Flashes

No Joint Encampment

LOS ANGELES, May 7 (AP)—A joint encampment of Union and Confederate veterans probably will never be held, Oley Nelson, 92-year-old commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, said today.

"We live as neighbors and friends with our Civil war opponents," he said. "The old animosity is forgotten. We know it is for sentiment only that they demand the privilege of carrying the banner of the confederacy in the joint encampment which has been proposed. We insist there shall be only one flag there—the one for which the Union army fought so long ago. Neither will recede."

Keep Insurance

DES MOINES, May 7 (AP)—Maurice V. Pew, deputy state insurance commissioner, said tonight the department recommends that all policy holders of the Union Mutual Life company of Iowa keep their insurance in force by the payment of premiums to a receiver.

His statement followed the ruling of District Judge Russell Jordan appointing State Insurance Commissioner Ray Murphy receiver for the company "to conserve the assets of the company and for the best interests of the policy holders."

Hogs, Corn! Not Art

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Representative Thurston (R-Ia) let the world know today that his fellow Iowans are more interested in prize hogs and tall corn than art.

"Out in my section of the country they would rather have more room in the postoffice building for the farm bureau than to have the murals. If there is any way to trade, I would like to trade murals for square feet for the farm bureau," Thurston said in a hearing on the first deficiency bill.

Orders Election

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—The labor relations board today ordered an election among the editorial employees of the Associated Press in its New York office to determine "whether or not they desire to be represented by the American Newspaper Guild."

Those employees on the payroll, May 6, with the exception of executives, would vote in the election ordered to be held within 10 days after May 6.

Shatters Record

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, May 7 (AP)—Mrs. Amy Johnson shattered the male-held record for a solo flight from England to Cape Town today.

The veteran British airwoman landed here at 2:31 p.m., Greenwich mean time (8:31 a.m. central standard time), three days, six hours, 26 minutes after taking off from Gravesend, England.

The feat broke by 11 hours, 12 minutes the record set in February by Flight Lieut. Tommy Ross.

Landon in Interview

TOPEKA, Kan., May 7 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon, in a radio interview tonight, assailed the "new deal" for "heedless retarding of recovery," and in his first national expression on the liquor question "accepted the verdict of the people" in returning control to the individual states.

Landon indicated he would wage a "fighting campaign" if nominated for the presidency by the republican national convention in June.

Rain Vs. Symphony

HOLDREGE, Neb., May 7 (AP)—Rain dripped through a leaky roof onto the bass section of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra here tonight, but Leopold Stokowski, director, carried out his program and was called back for three encores by an enthusiastic audience of south central Nebraskans in this city of 3,623 population.

A hailstorm damaged slightly the roof of the auditorium this afternoon, and was followed by downpour tonight.

Funeral Services

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Funeral service will be held here tomorrow for Frank W. Mahlin, 84, retired foreign service officer and former publisher of a newspaper at Clinton, Ia., who died yesterday.

Born in Muscatine, Ia., Mahlin entered the consular service in 1897, serving at Riechenburg, Czechoslovakia, Nottingham, England, and Amsterdam, The Netherlands. He retired from the service in 1934 and had lived in Washington since.

Rule Children's Hospital Eligible for Grant

See Possibility Of $45,000 For S.U.I. Hospital

Plan to Use Money to Build Convalescent Home, Betterment

DES MOINES, May 7 (AP)—The attorney general's office ruled today that the University of Iowa children's hospital is eligible to share in a $2,850,000 federal social securities act appropriation for crippled children.

The ruling was contained in an opinion by Prof. C. M. Updegraff of the University of Iowa law college, a special assistant attorney general, and approved by the attorney general's staff.

The opinion was asked by the U. S. department of labor, charged with the administration of the appropriation.

If the University of Iowa gets a share in the federal social security act appropriation for crippled children, the money may be used to erect a convalescent home and to improve and extend the services at children's hospital.

The possibility was seen last night that the University of Iowa children's hospital share might be in the vicinity of $45,000.

Dr. Arthur Steindler is head of the orthopedics surgery department. Since coming here in 1915, included in the patients he has treated are 15,000 to 16,000 indigent persons under 20 years of age.

State education board officials said a request for a share in the appropriation has not yet been made. The board will hold its next meeting at Cedar Falls May 28 and submission of a request may be considered at that time, it was stated.

Specifically, the labor department asked whether Iowa has a plan for services to crippled children entitling it to a share in the benefits of the social security act.

Updegraff held that "the state of Iowa does have a plan for services to crippled children which entitles it to share in the benefits of the social security act and that the Iowa state board of education is the agency of the state government which has jurisdiction over administration of such plan."

The opinion set forth that the children's hospital at Iowa City was established by legislative act for the treatment of indigent children and has been maintained through state appropriations.

Updegraff also pointed out that the state's plan for care of crippled children is administered solely by a state agency—the board of education—with the cooperation of local officials.

Thus, he stated, the institution comes within the requirements of the federal act.

"The efficient operation of the state plan of Iowa seems answered," he said.

"All peace officers and public school officers and employees of the state of Iowa are, under the statute, bound to inform of the existence and needs of any crippled children."

"Provision is made for their being committed to the University of Iowa children's hospital and for their treatment there at state expense."

The opinion also called attention to a statutory provision which exempts crippled children and orthopedic cases from the county quota system in effect for all other indigent patients.

Mary Carr 'Resting Quite Comfortably'

Although still in a critical condition, Mary Carr, who suffered a fracture of both hips in an automobile accident Wednesday night, was reported "resting quite comfortably" by University hospital officials at an early hour this morning.

Miss Carr, well known to Iowa Citizens by her electric wheel chair, in which she was riding when the car was seriously injured when the car was struck by the Bremer kidnaping, was reported by the Bremer kidnaping, Mahan was caught in San Francisco. Campbell in Toledo, Ohio.

Leaders Push Bill Through

Argument Rages Over Posting Huge Sum For Use of PWA

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—In the teeth of opposition from both the republican and democratic sides of the house, majority leaders today drove a new $2,364,229,712 relief and deficiency bill with assertions that it could be all but passed by tomorrow night.

One trouble spot for the huge measure, ticketed as the last major bill of the session, lay in a democratic caucus summoned tonight. In it, a determined bloc sought to bind the majority in favor of earmarking $700,000,000 of the relief fund for use by Secretary Ickes' PWA, despite presidential opposition.

As reported out today by the house appropriations committee, the bills called for $1,425,000,000 for the works progress and rural resettlement administration, $308,000,000 for the civilian conservation corps, $65,550,000 for emergency public buildings, and $458,631,850 for the social security setup.

The moment it hit the floor, the firing began. The assault was led off by the republicans, who decided at a party meeting last night to try to take the relief funds out of the hands of Harry L. Hopkins, the WPA administrator, and substitute state grants, administered locally by non-partisan committees.

House administration leaders declared themselves so confident the big bill would not be vulnerable to the dual attack that they adopted surprise strategy, aimed at speed.

Foregoing a rule to head off the opposition, Chairman Buchanan (D-Tex) of the appropriations committee obtained unanimous consent to take up the measure under an arrangement limiting debate to seven hours.

Buchanan planned to push the controversial measure to the voting point tomorrow night, but to postpone the final vote until Monday so the house could adjourn over Saturday.

Valentine Announces Increased Collections

DES MOINES, May 7 (AP)—Sen. John K. Valentine, chairman of the state board of assessment and review, announced today that Iowa retail sales for the last three months of 1933 increased 14 per cent over sales for the corresponding period in 1934.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

By the Associated Press
The house commenced debate on the $2,364,229,000 deficiency bill containing $1,425,000,000 for relief. Majority leaders predicted debate would end late Friday, clearing the way for a final vote Monday.

Two spokesmen for the National Association of Manufacturers told the senate finance committee, holding hearings of the administration's tax bill, they believed the measure to be an "economic folly."

The senate approved final form of the record breaking $572,446,844 army bill, sent it to the White House, then began consideration of the $529,000,000 naval bill.

Capital police searched for the pranksters who hoisted the red flag of Soviet Russia to the top of a supreme court building flag-staff before dawn and left at its base a copy of the Lampton, Harvard university's humorous magazine.

Federal agents captured at different points two long-sought kidnaping suspects, William Mahan, wanted in the Weyerhaeuser case, and Harry Campbell, sought in connection with the Bremer kidnaping, Mahan was caught in San Francisco. Campbell in Toledo, Ohio.

President Roosevelt told the American Law Institute in a letter there was need for "improvement in the criminal law."

Germany's new air giant, the Hindenburg

Zeppelin Soars Over Atlantic

Expect Airship To Reach Here By Tomorrow

By the Associated Press
The German zeppelin Hindenburg, pushing steadily along through clear skies, sailed over mid-ocean along the north Atlantic air route tonight.

The majestic 813-foot dirigible was making an average speed of between 70 and 80 miles an hour, bringing her 51 passengers and crew of 56 nearer their destination at Lakehurst, N. J.

Sighted at Sea
The giant zeppelin was sighted by the S. S. Champlain at 11 a. m. (CST) about 1,000 miles west of the English coast. The liner reported clear weather with a fresh easterly wind of 19 to 24 miles an hour.

Her position, radiated from the dirigible at 4 p. m. (CST) was given as latitude 48.33 north and longitude 28.52 west.

Graf Zeppelin
While the Hindenburg was sailing smoothly toward America, the Graf Zeppelin, owned by the same company, encountered difficulty off the coast of Spain on a return flight from South America.

She wirelessed the French government for permission to fly over France, asserting she did not want to attempt to cross the Alps. Permission was speedily given.

Prospects Of New Record Good

Aboard the zeppelin Hindenburg over the north Atlantic, May 7 (AP)—As this giant new German dirigible raced over the Atlantic today, Dr. Hugo Eckener, its commander, voiced the belief it might reach New York early tomorrow.

Eckener gleefully rubbed his hands at the prospect of beating the trans-Atlantic record of the new French liner Normandie.

"The Hindenburg is running like mad," the commander said, "averaging over 80 miles an hour, with the possibility of reaching New York early Saturday."

Side-winds aided in giving the airship good speed.

"The French evidently refuse permission to fly over their country," said Eckener, "because they consider that permission a trump card."

Industrial Changes Sensed by Scientist's Meeting in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, May 7 (AP)—The start of another industrial revolution, sensed through study of higher types of feeble minded who are the first to be affected, was reported to the American Psychiatric Association here today.

The revolution, described by James S. Plant, M.D., director of Essex county juvenile clinic work, Newark, N.J., is the start of a change in machines to do away with deadly monotony. It is due, he said, to the coming of "maintenance machines," which themselves do the monotonous manual feats and require operation by workers of a superior type of intelligence.

Directly affected, he said, are types of feeble minded who have been up to the time of the depression doing "a very fair proportion of the world's work." These men excelled at the "monotonous" work, which Dr. Plant calls "repetitive."

"The high grade feeble minded," he said, "are well equipped to perform repetitive tasks. There is no real statistical evidence as to the pre-existence of the group, but there is considerable folklore and some clinical data in support of the contention that in repetitive tasks the feeble minded excel those of higher intelligence."

"We have come to recognize that a very fair proportion of the world's work is done happily and efficiently by the higher grades of the feeble minded. We have long since found that the 'production worker' is the life blood of industry and that with proper training the high grade mental defective makes the very best of the production workers."

Shining 1916 Medal To Adorn Mayor's Coat at Ceremony

To the 1936 Governor's day ceremony tomorrow will go Mayor Thomas E. Martin with a shining crack-shooter's medal neatly attached to his coat. To the 1916 Governor's day ceremony went Thomas Martin to receive the medal for being the "straightest shooter" at S.U.I. His record-high score was 197.1 out of a possible 200.

Mayor Martin was at one time Captain Martin in the regular United States army. Once an instructor in the university military department, Martin's rifle team placed second in the national rifle association.

Says Harvard Editors Raised Russian Flag

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 7 (AP)—Woods McCahill, treasurer of the Harvard Lampoon, said tonight, Lampoon editors hoisted the red flag of Soviet Russia to the top of the supreme court's flagpole in Washington.

The flag was sighted at dawn today by government guards.

"It was only in a spirit of fun," McCahill told the Associated Press. "There was nothing malicious in it. Certainly we have no disrespect for the supreme court. That is one thing we are behind."

McCahill declined to name the editors responsible. He did say he had conversed with them this afternoon in New York and that they were en route, by automobile, back to Cambridge.

Asked how the editors eluded guards around the building, McCahill replied: "Oh, that was well planned in advance."

Then, as an afterthought, he asked: "What do you think will be the public reaction to the stunt?"

Soil Depleting Base Ratios Under New Program Announced

NEWTON, May 7 (AP)—Soil depleting base ratios for 23 central and southern Iowa counties under the new soil conservation program were announced at a district meeting here today.

Joe Reed, regional soil conservation field worker, and R. M. Evans, chairman of the Iowa Soil Conservation committee, explained the ratios at a meeting of county committeemen and farmers.

Base ratios for other counties will be announced at succeeding district meetings.

The county ratios were established to furnish a guide by which to judge the ratio of soil depleting crops on individual farms to the acreage of land in crops and the acreage in farm land.

Hold Campbell For High Bail

Gangster Brought To St. Paul by Plane For Questioning

ST. PAUL, May 7 (AP)—A split second slow on the draw, Harry Campbell was arrested with the coming of dawn in Toledo, Ohio, today where the Karpis-Barker mobster was overpowered, shackled, and whisked here by plane for questioning about robberies and kidnapings.

On Campbell's arrival in St. Paul, George Sullivan, United States district attorney, announced bail of $500,000 would be asked when the limping gangster is arraigned on kidnaping charges.

Largest Bail
This would be one of the largest bails ever asked in a criminal case.

Not a trigger was squeezed, as federal agents, accompanied by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, closed in on the last of 25 persons implicated by the government in the $200,000 abduction of Edward G. Bremer here in 1934.

"Campbell showed a little resistance," said Hoover. "But heavily armed federal men, who had surrounded an apartment building during the night, pounced on the long sought outlaw to snatch a .45 caliber pistol from his pocket as Campbell emerged."

Taken to Airport
Then came the airport, leg irons and handcuffs. A chartered airplane brought Campbell here to undergo the same routine of questioning as had his erstwhile gangland chief, Alvin "Old Creepy" Karpis, who despite his boast never to be taken alive, was "scared to death" in New Orleans when the law closed in on him last week.

Wheeled into a hangar at municipal airport here from which all save federal agents were excluded, the plane was ringed by operatives with ready sub-machine guns and shotguns while Campbell alighted.

A 19-year-old girl claiming to be Campbell's wife and Sam Cokar, a minor member of the now broken Karpis-Barker mob, did not accompany Campbell here. The girl was nabbed with Campbell. Cokar was taken in a simultaneous raid on another apartment house in Toledo.

Sends Bill to House
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress sent half of the billion dollar national defense legislation to the White House, then began to push the remainder toward passage—amid argument that such huge funds contemplated "offense and not defense."

Mussolini's Italian Program To Develop Kingdom Into Empire

Believe International Role Will Issue From Councils' Sessions
ROME, May 7 (AP)—Highly reliable sources asserted tonight a complete role in international affairs once sanctions are lifted will issue from Saturday night's session of the fascist grand council and council of ministers.

This pronouncement, it was stated, probably will be made in connection with a proclamation of Ethiopia's annexation and merger with Eritrea and Italian Somaliland under the name of "Italian East Africa."

Plans Go Forward
Plans went forward in Rome to make the Italian kingdom the Italian empire, as fascist soldiers took over a French owned railroad in Ethiopia and occupied the important southern town of Jijiga. Dispatches from Ethiopia said Harar, second largest city in the country, was expected to fall into Italian hands soon and that complete subjugation of the whole country was at hand.

Whether King Victor Emanuel would be proclaimed emperor in conjunction with the announcement of Ethiopia's annexation could not be ascertained definitely, but it was regarded as most likely.

Dissolution of Parliament
Some well informed persons asserted that an announcement would also be made of dissolution of parliament, as a preliminary to creating a corporative chamber, the groundwork for which was laid when Premier Mussolini declared abolition of the chamber of deputies March 23.

The ministry of colonies, it was reliably reported, has completed a tentative administrative plan for the combined east African possessions.

A vast throng of 50,000 women, some of them carrying a large sign saying "Duce, our sons belong to you!" appeared before the Palazzo Venezia to cheer Il Duce in a victory demonstration.

The women cheered him until he made seven separate appearances. He gave them part credit for the victory in Ethiopia.

G-Men Snatch Man Accused Of Kidnaping Youthful Heir

Law Returns Ex-Convict To Scene of Snatch In Tacoma; Mahan Yields $13,000

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7 (AP)—Nerve-shattered William Mahan, the scar-faced ex-convict accused of engineering the $200,000 George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, was snatched here today from the fast dwindling circle of fugitive big time criminals and sped by plane to the abduction scene at Tacoma, Wash.

Quietly working federal agents, led by a 28-year-old chief, grabbed the unarmed Mahan without a struggle from an automobile in a rooming house district "south of Market."

So nervous he could not eat a meal without his glances roving constantly to the door, Mahan readily admitted his identity as the man who had been the object of a nationwide search. But no announcement of a confession was made.

Questioned by Agents
Hurried to the federal building, he was questioned by department of justice agents. Emergence from the room of stenographers with sheafs of paper indicated the taking of a lengthy statement. Then, heavily guarded, Mahan was motored to the airport, placed on a chartered plane flown here from Los Angeles and winged toward Tacoma where two kidnaping indictments awaited him.

The 33-year-old Mahan, charged of plotting with two others now in prison the abduction of the lumber heir, was sitting on the running board of the car, sunning himself, when apprehended—within a stone's throw of the bureau of investigation district headquarters. A pair of horn-rimmed glasses was his only effort at disguise.

Yields $13,000
During an ensuing four hours of questioning, the justice department disclosed, Mahan yielded $13,000, bringing to about $35,000 the total recovered from his share of the ransom. Nothing was said as to what became of the other $55,000 he supposedly obtained.

The agents tracked down Mahan by following a trail of ransom bills on which the serial numbers had been altered. They had been chasing him for nearly a year.

Waives Formalities
Presumably he waived the formalities for removal to Tacoma.

Mahan grinned as he was conveyed out of the federal building and driven 20 miles to the municipal airport for the flight to Tacoma.

He showed no sign of fright.

Seven men were observed to enter the plane. Agents were armed with sub-machine guns.

A Wise Selection of Deans

THE APPOINTMENT of Prof. Francis M. Dawson as dean of the University of Wisconsin as dean of the University of Iowa college of engineering is a wise move on the part of President Gilmore and the state board of education.

Head of the hydraulics engineering department at Wisconsin since 1928, Professor Dawson has established an enviable reputation in his particular field.

Under the able leadership of Clement C. Williams, now president of Lehigh university, and Acting Dean Byron J. Lambert, the University of Iowa engineering college has made giant strides. Today it is looked upon as one of the outstanding institutions of its kind in the country.

In Des Moines alone it was estimated that $10,000 was placed on the nose of one horse in the derby because a much publicized woman picked it to win.

The policy of the university in selecting deans of colleges in the prime of life is a wise one. Professor Dawson is 46 years old. The same discrimination was shown in the appointment of three other deans since May, 1935.

Dr. Ewen MacGowan of the college of medicine, Wiley B. Rutledge Jr. of the college of law, and Prof. George D. Stoddard, director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station, who will begin his duties as dean of the graduate college July 1, are all men of marked ability who give every promise of distinguished service to the university over a long period of years.

We extend congratulations to the university and to Dean-Elect Dawson.

MEMBERS of the class in "Community Weekly" last week sat in editorial chairs and became business managers and reporters when they issued special editions of the West Liberty Index, the Marion Sentinel, and the American Eureka.

The class had been thoroughly informed by Prof. Fred J. Lazell concerning the theory behind the operation of a model weekly newspaper.

Each of the three student chiefs was headed by an editor-in-chief and business manager elected by the class. For the most part, the towns where the students were to make their homes for the short time were totally strange to the young people issued 24 to 28-page papers.

These sheets were full of spot news, historical, society, sports and agricultural features, advertising and photography, all secured and composed by the special staffs.

By putting theory into actual practice, by frequent social and business relations in these towns, the students have come to thrill at their own abilities and can be proud of their handiwork.

Under the administration of Professor Lazell, they have brought their course of study to a fruitful climax. And perhaps they have experienced what students find in too few classes, a blend of theory and action.

A Prophecy Fulfilled

"CAPITALISM MUST break down because under a system of profit economy there is a basic contradiction between the expanding facilities of production and the relative decline in the capacity of the masses to buy back the products.

The worker receives only a fraction of his product in wages of which he spends 80 to 90 percent for daily necessities. Another large fraction, in the form of profits, passes into the hands of the capitalist who can either add to the luxuries at his disposal or else convert it into additional capital goods—more machines with which to turn out more products.

A portion of the income of both classes is constantly paid into savings banks, insurance companies and other like enterprises and is then invested in fixed capital forms. Thus the surplus piles up in machines and productive equipment, the output of which cannot be absorbed either by the home market or the foreign market.

"Such stages of overproduction will be reached periodically, and will show themselves as hard times, increasing in intensity as the accumulated surpluses of capital amount higher and higher. Along with this surplus would grow the surplus of workers replaced by machines. At first this surplus would only appear during periods of hard times, but later it would develop into the army of the unemployed.

Thus, capitalist economy, torn from within would suffer from a decreasing rate of profit, until it reached a stage at which the existence of capitalism would have disappeared. The capitalist system would have disappeared. The capitalist system would have out its own throat."

One would be inclined to believe that the above was written by some person who had passed through the recent depression, but such is not the case. The author died more than fifty years ago. His analysis of the probable line of economic development seems to fit the twentieth century more closely than it did his own nineteenth century. The writer was—Karl Marx.

"It can readily be seen that this country is getting up steam," declares an editor. Well, maybe so, but it looks more like fog to us.—Olin Miller in Thomaston (Ga.) Times.

Wanted—A Jeep THE GREAT Kentucky Derby of 1936 is now a thing of the past. Many people are counting their dollars they wisely invested on the nose of the winning horse, but many more people are counting the dollars which they lost in the race. Millions of dollars are staked yearly in this country in hopes that some horse will prove to be a jackpot. But it is all a gamble and more people lose than win. Even here in Iowa where gambling is illegal, betting on horse races takes place on a huge scale. Horse racing may be one of the squares of all gambling games, but the amateur can't beat it on hot tips. In Des Moines alone it was estimated that $10,000 was placed on the nose of one horse in the derby because a much publicized woman picked it to win. But her guess was no better than any one else's might have been. No one can foretell the winner of an honest race, and certainly no outsider can pick the winner of a fixed race, so the inexperienced bettor loses either way. Therefore if the amateur wishes to win money in the next race the best thing he can do is to secure a "jeep."

THE SCHOOL year is drawing to a close. Within three weeks we will no longer be attending classes. Most of us will experience a very decided feeling of relief. Nine long months with our noses at the grindstone have left us weary of school and its discipline. We welcome the opportunity to remain outside of class rooms.

Last September we came to Iowa City an ambitious, youthful group, challenging the obstacles presented by an institution of higher learning. We have not changed in that respect. We are about to leave Iowa City, ambitious in the thought of making the summer months a success, and happy in the realization that we will be free for a time from school life. But even so we are a changed people. The school year has had an effect on us. It has left its mark—at least it should have if it hasn't.

We have grown and developed during the long winter. Perhaps we have gained in weight, or disposed of some excess fat. We might wear our hair differently and our beard may have become darker. But that is only incidental. We have grown in knowledge, in character, and in moral stature as well. We have accepted new philosophies and we have disposed of old ones. Perhaps we have grown cynical; perhaps we have lost our cynicism. We are imbued with new conceptions of life and of success. Our minds are beginning to mold into definite shapes—into the shapes that will carry us on the journey through life.

When we go back to the home town, as some of us will, let us not forget that we are a changed people. Let us not sulk listlessly back where we started from. We have invested time, money, and effort in a noble experiment. Let us make it a profitable investment.

A university student it, or at least should be, an asset to his community. It is the youth of today, the ambitious, intelligent youth, that will run the world of tomorrow. And the world of tomorrow will be reached by a gradual progress. It will be a place different from what about peacefully, without too radical or abrupt changes.

It will be a long and gradual advancement, and we will be the leaders. So when we leave the university this spring, let's leave it with a definite objective in mind. Let's go back to our community with the idea that we have a task to perform. Let's be one of the leaders. Let's stand on our own two feet, and help others to stand on theirs. We have been swamped with theories and philosophies for the last nine months. Let us digest them then, put them into practice.

THE MACE OF THE UPPER CANADA LEGISLATURE CAPTURED BY THE AMERICAN ARMY AT THE BATTLE OF YORK, IN 1813, WAS RETURNED BY THE UNITED STATES TO THE CANADIANS AFTER BEING HELD AS A WAR TROPHY FOR MORE THAN 121 YEARS

WASHINGTON—There are detectable indications that Secretary Morgenthau's appearance before the senate finance committee to discuss the house tax bill was a sad disappointment to some senators. They had hoped to make a bit of capital—anti-administration capital—out of him. He came so armed with data, some of it none too pleasing in opposition ears, however, that he virtually escaped cross-examination.

Go back to the fuss made when the house ways and means committee took up President Roosevelt's tax "suggestions" and Morgenthau went off to Florida to nurse a touch of gripe and the surprising part of the secretary's appearance before the senators is clear. There was a shout then from many republican and some conservative democratic quarters that Morgenthau was "running out"; that his gripe was on all sorts of subjects when he came before the finance committee seemed loaded with factual answers of a daunting nature. At least committee members seemed to feel that way. They asked a few questions in amplification of his formal statement of why more revenue must be provided if a $6,000,000,000 deficit was to be avoided.

Morgenthau put in words an aspect of administration policy in submitting budgetary figures that has been very noticeable heretofore. Speaking presumably for the treasury, he said: "We estimate high on expenditures and low on revenues."

The secretary produced figures to show that dating back into republican administrations a reverse policy had produced from 5 to 15 percent under estimates while his own method for two years showed collections exceeding estimates.

NEW YORK—Almost any sunny afternoon on the terrace of an apartment high in the St. Moritz, looking out over Central park, Alfonso de Bourbon, ex-crown prince of throneless Spain, jolls and chats of many things.

When his guest is willing, he turns the conversation to the movies and to American sports: baseball, football, boxing. His knowledge of these things is amazing, but his conversation brushes easily over almost any subject mentioned.

When, a few months ago, he signed the hotel register here, Conde de Covadonga y Condessa, he was accompanied by his Cuban bride. In Havana, hemophilia, that dread disease of "bleeders," almost cost him his life. Now, using the more democratic name, Alfonso de Bourbon, he travels alone. His only attendant is a Swiss secretary.

Next month, the 29-year-old invalid, whose gracious air so courageously

Herring Will Inspect Corps

Major Methven Rates R.O.T.C. Excellent As Inspection Ends

Federal inspection of the University of Iowa R.O.T.C. will conclude today and the annual ceremony of Governor's day will take place tomorrow with Gov. Clyde L. Herring reviewing the 1,400-man unit.

Major T. G. Methven, federal inspector from Ft. Snelling, Minn., yesterday expressed satisfaction in answer to requests as to the correct procedure to be followed when the flag of the United States passes in a military review.

For the information of those persons who contemplate attending the R.O.T.C. review on Governor's day: It is customary for a man in civilian clothing to rise and hold his hat opposite his left shoulder with his right hand, and for a lady to rise when the colors pass. Men in uniform rise and salute.

Members of the military rifle team demonstrated their work for Major Methven yesterday afternoon.

In the 55th renewal of the colorful Governor's day review tomorrow, Governor Herring will be accompanied by the adjutant general of state, Gen. Charles H. Grahl of Des Moines. The entire R.O.T.C. of the University of Iowa will pass in review before the governor, after a special detachment has welcomed him. The review will take place on the parade grounds behind the fieldhouse.

Awards for achievement during the year will be presented to military students tomorrow afternoon before the review.

Stoddard Will Visit Meeting

At the invitation of Gov. Clyde L. Herring, Prof. George D. Stoddard, director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station and dean-elect of the graduate college, will attend a conference at the state capitol building next Friday morning.

W.A.A. to Give Breakfast Sunday

W.A.A. will give an installation breakfast for new officers and heads of clubs Sunday at 9 a.m. in Iowa Union.

Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, head of the women's physical education department, will give the welcome address. Margaret Curry, A4 of Aurora, Ill., retiring president of W.A.A., will tell of the activities of the organization.

Officers who will become active immediately after installation are: Frances Jones, A3 of Iowa City, president; Ruth Bee Lewis, A3 of Danville, vice-president; Kathryn Neuzil, A2 of Iowa City, secretary; and Evelyn Sturz, A2 of Park Ridge, Ill., treasurer.

Avukah to Meet

The Avukah organization, under the auspices of the Philo club, will meet for the first time Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the religious activities office in Iowa Union to discuss Palestine and general Jewish problems. Dorothy Olsen, A2 of Portland, Ore., will have charge of the program.

New Books

A selected list of books of general interest to students, recently added to the university libraries, was issued yesterday by Sarita Robinson, superintendent of the cataloging department of the university libraries.

OPEN FORUM OF STUDENT COMMENT

Dear Sir, Do you have any classes in University hall? If so, I'm sure you'll agree with me that some kind of elevator or at least an escalator should be installed.

Three times a day I have to climb to the top floor of University hall, and since this hot weather, I haven't been able to get up there for classes. Well, yesterday I got two delinquents, and my instructors say so much if I expect to get a D average this semester.

So you can see what kind of a position this puts me in. If I don't go to class I won't be able to graduate before I'm 25, and if I do go, I'll be so worn out I won't be able to get anything out of the classes anyway.

I think it is up to the university or the state or whoever does things like that to put an elevator in University hall. Of course it won't do me any good, but I always think of yours truly, Exhausted.

Dear Sir, Your column seems to have effected so many reforms that I feel there is one more you ought to promote.

How about an anti-noise campaign? The campus seems to be overrun with people who make all sorts of unnecessary noises while classes are in progress and not only disturb instructors but distract students.

Not only is this deplorable condition so on the campus but in the city as a whole. New York has done much to alleviate noises and Iowa City certainly ought to be able to repeat this success.

Motorcycle mufflers, train whistles, automobile exhausts, truck and car horns and 100 other things could all be listed and their owners can be taught to lessen the racket.

Quiet is one of the primary prerequisites for concentration and I feel that by eliminating some of the unnecessary noises on the campus and in the city you will be aiding the students and residents.

Attends Directors' Meeting in Omaha

Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, attended an annual meeting of the board of directors of the Presbyterian Seminary of Omaha in Omaha, Neb., yesterday.

Professor Lampe is a member of the board and a graduate of the seminary.

Judges Agree On Decisions

Music Festival's Final Statistics Show 25 Per Cent Agreement

Judges in last week's music festival showed perfect agreement in 25 per cent of their decisions, and marked disagreement in less than two per cent, according to statistics released yesterday by Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department, festival competition manager.

Decisions in which two judges agreed and the third gave a rating only one place removed (as superior-superior-excellent) were 57 per cent of the total.

Judges Choose Best Libraries

Will Award Final Prizes From 8 Of Original Entries

Book collections of eight students entered in the private library contest under the auspices of Iowa Union library were chosen by judges from 24 entries for exhibition in the Union library today through Sunday, Dorothy Spencer, Union librarian announced yesterday.

The three prize winning collections to be selected from this group will be given prizes of a $5 book, a $2.50 book and a $1 book, offered by the Union Board.

Students whose libraries will be shown are Sterling Anderson, G of Bagley, 86 books; MacDonald Carey, G of Sioux City, 91 books; Louis Cook, A3 of Des Moines, 77 books; Ronald Neil, G of Canton; Mo., 73 books; William Schwartz, A3 of Jacksonville, Fla., 118 books; Samuel Saltzman, A2 of Iowa City, 73 books; Robert Ritz, A3 of Waterloo, 108 books; and William Wood, G of Jacksonville, Ill., 123 books.

The judges have agreed upon the following general principles to guide in judging the value of the personal libraries; there should be a reasonable proportion of books of permanent value; books reflecting an intelligent interest in ideas and trends of today should be included; there should be a fair representation of the various fields of human activity.

Judges of the contest are Prof. Nellie S. Aurner and Prof. John W. Ashton, both of the English department, and Prof. Ernest Horn of the college of education.

Seals Club Names Leachman as Head

Don Lewis of the psychology department will report on "Steady-State and Transient Aspects of Vowel Production," at a psychology seminar tomorrow at 8 a.m. in room 105, East hall.

Other officers for next year will be: Mildred Fitzgerald, A1 of Iowa City, vice-president; Dorothy Hartsook, A2 of Des Moines, secretary; Marian Smalley, A2 of Muscatine, treasurer, and Jeanette Smalley, A2 of Muscatine, probate sponsor.

Initiation will take place next Thursday at 4:30 p. m. at the women's gymnasium. A picnic will follow initiation ceremonies.

To Hold Conference Here June 16 to 18

Symposiums on direct aids to the family and social aids to the child have been scheduled as one of the chief parts of the program of the child development and parent education conference at the University of Iowa.

The state-wide conference, with various state and educational institutions cooperating, will occur June 16-18. General theme for the 10th annual affair is "Education for Family Life."

Leaders of the symposiums will be Dr. Robert Foster of Detroit's Merrill-Palmer school; Dr. Ruth Brickner of the Child Study association of America; Gladys Hall, president of the American Association of Visiting Teachers; Laura Tart of the Iowa Children's Home society; Charles Hall, Minnesota state department of public institutions; and Dr. Harold Skeels of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station.

Plan Annual Essay Contest

Order of Artus Will Award Prizes For Two Best Essays

Plans for an annual contest for the best essay on a subject of economic interest, to be conducted by the Order of Artus, national economics organization, were announced at an initiation meeting last night in Munn's grill.

Dr. Harlow S. Person of the rural electrification administration, Washington, D. C., delivered an address at the meeting.

The first prize winner in the contest will be awarded $25, and the second prize winner will be given $5. Both will also receive a medal, and three honorable mention awards will be given.

The essays, not to exceed 5,000 words, will be judged by three faculty members of the Order of Artus selected each year by the total membership of the order. Entries must be submitted by 5 p. m. the last Friday in April of each year, and results will be announced two weeks later.

New members of the organization are Robert Miller, G of Des Moines; Donald Mudgett, G of Des Moines; Glenn Rye, C4 of Northwood; Clifford Graeber, A4 of Rolfe; Gerald Warren, G of Winfield, Kan.; Charles Hastings, A4 of Garner; Karl Bengston, G of Wakefield, Neb.; and Edward Landy.

Plan Water Color Exhibit as Mother's Week End Feature

Fifty-two water colors, on exhibition in the main lounge of the fine arts building as representative work of the American Watercolor society, will be a special feature of Mother's day week end.

The exhibition, which will be on display until May 23, is circulated by the College Art association of New York and has been selected from the 69th annual exhibition of the American Watercolor society, which was held in New York during December. Edith Bell of the graphic and plastic arts department was represented in the New York exhibition.

It is the second time that the College Art association has circulated the exhibition of the American Watercolor society, and the second time the works have been displayed at the University of Iowa.

Want to Write? SUI Will Offer 7 Writing Courses

If you want to devote all your time to writing without being bothered by other courses, you can do so for credit—and sometimes for cash—at the University of Iowa this summer.

Seven courses in specialized creative composition have been arranged for the first term in the school of journalism and the school of letters, beginning June 8. Fiction, poetry, essays, magazine articles, newspaper articles, and theses are included.

The instructors, experienced as writers and as teachers or writers, are Prof. Frank Mott, Prof. Frederick Lazell, and Prof. Charles Sanders of the school of journalism; and Prof. Wilbur Schramm, Prof. Ford Piper and Prof. Carrie Stanley of the school of letters.

Emphasis will be upon good writing, rather than upon selling, but in some of the journalistic courses suggestions for marketing will be given.

Grad to Speak

Robert E. Chaffee, son of Prof. Grace E. Chaffee of the college of commerce, will be a member of the Chicago sales staff of the Columbia Broadcasting system, will talk on radio advertising before the marketing class of the college of commerce, Monday at 9 a.m. He was graduated from this university in 1926.

Elect G. D. Stoddard to Committee For Education Council

Prof. G. D. Stoddard, director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station and dean-elect of the graduate college, has been elected a member of the problems and plans committee of the American Council on Education, it was announced yesterday.

He will serve four years on the committee, which is the main forum in which the national council discusses policies and plans of fundamental importance in the educational history of the country.

Introduce Officers At Newman Club

New Officers were introduced at the Newman club's last regular meeting of the year yesterday evening in St. Patrick's gymnasium.

The officers are Edward McDonnell, A2 of Davenport, president; Othello Duckett, A2 of Ft. Dodge, vice-president; Phyllis Pooley, A3 of Greene, secretary; Thomas Moran, A1 of Melrose, treasurer.

Dancing followed a short business meeting.

May Magazine Features Story By Iowa Grad

"One Morning Early" by Eleanor Saltzman of the Iowa City Child Welfare Research station, is the featured story in the May issue of American Prefaces, out this morning.

In this story, the author pictures farm life, as she did in her recent novel, "Ever Tomorrow." Miss Saltzman is a native Iowan, and a graduate of the University of Iowa.

"Three Poems" by Herbert Krause, a graduate student who recently won first prize in a national folk play contest, are included in this issue. They are "The Minor Strain," "Song Tomorrow," and "The Roan Dog."

Writings by three other Iowans also appear in this number. "The Woman Who Died Laughing," by Karlton Klein, young editor of the Dubuque Dial, illustrates the analysis of character for which he received praise in his first novel, "Cherry Bed." Also in this issue are "Admonition," a sonnet, by Jay G. Sigmund of Cedar Rapids, and "Where Should Poets Dwell?" an essay by Rhodes Dunlop, now a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, who has also studied at Rice institute, Texas, and at the University of Iowa.

A story, "The Meeting," is by Anne Chamberlain, 18-year-old Marietta college student, who is now experimenting with form and subject matter until she finds her best medium.

"Transfiguration" by M. D. Ingalls, young New England poetess, and "Rain," a sonnet, by Richard Sullivan of Kenosha, Wis., are also included in this issue.

Plan Wagon Stage For New Theater

The Des Moines Steel company will install an offset revolving stage next week in the new theater, Nyle W. Jones, manager of Iowa state employment service, said yesterday.

The new theater when completed will have a wagon stage and cyclorama.

M. G. Wyer to Head Librarians' Society

Malcom G. Wyer, librarian of University of Iowa libraries from 1905 to 1913, has been elected president of the American Library association. He will assume office at the close of the national convention of the organization in Richmond, Va., May 11 to 15.

Dr. Hugh Young Of John Hopkins To Visit S.U.I. Hospital

Dr. Hugh Young, chief of staff of the Brady Urological Institute, Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., will visit in the college of medicine tomorrow morning.

A luncheon will be given in honor of Dr. Young tomorrow noon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel G. Alcock, 430 E. Brown street.

Dr. Young will appear on the program of the Linn County Medical society in Cedar Rapids today.

Judges Agree On Decisions

Music Festival's Final Statistics Show 25 Per Cent Agreement

Judges in last week's music festival showed perfect agreement in 25 per cent of their decisions, and marked disagreement in less than two per cent, according to statistics released yesterday by Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department, festival competition manager.

Decisions in which two judges agreed and the third gave a rating only one place removed (as superior-superior-excellent) were 57 per cent of the total.

Out of 490 ratings, 133, or 27 per cent, were superior; 227, or 46 per cent, were excellent; 117, or 24 per cent, were good; and 12, or 2 per cent, were average or below. These figures are a little lower than results of the six district contests.

A tabulation of judges' decisions in the festival here follows:

Total judges' ratings	499
All three judges agreed	124
Two judges agreed, the third one place removed	282
(as superior-superior-excellent)
Two judges agreed, the third two places removed	31
(as superior-superior-good)
Three consecutive ratings	46
(as superior-excellent-good)
Contrasting ratings	8
(as superior-good-average or below)

"The remarkable agreement of the judges proves the validity of their ratings," Professor Righter said. These results, together with the judges' commentaries, are now being mailed to the supervisors of all schools whose pupils took part in the festival.

Engineers To Enter Contest

Ten Freshmen Selected As Competitors In Drawing Contest

Ten freshman students in the engineering-drawing department have been selected to work under John M. Russ of the department, in preparation for national competition, under the auspices of the drawing division of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

Four works from the University of Iowa will be selected from among the works of the 10 students for entrance in the competition.

Results will be announced at the 4th annual meeting of the society June 23 through 26 at the University of Wisconsin.

Two students were chosen for the preliminary work from each of the five sections of the beginning engineering drawing classes. Students who will work under Mr. Russ are Robert E. Box of Belle Plaine, John D. Howard of Cedar Rapids, Oscar Hoof of Chicago, Ill., John Speidel of Washington, Ia., Howard Kasch of Davenport, Hubert Frus of Iowa City, Norman Kopp of Buffalo Center, Franklin Eddy of Marengo, John Anderson of Cedar Rapids, and V. F. Anthony.

Classes of drawing which will be entered in the national competition are a pencil drawing made with instruments, including orthographic shape, description, and size specification; the same type of drawing accompanied by a pencil drawing; the same type of drawing accompanied by both an inked tracing and pencil drawing; and a complete working (shop) drawing submitted in the form of an inked tracing accompanied by the pencil drawing. Choice and treatment of views and dimensioning, are part of the problem.

Have Brisbane Rites Saturday

Funeral service for Mrs. Bertie E. Brisbane, for many years a resident of Iowa City, will be conducted at the Oathout funeral home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be in charge, and burial will be in the Downey cemetery.

Mrs. Brisbane, who had spent the winter in California, died Tuesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Tracey House, in Helena, Mont., en route home.

Surviving are Mrs. House and two other daughters, Mrs. Ruth Bliss of Sioux City and Mrs. Vava Ackertley of Chicago.

Less Than 2 Weeks Of Classes Remain—Then Examinations

Less than two weeks of classes now remain for University of Iowa students—but the end of classes May 21 will be followed by a week of semester examinations.

The examination period will continue until May 23, with the last two-hour test ending just as the first event of the university's 76th Commencement begins.

Seniors and candidates for advanced degrees who are successful in examinations will receive their academic awards during the formal commencement ceremony June 1.

Only a short interlude will occur between the end of the second semester of 1935-36 and the beginning of registration for summer session's first term. Enrollment for the six-weeks period opens June 5 and classes begin June 8.

FARMINGTON — Lightning knocked the front door from the Christian church during a recent storm here. Windows in nearby houses were broken by the bolt.

TRAFFIC GOAT-GETTERS

THE HILL PASSER
If the dumb stunts of the present decade should be recorded by future historians the amazing chronicle of those drivers who attempt to pass cars on hills and curves will be found high on the list. The tragic experience of those who have failed does not seem to deter them in the least. Such boos cannot get it through their heads that every time they pass a blind curve or near the top of a hill, the wings of Gabriel are swishing close to their ears and the Grim Reaper himself is perched on the running board.

ELIGIBLE FOR FEDERAL FUND

The University of Iowa children's hospital is eligible to share in a $2,850,000 federal social securities act appropriation for crippled children, the attorney general's office ruled yesterday. The money may be used to erect a convalescent home and to extend and improve services. Above is a general view of the front of the hospital and, lower, paralytic cases are shown being treated in the hospital pool.

Cemetery Positions Become Inheritance For Krotz Family

BY GAYLORD MOORE
"Like father, like son" has been checked and double-checked by the Krotz family of Iowa City. Joseph H. Krotz Jr., 817 N. Dewey street, Oakland cemetery sexton for more than a year, is the third member of his family to hold that position. Mr. Krotz's grandfather, Michael Krotz, became sexton at Oakland cemetery in the 1870's. Mr. Krotz believes, filling that position until his death in 1885. Joseph Krotz Sr., the second generation sexton, began his work at Oakland cemetery in 1894. The present sexton was then 13 years old. Working with his father Mr. Krotz Jr. obtained his first experience. "At that time we cut the grass with scythes and sickles," he said, "there was not as much ground to care for then but it took us nearly a week to go over the entire yard. "Now we have 15 acres more ground to care for, but we are able to do the work better and much faster than my father and I. Instead of the old swinging scythe we have five hand mowers and a power-driven mower to cut the grass. We also have a power-driven hedge and grass trimmer which we use around trees and tombstones." After working with his father six years Mr. Krotz Jr. left his job at the cemetery. His father remained on the job until 1911 when he suffered an accident which caused his death. The present sexton was appointed April 2, 1935, 36 years following his last working at the cemetery with his father.

Number Seventy? You Stay at Home

Swiss Doctor Lectures On Nerve Control

Dr. Leon Asher, professor of physiology at the University of Berne, Switzerland, described the influence of the sympathetic nervous system on the body, in a graduate lecture under the auspices of the college of medicine in chemistry auditorium last night. The Swiss doctor stated that if the nervous system on one side of the face were destroyed, the tears from the eye on that side would contain less salt than those on the normal side. The same would hold true of the saliva in that part of the mouth. Differences in appearance of cells from the side of the face where the nerves had been destroyed and the normal side were shown by slides. Another example demonstrated by Dr. Asher showed that if a guinea pig were fixed to one spot and a whistle made to blow at a fixed volume, the effect upon the sympathetic nervous system would be shown by the twitching of the ears. In conclusion, Dr. Asher said that all medical doctors and physiologists were united on the same path—to follow science in the interest of humanity. The covered bridge is a survival of an ancient custom. A great many of these bridges were built before the Revolutionary war and their builders followed the methods used by the old European bridge builders.

WSUI Artist Receives Fan Letters, Postcards, Pictures

BY MARY BURKE
A self-styled "sort of a cowboy" and an old man whose proudest possession is a collection of law books are among the fans who have written to a WSUI artist, praising her for her program. The artist receives a number of fan letters and answers all of them. "These letters make me feel that I'm not wasting my time at all," she said.
Get Acquainted
The cowboy, who began his letter, "Let's get acquainted," enclosed a drawing which he said he sketched from one of his photographs but which looks suspiciously like Robert Taylor.
He described himself, saying plainly, "I hope you don't dislike eyes." After inquiring about the personal appearance and hobbies of the rather remote object of his affections, the cowboy, who like young Lochinvar, "hails from the west," ended with the plea, "If you'll say my name just once on that program, I'll know you're kinda thinking about me. Even if you are engaged, please answer this."
More pathetic than humorous are the two postcards from the lonely old man "now past three-fourths of a century." The flourishing, cramped writing declares that he has lived "in the same home within a few days of 76 years surrounded by books collected by the family 100 years." "I am out of date," he wrote, "but this collection should be saved."
Sells Books
He addressed an offer to sell the books to the radio artist, referring her to a complete list in the law library. "I am the last of the family left and I cannot dispose of them—they will be pulped," he said. Apologetically he ended, "I know. I value these too much—but they must have a value." Although the radio performer wrote asking him for particulars, no answer has ever been received.
Another letter came from an Iowa business man, delivering a sort of sermon on psychology. He analyzed the position of radio in the modern world today, and advised "the listener" to "Train! Train! Do! Do!" "The ears need light training, then heavier, just the same as any other muscles of the body needs training to make them proficient," he declared. In two long pages he outlined a course of training he thinks

Old Gold Renews Loop Play With Champs Today at Minnesota

By ED WALSH (Daily Iowan Sports Writer) NORTHFIELD, Minn., May 7 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—University of Iowa's baseball nine rolled up its second victory in as many starts on its current northern road trip here today as the powerful Hawk batsmen shelled Raudenbush, local hurler, for 13 hits and a 9 to 3 win over Carleton college. Warren "Skeets" Haltom, veteran utility man, pitched for the winners and allowed but seven hits, which total might have been even lower had the Old Gold fielding been up to standard.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1935-1936

Thursday, May 21, 8 a.m., to Thursday, May 28, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation, in the case of any examination, from this schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned, to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Dean of Men (men) and Women (women).

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 14 or 15, if possible, May 7 or 8.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures 7:30 to 8:15. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Friday, May 22, 4 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (126) meets twice each week, T, F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Wednesday, May 27, 2 p.m.

N.B. All sections of Principles of Speech (1), (2) and (4) meet for examination as follows:

Section	Date	Time	Place
Section A	Friday, May 22	1-3	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall
Section B	Wednesday, May 27	1-3	Auditorium, Macbride Hall
Section C	Tuesday, May 26	1-3	Auditorium, Macbride Hall
Section D	Thursday, May 21	8-10	Auditorium, Macbride Hall
Section E	Wednesday, May 27	8-10	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall
Section F	Friday, May 22	3-5	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall
Section G	Wednesday, May 27	3-5	Auditorium, Macbride Hall
Section H	Tuesday, May 26	3-5	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall
Section I	Thursday, May 21	8-10	Auditorium, Macbride Hall
Section J	Wednesday, May 27	8-10	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall
Speech (1)	Wednesday, May 27	1-3	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall
Speech (2)	Tuesday, May 26	3-5	Auditorium, Schaeffer Hall

(Time announced by instructor)

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 21 to May 28, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for each "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Jimmy Foxx's Homers Defeat Browns, 9 to 6

BOSTON, May 7 (AP)—Jimmy Foxx's seventh and eighth home runs of the season, each of which came with a runner on, enabled the Boston Red Sox to wind up their home stay today with a 9 to 6 victory over St. Louis.

The triumph was the golden socker's eighth success in nine starts against the four western clubs on their home preserves. The downfall was the 11th straight for Rogers Hornsby's players.

Cretzmeyer's 19 Points Top Varsity Mates

Five Frosh Thinclads Grab First Places In Annual Affair

By CHARLEY WELCH

The Old Gold varsity trackmen conquered their freshman challengers yesterday 79 to 46, but only after many nip and tuck battles down the straightaway.

Capt. Francis Cretzmeyer, hurdler, broad jumper, javelin thrower, and high jumper, showed the first year men what it takes to garner 19 points. Andy Dooley had a fight all the way in the century barely nosing out Ed Wiggins, frosh speed merchant, in 100. Dooley and Wiggins renewed their duel in the 220 yard dash and again the varsity men won the honors.

Capt. Johnny Graves, the frosh's hope, matched strides with Lyle of the varsity, managing to break the tape a few yards ahead of the 890 yard run in 1:59.4. Billig, first year 440 yard specialist, led Matteson and Briggs to the tape to add points to the freshman totals.

Paul Nelson and Bob Nelson, varsity men, easily won the one mile and two mile runs. Roy Schiebel took the pole vault and Pinazzo outdistanced the varsity in the broad jump.

Summaries: 120 high hurdles—Won by Latham (V); Cretzmeyer (V) second; Lamb (V) third. Time—35.2.

220 yard low hurdles—Won by Cretzmeyer (V); Latham (V) second; C. Teufel (F) third. Time—24.

Captain Jim Gardner, Iowa Golfer, Undeclared in Dual Meets to Date

Linksman

JIM GARDNER

Jim Gardner, captain of this year's Hawkeye golf team, began his third and last year of varsity competition by leading his teammates to an opening victory over the Iowa State Cyclones at Hyperion course in Des Moines, and has followed his feat with an unbroken string of wins. Playing against the toughest of competition, which includes B. Davis, Wisconsin state champion, Gardner remains undefeated, having yet to meet a golfer who can match his smashing drives and accurate putting.

Despite his ability to crack out longer drives and iron shots than the majority of his opponents, Gardner relies a great deal upon his deadliness around the greens and a fine putting touch to turn the tide of victory.

Begins Early

The Hawkeye captain began his golfing career several years ago at Vinton, and was already an accomplished golfer when he entered the university four years ago. After one year of freshman golf, he was immediately given a berth on the varsity team. Last year he played No. 1 position on the team, despite the fact that he was not captain, and this season saw him again assuming his place at the top of Iowa's golfers.

Jim is what golf professionals term a "natural" golfer. His game is rarely off very badly, and he is seldom in bad form. In his first time on the course this year, after the long winter layoff, the burly Gardner evened par on Flunking field. This was an especially unusual feat considering the condition of the greens and fairways that had only recently been covered with snow and water.

Gardner's game is now in mid-season form and is settling into the groove of perfection that is the goal of all superior linksmen. With a strong array of supporting golfers behind him, Gardner has so far led his team through a successful season and should do just as well this week end against Minnesota and Carleton.

Giants Falter Before Bucs, 6-2, for Sixth Loss in Eight Tilts

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (AP)—The Giants ended a disastrous trip in the west here today by losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 2. It was their sixth defeat in eight starts since leaving home.

Leading by a run going into the last half of the sixth inning, the Giants gave up five runs in this frame, one of which was contributed by Travis Jackson's wide throw to the plate.

Blues Win, 13 to 12
KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Kansas City won a wild American association game from Louisville to end the series yesterday, 13 to 12. The Blues had to come from behind to score three in the ninth to win after having a lead of 9 to 0 at the end of the second inning.

Delts' 28 to 0 Win Over Phi Kap Sig's Traced to Beer Won

The keg of beer won in Wednesday's 7 to 5 victory over the Betas seemed to have its effect upon the Delta Tau Delta kiltball team yesterday as they hammered out a 28 to 0 victory over the Phi Kappa Sigma outfit in a game that went only four innings by mutual agreement of both teams.

Bill Givens, pitching for the Delts, held the opposing batsmen to a solitary bingle and obtained 10 of the 12 putouts by strikeouts.

U.S. Soldiers Fare Badly In Olympic Trials

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP)—Defenders of Uncle Sam's shores in far off Hawaii saw their hopes of fighting with their fists in Berlin this summer quickly blasted tonight.

The soldiers from the United States army post, traveling 5,000 miles to compete in tryouts for the nation's Olympic boxing team, made a sad showing. Seven members of the team went into action and all seven took a sound thumping, one losing on a knockout and two on technical knockouts.

Before a crowd of 5,500 spectators, 35 battles were fought tonight, leaving 32 to be decided in the semifinals tomorrow night, to reduce the championship field to 16 finalists. They will remain to battle it out May 20 to determine who shall make the trip to Berlin.

Today's bouts produced a sensation in 20-year-old Lou Gevinson, a clerk in the treasury department at Washington. A sharp shooting southpaw, reminding old-time ring-siders of Lew Tendler, Gevinson scored two knockouts. This 126 pounder first flattened Corp. Paul Benshile of the army, and then came back to score a technical knockout of Elmer Kelly of Loyola university of New Orleans.

WHITE SOX Baffle Senators, 11 to 6
 WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Making it two in a row over Washington, the Chicago White Sox today handed the Senators an 11 to 6 beating that chalked up their fifth straight defeat.

With Luke Appling alone batting in five runs, and Jimmy Dykes smashing out a homer, the Sox staked pitcher Stratton to such a lead in the late innings that the 10 hits he tossed against the Senators' bats caused him no major worry.

I.C. High Band Gives Concert

Will Leave Wednesday For National Music Contest at Columbus

Playing its last public concert before leaving Wednesday for Columbus, Ohio, to enter the national music contest, the Iowa City high school band, conducted by Lloyd F. Swartley, received an enthusiastic response from more than 500 listeners at Iowa Union last night.

The first composition played by the band, the overture "Fraternity," by Herbert L. Clarke, is a required number of class B schools in the national band contest. The band also played two excerpts from the first and third movements of Tschalkowsky's Symphony No. 6 (Pathétique), which have been selected for the national contest.

Rated Superior
The Iowa City high school orchestra, rated superior in the Iowa high school music contest here last week, opened last night's concert by playing two of its contest selections. Also in the program were a flute solo by Dorothy Soucek, a cello solo by Rollo Norman, and three numbers by the girls' sextet with Gwendolyn Pratt and Beth Livezey, first sopranos, Katherine Reeds and Doris Gafeller, second sopranos, and Alma Ruth Findly and Betty Martin, altos.

- The complete program was as follows:
- Orchestra
  - "March and Procession of Bacchus" from Ballet Sylvia
  - Delibes
  - "Russian Sailors' Dance" from "The Red Poppy" R. Gilere
  - Flute Solo
  - "Konzertstück" Hofman
  - Girls' Sextet
  - "Children of the Moon" Warren
  - "Celtic Lullaby" Irish Folk Song
  - "Rain" Curran

  - "Sonata in G. Major" (Second Movement) Sammartino
  - Band
  - Overture "Fraternity" Herbert L. Clarke
  - "March of Youth" Olivadoti
  - "Ballet Egyptian" A. Luigini
  - Symphony No. 6 (Pathétique) P. Tschalkowsky

Atty. Murphy Files Petition to Appeal Clay Murder Case

The murder case of Louis Clay, 28-year-old Iowa City Negro, will be appealed to the Iowa supreme court during the September term, according to a petition filed by Defense Attorney W. F. Murphy yesterday. Clay, now at the Ft. Madison state penitentiary, was sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment by District Judge James P. Gaffney in district court here last Thursday on the jury's verdict of assault with intent to commit the murder of George J. Folsom on Christmas eve, 1933. This was the second trial of Clay for the murder, the former case being remanded for retrial by the state court because of lack of corroboration of the evidence of Mabel Davis, who was said to be an accomplice in the murder. Clay had been given a life sentence by the jury in the first case.

Judge Evans Signs 3 Divorce Decrees

District Judge Harold D. Evans signed three divorce decrees yesterday in district court. Because it was the only one filed in the clerk's office, the case of John Fielding, 203 Halley street, against Lily Fielding was final. The couple were married in New York in 1925, according to the petition filed by Attorney Ingalls Swisher.

The decrees which will become final as soon as they are filed in the clerk's office include: Albert A. Wyjack against Dahlla Wyjack, married in 1927 at El Paso, Tex.; and Marcia Bladow against Hugo Bladow, married in Watertown, Wis., in 1913.

Schadt, McCulloch To Attend Luncheon

F. C. Schadt and Fred McCulloch, both of Iowa county, candidates for nomination to the state senate on the republican ticket, will attend a luncheon of the local unit of the Republican Volunteers of Iowa tomorrow at Munn's grill. It was announced yesterday by Frank Swisher, secretary at the local republican office.

Republican candidates in the county primary election here June 1 will be guests of the Volunteers.

Gold Notes - Boom Days Here Again?

A $10 gold note, supposedly out of circulation since President Roosevelt's recall of all gold coins and notes in 1934, was recently received by J. C. Hughes, owner of the Hughes Oil company on Riverside drive.

Can this be an indication of the return of the boom days of 1923, or is the $10 note only a bit of hoarded money pulled from the old stocking under the mattress? Mr. Hughes wonders.

THIMBLE THEATER STARRING POPEYE

LONG LEGS—SMALL DESK

Ted Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis, 514 S. Dodge street, is shown above as he attempts to fold his legs underneath the small desks in the junior high school building. Unable to do so, Ted must sit with his feet in the aisle throughout class periods. He is an eighth grade student.

Desks Cramp Young Pupils At City High

For a modern version of ancient torture, trying sitting at a desk for 60 minutes at a stretch, unable to get your knees under the top of the desk. Many Iowa City high school and junior high school pupils are doing that five days each week throughout the school year. All testify it is extremely uncomfortable.

Big, strapping eighth grade youngsters for many years have been attempting to concentrate on studies while seated at the pint-sized desks. They can't put their feet underneath, so out in the aisle they go, making passage difficult and even hazardous.

The too-small desks are only a minor feature of the countless number of inconveniences and dangerous situations at the present public school plant. All offer mute evidence of the pressing need for a new high school building in Iowa City.

While the desk arrangement is uncomfortable, other conditions are a distinct menace to the health and well-being of the hundreds of students who crowd into the ancient buildings daily.

In the junior high school building, three drinking fountains must serve as thirst-quenchers to more than 300 pupils. With only four minutes in which to pass from class to class, many children are unable to get their turn in the long drinking fountain lines, and consequently go thirsty for several hours.

Exposed wiring creates a constant fire hazard in the draughty wood-interior buildings, while ancient methods of ventilation foster and encourage the spread of any germs which may be carried in.

Insufficient locker facilities, physical education facilities, music rooms, auditorium space, and playground area all contribute to the general inadequacy of the present set-up.

Kaffron Talks Of Unemployment To Farmer-Laborites

"If all the unemployed in the United States today stood in a line with their hands on each other's shoulders, that line would reach from New York to Kansas City to San Francisco and back again, or would completely border the United States," declared Farmer-Laborite L. A. Kaffron to Iowa City members of his party at the city hall last night.

"Employment is only one of the phases of the present system, but it clearly illustrates something is wrong," said Mr. Kaffron and traced charts to prove it. Mr. Kaffron's charts, a dozen or more, were designed to point out a method to remedy the differences in production and profit.

Exposed wiring creates a constant fire hazard in the draughty wood-interior buildings, while ancient methods of ventilation foster and encourage the spread of any germs which may be carried in.

Prof. C. A. Hawley To Speak Sunday

Prof. Charles A. Hawley of the school of religion will speak on the important Danish philosopher and writer, Kierkegaard, at the Unitarian church here Sunday. The speech will take the place of the regular 11 o'clock morning sermon.

Important because of his influence on the dramatist Ibsen, the philosopher has been publicized in a biography published this year. Professor Hawley is well known for his views on the re-interpretation of Christianity.

WE WANT WATER!

High School Carnival to Raise Funds to Send Band to Contest

Grounds, Buildings, To House All Features Of Annual Carnival

To raise funds to send Iowa City's nationally famed musicians to the national music contest at Cleveland, Ohio, next week, parents belonging to the Iowa City High school music auxiliary will sponsor its third annual music carnival at the school square at 7 o'clock this evening.

Among the special features planned will be a glass blowing exhibition, a five-cent dance and the "Cleveland Night Club" follies. The carnival will be held both in the buildings and on the grounds, but in case of rain will be held indoors.

Superior
Two years ago the band was sent to the national contest at Des Moines and returned with a "superior" rating. Last year the orchestra competed at Madison, Wis., and received the outstanding mark of "highly superior," the top ranking in the contest. Lloyd F. Swartley is director of both organizations.

The band will leave Iowa City Wednesday morning and will return here the following Sunday.

Mayor Martin Will Give Talk at Traer
Mayor Thomas E. Martin will speak at a republican rally in Traer May 20. It was announced here yesterday. The meeting will be one of a series of monthly rallies to be staged by the Tama County Republican Women's club.

The state and county candidates on the republican ticket will be invited to the meeting. Mrs. H. G. Ross is president of the club.

Marriages

Hear Utility Suits Monday

Five Suits Challenging Right of PWA To Advance Money, Up

The hearing of five injunction suits challenging the right of the PWA to advance money to municipalities for the construction of power plants will be resumed in the District of Columbia supreme court at Washington, D. C., Monday. The Iowa City Light and Power company is one of four utility companies questioning the PWA power.

The test case of Harry Abbott against the City of Iowa City in which the local utility company is intervenor will be delayed until the Washington litigation is completed. It was announced here last night by Mayor Thomas E. Martin. The case was also scheduled for Monday.

Involve $3,000,000
The injunction suits in the capitol involve $3,000,000 in federal funds for power plants in 10 cities in Alabama, Texas, Oklahoma and Iowa. Injunctions to block the loans and grants are being sought by the Alabama Power company, the Texas Utilities company, the Oklahoma Utilities company and the Iowa City Light and Power company.

The plaintiffs allege the PWA is unconstitutional and has no authority to finance municipal power plants and is trying to illegally regulate local power rates. Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat of the District of Columbia court is presiding at the hearing, which was postponed last week by the chief justice because of the illness of his wife. The hearing began April 20.

Albert Sedivec Dies at Home

Funeral service for Albert Sedivec, 74, a resident of Iowa City for 70 years, will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hohenbruch mortuary. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Sedivec died about 2 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 520 E. Fairchild street, after a lingering illness. He was born in Czechoslovakia and came to Iowa City when he was four years old. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Antonie Sedivec; three sons, George, Charles and William; a daughter, Mrs. James Albrecht; and two brothers, Dan and Joseph, all of Iowa City.

Nigel Bruce, English Character Actor, Belongs to the Buck's Club, Once London's Most Exclusive

Case has already been postponed twice, but may be resumed here sometime next week. The case seeks to test the validity of the election on a municipal light plant here in April, 1934.

Mayor Thomas E. Martin and councilmen who will leave for Washington, D. C., Saturday, will return here for the Abbott case.
