Wallace Allowed to Levy Processing Taxes

Proceeds Will Finance Farm Reduction Plan

Compensatory Import Duties Also Permitted

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Secretary Wallace tonight was left free to impose processing taxes—one of his chief powers under the farm adjustment act—and to use the proceeds to finance acreage reduction programs on farms.

Soon after he had called on Secretary Hull for a conference that included the latter's economic experts, it was learned imposition of compensatory import taxes, required under the act as a companion to processing taxes, was ruled not in conflict with the international tariff truce.

Clears Way

The ruling cleared the way for an early start in the formulation of administrative policies by Wallace and his aides to reduce the supply of American farm commodities and seek an improvement in farm purchasing power.

The state department made it clear that Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's ambassador at large, had explained the import tax to interested nations during preliminary negotiations for the truce, which is to remain in effect for the duration of the London economic conference. After the ruling it called Davis requesting that he again explain the tax to spokesmen for the European nations at Geneva.

Southern Senators

Shortly before this, a group of southern senators, impatient to see the act to cotton, said they intended to offer "new farm legislation" unless adequate financing for cotton acreage retirement is assured.

Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, said in the house "a new farm bill" might be presented before adjournment. He declined to disclose the nature of the legislation.

Chairman Smith (D., S. C.), of the senate agriculture committee earlier in the day had called with other southern senators to urge Wallace to get cotton administration under way without delay.

They suggested that if financing were not possible under processing taxes because of the truce, the $3,300,000,000 industrial-public works bill might be amended to make $200,000,000 available to Wallace for retiring acreages of cotton and other crops this summer.

Four Nations Accept Plans of Mussolini

England, France, Italy, Germany Favor Peace Pact

ROME, May 22 (AP)—England, Germany, France and Italy were held responsible today by Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs Fulvio Suvich "for peace or war in Europe and the world."

The informal acceptance by these nations of Mussolini's four power peace pact, however, does not mean there is "less desire and necessity for collaboration" with the smaller states of Europe in observing peace, Suvich added.

Provisions of Pact

The Mussolini pact provides the best method possible for the revision of the post war peace treaties, he declared. The pact points out the possibility of revision under article 16 of the covenant of the League of Nations, which contemplated such action in event a threat to peace developed.

Premier Mussolini and many foreign diplomats heard the address by Suvich before a crowded hall of the chamber of deputies. The chamber rose to its feet and cheered Mussolini when Deputy Cassano paid a fervent tribute to the Duce's foreign policy. Mussolini smiled and bowed.

Antagonistic Groups

Suvich asserted the Mussolini pact will result in the disappearance of small groups "antagonistic one to the other which organize political maneuvers in press campaigns which produce repercussions in all countries and poison world public opinion."

The revised four power pact provides that any revision of treaties, involving the boundaries set after the World war, will be undertaken only within the framework of the League of Nations. The smaller powers of Europe, created or enlarged in area after the war, thus retain a voice in the undertaking of the four big powers.

Praises Roosevelt

Suvich praised the Roosevelt peace message and the Hitler disarmament speech before the German Reichstag, declaring a "certain sense of confidence is gaining headway" as a result of these statements.

He declared Italy would participate with an open spirit in the economic conference in London.

The four power pact was accepted here yesterday by representatives of the participant nations. Mussolini was expected to have the honor of notifying the world of formal acceptance since he was the originator of the pact.

Roosevelt Acts Swiftly to Bring Stabilization Early; Talks to Foreign Officials

Meets Representatives of Britain, France, Italy

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt acted swiftly tonight to bring about an early stabilization of exchanges and push the Geneva arms reduction conference through a quick and definite conclusion.

Action to stabilize the dollar and pound appeared imminent after a White House conference in which O. M. W. Sprague, adviser to the Bank of England, participated with officials of the treasury and federal reserve system. An announcement was promised for tomorrow.

Arms Drama

The president also took a personal hand in the world arms drama as his administration's declaration of American willingness to consult with other nations to assure peace rang around the world.

No sooner had the new doctrine been uttered at Geneva by the president's spokesman, Norman H. Davis, than the chief executive called to the White House the ambassadors of Italy and Germany.

From Ambassador Rosso of Italy he was believed to have sought full information as to the Mussolini four power "peace club" for Europe, whose approval by Germany, France, Great Britain and Italy was hailed by officials here as another augury for peace.

Ambassador Luther

To Ambassador Luther the president was understood to have expressed his appreciation of Germany's recent conciliatory attitude on arms and his hope that the German government would work for success at Geneva.

Rosso would not say whether war debts were discussed with the president. Luther told newspapermen all problems in which his country and the United States are interested were talked over.

Attorney Seeks Change of Venue in Farm War Case

LE MARS, May 22 (AP)—Nelson Miller, counsel for Martin Rosburg, one of the alleged leaders in the attack on Judge C. C. Bradley, today filed objections to a motion by County Attorney E. P. Murray for a change of venue.

In his attempt to combat the state's contention that the presence of the militia prejudiced the residents against the state making convictions impossible, Miller filed 50 affidavits from Plymouth county residents.

Miller said that the state had sent the militia here and that therefore the state should suffer the consequences. He also claimed the constitutional rights for his clients to be tried in the county where the alleged offense was committed.

The board of supervisors approved the appointment of Leo Penteg, new deputy sheriff, succeeding T. C. Parker.

Harriman's Trial Delayed

Case Postponed Until Close of Mitchell's Hearing

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—A tilt between government and defense counsel over the condition of Joseph W. Harriman ensued in federal court today as Judge Goddard continued for a week the banker's trial on charges of falsifying to the extent of more than $1,600,000 the accounts of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company.

Judge Goddard said that, despite Harriman's condition, his trial probably would not be called until the income tax case against Charles E. Mitchell is completed.

Resting Comfortably

At the Nassau hospital in Minnesota, where Harriman was taken after stabbing himself over the heart—an aftermath of his disappearance from a New York sanitarium—physicians said the banker was resting comfortably, and that he probably would be brought to New York tomorrow or Wednesday.

U. S. Attorney Medalle, when the banker's trial was called today, said he would like to have "some competent evidence" concerning Harriman's condition.

Attorney

"And we would like to know," answered Harriman's attorney, G. S. Leisure, "if Mr. Medalle wants to go to trial this morning."

Medalle wanted to know when Harriman would be returned to the jurisdiction of the federal court here.

First Capital State Makes Change to National Charter

Institution Drops State Affiliation at End of First Year

The First Capital State bank will be changed to a national bank as soon as approval is given by the comptroller of the currency at Washington, D. C., the stockholders decided at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. yesterday in the American Legion Community building.

Unanimous approval was given to the resolution authorizing the directors of the bank to change the institution from a state to a national bank. The name of the bank will be changed to First Capital National bank of Iowa City and the directorate will continue unchanged.

Presented by Nagle

The resolution was presented by Lee Nagle, president of the bank, who appointed Sidney Winter and Dale Yoder as tellers. Dean Chester A. Phillips of the college of commerce and one of the directors of the bank, explained the advantages and disadvantages of the state banking system and compared it to the national system.

Moved by Arthur Cox and seconded by Dean George F. Kay, a vote on the resolution was taken and it was unanimously adopted. The resolution is as follows:

Mooney Trial Starts Today

Last Effort to Gain Dismissal Fails to Succeed

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22 (AP)—The state supreme court late today denied the petition of John O'Gara, attorney and law professor, for a writ of mandate to compel Superior Judge Louis Ward to dismiss the remaining indictment against Thomas J. Mooney, convicted Preparedness Day parade bomber.

The decision means that Mooney will go on trial tomorrow.

In a brief order denying the petition, the court declared O'Gara, a private citizen, was "unqualified to commence the action on behalf of the people of the state of California without the consent of the state attorney general."

State law requires that any legal action taken in the name or on behalf of the people of the state must have the consent of the attorney general.

The ruling concluded that the "order must be denied for want of a proper party as plaintiff."

U. S. Pledges Self to Policy of 'Hands Off'

Permits Other Nations to Deal With War Instigators

GENEVA, May 22 (AP)—The United States government today pledged itself never to interfere with international action to deal with a menace of war once the aggressor nation responsible for that menace has been satisfactorily identified.

This far-reaching policy was announced by Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's representative, at the international disarmament conference. It was immediately interpreted as meaning that in the future the League of Nations can boycott, blockade and otherwise punish an aggressor without fear of complications by the United States.

Disarmament

Mr. Davis also committed the American government to participate in "effective, automatic and continuous" international supervision designed to make certain that the nations carry out their promises in disarmament.

"President Roosevelt's message," he said, "is a clear indication of the fact that the United States will exert its full power and influence and accept its just share of responsibility to make the results in disarmament definite, prompt and effective."

His speech, greeted by the cheers of the delegates of 50 nations, was accepted by European commentators as marking abandonment of the traditional American policy of isolation and neutrality.

Helps British Navy

Concretely, the American doctrine was interpreted to mean that the British navy now can feel more free to help the League of Nations keep the peace because it will be in no danger of coming to grips with the American navy.

After announcing that the United States was willing to consult with the other states in case of a threat to peace, Mr. Davis set forth the American policy in these words:

"Further than that, in the event that the states, in conference, determine that a state has been guilty of a breach of the peace in violation of its international obligations and take measures against the violator, then, if we concur in the judgment rendered as to the responsible and guilty party, we will refrain from any action tending to defeat such collective effort which these states may thus make to restore peace."

Thus, the only condition is that

450 Men Begin Move to Three State Work Camps

DES MOINES, May 22 (AP)—Arrangements were completed today for movement of the first Iowa unit of the civilian conservation corps into work camps on three state projects.

Governor Herring has arranged for the men to be transported from Ft. Des Moines in national guard trucks, the first contingent probably leaving tomorrow.

There will be about 450 men in the first movement to camps in Albia, Keosauqua and at Lake Wapello, Davis county.

Preparations are being made for the enlistment of about 1,600 additional men, which with those who have recently been enlisted at the rate of about 150 a day will bring the strength of the reforestation army in the state to near the 5,000 quota. County quotas probably will be revised before the actual enlistment of the third group is started.

Promise Definitely to Lower Burden When Conditions Permit

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — The gigantic administration public works-industrial control bill was unanimously ordered reported to the house tonight by the ways and means committee which, at the same time, ordered continued for another year all of the excise taxes levied in the billion dollar tax bill enacted a year ago.

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—A larger slice of individual incomes and a part of the earnings from stocks will go into the financing of the government's public works program under a decision today by the house ways and means committee.

In deciding to boost income tax rates, tax stock dividends and raise gasoline levies, however, the committee wrote into the bill a definite promise that as soon as the condition of the treasury warrants, either from repeal of the eighteenth amendment or from better business conditions, the new taxes will be suspended.

Reject Sales Tax

Rejecting a modified sales tax by an 18 to 6 vote, the committee approved by 13 to 9 the program the treasury estimated would raise the $221,000,000 annually necessary to fund the projected $3,300,000,000 public works bond issue.

The revenue slate adopted provides:

An increase from 4 to 6 per cent in the tax rate on net incomes of $4,000 and an increase from 3 to 10 per cent in all above that amount to yield an estimated $46,000,000.

Making corporation dividends subject to the new income tax rates, estimated by the treasury to produce $83,000,000.

Additional Taxes

An additional tax of three-fourths of one cent a gallon on gasoline to return $92,000,000.

Driving ahead in executive session with a view to reporting the measure for house action Wednesday, the committee temporarily laid aside the Marland oil control measure, referred to it Saturday by Speaker Rainey with the suggestion from President Roosevelt that they be combined.

Chairman Doughton said he favored considering the bills separately, because the oil control proposal was controversial and President Roosevelt had not asked congress directly for its inclusion into the industry bill, although he mentioned it in letters to Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey.

Budget Director Confers

Meanwhile, Budget Director Douglas met with the committee behind closed doors and submitted an administration approved amendment along the lines of President Roosevelt's suggestion to congress that the new taxes be suspended if the eighteenth amendment is repealed.

At about the same time, F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said in a statement that the estimates of revenue from the return of legal liquor anticipated the sale of as much as was sold before the adoption of prohibition.

27 Initiated to Honor Society

Prof. Ruckmick Gives Address Following Ceremonies

"Learned men not only learn, but act upon their learning," Prof. Christian A. Ruckmick of the psychology department told a group of 27 Phi Beta Kappa initiates at Iowa Union last night in an address entitled "Learning on parade."

The "growing and insidious menace" of the day, however, is the tendency of learning to parade its achievements amid glare and pomp with a view to immediate reward or advancement, he said.

"It is a pernicious virus that is eating out the vitality of the ideal which Phi Beta Kappa holds dear," He declared the increasing fashion of men to parade their learning to show how learned they really are. True learning, he declared, is most frequently associated with "a certain quietness of demeanor, a modest humility of spirit in the face of the great unknown, and an attitude of self-sacrifice if not of self-effacement."

Men who connive to get honorary degrees, who lobby for official positions, who write books merely that the names may be listed, who strive for the front page and bold type, who say unusual things to produce startling effects—these bring disrepute to the name of scholar, he declared.

Selfish Seeking
Two aspects of this selfish seeking after rewards were pointed out by the speaker. Unfortunately, he said, it often brings success and recognition, and it is frequently accumulated at the cost of personal integrity and refinement.

His talk followed initiation ceremonies in the University club rooms and a dinner in the river room, the latter attended by almost 100 members, initiates, and guests.

Prof. Forest C. Ensign of the college of education, in greeting the new members, said Phi Beta Kappa was glad to welcome young persons who possessed both zeal and inherent ability for learning.

Evelyn Quandahl
Evelyn P. Quandahl of Spring Grove, Minn., highest ranking 1933 senior scholastically, responded for the initiates. She promised that the new members would do their best to uphold the high ideals maintained by the organization since its founding.

The speakers were introduced by Prof. Philip G. Clapp of the music department, president of the University of Iowa chapter, who also conducted the initiation ceremony, assisted by Prof. Herbert Martin of the philosophy department and Prof. Nellie S. Burner of the English department.

The Versailles War Treaty

"A SMOULDERING volcano" was the term applied to Europe last week by fiery Senator Borah in an address in which he called the Versailles treaty the real obstacle in the way of success at the disarmament and economic conferences.

"There has been no serious situation in Europe since the peace treaties were signed which has not been brought about, either directly or indirectly, because of terms and conditions of these treaties."

Moreover, the senator maintained that disarmament, not debts, constitutes the real problem facing the world today and that there can be no disarmament until there have been radical adjustments in the peace treaties.

Nothing more true or to the point has ever been said in all the wrangling over disarmament and debts. Behind all the arguments and disagreements are the hatreds and bitter feelings which were gathered together and crystallized in the Versailles treaty.

Senator Borah recalled a remark by Clemenceau, who said as he signed the peace treaty for France, "This is a continuation of the war!"

That was a prophecy. Its truth is evidenced by the strained condition of Europe today. France has the best equipped and most efficient army in the world and has served notice that she intends to keep it so.

Germany has begun to writhe under the iron boot that has kept her hog-bound and abject. Meanwhile the Versailles treaty has been all but suspended temporarily because of the sheer impossibility of its enforcement; but it stands as the law of Europe, fostering disunion and hate and ranking prejudices.

The situation is not beyond understanding. France craves nothing so much as security, and for good reason. Germany, on the other hand, has suffered national degradation and paid tribute almost beyond endurance. She feels the bitter sting of a huge injustice, and rightly so.

The problem for the world is to convince France that world peace is more attractive than national security and to show her how it can be accomplished. And before this can be done, the whole hideous foundation of hate upon which the Versailles treaty was built must be demolished.

Time for Decisions

WITHIN A FEW weeks, the University of Iowa, like many other institutions throughout the country, will be discharging hundreds of graduates, whom four years of study has supposedly taught to be better fitted for the battle of life.

They will go out into the world in the most difficult time the United States has seen for many years. They will face a situation in which almost all the vocations, even the "white collar" class, are far overcrowded.

Many trained and experienced workers in all lines of work, in all the professions, are drifting aimlessly, with very little likelihood of employment.

A few of these thousands of graduates will obtain employment of some sort, a still smaller few may find employment in their chosen fields, and a very small percentage will find a way toward the fulfillment of their ambitions.

But the large majority will find that they have been turned loose to face a situation which offers them nothing worthwhile—surely not worth the years they have given to advanced training.

Whether this will be a detriment to them, or whether they can turn this condition to their advantage may depend to a large extent upon them.

Now as never before there is an opportunity only for the man or woman who has something definite to contribute to business, to art, or to science.

There is now also an opportunity to turn the situation to advantage by further study in chosen fields of work—preparation for perhaps a brighter future.

The only ones who will be lost in the present upheaval are those who go out to do what so many today are doing—to drift about aimlessly, with no definite purpose. Those who make the most of the limited opportunities—those who stay in school—will find themselves in an advantageous position when better times do come.

Out for the Suckers Again

(From the Kansas City Star) With a revival of public interest in markets and securities, there come reports that sucker lists are being taken out, dusted off, and revised to date, while efforts at the sale of fraudulent or questionable stocks and bonds are going forward with a touch of the old-time vigor.

doubt a part of this feverish enterprise is in anticipation of the enactment of a national securities measure, which will offer the public greater protection than it before has had against deception and misrepresentation.

But it has been emphasized that this form of protection would not, and could not, in any sense become a guarantee of the value of new securities put on public sale. Its principal service would be in making available full information about such securities. That would serve as a helpful deterrent to fraudulent offerings. But the prospective buyer would be left the judge of values in the light of the facts disclosed for his use.

Senator Borah has called Europe a hot-bed of war. The time will come when European statesmen will use just as plain words as he does and call the United States a hot-bed of senators.

While President Roosevelt's $3,300,000,000 public works-industrial aid bill is being held up long enough to insert the administration plan for helping the oil business, economists can get right down to enumerating the stages of an industry's development. They will go something like this: 1. Infancy, seeking government aid; 2. Growth, seeking government aid; 3. Prosperity, seeking government aid; and 4. Depression, seeking government aid.

More midwestern people are being kidnaped or threatened with kidnaping every day. And the slick city critics still say that metropolitan culture doesn't spread to the provinces!

Former President Herbert Hoover, a news item states, receives from 700 to 1,000 letters a day, many of which require no answer. Can't be from creditors.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE A University of Iowa scientist the other week wanted to know why so few students seemed to be keeping up on current affairs—that is, maintaining an active interest in national and international developments. He urged some sort of Youth Movement for Iowa or for the campus or for America.

Some other faculty members, also interested in the general subject, suggested that perhaps students were too occupied with their studies to read newspapers and timely magazine articles or listen to the radio news broadcasts. Others thought that students are wont to become self-centered, that an entire campus—unless vigorously stimulated by a local experience—tends to be a little world in itself.

It seems to me that students who undertake to equip themselves for life by attending an institution of higher education realize the advantage in being well-informed on affairs of the world. But they need an objective—or they need a stimulus to turn that realization into tangible results.

It is argued, of course, that there are some students who manage, along with full schedules and board jobs and such, to know what is going on outside of their classrooms and club houses, but that those students are singularly equipped, or have a special purpose, or they are taking a course that requires the knowledge that the daily newspaper reveals.

And then there are the church discussion groups and study clubs and forums and lectures—for those interested enough to want to attend. The luncheon chats and casual exchanges of ideas come in for their share, too.

But the point is that with all the disconnected thinking done by various disconnected groups, there is no symmetry of thought, no common ground for an exchange of ideas, subject matter, suggestions.

Whether the campus needs a Youth Movement or whether it needs a director of student thinking may be debated at leisure. There is, however, a definite lack of a coordinating agency.

As for suggestions as to how this shortcoming can be remedied, students have only to look to themselves for the answer. The campus can well boast of a great mass of potential material with which to work—a few informed students, many thinking professors, interested townspeople who can present the practical side of studied problems.

Perhaps a New Deal is in order for Iowa—not because students are dissatisfied with the present one, but because these are the days when every occurrence in the world is of vital importance, days to be recorded in fat history books for future students.

Building up a store of knowledge of practical government, of international affairs, of economic planning, of an inexhaustible list of other things that are occupying the best minds of the world today, means knowing the whys and wherefores when today's dreams materialize into the world tomorrow.

There's a real opportunity awaiting the student leader or group of student activities leaders who want to perform a real service to the campus for all time. There are four months to plan for it.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE Second Semester, 1932-1933

Wednesday, May 24, 8 a.m., to Thursday, June 1, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E and F, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (2), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

Table with columns: Exam. Period, 8-10 A.M., 10-12 A.M., 2-4 P.M. Rows include dates from Wed. May 24 to Thu. Jun 1, listing Special Groups A through F and their respective subjects like Physics, Chem, Bot, Math, Sociol, Geol, Acct, Pol. Sci., Econ, Phil, Chem, French, Spanish, German, English, etc.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed (read by columns), within the particular group, who will arrange a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than regular class hour on May 8 and 9.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or, in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 22 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Thursday, May 25, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 126 meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Wednesday, May 31, 2 p.m.

N.B. All sections of freshman speech (2), (2), and (4) will meet on the days and at the periods designated below: (For rooms see departmental bulletin boards.)

- 1. Wednesday, May 24, 8-10: course (2) AA, CA
2. Thursday, May 25, 2-4: course (2) BA, BB, BC, DA, DB, DC
3. Friday, May 26, 2-4: course (2) IA, IB
4. Saturday, May 27, 2-4: course (2) GA, GB, GC, HA, HB, HC
5. Monday, May 29, 2-4: course (2) LC, LE; course (4) A, B; course 6
6. Wednesday, May 31, 10-12: course (2) KA, KB, KC, LA, LB; course 02, ZA
7. Wednesday, May 31, 2-4: course (2) JA, JB, JC, JD, JE, LD

"ODD" classes,—namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- 1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 24 to June 1, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, and F, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.;" unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "FD;"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

BEHIND THE SCENES - IN HOLLYWOOD -

By HARRISON CARROLL

STUDIO GOSSIP FILM SCANDAL SCREEN COMMENT

HOLLYWOOD — Those mad Marxes apparently couldn't stand the idea of other comedians acting in the story they worked on so long at Paramount. From now on the honeymoon home of Sue Carol and Nick Stuart will be occupied by the Bing Crosby... Credit Edmund Goulding with a swell idea. He would call the new M-G-M revue "The Hollywood Party" and have the whole thing grow out of a party that Jimmy Durante gives to Jack Pearl... Something new for pets: Dolores Del Rio has had a modernistic dog kennel built for her bull-terrier, Michael. It matches the architecture of the star's home. As predicted, Loretta Young has left Warners. Her contract took a $500 a week jump and she wouldn't compromise... George Arliss, they tell you, will not be back to this studio either... Bert Taylor's in town and seeing the sights. He is the brother of the Countess Frasso... And, incidentally, the countess is threatening to join the Douglas Fairbanks expedition to China. That is, if Doug goes. Early reports from over there are not very encouraging.

Those who received keys at that time were: John Henderson of Des Moines, Gilbert Schantz of Wayland, and Dorothy Rubenstein of Ft. Dodge.

The Mott best news story awards were made last year for the first time. William Rutledge of Berwyn, Ill., and Celia Goldberg, present society editor of The Daily Iowan, received the initial awards.

Certificates for the Sigma Delta Chi awards will be presented by F. Eugene Thorne, president of the local chapter. The recipients will be entitled to wear the Sigma Delta Chi scholarship key.

Roosevelt Program Maps Road to Recovery

REVENUE from LIQUOR IMPROVED WORKING CONDITIONS CONTROL PRODUCTION PUBLIC WORKS.

WASHINGTON — Scarcely pausing to take a breath after his dramatic appeal to the nations of the earth to forget war and get down to business, President Roosevelt opened his drive for the restoration of prosperity in the United States with the submission of his two-year national recovery plan, designed to administer a knock-out blow to the depression.

The Program
To begin with, the plan would give the president absolute authority over industry, empowering him to force its stabilization, through licensing, if necessary, and to initiate the most extensive re-employment campaign, this country, or any other, ever has seen.

Effect on Industry
The dictatorship which the president asks over industry provides for agreements by individuals or groups of industries to control production, fix hours of work and provide just wages, which must be approved by the president and may be licensed by him.

Pipe Line Company Plans Construction of 'Booster' Stations
DES MOINES, May 22 (AP)—The Great Lakes Pipe Line company, with its main Iowa terminal here, is to begin the construction of several "booster" stations to speed the flow of gasoline between the Oklahoma oil fields and Des Moines, Chicago and the Twin Cities.

The only pumping station in Iowa on the Des Moines-Kansas City line is near Osceola and booster stations will be near Lamoni and Indianola.
On the Des Moines-Chicago line present pumping stations are near Grinnell, Iowa City and Donahue.

Public Works
The gigantic public works program, unprecedented in the history of the country, calls for an outlay of $3,300,000,000 which sum would be found by the imposition of new taxes to cover the issuance, through the treasury, of bonds, notes, certificates or treasury bills under the broad powers granted for the floating of Liberty Bonds to finance the war. The president puts it up to the ways and means committee to decide on the form of tax to be imposed. But unless the committee is prepared to recommend a tax in a time limit set by the president, he will inject a recommendation of his own.

The huge program would include not only federal public works of virtually every character, but loans or grants up to 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials to states, counties and municipalities, for local improvements, including low-cost housing and slum clearance problems. This phase of the proposal would permit every locality to find work for its own unemployed. It is provided that the thirty-hour week shall apply to labor employed on public works financed by federal funds.

Repeal
While the imposition of new taxes to finance the public works program is vitally necessary at this time, the president urges that the question of ratification of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment be rushed by the states, in order that the revenue derived from the sale of liquor be utilized to relieve part of the burden from the shoulders of the taxpayer. Increased revenues, through the revival of business, would also tend to remove the need of the temporary re-employment taxes, the president pointed out. In urging the adoption of his proposals, the president declares that a national emergency exists and that speedy action is vital.

Boosters will be at Prairie City, Guernsey and West Branch.
The boosters on the Des Moines-Twin Cities line will be at Roland and at Emmons, Minn., just across the state line. The present pumping station is near Latimer.

Eight Years for Brawl
SIOUX CITY (AP)—In less than 36 hours after he had kicked Stanley Blossvich, Elizabeth, N. J., to death in a brawl, William Morris, 61-year old Negro of Seattle, Wash., pleaded guilty to manslaughter in district court here today and was sentenced to serve eight years in the Iowa penitentiary.

Investigate Levee Break
BURLINGTON (AP)—An investigation of a break in the Mississippi river levee 10 miles south of here was under way by Sheriff Frank Klopsenstein. The break, 200 feet wide, was reported by drainage district commissioners, who said it appeared that vandals had been at work on the levee. It was reported that about 13,000 acres of land were threatened by water.

Seek to Suspend Law Relating to Hawaii Governor

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt today asked congress in a special message to suspend the law requiring the governor of Hawaii to be an actual resident of the islands.

The brief message follows: "To the congress: "It is particularly necessary to select for the post of governor of Hawaii a man of experience and vision who will be regarded by all citizens of the islands as one who will be absolutely impartial in his decisions on matters as to which there may be a difference of local opinion.

"In making my choice, I should like to be free to pick either from the islands themselves or from the entire United States, the best man for this post.

"I request, therefore, suitable legislation temporarily suspending that part of the law which requires the governor of Hawaii to be an actual resident of the islands.

Prof. Ralph Barnes Contributes Article to Foreign Journal

An article on "The motion picture camera, in time and motion study research," by Prof. Ralph Barnes of the college of engineering, will appear in a forthcoming issue of the "International Review of Educational Cinematography." This paper is published at Rome, Italy, by the International Cinematographic institute, under the auspices of the League of Nations.

Professor Barnes' article deals with the present practice in the use of the motion picture camera in the leading industries in America for time and motion study purposes, and contains a report on some research which he carried on at the plant of L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriters, Inc., Groton, N. Y., in the use of the motion picture camera and the micromotion technic for the analysis of industrial operations.

It took Professor Barnes six months to prepare the bibliography, which includes outstanding books, papers, and articles in English, German, and Italian.
The publication is printed in five languages—English, French, Italian, German, and Spanish—and is an international medium for presenting advancement made in the use of motion pictures.

Farm Bureau Denied $3,000 Appropriation

LE MARS, May 22 (AP)—Charging padding of the membership list submitted by the Plymouth county Farm bureau with its claim for $3,000 appropriation, the Plymouth county board of supervisors rejected the application today.

Rejection was made on the contention that deceased persons and those who had paid no dues for three years were included in the list. The supervisors ordered the Farm bureau to remove from the court house.

Forest Army to Get Bonus

A bonus system for federal reforestation workers, to be applied in all camps, was explained yesterday by Dr. W. L. Bywater, chairman of the Johnson county R.F.C. relief committee.

According to this plan, the group of greatest ability, not to exceed five per cent in each camp, will receive $45 a month, $15 more than the ordinary workmen. A second bonus group, not to exceed eight per cent, will receive $38.

Dr. Bywater said he understood that these men will be required to send home only the $25 a month originally agreed upon.

Suggestions for a site of the Johnson county camp may be taken up by the committee at its meeting tonight at 7:30, the chairman said.

Unemployed Earn $94 During Week

In completing the airport grading project, $94 was spent last week by the American Legion Unemployment Relief association, according to the weekly report of Charles Kennett and D. W. Crum.
The only other expenditure was $12 for the secretary's salary. One hundred dollars was received from the Community Chest. The balance on hand at the end of the week was $66.35.

Gomez Wins Pitching Duel; Phillies Break Cubs' Win Streak

Tosses Six Hit Victory Over Tribe

Ferrell Matches Hits But Loses, 3 to 0 Contest

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Triumphing over Wesley Ferrell in a fine pitching duel, Vernon Gomez hurled shut out ball to give the New York Yankees a 3 to 0 victory over the Cleveland Indians today.

Each pitcher allowed only six hits but the Yankees bunched three of their blows with an error and a base on balls to score all of their runs in the eighth and break up Ferrell's brilliant pitching performance.

With the game deadlocked, Ruth reached first safely when Burnett fumbled his grounder. Gehrig forced the Bambino at second but Chapman singled and Lazzari walked, filling the bases. Dickey came through with a single to produce two runs and Crosetti connected with another to score Lazzari.

The finish was drawn a bit fine, however, when following a single by Kamm with two out in the ninth, Gomez wavered and passed Spencer and Ferrell, leading the bases. Gomez bore down, however, and forced Pinch Hitter Hale to ground out to Lazzari.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Cleveland.....000 000 000—0 6 2 New York.....000 000 03—3 6 1 Batteries: Ferrell and Spencer; Gomez and Dickey.

Red Sox Win Series Opener

BOSTON, May 22 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today turned in their third successive victory by nosing out Chicago 3 to 2 in the series opener with their White Horse rivals.

George Pipgras held Chicago to seven hits as he gained his second straight win since leaving the New York Yankees to join the Red Sox. Pipgras did not give a pass and had only two strikeouts.

For the second straight day, Johnny Hodapp had a perfect day at bat. He got a double, two singles and a pass out of four turns against Ed Durham's hurling and knocked in two of the Red Sox runs. The third Boston runner was Dusty Cooke's homer in the seventh inning.

Al Simmons drove a single through the box in the fifth and later scored after the catch on Ralph Kress' long fly for the White Sox first run. The Chicago scored again in the ninth when Evar Swanson doubled, took third when Werber fumbled Simmons' grounder and crossed the plate after Luke Appling fled out.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Chicago.....000 010 020—2 7 0 Boston.....101 000 10—3 8 1 Batteries: Durham, Heving and Grube; Pipgras and Ferrell.

Senators Edge Out Tigers, 6-5

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Shutting off a Tiger rally in the closing frames, the Washington Senators today nosed out a 6 to 5 decision over Detroit in the opening game of their series here.

Aided by the nine hit pitching of Earl Whitehill, as well as a couple of timely singles by the lefthander, the Senators entrenched themselves firmly in second place.

Much of the Nationals' batting power was lodged today in the lower section of its batting order, as both Myer and Sewell also accounted for two apiece.

Walker, Detroit left fielder, captured the batting honors of the day, however, with three safe hits, one of them a double. Bucky Harris, Tiger manager, tossed three pitchers against the Senators.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Detroit.....200 010 020—5 9 2 Washington.....200 300 10—6 13 1 Batteries: Fischer, Rowe, Hogsett and Hayworth; Whitehill, Thomas and Sewell.

Athletics Win Fourth Straight

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics won their fourth straight game 6 to 5 today in a see-saw affair that opened a three day stand with the St. Louis Browns.

Eddie Chocki's single scoring Jimmy Fox in the eighth broke a 5-5 deadlock to decide the contest.

St. Louis tied the score three times during the game. Campbell's home run off Freitas with Gullie on base deadlocked the score at 4-4 in the sixth and in the eighth a walk to Campbell and Scharlein's double tied the count at 5-5.

Frosh Ball Men Choose Stephens, McEwan Captains

Their work completed for the year, the freshman baseball men elected John Stephens, St. Louis, Mo., and Charles McEwan, Joliet, Ill., co-captains of the team.

Stephens, another of the growing list of St. Louis contributions to the Iowa ball club, is a third baseman, one of the leading hitters on the squad and probably the best infielder. He is also a wrestler, boxer, and football player.

McEwan divided his time between second base and the outfield with the latter drawing the greater play. The best hitter on the squad of 35, he will be a strong candidate for the varsity next year.

Hawks Play Upper Iowa Nine Today

Seek Second Triumph Over Peacocks; Bill Ricke on Mound

Backed by two games of perfect ball and boasting a three game winning streak, Iowa's baseball team opens the week's activity with a return game with Upper Iowa at Fayette today.

Triumphant over the Peacocks in the first game a month ago by the score of 4 to 1, the Hawks are favored to sweep the series since the Upper Iowa nine has won but one game this season. The game will serve as a final tuneup before the two important series with Iowa State the next two week ends.

Coach Otto Vogel will probably use the same lineup that carried the burden against Wisconsin with Bill Ricke scheduled to pitch. Joe Laws, Capt. Mike Riegert, and Frank Drager will work the outfield with Glen Baker, "Ham" Shulte, Heinrich, Gordon Benn and Stan Bazant in the infield and Dutch Schmidt behind the bat.

Following the game today Iowa will return home for one day's practice before heading for Ames and the first series with the Cyclones. Gene Ford and Frank Stempel will probably draw the starting assignments.

Hammer Five Cub Hurlers for 14 Blows

Starting Pitchers Fail to Last More Than Five Innings

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—Scoring in six of the nine innings, the Phillies made their season's first appearance here a profitable one today by defeating the Cubs 11 to 4. The defeat was the Cubs' first in five games.

Both starting pitchers retired in the fifth inning, Grimes after giving up nine hits and five runs and Liska after dissipating most of that advantage with wildness. Pearce, who relieved Liska, was also wild, walking two of the three batters to face him, and Phil Collins was called in with the bases loaded and the Phillies' advantage only one run. He forced Koenig to pop up to retire the side and then shut out the Cubs with two hits the remaining four innings receiving credit for the victory.

The Cubs went to pieces after this and the Phils scored five runs in the seventh on three hits off Nelson, a walk and two errors. With the bases loaded, Babe Herman tried for a shoestring catch of Collins' liner and the ball rolled past him to the fence for a triple, scoring three.

A walk, an infield out and two wild pitches scored another Philly run in the eighth.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Philadelphia.....011 210 510—11 14 2 Chicago.....000 130 000—4 7 3 Batteries: Liska, Pearce, Collins and Davis; Grimes, Nelson and Hartnett, Taylor.

Martin's Homer Gives Cards Win

ST. LOUIS, May 22 (AP)—Pepper Martin, playing despite a sprained ankle that handicapped him in the field, hit a home run with two men on base to break up a pitching duel between Ed Brandt and Bill Walker and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-0 victory over the Boston Braves in 10 innings today.

Brandt had the edge in number of hits allowed until the tenth, holding the Red Birds to five safeties while the Braves made eight off Walker.

Watkins singled to start the tenth but was caught at the plate on Whitehead's single. Then Walker helped his cause by hitting a single and Martin slammed his four bagger into the left field bleachers, scoring behind Whitehead and Walker.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Boston.....000 000 000—0 8 0 St. Louis.....000 000 003—3 9 0 Batteries: Brandt and Hogan, Walker and Wilson.

Giants Break Losing Streak

CINCINNATI, May 22 (AP)—With Hal Schumacher pitching three hit ball, the New York Giants today snapped out of their losing streak, defeating the Cincinnati Reds 9 to 0 for their first victory in six games.

St. Johnson, who had won four straight games, two of them one hit shutouts, was no puzzle to the Giants. They greeted him with four straight hits and two runs in the first inning after scoring another run in the second to drive him from the mound with a four run attack in the fifth. Stout, who also was hit hard, finished the game.

Sam Leslie led the Giants' 16 hit attack with four hits.

Score by innings: R.H.E. New York.....210 040 101—9 16 1 Cincinnati.....000 000 000—0 3 2 Batteries: Schumacher and Mancuso; Johnson, Stout and Hemsley.

Clark Wins Over Pirates, 3 to 0

PITTSBURGH, May 22 (AP)—Bill Clark outpitched Larry French in a brilliant duel of left handers today to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 3 to 0 decision over the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

Clark yielded only seven hits, all of them well scattered, while the Dodgers got to French for eight blows in the eight innings he worked. They put together four of them in the fifth for all of their runs. Chagnon hurled the last inning for the Pirates.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Brooklyn.....000 030 000—3 8 6 Pittsburgh.....000 000 000—0 7 1 Batteries: Clark and Lopez; French, Chagnon and Padden.

Hold Captain's Run at Iowa Field Today

Open to all university students, except lettermen, the race will be a mile and a quarter over the cinder track.

Delta Sig Wins Canoe Race Third Straight Year

Title at Stake

Here is the fighting face of Young Corbett, welterweight champion, who is pictured in his training quarters at Santa Monica, Cal., where is preparing for his bout with Jimmy McLarnin at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, May 29. Although McLarnin has beaten many champions, he never held a title.

Dolphins Hold Picnic; Elect 33-34 Officers

At the annual picnic of the Dolphin club, held at the Cedar Valley quarries Sunday, Bill Busby was elected president; Don Weber, vice president, and Frank Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

Following a custom that is growing in favor with coaches all over the country, the Iowa swimmers did not elect a captain for next year's team but will have one appointed by Coach Dave Armstrong for each meet. An honorary captain will be elected at the end of the season.

Tad Close was elected captain of the polo team.

The 1933 San Francisco public links golf championship drew more than 4,000 entrants.

Bodine Turns in First for 3rd Straight

Both Marks Broken as Jacobsmeyer, Close Capture Open

Delta Sigma Delta won the interfraternity canoe race for the third straight time yesterday afternoon on Iowa river when Roy Bodine and John Henderson forced their canoe down the mile and a quarter course from the island to the Iowa avenue bridge in the record time of 6:08 to beat by 40 seconds their own record of 6:48.2. This was the third straight time Bodine has been a member of the winning team.

Meyers and Bordill, Delta Upsilon paddlers, forced the winners for the whole course but the pace was too hot for them and they dropped back after making a race of it for three-quarters of the way. Phi Delta Theta took third with Zukas and Jelsma paddling.

"Jake" Jacobsmeyer and Tad Close won the open race after a battle with Wright and Luksch that lasted until the winners shot under Iowa avenue bridge with only a yard lead. Passing the second place winners 50 yards from the finish, Jacobsmeyer and Close withstood their fighting challenge to win by a narrow margin. The time was 6:11.5, a new record for the open event.

The only upset of the races was when the canoe piloted by Marvin Kuhn and James Roach capsized about 25 yards from the finish.

An extremely swift current undoubtedly helped the canoeists in their races and probably also accounted for the record times made in both races.

Maid-Rite Triumphs Over Kelley's, 7 to 0

The Maid-Rite kittenball team stepped into first place yesterday when it shut out the Kelley Cleaners, 7 to 0. Ebert led the scoring drive with a pair of home runs.

T. Fay on the mound for the Maid-Rite team pitched a clever game and was well assisted on the receiving end by Ewalt. The battery for the losers was Ahlf and D. Shannon.

The defeat yesterday put the Kelley Cleaners in second place.

The Daily Iowan game with Oakdale was called off on account of the annual journalism picnic.

Few Contests Left on List

Only One Home Game This Week; Baseball Busiest Sport

Three baseball games and a track meet, with Iowa State, Upper Iowa, and Chicago as opponents, appear on the University of Iowa's waning sports schedule this week.

After attempting to win the return game with Upper Iowa at Fayette Tuesday, the baseball team meets Iowa State at Ames Friday and Saturday in the first of four contests.

The track team faces Chicago at Iowa City Saturday in the only home dual meet of the outdoor season. Neither the tennis nor the golf teams has any more dual contests.

Iowa's nine, by playing high class ball against Wisconsin to sweep the two-game series last week end, elevated itself to a tie for fourth place in the conference standing. If Indiana loses its final game, the Hawkeyes will finish a clear fourth, with three wins in five starts.

Only four contests remain on the Hawkeye schedule after this week's events. They are the baseball games with Iowa State here May 30 and 31, the state intercollegiate golf tournament at Cedar Rapids June 6, and the national collegiate track and field championships at Chicago June 16 and 17.

The defeat yesterday put the Kelley Cleaners in second place.

The Daily Iowan game with Oakdale was called off on account of the annual journalism picnic.

After College WHAT?

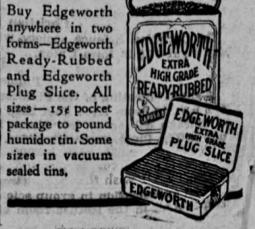

Aviation? E. E. Wyman, Assistant to the President, Pan-American Airways System, says: "Aviation is sympathetic to the college graduate who has prepared himself. It demands, however, serious and thorough preparation: technical training, a natural aptitude for constant study of problems and conditions, and a natural enthusiasm for the tasks it develops."

Aviation requires a steady hand for the pilot, a steady mind for the executive. And a good tobacco... like Edgeworth Smoking Tobacco... is mighty helpful in giving a man a steady hand, or a steady mind.

Only in Edgeworth will you find that indefinable distinctiveness that is brought about by a special blending of fine old burleys. That's why leading colleges have chosen it as their favorite tobacco.

Stocks Have Quiet Day in Wall Street

Earlier Down Trends Halted as Market Closes

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Stocks jogged along today in the quietest trading since April 28. Most of the time the market's direction was downward, thus continuing reactionary tendencies of late last week, but toward closing time quotations firmed and final prices were narrowly irregular.

Wall street noted the house ways and means committee's vote for higher income taxes, as well as the constructive appearance of "peace" developments in Europe. However, traders seemed chiefly concerned with looking for signs of the market's next move.

Oils were comforted a bit by word of firmer prices for Pennsylvania crude as well as expectations for federal control of output.

American Telephone and Allied Chemical had extreme losses of around 2 points. The latter more than recovered its dip while Telephone's net decline was a minor fraction. A higher steel operating ratio helped keep representatives of that industry steady. U. S. Steel preferred was up nearly 2 net. Bond Market Sinks Lower

U. S. Securities Move Higher as Total Sales Reach $12,070,000

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Bond prices mullied about in a relatively narrow range today and were a trifle lower at the finish.

Most U. S. government securities moved up fractionally following reports that the federal reserve system had begun purchasing.

Sales totaled $12,070,000 par value, and the average for 60 domestic corporate bonds sagged one-tenth of a point.

Most of the recent secondary rail favorites suffered losses of around a point.

Oil company bonds generally were firmer and some of the utilities rallied mildly. Gainers included issues of Armour and Co., Columbia Gas, Houston Oil, International Telephone, National Dairy, Standard Oils of New York and New Jersey and Skelly Oil.

European obligations generally improved following acceptance of the Mussolini four power peace plan.

A decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total today was smaller than expected.

An increase of 1,433,000 bushels in the corn visible supply acted as an offset to planting delays. The increase apparently made certain that the corn visible supply for May would show a gain, the first time this has occurred since 1895. Oats went lower with wheat.

Provisions averaged lower, responsive to downturns of hog values.

changed to a shade higher. Sales came to 2,227,660 shares.

Reports that the federal reserve system had begun the program of government security purchases provided by the Thomas amendment to the farm relief-inflation bill brought no comment from the local bank, which usually takes the initiative in open market operations. However, government bonds were up slightly.

Self to Policy of "Hands Off"

The United States agree with the other nations as to which is the guilty country.

In other words, according to the interpretation accepted in Geneva, America not only puts a curb on her neutrality rights but voluntarily limits her liberty on the sea.

Although America would consult with the other nations, she presumably would not vote in determining an aggressor. But leaders said tonight that Europe or the League was not likely to specify any nation as an aggressor unless it was believed that America would concur.

Davis told the conference that either something must be accomplished in disarmament or the nations must become reconciled to reverting to a race in arms.

Latter Course

"If the latter course is taken," he said, "the consequences are inevitable. Sooner or later there will be the breakdown of the peace machinery which has been so laboriously built up since 1918 and the world will be swept into another war."

He proposed drastic arms reductions, saying that the United States was prepared "to go as far as the other state."

"We feel that the ultimate objective should be to reduce armaments approximately to the level established by the peace treaties; that is, to bring armaments as soon as possible through successive stages down to the basis of a domestic police force," he continued.

Will Join Other Nations

"In particular, as emphasized by President Roosevelt, we are prepared to join other nations in abolishing weapons of an aggressive character which are not only the most costly to construct and maintain, but at present are those most likely to lead to a breach of the peace."

As a result of the Davis speech, the disarmament conference took on a distinctly more optimistic aspect. Making good Chancellor Hitler's promise, Germany virtually agreed to transform the reichswehr into a standardized conscript army, thus removing one of the chief obstacles in the way of a disarmament convention.

Moreover, it was learned from American sources, Germany is disposed to join a European pact of mutual assistance by which any country, if the victim of aggression, could count upon the help of other signatories.

Wheat Market Still Tumbles on Downgrade

CHICAGO, May 22 (AP)—Stop loss selling tumbled wheat down today to a maximum of 8 cents a bushel below recent top figures.

Many small speculators who had made eleventh hour purchases were pressing to unload today and found that the aggressive buying which was so much in evidence a short while ago had disappeared. Favorable crop reports from domestic spring wheat territory had a bearish effect and there was nervousness relative to uncertainties about administrative procedure under the new farm emergency act.

Wheat closed unstable, 1 3/4-2 1/4; under Saturday's finish, corn unchanged to 3-8 higher, oats 1 1/2-1 3/4 down and provisions unchanged to 15 cents off.

Lowest prices since April 29 were reached by wheat and the market closed at almost the day's bottom level. From the outset, sellers of wheat were in a majority except for brief intervals when buying power improved temporarily as a result of soaking rains in parts of the corn belt. In the late dealings, however, the corn market lost independence and was largely dominated by wheat.

Notable skepticism by traders was shown regarding Washington reports that the wheat administrator under the new farm emergency act was formulating plans to draw on the federal treasury without waiting for levy of a processing tax.

Bears contended that it was very doubtful any administrator would embark upon a course not entirely in accord with the complete administration program. Weakness of securities added to unsettlement of wheat and so, too, did the fact that

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Wilton Street was dark and silent when Mary Faith left that night, but the windows of the Maldons' apartment were brightly lighted and there was a long black glittering row of parked automobiles at the curb. The taxi cab drew up beside them and Mary Faith felt three or four drops of icy rain on her face as she stepped out and paid the driver.

Inside, the tall building was like a modern Tower of Babel, filled with the murmur of many voices and of radio music that seeped into the halls from behind the closed doors of the two and three-room "housekeeping" suites. Mary Faith never had seen a child, or heard the voice of a child, in the building.

The colored woman who helped out whenever the Maldons had parties was just emerging from their suite when Mary Faith arrived. She held the door open, and Mary Faith stepped inside. No one saw her for a moment as she stood in the tiny foyer, taking in the scene in the living room. Everything was just as she had known it would be. Four or five people were gathered around the tea-wagon at the far end of the room. Three or four others knelt on the rug beside a backgammon board. One couple danced slowly and dreamily in the middle of the floor. Kim and Claire.

Claire's yellow head was tilted back in the crook of Kim's arm, and she was saying something to him that made him smile. There was something in his face—a look of tender absorption—that made Mary Faith feel as if someone had taken tight hold of her heart and was squeezing it. And then in an instant that look was gone. Kim had caught sight of her. He said something to Claire, who turned and called out, "Hello, Mary Faith!" Then the two of them came forward.

"Hello, wife!" Kim said. "I had an idea you'd be along pretty soon, if I just waited for you."

"Yes, he's been fairly pacing the floor, waiting for you," Claire put in, and the group around the tea-wagon burst into a roar of laughter.

Jack Maldon had come up behind Mary Faith. "Let me take your coat," he said.

"Thanks, Jack." They confronted each other gravely in the midst of the confusion and the crazy din, exactly as two people who spoke the same language might have faced each other in a crowd of foreigners.

"Do you want to come out to the kitchen while I wash glasses?" he asked.

"That's a great idea," said Kim raucously. "You and Mary Faith go out and do your 'hewers of wood and carriers of water' act, and while you're doing that, I'll dance with your wife."

"Oh, come on and dance then and don't talk so much, Handsome!" Claire interrupted. With troubled eyes Mary Faith watched them dance across the room. She felt just then that she would cheerfully surrender a year of her life to be able to do what Claire was doing—to dance Kim away from everybody else, and make him like it.

For there was no doubt that Kim did like it. He followed Claire around the table like her shadow all the rest of the night. Mary Faith watched them thoughtfully, jealously, and with a kind of sick despair, whenever she emerged from the hot kitchen where she and Jack were cooking the breakfast that everybody demanded along toward four o'clock.

"Gosh, I'm tired!" he said, opening a can of tomatoes for the omelette that Mary Faith was preparing. He bounded tired. Tired and discouraged. "I wish this crowd would clear out and let me get some sleep."

He slept all day. Even the cough that shook his body every few minutes did not rouse him. At ten that night Mary Faith sent for the doctor, who said that Kim was in for another siege of bronchitis.

The next morning he was worse, and on the third day his fever rose to a hundred and four degrees. Mary Faith called the doctor and by the time he arrived, Kim was delirious.

"Pneumonia," Dr. Thatcher said gravely. "I've been afraid of this. You see, he never properly recovered from the first attack of bronchitis."

Day after day Mary Faith nursed Kim, hovering over him with medicine or the little clinical thermometer that told the story of the fever that was torturing him. One night when his temperature ran very high, he began to call for her. She was sitting beside him and she laid her hand on his arm and asked him what he wanted.

"I want Mary Faith," he muttered, in the thick voice of delirium.

"So," way down deep in his heart, I'm the person he thinks of and wants," she told herself as she sat there through the long hours of the night. He might flirt with a pretty girl, might go out to places like the Golden Pheasant Tavern for an evening's pleasure, or wander up to the Maldons' flat for a Dutch supper and a highball. But all those things were simply cheap excursions away from her, she mused. She and the baby and this little home of theirs were the important things in his life. She was tranquilly certain of it.

On the ninth day the fever broke and Kim was "out of the woods." A week later he was well enough to sit up, and Mary Faith hung over him, her face tender and radiant with the happiness of being near him and taking care of him.

The baby, who adored Kim, spent half his time in the room, trotting about on his small unsteady legs, or rolling his red crocheted ball up and down the counterpane of Kim's bed.

"It's so wonderful—you're getting well and the three of us are here together, safe and happy," Mary Faith said one bright snowy morning as she put Kim's room in order. She leaned over him and laid her rosy cheek against his white one for a second. But in that second she felt him draw away from her.

"If you're through fussing around in here, I'd like to lie down and be quiet," he said levelly. "Take the baby with you when you go."

He could not have hurt her more—or surprised her more—if he had struck her. He had seemed so wholly hers during the past week or two. But she knew now that that was only because he had been weak and passive in his illness.

Mary Faith had been sleeping on the couch in the sitting room ever since New Year's night, and when Kim was well enough to go back to work she made no change in that arrangement. February warmed into March, and at the end of March things were just as they had been in the autumn before Kim's illness. He stayed out late two or three times a week, making no excuse for his absences. In fact, he had very little to say to Mary Faith about anything. When he did talk to her, it was of ordinary things.

"Has my suit come back from the cleaner, Mary Faith?"

"It's in your closet, Kim."

"If you'll add up your grocery bill, I'll give you the money for it."

"Thanks, Kim."

No kiss now when he left for the office. No more pleasant evenings before the sitting room fire. No gay little jaunts to the neighborhood moving-picture theater.

He refused to take the hot bath that she got ready for him, and by the time she had made him a cup of hot coffee he was sound asleep, breathing in an uneven, rapid way that made her remember the way he had breathed a few weeks before when he had bronchitis.

"What happened, Kim? You're wet."

He had to think for a minute before he answered her. "Raining, outside," he said finally. "Raining and snowing. My car stopped on the way home. Couldn't get it started again."

He refused to take the hot bath that she got ready for him, and by the time she had made him a cup of hot coffee he was sound asleep, breathing in an uneven, rapid way that made her remember the way he had breathed a few weeks before when he had bronchitis.

Chamber of Commerce Launches 14-Point 'Prosperity' Drive for Iowa City

Program Will Include Paving of Highways, Streets; Hinges on Pending Public Works Bill

Passing of Measure by Congress Will Give Funds to City

All roads lead to Iowa City,—and they shall be paved—

In the launching of its 14-point "prosperity" campaign the Chamber of Commerce has included promotion of a paving program for Johnson county and Iowa City which if successful will bring an almost complete paved road system to Johnson county and the completion of street paving in Iowa City.

Paving
The program, which includes the promotion of paving nine miles of state highway 1 from here to Tipton through West Branch, 18 miles on state highway 1 southwest toward Kalona and Washington, U. S. highway 251 north through Solon and Mt. Vernon to Anamosa, hinges on the public works bill now before congress.

Public Works
The public works program provides for expenditures not to exceed 400 million dollars, without contribution from the state, for use as follows: For emergency construction on the federal aid highway system and extensions into and through municipalities. Sums received by the state would be used, in addition to highway construction, for elimination of traffic hazards, relocation of highways to eliminate railroad grade crossing, widening narrow bridges and roadways, replacement of unsafe bridges, construction of routes to avoid congested areas, etc.

If the bill becomes law, which will probably be decided this week, Iowa, according to the division of similar construction funds, will receive from 10 to 15 million dollars to spend for this work.

D. W. Crum, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, believes that Iowa City and vicinity would have a good chance to benefit from these funds.

In regard to paving on Burlington street he said, "We are working on the paving program only on the supposition that federal money can be obtained for the Burlington street paving, and if so, we wish to secure that paving. We have no disposition to force paving on anyone but we do believe that if the bill passes there will be money available for this."

Committee
The standing highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce was appointed by the board of directors to work on the paving program. Members of the committee are: L. C. W. Clearman, Edward Rate, George Griffith, Edwin Davis, Albert Sidwell, and J. Spruatt.

Charles A. Beckman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stressing the importance of such a program if the bill carries, pointed out that if half, or any one, of the roads were paved this year it would mean better business in Iowa City as about 50 per cent of the cost of paving is for wages.

Wait for Decision
The committee will wait until decision by congress on the bill before pushing the program but will gather complete information on it and be in readiness to carry out the program as completely as possible, Mr. Crum said.

Work on other projects, especially the one for securing a suitable camp site for the reforestation army in or near Iowa City, is progressing. Dr. W. L. Bywater, chairman of the committee, said that Johnson county has been informed that one of the camps has been allotted to the county, which means that a major portion of the work done by this unit will probably be done in this county.

SPENCER (AP)—Officers were searching for Don Howard, 34, who escaped jail here today. He had been indicted on three counts of forgery as the result of alleged passing of counterfeit traveler's checks.

Spare Moments

Professor Kurtz Compiles Mortality Tables for Physical Property as His Hobby

By Francis W. Palmer

Prof. E. B. Kurtz, head of the electrical engineering department, compiles data for making mortality tables of physical property during his spare time. It is one way, he says, to keep from "getting stale!"

For a long time he has been interested in the economic side of electrical engineering, not from the standpoint of class instruction, but as a hobby to which he devotes much of his time when not engaged in his regular work.

Undergraduate Days

As an undergraduate at the University of Wisconsin in 1917, he first became interested in studies of value and depreciation of property. He wrote his bachelor's thesis on the subject.

Four years later, on the encouragement of friends, he revised his thesis somewhat and submitted it for publication in "Administration," a journal of business analysis and control which sold for 50 cents an issue.

Replacement Insurance

His article, "Replacement Insurance," was published, and along came a check soon afterward for $100. There came a letter also, with the encouraging words: "Just what we want!"

Coinciding with the time of his honeymoon, the check was doubly welcomed, he remarked.

Publication of that article gave him a start, and since that time he has done a great deal of research in the same direction. He wrote his doctor's thesis on the basis of further studies, and the thesis has since been published in book form under the title "Life Expectancy of Physical Property."

Appeared in 1930

The volume appeared in 1930, and was reviewed in leading engineering journals. Professor Kurtz has received letters—hundreds of them—from utility executives all over the country, as well as from persons connected with tea, cement, tool, and rubber companies, and knitting mills.

These contacts with outstanding engineers have provided him many pleasurable moments. His work in this line has been a pioneering venture. His book was the first in English dealing with life tables of physical property.

Telephone Poles

Telephone poles, waterworks pumps, incandescent lamps, crossties, disc harrows, freight cars—they are all included in his life expectancy tables and mortality curves.

As head of the electrical engineering department at Iowa State college at Ames, he did considerable research along this line. His research was published two years ago in a bulletin on "Life Characteristics of Physical Property." It has become the most popular bulletin in the Ames engineering extension series.

Pile of Papers

On his desk lay a pile of papers, nearly a ream, covered with figures and computations. These, he said, were gathered to prove a single point in a book which he plans to finish this summer. In the previous book he assembled his mass of data, analyzed it, and determined the underlying mortality laws. The forthcoming book will set forth the manner of applying these laws to actual problems of evaluation.

Professor Kurtz enjoys this work because it offers a real contribution to scientific research.

"A great deal can be accomplished with comparatively little expenditure of work," he said. "The papers on his desk belied the word 'little,' but perhaps the 'comparatively' takes care of that!"

Pioneering

Pioneering strongly appeals to him. Besides his pioneering work with property mortality statistics, he was director of rural electrification in Oklahoma from 1925 to 1929—another pioneering project. Television, another sideline, is also a trail-blazing enterprise.

In summer Professor Kurtz seeks the quiet and seclusion of Devil's lake in the hills of Wisconsin, where he has a cottage. There he devotes his forenoons to his "tables," and his afternoons to golf, a minor hobby.

Last summer, he said, he played 72 games of golf without missing a day!

Robert Dorcas Hurt in Auto Collision

Robert Dorcas, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dorcas, 1603 E. Court street, suffered a compound fracture of the left arm in an automobile accident early Sunday morning on U. S. highway 161, about three miles north of Iowa City.

The car driven by Dorcas and one driven by George W. Ball of Iowa City sideswiped causing the accident, according to reports. Other occupants of the cars were uninjured.

Growers Pool 6,691 Pounds of Wool Here

Twenty-four Johnson county wool growers pooled 6,691 pounds of wool here Saturday. J. T. Winburn of Kalona, president of the local association, contributed the highest single amount, pooling 1,180 pounds.

Saturday's pool was considerably less than was expected, according to members of the organization. A similar pool here last year resulted in an accumulation of 21,740 pounds by 53 growers.
