Dillinger Reported Enroute To Britain Aboard Canadian Ship; Foreign Police Asked to Help

Liner Is Due in Port Some Time Today At Glasgow

BULLETIN

LONDON, May 5 (AP) Saturday—The London Herald today said that Chicago police had cabled authorities in all ports of the British Isles that John Dillinger had left the United States with a companion.

As a result of the messages from Chicago, the Herald said, instructions were issued to police at Greenock, Scotland, Belfast and Liverpool.

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)—If John Dillinger, vanishing American No. 1, is en route to London as reported in cable dispatches tonight, the Chicago police department will be well pleased.

A sergeant in authority at the headquarters of the special Dillinger squad of 40 picked policemen said:

"Sorry, we can't confirm the rumor that Chicago police have cabled London or anyone in England that Dillinger is expected there. You see, Police Sergeant Frank Reynolds, in charge of the squad at night, is out right now on a Dillinger 'tip' trying to find that guy."

"But," added the sergeant, "if Chicago police had asked the whole British Isles to be on the lookout for Dillinger, it seems that we ought to have been informed here to save gasoline and wear and tear on our squad cars."

to examine all passengers aboard the Duchess of York before they are allowed to land in these ports.

The Duchess of York is due at Greenock Saturday.

The newspaper quotes a Liverpool detective as saying United States authorities have strong evidence that Dillinger boarded the Duchess.

The British vessel sailed from Halifax, N. S., April 29. She was in St. John, N. B., the day before.

MONTREAL, May 4 (AP)—Officials of the Canadian Pacific steamship line tonight received a request from the department of justice at Washington to investigate reports that John Dillinger might be aboard the Duchess of York, bound from Halifax to Glasgow.

The liner is due in the Scottish port some time tomorrow.

Officials said they had sent a "guard" wireless to the captain of the ship but that up until a late hour tonight no answer had been received.

Although no official government statement was made, it appeared both it and shipping officials were kept up over the report.

It was pointed out that difficulties Dillinger would have of securing a British visa were almost insuperable.

Prof. H. Urey To Address Physics, Chemistry Students

Prof. Harold C. Urey of the Columbia university chemistry staff will address faculty members and graduate students of the physics and chemistry departments this morning at 10 o'clock in room 321, chemistry building. His subject will be "Vapor pressures of the hydrogen."

Professor Urey, who is known for his discovery of "heavy hydrogen" and as editor of the Journal of Chemical Physics, spoke on "The separation and properties of the hydrogen isotopes" at 7:30 p.m. yesterday in chemistry auditorium.

Arrangements for Professor Urey's visit here were made by the Iowa section of the American Chemical Society.

Norwegian Motorship Towed to Coast After Four of Crew Perish

ASTORIA, Ore., May 4 (AP)—Twice driven aground and finally freed by an angry ocean while four of her crew perished, the Norwegian motorship Childer was towed toward Astoria by a coast guard cutter late today but because of her damaged condition remained in danger of sinking off the Columbia river mouth.

F. R. "Duping" Farmer, Says Edwin Hicklin

Recognition of People's Rights Called For In Address

Charging that the American farmer has been "duped" by the Roosevelt administration, State Senator Edwin J. Hicklin of Wapello called for a return to constitutional government and the recognition of the individual rights of the people at a Republican rally held last night in the Hawk's Nest cafe.

"The NRA," said the speaker, "has reduced the buying power of the farmer 14 per cent by allowing industries to set their own prices which would guarantee them a profit."

"The AAA is merely a resolution and has utterly failed in its primary aim to raise the prices of farm products," declared the speaker.

"Under Guise of Emergency" Under the guise of a great emergency, the president has made himself dictator, said the speaker when stating "that the next Republican platform must revert back to the old sound Republican principles."

The first principle, he declared, must be sound money. The present administration has paralyzed private credit because no one knows exactly the value of a dollar. The government is the only banker that is willing to undertake to loan money under such uncertain conditions.

"The government must be taken out of business," said the speaker, when he charged that the PWA funds had induced communities to build things they had no use for and could not pay for.

He criticized the Democrats for using public funds to build up a huge party machine by creating special commissions to distribute relief funds when existing organizations, such as city councils, could have done "four times as much good with 25 per cent as much money."

"Reckless Expenditure" This "reckless expenditure of public funds by these irresponsible persons, not elected by the people," said the speaker, "has saddled a debt upon our posterity which constitutes 75 per cent of the total loan value of the entire country."

The placing of the tariff rate fixing power in the hands of the president was also scored by the speaker.

Senator Hicklin contended "The Democratic party, by denying what it stood for, has allowed a bunch of greenhorns to make guinea pigs of us. The government must be taken out of their hands and put in the hands of the duly elected representatives of the people."

Return to Fold He predicted a return of the normal Republicans to the fold in the next election and also stated that he believed that a vast number of the Jeffersonian Democrats would desert their party.

In conclusion he said, "The Republicans have cleaned up every Democratic mess since the Civil war and will do it again."

Short talks were also given by Prof. C. M. Updegraff; Paul Toomey, candidate for the office of county attorney; J. E. Mumma, candidate for state representative from this district; and William A. Meardon, candidate for the county board of supervisors.

'Let's Not Go Back!' Pleads Johnson in Recovery Speech

Half-Empty Auditorium Fails to Dampen Chief's Ardor

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 4 (AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the nation's recovery program, waged an emphatic forefinger at NRA's critics tonight and pleaded: "For God's sake, let's not go back!"

The fact that his audience did not match by half the capacity of the Ohio state fairground coliseum, where the general was invited to speak by the wholesalers and manufacturers' association of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, did not check his ardor.

His address, said by him to be a "message to the nation," bristled with such phrases as "arrant buncombe . . . supreme moonshine . . . alligator tears."

Johnson In Third Place

Iowa Entrant Garners Honor in Northern Oratorical Tilt

Roswell Johnson, A3 of Ottumwa, representing the University of Iowa, was awarded third place in the Northern Oratorical league contest at Minneapolis, Minn., last night.

Mr. Johnson spoke on "The White peril." He defended Japan, and pointed out the threat to the Orient in the encroachments of the western powers.

John Cobbs, a Negro student of Western Reserve university, won first with a plea for race toleration. Second place went to Seymour Simon of Northwestern university, who spoke on the problem of machine made unemployment.

The Frank O. Lowden prizes of $100 for first and $50 for second were awarded these men.

The Iowa entrant earned the right to represent the university by winning the Jessup oratorical contest last month. He was accompanied to Minneapolis by Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger of the speech department.

Gladys Baker, Local Girl, Is Elected To Missouri Sigma Xi

Gladys E. Baker, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Richard P. Baker, 829 Kirkwood avenue, was one of 21 students elected to a full membership in the Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific research organization, at Washington university in St. Louis, Mo., yesterday. Miss Baker is a graduate student doing research work.

The election took place in Graham memorial chapel on the Washington campus, in a joint convocation of the active members and initiates of the Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa.

Students elected to the Sigma Xi are chosen on the basis of their scientific work during the last three years at the university. Only a small percentage of the students in the senior class is elected each year.

SEEN

from Old Capitol

By TOM YOSELOFF

Still they continue to come. More than 1,500 of the 5,112 music contestants are "transients"—coming and going in a single day. They come to town, hardly have time for a "breathing spell," are rushed into a contest, capture a place, and are then rushed home. It's tough on the boys and girls, but it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. So consider what a relief it is to Bruce Mahan and his staff of bed-finders, having 1,500 fewer beds to find!

There's no justice. It was insufferably warm Thursday afternoon, and a young man from Orange City went bathing in the university pool to keep cool. Imagine his surprise and embarrassment when he came out of the pool to find his trousers missing. He came back to Iowa Union in a pair of borrowed pants.

These high school musicians are certainly a versatile group of men and women. Musical instruments are not the only things they play, if one is to judge by the case of the boys from Ames. Last night, in their "vacation" time, five of them sat near the inner entrance of the Iowa Union cafeteria, and played "rum-m-y."

And then, consider the case of the Eagle Grove boys quartet. All four of them played on their high school football team—a team which went through last season with only a single defeat. "Jiggs" Wilson, first tenor, was state wrestling champion and midwest A.A.U. champion in the 165 pound class. Scott Fisher, bass, was another state and A.A.U. winner in his weight class, 135 pounds. Gerald Hanson, second tenor, and Erling Kloster, baritone, were members of their basketball team. This department strongly advises against anyone's shouting "Sissy" when these boys start singing!

It's measles time in Vinton . . . which accounts for the fact that the boys glee club of the state school for the blind at Vinton did not arrive. When Thursday came, and no boys glee club with it, that worried genius-in-control, Mr. Mahan, became worried. So he was probably relieved, as well as disturbed, when a phone call came from Vinton announcing that three of the boys were sick with the measles, and the whole group could not come.

Those peace-reading shrieks that come from the direction of Iowa Union do not emanate from musicians in action, as some cynics might claim. Neither is there any basis for belief of some detective-fiction

Sybil Joins With Memler, Ayers, Stronks in Vote To Quash Action on Ordinance

House Votes U. S. Control Of Exchanges

Bi-Partisan Majority For Regulation Of Stock Markets

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Government regulation of the nation's stock exchanges was voted by a dominant bi-partisan majority today in the house.

The ballot brought 280 votes for the measure and 84 against. So great was the support attracted by the legislation that all efforts to attach weakening amendments were defeated and the only changes made in the committee draft were those which the committee itself found acceptable.

Goes to Senate It now goes to the senate, where a measure similar in most details, but nevertheless containing several important differences is awaiting consideration. It has been approved by committee and debate probably will start next week.

Four days of house discussion brought repeated references to "the men surrounding the president," Republican attacks on the "brain trust" and repeated Republican assertions that the measure was intended to put the government in control not only of the stock exchange but of all business.

Chairman Rayburn of the commerce committee, backed by several of his Republican committee colleagues denied such charges in toto, averred that the bill was not written by "brain trusters," and declared it in its final draft was their own handiwork.

The fundamental provisions of the measure would:

Require the registration of all stock exchanges with the federal trade commission.

Empower the federal reserve board to fix minimum margin requirements for brokerage accounts and loans on securities by reserve member banks. Declare if the opinion of congress that the margin minimum normally should be 45 per cent.

"Manipulative Devices" Barred Prohibit "manipulative devices" including pools and other practices intended to create artificial securities prices.

Give the trade commission power to regulate, or abolish short sales and options.

Give the commission power to open specialties' books to public inspection.

Direct the commission to study the feasibility of prohibiting floor trading and the divorcement of the functions of broker, dealer and specialist.

Two-Thirds Majority Needed to Recall From Table

By DICK FAGAN City Editor, The Daily Iowan

The city council killed the municipal light plant project for the year last night for all practical purposes by tabling the ordinance calling for the establishment of a municipal plant.

Alderman Edward Sybil reversed his former stand and voted for tabling the ordinance, which was introduced by Alderman Jacob Van der Zee and was up for its first Alderman S. M. Woodward gave notice last night that he would introduce an ordinance fixing electric light rates in Iowa City. Asked if the rates in the ordinance would be the same as those now in effect, he said, "I wouldn't want to say at the present time." The ordinance probably will be introduced at the next session, May 18.

Alderman Jacob Van der Zee was skeptical about an ordinance being an effective method of rate control and moved that the Iowa City Light and Power company submit its annual report for 1933, which was asked for some time ago. His motion was not seconded.

reading. Alderman Roscoe Ayers, when the ordinance was brought up, immediately moved that it be tabled and was supported by Aldermen John P. Memler, James E. Stronks, and Sybil. Alderman Van der Zee and S. M. Woodward voted against tabling. Alderman W. J. McGuan was absent.

Definite Action Impossible Because it requires a two-thirds vote, or five councilmen, to take the ordinance from the table and because three councilmen, Ayers, Memler, and Stronks, are definitely against the plan, it is apparent that the ordinance cannot come up for definite action. According to advice last night it is not possible to introduce a similar ordinance when one is tabled.

The surprise of the evening was the vote of Alderman Sybil, who previously has been an advocate of municipal ownership but voted for tabling the ordinance. He explained his stand as follows: "I voted for tabling because I have had from 15 to 20 telephone calls a day from the voters of my ward asking that I go by the vote. I am going with my ward." His ward voted against municipal ownership by a 73 vote majority. Asked if he would vote to lift the ordinance from the table if a federal loan was granted, he replied that he was not sure.

Ayers refused to be put on the spot in regard to lifting the ordinance from the table if a federal loan was granted. Stronks indicated that he would still vote against a municipal plant. Memler also indicated a negative vote.

Van der Zee Says Little Alderman Van der Zee, leader of municipal ownership forces, had little to say in regard to the vote, although he vigorously protested Ayers' motion of tabling, pointing out that, although a majority could table it, it would take a two-thirds majority to bring the ordinance up for action.

"You just want to sew things up tight, don't you?" he asked Ayers, who refused to answer the question, saying that the motion could not be debated.

The procedure has been unusual in matters of this kind, inasmuch as the promotion of the project came from the citizens and not from the council. It is also unusual in that the council has not taken an official stand on the light plant, although to all practical intents its action last night is killing the project.

The voters, after one of the hottest and longest campaigns in local political history, on April 17 favored municipal ownership by a 155 majority. The council, according to City Attorney Thomas E. Martin, is not legally bound by the vote, but is merely authorized to use its discretion.

Most of the councilmen evidently

Many Parties to Usher In New Social Season Tonight

Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Mu, Sigma Delta Tau, Delta Zeta, Alpha Kappa Kappa, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Chi to Entertain

Ushering in the summer dance season with one of the busiest week ends all year, still more special groups and Greek letter chapters add their names to the records of party-giving organizations tonight. With the advent of warm weather, outdoor dances are now in vogue, some of which are sports parties. However, formal dances still maintain their popularity which they have kept since late winter.

Men's Pan-Hellenic

Approximately 150 couples danced to the music of Homer Hazen's Chicago orchestra last night at men's Pan-Hellenic formal and informal dance. The annual spring party took place at the city park pavilion.

Programs were in green upon which were outlined various Greek fraternal symbols.

Forming the committee in charge were: David Elderkin, A3 of Cedar Rapids, Beta Theta Pi; Rodney Stewart, A2 of Iowa City, Phi Kappa Psi; Edward Becker, C4 of Des Moines, Delta Tau Delta; Kermit Morgan, C3 of Henderson, Alpha Tau Omega; William Mockridge, A2 of De Witt, Phi Delta Theta; Otto Bjornstad, P4 of Spencer, Sigma Chi; Robert Miller, L1 of Waterloo, and Edward White, L1 of Harlan, Sigma Nu.

Chaperons were: Coach and Mrs. William Boelter, Coach and Mrs. George Horner, Martha Campbell, Mrs. E. C. Kinsloe, Mrs. Laura Lewis, and Mrs. Lucy Reeves.

Phi Kappa Psi

Bowers of green foliage and blossoms will decorate the porch and ballroom of the Iowa City Country club where Phi Kappa Psi fraternity will give its formal spring dinner dance tonight from 7:15 to 12 o'clock. Lattice work, interwoven with spring flowers and blossoms, will be placed at the ends of the dance floor. Panels and window castings will be banked with foliage which will also cover the spotlights.

Lloyd Hoelle and his orchestra will play music for the 50 dancing couples.

Hubert Jones, A3 of Marshalltown, heads the committee in of Iowa City; and Goldie Snyder, A2 of Rock Island, Ill.

Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Bodine and Prof. and Mrs. William Malamud will chaperone the dance.

Delta Zeta

Spring flowers and blossoms will decorate the Delta Zeta chapter house where the sorority will give a formal dance tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock. Dance music for the 20 couples will be played by the Royal Iowans. On the covers of the green programs will be a silhouette of a dancing couple.

Margaret Toomey, C of Iowa City, and Jean Bigelow, A3 of Greenc, will take charge of arrangements. Chaperons are: Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dakin, Prof. Fred Lazell, and Mrs. Emma Winter, Prof. and Mrs. W. W. Tuttle will be guests at the party.

Alpha Kappa Kappa

Apple blossoms and crepe paper streamers in green and white, the fraternity's colors, will lend a May day atmosphere to the informal dance which Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity will give at its chapter house from 9 to 12 o'clock tonight. Green and white programs will be embossed with the fraternity's crest in gold. Dusty Keaton's orchestra will furnish music for the 30 dancing couples.

Edward Schnug, M1 of Dows, heads the committee in charge. He will be assisted by Kirby Shiffner, M1 of Des Moines, and Vincent Lennerson, M2 of Gowrie.

Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Cooper and Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Selbert will chaperon the party.

Delta Tau Delta

Delta Tau Delta fraternity will give its annual picnic dance this afternoon and evening from 4:30 to 12 o'clock. Starting at Linder's farm, where the picnic supper will be given, the group will then go for the dancing, to the city park pavilion. Approximately 70 couples, including 25 out-of-town guests, will attend the party, for which a Cedar Rapids orchestra will play.

Members of the committee in charge are: Sterling Myers, A2 of Waterloo, chairman; James Goodwin, A3 of Des Moines; and Curtis Young, A2 of Chariton.

Prof. and Mrs. Lee Travis and Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Scheldrup will chaperon.

Sigma Chi

Sigma Chi fraternity will give its spring formal dance at the chapter house tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock. Forty couples, including out of town guests, will attend. Dance tunes will be played by Smiles Heine and his orchestra from Muscatine.

Ford Barclay, C3 of Mason City; Lee Stover, A3 of Watertown, S. Dak.; and Ronald Fallows, A1 of Mason City, are committeemen in charge of the party.

Chaperons are: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Anway, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lloyd, Mrs. Laura Lewis, and Mrs. J. J. Large.

Honoring the senior nurses, the junior nurses of Westlawn will entertain at an informal radio party tonight in the Westlawn recreation room. The dance will begin at 8:30 and will last until midnight. Flowers in spring colors will decorate the dance room.

Pauline Cameron, N2 of Scranton, heads the committee in charge. Other members are: Bertha Fuller, N2 of Moberg, S. D.; Isabelle Streit, N2 of Rock Falls, Ill.; Ruth Bergh, N2 of Sioux City; Dorothy Ellsworth, N3 of Waterloo; and Mary Gail Hamilton, N2 of Panora.

Dr. and Mrs. Folkers and Dr. and Mrs. Huff will chaperone the party.

Carrier Hall Elects Marianne Prugh As President for Year

Newly elected officers for next year at Carrier hall are Marianne Prugh, A3 of Burlington, president; Genevieve Lundvik, A3 of Gowrie, secretary; and Selma Seashore, A3 of Wahoo, Neb., treasurer.

Other candidates were Delma Reynolds, A3 of Willow Lake, S. D., for president; Mabel Adams, A2 of Quimby, secretary; and Verna Maise, A2 of St. Louis, Mo., treasurer.

Retiring officers are Catherine Mueller, A4 of St. Charles, president; Jean Akert, A4 of Council Bluffs, secretary; and Harriet Stull, A3 of St. Louis, Mo., treasurer.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Charters of 21 posts of the American Legion in the department of New Mexico were cancelled by the national executive committee of the organization today.

from HOUSE to HOUSE

The approach of semester exams has seen no decrease in fraternity and sorority affairs as music festival and dinner guests are entertained. Many of the students are taking advantage of the week end to go to their homes, or to visit friends out of town.

Alpha Chi Omega

Mrs. E. J. Litchy of Iowa City was a dinner guest last night.

Mary Evans of Osage and Dorothy Hinchliffe of Minburn are week end guests at the house.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Janet Wood, A1 of Des Moines, and Audrey Lee Ivins, A3 of Cedar Rapids, are spending the week end in Columbia, Mo.

Over The Back Fence

By Luellen J. Dennis

Several years ago we got 100 gladioli bulbs, planted them, thrilled at their gorgeous blooms, dug them up, and packed them away for the winter.

And that was the beginning of a hobby, and a yearly task that threatens to rise to colossal proportions; for this spring we planted over 1,000 bulbs, most of them children of the original handful and there are still several crates of the things sitting around in the cellar.

Unless we start giving barrels of bulbs to friends or wantonly destroying the plants, it seems that nature will force us onto a farm or into the business.

Gladioli are like mice in reproductive rapidity. They are not like mice in that one becomes tired of too many mice, but one million gladioli are, probably, just as pleasant as five. The true lover of this exotic flower—and there are many of us—regards the plant as some people regard mouldy cheese or old wines. We just can't leave them alone, and we let them take advantage of us.

Just as the tulip craze swept Holland, so did gladioli (that is the singular—most people usually say gladioli for both singular and plural, which isn't a bad idea) madness hit this country some years ago. At one time the bulbs were bringing tremendous prices, and many little gardeners were giving up smoking to afford a few bulbets of Rose Ash, or whatever variety happened to be rare and beautiful.

Now anybody can easily raise many of the best varieties of gladioli, for the bulbs are reasonable both in price and in their garden needs.

Gladioli may be planted up to July 1, and, by "sticking in" a few bulbs every week, one can arrange a summer and fall of continuous bloom. They should be planted about 4 inches deep, to give stability to their long stalks, in fairly rich soil, exposed to the sun most of the day. Exhibition flowers should get some sort of prepared plant food occasionally.

Blooming Time

The larger varieties, which come in hundreds of shades and combinations, will take more than two months to bloom, usually, but the little primulinus type will flower sooner. The primulinus, by the way, is a bit neglected by most gardeners, who crowd it out with huge, showy varieties. Really, the primulinus is often found in more attractive colors than its larger cousin, and it is a perfect flower for mixed bouquets.

During the summer, gladioli need water occasionally, and dirt should be hoed up around the stalks if they need support. Cut off the dead spikes in the fall, and allow the bulbs to rest underground until late October or November. Then they can be dug, cleaned of dirt, and packed in crates for the winter.

Those who want to create their own varieties may experiment with seeds. Some very striking results sent merely the happiness of winners, as results are placed on the bulletin board in front of the Union—voiced in no feeble terms.

The appearance of the musicians in Iowa City has been of distinct value to at least one University of Iowa student. It happened in a local cafe yesterday. The place was crowded with musicians, and this young man dislikes waiting for service. So, every time he desired anything, he merely took his coat off, walked up to the food containers in his "shirt sleeves" and took what he wanted. By actual count, he got away with four dishes of ice cream, three portions of cake, and an extra large portion of canned pineapple. This department is reserving space at that student's table for the remainder of the festival.

Youngsters are being taught the significance of the state music festival earlier and earlier these years. I thought the limit had been reached when Mr. Mahan told me Thursday that a youngster of 7 was entered in the violin solo event. But I was surprised yesterday, when walking along the street, to see a little girl about 3 years old, busy with a pencil, marking the winners on her music program. Some day, I suppose, the very minimum will be reached!

Winners aren't the only ones who are having their pictures taken. In Iowa Union, a room has been set aside as a "picture room," where all high place winners are "snapped" for the newspapers. But dozens of others have found their way to a "four minutes, four poses, four pictures, 10 cents" shop. The place looked like the proverbial Monday bargain basement yesterday.

There is no truth to the rumor that this corner is discriminating against the fairer sex of Iowa's high schools by offering advice yesterday to high school men on how to date university women. And, just to prove it, I offer the girls some practical instructions on how to handle university men:

When to be "coy": When you are approached by men with patent leather hair; by men with striped trousers and cut-away coats; by two men at one time.

When to be "faint": When there are three men, three women, and one coupe. (No further instructions need be given.)

When to be "bold": When you are approached by a man whose trousers are suspended two inches above his ankles; by a man who wears an orange and blue necktie; by a man who wears a multi-colored sweater, and parts his hair in the middle.

When to be "sophisticated": An excellent weapon for a man who wears "smart" perfectly matched ensembles; for a man who uses an initialed cigaret lighter.

When to be "intelligent": When approached by a man whose trousers hang at the knees; by a man whose coat does not match his trousers.

*Rare species; almost extinct.
Pre-Mecklen species; even extinct.
Except in the case of "coy."

Florence Rogers Wed Tuesday To Cornelius Burns

Florence Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of Tiffin, became the bride of Cornelius Burns, son of Mrs. Nell Burns of Oxford, at St. Mary's church here Tuesday. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Schulte read the nuptial mass. Hymns were sung during the mass by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gilroy who were accompanied at the organ by Zita Fuhrmann. The bride was given at the altar by her father, and was attended by her sister, Geneva Rogers. Joseph Collins of Holbrook attended Mr. Burns as best man. Marian Meade, niece of the bride, carried a basket of sweet peas, and Kenneth Burns, the bridegroom's nephew, carried the ring in a lily.

A wedding luncheon was served to 36 guests at noon at the home of the bride's parents. A bride's cake formed the centerpiece on the table. Mrs. Burns is a graduate of St. Mary's high school here. Since her graduation in 1930 she has been employed in Oxford. Mr. Burns is engaged in farming. Mr. and Mrs. Burns will make their home on the bridegroom's farm, west of Cosgrove, following a trip to Des Moines.

Women Hear Dunlop Speak

Attorney Addresses Auxiliary Group Thursday

Kenneth M. Dunlop addressed members of the American Legion auxiliary on Americanism and the different activities of the American Legion included in the work of this department at a meeting of the auxiliary in the American Legion

Community building Thursday evening. The speaker said that the legion work was in some respects the same as that of the other service clubs, and that its aim was to help round out the education of the youth and to be of the greatest benefit to the greatest number of persons.

Some of the items stressed were: education regarding the flag, its meaning, proper display, and a feeling of respect for it, citizenship schools; keeping the children in school; cooperation with the Parent-Teacher associations; Boy Scout activities; baseball; recreation camps; and education for elimination of fire hazards.

He further stated that the national legislative committee of the American Legion has for the last eight or 10 years been backing a bill in congress which would provide for the universal draft of men and industries in the event of another war.

William Woodin— Master of the Art of Living

THE "unofficial observer" says of William Woodin, in his book, "The New Dealers": "A wraith who slipped into the treasury on March 4, 1933, and slipped out again, broken in health, a few months later, with a violin in his bedroom, a smile on his lips, and a song in his heart. . . . There was never such a man as Woodin. He was invented by Sir James M. Barrie and set to music by Ethelbert Nevin, and he made history."

This sums up well the man who stepped into the most difficult cabinet job of the new deal at a time of serious crisis in the financial affairs of the nation. History will record his efforts in the midst of the banking collapse. History will record his split with life-long friends in Wall street because of his adherence to the work to which he had set himself.

History will record the life of the man who rose from a 90 cents a day laborer to the head of a varied and gigantic industry, who deserted his party because he believed in Al Smith and the more liberal principles of the Democrats, who stuck to his post—in spite of disagreement on the president's financial policies—until his last illness.

But those who knew William Hartman Woodin were impressed not alone by his financial genius, his tremendous energy and courage; they knew Woodin as a master of the fine art of living, a man who had not forgotten the beauties of life in the midst of its practical things.

His interest in coins was by no means confined to industry. A rare coin to add to his collection could make him forget business. A "tip" on where he might find a book with drawings by Cruikshank would set him off on a hunt; a fine binding or rare edition of a book would thrill him more than a merger.

When he failed to show up at board meetings, he was probably in the midst of a musical composition, or off on a search for some art treasure.

Musically, life began for him at 60. His music teachers had given him up at the age of 7 as a bad case; he insisted upon improvising instead of practicing the notes given him. When the Berlin philharmonic orchestra played his "Oriental Suite" and critics praised the Manhattan symphonic orchestra's rendition of his works two years ago, William Woodin really "lived."

To the world of music he was "Will Woodin," and few associated him with the man who took over the treasury. To his friends in the Numismatists club he was a seeker of the rare coin; to his friends in art, he was the art lover; to the business world he was W. H. Woodin, banker, industrialist, financier. For "Wee Willie Woodin" was a man who knew how to combine all the arts of living.

The Pulitzer Awards And "Winchellism"

THE literary battle of America has raged merrily this week. Walter Winchell exposed everyone associated with the awarding of the Pulitzer prizes; the selection committees attacked the Columbia university board, which has the final voice, for overriding their selections; Nicholas Murray Butler attacked the committees and Walter Winchell.

And now that the battle has somewhat subsided, it seems certain that the coveted prizes will be given next Tuesday to the play, "Men in White," by Sidney Kingsley, and to the novel, "Lamb in His Bosom," by Carolyn Miller.

The prizes are awarded through a somewhat involved method. Columbia university selects a "jury" to recommend one work for each award. In the past the Columbia men have always accepted these recommendations as final.

This year, however, the Columbia judges took it upon themselves to reverse the juries in both the novel and the play selections. The play jury had picked Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland" and the novel jury had named Helen C. White's "A Watch in the Night" as its first choice.

When the incident reached Mr. Winchell's ears, he immediately proceeded to make the facts known, though the announcements of the awards were not to be made until next Tuesday.

There will be little argument with either choice. Though the poetic history of Mr. Anderson and the thirteenth century Italian background of Miss White's novel will appeal to many, "Men in White" and "Lamb in His Bosom" have both won great critical applause, and both have an American background—a fact which has been given as the reason for the reversals.

But the Pulitzer awards have always been considered the acme of literary success. The slightest odium of disagreement can easily react to make the public—and the literateurs as well—distrust the whole thing.

Though it is unfortunate for the profession of journalism that one of its most infamous practitioners had a hand in uncovering the disagreement through his breach of confidence, yet the literary public should know how its idols are picked.

What Others Think

The Light in Asia

Occidental ideas of the Far East seldom extend to a recognition that journalism—like other things—has been going on there for a very long time. Quite without reference to the fact that paper, ink, and the printing process were old in China while Europe was still in the dark ages, English-language journalism is no mere upstart in the East.

Full many a publisher in the United States and in Great Britain must doff his hat in deference to newspapers older than his own published in English in that other part of the world. Only recently the Ceylon Observer, of Colombo, the oldest paper in Ceylon, observed its one hundredth anniversary. Since 1834 this excellent newspaper has been serving its field with distinction. In an impressive 72-page centenary edition, of itself a notable history of Ceylon and its development, it publishes well-deserved messages of congratulation from prominent statesmen, journalists, and business leaders in both Occident and Orient. One must respect the labor and courage that have made such journalism possible.

It is an excellent antidote for complacency to recognize that such newspapers as the Ceylon Observer have been carrying on successfully for more than a century in a part of the world which to most stay-at-homes is considered but little developed. There are other English dailies in Asia that have reached a very respectable age. The Times of Ceylon, also published at Colombo, was established in 1845; the Penang Gazette, in Straits Settlement, in 1833; the Rangoon Times in 1852 and the Rangoon Gazette in 1861, both of Burma; the Times of India, Bombay, in 1838; the Calcutta Exchange Gazette, a business paper, in 1818; the China Mail at Hong Kong, in 1845; and the North China Daily News, of Shanghai, in 1850. Many others were founded in the nineteenth century, while some of the newspapers printed in native languages also are more than a century old, notably the Bombay Samachar, established in 1822.

GOOD MORNING

The most interesting, if not the most important, news in the world yesterday was the swift advance of the alarming Ibn Saud in which he pounced on and conquered Yemen and spread his fast growing kingdom to the Red Sea.

The most colorful ruler in the world today, and the most mysterious, Ibn Saud combines all the traditional qualities of the desert chieftain. He is tall and straight, with dark, large, sharply modeled features and deep eyes that, even in photographs tell of force and power.

In 10 years this ruler of Mecca has united the tribes of Arabia. A task the magnitude of which is difficult to appreciate. And with his latest campaign, which ended successfully Thursday night, he brought the entire Red Sea coast of Arabia under subjection.

It is not surprising that England, France and Italy were quick to rush ships and soldiers to the Arabian coast to protest their nationals, or that they exhibited serious concern at the possible consequence.

Ibn Saud, driving ahead with surprising force, evidently is pursuing the definite objective of uniting all the Arabic people into a single nation, an eventuality that defies the imagination.

Such a state would extend from Persia to India and would include a large share of the earth's population. Standing at the crossroads of world commerce, and endowed with great resources of its own, it would be in a commanding position in relations of the east and west.

An Oxford professor offers a plausible theory for the beginning of natural science and art. Natural science, he contends, began because men wanted to find out how long the year was and to devise some sort of calendar, and because they wanted to predict when floods would come on the Nile and fertilize the land. Hence astronomy, the earliest of the sciences.

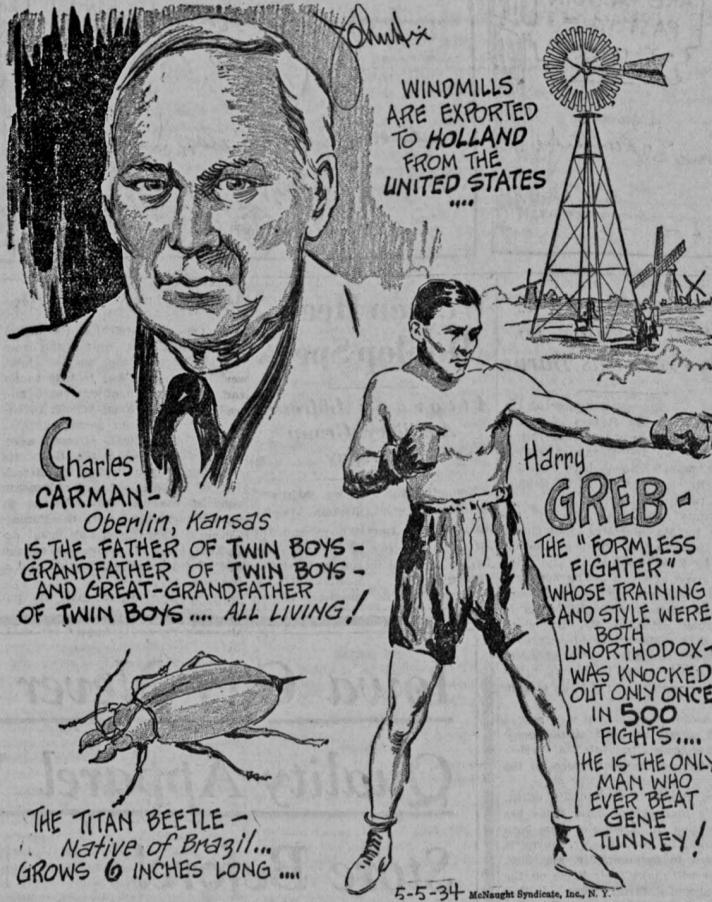

Art began, he says, for an equally mundane reason. Our ancestors, the cave men, were afflicted as we are with drowsiness. Someone became ill, perhaps, and found the rest and peace of the cave satisfying. But food was essential.

He drew crude figures on the cave walls while convalescing, and it was not long before he found the result was amusing enough that his friends and neighbors were willing to give him part of their food to continue.

Naturally, if his pictures were worth food, they must have some significance, so after several thousand years he formulated a few principles of "art." The process is much the same in our own day.

Behind The Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By Harrison Carroll

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Family resemblance got Loretta Young her first film chance and now, in a curious case of history repeating itself, her kid sister, Georgianna, comes to the screen for the same reason.

For a week, Director Erik Charell has been seeking a youngster to play Loretta as a little girl in Fox's new picture, "Caravan." Just by chance, he happened to show Loretta to her limousine, where 9 year old Georgianna was waiting to be taken home.

Charell looked casually at the little girl, then suddenly stared. "That's the very child I want!" he exclaimed.

Now, the excited youngster is getting ready to make her screen debut and Loretta is pondering the strange ways of coincidence. For, only a few years back, she went to a studio and got her first job because she looked like her sister, Polly Ann, who had had to drop out of a picture.

You wouldn't believe it but they swear it's true. The other night Ralph Morgan came home from the Levinsky-Ramage fight and found his wife entertaining some women friends at bridge. Ralph started an excited description of the fight.

"Ramage certainly opened up Levinsky's eye in the third round," he exclaimed.

One of the ladies looked up, surprised. "Why, I didn't know they fought with their eyes closed!" she said.

The Edward F. (stock-broker) Huttons are here from Tahiti in their 300-foot sailing yacht and are seeing Hollywood in tow of Billie Burke, who knew Mrs. Hutton when she was Mrs. Post of the Post Toastie Posts. Some of the papers hailed the arrivals as the parents of Barbara Hutton Mdvani but actually they are her uncle and aunt, Mrs. Hutton and some of her party lunched with the red-headed star at the R-K-O studio and afterwards saw how movies are made. Oddly enough, the first set they visited was the picture, "Down to Their Last Yacht."

Is it good for a laugh that Ann Dvorak has bought a three-month-old calf she calls "Garbo"?

Speaking of Garbo, the most sought-after picture in Hollywood is still an informal shot of the retiring Swedish star. Hyman Fink, one of the on-the-job bull-priers, almost got her the other night at a suburban theater. He proudly displays a picture of Greta ducking into a coupe, one hand reaching out to slam the door behind her. More heart-breaking was the experience of Eddie Stone, of the I.N.S. picture service. He caught the elusive Swede hemmed in by autograph seekers as she came out of the Philharmonic auditorium. She looked up and smiled just as he snapped the picture. But—the height of hard luck—his flash-gun didn't synchronize.

The unpredictable Francis Lederer has returned from his San Francisco engagement in "Autumn Crocus" and has notified the R-K-O studio not to look for him until he shows up. Rumor has it that he will stage the opening play in Joan Crawford's back-yard theater. But, so far, no one has been able to find out just what it is or who will be in it.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester, 1933-1934
Wednesday, May 23, 8 a.m.; Thursday, May 31, 4 p.m.
The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E and F, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (3), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).
The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation, in the case of any examination, from this schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted.
In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E and F) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.
All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

	8-10 A.M.	10-12 A.M.	2-4 P.M.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 16 or 17; if possible, May 8 or 10.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 22 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8,—and the class will meet for examination Thursday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (130) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Tuesday, May 29, 2 p.m.

N.B. All sections of Principles of Speech (2), (3), and (4) will meet on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board in room 13, Hall of Liberal Arts, for room assignments.

1. Wednesday, May 23, 8-10: Section F
2. Thursday, May 24, 8-10: Section C; 2-4: Sections A and D
3. Monday, May 28, 2-4: Sections H, I; Speech (2), Speech (4)
4. Tuesday, May 29, 8-10: Section B; 10-12: Section E; 2-4: Section B
"ODD" classes,—namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, and F, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."
In more than one case the Committee, as indicated on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs."; unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

University's Leigh Hunt Collection to Be World's Largest

Plan Special Library For Newly Acquired Purchase In Liberal Arts Building

'First Really Notable Collection of S.U.I.' -Miss Van Wormer

When the new University of Iowa Leigh Hunt library is opened for the use of students, in liberal arts building next fall, Iowa will have the largest collection on the life of this English author in the world.

The collection, consisting of about 1,500 items, was recently purchased by the university from the estate of the late Luther A. Brewer of Cedar Rapids, publisher, teacher, and collector.

$7,500 Donation

The purchase was made possible through the anonymous donation of $7,500, accepted by the board of education at its last meeting. The total purchase price is $20,000.

The exact date for moving the large collection from Cedar Rapids has not yet been set. Grace Van Wormer, acting director of the university libraries, said yesterday that the collection would not be moved until quarters had been prepared, because of the difficulty in storing the collection.

Adjacent to Ranney Library

The books and papers will be housed as a special library in a room adjacent to the Ranney library and exhibit hall in the basement of liberal arts building.

This library is regarded by critics and book collectors as the most complete in existence, and has been described by Miss Van Wormer as the "first really notable collection which the university has received."

It was in 1929 that Mr. Brewer turned his attention to the life and works of Hunt. Until that time, although well known as a literary figure, Hunt had not been considered among those whose works were especially sought by collectors, according to Walter M. Hill, a book collector and friend of Mr. Brewer.

Privately Printed Books

At that time, the Buxton-Forman collection of English classics was being sold, and Mr. Brewer and Mr. Hill secured that part of it dealing with Hunt. Mr. Brewer studied his collection as his library continued to grow, and communicated the results of his work to his friends through a series of privately printed books every Christmas.

During the last four years of his life Mr. Brewer devoted most of his time to the writing of a planned, monumental work on Hunt, based on the Brewer collection. One of the projected three volumes had been completed before the publisher's death.

Two Others Planned

This volume dealt with the first editions contained in the collection. Two other volumes—one on the Hunt manuscripts and one on the "Huntiana"—had been planned.

Mr. Brewer was the first director of journalism courses at the University of Iowa. He maintained an interest in the university until his death, and was the donor of the Luther Brewer keys in journalism, which are awarded annually to outstanding senior journalism students.

His work on the life and letters of Hunt served to call attention to this British author. The collection contains about 520 volumes of first editions, including 130 presentation copies or copies owned by Hunt personally. In addition, there are 1200 individual items—books and papers—on Hunt and his group of contemporary literary figures, which Mr. Brewer termed "Huntiana," and about 200 bound volumes of original Hunt manuscripts.

Transition in Literature

A study of "Huntiana" revealed much about the transition period between the Georgian and the Victorian ages in literature.

James Henry Leigh Hunt was born toward the close of the eighteenth century. He went to school at Christ's hospital, where Charles Lamb and Samuel Taylor Coleridge had received their early training. He became a clerk in a law office, but he soon deserted this field for literature.

His first writing consisted of dramatic criticism for the News, a paper founded by his brother. Students of dramatic criticism generally acknowledge that his work laid the foundation for modern newspaper criticism. As editor of The Examiner, he wrote a scathing editorial on the price report, and was fined and thrown into prison.

He was later editor of a magazine, author of literary criticism and an autobiography, and a poet of some note. He became a friend of many of the great literary men of his time—Lamb, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley, Keats, Browning, and many others. As an essayist he has been classed with Lamb.

A special study of the Leigh Hunt collection has been made by Kenneth G. Brooks of the Romance languages department. Mr. Brooks came to Iowa from England with the express purpose of working in this library.

He will give an address on the collection at 7:45 p.m. Monday following a business meeting of the Iowa City library club. This lecture, in the women's lounge of Iowa Union, will be open to the public.

Annual Assembly Of Pershing Rifles In Session Today

Pershing Rifles, national honorary basic military society, will hold its annual regimental assembly today, under the direction of Col. Joe H. Kanak, head of second regimental headquarters, and Capt. Carlyle N. Klise, adjutant for the headquarters.

Representatives of Pershing Rifles companies from five middle western universities will be present at the assembly to discuss the organization and purpose of the society. After reviewing the Iowa cadet regiment on parade yesterday afternoon, they will see the local Pershing Rifles company drill in the armory this morning.

A formal luncheon will be given in honor of the visiting officers this noon in the private dining room at Iowa Union.

The men present at the assembly are: Albert Driscoll, Bruce Harris, John Peterson, William Kerr, and Emory West, University of Minnesota; John Strauss, University of Missouri; John Hayes and Perry Langston, Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.; Max Emmert, University of Nebraska; Clyde Brown and Lee Cline, University of Arkansas; and Vincent Allison and Don Martin, University of Iowa.

Molds of Reliefs For Theater Sent From Art Studio

Two negative molds for bas reliefs were shipped to Sioux City today from the public works of art studio, directed by Prof. Grant Wood of the graphic and plastic arts department.

These molds were completed recently by Hershel Elarth as decorations for the outdoor theater at Grandview park in Sioux City. They will be cast in cement and set up at either side of the base of the structure.

Pan and a nymph as representatives of music are the subjects used for the reliefs. They have been given a modernized and simplified treatment in order to suit the medium in which they are to be cast—cement.

Former Students Declare Candidacy For Political Posts

Two former students of the University of Iowa have announced their candidacies for political offices.

Judge John W. Gwynne of Waterloo, graduate of the University of Iowa, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as congressman from the third congressional district. He is serving his third term as county attorney of Black Hawk county.

Adolph J. Seifert of Cedar Rapids is a candidate for the Republican nomination as county treasurer of Linn county. For the last eight years he has been general office man with F. Kublas and company, plumbing and heating contractors.

Application Limit For Scholarships In Law Announced

The final date for applications for freshman law scholarships will be either May 15 or 16, it was announced yesterday by the committee on scholarships.

Anyone wishing to make an application for a scholarship is asked to call on the committee members, Prof. Louis Pelzer of the history department and Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department, for a personal interview.

General Notices

Law School Scholarships

A number of scholarships are available to juniors and seniors who wish to enter the law college next year. These scholarships carry stipends of $100 or more, each. Juniors or seniors who are interested should apply at once, in person, either to Prof. Louis Pelzer of the history department, room 226, liberal arts building; or to Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department, room 301, liberal arts building. COMMITTEE

Junior Women

A list of the names of all women of junior standing is being compiled in the office of the dean of women. Each student of such classification should call at the office to see that her name is included.
DEAN ADELAIDE L. BURGE

Journal of Business Staff

Applications for staff positions on the Journal of Business for the year 1934-35 may be filed in the office of the dean of the college of commerce up to noon, May 7. An editor, an associate editor, a business manager, and an assistant manager will be chosen by the executive committee. Each person filing for an editorial position is asked to submit one or more brief editorials together with a statement of education and experience. Those filing for managerial positions are asked to submit a statement of education, together with such facts as might suggest qualification for the position in question. 55,000 Students Will Take Part in Academic Contest

Every pupil of 200 Iowa high schools next Tuesday will become a member of the first team as some 55,000 boys and girls participate in the testing program, first event of the University of Iowa's sixth annual academic contest.

By Tuesday night, some 150,000 test copies will be ready to correct and by May 14, the schools must report their pupils' results to Prof. E. F. Lindquist, director of the affair.

Schools are divided into four classes, according to enrollment. The leading division, in point of numbers, is that of class C schools, 89; while there are 77 class B, 76 class D, and 31 class A institutions.

All Pupils Take Exams

All of the pupils enrolled in the 17 subjects are compelled to take the tests, so the poor as well as the smartest students will have their scores figured in their school's total.

Awards will be made to schools ranking from first to fifth on the basis of composite measure of performance in each enrollment classification. Grand awards will go to ten schools showing the highest composite achievement in the state as a whole.

Smartest to Qualify

From this "every-pupil" affair will emerge some 1,100 qualifiers for the state individual scholarship contest at the university June 4 and 5, with each school assured of at least two competitors under the new rules.

Here is the official list of test subjects: ninth year algebra, general science, first and second year Latin,

Author of University Theater Play Has Had Varied Career

"Kick In," which will be presented by University theater at three performances next week, was the first of a long line of plays written and produced in New York city by Willard Mack, in which Mr. Mack played the leading roles.

He also wrote and acted in "Her Man," "Near Santa Barbara," "Smooth as Silk," "Canary Dutch," "Lily Sue," "Honor Be Damned," and "The Scarlet Fox."

Vaudeville

Before going to New York, Mr. Mack had become well known in the western part of the country as a leading vaudeville entertainer. His presentation of "Kick In" as a one act play won so much personal acclaim for him, both as an actor and writer, that many years later he developed it into a full length play.

Eight years later he turned from crime drama to collaborate with Channing Pollock, who later won fame as a writer of moral plays, in producing the Ziegfeld Follies of 1921.

Other Plays

Before that, however, he had written such plays as "God's Country," "Miracle Mary," "Alias," "Blind Youth," "I.O.U.," and "Sunrise." He also adapted from stories plays like

"The Dove," "The Noose," and more recently "A Free Soul."

During his career as a writer, he has collaborated with such prominent stage figures as Lou Tellegen, David Belasco, Hilliard Booth, and others.

Entered Pictures

In 1913 he entered silent pictures as an actor. When talking movies were first perfected, he produced, directed, wrote, and acted in "The Voice of the City."

At the present time he is directing films, adapting stories, and occasionally acting in the movies.

Born in Canada, Mr. Mack received all his elementary education in the public schools of Brooklyn, N.Y. He is a graduate of Georgetown university. He has been married four times; each time he has chosen an actress for his wife.

Four Wives

Maude Leone, Marjorie Rameau, Pauline Frederick, and Beatrice Bonnyard have all been known as Mrs. Willard Mack.

University theater's production of "Kick In" will be the sixth on a community series of plays. The play will be given Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 8 p.m. in natural science auditorium.

Edmund Evans, G. of Dayson, Utah, is directing this play.

Artistic Works Of Local, Des Moines Children Displayed

The artistic works of a group of Iowa City and Des Moines children, whose ages range from 6 to 10, are on display this week in room C215 of East hall. The display was arranged by Aulus W. Ward of the psychology department.

Aeroplanes, fishermen, animals, trains, houses, rooms, portraits, illustrations, and general landscapes are included in the exhibition. They are done in three media: crayon, water color, and chalk.

This display represents research work that is being done by Mr. Ward in psychology of art. The general project is in charge of Prof. Norman C. Meier.

Grinnell Scientist Gives Talk Here

Characteristics of the brains of shark-like fish were discussed by H. W. Norris of Grinnell college in a talk at a weekly zoological seminar in zoological laboratories yesterday.

He discussed "The elasmobranch hypophysis, its morphology and development." He used slides to note the relative position of the hypophysis, a gland at the base of the brain, to the brain. Results were based on the study which he has made of the topic during the last year.

N. Y. Camera Club Photos Shown Here

An exhibition of photographs from the Camera Club of New York was put on display in the main lounge of Iowa Union yesterday by Benjamin W. Robinson, manager of student employment service.

Among the 30 persons who have contributed 52 prints to the show is Glenn N. Merry, formerly head of the speech department here. There is also some work by Frank R. Fraprie, F.R.P.S., editor of American Photography magazine.

A wide variety of subject matter in this display ranges from a fisherman making a catch to fruit in a kitchen window. Among the unusual pictures is a view of the coaster wagon boy from the Enchanted Island of the Century of Progress exhibition.

In the May issue of The Camera, a magazine of photography, was reproduced the exhibition by Eleanor Fisher which was here during the month of April.

Patients Read 2,408 Books During April

The monthly circulation report of library service for patients of University hospitals shows 2,408 books were circulated during April.

Circulation was largest in the surgical ward of general hospital and the adult department of children's hospital, with 400 and 294 books used respectively.

HAWKS WALLOP GOPHERS, 10-3!

ABOUT SPORTS

Successful Day for Hawkeye Teams . . . Some Sidelights On Today's Meet . . . Batting Spree of Iowans Continues.

By RON TALLMAN

YESTERDAY was a huge success as far as University of Iowa athletics was concerned. Three affairs in which the Hawkeyes competed resulted in as many victories. Today there will be an opportunity to duplicate that feat when the baseball and golf teams go into action again and the track team replaces the tennis outfit as the third entrant.

But of special interest today will be the only home appearance of the track team during the outdoor season when Wisconsin and Northwestern come here to battle the Hawkeyes. From all indications it should be one of THE events of the spring.

HERE ARE a few interesting sidelights on the affair as written by Coach Ted Swenson, a reporter on the sports desk of The Daily Iowan during his undergraduate days:

"Dopesters have agreed that there should not be more than five points separating the first and second place teams today. . . In the indoor meet at Madison the last of March Wisconsin won, with Iowa second and Northwestern third. . . One of Northwestern's Gridiron greats, the sensational punter, Ollie Olsen, will be performing in his specialty, the high jump. . . The blond star has a mark of 6 feet 3 inches. . .

"IN CAPT. SIDNEY DEAN, Hawkeye fans will see one of the outstanding quartermilers in the middle west. . . The diminutive speedster outraced all of the quartermilers at the Drake relays to hang up an unofficial mark of 47.8 in his lap of the mile relay. . .

"Coaches Bresnahan of Iowa and Hill of Northwestern are hoping for a better break in the pole vault than was their lot indoors when Wisconsin almost slammed the event, copping first, second and third and a tie for fourth. . . It is possible that the meet will be the last athletic event on historic Iowa field. . . Development plans for the university are said to include the making over of the field into a park. . .

WHEN IOWA'S powerful offensive team slugged out 15 hits against Minnesota yesterday to advance to second place in the Big Ten, its team batting average soared to a new high of .310! That's hitting!

Bob Mason, the sensational young shortstop continues to top the individuals with a mark of .481. A recheck of the box score of the Carleton game revealed that he had two hits instead of one and as a result did not suffer a drop in his average. Ken Blackman was the only Iowan failing to hit yesterday and he dropped to third place.

EIGHT YEARS AGO TODAY IN SPORTS

From The Daily Iowan Files IOWA CITY, May 5 (AP)—Between 25 and 30 men will form the squad of track athletes who will meet with the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame at South Bend Saturday. Although the Hawks are conceded more than an even chance to cop the meet, Coach Bresnahan is driving his men hard in order to regain some of the prestige lost last Saturday when the powerful Wolverine outfit captured the first out-door dual of the season.

Three swimming meets, the advanced class affair, the novice meet, and the annual Iowater Regatta, were scheduled today by Coach D. A. Armbruster as a culmination to spring swimming practice.

Fielding and hitting in a convincing manner in a practice game, a selected team of Iowa baseballers trounced nine of their fellow members 10 to 0.

CHICAGO, May 5, 1926—Two wild pitches in the fourteenth inning after erratic Chicago hurling had tied the score at six all in the seventh, gave Chicago a 7 to 6 victory over Illinois in the college race,

Bush Pitches Cubs to Win Over Braves

Right-Hander Wins 5th Straight As Mates Pound Zachary

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)—Guy Bush racked up his fifth straight pitching victory of the season today as the Chicago Cubs finally conquered a lefthander, batting Tom Zachary out of the box in defeating Boston, 8 to 1.

Bush, who allowed six hits, was in complete charge of the situation after Baxter Jordan, second man up in the first inning, banged a home run into the right field stands. Dolph Camilli, rookie Cub first baseman, hit for the circuit, and Kiki Cuyler punched the assorted offerings of Zachary, Fred Frankhouse and Clarence Pickrel for a triple and two singles.

Breaks Losing Streak The victory broke the Cubs' three game losing streak and left them only a half game behind the leading New York Giants who lost to Pittsburgh.

Ganging on Zachary for two runs on a single by Billy Herman, Cuyler's triple and a single by Pickrel in the first inning, and picking up another on Camilli's homer in the second, the Cubs finally conquered their southpaw jinx by routing the former Yankee before a man was out in the third. Billy Herman tripled to right, Klein scored him with a single, his only hit off southpaw pitching in 18 tries this season and Cuyler beat out a bunt to bring Fred Frankhouse to the scene.

Frankhouse Stops Spree Frankhouse quieted the Cubs by pitching to only two batters, to retire the side.

The Cubs picked up their other two tallies on four singles by Stainback, English, Camilli and Eash off Clarence Pickrel in the ninth.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Boston . . . 100 000 000-1 6 1 Chicago . . . 211 002 02*-8 13 0

Batteries—Zachary, Frankhouse, Pickrel and Spohrer; Bush and Hartnett.

Giants Walk Plank

PITTSBURGH, May 4 (AP)—The Pirates landed with both feet upon Carl Hubbell, southpaw ace of the New York Giants, and booted him around for a 4 to 3 victory over the world champions today. Although the Hawks are conceded more than an even chance to cop the meet, Coach Bresnahan is driving his men hard in order to regain some of the prestige lost last Saturday when the powerful Wolverine outfit captured the first out-door dual of the season.

In the first inning a couple of puny infield hits and one solid smash by Harry Lavagetto, Pittsburgh's 19 year old second baseman, gave the home team two runs. Lloyd Waner started with a walk and brother Paul forced him at second. Lindstrom got a hit when his bunt bounded past Hubbell and when Vaughan forced him P. Waner got around to third. He scored on Gus Suhr's slow single to Vergez. Vaughan went to second and tallied when Lavagetto smacked one through the box to center field. Mel Ott's double and Stoney

Fast Field To Go To Post In Kentucky Derby Classic Today; Cavalcade Favored

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4—Already steamed up by a spring heat wave, the capital of the bluegrass and the captains of the American turf will turn on an old time revival of enthusiasm tomorrow for the sixtieth running of the glamorous Kentucky derby, featuring for the first time in years a real battle between the kings and queens of the three year old thoroughbred race.

Close to 50,000 spectators, the biggest crowd in at least four years, is expected to jam Churchill Downs, rain or shine, to see whether two great fillies, Colonel E. R. Bradley's Bazaar and Charles T. Fisher's Mata Hari, can repeat turf history by outracing a fleet band of colts, headed by the record breaking Cavalcade, favorite and chief hope of the east.

Expect 15 To Start The names of 19 horses were dropped in the entry box today but no more than 15 are expected to go to the post late tomorrow afternoon, to be sent away on the chase of one mile and a quarter. On this basis, the derby, with added money cut from $50,000 to $30,000 this year, will have a gross value of $37,500, the lowest since 1921.

The field includes virtually all of the two year old stars of 1933, as well as colts that have developed sensationally this spring, among them the speedy Cavalcade, English bred colt, which carries the colors of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, New York and Florida sportswoman. The list includes the three leading money winners of last year, Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Singing Wood, futurity winner; and the two fillies, Mata Hari and Bazaar. Entered also are two winter derby victors, Cavalcade's stable mate, Time Clock, first in the Florida derby, and Norman Church's Riskulus, winner of the Agua Caliente derby.

Fast Field All told, it is perhaps the best and fastest field assembled for the most popular of American racing classics in the last decade. Providing showmen do not soften the footing too much, it is conceivable that the renowned Twenty Grand's derby record of 2:01 4/5 made in 1931, will be threatened or broken.

Opinion has been so sharply divided and performances subject to so much speculation that at least a half dozen horses are given chances to win, including the two fillies, despite the fact only one equine lady, Regret, has ever won the derby and none has even won in the money since 1921, when Prudery was third.

Mata Hari, second choice in the betting to the Brookmeade stable pair, is a grand daughter of Man O'War. Fast but temperamental, the chances of this brown filly are especially well regarded because of the confidence indicated by her shrewd trainer, Clyde Van Dusen, who saddled the 1929 derby winner carrying his own name.

Bazaar Bradley Hope Colonel Bradley, owner of the last two derby winners and only man to see his colors triumphant four times in the long history of the event, has pronounced Bazaar a "second Regret." The filly will be the colone's one real hope for victory as it is likely his remaining entry, the colt Blue Again, will be withdrawn tomorrow.

Cavalcade, after two record races in Maryland, has been backed to a point where the swift son of Lancel-gate will go to the barrier at least

Indians Nick Senators For 5-3 Triumph

Eighth Inning Splurge Brings Win; Lloyd Brown Stars

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Lloyd Brown pitched steady ball against his former teammates and contributed a couple of timely hits today to lead Cleveland to a 5 to 3 victory over Washington's Senators.

Intent on winning the season's first test against western opposition, the league champions started their ace lefthander, Earl Whitehill.

The Indians broke loose in the third, behind a single by Brown, and again in the eighth, when Knickerbocker's two-base blow drove in two runs and Brown scored Knickerbocker with a single.

Russell relieved Whitehill in the ninth. Harris got a home run in the same inning with none on, and two Washington pinch-hitters failed, to overcome the Cleveland lead.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Cleveland . . . 001 000 031-5 8 1 Washington . . . 000 020 001-3 9 1 Batteries—L. Brown and Pytkik; Whitehill, Russell and Berg.

Yanks Blank Tigers

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Lanky Lefty Gomez and bulky Babe Ruth formed an unbeatable combination today as the Yankees trimmed the Detroit Tigers 3 to 0 in their first meeting of the season.

Gomez let the Tigers down with three hits, a single by Mickey Cochrane in the first, one by Billy Rogell in the eighth and Hank Greenberg's double in the ninth. Ruth clouted Tommy Bridges for his fourth homer of the season in the opening inning and scored the second run on a walk, Lou Gehrig's single and two force-outs at second.

Red Rolfe, playing his first game in 10 days, scored the other run on a hit, two infield outs and Ben Chapman's single.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Detroit . . . 000 010 000-0 3 0 New York . . . 100 101 00*-3 5 0 Batteries—Bridges, Horset and Cochrane; Gomez and Dieckey.

Sox Spank Browns

BOSTON, May 4 (AP)—Bob Weiland crashed through to his first victory of the year today when he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 win in a series opener against the St. Louis Browns.

The Sox scored two runs in the third inning on singles by Bishop and Morgan, a double by Roy Johnson, and Reynolds' long fly.

Win Advances Old Gold To Second Place

Iowans Hammer Out 15 Hits to Give Mau Fourth Win

By DR. A. S. FOURT MINNEAPOLIS, May 4 (Special)—The hard hitting Hawkeyes from the University of Iowa unleashed their offensive power against the University of Minnesota nine here today to turn in a decisive 10 to 3 victory and advance to a second place tie in the Big Ten conference standings.

Rapping Gallivan, star Gopher moundman, and his ninth inning successor, Hendrickson, for a total of 15 safe blows including a home run by Johnny Stephens, the visitors were in command of the situation from the start.

Mau Wins Fourth Charley Mau, brilliant sophomore lefthander for the Iowans, was master of the 1933 Western conference champions except for the third and fourth innings when they scored all their runs as he turned in his fourth straight pitching triumph of the season. For the Hawkeyes it was the eleventh win in 13 games.

The two teams will conclude the two game series here tomorrow afternoon with Coach Otto Vogel likely sending Gene Ford, veteran righthander and speedball star, to the mound in search of another win. The loss was the fourth in five Big Ten games for the Gophers.

Holds Gophers In Check Mau limited the usually hard hitting Minnesotans to eight hits and struck out four men, and aided his own cause with a double that drove in two runs and a single in five times at bat.

Stephens, diminutive Hawkeye third baseman, was the batting star of the game, getting two singles in addition to his homer which came with two mates on base. Capt. Herman Schultenreich, who committed the only Iowa error, also had three hits in five times at bat. Ken Blackman was the only Iowan failing to hit safely.

Close Battle Expected For First Honors

Hawkeyes Rank Slight Favorites to Nip Badger Team

By JACK GURWELL University of Iowa track and field athletes play host to Wisconsin and Northwestern this afternoon on Iowa field in the only home meet of the outdoor schedule and in possibly the final meet for Iowa field. Plans call for the moving of athletic activities across the river to the new field next year.

It looks like a fight for first place honors between the Hawks and the Badgers, with Northwestern having a look-in but not expected to threaten first place. Although Wisconsin won the indoor affair the Iowans rank slight favorites.

Dean Heads Iowans Iowa's hopes for victory hinges upon the performances of a group of star athletes led by the Hawkeye captain, Sidney Dean, ace quartermiler, mile relay anchor man, and 220 yard dash man. Following close upon the heels of the flying Dean will be Francis Cretzmeier, hurdle star and varied event man, Beverly Gordon and Leo Campisi, 880 yard and mile runners, Mark Panter, javelin thrower, and Ed Becker, Bob Cook, and Russell Henry, dash men.

Wisconsin pins hopes upon its exceptional field event strength that won the indoor triangular meet. In Roter and Rubow the Badgers have two 45 foot shot putters with Roter a star discus thrower. Poast, close to 13 foot pole vaulter, and Smith, six foot high jumper, are other Badger hopes.

Seniors In Last Meet Seniors who will make their farewell bow to a home crowd include Capt. Sidney Dean, Ed Becker, Russ Sell Hoary, Leo Campisi, Kenneth Wilcox, Tom Moore, Elmer Kewley, Jaro Soucek, and Orville Schroeder.

An added attraction for spectators will be the attempt of university freshmen sprinters to break two university records, the 440 yard relay and the 880 yard relay. Carl Nelson, Jimmy Owen, Eugene Dooley, Wilson Briggs, Andrew Skinner, Kenneth Hugg, Cecil Garrison, Van Phillips, and Maurice Coffman are some of the array of sprinters that make the breaking of the records possible.

The meet gets under way at 2 o'clock. Holders of "I" books with the extra ticket will be able to get into the meet.

Hand Visitors First Setback In 3 Seasons

Divide Singles, Take Doubles Matches For Margin

By DUTCH HORNING Taking both doubles matches at ter splitting the singles, the Hawkeye tennis team downed Illinois in a conference match here yesterday, 4 to 2. It was the Hawkeyes' first conference win of the season, and the first setback for Illinois in conference play in three years.

Van der Zee was again outstanding as he was in the Chicago match Monday, winning the No. 1 singles and teaming with Nye to take the No. 2 doubles to clinch the match. The veteran Fletcher also took his singles match and teamed with Slich to win the No. 1 doubles.

Van der Zee in Form Van der Zee was in rare form in his singles match, easily trouncing Cookman of the Illini, 6-2, 6-1. His fast service kept his opponent off balance so that he was unable to do much at any time.

In the No. 2 singles, Fletcher hit his stride for a time to defeat Bill also without the loss of a set, 6-4. Although he was pushed hard by the visiting man, he kept the situation well in hand at all times in a well played match. His clever cross court shots kept his opponent moving.

Slich Starts Late Captain Slich failed to get going soon enough in his match with Bob Becker, and lost, 6-3, 10-8. Although he came back strong in the second set, the set score was 4-0 before he was unable to overcome the lead the Illini man had on him. Slich has not yet found his form this year, but is showing gradual improvement in every match. In the doubles, however, he found himself to help the match along with Fletcher.

Playing his first time in Big Ten competition, Lloyd Austin was defeated in the No. 4 singles by Harry Veist. After losing the first set Austin came back strong to take the second set, but he weakened in the third set and lost, 6-3, 6-3. Austin displayed good form at times, but the consistent playing of the Illini

Golfers Get 20 to 7 Win At Carleton

Parker Leads Hawkeyes With Par Breaking 69 Score

NORTHFIELD, Minn., May 4 (AP)—Iowa's links team shot brilliant golf today to down Carleton, 20 to 7.

Paced by Parker, who clipped a stroke off the par with a 69, and Gardner and Vanderwieken, who equalled perfect figures, the Hawkeyes set up an 11 to 1 lead in the first four singles matches and continued their good work in the best ball foursome.

Hunt was low for the Carls with 7, but failed to score a point against the par of his opponent, Gardner.

The Hawkeyes left here immediately following the match for Minneapolis where they will engage Minnesota in their first Big Ten match of the season tomorrow afternoon.

Blues Win Intra-Squad Game; Prospects Bright

St. Mary's high school wound up its spring basketball practice with an intra-squad tilt at the Rambler gym yesterday, which the "Whites," led by Joe Maher, won by a score of 24 to 14 from the "Blues," captained by Vic Belger.

The play indicated that prospects for next season's Rambler five will be bright, with good material coming up to supplement the four regulars who will return to form the nucleus of Coach Francis Suplee's quiet next winter.

Maher and Stork led the point scoring for the winners, while Belger and Schlenk scored 11 of their team's 14 points between them. Both teams handled the ball unusually well during the game, but the speed of the "Blues" proved too much for their opponents.

man won for him the match.

Take Doubles

The grim determination of the Hawkeyes in the doubles won both matches. In the No. 1 doubles Siesh and Fletcher were again teamed together and won 6-3, 7-5. The cross court shots of Fletcher were again outstanding in this match. He and Siesh displayed outstanding teamwork, and were rarely crossed up by their opponents. Captain Siesh avenged his defeat in the singles by turning in a brilliant performance.

Although the Illini came back strong in the second set, they were unable to cope with the smashing drives of Siesh and Fletcher.

After a bad start in the No. 2 doubles Van der Zee and Nye won their match 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. The match was marked by the place shots of the two Iowa men. Nye, who did not play in the singles today, found his stride in the second set, and was successful in crossing up his opponents time after time. The slashing service of Van der Zee was again outstanding in this match. Their win in the doubles enabled Iowa to take the match with Illinois.

Ineligibles Hurt Illini Suffering a setback due to ineligibilities, Illinois brought a team here composed of inexperienced men. According to their coach the three men from last year's team are ineligible for competition this year. However, Illinois has been undefeated in conference matches in the last three years. They have been tied once by Michigan this year, and Iowa was the first team to defeat them.

Summary: Singles John Van der Zee (4) defeated Harvey Cookman (Ill.) 6-2, 6-1. Joe Fletcher (4) defeated Joe Moll

Schnoebelen Paces Blue With 3 Wins

By BOB KENDRICK (Daily Iowan Sports Writer)

MT. VERNON, May 4—The greatest triumph of the year was turned in by the University high track and field team here this afternoon, the Blue squad paces Eastern Iowa league competition to score 45 points and maintain its traditional ability to capture the conference trophy.

The U. high team has for several years grabbed the coveted prize. The win was an upset, the river boys dropping their favored rival, Mechanicsville. The Mechanics were second with 31 1-3 points, Monticello third with 21 1-3 counters, and Tipton, Mt. Vernon, West Liberty, and Anamosa brought up the rear by getting 18 1-3, 18, 16, and 8 markers respectively. West Branch had no representatives.

Schnoebelen Stars The visiting Blue team had a little dash man named Schnoebelen who griffed first in them all. The 100 yard dash, 220, and 220 lows all belonged to the U. high star. Added strength in the shot put, won by Miltner with Warren third, Barnes' first with the bamboo pole, coupled with thirds and fourths in the 120 yard high barriers and the mile run, forced Mechanicsville to give up its valiant effort to finish first. Barnes' attempt was 6 inches better than he has ever done.

The colorful Woods, living up to expectations, toyed with a picked field of mile and half mile stars and was easily the victor in both runs. The new time of 4:43.3 in the mile established a record breaker for the meet.

Five Records Fall

Five old records slipped into the past as athletes vied for team superiority. The old marks in the high jump, 120 yard high, mile run, 100 yard dash, and javelin fell before the onslaught of the tracksters.

Individual artists were Hise and Travis in addition to Schnoebelen and Woods. Hise, tall West Liberty man who scored 11 1-2 points of the team's 16, cast the javelin 153 feet 6 inches for a new record. Travis, wee Mt. Vernon lad, led the O'Connellers with seconds in the 100 yard dash and 220 lows. He also was third in the broad jump.

Blue Gets Break The U. high track team, dogged by a little bad luck early in the season, got a break in the 220 yard lows when Egbert, Mechanicsville, lost his balance on a hurdle and finished fourth.

The summaries: 120 yard high hurdles—Won by Egbert (Mechs); Lind (Tipton) second; Fountain (UH) third; S. Miller (UH) fourth. Time 37.4. Mile run—Won by Woods (M'sville); Leinbaugh (T) second; Smith (UH) third; Stevens (UH) fourth. Time 4:43.3.

Discus—Won by Hise (WL); Warren (UH) second; Kehoe (A) third; Miltner (UH) fourth. Distance 119 feet 2 1-2 inches. 100 yard dash—Won by Schnoebelen (UH); Travis (MV) second; Seedorf (Mont) third; Harold Wehde (T) fourth. Time 20.5.

440 yard dash—Won by Campbell (M'sville); Kerr (M'sville) second; Mentzer (UH) third; Allen (Mont) fourth. Time 55.2. Shot put—Won by Miltner (UH); Kehoe (A) second; Warren (UH) third; Hise (WL) fourth. Distance 41 feet 11 1-2 inches.

220 yard low hurdles—Won by Schnoebelen (UH); Travis (MV) second; Moore (M'sville) third; Egbert (M'sville) fourth. Time 23. Pole vault—Won by Barnes (UH); Creno (WL) second; Diehl (M'sville) third; Atley (T); Reynolds (Mont), and Robinson (M'sville) tied for fourth. Height 9 feet 9 inches.

880 run—Won by Woods (M'sville); Stark (Mont) second; Shaffer (T) third; Mathis (UH) fourth. Time 2:07.5. High jump—Won by Swift (WV); Ferring (Mont) second; Midkiff (MV) third; Creno (WL) and Hise (WL) tied for fourth. Height 5 feet 7 3-4 inches.

220 yard dash—Won by Schnoebelen (UH); Seedorf (Mont) second; Jackson (M'sville) third; Caserline (T) fourth. Time 23.9. Javelin—Won by Hise (WL); Schoon (A) second; Fountain (UH) third; Pierce (T) fourth. Distance 153 feet 6 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Harry Wehde (T); Moore (M'sville) second; Travis (MV) third; Spooner (Mont) fourth. Distance 18 feet 8 inches. Mile relay—Won by Mechanicsville; Monticello second; Tipton third; U. high fourth. Time 3:46.7. Half mile relay—Won by Monticello; Mt. Vernon second; U. high third; West Liberty fourth. Time 1:39.1.

(Ill.) 6-4, 6-4. Bob Becker (Ill.) defeated Al Siesh (I) 6-3, 10-8. Harvey Geist (Ill.) defeated Lloyd Austin (I) 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Irish Finish In Third Place At Guernsey

Score 27 1/2 Points In Track Meet; Get 2 First Places

GUERNSEY, May 4 (Special)—St. Pat's track and field team of Iowa City garnered 27 1-2 points at the Guernsey Invitational meet held here today to capture third place honors for the afternoon. Westchester, with 47 1-3 points, and Vinton, scoring 33 points, finished ahead of the Irish in that order to lead a field of 10 teams.

The Iowa Citizens, in piling up their score, collected two first, one of which was a tie, five seconds, and four thirds. Their mile relay team, setting a time of 3:49.1, accounted for one of the first places while Maher tied for the top post in the pole vault. Duane, Burns, Connors, and Gutierrez comprised the winning quartet.

Duane also came through with second place in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, while McNamara added points with a second in the shot put, by means of a toss of 42 feet, 11 inches, and a third place in the discus, by hurling the flat disk for a distance of 110 feet, 11 inches.

Gutierrez raced to a second place in the mile for St. Pat's, and Connors finished in the same slot for the Shamrocks in the 440 yard run. Burns also crossed the finish line in the 860 yard run in second place.

The remainder of the Iowa City scoring was contributed by Gordon, who tied for third in the pole vault, and Carrigg, Burger, Burns, and Duane, who running as a quartet, finished third in the 880 yard relay.

GIANTS Take 4-3 Beating From Bucs

Jackson's single got one run back for the Giants in the second but Pittsburgh equalled that on Lloyd Waner's single and Paul's three bagger. In the sixth Verzer's double and Grantham's pinch single produced another Giant run. Lavaretto, an outstanding player all through the game, crashed a double to score Lindstrom from second in the eighth with the final Pittsburgh run.

Coming into the ninth, Frank O'Doul's pinch hit followed by blow's by Hughey Critz and Bill Terry brought in a run for the Giants and an error by Suh filled the bases before Jackson grounded into a double play to end the game.

"THE LONE WOLF SON" by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

SYNOPSIS

Sailing from France to America aboard the S.S. "Navarre," Michael Lanyard, a French nobleman, is called off to a duel by a rival. He is rescued by a wealthy French nobleman, who is his father's friend. Lanyard is taken to a hotel where he meets a young woman, who is the daughter of the nobleman who rescued him. Lanyard is attracted to her, but she is engaged to another man. Lanyard decides to win her back, and he does so by a series of adventures.

"I'm all right," Fay said, listlessly. "I've been robbed again, that's all."

was sweeping through the room, but "Don't worry about me, my dear Lanyard," said the victim weakly. "I'm getting better every minute. Just do what you can, please, to help these gentlemen."

"Madame has already told us enough, monsieur," Captain Pascal wasn't submitting a suggestion so much as sounding a challenge—"to encourage the hope that you will be able to name the author of this outrage."

"I, monsieur?" Lanyard rounded on him in amazement. "I am altogether at your service, naturally; but I must confess—" "Regard that there is reason to believe the criminal was the same who robbed Madame last night, and whom, she tells us, you know."

"Impossible!" A cry of incredulous expostulation perhaps natural enough under the circumstances, but one to be repented as soon as uttered; Lanyard saw it wake cynical glints in the regard of M. Plon and stiffen the Captain's animus as well.

"How is that 'impossible,' monsieur? Who else, except Madame and yourself, knew where the emeralds were to be found?" "The emeralds, monsieur? But they are in the pursers' care."

"What makes you assert that?" "Madame promised—" "I was too fagged last night to keep my promise," Fay Crozier struck a note of childish petulance,—"so I put it off till today; and I had just taken the case from my trunk in there, meaning to go downstairs and give it to the pursers myself, when this bandit—" Her voice began to climb to a hysterical pitch; M. Phil's Lose Again

ST. LOUIS, May 4 (AP)—The Cardinals barely outbid the Phillies here today, but St. Louis won 3 to 1 in thanks to Joe Medwick's home run in the fourth and a series of Philadelphia disasters in the second.

Bill Walker, Red Bird port-sider, was wild and robbied most of the way, but settled down in the pinches and was aided by four double plays by his mates.

Explanation Of "Strange As It Seems"

Harry Greb, the only man who ever defeated Gene Tunney in the fight ring, was distinctly a fistic phenomenon. He paid little heed to training rules, in fact seldom went into what most fighters would call a training period before a bout.

When he appeared in the ring he fought with a style that was strangely unorthodox and, to his opponents, often too puzzling to combat.

Greb won the middleweight title from Johnny Wilson in 1923 in a 15-round bout in New York. His style, as always, was that of unceasing motion—a style that won for him the name of "the human windmill." Few fight fans expected that he could keep up the pace he set for himself, training on night life—but he kept it up year after year until at the end of his career he had about 500 fights to his credit and in only half a dozen was he defeated. He was knocked out only once, that was 10 years before he won the title from Wilson. Greb finally met Tiger Flowers, who won two decisions over him in 1926.

Strange as it seems, during all of the more important part of his career Greb had but one good eye. He lost sight completely in the other before he won the title. This handicap was unknown to his opponents, and only since his death has it become known.

Liquor Store Site to Be Established Here in Few Days

Representatives From State Commission Office in City Conferring With Officials

Shop Will Probably Be Opened During Next Month

L. W. Russell, from the state liquor commission office in Des Moines, is in Iowa City now and will receive applications for the liquor store site, which will be established in the next few days.

He will meet with Mayor Harry D. Breene, Police Chief W. H. Bender, County Attorney F. B. Olsen, Sheriff Don McComas, Representative Leo R. Mercer, Senator Paul Schmidt, Charles A. Beckman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, D. W. Crum, secretary, and other representative Iowa citizens, this morning to learn general information about the city.

Limitations on Site
He said the time of the opening of the store is indefinite, but that it will probably be within the next month.

He also pointed out last night that no store site can be considered that is within 300 feet, air line measurement, of any church or school building, in accordance with the state law. This will eliminate practically every building in the downtown area because of the Christian, Methodist and Congregational churches on the north; the liberal arts building, the engineering building and the Baptist church on the west; St. Patrick's church on the south; the Episcopal and Unitarian churches on the east and Irish's business college at Dubuque and Washington streets.

The building must have from 3,000 to 4,000 square feet on the first floor and have a cement basement of about half the area of the first floor. The building must have a double front and be approximately 40 by 100 feet, he said.

Submission of Sites
Store sites may be submitted either to D. W. Crum at the Chamber of Commerce offices or to Mr. Russell at the Jefferson hotel.

The manager of the store will be appointed by the state liquor control commission and may or may not be a resident of Iowa City. The salary is fixed by the commission, which is in direct control of the store here with the manager acting in a clerical capacity.

The law is exact on the 300 foot limit in regard to schools and churches and it will be of no use to submit a site within that limit, Mr. Russell emphasized.

AROUND THE TOWN with DICK FAGAN

Bikes
The latest and most popular sport on the campus is cycling, if the number of shiny new bicycles mounted by the collegians is any indication. It seems to be great fun but as yet the number is not large enough to cause a traffic problem.

Perhaps the Kelly brothers will get out their old high wheeler, vintage of 1870, and show the boys how it was done in the good old days.

Bull Snake
With a 5 foot bull snake entwined around his neck, a young fellow had a big time scaring high school girls near Old Capitol steps yesterday. To his extreme delight, one girl came actually to the verge of fainting.

Auto Fire
An automobile belonging to Paul Hummer caught fire at 8:20 last night in Maiden Lane. The fire department was called and the flames extinguished. The damage was small.

Watchman
Irving Klema, special night watchman for several business places for the last year and a half, resigned yesterday.

Mr. Klema reported that during the time he was watchman he found 46 doors open, 14 safes open, 26 windows open, 22 locks open, and four keys left in doors.

He caught one thief and foiled five attempted robberies.

COUNCIL
Votes "No" On Light Plant

do not believe the vote was a mandate of the people although Sybil reversed his stand last night because of the vote in his ward, he said. However, Alderman Ayers' ward voted for municipal ownership by a 102 majority and he has been the leader against public ownership in the council. Stronks, an alderman-at-large, politically should be guided by the city vote and has consistently voted against municipal ownership. Woodward and Memler are evidently going by the vote of their constituents. McQuain's attitude is not certain, although he unofficially indicated he would vote as the majority of his ward, which was for municipal ownership. However, he has been absent from the last two meetings when it was expected that the light question would come up.

What the action of the municipal ownership forces will be now is not certain. A writ of mandamus compelling the council to take a definite stand one way or the other was mentioned last night, but whether this could be done is not certain.

Apparently the question of municipal ownership will be carried over to the city election in March, when it will become a campaign issue.

If the federal loan and grant of $917,000 is made, it is indicated that the council still will refuse to establish a light plant.

Council Transacts Other Business
Gasoline Alley was granted the contract for the supply of gasoline and oil for the city during the coming year last night, submitting the best bid.

Edith Dautremont was reemployed as city nurse for the coming year.

Masons Honor 'Billy' Foster At Luncheon

50 Year Membership Record Commended Yesterday

W. E. C. Foster, pioneer Iowa citizen, who passed his 50 year membership mark in the Masonic order, was honored yesterday noon by the Iowa City Masonic luncheon club at a dinner in Youde's inn.

"Billy" Foster possesses in a high degree all those qualities that make a man, a good citizen, and father," declared Charles M. Dutcher on behalf of the grand lodge of Iowa as he presented Mr. Foster a 50 year membership certificate and a life receipt for dues.

Grand Master's Congratulations
A message of congratulations to Mr. Foster from L. A. Larson of Marshalltown, grand master of the Iowa lodge, was read by D. W. Bray, local master, who presided. Grand Master Larson expressed personal regret for being unable to come to Iowa City for the occasion.

Mr. Foster, who was born in Iowa City and has spent most of his life here, is now 83. He operated a livery stable for many years and was a member of the park board and the school board.

Treasurer 41 Years
For 41 consecutive years he served as treasurer of the local Masonic lodge. He joined the Masons May 4, 1893, and has held numerous offices in the order.

Mr. Foster expressed his appreciation for the tributes and presented two silver columns, used in the Masonic burial ritual, to the local lodge.

Ruth Huff Granted Divorce Yesterday By Judge H. Evans

Ruth M. Huff was granted a decree of divorce from Clarence J. Huff in an order filed yesterday by District Judge Harold D. Evans.

Mrs. Huff, who obtained her divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, was denied alimony by the judge; but the defendant must contribute to the support of the three minor children whenever he is able.

The couple was married Sept. 27, 1921.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Paul Toomey and the defendant by Attorneys Messer and Nolan.

How Workers Are Going About Building Dam for New Lake

(Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles on the new state park, game refuge, and artificial lake located in Big Grove township, which is being presented to the state as a gift of Iowa Citizens. Another will appear tomorrow.)

Construction work on the dam just below the converging point of the two creeks located in the new state park area has been progressing rapidly throughout the winter and spring.

It is being built across a valley about 550 feet in width, and is bounded on either side by abrupt cliffs of solid limestone. The valley is made up of black sandy loam about 18 feet deep, beneath which is solid rock.

Trench Necessary
Because this sandy loam would not hold back the seepage of water under the dam when completed, it was found necessary to dig a trench 40 feet wide and 12 feet deep from cliff to cliff to facilitate the driving of heavy piling down to the solid rock.

After the ditch was entirely enclosed by the heavy piling it was filled to the top with special thick clay and tamped down.

As this work was being completed laborers were busy digging into the solid rock cliff on either side of the dam. From each cliff a solid wall of cement two and a half feet thick was built out into the clay dike to a dis-ance of 50 feet to further prevent seepage.

Center Section
The center section of the dam is also being constructed of firm clay, tamped down properly, and covered with limestone rock which is being quarried just south of the dam side.

No overflow water will go over the dam as a spillway is being cut through the solid rock of the south cliff. This overflow will also provide as a regulator for the lake level.

Tunnel Under Dam
The dam is 240 feet wide at the base and about 40 feet in width at the top. The limestone covering for the clay interior will be about 12 feet in thickness at the base and will taper to a 1 1/2 foot thickness at the highest point.

Underneath the dam a tunnel of 36 inch sewer tile encased in 12 inches of concrete will run through from the lake side to the outlet side.

In an emergency, when it is found necessary to lower the level of the lake, either for repairs or because of high water, a cut-off may be opened.

Complete by August
The dam should be completed by the first day of August if no difficulties are encountered. As soon as it is finished and inspected the water will be impounded.

The dam will rise 40 feet above the lake bed and 10 feet above the surface of the water. According to D. W. Crum, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the dam is well
