COMMITTEE APPROVES TAX BILL

American Legion Auxiliary State Convention Opens Today

Gov. Herring Will Address Group Tonight

1,200 Members To Attend Three Day Convention

A colorful procession of flags will officially open the fifteenth annual state convention of the American Legion auxiliary this morning at 9 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Beginning today and continuing through Thursday, 1,200 members and delegates of the American Legion auxiliary, including national and state officers and committee members will attend the three day intensive program of speeches, regular business sessions, business luncheons, teas and sightseeing tours.

Distinguished Guests

Distinguished guests who will attend the various sessions of the convention are Governor Clyde L. Herdman, who will address the organization at the annual banquet at Iowa Union tomorrow night, Mrs. A. C. Carlson, of Willmar, Minn., national director of the American Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Arthur D. Ladehoff of Clinton, department president, Mrs. M. Myrtle Skelly of Des Moines, department secretary, William C. Rathke, commander of the American Legion, department of Iowa, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Wiggin McDowell, national secretary.

Extending a welcome to delegates at this morning's session will be Mayor E. Martin, Mrs. William White, president of the local auxiliary, and the heads of other Iowa City organizations. Mrs. Ladehoff will preside at all sessions of the convention.

Present Rules

Mrs. Carl Sampson, vice-president, will respond to the advancement of colors, pledge of allegiance, and invocation.

Following the presentation of distinguished guests and greetings by the national officers, Mrs. Walter B. Bedell of Spirit Lake, vice-chairman of resolutions and recommendations, will present the rules.

Committee Luncheons

Committee luncheons will take place at noon at Youde's inn. The various committees which will meet are Americanism, child welfare and family care, community service, and trophies, emblem and awards and junior activities. Committees will meet at Reich's cafe, with rehabilitation and poppy committee members lunching at the Jefferson hotel.

Petitions Seek Mayor's Recall

Charge Circulation Of Petitions Among City Beer Taverns

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12 (AP) — Recall petitions tonight crossed the political comeback trail of Charles W. Bryan, thrice governor of Nebraska, one-time democratic vice-presidential nominee, now serving his second term as mayor of Lincoln. Bryan did not comment.

The petitions asked that Ernest M. Bair, defeated by Bryan at the last city election, be placed on the ballot for the office of mayor.

Sponsors of the proposed recall were unknown here. Only explanation of the petitions was unverified rumors of opposition to the city council's strict beer and liquor licensing policy.

The petitions themselves made no specific charges merely charging generally that Bryan was "manifestly partial, prejudicial and malevolent" and "assumed dictatorial and arbitrary powers and authority."

Friends of the Bryan administration tonight said the recall petitions were being circulated chiefly in beer taverns by persons paid for their work.

It was understood, they said, the petition was originated by the proprietor of a tavern, the renewal of whose beer license was denied by the city council.

I Beg Your Pardon, Sir

Mayor of Seattle Expresses Regret To Japan Consul

SEATTLE, Aug. 12 (AP) — The mayor of Seattle today begged the pardon of the Japanese consul here for any offense the "spirit of jocularity" of a community club may have given in burlesquing the emperor of Japan.

The offense was unintentional, Mayor Charles L. Smith assured Consul Issaky Okamoto, in explaining the motive of the stunt in which the emperor of Japan was impersonated pulling a jinrikisha in which the emperor of Ethiopia was riding.

Mayor Smith's letter followed announcement at Washington by S. Yoshizawa, charge d'affaires of the Japanese embassy, that the question of whether a formal protest would be made to the United States government would depend upon what the Seattle mayor had said.

It was believed here by those close to Mayor Smith's office that his expression of regret would close the incident.

Labor Groups Stand Pat On Wage Demands

Suggest Transfer Of WPA Projects To Schedule of PWA

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 12 (AP) — The American Federation of Labor, through officially expressed statements of its executive council, stood pat tonight on insisting upon prevailing hourly rates of pay on government WPA jobs.

In upholding the prevailing wage scale standard, the executive council, through President William Green, recommended that all federal projects be transferred to the PWA to forestall further work relief strikes over the country.

Green Speaks for Labor

Green, in handing out the statement, declared the American Federation of Labor "cheerfully accepts" the government "security wage" or any other monthly wage for relief workers.

The council's statement declared:

Strikes to Follow

"We are reliably informed that as WPA work relief projects are launched in all the different cities throughout the country that the building trades workers will take the same action in these cities that was taken in New York, New Jersey and Philadelphia.

"It is sincerely hoped that such a distressing situation can be avoided."

Epidemic Wanes

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Ten new cases of infantile paralysis in Virginia were reported by the state health department yesterday as both state and Albemarle county health authorities declared the epidemic is on the wane.

The senate lobby committee, headed by Senator Black (D-Ala.) also had been searching for the utilities magnate.

Dime Store Princess Will Receive Portion Of Mdivani Estate

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 12 (AP) — The former Barbara Hutton, heiress to 10-cent store millions, will receive about $400,000 from the estate of her divorced husband, Prince Alexis Mdivani, killed in a Spanish motor car crash on Aug. 1.

This was indicated today by Count Court Haugwitz Reventlow, the heiress' new husband. He revealed that Barbara, under the prince's will, will receive one-fifth of his estate, valued at approximately $2,000,000.

He indicated she will receive the Venetian castle which she once gave Alexis.

F.R. Approves Deficiency Bill Boosting Costs

Second Bill Brings Total Costs Up To 8 Billion for Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — Total appropriations since congress met on Jan. 3 were boosted today to $8,153,208,000 when President Roosevelt signed the second deficiency bill.

As the chief executive put his signature on that bill, two other significant things were happening: Chairman Buchanan (D-Tex) of the house appropriations committee was talking about a "balanced budget" at the next session, and the last appropriation bill of the session—the third deficiency measure—was beginning to take shape.

Approves Many Things

The bill approved appropriations for many odds and ends, including $36,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley authority. Normally, it would be the last appropriation of the session.

But a number of other things will be created by bills now in progress of enactment which will require money next year. Among them is the social security plan, now waiting the president's approval. It is estimated that will take $95,491,000 the first year of operation.

May Need More

Additional money also is likely to be necessary for the new alcohol control administration, particularly if it is made an independent agency instead of being put under the treasury.

Serve Subpna Upon Hopson

Search for Head Of Utility System Ends With Legal Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — House lobby investigators tonight finally caught up with Howard C. Hopson, elusive mastermind of the Associated Gas and Electric system.

Chairman O'Connor (D-N.Y.) of the rules committee, conducting the inquiry, announced that a subpoena had been served and the long-sought witness would go before the committee tomorrow morning for questioning. Still maintaining some of the mystery surrounding the Hopson search, however, his whereabouts tonight were closely guarded.

Legion Auxiliary Convention Here Opens With Festivity

Legion Auxiliary Delegates Welcomed With Reception

Drill Team Performs Routine Followed By Dance Numbers; Mrs. Ladehoff Greets Group for First

A stage elaborately decorated to represent a garden, and banked with huge baskets of garden flowers, served as a background for the receiving line of national and state officers and committee women of the American Legion auxiliary at the reception for convention visitors last night at the American Legion building.

Convention delegates were greeted for the first time last night by Mrs. Arthur D. Ladehoff, department president of the auxiliary, and other visiting and local officials.

Drill Team Performs

A drill team, which performed in perfect unison for 20 minutes, formed the letters A L A, for American Legion auxiliary, which was the last of a series of difficult formations perfectly timed. Young Mary Jo Gatens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gatens of Iowa City, concluded the drill team number as she carried a basket of cut flowers to the leader of the team and danced her way from the ball room floor.

Several tap dance numbers were presented for the entertainment of the auxiliary and Iowa legionnaires who were invited to participate in the reception.

Notables who formed the receiving line, following the floor show, were Mrs. Ladehoff, Mrs. Gwen-dolyn Wiggin MacDowell, national

Forty and Eight To Hold Secret Party For Women

One of the more unique entertainments planned for visiting American Legion auxiliary members is the party tonight in honor of the Eight and Forty, state wide organization within the women's auxiliary, by the men of Iowa City Voiture 585 of the Forty and Eight.

The Eight and Forty, headed by Mrs. Esther Thompson of Dallas Center, has only one meeting a year, occurring at the department convention.

Tonight's meeting will be devoted to business and the initiation of new members and will start immediately following the past presidents' parlour in the American Legion building.

When the meeting is concluded, members will gather on the steps of the American Legion building where they will be picked up by the Forty and Eight "Box Car." With "Denny" Maher as conductor and "Vic" Oliver as engineer the "Box Car" will leave for an unknown destination.

Arriving at the secret rendezvous, the Eight and Forty will be served a luncheon by members of the Iowa City Forty and Eight and several Voitures from surrounding towns. Following the luncheon there will be a program.

Voyageurs of the Iowa City Voiture in charge of the event will be Francis J. Boyle, Delmer Sample, and George F. Sterda. Capt. R. V. Rickard of the university military department is chef-de-gare for Voiture 585 and Lou E. Clark is correspondent.

Issue Warrants For Arrest of Non-Union Workers in Sioux Falls

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 12 (AP)—Warrants for the arrest of Herman F. Veenker, plant superintendent of John Morrell and company, and 19 non-union workers were issued in municipal court this afternoon as strikers made reprisal for the arrest of pickets by state department of justice officers.

Weenker and three others were charged with assaulting Herschel Bylesby, a picket injured in the first clash between strikers and non-union men the night of July 18. Bylesby lay in a hospital two days with injuries.

Harold Bills, Al Reid and Walter Zinnel were each charged with the same offense against Bylesby in three separate complaints.

Charges of unlawful assembly were placed against the others. The offense was alleged to have occurred July 19, the day of the hand-to-hand fight between strikers and non-union men.

The students will leave from University hall Friday at 6:30 p.m. for Muscatine.

Bond Market Stays Steady

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—The strength of secondary rails steadied the listed bond market today, although industrials and utilities showed evidence of profit taking and finished only a little better than even.

The day's turnover was not exceptionally lively, especially when compared with the large volume of stocks dealings. Transfers totalled $11,161,000, par value. The Associated Press average of 20 rails advanced 4 of a point and the utility and industrial composites were up .1 each.

The investment market responded rather buoyantly to the new offering of 2 1-2 per cent 10-year $75,000,000 bonds of the Canadian government. The books on the issue were soon closed. The bonds were priced to the public at 97 3-4 and accrued interest.

Rail loans ending with gains of fractions to nearly 3 points included M-K-T 5s of 1967 at 16 7-8, M-K-T 5s of 1962 at 41 1-2, Baltimore and Ohio 5s at 81 1-2, Great Northern 4 1-2s at 85 3-4, Illinois Central refunding 4s at 76 7-8, New York Central consolidated 4s at 85, Nickel Plate 5 1-2s at 71 1-2, New Haven collateral 6s at 52 1-2, New York, Ontario and Western refunding at 51 3-8, Peru Marquette 5s at 93 1-4, Southern Pacific 4s at 98 1-4, Southern Railway 5s at 80 and Western Maryland 4s at 97 1-8.

Among industrials and utilities that registered some improvement were Chile Copper 5s at 97 1-4, Penn Dixie 6s at 93, Remington Rand 5 1-2s at 104 1-4, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 5s at 97 7-8, American Water Works 6s at 89 1-8 and Columbia Gas 5s at 94 3-8.

United States government securities were quiet and moderately mixed. Price changes in the foreign division were narrow.

Celebrates President's Overthrow HAVANA (AP)—Cuba yesterday celebrated the second anniversary of the overthrow of President Gerardo Machado. It was a legal holiday throughout the republic and all commerce was closed.

Machado was forced to resign the presidency and flee the island Aug. 12, 1933, after revolutionary activities against his regime for several years.

Kellers Issue Two Hundred Invitations To Daughter's Wedding

Prof. and Mrs. George J. Keller, 221 S. Lucas street, have issued 200 invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Ethel, to Thomas W. Kenefick, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Kenefick, of Eagle Grove. The wedding will take place Saturday, Aug. 31, at 9 a.m. at St. Mary's church here.

The approaching marriage was announced recently at a luncheon given by the bride-to-be and her mother.

Recalls Own Tactics

He also predicted a long and costly war, in the event Mussolini attempts to storm the Ethiopian strongholds. Recalling his own guerrilla tactics in the Boer war when he kept far superior British forces at bay for two years, he said the terrain over which he led the Boers is similar to that of Ethiopia.

Breaks Silence

The Boer war leader, now the union's minister of finance, broke his government's official silence concerning war prospects when he said Italy's adventure in East Africa could not be looked upon as an isolated move, adding:

"It will create a serious position in Europe because of the repercussions in adjoining British territories and the intensification of black-and-white feeling."

Far Reaching

Europeans and Asia. This Abyssinian adventure by Italy may be far reaching in its effect on the African mind. You may find every African sympathizing with Abyssinia."

World Events in the Day's News Caught by the Camera's Eye

BOBBY JEANNE BECOMES A BIG SHOT IN A HURRY—Shot out of a cannon, Bobby Jeanne soars in a graceful arc through the air into the arms of her partners, Jack Eddy and Rudy Mason. The act, which is to be shown at a number of state and county fairs is seen in rehearsal at the Harlem Gold club, Chicago. Waiting for her turn, Faye Bains is shown near the cannon, in which there are huge springs which hurl the girls into the air.

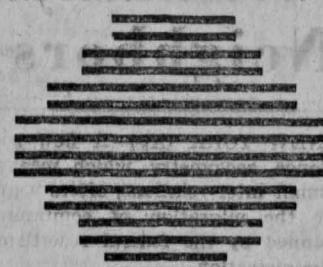

TWO DROWN WHEN BRIDGE FALLS—When a span of this bridge over the upper Mississippi, from La Crosse, Wis., to Winona, Minn., collapsed, two persons in an automobile that went down with the span were drowned.

ASTOR BABY AT HOME—Pictured at home for the first time, after being brought from Doctors' hospital in New York, William Astor, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, III, makes his bow to the outside world. The scion of the famous family is nestled in the arms of his mother, the former Ellen Tuck French.

RUNOFF FOR MISSISSIPPI GOVERNOR—Hugh L. White, left, wealthy lumberman of Columbia, and Judge Paul Johnson of Hattiesburg, a former congressman, will fight it out for the governorship of Mississippi in a runoff contest Aug. 27. White has the support of Senator Theodore Bilbo. Judge Johnson received the eleventh hour backing of Senator Long of Louisiana.

TOP RACE HORSES OF MIDWEST AT STATE FAIR—Entry of the outstanding trotters and pacers of nearly every section of the midwest promises that this year's Iowa State Fair races will outshine any such classics witnessed in this state in a decade. Entries total more than 200 harness horses for the four afternoons of horse racing from Monday, Aug. 26, through Thursday, Aug. 29. Auto races will be a feature on three other afternoons, Aug. 23, 24, and 30.

SCREEN STARS, FAMOUS FLYERS READY FOR AIR CLASSIC—A dozen motion picture and stage stars, famous American and foreign pilots will be seen at the 1935 national air races in Cleveland which takes place Aug. 30-Sept. 2. Interest will be centered on the stage and screen stars' derby from Hollywood, in which Ruth Chatterton is providing a $1,000 purse. Participants will be Miss Chatterton herself, Wallace Beery, Paul Lukas and others. Amelia Earhart Putnam, noted woman flyer, who is giving the Earhart trophy in the women's race, probably will fly as pathfinder for the Hollywood derby. A lone woman, Jacqueline Cochran of New York, will race either eight or more crack men pilots across American skyways in the fifth annual Bendix trophy race. Miss Cochran will try to lower the present transcountry record of 10 hours and two minutes now held by Captain Boscoe Turner of Los Angeles.

Doctor gives Pate first aid

In one of the most spectacular mountain rescues in history, Yosemite park rangers crawled down the steep slant of Half Dome, near Yosemite, Cal., and rescued Robert Pate and his companion, Miss Elizabeth Lorimer, who were trapped on a narrow ledge from which a fall would have meant death in the valley 2,000 feet below. A doctor is pictured giving first aid to Pate, who suffered a broken shoulder. Right, Miss Lorimer, whose home is Chicopee, Mass., consents to pose for a cameraman after she has changed from her badly torn shorts. Note bruises on her legs.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (INS)—The much married and divorced woman in America may cause her neighbors to lift their eyebrows.

Not so in Abyssinia.

There the woman with the largest number of adventures in matrimony to her credit is the envy of her neighbors. She is the "catch" of the village.

Perhaps there is a glamour about this fickle descendant of the Queen of Sheba. Perhaps she has a bit more IT than her sisters. Perhaps.

Personally I think it is because with each matrimonial breakup she has acquired a few more pots and pans, additional goats and mules, often another piece of land. By her fifth or sixth venture she becomes one of the wealthiest women of the tribe.

No Alimony

And a bride with a flock of furniture—whether it is for a white washed mud roofed house in Ethiopia or a modern flat in America headed villagers and half naked clamoring children who had gathered to see the train go by—we no longer see the train go by—a newly married couple.

A divorce is granted by the vilified a large elder. He referees the dividing of all their possessions and ifmules and attended by a great there is an odd call for help to friends.

Then the ex-wife braids and puts her hair in the newest fashion—fully veiled while a slave carried

Bridal Procession

It was enroute from Djibouti, at present over crowded city on the Gulf of Aden, to the fascinating mountain capital of Abyssinia, Addis Ababa, that I first saw an Ethiopian bridal procession.

When our temperamental French train stopped at a little town—which we never did see because of the hundreds of curious bushy opea or a modern flat in America headed villagers and half naked clamoring children who had gathered to see the train go by—we no longer see the train go by—a newly married couple.

tainers carefully formed a circle around her by spreading their white chammam (long white cotton drapes which the natives wear) and making a curtain around her. No one must see her mount or dismount—just a quaint old Abyssinian custom.

There are three recognized forms of marriage.

Free love, where the couple simply decide to live together and separate at will, is a custom hundreds of years old and extremely popular.

The civil ceremony, which necessitates the parents of the bride and of the groom going before the local elders and settling all matters relating to possessions. In all probability the young couple boarding the train came under this class.

A Mule

Then the religious ceremony enjoyed by the very high class which is performed by gorgeously robed priests with great pomp.

I heard also of still another, though less common, style of marriage. The gallant suitor, attended by a large retinue armed with murderous spears, dashes a la Lochinvar—out of the west, snatches up the lady of his choice and speeds away with her on his noble steed—which in Ethiopia—is a MULE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (INS)—Like monstrous alter adorments in a devil worship temple, candelabra cacti dot the sun-beaten deserts and fertile plains of Ethiopia, the land of paradox. Painting cool pools of shadow for weary caravans are the umbrellas, acacia.

And bristling with thorns like the series ranks of scattered skirmish lines are the mimosa thorn trees, rippling at the robes of unwary wayfarers.

In the land of this flora roams tribes speaking 11 languages, a number of them unrelated to any known tongue. From the Gallas—the nomadic herdsmen—to the Gouragi—the tillers of soil—they are primitive and in the outer reaches of the country—mostly savages.

It is the Gallas who whet their traditional savagery by constant warfare. Nomadic, always driving their herds of cattle before them, they war on other tribes without any great provocation. Like the Spartans of ancient days fighting is their trade.

Bridegrooms Must Kill

War is even linked with their marriage rites. While not compulsory it is an accepted practice for a young warrior to first bring in the head of an enemy tribesman to show that he is fit for marriage.

Unlike the Gallas are the Gouragi. This tribe tills the soil and brings to the market place the fruits

INCREASES SEEN IN NATIONAL STOCK SHOW AT STATE FAIR—With the national shorthorn show being held at this year's Iowa State fair, plus the largest 4-H club stock show to be assembled in the United States this year, plus a score of other special livestock events, the Iowa State fair management predicted this week that this year's livestock show at the fair would set new national records. Literally, every section of the United States is already represented in entries, which will compete for upwards of $70,000 in cash prizes. Over two million dollars worth of prize livestock is expected to be on display when the state fair opens with a full program on Aug. 23.

Iowa City Welcomes Legion Auxiliary

STARTING THIS morning for three days, Iowa City will again become a host to more than 1,500 women guests from all parts of the state and nation.

The Iowa American Legion auxiliary will open its fifteenth annual department convention this morning at 9 o'clock in Iowa Union.

Undoubtedly one of the most active women's organizations in the state, the American Legion auxiliary has not been outdone by the American Legion itself in the size and variety of its projects and undertakings.

Further in the statement, Mr. Corey says:

"Mr. Lewis would lead you to believe that they are only interested in having the state fair board pay the prevailing wage to a few crafts of skilled labor. When it came to agreeing upon the scale of wages last August, they demanded that we increase the pay of our maintenance men from $5 to $10 per day and pay the paper pickers, street cleaners, and all types of labor of that character the prevailing wage of semi-skilled common labor. The representatives of the electrical workers' union demanded that we pay our electrical linemen the inside wireman's scale—$1.25 an hour, while at the same time union linemen were working for the public utilities in Des Moines for 70 and 80 cents an hour."

"The proposition presented to the state fair board this year came from a half dozen representatives of the Des Moines Trade and Labor assembly, and they demanded that the fair operate as a closed shop as far as skilled labor was concerned. They also demanded that all labor be employed from the Des Moines area."

It also might be pointed out that no other state institution operating on a budget with funds all or a part of which come from taxes is paying the so-called prevailing wage under the dictates of the union.

Iowa citizens are indeed honored to have these women as their guests and everything is being done to insure them a cordial welcome.

Michigan, by the way, is bragging about a hollyhock 13 feet tall, the object of this competition being to develop some gardens for the enjoyment of aviators.

Workers Versus the Taxpayer

A WAGE DISPUTE is in progress between labor unions in New York city and the federal government.

The building trades unions are to have a large scale walkout according to George Meany, president of the New York State Federation of Labor. Union officials are doing their best to enforce payment of the union scale on work relief jobs.

Instead of appreciating what the administration has done and is trying to do for workingmen in setting up the vast work relief program at a great expense to the taxpayers, union leaders are selfishly rebelling in hopes of draining Uncle Sam's treasury of more money. President Roosevelt should be commended on his firm stand in saying that those who turn down relief jobs will be cut off the dole.

"That means the men would starve," Meany says.

The illogical statement made by Mr. Meany reminds us of an episode in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Little Europa's technique in furthering her selfish interests upon denial was to shout, "I'll hold my breath." If this failed to get results she would scream, "I'll hold my breath until I get black in the face!" At which she shut her eyes, puffed out her cheeks, and the strike was on.

It ignored, little Europa soon decided to sacrifice her convictions in favor of much needed air; so we believe that the New York union officials who are threatening to hold their breath if they aren't humored should be ignored, too.

It's hard to take a vigorous, unequivocal and indignant stand against the nudists on a day like this.

When a Man Bites a Cheetah

WHEN A MAN bites a dog, that's news. But when a man bites a cheetah, that's going to be big news.

From far off Madras, India, comes a tale of a young hunter who became a hero by biting a cheetah during a forest battle.

According to the news dispatch, Doraiswami, the hero, had a terrible battle with the creature on the outskirts of a small village. The fight was long and the skirmish, which started on the ground, finally ended in a tree top.

When it looked like the jig was up, Doraiswami attacked the cheetah with his teeth, biting the animal just below its left eye. The cheetah, suffering from the pain of the bite, loosened his hold on the Indian's arm and fled into the forest.

Unable to resist the impulse to pun, we wish to point out the moral in the story that a cheetah never wins.

Nicaragua has balanced its budget. Maybe they will send us a regiment of marines to show us how it is done.

The State Fair Board's Position

RECENTLY J. C. Lewis, president of the Iowa State Federation of Labor, launched an attack upon the Iowa fair board declaring that that body was unfair to union labor because it refused to operate a closed shop.

The board has taken the position, and rightly so, that inasmuch as the state fair is a state institution—the funds for maintenance of the grounds and buildings and most of the large buildings have been provided for by state appropriation out of tax funds—the state fair board has no authority or right to operate the fair as a closed shop. The board contends that any citizen of the state of Iowa has a right to be employed on the fair grounds providing there is work to do.

In a statement issued recently, A. R. Corey of Des Moines defends the board's position:

"We hesitate to enter into this controversy for the reasons that we are not having any labor troubles at the fair grounds and at the present time are employing a number of union carpenters, union carpenters' helpers, union plumbers, union painters, and union electricians at the prevailing wage scale."

Further in the statement, Mr. Corey says:

"Mr. Lewis would lead you to believe that they are only interested in having the state fair board pay the prevailing wage to a few crafts of skilled labor. When it came to agreeing upon the scale of wages last August, they demanded that we increase the pay of our maintenance men from $5 to $10 per day and pay the paper pickers, street cleaners, and all types of labor of that character the prevailing wage of semi-skilled common labor. The representatives of the electrical workers' union demanded that we pay our electrical linemen the inside wireman's scale—$1.25 an hour, while at the same time union linemen were working for the public utilities in Des Moines for 70 and 80 cents an hour."

Even accepting the unquestionable fact that a democratic majority of 21,000 a year ago has turned into a republican majority of 13,000, or thereabouts—and that in an "apathetic" election which saw 20 per cent of the '34 voters too indifferent to go to the polls, viewing the Rhode Island upset as a '36 straw-in-the-wind indicator has its limitations. The timing is wrong. It is 14 months, not a matter of days, before a national election day. The geography is wrong. The west, not the east, will be the '36 battle ground.

It also might be pointed out that no other state institution operating on a budget with funds all or a part of which come from taxes is paying the so-called prevailing wage under the dictates of the union.

We believe the board is right in its stand against operating the fair as a closed shop.

"That means the men would starve," Meany says.

The illogical statement made by Mr. Meany reminds us of an episode in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Little Europa's technique in furthering her selfish interests upon denial was to shout, "I'll hold my breath." If this failed to get results she would scream, "I'll hold my breath until I get black in the face!" At which she shut her eyes, puffed out her cheeks, and the strike was on.

These two questions are the embodiment of two age old evils of unionism, inconsistency of leadership and selfishness of groups within the union itself.

Sioux Citians Attack Probe Of Grand Jury

Group of Ministers Asks Gov. Herring To Withdraw Probe

SIOUX CITY, Aug. 12 (AP)—The public morals committee of the Sioux City Ministerial association today denounced the investigation of the Woodbury county "graft" grand jury ordered by the state executive council.

The committee also asked Governor Clyde L. Herring to withdraw the special investigator selected by Attorney General Edward L. O'Connor to conduct the investigation.

Meanwhile District Court Judge F. H. Rice ordered the grand jury, now in recess, to renew its investigation beginning Thursday. The order was issued at the request of County Attorney Maurice Rawlings and Special Prosecutors H. M. Hayes and O. T. Naglestad.

Will Renew Activity

The grand jury was not scheduled to renew its taking of evidence until next Monday.

The special prosecutors said that, by calling the grand jury back Thursday, they hoped to conclude its investigation before the removal hearings for W. D. Hayes, suspended Sioux City mayor, is reopened Aug. 27.

Postpones Hearing

Earlier today District Judge W. Scott, Davenport; taken ill last Thursday, postponed the hearing until that date.

Hayes' removal was recommended by the grand jury, which claimed the mayor had knowledge of violation of liquor and gambling laws at Sioux City, but took no action to clean up the situation.

"We feel," the statement issued by the ministerial committee declared, "that it is a travesty upon justice for an attorney general, who is under indictment by a grand jury, to appoint or empower anyone to investigate said grand jury because it has too much the appearance of an attempt at the intimidation of the grand jury in the honest performance of its duty, and hence an effort to thwart justice."

Indictment Charge

O'Connor was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to operate gambling devices (slot machines) and gambling houses in Iowa. His first assistant, Walter F. Maley, and more than a score of Sioux City men were included in the indictment. In all, the "graft" grand jury has returned 18 indictments containing 72 counts against 41 persons as the result of its investigation of liquor and gambling law violations and "protection payoff." Among those indicted are two Iowa special agents and the Plymouth county sheriff.

"If the officials under question are innocent," the statement declared, "they deserve vindication by the process of untrammeled justice within the courts. If they are guilty, they deserve punishment regardless of the motives of those who bring them to trial."

The ministers declared their confidence in the integrity of the grand jury and the special grand jury prosecutors, H. M. Hayner and O. T. Naglestad.

Ultior Motives?

"If there are ulterior motives at work," they declared, "they may be fully and completely revealed in the course of the regular court procedure, and there will be sufficient time thereafter for the prosecution and punishment of any misdemeanors."

The committee statement was signed by the Rev. John V. Madison, chairman.

In Des Moines Governor Herring declared he would consider the minister's protest when he received it.

"I think," he said, "they'd better wait until we see what the investigation develops."

"As far as a travesty on justice is concerned," Attorney General O'Connor said, in Des Moines, "I think that crime already has been committed in Sioux City."

Receive Petition

The state executive council received petitions from 118 Woodbury county residents asking an investigation of the purchase of testimony, intimidation of witnesses, procurement of perjured testimony and the political motives behind the grand jury.

The citizens have just as much right to ask an investigation as one single resident of another county.

(The attorney general was referring to Verne Marshall, Cedar Rapids Gazette editor, who since last January has campaigned against what he termed graft and corruption in public office.)

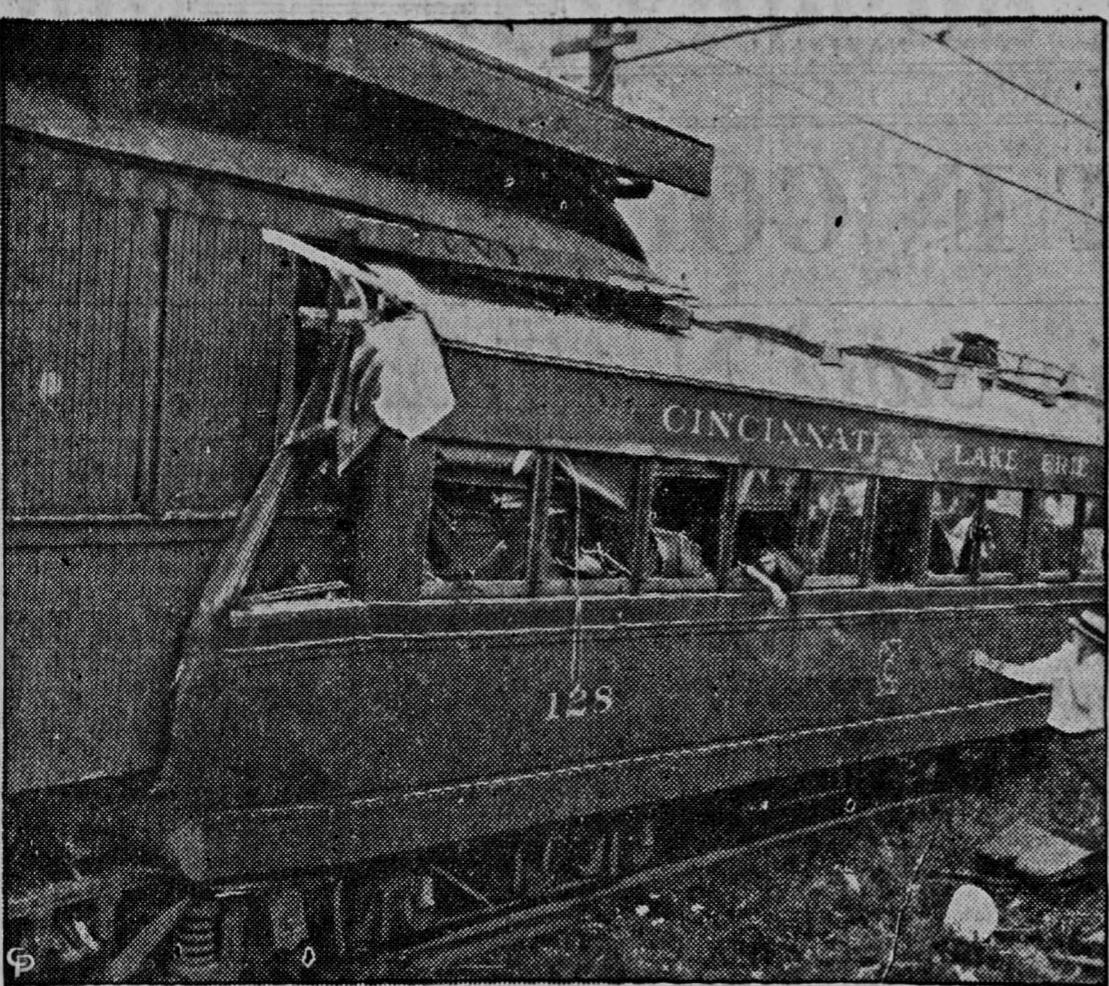

The investigation, which was not ordered by me, but by the state executive council, is not an investigation of the grand jury members, but the methods of obtaining evidence and the motives behind these methods, of which, for obvious reasons, the grand jury undoubtedly was not informed."

Launches Investigation

Meanwhile Maurice J. Breen, Ft. Dodge democrat, selected by O'Connor and approved by the executive council, launched his investigation into the grand jury despite the protests.

Ray Harrison, Des Moines republican, came here today to aid him. Harrison was appointed yesterday by Governor Herring, who said, "I thought it would be a good idea to have a republican mixed up in this affair."

FIVE KILLED, MANY INJURED IN INTERURBAN DISASTER

Five persons were killed and more than a score were critically injured when a work car of the Cincinnati and Lake Erie Traction company crashed head-on with a passenger coach near Springfield, Ohio. The crash which occurred during a blinding rainstorm, reverberated around the countryside bringing thousands of persons to scenes of disaster. The above picture illustrates how the passenger coach was telescoped by the traction work car.

Stock Activity Greatest In Many Months

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Shares changed hands in the stock market today in the greatest volume in more than a year. Railroads had a brisk upturn, seconded by a number of utilities, but the industrial group lagged behind under profit taking.

Turnover in the stock exchange, at 2,434,630 shares, was the most active since July 26, 1934. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .1 of a point at 48.7 to a new high for 1935, breaking the 48.6 peak made Saturday.

The 15 rails used in the compilation rose .6 of a point to 26.3, while the industrials were even and the utilities a shade better.

Stocks got no help from outside markets. The grains especially were a soft feature of commodities.

Bonds tended to follow the stock market pattern closely.

Moderate declines were registered by Chrysler in the auto group, and Case and Caterpillar were lower among the farm implement makers. International Harvester, however, improved a little.

Meanwhile, a number of active rails rose fractions to a point or more to the best levels for the year including New York Central at 23 3-8, Pennsylvania at 28 1-8, Baltimore and Ohio at 15 3-8 and Southern Pacific at 20 3-8. Others doing about as well, but not at new peaks, included such issues as Union Pacific, Southern Railway common and preferred, Missouri-Kansas-Texas common and preferred, Delaware and Hudson and Illinois Central.

American Telephone was active at a new high for the year and closed 2 3-9 points up at 137 3-8. Other utility issues ended about steady after short trips into new high territory included Consolidated Gas at 32 3-8, North American at 23 1-2, United Gas Improvement at 17 1-4 and Public Service of New Jersey at 42 1-4.

The Tin Can Is Forgotten

But T. C. Tourists Will Not Change Association's Name

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 12 (AP)—The traditional insignia of the Tin Can Tourists of the World—a battered evaporated milk can on a radiator cap—long since has been abandoned, but members attending the fifteenth annual summer reunion in the municipal tourist camp here would not dream of changing the organization's name.

T.C.T. spokesmen said today the name evoked memories of muddy roads, barren camp grounds, and make-shift automobile touring facilities of former years, when days of serious preparation preceded a 50 mile trip.

More than 1,200 members have parked their cars and their elaborate camp trailers here for the annual reunion, second in importance on the T.C.T. calendar only to the convention held each winter in Florida.

Except for addresses there is no formal program for the week-long reunion. Concerts, community singing, dances and campfire gatherings at which old friendships are renewed are the principal activities. By next Sunday most of the 400 automobiles and their trailers again will be on the highways.

PARADOXICAL PIPERMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12 (INS)—Martin Bachmann, who has gained international renown among members of his "profession" as a "pipe racing maestro" and to whom a universally used meerschaum conditioning process is credited, today revealed he personally prefers the inhalation of smoke from cigar-clippings, smoked in his favorite pipe, for which he paid 25 cents. Bachmann has "doctored" the valuable pipes of many of the world's noted citizens.

Prof. Houston Will Lecture

Graduate College To Sponsor Speaker Here Today, Tonight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—By a one vote margin, the houseways and means committee today heeded presidential pleas and voted the stamp "approved" on the Guffey coal stabilization bill.

That bill sets up a national bittuminous coal commission to administer a code for the soft coal industry. It was urged upon congress by the president for two reasons—to aid the coal industry and prevent a strike, and to determine definitely the limits within which the federal government can, constitutionally, regulate the business.

At 3:30 he will speak on "A Model for an Atomic Nucleus" in the auditorium of the physics building. Tonight he will lecture again at 8 o'clock in the physics building on "The Physical Significance of the Quantum Theory."

The first lecture will deal largely with Professor Houston's own investigations.

The second lecture will include the principle of indeterminism and the possibility of measurement.

Professor Houston spoke here several years ago. He is professor of physics at the California Institute of Technology and has done research work in both fields of experimental and theoretical physics. During the last year he has been with Bohr of Copenhagen, Denmark, and his second lecture will include some of the results of his work with him.

A large group of physicists from other parts of the state are planning to attend the lecture. A dinner will be given in honor of Professor Houston tonight at 6 o'clock in Iowa Union. Members of the chemistry and mathematics departments will be guests at the dinner.

BIG SHIP DISASTER:

BOSTON, Aug. 12 (INS)—Two quiet, peaceful model vessels being displayed in a hardware store window succumbed to the ravages of fire started from a short circuit. The seagoing liner was burned to its waterline, but the small schooner was saved from great damage.

A traffic jam resulted from the crowds who watched the vessels as flames lashed their decks.

Corn Prospects Cause Breaks In Grain Price

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Brilliant prospects for the nation's 1935 corn crop brought about sharp breaks in prices of all grains today, with corn pitching downward 3 1/2 cents maximum.

Season low price records were smashed by corn, and by oats and rye as well. Scantiness of livestock on farms, a circumstance implying greatly curtailed use of corn, acted as a persistent weight on values, as did indications of a large amount of low grade wheat available for feeding.

Corn closed nervous, 1 1/2-2 1/4 cents under Saturday's finish, December 55 7

MEANS SCORES UPSET IN GOLF TOURNEY

Defeats E. W.
Chittenden By
Score of 1 Up

First Round Match
Play Ends Thursday
At 3 P.M.

Everett Means provided an upset in the first round of the all-city tournament at the Country club yesterday by defeating Prof. E. W. Chittenden by a 1 up margin.

Chittenden, one of the Country club's outstanding golfers, had been favored to reach at least the semi-final round, having played the eleventh best qualifying round.

Three other first round matches were completed with C. C. Warden downing Dave Foerster, No. 6 in the qualifying round, 2 and 1.

Three other first round matches were completed with the C. C. Warden-Dave Foerster match the outstanding one of these, the former winning by a 2 and 1 score. Foerster was No. 6 in the qualifying round.

George Speaks nipped E. G. Blackstone, 1 up, and young Dick Nall trounced Jack Brackney 4 and 3, in the other matches.

In the class "B" flight, Harry Wilfong and Carl Telander produced the most thrilling match, with the former winning, 1 up. Henry Walker also won by a 1 up margin over Dean C. E. Seashore. Fred Bleifuss, Bob Herdiska and Bob Collins had easier times with their foes, winning by 4 and 3, 4 and 2, and 4 and 4 scores, respectively. Martin Shoup lost to Ken Dunlop, 2 and 1, in the other second flight match.

TODAY and Thursday remain in which to complete first round matches. Don Young has set the deadline for Thursday at 3 p.m.

All contestants must arrange with their opponents for a time to play.

Defaults should be reported to Young at the Country club. Phone numbers of contestants in both flights will be found in an adjacent column.

Leek Merritt captured a special play-off Sunday afternoon to determine who will gain the thirty-second position.

Summaries of yesterday's first round matches are as follows:

Championship Flight
Dick Nall defeated Jack Brackney, 4 and 3.

C. C. Warden defeated Dave Foerster, 2 and 1.

Everett Means defeated Prof. E. W. Chittenden, 1 up.

George Speaks defeated E. G. Blackstone, 1 up.

Class "B" Flight
Fred Bleifuss defeated Al Jonas, 4 and 3.

Ken Dunlop defeated Martin Shoup, 2 and 1.

Bob Herdiska defeated Ken Moore, 4 and 2.

Bob Collins defeated Bill Russell, 6 and 4.

Henry Walker defeated Dean C. E. Seashore, 1 up.

Harry Wilfong defeated Carl Telander, 1 up.

Dr. Earle Smith defeated Bob Ross, 5 and 3.

His Menu "Code"

Shantz was fined for that by McGraw, and the rumor was that the sum amounted to $1,000. Someone asked him if that was the correct amount. Hogan was aghast.

"Say," he said, "they wouldn't fine you that much for burning down an orphan asylum."

A lusty, thorough-going character, young Hogan, and he was not above bribing waiters to interpret such orders as "spinach" and "string beans" for french fried potatoes and pie à la mode, just so McGraw, reading the dinner slips, wouldn't know he'd been feeding wildly again. I hope he catches on somewhere.

Phone Numbers

We urge that contestants get their first round matches over as soon as possible this week. In order to facilitate the task of getting together, we are printing the phone numbers of most of the players. Each player should get in touch with his opponent and arrange for a time to play. MEADOWS TAKES PRELIMS DURING ZONE TRAPSHOOT

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 12 (AP)—Topping today's program of the central zone trapshooting at the Sioux City club here, Stanley Meadows, Des Moines captured the preliminary handicap after a tie with A. Beckel of Cedar Rapids. Each had 94 x 100 but Meadows won the title in a shootoff.

Tied for second place were Dr. P. G. Ingham of Mapleton and F. D. Saunders of Minneapolis, each with a score of 93 x 100.

A Sioux City shooter, C. H. Brechin, was third with 92.

The central zone doubles championship was won by Saunders after a tie and a shoot with Brechin. The winning score was 93 x 100. Junior Dick of Minneapolis and Harlow Hoon of Jewell, Ia., tied for second in doubles with 87. Dr. Ingham was third with 85.

A professional, J. R. John of Spirit Lake made the high score in the doubles event but his professional rating made him ineligible for the title.

Moore—All-State From LeMars

Stocky Hawkeye May Attain Backfield Birth In 1935

(This is the fifteenth of a series of short articles concerning University of Iowa football players who will help carry Old Gold colors through the 1935 season.)

If you wish to engage in a heated brawl, follow this procedure.

Go to LeMars, accost any muscular inhabitant, and shout in a firm manner that Bob Moore isn't the best halfback in the state.

For LeMarsians are enthusiastic about their home town product. They cheered him on to an all-state berth in 1931. They plans to put in a heavy bid for a job.

Ideally constructed for a halfback, Moore stands 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds. He blocks well and has a distinguished throwing arm.

Moore can skirt the ends and crash the line with equal adroitness.

Keep the name of Moore in mind.

You'll hear it often before the key is carved.

If Moore's work last season is any touchstone, Bob will not disappoint them. Despite the presence of a veteran backfield, he broke into the lineup long enough to win a major "I". This year, with Russ Fisher and Herman Schneidman gone, he

Otto Gets Credit For Win; Locals Play At Waterloo Tonight

The Kelly Oilers, slaming base hits to all corners of Kelly field at the expense of the Greyhound Giants last night, demonstrated in a convincing manner that they are ready for an invasion of Waterloo tonight where they play a crucial doubleheader with the Schukel Chevrolet.

The Negro outfit from Beloit, Wis., was no match for the local league team, after the second inning bowing by a 6 to 1 score. In accomplishing theirfeat, the Oilers combed "Pee-wee" Johnson and "Tarzan" Peterson for 11 hits, one of them a triple by Ebert and two of them doubles by Hedges and Smith.

A quartet of pitchers paraded to the mound for the Oilers, not out of necessity, but to save Gunia and Otto for tonight's encounters. Included in this group was Leo Gaucher, a recruit, and Scottie Barrett, regular second baseman. Otto was the only one to surrender a hit.

Lewis, flashing a doubtful underhand delivery, escaped the first two frames with only two hits against his record. However, the Oilers took their work seriously in the third inning, pushing five runs across the platter.

With two out, Pohoski smashed a hard hit over the keystone bag and took second when the short-fielder bobbled the ball. Barrett rolled to the second baseman there, low to first and Carvin dropped the ball, leaving runners on first and third bases. Pohoski scored when Smith beat out an infield roller and Hedges' double sent Barrett and Smith home. The Oiler leftfielder counted run No. 5 when Acting Manager Sulek singled.

The Kelly 10 coasted along on this huge margin until the seventh inning when Smith's single sent Barrett home to insure a victory.

Gaulocher's wildness permitted the Giants to gain their sole marksmen. He passed three men to fill the bases and Carvado dashed across the plate while Barrett was throwing out Stewart.

Earle C. Nelson, outfielder purchased by the Chicago White Sox from Greenville of the East Dixie league, is a cousin of Catcher Benny Tate, formerly with the Sox and the Senators.

Only six players in the big leagues have made 200 hits in their first full season as a big leaguer, and two of them are on the Chicago Cubs, Billy Herman and Chuck Klein.

HEAVY FAVORITE

Lenhart Wins State Casting Tournament

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 12 (AP)—Don Lenhart of Des Moines walked away with the all-round championship in the State Bait and Fly Casting tournament completed here today at Greenwood park pool.

The Des Moines angler clinched his claims Monday in winning two firsts in three events. He shot a 97 in the accuracy fly event laying out "perfects" for the first eight casts, dropped one point on the ninth and two on the tenth target.

Shooting off a tie for fourth place with Roy Fox of Ft. Dodge, E. E. Cavanaugh, also of Ft. Dodge, shot a perfect 100.

Lenhart's second win was in the distance fly event with an average cast of 108 1-2 feet. His longest cast in the series was 110 feet. His average outdistanced his nearest competitor Roy Fox of Ft. Dodge, by 7 1-3 feet, who had a long shot of 108 feet.

Fox tossed out the five-eighths casting plus in the distance event 280 feet with a total for five casts of 1,369 feet to win first. In an exhibition cast he heaved the weight 306 feet.

contrary, refusal to participate would serve no good purpose.

Loss of Prestige

As far as this immediate celebration of the games is concerned the absence of America simply would result in loss of American athletic prestige. Victories which America would figure to gain simply would go to other countries, possibly, to Germany. The Olympic games, the impartial world organization which has insisted upon fair treatment for Jews, Catholics and everybody else, would receive a handsome slap from those whom it has sought to protect. America, of course, would be the chief loser, having always been the greatest winner. Nothing would be gained except whatever satisfaction would accrue to those who think it's a lot of fun to get revenge for bad treatment by injuring all the innocent bystanders.

I should personally think that those who seem bent on using the Olympic games to revenge themselves on Germany would get more satisfaction out of sending across an American team so strong that the German spectators would wear themselves into a state of nervous and physical exhaustion rising up a dozen times a day while a German band played the Star Spangled Banner in celebration of American athletic triumphs.

Services Needed

Sydney A. Hesse, of Cleveland, one of two members of the house of representatives, who sponsored the resolution giving Owens the honorary job, said he did not support the resolution because of the controversy he began when it was a honoray" page, Ohio State athletic officials and others have said the receipt of this money in no way jeopardizes his amateur standing because his work for the legislature has no connection with athletics. They countered that amateur athletes draw salaries on jobs which enable them to come to a decision.

"Honorary" Page

Since it was discovered from the state auditor's books that Owens received $159 since the legislature adjourned June 9 as an "honorary" page, Ohio State athletic officials and others have said the receipt of this money in no way jeopardizes his amateur standing because his work for the legislature has no connection with athletics. They countered that amateur athletes draw salaries on jobs which enable them to come to a decision.

Owens, working at a gasoline station here during his summer vacation, reiterated several times since the controversy began that he does not want to jeopardize his amateur standing. Jesse, a recent bridegroom, said he wants to finish his routine matters after the legislature adjourned.

Youngsters to Compete

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Ninety-one youngsters will begin play today in Western Junior Amateur golf championship tournament at Oakland Hills country club. There will be an 18-hole qualifying round today, followed by match play tomorrow, followed by match play Thursday and Friday.

Sam Crawford, famous slugger on Detroit Tigers of another prosperous era, is now an umpire in the Pacific Coast league.

He thrust back his own despairing repugnance. For now, Val was just what she had pretended to be in the beginning: Helpless — without love — terribly afraid — In the face of this crushing humiliation he could not desert her. There was nothing to do but stand by.

Suddenly he held her shoulders in his two strong hands and he spoke slowly as to a terrified child. "Everything will be all right, Lia," he told her. "I am here to look out for you. No one will laugh. I'll take care of you just as long as you want me to."

"Opal!" she whispered. "She may know! She must have heard!"

"Wait! She must tell everyone! Everyone will know and they'll make fun of me! They'll laugh!"

He held her tightly, trying automatically to quiet her despair. Over and over she pleaded, "Don't let them laugh at me! Don't let them!"

Not let them! But people were bound to know. He fought to stem the sense of humiliation that coursed through him. Hereafter, he would be a marked man. Pointed out as the chap with the Chinese wife!

Committee Completes Official Program for 4-H Club Show

Show to Open With Concert, Style Review

Thursday Program To Feature Saddle Horse Exhibition

The official program for Johnson county's 1935 4-H club show, largest event of its kind in the state, was completed yesterday by members of the show committee.

More than 5,000 Johnson county persons are expected to witness two evening programs of the annual 4-H club show which opens at Iowa stadium and fieldhouse tomorrow.

Opens Tomorrow

The 1935 show will open tomorrow evening at 7:15 when the country 4-H club band, under the direction of Cliff Berkey, will play in concert before the style show review and the livestock parade, according to the official program announced yesterday by the show committee.

Thursday evening's program will feature a saddle horse show, the first of its kind ever staged in Johnson county.

Exhibit Project Work

Project work of more than 300 Johnson county farm boys and girls will be exhibited at this year's show. The livestock will be shown in the east concourse of the stadium and the home economics displays will be in the armory.

Three hundred head of livestock, including 90 baby bees, 20 beef heifers, 58 dairy heifers, 25 colts, 30 sheep, and 22 litters of pigs, will be shown in competition for cash prizes totalling $1,150.

Will Enter State Fair

Winners in the show will be entered at the Iowa State fair, the West Liberty fair, the Dairy Cattle Congress, and the Chicago International Livestock exposition.

Emmett C. Gardner, county agent, pointed out last night that the club show afford the exhibitors an opportunity to compare their work in caring for their stock with the efforts of other youths in the community.

Nearly 50 farm persons are donating their time and more than 150 business and civic organizations are helping in a financial way to prepare for and present the largest club show ever planned within the state.

Display Livestock

The livestock and home economics projects' exhibits will be on display from 6:30 p.m. tomorrow until the show closes Friday afternoon.

Following the style and the livestock parade tomorrow night, an amateur contest will be staged with 31 contestants from Iowa City, Solon, Lone Tree, Kalona, and North Liberty vieing for prizes.

Livestock judging will open the Thursday program at 8:30 a.m. Prof. John Quist will be in charge of the judging. Judging of girls' club exhibits will follow under the direction of Mrs. G. B. Elliott. Selection of baby beef club groups for the state fair and judging of various classes of livestock will continue throughout the morning and afternoon.

Thursday's Feature

The saddle horse show, a stock parade, and orchestra music will feature the Thursday evening session. Grand stands will be erected near the armory facing west to accommodate nearly 3,000 spectators for the show's outstanding event.

Poultry will be judged Friday morning and girls' demonstration groups will be ranked at 1 p.m.

The 4-H club boys will elect county officers at 3 p.m., Friday.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

By The Associated Press
Howard C. Hopson, missing mastermind of the Associated Gas and Electric system, was found and subpoenaed to appear before the house lobby committee Tuesday.

The senate finance committee reported the tax bill after reversing its decision to boost income taxes in the lower brackets.

Political circles, already buzzing with Herbert Hoover's latest statement, heard that President Roosevelt might make an early statement on the chief issues facing the country.

Congressional conferees on the utility holding company bill showed dwindling hopes for settlement of house-senate differences on the mandatory abolition clause before adjournment.

The house and means committee reported the Guffey coal stabilization bill, one of the measures requested by President Roosevelt.

The senate approved a bill to impose NRA code wages and hours on industries dealing with the government and defeated the Black bill which would have placed a 30-hour week in all industries operating in interstate commerce.

Democratic Senate Leader Robinson, after a talk with President Roosevelt, saw a possibility of adjournment next week.
