conferences attended also by Ogden Mills, the Hoover secretary of the treasury, and statedly bore his approval, although not his signature.

To only one provision of the Roosevelt plan, pending in the senate as the Thomas inflation amendment to the farm bill, could the G.O.P. leaders subscribe. They were willing, the statement said, to support the proposal that the federal reserve system buy up to three billion dollars worth of government bonds as a means of expanding credit. But, it was added, they could endorse such action only in view of the "existing emergency" and felt it "contained grave objections."

"Grand Scale"
The section of the legislation permitting the issuance of three billion dollars in new currency was denounced as "inflation on a grand scale" and the provision to empower the president to reduce the gold content of the dollar was dismissed as unconstitutional, with a prediction it would prove disappointing.

"Prices may rise as a result of fear, not of confidence, and no permanent prosperity can be erected on any such base," the statement said. To the minds of many on Capitol Hill.

Sanity Hearing of Winnie Judd Reopened

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 21 (AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd's sanity hearing was reopened today until tomorrow by Superior Judge Green after tentative plans for a night session had been abandoned.

The reason assigned the order for the recess was "physical inability" of Assistant County Attorney Reed "to prepare and present his argument to the jury tonight."

City Council Backs Stamp Money Plans

Gives Approval to 15 New Licenses for Beer Selling

Promise of cooperation in the Merchants' Bureau stamp money program and approval of 15 new beer permits were highlights in a variety of miscellaneous business transacted by the city council last night.

The council made tentative plans for street improvements to be financed in part with R.F.C. relief money, requested the Iowa City Light and Power company to file with the city clerk balance sheets and income accounts for the last four years.

Introduces Resolution
The resolution to join in the scrip plan was introduced by James E. Stronks, chairman of the finance committee. It provides "that the city engineer be authorized to cooperate with the scrip and employment committees in employment of men on city work who are to be paid exclusively through scrip."

It states further that the city shall pay employees' liability insurance premiums on such work. An amendment by Edward W. Sybil, which passed, limits the amount of insurance to be paid to $100.

The street improvement resolution authorizes the city engineer to prepare plans, specifications, plat, and schedule, together with an estimate of valuations of property to be assessed for repairing portions of 14 streets and alleys. Engineer Sproatt said he would prepare a definite list of the blocks to be improved.

Appeals for Unemployed
Dr. W. L. Bywater, chairman of the R.F.C. relief fund, had previously appeared and asked that all possible city improvements be made in the near future, to provide work for men who can be paid with the federal loan.

"The money is a gift so far as the city and county are concerned," Dr. Bywater said, "in that it will not have to be repaid. We have asked for $8,000 for May and June and are seeking jobs. Don't stop work. Pave a street, build a sewer, do something that will give work to these men and help restore prosperity."

Van der Zee's resolution, after reviewing the history of gas and electric cost in Iowa City during recent years, asks that financial reports for the last four years be submitted by the Iowa City Light and Power company, "in order that the city council may determine what rates are fair and reasonable."

The resolution reads in part: "The cost of electricity was reduced in December, 1929, and again in January, 1930, and should have been reduced still more during the last three years as municipal and private plants have done in many other cities."

Supreme Court Will Hear Pleas in 'Cow War' Cases in May

DES MOINES, April 21 (AP)—Reverberations of Iowa's "cow war" will be heard in the Iowa supreme court during the May term when the court hears the appeals of J. W. Lenker and Paul P. Moore convicted of conspiracy to violate the state's tuberculosis cattle test law.

Lenker and Moore were sentenced to three years each in Ft. Madison penitentiary for their activities during 1931 when the Iowa national guard was called out by the then Gov. Dan Turner to protect veterinarians testing cattle in eastern Iowa. Both are free on appeal bond. The term starts May 2.

Also on the court's calendar is the appeal of D. A. Dohy, Chicago broker who headed the now defunct Dohy Securities company. Dohy was sentenced to five years imprisonment upon conviction at Dav. court of fraudulent registration of stock.

ST. PAUL (AP)—Gov. F. B. Olson today signed a bill passed by the recent legislature to permit the state executive council to use up to $1,500,000 for relief purposes in the next two years.

Campaign for City Clean-Up

Civic Groups Request Cooperation in Plans

With April 24 to 29 set as the time for the annual spring clean-up campaign, all energies of the Merchants' Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce are being directed toward its success.

In a bulletin issued yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce, every citizen was requested to remove rubbish and litter as part of the campaign.

The rubbish is to be placed in containers, which are to be left in front of residences to be collected by men hired especially for that purpose.

"The clean-up will be conducted by wards. The first ward collections will be made Monday, the second ward Tuesday, the third ward Wednesday, the fourth ward Thursday, and the fifth ward Friday."

Dr. I. A. Rankin, city health officer, issued the following statement yesterday in connection with the campaign:

"As with individuals, so with cities and nations—the greatest physical asset is health. How fitting that first of the benefits listed in our Mayor's proclamation as resulting from Clean-up and paint-up campaigns is 'SAFEGUARDING HEALTH.'"

"Unemployment, even poverty, does not justify carelessness in these matters. Piles of rubbish, old cans, and litter are always depressing, often definitely disease producing. As sources of foul odors, as nesting places for mice and rats, and as breeding places for flies they are positively dangerous."

"Let's take advantage of the power from concerted action and, by full and hearty cooperation we can greatly improve the living conditions in the city."

(Signed) I. A. Rankin, City Health Officer.

Kidnaped Factor Youth Writes Finis to $100,000 Story

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Jerome Factor wrote the climax to his sensational kidnaping by appearing safely at his home today.

Swift sequel to the case was predicted by his father, John, in the apprehension of the conspirators who kept the 19 year old university student prisoner for eight days.

About eight men were involved in the abduction, Factor said, none of the men who had achieved much notoriety in the underworld.

Burlington Woman Suffers Injuries in Automobile Crash

Mrs. Arthur Brown of Burlington was injured and two automobiles were nearly demolished at 8:30 p.m. yesterday when a car driven by her husband crashed into an Economy Grocery delivery truck about a mile south of the airport.

Mrs. Brown, who was treated at University hospital, suffered several broken ribs and painful cuts and bruises. Five other occupants of the car were slightly cut, but were released from the hospital after receiving first aid treatment.

Dave Donovan, driver of the truck, was uninjured. The accident occurred when Brown attempted to pass a car driven by Prof. Jacob Kulowski of the college of medicine.

Libby's Son to Share Estate

To Receive $2,000,000 Subject to Okay in Court

CONCORD, N. H., April 21 (AP)—An agreement whereby the infant son of Libby Holman Reynolds and his half-sister, Anne Cameron Reynolds, II, would each receive $2,000,000 of the estate of Smith Reynolds, their father, was disclosed today.

The agreement is still subject to approval by a court of proper jurisdiction.

Details of the agreement were contained in a letter written by W. H. Hendren, Winston Salem attorney for the millionaire Reynolds tobacco family.

The letter was made part of the answer of Mrs. Joseph F. (Annie L.) Cannon, co-guardian of little Anne, to a complaint filed by the Cabarrus Bank and Trust company of Concord, joint guardian, seeking to compel her to become party to a legal action to invalidate the agreement by which the baby girl's claim to her father's estate was renounced for $500,000.

A court hearing on the bank's petition is scheduled to be held here Monday.

The share of Smith Reynolds, who was shot to death July 6 in his Winston Salem home after a drinking party, in the fortune of his father, the late R. J. Reynolds, has been estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Power Lines Damaged by Heavy Snowfall

DEADWOOD, S. D., April 21 (AP)—Telephone, power and light service was interrupted today and damage of nearly $20,000 to the plants and lines of the Consolidated Light and Power company resulted from one of the heaviest snowfalls in the city's history late yesterday.

Power and light service was impaired, with service in Deadwood suspended entirely. Newspapers were printed at Lead as all activity in Deadwood depending upon electric power was at a standstill.

N.C.A. Drops Five Schools

Athletic Conditions Said Responsible for Four Actions

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—The University of Detroit and four colleges were dropped from the accredited list of the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools today.

Reasons for the action in the case of four of the schools included "athletic conditions."

In addition to the University of Detroit, the other schools dropped were: Augustana college and Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill.; Hamline university, St. Paul, Minn.; New Mexico State Teachers college, Silver City, N. M.; and the Municipal University of Wichita, Kan.

The action on the colleges came shortly after the association dropped 12 high schools because of inability to meet the association's requirements.

CHICAGO—The North Central association of colleges and secondary schools recommended that Grant Junior high and Washington senior high schools of Cedar Rapids, Ia., be dropped from membership because of inability to meet association requirements.

Macon Makes Maiden Flight

Sister Ship to Akron Tested by Crew of Navy Men

AKRON, Ohio, April 21 (AP)—The new leviathan of the skies, the Goodyear Zeppelin dirigible Macon, shuttled back and forth across northern Ohio today in her maiden flight, the first of a series of tests to determine finally whether the navy will welcome her into the fleet.

The huge silver twin of the U. S. S. Akron, which fell into the sea two weeks ago with a loss of 73 lives, soared into the sky from her dock here. Without formality a navy crew calmly loosed the giant craft on an all day shakedown cruise to observe her general characteristics.

Capt. Alger H. Dresel, skipper of the Macon and former commander of the Los Angeles and the Akron, gave the command, "Up ship" at 5:59 a.m. (EST). The Macon floated away from her giant portable mooring mast and a moment later her propellers, swiveled downward, lifted her.

Aboard were 105 persons including 11 officers, eight members of the naval board of inspection headed by Rear Admiral Day and 31 engineers and inspectors of the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation, the builders. Among them were Dr. Karl Arnstein, designer of the Akron and the Macon.

The huge craft landed here at 6:52 p.m. (EST) after cruising nearly 13 hours over northern Ohio and Lake Erie.

Prime Minister, President Start Conferences in Hopes to Untangle Economic Snarl

Will Take Up Ideas for Reviving World Trade, Stabilizing Fluctuating Currencies Through Tariff Agreements

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—In a capital seething with war against depression, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain put their heads together tonight to find ways for better days.

The British prime minister, shortly after his arrival, told newspapermen of his purpose to seek with the president and the other nations a solution for the economic crisis.

A few hours before a confident president put a new stimulus into congressional leaders for the pending legislation to give him control of the monetary situation and negotiate agreements he has in mind for his foreign discussions.

Revive World Trade
He will take up with Prime Minister MacDonald over the week end his ideas for reviving world trade and stabilizing the fluctuating currencies through reciprocal tariff agreements and for a restoration of the gold standard on an international scale.

To his demand for power to reduce the gold content of the dollar as a means of getting new world currency basis, Democratic leaders responded with a promise of action.

But the Republicans, under the leadership of Ogden Mills, the Hoover secretary of the treasury, struck out at the same time in their first bold attack on the Roosevelt economic program, assailing the money control measure as unconstitutional and dangerous.

Bitter Debate
The Republican opposition augured bitter debate on Capitol Hill, but the Democratic majority was ready to invoke cloture to drive the bill through.

Neither the president nor Mr. MacDonald would go into details in their talks with newspapermen about their plans for world recovery. It was emphasized by each, however, that friendliness prevailed in the common purpose for a revival of the world's conditions.

The British leader swept aside comment on the action of the United States in going off the gold standard, this week with the assertion that no enmity was in his heart.

So, too, was there an evident desire on the part of this government to make it clear to the foreign emissaries coming for the Roosevelt parleys that no ulterior purpose for advantage in the negotiations was behind the gold standard move that depreciated the dollar in foreign exchange.

Nevertheless, Mr. Roosevelt went into the first of his economic talks with the statesmen of the world tonight in a position to deal more easily for a readjustment of the world monetary system.

He now seeks only the authority he has asked from congress for a free hand in commanding the American monetary situation.

Council Acts to Alter City Zoning Law

The Midway inn on Riverside drive would be removed from the business and industrial district by an ordinance which received its first reading before the city council last night.

The measure, introduced by Van der Zee, seeks to repeal section one of ordinance 1692. This would strike out the words "all the land owned by Amelia Sorenson, east of Riverside drive," the present site of the inn.

Bidders for the city gas and oil contract were Kelley brothers, Home Oil company, Complete Auto Service, Capital Oil company, Sears-Roebuck bid for oil only.

Beauty, Music Compete for Honors as Margaret McCulley Holds Court at Junior Prom

Five Attending Princesses, Queen Write Finis to University's Formal Season; Ted Weems Furnishes Music

Iowa beauty and dance tunes vied for first honors last night as Prom Queen Margaret McCulley, A2 of Omaha, Neb., and her five attending princesses, selected by McClelland Barclay, New York illustrator, gathered their court at the Junior Prom, to write finis on the university's formal season.

Miss McCulley was attended by Patricia Irish, A2 of Nevada; Mary Ann Seamonds, C4 of Maquoketa; Jane Dutcher, A4 of Iowa City; Beverly Westfall, A1 of West Liberty; and Mildred Bernick, A2 of Iowa City.

The music of Ted Weems and his orchestra was abruptly stilled at 11 p.m. as Hunter Gehlbach, C3 of Ogden, editor of the 1934 Hawkeye, introduced and presented each woman with a corsage. The 600 couples who attended the party applauded the entrance of the beauties through two small doors in the black and silver fan-shaped panels which formed the background for the orchestra.

Miss McCulley, a Kappa Alpha Theta, wore red accessories with her gown of white lace. The formal was fashioned on simple lines, with a tight bodice, molded hips, and a flared skirt. Garnet jewelry lent color to the dress. Ernest McFarland, M4 of Ames, was Miss McCulley's escort.

Gamma Phi Beta's beauty, Patricia Irish, was dressed in a formal of pale green rough crepe made with draped shoulders and a waist dotted with silver sequins. With it she wore silver slippers, brilliant earrings and bracelet, and a white bunny jacket. She carried a bag of brilliants. Miss Irish's escort was James Redman, M1 of Monticello.

A gown of white crepe with a bias skirt flaring at the knees was chosen by Miss Seamonds, a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. The belt, together with earrings and bracelet, was of brilliants, her pumps of white. Miss Seamonds wore a black velvet wrap. She was escorted by William Ahlert.

Contrasting colors of yellow and brown were chosen by Miss Dutcher, who is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Brown buckles adorned each shoulder and the waist of her gown, which was of yellow crepe. Simple pleating, in U-shape, on each side of the gown, lent to its attractiveness. Yellow shoes and a yellow taffeta wrap completed her costume. She wore no jewelry. John Jarvis, L of Charleston, escorted Miss Dutcher.

Miss Westfall, a member of Chi Omega sorority, wore a plain white crepe gown with a tucked red velvet jacket fastened at the neck by three rhinestone buttons. Earrings and bracelets of brilliants were her only accessories. Miss Westfall was accompanied by William Cozine of Iowa City.

Miss Bernick, an Alpha Delta Pi, wore a formal of coral elephantear crepe, designed on Grecian lines. Her slippers were pink, trimmed in silver, and for jewelry she chose dangling brilliant earrings with bracelet to match. A corsage of white violets and pink roses and a brocade wrap trimmed in white fox completed her attire. She was escorted by W. Burton Witke, M2 of Preston.

Red accessories were worn with the white satin formal chosen by Eleanor Alford, A2 of Waterloo, who was the guest of Tom Moore, A3 of Waterloo. Mr. Moore was chairman of the committee which planned the party. Miss Alford's backless gown was fashioned with a white bustle. She wore garnet jewelry, red slippers, and a red velvet wrap.

Evelyn Benda, J3 of Iowa City and a member of the committee, was attended in a fitted yellow net gown. A large cape collar and the full flared skirt were edged with wide ruffles. Two small yellow and green taffeta flowers in front and a large one at the back of the collar, together with a green taffeta belt completed the costume. Accessories were crystal earrings and pendant. Miss Benda was accompanied by Lumund Wilcox, L1 of Jefferson.

A frock of American beauty organza was chosen by Jean Downink, A3 of Anamosa, also a member of the

Machado's Dictatorship of Cuba Menaced by Underground Revolt

Assassination and Reprisal by Bullet and Bomb Feature Sub Rosa Warfare for Control of Island. Terrorism Stalks Beautiful Havana.

HAVANA, Cuba, April 21—It is difficult to associate this sun-drenched land, where Americans come to relax from business cares, with anything except the gaiety which appears upon the surface. The seven-day tourist, who is shepherded about Havana's beautiful parks and public buildings, probably would lift his eyebrows in the well-known "Oh, yeah!" manner if one were to tell him that he is strolling gaily along on top of a volcano. But beneath the surface loveliness of Havana, and the entire island of Cuba, for that matter, the cauldron of revolt is actively boiling.

Bombings and shootings, details of which are rigidly suppressed, occur with such frequency that the native Cuban no longer marvels. Nor does he speak of what he sees. He has learned to his cost that the golden rule in Cuba is silence unless one is very sure that the person to whom one speaks is trustworthy. For there are two factions in the sunny paradise and a wrong word dropped to the wrong party is usually followed by the sudden demise of the indiscreet speaker.

The two factions conducting the underground warfare for control of the island are the Machadists, supporters of President Gerardo Machado, and the combination of parties whose aim is to oust the Machado government. There are at least six different groups headed toward that goal. They are the A B C secret terrorists society, an association made up of students, another composed of professors, the Nationalist party, the orthodox Conservative party and the anti-Machado Liberals.

in a manner vastly different from the traditional style. There is no open warfare. Instead, there is assassination and counter-assassination. The anti-government bloc is engaged in a campaign of terrorism by bullet and bomb, its object to instill such fear into Machadistas as will compel them to relinquish their posts.

On the other hand, President Machado's secret police are not standing idle. They have introduced American gangster methods as a means of reprisal, and have worked frightful havoc among the opposition and its sympathizers. Sometimes they make a mistake and shoot down an unfortunate that had no political affiliations whatsoever. This, according to the revolutionary junta, has happened frequently, particularly during the week before Easter, when the shootings by "ley de fuga" reached a new high. Incidentally, "ley de fuga" is the law of flight, which gives a police officer the right to kill a prisoner attempting to escape. It is charged by anti-government supporters that a great many of "attempted escapes" that ended in fatal shootings were "framed" by the secret police.

Meanwhile, President Machado denies that there is any revolution. A few malcontents, certainly, but no organized revolutionary body. What is more, the president has muzzled the press, native and foreign, in an attempt to keep the lid on the revolution which he says does not exist.

Local Youth Wins Highest Scout Honor

Earl Staten Named to Eagle Rank Last Night

Highest honor in scouting was presented to Earl Staten Browning, Jr., of troop No. 14 of the Methodist church, who received an eagle scout badge at the Boy Scout court of honor for the Iowa city district held Thursday evening at the Johnson county court house.

Members of troop No. 14 stood at attention during the presentation of the award by R. G. Popham, chairman of the court of honor. Mrs. Browning pinned the badge on her son.

"In 1931, less than 9,000 eagle scout awards were made out of a total of a million and a quarter registered scouts," declared Mr. Popham.

The new eagle scout had earned nine more merit badges than the 21 required for the eagle rank. He first joined the Boy Scouts two years ago at the camp near Riverside. He received his second class badge in October, 1931, his first class pin four months later, star scout award in July, 1932, and life scout award last October.

Other awards given at the court of honor were: second class scouts, William Buckley, troop No. 2; Winston LaPorte, troop No. 14; and Vern Wagner, troop No. 14.

First class scouts: Sidney Miller, troop No. 5. Second class merit badges: Newell Embrey, safety; Edward Mason, personal health; Daryl Ratzlaff, carpentry and dairying; and Kenneth Schleiter, personal health and safety. All of these scouts were from troop No. 14.

First class merit badges: Sidney Miller, troop No. 5, life saving; Robert Speidel, troop No. 5, camping and safety; Ernest Holderness, troop No. 14, conservation; and Arlo Youcum, troop No. 14, handicraft, dairying, and carpentry.

Members of the court of honor were Mr. Popham, Dean Wilber J. Treeters, C. L. Kent, Edward Ross, and Scout Executive Glen G. Poroyce.

Hill Makes Talk Before Unemployed Engineers to Use Pontoons in Mock Warfare on River

"Current child problems" was the subject of a talk by Dr. Theron S. Hill, assistant professor in the college of medicine, before more than 130 unemployed persons in the American Legion Community building yesterday at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Hill discussed the problems of child discipline, education, and how a child's emotional reactions are often patterned after his parents.

Dr. Hill expressed his belief in the necessity of discipline within certain limits. "But where fear is the chief stimulus, deceit is sometimes built up in the child," he said. "Eradication of this sense of deceit early in the child's life is a necessary step," explained the speaker.

Inconsistency in the use of punishment was pointed out as undesirable. "Making major issues out of minor ones, and curbing the child on every side is sometimes a fault of the parents," Dr. Hill said.

Child adjustment at school was emphasized by Dr. Hill as being very important. "Parents sometimes feel that their child is being discriminated against in school, while the causes are to be found in the home," he said.

"Emotional reactions of the child are frequently patterned after those of the parents," continued Dr. Hill. "In many cases emotional outbursts of children follow similar actions of the parent." Following Dr. Hill's talk there was a dance in the ballroom. Music was provided by the Bluebird orchestra.

Architect, Mason, Carpenter, Musician—All These and More is Professor Ruckmick

By Jane Kirk

Prof. Christian A. Ruckmick of the psychology department likes to make things.

Among his numerous hobbies are architecture, masonry, cabinet work, photography, boating, music, and making radios.

No architect had to be employed in the construction of Professor Ruckmick's home at 212 Ferson avenue. He conceived and drew the plans for it himself, fitting it to the sloping lot, making a water-color sketch to see how it would look when completed, and supervising the construction.

Full-Beamed Ceiling The ceiling of the living room is full-beamed with lumber sent from the north, while the shutters at the windows are of cypress from the south.

Professor Ruckmick built the living-room fireplace of stones sent from all over the country by friends and relatives. The keystone is a paving block from New York and the mantel piece a railroad tie. A stone from Cape Cod is centered next to one from the Pacific coast, and there are stones from Lexington, Concord, Lake Walden, and Colorado. There is even a piece of petrified wood among them.

Index Contributors An index is kept which gives the name of the contributor of each stone and the place from which it came. There were enough stones left over when this was finished to make a rock garden outside.

In the basement is a complete work bench with a smaller one next to it where Professor Ruckmick and his son work side by side. Here originated the huge oak study desk, complete with dove-tail drawers, which he uses. At present he is at work on a mahogany grandfather's clock, for which he purchased a set of works with weights and Westminster chimes.

W. N. Leeper, Mrs. Lucille La-cock, J. A. Larsen, Fred R. McNeal, and Velma Harding of Iowa City and Mrs. Aaron Roe of Tiffin are candidates for the post. Mr. Leeper is the present superintendent.

Notices have been sent out by County Auditor Ed Sulek to presidents of rural independent districts in the county announcing township meetings to select delegates from each township to attend the county convention of school presidents here May 9. The meetings will be held next Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29.

He is elected for a three year term. The superintendent's salary is now $2,000 a year.

Righter Leaves for Music Conference; to Lead Orchestra

Push Meyer Murder Trial

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., April 21 (AP)—The question of whether Rose Gendler was dead or alive when she was hurled from a high bridge over the Rock river near Moline Dec. 21 was the central point of expert testimony today in the murder trial of Maurice R. Meyer, Rock Island.

Rulings of Judge Leonard E. Telen, who is hearing the case without a jury in Rock Island county circuit court, barred opinions by Dr. F. H. Lamb of Davenport in answer to two hypothetical questions put by the prosecution.

The questions asked by State's Attorney Francis King included findings of Dr. Lamb as applied to a body of the same size as the victim's, but the court ruled in sustaining objections by the defense that the questions were not in the proper form.

Dr. Lamb, state's witness, was placed on the stand in an effort to show that Miss Gendler's death was due to her fall from the 38 foot bridge onto the ice of the river below. The defense is building its case.

Iowa City Gardens

GARDENS HAVE played a large part in helping folks to get something to eat—when money for food purchases was not too handy.

Available ground can be made to produce a good volume of foodstuffs, but more is needed than has been planted in the past.

Contracts not to sell any of the produce, to conserve as much as possible for winter use, and to keep the gardens in orderly condition are the only formalities of getting under way to aid in this project.

For a community moving spirit, that cause is hard to beat.

The Necessary Crisis

DEVELOPMENTS yesterday pointed to the probability that the action of the United States in dropping off the gold standard and letting the dollar find its own level on foreign exchanges would insure the success of the coming world economic conference in London.

The action drastically changed the whole world economic picture overnight by removing the last great standard of currency from its traditional golden peg.

The final outcome of the situation will be the stampeding of all nations to the economic conference determined to settle upon some reasonable and relatively fixed international standard of exchange.

Not many months ago a popular columnist predicted that the conference would come to naught in common with so many other conferences unless the world economic situation reached a severe crisis beforehand.

As to the outcome of the conference, it seems highly probable that the nations will agree upon some system of bi-metalism at a comparatively stable ratio.

It will require something more than a plea for cooperation to accomplish such results. The fear of impending chaos will be necessary, sadly enough, to bring the conferees to a realization of the urgent necessity for common action.

The conference must mark the final termination of artificial economic warfare and point the way to a new era of international intelligence.

Russia—Thinking It Over

BRITISH electrical engineers, an 80 per cent embargo on Russian imports was clamped down Wednesday by England's ruler.

Immediately following, perturbed labor leaders conferred with parliament members toward gaining a reconsideration of the action, and Soviet Ambassador Maisky, chairman of the Russian trade delegation, talked the situation over with Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, and the board of trade, seeking to avoid a break because of the critical stage to which matters had risen.

George Bernard Shaw jumped into the controversy in typical fashion when he stated on his return from a world cruise that "all people trying to provoke a war with Russia should be hanged for practical treason to their own country."

While the crotchety Irishman's opinion is without particular value, the stress between the countries cannot be pleasant.

English government is primarily concerned with the safety of its subjects, no matter under what flag they may be situated. Parliament gave it the embargo power a week ago, while the grilling of the half-dozen engineers was under way.

An embargo would put a crimp in British manufactures which depend on Russian lumber, would affect the prices of oils, and would slow cotton goods production.

That is the question of Russia's recognition by the United States government. Russia will think seriously before moving into any action which will by chance offend England further, as long as the United States leaves the question of recognition in doubt.

TODAY'S TOPICS

BY FRANK JAFFE

A brief survey of what happened during the forty-fifth session of the Iowa general assembly reveals a wide variety of legislation, much of it aimed at better government, more secure banks, and farm property relief.

The first of the administration's governmental reorganization measures were passed by an almost purely party vote. They provided for financial control by the governor over every state department, required state departments to petition for quarterly allotments of their appropriations, and allows the governor to reduce these allotments in the event of a threatened deficit.

The bill also created the office of state comptroller at a salary of $4,500. Other bills restrict the power of the state auditor to post-auditing claims. Cuts in officials' salaries made by the house of representatives totalled nearly $1,600,000, while the compromise measure is expected to save the state about $250,000 less than that figure.

The annual appropriation of $11,822,744 was made for the next biennium, compared with $15,424,726 for the present one. The biggest cuts were received by the board of control and board of education institutions.

Only one of several hundred constitutional amendments was passed by the assembly—permitting discontinuance of the state census. The federal "lame duck" amendment was ratified early in the session, but the proposed amendment to give congress power to limit, regulate, and prohibit labor of persons under 18 years of age was killed.

The outstanding economic legislation that passed this session was the Beatty-Bennett bill, requiring that 1933-34 county, city, and town tax levies must not exceed 80 per cent of the total levies for 1930. This was one of the 43 interim committee's bills approved by both houses.

Emergency bills for the protection of depositors in closed banks, as well as new regulations for reopening of banks, and formation of new ones were passed, including one measure that reduces the minimum capitalization for the establishment of state banks.

At the request of Governor Clyde L. Herring, the bills calling for net and gross income taxes, gross sales tax, chain store tax, and franchise tax were held up until the August session.

Repeal of the five-day marriage law because of a heavy decrease in revenue was effected despite the opposition from women's clubs throughout the state. The state beer bill, of course, was another outstanding piece of legislation.

Among the proposed measures that met with little success in either the house or senate were a regulatory bill to place all contract carriers under the jurisdiction of the state railroad commission; to permit municipalities to own and operate telephone systems; to eliminate from the code the laws pertaining to desecration of the Sabbath; to eliminate compulsory military training; to permit the state highway commission to devise a method of refunding outstanding primary road bonds.

Hundreds of other bills were introduced, many others accepted, a majority of them killed. Although the assembly was faced with a huge task in the alleviation of tax assessments and in the economic reorganization of the state government, it fared much better than was expected. Another huge task awaits the August session, which promises to do the one that ended yesterday in warm debate and argumentation.

Guardsmen Protest Cut

Iowans Move Against Proposed Slash in Activity

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—National guard officers in Iowa have protested vigorously against the possibility that the administration may move to curtail national guard activities in the interests of economy.

Adjutant General Charles Grahl, in a telegram to Senator L. J. Dickinson, said the proposal to eliminate national guard field training and reduce armory drills from 48 to 24 would "work a tremendous hardship" on national guardsmen.

He pointed out that the pay granted guardsmen assists many to feed and clothe themselves and dependents, and that withdrawal of funds would be seriously felt in 40 Iowa cities and towns.

"In these times of unsettled world conditions the United States cannot afford to jeopardize the efficiency of the national guard," Grahl said. "The proposed drastic reduction means practical destruction of the guard, as its efficiency cannot be maintained with less than 48 drills and 15 days of field training per year."

"Every community supporting a national guard unit joins with the 3,700 officers and enlisted men of the Iowa national guard in protesting the proposed reduction."

Senator Dickinson, in reply, said that the authority vested in the president and the feeling that the administration must have its way in carrying out its program, made it impossible to take legislative action to prevent the cut.

FT. DODGE, April 21 (AP)—Petitions seeking the removal of Mayor George Burnet and Public Safety Commissioner O. W. Sundberg were being circulated here today. They request a special election to determine whether the men shall retain the offices to which they were elected recently.

The petition charges incompetency and neglect in performance of official duties and indifference in making appointments to city offices.

This remarkable record of public service by an American statesman was further enhanced by a chieftaincy of the Cherokee Indians at an early time in his career. Destructive Effects of Electric Arcs Described in Transit

Conversion of solid blocks of wood into splinters, vaporization of metallic wire, starting of fires, decomposition of oil or water with explosive violence—these are some of the destructive effects which may be obtained with a million volt generator in an electrical laboratory.

What happens when a discharge of electrical energy takes place in a gaseous conductor is described in a leading article on "The behavior of electric arcs" by C. E. Krause in the April issue of The Transit.

Lightning was man's first introduction to the electrical arc. For ages lightning was either feared or ignored, never attracting more than casual scientific attention. Not until miniature lightning flashes could be reproduced in the laboratory have they been systematically studied, the article says.

Common forms of the electric arc are those which occur when a power line is broken, when switches and circuit breakers are opened, or when currents within a system change at too great a rate.

Machines which are used in producing synthetic lightning, and instruments for studying and photographing electric arcs are described in the article. Cuts to illustrate the article were furnished through the courtesy of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

Cooperative dormitories at Kellogg house and at the field house are described in an article on "The reduced cost of an education" by Alfred O. Phares, E2 of Iowa City. "The cultural value of a four-year college course" is discussed by Philip F. Kromer, Jr., G of Columbus, Ohio, in an essay which was submitted in partial fulfillment of entrance requirements to Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity.

'Popular Astronomy' Prints Article Written by C. C. Wylie

Likelihood that large masses of shattered meteoric material lie under any of the supposed meteoric craters in various parts of the world is slight, according to an article on "The formation of meteoric craters" by Prof. C. C. Wylie, university astronomer, in the current April issue of "Popular Astronomy," published monthly at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

Best known of these craters is the famous Meteor Crater of Arizona, a circular, cup-shaped depression 4,000 feet across and 600 feet deep. Its rim juts 150 feet above the surrounding plain. Other well known craters include a group of 10 in central Siberia, a 530-foot crater near Odessa, Tex.; several craters in the Baltic region, Europe; and a group of 13 in central Australia. Meteoric material was recovered near most of the craters. Several hundred elliptical depressions along the Carolina coastal plain, locally called "bays," are now believed by Melton and Schriever of the University of Oklahoma, to have been formed by the impact of a swarm of giant meteorites, possibly a comet.

That the craters are of meteoric origin, Professor Wylie believes is true. Given a meteor of sufficient size, the kinetic energy released on striking the earth would cause a violent explosion, he says.

Observations by Professor Wylie indicate that the larger the meteor, the nearer it approaches the earth before disappearing, the less it is affected by air resistance, and the deeper it penetrates the ground. An iron meteorite of 100-foot diameter, weighing 100,000 tons, would possess enough energy to produce the Arizona crater, he believes.

Meteors enter the earth's atmosphere at speeds varying from 10 to

Iowa Station W9XK Seeks New License

Application for the first renewal of the university's visual broadcasting license has been made to the federal radio commission at Washington, D. C.

License was originally granted to station W9XK April 6, 1932, the first issued to a visual station west of the Mississippi river. Plans for television were conceived by Prof. E. B. Kurtz, head of the electrical engineering department, in 1930, and a laboratory model was displayed at the 1931 State Fair.

The first sight-sound performance was given before President Walter A. Jessup, Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, and the deans of the various colleges January 25.

The first public demonstration was made March 3 at a Baconian lecture by Professor Kurtz in the chemistry building.

Station W9XK is the first equipped by a liberal arts university, and has been a pioneer in the field of educational broadcasting.

40 miles a second. At 25 miles a second, a meteor with original speed undiminished would strike the earth with a kinetic energy equal to 120 times its weight in nitroglycerine, Professor Wylie declares.

A tremendous explosion would result, the meteorite would be melted and shattered and a large part of it vaporized, and a crater would result from the explosion. Fragments would be scattered over the surrounding country, others presumably hurled under the crater, but it would be hard to conceive of any large mass unshattered, he concludes.

Herring Praises Legislators as Iowa Assembly Adjourns

Will Inform Solons of Special Projects for August Session

DES MOINES, April 21 (AP)—Gov. Clyde L. Herring, in his adjournment message to the general assembly, today congratulated the legislators for their "patriotic and intelligent legislation."

Herring advised the members that he planned to keep in touch with them between now and the special session in August, furnishing such information as might aid them in drafting contemplated legislation.

Text of Message
The text of the message was as follows:
"Your committee informed me that the 45th general assembly is prepared to adjourn and invites any final communication which the executive desires to make.

"I acknowledge this courtesy, and although there is nothing of official character which requires this communication, I do wish to send you the congratulations of the executive department of the government upon the splendid results achieved by this general assembly in the way of patriotic and intelligent legislation.

"Thousands of letters which cross my desk from citizens throughout the state justify me in saying to you that the sentiment of the people of Iowa is that you have performed a notable service in a most trying and difficult time.

"Universal Approval"
"Not only from these letters, but from newspapers and the 'man on the street' comes this universal approval, and it should be a matter of satisfaction to you to know that your strenuous efforts are approved. It is my opinion that the pages of legislative history in Iowa may be searched in vain for a record equal in constructive legislation to the one which this legislature has made.

"Between this time and August I shall send to you from time to time such information as may be available and helpful to you in considering the special session of the continuance of the constructive program which has been so splendidly started and which will give to the people of Iowa a more moderate, efficient and democratic form of government.

Hawkeye Baseball Team Opens at Home Against Upper Iowa

Iowa Engages Grinnell in Track Dual Today; Quartet of Runners to Compete at Kansas

SPORT

by EUGENE THORNE

The Hawkeye baseball team opens its home season this afternoon against Upper Iowa. Coach Vogel expects to have his outfit greatly improved in both fielding and hitting for today's contest, and while chances for an Iowa win are good, the Peacocks may cause the Old Gold team plenty of trouble. To Frank Stempel, veteran right hander, will probably go the task of trying to tame the bats of the veteran Upper Iowans. If the Vogel nine ever gets straightened out, it will cause plenty of trouble for the opposition before the season ends.

In addition to the baseball game here, the track team will be engaged both at Lawrence, Kan., in the Kansas relays and at Grinnell in a dual meet. While hopes for returning their championship in the half mile relay are slim, the quartet of Hawk-eyes at Kansas have a good chance for a mile relay win. The golfers will meet DePaul at home today while the tennis team winds up against Northwestern at Evanston.

Tipton Trims Little Hawks

Inexperienced City High Team Loses Opener, 100 to 26

The Tipton track team, in a dual meet against Iowa City high yesterday afternoon, easily defeated the Little Hawks by the count of 100-34 to 26-14 points. The Tipton squad showed strength in all events, while City high was forced to gain most of its points in the field events.

Cook, a slender little Tipton runner, was the outstanding man of the meet. He started off by winning the 440 yard dash in 57.3, and followed this by a second in the 100 yard dash. He also ran anchor man in the four lap relay which defeated Iowa City high with the time of 2:51.4.

Marshall Wins Javelin
Marshall was high point man for Iowa City by virtue of a 144 foot heave in the javelin throw and a third in the pole vault. He also placed second in the shot put with a 37 foot seven inch toss. Kirkpatrick, Stout, and Pulwider were the Little Hawks' other high scoring men.

Walton, the Tipton sprint star, easily took the 100 and 220 yard dashes with times of .11 and .25.1 respectively.

The soft track and strong head wind cut the time in all events down appreciably. However, some of the times recorded were good for an early season meet.

Coach Wells' boys were all inexperienced, since there hasn't been any track at Iowa City high during the last three years.

Summary
100 yard dash—Won by Walton; Tipton; Cook, Tipton, second; and Wells, Tipton, third. Time—11.

One mile run—Won by Zajcok, Tipton; Lembaugh, Tipton, second; and Meachum, Iowa City, third. Time—5:44.4.

220 yard dash—Won by Walton; Wilde, second, both of Tipton; and Kirkpatrick, Iowa City, third. Time 26.1.

Shot put—Won by Muteher, Iowa City; Marshall, Iowa City, second; and Walton, Tipton, third. Distance—47 feet 1.2 inches.

440 yard dash—Won by Cook, Tipton; Ferguson, Iowa City, second; Zager, Iowa City, third. Time 57.3.

880 yard dash—Won by Shaffer, Tipton; Manner, Tipton, second; and Bell, Tipton, third. Time 2:18.3.

Discus throw—Won by Butterbrodt, Tipton; Shank, Tipton, second; and Warner, Tipton, third. Distance—85 feet.

High jump—Won by Lind, Tipton; Stout, Iowa City. Hamilton and Wentzell, of Tipton, tied for second. Height—5 feet 3 inches.

High hurdles—Won by Lind, Tipton; Marten, Tipton, second; and Pulwider, Iowa City, third. Time—17.8.

Vogel Expects More Batting Power Today

Stempel or Rieke Will Get Call to Open on Mound

The local baseball season will open today when the University of Iowa team meets Upper Iowa university at Fayette field at 2:30 p.m. This will be the first home appearance of the Old Gold nine since it played Northwestern last May.

Since Upper Iowa will be opening its schedule, the Hawk-eyes will have the edge due to the four games that they played last week in Michigan. However, the Peacocks have six veterans back from last season's team. It has been 11 years since the two institutions last met, back in 1922, when an even break was the result of a two game series.

Good Practices
The Iowa team has had good weather all week in which to prepare for the game. Coach Otto Vogel has been driving the players in an attempt to knock off the rough edges of the team which were so apparent on the recent trip. The team is expected to show a better batting punch than it has hitherto shown this year, when bad weather conditions restricted the outdoor hitting drills.

There will be a few changes in the team's personnel. Frank Drager, erstwhile varsity shortstop and third baseman, will in all probability make his debut as an outfielder. He will replace Schammel and Wolfe, in the right field berth. Neither one of these boys have been fielding at top form. Drager will undoubtedly furnish the necessary defensive skill.

Stempel May Start
Either Bill Rieke or Franklin Stempel, veteran right handers, will start on the mound for the Hawk-eyes. Stempel, the work horse of the team's pitchers last season, appears to be in tip-top condition and it may be that Vogel will give him the nod for tomorrow's opener. However, if the boys from Fayette show too heavy a batting punch, it may be that both the veterans will see action.

Capt. Mike Riegert has been moved up to the cleanup position in the batting lineup. His .400 batting average on the recent trip was all that kept Iowa going. Last season only a fair hitter, Riegert has turned into a deadly batter, particularly with men on the bases.

The Hawk-I club has reserved the whole section behind first base. All letter men have been asked to sit in the section and wear their sweaters.

Lineups
Probable starting order:
Iowa—Schulteheinrich, 2b; Drager, rf; Bazant, 3b; Riegert, c; If; Laws, cf; Benn, ss; Baker, 1b; Schmidt or Blackman, c; Rieke or Stempel, p.

Upper Iowa—Ryan, rf; Sungalia, 3b; Hughes, p; Anderson, c; Michalski, lf; Gleason, 2b; Tynan, cf; Osterman, 1b; Smith, ss.

Golfers Meet DePaul Team

Coach Kennett to Rely Upon New Men in First Dual

The Hawkeye golfers will pair off this morning against De Paul college of Chicago in an effort to avenge last year's defeat. Coach Kennett is placing the bulk of Iowa's hopes in the double play on the shoulders of new men on the squad, using Ralph Harmon, Fred Beck, newcomers, with Joe Schlangier and Charles Van Epps, the two veterans in the lineup for the morning play. Harmon and Beck are paired against McKay and Basco of De Paul, while Schlangier and Van Epps, meet Thomas and McInerney.

The Hawk-eyes are meeting hard competition for their first actual match this season and will find De Paul headed by Doug McKay, 1931 champion and 1932 runner-up in the Chicago public links tournament.

The singles play will take place at 1:15 p.m. with Coach Kennett selecting four men from the doubles teams in addition to the remaining members of the squad; George Clark, Leroy Vanderwicken, John Jacobsen, John Stromsten, and Robert Van Seoy.

Gregory Falls in Eighth Inning Rally by Browns

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Irving (Bump) Hadley held the Chicago White Sox to two singles, faced just 29 men and pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4 to 0 triumph today.

The husky Brownie right hander, who once was a member of the Sox, was given a tussle by young Paul Gregory for seven innings but in the eighth a walk and three hits, along with a hit off Chad Kimsey, who replaced him, accounted for all the St. Louis scoring.

Mule Haas singled off Hadley in the first but was caught in a double play. Jack Hayes who singled in the fourth and reached second on Bruce Campbell's error, was the only Chicagoan to reach the middle station.

Al Simmons walked with two out in the fourth but got no farther. Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Louis000 000 040—4 7 1 Chicago000 000 000—0 2 1 Batteries—Hadley and Ferrell; Gregory, Kimsey and Grube.

Bucs Open Home Season in 5 to 1 Win Over Cincinnati

Bottomley's Home Run Only Score Off Pirate Hurler

PITTSBURGH, April 21 (AP)—With an eighth inning explosion of their heavy artillery and a three hit performance by their moundsman, the Pittsburgh Pirates opened their 1933 season for the home folks today by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 1.

A disappointing crowd of 13,000—one of the smallest in 30 years—turned out to see the 10 year old daughter of Honus Wagner, greatest shortstop of all time and now a Pirate coach, toss out the first ball.

Then for six innings Bill Swift, who had beaten the Reds in the first game of the season at Cincinnati last week with a four hit game, tangled with St. Johnson, Cincinnati ace, in a great hurling duel.

Spectacular fielding by Bottomley and Grantham checked potential Pirate rallies while "Big Jim" added to their discomfort by hoisting a pitch out of the park in the sixth for a home run.

Take First Place
The victory, with the defeat of the New York Giants, hoisted the Pirates into first place in the National league.

Braves Get First Victory of Season

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Although they got only four hits, the Boston Braves succeeded in winning their first game of the season and giving the Giants their first defeat when Hal Schumacher's wildness gave Boston a 3 to 1 decision.

Schumacher handed out two passes in the fourth inning and uncorked a pair of wild pitches which singled by Jordan and Hogan produced all the Boston runs. Seibold weakened after seven good innings and was replaced by Cantwell.

Travis Jackson made his first appearance at short for the Giants since last June, playing the last two innings. He hit a single and started a double play on his only fielding chance.

There were 27 schools entered in the affair Thursday, including 10 in class A and 17 in class B. University high and St. Patrick's will compete in class B, along with Vinton, Marion, Monticello, Sumner, Valley Junction, Waverly, Teachers high of Cedar Falls, Algona, Dysart, Independence, Corwith, Manchester, Tama, Iowa Falls, and Storm Lake.

Class A entries include Clinton, East Waterloo, West Waterloo, Cherokee, Ames, Grant of Cedar Rapids, Ft. Dodge, Grinnell, Dubuque, and Webster City.

Hoskinson, Dean, Page, Cook to Defend Iowa Championship in Half Mile, Also Run Mile

Absence of Stars Makes Dual at Grinnell Toss-Up

Four Hawkeye sprint stars, Capt. Calvin Hoskinson, Sidney Dean, Bernard Page, and Robert Cook, will compete in the Kansas relays today in defense of their championship in the half mile relay and the record of 3:30 in the mile relay which was set by the Iowa relay team of 1926. The Old Gold runners hope to set a new record in this event. They have run the mile relay indoors in 3:22.1, which is better time than by any other Iowa team.

Twenty-eight Hawkeye track and field men under the direction of Assistant Coach Ted Swenson will journey to Grinnell today to engage the Pioneers in a dual meet, the first outdoor track dual between the two institutions in more than a dozen years. With both squads weakened by the absence of star performers, who are competing in the Kansas relays, the meet looks to turn into a tossup, as was this year's indoor meet, when the Old Gold beat the Pioneers by only 7½ points.

Grinnell Leads Sprints
Iowa will miss its quartet of sprinters in the dashes and Alexander should take both the 100 and 220 yard sprints for the Pioneers, with the possibility of an upset by Henry in the longer run. Nehus has a chance in the 100. In the quarter mile it is Alexander again, with a possible upset by Henry.

The tables will be turned when the distance races are run, for the Pioneer aces, Pilbrow and Pfeiffer, are absent at Kansas. Gordon remains, however, but he will have a hard fight with Campisi, diminutive Hawkeye, who did a 4:31.3 mile in the meet at Coe last Saturday. He should nose out Gordon. Barber will have little trouble in winning the two mile for Grinnell. Schlaser has had trouble in rounding into shape and has not appeared at his best. Dick Bott has the odds in the 880 yard run with Gordon second. Bott beat Gordon indoors but it may turn into a battle.

Hurdles Battle
In the 120 yard high hurdles, Tabb and Corcoran will battle W. Grounds, who took second to Tabb in the indoor meet, and also a second in the State Indoor Quadrangular meet. The same conditions prevail in the 220 yard low hurdles, with Grounds the favorite in this event.

Rose should win the shot put for Grinnell unless Moore can let loose a toss of more than 43 feet. Massey is sure to place. Morrissey and Henry should fight it out for the high jump with R. Grounds and Dickinson fighting for the last two places. Morrissey jumped 5 feet 3½ inches at Coe last Saturday and should do the same or more today.

No Relays
Iowa will suffer the loss of Schmidt in the pole vault and Grinnell is favored to cop this event. Parzybok, who tied for third with Schmidt in the State Indoor Quadrangular meet, should outvault Jantzen and James. Henry might do something in this event.

James should have little trouble in winning the broad jump, but he might be pushed by Hutton.

There will be no relay races.

Ruth Gets Second Home Run as Champs Get Eighteen Hits

BOSTON, April 21 (AP)—The New York Yankees went on their first real batting spree of 1933 today and hammered the Red Sox into submission 7 to 5 before a crowd of 18,000 in the local American league opening.

Babe Ruth's second homer of the season, a drive over the left field scoreboard off Johnny Welch's delivery in the fourth inning, was a high spot of the 18 hit assault. Charley Ruffing, winning his second game of the campaign, gave eight hits and fanned seven.

Score by innings: R. H. E. New York311 110 000—7 18 1 Boston000 020 030—5 8 1 Batteries: Ruffing and Dickey; Welland, Welch, McLaughlin and Shea.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

SYNOPSIS

Mary Faith, young and comely orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy young business man. She informs Mark that she is leaving her position to marry Kimberley Farrell, handsome young lawyer, to whom she has been engaged for some time.

CHAPTER XII

Kim and his girl were still looking at mesh bags when they left the store. Mary Faith did not glance in their direction as she passed them.

"I'm going to meet my mother at six and drive her home," he said as they turned west toward the garage. "So I'll have plenty of time to take you home first, Mary Faith. Unless you'd like to go somewhere and have some tea..."

"Mary Faith, don't you know I'm in love with you?"

with Mrs. Puckett. "I spend every day in the week with you in your office, Mr. Nesbit." "I don't want you in my office!" he interrupted her sharply. He swung her to one side of the wet, crowded pavement and stopped before an enormous shop window filled with Christmas toys.

INFLATION G. O. P. Move Against Plan

hill, the issuance of the statement marked the mobilization of the first organized opposition to the Roosevelt program legislation and a definite end to inter-party cooperation on what the president considers emergency matters.

Senator Reed, who is leading the opposition in his branch of congress, already had announced that Republican regulars would discuss the measure at length in an effort to build up public sentiment against it.

No Fillbuster He disavowed any intention of filibustering and Senator Robinson today accepted his assurance to this effect. Nevertheless, Democrats were ready to clamp the stringent cloture rule upon the opposition, should the debate become unduly protracted.

Later today President Roosevelt's wish for prompt enactment was emphasized, as well as his desire that the pending farm bill be passed in addition, although the purpose of the latter may be partially attained by inflationary means. The chief executive, it was learned, fears that farmers might lose the benefit of higher price levels unless power is given the administration to check surplus production.

Anxious for Approval

His anxiety for speedy congressional approval is prompted by the fact his conversations with foreign statesmen began tonight with the arrival of Great Britain's prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, and the inflation amendment gives him powers useful in obtaining international agreements to stabilize currencies and promote trade revival.

Analyzing the inflation legislation, the Republican statement said: "The second section authorizes resort to the printing press and the issuance of fiat currency. It is not simply an alternative proposal to section 1, (the federal reserve provision) but may be supplemental. That is in addition to the three billion of bond secured currency provided for by section 1. Section 2 authorizes the issuance of three billion of notes with no reserve or security of any kind back of them—undisguised printing press or 'say-so' money."

Half Secured

"In other words, the two sections combined mean six billion of additional currency half secured by paper and half just paper. This would represent a doubling of our already swollen circulation. It is inflation on a grand scale. If it does not produce the expected results the government, having conceded the principle, will be forced to increase this dose."

"If it does make the prices rise because of loss of confidence in the value of the country's currency then the government may well find, as did those of Germany and France, that inflation once started feeds upon itself and soon gets completely out of control."

"This bill may well constitute the first step on the road to ruin which the German people took under compulsion, but upon which it is proposed we now voluntarily embark."

"The third section would authorize the president in his discretion to fix the number of grains in the gold dollar but at not less than 50 per cent of the present standard. This is unconstitutional. Section 8 of the constitution vests in the congress the power to coin money, regulate the value, thereof, and of foreign

Grain Market Prices Suffer From Selling

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Inflation lost its grip today as an immediate stimulating influence on the grain markets.

Hectic buying that has recently hoisted wheat more than 20 cents a bushel went into comparative eclipse today and prices worked downward, especially in the late dealings. A sharp break in British exchange and in the value of silver, with New York stock market weakness and rains in drought districts of domestic winter wheat territory, had unsettling effects on grain traders' confidence.

Wheat closed unsteady at almost the day's bottom prices, 1.14-1.14 under yesterday's finish, corn 1.8-34 down, oats unchanged, and provisions varying from 17 cents decline to a rise of 20 cents.

In the face of announcement of administration plans for $3,000,000,000 inflation, grain prices fell as soon as business started. Selling orders predominated in all the speculative pits, and new buying was of much less volume than of late.

Many professional traders expressed opinions that the wheat market had gone forward too rapidly, and that there was need now for extreme caution. Heavy selling of wheat holdings was apparent throughout the day.

Corn and oats were relatively firmer than wheat. Eastern shipping demand for corn was improved. Provisions averaged lower with grains.

nations have asked for relief from the war debts. The president is ready to consider that but he first is going to put forward his program for economic revival and seek assurance of that as a basis for debt aid.

Before the week ends, Mr. Roosevelt will propose to the Briton the following: Return of the nations to a gold standard at a reasonable ratio in the interest of world stabilization of money.

"A multi-lateral treaty among the powers to establish silver as a part of the monetary system; and Agreements for world wide and simultaneous reductions of the tariff barriers of the leading nations."

Just how far Mr. Roosevelt is willing to go on the demands from the European nations for relief on the war debts owed to America probably will not be determined until he finds what is going to be done on his proposals.

Closely following Mr. MacDonald here will come Edouard Herriot, special emissary of France; Prime Minister Bennett of Canada; and then the appointed spokesman of the eight other leading powers.

coin and fix the standard of weights and measures. "But aside from the constitutional feature it is unthinkable that there should be vested in any individual the arbitrary power to alter at will the value of money which so directly and vitally affects all human relationships, obligations, activities, rights and property."

Bond Market Prices Rise

High Grade, Secondary Issues Join in Parade

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—The bond market resumed its climb today at a lively pace and high grade, as well as secondary issues, participated in recoveries that ranged from 1 to 5 or more points.

Sales totaled $19,171,000 par value, and the average for 10 domestic corporate bonds was up four-tenths of a point.

The majority of federal maturities, reflecting reports of banking purchases, registered gains of 1-32nd to 18-32nds of a point with the heaviest turnover in Liberty fourth 4-14s. Liberty 3 1-2s eased, as did one of the treasury 3 3-8s. Issues of American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Santa Fe, Duquesne Light, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific and others of the high bracket group rallied 1 to around 3 points.

Among the most active carrier gainers were some loans of Baltimore and Ohio, St. Paul, Chicago and Northwestern, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and Western Pacific.

While most of the industrials were firm, various utilities were hesitant.

French government 7 1-2s jumped more than 4 points at one time, but slipped back for a net gain of 1. The Germans were reactionary, most of them showing losses of 2 or more points. British 5 1-2s were heavily traded, but closed unchanged.

Nearly 1,000 Persons Will Invade City for Lodge Convention

Odd Fellows Will Observe Anniversary

Association in Eastern Iowa to Convene Wednesday

Nearly 1,000 persons will invade Iowa City next Wednesday for the one hundred and fourteenth anniversary of the founding of the Eastern Iowa association of Odd Fellows.

The convention will be attended by delegates from eight counties in this district. The association includes the Eureka lodge, the Rebecca lodge, the Canton, and subordinate organizations and encampments.

The convention is held each year to review the work of the various committees, for the election of officers of the association for the coming year, to confer degrees, and to decide upon a city for the next convention.

Mayor Harry D. Breene will deliver a welcoming address to the delegates at the I.O.O.F. hall at 1 p.m. after the registration. The business session will be held at 4 p.m. for the election of officers and the reports of the various committees. A city will be selected for the next meeting of the association at that time.

An exhibition drill for the public will be presented by the drill team of the Cedar Rapids Jan Hus lodge at 7:30 p.m. Later in the evening the first degree of the organization will be conferred by the degree staff of the Jan Hus lodge at the American Legion Community building.

A dance is being planned for the evening at the American Legion Community building. Merchants were requested yesterday in a bulletin issued by the Chamber of Commerce to put out welcome banners for the delegates.

The Rebecca degree will be conferred by the Praha lodge, No. 5, of Cedar Rapids at the Odd Fellows hall.

Those in charge of preparations for the convention are: B. V. Bridenstine, president of the association; E. E. Menefee, vice president; and Mrs. S. A. Fitzgerald, local secretary.

Aged Lumberman Dies

ASSEMBLY Adjourns Until Special August Session

Taxpayers the assembly passed a measure extending the delinquent date on taxes from April 1 to July 1, and another allowing payment of taxes in installments of one tenth the amount due.

Governor Clyde L. Herring's reorganization program was inaugurated by the passage of three bills prepared by the Brookings institution. By means of these measures the governor will be given control of state finances and a uniform system of auditing will be established.

Marriage Law

Many other measures were approved from among the more than 1,100 bills introduced. Repeal of the five day marriage law and of the mandatory secondary road law were among the actions which held wide public attention.

As the presiding officers finished signing the last bills, the clocks were started and the outer doors opened so that president of the senate and speaker of the house were in full view of each other. As the clocks neared the hour of 12, the members and committee clerks lined the center aisles and on the dot of the hour the gavels of both presiding officers fell simultaneously, and the session had been concluded.

1,130 Bills Introduced

Since the legislature convened Jan. 9 a total of 1,130 bills were introduced, the index clerk reported. Of this total 611 originated in the house and 519 in the senate. Figures on the total measures passed by both houses had not been completed.

For the first time the Democrats controlled the house while in the senate there was an even break between the two parties, each with 25 members. Should Senator Cooney of Dubuque, Democrat, resign before the special session in August because of his appointment to the board of parole, the Republicans will have a margin of one. A special election naming a Democrat would retain the even balance of power.

Legislative history further was made in that the general assembly was adjourned by presiding officers from the same county. Both Lieutenant Governor Krausch, president of the senate, and Speaker Miller from Shelby county,

Society Awaiting New Chapter in House of Rogers Love Story

Multi-Millionaire Oil Baron May Rewed Wife, from Whom He Parted Over Titled Son-in-Law, After Second Wife Wins Divorce.

MRS. MARY BENJAMIN ROGERS

MRS. ARTURO RAMOS

NEW YORK—Gotham society, always on the lookout for choice morsels of gossip to take with five o'clock tea, is all agog over the startling development which has taken place in the romantic story of the wealthy Rogers family. A few years ago the story of Millicent Rogers and Count Ludwig Salm occupied the front pages of newspapers at home and abroad. Soon after it was the turn of her father, Colonel Henry Huddleston Rogers, Standard Oil millionaire, to take her place in the spotlight. Now the colonel is back again and society gossips are staying awake nights predicting the future course of the Rogers' private Cupid.

The present furor began with the mysterious appearance of Mrs. Margaret Miles Rogers, the millionaire's second wife, at Reno, for the purpose of establishing legal residence in the Nevada divorce territory with a view to obtaining her freedom from the oil magnate. That, in itself, had been expected by friends of the Rogers family, for it is an open secret that the marriage of the colonel to the Viennese beauty, widow of Basil Miles, American diplomat, four years ago, did not meet with the approval of his daughter, Millicent, now Mrs. Arturo Ramos, who is the apple of his eye. Then, too, say the gossips, Colonel Rogers has never ceased to care for his first wife, Mrs. Benjamin Rogers, whom he married 23 years ago when he was a student at Columbia university. She is the daughter of the late Dr. George Hilliard Benjamin, eminent scientist and lawyer.

Now with freedom from his present wife in the offing, friends of the colonel are predicting that he will remarry the first Mrs. Rogers, who divorced him in Holland in 1929. Such a reunion would mean an end of a series of marital difficulties, involving father, mother and daughter of the House of Rogers, which has been paraded before the world for a decade.

It all began with the marriage of Millicent Rogers to Count Lud-

Nation's Press Has Double Duties, Says Convention Speaker

DES MOINES, April 21 (AP)—The press of the country faces the responsibility of protecting the public and at the same time must support the government leaders, J. M. Beck of Centerville, president of the Iowa Press association, told that body today.

He urged "alert and careful" scrutiny of reconstruction steps to protect public interest and to guard against encroachment of government into private business on grounds of emergency.

To the government, Beck said, the press owed the duty of being "quick to judge what is wise and just in government action and organize an informed public opinion in support of such steps."

Beck's speech opened the annual meeting of the association. Governor Clyde Herring attended a noon luncheon which was addressed by Doyle L. Buckles of Fairbury, Neb., winner for two years of the community service trophy awarded by the National Editorial association.

Petition for Receivership of Field Mail Order House Filed

Lumber Firm Claims Bill for Poultry Shipment

WILMINGTON, Del., April 21 (AP)—Petition for receivership for the Field company, Shenandoah, Iowa mail order house, was filed in chancery court today by the Pacific Lumber company of Illinois.

The Field company also operates retail stores at Shenandoah, Hiawatha, Kan., Savannah, Mo., York, Neb., and Sioux Falls, S. D.

The petition was based on an allegation that the Field company owes the complainant $1,075 for a shipment of poultry litter made last year. It states that the defendant showed gross sales of $2,075,078 for the year ended May 31, 1932, and net loss of $211,617.

It is also alleged that the Field company defaulted an interest payment on its eight per cent debenture bond issue last Nov. 1, and that the balance of the issue $186,412, will fall due May 1.

William De Field, vice president of the Field company, said at Shenandoah that the poultry litter was to be paid for as it was sold. At present he said $850 remains unpaid.

He expressed surprise at the action, stating that the Field firm was "in financial difficulty last fall with $100,000 bills due," but that an extension was obtained from creditors. Since then, he said, more than 60 per cent of the bills have been paid.

"Instead of being alarmed at our financial condition," De Field added, we have reason to be proud of it.

Henry Field, head of the company, said he was not familiar with the lumber company account and that De Field was handling it.

Youth Born in 1923 of Mixed Parentage May Remain in U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Tommy Wuria has found a country. The boy, born of an Iowa mother and a Japanese father in Paris in 1923, will be permitted to remain with his mother, Mimi Youde Wuria in Spencer, Ia., Congressman Guy M. Gillette of Iowa announced after a conference with Secretary of Labor Perkins and immigration officials.

When Tommy's mother brought him to the United States in 1925, he was three years old and was allowed entrance on his mother's passport.

Mrs. Wuria was returning to Spencer after divorcing her husband.

Mrs. Wuria regained her American citizenship in 1930, but immigration authorities asserted they must deport the boy unless a passport were produced for him.

"Either he will be given status as a citizen of the United States or some other arrangement will be made to prevent what might have been a great injustice," Gillette reported after his conference with federal officials.

Subsistence Gardens Flourishing in County

Subsistence gardens, financed by the R. F. C. relief fund and administered by the Social Service league are being started all over Johnson county, not merely in Iowa City, Lucille Bruner, secretary, said yesterday.

Committees in Lone Tree, Oxford, Solon, and other communities are securing acreages and arranging for distribution of seeds to the needy, she said.

At that time there was some talk that Mrs. Rogers was descended from the House of Hapsburg, once reigning family of Austria-Hungary. This report was later said to have been proved without foundation.

Mrs. Rogers' first husband, Basil Miles, died in Washington in 1928 under circumstances that caused a federal investigation three years later. She had previously been the wife of Samuel Savell, an engineer, of Atlanta, Ga., and New York. She divorced him in Paris and in 1924 was a familiar figure in the gay resorts of Europe, where she met Colonel Rogers.

Iowa to Distribute R.F.C. Loan Funds Among 77 Counties

DES MOINES, April 21 (AP)—Iowa's allotment of $515,300 in relief funds from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for April and May will be apportioned among 77 counties, Ralph Kittinger, chairman of Governor Herring's unemployment committee, said today.

Kittinger said some of the counties now have unexpended balances from previous loans and that it was impossible to estimate how the money would be divided.

The only counties which will not receive loans from the April-May apportionment are Adair, Allamakee, Bremer, Butler, Clarke, Clayton, Delaware, Grundy, Guthrie, Hancock, Henry, Howard, Ida, Iowa, Keokuk, Kossuth, Lyon, Mills, Montgomery, Palo Alto, Ringgold and Winnebuck.

More than 300 Johnson county boys and girls will assemble in the ballroom of the American Legion Community building this afternoon to stage the 1933 "Gloom Killer" 4-H club party.

A stunt, entitled "Beholding Old Man Depression," will start the activities and furnish the keynote for those in attendance.

Eight separate groups, led by chairmen of the party committees, will convene to outline the year's club work plans as a preliminary session to a number of contests and stunts in charge of group leaders and County Agent S. Lysle Duncan.

Ask Investigation of Road Cement Costs

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Investigation of the cost of cement for highway construction in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana by the federal trade commission was asked today in a resolution introduced by Representative Brennan (D. Ill.).

Cement purchases by highway constructing bodies have been scrutinized by state authorities in those states. In Iowa a preliminary legislative investigation charged conspiracy on the part of cement companies to submit the same bids.

CORRECTION

Prof. F. C. Ensign of the college of education was not elected general church school superintendent of the Presbyterian church at the annual meeting Thursday night, as incorrectly reported in yesterday morning's Daily Iowan. Prof. E. F. Mason was named to that position, while Professor Ensign was chairman of a committee of five which nominated candidates for the general superintendency.
