Convocation at Old Capitol to Close First Summer Session

Pres. Elliott,
Purdue, Will Give Address

111 Grad Students
Will Get Advanced
Degrees Tonight

Convocation ceremonies at 8 o'clock, tonight on the west approach of Old Capitol will mark the close of the academic careers of some 171 students at the University of Iowa. President Edward C. Elliott of Purdue university will officially end the activities of the first term of the thirty-sixth annual summer session when he delivers the convocation address, "Facts and Factions."

Give Awards
President Eugene A. Gilmore will present the awards to the candidates who will be presented to him by the deans of the various colleges. Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, will deliver the invocation, and Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Head Group
Candidates for certificates will head the contingent of graduates and will be followed by the 57 candidates for baccalaureate degrees. The graduate college will lead all of the other departments of the university in the number of persons receiving degrees with a total of 111 degrees, 74 of which are master of arts awards. The other advanced degrees are 18 M.S. degrees, and 19 Ph.D. degrees.

Represent 23 States
Representing 23 states, the mid-summer graduates will receive degrees from the college of law, college of education, college of commerce, college of dentistry, college of engineering, and various departments in the college of liberal arts and graduate college.

Prior to the convocation services the university will tender the traditional graduation dinner to candidates for degrees, at Iowa Union. The procession will then form under the direction of Prof. Vance Morton of the speech department, university marshal, and will proceed to the west approach of Old Capitol where the services will be held.

The procession, one of the most colorful events of the academic year,

Senate Refutes
AAA Decision

Reverses Vote As
F. R. Asks Passage
Of This Provision

WASHINGTON July 17 (AP)—A recalcitrant senate today hacked one phase of the AAA price-fixing authority out of the farm adjustment amendments and served notice it would go after the other parts at the earliest opportunity.

By a vote of 44 to 41 the senate reversed its approval yesterday of the price-fixing provision, considered by some an important part of the AAA machine but termed "not essential" by adjustment officials. Although only part of the price-fixing authority was involved, its deletion was considered as likely to wreck the entire provision.

The action came in the face of direct word from President Roosevelt that he felt it wise to go ahead with enactment of the AAA amendments, regardless of the adverse circuit court ruling in Boston on the processing tax.

Ohio Locomotive Hits
Truck Trailer, One
Iowan Among Injured

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 17 (AP)—Twenty persons were injured today in a wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's Liberty Limited. Among them was one Iowan, Sanford Ziegler Jr., Fairfield.

The speeding locomotive ploughed into a truck trailer at a crossing and was derailed. It tore up tracks for three blocks, sheared off the loading platform of a freight depot, wrecked several freight cars and then overturned.

Workmen attempted tonight to clear the debris-strewn right-of-way.

"IL DUCE" POURS TROOPS INTO AFRICA

Italy's premier declared peace was still possible, but continues to mass troops and war materials for immediate shipment to Africa. His latest move has been the gathering of 300 planes for an aerial drive on Ethiopia. Conferences between Mussolini and Japanese ambassadors have resulted in an assurance that Japan has no interest in the African situation.

TOPEKA, Kas., July 17 (AP)—Kansas drys were rallying tonight for a state struggle they believe will start a national campaign to restore federal prohibition.

Mayor Pleads Ignorance In Graft Charge

Seymour Authority Accepted Money As Poor Fund Gift

SEYMOUR, Ia., July 17 (AP)—Mayor L. B. Fager of Seymour, whose resignation was requested by the city council because of alleged dealings with slot machine operators, said late today he had accepted some money, "but I didn't know what it was all right."

The mayor said, "One deal was pulled off, but the money was returned in a few days."

"It was just thoughtlessness on my part. I didn't think but what it was all right."

"I thought the money was to go to the poor fund, but as soon as I found out it was illegal I returned the money and told them I would not take any more."

"I am awful sorry that I did this. That is all I have to say."

ASH Resignation

The city council at a meeting last night voted to accept the mayor and City Marshal Claude Cooley to resign because of alleged dealings with slot machine operators.

Cooley was alleged to have collected the money and turned it over to Fager.

Both the mayor and Cooley denied knowledge of more than one dealing.

Cooley said that a collection of "something like $3.80" had been made and the money returned within a few days.

He said he didn't remember how long ago the collection was made, nor from whom the money had been collected. "I believe it was at a a c a t e," he said.

"The mayor was absolutely ignorant of what he did," Cooley said.

Report

He said "there was a report going around that they were paying a percentage per machine, but that's a mistake." He declared the city council's action in asking him to resign was "a political frameup."

Not Consider Reply

Italy will not consider her reply when an invitation until it arrives, he said. Well-informed circles believe, however, Italy will accept an invitation but refuse to yield any of her precepts and oppose any further efforts to handle the situation through the League. Press and officials alike have said repeatedly "the League can do nothing."

A spokesman for the government said Italy had received no notice of the League of Nations announcement that the council would meet in special session about July 25 to consider the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

HITLER PUSHES ANTI-SEMITIC CAMPAIGN

The Nazi leader patrolled the streets in person along with his officers during the recent racial outbreak. His most recent attacks upon the Jews in Germany have resulted in a campaign to force them out of German business. Pushing of the sterilization program has caused bitter protest from Catholic organizations.

Nazis Continue Anti-Semitic Campaign Despite Warnings

BERLIN, July 17 (AP)—Nazis today continued their anti-Semitic campaign, despite warnings from higher-ups, and pushed their sterilization program, despite Catholic protests, while the controlled press cried out bitterly against "atrocities" reported abroad.

"The mixture of races causes the swelling of congenitally unsound elements."

Dr. Guett's assertion that biological considerations came before religion was taken to mean the government intended to continue its program relentlessly, despite opposition stiffened by the Papal protest. Informer circles said the protest would have little effect.

VAN LEAR, Ky., July 17 (AP)—Rock and burning coal blocked the path of rescue miners tonight as hope waned for the lives of nine coal miners, entombed about two miles from the mine entrance by a gas explosion.

Pres. Gilmore Will Address Candidates for Degrees Tonight

Dean P. C. Packer To Preside During Annual Dinner

President Eugene A. Gilmore will address candidates for degrees at the graduates' dinner at 6 o'clock this evening in the river room at Iowa Union. Dean Paul C. Packer, director of the summer session, will preside.

Bringing to a close the first term of the summer session of the University of Iowa, candidates for degrees, deans of university colleges, and officials in charge of the convocation ceremony, which follows the dinner, will be guests at the annual dinner honoring summer session graduates.

Guest List

Included in the guest list are: President and Mrs. Gilmore, President Emeritus and Mrs. Walter A. Jessup, President and Mrs. Edward C. Elliott of Purdue University, Dean and Mrs. Packer, Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts, and Mrs. Kay, Professor Elmer W. Hills of the college of commerce, Dr. J. E. Rose of the college of dentistry, and Mrs. Rose, Prof. H. O. Croft of the college of engineering, and Mrs. Croft, Dean Carl E. Seashore of the graduate college, and Mrs. Seashore.

Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh of the political science department, and Mrs. Shambaugh, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, Prof. Vance Morton, associate director of University theater, and Mrs. Morton, Prof. Harry G. Barnes of the speech department, and Mrs. Barnes, Prof. Frederic G. Higbee, director of the alumni service, and Mrs. Higbee.

Procession

Following dinner, candidates for degrees will don caps and gowns, assemble in front of Iowa Union, and start a procession to the west side of Old Capitol, where the convocation ceremony will be performed. In case of rain, degrees will be conferred in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Graduates will be guests of the university at dinner. Tickets for their friends and faculty members are on sale at the alumni office, second floor of Old Capitol.

4 Women Will Be Honor Guests At Luncheon Tuesday

Mrs. Burton Ingwersen, Mrs. Dale Yoder, Mrs. Robert Tait, and Mrs. Roy Rickard will be honored when Mrs. Allen C. Tester and Mrs. A. Craig Baird entertain a few intimate friends of the honored guests at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Testerman home, 228 Woolf avenue, next Tuesday.

Mrs. Ingwersen of Evanston, Ill., a former Iowa citizen, is visiting in the home of Mrs. Fred Pownall. Mrs. Yoder will return to Minneapolis the first of next month to spend the winter. Mrs. Tait is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Gibson, and Mrs. Rickard will leave for the Philippine Islands next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Smith, Woodlawn apartments, returned Tuesday night from Chicago, where they spent several days.

Spurious Telegrams Destroyed, Senate Lobby Committee Told

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Signatures for telegrams by explaining testimony linking fear of imprisonment for "forgery" to the destruction of spurious telegrams against the administration's utility bill was given the senate lobby committee.

Quickly, Chairman Black (D-Ala) requested the Western Union Telegraph company to prohibit the destruction of any telegrams sent with in the last year.

Arthur F. Christenson, operator at the company's Warren, Pa., office was the witness who indirectly attributed the "forgery" remark to R. P. Herron, bond salesman for the Associated Gas and Electric company. Herron has been named as the author of more than 1,000 anti-abolition telegrams signed with names taken from the Warren city directory.

Direct Destruction

Furthermore, Christenson reported Herron as saying his superiors had directed the destruction of "all records of any messages" sent. But a long day of testimony failed to disclose who actually destroyed the stack of original telegrams in the Warren city office.

Coincidentally, the house rules committee also digging into lobbying for and against the utility measure, concluded its inquiry into allegations that the administration used threatening tactics to obtain votes for the holding company "death sentence."

Brewster Gives Rebuttal

In rebuttal, Rep. Brewster (R-Me), backed by his secretaries, insisted that Thomas Corcoran, administrative aide, threatened to stop work on the Passamaquoddy dam in his district unless he voted with the administration. Corcoran was equally firm in repeating his denial of such statements. Brewster said he would sacrifice his reputation is necessary, for the "Quoddy" project.

One witness before the senate lobby committee, a shiny faced messenger boy, Elmer Danielson, aquiver in a tight blue suit, convulsed the committee and spectators with an account of how he solicited

Iowa City Women Capture Prizes At West Liberty Meet

Mrs. Harold Handa received the prize for low gross score, and Mrs. George Koser and Mrs. Joseph Munkhoff won the prizes for the best scores on certain holes, at the West Liberty golf course yesterday when 21 Iowa City women golfers played the women golfers of West Liberty.

About 21 women from Muscatine also were invited to West Liberty to participate in the day's activities which included golf in the morning, a picnic lunch at noon on the grounds near the course, and bridge during the afternoon.

The lunch at noon was served at a long banquet table decorated with various kinds of garden flowers. Kate Munkhoff and Mrs. F. G. Dahn will serve as hostesses at the weekly game of golf and luncheon tomorrow at the Country club beginning at 9 a.m. Reservations may be made until this evening at Youde's Inn, 9303.

Sidney Miller as Mr. Allen in "The Wrong Glass" suitably played his role. An old family friend, he sought to save Lucille, played by Mary Carolyn Kuever, from the mercenary greed of a guardian who took care of material needs and forgot the spiritual ones." Paneled Distinction

Built-in bookcases against a pine paneled wall make this room an attractive place for study or relaxation. The wall to the left is finished in rough plaster. Cupboards under the bookcases offer ample storage space for card accessories, stationery, and magazines. The radiator is hidden by a grille which fits in with the decorating scheme of the room, but the open front does not prevent radiation.

Home Modernization Program Conducted By FHA Shows New Panel Style Library

One of the simplest ways to make a library a room of distinction is to panel the walls.

Such a finish not only lends dignity and charm to a room but forms a restful setting wherein one may think, read, or write. Any library may be transformed into a place of peaceful atmosphere.

To the owner of an extensive library, the matter of accommodating the volumes becomes a problem. Built-in bookcases set in paneling, therefore, add to the beauty, convenience, and size of the room. The return is comparatively much greater than the cost, and with the financial aid necessary for the transformation available, the wise home owner will make the change at intervals, creating an attractive relief.

The window in the paneled wall have been treated in an interesting fashion. A wide bordered molding is placed around and between the two windows. A cover is built over the radiator which stands under the window and gives the appearance of a very wide sill. The sides of the cover are formed by a fine lattice, which allows the heat to enter the room but completely hides the radiator.

The sides of the cover are in the form of two doors and may be opened when it is necessary to inspect the heater. Room is also left under cover to permit a broom or mop to penetrate to the far corner, affording cleanliness.

The floor has been refinished in keeping with the paneling. The result is a charming room which is a pleasant contrast to the rather dreary, overcrowded, huddle in cubicle which formerly existed.

Mrs. Fankot of Mechanicsville visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Willenbrock, 230 S. Dodge street, yesterday.

The hat that goes with it is a tiny gray turban with a small visor and the meagerest bow ever, of the rose stuff, stuck right in front...

Or, if you're the strictly sporty type, there's a tight-fitting shantung suit in navy. It has three black leather frog fastenings down the front of the jacket and is collarless—to be worn with a jaunty navy beret and a bright cashmere scarf... A bright linen coat that veers away from the ordinary lines and shades will come in for lots of use, too. There's a straight, loose one (with the barest suggestion of a collar (merely an upright strip) that we liked. In gleaming blue... And we saw a smart gray tweedy cape we'd like to build an ensemble around. It had a square yoke and a pointed military collar and reached almost to the knees.

The floor has been refinished in keeping with the paneling. The result is a charming room which is a pleasant contrast to the rather dreary, overcrowded, huddle in cubicle which formerly existed.

Frequently only one wall of a room is finished in this manner. With less frequency two or three walls are paneled, leaving the fourth to be finished in another manner. This is the case in the

Bridge Club Will Honor Mrs. Yoder, Mrs. Ingwersen

Honoring Prof. and Mrs. Dale Yoder and Coach and Mrs. Burton Ingwersen, members of the bridge club to which Mrs. Yoder and Mrs. Ingwersen belonged during their residence in Iowa City, and their husbands will entertain at a potluck supper Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Prof. and Mrs. Clyde Hart's home, 329 River street.

Professor and Mrs. Yoder will return next month to Minneapolis, where Professor Yoder teaches at the University of Minnesota. Coach Ingwersen will arrive in Iowa City this week end to join Mrs. Ingwersen and their son, Gordon, guests this week of Prof. and Mrs. Fred M. Pownall.

Guests From Other Towns Attend Final Girl Scout Day Camp

Eighty-seven Girl Scouts attended the eighth and last session of the Girl Scout day camp Tuesday at the City park. Girls from nearby towns were invited to the day camp by Iowa City scouts.

Twelve Girl Scouts came from Crawfordsville, 18 from Muscatine, and 57 were from Iowa City.

Drawing to a close the day camp sessions which began June 18, the girls participated in such activities as handicraft, out-of-door cooking, nature study, pioneering, and group singing.

Mrs. Everett D. Plass, chairman of the day camp, was assisted by Mrs. Joseph F. Porter, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Arthur O'Brien, and Miriam Taylor.

Mrs. Willenbrock To Entertain Bridge Club

Mrs. H. F. Willenbrock, 230 S. Dodge street, will be hostess this afternoon at 2:30 to her bridge club at its regular bi-weekly meeting.

Mrs. Louise Horrabin will be a guest of the club. Members who will attend are: Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Ray Kirkpatrick, Mrs. F. Boyce, Mrs. F. May Lane, Mrs. Fred Fry, Mrs. Frank Schone, Mrs. Joe Pechman, Mrs. H. F. Willenbrock.

Mr., Mrs. Nybakken Entertain Lecturers

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Nybakken, 925 Seventh avenue, had as their luncheon guests Tuesday Dr. N. W. DeWitt of Toronto, Ontario, and the Rev. William Schulte of Dubuque, who are visiting lecturers in the department of classical languages at the University of Iowa this summer.

Mr. Nybakken is an instructor in the language department.

Mr. and Mrs. Herald Stark, 424 E. Jefferson street, left this morning for New York city where Mr. Stark will study voice. They will return to Iowa City in the fall.

Prof. and Mrs. Erwin K. Mapes, 616 N. Dubuque street, and daughters, Frances and Virginia, will leave this morning for a five week vacation at their cottage at Kingman place, Spirit Lake.

Prof. and Mrs. H. G. Plum, 248 Dodge Springs circle, will leave Saturday for a vacation trip to New York state, where they will remain until the fall term opens. They will spend part of their vacation in the Katskill mountains.

Leaving Monday to spend the remainder of July and all of August in the sun, the couple plan to leave for a trip to Denver, the Grand Canyon, California, and Mexico. The couple will reside in Davenport.

Another Term Ends

TODAY WILL SEE the end of one of the most successful summer terms the university has seen in several years. Monday the second term of this session will begin and it is hoped weather conditions and other influences conducive to summer study will be as favorable.

With the exception of the last week or two, the weather has been ideal for study. More and more teachers and students each year are finding that the University of Iowa is not such a bad place to spend the summer. Besides accomplishing some good concentrated study—as exhibited by the 175 degrees which will be awarded tonight at convocation—the recreational facilities of Iowa City and the university are decidedly more and varied than those to be found in any other Iowa town or city.

In addition, the university lecture series for this last term has brought some outstanding men to the campus for students to hear and see.

More and more, the old concept of school for nine months each year with a three months' vacation is being pushed in the background by the growing popularity of summer school.

It is only hoped that next term will prove as successful as the present one.

An NRA Aftermath

NOW THAT THE Blue Eagle is dead, it appears the attorneys of the country are going after the white meat of the bird.

After the supreme court had finally battered the NRA into bad shape, attorneys all over the nation declared an open season on nearly every phase of the multiplicity of codes. From every point in the country suits are going on record, piling up mountains of litigation which probably have never been equaled in the history of the United States.

Suits have been entered, or are being prepared in the fight of manufacturing, packing, and processing groups to avoid further payment of processing taxes, declared unconstitutional Tuesday by a circuit court.

A great many of the cases are perfunctory, admittedly a lawyer's gesture to get his clients' protests on record. One case may decide the whole batch.

Another point of legal attack on the new deal program are the cases filed as the result of penalties inflicted for the enforcement of the codes. Thousands of small firms which paid various fees and assessments are now trying to recover. The other day, a Cedar Rapids automobile dealer sued and recovered a $300 fine which he had been forced to pay for violating some phase of the automobile code.

It will be a long time before all this legal backwash has been cleared and business will once again return to its normal functions. The majority of business men have no intention of taking advantage of their right to sue the government. But, the NRA was spread over such a wide field that there are bound to be literally thousands of suits jamming our courts.

Perhaps sudden upturn in the business cycle would pull the heat off the government and business would soon forget its suits in its desire to make a little money.

What Others Think

Hot weather has become unbearable without a revival of "The Mikado." Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of Gilbert and Sullivan's inspired muse. Neither can all the contemporary news dispatches from the far east make the Japan of Manchukuo and Peiping more real than Ko-Ko's and Pooh-Bah's countrymen. The one comic royal figure on the western stage remains the Mikado, despite the fact that he is actually the most potent royal figure in the world today.

In Japan today the emperor idea is still a great motivating force. At the present moment one of the burning issues at Tokyo centers about a learned work on the government of Japan in which the emperor is described as the chief organ of state. This is called sacrifice by the ultra-patriots, who insist the emperor himself the state and not a mere agent. At one time it looked as if the Okada cabinet would be thrown out of office because it had permitted the obnoxious definition of the emperor to be published.

Between life in Titipu and life in modern Japan the resemblance is not always striking. But this year one cannot renew acquaintance with the many-sided Pooh-Bah without being struck for once by a familiar trait. He is the gentleman who consented, at great sacrifice of self-esteem, to take on the post of first lord of the treasury, lord chief justice, commander-in-chief, lord high admiral, master of the Buck Hounds, groom of the Back Stairs, archbishop of Titipu and lord mayor.

In Japanese affairs today the Pooh-Bah role is filled by the army. It dictates not only military affairs but foreign policy, and it has not hesitated to enter domestic politics where it affects military affairs. It is now considered a commonplace to speak of two governments in Japan, the official civilian regime and the armed forces, and of the two the latter is not the less important. In the last resort the Japanese general staff is the first lord of the treasury, the minister of commerce, the lord chief justice, the foreign office spokesman, and all the archbishops and lord mayors in Japan. —The New York Times.

Breakfast Topics

ical destiny awaits Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan next year, he will not have a "dark horse" role when the republicans meet in convention to ponder over selection of a presidential ticket. There could be no repetition in his case of the circumstances that lifted Warren Harding from the senate to "dark horse" nomination honors in 1920.

Even if the senator had had some such approach in mind, his colleagues in the senate would not have it so. They always are twisting Vandenberg with his still-to-be-admitted ambitions.

Aside from that, however, the Michigander seems bent on erecting a middle-of-the-road platform quite aside from the labors of various republican get-together gatherings. The special attention he is paying to the tax issue raised by President Roosevelt is an example.

Not Dark Horse Ways

Over one week end, the senator issued a statement on taxes, avoiding national committee facilities in so doing. Within a week he was on a national radio hook-up with further tax observations, ironically picturing to his audience how an attempted Roosevelt "adroit political flank movement" designed to "surround and confound his own left-wings" had ended in the president being "put on the spot." Through the kindness of the republican leader, Senator McNary, that speech was duly inserted in the Congressional Record.

These are not dark horse ways. Senator Vandenberg can and does gracefully wave aside senatorial allusions to his supposed 1936 hopes. It would be difficult not to read into his tax radio speech, however, an implication that it had some thought of nomination possibilities.

That is deduced from the fact that the senator hit harder in direct personal attack on the president's methods than he has done heretofore. He turned loose a gift for phrase-making cultivated at an editorial desk before he took to politics. The speech bristled with such phrases as "punch drunk congress," "pell-mell statesmanship," "prayers for more lucid intervals," "a regime . . . infatuated with its own benevolence and power." It quoted a Roosevelt assertion that "most liberal governments are wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policy" to find this "rapidly is becoming an administration epithet instead of its aspiration."

"Rational Economy"

Senator Vandenberg pleaded that "wearsy and benumbed congress" receives a "few recuperative months" while a "real tax" program is developed. He called for "rational economy" and for "fewer brainstorms to salvage." Yet it is significant that on the point made by the president of using inheritance taxes, not for revenue alone but to achieve other ends, the senator made this observation:

"I am frank to say I believe in using inheritance taxes to achieve social objectives; but there is a point beyond which the break-up of a large fortune may ruin the industry that sustains it."

The Roosevelt program is dismissed as mere "pretending to soak the rich" designed only to "placate" real "wealth distributors." Toward that end, Vandenberg said, the program was "not even a good soap-box formula."

Registration, Second Term Summer Session

Friday and Saturday, July 19-20

1. Get registration materials, registrar's office, room 1, University hall, Friday, July 19.

Get all necessary counsel from advisers and professors (see schedule of courses, page four, section four, for information as to their office hours and locations) and fill all registration coupons, both sides, and class-cards as directed on the first side inside pages of the schedule of courses and on coupon immediately above coupon one.

2. All registrants who have not previously had their picture taken in conjunction with their registration here go first to room B-20, University hall to sit for photographs. A certificate will be issued indicating that your photograph has been taken, and this is to be presented to the fee assessor. No registration may proceed beyond this stage without this certificate.

3. All students present registration materials in room A-1, University hall, to have study list, class cards and directory master-card checked.

4. All students present registration form and directory master-card approved by checkers, together with fee card for fee assessments, in room 1, University hall.

5. Present assessed fee card to fee checkers in corridor outside room 2; to them to cashier in room 2 for payment of fees, which completes registration.

A further development in the anti-Semitic campaign, disclosed today was the ousting of Prof. Gustav Havemann as leader of the Reich Musicians' guild. He incurred Minister of Propaganda Paul Joseph Goebbels' displeasure when he intervened in behalf of Paul Hindemith, composer under the Nazi ban.

League May Help German Jew Refugees

LONDON, July 17 (AP)—A proposal was made today that the League of Nations assume the responsibility for the care of refugees from Germany, estimated at more than $8,000.

James G. McDonald, New York high commissioner for refugees coming from Germany, and Vice-count Cecil of Chelwood, commission chairman, united on the suggestion. They submitted it with their report that 80,500 persons, mostly Jews, had quit Germany since Hitler came to power.

McDonald said a refugee economic corporation had been formed in the United States capitalized at $10,000,000 but he had been unable to get more than $1,250,000 subscribed. Contributions for relief since April, 1933, he said, totaled about $10,000,000. Jews of the United States supplied $3,000,000 of it. Jews of Great Britain, $2,500,000. The Rockefeller institute aided, he said.

The greater number of the refugees have gone to Palestine, where 27,000 have found homes. The United States took in 6,000; France, 10,000; Netherlands, 4,000; Great Britain, 2,500. Others went to other countries in central Europe, Africa, and South America.

"Before the individual can give an expert performance either as a public speaker or actor he must study his own voice," said Milton Cowan, graduate assistant in the speech department, last night in the fourth of a series of lectures on the psychology of the fine arts.

Speaking on the subject, "The Psychology of Drama," Mr. Cowan declared speech was the most important element in drama because of its function in transmitting the spoken word to the audience.

Presenting the problem from the technical analysis of the four elements of speech, pitch, loudness, quality, and duration, Mr. Cowan presented slides showing the analysis of voices of contemporary Broadway actors in plays of last year.

A series of slides and recordings were made showing the varying range of the actor's voice in the four qualities. Records of speeches in foreign languages were made to eliminate qualities that would prevent the experimenter from concentrating only on speech qualities.

The last lecture of the series presented by the psychology department will be given by Wilbur Schramm, editor of American Prefaces.

Kelly Oilers Take Double Win at Ames, 8 to 6, 18 to 3

Iowa City 10 Pounds Out 3 Circuit Clouts

Gunia, Otto Pitch
2nd, 3rd Triumphs
Over T.M.C.

By JACK MAHR

(Daily Iowan Sports Writer)

AMES, July 17 (Special) — Base hits sailed to all corners of the field here tonight, 18 off the bats of the Kelly Oilers of Iowa City and 17 from the bats of Tilden of Ames. The Iowa City aggregation, however, was no little abettor by several Ames errors and therein lies the reason for a double victory for the Oilers by counts of 8 to 6 and 18 to 5.

Included in the Iowa City assault were three home runs, two triples and two doubles, all of which had to do with producing runs.

Still in Race

The victory keeps the Oilers in the thick of the Iowa Softball association fight in spite of the fact that Schukel, who will meet the Kelly 10 at Iowa City Sunday night, lost 3 to 1 decision to Stan Nelson and his Patty Annes of Boone tonight.

After being knocked out of the box in the first game after pitching two successive home run balls, Fred Otto came back in the aftermath to stop the T.M.C. 10 cold. Only in the first inning of the second fray did he have trouble, when the Ames outfit scored three runs. He blanked them the rest of the way.

The winners' big uprising came in the eighth inning of the second game when 10 runs creased the plateau. Belger's home run with Smith and Sulek crowding the sacks was a big factor in the rally. Prior to that, the Oilers garnered five runs in the fourth on Pohoski's double, Smith's single, Ebert's triple and Five Ames errors.

In the first game, Pooler clouted a home run into deep centerfield after one was down. Ebert, who had singled, and Belger, who had walked, scored ahead of him.

Sulek, with four hits in eight trips to the plate, and Belger, with three out of seven, were the big hitting stars for the Oilers.

The Big Six

(By the Associated Press)

The Big Six went through another shakeup yesterday but still retained its two extra members as Bruce Campbell failed to hit and dropped out of the American league group while his teammate, Joe Vosmik, moved up with a ton and Buddy Myer of Washington moved into a three-way tie with the idle Doc Cramer and Jimmie Foxx for the last berth. Vosmik hit five times in eight attempts during a doubleheader to shoot his average up seven points to .345 while Myer hit two out of four. The National leagues all lost ground and Joe Medwick and Bill Terry failed to hit and Arky Vaughan got two blows in six times up. 6-1, 6-2.

H. Coggeshall, Kiley Favored; McCollum Loses in Singles

John Van der Zee of Iowa City yesterday defeated R. G. Tindall of St. Louis, Mo., to advance to the quarter-finals of the Missouri Valley tennis tournament at Des Moines by a score of 9-11, 6-3, 7-5. Harold McCollum of Iowa City was defeated in the third round of the junior singles by George Pryor of Stillwater, Okla., in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

COLGATE PLAYS IOWA'S ELEVEN ON DAD'S DAY

July 17 (AP)—Colgate fathers will see the University of Iowa football team play Colgate university of Hamilton, N.Y., in the intersectional game here next Oct. 12.

The occasion has been designated as the fourteenth annual Dad's day.

It will be the first intersectional game with an eastern foe in Iowa stadium since the victory over George Washington university in mid-season of 1931.

Colgate last season had one of the nation's best elevens, losing only to Ohio State, 10-7. The Red Raiders, coached by Andy Kerr, feature a bewildering series of forward and lateral passes.

Bliss Takes West Amateur Medal Honors

COLODO SPRINGS, Colo.

July 17 (AP)—Coming to the home green just as a mountain thunder storm deluged the Broadmoor golf club course here today, Rodney Bliss of Omaha, won the medalist honor in the Western Amateur tournament with a par 70 posted beside his previous round of 72 for a 36-hole total of 142, two over par.

As medalist he succeeds Zell Eaton of Oklahoma City, the defending champion who shot the low qualifying score the last two years.

Excused from qualifying, Eaton practiced today.

One stroke behind the medalist were Jack Gaines of Los Angeles, former California champion; Earle Berryhill of Sapulpa, the Oklahoma king and Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, Mo., Southern Inter-Collegiate open champion for Louisiana State University.

Twenty-eight qualified with scores of 150 and lower, leaving the seven who shot 151 to engage in a "sudden death" play off scheduled for 8 a.m. tomorrow for the three places left in the championship bracket of 32, including Eaton.

Among the favorites who failed to qualify were Chick Evans Jr., of Chicago and Verne Stewart of Albuquerque, N. M., who was a semi-finalist in the Western last year.

C. of C. to Campaign for Better Roads at Macbride Park

Chamber Will Meet Tuesday With Officials

Dr. Anthony Reports On Road Conditions Around Park Area

Members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, county board of supervisors, and the county engineer will meet Tuesday night to discuss plans for widening and resurfacing roads leading to Lake Macbride State park.

Tuesday night's meeting was initiated by Dr. E. J. Anthony, park committee chairman, who reported to the board of directors last night that there was great need for suitable roads leading to the park.

Dr. Anthony pointed out that the state park, which will soon house a town nearly as large as North Liberty, is without proper approaches.

Count Cars

A recent count of cars entering the park on Sunday showed more than 2,000 automobiles transporting nearly 10,000 persons. The report claimed that these persons were continually facing danger of accidents, because of the narrowness of the road. It was also said that many cars had become mired during the rainy weather.

J. J. McNamara reported that the signs designating Iowa City as "The Home of the University of Iowa" will soon be completed and set up on each of the highways leading to the city.

Satisfactory

The airport committee reported that satisfactory hangar rentals for local planes were being arranged.

The convention committee reported that plans are rapidly being completed for handling the American Legion auxiliary and Rural Letter Carrier's association meetings to be held here soon.

Whetstone Will Be Tried Soon

Albert L. Whetstone of Iowa City, who was arrested here Tuesday night by federal agents, was held to the October term of federal court at Davenport yesterday after pleading not guilty to a charge of illegal transportation of liquor outside of a bonded warehouse.

Whetstone was released under a $1,000 bond.

We were arraigned several weeks ago on a similar charge. Whetstone appeared before Acting Commissioner John Hornby of Davenport at yesterday's hearing.

Conduct Funeral For Mrs. Daniel Gilman, Former Iowa Student

Funeral service for Mrs. Daniel T. Gilman, 29, of Sioux City, the former Elizabeth Morgan of Newton, who attended the University of Iowa, were conducted yesterday at Sioux City, according to word received here last night. Mrs. Gilman died earlier this week of anaemia.

She was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority here and became a member of the Junior league at Sioux City.

Mr. Gilman is in the real estate business with his father, W. Stewart Gilman, former mayor of Sioux City.

Mrs. Gilman is survived by two sons, Stewart, 3, and Daniel, one month; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ves Morgan, two brothers and two sisters, all of Newton.

Would Be Recruits To Ethiopia Warned By Ancient Statute

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—An old statute embracing fine or imprisonment and the possibility of a new one entailing loss of citizenship was waved today in the eyes of would-be recruits for the threatened Italo-Ethiopian war.

The state department dug up the old statute, enacted in 1818, when reports reached it that men were being enlisted in this country to fight for Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia. The law provides a three year jail sentence or $1,000 fine.

Simultaneously, Chairman Dickstein of the house immigration committee announced he would introduce a bill to deprive United States residents of citizenship who left for service in either the Italian or Ethiopian army.

While the department took cognizance of recruiting reports, it discounted rumors of large munitions shipments from this country to Italy or Ethiopia.

Hold Funeral Service For William Greene

Tax Hearing Opens Today

Des Moines Court To Test Chain Tax Constitutionality

DES MOINES, July 17 (AP)—Hearing on an injunction suit to test the constitutionality of the Iowa chain store tax will open in federal court here tomorrow with 19 chain store firms fighting to avoid payment of $1,594,540 in taxes on their business in 1934.

The 19 firms operate 446 stores in Iowa and had gross receipts of $99,455,715.61 last year, their petition reveals.

Three original petitions to enjoin the collection of the tax by the state board of assessment and review have been filed, and 16 other firms are participating in the litigation as intervenors.

Filing Petitions

The original petitions were filed by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, operators of grocery stores; the Walgreen Drug company, operators of drug stores; and the Graham Department Stores company, operators of department stores.

The petitions seeking an injunction declare that the chain store tax is discriminatory, constitutes a confiscation of property and does not provide uniform operation of the law.

The discrimination in the tax law, it is claimed, is shown in the exemption from tax of lumber, coal, ice, feed and grain dealers, hotels and restaurants in chain hotels.

Attacked

The act is attacked on the ground that it violates the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution and article one, section six of the state constitution in that it denies equal protection to all and grants privileges to one class.

In their petitions the chain store firms reveal the following number of stores, gross receipts for 1934, chain tax payable, and unit store taxes payable:

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, 135 stores, $8,473,670 receipts: $429,200 chain tax, and $15,420 unit tax.

The National Tea company, owners of Reed Ball stores, 67 stores, $33,447.36 receipts: $57,500 chain tax, and $4,105 unit tax.

Safeway Stores, Inc., eight stores, $43,279.11 receipts: $1,750 chain tax, and $26 unit tax.

Thrift-way Stores, Inc., six stores, $43,279.11 receipts: $1,750 chain tax, and $26 unit tax.

Walgreen Drug company, eight stores, $686,703.36 receipts, $6,575 chain tax, $35 unit tax.

Liggett Drug company, three stores, $275,000 receipts, $1,100 chain tax, $10 unit tax.

S. S. Kresge company, 29 stores, $123,874 receipts, $183,800 chain tax, $50 unit tax.

Graham Department Stores company, 22 stores, $731,810.42 receipts, $7,550 chain tax, $265 unit tax.

J. J. Newberry Co.

J. J. Newberry company, seven stores, $370,316.49 receipts, $2,030 chain tax, $30 unit tax.

Newman Mercantile company, one store, $650,000 receipts, $5,750 chain tax.

Sears, Roebuck and company, nine stores, $2,700,758 receipts, $71,900 chain tax, $40 unit tax.

Nelson Bros., Inc., four stores, $350,557.50 receipts, $1,850 chain tax, $15 unit tax.

J. C. Penny company, 67 stores, $10,978,252 receipts, $646,000 chain tax, $4,880 unit tax.

Melville Shoe corporation, five stores, $130,000 receipts, $150 chain tax, $20 unit tax.

G. R. Kenney Co., Inc.

G. R. Kenney company, incorporated, 14 stores, $471,968.78 receipts, $3,250 chain tax, $105 unit tax.

F. W. Woolworth company, 41 stores, $4,056,000 receipts, $130,100 chain tax, $1,300 unit tax.

H. L. Green company, incorporated, two stores, $585,975 receipts, $4,850 chain tax, $5 unit tax.

United Cigar Stores company, 10 stores, $420,000 receipts, $2,500 chain tax, $45 unit tax.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, eight stores, $162,081.35 receipts, $320 chain tax, $35 unit tax.

Ask Reduction On R. R. Fares

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—A substantial reduction in railroad passenger fares and elimination of the Pullman surcharge were recommended to the interstate commerce commission today as the last effective recourse left the railroads in their effort to recapture lost traffic.

Reporting on the result of the first comprehensive investigation ever made of the country's railroad passenger rate structure, Examiner Irving L. Koch asserted that the railroads are suffering mounting deficits because of severe losses in passenger traffic revenue since 1923.

Library Selects List Of Week's Books For Best Interest Reading

Heading this week's list of books of general interest selected from recent additions to the university library is the first volume of Will Durant's "Story of Civilization."

Other books on the list are:

Wright.

Christensen Narrowly Escapes Bad Injury In Automobile Crash

Carl Christensen, residing two miles west of Iowa City, narrowly escaped serious injury last night when the car which he was driving veered and rolled over twice at Burlington and Governor streets.

Christensen said he fell asleep and lost control of the car. He received slight cuts on the arms.

Spinning, the automobile was thrown into the path of an east-bound street car. The street cars came together with a crash and both were forced from the tracks with the wreckage of the automobile between them.

The rescue attempts were punctuated with groans and shouted prayers from the two victims and with screams from feminine spectators.

The left side and front of the car were crushed.

Wanted—Farmers By State Officials To Answer Requests

They can't find a farmer! Officials at the Iowa State Employment office yesterday received requests for 12 farm hands. Several men were placed on farms during the morning. Afternoon requests for farm help have not been filled because of lack of registered workers.

Nyle W. Jones, manager of the local office, asked last night that all men with farm experience and now unemployed register for jobs at the office in the post office building this morning.

Following the action of the joint county relief committee last week which relieved all farm workers from relief, many men in Johnson county should be seeking farm positions, Mr. Jones pointed out.

Rock Injuries

Many persons were carried to hospitals with injuries attributed to hauled rocks. An 11-year-old boy, suffering from gunshot wounds in the side, was admitted to one hospital.

Fire brigades were kept busy answering alarms of incendiary blazes. Shooting broke out again yesterday, bringing back the soldiers released from duty when the Orange day trouble seemed ended.

Fight at Funeral

The first trouble occurred at a cemetery where one of the six victims of the Catholic-Protestant fighting since last Friday was buried.

The two factions stoned each other until a volley from troops and soldiers' guns, fired over their heads, dispersed them.

Returning from the funeral, 6,000 men, carrying the British Union Jack, were fired upon by snipers from the Carrick hill, nationalist section. At Donegal street, at the other end of Carrick hill, there was heavier fire. Police knelt in the streets and poured fire into the snipers' nest.

Passengers lay on the floors of street cars as police, riding in a small tank, fired a machine gun into the air to disperse gatherings.
