G. O. P. MEETING FLAYS NEW DEAL

Upper House's Opposition To Skeleton NRA Fades Away

Government Heeds Agree on Plan To Restore Anti-Trust Laws to Full Force

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Senate opposition to the extension of a skeletonized NRA virtually evaporated today when administration leaders agreed on a plan to restore the anti-trust laws to full vigor but permit businessmen to make voluntary agreements governing labor relations and trade practices.

The agreement was reached at a hurriedly called meeting of the senate finance committee attended by Donald R. Richberg, retiring chairman of the recovery board, and Senator Borah (R., Idaho), leading foe of NRA.

Under the new plan, the anti-trust laws would be suspended only to permit voluntary agreements between businessmen covering collective bargaining, minimum wages, maximum hours, child labor, and trade practices already held invalid by law.

Rising senate opposition to the house-approved administration plan for extending all present anti-trust law exemptions forced the compromise.

Administration leaders predicted that the new plan would get quick approval in the senate tomorrow.

The compromise upon which the agreement was reached today would provide that exemptions from the anti-trust laws would "extend only to agreements and action there under (1) putting into effect the requirements of section 7 (A), (collective bargaining) and including minimum wages, maximum hours and prohibition of child labor, and (2) prohibiting unfair competitive practices which offend against existing law or which constitute unfair methods of competition under the federal trade commission, as amended."

Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.) of the senate committee, rushed to the floor today to put it through immediately, but he found many senators had left for the day during the committee's two and a half hour deliberation. He made an arrangement, however, for the senate to meet a half hour earlier than usual tomorrow in an effort to secure action.

Senators Borah, Clark (D., Mo.) and King (D., Utah) had led the revolt against the house proposal. They indicated they were satisfied by the agreement reached by the finance committee.

China Bows To Demands From Japan

PEIPING, June 10 (AP)—Japanese military authorities announced tonight China had accepted all of Tokyo's "demands concerning North China," paving the way for establishment of a "new regime."

(Tending to confirm the Japanese announcement, the Chinese national government at Nanking issued a mandate "for bidding provocative speeches and actions detrimental to the maintenance of friendly relations between China and neighboring countries."

"Instigating anti-foreignism through literature is also banned," the Nanking mandate stated, warning that such literature would be treated as a crime.

North China territory in Japan's hands.

giving stern punishment would be given violators. Suppression of anti-Japanese societies in North China was one of the major demands.

Chinese and Japanese officials joined in expressing optimism that the crisis would be settled peacefully.

(Renewed uneasiness, however, was felt in Tientsin when Japanese troops and an armored car were sent to Yangtsun, 35 miles to the northwest, after reports Japanese military telegraph poles had been burned.)

A spokesman for the Japanese army asserted it "was a provocative incident, warranting our firm action." The dispatching of two Japanese warships from Port Arthur to Tientsin in the event of trouble also created nervousness in some Tientsin quarters.)

Bands Play! As Shrine Marches Through Capital In Carnival Spirit

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Thousands of Shriners marched into the nation's capital today, bringing a band-playing, fezz-topped carnival spirit into a city whose pulse rarely quickens to displays of pomp and dignity.

That they landed in the middle of a short-lived taxicab strike did not matter to the Shriners. Train after train unloaded at Union station its host of red fezzes. Member after member of the ancient, Arabic order, nobles of the mystic Shrine marched in knee-breeched, colorful splendor down Pennsylvania avenue.

The thousands of assembling delegates brought with them more parades than Mardi Gras in New Orleans, more crowded hotels than a national political convention, more bands than a marching army.

Federal Agents Capture Two In Weyerhaeuser Kidnaping

Chinese Officials Arrest Ten 'Young, Vivacious' Girls on Spy Charges

FOOCHOW, China, June 10 (AP)—The arrest of "10 young and vivacious girls," allegedly communist spies under instructions to charm officials and assassinate them "when necessary," was announced by authorities tonight.

Military agents who arrested the girls said they operated to obtain secrets from government officials by "getting themselves acquainted with these leaders, creating distractions, and, when necessary, assassinating the officials."

"A charming girl in her early twenties," was said to be the leader of the spies.

Federal Order Hits T. and T. Main Officials

Leaders Must Be Members of Only One Corporation

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Leaders of the telegraph and telephone industry today were commanded by the federal communications commission to confine their official connections to a single company.

The order, one of the most sweeping of its kind ever issued by a federal regulatory body, went to 10 officers and directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the International Telephone and Telegraph company, and Western Union Telegraph company, the Radio Corporation of American Communications and subsidiaries. In each instance they had asked permission under the communications law to serve on the boards of subsidiary companies.

Those refused permission to serve on more than one company: Newcomb Carlton, chairman of the board of the Western Union Telegraph company; Sothens Benes, chairman of the board of International Telephone and Telegraph company; Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and a director in 21 other telephone companies.

David Sarnoff, president and director of Radio Corporation of America Communications, Edwin F. Carter, vice-president of A. T. and T., and the Cuban-American Telephone and Telegraph company, Edwin F. Chinlund, vice-president and controller of Postal Telegraph Cable company, and Lewis MacConnach, secretary of Radio Corporation of American Communications.

Five Confess
DES MOINES (AP)—Sheriff C. F. Keeling reported yesterday that five men have confessed 42 farm robberies in Polk county in which more than 250 chickens and 150 bushels of grain were taken from 18 farmers.

'G' Men Hunt Four Accused Confederates

SALT LAKE CITY, June 10—The federal government, nemesis of kidnapers, stamped its claim tonight upon three known suspects in the abduction of little George Weyerhaeuser—two of them under arrest—while a grim chase for four accused confederates went on throughout the west.

Charges of mail fraud were filed in Tacoma, home of the Weyerhaeusers and scene of the $200,000 abduction, against Harmon M. Waley, strapping 24 year old ex-convict, and his blond 19 year old wife, Margaret, held here, and William Mahan, also an ex-convict, 32, sought in Montana.

Four Others
Evidence that four other persons also were the quarry of a grim concentration of federal, state and city officers was seen in the issuance of warrants in connection with the complaints. In addition to those against the Waley and Mahan, complaints were issued for one "John Doe" and three "various and sundry persons."

There still was no indication when a move would be made to take the Waley to Tacoma, where local authorities have announced plans to demand death on the gallows for the kidnapers on charges presumably supplementing the federal government's complaints.

Comparative mildness of the charges strengthened the belief of Tacoma authorities that they were filed merely to assure the return of the accused to the state of Washington.

Severest Penalty
J. Charles Dennis, federal district attorney for Washington, said at San Francisco he would strongly recommend trial in state courts so they might receive "the severest penalty possible."

F. R. Demands Parole Study

Orders Investigation Of Abuses of Parole Systems in Country

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt today ordered a special study of "abuses of parole" after reading newspaper accounts of the suspects in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping on the Pacific coast.

From his Hyde Park home the president sent the following message to Attorney General Cummings: "Newspapers report long criminal records in the case of two men definitely suspected of Weyerhaeuser kidnaping including not only arrests and convictions but also paroles. Every decent citizen is interested in humane parole systems which seek rehabilitation of offenders but at the same time should seek to prevent abuses of parole especially in cases of habitual criminals; therefore I am glad that you are having a special study made of those two cases investigating all facts relating to their previous records in every jurisdiction where they have been apprehended or paroled."

Squaws Assert Selves, Take Up Hatchet For Equal Suffrage Rights

ST. REGIS FALLS, N. Y., June 10 (AP)—The squaws of the St. Regis Indian tribe, accustomed for years to letting the men do all the deciding around the wigwam, asserted themselves on the question of suffrage today and balked the annual elections.

The women, claiming they should have the rights granted the white sisters, led the fight against the elections and won over the clerk of the tribe. Today he refused to furnish the ballot boxes and it was necessary to postpone the elections until the matter can be straightened out.

Iowa Liquor Commission Adopts Rules

Three Major Steps Taken Upon Advice Of State Legislature

DES MOINES, June 10 (AP)—The Iowa liquor control commission has adopted all of the suggestions made to it by the legislative committee which recently investigated the commission's activities. W. H. M. Millhaem, commission secretary reported Monday.

The major recommendations were: 1. Abolition of the law enforcement division. 2. Discontinuance of the legal department and dismissal of Legal Adviser Leslie E. Francis. 3. Abolition of wholesale licenses in the state.

Two methods of confining sales of liquor only to persons having purchase permits books are being considered by the liquor commission. Duplicate books, of which 4,896 were sold in the last year, will be issued only from the state office after the current permits expire.

Will Be Dismissed
Clerks and store managers who knowingly sell liquor to be used by other than the permit holder will be dismissed.

It also was reported Monday that the commission has negotiated new and cheaper leases for stores in Atlantic and Carroll and that a $55 monthly rent reduction has been obtained at Denison. Cost of leases was one subject of study during the legislative investigation.

Soviet Official Files Protest With Japan

MOSCOW, June 10 (AP)—The Tass official Russian news agency announced tonight that the Soviet charge d'affaires at Tokyo has filed a protest with the Japanese foreign office, demanding punishment of Japanese soldiers in Manchoukuo who allegedly entered Soviet territory and ambushed a Soviet sentinel.

The protest note asserted the attack occurred June 3 and called it an "unprecedented violation of the Soviet frontiers."

Two sentinels on the Soviet side of the border near the mouth of the Shermitev river were said to have been fired upon suddenly from the rear. One of them fled for aid and upon returning with reinforcements, found only a pool of blood and hoof-prints leading back across the border.

The note demanded the return of the sentinel, if he was captured alive, and return of his body if he was killed. It also demanded that "effective measures" be taken to prevent further such incidents.

STEER "GRASS ROOTS" CONVENTION

These two men help to steer the "Grass Roots" conference of republicans at Springfield, Ill., which began yesterday. At left is Jacob D. Allen of Chicago, secretary of the republican "Grass Roots" committee; at right Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, Ia., chairman of the midwest republican conference committee and keynoter of the convention. They attack Roosevelt policies.

PWA Interest Rates Boosted

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—An additional $59,855,532 in work relief projects was recommended to President Roosevelt today as Secretary Ickes boosted the interest rate on PWA loans to state and communities back to 4 per cent.

Most of the new spending recommendations, which must be approved by the president before becoming effective, involved agriculture department activities, including $25,000,000 for the soil conservation service and $13,277,500 for the forestry service.

Ickes Explains
Ickes explained that the interest rate on non-federal PWA loans had been raised from 3 per cent, and that the president had authorized PWA to make allotments involving donations only, with the objective of getting "a dollar's worth of reemployment construction" in some cases out of a 45-cent federal outlay.

Federal donations on non-federal PWA projects recently were increased from 30 per cent to 45 per cent at the same time interest on the remainder, if put up by the federal government, was lowered to 3 per cent.

Greek Leader Okays Plan For Plebiscite

ATHENS, June 10 (AP)—Premier Panayotis Tsaldaris switched his position unexpectedly tonight and approved the holding of a plebiscite upon restoration of the monarchy.

Speaking with obvious reluctance, Tsaldaris declared: "The government is now ready to have a plebiscite upon restoration if the national assembly, convening July 1, decides so."

Confusion, Discord
Confusion and discord over the issue of a monarchy was noticeable in the ranks of assemblymen elected in yesterday's parliamentary balloting, although the royalist forces won only seven seats to the government's 287.

Former King George, who was forced to abdicate in 1922, received the results in London.

Air Liner Down
CHICAGO (AP)—A TWA (Douglas) airliner was forced down in a dense fog in the southern part of the city near Lake Calumet last night, making a landing with slight damage to the ship. None of the 10 persons aboard, including eight passengers, was injured, the company reported.

Train Kills Young Girl

IOWA FALLS, Ia., June 10 (AP)—Romance and adventure beckoned to Florence Ford when she ran away Sunday from her home in Atlantic, Ia., but the 18-year-old girl met death, instead.

The wheels of a Rock Island freight train, which were rolling Florence toward what she expected was an elopement and happiness in Chicago, severed both her legs at the hips when she sought to reboard an oil car in the railroad yards here.

Unequal to Tasks
The girl had jumped off to get a drink. When the train started she ran to catch a hand bar, but her arms were unequal to the task and her body fell beneath the trucks.

Shortly before death tonight in Ellsworth hospital she asked attendants to tell her mother, Mrs. Lillian Ford, that "I was running away to be married to Laverne Christian."

A Promise
City Manager Floyd Klippel, conducting an investigation, said two boys, Laverne Christian, 21, and Albert Reilly, 18, both of Audubon, Ia., were also riding the train and helped remove the injured girl. Klippel said the boys told him they knew Florence's family and that they saw her in the Des Moines railroad yards but departed on separate cars. He advised the boys to return home and they disappeared after making it a promise, Klippel said.

Mussolini Orders Soft Pedal on Press Attacks

ROME, June 10 (AP)—Premier Mussolini, cutting short a visit to Sardinia, returned unexpectedly to Rome tonight. Coincidentally orders went out to Italian newspapers to put the soft pedal on their attacks upon England of London's attitude toward Ethiopian question.

Conference In Illinois Adopts Declaration Of 18 Grievances

Tomorrow To See Plan of Action For Build Up for 1936 Political Campaign

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 10 (AP)—A scathing indictment of the new deal—an 18 point "declaration of grievances"—was adopted with shouts of approval tonight by the grass roots conference of republicans from 10 farm belt states.

Contained in the report adopted by acclamation by an officially estimated 6,000 G.O.P. faithful, was a repeated charge of "broken pledges" aimed at President Roosevelt and a warning that his planned economy would "spell the death of our American institutions."

Approve Declaration
Approval of the declaration—to be followed tomorrow by a declaration of principles outlining the proposals the sectional rally hopes will guide the national party in its forthcoming battle to recapture a position of domination—came at the end of a sweltering evening in the Coliseum of the state fair grounds.

John D. M. Hamilton, national committee man from Kansas, who was named permanent chairman in recognition of his efforts in promoting the rally, paved the way for the arraignment of the opposition with a vigorous attack on the administration.

"The most profligate waste of the people's savings ever witnessed in human history," the placing of more than 120,000 additional persons on the federal payroll and the creation of "an enormous bureaucracy which infests the country with swarms of inspectors and spies" were barbs directed at the chief executive to the accompaniment of applause of the crowd.

The pronouncement set forth the president had "hampered" industry and added to the unemployment "by placing corporations in competition with private business."

Debased Currency
Read from the rostrum by Edward A. Hayes of Illinois, it continued: "He debased our currency and devalued the dollar, creating a condition under which no man can count the future results of ordinary transactions. He has reduced congress to a group of time-servers who grant him huge sums of money which he uses to coerce the members into voting away the power which the constitution reserved to congress, the states, the people."

Religious War Stirs Germany

Factions Rise Again As Conflict Flares In European State

BERLIN, June 10 (AP)—Germany's violent religious controversies were revived today after a leader of the new German pagan faith movement called Jesus "an alien teacher" whose doctrines are not good enough for Germans.

The leader, Prof. Jacob Wilhelm Hauer, in an address at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, declared that where Christians looked to a future life, Germans believed only in the present, for "we can not imagine a better world than this."

Franciscan Father Heriberto of Cologne drew threats and attacks from the official Nazi press for an avowal of "Christ of the Tribe of Judah" and his declaration that because of Christ semitic races should be met with respect.

"It is not blood or race that counts the most. A Negro or Mulatto whose heart is pure is nearer God than a sinful Aryan," he asserted.

Slavic Statesmen Blame Germany For European Troubles
MOSCOW, June 10 (AP)—Russian and Czechoslovakian statesmen joined in a pessimistically worded declaration tonight that the question of preserving the peace of Europe was giving rise to increased concern. The blamed Germany, charging, with what was interpreted as a reference to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's refusal to enter mutual assistance pacts, that resistance is being offered to collective peace efforts.

The Literary Guidepost

By JOHN SELBY
"FISHES AND THEIR WAYS OF LIFE," by Louise Roule; (Norton)

"Fishes and Their Ways of Life" is not precisely the most attractive title one can imagine. But for anybody with an interest in natural science, Louis Roule's book is one of the most attractive to be published this spring.

Mr. Roule's scientific background seems spotless, at least to one whose natural science is as limited as that of this department. But the general reader will perhaps be more amused by the presentation of the material, and that is superb.

For example, Mr. Roule wishes to talk about the sub-surface inhabitants of the Mediterranean. He begins, quite subtly, with bouillabaisse, that inexpressible specialty of Marseilles and Toulon which has the strongest of smells and produces on occasion the most violent indigestion.

The Marseilles people buy "bouillabaisse assortments," just as the American housewife gets a "soup bunch" from the greengrocer. Mr. Roule introduces his reader to the bouillabaisse assortment on the fish monger's counter, then takes him along while he and his fisher companions drag up a bouillabaisse assortment from the floor of the great lapis lazuli sea.

For, it appears, nature planned bouillabaisse. The fish are those whose habitat is the plantations of grass-wrack to be found on the French Mediterranean coast. The soup was made by the natives from the assortment of fish their nets brought up. It happened to please them and millions of others. So simple it is.

This same good-humored approach is maintained throughout the book. The fish of Lake Geneva are described down the scale—the big ones who eat smaller ones, the smaller ones who eat still smaller ones. "Fishes and Their Ways of Life" is painless natural science.

Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding Anniversary Here

Mr. and Mrs. Rohret were attended by their son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. Bruce E. Mahan, 308 Melrose avenue. Congratulations and good wishes were extended by the Rev. Mr. Schmidt, pastor, in behalf of the congregation.

Mrs. Rohret wore a navy blue suit trimmed with ecru lace and a corsage of Pernet roses. She carried a white prayer book and a white gold rosary, a gift of her children. Deep gold roses decorated the altar.

Dinner was served at 12 a.m. to visiting relatives and friends, and a reception took place during the afternoon.

Out of town guests included the Rev. Mr. Walsh of West Liberty, the Rev. Ulrich A. Hauber and the Rev. New Dealers Get Honorary College Degree

GRINNELL, June 10 (AP)—Charles Davis, AAA administrator, here today that he thinks the amendments will be passed by congress, but that "it doesn't make a great deal of difference," if they are not.

Davis and his co-new dealer Harry L. Hopkins, federal work progress director, received honorary doctor degrees from their alma mater, Grinnell college, today. They were classmates at Grinnell, were graduated a little more than 20 years ago.

"Yes, it's my first honorary degree," said Davis, "and boy, it's getting a bang out of it."

"I'd better take this degree seriously," said Hopkins, "since it's my first and probably will be my last."

Since nine-tenths of the AAA is voluntary, Davis explained, the amendments are not so terrific that they would not affect the operation in Iowa, he declared.

Hopkins said the government work program is designed to put one million men to work and the program should get underway by July 1.

He scoffed at talk about getting back to "rugged individualism."

Iowa City Boy Faces Charges

Sheriff Turns Youth Over for Trial in Washington County

Cecil Ayers, 19 year old Iowa City youth, captured at Oelwein Sunday morning, was turned over to the Washington county sheriff yesterday to face trial at Washington, Ia., in connection with a jewelry robbery at Wellman.

Sheriff Don McComas brought Ayers from Oelwein Sunday. Ayers' bride of five days, a former Iowa City girl, was with him when arrested at the home of relatives in Oelwein Sunday. The couple was married at West Union last Tuesday, according to a Fayette county marriage license application.

Wanted for Questioning

Ayers is also wanted for questioning at Palmyra, Mo., and Quincy, Ill.

He was questioned yesterday by Sheriff Harold Putnam of Washington county in connection with the robbery April 21 of the Miller jewelry store at Wellman.

Ayers' brother, Arthur, 28, arrested by Sheriff McComas and Officer Wesley Sedvick here May 24, is being held at Palmyra on charges of breaking and entering a clothing store.

A quantity of merchandise, taken from the Palmyra store, was identified after it had been seized in the Ayers brothers' rooms here.

Sheriff Putnam recovered most of the merchandise taken from the Wellman jewelry store at the home of relatives at St. Louis, Mo. Rings and wrist watches were recovered from two girls at Hannibal, Mo.

Safety Devices Lessen Danger In Stratosphere

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 10 (AP) Hazards of the impending trip by Capt. Albert W. Stevens and Capt. Orville A. Anderson into the deadly thin upper air will be diminished by more than a dozen safety devices designed to meet every possible contingency.

As unfavorable weather held the National Geographic-Army stratosphere expedition at the flight base near here with little prospect of immediate ascent, balloonists rechecked their careful plans to avoid mishaps.

Hellum gas is being used to inflate the balloon, instead of hydrogen used last year, because the former is neither inflammable nor explosive. The bag itself is designed to avoid strains which caused tears and resulted in a swift descent in last year's expedition from the same base. The bottom part of the bag, where rips occurred in 1934, is of heavier fabric this year.

Use of webbing instead of rope in the first length of network fastening the gondola to the balloon will eliminate the hazard of twisting and tangling.

The balloon has an extra large "rip panel" permitting it to be deflated quickly at landing to avoid blowing in the wind, and a rag rope 500 feet long can be lowered to a landing crew.

Releases, both inside and outside the gondola are provided for the large parachute which is intended to lower the men and equipment in case of balloon failure. Ballast can be dumped quickly in large quantities by exploding dynamite caps in the bottoms of fireproofed canvas bags of lead shot hung outside the metal ball.

Inside the gondola will be an emergency supply of "manufactured air," extra rich in oxygen, to support life even if leakage should occur in the floating sphere.

Heads Relief Work

Edward N. Jones, secretary of labor and industry in the cabinet of Governor George H. Earle, has been chosen by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to direct the huge federal works program in Pennsylvania. Jones will direct expenditures of an anticipated $350,000,000 which Pennsylvania expects to receive and has announced he will resign as cabinet officer to devote full time to the federal appointment.

Merchants To Discuss NRA

Summer closing hours and the future of the NRA will be discussed at a luncheon meeting of the Iowa City Merchants bureau at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The meeting will be in the basement of Spencer's Harmony hall, President Fred Boerner announced yesterday, and D. W. Crum, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that a large amount of other business will come before the bureau.

CONFERENCE Attacks Policies Of The New Deal

guarding states "as mere provinces," ignoring states' rights and subjecting the people "to the arbitrary dictates of Johnson, Richberg and Ickes."

It claimed the recent $4,300,000,000 work relief administration was to be "used by the president largely for secret and undisclosed purposes."

"He has placed in the hands of his secretary of the treasury," it added, "the secret control over $2,000,000,000, being used to speculate in foreign currency without any accounting until after the next election. He has destroyed our food, compelling the nation to import foodstuffs to feed our people; he creates scarcity instead of abundance and has completed a decline in our living standard."

Surrender Markets

A surrender of home markets to foreign products, creating of monopolies and destruction of small businesses, were things for which the conference decided to hold the administration wholly responsible.

An accusation of seeking to "reduce the federal reserve system to a political agency" and subjecting to "his control, the entire banking system," were written in the conference record. It added:

"He permits the use of combined industrial, financial and political power massed in his own hands, to put political pressure on the needy."

Final Thrust

Farm and townspeople from Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and Oklahoma, couched their final thrust in this language:

"President Roosevelt revealed his desire for centralized power and his distaste for the constitution by pointing to the absolute powers of other governments and demanding that they be granted to the federal government. Thus, he discloses the true character of the new deal and challenges the people to the defense of their constitution."

Collectivist Government

"The program of the president harmonizes with the general design to set up a collectivist form of government. The time has come for every American to declare whether he gives allegiance to regimentation or to our constitution."

The endorsement of the declaration climaxed a day of crowded activity by the 5,000 accredited delegates.

A Missouri farm woman, Mrs. George Simmons, precipitated the noisiest demonstration—a parade of standard-waving delegates of several states through the amphitheater—by her exhortations.

Time to Fight

Handful of Iowa, former ministerial, whose name has been mentioned in informal discussions, presidential possibilities attendant upon that "candidateless" convention, urged a meeting of former service men here for the coming year. The time has come to fight.

'G' MEN Locate Suspects In Kidnaping Case

from Butte, Mont., policemen who seized his car and $13,155 in ransom notes, was charged also with depositing a letter to extort.

Two postal clerks who conversed with the man who mailed the ransom note with its "urgent, urgent" notation said they would be able to recognize him, but refused to say whether they had identified Mahan.

Identification of pictures of Waley and Mahan as those of two men, who with their wives were near the Spokane house in which the boy was held prisoner was made today by Mrs. T. L. Lockett, operator of a grocery store a few blocks from the hideout house.

At Washington J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation, said the Waleys would be removed to Tacoma in "due time," and filing of the complaints was regarded as indicating that time was approaching.

"Girl Friend"

One of the fugitives still being sought was said to be Mahan's "girl friend." The other unnamed persons were not believed to have been mentioned by the Waleys in reported admissions made under unrelenting questioning today.

While the details of Waley's confession were as closely guarded by federal agents here today as were Waley and his wife, one report said he had told them he and his wife, Mahan and another man were involved in the kidnaping. He was represented as saying the identity of the third man is unknown to him and that he met him in Washington state.

Coming spectacularly on top of the arrests and the flushing of Mahan, the hideout house where 9-year-old George was held was found today at Spokane. Discovery of the lair was announced at Washington by Hoover.

Surviving him are his widow, two children, E. A. Jackson of Cedar Rapids and Mrs. George H. Hughes of Okoboji, and two grandchildren, Attorney William J. Jackson of Iowa City and Florence Jackson of Cedar Rapids.

W. T. Jackson Dies in Home After Illness

W. T. Jackson, 82, died at his home, 726 S. Clinton street, last night at 7:45 following a short illness.

Mr. Jackson, for many years a resident of Iowa City, was born at Marion, June 7, 1853. He was an active member of the Methodist church, and formerly an employee of the Rock Island railroad.

No definite funeral arrangements had been completed last night. The funeral service will be in charge of the Oathout funeral home.

Surviving him are his widow, two children, E. A. Jackson of Cedar Rapids and Mrs. George H. Hughes of Okoboji, and two grandchildren, Attorney William J. Jackson of Iowa City and Florence Jackson of Cedar Rapids.

Sheriff Gets Report On Kidnap Suspect

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 10 (AP)—A report that William Mahan, ex-convict sought as a suspect in the kidnaping of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma, was in Dayton in eastern Washington at 3:30 p.m. today was received tonight by Sheriff C. A. Woodward, who said a Dayton restaurant proprietor named McGerkin had telephoned him the information.

Sheriff Woodward said McGerkin was positive the customer was Mahan but did not recognize the man until he saw a newspaper giving a description after the man left.

Vardis Fisher to Give Lecture Here on Realism and Romance

Graduate College To Sponsor Talk For Tuesday Evening

Vardis Fisher, author of three novels and exponent of stark realism in literature, will be presented next Tuesday evening in a lecture under the auspices of the graduate college. He will discuss "Realism and Romance: Two Attitudes in Literature and in Life."

VARDIS FISHER

As the author of a tetralogy, three volumes of which are finished, he presents the life of Vidar Hunter, from his boyhood in rural Idaho through his later life in Chicago; much of the material is thought to be autobiographical.

Mr. Fisher, who lives at Ririe, Idaho, arrived in Iowa City yesterday and will be here until August. He was educated in the University of Utah, and the University of Chicago from where he received his Ph.D. degree. He has also taught at the University of Montana, New York University, the University of Utah, and the University of Chicago.

Professor Olin Gives First Of Lecture Series

His work has been outstanding for its realism which has been praised as hard and honest as well as being denounced as cruel and blundering.

Novels in the tetralogy are "We Are Betrayed," "In Tragic Life," and "Passions Spin the Plot." The fourth volume to be finished in January is "No Villain Need Be."

Mr. Fisher defends his realism as being honest and true to life. "In despair I look around me and see reports of lynchings and Jew-baiting, rapine, and third degrees, which make my novels read like Sunday school failures. Never, I reflect, have I been able to approach the cruelty recorded in the Bible; nor the tortures of humanity by humanity which has given color and distinction to history everywhere."

He regards his books as high comedy rather than tragedy. "They show persons chastened or defeated by an assumption of virtue entirely in excess of what human beings have."

Mr. Fisher will meet small groups of students interested in writing during his visit in Iowa City.

Other lectures to be given every Monday evening and to continue through July 15 are: "The Deuterium Problem in Organic Chemistry," by Prof. Lemuel C. Raloff; "Present Trends in Analytical Chemistry," by Prof. Louis Waldbauer; "The Digestive Process," by Clarence B. Berg; "Soilability," by Prof. Percy Bond; and "The Chemist's Valence," by Prof. James N. Pearce.

Iowa State Planning Board Metropolitan Life Fascinates Iowans

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles dealing with the work of the Iowa State planning board. The articles are printed daily in The Daily Iowan.

In 1950 Iowans living in California will not be the only ones to grow lyrical about Iowa corn at the annual Iowa picnic. Illinois is running California a close second as the happy hunting ground for tired out Iowans.

In the decade 1920-30, about 80,000 persons born in Iowa emigrated to California. About 60,000 went to Illinois, and large numbers to Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Oregon, and Nebraska.

Once Iowans break away from their native soil they are seemingly fascinated by the lures of metropolitan life for the Iowa emigrants to California and Illinois have settled in the large urban centers, particularly in Los Angeles and Chicago. Emigrants to other states have located chiefly in the small urban and rural places.

Loses Youth, Aged The vast majority of the emigrants from Iowa, or about 145,000 of the 160,000 who left the state between 1920-30 were between 20 and 49 years of age. About one-tenth of the people in this age group left Iowa during the decade; and within this group, the percentage of persons leaving is highest among those 25 to 34 years of age.

Cuts Home Ties Contrary to popular belief, it is the farm girl rather than the farm boy who cuts the home ties and leaves the farm. Over a decade the gain in urban female population in the 15 to 19 age group was three times as large, and in the 20 to 24 age group two and one half times as large as the gains in urban male population of corresponding ages.

No Fried Chicken The Iowa farm which has become famous as the place where the city relatives gorged themselves on fried chicken, has gone into a decline in the last 10 years, for more than one-fifth of the rural population has emigrated either to the cities of Iowa or to other states. In the decade after the war the urban population of Iowa increased by 103,973, with about 51,000 newcomers added to the urban population in Cedar Rapids, Waterloo, Iowa City, and Ottumwa.

See Static Population In the early days of Iowa settlement, 50 per cent of Iowa people born in other states had come from the east, mainly from Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania. By 1930 this group made up only 12 per cent of Iowa people born in other states. In later years the adjacent states to the east of Iowa became important sources of immigrants. Nearby states that have contributed large groups are Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Colorado.

Rogers effects a cure that will make America's ace humorist more loved than ever. Opening a full week's engagement at the Strand today.

BITS ABOUT SPORTS

By ART SNIDER

CAPT. Gene Ford's feat in turning back Michigan State with four hits last Friday, together with his other outstanding performances this season, have stamped him a prominent prospect for professional baseball. It is understood a number of major league scouts have watched him closely.

Herman Schneidman and Bud Miller, former Hawk grid stars, visited the old stamping grounds recently. Schneidman will play with the Green Bay Packers this fall. Letter from Corney Walker in Nebraska informs us that the big end has undergone an operation on the knee which bothered him all last season. He'll be set to go next fall.

Bill Boelter has left for Ossie Solem's summer camp in Minnesota. Coach Solem will remain here for a while supervising the construction of a new football practice field adjacent to the Iowa stadium. A baseball park will probably also be built on the west side in the near future. Mike Farroh, who coached the Independence high school basketball team into the state finals at Cedar Falls last March, is enrolled for summer school classes here. George Wells, new coach at Kirksville State Teachers, will teach physical education in the second term of summer school at North Texas Teachers college, Denton, Tex.

The Kelly Ollers have shaken a bad game from their systems. Now they should be all set for Marshalltown tomorrow. "Tiny" Thornton of the Globe Trotters displayed a world of assorted pitches, employing a change of pace which completely baffled the other hitters.

With the game safely in the sack, the Negroes took a bit of clowning in the ninth inning. After two were retired, Thornton walked three men to fill the bases. The shortstop threw his glove away and started for his dugout. Third baseman Frazier, who clowned on the basketball court last winter, nonchalantly sat down on third base and refused to arise. The left fielder went over to converse with spectators along the left field line, leaving the left side of the defense entirely open. But Joe Maher refused to take advantage of the opening and instead clocked a clean double into right field sending across two Ollers runs.

Sarazen Wants Method Altered Suggests U.S. Open Golf Title Be Played Like British

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Out of the welter of cussing and reperussing as an aftermath, to the thirty-ninth United States open golf championship played at Oakmont, Pa., there developed today two suggestions to change the method of operating the championship.

Gene Sarazen, who let down his followers with one of the most dismal performances of his career, came up with the suggestion to model the 72-hole medal play tournament along the lines of the British championship with a few slight modifications. Sarazen is in favor of retaining sectional qualifying rounds, by which a nation-wide entry of upwards of 1,000 is reduced to approximately 150 players but from there his ideas differ with the present plan.

ELKS, U-SMASH 'EM TRIUMPH IN D-BALL

Coralville 10, Unrath's Fall In First Tilts

500 Witness Opening Games of 1935 Card At City Park

Minus the fanfare of major league openers, yet a rousing one in its own right, the Iowa City Diamond-ball league inaugurated its 1935 season at City park last night with You Smash 'Em, I Fix 'Em defeating Unrath's, 13 to 2 and Elks walloping Coralville, 14 to 5. A crowd of 500 witnessed the contests.

You Smash 'Em started hitting the pill in the opening frame. They made six runs on four hits and one error. In the second, two more crossed the plate for the Wreckers. Again in the fourth three more counted to make the score 11 to 2. One in fifth, and one in the sixth were the final tallies for You Smash 'Em.

Shannon Hurls
Dean Shannon was on the slab for the Wreckers, fanning 10 and giving up but three bingles.

Unrath's two runs were made in the first and third innings respectively. J. White walked and Shimon got a single for the first tally. The second and final run was made when Ed Breese walked and came home on Jack White's single.

Kastner, John Shannon, and Patterson led the You Smash 'Em attack with two hits apiece. Kastner got a triple and a double.

Fistic Experts Give Braddock Small Chance to Win

AS PARKS RECEIVED NATIONAL OPEN TROPHY

Samuel Parks, Jr., youthful professional who proved the "tops" in the U. S. national open golf championship at Oakmont, Pa., is pictured receiving the national open trophy from Prescott S. Bush, president of the U. S. Golf association. Parks, an unknown before the tournament, had a score of 299 over the rugged and trick course at Oakmont. His nearest challenger, Jimmy Thomson of California, shown right, had a score of 301. Olin Dutra held the title previously.

Oilers At Marshalltown Tomorrow Drop 4-2 Tilt To Trotters Here Sunday

In quest of their fourth I.S.A. victory, the Kelly Oilers will journey to Marshalltown tomorrow to meet the Jack Spratt outfit in the evening. Marshalltown is tied for sixth and seventh in the league with two wins in six starts.

Fred Otto, who worked four innings in splendid fashion in the Oilers' 4 to 2 loss to the Globe Trotters Sunday night, will probably get the mound assignment. Otto has chalked up two victories this season, one of them a no-hit performance against Schukel of Waterloo.

Other men named for the trip by Manager Ted Watkins are Casey Donnelly, Dean Kerr, John Ebert, Ed Sulek and Ralph Dvorsky, infielders; Vic Belger, "Chip" Fay, Don Brown, Jerry Pooler and "Plicker" Lumsden, outfielders; Joe Maher, catcher, and Ted Fay, pitcher.

Friday night, the two teams will meet in a second clash at Kelly field. A crowd of 2,300 turned out to see the Negro stars catch the locals off-guard to win Sunday. "Tiny" Thornton, husky visitor hurler, pitched shutout ball until the ninth inning when he grew wild and issued walks to Ted Fay, Sulek and Kerr and Joe Maher followed with a double into right field.

The colored boys got to Ted Fay for three runs in the fifth inning (Turn to page 7)

Albany Club Battles For 'Bama Pitts

ALBANY, June 10 (AP)—Edwin C. "Alabama" Pitts, former Sing Sing "college" baseball star, appealed to Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis in Chicago tonight to grant him a hearing, after being barred from playing professional baseball by the unanimous decision of the National Association of Minor Leagues here today.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 10 (AP)—Two potential avenues of entry into professional baseball apparently the only two—were opened tonight to Edwin C. "Alabama" Pitts whose contract with the Albany club of the International league was declared void today because he is an ex-convict.

General Manager Johnny Evers of the Albany club, the former Sing Sing football star's most ardent supporter, made plans to ask Governor Herbert H. Lehman to give Pitts a full pardon. At the same time the club prepared to appeal directly to Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball, to overrule the executive committee of the National Association of Minor Professional Leagues.

Will Quit Game
In the event that Pitts is not granted the right to take his place in the Albany outfield, Evers said (Turn to page 7)

Odd Fellows Fall to Walcott By 5-4 Count

Beaten by Walcott Sunday afternoon for their second loop reversal of the season, Odd Fellows baseball team will begin a series of workouts this evening for the next tilt, with the Davenport Paramourts here next Sunday.

Walcott was never headed in their 5 to 4 victory. The visitors counted two runs in the first inning, two more in the fourth and the winning run in the seventh.

The I.O.O.F. nine garnered a run in the second inning on an error, McGreevey's single and Fay's fly. In the fourth the locals came back with another run when Sulek singled, went to second on Schroeder's error and counted when McGreevey sent a one base knock into the outfield.

A rally in the seventh, netting two runs, fell one run short of tying the count. In this frame, Sulek came through with his second single, Ebert doubled and Fay singled before the side could be retired. Smith pitched for Odd Fellows.

Challenger In Final Workout For Classic

Max Baer Predicted To Take 3 Round Kayo Thursday Night

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—The railbirds came out of the shadows along slug-gappy alley today to get their first glimpse of an old favorite, James J. Braddock, and to examine at first hand his chances of whipping Max Baer for the heavyweight title out on Long Island Thursday night.

They watched the Irish lelele box his last two rounds in this training siege against a youngster named Jack McCarthy of Boston, and as much as they wish Jimmy could win the consensus was that the best thing in his favor was his first name and middle initial, they being the same as three past champions, Corbett, Jeffries and Tunney.

Managers, trainers, handlers of fighters schooled in the business of judging fistic material give him the smallest chance to win of any challenger in years. But they made Dempsey 4 to 1 over Tunney at Philadelphia, some of them even went back to the time John L. Sullivan was "name your own price" against Corbett.

"Baer ought to be 100 to 1," said one manager of heavyweights who doesn't want to be named because he has a job writing his opinions now for the papers. "Braddock's still the easiest guy in the world to hit with a right hand. Baer murders you with a right hand. So how can Baer lose?"

While they agree that there isn't a reason they can see for Braddock lasting more than three rounds, despite his increased strength, his improved form, his added weight—194 pounds—they think too that if some miracle gets the surprising Irishman past the first 10 minutes of fighting, his chances for victory are greatly improved. Betting, where you could find anyone willing to risk money on Braddock, ran from a low of 3 to 1 in commission houses up as high as 25 to 1 on private wagers.

Aside from the fact that McCarthy nailed him with one oopin of a right on the chin today, Braddock looked exceptionally good in his last boxing workout.

Baer at Asbury park already has reduced his training to callisthenics, and Jimmy will do the same now until weighing in time Thursday afternoon.

Braddock, with a crowd of several hundred jamming the gymnasium, seemed faster on his feet than in any of his previous drills, and he was more vicious, slamming heavy rights into McCarthy's head and sides. His left was sharp and accurate. He seems in fine shape to fight 15 rounds instead of the scheduled 12. But he can't seem to evade long right to the head entirely, and that's the punch Baer used to batter Max Schmeling down, and turn Primo Carnera into a tickle riddled bull.

Spatterings of rain held down the tickle sale today, although the Irish are massing to give Braddock, a veteran at 29, a lot of vocal support at the ringside. The Garden prediction of $250,000 began to look a bit high, and there were reports that the advance sale indicates it may not draw better than $200,000.

Committee Names Mark Panther For National Collegiate

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—On the basis of outstanding performance this season, 123 track and field stars from 64 institutions today were guaranteed transportation to the National Collegiate A. A. championship meet at Berkeley, Calif., June 21-22.

Southern California's powerful team, winner of the I.C.A.A.A. championship, led the list announced by T. Nelson Metcalf, University of Chicago athletic director and chairman of the N.C.A.A. selections committee, with 11 men. Iowans include: High jump, Linn Philson, Drake; and javelin, Mark Panther, Iowa.

Canzoneri Takes 10 Round Boood Verdict From Frankie Klick

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion, won a 12 round split-decision non-title fight at Griffith stadium tonight from Frankie Klick, the junior lightweight champion.

Canzoneri kept boxing in steadily in every round, but took a peppering of lefts throughout from Klick.

The decision was booted for minutes from the crowd of 16,000. The two judges split and Jack Dempsey, the referee, cast his ballot for Canzoneri to give the champion the fight.

A Cow Is a Cow

Not only is a cow a cow, but a city editor knows what a cow really is and why. In an item headed "A City Editor on the Cow," the Johnson County Farm Bureau Exchange, monthly farm publication gave a city editor's impression of the female quadruped known as the cow. Here followeth the yarn:

"The cow is a female quadruped with an alto voice and a countenance in which there is no guile. She collaborates with the pump in the production of a liquid called milk, provides the filler for hash, and, at last, is skinned by those she has benefitted, as mortals commonly are.

Used in Chicken Salad

"The young cow is called a calf, and is used in the manufacture of a chicken salad. The cow's tail is mounted aft and has a universal joint. It is used to disturb marauding flies, and the tassel on the end has educational value. Persons who milk cows and often come in contact with the tassel have vocabularies of peculiar and impressive force.

Auxiliary Stomach

"The cow has two stomachs. The one on the ground floor is used as a warehouse and has no other function. When this one is filled the cow retires to a quiet place where her ill manners will occasion no comment and devotes herself to belching. The raw material thus conveyed for the second time to the interior of her face is pulverized and delivered to the auxiliary stomach where it is converted into 'cow'.

No Upper Plate

"The cow has no upper plate. All of her teeth are parked in the lower part of her face. This arrangement was perfected by an efficiency expert to keep her from gumming things up. As a result, she bites up and gums down.

"A slice of cow (often termed steak) is worth 8 cents in the cow, 14 cents in the hands of the packers, and $2.40 in a restaurant that specializes in atmosphere."

And that is the story of the cow. Have they no pity for the city editor?
