Prosecution Rests Case Against Louis Clay

Baldwin Calls 13 Witnesses As State Rests

Defense Attorney Will Not Ask Directed Verdict Here Today

By RICHARD EVERETT (Daily Iowan City Editor)

County Attorney E. A. Baldwin rested the state's murder case against Louis Clay, 28-year-old Iowa City Negro, yesterday afternoon in the Johnson county district courtroom here after having called 13 witnesses in an effort to prove that George Folsom, aged Iowa citizen, was choked to death Dec. 24, 1933, by the placid, unsmiling defendant.

Defense Attorney W. F. Murphy said last night he had decided against entering a petition for a directed verdict as court opens this morning, and will subpoena a list of 15 defense witnesses to give testimony during the next two days of the trial.

Mabel Davis, the state's star witness who admitted her name perhaps isn't Mabel Davis in the eyes of the law, "but it is as far as I'm concerned," doggedly stuck to her story of the alleged murder through three hours of grueling cross-examination at the hands of Attorney Murphy.

Miss Davis took the stand at the opening of court yesterday, and County Attorney Baldwin completed direct examination of his witness a few minutes later. Attorney Murphy then launched his long and involved cross-examination.

Repeated references to the transcript of testimony given in last year's trial, when Clay was given a life sentence which was remanded for a new trial because of lack of corroboration of the blonde's statements, delayed cross-examination many times while Murphy thumbed (See Page FIVE, No. 1)

Drafters Heed Complaint Of Big Business

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Taking heed of one of the loudest complaints hurled by business at the administration's $199,000,000 revenue plan, house tax drafters today decided to give preferential treatment to corporations with standing debts.

Despite the decision, however, house ways and means committee members were unable to say just how many corporations were involved, or the amount of corporate income that would be affected. Some contended the yield would not be reduced; others that it would.

This development shared interest with the stirring of a short-lived row within the committee over the tax program. Republicans continued to absent themselves from the committee's executive sessions, but Representative Lamneck (D-Ohio) staged an unsuccessful assault on the program as a whole, seeking to substitute another.

By a 7 to 2 vote Lamneck's democratic colleagues turned down his proposal for a flat 20 to 22 percent tax on corporation income, intended to raise $500,000,000, with additional funds to be obtained elsewhere. The Ohioan told newsmen that Representative Thompson (D-Ill.) voted with him for the change.

Asserting that he would fight the revenue program at every step on the house floor, the Ohioan said he would try again to win approval of his plan by offering it as an amendment.

(The general plan now contemplated by the committee majority would seek to produce $591,000,000 additional from a graduated tax on undistributed corporation income, linked with income tax levies on corporation dividends.

CENTER OF GAINESVILLE, GA., SHOWN IN RUINS FOLLOWING TORNADO

This air view of the business section of Gainesville, Ga., shows how the tornado laid much of the center of the city in waste. Debris is piled high and even the whiffs of smoke from a fire which broke out after the tornado had torn through the city can be seen. Note the single file of survivors picking their way through the ruins in the left foreground. This photo, taken from a plane of the Eastern Air lines which flew over the ruins, was speeded by Central Press in planes to various parts of America.

Border Rows In Far East

Jap Lieutenant, Five Soldiers Killed In Border Warfare

TOKYO, April 9 (AP)—Fresh border fighting between Soviet Russians and Japanese in which a Japanese lieutenant was killed and five soldiers were listed as missing was reported today by the Harbin, Manchoukuo, correspondent of the Domei (Japanese) news agency.

The Domei report said the lieutenant, commanding a few men, was patrolling a hilly section east of Sulfenho when the group encountered 14 Russian soldiers.

The Russians, the dispatch added, were on Manchoukuo territory and firing broke out. No other details were received.

Tension mounts in the far east has mounted over a series of such cases, some along the Soviet-Manchoukuo border and other along the Mongolian frontier.

The borders are loosely defined, usually the cause of the disputes.

Russian newspapers Thursday published a government note dismissing a Chinese protest against the mutual assistance pact between Soviet Russia and outer Mongolia.

The government newspaper Izvestia charged that China made the protest under pressure from Japan. China claimed Mongolia is an integral part of China and the treaty "appears to be a violation of the sovereignty of China and the Chinese-Soviet agreement of 1924."

"We have no doubt that the Chinese people will see the protest as a new proof of the helplessness of the Nanking government in the face of Japanese threats," said Izvestia.

"Incapable of defending the territory under its sovereignty, the Chinese government has already had witness of attacks against that territory by imperialistic robbers. "Under these conditions, it should view the Soviet government's willingness to help Mongolia as a favor. The Chinese people are doubtless thankful, that the Soviet will prevent Mongolia from becoming a victim of imperialistic robbery."

Roosevelt Confers With Relief Workers in South

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 9 (AP)—Relief workers in this storm-torn mill center assembled tonight to confer with President Roosevelt on the problem of rehabilitating a score of southern communities struck by tornadoes and floods.

With reconstruction paralyzed today by a cold, driving rain, civic leaders remained determined to rebuild from the $10,000,000 wreckage of Gainesville. A similar spirit was manifest at Tupelo, Miss., which shared with this city the brunt of tornadoic windstorms which killed more than 400 persons.

The visit of the president, en route by train to Washington after two weeks of fishing in southern waters, afforded an opportunity for discussing the allotment of $2,500,000 of WPA funds and senate approval of a bill providing $50,000,000 for RFC loans for storm and flood areas of the south and east.

The presidential special was scheduled to arrive at 9:15 p.m. (central standard time) from Warm Springs, Ga.

Burial of the 181 Gainesville victims was virtually completed tonight, but a few unidentified dead were still held.

Relief workers expressed the conviction the death toll would not rise appreciably, although a few bodies undoubtedly remain in the wreckage and some of the injured may die.

Hospitals remained crowded; only 225 of the 1,200 injured were in serious condition. Physicians said, however, some of them would require medical attention for a year (See Page FIVE, No. 2)

Italy's Delegate Will Not Talk

GENEVA, April 9 (AP)—Italy's delegate to the League of Nations declined tonight to discuss with a conciliation representative the terms under which Premier Mussolini would halt war in East Africa.

Italy's Delegate Will Not Talk

GENEVA, April 9 (AP)—Italy's delegate to the League of Nations declined tonight to discuss with a conciliation representative the terms under which Premier Mussolini would halt war in East Africa.

Salvador de Madariaga, Spanish delegate to the league who was instructed to obtain the terms, received a cold reception from Baron Pompeo Aloisi, the fascist representative.

Plainly incensed over the refusal of the league committee of 13 to empower Madariaga to go to Rome for the conversations, Aloisi said he had no instructions whatsoever on the war settlement question.

Italian sources reported Aloisi told Madariaga: "It is rather for me to ask you your intentions than for you to ask me mine. The chief of our government has announced he is ready to send a delegate to Geneva after Easter, but he also suggested he would be glad to see you in Rome before the Geneva talks begin. Naturally, we would like to know your answer."

The league committee, before giving its instructions to Madariaga, had addressed an appeal to both Italy and Ethiopia to "prevent any breach of international law" during the East African war. The appeal followed a recommendation by Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, particularly aimed at alleged use by Italian troops of poison gas.

Madariaga, who appeared dejected after his conference with the Italian representative, said he would discuss the problem with the league committee tomorrow.

(The Spanish delegate previously had been invited to Rome for the discussions, but apparently declined on the ground he would also have to go to Addis Ababa and the trip would require too much time.)

The Italian delegation announced later Aloisi was in Geneva merely to meet with other representatives of the remaining Locarno powers in consideration of the Rhineland question.

Sharp's neighbor, Isaac M. Patterson, told of a plane dipping for a moment out of fog 150 feet above his house, then roaring on south toward the high Chestnut Ridge. A few moments later, Patterson continued, he heard a sound like a small explosion, but didn't connect the noise with the ship.

A story of hearing the big ship and later a roaring crash, also was given by Ray Addis, WPA foreman and forest ranger who aided in rescuing the three survivors. Hostess Nellie Granger, Mrs. Meyer Ellenstein, wife of the mayor of Newark, N. J., and C. C. Challinor of Cleveland.

Addis said his crew of 25 men heard what sounded like the motor of a big truck, but were unable to see anything through the fog. He said one of the men described a noise heard a moment later as: "Like a locomotive taking up slack and the driving rods—going chug, chug."

The forest warden said he and his timekeeper tramped through the woods for a short time, then abandoned their search.

Brave Heavy Crosses, Long Trek to Mound

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., April 9 (AP)—Strong young men, solemn in agony, staggered beneath the weight of rough-hewn crosses tonight as the Penitentes of the Southwest reenacted in dreadful detail the ordeal of Christ's march to Calvary.

Their muscular backs were caked with the gore of repeated lashings. Their heads were bowed under crowns of cactus thorns. The bitter cold of high mountain fastnesses quickly congealed the blood which dripped from their stone-lacerated bare feet.

No Outcry

But they made no outcry, and struggled against any sign of weakness. By reaching the summit of El Calvario, they could prove themselves worthy of the highest honor their cult can bestow—worthy "Christos" of the Brothers of the Blood of Christ.

Behind them trailed a strange procession, the rank and file members of Los Hermanos de Sangre Cristo. Some of these were flagellants, scourging themselves with thorn-studded whips until their blood flecked the late spring snow for yards around.

Others came, piping an eerie accompaniment on their "piteros." Bringing up the rear were the women and children, moaning, moved by a strange fanaticism they could not understand.

In lonely mountain valleys of southern Colorado, and in secret foothill hideaways of New Mexico these ceremonies were performed. Sharp eyed lookouts, armed with rifles, were on guard so that the sacredness of these rites would not be witnessed by the uninitiated.

House Asks H. Hopkins to Tell Of His Political Work in WPA

Funds for Continuation Of Federal Relief Bring Republican Searchlight on WPA

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins defended his administration against charges of politics in relief before a house appropriations subcommittee today, at the same time promising to investigate fully a charge brought against the Pennsylvania works progress administrator.

Republican members of the committee, questioning Hopkins on the $1,500,000,000 new relief fund asked by President Roosevelt to continue WPA another year, faced the administrator with published assertions by Stephen Raushenbush, former senate munitions committee investigator, that his charges that Edward N. Jones, Pennsylvania WPA administrator, was distributing political matter in WPA workers' pay envelopes had been ignored.

Not Familiar

Hopkins was reported to have told the committee he was not familiar with the case but would have it investigated.

Questioned generally about alleged political activities of some relief administration officials, particularly in the field, Hopkins was stated to have replied that he could not know about every move they made. It was said, however, that he gave assurances he would investigate any charges reported to him.

The committee concluded its two day questioning of Hopkins late in the day, with the relief head agreeing to supply for the record all information he did not have readily available.

Study Answers

Some committee members, it was learned, were preparing to study carefully all the administrator's answers "filed for the record," and mark them for members of the senate appropriations committee so that Hopkins may be cross examined there. Republicans in the senate are seeking to force a special investigation of WPA expenditures and charges of politics.

Hopkins promises to inquire into reports of political activity within his organization coincided with the reply of his aides downtown to accusations by Joseph B. Grossman, republican member of Gov. James Curley's executive council, that the democratic administration was requiring Massachusetts citizens to "sacrifice their honest convictions" politically to obtain relief employment.

German Ship Reported In Air Trouble

PARIS, April 9 (AP)—Germany's new queen of the skies, the huge zeppelin Hindenburg, was said by the air ministry tonight to be battling motor trouble and head winds off Gibraltar, en route home from her maiden voyage to South America.

(In Berlin, officials of the zeppelin company said that the crew denied they were having motor trouble, but that the route home had been changed and shortened so the craft could arrive at Friedrichshafen Friday afternoon instead of Saturday morning.)

In response to an urgent appeal, the air ministry said, it granted the zeppelin permission to fly over France.

The ministry instructed airports from Bordeaux to Marseilles to keep their lights on throughout the night and have ground crews ready in case the Hindenburg should be forced to land in France.

There were unconfirmed reports here that either pistons on one of the zeppelin's four engines had broken or a connecting rod had snapped.

Officials said they expected the Hindenburg to follow the same route taken by the Graf Zeppelin when it was in trouble in France several years ago. Such a flight would take it up the Rhone valley, over Switzerland to Friedrichshafen.

(The Hindenburg had 19 passengers and a crew of 40 when she left Rio De Janeiro for home after an uneventful maiden voyage across the South Atlantic.)

Averts Catastrophe CINCINNATI, April 9 (AP)—An orphan girl's quick action in sounding a fire alarm averted a possible catastrophe today at St. Aloysius orphanage, the home of 185 parentless boys and girls.

The young heroine, 15-year-old Rose Mary Wurzelbacher, awakened by the sound of falling plaster and crackling timber, shouted a warning to sisters in a dormitory, speedily sounded the fire gong, and then aided in carrying to safety eight or 10 boys and girls of kindergarten age.

20-Ton Eye

PASADENA, Cal., April 9 (AP)—Scientists who study the stars will receive a 20-ton glass eye tomorrow to help them peer into distant universes.

The world's largest piece of glass, wrapped in a 15-ton steel packing case, will become the eye-mirror for a 200-inch telescope on Palomar mountain for the California Institute of Technology and the Carnegie institute of Washington.

Star Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 9 (AP)—The brief marriage of dark-eyed Sylvia Sidney, film actress, and Bennett Cerf, New York publisher, was terminated in divorce court today after Miss Sidney testified her husband objected to her career.

"He said that he did not understand motion picture people and that he did not understand him," she said.

The wedding was in Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 1, 1935, after an airplane elopement from Hollywood. They separated Jan. 2, 1936.

Holy Thursday

VATICAN CITY, April 9 (AP)—Holy Thursday ceremonies were concluded in St. Peter's tonight with the colorful rite of anointing the central altar stone with wine and water symbolizing the blood and water which came from Christ's side as He hung on the cross.

The traditional ceremony was conducted at sundown by Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state and high priest of St. Peter's. It was witnessed by hundreds of worshippers.

Reopen Sugar Issue

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Reopening by congress of the sugar control issue today promised a scramble among conflicting interests like that which attended the 1934 framing of the existing Jones-Costigan act.

Representatives of beet and cane producing states, of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, all mapped divergent plans. Four sugar bills have been introduced in the last few days.

Golden Eggs?

WINONA, Minn., April 9 (AP)—A hen capable of laying golden eggs would be nice, Mrs. Jennie Pelowski admitted today, but she's well satisfied with the flock she's got.

One of the hens went into the frying pan tonight, but not before Mrs. Pelowski extracted from it a craw that appeared to be a gold nugget. About half the size of a pea, it will be submitted to a jeweler for testing, she said.

Now all her hens—if the nugget proves gold—are slated for hurried trips to the chopping block.

Petition for Divorce Filed by Brantner In District Court

BITS ABOUT SPORTS

By ED WALSH

Dr. H. P. Mason of Wilton Junction is Iowa's most loyal baseball fan. The elderly doctor drives the 20 odd miles from his home to Iowa City on the average of twice weekly, primarily to watch the Hawks workout and to visit his son Bob, Vogel's spectacular fielding shortstop. From childhood on, Doctor Mason has trained his boy to play short—which probably accounts for Bob's all around work today.

Howard Miller, who pitches Iowa's opener today, has a large following in his home town of Bennett. The rangy sophomore hurler has a high school record to be proud of. During the course of his four years of high school pitching, the blond giant set the opposition down six times with no hits and no runs. Watch him fire them past the Illinois college batters this afternoon!

Charley Blackman might well be called a batter's nemesis, for the Hawk's tiny senior southpaw never gives a batter a ball over the heart of the plate, unless the count is three and two, and then his next pitch comes across the center of the rubber so fast that it is practically impossible to hit. Charley has the art of cutting the corners down to perfection this season and will be poison to Big Ten clubbers.

After pitching brilliantly in his sophomore year, Blackman had a bad year in '35 on account of a lingering case of influenza. When school was out last summer, the little hurler began to feel much improved physically and today he is rapidly rounding into top condition. Take it from Charley that he is going to have a big year—especially when warm weather returns.

Over on Iowa's first sack, Marion Clausen holds forth. Don't be surprised if this powerfully built senior slaps the ball all over the lot during the current season, for he hit at a .279 clip last year despite a prolonged batting slump. In the spring practice games "Claus" has been heating the earth down on the dike in right field with long fly balls from his big stick. Clausen has remarkable ability for a man of 215 pounds—often leaving the ground three feet to go after a bad throw.

Bystanders wax eloquent when Lowell Gosser uncorks one of his pitches. The veteran flinger looks like a major leaguer on the mound when he starts the pitch from the knee and gives his wrist a terrific snap as a final step in his almost perfect form. Nothing need be said about Gosser's speed, for he has it!

Sam Allen Ineligible For Drake Relays

DES MOINES, April 9 (AP)—The Drake relays committee, it was learned today, has ruled that Sam Allen, national collegiate high hurdle champion, is ineligible for competition in the relays here April 24 and 25. The committee held the Oklahoma Baptist sensation, who has won the Drake relays championship for two straight years and shares the meet record of 34.4, ineligible because he participated in a few minor track meets at Oklahoma Baptist during his freshman year. The hurdler is now in his fourth season of varsity competition.

Maplewood Relays Attract 400 Men

ST. LOUIS, April 9 (AP)—Nearly 400 high school athletes from Missouri, Illinois and Iowa will compete in the seventh running of the suburban Maplewood relays here tomorrow and Saturday. Out-of-town schools include Davenport and Cherokee, Ia. The Cherokee two mile relay team, which set an 8:36 record indoors recently, is expected to crack the relays' mark for that event. Among Davenport's entries is Russ Parsons, Iowa state hurdle champion.

Greenberg to Bat Cleanup for Tigers

DURHAM, N.C., April 9 (AP)—Manager Mike Cochrane said tonight that Hank Greenberg would replace Al Simmons in the cleanup spot of his Detroit Tigers' batting order. The Tigers have batted only .226 during spring training and, while Greenberg has not done much better than Simmons, Cochrane hopes a change will do them both good. Cochrane also disclosed that he is considering putting Gerald Walker in Goose Goslin's left field. Today's game with the Cincinnati Reds was rained out.

Browns Win, 3 to 4, On Coleman's Homer

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9 (AP)—Ed Coleman hit a home run today as the St. Louis Browns ended their spring exhibition series with an 8 to 4 victory over Memphis of the Southern association. Holy Cross Holds Red Sox, 2 to 1

WORCESTER, Mass., April 9 (AP)—Boston's gold plated Red Sox had to battle to the last ditch to gain a 2 to 1 victory over the Holy Cross college here in an exhibition baseball game here today. Their big bats checked by the steady pitching of Brunninghaus and Lefevre and the spectacular defense play of the collegians, the major leaguers had to wait until the ninth inning to push home the winning marker. Pro's Note! No Stymies

W. G. A. Decides To Eliminate Stymies By Unanimous Vote

CHICAGO, April 9 (AP)—The Western Golf association dragged one of the ancient game's oldest arguments into the open again today by abolishing the stymie. Feeling that the "majority of our members favored the move," the executive committee of the W.G.A. voted unanimously to erase from its book the rule requiring a player to attempt to negotiate a putt with an opponent's ball between his own and the cup. The unexpected ruling becomes effective immediately and will operate in all W.G.A. tournaments.

The stymie question, claimed by a too severe penalty on a player who reached the green in good order only to find his path to the cup blocked by a more or less accidental maneuver by his opponent, has been the subject of many a locker room flow of oratory. The defenders have insisted as warmly that the stymie is a natural part of the game and should be retained. The United States Golf association has studiously stuck with the latter group, insisting that they should be played as they lie on the greens. The country's golf governing body rejected a proposal to abolish stymies no longer ago than its January meeting. The Royal and Ancient has shown no inclination to deviate from the same stand.

The six foot three inch giant is starting on his third season with the Hawk varsity. The big infielder is all a coach could ask for as a fielder, and from all indications this spring he will do justice to his cleanup position in the batting order.

Six veterans will be included in the starting nine, while Don Gusler, third baseman; Howard Miller, pitcher; Gene Hinrichs, pitcher; Bowlin and Winters, catchers, will be playing their first game for Vogel.

Gusler Only Rookie Don Gusler, the only rookie infielder, earned his first team berth by hitting the ball solidly in the fieldhouse cages, and when the Hawkeyes returned to the regular diamond, the 210 pound youth added good throwing and fielding to his natural hitting power to cinch the third base assignment.

Mike Jacobs' History Like A Fairy Tale

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Meet Mike Jacobs, once a newsie on the sidewalks of New York and now the promotional dictator of the heavyweight boxing industry.

Mike made money from the very day he first hawked newspapers. Shrewd and likeable, he made valuable contacts when a kid in knee breeches. He ran a steambath excursion line and became a ticket broker, lining his nest with gold. But three sheets of legal paper, the exclusive contract to promote all of Joe Louis' fights from 1935 to 1940, made him dictator of cauliflower row and left Madison Square Garden big wigs on the outside looking in. Mike says he would sell the Louis contract for $300,000, but he doesn't say it very loudly. The guess is he wouldn't.

Ringer For A Farmer

He's a dead ringer for a farmer on his first visit to the county fair, wears glasses, stands 5 feet 11, wheels about his office slowly, and smacks his chops incessantly. He's the biggest one man business organization in New York, his own board of directors, president and secretary. Keeps all his records and plans under his felt hat. Prides himself at being able to recall faces years after he has seen them.

Sees an average of 100 persons daily, working from 8 a.m., to 9 p.m. His office, boxlike and small, is intriguing with 50 pictures and cartoons of fighters, managers and promoters, most of them from the present era. Prize is an unfinished portrait of his old partner, Tex Rickard. Daily, he looks for the artist to come back to finish it. Doesn't know where he is. Two pictures, one of his mother and the other of Brown Bomber Louis, adorn his desk. A bottle of red ink always can be found on the flat topped desk—strange as it seems for a man whose business is deep in black ink.

Dooley Out; Panther Will Toss Javelin In Practice Meet

If weather conditions remain favorable, the Hawkeye cindermen will open their outdoor season with a practice meet here tomorrow afternoon in which Coe and Cornell will combine to furnish the opposition for the Hawks.

Weather conditions have hindered the workouts on the outdoor oval, and no seating accommodations will be provided for the spectators. The track itself is still soft and spongy and nothing outstanding is expected from the runners.

Panther Handicapped

Mark Panther, Iowa's candidate for Olympic javelin throwing honor will open his outdoor campaign tomorrow, but the Burlington spea thrower will be handicapped by lack of practice. With the exception of Andy Dooley, Hawk sprinter who injured his leg in the Iowa-Wisconsin-Northwestern meet two weeks ago, the Hawk squad will be at full strength. The meet is intended to be a practice contest and the coaches are not grooming the men with the intention of setting any records.
