South Hears Rumbles of New Walkout

Labor Moves to Add To Strength; Will File Complaints

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25, (AP)—The first objective of the United Textile Workers' intensive organization drive is a victorious showing in secret elections, to be ordered by the government, at which the workers will decide who is to represent them in negotiations with their employers.

Important, but just now of secondary emphasis, is the actual number of new union cards issued as a result of the campaign which began promptly with the end of the great strike. The elections will be the real test of the union's strength and it is concentrating upon them.

To File Complaints

Labor leaders outlined this situation today as they made ready to file complaints that discrimination was being practiced against those who joined the strike. They will be asked with the textile labor regulations board soon to be appointed by President Roosevelt under the strike settlement plan proposed by his mediation board.

Francis J. Gorman, who was the national leader of the strike, said today that such discrimination was so widespread in the south that in many mill centers there was sentiment for a resumption of the walkout. He added he was counseling patience until the new board has an opportunity to take charge of the situation.

Considers Direct Appeal

The strike committee later was reported by Gorman to be contemplating a direct appeal to President Roosevelt. Cases of discrimination reported to headquarters here, he said, constitute "a defiance of the administration and the findings of its board."

"We do not propose to sit idly by while this shameful attack is being made," he asserted.

Numerous mills in the south continued closed today, the second working day since the strike ended. In the north, also, the doors of many plants stayed shut. The majority of the industry, however, resumed operations, largely with a full pre-strike force of workers.

Receive Complaints

From both sections, union headquarters received complaints that mill-owners were discriminating against strikers in rehiring operations. In some cases, the employers had announced flatly that no strikers would be reinstated. In others, the telegrams said workers were required to sign "yellow dog" contracts to regain their jobs.

Under such contract the worker agrees not to join a labor organization.

In many cases they have been made the basis for anti-strike injunctions. They are now outlawed so far as the federal courts are concerned and banned as well by the national industrial recovery act and all NRA codes.

Rainbow Retains America's Cup; Wins Fourth Straight

Sopwith With Draws Protest Following Narrow Loss

By EDWARD J. NEIL Associated Press Sports Writer

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 25 (AP)—Britain's newest and perhaps most brilliant bid for the famed America's cup ended drably tonight far from the open seas where Tom Sopwith's challenger Endeavour and the snow white defender Rainbow fought through six races.

Sopwith, so bitter he said he never again would challenge for the battered old mug, withdrew his protest of Rainbow's 55 second victory today—fourth straight after the Endeavour had won two races.

His withdrawal of the second charge of foul he has made in the series automatically removed the necessity for hearings the race committee had ordered tonight after Edward S. Vanderbilt broke out the red flag of protest and Sopwith followed suit a few minutes later at today's starting line. Since Vanderbilt won the race anyway, there would scarcely be any sense to awarding it to him a second time on

Cooperative Dormitory Quarters Open; FERA Deadline Tomorrow

Iowa students seeking work for self support and places in cooperative university dormitories need not despair.

Quarters are still available in cooperative dormitories, it was announced yesterday by Prof. Lonzo Jones, assistant dean of men. Two new houses for men have been opened this fall to accommodate the host of additional applicants for the cooperative project. With these houses, the number of men who can be housed in the cooperative dormitories totals about 225, Professor Jones pointed out.

Places will be assigned to men regardless of previous application.

Watchman On Morro Castle Sees Bombing

Says Three Separate Fires Preceded Explosion

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Morro Castle was destroyed by three separate fires beginning almost simultaneously, Arthur J. Pender, night watchman on duty when the flames were discovered, told the department of commerce investigating board today.

Furthermore, he continued, he was convinced the flames he saw first came from burning chemicals. He smelled odors like benzine or naphtha and burning rags.

Thinks Ship Bombed

He told of an explosion "loud" and "intense" which followed shortly after the heat from the blazing lounge had driven him and other fire-fighters to another deck.

"In the light of everything that happened," he stated, "I think that the ship was bombed."

Pender also corroborated the testimony of Acting Captain William F. Warms that Captain Robert D. Willmott, who died of heart failure a few hours before the fire, suspected and feared George I. Alagna, the second radio operator.

Suspected Alagna

He asserted it was suspected Alagna might have set a fire in the No. 5 hold of the liner, a blaze discovered and extinguished Aug. 27 on the voyage previous to the one that brought the fatal disaster.

Captain Willmott, he said, had instructed him to watch the radio man closely.

"Do you mean to say the captain was terrified of a radio operator?" inquired Dickerson N. Hoover, chairman of the board of inquiry. "Yes," replied Pender, "but personally, I always found Alagna a fine fellow."

Man Rescued from Flaming Boat

Says New Deal To Safeguard

Secretary Roper Seeks To Reassure Spokesmen Of Business

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Directly seeking to reassure business spokesmen who had manifested "apprehension," Secretary Roper tonight asserted the new deal would safeguard individual initiative and that there need be no fear that all or most emergency recovery steps "may become permanent."

In what was generally interpreted as a reply to the request by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that the administration clarify its position, Roper declared there was no thought of bringing about "complete abolition of the old order" of our economic and social system.

5 Balloons Missing In International Race

MOSCOW, Sept. 25 (AP)—Five balloons participating in the twenty-second annual Gordon Bennett cup race that started at Warsaw, Poland, Sunday still had not been reported tonight.

Aviation circles expressed the opinion that some of them, swept along by northwesterly winds, might have been carried into the Karelia area north of Leningrad.

County Grand Jury Adjourns Until Tuesday

State Air Commission Orders Inquiry Into Fatal Accident

Ronald L. Kendall of Waterloo, pilot of the airplane which crashed near Tiffin Monday night, killing two passengers, was paroled to his attorney late yesterday afternoon by County Attorney F. B. Olsen after the Johnson county grand jury adjourned until Tuesday.

Treated for Fracture

Kendall was being treated at Mercy hospital yesterday for a fractured arm suffered in the crash, which resulted in the deaths of Gerald Randall, 36, of Ottumwa, and John Lee, 19, of Hudson. He was not called before the grand jury, meeting in secret session at the court house.

Church Opposition To Establishment Heard

Church opposition to the establishment of a state liquor store in Iowa City flamed anew last night with an announcement that the commission had taken options on two proposed sites here yesterday afternoon.

Pinal action on one of the locations was promised within 24 hours by R. N. Cowan, representative of the commission, who left for Des Moines after completing negotiations with Joe Rineella, 7 S. Dubuque street, and the owners of the Paul-Helen building, 215 E. Washington street.

Register Strong Protests

Despite Gov. Clyde Herring's statement that he is convinced that the establishment of a store here is desired by a majority, Iowa City religious leaders registered strong protests last night. (See page eight of this morning's Daily Iowan.)

Both the Rev. W. P. Lemon of the Presbyterian church and the Rev. C. C. Garrigues of the First Christian church issued statements.

The Rev. Llewellyn A. Owen of the Congregational church, leader of opposition to the store last summer, announced he would make a public announcement in the near future.

Hopes for Quick Action

Mr. Cowan said he had made a thorough study of the local situation and would place his recommendations before the commission this morning. It is hoped, the representative said, the commission will make a quick decision so that measurements for fixtures may start this afternoon.

Present plans go through, the commission expects to have the local store in operation before Oct. 15.

Detroit Hunt Moves Ahead

Barber Held in Child's Disappearance; 2nd Girl Missing

DETROIT, Sept. 25, (AP)—The five day old hunt for Lillian Gallagher, 11 year old parochial school student who disappeared last Thursday, moved forward swiftly tonight as police seized a barber shop owner and held him for questioning after revealing that the study of the new clues had been momentarily halted by the disappearance of another child.

The barber is Frank Baldwin, 50, taken into custody on the orders of Howard Bowman of the prosecutor's office after a nine year old girl was reported to have made a complaint against him.

Coincidentally with his arrest, police revealed that they had a report that Helen Nowak, 13, disappeared from her home last Sunday night without leaving a clue as to her whereabouts.

A bloodstained handkerchief, a loop of wire, and a clump of hair in a freshly dug hole in a field were the newest bits of evidence gathered up by police in the Gallagher case. The systematic block by block search conducted by police and volunteers over the city unearthed these clues. The hair was to be treated to a microscopic test.

Previous complaints against Baldwin prompted police to question him early in the search, his arrest late today following the questioning of several school girls.

Tax Appointments Announced

DES MOINES, (AP)—Three appointments in the departments created for the administration of the new three-point tax law, were announced today by the state board of assessment and review.

Police Find Added Evidence Against Hauptmann

BY FRANCIS A. JAMESON Copyright, 1934 By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 25, (AP)—Flying in from the west, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh were back tonight to aid the revived investigation into the murder and kidnaping of their first child as authorities announced discovery of important new evidence against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, accused recipient of the ransom.

Colonel Lindbergh was to appear tomorrow before the grand jury considering extortion charges against Hauptmann.

Coincident with the arrival of the Lindberghs from the Pacific coast, Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey declared his state stood ready to try the suspect on charges of kidnaping and murder.

The flying couple landed at Trenton, only a few hours after police had found, jotted down on a hidden closet panel in Hauptmann's Bronx home, the private telephone number and address of Dr. John Condon. Dr. Condon was the "Jafise" who as intermediary paid the $50,000 ransom for the child, then thought to be still alive.

On another board in the same closet investigators found a series of figures which they said might be serial numbers of the ransom money.

District Attorney Samuel J. Foley, submitting the two panels to the grand jury declared the prisoner had admitted authorship of the memoranda. He gave as his reason for making the pencilled notations, Foley said, an "interest" in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

"Where did you get that telephone number?"

Child's Disappearance Remains Unsolved

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 25 (AP)—A day which brought numerous side developments in the Distelhurst kidnaping case, including a promise by federal authorities to "render every possible service," failed to produce any definite leads toward solving the mystery.

The parents of the 5 year old Dorothy Distelhurst, who last was seen enroute home from school last Wednesday afternoon, waited in vain for reply or results from two public letters they issued.

One message renewed their offer that "no effort will be made to cause trouble" if kidnapers attempt to contact them.

The other message asked five men to drag the Cumberland river. It also included the assertion that "a reward will be paid for information leading to her return or for information leading to the conviction of anyone who may have harmed her."

Chicago Radium Thief Warned of Capsule's Death-Dealing Power

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (AP)—Police tonight were hunting some ill-advised thief in possession of a $1,000 capsule of radium that may kill him if he opens it. It was stolen today from an exhibit at the world's fair.

Dr. Luther Gable, in charge of the exhibit, which contains $30,000 worth of radium, broadcast a warning to the thief, whom he thought might be merely some boy attracted by the shiny appearance of the aluminum tube.

Roosevelt Accepts Withdrawal With Understanding to Start Reorganization Immediately

Retirement of Fiery Leader of Recovery Administration Comes as Little Surprise; Exact Reason of Final Break Unknown

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—The fiery General Hugh S. Johnson resigned tonight as administrator of the national recovery act and President Roosevelt accepted his withdrawal with a mutual understanding to project NRA into an immediate reorganization.

The retirement of Johnson, much speculated about in the trying days of the recovery campaign, came as little surprise and was announced at the summer White House, apparently by previous agreement.

Codes Stand As Monument To General

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The blue eagle tonight lost Hugh S. Johnson—fiery blunt-spoken administrator who for more than a year has struck sparks from America's industrial structure.

In place of the one-man bossdom of its organizer, NRA awaited board control. Resulting will be a broader management, but one lacking the dynamic personality of that former military man who since inception of the law has seemed to many to personify the industrial recovery drive.

Headquarters Dull

The headquarters he has dominated so completely were dull and drab in his absence. But several thousand employees were busy on the every-day routine tasks of administering the more than 500 industrial codes of fair competition.

These codes stood as a monument to the vigor and energy of a 52-year old retired army general. It was an unheard-of job—casting American business into this code structure—and Johnson did it in little more than a year.

Just what President Roosevelt will do with NRA now was unknown in detail. This task will be a major one before him when he returns to the capitol tomorrow. He has indicated a three-way split of his function—legislative, executive and judicial. The legislative or policy board was expected to be the most important of the three.

But these plans are only temporary, a means of filling Johnson's place until congress meets again. The law Johnson helped to conceive and guide through the special session just after Mr. Roosevelt's inauguration expires next June 15.

Believe Split Hastened Withdrawal

A wide split between Johnson and organized labor was believed by many in the capital to have hastened his withdrawal as administrator. His resignation in coming months had been taken as a matter of course, and only recently after a reorganization row involving the president and Donald R. Richberg he had resigned and then retracted this step, at Mr. Roosevelt's request.

The break with labor came scarcely 10 days ago, opened by an address in which he accused the united textile workers of violating an agreement in calling the recent strike.

F.R. Returns to Capital To Face NRA, Relief Problems

Top Dozen Major Government Issues

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25, (AP)—Two outstanding problems—NRA and human relief, each involving millions of lives and dollars—tonight topped a dozen major government issues on the White House desk to which President Roosevelt returns tomorrow.

The answers largely will point the trend of federal tax and budget balancing policies. Also, they will give President Roosevelt actual reply to mounting business demands for bringing government spending within receipts, for international monetary stabilization and for lessening government control of business.

By the administration's own estimate, 5,000,000 families will be on relief roles this winter unless employment spreads. The chief government agency for shifting this burden from the treasury to private payrolls has been the NRA—an organization now in process of change. NRA wants to use the huge code structure to boost employment by enforcing a 30 hour work week.

In the midst of this and other controversies over the blue eagle's future, Hugh S. Johnson returned here from a vacation trip and then dropped suddenly out of sight. His office today reported him in New York and "believes" the explosive administrator will return tomorrow when Mr. Roosevelt arrives.

In his last public statement, Johnson said the entire NRA problem was being worked out by the President "and no one else."

Thirty-Four Delegates Attend Opening Sessions of Institute

District Scouting Leaders to Continue Sessions On Girl Scout Work Today; Mrs. Olsen Opens Yesterday's Sessions

Girl Scouts cultivate a citizenship which they carry over into later life by assuming troop leadership and teaching younger members the valuable lessons they have learned. Mrs. F. B. Olsen told 34 delegates to the two day district institute on scouting, which met yesterday and will meet today in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

After Mrs. Olsen's opening address, Mrs. Charles G. Adsit, Des Moines Girl Scout council member, led an open discussion of educational opportunities of the Girl Scout, stressing team work and emotional stability as benefits received from the scouting program.

Problems Discussed

Led by Margaret Murray of New York, institute secretary from the national staff, 10 problems and questions concerning the Girl Scout program were then discussed.

"We must discover, develop, and use leadership possibilities," Miss Murray told delegates in her speech on "Leadership," which closed the morning session. "Utilizing possibilities is the one essential which managers must observe," she said. After listing many qualities necessary to leaders, Miss Murray quoted a definition of leadership, "the sinking of self and thoughts of self into service for others," and cautioned executives to see possibilities and vision in the Girl Scout program.

Luncheon at Union

Luncheon was served on the Iowa Union sun porch following the morning sessions. A group of Girl Scouts entertained delegates by singing outdoor group songs.

Opening the afternoon session, Miss Murray set forth six plans which would apply to all troop committee organization and management. These essentials are: clear division of responsibility, selection of members, choice of chairmen, orientation of new members, standard committee procedure and meeting times, and keeping records of all committee meetings.

Divided into Groups

The delegation then divided into smaller groups to discuss training and personnel, led by Mrs. Adsit; finance, Mrs. F. D. Francis; publicity, Miss Murray; badges and awards, Mrs. I. A. Rankin; and camp, Mrs. Stuppman of Washington. Reports and decisions of group discussions were relayed to the entire delegation when it reassembled.

In Mrs. H. J. Dane's speech, "Looking ahead," which concluded the day's meetings, the speaker advised each council to have future meetings planned in advance, for three month periods or more, in order that the program be more efficient, the public better reached, and financial problems lessened. "Each council member," she said, "should know the importance of her position, be enthusiastic about her work, and be able to increase information."

Round Table Today

Today's program will be entitled a troop committee round table, with Mrs. E. D. Plass, Iowa City commissioner, presiding for her second day. Mrs. Olsen will again discuss a Girl Scout's contribution to her community, and Mrs. Adsit will lead another open discussion on educational opportunities of the Girl Scout program.

The morning session will conclude with Miss Murray's leadership in a discussion of how troop committees represented have helped their troops in the past.

Luncheon will be served at the Jefferson hotel, following the two hour morning meeting, beginning at 10:30 in the Old Capitol senate chamber. Mrs. Louis J. Pelzer will be a guest, and will display her eight historical murals.

Miss Murray will again open the afternoon session with a speech, "Adapting the committee's work to the needs of the troop." It will be

YOU ARE PROUD OF THESE....

BUT... HOW ABOUT THESE?

There's a lot of difference between the things we display on a mantel shelf and the things we display on a lavatory shelf... yet they both have a story to tell. The one talks of prowess, the other of quality—but one often in reverse English.

It's about time to weed out those silver-plated and chrome-plated trophies that are so common and so cheap. When Vortex clean paper cups replace common glass ones they have a happy effect on everything else. They set the standard, and everything else steps up to it.

Dorothy Houts First Recognized As Artist of Ability 8 Years Ago

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of articles dealing with Iowa artists whose works will be represented in the Iowa City art library, to be opened here next week. Among these artists will be Marvin Cone, Dorothy Houts, and Mary Nisson of Cedar Rapids; Mrs. Marjorie Olson and Mrs. Lucy Anderson of Ft. Dodge; Carl Flick of Amara, Don Glassell and Mrs. Kate Ruth Valzuce of Dubuque; and Fred Hartsock and Forman S. Kerr of Des Moines.)

2. Dorothy Houts

Recognition as an artist of ability first came to Dorothy Houts of Cedar Rapids eight years ago. It was in 1927, when Miss Houts was an art student in Chicago. She had been studying at the National Academy of Art, as a member of Audubon Tyler's class. In the evenings she studied at the Art Institute of Chicago.

Work of students in art classes all over the United States was canvassed by George Bridgman of New York city for his book, "Fifty Figure Drawings," and one of Miss Houts' life drawings was selected for this honor.

Honors Accorded Works

Two honors were accorded her work in poster designing while she was a student. She won a place in a national contest conducted by the General Outdoor Poster company and received first prize in a national poster contest conducted by the academy.

After she left school she was art director for a Cedar Rapids advertising firm for four years. Here she specialized in advertising layouts

U. S. Fleet Combines for Mock Battle in Pacific

For the first time in decades, Uncle Sam's combined fleets are preparing to maneuver in mock battle tactics off the coast of Alaska. In a great triangle stretching from Hawaii to Puget Sound to Alaska, American warships, submarines and fighting planes will battle "mythical" foes which will seek to "capture" the northern territory of the United States. Japan has eyed such movements resentfully in the past though so far its protests have consisted of jingo baying in Nippon.

SEATTLE, (I.N.)—For the first time in the fleet's history, Uncle Sam's naval dogs plan to do their mock war maneuvering off the coast of Alaska. This time, admirals and sailor boys will have to don heavier uniforms while America's combined battle squadrons prepare to defend the triangular portion of the Pacific ocean that stretches between Hawaii, Puget Sound and Alaska. The navy's board of strategy has decided to give the long neglected Alaska sector a "break" in the war games. Military experts regard the new plans as a momentous step in the long decades of the navy's peacetime maneuvers.

Closest to Alaska. Glance at a map of the new war game area. Alaska is virtually a land bridge between North America and Asia. The Aleutian islands off the coast of Alaska extend southward for hundreds of miles. The naval squadrons will maneuver about in this region which is 2,000 miles closer to Japan than any other portion of America. It is for the benefit of Nippon and the mikado's admirals and fighting generals, observers believe, that Washington decided to stage the fleet maneuvers this time in Alaska. Since the close of the World war in 1918, when Japan emerged as a naval power, second to none in the Pacific, the United States naval board of strategy has been trying to crack the balance of power "nut" in the Pacific. With England's apparent consent, Japan quickly built up a navy of efficient fighting ships which, according to neutral observers, is equal or superior to Uncle Sam's fleet, though the latter has almost 300,000 more tons of ships.

The Washington limitation of armaments treaty of 1922 established the famed 5-5-3 ratio in which Japan reluctantly allowed herself to be outstripped by England and the United States. Jingoism on both sides of the Pacific since then have clamored for more ships and complete abolition of all restrictive facts against unlimited warship construction. Japan speedily built up to her quota in three years. And since former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, in President Hoover's cabinet, criticized Nippon's seizure of Manchukuo, and the combined United States fleet remained in the Pacific after 1931, her big naval men have been hacking away at all limitation treaties.

Tokio took deep concern in the recent mass flights of American navy and army planes to Alaska. News that Uncle Sam was surveying Alaska for air bases prompted Nippon to announce that she also was planning an airfield in the northern part of her possessions. But there is no cause for any nation to become alarmed over the selection of Alaskan waters for the fleet maneuvers, according to Secretary of Navy Claude A. Swanson. He asserts the choice is "in line with the navy's policy of holding fleet concentrations in American territorial waters."

Life Insurance a Worthwhile Investment, Says H. I. Jennings.

"Life insurance, from the viewpoint of the policy holder, is the promise of service and money for future delivery." That, according to H. I. Jennings, local agent for the Travelers Insurance company, is a definition that should be remembered.

It is not "saving," in the customary use of the word, because there are withdrawal limits attached, and because payments must be made at regular intervals. On the other hand, it offers great advantages of a large return on the investment, and security in the soundness of insurance institutions.

There are many forms of insurance, and policy holders have a variety of choices concerning payment provisions. The Travelers offers many attractive arrangements at no extra cost to policy holders.

Life insurance is "family money," Mr. Jennings points out. It is different from any other form of money you have. It is to be used by the family if you die, and to be used by you and the family if you live.

For this reason—because it provides greater security for your old age and for your

Johnson Quits The NRA

GENERAL Johnson's decision yesterday to end his connection with NRA and the national administration will draw few expressions of regret from the public at large.

The general's bombast and his bull-in-a-china-shop tactics have done much to bring NRA to the state of confusion and chaos which threatened in the last few weeks to undo the work of months and to end in the complete dislocation of industry.

But rejoicing over the resignation should not obscure General Johnson's real worth nor lessen public appreciation of the vigorous and unselfish job he did in his army way.

Organization of such an unheard of agency as NRA required the services of a man able to work 24 hours a day and to say no in a booming voice, but who, at the same time, was endowed with great ability as a lawyer and administrator.

General Johnson filled that role admirably. The nation's only regret is that he did not see fit to resign when his real usefulness was over. By remaining at the helm of NRA too long, he clogged the delicate machinery he himself had built.

It's the Spirit of It That Counts

YESTERDAY morning the University of Iowa "pledge" of loyalty was quoted in full in these columns as the basis for a consideration of the student's obligation to the state which supports the university.

The text quoted was that which has been administered by President Walter A. Jessup in past years: "I pledge, here and now, lifelong loyalty to the ideals of scholarship, learning, and character; and I solemnly pledge loyalty to those ideals, to the end that I may well and truly serve my university, my commonwealth, and my country."

This even more fully expresses the sentiment outlined in our editorial yesterday morning, and makes clearer than ever the joint responsibility which binds the university and its students together in a common purpose.

Science, Invention And Politics

ABOUT the most ludicrous controversy engaged in by men of renown is the ever-current one about the relation between the advance of science and the increase in unemployment and poverty.

Such a controversy between Sir Josiah Stamp, eminent British economist and director of the bank of England, and Sir James Jeans, world-famed scientist and president of the British Association, has filled column after column of space in newspapers and magazines for weeks.

Sir Josiah deplors the "chaotic" nature of invention and maintains that unless labor-saving devices are invented to balance the effect of labor-saving machines the advance of science will cause civilization's downfall.

Sir James, on the other hand, contends that we will simply have to struggle along until a balance is accidentally reached. But, under no circumstances, he maintains, can modern society afford to throttle scientific discovery.

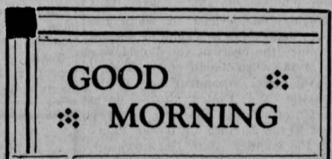

Of course Sir Josiah's fears are fruitless. Science will continue. The number and efficiency of labor saving devices will increase relentlessly. The process could not be stopped even if we wanted to stop it.

On the other hand, why should we wait for an accidental balance? The problem is mainly political. Economically, we can devise a system which will make use of every machine and every man, and care for both adequately.

It is the solution of this political problem upon which the world is so hard at work today. Each year sees more progress, and the chances are there will be more in the next 10 years than there has been in the last 50.

For this progress we are indebted to science. Invention and discovery must in the nature of things always precede progress in political processes. It serves both as a beacon and as a goal.

Just how much of the current reference to "business confidence" is engendered by political motives and how much of it can be relied upon as, bona fide it is difficult to say. Certainly there is some of both.

The repeated warning that business confidence is exhausted and that the government's activities are hindering its return is without doubt a potent political weapon. If leading business men repeat the warning often enough, confidence will die a violent death whether the government takes a hand or not.

For this reason, one would like to know just what purpose prompted 500 directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce Monday to call upon the president for a clarification of his policies in respect to industry and agriculture.

In the interest of the "... restoration of confidence and the promotion of the general welfare of our citizens," the 500, including many powerful industrialists, asked the administration, through the president, to "make a definite statement as to its policy and program respecting the following subjects:

"1) When and how is it proposed to balance the federal budget?"

"2) Is it the intention of the administration further to reduce the value of the dollar; if so, then to what figure and what shall be the content of the dollar so reduced?"

"3) Will the administration at the earliest possible moment collaborate with the other nations in an effort to agree upon a plan for the international stabilization of exchange?"

"4) Will the effects of the administration be directed toward recovery by the encouragement of business initiative, with a minimum of government interference and control and will it discontinue its activities in competition with private enterprise?"

"5) What is the administration's policy toward agriculture?"

"6) Is it the policy of the administration to continue the construction and development of public works not now needed?"

Most of these questions would, of course, be unanswerable. They are rhetorical questions, like "Are you going to quit beating your wife?" Others it probably would be distinctly unwise to answer.

Obviously the federal budget is not going to be balanced until the millions now being cared for with federal funds are cared for in some other way. The administration might well answer the business men with a counter question: "How do you propose to take care of these people, and when?"

It would be a foolish administration indeed that would answer the second question. Further devaluation of the dollar seems inevitable and necessary, but there is no reason why advance information about it should be given to the speculators.

Whether international stabilization of exchange—the subject of the third question—is either necessary or desirable is a question about which the experts still are in violent disagreement. Whether the domestic advantage of a free currency or the international advantage of a stabilized one is greater seems to be undecided.

The question about private initiative is the old theme song of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and it carries added weight now when credit is tied flat on its back and private enterprise is at a virtual standstill. But the chamber should have specified which "activities in competition with private enterprise" it had reference to. Many Americans are in favor of the general principle of keeping government out of business; few of them would consent to the abandonment of specific projects. The Chamber of Commerce probably knows that.

What the chamber means by the fifth question it is hard to see. The administration's policy toward agriculture could hardly be clearer. It is one of the few definite policies of which the administration can boast.

As for public works, the answer has been given in the assurance that every penny appropriated by congress for that purpose will be used. The assumption that these projects are not needed is a large assumption, based on a rather narrow notion of need.

What, then, is the purpose of it all? Obviously, the administration is going to continue beating its wife unmercifully. Will that assurance restore business confidence? —Don Pryor

Behind The Scenes in HOLLYWOOD By Harrison Carroll

HOLLYWOOD—What a gallery this tennis match should draw! Charlie Chaplin and Gilbert Roland are planning to play as doubles partners in the motion picture tournament to be held soon on the Ambassador courts. Charlie has suddenly become so excited over tennis that studio attaches are worried for fear he will postpone the start of his picture. The comedian is giving a big party at the Trocadero cafe to introduce the visiting players to the Pacific southwest tournament to his Hollywood friends. The gray-haired king of pantomime has been to watch these matches every day.

And here's an amusing story about that. Charlie forgot and made a trip to the oculist the other day before attending the tournament. He arrived with his eyes so affected by bella donna that the men on the court looked only like ghosts flying through the air.

"It reminds me of the time the king of England invited me to an aviation meet," the comedian laughingly told friends. "I had an attack of lumbago and couldn't look into the sky." But Charlie will have no bella donna in his eyes when he and Fred Perry, England's ace, meet George Lott and Gilbert Roland on the comedian's private court.

Johnny Weissmuller and Joel McCrea have invented a new fishing thrill—but you have to be a good swimmer to enjoy it. The two stars went out to a barge anchored off Santa Monica. Stripping to their bathing trunks, they then dived into the water and started swimming towards shore—fishing lines held between their teeth. And believe it or not, the unique trolling experiment worked. In a short time they had caught four fish—swimming back each time to the barge to pull them in. In a final try, Joel got a strike that jerked his neck almost out of place. Johnny swam to his rescue and the two combined their efforts on the line. Hands and teeth both were used. Finally, the two decided it was closer to the shore than to the barge. Eventually they made it and landed the fish. It was a barracuda several feet long.

Well, they swear to the story. A cheer for May Robson. She celebrated her fifty-first anniversary as an actress by starting a new picture, "Portrait of Laura Bayles," at R-K-O. Her dressing room was full of flowers. It was on Sept. 19, 1883, that May played her first stage part. It was "Hoop of Gold," at the Grand opera house in Brooklyn. May played an English slave, Walter Ramsay and Henrietta Vaders carried the leads in the play. They are dead... as indeed are most of the cast. The only other one besides herself whom May knows to be alive is Jimmy Barrows who played a footman. Even the managers, Marbury and Overton, are dead.

Phil Regan, whom the gossips just won't let alone, takes the three Boswell sisters to the fights—safety in numbers...

ABOUT SPORTS

Injuries Hit Big Ten . . . Frosh Gate Swinger . . . Sing Sing Black Sheep Win . . . Big Freshman Grid Athletes.

MICHIGAN and Indiana are missing the breaks this year. The Wolverines have lost Bill Renner, crack quarterback and passer, until late in the season. Renner suffered an ankle injury Saturday, a fracture of a small bone. Indiana lost Vernon Huffman, triple threat man who was to have been a big help in rejuvenating the Hoosier football stock. Huffman fractured an ankle bone and will be out until November.

The gate swinging gateman who so zealously guarded the portals of old Iowa field returned yesterday afternoon, but in a freshman football suit. He was Floyd DeHeer, the Oskaloosa one man team of last year, whether it be football, basketball or track.

THE SING SING Black Sheep, grid team of the prison at Ossining, N. Y., opened the season with a 24 to 0 victory over the Holy Name club of Williamsbridge. Alabama Pitts, Negro halfback of the prison team, is considered by experts as one of the best backs in the country. The New York Giants will or have signed him to play after he graduates.

WEST coast freshman teams play schedules against junior colleges in the immediate locality. With a full schedule behind them, the sophomores report to the coaches as full fledged veterans.

Coach George T. Bresnahan had his fall track and cross country teams out in full force yesterday afternoon. The Hawk-eye mentor had the boys drag a big steel grader-like affair around the track on old Iowa field to smooth off the rough spots. Capt. Max Wisgerhof rode the grader.

BILL BOELTER certainly knows his stuff in choosing the freshman gridlers to play against the varsity. He had a group of huskies who offered no easy competition for the regulars. Lorence Fuhmeister, University high's star fullback of last year, was a member of the freshman squad.

Beside the point, but immediately after a few of the lads had read the bulletin concerning the new liquor store, one of them decided that he would apply there for a board job.

Improvement Shown in U. Hi Grid Drill

Coach Joy Kistler's ball toters showed a world of improvement as they romped through one of the liveliest practices of the year yesterday afternoon. In an offensive scrimmage against the so-called second team, the varsity eleven had little trouble making needed yardage. The running plays seemed to work to perfection, the line opening large holes through which ave Foerster and Johnny Wyjack scampered on many occasions for touchdowns. Both of the men turned in good exhibitions of open field running.

Previous to the scrimmage, Kistler put his cohorts through a punting and pass receiving drill. Wyjack, Foerster, and Fountain did the booting.

The men used on the first team in the last night's scrimmage were: Thomas, Jessup, and Matthes, ends; Goss and Lackender, tackles; Lenz and Myers guards; and Tom Horn at center. Schnobelen, Spencer, and Hart worked at the half back assignments while Wyjack took over the full back post and Foerster barked signals.

The University Hi team will play its first game of the year against Kalona here Friday afternoon at Old Iowa field.

Giants Drop 4-0 Decision To Phils as Cards Win 3-2; Cut Lead of Giants to One Game

Davis Slashes Hopes of Nat. Loop Leaders

Must Win Remaining 3 Tilts to Tie Or Win Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Young Curtis Davis of the Phillies, one of the season's outstanding first year pitchers, took a terrific slash at the Giants' hopes of remaining in front in the National league pennant race when he shut them out with four hits today, the Phils winning 4 to 0.

The defeat reduced the Giants' lead to a single game as the second-place Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh 3 to 2. In the losing column they were all even with 57 defeats each but the Giants had played two more games and won two more to gain their margin. As a result the New Yorkers were faced with the necessity of winning their three remaining games to tie for the title should the Cards sweep their five remaining contests, or to win it outright if St. Louis should lose one.

Davis, who won his nineteenth victory of the year and his fourth from the Giants, was in fine form. There wasn't an extra-base blow in the four hits and only one Giant got as far as third base. Davis granted only two walks and struck out six.

Fred Fitzsimmons, who not long ago suffered the indignity of pitching 33 good innings in a row without having his mates get him a run, weakened at an inopportune time. Five blows in the third and fourth innings off Fitzsimmons' delivery, plus a costly error by Gus Marcuso, netted all the Philly runs.

Freshman Grid Players Sent Through Drill

While head Coach Bill Boelter was throwing 24 men selected from his 1934 freshman football squad against the Iowa regulars yesterday afternoon, the remainder of the rookies went through their paces on the west practice field.

Equipment was issued to 30 new men yesterday, bringing the total number of the squad to more than 100. A list of these new men follows: Herb Rosenberg, Maquoketa; Joe Porachy, Hammond; John Shakenberg, Sigourney; Randall Kirk, Daventry; Bob Off, North English; Bob Sharp, Ft. Madison; Dick Miller, Macedonia; Dwight Ver, Prairie City; Ray Lutz, Millersburg; Bill Wright, Eagle Grove; Douglas Carnes, Holstein; Willis Newbold, Keosauqua; Fred Zimmerman, Jack Brucha, and Charles Neal, Des Moines; Bill Mitchell, Chariton. ## PENNANT RACES AT A GLANCE

(By the Associated Press)
The St. Louis Cardinals slashed the New York Giants' lead in the National league pennant race to a single game yesterday when the Cards defeated Pittsburgh 3 to 2 behind Jerome (Dizzy) Dean and the Giants suffered a 4 to 0 setback from the Phillies and Curt Davis, who limited the league leaders to four hits.

In the five days remaining before the season ends, the Giants have three games to play and the Cardinals five. Should St. Louis beat Pittsburgh again tomorrow and then sweep its four-game series with Cincinnati, the Giants would need to win all three games, one from Philadelphia and two from Brooklyn, even to tie for the title. At least one Cardinal defeat is necessary for the Giants to win the pennant outright.

Rookie Helps Cubs Triumph Over Reds 1-0

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (AP)—Nineteen-year old Phil Cavaretta, recent graduate of Chicago's prep ranks, who was making his first start as a big league first baseman, hit a second inning homer today that gave Guy Bush and the Cubs a 1 to 0 victory over Cincinnati.

Cavaretta's winning blow was at the expense of another "debutant," Francis (Whitey) Wistert, all-star tackle on last fall's University of Michigan football championship team, who pitched the first seven innings for the Reds and yielded only five hits.

Besides his circuit clout Cavaretta drew two walks in his other three trips to the plate, stole a base, accepted 12 chances perfectly at first and completed an unassisted double play on Mark Koenig's line drive in the fourth inning.

Bush struck out the Reds with four hits. It was his season's seventeenth victory.

Dizzy Hurls 6-Hit Contest Over Pirates

Bucs Rally in Ninth To Frighten Ladies' Day Folks

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Cardinals, behind six-hit pitching by Dizzy Dean, defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2 today and moved within a game of the National league-leading Giants, who lost to Philadelphia.

By winning their remaining five games, the Cardinals can tie the Giants, even if the world champions win the three contests still on their schedule.

Dizzy Wins 28th
The elder member of the pitching firm of Dizzy and Paul Dean was in fine form as he scored his twenty-eighth victory of the season. A three-run attack in the first inning off Southpaw Larry French gave Dizzy an early lead and he held it and kept the Pirates scoreless until the ninth when Paul Warner beat out a slow bouncer to Durocher and "Arky" Vaughn hit a home run to the roof of the right-field pavilion.

Hits by Frisch, Medwick and Collins were the important blows in the first inning. With one out, Rothrock was safe on Vaughn's wide throw and Frisch doubled to right-center, sending Rothrock to third. Medwick's single to center scored Rothrock and moved Frisch to third. Collins' pop double over Suhr's head scored Frisch and sent Medwick to third. Medwick came home on Davis' long fly to Jensen, Collins moving to third. Fullis popped out to Vaughan in the inning.

Ladies Scared
After Vaughan's ninth-inning homer, the Pirates threw a scare into the ladies' day crowd of 4,938 customers, including 5,600 of the cash variety, when Pie Traynor singled to center. Dizzy, however, turned on a little extra steam to strike out Suhr and Thevenow popped to Frisch.

IOWA CITY, IOWA WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1934

CRONIN POSES WITH BRIDE-TO-BE

Wedding bells harmonize with the crack of the horsehide for this couple—Joe Cronin, manager of the Washington Senators of the American league, and his fiancée, Mildred Robertson, niece of Cronin's boss, Clark Griffith, owner of the Senators. The wedding is scheduled to take place in New York city.

Hawkeye Baseball Team Opens Fall Practice Today

Fall practice for Iowa varsity baseball candidates starts this afternoon on the diamond east of the stadium. In the last days the men have been checking out uniforms. Some engaged in an informal workout yesterday and Monday, but officially the drill begins today and will continue until cold weather makes it impossible to practice out doors.

Winfield High To Play Here Friday Night

Iowa City high's undefeated Little Hawks will try for their third consecutive victory against Winfield high on Shrader field Friday night.

This was assured yesterday when definite arrangements were made with the school to fill the open date that had previously been on the Red and White schedule.

With another game close at hand, the Wellsmen romped through their second preparatory session of the week yesterday. The Little Hawk mentor again eased up on his men, giving them little hard work and concentrating mostly on fundamentals and the development of new plays to be tried in the coming tilt.

With competition for this week assured, City high officials are now seeking a team to come here on Oct. 5. Offers have been extended Princeton high school, Princeton, Mo., and Coach Wells indicated yesterday that the out of state school will probably accept. The Missouri team is undefeated to date.

Browns Take 3-0 Shutout From Indians

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25 (AP)—Irving Hadley and Mel Harder, right handers, each pitched eight-hit ball games today, but the St. Louis hurler kept the bingles scattered and won a shut-out from the Indians, 3 to 0.

Harriers Meet To Plan For Big Season

A high note for Iowa's 1934 cross country season was sounded last night as nearly 60 prospects and guests attended the annual club mixer in Iowa Union.

A full program consisting of a movie, medal awards, and talks was furnished. Prof. Lee Travis of the speech department was the main speaker on the program. Other short talks were given by Tom Kelly, cross country captain in 1930, and Coach George Bresnahan.

Special guests at the meeting were: Coach Ossie Solem, Prof. Clarence Updegraff, Coach Charles Kenett, Assistant Coach Bill Boelter, Dean Wilber J. Teeters, and Judge Harold W. Vestermark.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Schedule

The heaviest cross country schedule in many years faced the University of Iowa team Tuesday, following the addition of Cornell college to the card.

Cornell will appear on the five-mile Iowa course Nov. 16 in the final dual meet of the year. It will be one of the final preparations for the National A.A.U. championship run here Nov. 29.

Successive increases in distances, starting with the 1.9 mile jaunt with Drake, will fit the Hawkeyes for the 6 1-2 mile A.A.U. affair. Dates of the other dual meets are: Oct. 13, Drake at Iowa City; Oct. 20, Carleton at Iowa City; Oct. 27, Minnesota at Iowa City; and Nov. 3, Wisconsin at Madison.

Grid Schedule, Cont'd.
Oct. 27—Minnesota here.
Nov. 3—Indiana there.
Nov. 10—Purdue here.
Nov. 24—Ohio State there.

Hawks Meet Frosh Outfit In Scrimmage After Pass Session

AROUND THE BIG TEN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 25 (AP)—Matt Patanelli, the 201 pound sophomore from Elkhart, Ind., who was groomed to become another famous end at the University of Michigan, will be put through a brick scrimmage Wednesday as a blocking halfback.

The shift of Patanelli from end to the backfield was caused by the temporary loss of Bill Renner, the ace quarterback, who went out with a fractured ankle. In looking for ball carriers around whom he can develop a running attack instead of a passing attack, Coach Kipke today used Russ Oliver at quarter, Steve Remias at full, with Patanelli and Triplehorn at the halves in dummy scrimmage.

MADISON, Wis.—A wide variety of plays, some deceptive, others depending for success on sheer power, were exhibited by the University of Wisconsin football squad today in the last of double practice sessions preceding resumption of classes. Coach Clarence Spears alternated four teams and all performed credibly despite intense heat. Spears still is seeking the ideal backfield from among four quartets which appear equally effective. Thus far the sophomore backs have failed to dislodge all the veterans although pressing them hard.

BEAT MINNESOTA
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Pressed for dry ground, the University of Minnesota gridlers scrimmaged today in the fieldhouse as rain fell outside.

Ed Widseth, Crookston, Minn., rookie, kept his place at tackle with the regulars. Pug Lund took the day off because of a cold. Today's scrimmage inside was the first of its kind since Dr. Clarence W. Spears coached Minnesota.

WILDCATS
EVANSTON, Ill.—Warm weather caused Coach Dick Hanley to restrict the Northwestern workout today to a dummy scrimmage against the freshmen who used Marquette formations.

Leon Fuller, Elgin, Ill., second string center, was taken to the hospital after suffering an attack of appendicitis. It was believed an operation would be necessary.

CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Ill.—The University of Chicago squad went through another long, hard scrimmage today as Clark Shaughnessy worked to develop deception in running plays.

The Maroons continued to show improvement, but lacked dash. Sam Whiteside, big sophomore tackle, was given a workout at center and may be used at the position.

OHIO STATE
COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Behind a new line today three comparatively unknown Ohio State backfield men and a veteran overwhelmed the reserve squad 26 to 0 in a short scrimmage.

On the second play of the tussle, Roucher ran 60 yards for a touchdown. Bettridge, at one halfback, crossed the line once and the veteran, Beltz, scampered 25 yards to score. Tippy Dye, 134 pound quarterback, showed some brilliant wares. Capt. Regis Monahan was back at his tackle post today. He had been absent a week due to a death in his family.

HUFFMAN OUT
BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Indiana university's varsity squad crushed the freshmen 19-0 in a practice tilt today, but an injury to Vernon Huffman stunned the Hoosier's hopes for a good showing this season. The 194-pound triple-threat back suffered a broken ankle when he was tackled as he tossed a long forward pass. Physicians said he would be unable to play again before November.

Four Sophs May Break Into Opener

Crayne, Ted Osmaloski Suffer Slight Leg Injuries

Coach Ossie Solem's regulars met the incoming frosh yesterday afternoon on old Iowa field, two full teams of frosh in fact, and did fairly well by themselves.

The first string line play was still ragged, but looked about ready to function smoothly. The hot sun bearing down on the players slowed the play of both outfits, but the newcomers, considering it was their second night out, put on a good act. At times they held their opponents, and with room to spare.

The long scrimmage session took place after the squad had engaged in a pass drill with Crayne, Halton and Teyro tossing the ball. A short session in line fundamentals was also held.

Although Ted Osmaloski, sophomore center, did not report due to an injured shin, and Dick Crayne went to the showers with a bruised leg, the squad will report tonight practically void of injuries. Gerhard Ruesher, out with a broken knee cartilage, is the only major casualty so far.

Unless Coach Solem shakes up his entire first string, he is scheduled to start Saturday's opening game with South Dakota university with four sophomores in the lineup.

The team used against the frosh yesterday started John England and Bernie Page at ends, Fred Radloff and Jerry Foster at the tackle and posts, Clarence Dee and Jack Gallagher at the guard posts, and Merrill Robb at center, with Homer Crayne, Elsher and Simmons in the backfield. Lawrence Halton took over Crayne's post when he limped off the field.

Dee has come up fast, receiving little recognition until last Friday and Saturday. He, with England, Osmaloski and Oze Simmons seem likely starters Saturday. (Turn to Page 7)

Detroit Makes Ready to Give Tigers Testimonial Banquet; Overflow of Gifts Received

Erect Bleachers To Enlarge Capacity Of Navin Field

DETROIT, Sept. 25 (AP)—Elated by its first pennant in 25 years, this city tonight paid formal and official homage to the Detroit Tigers, newly crowned champions of the American league.

The city, through a resolution passed by the city council, tendered its congratulations to Frank J. Navin, president of the club, and Mickey Cochrane, who in his first year as a manager brought Detroit a pennant winner.

Individual members of the squad were not forgotten. Plans were being completed for a huge testimonial banquet Saturday night at which 1,000 fans will shower gifts on each member of the squad ranging from a diamond "tiger" ring to a tailored suit of clothes.

The number of gifts has increased so fast that special rooms in a hotel have been set aside to store the radio sets, wrist watches, sports clothing, toilet articles and flowers to be presented to the team.

"This team of ours has done more toward lifting our city from the slough of despondency and putting it back on the courageous basis of the platinum era than any other thing or group could have done," Councilman John Lodge said.

The Tigers today were in Lansing for an exhibition game, and the state's capital declared a public holiday to welcome the champions. Gov. William A. Coudack personally congratulated each member of the team on the steps of the state house after a parade in which most of the city joined.

Manager Cochrane, deluged by congratulatory messages, reiterated his opinion that the Tigers won the flag because "we stuck to our system of playing for a big opening in one inning and cleaning up."

"We determined to stick to our course," the Tiger pilot said. "Your first five hitters in your lineup are your heavy hitters. Why waste them with sacrifices and leave the lower end of the batting order to bring in the runs? We stuck to our system of playing for a big opening in one inning and cleaning up and we have won a pennant as the result of it."

Navin, between receiving the congratulations of friends and associates, watched his staff sort the thousands of world series reservation applications.

Outside his office could be heard the pounding of hammers as bleacher seats were set up to enlarge the seating capacity of Navin field to about 47,000.

Dodgers Fall To Braves in 9 to 6 Game

BROOKLYN, Sept. 25 (AP)—Three runs in the ninth off Tom Zachary gave the Braves a 9 to 6 victory over the Dodgers today in a free hitting contest in which Brooklyn made 15 blinks and Boston 14.

The burst came after Linus Frey's homer knotted the count in the eighth. Pinky Whitney, who batted in four runs with four hits, knocking in the last two counters, and Wally Berger, who patted his thirty-fourth homer with one on, were the batting stars.

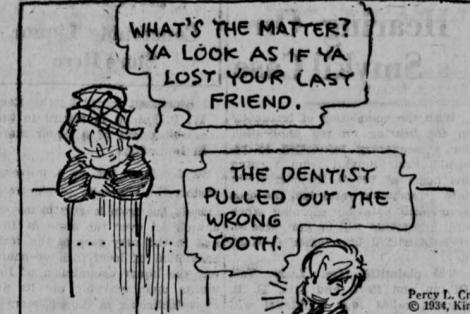

Score by innings: R. H. E. Boston . . . 000 330 003—9 14 0 Brooklyn . . . 102 002 010—6 15 3 Batteries—Frankhouse, Mangum and Hogan; Bengo, Clark, Zachary and Lopez.

Tigers Win EAST LANSING, Mich., (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, coasting on their laurels as the new American league champions, defeated the state capitol independent team, 7 to 5 in a charity exhibition game here today witnessed by a capacity crowd of 14,000.

Gehrig Hits 48th Homer, Yankees Win

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25 (AP)—Lou Gehrig, playing his 1,500th consecutive game with the Yankees, embellished New York's 5 to 0 victory over the Athletics by setting a personal record for home runs. Lou clouted his forty-eighth of the season off Joe Casarella in the sixth, beating his own previous high mark of 47 in 1927.

Vito Tamulis, rookie southpaw just recalled from Newark, shut out the Mackmen in his first major league appearance.

BOILERMAKERS

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—The Purdue football regulars had a rest today as Coach Noble Kizer sent his third and fourth string aggregations into a heavy scrimmage he hoped would reveal able line reserves. Their showing was somewhat disappointing, although several backs, mostly of the pony variety, looked good.

Explanation Of "Strange As It Seems"

Hans Wagner, one of the greatest shortstops of all time, and one of the best basemen and hitters in big league history, was the only player who ever stole three bases in a single world series game. He set the record during the 1909 series against the Detroit Tigers, when the Pirates won in seven games.

Vorbrich In Kiwanis Talk

Says U. S. Per Capita Fire Loss Greatest In World

The United States has the greatest per capita fire loss of any country in the world, William Vorbrich, member of the Iowa City fire department, said yesterday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Jefferson hotel.

Vorbrich, principal speaker at the meeting, urged that special attention be given to preventable fires during national fire prevention week, Oct. 7 to 13. Fire loss in the United States is $4 per capita, while in other countries it is as low as 28 cents, he pointed out.

Says Prevention Possible
An annual fire loss of $500,000,000 in property and of 12,000 lives is largely preventable, Vorbrich declared, and would be greatly lessened if proper precautions were taken.

Following the talk announcement was made of a meeting Oct. 13 at Cedar Rapids where the local Kiwanis club will present a program.

All members were invited to attend the district convention at Ft. Dodge Thursday and Friday. Official delegates of the club will be Jay J. McNamara, Harry Bremer, and Dean W. J. Teeters.

Directors Meet

Special guests at the luncheon in addition to the speaker were Prof. Adolph F. Meyer, Ernest Moore of Calcutta, India and Lieut. Col. George F. N. Dalley.

The board of directors met after the adjournment of the regular meeting to discuss nominations of officers to be made next week.

McNamara Elected Radio League Head

Jay J. McNamara was elected president of the Iowa City Radio and Refrigeration league at a meeting recently at Spencer's Harmony hall.

Other officers elected were Joe Munkhoff, vice president, and Floyd Jackson, secretary and treasurer. The league is sponsoring the House of Magic, a Century of Progress exposition feature which will show many of the latest developments along electrical lines in Iowa City Oct. 9 at the American Legion Community building.

LINDBERGH Will Testify Against Hauptmann Today

phone number?" the prosecutor said he asked Hauptmann.

"From the newspapers?"

"From the newspapers," he quoted the stolid suspect as replying.

Foley said he told Hauptmann that Dr. Condon's number never was published, and that in any event it had been changed two days before the ransom negotiations began. Hauptmann remained silent, he said.

The prosecutor said Hauptmann told him he wrote the other figures in March 1932, and that they were "some numbers on the bills I got from Isador Fisch."

New Witnesses Enter Case

Hauptmann has contended the $13,750 found entrusted in his garage had been entrusted to him by Fisch, who subsequently went to Germany and died.

Shortly after Governor Moore's announcement that Hauptmann's extradition would be sought "in the near future," it was learned from a high New Jersey official that two new witnesses had entered the case there.

This official, who would not permit use of his name, said one of the witnesses had expressed a belief Hauptmann's pictures looked like a man he saw in a lane near the Lindbergh estate the morning before the kidnaping.

Told of Seeing Man

The other witness has told of seeing a man resembling Hauptmann in nearby Hopewell at about that time.

As Foley reiterated that he had an "iron bound" extortion case against the prisoner, Governor Moore said:

"I am convinced that he has definitely established a case on which we can try the prisoner for kidnaping and murder. He will be returned to New Jersey in the near future."

In anticipation of Colonel Lindbergh's appearance at the Bronx county court house tomorrow, police heads assigned 232 men to protect him from curious throngs there.

Go Into Seclusion

The aviator and his wife went into seclusion after their arrival, declining to disclose their plans in advance.

Plans to continue the scrutiny of Hauptmann's modest home, inch by inch, were laid for tomorrow.

Statements Concerning Liquor Store Here

Statement issued by the Rev. W. P. Lemon in regard to the establishment of a liquor store in Iowa City:

"I deeply regret, as a university pastor, that in spite of sincere remonstrance from leaders in my own church all over the state of Iowa, and in the very face of the recent conviction of local men of character, the liquor commission of Iowa insists upon carrying out its plan of establishing a liquor store in Iowa City.

"Not so many years ago, within the memory of these very men, it was the deepest concern to eliminate the saloon, and temptation to drink from youth whose habits were only in the process of formation.

"Has the problem of strong drink been solved because a political party has espoused a new theory of temperance, namely, that the best way to stop a leak is to take down the dam?

"Then temperance still is and must even be the total abstinence from evil and moderation even in the good.

"I cannot but hope that better judgment may prevail and that the official sale of state liquor be kept out of a college town when parents are entrusting that same state with the education of their sons and daughters."

A statement issued last night by the Rev. C. C. Garrigues follows:

"We are told by state authorities that their object in deciding to open a liquor store in Iowa City is to wipe out bootlegging. By their public admissions, however, the liquor stores are not wiping out bootlegging in other cities near us.

"They say, too, that they are opposed to the saloon. I do not see that hard liquor in a 'store' will have any less harmful effects than liquor sold in a saloon.

"The saloon by any other name would be a liability instead of an asset. I am not convinced that a majority of Iowa City citizens want a liquor store, notwithstanding the clamor of the wets. Not a liquor store, but law-observance and law-enforcement are what we need and want."

Funeral Service For Mrs. Landon Set This Afternoon

Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

To age tobacco
... many methods have been tried but nothing has yet been found to equal the old-fashioned plan ... packing the tobacco in wooden casks and ageing it in warehouses for not less than two years.

All the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are aged this way.

It requires a large amount of money, and miles of storage houses; but it's the only way to make a mild, good-tasting cigarette.

A New Dustless Process

Four years ago, we started experimenting with treating of coals with chemical to make the coal dustless.

During these four years, we have tried every process which has been used or advocated anywhere else or by any one else.

The results of these treatments have been varied; some very good and some not so good. Some could be used in ordinary weather and failed in zero weather. With all methods but one we have been able to find a serious fault.

But NOW, we have perfected a process of using a liquid paraffine which not only LAYS THE DUST but which adds heat units to the coal and aids combustion.

Think this over—from now on, you can order your coal from the Dane yard and not only get the "cream of the crop" from each field but it will go into your basement absolutely dustless and stay dustless until used.

Give Mother a break—no more coal dust for her to clean up.
