Couple Married In Scarsdale, N. Y., To Live in Pelham

At a late afternoon ceremony yesterday, Kathryn Marion Schulze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schulze of New York City and Scarsdale, N. Y., was married to Robert Lambert, also of New York City, son of Dean and Mrs. Byron J. Lambert, 4 Melrose circle.

The ceremony was performed at the Schulze Scarsdale home, with the Rev. George H. Smyth, pastor of Scarsdale Hitchcock Memorial church, officiating.

Betsy Schulze, sister of the bride, and Clyde Savery of Scarsdale, an alumnus of the University of Iowa, attended the couple.

The bride was graduated from Rosemary hall, Vassar college, and the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts of New York and Paris. Mr. Lambert, a graduate of the University of Iowa, where he affiliated with Delta Chi fraternity, attended Annapolis naval academy. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert will reside in Pelham, N. Y.

Catch Boy, 15, Fugitive From Reformatory

Police last night were holding Dominick Martino, 15, who was caught on a freight train near the Rock Island station yesterday morning by Patrolman George Zimmerman. Martino escaped from the McCaskey reformatory at Independence, Mo., earlier in the week, police said.

Reformatory officials were expected today to take the boy in custody. Martino was one of eight boys who escaped in a group from the Missouri institution, it was said, but left his companions at Des Moines and was headed for Chicago. The eight journeyed to Des Moines in a stolen car, Missouri officials said.

The rest of the group were apprehended at Marengo late Thursday and were returned to the reformatory yesterday.

Martino, when arrested, claimed he had been paroled from the Missouri reformatory, but a telephone call by local authorities to the institution established his identity as one of the wanted fugitives.

The French government contributed $22,000 of the $1,000,000 or more that it cost to build the Eiffel tower, Alexandre Gustave Eiffel, the engineer who built it, supplied the remainder of the money, trusting for reimbursement to the collection of a fee for ascending the tower.

Seeks Nomination

Dr. Frederick C. Schadt of Williamsburg, above, Thursday announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for state senator from the first district. He was born in the Amana community and was graduated from the University of Iowa colleges of medicine and pharmacy.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Luke 8:1-56

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell and Alfred J. Buescher

Jesus often warned against putting money first in life. Life consists not in the abundance of things possessed. In the storms of life it is the presence of Christ with us that counts. He gives peace that money cannot buy.

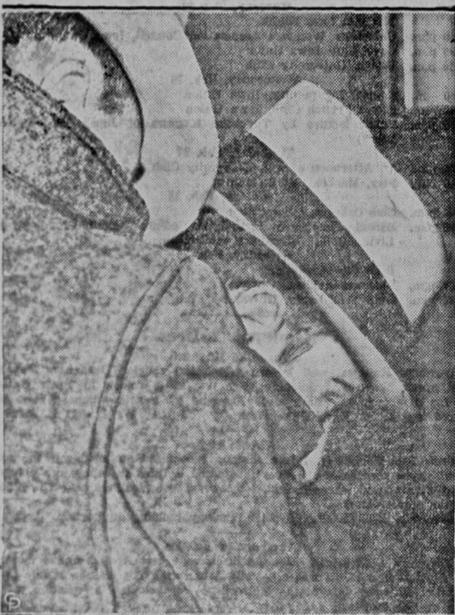

In healing a man possessed of evil spirits Jesus permitted the spirits to go into a herd of swine which then rushed into the sea and were drowned. Their owners ordered Jesus to leave because they cared more for hogs than for men.

Health is to be valued above wealth. A woman sick twelve years gave all she had to get health. At last she touched Jesus in a crowd and her faith was rewarded with healing.

The only daughter of Jairus lay dead and Jesus came and raised her to life. Jairus believed and his faith brought a blessing that no money could buy. Money is valueless in comparison with life.

LEOPOLD BEING LED TO HEARING

Nathan Leopold, co-slayer with the late Richard Loeb of Bobby Franks, refused to answer questions when he was taken before a grand jury at Joliet, Ill., conducting an investigation into conditions at Illinois state penitentiary at Stateville. Leopold, shown at right trying to avoid camera, told questioners: "I don't like the idea of a lot of guys shooting questions at me. I wish I were back in the big house." When State's Attorney William McCabe asked him whether he would be embarrassed telling the jurors his prison status, Leopold answered: "I'm serving two sentences, of 99 years and life, and I expect to spend the rest of my life up there."

Hold Two In Poison Death

BEDFORD, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sheriff T. V. Lacy held two persons for investigation tonight in connection with the death of Mrs. Floyd Horton, 37.

A coroner's jury investigating her death meanwhile postponed its inquiry tonight until tomorrow morning.

The sheriff held Floyd Horton, 28, the dead woman's husband, and Mrs. Anna Johnson, 28, a neighbor of the Horton's. Mrs. Horton died at her farm home near here early Saturday.

Coroner Floyd Shum ordered an investigation into her death today after receiving a report from the state toxicologist that enough poison was found in the woman's stomach to cause death.

May Go to Poland

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—A high official of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, a spokesman said yesterday, may be sent to Poland to direct legal action against Polish suppression of a Methodist organization.

Indict Convict Killer of Loeb At Penitentiary

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 21 (AP)—A grand jury investigation of two sensational episodes at Stateville penitentiary culminated today in the indictment of a convict for the razor slaying of Richard Loeb and of a former guard for aiding the escape of a prisoner.

James Day, moody young robber from Chicago, was charged with murdering Loeb in a prison bath room last Jan. 23 in an indictment returned before Circuit Judge E. L. Wilson.

Homer Talley, ex-guard, was charged with abetting the flight of John Floss, Chicago, serving a one year to life term for armed robbery. State's Attorney W. R. McCabe said he was undecided whether to ask the death penalty for Day.

Several Injured as Ship Laden With Nitrate Flames, Explodes
BALTIMORE, Feb. 21 (AP)—One fireman was killed and several injured tonight while fighting a fire in a nitrate-laden ship here. Explosions shook the ship and spread the fire.

Water was of little avail in halting the blaze. When water struck the nitrate, explosions followed. Less than two hours after the blaze started, firemen said there had been a thousand explosions, some large, some of a minor nature. All served to spread the flames.

The fireman was knocked from the pier into icy water by a twisting hose. He was dead when pulled from the water. The other firemen were injured at the same time. They were taken to a hospital. The steamer, the Gisia, is of Norwegian registry and arrived here only today.

The crew of 30 men, Captain Thorbjorn H. Abbetson and Mrs. Abbetson were aboard the Gisia when the fire started. The sailors fought the blaze until obliged to flee to safety.

Three Faiths Join in National Observance of Brotherhood

A National Brotherhood day service, in which Catholic, Jew and Protestant will participate, will be held at the Congregational church tomorrow morning at 10:45. Sunday has been designated as Brotherhood day by the National Conference of Jews, Catholics and Protestants.

Representatives of the three faiths will discuss, "How can the spirit of brotherhood and good will be more effective in human relations?" Rabbi David Polish, from Temple Judah, Cedar Rapids, will represent the Jewish people. Rabbi Polish is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and Union Hebrew college.

Representatives Catholics
Dr. Christian Richard, a Roman Catholic from Switzerland, will represent the Catholic people. Dr. Richard is a special lecturer in the school of religion for the second semester. He has studied and taught in Europe and America. He received his doctorate from the University of Paris. He has written many books including "How to Read the Bible," "Psychology Applied to Religious Education," and "Humanism in America and in France." His most recent book, "The Life of Pasha, Baghdad," is a study of Mohammedanism.

Ping Lu Li, a native of China, will represent Protestantism. His parents in China are members of a Christian church. He received his early education in his native land. At present he is pursuing graduate study at the University of Iowa. Ping Lu Li Sunday morning will present the Orient as well as Protestant Christianity.

This is the third annual Brotherhood day service at the Iowa City Congregational church.

"All men and women in Iowa City," said the Rev. Llewellyn A. Owen, pastor of the Congregational church, "who have not planned to attend other church services at the 10:45 Sunday morning hour are cordially invited to hear these three men discuss one of the most important questions that faces modern civilization. This non-sectarian service is for all people regardless of creed or race."

Gilmore Asks for Closer Union Between Education, Research

In an appeal to alumni attending the college of dentistry meeting to make the university the focal point between the professional and the non-professional in research, President Eugene A. Gilmore in a welcome address yesterday morning said "effective professional education is more likely to be attained if carried on in close association with those doing advanced and research work in those basic fields."

"Personally," the president said, "I have no doubt that professional education in law and medicine and in every other profession of a learned sort should be carried on as an integral part of a university, and that there should be a very close relation between the professional group and the university group; in fact, it would be advantageous if there be an overlapping of the two groups."

He added, "There should come substantial progress towards the goal of a professional education in dentistry which is less vocational and more liberal, and at the same time more efficient. To the dental teacher and to the dental student the university has much of technical, intellectual, and cultural value to offer."

Frog Legs For Sale!

Page Bret Harte! For The Leaping Frogs Have Leaped South

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—A nice mess of frog legs was for sale cheap tonight after a half hundred local prizes put on an exhibition in the touted international "frog Olympics" that would have brought a disgusted croak from Woco Pep, the Man-of-War of frogdom.

Old Dan Tucker, home-town entry, finally got up enough energy for the winning hop of five feet, 7 3/4 inches—but anybody could tell his heart wasn't in the jump.

Several hundred spectators crowded about the flour-covered course derived their chief pleasure from jeering the flop of the prized California brigade, brought here with the announced intention of carrying the world championship and even a new record back to the far west.

Most of the raspberries, however, were saved for "On to Oakland in 1938," carefully groomed star of the Californians. Placed on the starting mark with loving care, he squatted contentedly, ignoring the pleas of his handlers for a leap half the distance to Oakland.

Finally, somebody thought of the bottles of California air sent along in case "Oakey" developed just such a fit of temperance as this. He took a whiff, and promptly plopped backward.

Old Dan Tucker's leap failed even to approach the 18-foot, seven-inch sail taken by Woco Pep in 1934, but the efforts of the others finally coaxed into a trial were worse.

Jasper, born and reared near here and Sarasota-owned, landed second at four feet 10 1/2 inches. Junior, pet of the St. Petersburg junior chamber of commerce, was third at four feet, 8 1/2 inches; and one armed bandit, Sarasota, stole fourth with a miserable hop of four feet 6 1/8 inches.

Freshmen Will Debate Foes Here Thursday

Two teams of freshman debaters will compete against Elkader Junior college representatives here Thursday at 2 p. m., Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of university debate, announced yesterday.

The question of discussion will be: Resolved, that congress should have power to override, by a two-thirds majority vote, decisions of the supreme court declaring laws passed by congress unconstitutional.

Iowa's affirmative team will be composed of Corwin Johnson, A. of Cincinnati, and Perry Omoutz, A. of Sioux City. Seymour Shapiro, E. of Davenport, and Lloyd Lowe will argue the negative side of the question.

Helsell, Reed Win Decision

Defense Attorneys Frank Helsell of Ft. Dodge and Henry Reed of Cresco were awarded the decision in this week's senior practice court trial in the college of law, yesterday and Thursday.

In the trial, a will contest, the will was upheld and the testatrix found to have had mental capacity, and not to have been unduly influenced. Her daughter, who was bequeathed all of her property, was allowed to keep it according to the court's decision.

Flickinger to Talk On Greek Theater

Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, head of the classical languages department, will present the last of a series of four illustrated lectures on "The Greek Theater and Its Drama," in the geology auditorium this morning at 11 o'clock.

This series of lectures has been given to aid sophomore English students in the study of Greek plays.

Mystery of Shining Eyes Disputed By G. Walls in Talk

The glowing eyes of some animals which shine so mysteriously at night are really the result of a peculiarity in the structure of the eye which permits any light falling on the eye to reflect, according to Gordon Walls, who spoke at a meeting of the zoology seminar yesterday afternoon.

The light falling on the eyes of such an animal passes through the retina of the eye and falls on a membrane which reflects the light back through the retina, thus allowing it to be utilized twice.

When Craig Lambert, A. of Sigourney, entered his English class tardy the other day the instructor had to cease instruction for several minutes because of the waves of laughter that followed. We understand that Prof. Carrie Stanley was reading from the play Agamemnon by Aeschylus, and just as she said "What is to come will come," in came Craig.

Homer, A. of Blackball, S. D., reports the following comments made by his friends at the St. Louis symphony concerts under Valdimir Golschmann Thursday: "What! No saxophone?" The Sigma Delta Tau's ought to break a few records of some kind tonight. At least their party is called "The Leap Year Leap." On their programs will appear the following verse:

I'm ready to make the final leap, But oh you've been so slow. Now here's my chance At our house dance To bring you home in tow.

Pain has its pleasures, according to Lillia Monsanto, A. of Balboa, Canal Zone. It seems Lillia, to whom sub-zero weather is a new experience, was having difficulty in relating to her folks how cold it was. Now that she has frozen her feet, the result of a tobogganing party, she is happy over the fact that she has a strong talking point.

Radusch Talks About Diet At Dental Session

Meeting Opens With Welcome Address By S.U.I. President

Attacking the belief that there may be danger in mixing proteins and carbohydrates in the diet, Dr. Dorothy Radusch of the University of Minnesota addressed the morning session of the college of dentistry alumni association meeting here yesterday.

Dr. Radusch, in her talk, said "there is danger in emphasizing the value of any food instead of urging use of a class of foods." She praised the use of milk in the diet and the serving of tomatoes as a substitute for much-advertised citrus fruits.

The two-day meeting was opened with an address of welcome by President Eugene A. Gilmore and a response by Dr. Clarence Fenner, president of the alumni association.

In another lecture, Dr. C. Stowell of Chicago emphasized the danger of infection spreading from teeth to cause diseases such as arthritis or gastric ulcers, and "Operative Dentistry" was presented by Dr. H. E. Hanson, in which he emphasized the layman's need for a more extensive knowledge of dental health.

Dr. Hanson said "only 15 per cent of the American people are now seeking dental aid," and he declared "the glorious possibilities of our profession were never more evident than they are today."

On the afternoon program Dr. Don E. Woodward discussed "Oral Surgery for the General Practitioner."

Closes Program Homer Dill, director of the university museum, closed the day's program with an illustrated lecture on "A Fishing Trip to Mexico." He said "I feel glad that the United States failed in the attempt to purchase Mexico," in his praise of the beautiful scenery, unspoiled forests, unpopulated streams, and great quantity of wild life of the country.

Dill's lecture was accompanied by pictures that showed the country and natives in their primitive surroundings. He emphasized that Mexico is a bounteous place for museum seekers.

Audience of 300 Applauds Iowa Supervisors Chorus

By DAN RODMAN

An enthusiastic audience of more than 300 conference visitors and townspeople applauded the Iowa supervisors chorus, conducted by Noble Cain of Chicago, at Macbride auditorium last night. The chorus, together for the first time in demonstration-rehearsals today, presented a varied and difficult program, closing the first day's program in the fifth annual conference of music teachers and supervisors.

Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department, as piano soloist responded to the acclaim of the critically appreciative audience with encores.

Three hours of rehearsal today, under its energetic conductor, the chorus achieved well-balanced richness of tone and striking dynamic effects. Cain's impressive command of the group was in evidence throughout the concert.

Three works written by the chorus conductor earned vigorous applause, as did Handel's famous "Hallelujah Chorus." The Handel composition was performed capably and with spirit, although the chorus had never rehearsed the selection as a group.

Mr. Cain said in an opening announcement that the concert was an informal continuation of the day's "class-work," and through the evening he emphasized the educational value of the compositions presented.

Clear diction and phrasing marked the singing, which included compositions for male voices only, and for the women's groups alone. Another choral feature was "Gypsy Lady," a Kentucky folk-song arranged by the composer Malin, an authority on American folk-music formerly of Tama. Florence Vandervick of the music department sang charmingly the soprano solo passages.

Introduced by Cain as "an educator musically known as one of the best piano players in the country," Professor Clapp presented first the intricate Ballade in G minor of Chopin. His encore was a Grieg Nocturne.

As his second group he played Tschakowsky's "Meditation" and the exacting Brahms Rhapsodie, opus 119, no. 4. For an encore he displayed the technical complexities of Liszt's "Legend of St. Francis Walking on the Waves," in answer to a request.

The works written by Noble Cain presented last night were "Calm Be Thy Sleep," "Go Down, Moses," and an a cappella arrangement of Tschakowsky's "Oh, Blest are They." The latter work is a requiem from the liturgy of the old Russian church.

The program opened with Beethoven's "The Heavens Resound," called by Cain "the good old standby."

Gertrude K. Murphy of the music department was accompanist for the chorus. Ronald J. Neil of the music department was manager of personnel, and Florence Vandervick served as librarian.

Intellectually through high school," said the speaker, "although a system of 'psychological organization' has its place in the elementary schools."

Urging greater specialization in high schools and colleges, Professor Spaulding disparaged so many general courses, such as general science, and the usual method of teaching history. History in high schools should, he contended, be divided into social, political and industrial history.

"I think orientation courses have no place in the college curriculum," he contended, "and such generalization should be left to the high schools."

The Russian mulberry may afford protection not only to strawberries and cherries, but to other fruits and vegetables.

"It is likely that a pupil who has been allowed to learn in consideration of his immediate interests will escape through life under the name of artistic development," asserted Professor Spaulding. "I doubt if the progressive students will come out in later life so well as students from more conventional schools."

"Pupils ought to be growing up

Baconian Lecture Tells Of Magazines During Civil War Days

Asserting that "very few actual records have been preserved from 75 years ago," Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism, included a great variety of reminiscences, memoirs, and correspondence as he surveyed the "Business of Magazine Publishing During the Civil War Period" in a Baconian lecture last night.

The magazines of the time found it difficult to survive during the hard times, for the nation's pocketbook hardly provided for food and clothing, Professor Mott indicated. Newspapers were in greater demand because of the war news, and found a larger market due to their cheaper price, he said.

Rising Price One hardship, the rising price of paper, affected all publications. In the last months of 1862 paper prices rose 40 per cent, and further advances were feared, according to the speaker.

Advertising in periodicals progressed in spite of the difficult situation, Professor Mott declared, citing the example of the Atlantic Monthly, which carried 14 pages of advertising in December, 1865. Other magazines carried from three to 12 pages.

Unique "A unique advertisement of the period was published in Harper's Weekly by the publisher of the New

$132,500 Gifts Aid S. U. I. In Building, Research Projects

Major gifts to the University of Iowa for building and research during the last 12 months total $132,500, headed by two $40,000 grants from the Rockefeller foundation.

This official summary, made for presentation to university alumni at the eighty-ninth anniversary celebrations next week, lists 13 gifts ranging from $40,000 to $2,300.

For equipment for the dramatic arts building, the Rockefeller foundation gave $25,000, and an additional fund of $15,000 was received for scholarships and fellowships in creative writing and play production.

Research in the zoology department in the physiology of the normal cell was aided by a grant of $40,000, the sum to be divided into annual $8,000 allotments.

Ranking third among the gifts was that of $13,000 from the Carnegie corporation for studios on either end of the fine arts building.

An anonymous donor contributed $4,000 towards the studios.

The sum of $6,500 from the National Research council has made possible additional research in the biology of sex, and the administrative expenses of the school of religion were partly defrayed by $6,000 from the Davidson Fund, Inc.

Other Grants Among the other important grants since last February are: $4,500 from the Mead-Johnson company for research in infant metabolism; $4,000 from the National Oil Products company for metabolism research; $3,000 for support of Frank O. Lowden prizes in six subjects; $3,000 from George E. Frazier by Symons loan fund for Anamosa students; $2,750 from Lever brothers for anti-oxygen research in biochemistry; $2,500 from Carnegie foundation for study of college library utilization; and $2,300 from Josiah Macy foundation for study of emotional processes of delinquents.

York Ledger," the lecturer said. Two installments of an absorbing serial were printed, and at the most melodramatic moment of the story the reader was left in suspense. To finish the story he must purchase the New York Ledger.

"Results were excellent," Professor Mott said, "but tempered with some resentment."

Incidents significant in the journalistic history of the period and quotations from the more important periodicals were included in the lecture. Between 1850 and 1865 nearly 2,000 periodicals other than newspapers were published, with an average life of two years, Professor Mott calculated.

The lecture was broadcast over WSUL.

CLINTON, Ia., Feb. 21 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—In a wild last minute finish, Iowa City's Little Hawks snatched a 20 to 18 overtime victory from Clinton here tonight. Paul McCune, Iowa City forward, scored a swishing field goal in the overtime period to give the visitors a two-point triumph.

Iowa City took the lead in the final quarter after an uphill battle, only to have Clinton tie the score when Manley dropped in a free throw in the last second of the regular playing time. In the three-minute extra period, the Little Hawks scored a field goal after one minute of play and amid frantic cheering which at times made it impossible to hear the official's whistle, stalled the remaining two minutes.

The visitors got off to a fast start and led 6 to 4 at the end of the first quarter. Clinton started hitting the basket in earnest in the second period outscoring the visitors 9 to 4, and holding a 13 to 10 advantage at the half intermission.

Neither quintet was able to solve the other's defense with any success in the third quarter as Iowa City cut Clinton's lead to a single point, 13 to 12. A field goal by the Hawklets was the only counter in the third period.

Iowa City, battling hard, gained a one point margin in the final minutes but in trying to protect the slim lead, Jerry Pooler was called for his fourth personal foul as the final whistle sounded. Manly, Clinton guard, calmly made good on the charity toss and the score was tied, 18 to 18.

After one minute of the overtime, McCune, Hawk forward, took aim from a difficult angle on the side of the floor and sent a neat counter through the hoop for two points.

McCune, Miller and Amerine turned in nice games for the winners, the latter leading the attack with six points. Murray was high for Clinton with 11 points.

The Clinton sophomore team enabled the locals to gain an even break when it defeated the Iowa City sophomores 18 to 11, in a rough game. Thirty-five fouls were called, the Red and White five being guilty of 25 misplays while Clinton was called for 10.

Hawk Swimmers Meet Illini Here Today

Rivalry With Venzke Features Madison Square Track Meet

By HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Knights of the board tracks take another whirl at toppling indoor records tomorrow night in the Amateur Athletic union's forty-eighth national senior indoor championships in Madison Square garden.

As the pick of the country's athletes converged on New York tonight, at least a half dozen indoor standards appeared unlikely to withstand the assault of such record breakers as Glenn Cunningham and Gene Venzke, whose 1,500-meter duel tops the program; Eddie O'Brien, Syracuse's ace quarter miler; Jack Torrance, Cornelius Johnson, Eulace Peacock, Forrest Towns, Chuck Hornbostel and Hank Cleman.

Although Joe Mangan won't be there to complicate matters, Cunningham's indoor record of 3:50.5 may well go by the boards when he and Venzke toe the mark in the 1,500-meter event. Back in the form that made him an idol of New York's track fans three years ago, Venzke already has beaten Cunningham twice this year and will be out to make it three in a row. Mangan, the ex-Cornell ace who sprang a stunning upset in beating both Venzke and Cunningham in the Wamamaker mile of the Millrose games, was forced to withdraw from tomorrow night's tussle because of illness.

O'Brien, who cracked the 500-yard record in his last start, tops a crack field in the 600-meter run in which Milton Sandler, the indoor record holder, seeks his fourth successive title.

Records also may fall in the high jump, the 1,000-meter run, the 65-meter high hurdles, the shot put and the 1,500-meter walk.

In the high jump, Johnson, Pacific coast ace, renews his torrid duel with Temple's Al Threadgill with a newcomer, Dave Burke of Marquette, a possible contender. Glen Dawson of Tulsa is conceded small chance of retaining the 1,000-meter title in the face of such opposition as Hornbostel and Elroy Robinson of Fresno State Teachers who provide.

Towns, the Georgia flash who broke the 60-yard timber topping mark last week, heads a crack field in the 55-meter hurdles with Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist, Al Moreau of Louisiana and Phil Good of Bowdoin as other starters. Torrance, Louisiana State's indoor and outdoor record holder, will seek revenge for two successive defeats at the hands of Dimitri Zalts of Boston college, in the shot put. Cleman, Canada's great heel and toe artist, appears to be the class of the field in the 1,500-meter walk.

Completing the program will be the 35-pound weight throw, with Henry Dreyer of the New York A.C. favored to retain the championship; the 60-meter dash, featuring the Negro flyers, Peacock, Ralph Metcalfe and Ben Johnson; the 3,000-meter steeplechase, with Joe McCluskey battling Frank Nordell and Harold Manning; the broad jump in which Ed Gordon of Iowa, Olympic champion, will meet Peacock; and the 1,000, 1,600 and 2,900-meter relays.

The New York A.C. is a general choice to retain the team championship.

Unbeaten Wrestlers To Scrap for Second Win of Week

Iowa's undefeated Hawkeye wrestling team will try to maintain its unblemished record tonight against the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Lincoln.

The Hawks will hold better than a 50-50 chance for a victory because of their three straight victories thus far in the season, previously wrestling two Big Ten foes and one non-conference opponent. The Cornhuskers have been less fortunate as they have been downed by Kansas State, Minnesota and Iowa State Teachers college. However, they will prove powerful opponents since they were victorious in skirmishes with Missouri and Kansas.

Before leaving for the Nebraska camp, Coach Mike Howard announced that he would again switch the positions of DeWayne Guernsey and Scott Fisher. Fisher will care for the 155 pound class while Guernsey will handle the 145 pound event. This is the same arrangement which proved successful in the Iowa State Teachers match last Wednesday evening. No other squad changes will be made for the coming event. Squad members are:

Purdue Meets Wildcat Quint In Loop Tilt

GAMES TONIGHT

Michigan at Iowa
Wisconsin at Indiana
Purdue at Northwestern
Minnesota at Illinois

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Northwestern, the only team able to give Purdue a battle on its own floor, will make another try tomorrow night at slowing the hustling Bojermakers down.

The Wildcats gave Purdue a big scare a week ago in holding the Big Ten leaders to a 31 to 27 decision at Lafayette, and are given a good chance of producing an upset at Evanston in the feature game of the schedule. Indiana, trailing Purdue by half a game, meets Wisconsin at Bloomington, while Michigan goes to Iowa, and Minnesota plays Illinois at Champaign, in the other contests.

Another victory for Purdue would just about assure the Bojermakers of the championship. Once past Northwestern, Purdue has only to meet Minnesota, Iowa and Michigan, all of which have been beaten by Coach Ward Lambert's high scoring outfit. Indiana, hopeful that something will happen to Purdue, has two more games after tomorrow night's engagement, tackling North-western at Evanston and Ohio State at Bloomington.

The Hoosiers already have a victory over Wisconsin, a 26 to 24 decision gained at Madison, and should do better at home.

The other two games have no bearing on the championship situation but will provide revenge opportunities for Minnesota and Iowa. The Gophers took a 42 to 19 beating from Illinois at Minneapolis in the opening game of the season, and will be out to square the series. Michigan squeezed out a 31 to 27 decision over Iowa at Ann Arbor, but probably will run into trouble at Iowa City where the Hawkeyes have dropped only one decision to a conference foe this season.

BITS ABOUT SPORTS

By ART SNIDER

THE SHREWDEST SHARP-shooters, using the soundest mathematical calculations, conclude that a home basketball team, benefitted by its own crowd, band and cheering, has a four-point advantage over its rival before the teams take the floor. This was the margin by which Michigan conquered Iowa at Ann Arbor. This is the margin by which Iowa should win over the Wolves tonight, for in other respects, the two are of equal strength.

BUT THESE COMPUTA-tions are not infallible. Four points amounts to only two baskets that should go in but which may roll around the rim and fall out—or, on the opponent's side, two distant shots that happen to hit beyond the normal percentage.

When two teams are but four points apart in actual strength, the short end team has a grand chance to get lucky.

REALLY, THERE IS NO COM-mon sense in attempting to forecast the margin by which any team will win for the team you are favoring is not playing to satisfy a bookmaker's handicap. It is playing to win by playing for a safe margin rather than by playing for a showy margin.

BUT WE DO VENTURE the conjecture that Iowa will win tonight. The boys are well prepared. They have met with every type of basketball situation and know how to conduct themselves both when under pressure or when in the lead. To be sure, they have revealed some of the best offensive talent already, but they haven't begun to consume the supply of tricks Coach Hollie Williams has given them.

They now have a neat little fund of deception saved up which some night they are going to cut loose with and we can tell you confidentially that they are planning to show off a bit tonight.

Watch Minnesota Again, Opines Lynn Waldorf of N. U.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Bernie Bierman's Minnesota Gophers, who sailed unbeaten through the last three gridiron campaigns, will be the club to beat in the Big Ten again next year, Lynn Waldorf, head coach at Northwestern university, said today.

"The Gophers," he said, "will be just as strong as they were last year, according to the dope. They had a lot of reserve strength to draw on and Bierman's team should be the one to lick for the title once more."

"Heinie" Manush May Step to Plate For Iowa 9 in '37

Art "Heinie" Manush, freshman baseball player from Burlington, should star for Iowa in future years if hereditarily means anything.

The candidate for Iowa's first sack in future years has none other for an uncle than the illustrious "Heinie" Manush, former heavy clubber of the Washington Senators who was recently sold to the Boston Red Sox.

For the last few years, Art has made several road trips with the Senators as the guest of his uncle, during which time he picked up much information about America's favorite pastime which should prove valuable in the future.

Manush was offered a contract with Chattanooga by Joe Cronin, former Washington pilot, but Art's parents vetoed the offer because they wanted him to continue his pursuit of an education at the University of Iowa and because they considered him too young to play professional ball.

The youthful first sacker is already off to a good start in his baseball career for he was named all-state first baseman on the American Legion team last year.

DE WITT, Feb. 21 (Special)—Cramped quarters, poor lights and the ejection of the high-scoring Bob Coen in the fourth quarter combined to give the local St. Joe outfit a 36 to 33 victory over the invading St. Pat's quintet in a basketball game here tonight.

The removal of the clever Bob Coen from the battle in the fourth quarter via the personal foul route, after the Shamrocks held the upper hand, made the Irish easy prey for the locals whose fast break clicked with perfection in the closing minutes of the wide open game.

Coen scored twice from the field and once from the charity lane and Healy once from the field in the first period to give the green-clad invaders a 7 to 6 advantage.

Howard Demery, surprise starter at one guard post, collaborated with Coen as the visitors' sharpshooters began to manufacture points which gave them an 18 to 13 margin at intermission.

In the third frame Coen and Patterson alternated in making baskets which kept the Shamrocks out in front, 26 to 20, as the deciding stanza rolled up.

The visitors faltered again under pressure from the midwest St. Joe outfit which became decidedly "hot" in its basket shooting to gradually pass their lankier opponents as the minutes ticked away to near closing time.

When Carigg entered the game for the first time with but a scant number of minutes to play, the Shamrocks steeled themselves for a final assault in an endeavor to register a win, but the timer's whistle meant tape for the Shamrocks' hopes.

With Carigg riding the bench through most of the fray, Hill Leuz furnished a large share of the defense the Irish forces were able to muster. Coen stood out in all departments as was noticeable when the referee ejected him for the first time this season.

Fieldhouse Wins To Open Competition in Co-Op Volleyball

Fieldhouse volleyball team defeated Kellogg, 15 to 13, in the initial game of the cooperative dormitory volleyball schedule. In the first of a series of free throw contests, following the volleyball game, Canfield and Tobey of Fieldhouse took individual honors, scoring 13 points out of a possible 20.

The players on the volleyball teams were as follows:
Fieldhouse—Tobey, Blume, Mahoney, Lundberg, McKenzie and Canfield.
Kellogg—Long, Hill, Loudon, Young, Gothold and Nead.

Big, all outstanding swimmers here for the last three years, are the trio who will sing their swan songs before local fans.

"Jake" is scheduled to compete in the 220 and 440 yard free style events, Wehmeyer in the dashes, and Sieg in the sprints. The trio will also be used in the relays, giving them an opportunity to complete their collegiate careers at Iowa City in a blaze of glory.

Hansen Leads Illini
The Orange and Blue will be led by Capt. Hank Hansen, all-American sprinter; Overman and Lewis, distance stars; Brouck, bronker, stroller; Rusackue, back stroker, and Volz, diver.

Illinois' water polo team is heavily favored to whip the Hawkeye sextet, which already has dropped a 9 to 1 decision to Chicago. The invaders last week defeated the Maroons, 8 to 5, to establish themselves as contenders for the loop title.

Ambrose Five Plays Marians Here Monday

Revised Rambler Quint Hopes to End Streak of Four Losses

Considered one of the fastest parochial teams in the state, the highly touted St. Ambrose team of Davenport will invade Iowa City Monday night to battle the revised St. Mary's aggregation on the City High floor at 8 o'clock. Although the invaders are expected to meet trouble from the Rambler camp because both "Skip" Adrian and John Alberhasky have returned to regular positions.

Better Form
Although they have suffered four straight reverses, the Marians are expected to show early season form as they meet last year's state football champions, St. Mary's, has always been a strong tournament team and may upset the dope by a decisive victory in the coming battle.

Two men who were outstanding for St. Ambrose in the last battle were Donahoe and Bickford, whom the Ramblers will have to stop if they expect to triumph next Monday. These two players accounted for 14 of the Ambrosians' 19 points in the last game.

Keller
In the last battle Capt. Jack Keller held one of the St. Ambrose luminaries, Caffery, to one point throughout the encounter. If Keller turns in as good a performance as he did in the previous game it will greatly aid the Marian cause.

To date the Ramblers have won eight and lost six games. Three of their losses were during the absence of Adrian, however.

If the lineup for the coming game remains the same those who will start include Adrian and Alberhasky, forwards; Keller, center; and Schenk and Grimm, guards.

MT. PLEASANT, Ia., (AP)—Iowa Wesleyan, led by Dee Reese, sharpshooting forward, defeated Penn, 47 to 32, in an Iowa conference basketball game here last night.

Locatelli Wins
NEW YORK, (AP)—Cletto Locatelli, Italian welterweight, put on a stirring finish last night to wallop Izzy Jannazzo, rugged east side brawler in a sizzling 10 rounder in Madison Square Garden. Locatelli scaled 143 1-4 and Jannazzo 146 1-2.

"Big Train" To Emulate Washington

Revised Rambler Quint Hopes to End Streak of Four Losses

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The 20th anniversary of George Washington's birth will be observed tomorrow, with much of the nation cycling Walter Johnson's attempt to emulate the first president's legendary feat of throwing a silver dollar across the Rappahannock.

Appropriate anniversary exercises have been planned throughout the country. In Washington the senate and the house of representatives—usually in recess on Saturday—will meet to hear Washington's farewell address read.

Roosevelt
President Roosevelt will not be here. He leaves early tomorrow to speak at Temple University in Philadelphia. Later he will go to Cambridge, Mass., to attend the one hundredth anniversary celebration of the Ply club, a Harvard university organization to which he belongs.

Johnson, famed "Big Train" of baseball, will make his try to heave a silver dollar 372 feet from the bank of the first president's farm near Fredericksburg, Va.

Cherry Trees
Also during the day cherry trees will be planted at Fredericksburg to dedicate a "cherry tree memorial boulevard" from the city to the farm, where the youthful George is said to have chopped down a cherry tree.

Gov. George C. Peery, and members of the Virginia general assembly will attend.

Controversy over the coin-tossing attempt first arose when Rep. St. John Bloom, New York legislator-historian, said he did not believe the "myth" and bet 20 to 1 Johnson could not do it.

Bloom relied on old British government maps which were said to show the river was around 1,300 feet wide in Washington's time. Obviously, Bloom said, no one could throw that far.

More Disputes
This began a long dispute over the width of the river, it finally narrowing down to 372 feet.

Locatelli Wins
NEW YORK, (AP)—Cletto Locatelli, Italian welterweight, put on a stirring finish last night to wallop Izzy Jannazzo, rugged east side brawler in a sizzling 10 rounder in Madison Square Garden. Locatelli scaled 143 1-4 and Jannazzo 146 1-2.

Globe Trotters Clown, Loaf Way to 31 to 29 Triumph Over Racine's Lunch Quintet

Dennis, Johnson Pace Maher Leads Locals Visitors in Easy Win;

The Harlem Globe Trotters, with all the razzle-dazzle plays, passes and shots that have made them one of the most famous teams in the Midwest, came, saw, and conquered the Racine Lunch team last night at the Iowa City high gym by the score of 31 to 29.

The game was much more of a runaway than the score indicates as the dusky boys, led by Dan Dennis and "Killer" Johnson, were in complete command of the situation throughout. The local boys fought back hard but the Trotters had a little too much class for them to overcome.

The Harlemites coasted through the first half and were behind at the intermission, but they quickly took over things during the third canto.

It was not until near the end of the game that they opened up their full and varied assortment of tricky plays. Each man on the squad handled the ball as if it were glued to his hands as the visitors made it disappear behind their backs and between their legs.

At one time, the dusky boys had two balls in play at once and had the Racine team running around frantically. The crowd received its biggest kick out of the trick played on the referee. One of the Trotters was placed behind him on hands and knees and another caught him as he was pushed over the top.

Joe Maher kept Racine's in the running by pegging 12 points.

Five More Complete Free Throw Trials

Five more contestants finished their trials in the Quad free throw contest last night. The highest score was made by Wilbert Kehe who connected on 27 out of a possible 50, taking second place behind Warren Franklin, defending champion who scored 43 out of 50.

Others who completed their trials were: Paul Jantzen, 24 out of 50; Fred Erbe, 28 out of 50; Robert Lewinski, 29 out of 50; and Bill Huggy, 27 out of 50.

"A Darn Good Athlete"

Jay Berwanger Has Unreserved Praise For Iowa's Francis Cretzmeier

"He is a darn good athlete. In fact, he is one of the best all-around track men I have ever seen," answered Jay Berwanger, Chicago's "one-man" track team, when asked his opinion of Iowa's high-scoring Captain, Francis Cretzmeier.

The powerful Maroon, who was able to garner 10 points against the Hawkeyes in the Iowa-Chicago track meet, modestly passed off the praise his teammates attempted to bestow on him by laughingly admitting that "most of these fellows are fraternity brothers of mine, so be careful of what they feed you."

Olympic Games
His chief ambition is to represent the United States in the Olympic games. Berwanger is now training for the decathlon event, in which the athlete must compete in 10 varied events. The "Flying Dutchman," while admitting that his chances are rather slim, has been taking lessons from Keith Brown of Yale, one of the world's foremost pole vaulters. It is probably due to Brown's technique that Jay was able to clear 11 feet 6 inches.

All American
Berwanger, who first gained fame on the football gridiron as a "one-man" football team and who has been named on the all-American football teams for two years, also praised Ozzie Simmons, Iowa's swivel-hipped ball carrier.

Many fans jammed the dressing room after the meet to secure the autograph of the noted Chicagoan. Jay obligingly wrote his name over and over again for the boys, even though he was tired and dirty from his competition in the six events.

"Cretz" Gets Start On New Track Marks
Francis Cretzmeier, high-scoring Hawkeye captain who has scored 33 points in two dual meets this season, is off to a flying start towards shattering his last year's scoring record of 144 1-4 points.

In order to break his record, "Cretz" must average slightly less than nine points for the 12 remaining meets.

At this time last year, he had scored only 27 points in three dual meets. Each of the meets this year has been exactly the same, with the Hawkeye leader winning the high and low hurdles and the broad jump and tying for first with his teammate, Ray Latham, in the high jump.

In the Iowa-Chicago meet, Jay Berwanger, the Maroons' versatile athlete, was completely out-scored by Captain Cretzmeier. Berwanger garnered 10 points in six events while Cretzmeier grabbed 19 counters in five contests.

Yearlings Finish Gopher Postal Meet
As an added attraction to the Iowa-Chicago track meet at the fieldhouse, Coach Ted Swenson's freshman cindermen completed their postal meet with the Minnesota yearlings.

Capt. Johnny Graves won his favorite half-mile event in 1:57.7, followed closely by Milton Billig.

Carl Teufel was the winner of two events, the 60 yard low hurdles and the 60 yard high hurdles. Teufel was closely pressed in the low hurdles by Oshlow and Wiggins, but won the high hurdles with ease.

"Doc" Spencer set a fast pace to win the mile run followed by Hicks and Hodenfield.

Ed Wiggins, Omaha Negro, ran away with the 60 yard dash, with

Iowa to Issue Entry Blanks For Cage Meet

Entry blanks for the sub-district Olympic basketball trials here March 7 will be mailed early next week to all Iowa colleges which observe the one-year residence rule. Coach Rollie Williams of the University of Iowa announced yesterday.

The tournament winner will qualify for the district meet at Minneapolis March 13 and 14, there to meet finalists from five other states. Ultimately, the winners of sub-district, district, and inter-district meets will go to New York for the final trials, competing against the national Y.M.C.A. and National A.A.U. champion for the honor of representing the United States in the Olympic games next summer.

Coach Williams, member of the district committee and manager of the tournament at the university, expects the competing teams to include Iowa, Iowa State, Drake, Grinnell, Iowa Teachers, Coe, and Cornell.

Creno Leads Winners With 12 Points to Cop Scoring Honors

WEST LIBERTY, Feb. 21 (Special)—University high's Blues battled desperately tonight on the West Liberty maple court in an effort to tumble their unbeaten hosts from the ranks of undefeated, but were doomed to see their hopes vanish as Glen Creno, brilliant West Liberty forward, scored 12 points and led his team to a 30 to 24 victory.

Never for a second was the game "iced" by either team. Charles Smith, Tom Horn and Dave Forrester were ably assisted by Donald Anclaux, tall reserve center playing the best game of his career, in their repeated rallies; but the accurate shooting of Creno always pulled his team out of danger when Coach Kistler's team evened the score.

NUMBER THREE

Individuals in the band at each pause, Revell worked for the essentials of concert band music, which he named as: "balanced and blended tones, proper pitch, and coordination in band and with the director."

The conference opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock with the explanation by Prof. Herald Stark of the music department of a group of six songs suitable for high school work, which were then sung by the choral symphony.

"The drummer should stand squarely but relaxed," said Mr. Ludwig, "and should work up his speed gradually, still remaining relaxed so that he will not become tired easily."

Demonstrating the use of the practice board in preference to practicing on the drum itself until a certain amount of accuracy is obtained, he explained "the drummer should use the practice board every day in order to preserve the head of his drum."

At 10:15 there was a demonstration rehearsal of the newly organized Iowa supervisors chorus of 110 voices, conducted by Nobel Cain of Chicago.

Cain emphasized the importance of what he called the "O-feeling" in singing, which is the smooth, deep tone obtained by singing from the chest, rather than head or throat resonance.

Also included on the morning program was a demonstration by the university chamber symphony, with Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department conducting.

The university chamber symphony was organized 15 weeks ago to show what can be accomplished with a small group and to serve as a laboratory for the class in conducting.

In addition to the demonstration by Revell the afternoon program included a demonstration of psychology of music experiments presented by 12 members of the psychology department.

The day's program was closed by a concert in Macbride auditorium by the Iowa supervisors chorus at which Professor Clapp was piano soloist.

Today's program will get underway at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mercury Soars Above Zero, So 'Happy Days Are Here Again'

Schools, Churches Open, Highways Clear As Cold Wave Recedes

DES MOINES, Feb. 21 (AP)—Iowa skies cleared of clouds tonight in preparation for the "fair weather and rising temperatures" the weather man forecast for tomorrow.

The clouds sifted some snow over the state today as temperatures mounted well above zero, after hitting 20 below early today at Spirit Lake.

The minimum readings, however, were little below zero in the southern half of the state and the mercury started rising early. While it didn't get as high as yesterday, most points reported readings in the teens above zero in late afternoon.

Plan Funeral Of Mrs. Little

Funeral service for Mrs. Cornelia Little, 89, who died yesterday morning at 9:30 at her home in the Washington hotel, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the McGovern funeral home, with the Rev. Richard E. McEvoy in charge.

Mrs. Little was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 7, 1846 and had been a resident of Johnson county for the last 40 years. She was a member of the Trinity Episcopal church and was the second oldest member of Trinity Guild. She was also a charter member of the Woman's Relief corps, Dixon, Ill.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Carson and Mrs. Ethel Andrews of Iowa City; and a son, James Little of West Liberty.

Foot Figures Election Costs

Councilman Estimates Expense for City In 11-Year Period

In an extensive survey of Iowa City election costs released last night by Councilman T. A. Foote of the first ward, the average cost per ballot for the last year period was set at 7.77 cents.

Included in Councilman Foote's survey for the years 1925 to 1935 inclusive are regular city elections, primary elections since their innovation here in 1927 and all special elections in 1927 and all special elections paid for by the city.

During the period included in the survey there were 54,622 ballots cast at a total cost of $4,244.75. The cost per ballot ranged from an 8 cent maximum for two primary elections in 1929 to a 5.5 cent minimum for a special election in 1934.

Items surveyed in Mr. Foote's report include salaries of election officers, rentals, ballots and the labor expense for setting up voting booths. Registration costs are not included because of the permanent registration set up here.

"Costs in city elections have, in general, run lower than in county and state voting," Mr. Foote said. "This is because the city ballot is simpler and because there are a relatively greater number of ballots cast for each unit of election board personnel."

Will Not Close Branch Line

The Rock Island branch line from Iowa City to River Junction, 12 miles south, will not be abandoned, according to word received here yesterday from representatives of the Interstate Commerce commission in Chicago by Attorney L. C. W. Clearman, one of the leaders in the movement protesting abandonment of the line.

Towns which would be affected by the abandonment are Hills, Riverside, Lone Tree, Wellman and Kalona, all located along the Rock Island line between Muscatine and Montezuma.

"I am pleased to advise that the application has been withdrawn and the line will not be abandoned," said A. McKenzie, vice-president and freight manager of the Rock Island lines, in a letter to Attorney Clearman.

City Hi Rifle Teams Drill Twice Weekly

Aspirants for the Iowa City high school boys' and girls' rifle teams are shooting twice weekly in the school gallery, Sergeant William C. Buckley of the military department, rifle coach, announced yesterday.

"We will have a fairly good boys' team this year," Sergeant Buckley said, "but our girls' team will not come up to the standard of last year's group."

Two home and home matches have been carded with the boys' team of Davenport for May, and arrangements are being made to meet Council Bluffs, he said. Both teams will enter the meet at Boonesville, Mo., March 13 and 14.

The girls' team has been participating in the National Rifle association in which it competes with nearly 150 other high school teams of the nation.

Boys trying for a place on the team to go to Boonesville are Kenneth Smith, Edmund Ellis, Edward Prizer, Bob Kaghan, Dick Feddersen and Jay Higbee.

Uninitiated Find S.U.I. Hospital Busy, Amazing Mine of Activity

"Information" Desk Is Heart of Intricate System of Service

quiring whether or not patients had been discharged and if the hospital cars had ventured out.

More than 1,000 persons receive mail through the information office. Packages and letters are mailed there. Incoming and outgoing mail for the hospital staff and patients is sorted and delivered to the various wards and offices by student employees. Magazines and newspapers may be purchased for patients.

Courteous clerks direct visitors to lodging places and to the hospital cafeteria. They obligingly call taxis, give out train and bus information or tell visitors where they may purchase stamps.

The information office not only renders these services to patients and visitors, but it also serves the hospital staff. Donors whose blood has been typed and cross-matched with that of a patient are notified by information if it becomes necessary to give a blood transfusion to that patient.

Information is always conscious of the pulse of a great hospital. In the lobby just outside people are always waiting. Some are waiting for visiting hours to begin. An anxious father is holding the hand of a small, serious boy. Some are waiting for news from an operation room, only son or a mother. It goes on continuously. It is just an ordinary hospital day.

Diagram Showing A Typical Water Service Installation

In the sketch it will be seen that the top of the water main is approximately 5 1-2 feet below the surface of the street. Between the water main and the stop box is a lead service pipe. The connection of this lead service pipe to the water main is made by what is known as a corporation cock, which in the old days used to be tapped and screwed into the top of the main, but which in recent years is tapped and screwed into the main at an angle of 45 degrees with a vertical axis. The connection to the main is made at the top or on the side for several reasons. The first is a practical one. It is much easier to tap the top or side of the main than it is the bottom. The second is, that over a period of years a silt deposit might gather in the bottom of the mains, and if the tap was made on the bottom or the side such silt might find its way into the plumbing of homes.

The shaded area in the diagram indicates the depth to which the frost has gone in the ground. It will be noted that the frost at BB is much deeper than at AA. Recent test holes reveal that the frost under paved streets is approximately 4 1-2 feet. The frost is not so deep under lawns or under the parking next to the street. The reason being that loose snow covering the lawns and parking acts as an insulator and prevents the ground from freezing as rapidly as it does under the paving where the snow is packed.

Bulges caused by the expansion resulting from the freezing permanently injure the water pipes," Professor Keller said. "Recurrent freezing increases the bulges and the possibilities of breaks in the pipes." The lower rate for water used in excess of the normal amount is still in effect, Professor Keller said.

From this brief description of the diagram it should be evident that the frost has penetrated into the ground to a point dangerously close to the top of the gooseneck in the service pipe. This short distance is indicated by the letter C in the diagram. There is evidence that the frost has gone down even below the top of the gooseneck, in some instances. In such cases it is very difficult to maintain service through the gooseneck without keeping the water in the gooseneck moving. The danger spot in the water service is the top of the gooseneck. It is not a very long piece of pipe, probably not over three feet, but if the gooseneck is close to the frost line, or if it is actually surrounded by frost it doesn't require much time for the water in the gooseneck to freeze, if it is allowed to remain stationary. The only practical way of preventing water freezing at the danger points is to keep the water flowing. It goes without saying that the more the gooseneck is surrounded by frost the quicker will be the tendency to freeze and the more necessary it is to keep the water moving.
