

5 Noted Men To Talk Here This Summer

J. Erskine, A. Compton, Bowman, Anspacher, Sullivan to Lecture

Five men of national prominence will appear on the summer university lectures program, to begin with an address and a roundtable, June 12 and 13, by John Erskine, Prof. Ben. F. Shambaugh, chairman of the senate board on university lectures, has announced.

Following the appearance of Mr. Erskine, musician, author and educator, Arthur H. Compton, University of Chicago scientist, will be here June 19 and 20; Isaiah Bowman, president of Johns Hopkins University, June 26 and 27; Louis K. Anspacher, dramatist and philosopher, July 2 and 3; and Mark Sullivan, Washington newspaper correspondent, July 10 and 11.

Each lecturer on the program will present an address out-of-doors, on the west terrace of Old Capitol, weather permitting, and the following morning at 9 o'clock will conduct a roundtable in Old Capitol. Dean Paul C. Packer of the college of education, dean of the summer school sessions, is supervising the lecture program, for which arrangements have been made by the senate board.

Mr. Erskine, first speaker of the series, was scheduled to lecture on the university lectures program last fall but was unable to appear because of injuries received in an automobile accident. A professor of English at Columbia university, he is also president of the Juilliard School of Music, director of the Metropolitan Opera company, an accomplished pianist, and well known author. Included in his writings are "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Galahad," "Adam and Eve," and magazine articles and stories.

Awarded Nobel Prize
Known for his outstanding work with cosmic rays, Mr. Compton, professor of physics at the University of Chicago, was awarded the Nobel prize for physics by the Swedish Academy of Sciences in 1927. He has also won the Rumford gold medal awarded by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

A "Yale-trained geographer," Isaiah Bowman, president of Johns Hopkins since last June, was active in compiling an Atlas of the Historical Geography of the United States. In 1931 he was rewarded for his geographical and scientific work by being appointed president of the International Geographical Union, and in 1933 he became chairman of the National Research Council.

Mr. Anspacher
Mr. Anspacher, who delivered a university lecture here on the 1925-26 university lectures program, is famed as a dramatist, philosopher, orator and poet. He has lectured as a staff member of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences and of the League for Political Education of New York. He has also delivered a series of lectures at Columbia university extension and many other universities. Familiar with the theater from behind scenes as well as from the viewpoint of dramatists' study, he is the author of numerous well known plays.

Commentator on public affairs, Mr. Sullivan's New York Herald Tribune Syndicate articles appear in 72 American newspapers. He is sometimes referred to as "the king of the capital's newspaper royalty."

100 Accident Victims
DES MOINES. (AP)—Iowa's list of 1935 automobile accident victims mounted to 100 yesterday. The 100th victim was Wendell DeJong, 5, of Maurice, who was struck by an automobile in front of his home Monday night and died yesterday.

Describes Canadian System
Sir Herbert described the Canadian banking system of 10 banks with 4,000 branch banks under the control of the central government, and contended that runs on Canadian banks were impossible because the capital circulating in the banking system could be located where it was most needed.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, Sir Herbert will conduct a round table discussion on "British Policy at Geneva" in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

At 11 o'clock this morning he will address a class in world politics instructed by Prof. Jacob Van der Zee of the political science department on "The Polish Corridor." This noon he will speak on "Experiences of the First World Treasurer" at a luncheon meeting of the Lions club in Reich's cafe.

City to Start Repair Work On Highway 6
Repair of U. S. highway 6 from Burlington street southeast two blocks to Rundell street on Muscatine avenue will begin this week, it was announced yesterday by City Engineer J. F. Sprout following a conference with J. S. McLaughlin and Sons company officials of Des Moines, contractors in charge of the job.

Equipment for the work is expected to arrive either today or tomorrow, and work will begin immediately. Included in the project will be the tearing out of paving on the two blocks on Muscatine, and removal of the center strip on Burlington street where street car tracks were formerly located.

Following completion of the Muscatine avenue project, work will be started on rerouting highway 1 on Rochester road, and the repaving of the street from Union place east to the Ralston creek bridge. The work will eliminate a sharp turn at Market and Clapp streets, providing for a gradual "S" curve off Market street at Union place into Rochester avenue.

Seashore to Speak For Science Group In Washington, D.C.
Following the Midwestern Psychological association meeting in Evanston, Ill., Friday and Saturday, Dean Carl E. Seashore of the graduate college will attend the seventy-third annual meeting of the National Academy of Science Monday through next Wednesday in Washington, D.C. In addition to Dean Seashore, 13 other University of Iowa representatives will attend the meeting.

Dean Seashore, who is head of the academy's division of anthropology and psychology, will speak at the Washington meeting on "The Insight of a Beautiful Tone."

Talks Will Feature Gavel Club Meeting
A program of talks by representatives of the Young Republicans' club, Young Democrats' club and the Young Socialists' club will be presented at a banquet for active and alumni members of the Gavel club next Tuesday evening at Reich's cafe. The question to be discussed will be "Resolved: that we should vote for the candidate which our respective party supports."

Admission Hickman, A2 of Sioux City, president of the organization, will serve as toastmaster.

S.U.I. Graduate Dies; Was Clarion Teacher
Vira McCall, a teacher in the Clarion schools for the last six years, died of pneumonia at her home in Bridgewater last Friday after a short illness.

Miss McCall was graduated from the University of Iowa and received her master's degree in the summer of 1934. Funeral service was conducted in Bridgewater Monday.

Plan Commission to Present Scheme for Landscaping Creek

Project Would Cover Seven Identical 100 Feet Plots

Plans for landscaping the east bank of Ralston creek, between Washington avenue and Burlington street, will be presented at the next meeting of the city council, it was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Iowa City planning commission at the American Legion building.

Mrs. Carl E. Seashore presented a scheme of landscaping providing for terracing the banks and providing for soil erosion. The proposed landscaping would cover 700 feet. According to tentative plans, the landscaping will be divided into seven identical 100 foot plots.

Local Boy Scouts have indicated their willingness to work on the project, it was reported by Prof. Etrick L. Waterman of the college of engineering, chairman of the commission. City Engineer J. E. Sprout and Arthur A. Smith, superintendent of the university department of grounds and buildings, said new dirt must be filled in to terrace the banks.

Dr. Ernest J. Anthony, president of the park board, said it will be possible for full-time park employees to work on the project when not occupied with park maintenance work.

Enma J. Harvat, a member of the committee, gave a report of work being done to further the project; D. W. Crum, secretary of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, reported on the Iowa state planning board meeting at Ames last Thursday. The local division has been a member of the state group for three years, he said.

Prof. Righter Helps Edit Musical Program Courses
Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department is one of 10 editors of a new musical education program embracing eight complete courses in singing, playing, and appreciation under the title "The World of Music." The editors are music supervisors representing every section of the United States.

Including 14 books, besides full courses for hand and orchestra, the series has been completed after several years' work and will be published within the next few months. Professor Righter said yesterday. William Revell of the University of Michigan, who appeared on the music supervisors' conference program here Feb. 22, is a co-editor with Professor Righter on the hand and orchestra courses.

Dwight Kirsch Will Present Illustrated Lecture Saturday
Folk music of all nations has been selected by associate editors in 75 countries for the singing courses. More than 100 American poets have translated the words. Sixty American composers are represented.

The instrumental section works by the greatest composers of all times and countries appear. Paintings by old masters have been selected for the books by C. Valentine Kirby, state director of art education in Pennsylvania.

Professor Righter, Mr. Revell and three other editors have written training books for every instrument of the hand and orchestra, as well as conductors' scores and teachers' manuals. Other courses are designed for kindergarten, voice training, junior high school, ungraded and consolidated schools, and piano instruction.

Hope Lack of Gold Will Stop Italians
GENEVA, April 21 (AP)—Downcast by failure to clear a road to east African peace, the League of Nations tonight looked on Italy's steadily diminishing supply of gold as a possible deterrent to much further extension of her campaign against Ethiopia.

The expense of Premier Benito Mussolini's war, coupled with sanctions, said a communique issued by the league, has reduced the country's gold supply with remarkable rapidity.

Seals Club Invites Eight High Schools To Attend Play Day

Eight high schools in surrounding towns and cities have been invited to attend a Seals high school play day Saturday at the women's gymnasium under the auspices of W.A.A. Seals club.

The program for the day follows:
Morning
10—Swimming meet in the women's gymnasium pool
12:30—Luncheon in Iowa Union
Afternoon
2—Seals club swimming demonstration
3:30—Tea in the social room of the gymnasium
Seals club members will meet tomorrow at 4:15 p.m. to discuss plans.

Dr. Lambert Speaks Before Kiwanis Club

Paying his official visit as lieutenant governor of district 1 of the Iowa-Nebraska districts of Kiwanis International, Dr. Avery E. Lambert of the college of medicine explained the aims and ideals of the organization before members at their luncheon at the Jefferson hotel yesterday.

Prof. Frederic T. Mavis, acting head of the mechanical engineering department, introduced Doctor Lambert.

"The Kiwanis club was organized in Detroit in 1914," he said, "and now Kiwanis International has over 1,900 clubs throughout the United States and Canada. Thirty-six of these clubs in Iowa were originally sponsored by Nebraska Kiwanians," he added.

Doctor Lambert explained the aim of Kiwanis clubs is to provide a "center of action" pertaining to civic endeavor. Kiwanis membership is composed of leading business and professional men, he pointed out, including one man and his competitor from each line in a given city.

Prof. Lazell to Take Class to Paper Jobs
Prof. Fred J. Lazell of the school of journalism today and tomorrow will drive many students of his community weekly class to their assigned towns to start work on the papers to be published by them.

The papers on which the students will work are the Marion Sentinel, West Liberty Index and the Anamosa Eureka.

I.C. Woman's Club Holds Spring Tea
The spring tea for the home division of the Iowa City Woman's club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. R. Shannon, 742 Rundell street.

Thirty guests attended the meeting and Mrs. R. R. Chapman presided. After the meeting, there was display of the year's work done by the members of the club.

Past Presidents To Meet for Luncheon
Past Presidents of the Woman's Relief corps will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon tomorrow at Youde's inn. Mrs. A. C. Harmon will be hostess.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Marmon, 2975, before 9 a.m. tomorrow.

10 Candidates For Student Board Named

Names of 10 candidates for places on student board of publications, to be voted on at university elections May 4, were announced last night.

Three members will be elected to the board, two for two years and one for a single year term. Colleges of liberal arts, law, medicine and pharmacy are represented by candidates.

Sophomores

Robert Dalbey
Other candidates are Robert Dalbey of Des Moines and Jack Sildens of Council Bluffs, both LL, John Hemminger, D2 of Prairie City, and John O'Connell, M2 of Fort Dodge.

25 Signatures Needed
To secure nomination it was necessary for the candidate to submit a petition containing signatures of 25 members of the candidate's class in the university. A statement of eligibility was required, stating that the candidate had two years work in the university to complete, and was in good standing with at least 48 hours academic credit.

Members of the board of publications elect the editors and business managers of Frivol, university humor magazine, and Hawkeye, university yearbook, and the editor-in-chief of The Daily Iowan.

County School Election Slated For May 12th
Election of a county superintendent of schools and the three members of the county board of education is scheduled for May 12 when the presidents and representatives of the several school boards in the county will meet at the courthouse, County Auditor Ed Sulek announced yesterday.

Present members of the board are: M. E. Baker of Oxford; Ed F. Baranek of Swisher, and J. H. Bell of Lone tree. Besides County Superintendent W. N. Loeper, who will run for reelection, others tentatively mentioned for candidacy are Superintendent Frank Schneider of West Branch, Superintendent G. M. Ludwig of Tiffin and Fred R. McNeal of Wilton.

To Take Homecoming Badge Theme For 1936 From Entries

With entries for the Homecoming badge design contest coming in slowly, there is an excellent chance for any student with a novel idea for a Homecoming theme to submit a winning entry. Ruth Wilkinson of the graphic and plastic arts department said yesterday.

The contest to determine the design for the 1936 Homecoming badge will close May 15. The student, faculty member or alumnus who submits the design for the badge to be worn by thousands of Iowa fans at the Homecoming football game next October will receive a $10 award.

Deadline May 15
Entries may be submitted to Miss Wilkinson in the fine arts building any time before May 15.

Requirements
1—All designs must be drawn in India ink on white Bristol board.
2—Designs must fill a six inch circle and must be lined heavily enough to permit reduction to one-quarter size.
3—The words "Iowa Homecoming, Oct. 17, 1936" must be included on each drawing.

Judges of the contest are Prof. Rudolph A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy, chairman of the badge committee; Miss Wilkinson; Prof. Rollin M. Perkins and Prof. Mason Ladd, both of the college of law.

Pharmacy Graduate Appointed to Board

ON OTHER CAMPI

Prof. Herbert Bolton of the University of California history department has introduced a new way to keep his students from falling asleep and from cutting classes. He awards a daily prize for the best limerick summarizing his preceding lecture.

Down with the tall, dark and handsome male, say University of Kentucky women. Contending they would rather be amused by "the comic type," one of their spokeswomen said, "There is nothing in the world like a good horse laugh."

There are many ways to make a fortune. The University of Wisconsin has more than $20,000 in unclaimed library deposits.

Criminals always return to the scenes of their crimes—that's why columnists refer to their own columns.

Students are aviation conscious at Ohio State university. In two years Ohio State's Junior College of the Air has enrolled more than 7,000 students in 43 courses.

The Associated Collegiate Press has conducted a survey to find the meanings of the newest expressions in the college press of America. Here are some of the results:

Did you know that "soon," "dilly" and "drip" all mean the same thing? In general they refer to a male who just doesn't rate, who is a punk, a washout, if you get our meaning. The corresponding term for a female of the same type is "flatto," although it is considered proper to use "floozie."

And should a male find himself tied to such a woman, he is in a "tizzy."

Courtship has been redefined as meaning the act of "pitching woo" or "making schmo."

A "stout fellow" may suddenly find himself very "antsy" just before finals which means that he has found it necessary to study hard. In such a case, the reason for his lack of knowledge probably is that he has been spending too much time "huddling with his honey bubble."

Newest terms of endearment are "my little chickadee" or "my little rocky-mountain canary" or "my little fair-feathered friend."

Semester grades and examinations have received a setback at Brown university. The eastern institution has eliminated mid-year examinations and semester grades in full year courses.

This department again will be open to an open forum of student comment Friday. Send letters to this department, in care of The Daily Iowan.

A Commentary on the New Books
Conducted by American Prefaces

WHY KEEP THEM ALIVE? by Paul de Kruif. Harcourt Brace, 1936.

PAUL DE KRUIF'S "Why Keep Them Alive?" is an angry book—angry because the author has realized the futility of science, angry because the social facts making the book necessary can only be destroyed by anger.

De Kruif has made his fame telling of the fight of men against microbes, assuming that through men of science would come the end of suffering. Now he has found—that should be burned into every man's brain—that the wonders of our civilization exist only for those who have money to pay for them. He has lost the comfortable idea that all we need is more science to stimulate industry to give more men work for greater production, while the government slaughters pigs to make fertilizer to grow cotton to plow under. So long as the "haves" control the sciences, they will mete out life or death to the "have-nots." The issue is plain: will we have dollars or lives?

There's nothing new about that conflict; but age makes it no less true. Nor is it a product of what some persons call the "recent depression." We may choose sound finance or human beings, and to preserve our financial system we murder our children, deny medical care to our poor, feed them starvation diets—and then legislate to end over-production. Under our economic system the real benefits of our science go to the well-heeled minority, and the poor die unattended.

Too few have realized the importance of this poverty. The men of science have gone to their test tubes, forgetting that outside their laboratories men die because they can't buy their discoveries. The teachers forget; after all, it's not their affair.

THIS BOOK may make some few realize that it is their affair. May make some few think about the futility of their work, as our national economy now stands. May make some few move uneasily to learn that the capital loss of preventable deaths of children amounts to $750,000,000 each year. If it does, then those few will ask: What can I do about it? De Kruif doesn't give the answer. He doesn't know the answer. But he's heading toward it.

"What then is there left for me to do, except to keep telling, with all there is in me, till they shut me up, till they put me on the spot, till they send me down to the lower depths as they're sure to do if I only keep on telling it stronger and truer, telling to as many as I can get to listen—"

"That, in the matter of the murder of children by our present economic order, the issue is clear: the battle can now be joined—"

"Is money going to be made for man, or will man continue to be made for money?" Well, read the book, size up the problem, and see what you'll do about it. At least you'll like the chapter about the Dionnes.

Orchestra To Give Concert

5 Staff Members Will Lead Group Sunday; Chorus Will Sing

Five staff members of the music department will conduct the university chamber orchestra Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in compositions ranging from classic to contemporary. The concert, under the auspices of Union Board, will be the first appearance by the recently organized orchestra since its debut Jan. 19.

Arthur Berdahl of the music department will conduct the Passover Episode from his own oratorio "Judah Iscariot," which he recently completed here. Soloists for the selection will be Herald Stark of the music department, tenor, in the part of Christ and Hugh Cockshoot, A3 of Wilton Junction, baritone, as Judas.

Women's Chorus
This will be the first public performance of any part of the composition in which the orchestra and women's chorus also take part. Both Mr. Stark, conductor of the university chorus, and Mr. Cockshoot were soloists in recent university performances.

Beethoven's first Symphony in C major will be conducted by Loran Crosten of the music department.

Professor Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department, will conduct Wagner's "Siegfried Idyll" and the overture, "Secret of Suzanne," Wolf-Ferrari.

Brandenburg Concerto
Bach's Brandenburg concerto will be conducted by Prof. Addison Alspach of the music department, Edwin Albright, A4 of Iowa City, will play the solo flute part; Arnold Small of the music department, the violin; and Wendell Otey, G of Harrisburg, Ill., piano.

Mr. Small will conduct the overture to Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro."

The primary purposes of the orchestra will be to give the students of the university a chance to work in the field of safety, low tide, lifting fog, silver bay, and labor in the fields.

Mr. Ennis gave a lecture and demonstration at the annual graphic and plastic arts conference here last week end.

chestra," Professor Clapp explained, "are to afford further practice for advanced students in chamber music and conducting. It will also serve as a laboratory group for courses in composition and orchestra problems."

Hult Warns of Need For Representation in Washington

Aubyn Chinn Speaks At Dairyman's Dinner At American Legion

Milton Hult, president of the International Association of Milk Dealers, warned 200 dairymen at a Dairyman's Dinner at the American Legion building last night that there is a need for representation of dairymen and all small businesses in Washington. "Those who are really represented in Washington are the groups which holler the loudest," he said.

Aubyn Chinn, a representative of the National Dairy Council, pointed out that dairymen should strive for increased consumption of milk, rather than increased competition between dairymen. She asserted milk consumption is far below what it should be for the purpose of healthful nutrition. "The minimum consumption for a family of five should be four quarts per day to maintain a balanced diet," Miss Chinn said.

Sponsored by Milk Dealers

The dinner was sponsored by the Iowa City Milk Dealers' association and the Johnson County Dairy Marketing association in the dining room of the American Legion building at 6:30 last night. Milk dealers from Davenport, Muscatine, West Liberty, West Branch, Cedar Rapids, Dubuque, Waterloo, Rock Island, Ill., Moline, Ill., East Moline, Ill., and 20 local dairies were represented.

Frank B. Ross, president of the Iowa City Milk Men's association presided.

Speaking of government regulation of business, Mr. Hult referred to the proposed federal loan for a municipal light and power plant in Iowa City.

"I have always been taught that duplication is an economic waste," he said. "We have no assurance that the government will not do the same with the dairy industry."

"For further illustration the speaker referred to the consumers' cooperatives to which the government has set aside $100,000,000.

"Milk Darn Cheap"

"This is governmental duplication of an established business," he said. "The price of milk is darn cheap when you consider the labor and costs back of it, and the milk industry association proposes to inform the people the truth of the facts."

The program included a dance by eight-year-old Betty Lou Devers and an encore of a dancing and singing interpretation of "Fresh From the Country"; a toe dance and encore by Norma Leoney; vocal selections by Rollin Barnes, tenor, accompanied by Mrs. Alvin Sutter on the piano; a milk drinking contest was won by Mr. Barnes with the booby prize going to Bion Hunter.

S. Whiting Will Run for Office

Will File Petition For U. S. Senator On Democratic Ballot

City Attorney Samuel D. Whiting will file a petition today in the office of the secretary of state, placing his name on the democratic ballot for United States senator in the June primaries. Attorney Whiting will submit 3,545 signatures from 80 counties in Iowa. This is 1,200 more than the required number of 2,345.

Gov. Clyde L. Herring and Congressman Herbert J. Utterback of Des Moines will be his opponents on the democratic ticket.

Whiting announced yesterday that he did not intend to carry on an extensive campaign because of his duties as city attorney and because of the great expense involved.

"I will not spend much money on my campaign," he said, "because in the first place I haven't got it and in the second place I wouldn't spend it if I did have it. It is just as wrong to buy political support as to sell it."

"Any candidate nominated by the expenditure of vast sums of money will be under obligation to the favor seekers who furnished that money," he declared.

ANYONE ELIGIBLE

HERE HOW —

THE DAILY IOWAN will give five free guest tickets every day to see Frank Capra's latest production, "MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN," starring Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur at the Strand Theatre, for the five best letters submitted by Iowan readers, answering the question: "IF I INHERITED $20,000,000.00."

Write in clear, concise English, confining your answer to not more than two hundred words, just what you would do, if you inherited twenty million dollars. Would you take a trip around the world? Buy a string of race horses? Marry and settle down on a big ranch? Paint the town? Give the money to a worthy charity? Distribute it to poor relatives? Buy a thriving business? Or do one of the many things possible through such an inheritance.

Your answer may be one of those that will bring a FREE guest ticket to see the greatest rib-ticking romantic comedy ever produced by the maker of hit pictures—Frank Capra—who turned out "Lady For A Day," "It Happened One Night" and "Broadway Bill."

Send your letters in at once. Remember five tickets will be given away, every day starting today, Wednesday, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Address letters to Mr. Deeds Contest Editor, The Daily Iowan, or the Strand Theatre, Iowa City.

Write on one side of the paper only.

Decision of the judges is final.

Get busy. Submit your ideas.

Committee To Finish Details

Will Complete Plans To Rent Property For Needed Extension

With the local port of the United Air lines closed until the proposed 625-foot runway extension is completed, city officials and the airport committee of the chamber of commerce will meet this morning at the American Legion building to complete last-minute details for the renting of the property necessary for the extension.

Hindered by Frew Tucker's "measuring stick," the airport here has been closed since March 23. Meanwhile two employees of the company are sitting tight at the local field until a settlement is reached. The staff at the port was cut early this week.

Company officials have steadily refused to enlarge their planes by landing on the field with the runway cut off by two 25-foot poles. Federal funds from Washington have not been forthcoming, although word is expected daily.

The extension, which is expected to solve the difficulties, is owned by Charles Schmidt.

Iowa City Boy In C.R. Jail

Leonard Anderson Is Charged With Car Theft, Wreck

CEDAR RAPIDS, April 21 (AP)—Charged with stealing one car and identified as the driver of an allegedly stolen car which crashed into another here Monday evening, Leonard Anderson, 19, of 421 S. Dubuque street, Iowa City, pleaded guilty before Judge H. C. Ring in district court on a motor theft charge here this afternoon. Bond was set at $2,500.

Anderson was brought to Cedar Rapids by Iowa City policemen Monday night when they picked him up after a car stolen here earlier in the evening had been wrecked on U.S. highway 161, 12 miles north of Iowa City.

In the meantime Simon Gongver Jr. reported his machine had been struck by a car bearing Iowa license plates. He later identified Anderson as driver of the car and police today learned this machine, owned by K. G. Sturdevant of Rock Island, had been stolen in that city late Monday afternoon.
