"I'm no good around here," said Paul (Daffy) Dean, one of the St. Louis Cardinals' Deans, as he was yanked from the mound after a barrage of hits off the bats of a group of semi-pro baseballers had wrought havoc with his curves. The younger of the egoistic boys started the exhibition game for the Gas House Gang of St. Louis against a shoe company team. It was the first game he had started since July 4th, three weeks preceding. "I tried my best, but there's something wrong with the shoulder," he murmured after he had been relieved by Pepper Martin, regular third-sacker, who pitched the team to a victory in the exhibition contest.

All of which goes to show that, although talented though they might be, the Dean brothers aren't as valuable as they used to be to the Cardinals. To hear them tell it, the St. Louis club officials, one would think that the team now in second place in the National league race, might just as well fold up. But how much different the setup is! With the touted brothers pitching high class ball last year the Cards couldn't head-off the pennant bound Cubs. But this is another year and the Cards are three games behind the loop leading Cheesemen all without the combined talents of the Deans. True, Dizzy is still doing his stuff but we'll bet they won't command such large salaries when it comes to signing their John Henry's on the dotted line next spring.

And from Des Moines writes Ike Skeeter telling of Lee Keyser, president of the Des Moines western league club, trying to revive interest in the league games in that city. Keyser, who introduced baseball under the arc lights to Iowans, adopted the plan of "bank night" in the Demon's park and it is, seemingly, going over with a bang. It seems too bad that measures have to be relied on to drag out the fans to the loop games. . . . With the class of ball being played this year in the Western league fans shouldn't have to hesitate more than a minute before making up their minds to see a battle on the diamond. . . . Chuck Fleming, manager of the tennis courts at the Cedar Rapids country club is promoting a fast net tournament in that city. . . . Harris Coggeshall, Iowa's ace neister, Don Leavison of Milwaukee, Carl Smalley of Texas and Gordon Pease also of the Lone Star state, are but a few of the competitors. Did you know that Eleanor Holm Jarrett's "toot" was heard around the world?

No one claims to be a prognosticator of the first rank, but after being pestered with various persons asking who will win this, and will so-and-so knock out his opponent in the fourth, we feel like making some guesses and being very brave are taking up a few "dares" by predicting that:

5. Edith Estabrooks will successfully defend her crown as queen of Iowa women golfers. Five predictions will be enough to keep the fans arguing and telling how awful the above guesses are—but that's what makes the world go round.

Disturbances Again Arise on Olympic Team

Two Boxers Shipped Back To America, Called "Homesick"; Tokyo May Get Games in 1940

BERLIN, July 29 (AP)—The Olympic setting, still pursued by the weather jinx, was far from peaceful tonight despite a proposal before the opening session of the international Olympic committee that the Nobel peace prize be awarded to Baron Pierre de Coubertin, whose suggestion of 40 years ago led to the modern revival of the games.

During another stormy day with the athletes of 50 nations struggling to practice in between thundershowers, and elaborate machinery moving at full speed for the grand opening Saturday, the American contingent contributed another full share to the disturbing developments.

Send Two Home

Two boxers, labeled "homesick cases," were shipped back to the United States on the Manhattan: the Washington crew's brilliant stroke oar, Don Hume, joined the rapidly growing sick list and dealt a stunning blow for the time being to America's chances of keeping the Olympic eight oared rowing title; and enough other casualty reports were received to make prospects before the actual firing begin somewhat discouraging.

In sharp contrast to the handling of the Eleanor Holm Jarrett case which was given a complete airing from start to finish, Olympic officials shipped Howell King of Detroit, first string welterweight boxer, and Joe Church of Batavia, N. Y., featherweight alternate, home without leaving much loophole for any comeback.

Some Repercussions

Despite some repercussions mild by comparison with those which followed the previous break in the American team's ranks, Roy Davis of Chicago, manager of the boxing team, stood pat on his statement that "both boys were shipped home because they were too homesick to be of any further value to the team in any capacity, even as sparing partners."

Davis denied there ever was the

Giants Trim Cubs, 7-2; Yanks Blast Tigers Into 2nd Division

Gehrig Hits 32nd Home Run as Mates Get 15 Hits in Slugfest

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—The fast-rising Giants, paced by Burgess Whitehead with a homer, double and two singles, had little regard for the highly-rated Chicago Cubs' pitching today and pounded out 12 hits for a 7 to 2 victory in the opening series two games to one.

The setback not only put the Cubs' National league lead on the line, but was doubly bitter as the Giants clubbed Bill Lee, who had shut them out twice previously this season. Frank Gabler, the New York pitching youngster, let the Chicago champions down with eight hits.

For the first eight innings, Gabler had the Cubs shut out. In the ninth, Ethan Allen hit a homer, Gabby Hartnett doubled, Frank Demaree singled and Hack hit to second to account for the two Cub runs.

Score by innings:
Chicago 000 000 002—2 3 2
New York 103 000 21X—7 12 1

YANKS BEAT TIGERS

DETROIT, July 29 (AP)—The New York Yankees blasted the Tigers out of the first division today, with Lou Gehrig hitting his 32nd home to lead a 15-hit attack for a 13 to 3 victory.

Despite the win, however, the Yanks' league lead was cut to 8 1/2 games by the second place Cleveland Indians' double header victory over Washington.

While Charley Ruffing and Pat Malone held the Tigers to nine hits, the former taking credit for the victory, "murderers' row" landed on Joe Sullivan and Elden Auker to score all their runs in the first five innings before being stopped by the final two Detroit hurlers, Chad Kinsey and Roxie Lawson.

Score by innings:
New York 250 060 060—13 15 2
Detroit 000 010 200—3 9 2

Innovation of Community Singing Led by Prof. Righter Meets With Approval of Audience

5 Republicans See Landon Win In New York, Ohio

By the Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kan., July 29—Forecast that the November election would align populous New York and Ohio for Gov. Alf M. Landon were left with the presidential candidate today by three visiting republicans.

William J. Donovan and William M. Chadbourn of the Empire State, and Hubert Taft, editor and publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, were luncheon guests of the Kansas governor.

Donovan, who left Buffalo to become assistant attorney general under President Hoover and was Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's republican opponent in 1932, told news men:

"I believe there will be enough strength upstate and enough defection in New York city to give New York to Landon."

Taft, a cousin of Charles P. Taft of Landon's campaign staff, said

"Ohio in a close election will be for Governor Landon."

"It wouldn't surprise me if the republicans carried New York state by 500,000," Chadbourn added. He is treasurer of the New York county republican committee, managed the fusion ticket campaign which elected Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia in New York City, and said he supported the Theodore Roosevelt progressive ticket in 1912.

Ford Observes 73rd Birthday

By the Associated Press

BIG BAY, Mich., July 29—Following a custom he established a few years ago, Henry Ford will observe his birthday tomorrow at his home in the Huron Mountain club acres, west and north of here on the rugged Lake Superior coast.

It will be Ford's 73rd birthday, but it will be merely an incident in the annual vacation the industrialist allows himself at this season of the year. No celebration was planned.

Ford discouraged interviewers who wanted to know "how it feels to be 73," but it was recalled that just 10 years ago he voiced the suspicion that "some people call me the old man" behind my back."

"I have heard that for many years," Ford said. "They called me the old man when I was with the Edison company, and I was only 30 years old then. So it may not mean much."

Navy Starts Selective Recruiting Drive For Sailors to Man Ships

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 29—To man 23 new fighting ships, scheduled for completion this year, the navy has started a selective recruiting drive for 10,000 gobs to boost its total enlisted strength to 100,000 men.

Congress authorized an increase in manpower to the 100,000 figure to be reached by July 1 next year. Navy officers said today, despite friendly competition from the army and civilian conservation corps, more men were applying for navy enlistment than could be accepted.

The plans for expanding personnel were given urgency today when Admiral William H. Stanley, acting navy secretary, said he had "not the slightest doubt" that construction of two new battleships would begin next year. He said contracts probably would be let sometime this fall. Renewed indications came from abroad simultaneously that keels for two new British ships would be laid next January.

Petition Filed For Hearing On Frat Case

Appeal States Assessed Valuation Exceeds Real on Property

An appeal for hearing of the application for reduction of assessment on the Kappa Sigma fraternity house, refused by the city council in May, was filed in the district court yesterday.

The petition states that the assessed valuation of the property, located at 934 N. Dubuque street, is 50 per cent more than the real valuation.

Best in City

The Sigma Nu fraternity house, one of the best in Iowa City, and with an ideal location, is assessed at $17,000," the petition states, "while the Nu Sigma Nu house is valued at $16,500."

Owen S. Fernow, owner of the property, names the Iowa City board of assessment and review and Mayor Thomas E. Martin, chairman, defendants in the appeal petition.

The building, according to the petition, is being rented for $30 a month. The taxes levied against the property are more than double the rent, the petition states.

Death Takes City Pioneer

Mrs. Margaret Davis, 87, Dies at Home After One Week's Illness

Mrs. Margaret Davis, 87, of 611 S. Clinton street, long-time Iowa City resident, died yesterday at 6:30 p.m. at her home. Although she had been in failing health since last April, she had been seriously ill for only a week.

Her husband, T. D. Davis, who died Feb. 18 at the age of 93, was one of the last surviving Civil war veterans in Iowa City.

Born March 4, 1849, at Ebensburg, Pa., Mrs. Davis was Margaret Robertson before her marriage March 31, 1869, to Mr. Davis.

30 Years Here

They lived on a farm in the Welch neighborhood near Iowa City until 32 years ago, when they moved to Iowa City. For the last 30 years they have lived at 611 S. Clinton street.

Mrs. Davis was a life-long member of the Congregational church and a member of the Women's Relief corps.

Four daughters preceded her in death, and she is survived by four daughters and two granddaughters. Surviving daughters are Harriet Davis, who lived with her mother; Mrs. Emma McRoberts, 3107 Kirkwood court; Mrs. Hayes Fry, 521 S. Johnson street; and Mrs. F. T. Hartman of Waterloo. The two granddaughters are Mrs. George Ober of Delphi, Ind., and Mrs. Ray Englehorn of Manchester.

Funeral Service

Funeral service for Mrs. Davis will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Beckman funeral home, with the Rev. Llewelyn A. Owen of the Congregational church officiating. A request has been made for no flowers. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Burn Plantings Gardeners Cautioned On Care of Crops This Season

Because of the lack of rains, Johnson county gardeners are warned to clean out all earlier plantings which have not produced and burn them.

Special care should be given to potato crops, which already have been badly damaged by the heat, Joe O'Leary, director of subsistence garden projects said.

Planting of string beans, peas, beets, carrots, lettuce and turnips should be made on or before this Saturday. Seeds for subsistence gardens may be obtained in B-12 University hall every day except Saturday from 3 until 5 in the afternoon.

Warning has been given that when a plant is badly infested with insects, it should be bent over a newspaper, cut off and burned to prevent scattering of the insects.

Wenig Willing to Run For Representative

DES MOINES, July 29 (AP)—Frank E. Wenig, state commissioner of labor, today said he was willing to be a candidate for the democratic nomination for representative in congress from the ninth district.

Congressman Guy M. Gillette of Cherokee, Ia., was nominated to succeed himself, but he since has been nominated for the short term in the United States senate to succeed the late Louis Murphy of Dubuque.

Wenig conferred in Des Moines with E. H. Birmingham of Sioux City, chairman of the Iowa democratic state committee.

"I wish it was, but I'm afraid it ain't,"—M. J. Sullivan, 321 S. Dodge street, janitor.

"It certainly is. Iowa City is way ahead of where it was a year ago or even six months ago. Relief rolls have been cut all over the state. More money is being spent,"—Earl Kurtz, a member of the Iowa City council.

"I think it is. My reaction is based psychologically. People have lost their fear,"—May Ingle, student, 14 E. Burlington street.

"No, I don't think so. When people have more buying power and more money is in circulation, then we'll have prosperity. An awful change will have to take place, though, and not necessarily a political change but an economic one,"—Robert Johnson of Sigourney, farmer.

"In my profession prosperity is either back or arriving. Salaries are going up,"—F. J. Fontz, teacher in the University of Arkansas.

"Judging from the number of summer school students, I should say yes. More students have been placed in positions this year—and with higher salaries,"—Esther French, instructor in the women's physical education department of the University of Iowa.

Administrators Believe Further Hidden Wealth on Iwers' Farm

Consent to Search By Des Moines Man On Sunbury Premises

By the Associated Press
TIPTON, July 29—Administrators of the John Iwers estate indicated they believed further wealth is hidden on the Iwers' farm near Sunbury as arrangements were made today for a further search of the premises which have yielded $203,500 in hidden assets so far.

All Not Found

The reports of administrators said that correspondence and other papers in their hands show it is possible all of the assets left by the last of the three bachelor Iwers brothers have not been found.

But Marion C. Hamel, attorney for Louis Voss, co-administrator of the estate and one of the two heirs to the property, said he had consented to the search of the 160-acre farm and its numerous buildings "in order to prove to all concerned that no further assets are hidden on the farm."

Risden Authorized

On the application of Voss and of William Dodge, co-administrator, J. E. Risden of Des Moines was authorized to conduct the search, which is expected to take several days. Attorneys said the hunt probably will begin tomorrow.

The report which the administrators filed today for the John Iwers estate showed receipts from February 1, 1935, to July 29, 1936, of $15,874.67 and disbursements of $19,033.86, including $3,594.67 federal tax and $8,665.25 state inheritance tax.

Agree to Consider Compromise in Des Moines Wage Dispute

By the Associated Press
DES MOINES, July 29—Representatives of interested groups agreed today to consider a compromise proposal submitted by Gov. Clyde L. Herring for possible settlement of the wage dispute which for a week has blocked work on the Des Moines bridge projects.

The representatives of labor, the state highway commission and contractors who attended a conference this afternoon, said they would send their decisions to the governor in Washington, where he will be attending a drought relief meeting.

J. C. Lewis, president of the state federation of labor, said the labor group will meet at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow. The state highway commission will take up the proposal at its regular meeting next Tuesday and the contractors will confer in a few days.

Work will be suspended on the projects meanwhile, it was announced.

The governor suggested that the contract or minimum wage scale still be paid on the Eighteenth and Second street projects. It also was proposed that "prevailing wage scales" be started on the east 14th street bridge and viaduct project and on the proposed southeast 21st street viaduct.

Persistent

The story still persists about the local six-year old who has written to Santa Claus this summer. It seems the lad wanted a quarter for something or other, but parents said no. . . . The boy, thereafter, wrote several letters to Santa Claus asking for "a loan of a quarter for just a week or so" . . . After the third letter, the following note was despatched: "Dear Santa: I believe in you all year round. Why can't you believe in me for just a quarter's worth?"

Statement

One of the four boys who yesterday morning were sleeping in the American Legion building yesterday morning as the blaze broke out yesterday afternoon said: "It was awful there for a moment. We didn't know which way we'd go to get out. I was just thinking: 'I wonder how it would feel to burn to death?' when we heard somebody smash in the front door. Then—all at once I guess we thought of the window, and all went out at once. . . I feel like I never wanted to see any fire again—or smell any."

AROUND THE TOWN

Herbie Kay

Through town yesterday morning at somewhere about 4 a.m.—passed Herbie Kay and his boys, direct—or almost so—from the Edgewater beach hotel in Chicago.

. . . Kay, an older and winsome lad than I had imagined, towers above the rest of his boys both in what he says and what he does. . . What amazed me was his extreme modesty: "What Herbie Kay hasn't got," he said, "they don't want."

. . . Anyway, their ultimate destination is Dallas and the exposition—"and maybe we'll run out to California," said Kay at a local restaurant where he was smacked into a hamburger with lots of catsup. "I think California would like me."

Johnnie Mercel

That a 3-year-old Bingham, N. Y., boy is reported cutting the lawn excites Johnnie Mercel of Iowa City not at all. . . He, at 5, has cut lawns "for a living" for a year. . . Johnnie, of course, is large for his age. . . Also, he is smart. Next year he will be in first grade.

Bet

Two postmen say that on North Dubuque are two women—unmarried—who have solved the problem of not getting any mail. . . They write each other letters, mail them up-town and receive them next morning.
