Van der Zee Protests Water Rate Report

Seeks $12,000 Slice Below
Figures Supported in Report of City Council Committee

Final Vote Postponed
Until Meeting
Friday

Pointed disagreement on the water question again broke out in the city council last night when Alderman Jacob Van der Zee called for a $12,000 reduction below that recommended by the majority water committee report of Alderman S. M. Woodward and Edward Sybil.

The reports, presented to the city council last night, were the result of several weeks work on the part of the water committee, of which Van der Zee, Woodward, and Sybil are members. The committee has been holding numerous conferences with George Keller, manager of the Iowa Water Service company, and other company representatives since shortly after the new city administration took office.

Refuses to Sign

Van der Zee refused to sign the majority report and submitted his own report with the explanation, "I had reasons to believe Sunday that the report would not be adopted. Since then I have discovered differently."

Vote on adoption of the majority report was postponed until next Friday.

Slashing at the Iowa Water Service company and its methods Van der Zee said, "The water company has been cracking the whip over the heads of members of the Carroll and Breene administrations and this is being done, as the majority report points out, by threatening to involve the mayor and aldermen in a lawsuit to enjoin them from keeping the present water rates in force.

"Mistaken"

"If any of the good people of Iowa City think they hold stock in the water company, they are sadly mistaken—all the stock, 1,056 shares, is owned by the People's Light and Power corporation which is owned by the Tri-Utilities corporation and both of these holding corporations have been in the hands of receivers since 1931 and their offices are close to Wall street."

Allowances made in the majority report of Woodward and Sybil which also provides for a monthly service charge are as follows: annual operating expenses, $67,000; allowances for depreciation, $17,000; annual return to the owners of property should be six and one-half per cent on a value of $700,000, or an annual return of $45,500. This totals $129,500 as the gross annual income which the majority report would allow the water company. In 1931, the gross annual income was $139,705 and in 1932 was $132,888.

Carried to Courts?

They continue, "Unless the water company is permitted to receive a gross annual income substantially equal to the above specified amount of $129,500 your committee (majority) is of the opinion that the matter will be carried into the courts with a resulting heavy expense to the city and great disadvantage to the water users."

Van der Zee cuts these allowances for income as follows: taxes and operating expenses, $60,000 to $65,000; depreciation, $10,000; six per cent on a valuation of $700,000, or an annual return of $42,000, which also says is a fair return and sufficient to pay off $31,500 interest on bonds and leave $10,500 for 1,056 shares of stock. This totals $117,700 as the gross annual income which Van der Zee would allow the water company, a $12,500 reduction from the majority report.

Explains

Van der Zee explains his reasons for cutting the depreciation allowance $7,000 per year as follows: "The outrageously large sums grabbed by the company every year for the last nine years ranging from $3,500 to more than $23,000 deserve severe condemnation by the city council."

New Bill to Elevate
Status of Paper
Money Also

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The administration moved today to elevate silver and paper money to the same legal standing as gold.

A bill sent to congress by the treasury was started on its way toward passage in both house and senate. It is designed to authorize the use of legal tender money in the fulfillment of all existing and future contracts, private and international.

Immediate Assertion

The measure brought an immediate assertion from Senator Glass (D. Va.), that the measure would be held unconstitutional "if there is any integrity in the courts with regard to the sanctity of contracts."

It was described by President Roosevelt as simply designed to legalize an already existing fact, since the United States went off the gold standard in effect by the imposition of the recent gold embargo and the issuance of the presidential order calling in gold held by private citizens.

Legal Tender

The proposal would permit the government as well as private debtors to meet their obligations with legal tender money instead of gold. Despite outspoken opposition from some members on both sides, plans were made for its speedy consideration.

Secretary Woodin and Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee, in explanation of the measure said it was needed to facilitate administration of the government's campaign against hoarding and a remove any question of "bad faith" in connection with forthcoming government loans.

Few congressional leaders would comment on the legislation without further study but Senator McNary, the Republican leader, predicted it would meet with opposition "because of the retroactive feature." The resolution, introduced by Chair-

Glass, Pecora Battle During
Morgan Trial

Crowd Cheers Verbal
Exchange as Hearing
Continues

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—An uproar, precipitated by a demand from Virginia's quick speaking Senator Glass to know the goal of the inquiry into J. P. Morgan and company, climaxed a disclosure today that the firm had an interest in utility concerns whose territory embraces almost half the population of the country.

Breaking the rigid rules of silence, a crowd broke into vigorous applause when Ferdinand Pecora, the banking committee counsel, hinted he was ready to resign if senators were dissatisfied with his work.

J. P. Morgan Accused

Then, as J. P. Morgan sat by apparently amused at the unusual spectacle resolving senatorial dignity into a round table squabble, Glass retorted, half facing the crowd:

"Oh, yes, that's what it's all about. We're having a circus and all we need now is peanuts and colored lemonade."

George Howard, president of the United corporation, was on the stand at the time of the Virginia Democrat's explosive interruption of Pecora's digging questions. He was telling of the organization in January, 1929, of this great Morgan holding unit with interests in utility companies doing 22 per cent of the nation's electricity and gas business and serving areas with more than 50,000,000 persons.

Oppressive Heat

The testimony, delivered in the oppressive heat of the senate caucus room, showed that United corporation received from Morgan & company at $12,000,000 less than market prices large blocks of utility stocks. In return, United gave the Morgan house 600,000 shares of preferred stock, 800,000 of common and 714,200 in option warrants.

Then, a few days later, for $10,000,000, Morgan & company bought an additional 400,000 shares of common and 1,000,000 option warrants. The options cost $1 each and entitled the holder to purchase a share of United common at $27.50. Less than a month later these would have realized a $30 profit on the market.

No Jobs? Here's a Chance to Stay in Line for One.

By DON PRYOR

A college is searching for a man qualified for its presidency.

A $50,000 a year job as general manager of one of America's large industrial plants is vacant.

More than 12,000 men are walking the streets looking for work.

The college wants a man who is not only familiar with all fields of culture, but a man who has executive ability and business acumen; the industrial plant is looking not only for a business executive, but for a man of broad learning, one who will command the respect of all men.

Such men are seldom found. That is the reason why this college and this great business concern are comuing the nation in a search that seems almost hopeless, while 12,000 men walk the streets crying for jobs.

June 5 nearly 1,000 students will graduate from the University of Iowa. Where will they go? What will they do? Where will they be 10 years from now?

Time was when the high school was equipped for any but the most technical positions. A little study and conscientious application to work, coupled with a fair degree of native ability, were the only further requisites for success.

Time was when the college graduate was similarly equipped. Figures could be produced which proved conclusively that a college diploma was a passport to "the better things of life" and that reasonably capable college graduates were almost invariably successful. Times have changed.

It is no longer sufficient that a man finish four years of university training. His interest in all subjects must be kept alive. He must not only know his own special field with more thoroughness than ever before, but he must keep in constant and sympathetic touch with hundreds of contemporary problems. Only such men are able to take their places in the parade and keep them today.

That is the reason, say students and professors alike, why the enrollment in the University of Iowa sum-

Gives Roosevelt Power

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Opposition in the house to the Roosevelt $3,300,000,000 public works-industrial-taxation bill crumbled tonight and the measure, amended to plug up holes in the income tax laws, was passed 324 to 76.

It goes to the senate, where favorable action is expected by Democratic leaders after the income tax program approved by the house is revised to ease the burden on men of small incomes.

Before acting on the bill, the house voted down an attempt by Representative McCormack (D., Mass.) to insert a 2½ per cent general manufacturers' sales tax into the bill to finance the $3,300,000,000 public works bond issue.

Approve Revenue Plans

In rejecting the sales tax 265 to 137, the house approved a revenue program increasing income and gasoline taxes and making corporate dividends subject to the higher income levies.

Difficult

"When I discussed the debts with Mr. Roosevelt," said the special envoy to the Washington conversations, "I found a man as well disposed to us as a chief of state can be but a man in the grip of difficulties.

"The taxes are designed to raise $220,000,000 annually to cover interest and amortization charges on the bond issue.

Without a dissenting vote, the house adopted an amendment by Representative Ragon (D., Ark.), designed to prevent income tax payers from charging off year old losses in making out income tax returns.

This amendment grew out of the disclosures before the senate banking committee investigating J. P. Morgan and company. Ragon told the house that had this amendment been in the law, it would not have been possible for Morgan and his partners to avoid payments of taxes. It limits to the current year deductions of net losses of all descriptions sustained by individuals and corporations.

Give Employment

The measure is designed to give employment to millions of men and will empower President Roosevelt to exercise control over competition in industry.

The house spent two days on the measure, considered by President Roosevelt as one of the most important in his emergency legislative program.

The bill empowers President Roosevelt to establish fair codes of competition in industry through suspension of the anti-trust laws.

Fix Hours

He is empowered to fix maximum working hours and minimum wages for workers in industry.

The public works program has been estimated capable of giving about four million men jobs. About $2,000,000,000 is to be advanced to the states and local governments, 70 per cent in outright gifts.

In addition, $400,000,000 is to be given the states for highway construction. This is to be distributed on the basis of one half for population and a fourth each for area and post road mileage.

This allocation was inserted on an administration amendment offered by Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.), of the ways and means committee, who piloted the measure through the house.

Attempts were made by Representative Fuller (D., Ark.), and Representative Blanton (D., Tex.), to restore the old basis of allocation of one third each on population, area and post road mileage in the states. On a final record vote, however, the change was approved 222 to 181.

The balance of about $900,000,000

Jessamine Chapter of O.E.S. Honors Charter Members

Local Organization Passes Fortieth Milestone in Evening Spent With Reminiscences; Five Women Receive Gifts

Stately gold tapers burned low, flickered and went out last night as Jessamine chapter No. 135 of O.E.S. passed its fortieth milestone, honoring five charter members with a celebration permeated with comradeship and reminiscences.

Smilingly gracious, white-haired and dignified, the five charter members of the original 26 were presented with gifts in recognition of the honor due them. Mrs. Estella Ball, Tacie Thompson, Mrs. Arthur Younkin, and Mrs. Penema Lindsay were given quaint pots of trailing ivy, and W. E. Shrader was the recipient of a desk pad.

A high white birthday cake, glistening with icing, and bearing on its surface a replica of an Eastern star done in colored sugar, and surrounded by spun sugar roses, violets and juncos, was the center of attention at the long speakers table, and at each plate, a miniature cake held one tiny candle. Long sprays of delicate bridal wreath, combined with yellow iris, orchid iris in low baskets decorated the tables which seated more than 350 guests.

Introduces Speaker

Introduced by Dan Overhoff, worthy patron, who acted as toastmaster, Mr. Shrader reviewed the history of the chapter.

"The old chapter met twice a month for 40 years," he began, "and it has accomplished many things. For one thing, it has brought the Masons closer together; and it has taught the women of the organization that the ideals of Masonry are fine, and the teachings are good."

With a smile, then he began to reminisce.

"Way back before Jessamine chapter was organized, there was another chapter—Ruth chapter. But discord crept in, and they disbanded. This chapter is 40 years old tonight; and thus far, there has never been any sign of discord."

There was a quiet stillness in the room as he spoke of the old Masonic temple.

Toasts were given by Mrs. Bertha Payne, president of the Past Worthy Matrons club; Dr. Hazard, represented the Past Patrons; Frank Meacham, representing the Blue Lodge; Mrs. Jenilee Mickle, worthy matron of the Malta chapter at Cedar Rapids; Emma Weber, representing the Past Grand Officers club; Paul Clark, associate grand patron; Mrs. Maude Shuehart; and Mrs. Charles Swindal, worthy matron of Jessamine chapter.

Immediately preceding the two course birthday dinner in the dining room, a program was presented. Tall baskets of bridal wreath sprays, tucked in with pale yellow and orchid iris formed an improvised stage background, against which a varied program was presented. The Eastern Star quartet, composed of Kathleen Porter, William Weeber, Hazel Chapman, and Dr. O. E. Van Doren, sang two selections; Ed Howell gave a group of two readings; a group of three songs was sung by Miss Ella Zopf Woods; Donald Pratt played a cornet solo; a group of musical readings illustrated with a chalk talk picture was given by Mrs. Ruth Crayne, Mrs. Ellis Crawford, and Mrs. Woods; Harold Stark sang two musical numbers;

"Gold Clause" Repeal Interpreted as Inflationary

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Stocks and staples were given a brisk inflationary whirl in the final dealings in Wall Street today by first reports of the administration's measure designed to cancel the embarrassing "gold clauses" in public and private obligations.

The first scraps of information to appear on financial news tickers, appearing in the final minutes of dealing in the stock exchange, described it as repealing the gold standard act and, in want of more detailed information, traders were at once inclined to interpret it as highly inflationary.

Guests

Guests from Des Moines, Fairfield, Muscatine, Dubuque, Brooklyn, Cedar Rapids, and Marshalltown were present in addition to the members of the lodges in Johnson and Cedar counties.

Officers from the Rebekah assembly, the state organization, who were guests are: Mrs. Lola Clinton of Marshalltown, president of the assembly; Mrs. Caroline Darby of Iowa City, treasurer; Mrs. Mae E. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Clinton, Mrs. Darby, Mrs. Anna Miller, noble grand of the Carnation Rebekah lodge, and Mrs. Mayme Axen, convention president. ## Review of Parent-Teacher Council Work for Ending School Year Tells of Many Projects in City Education

Projects of the school year just closed were reviewed yesterday in a report of the Iowa City Council of Parents and Teachers. A program of six regular meetings has been completed, in which all officers of local Parent-Teacher associations, principals of all schools, the superintendents of schools, and presidents of local associations have taken part. All meetings have been public.

The outstanding project of the year, according to Mrs. Moyer, has been to acquaint the membership with the local and state educational problems.

Iver A. Opstad, superintendent of schools, has presented and explained all the legislation pending and laws enacted during this present session of congress.

Welfare Committee

The welfare committee, under the direction of Mrs. William Parizek, has been especially active this year. Help has been given in most cases to those who are not chronic welfare cases. Several hundred garments have been given, food was distributed at Thanksgiving and Christmas, milk was given to 231 children, and hot lunches were served to 11 high and junior high school children.

Poppy Sales for Veterans Begin Today

Legion Auxiliary Will Have Charge of Campaign

Today is Poppy day. Iowa City and the nation pay honor to their World war dead.

Made by disabled veterans of the war, the poppies will be sold by members of the American Legion auxiliary and members of other patriotic organizations throughout the state.

Sales Funds
Funds from the sale of the poppies are used to help the disabled veterans provide food and fuel for their families while out of other employment. The auxiliary sponsors this employment and distributes the poppies on a voluntary contribution basis.

The poppies will be given for any contribution the individual is able to make and all funds will be used for the relief and rehabilitation of disabled veterans and their families.

Gatens' Message

Declaring that the wearing of the poppy is the individual way to show remembrance for the war dead and devotion to the ideals for which they gave their lives, Commander James E. Gatens of Roy L. Choppe's post, issued the following message:

"On Saturday, May 27, America will pay its annual tribute to the men who gave their lives in defense of the country in 1917 and 1918 by wearing the memorial poppy. I am sure that every World war veteran and all other patriotic citizens of Iowa City will wear this token of remembrance on that day. Wearing the poppy means that we have not forgotten our comrades who fell amid the poppies of France and we are carrying on for America in their spirit."

Women Volunteer

"The poppies will be offered on the streets here by the women of the American Legion auxiliary, our wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters. They have volunteered their services without thought of personal gain. Disabled veterans have made the poppies which they will distribute, and the contributions they will receive will go entirely to the relief of needy veterans and veterans' families. Be sure not only to wear a poppy on poppy day, but be sure to wear an American Legion and American Legion auxiliary poppy."

Judge Grants Venue Change for Farmers

Trial Will Take Place in Orange City, June 5

LE MARS, May 26 (AP)—Judge Earl Peters late today granted a state's motion for a change of venue for trials of farmers arrested in connection with the abduction of Judge C. C. Bradley, 53, last month.

Judge Peters named Orange City in Sioux county as the place for the trials and set June 5 as the trial date.

At present only Richard Popken, charged with technical assault, faces trial. Three are still sought for the attack on Judge Bradley, including Morris Cope, alleged leader of the group.

Six farmers pleaded guilty to assault charges earlier today.

Having placed themselves at the mercy of the court, the six will be sentenced tomorrow, thereby ending another chapter in the history of farm disturbances in northwest Iowa.

Sentenced

Nineteen year old John Sokolovsky and Lawrence Krause, 29, will be sentenced on the charges of assault with intent to do great bodily harm and with unlawful assembly.

Martin Resburg, 45, who military officials say was the first of the mob of 125 to grapple with Judge Bradley, will be sentenced for interfering with the administration of justice and assault.

To be sentenced on the assault charge alone are Theodore Haselman, 35, Walter Ideker, 33, and Albert Kaiser, 45. All are Plymouth county farmers living within a few miles of Le Mars.

The attack on Judge Bradley April 27 was the second of three outbreaks that brought Iowa national guards to enforce martial law in northwest Iowa.

Battle Deputies

Earlier in the day farmers had battled sheriff's deputies at a mortgage foreclosure sale in Pringle, county seat of O'Brien county and adjacent to Plymouth.

While troops were mobilizing at Le Mars the following day, state agents at a farm sale at Denison were mobbed and the sale broken up.

Judge Bradley was dragged from his bench when he refused the demand of farmers that he agree to sign no more mortgage foreclosure actions.

The crowd entered his courtroom late in the day. Some of the men wore handkerchief masks. Only one, military officials said, identified himself.

When Judge Bradley asked "Who are you?" the man replied: "I am Morris Cope."

Sought for Attack

Cope still is sought for his alleged part in the attack.

Irate because the judge refused their demands, farmers dragged him from the bench. He was carried from the courthouse and loaded onto a truck while spectators jeered and laughed.

A mile in the country, the truck stopped. A rope was swung over a telephone pole cross-arm and a tether slipped over Judge Bradley's head.

He was crowned with an automobile hub cap, and the oil trickled down into his eyes and over his face. Dust was thrown in his face.

Commanded to Pray

When again he refused the farmers' demands they shoved him to his knees and commanded that he pray. This he did, asking divine guidance in administering justice to all.

The rope tightened. The judge slumped, unconscious. Then the mob stopped and fled. The judge was left, to be picked up by a passing motorist.

For Today

In addition to Cope, two others still are sought for the attack. Another, Richard Popken, 33, has elected to stand trial on a charge of technical assault, contending that he took no part in the violence but was merely a bystander.

Absolve Suspect of Guilt in Iowa Killing

DES MOINES, May 26 (AP)—The prisoner under arrest at Detroit under the name of Harry Lanway is not Earl Lavery wanted in Iowa for the murder of Charles (Bud) Mitchell, Park A. Flindley, head of the state department of criminal investigation, was notified Friday by Detroit police.

Flindley sent Michigan authorities Lavery's picture and finger-print records several days ago in the belief that the Detroit prisoner might be Lavery, son of a former Sioux City policeman, who was indicted for shooting Mitchell in July, 1927, at Arnold's Park.

He was crowned with an automobile hub cap, and the oil trickled down into his eyes and over his face. Dust was thrown in his face.

New Social Wealth

A NEW ERA in which the production of the necessary materials for existence will be merely secondary to the production of a greater culture was envisaged the other day by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins as the result of the forces being initiated by the "New Deal."

Miss Perkins asserted that the adjustments necessary to stabilize industry by increasing the purchasing power of the people may lead to a "blessing beyond anything we in our generation have ever dared to dream of."

The adjustments to which she referred are those contemplated under the administration's pending re-employment-industry control bill, which will give the government almost dictatorial power to fix wages, hours of labor, and prices of goods, as well as the amount of production in various industries.

This power will not be used if industry will regulate itself in a satisfactory way, but the authority will be at hand to act as a powerful factor in initiating action on the part of business men. The result will be a definite beginning on the road to an equitable distribution of the fruits of labor between capital and the working classes. This in turn will bring about a reduction in the hours of labor and smaller profits to investors.

"For the first time since we can remember we are trying to be a unified people," Miss Perkins said. As we look forward to a period in which hours of labor of all people are shorter and the wages and remuneration more satisfactory and more complete, we look forward also to participation in the kind of social wealth, the kind of thing we think of today under the limited terms of recreation, education, and public health."

Most Americans fervently wish that Miss Perkins' prophecy might come true. They hope also that the change might be wrought voluntarily, that business will make the transition of its own accord. But failing this, it is to be hoped that the government does not hesitate to make use of its authority.

The whole trend will be denounced as Socialism and perhaps even as Communism, but little heed should be paid to rantings of slogan-makers. If the introduction of a measure of social justice into the modern scene falls under any "ism" category, then all hail to the "ism."

Old Gold Again

JUST IN CASE there are some people left in the United States who won't believe that the recent embargo on gold and penalties imposed for holding on to gold stocks meant that the country was leaving the gold standard, a resolution was introduced in congress yesterday seeking to set them straight.

Repealing the gold standard act of 1900, this resolution, according to Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee, "frees the United States from the obstacles and handicaps of the gold standard," as part of the emergency relief program of President Roosevelt.

Adoption of the resolution would make it unnecessary for the president to exercise the power granted him in the inflation amendment to the farm bill whereby he may reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent. But although it immediately nullifies the arguments concerning the "gold clause" problem and the obligation of contract, it brings up any number of new arguments concerning the legality of such a move.

Nevertheless, the same argument which, in a large measure, aided the passage of the inflation proposal—that this was part of the emergency relief program—will insure adoption of the resolution. And since, according to President Roosevelt it is only a step by which an existing situation would be written into the law, there is nothing alarming about it. It simply means that the president again will have his way.

Churning the Chaos

TRIUMPHANTLY, the Italian liner Conte De Savoia, new luxury ship of Il Due's merchant fleet, steamed into New York harbor the other day after setting a new record for the south Atlantic crossing. The world was properly impressed.

What has not sufficiently impressed the world is the fact that Atlantic shipping is in the throes of competition so serious that it threatens to strangle itself.

Millions of tons of shipping are already idle, according to reports from Lloyds, British marine insurance firm. At the same time, all the important nations of the world have been frantically subsidizing their own merchant marines in an insane attempt to drive others off the seas. The result is chaos in the entire world shipping industry.

It is time the nations of the world attempted to cooperate in the matter of merchant shipping and effected a truce on marine competition.

It should be realized that unrestricted, headlong rivalry in the construction of merchant fleets is just as inimical to peace as competition in the building of battleships.

Mr. Sumner Rebuked

(From the N. Y. Herald Tribune)

Magistrate Benjamin Greenspan, in dismissing the case of the Society for the Prevention of Vice against a current novel, said a number of things which we heartily applaud, and aimed them at Mr. John S. Sumner, for whom the applause of all those who do not like to see bloodhounds panting on the scent of literature must be something less than zero.

Magistrate Greenspan pointed out (an argument that must be repeated thousands of times before it gets through the heads of the vice sleuths) that if books were to be suppressed "merely because they might excite lust in disordered minds" most of the world's books which were not "uninteresting or barren" would have to be discarded; and that if isolated passages were to be considered (the sleuths have a keen nose for such passages) in judging of a book's obscenity, even the Bible would be taboo.

What is the object of the attack upon a book by the Society for the Prevention of Vice? Evidently, to prevent vice by preventing the book from being sold and read. Here again Magistrate Greenspan said something which should be taken to heart by those whose business it is to do the preventing: the attempt to suppress a book calls attention to it and makes people read it who would otherwise never have heard of it, and who read it solely in order to find, and gloat over, the pornographic passages. Thus do the vice sleuths defeat their own ends.

A resolution saying: "We deeply regret and earnestly deplore the fact that the President has used the influence and power of his office for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment," is being circulated in the South. Next thing you know they will be deplored the fact that Roosevelt is a Democrat.

How the idols are falling! Al Capone, beer king of Chicago, then Waxey Gordon, beer king of New York! Now the bond baron of New York, London, and points south has admitted that he, too, hasn't been paying his income tax regularly.

Anti-Hitlerites in New York smeared with paint the pictures of Max Schmeling outside the Schmeling-Baer fight headquarters. It's time for some of Schmeling's fans to start smearing up the windows of hock shops.

After his marriage went on the rocks recently, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., announced that he would spend most of his spare time writing a novel. He's picking a pretty hard way to get away from it all.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

The legislation that is expected to put America back on its feet passed the house yesterday minus the sales tax proposition for raising the necessary sum of money to finance more than three billion dollars worth of public works.

But it could hardly be expected that the house—a body that passed an inflation measure to insure a return of money and credit to the great debtor class of the country at the expense of the creditor class—would consider seriously a tax on the ordinary things that ordinary people buy.

Instead the money will be raised by an increased income tax, an increase of 1 and three-fourths cents a gallon on the gasoline tax, and a levy on corporate dividends. The latter is expected to raise $220,000,000 annually to pay the interest and amortization charges on the bond issue that will raise the rest of the funds.

In addition, $450,000,000 more will be raised by excise levies on various articles, mostly luxuries, including jewelry, refrigerators, automobiles, etc.

Along with the entire industrial control-public works bill, an overwhelming vote swept through an amendment by Representative Ragon of Arkansas to stop the gaps in the income tax laws. It limits to the current year net losses of all kinds instead of allowing them to be carried over year after year, as is the present practice. That provision was a direct result of the revelation that J. P. Morgan failed to pay the U. S. for his income during the last few years.

In connection with the Morgan hearing before the senate committee, yesterday witnessed another clash between Senator Glass of Virginia and Committee Counsel Ferdinand Pecora. Glass wasn't so sure—and hasn't been all along—that Pecora knows exactly what he is driving at and where he is getting. And the counsel's replies haven't been satisfactory, at least not to Glass.

But the senate wanted the inquiry, and perhaps it didn't know what it wanted, in the first place. Certainly, Pecora is not overlooking any of the details, if that will make matters easier for the committee. Glass particularly objected to having Morgan reveal a lot of personal dealings, including his payment of income taxes in Great Britain, and the inside dope on stock purchases that he gave to a number of "friends."

There are some relevant facts being brought out at the hearing, it seems, aside from those personal things that may be touchy to Senator Glass. The fact that the house of Morgan has its finger of control on the public utility industry of the country should be interesting to most people who didn't know it before.

Control over United Corporation, which in turn has control over a lot of other corporations, which in turn—et cetera—means something. It means that one firm can be responsible for and can be the cause of a widespread crashing of utility companies, both holding and operating.

And then there is a large number of other corporations controlled similarly by partners of the Morgan firm who are in turn directors of a number of other corporations. The entire corporate system of the country in many fields besides public utilities, banking, steel, and railroads, can be traced by the partnership roll call of J. P. Morgan and company. But after all, it doesn't matter so much what the hearing will reveal; what does matter is what will the government—or anybody—do about it.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester, 1932-1933

Wednesday, May 24, 8 a.m., to Thursday, June 1, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E and F, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), 02, and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of all students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation, in the case of any examination, from this schedule,—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E and F) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles, below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed (read by columns), within the particular group, who will arrange a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than regular class hour on May 8 and 9.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or, in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 22 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8, and the class will meet for examination Thursday, May 25, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 126 meets twice each week, T F, for three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Wednesday, May 31, 2 p.m.

N.B.: All sections of freshman speech (2), 02, and (4) will meet on the days and at the periods designated below: (For rooms see departmental bulletin boards.)

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 24 to June 1, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, and F, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "absent"; unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F'd,"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Professor Blackstone Scheduled to Appear at Chicago Convention

Prof. Earl G. Blackstone, head of the commercial teacher training division of the college of commerce, will speak at a convention of the University of Chicago school of business June 29 and 30 in connection with the Century of Progress exposition.

His subject will be "Content Inadequacies (in commercial courses) in the light of recent research."

His talk will direct attention to such overlapping as those in the case of insurance and business papers which are both taught in four or five different courses. In his proposed reassignment of topics or units of instruction this duplication would be eliminated and certain essentials now neglected in courses would be incorporated.

While in Chicago, Professor Blackstone will also attend meetings of the National Education association, department of business education, the National Association of Commercial Teacher Training institutions, and the International Commercial Schools contest.

1,150 Pupils From Iowa High Schools Will Compete Here

By their scholastic skill in the "every-pupil" contest of May 9, some 1,150 boys and girls from Iowa high schools have won the right to enter the individual championship contest.

They will come to the University of Iowa June 5 and 6 to compete against each other in the finale of the fifth annual academic meet.

Certificates of admission have been prepared for each of the ten highest pupils of class A schools in each of the 17 subjects, to the three highest from class B schools in each of the nine districts, and to the best trio in each subject from classes C and D combined in each district.

The scholars will undergo a completely different series of tests in the individual affair—tests adapted to a higher level of ability, Prof. E. F. Lindquist, director of the meet, explains. Each pupil is permitted to compete only in the subject for which he is qualified.

Nevada Will Vote on Convention Delegates to Repeal Amendment

RENO, Nev., May 26 (AP)—Nevada's 54,000 registered voters are expected to indicate tomorrow their approval of the proposed twenty-first, or prohibition repeal, amendment to the federal constitution.

Gathering in precinct mass meetings, they will select delegates to county conventions. These conventions on June 10 will name delegates to a state convention, which will take final action early in September.

Anti-prohibitionists issued last minute requests for all opposed to the eighteenth amendment to "turn out and repeat the verdict of a few years ago" when a three-to-one popular vote was recorded in favor of a legislative resolution urging national repeal.

Four states—Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Michigan and Wyoming had ratified the repeal amendment. Repeat has been voted in New York and New Jersey but the conventions have not been held yet.

Ricke Twirls 5 Hit Ball as Hawks Down Ancient Rival in Athletic Relations Renewal

Cyclone Misuses Aid Iowa 8th Inning Rally

AMES, May 26 (AP)—Iowa university resumed its ancient athletic rivalry with Iowa State today as the Hawkeye baseball team gained a 4-0 triumph over the Cyclones in the first of a four game series. An error, a hit, a pitcher's balk, and a wild pitch combined to give the Hawks four runs in the fatal eighth inning.

Ricke, Hawk pitcher, tossed good ball, striking out 10 and allowing only five hits. The Cyclones made their only scoring threats in the first and sixth innings but good work at the plate on the part of Schmidt nipped the attempts.

Poor Fielding

The fielding of both teams was sloppy, a total of nine errors being charged to the two teams. Iowa, except for its big eighth frame, was unable to get a runner past second base.

Schmidt and Baker both hit for extra bases for the Hawkeyes, each collecting a double. Baker also led the batting averages for the day by collecting three hits out of four times at bat. Jones did the best stick work for the Cyclones, batting .500 with two out of four.

Harder was given the pitching assignment for the Cyclones and was nickel for seven batters.

Loufek to Pitch

Tomorrow's game, the last before the two teams trek to Iowa City to complete the series, will probably see either Charley Blackman or Ford on the mound for the Hawkeyes and Loufek, Cyclone ace, taking over the duty for the home team.

Maid-Rite Clinches Open League Title With Seventh Win

The championship of the open league was clinched by the Maid-Rite diamond ball team yesterday when they hit the ball to all sections of the field to score a 15 to 1 victory over the Iowa City Wholesale Fruit team.

The victory was the seventh straight for the Maid-Rite team, giving them a perfect record for the first round of the loop. Boasting two first class pitchers in Linder and Fay, the team played good defensive ball and displayed enough hitting power to wade through all opposition, presenting the best balanced team of the league.

Iowa Supply, which had previously won only one game, snapped out of it and pasted a 9 to 1 defeat on the Paul Helen outfit. The loss brought Paul Helen back to a .500 percentage with three wins and three losses.

Oakdale remained perched on top of the closed league standings by dubbing The Daily Iowan, which was its closest opponent, 14 to 5. Picking up three runs in the first inning, Oakdale assumed a lead which the journalists could never overtake.

Champion of Texas is the title of the Port Arthur track and field team coached by Charles A. Forwald, former University of Iowa weight star.

Forwald, a graduate of the coaching course at the university, developed a powerful Port Arthur team which nosed out North Side high school of Dallas by one point at Forbes field.

The former Iowan was a member of the Hawkeye team which won the Big Ten indoor championship in 1929. For three seasons, he was Iowa's best performer in the shot put and discus.

At the Texas school this season, he proved most successful in the coaching of sprinters and quarter milers. His 100 yard man was second in the championship meet in '29, a 220 yard sprinter placed second with a .21.2 effort, and the Port Arthur mile relay team won first place in 3:26.2.

Asthalter Downed in Straight Sets by Phi Ep Ace

Another fraternity athletic championship was settled yesterday afternoon when Adler of Phi Epsilon Pi nicked Asthalter of Pi Kappa Alpha for the title of the spring tennis singles elimination tournament, taking two straight sets, 6-4, 7-5.

The Pi K.A. representative put up a stiff fight in both sets forcing his victor hard all the way. Adler overcame his opponent in the pinches as the sets progressed, however, using back court drives to advantage.

The victory climaxed two weeks of active play in which eight houses were represented in the starting round. The winner previously trounced the Sigma Phi Epsilon entrant, 6-2, 6-2 in the semi-final round.

Tomorrow should definitely see the conclusion of the track and field leadership involving Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Kappa Psi. A final checkup on some points of eligibility and scores will make it possible to name an undisputed winner.

Golf Finalists Meet Today

Close Race Looms in Medal Tourney Play

Experience will try to stave off youth as Ralph Harmon, golf veteran and John Jacobson, a newcomer finishing his first year of competition, begin the final round of medal play today. The leaders chalked up 16 apiece in the first 18 holes last Saturday.

Bailey Strong

Despite the dual between the two leaders, there is a chance for an upset, with Claude Bailey, freshman ace, right at their heels with a 77, and four varsity men with 79's.

Of the four, Roy Vanderkelen is conceded the nomination for dark horses on the basis of his penchant for bringing in low scores during the regular season.

Bailey, who is playing the round as a part of the freshman championships, is expected to get the most competition from James Gardner and James Shellady. Gardner, who came through with a 79, and Shellady with an 82, were touted in the preliminary forecasts to walk away with the play, but Bailey, working his shots with accuracy in tight spots and aided by powerful drives, broke into the lead.

First Round Standings

The standings of the players at the end of the first round:

Find Ruffing, McFayden for Fifteen Blows

Gehrig Injures Leg as Champions Lose 8-6 Verdict

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—The 1933 model Chicago White Sox brought their heavy artillery into the Yankee stadium today and outslugged the champion Yanks to win the first game of their series, 8 to 6.

Chicago pounded Charley Ruffing and Danny MacFayden for 15 hits, bunching most of them in the last four innings but they had a narrow escape when the Yanks staged a last frame rally for three runs.

Matching their better all-round balance against the all-round ability of John Brooks, mainstay of the Maroons, the Iowa track men will gunning to hold the visitors to 39 points or less. If Chicago scores 40 points it will be the first time in the history of the two schools' rivalry.

On the Hawks' side of the offense the figures show that when the 1931 team counted "only" 94 1-2 points, they made the lowest total of any of the four meets. The last meet in 1931 saw Iowa winning, 106 1-2 to 28 1-2, the highest and lowest scores in the series.

Close Meet

This overwhelming victory margin will be a thing of the past today for the two schools are so closely matched that only a few points will separate them at the conclusion of the 15 events. With Brooks counted on for 15 or more points, the Chicagoans seem certain to pass the 46 mark.

Brooks is a sure bet to win the 100 and hurdles and the broad jump and possibly the 220 yard dash. Since he is recovering from an ankle injury he will probably be withheld from the 100 but would be favored in the event he ran it.

Stock Market Prices Show Strong Gains

Buyers Rush Purchases With News Regarding "Gold Clause"

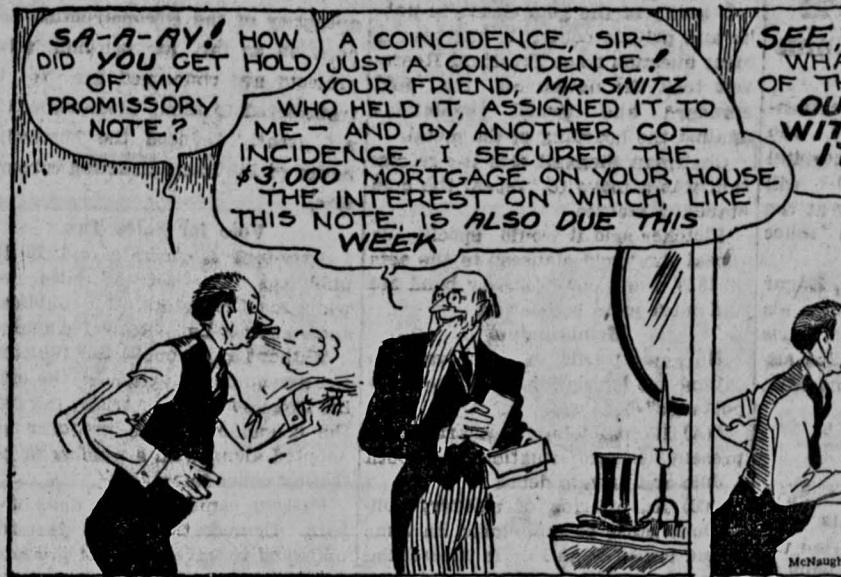

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—The day's big financial news—President Roosevelt's move for cancelling "gold clauses"—came just before the markets were closing but in time to send buyers scurrying for stocks and some commodities.

Prior to the announcement, shares had been feeding on their accumulated optimism, with most prices higher, some highly so. Washington developments, however, threw fresh fuel on inflation fires and the market finished buoyantly at general gains of 1 to 17 points. The closing average broke through last September's high, its net rise being 2.1 points. Cotton blossomed out with a $2 a bale rally. Wheat had previously closed higher.

Smooth Out

Wall Street's first impulse was to view prospective statutory departure from gold as inflationary from the price angle. In high banking quarters, however, it was pointed out that the step represented the government's decision to smooth out embarrassing situations arising from the gold clauses in both federal and corporation bonds, a question which has already been subject to court review. The government, under existing regulations, must issue gold bonds although it cannot pay in metal at maturity, an obviously impossible state of affairs, and countless corporations with gold bonds outstanding find themselves similarly placed.

Mining Issues Active

Gold mining issues hustled into action. Homestake soared 17 3-8 to 216 7-8 and closed at the top. Dome, McIntyre, Alaska Juneau and U. S. Smelting which have gold properties had gains ranging up to 3 points. The U. S. Steel issues, American Can,

American Telephone, General Motors, American Tobacco "B," Allied Chemical, National Biscuit, Santa Fe, Union Pacific and New York Central improved 1 to 3, while duPont soared more than 5 and Case nearly 9. Alcohol, effervescent all day, were up 3 to 7. Utilities lagged a bit. Sales totaled 4,225,070 shares.

The closing composite of 90 stocks, standing at 74.2, broke through the high of last September's rally. Both the rail and industrial divisions made new tops for the year but utilities were still some half dozen points under their 1933 top.

Sentiment had earlier been bolstered by trade and business news.

Grain Prices Take Sudden Rise Upward

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—Right-about-face market action gave a quick lift to grain prices late today following a sudden influx of buying orders from the east.

Augmented buying was attributed to indications of fresh inflation moves. Grain trading had ended before definite word came of President Roosevelt's proposal for repeal of the gold standard act.

Wheat closed strong at the day's top figures, 3-4, 1 1-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8, 1 1-4 advanced, oats 1-8, 1-4 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Some of the reassurance on the part of wheat buyers in the late dealings was associated with Washington reports that, unless commodity prices continued upward, further purchases of government bonds by the federal reserve banks would be resorted to.

Preceding the late jumps in prices, all grains had shown a downward tendency. Restraint on demand appeared to be more or less due to uncertainties as to the outcome of conferences at Washington called to consider plans to put emergency farm legislation into effect.

Forecasts of clearing weather throughout the central west likely to allow better progress of corn planting were also a drag on corn and oats prices, and indirectly weakened wheat until the late buying flurry sent all grains kiting upward. Closing indemnities: Wheat, July 71, 71 1-8, 75 1-2, 3-4; Sept. 72 1-4, 3-8, 76 1-4; Dec. 74 3-8, 1-2, 78 3-8, 1-2; Corn, July 45, 45 1-8, 48 1-4, 1-2; Sept. 47 1-8, 50 1-4, 3-8; Dec. 49 3-8, 1-2, 52 1-4.

There were outbursts of applause.

Rail Bonds Lift Market

Sales Total Almost 14 Millions as Prices Rise

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Further strength of secondary rail loans lifted the bond market to new high levels for the year today as freight car loading reports and general business news continued most optimistic. Sales totaled $14,979,000 par value, slightly under yesterday's aggregate, and the average for 60 domestic corporate issues advanced six-tenths of a point to 75.2.

The more active carrier loans up 1 to around 4 points included some of Alleghany Corp., Baltimore & Ohio, Canadian Pacific, St. Louis & San Francisco, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Missouri Pacific, N. Y. Central, Nickel Plate, Northern Pacific, Iron Mountain, St. Louis Southwestern, Southern Pacific, Southern and Wabash.

Among the utilities and industrials were loans of American Ice, American Telephone, Columbia Gas, General Cable, Goodrich, International Cement, International Paper, Studebaker and U. S. Rubber. Government securities not especially active. Improvement was shown by most foreign obligations including some of Argentina, Austria, Brazil, Denmark, France, Italy, Japan and Great Britain. German bonds were irregular.

Repeal Delegate Dies

BLOOMFIELD (AP)—O. D. Wray, 80, prominent Democrat and banker, died in an Iowa City hospital Thursday night. He had been named as the Davis county delegate for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

ginian complained about Pecora's questions.

Senator Barkley (D., Ky.), commented that the "final report of the federal trade commission on its utility investigation had not been made."

"A partial report has, I think," Glass said. "I insist on knowing what this is all about."

"I don't see how we can anticipate what Mr. Pecora expects to develop," Fletcher said quietly.

"In the Dark"

"I'm still in the dark," the Virginian complained about Pecora's questions.

"No."

"Examines Minutes"

"I have examined the minutes and I don't find at any time that the employment of Mr. Pecora was authorized," Glass stated.

"There is no question of the authority in my mind," Senator Costigan (D., Colo.), said.

Senator Couzens (R., Mich.), asked Chairman Fletcher for a ruling on Glass' challenge of authority and Fletcher said Pecora was carrying out instructions of the senate. Glass accused Couzens of liking "to dig at me."

"This line of examination into the activities, operations and securities of the United Corporation," Pecora said, rising to his feet, "comes under language of the senate resolution which directs an investigation into the issuing and selling of securities."

Million Warrants

"It has been shown 1,060,000 option warrants entitling the holder to buy common stock at $27.50 a share were sold to J. P. Morgan and company at $1 each. Already it has been shown that a few days after this issue prices of the common stock on the exchange were nearly double $27.50.

"These securities were issued at terms certainly against the interests of the corporation to the benefit of a small group of investors."

"Couldn't you have made this statement to the sub-committee before this public investigation?"

Glass asked. "As one member I would like to know so I wouldn't waste valuable time listening to questions and answers of no importance to people of any intelligence."

Questionnaire

"I submitted a questionnaire to the committee," Pecora replied. "Since then I have received no requests for information from any senator or the committee. Consequently I spent my time in New York.

"I did not see this assignment. I appreciated and do appreciate the honor of being counsel for this committee. But I want to assure the senator from Virginia that the compensation of $255 a month is no incentive to me to continue."

There were outbursts of applause.

Costigan interrupted at another point to say he appreciated "the efficiency of the counsel" and that the inquiry "has been relevant and material."

More applause echoed about the marble walled room when Chairman Fletcher said he was "proud of" Pecora's work and then the committee adopted the motion of Senator Byrnes (D., S.C.), to adjourn until next Wednesday.

WATER REPORT

Van der Zee Protests to Council

1927 showed that the average percentage of depreciation charge to fixed investment of water companies ranged from 0.1 to 0.8 per cent; or stated another way, the average percentage of depreciation charge to total operating expenses ranged from 8.9 to 11.9 per cent. The simplest rule for figuring the annual depreciation is to allow one per cent on two-thirds of the total value of the property and two per cent on the other one-third.

"This is entirely fair if one bears in mind that cast-iron pipe (which constitutes one-half of the value of the whole Iowa City property) has never been known to wear out. Thus, $10,000 annually is quite adequate. In my humble opinion, the consumers of Iowa City have been overcharged almost $60,000 in the past nine years for depreciation alone."

Explains Reduction

Explaining his reduction in the operating expenses of the company, which is $2,900 under that of the majority report, he says: "The water company manager's budget for 1933 proposes an expenditure of $68,803, which is higher than last year, regardless of the scarcity of consumers' dollars. Outside of a 14 per cent reduction of wages and salaries, the budget shows increased expenses all along the line, especially legal fees and $2,800 for the appraisals made last summer by the company's engineers.

The manager informed us (the water committee) that the mayor and council (Carroll administration) forced a total appraisal expense of $14,000 upon the company and this will have to be paid by water consumers during the next five years.

"This is a most unreasonable and outrageous charge, since the city obtained appraisers for $7,000, only one-half as much. Besides, when the company engaged an appraiser in the summer of 1929 in connection with a taxation controversy with the city council, the expense was not charged to the water consumers but was deducted from the company's net surplus. (See annual report of 1931.) The city council should demand that this precedent be followed now. Has the company not the decency to give a little credit to water consumers for the excess revenue obtained in the past three to five years?"

Examine Analysis

An examination of the detailed analysis shows a large number of items of expenditure which I sincerely believe are, either padded or not justified, such as club dues, donations, and subscriptions to magazines—purposes unnecessary to the rendering of service. On this subject I expect to file a supplementary report next week—it deserves more attention than I have been able to give."

Van der Zee allowed the company six per cent on an investment of $700,000, which he said he believed fair and adequate. Woodward and Sybil allowed a return of six and one-half per cent on an investment of $700,000, which they said they believed fair and adequate.

In closing Van der Zee contends that "if a reduced output under such new rates fails to bring in such amount ($117,000), the company's surplus reserve resulting from high rates in the depression years 1929-1932 should stand the difference until conditions improve. The fact that the company is doing less business now than in 1931 can not properly be taken into consideration."

Restore Equality

The majority committee in closing believes that "in order to restore relative equality among the different classes of water users, and to assure an adequate return to the Iowa Water Service company your committee recommends that the rates in effect prior to Feb. 13, 1933, (those before the rates of the Carroll administration were compiled) be re-established except that the monthly service charge in each case be reduced 10 cents. This will give every water user in the city an equal reduction in his monthly bills, and seems to be the most equitable treatment of all users."

The council will vote on the majority report next Friday in the council chamber at 8 p.m. Notice was given by both Woodward and Van der Zee that they would present water rate ordinances at that time.

Under existing conditions students of college age should if possible avail themselves of the opportunity of continuing their training during the coming summer session."

NEW STATUS

Provided for Silver, Paper Money

man Fletcher and Steagall said the Senate and House banking committees respectively, asserted that "the holdings or dealings in gold affect the public interest and are therefore subject to proper regulation and restriction."

It then asserted that obligations "which purport to give the obligee a right to require payment in gold of a particular kind obstruct the power of the congress to regulate the money of the United States and are inconsistent with the declared policy of the congress to maintain at all times the equal power of every dollar."

With this preamble, the resolution then proceeded to declare all such provisions "to be against public policy" and forbid any such provision in future obligations.

Aim of Legislation

The aim of the legislation was sketched in the following paragraphs:

"Every obligation, heretofore or hereafter incurred whether or not any such provision is contained therein or made with respect thereto, shall be discharged upon payment, dollar for dollar, in any coin or currency which at the time of payment is legal tender for public and private debts."

"Any such provision contained in any law authorizing obligations to be issued by or under authority of the United States is hereby repealed."

Legality

Legality of the gold clause in public and private contracts has been a moot question since President Roosevelt took the nation off the gold standard and issued regulations against the hoarding of the metal.

Chairman Steagall said the resolution was a move to "repeal the gold standard statute."

Fletcher said it would specifically repeal the "gold clauses" in the acts of 1910, the second Liberty bond act and subsequent legislation.

Memorandum

He made public a memorandum calling the legislation of "utmost importance" because:

"(A) It completely regularizes the present de facto situation as to both public and private debts.

"(B) An offering of treasury obligations must be announced on June 5 and issued June 15. It is essential that no question as to the good faith of the government be raised in connection with this issue or future issues.

"(C) It would greatly facilitate administration of the orders against hoarding.

Eliminate Uncertainty

"(D) It would eliminate existing uncertainty in business.

"(E) It places old "gold clauses" and new "legal tender" obligations on the same footing in respect of payment.

"(F) It would make certain of accomplishment the declared policy of congress."

Explaining further, Fletcher's memorandum said "questions of interpretation" had arisen with respect to legislation empowering the president to prevent the withdrawal and hoarding of gold and the Thomas inflation amendment.

The memorandum pointed out that gold is not now obtainable for payment of obligations and that the Thomas amendment was intended to make them payable in legal tender money but that doubt had arisen because of the "gold clause" in some legislation.

This doubt should be removed," the memorandum said.

INDUSTRY BILL

Passes House Over All Opposition

is to be expended on federal projects, including a $100,000,000 naval construction program, public buildings, rivers and harbors, flood control and for preservation of natural resources.

Already the administration is preparing to put the major part of this legislation into effect. Brigadier-General Hugh Johnson, is to become the administrator of the industrial section of the bill.

A public works administration will handle expenditures of the $3,300,000,000 fund. The loaning facilities and authority of the Reconstruction corporation as far as selfliquidating projects are concerned are to be transferred to him. Meanwhile, the act greatly reduced the borrowing power of the Reconstruction corporation.

Chairman Steagall said the resolution was a move to "repeal the gold standard statute."

Vote for Sales Tax

Sixty-four Democrats and 73 Republicans voted for the sales tax, while 228 Democrats, 32 Republicans and 5 Farmer-Laborites voted against.

Without any trouble, the Whittington amendment to transfer the existing three per cent electricity tax from the consumer to the producer was adopted along with a number of perfecting amendments.

Passage came after two days of debate. Democratic leaders yesterday managed to have a rule of procedure adopted by a margin of only 19 votes.

The bill "would give the president power to raise the economic structure that has collapsed" and was supplementary to the agricultural legislation.
