Carroll, Dillinger Gangster, Shot to Death in Waterloo Dies in Hospital Following Clash With Officers; Arrest Girl Companion of Gunman

Crompton Girl Claims Marriage Recently To Desperado

BULLETIN
WATERLOO, June 7 (AP)—Federal department of justice agents tonight said they had positively identified the man killed by detectives here as Tommy Carroll, Dillinger gangster.

Identify was established by checking fingerprints, the agents told Emil Steffen, superintendent of the local bureau of identification and one of the men who fatally wounded Carroll.

Waterloo, June 7 (AP)—Tommy Carroll, bank robber and accused slayer, was shot to death by peace officers here today—the third of John Dillinger's mobmen to be killed in the farflung drive to eradicate the gang and capture its leader.

Carroll, five bullets in his body, fell as he reached for his weapon to resist arrest by two detectives who spotted his car on a tip from a mechanic. He died a few hours later in a hospital.

Girl With Him
Captured with him was Jean Crompton, 21, who said she was Carroll's wife of a "week or 10 days." Both Carroll and the woman were in the federal police trap in northern Wisconsin when Dillinger and his mob shot their way to freedom on April 22, leaving a trail of two dead.

The death of Carroll brought to 14 those attributed either to the Dillinger gang or killings resulting from the search for the Indiana hoodlum since the formation of his mushrooming mob last September.

Hope to Capture John
At the same time new hopes for the capture of "Wooden John" himself arose. As officers spotted Carroll's car here, reports were current that another couple in a second automobile fled the Waterloo vicinity eastward and police mobilized for a dragnet in efforts to apprehend the car.

Whether it contained Dillinger could not be learned. Authorities closely questioned the Crompton girl regarding the identity of the fleeing couple.

Newer Recruit
Carroll, a newer recruit to Dillinger's mob, has been accused of several midwestern bank robberies and two slayings. He was wanted for questioning in the killing of Federal Agent W. Carter Baum, slain near the Little Bohemia resort in Wisconsin as Dillinger and his cohorts blasted their way to freedom. Also killed, accidentally by federal guns, was a CCC worker.

Police at first were hesitant as identifying the Carroll slayer here as Dillinger's lieutenant but he was quick to admit the identity.

F.D.R. Okays Award For Dillinger Capture

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill authorizing the department of justice to offer up to a $25,000 reward for the capture of criminals—such as John Dillinger, the mid-west outlaw.

The measure authorizes rewards also for information leading to arrest.

Accused Attacker Of Iowa Student Held on Charge
CEDAR RAPIDS, June 7 (AP)—John Cox, proprietor of a roadhouse west of the city, accused of attacking Arlo Hess, University of Iowa medical student of Dubuque, is charged with assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury in a preliminary information filed here.

Hess is reported to have suffered a brain concussion in the melee which happened last Sunday night at Cox's place when the Dubuque student and a man named Lane, accompanied by two girls visited the roadhouse.

Cox says he merely shoved Hess, denies that he struck him. Cox waived preliminary hearing and furnished $1,000 bond. Hess, according to information given local officials, is at his home in Dubuque.

Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, former United States ambassador to Italy, who was named chairman of the Republican national committee Wednesday.

G.O.P. Starts Fall Campaign

Fletcher Says Party Can Win Seats in Congress

CHICAGO, June 7 (AP)—The Republican party launched its campaign for a political comeback today as announced by Henry P. Fletcher, national chairman, that it can win many congressional seats in the fall.

Fletcher, arriving from his home in Greencastle, Pa., to take the chairmanship, told the committee that the new party platform written yesterday, is a banner the G.O.P. can take into battle with pride.

"Start With Clean Slate"
"We can start with a clean slate, a united party and a determination to fight all along the line," he said.

"It shall be our duty to focus attention on the unsound measures which have been rushed through in Washington," he said. "The contest is one of principle rather than personalities."

"Recognize Changes"
"We recognize that great social and economic changes have come about," Fletcher said, "and that they require the broadest social outlook. Our new program is sound and progressive—when returned to power, our party will recognize that the diversity and complexity of the interests of our people—necessitates a high degree of centralized regulation and supervision."

Met By Williams
He was met here by Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, party vice chairman, and George De B. Keim of New Jersey, its secretary, and escorted before the committee. He was received with cheers and whistles.

Former President Hoover telegraphed his compliments, terming Fletcher as "most experienced and courageous." Senator Arthur W. Capper of Kansas wished him success in a "tough but worthwhile job."

British Against Disarmament

LONDON, (AP)—The British government has decided to stand firmly against the disarmament proposals of Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, an official source revealed today, and to work at Geneva in behalf of a breathing spell during which political difficulties can be cleared up.

WEATHER

IOWA—Unsettled Friday and Saturday, some possibility of scattered showers, warmer in northeast portion Friday; cooler in west portion Saturday.

Dozen Steel Workers Visit White House

Wish to Ask President If Strike Necessary To Get Demands

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—A dozen grim-faced steel workers visited the White House today to "ask President Roosevelt if 300,000 steel workers have got to strike" to procure what they contended was the guarantee for collective bargaining embodied in the National Recovery act.

Did Not See F. D. R.
The workers, calling themselves the committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, did not see the president.

They were received by Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary to the president and after a 20 minute talk with him, left.

"We're going to see the president tomorrow," William J. Long, a Weirton Steel company worker told reporters.

Not Assured
"Were you assured of that?" he was asked.

"We weren't assured of anything," Long said, but expressed certainty that they would talk with the president tomorrow.

The White House visit of the workers climaxed a day of conferences between workers, NRA officials, including Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, and Secretary Perkins.

Evidence of Discard
The meeting with Miss Perkins and Edward P. McGrady, assistant NRA administrator for labor, showed evidence of discard. The group, led by William J. Spang, a Duquesne, Pa., worker, emerged from Miss Perkins' office to say they were "through" with her.

With the threat of a strike growing more acute momentarily, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, where many of the big steel plants are located, flew to Washington to confer with Miss Perkins.

Employers Look To Hugh Johnson

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—Employers of the steel industry tonight apparently were looking to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery administrator, for the next move in the efforts to avert a threatened general strike.

Executives representing directly more than 80 per cent of the industry's employing power concluded a two-day conference, at which General Johnson had proposed the creation of a labor relations board for the steel business, by writing the administrator a detailed report of their deliberations and then adjourned.

Vare Influence Absent

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—A band of ward leaders whose coup made limp the iron hand of William S. Vare, controlled and planned Philadelphia's Republican party program today without advice or suggestion from their veteran chief.

Explosion in Oil Tanker's Hold Kills Three Workmen

PHILADELPHIA, June 7 (AP)—An explosion in the hold of the Atlantic Refining company oil tanker, W. D. Anderson, late today killed three workmen, injured at least 14 others, and badly damaged the ship in its drydock.

The men were repairing the vessel in a drydock in the Kensington section of the city. Police said the blast apparently was caused by fumes in the hold becoming ignited from an acetylene torch.

The dead were Frank (Yankee) Smith of Philadelphia, a member of the tanker's crew; John McColl, yard superintendent at the Kensington shipyard; and Irving Rickenbach, his assistant.

Adjournment For Congress Next Week Seen as Possibility

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—A prospect of congressional adjournment some time next week appeared today as Democratic leaders continued urging President Roosevelt to abridge the legislative program he has outlined for the remainder of the session.

The result depended upon whether the chief executive could be prevailed upon to abandon the Wagner labor disputes bill and this, in turn, it was said, hung upon developments in the threatened steel strike.

Possibility Of Sabotage Seen In Ship Fire

Liner, Carrying 400, Arrives Safely At Honolulu

HONOLULU, June 7 (AP)—A possibility that attempts of sabotage were to blame for the fire at sea on the Dollar liner President Lincoln was expressed by Capt. George Yardley today after the ship raced into Honolulu with her lifeboats swinging from the davits, and many of the passengers wearing life preservers.

Imperils 400
The fire, which broke out in the hold of the vessel last night imperiling nearly 400 persons aboard, was brought under control by the crew before the liner reached port.

Captain Yardley said the blaze probably was caused by spontaneous combustion in the inflammable cargo, but that there was a possibility of sabotage having been attempted.

Airplanes Aboard
Two military airplanes shipped by the Curtiss-Wright corporation and destined for the Chinese government were in the still blazing hold when the ship reached port.

Escorted into the harbor by the navy tug Sunadinn, the ship docked at dawn with the cargo in her main hold still smouldering.

Check Dock Fire In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7 (AP)—Fire which blazed spectacularly for a time at a mid-winter pier construction station of the $75,000,000 San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge project was checked by fire boats today after causing damage estimated at $5,000.

The blaze started from an electric transformer and spread to the temporary wooden structure from which workmen are pouring cement into underwater forms for the pier foundation.

Case Under Advisement

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals today took under advisement the appeal of Oscar M. Hartzell, former Iowa farmer sentenced to prison and fined for the Sir Francis Drake estate promotion.

Will Require Revision Of Many Codes

Only In Emergencies Will Prices Be Fixed

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—NRA officials and definitely turned its back on price fixing today in outlining a new policy that will require the revision of scores of codes to permit freer competition.

The force of the anti-trust laws against covert, price-maintaining combinations was made unquestioned by the new plan, which reduced all code restrictions on prices to the simplest terms, on a base which would make arrangements to keep prices up difficult if not impossible.

Only in Emergencies
Only in definite emergencies would even a minimum price be fixed for any industry or any item, NRA men said they believed the new policy represented the first agreement of either government or any business agency on what constituted desirable price competition.

The declaration was a product of months of economic study, which was affected indirectly by activities of groups such as the Darrow board. It responded partly to earlier public criticism and observation of officials on results of the experimental codes.

To Compare Views
Announcement of the new policy was made simultaneously with disclosure that the 50 or so industrialists who have worked with NRA as members of the industrial advisory board—some of them with names known to the whole nation—have arranged to meet in Hot Springs, Va., within 10 days to compare views on NRA operation and pass upon ideas for changes. The meeting will be strictly private and Hugh S. Johnson may or may not attend.

New Policy
The core of the new price policy is:

1. Wilfully destructive price cutting is forbidden and any prices which appear unreasonably low may be investigated and a correction required if they are found to be unfair.

2. Fixing of even a minimum price will be allowed only in cases of demonstrable emergency, threatening destruction of business firms, employment or wage levels. Then only NRA shall have the right to determine what is the minimum price to be fixed and it shall be "the lowest reasonable cost"—not a profit-covering figure for the majority of enterprises.

Open Price Posting
3. Open price posting—which means letting all competitors know every other competitor's price—will be allowed only on these terms: that the prices be reported to a neutral, confidential agency; they shall become effective immediately without a waiting period for powerful competitors to argue the original figure into line with their own figures; prices may not be revised upward for 48 hours, but they may be cut right away and so reported.

Electric Chair Claims Three Of Murder Syndicate

OSHING, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Three members of a murder syndicate who killed a derelict for $2,000 insurance died in the electric chair tonight. The fourth member of the syndicate, scheduled to die with them, was granted a last minute reprieve so that his sanity might be investigated.

Daniel Dresberg was taken into the execution chamber first, at 10:52 p.m. E.S.T. He was led to the chair by Rabbi Jacob Katz, Jewish chaplain, and pronounced dead at 10:13. He was solemn and bewildered.

Receives Evidence
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Testimony that papers had been destroyed and that rifles and uniforms were smuggled into the United States was received today by a special house committee along with statements that President Roosevelt's forebears were Dutch Jews.

July 23—Second term instruction begins, 7 a.m.
Aug. 23—University Convocation, 8 p.m. Second term ends.

Thirty-Fifth Session Will Open Monday

Expect Enrollment To Equal Last Year's Figures

Registration, beginning at 1 o'clock this afternoon, will officially usher in the University of Iowa's thirty-fifth summer session.

University officials were unable to estimate the number of students who will probably register for the first term, but preliminary indications are that enrollment will be about equal to last year's first term registration, of more than 2,000.

Many Secure Materials
Though the official registration period will not begin until this afternoon, many students had already secured registration materials by last night at the registrar's office in university hall.

Students began pouring into the city even before the seventy-fourth Commencement Monday had closed the academic year. It was estimated that more than 1,000 students had arrived in Iowa City up to last night. Every bus and train brought new arrivals, and many came by automobile and the "rule of thumb" method of the hitch-hiker.

Dormitories Full
University dormitories started filling up last Monday, and several hundred students have already reserved rooms in the Quadrangle and Currier hall. Eastlawn, smallest of the women's dormitories, will be used to house high school girls who will study on the campus this summer.

The market in rooms in private houses was brisk yesterday, as the influx of students became more rapid, householders reported. In addition to the university dormitories and private homes, rooms were available in several fraternity and sorority houses.

Two Days
Two days have been set aside for registration. It is expected that nearly all registrations will have been completed by tomorrow afternoon, though the customary late arrivals will be given an opportunity to register next week.

The thirty-fifth annual University of Iowa summer session, under the direction of Dean Paul C. Parker of the college of education, will be divided into two terms, as has been customary in recent years.

Class instruction for the first term of six weeks will begin Monday at 7 a.m., and will be concluded with the graduation Convocation July 19. The second term of five weeks will begin July 23, and will end with a Convocation Aug. 23.

17 Visiting Lecturers
The summer session is an integral part of the full year's work of the university, and the regular academic staff will offer instruction, augmented by 17 visiting lecturers from colleges and universities in all parts of the country.

Courses will be offered in all the departments of the graduate college and the colleges of liberal arts, education, and commerce. Professional courses will be available in law, medicine, and engineering.

350 Courses
The schools of fine arts, journalism, letters, and nursing, and the Iowa Child Welfare Research station and the Lakeside laboratory are also included on the summer schedule. A total of more than 350 courses will be offered.

In addition to classwork, a full schedule of extra-curricular activities has been planned. Several university departments, including the physics department, chemistry department, and the university museum have arranged weekly lectures.

Elizabethan Plays
University theater will present a series of Elizabethan plays in Macbride hall auditorium. An all-university reception, a summer session party, and men's and women's dinners have been placed on the social calendar.

All-state high school music students will present weekly concerts and recitals for the public. Moving picture programs will be presented twice weekly by the extension division, and four tours to points of interest in eastern Iowa have been scheduled by the extension division.

"Tent City" Available
"Tent city," the university camp grounds, will again be available to summer session students who wish to live out of doors.

The only official gathering of the summer session student body—the annual assembly—will be held next Thursday at 11 a.m. in Macbride hall auditorium. President Walter A. Jessup will address the group.

Rescue Three As Flood Hits Western Iowa

MERRILL, June 7 (AP)—Three Iowans, marooned on a Floyd river bridge near here for several hours after being caught by high flood waters which overflowed the river banks and washed out several yards of the Illinois Central track, were rescued here about 10:30 tonight.

The flood victims, unharmed after their exposure, were taken to private homes here. They were:

Victims
Mr. and Mrs. William Kiewel of Adaville, and Robert Brundenson, of Akron.

They were rescued from their perch on the rail of the bridge by three Merrill youths who swam to

Perhaps in repentance for its recent spurt of unseasonable heat, the weather turned a cool breeze on Iowa Citizens yesterday.

Coats appeared on the street again as the mercury dropped, and blankets were comfortable last night and Wednesday night. The lowest temperature recorded yesterday was 56 degrees at 3:30 a.m., and the highest was 84 degrees at 4:30 p.m. At a late hour last night the mercury stood at 71, and was headed downward.

The bridge, removed the tires from the victims' stalled automobile, and floated them on the inner tubes to the Illinois Central tracks nearby. The youths were Arnold Hammond, Bernard Tooker and James Thompson.

Three Trips
They made three rescue trips, guiding the inner tubes over the raging river waters which roared within two feet of the flood mark set in 1926.

The flood victims, driving through a downpour of rain, were stalled in their car on the bridge. When the flood waters endangered their car they climbed onto the railing of the bridge. Their shouts for help were heard and the rescue party from Merrill came.

Still Raining
It was still raining at Merrill at 11 tonight, although not as heavily as earlier today. The unofficial precipitation up to 10 o'clock totalled 4.10 inches.

Three Illinois Central trains were reported stalled on the tracks here. Flood warnings were sent out by the government bureau warning of danger along the Floyd and Big Sioux rivers and Perry creek.

Sioux City Streets Flooded
Flooded streets at Sioux City halted nearly all traffic and prevented business men from going to their homes.

Pai-Yu-Lan Club Installs Officers At Annual Dinner

New officers were installed and a roast program presented at the annual Pai-Yu-Lan club banquet last night in the pine room at Reich's cafe. Mrs. Harry D. Henry presided over the installation.

Mrs. Allene Liechty served as toastmistress of a program whose motif was anagrams. Mrs. Pauline Carman spoke on "per," signifying past exalted ruler; Kathryn Letts, on "ndp," new deal president; and Mrs. Eleanor McMichael on "time," meaning triumph meets cooperation.

Lavender and silver tapers and favors in those shades decorated the dinner tables, where places were laid for 23. Roses formed the centerpieces.

Officers installed last night were: Miss Letts, president; Mary Louise Kelley, vice president; Vera Page, treasurer; Mrs. Erma Michael, corresponding secretary; Marjorie Mason, recording secretary; and Vina Mae McDaniel, mite box secretary. Mrs. Beulah Beals headed the decoration committee. Assisting her were Mrs. Edith Stoner, Mrs. Vera Cubbison, and Mrs. McMichael.

Mrs. Liechty, Miss Kelley, and Mrs. Dora Foster were members of the program committee.

Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Raymond to Give Breakfast Party

Mrs. Harold F. Smith and Mrs. E. B. Reynolds will entertain at a breakfast party this morning at Mrs. Smith's home, 424 Oakland avenue. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Raymond were co-hostesses at a similar party yesterday morning at the Smith home.

Sixteen guests were entertained yesterday, and 15 more will be honored today. Garden flowers are used to decorate the breakfast tables.

Mrs. Clifford Palmer and Mrs. Joseph Cannon won first and second prizes in yesterday's bridge game, while Mrs. Perry Rawland was awarded the additional prize.

Sea-Air Share Affections of New Fleet Chief

ADMIRAL JOSEPH M. REEVES

WASHINGTON (IIN)—Coming at a time when Uncle Sam is taking steps to build his navy up to full treaty strength, with a corresponding quota of planes as envisaged in the Vinson bill, the promotion of Admiral Joseph Mason Reeves to succeed Admiral David Poole Sellers as commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet is significant. For Admiral Reeves is the first airman in the history of the U. S. navy to become its highest officer afloat.

Veteran Sea Eagle
The appointment of Admiral Reeves does much to demonstrate the new co-ordination between the navy's sea fleet and its air force. Although a naval commander is first and foremost a sailor, the new commander-in-chief will bring a specialized knowledge of aviation to his new post when he assumes it on June 15.

Admiral Reeves, a native of San Rafael, Cal., first came into the naval limelight when, in 1894, as a midshipman, he saved the day for Annapolis on the football field in a game with their traditional foe—the army. He was known then as "Bull" Reeves, a name he earned for his bull-like tactics in bucking the line. Similar tactics won him honorable citation when he put a severe strain on the boilers of the historic U. S. S. Oregon and risked shaking her apart in driving her around Cape Horn from San Francisco in order to be in time for the battle of Santiago, for which feat he was advanced four grades in rank.

Midships' Mentor
In 1907, the man who was headed for the pinnacle post of the fleet returned to his alma mater, the U. S. Naval Academy, to teach chemistry and physics. But his old record as "Bull" Reeves was not forgotten. He also became head football coach and had the satisfaction of again sinking the Army.

Admiral Reeves first became interested in the air arm of the navy when, in 1918, he was conveying transports on the battleship Maine. The result was that he took up flying at Pensacola, Fla., and won his wings as a captain at the age of 53. He now wears the insignia of a naval aviation observer above his forest of decorations.

In 1919, Admiral Reeves was assigned to Rome as U. S. naval attaché, and while there made a flight in one of the dirigibles designed by Gen. Umberto Nobile for the Italian government. On his return to the United States, Admiral Reeves was made aircraft commander of the Battle Force, with the Langley, first of our plane carriers, as his flagship.

Preparedness Disciple
A firm believer that adequate defense is the best insurance against war, Admiral Reeves has made what amounts to a life study on the strategic sea area that lies between the sides of the triangle formed by Hawaii, Puget Sound and Panama. He is regarded as the greatest living authority on conditions in that section, considered by many to be the "danger spot" in the event of trouble with the Far East.

Tall, lean, and straight as a young sapling, the new commander-in-chief boasts a neat beard, by reason of which he resembles his war-time predecessor, Admiral Sims. He has two sons, Joseph, Jr., who is an artist in California, and William Cunningham Reeves, who was graduated from West Point last year and is now an army flyer—much to the chagrin of his sire, who had hoped the young man would follow his footsteps to the sea.

The only comparable post in the navy to that of Admiral Reeves' new position is that of Admiral William H. Standley, Chief of Naval Operations, who is the navy's No. 1

137 Graduates Of City High Hear Steiner

Challenges Class To Aid in Creation Of New Age

Blaming the older generation for the "epoch of speed and greed" and challenging 137 members of the graduating class of Iowa City high school to do their share in helping create a new age that will be the greatest in the history of America, Prof. Edward A. Steiner of Grinnell college spoke at the annual Commencement yesterday at 8 p. m. Maebude hall.

The new epoch, continued Professor Steiner, must be one in which each one will be prepared to give his best and face the new day with a "profound courage in himself and in his country." Members of the rising generation who may create the new epoch, said Professor Steiner, will believe that what is most serious and that a civilization does not have to be based on economic slavery.

Three Epochs

In the history of America there have been three epochs, Professor Steiner declared. The first began with the discovery by Columbus and continued with the vast exodus of Europeans to America.

"The greatest movement the world has ever known," was the characterization that Professor Steiner gave to the 100 years in the history of America when the people of the United States were settling their own territory. They found a new commonwealth and a new people, he said, and declared that "America was the greatest it has ever

"King's Henchman"

This genial gentleman apparently believes in what he preaches—if the smile counts for anything. He is the Rev. Gerald K. Smith, former Shreveport, La., pastor, who is chief organizer for Senator Huey Long's "Share-the-Wealth" clubs, the aim of which is the equal distribution of wealth.

When Americans were digging out their own destiny.

"Bankrupt" With the new machine-made epoch Americans became "bankrupt" inwardly, spiritually, and culturally," continued Professor Steiner. They have sold everything for speed, vastness, and money which has not been won by hard work, he added.

Members of graduating classes are owed a profound apology for the "mess" the older generation has made of America, Professor Steiner emphasized. The older generation has wanted to make life easier for its children but instead has made it very hard. In closing his address Professor Steiner charged members of the graduating class with the task of helping with the beginning of a new day in which courage and faith still exist.

Farmers In County Will Get $162,000

Johnson county will be among the first to receive a release on its regular corn-hog reduction contracts within the next few weeks.

More than $162,000 will be paid to 914 Johnson county farmers in benefit payments from the government. This was announced at a meeting of the state corn-hog board of review, attended by members of the Johnson county allotment committee in Des Moines Wednesday.

The work of typing the 914 regular contracts started yesterday and the work is expected to be completed within the next two weeks and the contracts forwarded to Washington, D. C.

A meeting of 63 members of the permanent corn-hog committee in Johnson county will be Monday night in the Farm Bureau office at which time contracts will be taken out for final signature by the farmer.

PERSONALS

Mrs. William G. Boelter, Highland apartments, is recovering at the University hospital from an emergency appendicitis operation performed Wednesday morning. Coach Boelter returns today from the west coast.

Among the members of the faculty of the university college of medicine who will attend the convention of the American Medical association in Cleveland this week are Dr. N. G. Alcock, Dr. Dean Lierle, and Dr. Howard Beyre.

Members was made by Dr. Harry P. Jenkinson, president of the board of education. Principal W. E. Beck presented the class to Dr. Jenkinson.

DROUGHT STRICKEN AREA SCENES

Shown here is a pile of drifted dust which reached almost to the eaves of a barn near Gregory, S. D. With little rain for months, the soil in many states is so dry that almost any wind carries it away from the fields.

Ben Summerwill Named Receiver

Ben S. Summerwill was appointed temporary receiver of Brennan's Inc., by District Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday. The permanent receiver will be appointed June 12 at hearing in district court.

The appointment was made upon an application filed by D. W. Bales, receiver for the Farmers Loan and Trust company of Iowa City, George E. Rossier, and K. L. Lindemeyer, receiver of the First National bank.

Helen M. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of Brennan's, appeared and consented to the appointment. The store will continue in operation. The plaintiffs allege that there is $200 rent due on the building occupied by the store.

Dean, Panther Selected for National Meet

Sidney Dean, quarter miler, and Mark Panther, javelin thrower, have been selected to represent the University of Iowa at the National Collegiate A. A. championships in Los Angeles, Cal., June 22 and 23.

The choice was made by University of Southern California officials on the basis of performances during the season, and, with seven other outstanding men in their events, the Iowans will receive expenses for their trip to the coast.

As an aid to blind readers, the national bureau of standards has been making a study of ways of improving the quality of paper used in Braille process books.

Hear Evidence On 15 of 18 Charges Against V. L. Sharp

With evidence offered by the prosecution on 15 of the 18 accusations against Vernon E. Sharp in the disbarment proceedings in district court, the court will rest tomorrow and Monday.

Ten witnesses took the stand yesterday as evidence on 6 of the 15 accusations was closed by Prosecuting Attorney Harry Garrett.

Attorney Garrett indicated last night that he will concentrate on a few of the more serious accusations against Sharp and will try to bring the case to a close as soon as possible.

Power and Responsibility

CONGRESS put in President Roosevelt's hands Wednesday a great power, a great opportunity, and an enormous responsibility.

Upon the satisfactory adjustment of tariff rates under the powers granted in the reciprocal treaty bill sent to the White House depends in large measure the successful culmination of the last year's labors toward recovery.

Delegation of this power to the executive branch of the government, with authority to raise or lower existing tariff barriers by 50 per cent in any industry, was a wise and vitally necessary piece of legislation.

It is generally agreed, except for a small and happily diminishing group of extreme nationalists, that the course America should follow is the middle one outlined not long ago by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace. The successful operation of such a policy is absolutely dependent upon a revival of foreign trade, necessitating a drastic increase in imports.

Obviously, imports cannot be greatly increased without affecting the marginal domestic industries which have depended for existence on tariff protection. And it is also obvious that the choice of these industries and the fixing of rates can hardly be done on the basis of political bargaining and favoritism.

Congress has never yet concocted a tariff bill that proved satisfactory in operation. The nature of congress and the nature of the job preclude the possibility that it ever can. The power now is in the only hands capable of using it to the best advantage and without political considerations.

The best insurance against misuse of the tariff fixing power by the president is the fact that so much of the executive program depends upon it.

The Merry Month of Marriages

YESTERDAY morning the metropolitan newspapers carried full page advertisements, offering sets of furniture "complete for the bungalow or small apartment, especially priced." It's time to feather marital nests.

Yesterday—and today, too—society pages were nearly filled with stories of marriages and betrothals. It's obvious that the season is at hand.

Yesterday real estate agents were wearing broad smiles in urban centers everywhere—palpable swamps became visions of cottage filled suburban additions, street signs went up in the midst of veritable wildernesses, and "lots" were partitioned off in a great gleam of hope for the future.

The trend of the times is undeniable. In Iowa City, 14 licenses to wed were issued in the first four days of the month.

City and county clerks are doing a rush business, and governments are cleaning up on licenses. Justices of the peace are in on the "fat of the land," and there are happy days ahead for the ministers of the gospel.

And, lest we forget, there are the apartment advertisements, and apartment house owners are in their hey-day.

If further proof must be given, one need only consider the weather. Hot sultry, sticky days, when it is an effort to breathe and work seems almost sacrilege.

With all this evidence, more proof seems a folly. But, if more evidence is needed, a quick glance at the calendar is conclusive. Just as we thought. It's June—the month of hot days, romantic nights, and weddings. The balmy days are here!

What Others Think

Element 93

(From The New York Times)

For nearly two decades Jeans and Eddington have been telling us that deep within the sun and the stars there are radioactive atoms compared with which radium and uranium are feeble performers. These hypothetical atoms are heavier than any we know. They radiate themselves away in an almost interminable process of self-annihilation brought on by collisions among themselves. This is to be explained the age of the sun (some five or six billion years) and its imperceptible yet steady decay. But was the hypothesis of atoms heavier than uranium and more active true? There were just 92 places in the table of chemical elements, with uranium filling the last. What evidence was there for a super-uranium?

Viewed in this light the announcement in Rome that Professor Enrico Fermi has succeeded in creating an artificial radioactive element which must be given the number 93 is of the highest importance. It shows that the theorists who have been turning the universe inside out within the last 20 years and who have been creating new styles of atoms every few months are better prophets than they may have realized themselves. What if one of Fermi's types of artificial super-uranium lasts but 13 minutes? In a second it can be recreated deep in the sun's core. In fact, Fermi took not much longer. And if there is element 93 in the sun and the stars, why not a 94 and others bearing still higher numerals?

Professor Fermi's achievement is but the momentary culmination of a long series of experiments which has been described in La Ricerca Scientifica. "With neutrons as his missiles he has bombarded about a score of such common elements as iron, copper, silver and aluminum and made them radioactive for periods lasting from seconds to hours. Changes occur within the atom—the instability and dissipation of energy we call radioactivity. The credit for having first produced such effects artificially must go to the Joliot's of Paris. But they and their imitators have given us variants of known elements, though with strange properties. Fermi creates something so new that a niche has to be made for it in the table of elements. Transmutation, with its implication of changing a base to a noble metal is transcended. To outdo nature and give us an element to be found nowhere on earth—alchemy seems less romantic and improbable in comparison.

Those of us who believe in the summer season and who look with anticipation every summer to the influx of hot weather students are grateful today to the weather man for his last minute softening of heart.

It would have been difficult for the best summer session in the world to have brought students to the point of studying in temperatures of more than 100 degrees in the shade.

But this week's showers and Wednesday night's cool breeze which necessitated blankets changed the aspect of things considerably, and there is no longer any reason why registration today should not compare favorably with any year in the past.

It is hardly necessary to recite again the merits of summer session study. Those who register will soon find that it is one of the most enjoyable periods of the year.

The old notion that education was a thing to be endured for nine months of the year, and that summer was a time for unalloyed vacation was abandoned long ago. Today the summer session is just as important in some respects as the winter session, and students who take their training seriously make little distinction between the two.

It is unfortunate from this standpoint that the University of Iowa still clings to the program of dividing the year into two winter semesters and the summer session. The effect in the minds of many is to make the summer session seem something extra, like a special institute for special students.

It is nothing of the kind. It is a continuation of the regular academic year, with a program almost as full and varied as that enjoyed by students in the winter. In some respects it is even more attractive and enjoyable.

It is true that students in the summer session are as a rule more serious and more intent on their work for the good reason that they are aware of the value of their time. School teachers and nuns and erstwhile business men, and candidates for advanced degrees are pursuing definite goals and their time is limited.

But this makes them no less interesting. They are good company. They work on a high plane that is stimulating and sometimes exciting. They know what they want and they usually get it.

Sometime, perhaps, the university will revise the year's schedule so there will be no break between the winter and the summer. As at Ames, the year could be divided into four quarters, and the fourth quarter could be the summer session.

The principal advantage of such a system is the simple one that it places the summer session on an equal plane, in name as well as in fact, with the regular school year. The summer session deserves such recognition.

—Don Fryor

Behind The Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By Harrison Carroll

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.,—Lionel Barrymore turned up on the "100 Per Cent Pure" set with a wide grin and a sweater under the tuxedo coat called for by the part. It seems Lionel, who fights shy of sartorial knick-knacks, was outfitted with a stiff shirt and pearl studs the day before. That night he was lighting cigars and the top "pearl" stud exploded. He lost no time in wrecking the shirt.

Recruits for Hollywood's industry continue to be drafted from the ranks of youth. John Flory, a 24 year old Cleveland, Ohio, youth, has arrived at the Paramount studio with a unique long term director's contract.

For a year, or until he becomes accustomed to Hollywood's methods of creating make-believe, he will sit at the right hand of a Paramount director on the set, serving an apprenticeship on the making of pictures from start to finish.

Young Flory's method of "crashing the gates" recalls Joseph Von Sternberg and the picture, "Salvation Hunters," he made on a shoe string and impressed Hollywood sufficiently to get him a director's job.

The Cleveland youth graduated from Prof. George P. Baker's drama course at Yale and with $400 he saved set out to make a comedy of the depression in New York. This film, made in a borrowed camera on 16 millimeter celluloid, is called "Mr. Motor Boat's Last Stand." Its hero is an unemployed Negro. Its locale is New York's Hoovertown on the Hudson. In 600 feet it tells the story of a day in the life of the jobless.

It took him three months to write it, two months to gather the properties and cast and a month for the camera work. Picture men in New York encouraged him when they saw the film, but offered no job. Back home in Cleveland, he learned of the visit of two Paramount executives. Through the aid of Paramount's talent scout, Oscar Serlin, he got a showing. They were so impressed by his venture that they signed him to the probationary director's contract and started him to Hollywood.

Student-Director Flory's first assignment is with Frank Tuttle on the set of "Ladies Should Listen," the Cary Grant-Frances Drake romance.

Taking the stars' foot and hand-prints in the forecourt of Graun-

man's Chinese theater as a measure, the smallest feet in Hollywood belong to Gloria Swanson. The footprints of Doug Fairbanks Sr., which start at the curb, are two sizes bigger when they get to the door. Raoul Walsh signed his impressions with a fist. I wonder what the three mysterious holes are between the hand and footprints of Jean Harlow.

John Beall, the Broadway stage actor whom R-K-O brought out for "A Hat, a Coat and a Glove," got the note the first day in Hollywood, telling him to go to a lonely spot on Mulholland drive in the hills. He took the precaution of having a bodyguard follow in another car. When he got there, he found a polo pony tethered at the roadside with a note from Richard Dix, a friend of long standing. It was a gift.

Using her leisure time on her London vacation, Constance Cummings has whittled out a replica of "The Golden Hind," the boat on which Sir Francis Drake went around the world. It is 3 1-2 feet long, 2 1-2 feet wide. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Gertrude Lawrence, Edna Best and Connie's husband, Benn W. Levy, were at the "launching" dinner.

Local Churches Announce Special Summer Schedules

Religious needs of the summer school students will be well taken care of this summer by 19 Iowa City churches which have special programs arranged for their benefit.

Ministers from outside of the city will be brought in to preach special sermons and in many church classes under University professors, problems of interest to the student are discussed.

There are three Catholic churches, one Jewish, and 15 Protestant churches in Iowa City. Four of the Protestant churches have student centers; the Trinity Episcopal, the First Baptist, the Methodist, and the First Presbyterian.

The Iowa City churches which have announced schedules for the summer are as follows:

- The Catholic churches in Iowa City have announced a new summer schedule for the holding of mass. St. Patrick's, 224 E. Court street, with the Rev. Patrick J. O'Reilly, pastor, will hold mass at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, and 9:30 a.m. on Sundays. St. Mary's, Jefferson and Lind streets, with the Rt. Rev. A. J. Shulte as pastor, will have mass at 6:30, 7:30, and 8:30 a.m. on Sundays and St. Wendeslaus, 603 E. Davenport street, with the Rev. Edward W. Neuzill, as pastor will hold mass the same hours as those at St. Mary's.
- The First Baptist church, Burlington and Clinton streets, with the Rev. Eimer E. Dierks in charge, has announced a summer schedule for Sunday services. The Roger Williams class will meet at 9:30 a.m. and is open to all University students. The regular church service will be at 9:45.
- The Rev. Julius A. Friedrich of the St. Paul's Lutheran church announced that regular services for the summer months would be at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday. St. Paul's is a member of the Missouri Lutheran Synod.
- Norman Hobbs, superintendent of the Mesonite Mission announced

Prof. Beams Selected For Fellowship Gets Year's Leave Of Absence to Study Abroad

Prof. Harold W. Beams of the zoology department was selected as one of 12 scientists in the United States as a recipient of a General Education board fellowship for study abroad.

This was announced yesterday by Prof. J. H. Bodine, head of the zoology department, who said that Professor Beams had been granted a year's leave of absence for his European study.

First Year

The fellowships are granted by the General Education board under the auspices of the Rockefeller foundation. This is the first year that the grants, covering cost of study, travel, and other expenses, have been given to American scholars. Previously they were given to European students for study in the United States.

Professor Beams' specialty is cytology. He expects to study under Professor Gatenby of Dublin, Ireland, next year and will go to other laboratories.

Came Here in 1930

The Iowa professor came to the university in 1930 as assistant professor of zoology. He received his B.A. degree at Fairmont college in 1925, his A.M. at Northwestern the following year, and his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin in 1929.

He recently developed a new apparatus for the study of cytology, the finer cellular structure.

Research in Crystal Structure Here Gets $200 National Grant

Research in inorganic x-ray crystal structure will be carried on by the chemistry department with the aid of a grant of $200 from the National Research council, it was announced yesterday by Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department.

This work has been done under the direction of Prof. Louis Waldauer in the past, and it will now be continued.

The grant was made public by the state board of education, following its meeting here Tuesday afternoon. A grant of the Research council was also made to the zoology department.

SEEN from Old Capitol

By TOM YOSELOFF

A veteran's advice to new summer session students:

Things to see around town and campus: Don't forget to see the university museum (few do, but one should) . . . The hanging staircase in Old Capitol is not very impressive until one realizes that it is unique—the only one of its kind . . . Iowa Union is not only a place to go for root beer and meals; it's an art gallery worthy of some notice, what with the special exhibit now on view . . . If you want proof that the earth really rotates (I don't—I'll admit it) it can be found in the focault pendulum in physics building . . .

For those who are seeking a retreat in the wildest mountains without going out of town, a drive to Kappa Sig point in northeast Iowa City answers the demand . . . The "black angel" in Oakland cemetery should always be seen at midnight—it's most impressive at that time . . . "Lover's leap," is especially recommended to those who are "unlucky at love" . . . This department guarantees everyone a real live lion at City park (at least, it moves) . . .

"Test city"—university summer camp for outdoor-loving students—is something of a novelty. The "city" is not an apartment; there's even a mayor—and a city council . . . A university in the making may be seen out across Iowa river, where a new university dormitory, a fine arts building, and a theater building are going up . . . There are flowers by the many at the university greenhouses . . . You'll probably see the airport without a word of advice from here; everyone does . . .

Things to do around town and campus (This department did not receive one cent in payment for these testimonials): The summer session all-state high school musicians perform with professional skill in their public concerts—a word to the wise . . . At about the time when this corner betakes itself to bed, Prof. Fred Lazell will probably be starting out (at 5 a.m.) on his bird walks and nature tours. It's really worthwhile for the nature-lovers and early birds . . .

A big advantage of going to the extra-curricular lectures of the various university departments is the fact that one can leave a notebook at home; it's practically a vacation . . . University theater seems to have something good up its sleeve, what with that expert Shakespearean director, B. Iden Payne, prepared to direct three public Elizabethan plays . . . And the reproduction of old Fortune theater which Arnold Gillette will build in Macbride hall auditorium to house them should be worth one's time . . .

Four vacation chances are offered by Bruce Mahan of the extension division in his four Saturday courses . . . Movie-minded students will be interested in Lee Cochran's Tuesday and Thursday moving picture demonstrations in East hall . . . The "roller coaster" road out in Manville Heights is an automobile thrill—an expert advises you to approach it from the outh for best results . . .

Things not to do around town or campus: Walk on the grass . . . Jump off "lover's leap."

Prof. Brooks Of DePauw University To Arrive Tonight

Prof. Fowler D. Brooks of DePauw university, who will be a member of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station staff this summer, will arrive in Iowa City this evening.

The visiting instructor will teach a course in psychology of adolescence in the absence of Prof. Harold Anderson, who was granted leave of absence of two months for special work in Washington, D. C.

Professor Brooks is known for his work in adolescent psychology, and is the author of a book, "Psychology of Adolescence." He was formerly on the staffs of the State Teachers college at Mankato, Minn., and Johns Hopkins university. He is now associate editor of the Journal of Educational Research.

HAWKEYES FALL AGAIN TO WESTERN STATE, 5 TO 3

Defense Fails In Seventh for Winning Runs

Schmidt's Home Run In 1st Frame Good For 2 Markers

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 7 (Special)—Iowa lost the second game of their two game series to Western State Teachers here today, 5 to 3. Iowa jumped off to a 2-0 lead when Schmidt hit a long home run after Blackman had walked in the first. Western State counted in the third, and after the Hawks had scored in the sixth came back with two runs to tie the score.

match be postponed a month or called off entirely.

Brown's statement turned the fight camp into an uproar, brought howls of protest from Madison Square Garden, and left the handlers, who suggested the postponement yesterday as a ballyhoo stunt, looking like small boys who forgot to let go of a lighted sky-rocket.

"If that's the best Baer can do the militant, white-haired commissioner announced after watching the challenger clown through nine rounds with four sparring partners, 'then he shouldn't be permitted to fight Carnera at all.'

Trans-Mississippi Matches Into Quarter Finals

Phyllis Buchanan Loses; Robinson Advances; Withering Heat

KANSAS CITY, June 7 (AP)—The Women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament semi-finals tomorrow will proceed without the defending champion, Phyllis Buchanan of Denver, 1933 title winner, faltered before the withering heat and the steady stroking of Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., in today's quarter-finals and was beaten, 2 and 1, by Mrs. Chandler meets Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City veteran and three times "Trans" champion, who played steadily today to oust Mrs. Charles Newbold, Wichita, Kan., 2 and 1. Mrs. Newbold is Kansas champion and in 1932 won the Trans-Mississippi title.

Lucile Robinson, Des Moines code and Western champion, meets Madelon Miley of Lexington, Ky., Mid-South champion and former Florida university student, in the other semi-final match.

Miss Robinson defeated Mrs. Leon Solomon, Tennessee champion, 3 and 2, faltering after having her opponent dormie 5.

The only match which went the full 18 holes was won by Miss Miley from Anelia Gorczyca, Texas champion from Ft. Worth, 1 up.

The Kentucky girl, shooting even par, rounded the turn 3 up, but had a battle from then on.

Full 18 Holes
Miss Gorczyca went 4 down on the tenth, but squared the match on the fifteenth. After driving the green on the 255 yard seventeenth, into a head wind, the Texas youngster three-putted while Miss Miley, whose tee shot went to the right, recovered and sank her putt for a birdie 3, going one up.

Miss Miley again was in trouble on the 18th. Miss Gorczyca was on the green of the tee at the 18th, but three-putted and Miss Miley recovered from a trap for a half.

Brooklyn in 1-0 Victory

PHILADELPHIA, June 7 (AP)—Lin Koenecke, the first Dodger to use a bat, walloped a home run today that enabled Brooklyn to salvage the final game of the series with a 1 to 0 decision over the Phillies.

After that George Darrow limited the Dodgers to three more hits, pitching hitless ball from the third inning to the ninth, but the Phils couldn't get a run out of seven hits off Emil (Dutch) Leonard. The young Brooklyn hurler allowed two hits in only one inning, fanned six and was aided by smart infield work.

Koenecke retired after the third inning because of a lame leg.

Pirates Win

CINCINNATI, June 7 (AP)—Young Ted Klemm pitched a tight game for the Cincinnati Reds today, but "Red" Lucas shined him nevertheless and the Pittsburgh Pirates won again, 2 to 1.

The rookie, making his second start for the Reds, granted seven hits. Only one was for extra bases, but that, Traynor's triple in the seventh, scored Paul Waner with the winning run. Lucas, meanwhile, held the Reds to a scant four blows.

Each scored a run in the fourth.

Giants Rally

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—After nearly "blowing" a game through Fred Fitzsimmons' liberality in hits and a couple of infield errors, the Giants staged one of their characteristic late rallies today and defeated the Boston Braves, 14 to 5.

The victory gave the Giants a clean sweep of the series and a record of 12 victories in 17 home games in the last few weeks.

Trailing 5-1 going into the seventh, the Giants blasted Fred Frankhouse from the hill and scored six runs in that inning.

THE LOVE WOLFESSON

CHAPTER XL
In some chagrin Lanyard crossed to the window-doors. Black night pricked with a myriad of man-made stars met and defeated eyes keyed to indoor illumination. He pushed the wings farther apart and stepped out. But the dusky terrace with its array of outdoor furniture and plants in tubs drowsed all deserted.

He lost a minute there, less in disappointment or disorientation than in marveling on the sight that opened beyond the ruled black lip of the parapet, the tangled spread of urban night, patterned in lights like a vast shield, infernally lurid at its midtown boss with lines of fading gleam radiating in untraceable confusion to the far shimmer of its broken silver rim. And to every light that burned below, a hundred hearts that beat in love and sorrow, despair and hope.

And somewhere, near one of them, his son and, perhaps, Fenno. Lanyard, a gesture of frustration, pitched a ball to the parapet of Isquith's terrace.

A glow beyond made this last a dense black mass—and proved, or seemed to prove, that the tenant of the upper premises was at home!

And Tess Boyce, no doubt, up there with him. No telling what they were scheming, between them, or how or when their designs would manifest in action!

What to do, another try for Crane by telephone; but Lanyard, moving quietly back to the drawing-room, was halted short of it by a little shake of throaty laughter in the hush overhead.

He stopped quickly aside and out of the light shed by the windows.

In another breath something plopped on the tiles at his feet, fell and rested just inside the edge of the stencil of light.

The shagreen-bound case of the Habsburg, he saw at once, for the man he had sketched, only haltingly, with two-edged tools before he's many days older. That's his job. Just see that you tend to yours as well; put the infant class to by-by—and don't get self-heated about it.

"Who? Me? Listen: Those kids are going to take a ride so long that they won't know where they are when it's over. By-o!"

Isquith must have retreated from the parapet at once, for the woman barely sketched, only haltingly, with two-edged tools before he's many days older. That's his job. Just see that you tend to yours as well; put the infant class to by-by—and don't get self-heated about it.

"I've gone and dropped the damn thing."

"Well, don't worry." The amused injunction was unmistakably, by its mannered accent, Isquith's. "You'll find it down there, all right, waiting for you."

"I know. But it makes me mad. I'm all the time dropping things. Why is it?"

"Your amazing nervous energy, little one, your impatience that is always trying to make a gesture do instead of a finished performance. Never mind, you back, virtues that make up for your failings."

"I've got what?"

"Sterling qualities, then—if you must quibble."

"That's more like it. I thought for a minute you were trying to make up to me. Gave me quite a turn."

"It ought to—when or if ever. Easy now! Don't go romping down that ladder as if it was a staircase. If you let go of that, butterfingers, next thing you know they'll be strapping you up off the Avenue with a towel!"

"Not a chance. I think more of my life than I do of any mess of jewels."

"But give a thought to me, dear. If you break your pretty neck, you know, I can always get another sweetie, but I'm apt to go all the rest of my life without another shot at the Habsburg emeralds."

"You don't have to tell me. That's the way it is with you men, always—selfish beasts! Just for that, I'm going to keep tight hold and disappoint you."

The diffused light picked up silken ankles upon a spidery iron ladder that linked the terraces at a point to one side of the windows—between two of which hugging the wall like a lizard, Lanyard waited.

The shagreen case now lay, not where it had fallen, but squarely in the middle of the lighted area—far enough away to minimize the risk of her becoming aware of its presence, there in the darkness, when she paused to retrieve it.

"All very entertaining, my dear. I'm sure." The light satiric key betrayed how well Isquith fancied himself as the most polished of

Explanation Of "Strange As It Seems"

Tycho Brahe, of Denmark, impulsive nobleman scientist of the late sixteenth century, wore his golden nose to replace his natural one which he lost in a strange duel. The duel, fought when Brahe was a young man, was with a fellow student at the University of Rostock. It is sometimes said that the duel resulted from an argument over which of the two knew the more about mathematics, but whatever the cause the duel itself was strange.

It was fought at night with swords, in pitch-darkness. The contestants had only their ears to guide them in the fight, their sense of sight was useless. Brahe, unluckily or unwisely turned his head at the moment his opponent's sabre struck. The edge of the sword caught him across the bridge of the nose and severed that organ from his face.

Rather than go through life with this facial disfigurement, Brahe had a new nose fashioned from gold and silver alloy. It was so perfect in form and color that nothing less than close inspection would reveal that the nose was not his own.

Brahe's work in astronomy is notable in that upon it some highly important discoveries were later made. Although he did not accept, as we do now, the fact that the earth revolves about the sun, he did make many accurate observations and corrected many old errors handed down by earlier observers.

Chances For Plant Bright

Government Willing To Purchase Sewage Revenue Bonds

Iowa City's chances of getting a sewage disposal plant seemed better last night after word had been received from Charles C. McCall, chief counsel of the legal division of the PWA in Washington, D. C.

The letter, received by Mayor Harry D. Breen, stated that the government would be willing to purchase revenue bonds in the financing of such a plant without a state supreme court decision on the amended Slinger law, as required in the case of the construction of electric light plants and waterworks under the PWA.

The sewage plant is the only project in Iowa City's PWA application that comes under the ruling made by Mr. McCall. The other projects such as the Ralston creek improvement, storm sewers, trunk line sewers, and sanitary sewers cannot be financed by the issuance of revenue bonds.

In discussing these projects, Mr. McCall said they did not come under the necessary appurtenances needed by a sewage plant for the "collection, treatment, purification, and disposal in a sanitary manner of the liquid and solid waste."

Chief Lists Motor Rules

Bender Issues List For Benefit Of Students

Rules for student drivers were issued yesterday by Police Chief W. H. Bender. His statement is as follows:

I hereby welcome the summer students, who are attending the University of Iowa, to Iowa City. We have experienced in the past a group of summer students who have proved to be of very high standards and law abiding.

However, realizing that these people are from various parts of the country and from cities and towns where the city ordinances may differ from those in Iowa City and to familiarize them with our ordinances I will attempt to give them a synopsis of the same.

1. Parking of cars on public streets and in public alleys all night is prohibited.
2. Parking cars with left wheel to the curb in all parts of Iowa City is prohibited.
3. Driving cars without two headlights and tail light is prohibited.
4. Operating cars without a drivers license in the driver's possession is prohibited.
5. Entering an arterial highway without coming to a full stop at all times is prohibited.
6. Riding on running boards and fenders and overloading is prohibited.
7. Following fire apparatus at a closer distance than 200 feet is prohibited.

I wish to emphasize and call all operators' attention to the speed laws in the limits of Iowa City, which are 25 miles per hour in residential districts, and 15 miles per hour in business districts.

Hoping that we will have the pleasure of enjoying the same experience with the summer students that we have in the past and that it will be unnecessary to make arrests for the above violations, I am

Yours as a Public Servant,
W. H. Bender,
Chief of Police.

Rotary Club Hears Tester

"Water sources in Iowa" was the subject of a talk given yesterday before the Rotary club at a luncheon meeting in the Jefferson hotel by Prof. Allan Tester of the geology department.

Professor Tester, who is in charge of the water source division of the water study project of the state planning commission, said that drought occurs when there is a period of subnormal precipitation resulting in less chance for the water to reach the zone of saturation which feeds the wells. This causes the water surface to drop, the speaker said, and the wells go dry.

Guests at the meeting were District Judges D. W. Hamilton, of Grinnell, George A. Johnston of Creston, and D. E. Maguire of Dubuque, all of whom are judges in the Sharp disbarment trial at the court house.

Harry Garrett, assistant attorney general of Iowa and prosecuting attorney in the Sharp trial, was also a guest.

Davis Flays Flannagan Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Passage of the Flannagan bill today by the house with a Republican amendment increasing to 2,000 pounds liveweight the amount of hogs farmers may process without paying processing taxes was assailed tonight by Chester C. Davis, farm administrator.

AROUND THE TOWN with

BILL MERRITT

Racine's Open

Six of the best golfers in the Racine's stores will fight it out this morning for the championship of the organization. Waldo Geiger and Dor Brown are ranking favorites to cop the trophy, although Paul Cilek may upset the dope, according to experts. Cilek has been practicing on a "power drive" and is said to be clicking. Other entrants include Ken Moore, Frank Fryauf and Jeff Hughes. George Kind withdrew at the last moment because, according to Geiger, his tomato crop is being endangered and demands attention. The tourney starts at 4:30 this morning.

Fire

A chimney fire at 314 E. Linn street yesterday morning drew a large crowd and the fire truck, but did no damage.

Girl Scouts

The girl scouts of troop 2 went to Dane's farm last night for an overnight hike. They cooked their supper last night and their breakfast this morning over open fires in the woods in a real backwoods fashion.

Rites for Stephen Rice, Iowa Alumnus, Set for Tomorrow

Funeral services for Stephan Rice Iowa graduate who died at his home in Massillon, Ohio, will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Hohenschulz mortuary. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Rice was a son-in-law of Ira Tulloss of Iowa City.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Julia Rice of Massillon and Mrs. W. G. Scott of Rochester, Minn.

Mr. Rice graduated from the University of Iowa college of engineering in 1901.

Registration for University High School Starts Today

Eight Departments Offer Summer Courses

Students attending the University high school summer session will receive no credit but their work will be enjoyable and valuable, according to Principal Harry K. Newburn.

Registration will start today, and classes open at 8 a.m. Monday for a six weeks period in the building at Davenport and Capitol streets.

High school students and eighth graders from all over the state will enroll today for classes in eight departments, intended to supplement regular subjects taken in high schools and junior high schools. Because no credit is given, the classes will be made as interesting as possible.

Special Students

Special students, selected by the university for work in speech or music departments, may combine university work with high school classes in other subjects. Other students may choose from classes offered by eight departments. They will be required to take three courses and may also take art and swimming.

Every class will meet one hour on five days each week, and in science and mathematics much time will be spent out of doors.

Demonstrations

All classes will be taught by the regular heads of the departments. Each of the classes will be used one day a week as a demonstration class before the university methods course. Opportunity will be given for all students to appear in various assembly programs during the term.

The staff, in addition to Principal Newburn, will consist of Prof. Howard R. Anderson, who will offer a course in the "Life of early peoples"; Prof. M. F. Carpenter, who will teach oral and written composition; Prof. Helen May Eddy, who will have a course in beginning French; Paul Kamy, with a course in introduction to biology; Joy Kistler, who will teach swimming; Ruth

Onetta Lane, with a course in indirect measurements; Edna Patzig, who will offer work in graphic and plastic arts; and Anne Pierce, with a music class.

The classes, except swimming and instrumental lessons, will be given in the morning from 8 to 12. All high school students who have completed the seventh grade are eligible for enrollment. A small tuition fee will be charged.

Sunday Date For Flower Shut-In Day

The second annual national flower shut-in day will be observed here Sunday with the American Legion auxiliary sponsoring the distribution of flowers.

Mayor Harry D. Breen is the honorary chairman of the local move. Members of the committee are: Mrs. Rex Day, Mrs. R. V. Campbell, Mrs. James Gatens, Mrs. George Unash, and Nell Kinney. All organizations are requested to have representatives serve with the auxiliary committee.

Flowers will be received at the Legion building between 7:30 and 9 a.m. Sunday. Local florists will cooperate with citizens in providing the flowers.

Names of shut-ins should be reported to the Legion building or phoned to 3534.

Eicher Will Name 2 to U. S. Naval Academy Next Year

Congressman E. C. Eicher of the first Iowa district will be able to appoint two young men from this district to the naval academy at Annapolis next year, according to an announcement received by Democratic County Chairman W. R. Hart.

Young men of Johnson county who will be below 20 years of age during the calendar year, starting April 1, when they enter the academy will be eligible for appointment.

Applicants should send their names to County Chairman Hart in

Sullivan To Discuss Corn, Hog Program

M. F. Sullivan, chairman of the county corn-hog committee, will discuss the corn-hog program at the annual meeting of the Farmers Livestock Marketing association of Johnson county tonight at 8 o'clock in the American Legion Community building.

All livestock men and cattle breeders are invited to attend the meeting. Election of officers will take place and the annual report of officers will be read.

Carl Oldsen, field representative of the Iowa Beef Producers association, and Ray Anderson, farm writer, will also speak. A representative of the Johnson County bank building before Aug. 1. A record of high school and college grades and a brief statement of not more than 200 words on the reason for desiring entrance to the academy must also be sent in when making the application.

tive of a Chicago commission firm will be present to discuss the trend of livestock for the coming year.

Musical numbers have been arranged and refreshments will be served at the close of the program.

Baltimore Sun Secretary Dies

Annual Reception Heads S.U.I. Summer Social Events

Plan All-University Party, Dinners for Women, Men

Students Will Manage Arrangements For Dinners

Summer session students will be welcomed to the University of Iowa at the annual reception Saturday, June 16, which opens the school social season during the summer months. The reception, which will be held in the main lounge at Iowa Union, starting at 8:30 p.m. will afford students and faculty members the opportunity to meet each other.

President and Mrs. Walter A. Jessup, the deans of colleges, and their wives will receive student and faculty guests. The summer session faculty, serving as hosts and hostesses, will aid students in becoming acquainted with their classmates and professors. A musical program will be arranged for the reception hours and refreshments will be served.

Annual Dance

Second in the list of summer session parties is the annual all-university dance, planned for Friday, June 23, in the main lounge at Iowa Union. All students presenting tuition receipts, and faculty members may attend the dance, which will also serve as a get-together of the teaching and administrative staff and the student body.

Faculty couples will assist students in becoming acquainted with the other persons attending the dance.

Johnny Ruby and his orchestra have been engaged to play for the all-university dance, given annually during the first session of summer school.

Two Functions

Two other annual social functions which have become customary entertainment for summer students are the men's and the women's dinners, for which dates have not been set.

An informal gathering and entertainment for men students and faculty men will be provided by the men's dinner, planned to be given in the main lounge at Iowa Union. Musical numbers and informal after dinner speeches comprise the customary program for the annual men's summer dinners. All men students may attend the dinner, at which attendance has been as high as 400.

Women Students

All women students and faculty members will be entertained at a similar informal dinner and entertainment planned for the first summer session. Although the women's dinner was not given last year, as is the usual custom, during the summer of 1932 it took the form of a cabaret-carnival dinner in the roof gardens at Iowa Union. Each year a different type of dinner and entertainment is planned. Attendance at these dinners has reached more than 25.

Committees and chairmen to arrange the men's and women's dinners will be selected and organized after summer school starts. Both affairs are entirely directed by the student body.

Child Welfare

Other forms of entertainment during the summer will consist of lectures, concerts, dances at the city park, picnics, moving pictures, and private parties.

Graduate assistants and students in the child welfare department will be entertained at social functions connected with the Child Development and Parent Education conference in Iowa City June 19, 20, and 21. Parents, students, and educators from out of town will attend the convention.

Plan Sports For Citizens Of Tent City

Activities at "Tent City," the University summer camp, consist chiefly of summer recreational sports. The annual reception and picnic for "Tent City" residents are planned again for this year, although no definite date for either party has been given out as yet.

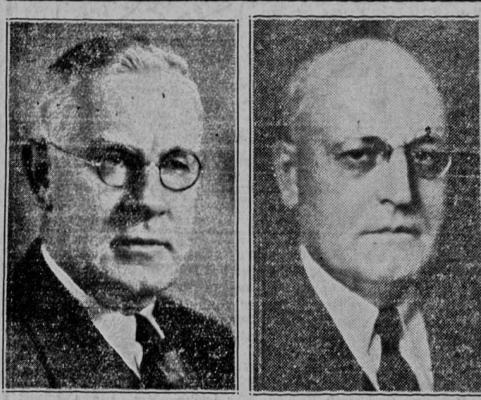

Competing teams, one from the east and one from the west side of the camp, are organized among students and their families to play against each other in various sports. For the men, kittenball teams will be organized and a horseshoe tournament will be in progress soon after the opening of the camp.

On the volley ball court, camp women will play their annual volley ball games and tournament. Badminton, tetherball, and other outdoor games will be introduced this year, according to plans of Mirlam Taylor of the women's physical education department.

Children at the camp will play, free from traffic dangers and the restrictions of the city, at swings, sandpits, and the wading pool built for them. Their play and outdoor games are directed by supervisors from the physical education departments.

University lectures, concerts, libraries, plays, and museum are open to inhabitants of "Tent City," who may find amusement provided by them.

INCOMING AND OUTGOING HEADS

President Walter A. Jessup (left) and Dean Eugene A. Gilmore, president elect of the University of Iowa, will be introduced to summer session students at an assembly next Thursday at 11 a.m.

This meeting, the only official gathering of the entire summer session student body, will be in Macbride hall auditorium.

President Jessup will greet the incoming students. Other university faculty members will also have a part in the assembly program.

Dean Gilmore will take office July 1, when President Jessup will leave for New York city, where he is president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

New Alumni Officers Will Take Places This Summer

Taking office with the beginning of a great university at Iowa City.

New Groups

In pursuit of this goal, the association maintains a mailing list of 21,884 alumni and keeps in regular contact with alumni clubs throughout the United States. It furnishes speakers for meetings of alumni groups, and administers funds for student aid.

A rapid growth in the number of alumni clubs was indicated in a recent report by the executive secretary. New clubs were formed in the year 1933-34 at Detroit, Mich.; Grand Forks, N. D.; Laramie, Wyo.; Moscow and Lewiston, Idaho; Pullman, Washington; New York, N. Y.; Twin Cities, Minn.; Keokuk county (Sioux); Linn county (Cedar Rapids); Grundy county (Grundy Center); Muscatine county (Muscatine); Van Buren county (Keosauqua); Scott county (Davenport); Wapello county (Ottumwa); Washington county (Washington); and Winnebago county (Forest City).

Local Activities

Many of these local clubs keep in constant contact with the university, often establishing loan funds for worthy students and discovering and interesting superior high school students in university careers. They also sponsor and promote the appearance of university organizations and faculty members at community functions.

The alumni association this year is distributing specially designed plates showing a reproduction of Old Capitol as mementos to graduates. Plans are also under way for publication of a book containing pictures of the university and of university life.

Sales of radios have registered marked improvement in Peru where more than 90 per cent of the recent purchases were all-wave receiving sets.

Higbee Directs

Active work of the association is carried out under the direction of Prof. Frederic G. Higbee, executive secretary, from the alumni office in Old Capitol.

The purpose of the association, according to the secretary's annual report, is "... to foster higher education in Iowa and to cooperate with those in charge of the administration of higher education in the building of the graduating class of 1930.

The most recent gift was a fund given by the class of 1934 for an artistic lighting system for the main sun porch, and presented by members of the graduating class of 1930.

University Libraries Add New Volumes to Shelves, Establish Reading Rooms

S.U.I. Buys Collection Of Leigh Hunt Rarities

Summer session students who return to the University of Iowa this summer will find greatly increased library facilities, with the addition of several thousand volumes and several new reading rooms.

The greatest single addition to the university libraries was the purchase of a collection of the works of Leigh Hunt, nineteenth century British writer.

2,000 Items

Secured at a cost of $20,000, this collection, once owned by the late Luther A. Brewer, Cedar Rapids publisher, is said to be the largest collection of "Huntiana" in the world.

It contains a total of nearly 2,000 items—first editions of Hunt's works, rare editions, special printings, and volumes owned by Hunt himself, original manuscripts, and letters and documents relating to the life and times of the English author.

Special Room

The collection was purchased by the University of Iowa after several other institutions, including Oxford, had bid for it. It will be housed in a special room in the basement of Schaeffer hall, and will be open for the use of students interested in Hunt and his contemporary writers.

The first step in a long proposed plan to install a library reading room in each of the university dormitories and fraternity and sorority houses was taken last spring, when a new reading room was opened in Currier hall.

Currier Library

The new room is comfortably equipped with easy chairs and electric lamps. Several hundred volumes are kept here all the time, and the titles are changed at intervals. It is hoped to open a similar room in the Quadrangle soon.

One of the most novel developments of the last year was the establishment of the combined classroom and library for the "campus" course under the direction of Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department.

"Campus" Books

This room, on the third floor of Schaeffer hall, where the balcony of liberal arts auditorium was formerly located, has an atmosphere of quiet and comfort, especially accentuated and equipped with indirect lighting.

About 2,000 volumes are shelved here—classics, modern literature, scientific works, and others used in Professor Shambaugh's course on an approach to a liberal and cultural education.

Three times a week, when Professor Shambaugh lectures to his class, the room becomes a classroom, seating some 200 students. At other times the chairs are pushed to the center of the room, and the room becomes a comfortable library.

Memorial Collection

Last fall, a room in the basement of Schaeffer hall was furnished as a special reading room to house the Mark Ranney Memorial collection of books. These books, given to the university by the widow of the late Mark Ranney of the college of medicine, include rare editions, special printings, and beautiful bindings.

The room is now open daily for the use of summer session students. In addition to the Ranney books, the room houses special exhibits dealing with the literature of various countries, which are changed each month.

New Volumes

Besides these new reading rooms summer session students will find the regular university libraries—augmented by the addition of many new volumes in the last year—still furnishing wide library facilities.

General library is housed in the first three floors of Macbride hall, and contains a large reading room where reference books of various kinds are shelved.

Reserve Books

Books placed on reserve by various instructors are kept at library

Employment Service Maintained at Union

Several thousand positions, part-time or permanent, have been located for students who need aid in working their way through the university by the employment service maintained at Iowa Union.

The service is now under the direction of Benjamin W. Robinson. Files list available positions, as well as personal data which each applicant must furnish at his first registration with the service.

Cotton Most Popular for Summer Fashion Parade

By BETTY REED (Daily Towan Society Editor)

If you're cruising about campus this summer instead of lounging on the seashore, cotton still is king.

Materials take new twists this year as all kinds of weaves in strings, laces, palm beach cloth, tablecloth linens, and even candlewick are introduced.

For classes and campus wear, sport clothes are "the thing." Shirt, waist and sailor type frocks of cotton are favorites among women.

Division Will Show Films

Latest developments in the field of visual education will be demonstrated by the extension division for summer session students during the first term.

Under the direction of Lee Cochran of the extension division, sound and silent moving pictures will be shown in room C-5 hall every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m.

The pictures will be of an educational nature, and will be designed to demonstrate the use of moving pictures and slides in the classroom.

Among the many subjects of lantern slides which will also be shown are: Botany, biology, English literature, grade geography, health, history, Iowa slides, Latin, map study, ornithology, physical geography, social science, fine arts, and prints.

Arrangements are being made to demonstrate equipment in 16 millimeter sound and silent movies, lantern slides, film slides, and opaque projectors to teachers who are interested in their use in the classroom.

Instruction will also be given in the use of projectors, it has been announced.

"Tent City" Gives Relief From Heat

Students to Establish Own Government At Camp

As the heat wave continues to invade Iowa, students and their families who wish to escape the discomfort of a sultry city life may "pitch their tents" at the University summer camp located on U. S. highway 6, just west of the university psychopathic hospital.

The camp, popularly known as "Tent City," was established several years ago for the purpose of providing economical living quarters for students wishing to bring their families.

Each family lives in its own electrically lighted tent, built upon a 12 by 14 foot or 16 by 16 foot platform. Tents may be rented with the platform and tent site from the university, through the summer session office, 117 University hall.

City water taps for personal service are conveniently located on the camp grounds. A large brick building provides shower, toilet, and laundry facilities with hot water available at all times.

A supervised playground is provided for children, and a recreational room and study hall for adults.

Although some pieces of furniture, such as tables, cupboards, and benches, are included with the tents rented from the university, campers must provide their own household and personal furnishings.

Camp government is maintained entirely by popular agreement and cooperation. Residents of "Tent City" elect their own mayor and council, who head the city government. Two rules which the camp enforces, because of the number of children in camp, are that dogs are not allowed, and speed regulations must be observed.

Not only does the camp have its own city government, but it maintains its own street system, and ordinances. Mail delivery and parking spaces for campers' automobiles are arranged for "Tent city" residents.

Local Social Clubs to Meet

Organizations Planning Their Summer Programs

Although clubs connected with the university have disbanded for the summer months, city clubs and organizations keep alive the social activities during the vacation season.

In spite of the heat, social clubs will gather for an afternoon of bridge, organizations and auxiliaries for business meetings and programs, and branches of state organizations will attend conventions.

Among the local clubs, which will meet during the summer, and their leaders are: Carnation Rebekah, No. 376, Mrs. John Husa, noble grand;

Past Noble Grands, Mrs. Ida Wood; Iowa City Rebekah, No. 416, Mrs. John J. Frenzen; Business and Professional Women's club, Nellie Faust; Iowa City Federated Business and Professional Women's club, Doris E. Smith; Kings Daughters, Mrs. May Flynn; Altrusa club, Mrs. Mabel Evans; Child Conservation club, Mrs. Clay Burkhardt; Monday club, Mrs. C. A. Bowman.

Iowa City League of Women Voters, Mrs. Dorrance White; Iowa League of Women Voters, state president, Mrs. Homer Cherrington; Coralville Heights club, Mrs. Frank T. Mott; A.O.C. bridge club, Mrs. C. D. Benjamin; P.T.A. council, Mrs. A. C. Moyer; American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Rex Day; Women's Relief Corps, Mrs. Tracy Bradley; Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. Betty Blackman; Friendly Social club, Thomas Stephens.

Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Sarah Paine Hoffman, grand regent; Daughters of Union Veterans, Mrs. L. E. Clark; Sons of Union Veterans, Mrs. Joseph Holubar, Jr., Past Matrons Association of the Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. Olive Manatt; Order of Rainbow for Girls, Mrs. W. J. Weeber, mother adviser. Nonpareil club, Martin Shoup; Women Golfers of the Iowa City Country club, Mrs. R. L. Parsons; Elks Ladies, Mrs. Leo Carmody; Pythian sisters, Mrs. William Edwards; Royal Neighbors, Mrs. B. Dalton.

Union Serves Iowa Students as Social Center

Iowa Union Forms Center For Student Recreational Activities During Summer

With the completion of the fine arts building now under construction on the west side of Iowa river, Iowa Union will relinquish its functions as a gallery for art exhibits and will be devoted exclusively to filling social and recreational needs of students and faculty members.

The building will be headquarters for most summer session students in their leisure hours. With a new lounge furnished modernistically in the hall leading from the cafeteria to the river, usual ample facilities have been increased.

New Lounge
The new lounge is expected to prove a popular place for students to spend their leisure hours. Comfortable and smart furniture of chromium steel, and indirect lighting combine to make it one of the most restful rooms in the most restful building on the campus.

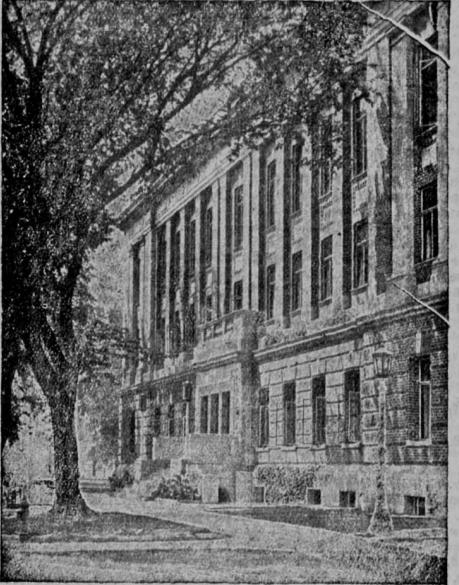

Other cool and quiet spots which will prove popular with summer students are the main lounge with its overstuffed furniture, radio, and pleasant atmosphere, the library in the northwest corner, and the sunporch. Students will be able to play bridge or ping pong, to read their favorite newspapers and magazines, or the latest books, to lunch and dine in the cafeteria or to breakfast on the sunporch. Art exhibits will be on display in the main lounge and in the lobby.

Union Offices
In the evenings concerts, dances, and student meetings will be scheduled throughout the summer session. Administrative offices of Iowa Union are housed in the building, with Prof. Rufus H. Fitzgerald as director. Other offices are those of the student employment service, campus religious activities, the university housing service, the university dining service, and the assistant dean of women. Radio station WSUI has a studio and offices off the main lounge from which student programs, lectures and feature programs are broadcast.

Remote control connections are employed to reach nearly any part of the building for the broadcasting of concerts, all-university parties, and other public programs in Iowa Union.

Faculty clubs—University club for women and Triangle club for men—occupy the upper part of the east unit.

Bridge Fans Center About Iowa Union

Bridge players find their haven at Iowa Union while at the University of Iowa. With cards available for the asking at the information desk in the front lobby, there is always an opportunity for an informal game.

A yearly tournament, including games of both auction and contract bridge, is held in the late winter months under the auspices of Union Board, student group which controls relations of the student to Iowa Union. Prizes are offered to groups and individuals.

Campus Religious Groups Have Office

All campus religious organizations, including the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Philo club, Newman club, and similar groups, are united in their advisement and maintain an office at Iowa Union under the direction of Prof. W. H. Morgan of the school of religion.

Genevieve Chase assists Professor Morgan with the duties of this office.

"ON THE BANKS OF THE IOWA"

Many Summer Pastimes Found Near Iowa City

Residents, Students Hunt for Heat Relief

Picnicking, canoeing, and swimming boom in popularity as the summer sun forces Iowa Citizens to hunt relief.

Iowa City and the nearby territory offers many facilities for summer pastimes. Picnic retreats may be found in woods which cover hills close to the city, and the city park is popular with many relief-seekers.

Situated on the north side of town, west of Iowa river, the park has a baseball diamond and small grandstand, several acres of wooded ground, and has both paved and well kept gravel roads. Tables are provided for picnic parties, and there is a swimming pool nearby. There are dances at the park pavilion throughout the summer.

Macbride Lake
Approximately 14 miles northwest of Iowa City is the recently dedicated Macbride lake state park, which is being rapidly hurried toward completion.

Created through the efforts of a few local persons, the park covers many acres of wooded territory, and will have a lake with eight miles of shoreline. Work on a dam, which will block Mill creek to form a sheet of water, is going on at present and will be finished by another month.

The future lake bottom has been cleared, and Iowa Citizens intend to start building cottages in the near future. The lake, which is expected to fill before winter, will be stocked with legal sized fish from state hatcheries. The park may be reached by going to North Liberty and then east.

Picnic Spots
Another picnic ground frequently visited by Iowa Citizens during the summer is the Cedar Valley quarry, near West Branch. Clear, cool water is caught there in two deep rock pools, and swimmers may be found there every day. Other picnic spots abound in the hills which rise out of the Iowa river valley.

Canoeing finds favor with summer school students during hot weather, and every evening canoe lights sparkle on the river. Some canoeists combine picnicking with paddling, and take lunches to the island near the city park or along the river banks farther up, but most of them prefer to paddle upstream and then float slowly down to the boat-house near Iowa Union.

Bicycling Popular
Bicycling is also coming back into popularity, with many university students taking to the pavements in Iowa City and in the nearby countryside.

Golf, and tennis, always popular summer sports, are already underway. Students find the Pinkbine golf course west of University hospital convenient, and tennis courts are located near reserve library and the armory.

Iowa City's four theaters will also provide entertainment for local residents and summer students.

Students May Use Fieldhouse Services

The fieldhouse swimming pool, showers, and towel service, will be open to all summer school students providing they have paid their gym fees. The gym fee, paid at the secretary's office, entitles the student the use of the athletic equipment in the fieldhouse. Lockers will be assigned for the convenience of the student.

Dining Service Aid To Student Workers

Dining service at Iowa Union, offered through the cafeteria, the sun porch fountain, and private dining rooms, has proved to be popular from both student and faculty standpoint.

The service is under the direction of Theodore M. Rehder, and for the most part employs only student workers for table service and kitchen work.

University Coaches Train Athletes in Various Fields

Combine Theory With Actual Practice In Sports

The department of physical education for men offers instruction to undergraduates in every phase of the major and minor varsity sports. To all students opportunity is given to scientifically study football, basketball, track, golf, and swimming under the most expert tutelage which the university affords, namely the head coaching staff. Coach Ossie Solem supervises football; Coach Rolfe Williams supervises basketball; Coach George Bresnahan, track; Coach Charles Kennett, golf; Coach Dave Armbruster, swimming; and Coach Otto Vogel, baseball.

In football theory and practice is taken up from both the defensive and offensive angles. Attention is given to play in the various positions and strategy and generalship is stressed for the backfield men. Instruction is given in early season practice, use and development of materials; ethics of the game; rules, sportsmanship, and the general value of the game as part of the physical education.

Assistant Professor Williams gives instruction over the various phases of basketball from 2 to 4 p.m. daily. He takes up in his lectures, theory and practice, eastern and western styles of the game, and fundamentals on offensive and defensive basketball with individual and team formation.

Track and field come under the daily supervision of Assistant Professor Bresnahan, who lectures daily from 4 to 6 p.m. Here again theory and practice are thoroughly taken up. Studies in each event on the interscholastic and intercollegiate programs are handled in sequence, from sprinting, through field events, to distance running.

Coach Otto Vogel assumes professorial role in the study of baseball with again theory and practice getting a major share of attention. Fielding, throwing, batting, base running, playing technique, of various positions, effective battery work, team play, coaching methods, psychology and team morale, proper handling of the game in high schools, schedules, training and development of team, all these phases, are taken up in full by Coach Vogel who lectures daily from 2 to 4 p.m.

Elementary golf is taught candidates by Coach Charles Kennett. In his daily lectures from 4 to 6 p.m. he plans to cover all fundamentals of golf: the grip, stances, swing, use of different golf clubs, different strokes for different conditions of play, rules of golfing, and good playing etiquette.

Coach Dave Armbruster offers three courses: elementary swimming, competitive advanced swimming, and advanced swimming. In the elementary division for students unable to swim the crawl stroke is taught. Perfection of this stroke is all that is sought for by this course. For men who are coaching or who plan to coach competitive advanced swimming is offered. Herein is taught the crawl, back crawl, breast stroke, diving, various styles of strokes, starting and turns, development of speed, endurance, water strength, muscular control, race strategy, and fancy diving.

In the third division advanced swimming, essentially the same outline as the above is considered except that pure style is given precedence over competitive drill.

Diamondball Popular Here

One of the most popular sports on the summer school campus last year was diamond ball, played between various organizations and dormitories on the Iowa campus. Teams that competed last summer included a Comedians outfit, the tent city club, hospital team, field house dormitory team, Kellogg House nine, and several others.

The university cooperates with the various diamondball outfits in providing equipment for the athletes. Also, the university has several athletic fields about the campus upon which the games are played.

Directly west of the field house is the freshman and varsity baseball practice field, large enough to accommodate several games at once. The Hawkeye baseball diamond on Iowa field will also be available for summer play.

To become a member of one of the various campus teams one has only to have an inclination to play the game and then to turn out for the sport. At every dormitory there will be a person interested in organizing a diamondball club. If the athlete wants to play diamondball, or kittenball, as it is as well known, he can readily contact the organizer of a team.

Rusty muskets, bullets and cannon balls still cover Bentonville battlefield near Smithfield, N. C., where General Joseph E. Johnston fought Sherman in the last major engagement of the Civil war.

Some scientists believe eels, which inhabit fresh water streams along the Atlantic seaboard, migrate to the Sargasso sea each year to breed.

Faculty Clubs Find Center in Building

Faculty members find a recreation center in Iowa Union in the Triangle and University clubs, which occupy the upper floors of the second unit, the east section of the building. Game rooms, library, meeting rooms, and dining service are included in the setup.

The lower floor of the section is given over to the reading and lounge rooms, and the dining rooms, while the upper floor is divided into a large ball room, a card room, and a billiard room.

Seek Tennis Talent For City Team

Schroeder Looks For Prospects Among Students

Possibility of summer school students competing on the Iowa City team of the newly organized Eastern Iowa Inter-City Tennis League should awaken interest in the court activity among both men and women students of the summer terms.

E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of the department of physical education, is interested in having all who can and wish, to try out for the team. For details concerning the league, prospects should call on Mr. Schroeder at the fieldhouse.

Six cities make up the loop; Iowa City, Cedar Rapids, Waterloo, Clinton, Dubuque, and Davenport. These cities are in close radius, which makes for quick and convenient travel for teams of the league.

Each team plays two matches with the other five outfits, making 10 matches in all. A men's match is to consist of six men's singles and three men's doubles. A woman's team match consists of two singles and one doubles match or three singles and two doubles matches.

The season will be made up of two rounds of five matches each. The schedule follows:

- First Round
- June 10—Clinton at Waterloo.
- Cedar Rapids at Dubuque.
- Iowa City at Davenport.
- July 17—Open.
- June 24—Waterloo at Iowa City.
- Cedar Rapids at Clinton.
- Davenport at Dubuque.
- July 1—Dubuque at Waterloo.
- Davenport at Cedar Rapids.

- July 15—Waterloo at Davenport.

- Iowa City at Cedar Rapids.
- Clinton at Dubuque.
- Second Round
- July 23—Cedar Rapids at Waterloo.
- Davenport at Clinton.
- Iowa City at Dubuque.
- July 29—Open.
- Aug. 5—Waterloo at Clinton.
- Dubuque at Cedar Rapids.
- Davenport at Iowa City.
- Aug. 12—Iowa City at Waterloo.
- Clinton at Cedar Rapids.
- Dubuque at Davenport.
- Aug. 19—Open.
- Aug. 26—Waterloo at Davenport.
- Cedar Rapids at Davenport.
- Clinton at Iowa City.
- Sept. 2—Davenport at Waterloo.
- Cedar Rapids at Iowa City.
- Dubuque at Clinton.

Church Clubs To Continue

Hot Weather Will Halt Activities

Church organizations and clubs of Iowa City will, for the most part, continue to meet during summer months for business sessions, programs, talks, missionary discussions, quilting, and social meetings.

Included in the church clubs, with their leaders, are: Baptist: Women's association, Mrs. C. G. Mulline; Group 1, Mrs. C. E. Beck; Group 2, Mrs. B. Shimek.

Unitarian: Women's association, Mrs. Minerva S. Knight.

Athletes May Take Part In Many Summer Sports Here

For the summer school athlete an all-around program of sports is waiting. Swimming—golf—tennis—canoeing—all will provide exercise and a chance for the student to give up his books for a few hours to get out and play.

There is plenty of water in and around Iowa City and in summer this means swimming and canoeing. In the fieldhouse is the varsity swimming tank, lacking by less than two inches of being the largest indoor pool in the world, and providing a sanitary and cool place to swim. If the pool fails to suit the swimmer there is always Iowa river.

Up by the island there are several swimming holes where one can get diving practice and a coat of tan.

Golf Classes

As for canoeing, the river offers every opportunity. Canoes can be rented from the boathouse just north of Iowa Union. The university provides a life guard and a motor boat patrol to keep watch over the river sports.

If golf is what the student wants, he has Finkbine field on which to play. Classes will be held by the university during the summer terms to help improve the games of those wishing to touch up on their technique. Several tournaments will be held each term to provide competition for summer school students.

Tennis Courts

When it comes to tennis, the facilities can hardly be improved upon. To the north and south of the fieldhouse are courts kept in fine playing condition at all times. Also by the reserve library are a dozen courts. Tennis classes will be held for those wishing to improve their games.

Whether for fun or credit, the athletic minded person can find facilities for his particular game or interest on the campus. If he wants to learn the game instructors are ready to show him how. The facilities are here, all the student has to do is take advantage of them.

SUMMER APPETITES SAY "Buy Your Meats at Gay's"

Transportation Services Make Iowa City Easily Accessible

Connections Allow for Quick Trips To Other Cities

Iowa City may be easily reached at anytime by automobile, bus, train, or airplane.

The Roosevelt highway, U.S. 6, all paved and running east and west through Iowa City, is a connecting link from Davenport to Des Moines and Council Bluffs.

U.S. highway 161, an outlet from Iowa City to points north, is also a paved highway and connects with the Lincoln highway, running east and west, at Cedar Rapids. The three eastbound and three westbound interstate busses traveling the Roosevelt highway every day give Iowa City adequate service.

Train Service

Seven passenger trains daily over the Rock Island line, four westbound and three eastbound, give Iowa City excellent railroad service. Beginning last year the Rock Island, with other principal railroads in the country, set special round trip rates for students. The tickets may be purchased at home to be used for the opening of the school session and the return ticket is good at the close.

The Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway company, with six interurban cars running daily between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids, makes the larger town to the north easily accessible.

Air Route

In addition to train and bus service to Iowa City from surrounding points, the United Airlines' airport, south of the city, is one of the stops on the United Airlines route from New York to San Francisco. Three eastbound and three westbound Boeing airliners stop at the airport every day.

Those interested in visiting the 1934 World's Fair, now on in Chicago, may fly there in an hour and 20 minutes from the local airport. Des Moines is only 50 minutes away.

Transportation in the city is provided by a fleet of modern busses operated by the Iowa City Street Railway corporation and four taxi companies.

High School Students To Study Here

Two Departments To Offer Special Courses

High school students from all over Iowa will again "go to college" on the University of Iowa campus this summer.

In two university departments—music, and speech and dramatic arts—courses will be offered for a selected group of pupils.

The all-state musicians are selected annually on the basis of outstanding work done in the annual music contests, or upon recommendation of their teachers for outstanding class work in music.

Players, Debaters

All-state high school players and debaters are picked in a similar fashion from the best Thespians and arguers in the yearly contests, or from students outstanding in regular class work.

In the first term, musicians will receive training in orchestra and chorus, as well as in chamber music, music theory, and appreciation. A similar course will be given in the second term, with the substitution of band for orchestra and chorus.

In addition to the regular class-work, the music students will appear before the public several times. Weekly concerts for orchestra and band have been scheduled, and soloists of ability will be selected to appear with their groups. Recitals by special student groups are also being planned.

Speech Training

The high school debaters will receive training in debate, extemporaneous speaking, and discussion under the direction of Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department. Last year they performed in an all day public speech program.

The young actors and actresses will work with University theater in a series of Elizabethan plays under the direction of B. Iden Payne, well known Shakespearean actor and director. The high school group in past years has presented one long play before the public each summer.

Reading Room Has Large List of Books

Opened in 1932, the Iowa Union reading room, located in the north section of the sun porch, houses practically every type of book that students desire. The selections are made by a student committee, and placed in the reading room by the university libraries.

The room is furnished with lounge chairs, and includes a fireplace, smoking conveniences, tables and benches. It is heavily carpeted, and set off from the rest of the porch by a grilled gateway.

The United States has an enormous lead over all other countries in exports of motion picture film to Argentina.

Great Variety of Foods May Be Used for Meals This Summer

Summer meals are a joy to prepare even when students do the "dishing up" themselves. With the available supply of fresh fruits, salad vegetables, and cold meats, to say nothing of the varieties of ice cream, and featherweight cookies, summer lunches can be easily planned and prepared in practically no time at all.

To keep feeling as fit as in April there's always the one rule to remember in planning June, July, and August menus: stay away from "heavy" foods. The term "heavy" includes fried foods, pastries, rich gravies, and rich desserts. So, to keep feeling fit, stay away from pork chops and cream puffs, and order veal cutlets and sponge cake instead.

Many Sandwiches

Fresh fruits, served plain, sliced, or used as a topping for ice cream or tapioca pudding are always accepted as a refreshing summer dessert. Sliced tomatoes are the perfect summer salad, especially when combined with cucumbers. Then there's always cottage cheese for salads or sandwiches.

The menu of sandwiches, plain or toasted, tomato and cucumber salad, sliced peaches and cream, butterscotch cookies, and iced tea is a classic combination for a nourishing summer lunch. In sandwiches, the variety from which to choose is innumerable: bacon and tomato, cottage cheese and pineapple, jelly (with or without peanut butter) old corned beef or sliced ham, toasted cheese, tuna fish or salmon salad, Philadelphia cream cheese and ground nuts, chopped peanut, cucumber and lettuce, and all sorts of ground meat combinations in which one can economically use leftovers.

Salads may turn out to be most any sort of a mixture, ranging from light salads to those which are a meal in themselves. There's always potato salad of course, especially for picnics, but then there's a combination vegetable salad which uses macaroni as a filler, tomatoes, cucumber, lettuce, celery, hard-boiled egg, and old green beans.

Then there's apple-celery, kidney bean, salmon, tuna fish, shrimp, or crabmeat salad, asparagus, pineapple, apricot, grated carrot, cucumber, and fruit-gelatin or vegetable-gelatin combinations.

Summer Desserts

In planning desserts, think of fresh strawberries, red raspberries, sliced peaches, plums, pears, sliced bananas and cream, pitted and sugared cherries, any one of the wide variety of ice creams upon the market, jello, custards, puddings, and pies.

In menu planning for summer days don't forget the cold sliced meats which every butcher keeps on hand, the ready-to-eat cookies and cakes which one may buy, or canned macaroni and spaghetti—all of which save time, effort, and prevent needless putting about a heated kitchen.

Mahan Plans for Series of Four Eastern Iowa Tours

Tours to points of interest in eastern Iowa will again be a feature of the first and second terms of this summer session, according to plans of the extension division.

These tours have become a traditional part of the summer session program. Led by Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, or by Lee Cochran of the extension division, summer students leave Saturday mornings and return in the evening after an all day outing.

Amana Visit

Four tours have been scheduled for the summer—to the Amana colonies, the arsenal at Rock Island, the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison, and again to the Amanas.

The first visit to the Amanas will be June 16. Visits will be made to a woolen mill, a village store, a school, and a church. The sightseers will go through Amana, Middle Amana, High Amana, South Amana, and Homestead.

On June 23 the travelers will visit the United States arsenal at Rock Island, the new government dam and locks, and other points of interest in Rock Island, Ill., and Davenport.

Penitentiary

The state penitentiary will be the destination of the third tour. The sightseers will visit historic spots along the way, and the route will include the Mississippi river dam and power plant at Keokuk.

Those who wish to go on the tours have been asked to register at the extension division office in East hall.

Radio Station Has Iowa Union Studio

WSUI, broadcasting station of the University of Iowa, has its home at Iowa Union, with the main remote control studio installed in the section north of the main lounge. Offices are also provided for the correspondence of the station.

Most programs scheduled in music, lectures, and features are directed from the Iowa Union studio. Remote control connections are also employed to reach nearly any part of the building, for convenience in broadcasting university parties or other events which occur here.

"Approved" Room Lists Now Ready

Lists of approved living quarters for undergraduate and graduate students are now available at the office of the university housing service in Iowa Union. It was announced yesterday by Prof. Fred Holmes, director.

As in past years, summer session students will be expected to live in approved rooms or apartments. Householders who have rooms to rent have been asked to notify the housing service, in order that arrangements may be made to include them on the lists.

The office will remain open through the summer, and its service is already available to students who have arrived and are registering today.

In addition to rooms in private homes, several fraternity and sorority houses will be open this summer and will have rooms available for students. Two university dormitories, the Quadrangle for men and Currier hall for women, will be open.

JUNE SALES

TODAY, JUNE 8th

PRICES DOWN IN OUR JUNE CLEARANCE

It is our business as your purchasing agent to help keep prices down to where you can afford to buy the things to which you are accustomed. While it is true that because of rising costs prices must go up to a certain extent, we are determined to exert every ounce of effort to keep OUR prices from soaring out of your reach. The government, too, is convinced that prices must be kept within the consumers' purchasing power. Far sighted manufacturers, too, believe that definite permanent recovery will be maintained only if prices are kept at a point where goods will continue to move freely.

Our June Clearance demonstrates most forcibly how we are protecting you against soaring prices . . . they show how we are helping you keep up your standard of living by keeping OUR prices down.

Watch our advertisements daily . . . see the dozens of UNADVERTISED VALUES in our store. Let us show you how we are using all the power at our command to KEEP COSTS DOWN.
