Liquor Controversy

DES MOINES, July 21 (AP)—

Gov. Clyde L. Herring said today that he has received an opinion from Attorney General

Edward L. O'Connor on whether the state auditor's office exceeded its jurisdiction in criticisms of the Iowa liquor control commission in its audit reports.

The governor said he had asked the opinion because of complaints from liquor commission officials that some criticisms were unwarranted and were made on matters of policy which the liquor control law delegated to the commission itself.

Grimes Enters Race For U.S. Senator

Announcement Comes After E. P. Chase's In Council Bluffs

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, July 21—John M.

Grimes, Omaha editor, today announced his candidacy for the short term nomination for United States senator to be made by the republican state convention in Des Moines

Saturday.

Grimes' announcement brought to four the number of declared candidates for the republican nomination.

Thirty-five Iowa City republicans last night attended a meeting of first district republican delegates at Washington,

Ia. All of them were pledged to the support of Mayor Thomas E. Martin for the nomination to the United States senate to succeed the late Louis Murphy.

In what Mayor Martin at an early hour this morning termed a "completely harmonious meeting," the delegates decided to put the question of the nomination up to the candidates themselves. Possible nominees from this district will meet in Des Moines tomorrow afternoon to decide on one man to be backed in the state convention Saturday.

Besides Martin, the strong candidates from this district are former Sen. Ed R. Hicklin of Wapello and Attorney Joe R.

Friley of Ft. Madison.

to fill out the balance of the term of the late Sen. Louis Murphy, democrat, of Dubuque.

Ed W. McManus, Keokuk attorney, was the first of the candidates for the democratic nomination, to be made by the democratic state convention in Des Moines Thursday, to announce his candidacy.

White, Galvin Candidates

Indications were given during the day that Harry C. White of Vinton, member of the state board of control, and S. J. Galvin of Hampton, member of the state board of education, would be candidates for the democratic senatorial nomination. Representative Herbert Utterback, back in Des Moines, made no move in the democratic contest.

Grimes' announcement, made in

Des Moines by W. S. Ruppe of Ames, manager of his 1936 primary campaign for the republican nomination for governor, came shortly after E. P. Chase, Atlantic editor, announced his candidacy in Council

Bluffs. Chase told a group of 175 seventh district friends at a luncheon he would seek the nomination.

Manning in Race

Mayor Edwin C. Manning of Ottumwa, a candidate for the full term nomination in the June republican primary, said in Ottumwa

he "most certainly" is a candidate.

Former State Sen. Joe R. Friley

of Ft. Madison, and former Sen. Ed

R. Hicklin of Wapello, were moving toward a caucus of the first district for sentiment on their candidacies.

Friley has announced he seeks the nomination, and Hicklin is regarded as a candidate.

Linville Announces He Will Not Run

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, July 21—Guy Linville of Cedar Rapids tonight issued the following statement in connection with candidates to succeed the late United States Senator Louis

Murphy:

"I have been requested by many republicans throughout the state to interpret my original statement given in the press respecting candidates for United States senator in which I said: 'I shall not seek the nomination.'

"My thought was that as the choice of a candidate is to be made in a convention of delegates already selected, it seemed proper that the delegates should be permitted to exercise their best judgment for the interest of the republican party, unhampered by strong political pressure from contending candidates.

"It was not my intention to remove myself as a receptive candidate, not to give the impression that I would not appreciate the support of the delegates when they convene, should they feel that my nomination would best serve the aims and purposes of my party in the coming election."

U.S. SENDS WARSHIPS TO SPAIN

Move Made by Secretary Hull To Evacuate American Citizens If Necessary for Their Safety

'GIVE ME DEATH' Mercer Wants to 'Get It Over With Quick'

By The Associated Press ANAMOSA, July 21—John Mercer, 27, brought back to Iowa today to stand trial for a 1930 murder he has confessed, told officers as they lodged him in Anamosa reformatory for safe keeping.

"I want to get this over with quick. Don't send me up for life. Give me the gallows. I've been in hell for six years."

Cedar County Sheriff W. W. Christian and Glen Schmidt, Iowa investigation bureau chief, brought Mercer, the son of a once-wealthy Philadelphia fur merchant, back to Iowa from San Francisco. He was captured there after a woman recognized him as the man who stole her radio on the pretense that he was a repairman.

BY HIS TEETH—Dentist Has Own Way Of Knowing Assailant

By The Associated Press ST. LOUIS, July 21—By his teeth, Dr. Aloysius J. Padberg, 58-year-old dentist, will know a young assailant he threw down a flight of steps today after being stung twice over the head with a monkey wrench.

Robbery apparently motivated the attack. "I'd recognize his teeth anywhere," the dentist told police.

FLU WHIPPED? Scientists Recover Cirrus From Air, Kill It

By The Associated Press BOSTON, July 21—Influenza, one of the last unwhipped plagues of civilization, was a step nearer the fate of its sister plagues, smallpox, yellow fever, diphtheria and typhoid tonight, two Harvard scientists announced.

They reported they had recovered the influenza cirrus from the air and killed it by contact with ultraviolet rays.

Their success caps a series of patient studies over the last five years, opening up a vast field in preventive medicine, whereby the air in hospitals, operating theaters, schools and auditoriums may be freed from dangerous germs, they said.

'TIPOFF' MAN Defense Wants Brown, Former Police Chief

By The Associated Press ST. PAUL, July 21—A subpoena for Tom Brown, former chief of police, as a defense witness in the trial of John (Jack) Peifer on a kidnap conspiracy charge, has been issued, Archie M. Cary, chief defense counsel, disclosed tonight.

Brown was named in testimony of Byron Bolton, chief government witness, as the recipient of a share of the $100,000 William Hamm ransom for acting as "tipoff" man for the kidnap gang.

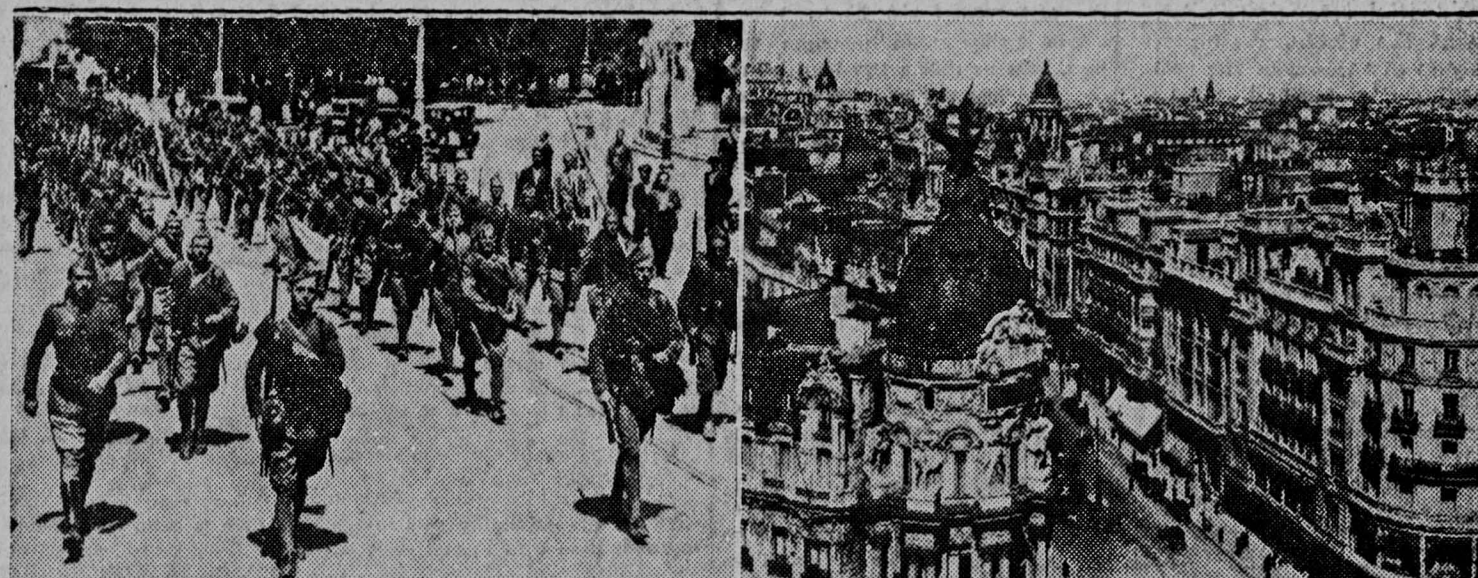

Suspended as a detective less than a half hour after Bolton's testimony last Friday, Brown left for his lake home in northern Minnesota. Deputy United States marshals are known to have left with the subpoena to serve it.

AS BAD AS 1934 Government Maintains 1936 Drought Severe

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, July 21—The drought, spreading from the Rockies to the Atlantic, was described by the agriculture department today as being "about as severe" as the great drought of 1934 and "much more serious" than any previous.

The department's crop reporting board made its special report just as AAA officials turned directly to Secretary Wallace for advice on their proposed cattle purchase program intended to aid farmers whose pastures and grazing lands have been seared by the sun.

City, Utility Present Cases In Gas Dispute

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, July 21—Former

Judge A. A. Herrick, master in chancery in United States district court, today heard oral arguments in the dispute between the Iowa City

Light and Gas company and the City of Iowa City over natural gas lines and rates.

The controversy, Judge Herrick said, involves, first, the refusal of the city to grant the utility company permission to excavate in the city in order to tap natural gas lines, and second, an ordinance passed by the city reducing gas rates.

The utility company is seeking court injunctions to force the city to grant permission to tap the natural gas lines and to prevent enforcement of the rate ordinance.

Judge Herrick heard testimony in the case last winter.

Making arguments for the utility company today were Wayne Cook and Dana Watterman, and D. C. Nolan represented the city. Mayor

Tom Martin of Iowa City also was present.

When arguments are completed

Judge Herrick will make his findings and conclusions of law and turn his report over to United States Judge Charles A. Dewey for decision.

Must Act Before Conflict Arrives

WITH 1,000 reported dead and many more injured in the last few days of wild Spanish disorders, fascists and monarchists continue their drive against the popular front party of the present government.

We need look only a short way back into Spanish history to find the root of the present revolution which has assumed such astounding proportions.

And thus revolutions have ever been—not hastily organized but rather plants of slow growth built upon years of discontent.

If such bloody conflicts as the present are to be stopped we must not depend upon periodic suppression of outbreaks.

Johnson County Is Favored Again

IN A SURVEY by The Daily Iowan it is revealed that some of the best oat and hay crops in the last five years in Johnson county are reported.

This is a decidedly different note than that sounded by farmers in other sections of Iowa and in surrounding states who cry of burned crops and dying livestock.

Those Were The Good Old Days

FORD FRICK's ban against hand-shaking ball players is discussed by Johnny Evers, the middle man of the famous double play combination.

Writing in the current Liberty magazine, Evers recalls the bloody tussles between rival players, often between entire teams, that transpired at the ball parks during his heyday.

Evers relates one of the brawling incidents when his Boston team was making its sensational jump from last to first place. During a game at Chicago, Heinie Zimmerman tried to knock the ball from Johnny's hand as he slid into the bag.

"I retaliated," says Johnny, "by rubbing the ball with much vigor over Heinie's features from the chin to the forehead and back again. Heinie jumped to his feet to take a punch at me, but little Rabbit Maranville, who was so short he had to jump to register, socked Heinie on the chin and knocked him down."

After the riot was quelled, Maranville, Evers and Zimmerman were ejected from the game but on their way to the clubhouse began arguing again.

In these days the smile worth while is the one that you can photograph and sell to an advertising agency for use in tooth-paste promotion.

Not Much Concerned About Lemke Party

MOST PEOPLE don't seem to be much concerned with the threatened presidential campaigns of Dr. Townsend or of Representative Lemke.

In most cases a "third party" has polled less than four per cent of the total vote. LaFollette in 1924 obtained only the electoral vote of his own state.

Of course, as has often been pointed out, this does not mean that a third ticket may not—or has not—on occasion turned the tide of the election as it stood between the two major parties.

Our political history would seem to have proved that, unless when headed by a candidate with a great popular backing, a third party achieves only very negligible results in a presidential campaign.

But everyone, it seems to us, can remember candidates who won immensely enthusiastic popular ovations, in campaign-time, but who afterwards lost the elections.

Just Another Publicity Gag

ANNOUNCEMENT is made that Clark Gable will presently begin a tour of principal American cities, traveling incognito.

Obviously it is just another publicity gag—an art in which our movie producers are masters. And even though the public knows about these incognito ruses, it invariably gets a big bang from them.

A new four-mile race track is being built on Long Island near New York City. But we're afraid it won't be able to stand the competition of the state highways on Sunday.

Self-restraint was once a widespread virtue, but that was before the perfection of headache powders and hangover pills.

It's an ill wind that blows no one good—for instance, those radio political speeches make us really appreciate other art entertainers.

The human body is a complex mechanism which we can't understand. Proof: it is always hotter sitting at your desk in the office shade than out on a golf course in the broiling sun.

"It is the material and not the man who uses them that makes for success," reads an editorial. Hmmm, that makes the inkwell more important than the comic artist.

What Others Think

THE ASTRONOMERS confess themselves puzzled by the odd behavior of little Nova Lacerta, the star nobody knew until it swam into the ken of an amateur star-gazer in Ohio a few weeks ago.

But why should the human eye marvel at the divagations of a star? It may be surprising that any observer of life on this planet could be distracted by the idiosyncrasies of other stars, but not at all that a luminary popping out of the blur of the galactic system while the political conventions were in full blast should react to strange reverberations along the ether waves.

As to what happens to Nova as she pours forth, that is a phenomenon all too familiar to political star-gazers. Few rising stars continue to appear as bright and big as they seemed when they first began to fulminate.

A New Yorker At Large

NEW YORK—They used to say there was a church at one end of Wall street and a river at the other.

It is a municipal port, put there some time back for benefit of the Wall street barons who commute in their own planes. The planes are set down on the river and then taxied up the narrow slip between two piers to be run on a turn-table.

Bob Lyons, who manages the port, tells us that a few less than a dozen planes use the airport regularly now, mostly men well known in the street like Harrison Williams and Lloyd Smith.

By HUBBARD REAVY HOLLYWOOD—Part of the Weidler family had to get out of town. The neighbors complained.

The neighbors like Virginia—who is the most un-movie movie child anyone ever has seen—but something had to be done. The ranch, on which the expansive Weidler clan will eventually make its headquarters, also is an investment.

Englishwoman's War Against Gallows to Enter United States

LONDON (AP)—England's one-woman crusade against capital punishment will land at New York in September for a whirlwind campaign—cost no object.

The woman is Mrs. Violet Van der Elst, wealthy, stout and blonde, whose spectacular anti-hanging demonstrations in Britain have cost her $120,000 a year, by her own estimate, and brought her world-wide notice.

"If we can abolish capital punishment in England and America," she said at her restful, old-fashioned Kensington home, "every other country where legalized murder is still in force will follow the example."

With an army of assistants, Mrs. Van der Elst plans to start her work abroad on a big scale.

Camp Life an Excellent Way to Spend Vacation

I HAVE just seen a group of little girls marching along by the side of the ocean. They had been singing a song from away down the beach, and as they got near me I found they were singing about what a whale of a fine camp they were attending.

Dr. Cledenning

The development of strong, healthy bodies is a great advantage in protecting against the exposure of cold and other infections and the strain of a year of school life.

But, all these activities must be individualized. Some of the campers are fit for limitless exercise. Others need the emphasis placed on rest.

Physically, mentally, morally and socially, our summer camps are improving the future citizens.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When, in the near future, as expected, Federal secretary of State William Phillips goes abroad, in the role of United States ambassador to Rome, rumor hath it that he will be succeeded by one of three individuals:

1. Norman H. Davis, America's diplomatic representative at large, on missions dating as far back as President Wilson's day.

2. Sumner Welles, now assistant secretary of state, a less important post than the undersecretaryship, though reasonably exalted.

3. William C. Bullitt, present American ambassador to Moscow, absent momentarily on leave of absence in the United States, presumably on business connected with the pending presidential campaign.

Davis is mentioned as a suitability for the undersecretarial job especially because of his undoubted popularity with foreign statesmen.

He has been Washington's "Doctor Thud" to the whole parish and more.

Dr. Thud calls his book "Madame Toussaint's Wedding Day." Like "February Hill," the newer novel may be read for its fresh and highly good humored cross-section of the Cajun life in Louisiana—ribald at times, full of highly diverting by-play.

The wedding day begins with Madame Toussaint on her gallery fuming. She had not known that Jean was going to ask her to jump over the broom with him. However, defiant Toussaint would approve from his station in heaven, Madame Toussaint always said defiant Toussaint at his job of cutting heavenly oysters when she thought of him, which was momentarily. This day she sent child after child to the store for candles to burn to the Virgin. Finally she went herself.

And she learned that shrimps were 18 cents a pound.

She was dressed in her best white Mother Hubbard, and she knew she should not go out fishing that day. But it is not a pound—she went. And there were many events connected with the going, and the wedding had to be postponed until the shrimps were boiled.

Dr. St. Martin's Cajuns live by a curious mixture of superstition, religion, hard work and luck. Humor, too. The flavor of the book is unique, and unfortunately it is also indescribable. The swarms of characters, each distinct; their closeness to the elements of life, and their highly practical philosophy are parts of it. But possibly the chief part is the complete understanding and the sympathy of the author.

MADAME TOUSSAINT'S WEDDING DAY, by Thad St. Martin (Little, Brown).

Another novel fit to rank with "February Hill" has come on the scene, just as quietly and inconspicuously as Victoria Lincoln's book arrived. It is by a doctor from Houma, Terrebonne Parish, Louisiana, whose name is Thad St. Martin—"Doctor Thud" to the whole parish and more.

The wedding day begins with Madame Toussaint on her gallery fuming. She had not known that Jean was going to ask her to jump over the broom with him. However,

Today's Hostess Hints

The last of Mrs. Elizabeth Shaver's endorsed recipes is for Berliner Krantz, which translated means cookies. New recipes for cookies are always in demand in summer. It is always well to have the cookie jar full so as to have something to serve with lemonade when unexpected guests pop in.

BERLINER KRANTZ

11 cups shortening (use half butter)
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange
2 eggs, beaten
4 cups of flour
1 cup white, beaten stiff
2 tablespoons sugar
Cream the shortening until soft, then gradually add the sugar and continue creaming until smooth. Add the eggs and beat light. Add the flour and stir until smooth. Chill the dough for 1 hour. Break off small pieces of dough and form into long rolls, the length and size of a pencil. Bring the ends through in a single knot, leaving a 1/2 inch end on each side. Make a meringue by beating the egg white until stiff and adding the sugar gradually. Brush the tops of the cookies with the meringue and place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes. This recipe makes 8 dozen cookies. If desired, the wreaths may be sprinkled with red and green decorations before baking.

GIRL SCOUTS GET TOGETHER AT CAMP CARDINAL

Let's Visit Camp Cardinal!

Shouts, Laughter, Hum, Bustle All in Day's Activities at Girl Scout Summer Camp

As one comes up the gravel drive leading to Camp Cardinal, the Girl Scout camp, he hears shouts and laughter and the hum and bustle that 37 girls ranging in age from 10 to 15 years can make.

Live In Tents

The girls live in tents. They wear, for the most part, shorts and brief blouses. On Sunday, they dress up in their uniforms for visitors.

Much Handicraft Done

Much handicraft is done. Just now the craze is for "boondoggling." The girls weave into bracelets and headbands, a very pliable leather substitute which comes in bright colors. Some make wood plaques, others tool leather.

Some go swimming.

The camp is divided into minnows, trout and whales according to swimming ability. By the edge of the water is a board with tags hung on it. As a girl goes in the water she transfers her tag from the "out" side of the board to the "in" side. This way the council can keep track of who is in the water.

Archery and hiking, nature study and cook-outs all have their followers.

At a cook-out on Monday night the girls had to eat chipped beef and cheese sandwiches, hard boiled eggs, milk, tomatoes, plums and cookies. Each day there is a "nature quest." The "quest" for today is: Where on the camp ground does the sycamore or "ghost" tree grow?

At 2:30 the girls come to the club house and have a snack.

At 6 there is supper, followed by a campfire. Many activities take place at this time. Last night there was an entertainment. Each group had an original skit, the members of each

Evelyn Norton, a camper at the Iowa City Girl Scout Camp Cardinal, "follows through" with perfect form in a difficult swan dive. In the second picture, the Girl Scouts get together for an afternoon "snack" of milk and cookies. The girls drink nine gallons of milk daily, and eat 15 loaves of bread. Giants Nip Cards In 10th Stanza, 2-1

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Dizzy Dean served one home run ball too many to the Giants today, and the St. Louis Cardinals lost a 10-inning 2 to 1 decision in the opener of their current eastern tour.

Dick Bartell poked one of Dean's slants into the left field stands in the last of the 10th to break up a pitchers' duel and give Carl Hubbell the decision over Dizzy for the Giant ace's 13th victory.

Score by innings: St. Louis 000 001 000 0-1 9 0 New York 000 010 000 1-2 5 0 Hubbell and Mancuso; J. Dean and V. Davis.

BITS about SPORTS by HAROLD REED. ALTHOUGH MOST OF THE coaches have deserted Iowa City and the formal opening of fall football drill is more than a month and a half away, the city is already fairly teeming with gridders. They're all working on university projects, not only to accumulate a little extra cash, but to put some iron on those bulky muscles.

John Hill and Bob Lammon, both slated for first string berths this fall, are back and ready for business. The Simmons boys are hanging around and regaling their fellow workmen with harrowing tales about the wonders of Texas. Frank Balas, Larry Fuhrmeister, and Red Olsen, freshmen standouts last year, are in the troupe.

DON NELSON AND GENE Liggett, two Illinois boys who elected to do their football playing across the Mississippi river, are keeping the grass of Iowa stadium in shape during the hot summer in preparation for the wars to come. Bush Lamb is digging a few ditches for the university, and Floyd DeHeer assumed the role of master wrecker when the old baseball stands on Iowa field were torn down.

Paul Grange, flashy sophomore back, and Flayne Mason, end, are spending their time in the locker room of the field-house. So, it will be a tough, hard bunch of gridders that greets Coach Ossie Solem when he issues the call next fall, and watch their smokes! They will be a hard crew to beat.

Bob Mason, last year's Hawkeye shortstop, is going to town in great shape in his first year of professional baseball. Largely through the acquisition of Mason on the field, Ayden of the North Carolina Coastal Plain league is now in third place, only two games behind the leaders.

Although it will be six months before he comes up against any tough competition, Arnie Christen, varsity diver, has already started his workouts. The blond diving ace is working at the fieldhouse pool and in his spare moments gets in a few practice dives.

LFI Nuthin's... Dizzy Dean's recent "beating" was, according to some of the diamond wags, just another instance of his using his head to get into the headlines. Tony Manero has signed to head the Miami Biltmore country golf pro staff next winter, the fourth consecutive pro holder of the National Open crown to rule the Col. Henry L. Doherty golf roset.

Jerry Owens, the dark flash of the United States Olympic team who has been working his way through Ohio State as a page boy in the Ohio legislature, has been invited by Cleveland political bosses to run for the legislature—politically, not pedally. Jack Dempsey still holds the knockout batting average, with 47 kayos in 89 bouts.

Mare Stewart brought The Daily Iowan's second annual all-city golf tournament to a brilliant close yesterday by writing a 26-hole, 1 up victory over F. H. Gilliland yesterday in the finals of The Daily Iowan flight into the record books. Stewart played a fighting game before he came out on top, with Gilliland matching him stroke for stroke in the longest match recorded during the entire tourney. At the end of the first 18 holes of play both men had 838.

Gilliland took a part in setting his second record of the meet in the long match. In his first round match he carded a sensational 72 for the meet's lowest score.

Oilers Travel to Ames Tonight For League Game With Miller Painters; Favor Locals to Win

Paul Krider to Start Tonight With Joe Gunia in Reserve

Out to continue its winning ways, the Kelly Oilers diamond ball team will travel to Ames tonight to mix it up with the Miller Painter soft-baller in a league game. The Oilers have defeated the Ames boys twice this season while losing one—and are confident of another victory.

Manager Ted Watkins will start Paul Krider in the box and will hold Joe Gunia in reserve. In his only start for the Oilers this year, Gunia set down the Ames club, 5 to 4, here Sunday evening.

Manager Miller of the Ames club is uncertain whom he will start in the box against the Oilers. If he should choose Kenny Berg, who hurled for the Oilers the first part of this season, he will do so in face of Berg's record of six defeats at the hands of the Kellymen.

Watkins will open the game with the same lineup that defeated Ames, 5 to 4. Bill Astle, who has been playing third base for Walt Brown's independent baseball team, will make the trip, but it is uncertain whether he will appear in the lineup.

Policeman, Clerk Tie for National Public Links Medal

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—Claude "the Ripper" Rippey, a Washington haberdashery clerk who shook par loose from its moorings with a record-shattering outburst 30-and-rally policeman Jimmy Molinar from San Francisco, led a brilliant massed attack today to tie for the National Public Links golf championship medal with 36 hole totals of 145 blows.

So tightly bunched was the field as the firing ceased over the heavily wooded valleys of Beth Page that 57 of the "poor man's golfing brigade" qualified with 153, while 12 others, with tallies of 154, had to play "sudden death" overtime for the other seven places to join the 64-man field which will battle over match play for the title starting tomorrow.

Mare Stewart Beats Gilliland in Closing All-City Golf Match

Mare Stewart brought The Daily Iowan's second annual all-city golf tournament to a brilliant close yesterday by writing a 26-hole, 1 up victory over F. H. Gilliland yesterday in the finals of The Daily Iowan flight into the record books.

Mighty Yanks Lose to Lowly Browns, 5 to 4

ST. LOUIS, July 21 (AP)—Al Thomas handcuffed the New York Yankee sluggers with half a dozen hits today while his St. Louis Brown mates came from behind to score a 5 to 4 victory over the league leaders.

Johnny Broaca blew a three-run lead to which the Yankees had staked him in the first inning, and gave the Browns their winning margin in the eighth, when Roy Bell's single brought two tallies across the plate.

Score by Innings: New York 200 000 001-4 6 1 St. Louis 210 000 02x-5 8 0 Thomas and Giuliani; Broaca and Dickey.

Nats Turn Tide, Nip Sox, 6 to 5

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Washington Senators, vanquished three straight times by Chicago last week, bounced back for a 6 to 5 victory today to halt the White Sox winning streak at eight straight.

Score by Innings: Washington 400 110 000-6 9 0 Chicago 212 000 000-5 10 0 Deshons, Casarella and Bolton, Millies, Chelini, Haas and Sewell.

Indians Quell Red Sox, 6 to 5

CLEVELAND, July 21 (AP)—Cleveland's Indians quelled a Boston uprising in the ninth inning today to defeat the Red Sox 6 to 5 in the series opener.

Mel Harder held the Red Sox in check until the final inning when Oral Hildebrand was sent to his pen after three runs had crossed the plate.

Score by Innings: Boston 100 010 003-5 14 0 Cleveland 023 010 00x-6 13 2 Harder, Hildebrand and Pyrak; Grove, Russell, Wallberg, Henry and Ferrell.

Australia Defeats Germany in Davis Cup Zone Net Play

WIMBLEDON, England, July 21 (AP)—Australia captured the inter-zone final series today from Germany and will meet the cup holding English team in the challenge round of the Davis cup tennis competition starting Saturday.

A 6-3, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4 victory by curly haired, red checked Vivian McGrath over young Heiner Henkel put the series on ice for the Aussies. The veteran Jack Crawford then took the measure of H. Denker, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, to make Australia's winning margin 4 to 1.

Local Fans Throw Support To Crayne, Other Hawkeye Stars In All-Star Grid Team Voting

University of Iowa stars continued to get the support of Johnson county and Iowa City football fans as Leytze, Seel, Gallagher, Hoover and Crayne increased their leads over rival candidates, Joe Richards, the only Hawkeye not on the first team of The Iowan's poll, closed the gap between himself and Berwanger when the local fans again gave him preference over the Maroon ace.

Moscrip of Stanford and Miller of Notre Dame tightened their leads on the end positions as did Jones of Ohio State at center.

Smith, the great Alabama luminary, increased his lead over Seel of Minnesota for the quarterback post to 226 votes. The fight between the two for the position is the hottest of all on The Iowan poll.

The count of the local vote is wired to the Chicago Tribune each evening, where all votes of the nation are tallied to determine the college players who will make up the All-Star team that will meet the champs of the professional league, the Detroit Lions, at Chicago Sept. 1.

Crayne Leads At Fullback Post CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Jay Berwanger, the University of Chicago's "one man" football team for three seasons, regained the leadership from Bill Shakespeare of Notre Dame, today in the voting for halfbacks who will carry the ball of the 1935 college all stars against the professional champion Detroit Lions at Soldier field Sept. 1.

Berwanger's supporters sent in 31,125 votes to boost the Maroon star's total to 211,443, to 291,738 for Shakespeare. The latter's gain was 17,893 votes.

Dick Crayne of Iowa led the poll for the fullback post with 165,544.

"I don't remember. I was tired. I never had been so tired before." Keyes was exasperated and showed it. He wanted the number of the taxi, which she didn't know of course, also a complete description of what she had worn. This she gave him, bringing out the garments one by one. The driver of the cab, she was glad to see, had no idea what she looked like.

"Has she any relatives?" a desk and a chair. He rummaged among the papers in her desk, drew out an address book, a few letters, and a large black bound book, with "diary" written across the front in white letters. "McManus will do the rest here; for the present these will suffice."

Business Men Will Meet To Discuss Pool

The possibility of an Iowa City swimming pool seemed nearer last night when a group of business men decided to meet at the American Legion building next Monday at 8 p. m. to discuss the project.

H. I. Jennings, one of the backers of the pool, said the possibility of a PWA grant and the ultimate cost of the pool will be discussed. The swimming pool is proposed for the grounds south of the American Legion building.

Aerial Mapping of 2 Counties Completed

The aerial mapping of Iowa and Keokuk counties was completed yesterday by George Arnold, photographer, and Pilot Tony Ming of the Aerial Explorations incorporated of New York. The maps were made for the department of agriculture, soil erosion program.

The extreme heat wave of the last two weeks provided the photographers with unusual opportunities for picture taking.

Leave After Visit
Dr. and Mrs. Glen S. Rost, who have been house guests of Dr. a. Mrs. William E. Spence, 521 W. Park road, left yesterday for their home in Cleghorn.

There are so many people, particularly in the south end of town, who have no adequate means of getting to any other pool. It is principally for their benefit, but also for the convenience of more fortunate people that the proposed pool would prove to be such a boon. These people have no means of getting out of town and the park pool is at such a distance that by the time they have walked home the good benefits are entirely evaporated.

300 Persons Are Served At Picnic Supper

More than 300 persons were served at a picnic supper yesterday from 5 to 7 p. m. at the annual parish picnic at St. Patrick's school gymnasium.

Booths, games of chance and bingo were included in the entertainment.

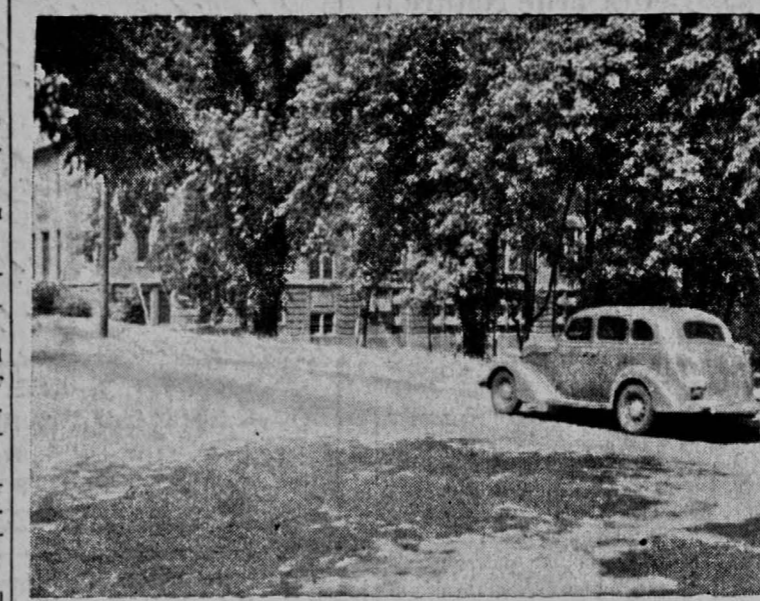

Out-of-town guests who attended the picnic were the Rev. Monsignor William P. Shannahan, the Rev. Thomas J. Lew and the Rev. Edward Collins, all of Davenport. The Altar and Rosary society, under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. C. Fitzpatrick, was in charge of dinner arrangements.

A WINNING SHOVE!

George Koser, at the annual picnic of the Iowa City service clubs, held at the Iowa City country club yesterday, shoves another excellent score in a shuffle board game.

SITE OF PROPOSED SWIMMING POOL

An overwhelming majority in favor of the proposed Iowa City municipal swimming pool was shown in a series of symposium interviews conducted by The Daily Iowan yesterday. The above picture shows the proposed site of the pool, just south of the American Legion building.

What Do You Think?

What do you think about having a municipal swimming pool for Iowa City? That is the question many Iowa Citizens were asked yesterday. The answers reveal an overwhelming majority are in favor of the proposed pool and the site that is being considered.

J. Leo Kadigian, photographer, is decidedly in favor of the pool. In regard to the location, he said: "I think the corner by the American Legion building is a good location, except what will be done about parking? Having the pool there would save money, however, because of the facilities available in the Legion building."

Connie McIlree, a waiter in a downtown restaurant, answered: "Sure, I'd be in favor of a good pool. Swimming is the thing everybody likes to do in the summer. Why not have a pool here so people won't go out of town?"

R. J. Stevenson, a salesman in a dental supply house said, "A good pool is what Iowa City needs. I'm for it."

Mary Wilkinson, a saleslady in a department store, warned, "Yes, I'm in favor of a new pool, but remember facilities must be adequate enough for a town of this size." Helen Chamberlain, who works in the same store, gave a new slant to the subject. "I would particularly like the pool by the Legion building because it is so shady there. I hate to get sunburned."

Tony Rinella, a dealer in vegetables, remarked that he thought a pool would be a fine thing for the town. "I'd surely vote for a pool if it ever came to election," he asserted.

Roland Smith, owner of a downtown cafe, was not in favor of the pool. He stated, "Property taxes are too high now. Until they reduce those taxes I am not in favor of the new pool."

Mrs. Margaret Selbach, proprietor of a ladies' ready to wear shop, said, "I believe we should have a new pool. It would keep people in Iowa City."

Clara Ehlers, an operator in a beauty shop, was indifferent. She said, "I don't have any children; it doesn't matter to me."

Nathan Bernstein, the assistant manager in a grocery store stated: "You bet I'm in favor of the pool. People wouldn't go to West Liberty, Cedar Rapids, Marengo and everywhere else to swim if we had a pool here."

Virgil Grandrath, partner in a shoe store, was most interested in the idea of a new pool. "Of course, the main thing is that an adequate pool would keep people in Iowa City. I think it could be easily financed. The PWA grant was promised once, and we should get it again. The small sum the city would have to pay could easily be made. I know of a town about the size of this where a pool cleared $25,000 in two years."

Dr. F. L. Love, prominent physician: "This is one of the most laudable projects that Iowa City has ever witnessed. It is particularly so in view of the present accommodations now available to Iowa

AROUND THE TOWN

Seams
I noticed yesterday the seams in "her" stockings. They were crooked. I have a feeling there will be another "her" soon. . . I remember my grandmother's advice: "Never marry a woman who doesn't keep the seams in her hose straight," she said. "You can't trust them."

Riverfront
Surprising to me is the rapidly with which the riverfront project near the Iowa avenue bridge developments. I have yet to see one of the handsome, shirtless fellows who "boondoggle" on the project lift his hand to do a lick of work. Yet the work progresses.

Pension
I was much disappointed yesterday in one of the fair ladies in the Johnson county bank building. Only last month she had told us she was celebrating her 32nd birthday. Then she was relieved of her duties as a secretary. Yesterday she was down at the courthouse applying for an old age pension. . . All of which goes to show that even the best of them are liable to be slightly inaccurate about their ages.

Face
At the University hospital yesterday I saw a woman who had scarcely any face at all. Someone—a jealous lover I suppose—had thrown acid on it. . . There were only two holes where her nose had been, an opening that represented her mouth. But she was happy, optimistic. In these days of plastic surgery, she said, she was certain she would be all right again. "They" could fix it up. . . Sadder part of all was the doctor who stood behind her bed and shook his head. . . Later he told us: "It is hopeless," he vowed, "she'll always be like that."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herring, 203 Melrose court, returned yesterday from a brief visit in Cedar Rapids.

Mrs. J. P. Pugh, 612 S. Dodge street, returned home yesterday from Rock Island, Ill., where she has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Laffler.

Mr. and Mrs. Margaret Wilkinson, 620 S. Dodge street, returned from Davenport yesterday morning where she has been visiting friends.

O. S. Innes of Cedar Rapids and C. W. Trapp of Kansas City, Mo., were business visitors in Iowa City yesterday.

Mrs. Lester Frasier and family of Milwaukee, Wis., are in Iowa City as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Barry, 1129 E. Washington street.

Attorney Ingalls Swisher, 1708 Muscatine avenue, was a business caller in Cedar Rapids yesterday.

Milo Bauer of Des Moines was a business visitor in Iowa City yesterday.

Frederick McMahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McMahan, 516 S. Dodge street, visited in Iowa City recently. He is attending the summer session at St. Ambrose college, Davenport.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bush of West Liberty left yesterday afternoon following a visit with Mr. Bush's mother, Mrs. Margaret Bush, 514 S. Madison street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horejsi of Leavenworth, Kan., are in Iowa City as the houseguests of Mrs. Horejsi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Huyett, 111 S. Summit street.

A Word to the Wise

There has been a great deal of comment about higher prices for food. To the general public we would like to add a word.

There is every indication that canned goods will go higher. A shortage of fresh foodstuffs necessitates it. In all honesty, we would suggest that you stock up at present prices.
