Great Crowd Mobs Airport As She Lands

AXIATRIX SAYS 2,100 MILE FLIGHT WITHOUT EXCITING EPISODES

NEWARK, N.J., May 8 (AP)—Amelia Earhart, tired but happy, brought her red monoplane across the 2,100 miles between Mexico, D.F., and Newark airport today making the first nonstop flight from the Mexican capital to the greater New York area.

Her face and hands were dirty, but she grinned as she brought her ship to ground at 9:28:50 p.m., eastern standard time, 14 hours, 22 minutes and 50 seconds after her perilous takeoff from a three-mile runway.

Huge Crowd

She landed as one of the greatest crowds ever assembled at Newark airport shouted and screamed their cheers and struggled against an inadequate force of 30 policemen, assigned to the field for the emergency.

So great was the crush, so mad was the enthusiasm of the men and women, who had conquered two oceans by air and made numerous cross-country flights, that minutes passed before the police could get her safely to a national guard hangar.

Government Seeks Dismissal of Case Involving Payment

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—A new test of the administration's gold clause abrogation, intended to compel treasury acceptance at their old gold value of government securities offered in payment of taxes, today was disclosed to be in preparation.

Should Withdraw

"We should shorten the probationary period provided for in the bill, passed last year by congress to not more than five years; at the end of that time we should withdraw completely, naval bases, treaties, and everything."

May Lose Face

"An early and complete withdrawal from the Philippines may be called a defeatist policy," said Mr. Roosevelt in scolding the reaction of the sentimentalists, "but it seems to me to be but a logical conclusion of the implications of the bill that was supposed to give the Philippines their independence. If we maintain our interests in the islands, the Japs will be in an uncertain position; if we get out, we have no excuse for interfering with Japan."

Council Gets Power To Punish Violators; 'Paddling' Outlawed

More power to regulate financial, hazing, scholarship, liquor, and sanitary conditions of social fraternities at the University of Iowa, was granted the Interfraternity council last night with the adoption of a new constitution and by-laws, effective immediately.

Financial Plan

An acceptable plan of financing current expenses and retiring bonded indebtedness, approved by the university auditor, must be submitted by each group.

No Hazing

Qualified housemothers "should be provided for by each chapter" but will not be mandatory, the council ruled. The constitution said that "it has not been the experience of many fraternities that the presence of house mothers has had a decided tendency to improve the general social conditions and morale of these groups."

Local Woman's Club Gets First Place for Achievements in Art

Other Awards Go To Ames, Ottumwa At State Convention

First place in its class for its achievements in art was awarded to the Iowa City Woman's club yesterday at a fine arts luncheon at the Cedar Rapids Country club, part of the program of the twenty-first biennial convention of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs. The three day convention, which takes place in Cedar Rapids, will conclude today.

The art contest is conducted annually by 105 clubs which are members of the Penny Art fund, inaugurated by Mrs. Alvon Allen of Boston. Through this national fund, which is connected with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, prizes are awarded in 40 states to clubs showing the most progress and achievements for the cause of art. Each state sends a report of its prize winning club's activities to the national headquarters of the Penny Art fund. Last year the winning Iowa club placed fourth in the national competition.

Other Divisions

The Iowa City Woman's club received first place in the division for clubs with 150 to 200 members. In the class for clubs with a larger membership, Ames received first place, and in the division for clubs with 10 to 100 members, the Culture club of Ottumwa was awarded first rank.

As its prize, the Iowa City club had first choice of three paintings. It selected a landscape in oils by Ann Brunk, supervisor of art in Des Moines schools.

Awards for pictures entered in the federation's annual art contest, which emphasized the work of young Iowa artists, were announced at the luncheon. Honorable mention was given the painting, "Old Banjo," entered by Bernard Goss, A4 of Kansas City, Mo., student in the university art department. Harry Jones of Des Moines, second place winner, studied at the University of Iowa last year.

Noteworthy projects by the Iowa City club, which were factors in its selection for the prize, included the color tone symphony, Iowa City's library of art, the historic map of Iowa, murals depicting the history of Iowa City, the junior art exhibit in connection with the club's annual flower show, and the work of the crafts department, the committee reported.

Color Tone Symphony
The color tone symphony, planned by Mrs. Alexander Ellett and Mrs. Louis Pelzer, both members of the Iowa federation's division of fine arts, with the cooperation of other local club members, was presented in 11 Iowa towns. Mrs. Ellett and Mrs. Maud Whedon Smith sang and played selections by Iowa composers. Mrs. Pelzer displayed Iowa artists' paintings and lithographs and presented exhibition paintings. This program was presented to audiences, averaging 100 to 150 persons, in Iowa City, Anamosa, Durant, Marshalltown, New Hampton, Wapello, Margengo, Newton, Cedar Rapids, and Wellman.

Mrs. Pelzer, who drew the historic map of Iowa, also painted, at the suggestion of local club women, the eight historic murals depicting the growth of Iowa City from the time of Indian settlements until the modern age of transportation. The murals now hang in the Jefferson hotel lobby. The selling of the historical map of Iowa is now a special project of the general federation's history department. The library of art, which opened last September, displayed works of Iowa artists and permitted the borrowing and sale of the paintings.

The junior art exhibit will be included in the garden department's thirteenth annual flower show next month. The crafts department of the Iowa City Woman's club received its recognition for its course in making useful and decorative home furnishings.

Dissatisfaction With Addition To School District Expressed

Prof. Pollock Heads Protesting Black Addition Delegation

Dissatisfaction with the recent agreement between the Iowa City school board and the West Lucas township board making University Heights, Koser addition and Black addition a part of the Iowa City independent school district was expressed last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Iowa City school board.

A delegation from Black addition, headed by Prof. Ivan L. Pollock of the political science department, asked the local school board to hold up any further action in the matter pending a discussion with the West Lucas school board.

Board Agrees Inasmuch as there was nothing further for it to do after the agreement had already been made, the local board agreed. This does not mean, however, that the additions in question will be consolidated in the Iowa City district, officials indicated. Professor Pollock expressed the opinion that the proceedings were illegal, and further pointed out that the two boards had not filed the agreement with the county superintendent of schools within the prescribed 20 days...

Initiative Willis W. Mercer, president of the Iowa City board, replied that the initiative in the agreement had been with the other board, which had proposed the action because of a lack of facilities for taking care of further expansion.

Several appointments and changes were made in the teaching and janitorial staff at last night's meeting of the Iowa City board. John Howell was reelected superintendent of grounds and buildings, and the following janitors will be offered new contracts: John Holdt, M. B. Huffman, T. A. Wilkinson, A. S. Pillars, L. A. Powers, W. J. Liebe, D. W. Hughes, John Palmer, B. O. Matthews, Thomas Fitzpatrick, and Frank Mezik. C. R. Carson, who has been serving as assistant janitor at the Longfellow school, was reelected with an increase in salary and the wages of Mr. Matthews, janitor at the Roosevelt school, were also increased.

Governing Principal Helen Jo Jasper was elected to teach at the Longfellow school, and R. J. Gewerth, a teacher at Longfellow, was promoted to principal of the Roosevelt school. The board voted that the teachers committee be given the power to fill any further vacancies should they exist. The board unanimously passed a resolution commending the music department for its showing at the music festival, and authorized the school officials to send the eligible contestants to Madison, Wis., for the national contest.

The matter of school traffic signs was referred to the grounds and buildings committee for investigation and report, and the proposed underpass underneath the railroad tracks on Myrtle avenue was temporarily shelved. Assistant school nurse applications were referred to the teachers committee for investigation and report.

Members of the committee in charge of the dinner are Roy Winters, chairman, Carl Nelson, Earl Snyder, Leck Merritt, Roland Smith, and Martin Shoup.

Mrs. H. L. Beye To Entertain at Luncheon

Mrs. Howard L. Beye will entertain at an informal luncheon at her home, 422 E. Brown street, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, honoring Mrs. John T. McClintock and her sister, Mrs. E. G. Kleinsorge of Chicago, who is visiting Mrs. McClintock.

Receives More Regulatory Powers

pulsory, and the group scholarship average of 1.90 was retained as the requirement to avoid probation or loss of social privileges.

Law Enforcement Enforcement of these laws is expected of each individual chapter. Ratification by 15 member chapters was necessary for adoption, but 17 of the 19 present cast favorable votes. Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Nu refused to ratify, and Sigma Pi and Triangle were absent. Membership in the council is compulsory.

Dictatorial power of punishment to violators is vested in the Interfraternity court of seven regular and three reserve judges. Decisions of this court are final, but the defendant may ask for a re-hearing before the same court.

Interfraternity Court Members of the court are chosen by the president of the council, Dean Rionow, and a third unbiased person selected by these two. The judges, who need not be council members, are chosen from a list of candidates submitted by all the fraternities.

Many sections of the old constitution were retained including nearly all purely technical details.

Change Partners! It's Square Dance Time at S.U.I.

To the music of the fiddle and the banjo, University of Iowa students resorted to hillbilly technique last night in the famous art of square dancing.

Mountain music reigned supreme as students attempted various turns and promenades at the all-university open house conducted by the women's physical education department.

The square dancing was directed by an authentic caller, who sung out the directions in the rollicking rolling manner of the regular country caller. Badminton, ping pong, deck tennis, checkers, chess, puzzles, and swimming were other modes of diversion. As a special feature of the evening Ruth Berger of Iowa City presented some tap dances.

ROOSEVELT Tells of Conditions In Far East

build up our navy the less there is likelihood of trouble with Japan. Our failure to do anything causes us to lose face with Japan, and encourages the Jap military mind.

"The question is important at the present time," Mr. Roosevelt said, "because last December Japan announced they would not renew the treaty agreement limiting naval and air craft carriers. This means the principle of limitation of naval power by treaty agreement will be revoked and a naval race will be imminent. This leads us to the question of what Japan is after. Japan is changing very rapidly from primitive feudalism to a highly industrialized nation. At the present time Japan is underselling English cotton in England, underselling American goods in the United States, and is taking away British and United States markets in Latin America.

Domination

"Japan needs raw material, iron, coal and minerals. Manchuria and northern China, as well as the Dutch East Indies, have raw materials; there is little doubt in my mind but that within a short time the Japs will try to dominate Peking and will take most of northern China."

Mr. Roosevelt sketched briefly the high spots in Far Eastern relations beginning with the Washington conference in 1922 and bringing his survey down to 1935. He told of the failure of the Geneva conference, the London conference and the gradual development of the Japanese military expansionist policy which culminated in the invasion of Manchuria, the famous 21 demands to China, the ineffectual Stinson notes, and the very recently announced intention of withdrawing from the limitation treaty.

Ask Questions

After the conclusion of the lecture, members of the audience questioned Mr. Roosevelt. He will be a guest at the home of President and Mrs. Eugene A. Gilmore while he is in Iowa City. He succeeded President Gilmore as vice-governor to the Philippines in 1930.

Prof. Frank Luther Mott, director of the school of journalism and secretary of the Times club, introduced the speaker.

HEALTH IS THEIR KINGDOM

Elmira Armstrong John L. Wood

Though throngs hold no jubilee for them, Indiana's king and queen of health rule a mighty domain by the simple laws of sleep, vigorous exercise and a diet that includes milk, vegetables and bread. The champions are 17 year old Elmira Armstrong of La Grange county, and John L. Wood of Martin county. They were chosen at the 4-H club roundup in West Lafayette, and will represent state at the national 4-H club congress in Chicago.

COUGHLIN Urges Establishment Of Central Bank

as benediction to this unholy alliance."

The speaker emphasized that the union is "not a new political party."

"The national union, while repudiating any effort on its part to establish a third, fourth or fifth party, nevertheless is supremely interested in politics insofar as politics happens to be the expression of moral principles and of social justice," he declared.

The Rev. Father Coughlin charged that the press generally had been subsidized by financiers.

"I need not repeat to you that the Federal Reserve bank no more belongs to the people of the United States than does the federal laundry or the federal barber shop. It is a private corporation owned by a group of private individuals for the purpose of privately printing and controlling the money of the United States for the private profit of the profiteers."

"But said to say, this Federal Reserve banking system has been rendered more powerful, has been permitted to become more greedy under the Roosevelt administration than under all preceding administrations."

"From 1913 until 1923 part of the profits made by the Federal Reserve banks were legally contributed to the United States government. But one of the first actions of the Roosevelt administration was to legalize that all profits made by the Federal Reserve shall belong to the Federal Reserve."

Junto Club To Entertain At Dinner Tonight

Fragmentary bursts of AAA's, PWA's, ABC's and BYD's, waited on gales of hilarity, will be heard in Iowa Union this evening when the Junto club's "Alphabetical Parade" gets under way.

With this bit of satire on the multitude of New Deal agencies as the theme of the meeting, the Junto club will celebrate its second birthday at a dinner in Iowa Union at 7 o'clock. Guests will be faculty members who addressed the organization during the last year.

Speakers will be Prof. C. F. Littel of Cornell college, talking upon "The American Scene," with Howard Bowen, G. of Spokane, Wash., retiring president, and Orville Alexander, G. of Marlon, Ill., newly elected leader, explaining the meaning and activities of the organization.

The Junto club was formed in 1933 by Robert Bush, LL of Dallas Center, to propagate regular informal discussions by interested persons on problems of mutual interest.

Its membership is drawn from faculty members and students of the graduate college, college of law, college of education, college of commerce, college of engineering, college of liberal arts and the school of letters.

Faculty guests at the meeting this evening will include Coach Richard Barker and Prof. Litchell of Cornell college; Professors Herbert Peiel of the philosophy department; Prof. Louis Pelzer of the history department; Prof. Ernest Kuhl and Prof. Norman Foerster of the English department; Prof. George Robeson, Prof. Ivan Pollock, and Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department; Prof. John Eldridge of the physics department; Prof. George H. Haskell, Prof. George Davies and Prof. Richard Nelson of the college of commerce, and Prof. Erich Funke of the German department.

Other faculty guests present will be William J. Petersen of the Iowa State Historical society, Walter Crowder of the college of commerce, and Wilbur S. Schramm, fellow of the American Council of Learned Societies.

"When will nudes be done?"

This young lady records the meaningless syllables spoken by the man.

AND, "How does kib like that?" Such questions sound senseless—yet they play an important part in making articulation tests on new types of telephone apparatus at Bell Telephone Laboratories.

In making these tests, 6336 meaningless syllables are spoken—while observers record what they hear. Comparison of sounds actually spoken with those heard, shows how well the new apparatus reproduces the many sounds of which speech is composed.

Such thoroughness is typical of Bell System methods. Years of inventing, improving and testing have led to the apparatus which transmits your words so clearly.

A Buying Guide

BEFORE you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motor-car, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper! For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of everything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in The Daily Iowan are so interesting, it is difficult to see how any one could overlook them . . . fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent . . . always.

Avoid time-wasting, money-wasting detours on the road to merchandise value. Read the advertising "road maps."

Committee Completes Plans for Music Benefit Show Saturday

Four Speakers Ask Support of Show In Talks Yesterday
 "The Show Must Go On."
 This is to be the slogan for "The Road to Madison," benefit entertainment, in its only public showing, Saturday night. Proceeds will be used to finance Iowa City high school's musicians in an invasion of Madison, Wis., for the national music festival next week.
 "Nothing short of an earthquake can stop us now," committee members said last night. In case of rain, snow, or other disturbances not on the program, all features planned for the open will be moved inside.

Four Speakers
 Lieutenant Colonel George F. N. Dalley was the principal speaker at the high school assembly yesterday, endorsing "The Road to Madison" entertainment.
 W. E. Beck, principal of the high school, in introducing Lieutenant Colonel Dalley, briefly outlined the plans for Saturday's program. He also introduced Attorney Stewart Wilson, an alumnus, who talked on the musicians' hopes for victory at Madison, Lloyd F. Swartley, high school music director, in the last talk on the program, painted an enthusiastic picture of the coming trip and expressed confidence in "The Road to Madison" as a means of defraying expenses.

Novelty Skit
 A special novelty skit by two members of Paint and Patches, high school dramatic club, was presented as an advertisement for Saturday night's entertainment.
 Tryouts for the amateur program, feature attraction of the show, will be staged tonight at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. All types of entertainers will be required to fulfill plans, and the committee urges that all interested persons be present at the auditorium, or call Mrs. H. R. Jenkinson.

Postmaster Warns Against Chain Letters
 With the chain letter craze still raging in Iowa City, Postmaster Charles A. Bowman listed several postal regulations yesterday which forbid the use of the United States mail for any type of lottery.
 Section 601 of the postal guide states that "No letter, package, postal card, or circular concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar scheme offering prizes . . . shall be deposited in, or carried by the mails, or be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier."
 The interpretation of this section in the 1935 guide follows:
 "Endless chain" enterprises designed for the sale or disposition of merchandise or other things of value through the circulation or distribution of 'coupons,' 'tickets,' 'certificates,' 'introductions,' and the like, are held to embrace the elements of a lottery, and also to be fraudulent. Matter of every kind relating to such enterprises should be excluded or withdrawn from the mails and treated in accordance with sections

No Truce

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON
 (By The Associated Press)
 Senate bonus advocates, hearing reports that President Roosevelt would veto the Patman bill promptly, began a drive to add sufficient votes to reach a two-thirds majority.
 Secret war weapons, including high speed tanks and large rapid fire guns, were reported to have been perfected by army and navy experts.
 Senate leaders pressed for quick action on the social security bill after department of justice officials said they believed it constitutional.
 Senator Austin (R-Vt.) lashed the Tennessee Valley authority in a threatened filibuster, which promised to delay consideration of the NRA extension bill.
 A new test of the gold clause abrogation, said to be backed by a group prominent in financial circles, was revealed as under preparation.
 The senate interstate commerce committee retained the abolition clause in the utility holding company bill but modified it to extend the time for such abolition.
 The house defeated republican attempts to amend the omnibus bank bill.

Curiosity
 The curiosity of Iowa Citizens was aroused yesterday at about 6 p.m. when a strange plane appeared on the horizon with a hefty roar which drew eyes to the sky. The large plane turned out to be a tri-motored Boeing which had been in storage at the airport since the new twin-motored transport planes were put in service. It was merely up for a test hop yesterday, according to United Airliner officials.

State Court Reverses Two Local Actions

Two district court actions here were reversed by supreme court decisions handed down yesterday at Des Moines, according to the Associated Press.
 The actions involved allowance of attorney fees in connection with the condemnation proceedings for land north of Iowa Union where it was intended to erect the fine arts building. After the condemnation the university constructed the building on the west side of the river.
 Attorney Messer and Nolan were awarded $2,500 by Judge James P. Gaffney in connection with condemnation of the Melvin Fitzgerald bathhouse property, and Attorney Messer and Nolan and A. E. Maine, $1,500 in connection with the Joseph and Catherine L. Corso property.
 Attorney Will J. Hayek represented the university in the Fitzgerald action, and appeared with Leon Ryan, assistant attorney general, in the Corso case.

Six Johnson County Youths Apply For Admission to Camp

Six more Johnson county youths filed applications yesterday for admission to the Citizen's Military Training camp at Ft. Des Moines in July, Commander Ellis Crawford of the American Legion announced yesterday.
 The additional applications received yesterday bring the total to eight which is three short of Johnson county's quota.
 Because of the heavy enrollment in CCC camps, Mr. Crawford said, there has been a noticeable decrease in the number of C.M.T.C. applications this year.

Complaints Decreasing
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Complaints against corn-hog statisticians are "not one per cent" as numerous as a year ago, Chester C. Davis, federal farm administrator, declared yesterday. Asked at a press conference about a report of complaints in Iowa, Davis said he believed the quotas being fixed under the corn-hog program generally are well accepted this year.

IOWA CITY, IOWA THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1935

NINE TO LEAVE FOR CHICAGO TODAY

Sixteen Men Will Depart on 2-Game Trip

Hawks Favored To Move Out of Fourth Place in Big Ten

The Iowa baseball squad will leave by bus this afternoon for Chicago, where they will play a two-game series with the Maroons at Greenwood field, tomorrow and Saturday.

Coach Vogel announced yesterday that 16 men would make the trip, and that Charley Blackman will probably pitch the first game, and Charles Mau the second.

The Hawkeyes have an ever break so far in Big Ten competition, and as a result are in fourth place in the league standings.

Coach Vogel will take two catchers, five pitchers, four infielders, and five outfielders. Only 14 men were named last night by the Hawkeye mentor to make the trip, as Pickering's leg is still in bad shape and the outfielder may not be in shape to play.

Coach Vogel's list included, Dwight Hoover and Don Nelson, catchers; Capt. Gene Ford, Lowell Gosser, Malo Reeco, Charley Blackman, and Charles Mau, pitchers; Marlon Clausen, John Stephens, Bob Mason, and Ed Benedict, infielders; and Renny Taylor, Skeets Halton, and Marty Underwood outfielders.

Stadium Board Approves Fight LONDON, May 8 (AP)—The Wembley board of control tonight approved the use of the giant Wembley stadium for the proposed heavy-weight boxing championship bout between Max Baer and Max Schmeling, for August 17.

The mile run—won by James Lyle, time 4:21.5.

The principals in today's events will be practically the same as those competing Tuesday. DeHeer and Harris will lose the weights; Booth, Lamb and Harris will hurdle; Gosser and Matteson will run the 220 yard dash and Lyle, Schmidt, Nelson and Noehren will run the longer races.

33-Man Track Squad to Meet Gophers Here

Only a light workout was meted out to the Hawkeye trackmen last night as they began tapering for their only dual meet of the season, here Saturday against Minnesota.

A total of 33 athletes have been nominated by Coach Bresnahan to carry the assignments of the Iowans in the 14-event meet. Twenty-two men constitute the Gopher team, headed by Slocum, a crack distance runner.

Slocum captured two of his team's three first places when the two conferences foes met last winter at the University of Minnesota, winning both the mile and two mile runs.

Freimuth and Krezowski are outstanding weight men; Krause and Knoblauch are good hurdlers and Lander and Laird are the leading sprinters for Minnesota.

Iowa can count on getting most of its points from Jimmy Owen, Carl Nelson, Andy Dooley and Wilson Briggs, sprinters; Francis Cretzmeier, hurdler and jumper; Bernie Page and Eugene Skinner, quarter milers and Mark Panther, javelin thrower.

Saturday's meet will be the twenty-second meeting of the Gophers and Hawks on the cinders. Rivalry between the two began in 1901, and since then, Minnesota has won 11 of the 21 meets, one was a tie. The Iowans have won the last six contests.

Conesville Pitcher Allows Locals Only Two Hits at Park

Kennedy, star Conesville high school pitcher, limited St. Mary's to two hits as the Maroons dropped a 6 to 1 decision yesterday at City Park. These two hits, a double by Hummer and a single by Maher, were bunched in the fourth inning for the Iowa Citizens' only score.

Victor Berger, on the mound for the losers, whiffed 10 enemy batters but allowed four walks and was touched for 10 hits. Except for the fourth inning when the Maroons tied the count with their lone tally, the victors always held the lead, getting one in the first, three in the fifth and two more in the seventh. With a record of three victories and four defeats, St. Mary's plays Lone Tree there Friday in their next contest.

Sox Hammer Yanks to Win Another, 7-4

CHICAGO, May 8 (AP)—The White Sox weathered an early inning barrage of three home runs and a triple by the Yankees to gain a 7 to 4 triumph as their celebration of Jimmie Dykes' first anniversary as their manager. It was their tenth straight home victory and kept them perched on top of the standings.

Rallies which netted two runs in the third and three in the fourth knocked bespectacled Johnny Broaca from the mound for his first defeat of the season. Sam Jones, who steadied after the early fireworks, went the route for his third victory. He gave the Yanks only seven hits.

Broaca's departure kept intact the opposing Chicagoans' record of not allowing an enemy starting pitcher to finish a game at Comiskey park this season.

The Sox, however, saw their "first blood" record dented as Jesse Hill, Yankee leadoff man, tripled in the first inning and scored on Red Rolfe's fly. It was only the third time in their 17 games that the Hoos had allowed the opposition to score first.

Iowa Circus "Pulls Stakes"

2,500 Fans Attend Second Showing of Annual Carnival

Presenting a performance that eclipsed that of the opening night, the third annual Iowa Circus was brought to a glamorous close in the Iowa fieldhouse last night before a crowd of 2,500 circus fans.

Credit is due the physical education department, the crew of workers that never gained the spotlight and to the man who was behind the carnival from start to finish and was forced to the sidelines on crutches after the opening night, Larry Griswold.

Last night's presentation was minus none of the opening night thrills, the flying collegians bringing that added dash of daring to make the chills run down the spines.

Phyllis Pooley, the pretty 1935 Circus Queen, reined over the affair. Her three attendants were beside her on the throne, as the Pontonians again went through the enappay Queen's manual.

Keaton's revue went off in grand style, featured by Oze Simmons, comely K ty Grim, Jean Hanlon and Minnie and Mickey Mouse impersonated by Betty and Duane Justice. Bruce Knowles, Kenneth Mulford and Myrna Speaks again proved a hit with their military tap routine. Randall Whinnery closed the revue with his fine singing of "Stardust."

A wealth of talent was all wrapped up in disguise as clowns brought many a laugh from young and old with comical skits while LaRoy, the Mystic, awed the audience with his magic feats. The revolving ladder rumber, gym carnival and a score more presentations went off in a manner that added fitting finale to a successful show.

Ranking with the most talented in the country, Dutra began his colorful career by winning the San Bernardino open in 1929 and climaxed it with the United States open championship last year. Dutra has also taken the Southern California open title five years in succession. Besides these conquests, he won the P.G.A. and the Southern open in 1933.

Thomson, known as one of the longest hitters in the game, triumphed over a field of leading professionals in Australia last year to win honors.

The pair will precede the match by demonstrating some fancy shots beginning at 3:15. Students will be admitted to the match for 40 cents, while the admission to the general public will be $1.

Hawk Golfers Meet Badgers There Today

Iowans Favored To Take Second Loop Victory of Season

Favored because of its surprising win over the highly-touted University of Minnesota team here Monday, Iowa's golf squad meets Wisconsin at Madison today. The match is the sixth of the season for the Hawkeyes and their third Big Ten contest, only one of which, a close match with Northwestern, was lost.

A four-man squad, composed of Capt. John Stromsten, Jim Gardner, Ed Shelley, and George Cook will carry the burden for the Iowans. Each man will play a singles match and then Gardner will pair with Shelley and Stromsten with Cook for the doubles teams.

The squad, accompanied by Coach Charles Kennett and Albert Baumgartner will return to Iowa City tonight.

Plan Canoe, Swim Races

River Swim, Canoe Races Scheduled for May 16, 18, 21

Dates for three annual Iowa river sporting events were announced by Coach David Armbruster yesterday.

The first of these, the interfraternity canoe doubles race will occur May 16 at 4:30 p.m. Phi Epsilon Kappa, defending champions, and many other houses are expected to vie for the winner's cup. Medals will be awarded to second place winners.

Two days later, May 18, the all-university river swim will take place at 4 o'clock. The race will start at the island near City Park and will finish at the Iowa avenue bridge. Adolf Jacobsmeier will defend his title.

May 21, doubles teams will compete for the all-university canoe trophies which will be awarded to each person in the victorious boat. Dodgers Stop Cards 3-2 In 12 Inning Tilt

BROOKLYN, May 8 (AP)—Van Mungo's superb hurling and two "gift" runs off Paul Dean and Ed Heusser enabled the Dodgers to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 2 in a 12-inning battle today and regain second place in the National League.

Dean was ejected from the game by Umpire Dolly Stark for his protests over called balls after he had forced over a run in the third inning by passing Danny Taylor with the bases full. The Cards knotted the count in the seventh only to have Heusser walk Sam Leslie with the corners crammed. The extra innings stood off the Dodger threats until Taylor and Leslie connected for successive doubles to start the twelfth.

Mungo granted only nine hits over the long route and chalked up 11 strikeouts.

Two Pilots Take Stand In
Tucker Case

No Damage Done
To Property, Says
Air Line Employee

Appearance on the stand of two United Air Lines pilots featured testimony for the defense yesterday in district court as the airport conroversy finished its second day before District Judge Harold D. Evans.
The case, involving Frew A. Tucker's attempt to restrain planes from flying lower than 50 feet over his land north of the airport, will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning.
It is expected the defendants will call three more pilots as witnesses in an attempt to prove incoming planes have not been causing damage or inconvenience to the Tuckers.

Smith Testifies
Alan Smith, pilot who was in a plane which allegedly knocked branches from a tree on the Tucker property June 30, 1934, testified that he had crossed the boundary line at a height of 20 to 25 feet over the ground above the trees. Mr. Tucker had previously said that he was standing under one of the trees.
"Did you see Mr. Tucker?" asked Attorney Henry G. Walker, one of the counsel for the defense.

"Yes, sir."
"If he had been standing under one of the trees that you passed over, do you think you would have seen him?"
"Yes, sir."
"And did your ship strike the tree," Walker asked.
"No, sir," Pilot Smith answered.
Smith continued telling how after the plane had landed, Mr. Tucker came over and mentioned something about his intention of erecting poles along the line between his land and the flying field.

Other Witnesses
The other United Air Lines pilot, John G. Murray of Omaha, under a jog grilling by Attorney E. P. Kor-ah, counsel for Mr. Tucker, related his experience in landing at the Iowa City municipal airport. He said in regard to a caution received by him from officials of his company that he had been careful not to fly too low over the Tucker ground from then on.
Other witnesses called yesterday were D. B. Colyer of Chicago, vice-president of the United Air Lines, J.
F. Sprout, city engineer; Jack Curtis, manager of the local airport; and James Reagan. Mr. Tucker, on the stand twice Tuesday, was also called yesterday morning.

Twenty-three nations now have signed an international agreement regulating airplane traffic in the interest of international health.
Two narcotic farms for treatment of drug addicts among federal prisoners are now under construction by the public health service.

U. S. TARIFF BLAMED FOR REVOLT IN PHILIPPINES

Joseph R. Hayden

Manuel Quezon

Economic distress caused by an American tariff placing restrictions on imports from the Philippines is blamed for a revolt in the island by Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, now in New York. Quezon adds: "The whole economic policy of America toward the Philippines as provided in the independence act and subsequent laws should be revised in a manner beneficial to both the Philippines and the United States." Acting Governor General Joseph R. Hayden of the Philippines asserted the government "has no suspicion or evidence that Japanese are in any way implicated" in the rebellion of the followers of Benigno Ramos, leader of the Sakdalista party. Hayden is at left above, Quezon at right. Ramos was in Tokio at the time of the revolt.

Prof. Mott to Attend
Cedar Rapids Meeting

Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism will attend a press breakfast of the twenty-first biennial convention of the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs at the Montrose hotel in Cedar Rapids this morning.
James Larkin Pearson, American poet, was born in a log cabin in the remote mountains of Wilkes county, North Carolina, and taught himself to read and write when he was nearly grown.

Mott Speaks
At Luncheon

Freedom of Press
Not in Immediate Danger, He Says

"There is no absolute freedom of the press," asserted Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism, at a Lions club luncheon yesterday.
The speaker referred especially to the social limitations, such as decency and society ethics. "There is a check on the reporter and a pressure on the editor, which, like an invisible censor, limits the matter published," he said.
Defining freedom of the press as the absence of all compulsion except that arising from the newspaper's own laws and from a proper regard for the good of society, Professor Mott said the United States and England were the only countries of importance with any degree of press freedom.
Even in England, newspapers are controlled by partisanship owners, and in other countries political influences is dominant even to the point of strict censorship.
Assuring that "freedom of the press is not in immediate danger," he cited the world war as the greatest danger to that freedom because it encouraged government censorship.
In defending the press for printing details which some desire suppressed, the speaker said that in a democracy the public must "know what is going on."
The two main functions of the press, according to Professor Mott, are the printing of news and the publication of comments, which helps to mold public opinion.

THE HIDDEN DANGER
No one is more active in the campaign to persuade the automobile driver to exercise the care, courtesy and common sense which will reduce the appalling number of accidents than Motor Vehicle Administrators. They know the facts. Ten of them, officers of National and Regional Associations, have described the most common driving and pedestrian faults.
By ORVILLE E. ATWOOD
Director, Motor Vehicle Division, Michigan. Vice-President, Region No. 3 of American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.
THERE is nothing dangerous about an automobile properly parked at a curb, its motor silent and its brakes locked. So far as it is concerned that car could stand there until it fell apart and no casu-lty could be charged against it.
Yet, that same car is one of the most dangerous traps known in motor vehicle records. It is a deadly menace to the unwary pedestrian and a threat to the motorist himself. Death and injury surround it at all times. This is because heedless pedestrians at intersections will persist in appearing suddenly in the roadway from behind it, directly in the path of a moving automobile.
Last year, 35,000 pedestrians did that according to figures supplied by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Of this number, 1,460 were killed while the remaining 33,500 were injured.

"The Road To Madison"

THE IOWA CITY high school orchestra, which carried off honors at the state Music Festival here last week and is eligible for competition in the national contest at Madison, Wis., is an organization of which this whole community can be unreservedly proud.

When we say "community," we don't mean just Iowa City, but the entire community, including every member of the faculty and student body of the university as well as townspeople. And everyone who can call himself a member of that inclusive group should assume that he has a personal responsibility to see that the high school band is able to make the trip to Madison for the national contest.

Better Than Expected

IN VIEW OF the long campaign and the terrific pressure behind the soldiers' bonus measure which passed the United States senate Tuesday, the 55 to 33 vote was an unusually encouraging display.

Another Lesson Unlearned

THE FIRST-HAND story of the sinking of the Lusitania, told to an International News Service writer and printed in The Daily Iowan yesterday morning, tells better than any sermon the hideous futility of war.

What Others Think

Who, for instance, is to determine what "cost of production" means? There probably are not two farms in the United States where real cost of production is the same. Perhaps the government would station a certified public accountant on every farm to arrive at the proper figure.

sued by Farley, so that his election was contested on the ground that he had spent more money to regain his seat in the Senate than was allowed by the State laws.

Good Morning

The campaign of certain Iowa congressmen to replace the program of the AAA with a federal guarantee to the farmer of "cost of production" for commodities sold on the domestic market, is utterly incomprehensible except as a political gesture.

It is a campaign which must be taken into account, however, because it has mustered a surprising amount of support.

The plan proposed by these economic musicians calls for a guarantee by the government of "cost of production" for crops consumed within this country, and for assumption by the government of responsibility for disposing of surpluses on the world market.

This is another one of those specious plans which, though they are totally unworkable if not downright fantastic, provide plausible ballyhoo for politicians more interested in garnering votes than in solving problems.

It is becoming fashionable just now to attack the AAA as a program of waste and destruction, of crying with a catch in one's voice that Secretary Wallace is destroying food while millions starve.

But if the millions who are "starving" want to eat, if the weary consumers want relief from their burdens, they will do well to turn deaf ears to those who make political currency of their woes and to heed only those who deal in facts rather than illusions.

That is the difference between the AAA and this grotesque proposal fostered by demagogues. The AAA has many flaws, but with conditions as they were and as they are it is the only rational way the problem of the farmer can be settled.

From the broad ethical point of view, it is no doubt wrong to destroy crops and limit production at a time when millions haven't enough to eat. But the "cost of production" proposal would not feed the hungry.

Logically, this scheme would increase domestic prices for farm products even more, and at the same time would sink world markets in confusion and chaos and force even more bitter tariff retaliation by foreign governments.

The scheme has not one single virtue to recommend it. It is unworkable, unsound, and dangerous, both nationally and internationally. Instead of solving problems it would make them worse.

Obviously, if the plan were adopted "cost of production" would be fixed high enough to provide a comfortable return to the least efficient farmers.

Obviously, if all farmers were guaranteed a comfortable living by the government, farming would suddenly become a very attractive way of life and markets, both domestic and foreign, that are already flooded would be sunk completely.

But it sounds good if one doesn't look too closely; "cost of production" makes an excellent political slogan that will catch many a gullible voter. But, like most such slogans, it is meaningless and even vicious.

Mr. Cutting, however, was pur-

WASHINGTON, May 8 (INS)—The Monroe doctrine still lives! In these days of breaking treaties, repudiating agreements, and general disregard of international obligations, it is news when some major power respects the foreign policy of another major power. And a policy, too, that is not even incorporated in any treaty or agreement.

Play Prize Attacked

Storms of controversy follow awards of Pulitzer prizes, centering on the committee's drama award to "The Old Maid," dramatized by Zoe Akers, above, from a story by Edith Wharton. Clayton Hamilton, dean of American drama critics, who resigned last year from the Pulitzer committee, declared the award to the Akers work was "in defiance of the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer." His chief objection was that the play was an adaptation and not an original work.
