Ethiopian Field Army Reported Marching Toward Italian Frontier

Selassie's Men Equipped With Modern Arms

Appearance of Army Stirs Capital, Red Cross Units Formed

ADDIS ABABA, July 29 (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie's field army from southern Ethiopia arrived today and gave the stirred capital its first evidence of the country's large scale military movement.

The troops, equipped with the most modern implements of war, supplied by the emperor, departed soon after arrival for an undisclosed destination. It was said they went to the frontier of Eritrea, the Italian colony on the east.

Caused Cheers
The appearance of the modernly equipped and well disciplined troops excited the populace to enthusiastic demonstrations. The general mobilization has not been formally proclaimed and martial activities have been limited to drilling; hence the sight caused cheers.

The 10,000 troops under the command of Dejazmach Haptekiakel, former cabinet minister, marched from their quarters in Gamu. The wife of the commander, one of the highest of the nobility as the grand-daughter of Ras Tessa-amma, late regent of Ethiopia during Emperor Menelik's illness, demanded arms and volunteered to join the army and fight in her nation's defense. Authoritative sources expressed the belief the emperor was seriously considering her request.

Government officials in general denied any knowledge of a clash at Waukat, reported in the London press.

An imperial decree establishing an Ethiopian Red Cross was another item of military preparations. It was formed yesterday at a meeting of patriotic women.

Confusion Reigns At League Meeting

GENEVA, July 29—A stalemate followed by adjournment of the League of Nations' special committee on restraint for treaty ratification brought further confusion today to representatives of powers which hope to resolve Italian and Ethiopian differences.

Jewels Worth $100,000 Stolen, Also Famous Ruby Necklace

Bold Daylight Robbery Made By Two Men

Ruby Necklace Was Once Owned By Marie Antoinette

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—While thousands of persons passed a Fifth avenue jewelry store late today two robbers stripped it of its stock and a ruby necklace once owned by Marie Antoinette.

Police estimated their loot as high as $100,000 exclusive of the necklace, which could not be priced. It had been on display in the show window for a week with a card by which the French government certified its authenticity.

It contained 25 flat rubies of one to two carats each, a diamond-ruby clasp and filigree work studded with diamonds.

The robbery occurred in the highly fashionable shopping district on Fifth avenue between Fifty-Seventh and Fifty-Eighth street, at about 5 p.m. Only Lester Harran, 27, the store manager, and Joseph Friedman, 22, a nephew of Nicolai Miller, the owner, were present in the shop.

They were preparing to carry trays of jewels to the safe at the close of the business day when a well-dressed young man entered.

"I want to see Mr. Miller about purchasing a cigaret case," he told Harran.

When the manager looked up, however, it was into the muzzle of a pistol. As Harran and Friedman were ordered to the rear of the store, a second man entered with a portfolio in his hand.

The manager and Friedman were bound and their mouths taped. The robbers then quietly and methodically cleaned out the jewel trays, including eight bracelets valued at $2,500 each. Only a $500 diamond ring, apparently overlooked, escaped notice.

The Marie Antoinette necklace was placed against a background of black velvet drapes which hid it from the inside of the shop, although visible from the sidewalk. The robber had only to thrust his hand through a small aperture in the drape and, hidden from public gaze, remove it from the window. From the sidewalk it would appear a clerk had removed the necklace.

Both developments came as the full house committee began its study of a measure drafted by democratic members in secret session and formally introduced today by Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.).

Two Friends Shoot It Out With Rifles

War Against Jews, Catholics Quieted Down by Dictator

DENVER, July 29 (AP)—Two men, long-time friends, awakened in jail today and refused to believe police who told them they fought a duel with a shotgun and rifle.

A dozen calls came to headquarters after midnight that there was shooting at the home of Harry Cox, 34, a manufacturer's representative. When Patrolmen Harry Brofman and A. H. Roush arrived they said they found Cox barricaded in the house firing a rifle in the general direction of Leonard Fitzgerald, 25, who had built himself a "fort" of trash cans in the alley.

Brofman said Cox was armed with a .30-.30 rifle and Fitzgerald with a shotgun.

Police said that when the men awakened in jail they related they had been on a mountain trip Sunday, drank some beer and could recall nothing that occurred after that.

Tax Bill Made Public, Defeat Adjournment

New Deal Leaders Score Double Victory Over Enemies

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—A double victory was chalked up in congress today by the new deal leaders seeking to push the new tax bill through before the session ends.

First, the senate tabled 52 to 10 a republican proposal that congress adjourn Aug. 10, before the tax bill could be enacted; second, the house ways and means committee rejected 16 to 6 a republican motion to eliminate graduated corporation income taxes from the bill.

Testimony Drawn Out as Senate Lobby Investigating Group Probes Utilities

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Profits of $2,800,000 to insiders of the Associated Gas and Electric company while stock holders received little or nothing were disclosed today by the senate lobby committee.

This testimony was drawn out as the committee headed into an investigation of the company's $700,000 fight against the administration public utility bill and received an account of futile efforts to locate Howard C. Hopson, important A.G. E. figure, and place him upon its witness stand.

Hopson's private companies were reported to have taken the large profits.

Before House
At the same time the bitter row deadlocking the utilities bill came before the house. A heated flurry of oratory, and a parliamentary point of order raised by a supporter of the bill and sustained by Speaker Byrns, however, left the situation unchanged.

Representative Huddleston (D-La.) presented a resolution, asking, in effect, for instructions on whether the house conferees should permit Ben Cohen, administration aide, to attend conferences on the measure as the senate conferees desire.

The point of order prevented a vote. "Mud-Slinging"

The day, too, saw a defiant Texan, Carl Estes, Longview publisher, blocked in a determined effort to read to the senate committee a statement accusing it of "mud-slinging." He got in the record, however, a vehement denial that he had been paid by the Texas Power and Light company for a radio speech opposing the utilities bill.

Communist Problem Told

Plan in Mexico to Unify Masses Into Agrarian Revolution

MOSCOW, July 29 (AP)—The plan of the communist party in Mexico is the unification of the masses into a national anti-imperialist agrarian revolution, the seventh international was told today.

Delegate Marenco of Mexico admitted in his address to the communist congress that misguided political tactics have prevented the completion of this organization. Communism, he reported, has penetrated the most important branches of workers groups, such as railway, oil fields and street car employees.

Membership Increase
Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party in the United States, reported that the native American membership has increased from 10 per cent in 1930 to 40 per cent of the present total membership of 30,000. Agents of the party, carrying on the traditions of the United States' war for independence, said Browder, have reached 1,000,000 factory workers and huge numbers of students, farmers and white-collar workers.

Traditions of 1776
"We have assimilated the revolutionary traditions of 1776," he continued. "We are the heirs of the revolutionary movements from which the United States originated."
"However the republicans blame the Roosevelt regime for the fascist tendencies in America. The Rooseveltians blame Long and Coughlin; but all of them consider coalition to be right. The republicans and the democrats are the true conductors of fascism in America."

LEAGUE-ETHIOPIA

Mussolini May Face Awkward Position

of the council to discuss the African situation, which involves several treaties, the special committee failed to reach an agreement and halted its deliberations for several months. The action was regarded in league circles as most significant.

The committee of 15 members was created as a consequence of Germany's repudiation of the military clauses of the Versailles treaty, but it was considering generally the subject of applying restraining measures to treaty violators.

New Speculation

A subcommittee has found that offending nations might be deprived of war materials and products essential to their manufacture. It also suggested they be deprived of financial credits.

These recommendations came to the full committee, but it failed either to register approval or disapproval and adjourned to meet several months hence.

This development started a new wave of speculation in quarters already speculating on the probable success of the diplomatic maneuvering of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia who has accused Italy of violating treaties and is known to desire that the league name Italy the aggressor in the African trouble.

Emperor Asks

The emperor asks specifically "an interpretation of the mission of conciliation and arbitration." He says pointedly "it rests with the council of the League of Nations to decide between the respective contentions of the two groups of arbitrators."

In another note, handed by Ethiopia's foreign minister, Belhate Gueta Heroy, to the Italian minister at Addis Ababa today, the emperor's government made this plain. It said it will not consider resumption of arbitration for a partial discussion of the dispute.

Awkward Position

These tactics were said, in league circles, to be a maneuver which might place Benito Mussolini, Italy's premier, in an awkward diplomatic position. If the council reverts the conciliation commission to its task and instructs it to go into such matters as an answer to the question, "who owns Ubbah?", a subject which Italian would not discuss at its short-lived session in Scheveningen (The Netherlands), Mussolini might find himself in the position of opposing the league.

And if the commission, after going into such subjects, makes a recommendation which the council approves unanimously, any nation defying it could be pronounced an aggressor.

Peasants Will Return Home After Demanding Relief at Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, July 29 (AP)—The army of peasants which marched on the king's palace to deliver its demands for relief prepared to return to home today upon the government's promise of help.

Until Prime Minister Theodore Stauning received their deputation and assured them the cabinet would consider their plight, the peasants squatted in the courtyard of Amalienborg palace.

Their ranks estimated at 50,000, they muttered a threat of a farm strike and expressed a determination not to move until the premier heard their case.

The peasants in a resolution delivered to Stauning, sought minimum prices for the produce, reduction of taxes and a new moratorium on their debts.

Some of the participants in the march, who were recruited from farmhands throughout Denmark, unobtrusively wore the Swastika of Germany and the hammer and sickle of the Soviet.

TAX BILL

Backers Score Double Victory

Democratic leaders so maneuvered things as to shut off discussion, Senator McNary of Oregon, the G.O.P. chief, moved that the Hastings resolution be considered. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, promptly moved that McNary's motion be tabled.

No Discussion

Robinson's motion was not debatable. When the roll was called only 10 republicans voted against him. Four republicans and LaFollette, the lone progressive, joined 47 democrats in voting the other way.

The full house committee, in its first two-hour session on the bill written by democratic committee-men, took only one vote. That was to strike out the section stipulating that all corporations making a net income of $15,000 a year or less shall pay a 13 1/4 per cent tax on it and those making more than that a 14 1/4 per cent levy.

Regardless of Size

That schedule would replace the existing 13 3/4 per cent tax on all corporation net income, regardless of size. The president had asked a range of 10 3/4 to 16 3/4 per cent, but even the democrats had rejected that as unfair. Some conceded the 13 1/4 - 14 1/4 rate was a "face saver" agreed to in order to prevent outright "repudiation" of the president's recommendation.

A further shift fight on that point when the bill reaches the house floor, possibly late this week, was expected.

As the committee continued its study of the tentative bill with the aim of reporting it to the house by tomorrow night, republicans charged an apparent intention to "jam" the bill through the committee without change.

Strictly Partisan

On the corporation income tax ballot the vote was strictly partisan, 16 democrats against six republicans, although many of the 16 democrats did not approve the levy. But, for political reasons, they said they had agreed to "go along."

"That just shows," said Representative Woodruff (R-Mich.), a committee-man, "that the democrats have drafted their bill and intend to jam it through without regard to their own real wishes, much less ours."

Further republican committee attempts to change the bill were forecast, but it was intimated they would be made without hope of success and simply for the purpose of "building up a record."

As consideration of the bill con-

Irene Ruppert Is Honored by Place in Berlin Recital

Irene Ruppert, young Iowa City musician, and a former piano student of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the University of Iowa music department, gained recognition for her talent when she appeared in a recital at the Berlin Conservatory of Music recently, according to reports received here.

Miss Ruppert is a graduate of St. Mary's high school here. She attended Clarke college at Dubuque and received B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Iowa.

German newspapers including the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, Berliner Lokal Anzeiger, and Der Angriff carried favorable reviews of the recital with emphasis upon the presentation of Schumann's "Papillons."

Numbers which received special note were Schumann's "Sonata in G minor," opus 22, and Schumann's "Papillons," opus 2.

St. Wenceslaus

Members of St. Wenceslaus Ladies' club will entertain at their weekly bridge and euchre party at the church parlors tomorrow at 2:15 p.m.

Prayer Meeting

Union prayer meeting will take place at the home of Elmer Bowman in North Liberty tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. J. W. Justice will serve as leader.

Today's News From Camp Cardinal

A fairyland program which included taking campers into fairyland was presented Sunday night at Camp Cardinal by the third and fourth patrol of unit two. The girls went to bed and were awakened by a fairy wand. They were given tear discs, which admitted them into fairyland. In the woods a campfire surrounded by the Girl Scouts was the setting for the program presented by the two patrols. Poems and stories were read. One member of fairyland played an enchanted flute.

Last night unit one presented a program of impersonations. Mrs. Linder, mother of Mary Ann, furnished popcorn for the campers. Mrs. Edward Jones, mother of Doris, furnished fresh beans for the girls' supper. Mrs. A. V. O'Brien, chairman of St. Mary's troop committee, brought cookies and individual Hershey bars to the camp for each girl, and Mrs. Fackler furnished cup cakes.

Gretchen Kuever, a visitor at the camp, brought the Girl Scouts marshmallows. Mrs. Vern Bales made her official visit to the camp the last two days, and Miss Lane of Anadarko, Okla., is also a visitor at the camp.

Quota System Increases Number of Patients, Lowers Cost

Distribution Over State More Equal

Plan in Operation Since February '34; All Counties Share

An increase in hospital care with a planned economy is the basis for operation of the University hospitals under the present quota system. A review of the 20 years of hospital operation is contained in the current University of Iowa News Bulletin.

The quota system, which culminated 20 years of hospital legislation, became effective Feb. 24, 1934. Under this plan, state patients are committed to the University hospitals from the various counties if they can be received within 30 days.

Because of this apportionment, patients can receive immediate attention and a waiting list is prevented. This plan also provides a more equitable distribution of the hospital service throughout the state.

Each of Counties Share

Each of the 99 counties in the state shares this hospital service in proportion to population. This makes possible appropriation of treatment of state patients on a budget plan, with each county informed in advance on the number of patients it will be allotted during the coming year.

Since the plan was introduced the cost per patient has decreased and the number treated increased.

In the year 1928 to 1929, the individual state patients treated totaled 7,693. The number of this type of patients was increased to 14,029 in the year 1933 to 1934. This figure reveals more than a 98 per cent increase in the number of state patients treated in five years.

Cost Declines

The total all-inclusive cost of treatment per individual state patient showed a decline of 43 per cent in 1933 to 1934 below the cost of 1928 to 1929.

The quota plan stipulates that county authorities be continuously informed concerning the availability of beds in each clinical service. Commitments are made by the district courts, and if the service is not available at the University hospitals, county boards of supervisors provide care for the patients at home or in an institution at county expense.

Various safeguards have been devised, under the law, to prevent difficulties in determining facts of legal residence and dependence.

750 Cared for Daily

The general hospital has 700 beds and the Children's hospital 200. At the present time the two hospitals care for 750 patients daily. Last year 886 patients were handled each day in the institutions, in addition to 23,486 cases in the out-patient departments.

Eighty-seven per cent of this service was rendered to state patients, eight per cent to cost and five per cent to private patients. A staff of 230 nurses and 114 doctors is maintained by the University hospitals.

A strong economy measure, which has provided convenience for state patients, as well as a saving, was the introduction of a hospital owned ambulance system in April, 1932. The state has saved $177,151 during the brief operation of this system. Patients are transported to and from the hospitals, each of the 17 ambulances routed so as to make possible the most economical run.

Accessory Services Provided

Various accessory services are provided at the University hospitals for the benefit of patients. Included in these services are a library, a school system for children who are able to participate in school work and occupational therapy instruction. Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. members cooperate in entertainment and social service gives follow-up care if necessary. An orthopedic appliance shop is also provided.

The record of progress of University hospitals, now under the direction of Robert E. Neff, has been aided considerably by at least three legislative measures.

Commitment Provided

In 1915 the general assembly provided for commitment to the University hospital of children suffering from deformities or maladies for which there was reasonable prospect of remedy. This act is known as the Perkins law.

The general assembly, as a result of the popularity of the Perkins law, unanimously voted for Children's hospital and extension of the service to adults.

Last of these measures is the quota system which became effective Feb. 24, 1934.

Plan Annual Music Festival

Expect Final Rush Of Entries to Send Total Past 400 Mark

With a final rush of entries expected to send the total past the 400-mark, tabulation and classification of entries for the Iowa high school music festival will begin Saturday.

After Friday, no applications for membership in the high school association will be accepted. Several hundred already have enrolled.

Survivors of two elimination contests will play and sing in the festival at the University of Iowa May 2, 3, and 4. It is expected that about 5,100 competitors from some 135 schools will qualify for the affair.

Schools will be classified according to enrollment—AA, 401 or over; A, 401 to 800; B, 151 to 400; C, 150 or less. They will then be notified as to the exact dates and sites of the sub-district contests of March 14, 15, 16, and 21, 22, and 23.

While officials make final plans for the opening of competition, teachers and supervisors of music in many Iowa schools will attend the university's annual conference Feb. 22 and 23. They will hear visiting speakers as well as the playing of required festival test pieces by university musical organizations.

Contractors' Group Plans To Cooperate

Plans to actively cooperate with the home modernization program under the national housing act were outlined at a meeting of the Electrical Contractors' association at Smith's cafe last night.

C. W. Hahn, government field representative for the housing administration, explained briefly to the group how funds for home repair and modernization might be obtained by persons interested.

Before the close of the meeting, definite plans of procedure were worked out whereby the various building crafts and trades might cooperate to begin a campaign for better housing in Iowa City.

Plans were made by the association to meet with other building associations in the near future. Joe Munkhoff presided at the meeting.

Historical Society Curators Elect 22 Iowans as Members

The State Historical society elected 22 Iowans to membership at a meeting of the board of curators yesterday afternoon.

Those elected are: Howard C. Baldwin of Cascade, William S. Beardsley of New Virginia, Frank C. Byers of Cedar Rapids, Marley D. Clark of Mt. Vernon, H. E. Daniels of Churdan, A. Claire Dewey of Washington, Ben B. Doran of Grand Junction.

T. F. Driscoll of Farmington, O. N. Hultman of Stanton, John J. Jenkins of Columbus Junction, LeRoy Mercer of Iowa City, John H. Mitchell of Ft. Dodge, C. D. Moore of Urbana, Dr. E. A. Moore of Harlan.

Edward N. Ove of Dike, Mrs. Carolyn C. Pendray of Maquoketa, Garritt E. Roelofs of Sioux Center, John J. Russell of Iowa City, Mrs. John L. Sloane of Des Moines, Thomas Stimpson of Anamosa, John W. Tobin of Vinton, and William Treimer of Hartley.

Dentistry Students Live Up to Ancient Adage in Their Work

"An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

This might well be the creed of dental students who are carving duplicate teeth. The duplicates, created from bone with a hand file and chisels, lack only the natural coloring of the original teeth.

Twenty real teeth and their replicas are shown in a display case in the dental anatomy office of the college of dentistry.

Johnston Asks Court To Reconsider Recent Ruling on Petition

Rehearing on the motion to restrain the Iowa City Light and Power company from intervening in the council-coal dealers natural gas battle was asked by George E. Johnston, Iowa City coal dealer, in district court yesterday.

District Judge D. V. Jackson, in the absence of Judge Harold D. Evans, last week overruled Mr. Johnston's application to set aside the intervention order granted to the light company.

Mr. Johnston contends that one judge should rule on all matters concerned with the case. He pointed out that the intervention order was granted by Judge Evans and the hearing on the motion to restrain the light company from intervening should also be held before Judge Evans.

Ticket Agent Lists Four Changes For Rock Island Trains

Four changes in the train schedule of the Rock Island railroad in Iowa City were announced yesterday by Frank E. Meachem, local ticket agent.

To provide an earlier arrival in Chicago, the eastbound Rocky Mountain Limited will leave Iowa City at 1:44 a.m.

Long's Foes Ask for His "Abdication"

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 29 (AP)—The scattered ranks of opposition to Huey Long's dictatorship today demanded that he abdicate his "throne" and called upon elected officials and representatives to "renounce" his leadership.

As the Anti-Long Square Deal association's ultimatum was issued

City at 9:05 a.m. instead of 9:25 a.m. The afternoon train to Chicago, No. 10, will arrive in Iowa City at 2:46, which is six minutes earlier than at present.

Colorado Express, No. 6, the night train to Chicago, will leave at 11:59 p.m. instead of 11:08 p.m.

Only one change effects westbound trains: No. 23 which now arrives at 2:05 a.m. will arrive in Iowa City at 1:44 a.m.

Long's Foes Ask for His "Abdication"

Long's guardsmen were patrolling the statehouse grounds by the hundreds, enforcing martial law order in the parish.

Speculation was rife over the convening of a special session of the legislature at an early date, but sources close to the administration denied it.

Judge J. D. Womack, recently appointed by Governor O. K. Allen as one of the district judges here, today issued an order directing Sheriff Robert L. Pettit to locate and take possession of the books and records of the police jury, governing body of the parish.

Judge Womack's order was issued after Alice Lee Grosjean, state supervisor of public accounts, said auditors she sent to check the parish's books found some of them missing.

The Square Deal statement described Long as a "mad individual" who had set himself up as dictator "without constitutional authority and without even office giving him constitutional prerogatives within the state."

Bareback Vogue-

Startles Parisian Audience at 1935 Spring Style Show

PARIS, Jan. 29 (AP)—A sophisticated audience ooh-ed and aah-ed today as the nudist, naughtiest fashions Paris has seen in years were shown on the 1935 style stage.

Gowns for spring and evening displayed by Robert Piguet had, above the waist, no top, no back, nothing but a little piece of cloth in front held up by three whalebones which the gaping buyers and newspaper people thought might slip any minute.

Fullness in Back

The gowns, fashioned of silver satin, navy taffeta and yellow organdy, were designed with immensely wide skirts, with all the fullness in the back, and were finished off with a cluster of bright roses precariously perched on a little bit of bodice.

Other evening gowns were made of the new flowered cotton crepe, with a very low drop shoulder line, puff sleeves and skirts very full below the knees.

Follows Bareback Vogue

Chanel, too, followed the bareback vogue, showing country suits in plain or dotted wool jersey with the skirts attached to silk blouses still very low in the back which she called "sun bath suits."

Piguet displayed beige, navy and black spring coats designed entirely in a new smart line—no collars, big sleeves, belted at the waistline and fullness in the back of the skirt.

Contrast

In contrast to the daring modes at today's shows were the spring fashions staged elsewhere in which the demure styles of the "gay nineties" were predominant—though skillfully blended with twentieth century touches.

How do you CHOOSE?

EVERY time you make a purchase you make a choice. Buying a certain product may be so much a matter of habit that you don't realize you are choosing. But the fact remains that in accepting one brand of goods you are always rejecting others; and the satisfaction you get from what you buy depends on the knowledge of quality and values that guides your selection.

How do you know which bed-sheets, or toiletries, or which radio will give you service you require? You can't personally test everything you buy and compare it with all the other products in its class. But there is a way to find out which brand fits your needs.

The people who are most successful in their buying—who achieve the highest percentage of satisfaction from the things they own and use—are those who consistently read the advertising columns, and buy consistently advertised goods.

Choosing isn't just "guessing" when you follow the guidance of the advertisements.

You can depend on advertised goods. It pays to read the advertisements.

Seven Speakers Will Address Annual Historical Conference

Professor Wilson Of Harvard University To Open Sessions

Teachers meeting here Friday and Saturday for the fifteenth annual historical conference will be addressed by seven speakers, all of whom are prominent in history and educational circles.

At the opening session, Friday morning, Prof. Howard E. Wilson of the graduate school of education at Harvard university will speak on "Teaching Controversial Issues in the Social Studies." Professor Wilson is president of the National Council for the Social Studies, a national organization of teachers. He is the author of "The Fusion of the Social Studies."

Also appearing at this session will be J. E. Stonecipher, principal of Roosevelt high school, Des Moines. His talk, "Revision of the Social Studies Curriculum in Des Moines," concerns a new movement in this field of which he is the instigator.

The president of the Mississippi Valley Historical association, Prof. Lester B. Shippee of the history department at the University of Minnesota, will lecture at the Friday afternoon session. Known as a specialist in the field of recent American history, he will present "What the Post War Years Have Brought." He is the author of "Recent American History."

Prof. George R. Davies of the college of commerce, will also speak Friday afternoon. Professor Davies has selected "Some Consequences of Economic Change." He is the author of "Social Environment," "National Evolution," and "Introduction to Economic Statistics."

Speaking at the closing session Saturday morning will be Harvey Ingham, editor-in-chief of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, and Prof. Preston W. Slosson of the University of Minnesota. Mr. Ingham is a world traveler. His talk, "Present Conditions in Europe," is based on observations and first hand experiences.

Professor Slosson will discuss the most timely subject which appears on the program: "Modern Dictatorships." He was with the department of state in 1917, on the American peace commission from 1918-19, and was visiting Carnegie professor at British universities during 1932-33. He is the author of several books, among them "Twentieth Century Europe," "The Problem of Austro-German Union," and "The Great Crusade and After."

A public lecture Friday night will be addressed by Prof. Bernadotte E. Schmitt of the history department at the University of Chicago. Professor Schmitt is editor of the Journal of Modern History. He is the author of "England and Germany 1749-1814," "Triple Entente and Triple Alliance," and his "Coming of the War" is regarded as one of the distinctive analyses of the causes of the World War. His subject Friday night will be "The United States and the World."

An informal luncheon Friday noon will center around a discussion of "Research in Small Colleges." The discussion will be led by Prof. O. F. Ander of Augustana college and Prof. Russell M. Cooper of Cornell college. Prof. Russell V. Nelson of Coe college will preside.

President Eugene A. Gimore will welcome the visiting teachers at a dinner in Iowa Union Friday evening.

SEEN from OLD CAPITOL

by TOM YOSELOFF

Yesterday we vowed that Frivol had had much more attention herein than it ever deserved. But it seems that the Frivol boys just can't leave well enough alone, and yesterday J. H. Kelly, its freshman assistant editor, came through again.

Mr. Kelly, being a youth of unfurrowed brow, and smooth cheek, naively seeks publicity by daring us to publish his letter in full. (The letter consists of 500 words, most of them misspelled or incorrectly used.) Unfortunately, however, matters of greater interest await our attention, so I will have to confine my remarks on the letter to a short comment.

Mr. Kelly thanks us for our interest and our lesson on the necessity of accuracy in journalism. He apologizes for imposing upon us, referring to himself as "a mere freshman." This, of course, is as it should be. Most interesting, however, was his proffered explanation of what is wrong with Frivol. "Excuse the tone of this letter, I'm not at all hot under the collar, but as you know, writing for Frivol dulls the wits and removes the sense of humor." As a matter of fact, we hadn't known it, but we've suspected it...

Having disposed of the letter, we were again brought face to face with this question when we heard that Editor John Pryor is planning to get nasty about this department in the next issue of Frivol. If we may be allowed to offer a bit of advice—we feel that would be unwise on the part of Frivol, for this department might retaliate by publishing a list of items which Frivol has plagiarized following their appearance herein. And we'd have documented evidence. It would be most unwise...

But, as we pointed out, there are things of greater interest. For example, yesterday a social note came to our desk, with the information that Richard Smith and Ellsworth Glatly, who, you may recall, had decorated their room with photographs of the 15 Hawkeye beauty candidates, have now discarded this form of decoration. The current heart interest is Greta Garbo.

The boys are planning to get an autographed photo of the retiring Greta. But we raise a minor note of protest. It seems to us that patriotism—to say nothing of patronizing home industry—requires more devotion to the Hawkeye beauties...

General Notices Ph.D. in English

The preliminary examination for candidates for the doctorate in English turned to the Iowa campus for a short visit. When he returns to his osteopathic college in Kirksville, Mo., next week, he will take with him plans to organize a chapter on the Kirksville campus.

This department hereby unearths a foul plot which Frivol may copy in its next issue: A student here conceived the bright idea of calling women at the various sorority houses with fraud in his heart. The conversations would proceed along this pattern:

He: This is a representative of (named a Chicago newspaper). I'm in town now, getting photographs of University of Iowa women who are likely to be married within the next year or so, to be used in our society sections.
She: "Why, I'm sorry, I don't have a picture, but I could have one taken, I suppose.
He (again): Oh, that won't be necessary. We'd be very glad to take your picture. Could you arrange to pose, say, next Sunday at 2:30?

The payoff was that the young man now has five dates with well known sorority women. And they probably honestly (and with thrills) believe they are going to have their pictures taken for a Chicago newspaper. This department is keeping its ear to the ground for further developments.

Faculty Members To Report on Meetings

Four faculty members will describe the American Society of Civil Engineers meeting which they attended recently at New York city before a luncheon meeting of the college of engineering faculty this noon in Iowa Union. The speakers will be Dean Clement C. Williams, Prof. Raymond Kittredge and Prof. Frederic T. Mavis, all of the college of engineering; and Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department.

BITS ABOUT SPORTS

by Jack Gurwell

SPORTS

ALWAYS get a kick out of the way a home crowd greets an invading quintet. Sometimes, when the locals are heavily favored to win, the fans will watch with anti-climatic pleasure...

WHILE THE Iowans were waiting, they played about with the ball. On the opposite side from the table that served as a press box was a group of lads who would cheer the Iowans, then give vent to gentle booing. Johnny Barke seemed to come in for more than his share...

FOR a wild and woolly contest, the affair won most of the prizes. It was race horse basketball all the way. Iowa would shoot, the rebound going to Drake, and a blue shirted lad would race up the court for a try at the home hoop...

For the first time this season, Coach Williams used Blackner at a forward position and Walsh at center. With Barke the other forward, and Kunkel and Robby as guards, the quintet averaged 6 feet 3 inches in height, far above the Drake average...

FOLLOWING the game, and while wending our way through the departing throng, we heard one fellow inquire as to whether Drake met Iowa State again this season. The fellow said he would bet a buck Drake could take the Cyclones in a second game and would then be state champions...

Wayne, Neb. (AP)—Kelster's two field goals in the waning minutes of play gave the Buena Vista college quintet a 30 to 26 victory over the Wayne Teachers college basketball team in a rough game here last night.

The screen's newest star—A woman who was meant for love, beautiful, alluring and fascinating Mady Christians in "A Wicked Woman" which starts at the Varsity theatre today. In the supporting cast are Jean Parker, Betty Furness, Charles Bickford, Jackie Searle and Sterling Holloway.

FINAL GLOVES EXAMINATION MONDAY

Entries Total 59; Robes For Team on Hand

Plan Bleachers To Help Spectators Watch All Bouts By JACK GURWELL

Kenneth Cross, tow-headed 175 pounder, was the first Golden Gloves physical examination last night, and he came early because his basketball team was playing shortly after 7 o'clock...

Some arrived too late, some called and asked for a postponement of their examination. So the management announces here and now that the date for the Golden Gloves physical examination will be Monday night, Feb. 4...

Robes Here The management also takes pleasure in announcing the arrival of the robes to be worn by the Chicago Tribune's Tournament of Champions meet. The robes will be on display in Bremer's show window starting today...

The official entry list now totals 59, with probably 10 or 12 more entries expected before the closing date, Saturday, Feb. 2. The 147 pound division leads the lists with 15 fighters signed to fight in the preliminaries Feb. 6 and 7...

Take Examination Included in the group that was on hand for the examination last night were: Henry Hamilton and Leon Lind, 118 pounders; James Tate, 147 pound division; Rowland Hunt and John Irwin, 160 pound division; Seymour Zubalsky and Leo Cain, 175 pound division; and M. E. Pollich, heavyweight, and Joseph McGuire.

For the benefit of fans who were forced to stand in the rear of the American Legion hall during the bouts last year, we have arranged for bleachers to be erected, increasing the seating capacity and making for a better view of proceedings in the ring. Also, the two nights of preliminaries will allow bouts to be run off in reasonable time...

Wayne, Neb. (AP)—Kelster's two field goals in the waning minutes of play gave the Buena Vista college quintet a 30 to 26 victory over the Wayne Teachers college basketball team in a rough game here last night.

Central Five In 27-22 Win Over Simpson

PELLA, Jan. 29 (AP)—Central's Dutchmen got off to a good start and coasted through to victory over Simpson, 27 to 22, here tonight in a close guarding Iowa conference basketball game.

At the start of the contest the Dutchmen gathered in seven points while the Methodists were held scoreless. The half ended with Central holding the lead, 15 to 8.

Despite the excellent guarding of the Simpson guards, Carlson and Sharples, the Dutchmen managed to total 12 points in the second half while Simpson did better with 14, although the Methodist counters did not threaten the Dutchmen's lead. The Estherville Junior college under, copped scoring honors with three field goals and four charity tosses for 10 points.

The trio of boxers above, Shorty Mangel, Bob McElroy and Leo Cain, will be back again this year to fight in the Daily Iowan's second annual Golden Gloves. Mangel reached the finals in the 112 pound class last year, McElroy fought in the 160 pound class, and Cain carried off the 175 pound championship.

Hawks Resume Drill for Big 10 Chase

Tickets Selling Fast For Iowa Minnesota Tilt Here Saturday

Basketball fans, eager to witness the second meeting this year of the league-leading Hawkeys and the always dangerous Minnesota Gophers here Saturday night, have already purchased about 5,700 seats, including all but 700 reserved seats...

Reserved seat sales now total about 4,900, he said, while about 800 of the 7,300 general admission tickets have been sold. With favorable weather, the influx of spectators Saturday evening may tax the capacity of the fieldhouse.

Bad driving conditions, including snow, fog, and icy highways, held down the attendance at the first three home conference games. Nevertheless, Iowa holds the Big Ten 1933 record for a single contest, 9,000 at the Indiana tilt of Jan. 19.

Number "77" Through Grange Will Hang Up Molekins For Coaching Job?

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29 (INS)—The Ghost has taken his last gallop and he's not sorry.

Harold "Red" Grange, who'll be 32 years old in June, and who made "77" the most famous football numeral in the world, today reaffirmed he was "through playing football."

Grange, Illinois university's immortal halfback, said he planned to coach football and probably would make an announcement in March 'n Chicago. He has "three or four things in mind."

"The 'Galloping Ghost' finished his gridiron career in a whirlwind of glory Sunday by helping the Chicago Bears ride roughshod 21 to 0 over their distinguished rivals, the New York Giants. His 41 yard dash brought 20,000 fans to their feet in the closing minutes of play.

"And now I've played enough. I'm going to get out of the game before they kill me.

Legs Can't Take It "It's the old legs. They can't take it any more.

"I want to get out of the game before people start feeling sorry for me.

"I won't be sorry to quit playing football. I figure I've played 265 games—nine seasons of professional football and before that, 25 college and 40 high school games.

Enough Football "That's enough football to last a lifetime.

"I'll never be away from the game.

Low Scoring Game Settled By Free Throws; 5 Baskets Made

CEDAR RAPIDS, Jan. 29 (Special)—Two dribble-in-shots that rolled off the hoop in the final minutes of play left St. Mary's of Iowa City on the short end of a 16 to 15 score here last night and a St. Wenceslaus quintet the victor.

Both outfits put on strong defensive displays to curtail scoring from the field, and free throws decided the contest. The invading Mariani connected from the foul line for 11 points, being held to two baskets from the field, both garnered in the first half. St. Wenceslaus managed to eke out three baskets, two coming in the first half.

Close Guarding The whole game was one of spirited, ed defensive play, with both teams' guards turning in excellent performances. The score was tied at the end of the first quarter, 6 to 5, but the Wencies pulled ahead to lead at the half 10 to 8.

Each team managed for only a free throw in the third quarter, with St. Mary's outscoring the locals 6 to 5 in the final period. St. Mary's had two fine chances to score in the final minute of the game with shots from under the basket after speedy breaks from the sides. The ball rolled around, then bounced away however and the final gun stopped a St. Mary's action rally.

Adrian Fouls Out Skip Adrian, star St. Mary's forward, was forced from the game at the start of the fourth quarter via the personal foul route.

Swimmers To Defend Crowns At A.A.U. Meet

Ames Affair Friday To Act as 'Warm Up' For Big Ten Tiffs

University of Iowa's swimming team yesterday continued to fix themselves for a defense of their team title when they journey to Ames Friday morning to compete in the Midwestern A.A.U. championships.

Aside from being their first bit of competition this season, the meet will also mark the only "warm-up" the Hawkeys will have before plunging into conference competition with Minnesota, one week from Saturday.

Bill Busby, Jack Sieg, and Dick Westerfield will defend individual titles in low board diving, 300 medley and 150 yard back stroke, respectively, at Ames. Sieg holds the record for the medley event (100 back, 100 breast, 100 free style).

For the second time in as many weeks, the Iowa-Wisconsin swimming meet has been called off.

A misunderstanding with Badger authorities as to the date of the dual caused the postponement, Coach David A. Armbruster said yesterday. Wisconsin was originally scheduled to appear at the field house natatorium Jan. 19, but the date was changed to Feb. 4 when snow made roads impassable.

An attempt will be made to arrange another date, according to Coach Armbruster.

Gus Suhr, Pirate 1st Sacker, Wants Increase

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Gussie Suhr, Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman wintering here, today sent back his 1935 contract unsigned. He said he wanted more money than was offered.

Because of his record last season, Suhr indicated he would not sign unless he got what he wanted.

Texas Appointed To Summer Staff At University

Appointment of Prof. D. K. Brace of the University of Texas to the University of Iowa physical education faculty for the summer session of 1935 was announced yesterday.

The Texan, who is head of the department of physical education at the Dallas school, will teach methods and principles in his subject and a course in natural gymnastics.

Professor Brace is the author of numerous articles on physical education, and recently published a book, "The Brace Tests," setting forth methods of measuring native ability.

ward, was forced from the game at the start of the fourth quarter via the personal foul route. Joe Maher, St. Mary's forward, captured scoring honors for the game with Skala and Kandl of the locals, each getting six points. Maher's total resulted from six free throws, while Skala and Kandl each garnered a basket and four free throws.

U. High Preps For Loop Tilt

Cagers Practice On Scoring Drive Lacking in Recent Games

Back on the job after an attack of influenza, Coach Joy Kistler sent his University high cagers through a brisk scrimmage last night in preparation for the approaching conference tilt at Mechanicsville Friday night.

The main trouble the river mentor has to contend with, is the fact that his varsity cagers have been unable in the last few games to penetrate the enemy defense. Much time will be spent in trying to perfect the scoring punch which has been sadly lacking in the last two conference tilts.

With the game being played on their own stamping grounds, and the fact that they are rated higher in conference standings, the Mechanicsville quintet is given a slight edge over the local Blue and White five. However, the river team, losing a close tilt to the touted Anamosa aggregation on its home floor, will be in a revengeful mood and may upset the dope bucket in Friday's encounter.

Penn Loses 45-33 Game To Parsons

OSKALOOSA, Jan. 29 (AP)—Parsons defeated Penn 45 to 33 in a fast Iowa conference game here tonight. The Wildcats started off with an 8 to 0 lead and were never headed, although the Quakers knotted the count 20 to 20 early in the second half after Parsons had led 20 to 16 at the intermission.

Black and Minor topped the Parsons scoring with 13 and 11 points respectively. Rhiner with 11 points led the Quakers. Penn was weak at the foul line, sinking only 3 out of 18 attempts.

Art Shires, Erstwhile Ball Player, To Fight Sud Hunter in Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 29 (AP)—Art Shires—the same boisterous "Whattaman" who fought his way out of the American league and American association and ended up as a mediocre first baseman for the Fort Worth Texas league club last year—will try a comeback in the boxing ring.

He has been matched to fight 190-pound Sid Hunter of Comanche, Tex., here Thursday night. "I figure I'm the Texas heavyweight champ now but I guess I will have to go through the formality of winning it," Shires said.

Seven Games To be Played On Loop Card

Little Time Remains For Practice Until Minnesota Invasion

Coach Rolfe Williams now faces the task of bringing his Hawkeye basketball team back into winning form for the final seven games of Big Ten play and a chance at a conference championship. Far off form against Drake Monday night and with additional weariness because of exams yet ahead, the Iowans face a stiff struggle to return to peak condition for the Minnesota game here Saturday.

Plainly Ragged Last week's inactivity on the part of the Iowa regulars was clearly evident at Des Moines, where a strong Drake outfit ran the Hawkeys ragged while administering a 45 to 25 defeat.

But the Hawkeye case mentor, already formulating plans for the Gopher encounter, got his final lap drive started yesterday. With the exception of several regulars excused for examinations, the Iowa squad went through a long drill.

Coach Williams has hopes for at least two lengthy sessions for his entire squad this week, but any member may be excused for study or for examinations. Johnny Grim, lone regular who did not make the trip to Des Moines Monday, because of a cold, reported for a light practice yesterday, and Coach Williams believes he will be in trim for Minnesota.

The problem of conditioning the players for the first game of the final lap is a big one. For the first time in many years, the team must play a conference game immediately after examinations. Usually the schedule sends the Hawks against a non-conference foe at the conclusion of the test period, with the Big Ten campaign being resumed several days later.

The present state of affairs sends the Iowans against a band of revenge seeking Minnesotans, who would gladly turn the tables and take Iowa in return for the 39 to 23 overtime beating at Minneapolis Jan. 14. Although now resting in seventh place with an even break in four games, Minnesota is a far more dangerous team than its position reveals.

The tireless Gophers, with their heavy scoring center, Gordon Norman, and tricky George Roscoe heading a "milling" style of play, can deal the Hawkeye cause a hard blow.

At Minneapolis the Iowans and the Gophers staged a bitter battle from the opening whistle to the closing gun of a five minute overtime period, and only final baskets by Johnny Barke put the tilt on ice. From now on the remaining foes will be shooting at Iowa, with Indiana and improved Ohio State and Michigan quintets eager to cut loose with fatal fireworks.

Mason City Juniors Win 56-32 Contest

MASON CITY, Jan. 29 (AP)—Mason City's Junior college hit its scoring stride here tonight and snowed the Estherville Junior college under, 56 to 32.

The Mason City reserves downed Plymouth, 32 to 19.

Stanford Track Team May Not Enter I. C. 4A, N.C.A.A. Competition

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Jan. 29 (AP)—Stanford's track team, holder of the I.C.A.A.A. and National Collegiate A.A. championships, may not compete in either class this spring, it was indicated today, because of the time this taken from studies.

Neither of the major meets was included in the list of the Indians' dates, and Graduate Manager Alfred R. Masters said chances of Stanford entering are small.

By ART SNIDER

St. Pat's basketball stock, fluctuating in a decidedly uncertain manner in recent weeks, soared to parmount heights last night as the furious Irish smote down St. Mary's of Moline, Ill., 35 to 30, in a turbulent battle at the Court street gym.

Abashed, heretofore, at the very mention of the words "St. Mary's," the green-clad Irish succeeded in casting off the jinx which three other Marian quintets had spun about them this season and added another win to their waning record.

Although clearly out-performing the invaders in all phases of play, the Shamrocks were benevolently abetted by the former's free throwing inaccuracy inasmuch as only six of 18 opportunities were converted. An aggregate of 28 fouls, including one technical, were detected by Referee "Red" Strickler during the brisk combat.

It was not the shy and reserved Irish quintet which fans have seen so often this season that took the floor last night. It was, instead, an aggressive, rugged group, pouncing upon free balls as if it were a diamond and intercepting passes with laudable consistency.

Out-maneuvering their guards through skillful feinting and fast footwork, Healy and Carrigg led the Shamrock offense with 10 and 9 respectively. Leuz, at guard, was a shining light in grabbing the ball from the bankboard, while Coen turned in one of his best games this season in spite of the fact that he had to play under wraps in the second half because of three fouls against him.

Irish Lead at Half The Blue and White were off to a four point lead before Leuz registered on an out-of-bounds play and Coen followed a shot to tie the count. Van Coullian converted Toomey's foul, and Scheib followed with a bucket to again put the invaders in the lead, but here the vexed Shamrocks showered in an avalanche of goals to hold an 18 to 10 margin at the halftime.

Healy and Carrigg paced a second half spree which saw the Irish at least eight points ahead throughout except for the closing moments when a belated Marian rally was stifled.

Neither of the major meets was included in the list of the Indians' dates, and Graduate Manager Alfred R. Masters said chances of Stanford entering are small.

Amana Colonies on Upgrade Under New Plan, Speaker Says

"Unemployment among members has been wiped out and substantial increases in the wages of the workers have been made during the last three years, under the new system of government in the Amana colonies," Arthur Barlow, business manager of the colonies, declared last night before the Unitarian Men's club.

"Modified capitalism," as it is termed, has embodied modern theories of government with the old to take care of the problems of unemployment, old age relief, and sickness benefits, with great success, the speaker said.

"The chief objective of the present plan was to abolish unemployment," Mr. Barlow pointed out. "This has been attained, and no member is unemployed at present. In fact there are non-members on the payroll now."

Wages during the three years have increased at least 50 per cent in every instance, and in some cases, much greater increase has been made, the general manager asserted.

Physicians are paid by the corporations to take care of every family. They are paid on the basis of the number of families in the colony. In this manner they care for all the members at an equal cost. Besides the practice in the colonies, doctors are allowed to take cases from the outside, Mr. Barlow explained.

"The old age care has been very successful, and we look forward with some confidence to the time that this problem can be completely settled," the speaker said.

The wages paid, together with the old age benefits, sickness relief, and steady employment, put the pay scale on par with that of the outside, he declared. In addition to these things, the members are given a 15 per cent discount, which brings their wages to NRA standards.

"The Amanas are cooperating with the NRA and also the government corn-hog plan to the full extent of the provisions," he stated.

Education is tending toward a higher standard, and although there is much more work to be done in this field, the members are loyal, willing and helpful in gaining higher planes, he continued.

"We have almost a perfect democracy, we are not without individualism, and the benevolent features are fairly successful," he said in summing up the report.

"The 1934 birth rate was below the death rate," Mr. Barlow said in answer to a question, "but this is the first time in years that this has occurred and we are confident that it will not continue. The birth and death rates are almost equal as a rule," he said.

"We are not rich, as individuals, but on the other hand we are not in want. We realize that the return of prosperity will bring its problems—we face them unafraid. This is not an ideal plan and the possibility of future problems naturally arises. We can only rely on our carefully made plans," Mr. Barlow said in conclusion.

The speaker answered many questions on the life and customs of the Amana people, and a brief discussion followed his address.

Fear Spreads When 32 Die From Poison

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 29 (AP)—Fear, bordering on panic, spread through squalid sections of the city tonight as deaths from alcohol poisoning increased to 15, making a total of 32 in this central New York region.

In two other industrial cities of the Mohawk valley there were 17 deaths from a deadly intoxicating beverage, sold illegally to the impetuous in shadowed alleys and filthy dives.

At Utica, important textile manufacturing center, there have been 15 deaths since last Thursday. Rome, copper making city, had one victim.

A few hours after two men and a woman died this afternoon, more than a score of men and women were admitted to Nathan Littauer hospital for treatment. Some were marked with the first symptoms of the terrible "creeping death."

Others, hysterical with dread, were apprehensive that beverages they drank may have contained poisonous alcohol.

Seven persons died today, eight yesterday and last night.

Federal, state, county and city authorities sought the sources of the poison. John Archdeacon was arraigned at Utica on a charge of selling liquor without a license. He pleaded not guilty.

Virtually all of the 25 men and seven women victims were poor. Many of them derelicts. Several had long police records of drunkenness. Some of them were found distorted by agony, cold in death, in begrimed hovels. Others collapsed on the streets. A few staggered into hospitals.

Davies Speaks To Kiwanians

"Drastic action" was the term applied to the government repudiation in 1933 of its promise to pay in gold, by Prof. G. R. Davies of the college of commerce in speaking before the local Kiwanis club members yesterday in the Jefferson hotel.

"It looks bad," he said of the present economic situation, but he made no predictions on the possible outcome of the supreme court's deliberation on the constitutionality of the gold clause.

Sir Malcolm Campbell to Try For Speed Record at Daytona

New York, Jan. 29 (AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, prince of speed, came back to America today with a dream of 300 miles an hour over Daytona beach's golden sands resting in his crated, seven ton juggernaut Bluebird, and the feeling that this perhaps was his last gamble with roaring death.

"Theoretically she is faster than my old record of 273.108," he said. "I can't say more. But I will be satisfied with 300 miles an hour."

Keeps Same Engine

The slim Englishman, in his fiftieth year, knighted after he set a former record at Daytona beach in 1931, has every confidence that his entirely rebuilt monster will eclipse any speed man ever before has accomplished on land. The great Bluebird, retaining only the old 2,500 horsepower motor, has been streamlined to perfection, equipped with double wheels in the rear to increase traction, and big flanges jutting out in back to act as air brakes in the five miles it takes him to come to a stop.

Tentatively the time for Sir Mal-

AROUND THE TOWN with Bill Merritt

Gullible

Old Capitol is not for sale, but there are persons on the university campus and about town who would be willing to buy it, it was revealed yesterday by a salesmanship survey conducted by an overly ambitious student. Instead of selling Old Capitol, the student received 20 promises to buy tickets to a Freshman assembly. Where and when the assembly was to be never entered the heads of the buyers, some of whom were willing to pay outright a dollar and a half. The perpetrator of the fraud is now considering selling standing room at the north door of Schaeffer hall.

Jobs

Competitive examinations have been announced for engineering draftsmen, medical officers, and educational supervisors by A. C. Loraack, local secretary of the civil service board of examiners. Positions and salaries are engineering draftsmen, $1,800 a year; junior medical officer, no salary listed; and associate supervisor of elementary education, $3,200 a year.

Deadline

Today and tomorrow are the last chances a motorist will have to obtain license plates for 1935 without paying a penalty, County Treasurer W. E. Smith warned yesterday. Automobile owners have been standing in line in the treasurer's office during the last two days to buy the plates. The office will remain open during the noon hour for the rest of the month for the convenience of last minute purchasers.

Inversely with the change in prices, the speaker declared. He pointed out the general price level over a long period of time caused present conditions to "look dark."

In conclusion he again drew attention to the gold clause case in the supreme court at present time and said that much depends upon the action of the court.

Guests at the luncheon were R. T. Davis of Iowa City, R. H. Matson, coordinator for the state planning board, and William F. Morrison.

Family Poor

A native born Sicilian who came to the United States at the age of 5, Pecora gave up hopes of becoming a minister while a youth because his family was so poor. He turned to law, and once involved in that profession he set up another goal for himself.

That goal, an ambition of long-standing, was to become a supreme court judge—the post he now occupies at the appointment of Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

Pecora has been associated with some branch of the legal profession for most of his adult life. For 14 years before he won a degree he worked as a law clerk. When, in 1911, he received the degree, he immediately plunged into the career that was to bring him fame in New York city, and later, throughout the entire country.

Once a lawyer, he entered politics with enthusiasm. He supported Theodore Roosevelt in the latter's Bull Moose campaign of 1912, and became a Wilson democrat in the race between Hughes and Wilson for the presidency in 1916.

Crusader

In 1917 he took part in the local campaign for Charles L. Craig who ran a successful race for comptroller of New York city. After that campaign Pecora accepted a minor position in the district attorney's office where he distinguished himself as a fire-eating crusading prosecutor.

Stepping up to the office of assistant district attorney, Pecora waged violent campaigns against graft and corruption. He prosecuted William H. Anderson, former head of the Anti-Saloon league, and sent him to jail on charges of forgery. He attacked and wiped out a milk trust which had been distributing impure milk to babies. In 12 years he prosecuted more than 1,000 cases and obtained convictions in 80 per cent of them.

Shelved as a Tammany candidate in 1929 for prosecutor in favor of an elderly judge, Pecora ran for the office in 1933 on the recovery party ticket but was defeated.

$7,500 a Year

While associated with the New York prosecutor's office, he was receiving $7,500 a year. It was no financial attraction, then, for Pecora when he was invited to Washington as counsel for the sen-

Judge Pecora Realizes Ambition

Judge Pecora As investigator for senate. NEW YORK — It's often a good thing that childhood ambitions never materialize. Take for example, the case of Ferdinand Pecora. Pecora never had the typical childish desire to become a street car motorman, or a policeman, or a railroad engineer. But he did want to be a minister. If that ambition had worked out for him, New York today would be without the services of this brilliant lawyer in his new post as judge of the state supreme court.

The chances are, too, many never would have heard of Ferdinand Pecora, who became a national figure when he served as counsel to the senate committee investigating practices of the nation's banks in Washington.

War Department May Remove R.O.T.C. From U. of Minnesota

Withdrawal of U. S. Funds May Force Support by School

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Feb. 1 will be an important date in the history of the R.O.T.C. at the University of Minnesota.

Not as important, of course, as that day last spring when the university abolished the compulsory feature of military training, but important for the reason that unless by Feb. 1 the university re-arranges credit allowances for cadets, to suit the war department, the latter may remove the entire optional unit now remaining.

That would mean that the Gopher institution here would have to establish a unit at its own expense, which might run to as high as $50,000, for the school is a land grant college and some form of military training must be provided. Strenuous efforts are being made to satisfy the war department under the present arrangements.

Meanwhile, patriotic groups in the farmer-labor state are knitting brows over plans to have compulsory drill re-instated this year. They are seeking to do so by influencing the selection of university regents by members of the state legislature now in session. Optional drill won by only one vote last spring, and now eight new regents must be chosen. The battle for the "right" regents will soon be on in earnest between the patriotic and the more liberal forces.

What looked like a powerful argument for the military men bobbed to the surface recently when the ad-

Revolt Falls As Uruguay Arrests Head

MONTIVIDEO, Uruguay, Jan. 29 (AP)—A major blow was struck at Uruguayan rebels seeking to overturn President Gabriel Terra's two year old dictatorship today with the arrest of Domingo Baque, president of the nationalist party, who assumed complete responsibility for the revolt.

As the government warned rebels to surrender or suffer relentless pursuit, congress gave Terra's government sweeping powers to deal with the revolt, which thus far has taken the lives of five persons.

The arrest of Baque took place at Frayle Muerto while he was traveling in an automobile with several companions and brought one of the most prominent oppositionists to join the hundreds of others arrested throughout the nation.

The government, meanwhile, said the condition was well in hand, with aerial patrols hunting out the insurrectionists and the entire army either engaged in tracking down rebels or held in readiness in barracks.

Terra, whose famed "fire-house" coup of March, 1933, consolidated his dictatorial powers and ensured his continuance of president until 1938, received from congress authorization to order the arrest of all leaders of his opposition.
