(Daily Iowan Sports Editor)
Iowa's undefeated Big Ten cagers step on the spot tonight when Northwestern invades the field house for the conference opener before what is expected to be the largest crowd ever to witness the initial game of any Iowa Western conference season.

On the spot from the start because of the installation as the favorite in the conference race by the experts, the Hawkeye quintet must face a long series of games knowing the opposition is especially primed for that one game. Iowa alone, of all the Big Ten teams, came through the practice season undefeated and must now pay the penalty.

Northwestern, co-champions with Ohio State last year, will lack the great offensive strength of a year ago but will present probably the most aggressive outfit to appear on the field house court this year. While Iowa was sailing through four easy warm-up games, the Purple met Notre Dame and Pittsburg to account for three of the four losses and dropped the fourth game to Marquette, considered the greatest team in the country today. The Hilltoppers were but two points better than Coach Dutch Lonberg's dribblers which means no picnic tonight. The Wildcats' victories were one-sided affairs with Nebraska and Bradley.

Iowa will boast but a slight edge in experience for three seniors grace the lineup of the invading five. Nelson Culver and Don Brewer, co-captains, and Eggs Manske, spectacular end on the gridiron, are all playing their last season of basketball at the Evanston institution. Irwin Kopecky, the center, is the lone sophomore, while rugged Al Kaval is a junior.

Materially bolstering the Northwestern attack which has averaged 27.5 points per game, Brewer returned to the squad this week after a long lay off because of a broken toe. However, the Purple scoring system, built around Kopecky in the pivot position, boast a strong scoring combination in the guards and in Culver in particular.

However the Iowans will be conceding nothing as they gladly accept the role of favorites for the contest and attempt to even the standing in the long series with Northwestern.

Good Offense
Despite the inferior calibre of the competition, the Hawks boast an offensive that is the best in the conference. Led by Howard Moffitt and Johnny Barko, both veterans, the Iowa team has rolled up slightly more than 40 points per game while holding opponents to about 24. In an amazing this total, Coach Rollie Williams has used every man on the squad.

Howard Bastian, last year's leading scorer, after a slow start seems ready to head the Iowa drive once more. Last year in nine games Bastian scored 10 or more points, Tuesday against South Dakota he counted 13 to pull up into third place among the scorers.

Great Guards
At the guard positions—well, it grows increasingly difficult trying to discover new adjectives to describe the play of Johnny Grim and Ben Selzer. It is sufficient to say that everything a guard is supposed to do these two men will do.

Money Puzzle Affords Solons Plenty of Work

'How to Get It, How to Spend It?' House Okays Rum Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Money—how to get it and how to spend it—supplied congress today with a perplexing question that bade fair to take long in the answering. "Getting"

On the getting side, the house, after sifting through a wide variety of amendatory proposals, passed the liquor tax bill laid before it by its ways and means committee. Estimated to be capable of producing $470,000,000 annually, the committee provided two dollar a gallon taxes for high proof liquors and lower ones for beverages of less alcoholic content. The committee will start work Tuesday on a measure designed to twist down the regulatory screws of the income tax laws so as to produce $270,000,000 of revenue that has been eluding officials annually.

"Spending"
With reference to the spending program that has been outlined by President Roosevelt, house leaders who will provide the legal apparatus for dispensing the money were called to the White House to go over the plans. Ten billion dollars are to be spent this fiscal year and six billion next. From the Republican side of the house, Representative Gifford of Massachusetts, ranking minority member of the expenditures committee, said he would demand full explanation by officials of the recovery expenditures. Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, said sentiment was developing among the members to require that funds appropriated for public works be used for that purpose. Large sums have been used for governmental and civil work projects.

Senate in Recess
In the senate, which was in recess over the week end, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, predicted prompt consideration of the liquor tax bill, without the necessity of hearings, with passage of the measure in about the form it now stands. The St. Lawrence treaty—through which this country would join Canada in constructing a boundary waterway—was put down for consideration behind the liquor bill.

Early Silver Move Expected of F. D.

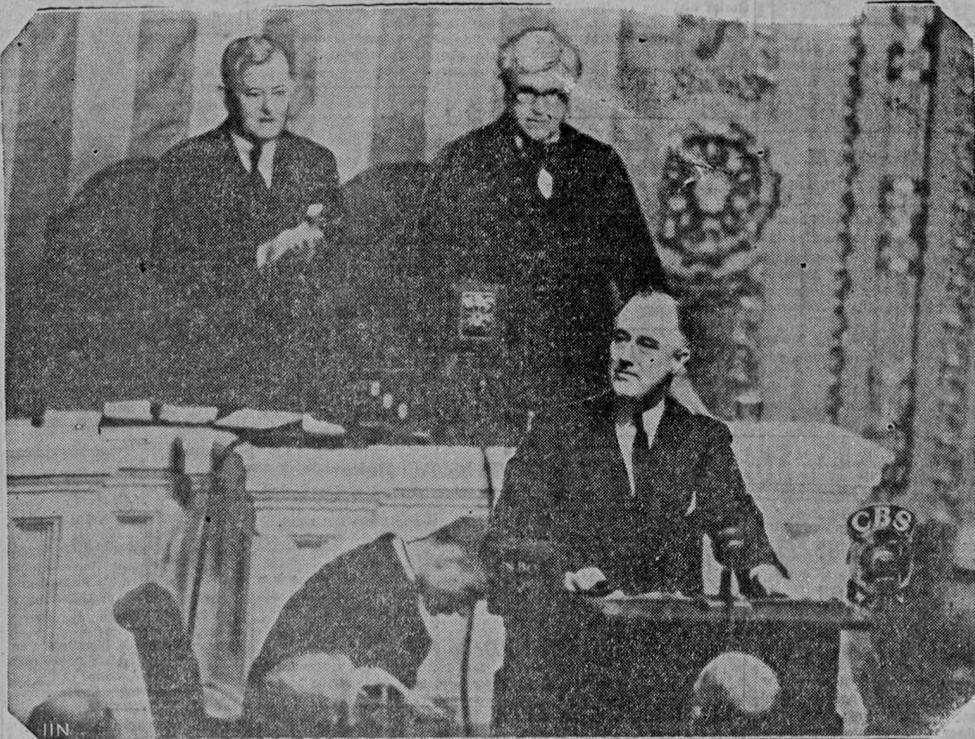

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Rumors of some imminent White House action to increase the value of silver persisted in senate circles tonight, and, in the expectation of early presidential action on the currency situation, Senator Thomas (D., Okla.) agreed to withhold his plan to have a senate subcommittee draw up a monetary program.

$4,000,000 Plan For Conservation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—A permanent long range, national resource conservation program is planned by President Roosevelt for the future that extends beyond the present emergency program.

The president disclosed today that he has given much thought to a program which he suggested in his message to congress, for perpetuating work already started in the Tennessee valley and proposed for the Missouri watershed, at a tentatively estimated expenditure of about $4,000,000 a year.

WHEN CONGRESS RECEIVED PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S ANNUAL MESSAGE

President Roosevelt is shown here as he read his annual message on the state of the nation before congress in the house of representatives at Washington. In the rear are Vice President John N. Garner, left, and Speaker Henry T. Rainey. The address was received with a tremendous ovation, marking the first such appearance of a chief executive since President Harding.

Coed Mystery Still Unsolved

Parents "Know Girl's Whereabouts," But Decline to Tell

Mary Louise Lee, A3 of Nauvoo, Ill., missing from her home since last Tuesday, was still missing last night as far as her sorority sisters at the Phi Mu house here were able to determine.

Reports by the Associated Press from the girl's home in Nauvoo indicated that her family knew where she was but refused to tell. Miss Lee's roommate, Margaret Thomas, G of Phienuk, Ariz., said information reached her that she had been located in Keokuk yesterday morning and that her brother had gone there from Nauvoo to meet her. The Keokuk chief of police later told the Associated Press that Miss Lee had boarded a Kansas City bus.

The girl had been met in a hotel, the police said, by a "young man in a leather jacket." Miss Lee was said to have called her family from the lobby of the Keokuk hotel.

Mrs. August Lee, the 22 year old girl's mother, said she left Nauvoo, where she had spent the Christmas holidays, Tuesday afternoon by bus for Ft. Madison, where she was to have taken the train for Iowa City in the company of another University of Iowa student. Mrs. Lee called the Phi Mu house Wednesday when she became anxious as to her daughter's whereabouts.

Reports yesterday that Miss Lee was on her way to Iowa City and would arrive here by bus last night did not materialize.

Relatives at Nauvoo, according to the Associated Press, said she was not going to Kansas City and "probably not to Iowa City."

Plans for New Law Dormitory At University Are Completed

Dates of Hearings On Bids to Be Set In Near Future

"Law Commons," a new University of Iowa dormitory for law students, will approach a step nearer to actuality shortly, when bids are received. Plans have been completed and dates for hearings on bids will soon be set, it was announced yesterday by Dean Eugene A. Gilmore of the college of law.

Near Fine Arts Colony
Plans call for the erection of the building on the west side of Iowa river, west of the fine arts colony, work on which was recently begun. A service bridge will connect these buildings with the east campus.

The Law Commons will provide quarters for about 150 men. In addition to rooming quarters, the building will have a dining room, lounge, and supplemental library equipment.

Exclusively for Law Students
The various law fraternities will be given space in the new dormitory, Dean Gilmore said, and the building will be used exclusively by law students.

Law Commons is the beginning of a projected "law center" on the west side of the river. Eventually it is hoped to move the entire college of law to the new location. Classrooms, libraries, dormitories, dining rooms, and other buildings will make the new unit almost completely self-contained.

Completed by Fall
The first building, the dormitory, is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next academic year. The building was first officially proposed last summer, when the state board of education requested a grant from

Schwob Files Final Report On City Plant

Consulting Engineer Walter Schwob introduced his report on municipal ownership of an electric light plant by explaining that it was as impartial as such a report could be and that he had the best of cooperation from the Iowa City Light and Power company.

He listed two construction plans with estimated costs as follows: steam power station, $476,800; Diesel power station, $469,500. The cost of an overhead distribution system, estimated at $320,000, would be added to the cost of both projects. Total Costs About $900,000

Total cost of steam plant and all necessary equipment ready to supply electricity would be $917,000, while that of the Diesel system is estimated at $908,880.

In regard to financing the plant he said, "Under the Iowa law, cities are allowed to establish their municipal utilities and pay for them out of past or future earnings and may secure such contract by the pledge of property purchased and the net earnings of the plant. It is further held such contract shall not constitute a general obligation or be payable in any manner by taxation."

"The legally enforceable obligations for this purpose recognized under the Iowa law are known as pledge warrants. The security offered for any financing of the property shown in this report would consist of the total value of all assets of the electric department of Iowa City, including fixed, current and intangible assets in addition to all the net earnings of the system."

It is thought that a federal loan and grant can be secured from the PWA, according to Alderman Jacob Van der Zee. This money would then be paid back to the government from earnings of the plant in either 10 or 15 years, according to the engineer's figures. He recommended the 15 year system. Both are figured on the basis of four per cent interest and increased electric output.

Some of the councilmen, however, do not believe that the money can be obtained from the federal government. If the application is turned down it would be necessary to float revenue bonds to be taken up by individuals. Alderman S. M. Woodward suggested that a subscription list be taken among Iowa Citizens favoring municipal ownership to see if it would be possible to take up all bonds if it is not possible to obtain a federal loan.

The council decided to make application to the PWA for a $917,000 loan and grant. Decision on the application will tell whether or not revenue bonds would have to be floated on the open market if a plant is to be built.

In regard to rates the report says, "The city in establishing its own electric system must necessarily conform with the requirements of the state law. The maximum rate that may be charged the consumers must be established. It is recommended that the new schedule of rates of the Iowa City Light and Power company, effective Jan. 1, 1934, be considered the maximum rate for such purpose."

"It is further recommended that no further reduction in rates be (Turn to page 3)

Issue Forced By Petitions Of Consumers

Council Rejects Move For Vote March 6 in Heated Session

The election date on municipal ownership of an electric light plant in Iowa City is still "just around the corner."

Setting the day for a special election was placed in the hands of Mayor Harry D. Breene. He would make no definite statement last night on when he would call it, explaining that he wished to consider the matter fully. The council authorized the mayor and clerk to make application for a federal loan and grant totaling $917,000 from the PWA for a municipal light plant.

Van der Zee Motion Loses
Alderman Jacob Van der Zee's resolution calling for an election on March 6, was snuffed under by the council which voted 5 to 2 for indefinite postponement. Alderman Van der Zee protested postponement vigorously saying that there had been enough dilly-dallying on the issue. Alderman Edward Sybil supported Van der Zee.

More than 100 persons greeted the speeches of the aldermen and other speakers with cheers and boos as the argument over postponement grew warm and the session grew long, lasting from 7:30 until 11:30 p.m.

Schwob Reports
Consideration of the municipal light question started with the reading of the report by Consulting Engineer Walter Schwob, which is summed up elsewhere in this paper, during which members of the council questioned him on details of the plan.

After the report the skirmish began with Van der Zee saying he was very well satisfied with the report and was in favor of establishing a municipal light plant, which he contended could be paid for in 15 years on reduced light rates.

Reviewing arguments which have been advanced against municipal ownership, Alderman Van der Zee pointed out that municipal plants in many Iowa cities have been kept out of politics, run honestly and efficiently, have reduced rates and shown good profits.

"High Rates for 25 Years"
"We've been paying high rates for 25 years and have nothing to show for it. I wouldn't agree to have any extra taxes slapped on the people of Iowa City but this proposition will not call for taxes—it will reduce them. It's not like the sewage disposal plant project, which I am in favor of discarding since I found that the light company here is in favor of it because it will mean additional debt for the city which would prevent the establishment of a municipal light plant."

"How Come?"
"How come you didn't find that you weren't in favor of the plant sooner?" asked Alderman John P. Memler.

"I learned at the PWA office in Des Moines the other day that the light company had been inquiring about the status of the sewage disposal plant," answered Van der Zee.

Doubt Returns
Aldermen S. M. Woodward and James E. Stronks expressed doubt on whether the plant would show returns as shown in the engineer's report. Both of them said they thought more time should be given to investigate the matter and have some definite plan for financing.

Attorney Will J. Hayek, filing petitions carrying signatures of 1,000 voters, protested vote on the question on March 6, and contended that most Iowa Citizens would like more time to look over the engineer's report, learn more about the plans for financing and discuss the matter before voting. He said all the persons signing the petitions were for postponement, not necessarily for or against municipal ownership.

Stevenson Dislikes Delay
S. K. Stevenson protested the delay, saying that ever since last spring a number of Iowa Citizens have been trying to get the light company to come to some agreement on reduction but were ignored. Charging that the advertising of the light company was padded he asked that the council give the people a chance to voice their will as soon as possible.

Mrs. F. A. Stromsten said that many of the women had expected the council upon election to do (Turn to page 3)

Start Census Of Businesses Here Monday

Plan, Part of National Survey, Will Aid In Future Planning

An Iowa City business census, part of a nationwide research project aimed to secure information aiding in future economic planning, will get under way here Monday morning.

"The data gathered in the census should prove invaluable to business," John R. Thompson of Davenport, census supervisor for southeastern Iowa, said yesterday. "It will show the nation's business in a year of depression and facts gathered now can be used for comparison with the 1929 census when business was still booming," he continued.

Furnish Employment
The national census is planned to furnish more than 2,500,000 man-hours of employment, and will employ one man for approximately every 140 business establishments in the United States.

Three Iowa City men have been selected by Mr. Thompson to take the census in Iowa City and Johnson county. They are: John M. Kadlec, former county recorder; Herbert W. Anderson; and William J. Collins. The men were in Davenport yesterday receiving instruction for their work.

Use CWA Funds
CWA funds are being used on this large national project which is to be finished by Feb. 15. Every retail and wholesale organization, and most service and amusement businesses will be covered. The project plans to furnish an accurate measurement of the effect of the depression on all American businesses.

In order that the census may be completed in approximately a month a simple questionnaire has been prepared which contains only eight questions. These call for an accurate description of the business, kind of merchandise or service sold, main functions performed, employment given during 1933, salaries and wages paid to employees, other miscellaneous operating expenses incurred, net sales and other receipts of the business, stocks on hand at the last inventory, and amount of business done on a credit basis.

Aid Future Planning
It is hoped by the director of the plan, William Austin, that the data which will be furnished to the business man after the census is completed will make possible comparative studies and planning in the future, resulting in more efficient operating methods and policies.

Director Austin pointed out that no national economic planning is possible without first obtaining accurate and complete business inventory in every community of each business, and of a recent date. Copies of the 1929 census may be obtained by firms or individuals for a small sum by writing to the superintendent of public documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C.

Gartners Escape Tragedy as Auto Catches on Fire

Their car bursting into flames, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gartner, 522 E. Davenport street, Iowa City, and Albert Gartner, Mr. Gartner's nephew, narrowly escaped burning to death, in an accident near Oakland. Mrs. Gartner was pulled from the wreck just before the fire reached the interior of the car.

The occupants of the car were returning from a funeral of Mr. Gartner's mother at Lincoln, Neb., when Mr. Gartner was forced to turn off U. S. highway 6 when a truck rounded a curve in the center of the road a mile south of Oakland. As he attempted to swing the car back onto the pavement approaching cars forced him to swing to the right and the car skidded into the ditch where it burst into flames and was completely destroyed.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gartner received bruises and shock but were otherwise uninjured.

made during the first year of operation of the municipally owned system. After the first year it is proposed to make a 10 per cent cut in the rates. This would be in 1937, presuming that the city was ready to begin operation on Jan. 1, 1933.

10 Per Cent Reasonable
"In any event the city could reasonably expect a 10 per cent reduction under the new rates effective Jan. 1, 1934, and this one year after municipal operation goes into effect. It is further proposed to make a 10 per cent reduction every four years, or if the first is made in 1937, the 10 per cent reductions are scheduled for 1941, 1945 and 1949."

The report, which was accepted by the council, is on file at the city clerk's office in the city hall and is available to anyone wishing to learn further details of the survey and recommendations.

Other Business Transacted

C. A. Kutcher was re-appointed city inspector for a term of one year by the city council last night. John Donovan was appointed plumbing inspector and Tom Connell master plumber examiner.

The annual report of Fire Chief Herman J. Amish recommending that the council buy a new chief's car, two rear tires for the American LaFrance fire truck and 500 feet of fire hose was referred to the fire and water committee.

The south half of block 41, which is located on the north side of College street east of the viaduct, was admitted to the business district by a vote of 5 to 2. The petition of eight persons for a sanitary sewer on the south side of Church street between Dodge and Governor streets was granted.

The council decided to vacate the west part of Market street near Iowa Union in favor of the university in order that a foot bridge might be built across the Iowa river. The bridge is to connect Iowa Union with the new Fine Arts building.

The report of the city treasurer for December which was accepted is as follows: balance, $60,189.82; warrants paid, $12,280.69; receipts, $754.12; balance, $47,663.75.

The quarterly report of the police judge listed fines, $426.27; costs, $188.55 and bonds forfeited $76, making a total for the last three months of $690.82. The mayor's quarterly collection report totaled $275.80.

The talks were followed by the resolution calling for an election. Alderman Woodward, seconded by Alderman Ayers, asked for postponement and the motion carried with the support of Aldermen Stronks, McGuane and Memler. The petitions were then presented to Mayor Breene by Alderman Van der Zee, who asked that an election be called.

The council adjourned until Jan. 15.

University of Iowa Engineers Making Study Of 'Knocking' Gasolines at S. U. I. Laboratories

Gasoline which makes that annoying "pink-pink" noise in your car motor's cylinder or fuel which permits quiet running now is the subject of intensive study at the University of Iowa.

Prof. Huber O. Croft, head of the mechanical engineering department, announced Friday that knocking fuels now is under way and will continue for an indefinite period with Theodore R. Thorpe in charge of the project.

Engine Adjustable
A single-cylinder engine, especially designed for knock-rating, is used. It is so constructed that a crank can change the length of the cylinder, and therefore the compression ratio from 3 to 1 to 15 to 1 in a few seconds.

The knocking, or "pinking," of a gasoline mixture is caused by a premature explosion due to a combination of high temperature and pressure. Professor Croft explained.

Rating of gasoline according to its anti-knock qualities was made necessary by the advent of the high compression motor, for low-grade

60 Year Old War Against Military Training Reopens

Five Students at Ohio State Face Ousting For Objecting

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 5 (AP)—A 60 year old battle of "conscientious objectors" against compulsory military training marched into the open again at Ohio State university today.

Five students, served with verbal notice from President George W. Rightmire that unless they sought relief for military training there is "only one other probable course—dismissal," led to an effort to organize sentiment.

Administration Marks Time
Meanwhile, the administration marked time. Officials said no official action would be taken in the cases of the students for several days.

A group of Columbus ministers enrolled under the banner of the anti-military training students. The pastors met and pledged their support to a fight to make military training optional.

Students Seek Aid
The five students, joined by 11 others who also face possible expulsion because of refusal to take military training, called an "indignation meeting" at which they sought to enlist other students in their fight to make drill an elective subject. They chose as spokesman Charles Hart of Madison, a "conscientious objector" who was excused from drill a year ago by Dr. Rightmire.

Hart won his fight to keep from wearing the blue when he pleaded that his religious faith forbade him from learning to shoulder arms. The university religious council and representatives of the Y.M.C.A. also took a passive part, but announced that Hart would do the talking.

Prefer Dismissal to Drill
The five students in the controversy—Edward Lepon, Richard Baumgardner, David Telfair, Donald Leach and Carl Sutley—brought about the "revolt" movement when they appeared before Dr. Rightmire yesterday to protest the refusal of an administration committee to excuse them from drill. They said they preferred dismissal to mandatory drill.

Ohio State has been a battle ground for anti-military training almost since drill was inaugurated in 1873.

N. Y. Plans To Clear Slums

Major Project of New Mayor Awaits Okay Of Legislature

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Clearance of the city's slums, advocated by social workers for years, awaits only the legislature's approval to get started as a major undertaking of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's administration.

With a contribution of $25,000,000 earmarked for the vast task by the federal public works administration, Mayor La Guardia said today he would seek immediate sanction by the legislature of creation of municipal housing authorities. The plan already has the approval of Governor Lehman, who termed it "an opportunity for our cities" to provide low-rental housing with the aid of the federal government. Tenements in the lower east side, Harlem, Brownsville and the Brooklyn navy yard section—known over the nation as inadequate for healthful living purposes—will be torn down and replaced by modern, inexpensive buildings for the city's residents of moderate means.

CHICAGO (AP)—Successful in his first effort to prove collusion between Samuel Insull and his receivers, Samuel A. Etleson started a new fight today to force out the receiver of Middle West Utilities company and recover fees already paid the receiver and his attorneys.

Housing Service Tells Ruling For Second Semester

All students who expect to change living quarters at the end of the first semester must call at the office of the housing service in Iowa Union and receive the new list of approved rooms for unmarried students and apartments for married students, according to Prof. F. E. Holmes, manager of the housing service.

Housekeepers having rooms to rent should advise the housing service as soon as possible, so that their names can be placed on the approved list well in advance of the end of the first semester.

All students entering the university for the first time should also call for these lists to facilitate their picking the proper housing houses.

A farmer came into a store the other day to buy a 39 cent work shirt such as he had bought six months ago. The price was now 79 cents.

"How come," said the farmer. Then the merchant listed 17 additions to the cost of that shirt—codes calling for shorter hours, higher pay for spinners, weavers, dyers, shirt makers, new wholesale and retail store expenses, processing and occupational taxes—nearly 100 per cent advance in the raw cotton.

In the electric business, the problem is somewhat the same. A heavy federal excise tax, the revived war time corporation tax, higher prices for coal, copper and all other operating materials and supplies, reduced output, unpaid accounts, codes calling for shorter hours and higher wages—are but a few of the burdens.

In spite of all of this, electricity is now selling at the lowest price in the history of Iowa City.

If there is anything you do not understand about the new rates—call us. Better still—drop in at our office and ask for Mr. Gipple. He will be pleased to explain the new reduced rate schedule in detail and show you the savings that will result in your case.

Swift Results

EVEN THOSE cynical ones to whom "seeing is believing" have something tangible and substantial now to show them the trend of things in New York city under the new regime of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia.

The new mayor promised a "clean-up," but few suspected that it would start so soon and move so effectively. Thursday Police Commissioner John F. O'Ryan, whose administration has just begun to function, started his side of the clean-up going.

The biggest police drive since the reign of Commissioner Grover Whalen netted the New York police 143 criminals. The city moved with excited expectation, and the underworld darted for cover as the first results of the unannounced drive began to be known.

There is something significant in the newspaper accounts of this gigantic fight on crime. The difference between this drive and those of Commissioner Whalen was that Whalen always announced his drives in advance, the press reports announced.

To the new fighting commander of New York's police, this is not a matter for publicity or fame. It's a routine job, all in the day's work. Police and detectives responded to the call of LaGuardia and O'Ryan in this same spirit. The drive cost them an entire night's work, without even a moment's rest.

Incidents like this can have no double meaning. It is New York's announcement to her undesirable elements and to the country at large that the city is "cleaning house."

Is the Sun Shining?

POSSIBILITIES for the promotion of more friendly relations with Japan through the avenue of trade are contained in the president's statement that he probably will ask congress for authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations.

The Japanese were not slow to react, and immediately authorized Mitsui and Mitsubishi, her two largest business institutions, and the Yokohama Specie bank to send six representatives to the United States to begin preliminary negotiations.

The common interests of the Japanese and the American people in commercial affairs are so favorable that there is no economic reason for the present tense situation between the two countries. The deplorable situation that has existed since the World war has been the result solely of a misguided policy of aggressive arrogance on our part and a retaliatory propaganda to serve the needs of Japanese militarists. The resulting damaging effects have been increased through our policy of restrictive arbitrary tariffs.

The importance of President Roosevelt's professed policy in promotion of more satisfactory relations is evident. Its importance to trade and world recovery is well appraised in the following quotation from Yunosuke Yasukawa, managing director of Mitsui:

"The present world-wide nationalism cannot continue permanently. World trade must inevitably return to a normal course and be based on reciprocity and the principle of give and take. Accordingly Mr. Roosevelt's idea to negotiate reciprocal tariffs is laudable and likely to help greatly world trade recovery. In fact, therein lies the way for the world to emerge from the prevailing economic depression."

The Tide Moves West

THE LAST FEW months have seen a great change in the attitude of newspaper editorial staffs toward organization. The situation has changed from one of marked apathy on the part of writers and determined opposition on the part of publishers to one which shows signs of resulting in strong editorial organization.

Since the operation of the National Recovery act, editorial workers, despite the opposition of publishers, have succeeded in forming organizations similar to the British journalists' unions. These beginnings have been largely in the east.

With the founding of the St. Louis Guild for Editorial Newspaper Workers last Wednesday, however, the tide of organization began moving westward. The St. Louis group organized with about 50 members of the Post-Dispatch. It was decided at the initial meeting, however, that all employees of St. Louis newspapers should combine in a single group.

It is logical now to look for a national organization in the near future—one which will have the united support of editorial men and women, and which will thus be able to command for the journalistic profession the respect which it deserves and lacks.

Radicals Ad Infinitum

(From the Chicago Tribune)

Fiorello H. LaGuardia has had an experience which if not distressing was at least unusual. As mayor of New York he heard himself called an agent of Wall street by an angry woman speaking for a group of radicals pretending to seek his assistance. Mr. LaGuardia as a congressman was himself regarded as a radical and he did not discourage the idea. He and Mr. Pecora fitted into the same legend of scouring the money power.

Mr. LaGuardia as mayor of New York is withdrawn from the forensic and given over to the administrative power. That exposes him on the flank. It is a characteristic of radicalism that one radical cannot satisfy another either as to words or deeds. Ad infinitum there is one to bite another until possibly one be found somewhere in the reaches of the infinite who is biting himself, the ultimate soul in the ultimate Thule.

No one satisfies Robespierre but Robespierre. Cromwell was a protector of vested interests to John Lilburne, but Lilburne was only frustration to Winstanley. Lassalle was poison to Dr. Marx and Stalin is a counter revolutionist and traitor to Trotsky.

GOOD MORNING

It is fervently to be hoped that the congress, in the rush for a May adjournment, does not overlook the little matter of providing $200,000 necessary for Senator Black of Alabama to complete his current investigation into ocean and airline mail contracts.

Of all the questionable dealings of the last dozen or so years, some of the most shocking are to be found in the records of the United States Shipping board and the United States Shipping Board Merchant Fleet corporation.

Ships valued at millions sold for a song, untold sums of public money loaned to private interests at less than two per cent, subsidies in seven or eight figures in the form of mail contracts issued under acts which did not contemplate subsidies at all, and many millions more leaking through devious channels to fill unknown pockets—these are only a few of the interesting items yet to be uncovered in detail.

So far the investigator has received from congress only $30,000, although he asked for $90,000. His committee has examined only 10 of the 46 ocean mail contracts, and the airline subject hasn't been touched.

This investigation if carried through will be valuable because it will acquaint the public with a few more of the evils with which it has been burdened for so long and for which it will pay. It will be doubly valuable because it will provide the fallacy of a practice that has been all too common with the congress.

The shipping board was set up in 1916 as a direct agent of the congress. It was not subject to the authority of the executive branch of government. Only through a congressional investigation, in 1932, was the public able to learn in any detail of its activities. They remain rather hazy.

The board's purpose was to build up a fleet capable of meeting the war time emergency. At the end of the war it had some 1,300 ships on its hands and an organization that was one of the largest business systems in the world. All this it was directed to return to private hands as swiftly as possible.

Relieved of the ordinary responsibilities and supervision to which regular administrative departments are subject, the board followed its own course, which too often did not coincide with the public interest.

Mail contracts were awarded by the post office department to lines recommended by the Shipping board, in accordance with the supposedly implied intent of congress, though not in accordance with the clear provisions of the law. Pertinent parts of the Merchant Marine act of 1928, under which these contracts were made, read:

"The Postmaster General is authorized to enter contracts with citizens of the United States whose bids are accepted. . . He shall include in such contracts such requirements and conditions as in his best judgment will insure the full and efficient performance thereof and the protection of the interests of the government." Compensation for service rendered under the contracts was to be fixed on the basis of from $1.50 to $12 per nautical mile in accordance with a definite classification of vessels in regard to tonnage and speed.

Nowhere does the law suggest that these rates are to be applied as subsidies or as anything but fair rates of pay for services rendered. In the administration of the law they have become subsidies of the first class. In practically every instance the maximum rate has been allowed and has been far in excess of the actual value of the services.

The evils of the old Shipping board are ended. The whole organization was drastically pruned and transferred to the department of commerce last August, where it will henceforth be subjected to proper supervision and control.

The problem of mail contracts still is unsettled, and awaits the completion of Senator Black's investigation. It should not be postponed any longer.

STUDIO GOSSIP SCREEN COMMENT

HOLLYWOOD—Since everybody else is selecting the 10 best pictures and the 10 best plays of the year, Bing Crosby enters the field with his idea of the 10 best popular songs of 1933. In the order of their importance, he chooses:

"Three Little Pigs," "The Last Roundup," "The Day You Came Along," "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking?" "Night and Day," "Thanks," "Talk of the Town," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Lazybones" and "Stormy Weather."

There ought to be lots of conflicting opinions on this subject. Let's hear a few.

Guess why Claudette Colbert went to Death Valley for a vacation. Cecil B. De Mille sent her here to gain 15 pounds before she essays the role of Cleopatra in C. D.'s forthcoming epic of the flesh.

Not that Claudette's figure isn't shapely as it is, but the director says that Cleopatra was one of the most voluptuous sirens in all history and the heroine of his picture must have plenty of curves.

Oddly enough, it was De Mille who caused the star to be in her present under-weight condition. He put her through such strenuous location work, crawling on her hands and knees through Hawaiian underbrush, that she lost 12 pounds during the filming of "Four Frightened People."

So Claudette, as she normally tips the scales, is only three pounds short of De Mille's ideal Cleopatra after all.

Without a doubt, Irene Dunne installed an elaborate driving range in the back-yard of her new Beverly Hills home. She has a 500-yard stretch behind her house and is using 250 of it for the range.

There are flood-lights for night driving and all the fancy modern equipment. As soon as the weather is propitious, Irene is having a putting-green installed in some of the other extra space.

The secret behind all these preparations is the star's ambition to improve her game to the extent that she can enter tournaments in the east next spring.

QUICK GLIMPSES

Raquel Torres is telling the world that she's in love again and that boy-friend Stephen Ames is coming to Hollywood early in the new year. . . Members of the audience at "I Am Suzanne" were that amused when Charlie Chaplin showed up late with a couple of girls, saw that scene in the picture where a puppet imitates him and then walked out.

Joan Crawford has just about finished transforming the interior of her house from Spanish to early American style. The beams in the living-room will be the last to go.

The treasury ruling calling in all gold threeway into Cecil B. De Mille, who, for years, has carried $100 in gold coins to jingle in his pockets. In the hopes of getting a special permit, C. D. wrote a letter to his friend, J. T. P. O'Connor comptroller of currency. The answer just arrived. Mr. O'Connor says the case is so pitiful that he has referred it to the president.

Zasu Pitts is so burned over those radio performers who imitate her voice that she has asked the R-I-O legal department if there is any legal way to stop the practice. . . Paid a visit to the forbidden Josef von Sternberg set at Paramount. The picture will be finished in about a week. Did you know that von Sternberg gives Marlene instructions in German? . . .

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1933-1934

Saturday, Jan. 20, 8 a.m., to Saturday, Jan. 27, 12m., 1934
The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the room in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, and F, as shown in the form below; and Speech 1, 01, and 3 as shown at N.B. below).
The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the relation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this schedule,—except as authorized by the Committee, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted.
In the cases of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, and F) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.
All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour Jan. 15 or 16 if possible, Jan. 11 or 12.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory period or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first class hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, Jan. 22, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 125 meets twice each week, T Th, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, Jan. 26, 2-4.

N.B. All sections of freshman Speech 1, 01, and 3 will meet on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board in room 13, hall of liberal arts, for room assignments.
1. Saturday, Jan. 20, 8-10; Section F
2. Monday, Jan. 22; 8-10; Section C; 2-4; Sections A and D
3. Thursday, Jan. 25, 2-4; Sections H and I
Speech 01 and 3
4. Friday, Jan. 26; 8-10; Section G; 10-12; Section E; 2-4; Section B.

"ODD" classes,—namely those whose first or only weekly meeting occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, or Saturdays, or which meet on an "arranged" day, will be assigned to examination as announced for each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- From 4 to 6 on any day from January 20 to January 26, inclusive.
- Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, and F, when for such "odd" classes, these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.;" unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to the examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Professor Davies Foresees Substantial Upturn Coming To Iowa Business Volume

The outlook for a larger volume of Iowa business in the immediate future is promising, said Prof. George R. Davies, statistician of the Iowa business research bureau, in the December issue of the Iowa Business Digest.

According to the Digest, although October and November business data for Iowa indicated some slackening of the advance achieved in earlier months, the active organization of agricultural relief and civil works by the federal government has again turned the tide in favor of further progress.

Retail Trade Business conditions throughout the nation began to show fairly marked improvement in retail lines during the latter part of November. This upward trend has been accompanied by an improvement in confidence, and the stimulus to business has been gradually carried over to the manufacturing industries, Professor Davies said.

Data reported by the federal reserve board for the leading cities of the state showed a little decrease of bank debits (check transactions) in November as compared with the preceding month, and remained a little below the corresponding level of 1932.

Not Accurate However, these data probably do not fully represent the real gains in Iowa business because of the banking crisis earlier in the year, Professor Davies said. On the whole the trend in building contracts in Iowa is decidedly upward. A decrease in November as

Ramblers Overcome St. Mary's of Clinton in Final Three Minutes

Trailing Four Points, Local Quintet Scores 10 Points in Less Than 2 Minutes to Win

25 to 21 Victory Seventh in Row for Marians; Belger Leads Rally With Total of 10 Points For High Scoring Honors of Close Game

By IRVING KAHAN (Daily-Iowan Sports Writer) CLINTON, Jan. 5—As 500 raving maniacs howled themselves hoarse, St. Mary's of Iowa City put on the greatest demonstration of concentrated scoring punch ever witnessed on the local floor and beat the local St. Mary's quintet, 25 to 21, for the invader's seventh straight win.

Via Belger, held tight in the throes of a scoring slump for the last five games, touched off the flame here tonight that sent the local quintet down to defeat just as it seemed to have sewed up one of the closest and most thrilling games of the year.

Handicapped by the small floor and massed defense of the losers, the Sueppelmen were unable to work the ball in for close shots and had to resort to long efforts.

The home team was hot on its long shots and with but three minutes to go held a 19 to 15 lead that seemed insurmountable since it marked the biggest lead either team had held during the contest. The Ramblers took time out and rallied round Capt. Bob Bradley.

Coming out of the huddle, the visitors received two heart-breaking set-backs at once. Bradley missed a long shot and then Joe Mauer dropped one through the hoop only to see it spin out.

Parade Is On At this point the rally began and the Light Blue took command of the game for good. Playing with such dash and fire that the home bred five appeared to be playing in a daze, the Ramblers ran the score to 25 to 20 in less than two minutes.

After the two missed shots Dick Lumsden dropped in a free throw and Belger cut the margin to one point with a long shot from the side. Don Longman momentarily stemmed the tide with a free throw but Belger came right back with a two-handed shove shot from the corner that was the most spectacular basket of the game. With the scored tied, Belger again banged in a long one and the invaders led, 22 to 20. Lumsden broke loose with the ball and dribbled around his man and sank a setup. Bradley ended the spree with his fourth free throw of the game.

Through in Pinch Only a minute remained in the game and the Clintonites took time out but McDermott's free throw was their best effort as the Marians controlled the ball the last few seconds. It was a great triumph for the unbeaten visitors for they met the Clinton team on a small floor on the same night the locals happened to be hot, yet showed the stuff champions are made of and came through in the pinch.

Close Throughout At no time in the game, until the winning rally, did either team sport more than a three point margin. Clinton jumped into a 4 to 1 lead at the outset after Bradley had opened the scoring with a free throw. However a basket by Belger and another free throw by Captain Bradley evened the count at the end of the quarter.

After that each period ended in a tie with the Ramblers pulling into a 9 to 6 lead midway in the second period only to see Louis Longman tie it up with a free throw just before the gun at 10-10.

Hawkeyes Add New Team To Swim Program

Gustavus Adolphus college of St. Peter, Minn., definitely will send its swimming team to meet the University of Iowa here Feb. 2, Coach David A. Armbruster of the Hawkeyes said Friday.

Definite scheduling of the meet with the Minnesotans gives the Iowans six dual affairs, two of them in the field house pool. The Gustavus Adolphus meet will be the first affair on the intercollegiate schedule.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, and Minnesota are Big Ten rivals already booked, while Michigan State is the second non-conference opponent. Of these, only the Illinois contest will occur at Iowa City.

Clinton Leads Barrett sent Clinton ahead with a side shot as the third period opened but Belger sank a long one from the side to even the count. D. Longman sent the local five ahead with a free throw but Lumsden came right back to knot it again, just before Caesar Consamus dropped in an overhead shot. D. Longman again came through to even matters and the final period started with the score deadlocked at 15.

D. Longman and Barrett found a hot spot in the center of the floor and both banged in long shots to give the Clinton Marians the apparent spoils of victory. Belger was high point man with 10 points followed by Lumsden with six. Barrett and D. Longman each scored seven for St. Mary's of Clinton.

Big Ten Title Race Gets Underway

Hawks Rank As Favorites In Campaign Expect Wisconsin, Ohio State, Indiana, Purdue in Fight

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—With Iowa as the favorite, and Purdue, Indiana, and Wisconsin picked to be in the battle all the way, the Western conference basketball championship campaign will open tomorrow night.

Iowa, a veteran outfit, will make its initial bid, at home against Northwestern, which shared the 1933 title with Ohio State. The Buckeyes open at Chicago, while Indiana entertains Michigan, Minnesota plays at Purdue, and Wisconsin and Illinois meet at Champaign.

From pre-season showings, Iowa, Ohio State, Indiana, and Purdue figure to get away with victories. The Wisconsin-Illinois battle ranks as the feature of the evening with the result a tossup. Although weakened by the loss of Bill Hosket, last year's all Big Ten center, Ohio State has played impressively in its last two games. Chicago, as has frequently been the case, will open its conference with a different team than played through the preliminary contests.

Coach Nels Norgren will start a sophomore team, inexperienced but big and probably much stronger than any Maroon team in several years. Veteran Teams Wisconsin and Illinois have veteran teams that lost only one game during the early season stretch. Purdue's squad averaged about a point a minute, and Indiana played well enough to win six out of seven contests. Northwestern lost Joe Reiff and Elmer Johnson, its high scoring pair, and because of injuries, got off to a dull start. Neither Michigan nor Minnesota showed much strength.

Big Ten teams won 37 games and lost 23 against non-conference opponents, averaging 30.7 points per game to 24.2. A year ago when they won 31 games and lost 19, conference fives outscored other opposition by an average of 32.1 to 25.7.

Ames Coach Gives Praise

Lauds Guarding Of Iowa State Star In Drake Game.

AMES, Jan. 5—Iowa sports writers, commenting on the Drake-Iowa State basketball game Tuesday night, agreed that Ed Doty of Davenport, Ill., Chester Anderson of Burlington and Torvald Holmes of Gilbert stole the show. But Louis Menze, Cyclone coach, didn't see it that way. Menze was particularly pleased with his team's defense against Smith and McCloud, the Drake marksmen. And, he said yesterday, Frank Hood of Creston, big backguard, would get his vote as the game's outstanding player.

"Hood is an animated icicle on the court," Menze explained. "You can't ruffle him. His footwork is just about perfect—you never find him off balance. Although he isn't a fast man, we usually assign him to cover the speediest opponent. His strong qualities showed up particularly well against Drake. He stuck to McCloud like a leech. He was death to rebounds under his own basket, and he was in the game every minute."

Hood is playing his second year at backguard. He shows promise, in the view of many critics, of becoming one of the best men in his position ever to perform in the Big Six.

Pioneers Mix Dates, Fail to Appear for Washington Game

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Grinnell college Pioneers got their dates mixed up and failed to appear here tonight for a Missouri Valley conference basketball game with the Washington university Bears. The game will be played tomorrow night, the date Grinnell athletic officials had on their schedule.

Buddy Hackman, famous half back at the University of Tennessee a few years ago, coached the high school football team at Lakeland, Fla., to the state championship this season.

WILL CARRY ATTACK FOR NORTHWESTERN

Despite four defeats in six starts the Wildcats of Northwestern are expected to give the Hawkeyes plenty of trouble tonight. Co-captains Culver and Brewer will lead a team which has met the strongest the midwest can offer in pre-conference competition and as a result will be a more seasoned outfit.

Adopt American League Ball As Uniform for Both Loops

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The National league compromised today with the American league on standardization of the baseball—like a husband who wants to go to the mountains compromises with his wife who wants to go to the seashore. The National league accepted the speedier American league ball in trade.

Greek Cagers Open Schedule

Basketball quintets in the interfraternity class A league will swing into action again this afternoon as 11 games are played in the field house courts. The contests scheduled are: at 1:30, Phi Kappa Psi vs. Delta Chi; Delta Upsilon vs. Theta Tau; Delta Tau Delta vs. Alpha Kappa Psi; at 2:15, Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Chi; Phi Gamma Delta vs. Sigma Pi; Phi Kappa Alpha vs. Delta Sigma Pi; at 3:30, Phi Kappa Psi vs. Triangle; Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Alpha Tau Omega; Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi; and at 4:15, Theta Xi vs. Phi Epsilon Kappa; Alpha Chi Sigma vs. Phi Delta Theta.

Because Lawrence Parsons earned a letter in basketball while attending Ft. Dodge junior college he was declared ineligible for further interfraternity competition and a game won by his house from Alpha Sigma Phi was awarded the latter after a protest had been filed, investigated and substantiated.

Hawk Football Team Given High National Ranking

A ranking of first in improvement over the previous year and tenth strongest team in the United States was won by the University of Iowa's 1933 football eleven according to a national rating system. This information was received Friday at the department of athletics from William Weyer of Cleveland, Ohio, originator of the system.

McPhail Seeks Bob O'Farrell for Reds

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5 (AP)—Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, announced tonight that Bob O'Farrell is his choice for manager of the Reds this year, but that "we have not consummated any deal for his services" with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Long Island Pro Leads In Miami Open

McAllister Cracks Par To Head Field Of 160

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP)—Equaling the course record with a sparkling 66, four under par, Charles McAllister of Forest Hills, L. I., led the field of more than 150 golfers at the end of the first 18 hole round of play today in the $2,000 Miami open golf tournament.

McAllister, a pro at the Queens' Valley Country club, carded a pair of 33's which enabled him to tie the course mark hung up when Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich., won the title last year. Two strokes back of McAllister came Willie Dow, gray haired Miami pro, who chalked up a pair of 34's for a 68. He also grabbed off five birdies and took ten pars.

Tied in next place were Tommy Armour, the black Scot from Chicago, with 34-65; Phil Perkins of Willoughby, Ohio, with 34-65-69; and Ralph Stonehouse of Indianapolis, Ind., with 35-34-69. Four players, headed by Mike Brady, the veteran from Mamaronck, N. Y., matched par 70 for the initial round. Brady took 33-37; Eddie Williams and Charles Rice, both of Chicago, each had a pair of 35's; as did Jock Collins of Mansfield, Ohio.

New Nets To Aid Workouts

Baseball Candidates Settle Down To Hard Work The task of building up a winning Iowa baseball team has just begun, and practices will take a more serious and determined aspect now that Christmas holidays are over.

Competition is going to be keen. Twenty-six engagements have already been carded for the Hawks, with the possibility that more non-conference games may be billed later in the season. Now is the time to report for daily practices being held at the field house. New double-nets, installed to aid batting drills, are to be lowered Monday. Coach Homer Musgrove urges those interested in baseball to get a glove and join the ranks of those already enrolled. He particularly wishes the latter to make it a habit to attend regularly.

Those working out recently are included in the following list: Claassen, Hoffman, Landrum, Taylor, Stephens, Glaspay, Franey, Drizhal, Becker and Wiegand. Iowa moved from eighty-seventh place in 1932 to tenth in 1933. Teams which ranked above the Hawkeyes in order are Michigan, Southern California, Pittsburgh, Ohio State, Stanford, Nebraska, Tulsa, Minnesota, and Oregon.

OSKALOOSA, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Iowa Wesleyan Tigers won an initial conference victory tonight by defeating Penn in a fast game 47 to 34. The Quakers took an early 10-5 lead but Wesleyan spurred and led at the half, 25 to 13. In the second half the visitors piled up a big margin and coasted to victory. Ray Patterson, guard, was the Tiger scoring ace with eight field baskets and a pair of free throws for 18 points. Rhiner was high for Penn with 13.

More Than 75 Report for Indoor Track Workouts as Season Opener Nears

1st Meet To Be Run Early In February

Bresnahan Pleased By Work of Fresh Vaulters

Early track aspirants, working out in the field house, swelled the list of cindermen to more than 75 yesterday as shot putters, sprinters, and distance runners prepared to loosen up tight muscles and settle down to their respective events.

An unusually large group of shot putters appeared so early in the season as 10 men went through an easy workout which consisted in numerous short tosses of the 16 pound weight. Among those who showed up for the first time in this event was Tom Moore who will attempt to round himself into shape for the first dual meet which takes place shortly after the opening of the second semester. Moore has been a mainstay on the team in the weights for the last two years and is counted on by Coach George Bresnahan to be a heavy scoring factor in most of the meets this season.

Freshman pole vaulters took the eye of most of the bystanders as three of the yearling vaulters started the season with high marks. The best of the group was Stanley Carlson of Florio, who repeatedly cleared 11 feet.

Coach Bresnahan took charge of the vaulters, high jumpers, and shot putters the first night, while Assistant Coach Ted Swenson directed the sprinters. Headed by Capt. Sidney Dean, sprinters went through a series of exercises and short sprints allowing much of their time for perfection of their starts. Jimmy Owen, Maplewood, Mo., and Jack Lindstrom, Downers Grove, Ill. were among those to workout for the first time.

Distance men also reported for the first time. Led by Campisi, varsity number, they circled the track a number of times in an effort to eliminate themselves of stiffness caused by a four week layoff since cross country ended. Merle Goeckler of Council Bluffs took charge of the freshman squad in their roundings of the track. Bob McElroy, 1933 cross country captain, also showed up for the first time. Robert Henderson, miler and two miler of the 1931 and 1932 season, appeared for his first time since 1932 and hopes to be in shape for the first meet. Henderson dropped track last year, but his eligibility will not be affected.

Practice today will begin at 3 o'clock, one hour earlier than usual, as is the custom on Saturdays throughout the indoor season.

Schmeling Will Fight Levinsky

Conflict Scheduled For Feb. 16 at Chicago Stadium

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—Max Schmeling is to trade punches with King Levinsky, Chicago's walloping ex-fish peddler.

Schmeling, returning to America in search of additional wealth and another chance at the world's heavyweight championship, which he once held, will battle Levinsky in the Chicago stadium, Feb. 16.

The match was virtually closed today by long distance telephone, with Joe Jacobs, manager of the German ex-champion, agreeing to the match from New York, and Harold Steinman, one of Levinsky's corps of managers placing his stamp of approval in Chicago. Jacobs agreed to come to Chicago Monday to go over complete details of the contest, the division of the purse, and the length of the bout.

The contest may be for 10 rounds, but a compromise may be reached on 12 rounds.

Joseph Foley, representing the Chicago stadium operating company, said the prices for the bout would be set so the receipts, in event of a sell out, would net $82,000.

Schmeling, who is preparing to sail from Germany Jan. 12, has not engaged in a bout since his technical knockout defeat at the hands of Max Baer in New York last year. He is reported, however, to have been in light training, and is ready to enter a hard stage of conditioning in Chicago by Jan. 22. Levinsky has been active, scoring victories over Jack Shankey and Don McCormick, the South African, whom he floored seven times in their battle here last week.

Other heavyweight developments impend tomorrow, with the arrival of Jack Dempsey, who is heading for New York later to confer with Madison Square Garden officials on the proposed Max Baer-Primo Carnera bout, in which he intends to be a joint promoter. He stay here may start the ground work for a match between the winner of the Levinsky-Schmeling event, and Baer, on whom he holds an option.

The Chicago stadium, said Foley, is prepared to combine with Dempsey in staging Baer against either Levinsky or Schmeling.

Los Angeles Open Tourney Starts Today

Dudley Only Past Title Holder Missing For 1934 Opening

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (AP)—The nation's golfing great will seek to start the new year off right tomorrow when a field of 140 answers the starter's call for the first round of the ninth annual Los Angeles $5,000 open tournament.

And all but one of the winners of this, one of the first money tournaments of the west coast, will be among those present at the Los Angeles Country club. Of the past champions, only his Ed Dudley, winner in 1931, will be missing.

With good weather predicted, and a host of sub par scores recorded in practice rounds, there was every indication that the championship would run true to form in demanding better than perfect figures of the winner.

Harry Cooper, an unheralded youth from Texas, bettered par by five strokes on this same Los Angeles Country club course to win the first tournament in 1926.

Bobby Cruickshank cracked par by six strokes to walk off with first place money the following year. For the next two seasons MacDonald Smith topped the list, keeping on even terms with par in 1928 and then finishing three under for 72 holes in 1929.

Denny Shute, British open champion, came out of comparative obscurity in 1930 to win. Dudley also walked away with the first money in 1931. He was one stroke over perfect figures.

Smith came back to win his third title in 1932, shooting a 281, three under for the tough Hillcrest course, and then Craig Wood, leading money winner of the 1932-33 season, crashed through to take the title last winter with a similar score, three below par.

Wood faces an imposing field in the defense of his crown. Besides the past winners of the tournament, there are Paul Runyan, winner of the Agua Caliente open last year and the Pasadena open which inaugurated the 1933-34 parade; Leo Diegel and Olin Dutra, former national P.G.A. champions; and a flock of young stars such as Ralph Guldahl, runner up in the 1933 open championship; Johnny Revolta, Dick Metz, Ky Laffoon, Ben Coltrin, and Archie Hambrick.

Joe E. Brown Goes To Bed After Rose Bowl Grid Contest

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP)—Joe E. Brown, the movie comic, was in bed today with a mild case of influenza which he contracted at the Rose Bowl football game in Pasadena New Year's day.

"I went to the game to root for Stanford," he told friends, "and I guess I got over exposed because I was on the negative side."

S. A. E.'s to Meet Sigma Nu Quintet

Drake Upsets Cowboys In Valley Loop

DES MOINES, Jan. 5 (AP)—Drake sprang a surprise in its Missouri Valley conference basketball opener tonight to outplay Oklahoma A. & M. 34 to 19, in a fast game.

Despite frequent experimental changes in the lineup, the Bulldogs outplayed their rangier opponents all the way after jumping into an 11 to 0 lead at the start. The presence of Leonard Cole, 6 foot 8 inch center in the upoff ring gave Drake control of the ball during the greater part of the game.

The Bulldogs kept Buddy Wade, elusive cowboy scoring ace, fairly well bottled up during the game, but he managed to score three baskets and a free throw before he was ejected on personal fouls.

Dave Abram, veteran Drake guard, took advantage of frequent fouls to gain scoring honors with two baskets and five free throws.

Head Coach Jimmy Kitts will be the only new football coach at Rice institute, the assistant staff of Jack Meagher, departing mentor, being retained.

Cornhuskers Nose Out Iowa State in Overtime Period In Conference Opener, 37-31

AMES, Jan. 5 (AP)—In a thrill packed Big Six inaugural, Nebraska nosed out Coach Louie Menze's Iowa State basketball team in an overtime period tonight, 37 to 31.

The stalwart Huskers broke through an otherwise tight defense in the extra session to win the game on a basket and two free throws by Hub Bowell and a tip in shot by Captain Cople after the score was tied midway in the overtime period. Trailing 28-26 with but 39 seconds to go in the regular session, Nebraska rushed in to break up a Cyclone stall, Parsons intercepting a pass to dash in for a set up shot which tied the count at 28 all as the gun was fired.

The game was hard fought from start to finish, both teams rushing the ball at every turn. The lead alternated frequently, neither team enjoying a margin of more than four points at any time.

Iowa State, chiefly through the work of lanky Walter Wagner at center, led 15-14 at half time. The Cyclone center scored 10 points in the first half and added five more in the second stanza to gain scoring honors.

Lunney and Parsons shared second high with 10 points each. Cople, Nebraska center, played an important part in the Huskers' victory by controlling the tip off over Wagner, his 6 foot 4 inch rival, most of the game.

SYNOPSIS

To help support her stepmother and stepisters, young and beautiful Patricia Warren, a skilled card player, plays bridge for fifty cents an hour at parties given by the wealthy Mrs. Sycott. Julian Haverholt, noted bridge expert, offers to make Pat his secretary and partner. His amorous advances cause Pat to decline his business offer much to her stepmother's chagrin. Pat meets Clark Tracy, the polo player and her ideal, at Mrs. Sycott's. She is heartbroken to learn he is engaged to the socially prominent Marthe March. Bill McGee, a racketeer, is interested in Pat but she loathes him. However, afraid to refuse his invitation, she accompanies him to a New Year's Eve dance. He is shot by a rival gangster. Frank, Pat rushes home only to be put out by her stepmother who says the police are looking for Pat. Unable to find employment, Pat turns to professional bridge. Haverholt renews his bridge business offer. Pat accepts. Meeting Pat at Haverholt's home, Clark does not recognize her. Haverholt introduces her as his niece. After the men go, Pat is indignant at Haverholt's pretense. He explains he introduced her as his niece to protect her reputation. Pat is tempted to leave, but Haverholt urges her to stay in the role of his niece, promising her a successful future.

She leaned among the pillows of the divan, spent and pale, her dark eyes following Haverholt.

make, a sort of small-time racketeer I guess you'd call him. I was with Bill McGee in an uptown speakeasy when he was shot."

Haverholt's eyebrows went up. They were very black beneath his snow-white hair. He looked startled and perturbed.

He said, "Murdered?"

"No, sometimes I wish he had been," replied Patricia bitterly. She amended quickly. "Of course I don't mean that. It's hard not to wish it, though. Bill McGee is an enemy of mine now. He thought I should have stuck with him that night. I didn't; I ran away. He's still in the hospital but I haven't felt exactly safe. I guess my stepmother hasn't either. You see, Bill has threatened me and he is the head of a neighborhood gang." She spread her hands. "You know how those things are."

Haverholt regarded her perplexedly.

"Did you ever care for the man, Patricia?"

"I hated him always."

"Why then—"

"Why did I go out with him? I was afraid not to," she admitted very simply.

In a few brief and eloquent words she painted for him the fears, the worries, the anxieties of the small New York shopkeeper. Lillian Warren must keep in good with the boys or starve. And Patricia, a child of the streets, had grown into lovely girlhood to face that condition. She had gone out with Bill McGee. She must, led Bill McGee wreck his vengeance upon the business and so deprive them all of a livelihood. It was as natural to her as the fact that two plus two equals four, just as Bill's enmity was natural.

As she finished he said almost roughly, "I'll take care of you now, young woman. If this Bill McGee so much as lays a finger on you, I—"

"I can take care of myself."

"I wouldn't wonder if you could!"

"Anyhow," said Patricia, "Bill is still in the hospital. And he'd never dream of hunting for me here, would he?"

"I'd like to see him try. I'd like to see him stick his nose past that door just once! Mr. McGee would

Udell K. O.'s Ash in Fifth At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 5 (AP)—Larry Udell, 180, Aberdeen, S. D., knocked out Huston Ash, 210, Kansas City, in the fifth round of a slow fight tonight.

Udell's left hand proved a stumbling block for the Kansas Citian. After a few seconds of close mixing in the fifth, Ash went down under a right cross to the chin. He was counted out with one knee on the canvas.

The milling was even in the opening frame, with Udell using a right to the body and Ash doing some effective punching to the face with his left.

Herb Pennock Given Release By N.Y. Yanks

Veteran Southpaw Out After 21 Years of Play

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees formally confirmed today the unconditional release of Herb Pennock, veteran southpaw pitcher with a 21 year big league service record, but softened similar notice to Joe Sewell, veteran infielder, by announcing his reengagement as a non playing coach for 1934.

Sewell will replace Jimmy Burke, who has been one of Manager Joe McCarthy's aides for the last two years and prior to that a coach with the Chicago Cubs. Burke, said the announcement, has resigned.

The Yankees will economize by having only two coaches this year instead of three. Art Fletcher, who served under Miller Huggins before continuing as McCarthy's first lieutenant, will remain on the coaching lines but no replacement will be made for Cy Perkins, battery coach, who was released to Detroit this winter.

Columbia Nips Central, 33-32

DUBUQUE, Jan. 5 (AP)—Columbia college managed to stave off a last minute rally of the Central college team here tonight to cke out a 23 to 32 Iowa conference victory.

Although the Dubuques were in front 29 to 21 with about five minutes remaining, the visitors showed a sudden burst of speed to throw a stiff scare into the local machine. The teams were dead-locked, 15 to 15 at half-time.

Sullivan, center for the visitors, copied the evening's scoring honors with 14 points. White and Broderick led the attack for the victors with nine points each.

Jury Men To Get Records Case Today

The $15,000 damage action of Sarah Records against Prof. B. J. Lambert is scheduled to go to the jury today after the closing arguments of the attorneys this morning.

Both the plaintiff and defendant rested yesterday afternoon after the testimony of Dr. Arthur Steindler, Mrs. J. L. Records, Prof. B. J. Lambert and his two sons, Richard and Edward, was taken.

The amount is asked for injuries Sarah Records received when she was burned in a bonfire claimed to have been started through the negligence of Professor Lambert.

Girl Scouts Invite Iowa City Women To Attend Institute

All Iowa City women interested in activities of the Girl Scouts are invited, in addition to council members, leaders, and troop committee members, to attend a field institute at Hotel Fort Des Moines in Des Moines Jan. 8 and 9, according to Ruth Frerichs, local Girl Scout director.

The institute will be supervised by Margaret Murray, field institute secretary from Washington, D. C. Sessions will run from 10 a. m. to noon, and from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

"How a well organized council functions," "Troop committees," and "Obtaining and maintaining adequate leadership," will be the subjects discussed.

Representatives from an area known as the "covered wagon region 8," which includes Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, are expected to attend.

Snowballs and Slush

Snowball battles were in full swing yesterday when some of the said collegians reverted to their childhood tactics and hurled plain and fancy snowballs at the innocent and guilty bystanders. Many a noble warrior bit the slush as he attempted to dodge a rain or hail of snowballs. As the town punster would put it, "I hope they all get a code in the head."

Dogs

Dog lovers living in the rural areas of Johnson county will benefit from a reduction made by the board of supervisors in the county dog tax. The tax has been cut $1 for a male or a spayed female and $3 for a female. The tax is due now and after April 1 there will be a $1 penalty.

Civil Service

The position of chief statistician under the bureau of statistics in the department of labor is vacant. Any mathematically minded person interested in taking the examination should see Frank J. Mezick at the post office. Incidentally, the salary is $5,600 a year.

Planes

Because of bad flying conditions, the planes of the United Airlines were not flying last night. Weather has prevented the arrival of any planes at the local airport since Wednesday.

Still Going

The $15,000 damage suit of Sarah Records against Prof. B. J. Lambert still holds the center of the stage at the Johnson county courthouse. The trial will continue at 9 o'clock this morning.

Modern storage warehouse for Chesterfield tobacco

EUROPEAN WINE CELLAR

SOMETHING like the method of ageing fine wines is used in ageing and mellowing the tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes.

The picture you see here was taken inside one of our modern storage warehouses where the tobaccos for Chesterfield are put away.

There are about four and one-half miles of these Liggett & Myers warehouses filled with thousands of casks of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos, most of it lying there ageing and mellowing for Chesterfield cigarettes.

It takes just about three years to age the tobacco for your Chesterfields.

Everything that money can buy and that science knows about that can make a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better, is used in making Chesterfields.

A scene from "Going Hollywood," a new kind of musical romance, starring "Bing Crosby" and "Marion Davies," now showing at the Englert theatre.
