

ASK KING TO TELL INTENTIONS

NO WORD FROM CAPT. MOLLISON

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Dec. 2 (AP)—Anxiety was felt tonight for the safety of Capt. James Mollison as searchers planned to leave at dawn to search for the flier and his French co-pilot, Edouard Cornillon-Molinier, missing on a flight from London to the cape. Their plane had not been reported since being sighted near Cape Agulhas, the most southerly point of Africa, about 130 miles off their course.

INTERNAL CRISIS SEEN IN STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2 (AP)—An open break between east and west longshoremen's leaders showed signs tonight of drawing the prolonged maritime strike toward an internal crisis. All hands watched the port of New York for indications as to how far the eastern stevedores would go in working ships declared "unfair" by western longshoremen. Harry Bridges, coast president of the International Longshoremen's Association, pressed his campaign for "inland" support of the strike after accusing Joseph P. Ryan, I. L. A. president, of "strikebreaking."

MOVE TO SEND PROBERS TO SPAIN

LONDON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The international non-intervention committee, beset with British charges that foreigners are fighting in defense of Madrid, today moved to send observers to Spain. The committee authorized letters to defense quarters of both belligerents asking permission to send representatives to investigate reported munitions shipments to each. The British demand that the group bar foreign volunteers from Spanish soil was sidetracked into a subcommittee which was to consider the proposal Friday along with plans for halting airplane shipments to Spain.

S.U.I. Budget Up Wednesday

Gilmore To Represent School at Meeting of Education Board

The board of education will discuss the University of Iowa's budget for the next two years at its meeting in Des Moines next Wednesday. President Eugene A. Gilmore will represent the university at the session. State Comptroller C. B. Murtugh will hear arguments for the university's request Dec. 9 or 10. A $400,000 appropriation for construction of one unit for a university library will head the items requested of the legislature by the university. At $200,000 annually for two years, the unit would be the first of four, eventually to cost $1,800,000. A central library to house the half-million books scattered through departmental libraries on the campus is the leading objective in the university's long term building program. Completion of the fine arts and dramatic arts buildings marked another attainment in the west campus development. The request for a library has been made to previous legislative sessions. A total of $4,411,055 yearly is being asked this year for operating expense. The figure, $150,000 less than the university asked at the last session two years ago, is one of the few decreased appropriations asked by Iowa institutions. Although the amount asked is less, the number of students has increased. The largest single item calls for $3,190,000 for educational purposes, including the library expenditure. For general hospital expenses, $1,100,000 is listed. Other items include $118,000 for the psychopathic hospital and $15,000 for the bacteriological laboratories.

This poem is based on his travels in Canterbury while a Rhodes scholar at Oxford university.

Storm Heads For Manila On Strong Winds

High winds, heralding an approaching typhoon, increased in intensity today. The storm approached Manila on a 60-mile an hour gale. It first struck the islands along the coast of Tayabas province. Center of the typhoon was last reported to be about 100 miles southwest of here. Its course changed early this morning to a more westerly direction. Little damage was reported in the city because people had sufficient warning to prepare for the blow, officials said. However, the wind flattened temporary structures here last night. Tayabas and other Luzon island provinces were swept by a typhoon only six weeks ago, when at least 546 persons were killed and the missing totaled 1,045. That storm centered to the north of Manila. The Philippine Clipper, ready for a routine flight to the United States, postponed its departure for the second successive day because of the typhoon. Likewise the China Clipper delayed its flight from Guam to Manila.

Lives of German Youth Are Hitler's, Says Nazi Leader

BERLIN, Dec. 2 (AP)—The newly appointed youth leader of the German Reich, declared today that "lives of all German youths belong solely to Adolf Hitler," while Catholic authorities conferred on what could be done in the face of Hitler's inscription of every German girl and boy into the Hitler Youth movement. The youth leader of the German Reich, Baldur von Schirach, at the same time issued assurances that he had no intention of "raising false gods for the German youth." Leading Catholics charged the Nazi Youth Conscriptio movement was a "flagrant" violation of the Nazi-Catholic concordat, but expressed utmost doubt whether anything could be done.

Foreign Affairs Committee Drops War Debt Debate

PARIS, Dec. 2 (AP)—The chamber of deputies foreign affairs committee quickly dropped discussion of the nation's war debt to the United States today at the request of the government which felt debate at this time might impede contemplated negotiations. The government wished "to have a free hand in its present negotiations with the United States," Jean Mistler, chairman, told the committee.

United Air Lines Add Larger Planes On Iowa City Line

Regular passenger planes that will carry 21 passengers and sleepers will be added to the traffic lines of the United Air Lines through Iowa City in the near future, it was announced last night. The planes will be larger in every way than the planes now in service on the line. The two motors will be larger, the wing spread will be wider and the radio equipment better. The cruising speed will be more than 200 miles an hour, and the planes will carry a capacity of approximately 800 gallons of gas. The crew consisting of two pilots and one stewardess will be the same as the planes now in service.

"Capture" Convict Who Never Escaped

Lifer H. M. Evans Lives in Burrow Beneath Prison Hospital

FT. MADISON, Dec. 2 (AP)—A Ft. Madison prison guard dragged lifer H. M. Evans from beneath the floor of a small prison building, used as a hospital ward, here today and "captured" a convict who never escaped. For more than a month, though, officers over the country have been hunting this Turin robber and long-time criminal who once escaped from Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison, and once broke out of the state reformatory at Monroe, Wash. Came Out at Night. Yet all the time since Oct. 25, when he turned up missing after a prison football game, he lived in a burrow under the building. At night he would come out, slink about the prison yard and try to find some way over the walls, then scurry back to his haven when dawn came and found him still a prisoner. Prison officials reasoned Evans slipped away with the crowd of outsiders who came to see the convicts play football. "That's what I figured you'd figure," Evans told guards today, "that you'd never think to look for me right here in the prison. So when I found I could get in under the building through some loose boards, I cached all the food and water I could. I've lived mostly on bread, cheese and chocolate bars I bought at the canteen. Aided By Patients. "When it began to rain low, a couple of the 'lungrs' (the building is used to house tuberculosis patients) started slipping me what they could. "I had a golf ball rigged up with a string which I thought I could toss over an upright on one of the cell houses and then pull up a rope I'd made. If I could have got on top that cell house I could have got over the wall. I waited though for some time before trying it, because I figured all the fuss about me escaping would die down and I'd have a better chance of not getting picked up. "But did you ever try throwing a golf ball around one of those up-rights? I've tried it night after night and I couldn't get it to come down right, or else the string would get caught. "I finally gave it up and figured to just lay low and wait for a break. I'd have just gone on living under that building. I had nothing to lose. I wonder how that ball got wise to me?" Which was something prison officials declined to explain.

F.D.R. Heads For Homeland

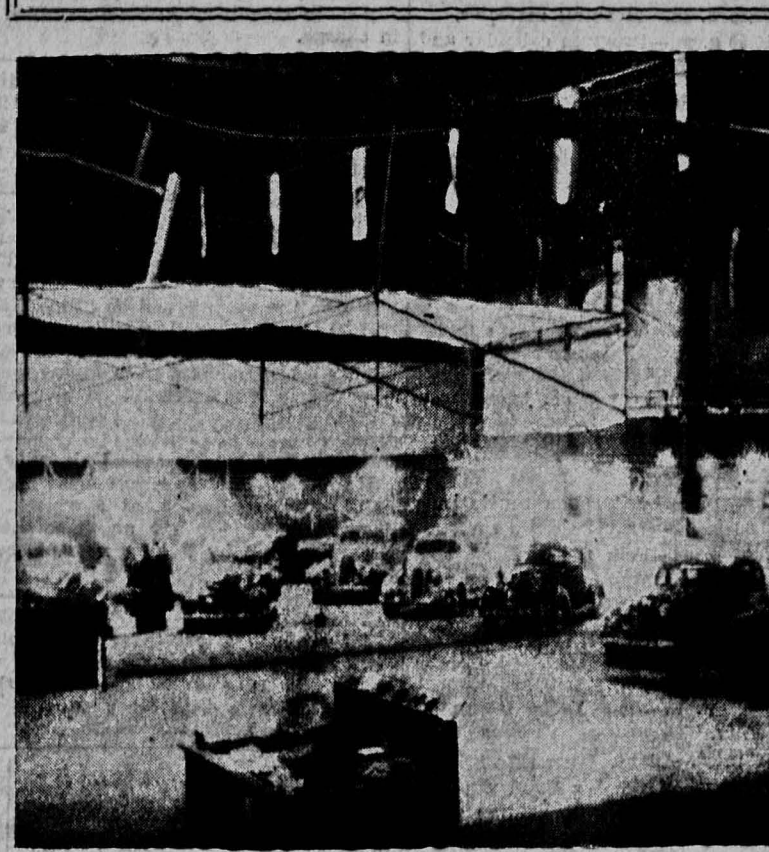

U. S. Delegation Stays Behind to Represent Country at Parley

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt sailed homeward across the broad Rio de la Plata tonight after a tumultuous rain-soaked farewell. Encouraged in his hope for a united American peace front which he expressed at the opening of the Inter-American peace conference yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt planned to stop for only a few hours in Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital, tomorrow before continuing home aboard the cruiser Indianapolis. Hull Stays Behind. Behind him Mr. Roosevelt left Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the rest of the United States conference delegation to represent his country when the Inter-American parley gets under way officially tomorrow. Cheered by thousands of Argentines who lined the 50-block route from the United States embassy to the pier, Mr. Roosevelt embraced Argentine President Agustin P. Justo, who went aboard the ship for a few minutes. Roar of Vivas. Then as the Indianapolis moved off into the Rio de la Plata, Mr. Roosevelt stood on the upper deck waving a blue and white handkerchief while rain poured down on him and the thousands ashore, who set up a final roar of vivas.

BANISHED BABBLES

Child Returns to Normal After Verbal Flow

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 2 (AP)—Four-year-old Emmie Wilson ceased today the stream of childish babble that for more than two weeks has flowed almost without interruption from his lips. "Emmie is recovering nicely and probably will go home in four or five days," his physician said. The lad played happily and silently. He talked normally. The doctor diagnosed the case definitely as encephalitis—a brain inflammation that sometimes appears as "sleeping sickness."

WORK FOR SANTA

Hollywood Will Pay Millions for Gifts

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. Dec. 2 (AP)—The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce estimated today that Santa Claus will drop $15,000,000 worth of gifts down movie colony chimneys next Christmas. "In fact, December buying may go as high as $17,000,000," said Carl Bush, executive secretary. The estimates were based on 1935 totals. Movietown merchants predict an increase of from 10 to 20 per cent, Bush said. Hollywood statisticians believe this is the "buying-est" community in the world for its size. This comes not from volume, Bush said, but from the value of the gifts the high-salaried movie folk buy. Carole Lombard, for example, had a $10,000 budget last Christmas and she was unable to keep her gift list inside it.

Circus Czar Dies Of Pneumonia At Park Avenue Home

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—John Ringling, last of the famous brothers who built up a rolling empire under canvas, died at his Park Avenue home today of bronchial pneumonia. The 70-year-old circus czar, master of what was billed from coast to coast as "The Greatest Show on Earth," had been ill only a few days, although the driving energy that carried him to an eminent place in the amusement world had been ebbing fast in recent years. When he died, in the early morning hours, he was surrounded by a few relatives, friends and servants, with whom he talked, in his low, hoarse, laconic way, almost to the end. Born a poor boy, he died in the midst of lavish art treasures which had become his hobby in later years.

Judge Evans Gives Mary C. Bradley First Property Lien

Mary C. Bradley yesterday was granted a first lien on Iowa City property held by Signy V. Walker, administratrix of the estate of Henry G. Walker, by a judgment of District Judge Harold D. Evans. A judgment of $2,133.52 was returned against Mrs. Walker and a writ of special execution was granted in the foreclosure proceedings. Several other petitions involving the Walker estate were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. The petitions related to the suit of John Mohrnsen against Herbert J. Ries, Phillip S. Walker and Mrs. Walker as administratrix. The plaintiff filed a motion asking that the defendants be declared in default because they had failed to file an answer to the plaintiff's amended petition within the specified time. Attorney Herbert J. Ries, one of the defendants in the action, filed a motion to dismiss the case against him because the facts "do not entitle the plaintiff to the relief demanded as against this defendant."

Cut Down Old Iowa Campus Landmark

The old burr oak east of Macbride hall, a landmark here before Old Capitol was built, was cut down yesterday by order of the grounds and buildings committee. The tree was one of the two remaining burr oaks on the campus. The center is so deteriorated that it may be impossible for the botany department to make its customary exact count of the rings, to tell the tree's age.

London Times Appeals For Statement to 'End for Good Rumors Surrounding Throne'

Paper Declares Effect of Scandal Will Damage Monarchy; Telegraph Endorses Talk Of Prime Minister Baldwin With Edward

(Editor's note: The following story is based on a London Times editorial published this morning and extracts from it are published by permission of the London Times and of the New York Times. The latter has exclusive rights for publication in the United States of matter appearing in the London Times.) LONDON, Dec. 3 (Thursday) (AP)—The great "London Times" appealed editorially today to King Edward for "some authoritative act or statement" to "end once and for all" rumors surrounding the throne because of his friendship for Wallis Warfield Simpson, American born divorcee. The first of London's large dailies to come clearly into the open on the issue, which created a government crisis and brought reports of the cabinet's threat to resign, the Times did not mention Mrs. Simpson by name, but asserted reports in America were "doing infinite harm in the United States and the British dominions." Conceding that the king was "entitled to his relaxation and com-

Edward May Quit Today, Paper Reports

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—The New York Times, in a London dispatch tonight, asserts that conflict between King Edward and his cabinet has resulted in a crisis "involving the possible abdication of the king tomorrow." It also reports rumors that Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson would leave the country tomorrow and that the king might go with her. "Upon the utterly astounded country there has burst a constitutional crisis," the Times said, "involving the possible abdication of the king tomorrow and succession of the Duke of York to the throne. The crisis is no longer hidden; the conflict between the king and his ministers has blazed into open flame. "The cabinet is determined that marriage of the sovereign is not a private matter but a public and imperial concern. The king, on the other hand, is said to feel the cabinet has no constitutional right to dictate his private life, no matter how closely he must follow his minister's advice in public affairs. "Between the two there is no yielding."

ARRANGE TO APPEAL RULING ON GAS CASE

Final arrangements for Iowa City's appeal of Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey's ruling in the natural gas case were made at Davenport yesterday by Mayor Thomas E. Martin and Attorney D. C. Nolan, special counsel for Iowa City in the natural gas case. Judge Dewey ruled in Des Moines Sept. 28 that natural gas might be installed here, immediately after a decision, which followed a district court hearing, the city council decided to appeal to the federal circuit court of appeals. Judge Dewey's decision also set aside the gas rate ordinance passed by the city council. Several other petitions involving the Walker estate were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. The petitions related to the suit of John Mohrnsen against Herbert J. Ries, Phillip S. Walker and Mrs. Walker as administratrix. The plaintiff filed a motion asking that the defendants be declared in default because they had failed to file an answer to the plaintiff's amended petition within the specified time. Hundreds Believed Killed In 3 Fascist Air Raids on Madrid Streets littered with mangled bodies and wrecked houses. MADRID, Dec. 2 (AP)—Hundreds of men, women and children, were believed killed today in three fascist air raids opening a fearful assault on hunger-ridden, besieged Madrid. At least 30 other bodies were sprawled in other sections of Madrid after the bombers and their convoy of pursuit ships finally turned for home. lattered streets and wrecked houses. The insurgents, angered by defeat the day before and after their inability to capture Madrid in four weeks' siege, unleashed the bloodiest attack and bombardment in the city's history. At least 70 high explosive bombs were dumped in the city by the "silvery raiders," killing 26 persons and wounding 33 others in the northern suburb of Tetuan alone. At least 30 other bodies were sprawled in other sections of Madrid after the bombers and their convoy of pursuit ships finally turned for home.

East and West United for Battle

FOR AT least a year informed circles have spoken of a secret agreement between Germany and Japan. At last the treaty has been openly proclaimed by both countries. Ostensibly, the alliance is designed to fight world communism. In reality, it is aimed at Russia. Wars are fought by armies, and only governments or nations have armies. Obviously, a war alliance cannot be made against the communist international because it is not a country or government and has no army.

It seems apparent that the "struggle against world communism" is only a camouflage to gain a favorable attitude toward the pact on the part of the other world powers. This does not imply that other powers sympathize with the soviet union, but many of them are not ready for a world war which a joint German-Japanese attack on Russia would produce.

The "new understanding between Hitler and Mussolini makes the pact with Japan virtually a three-cornered agreement. Hence, the three most predatory governments in the world are joined in a common cause. The meaning of the phrase, "fascism leads to war," is made clear when we remember that these three allies represent the two leading fascist states and a third country that embodies a strange mixture of fascism and constitutional government.

Freedom in An Iowa City

"Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."—First amendment of Constitution.

The constitutional rights granted in the first amendment were dealt a backhand blow at Davenport last week.

The Spanish republic sent a delegation to the United States to ask for aid in quelling the civil war in Spain. Among the visiting representatives are the minister to Sweden, the former minister of education, and a priest who is a famous historian.

The delegation was scheduled to speak in Davenport Saturday night in a hall engaged three weeks earlier. But "pressure was brought to bear" by various organizations.

Efforts to secure other auditoriums met with defeat. No reasons were given for the refusals, and the halls stood empty Saturday night. Again, several agencies had quietly excited "pressure."

It must be remembered that the delegation consists of high officials representing a constitutionally elected government friendly to the United States. Remember, too, that the delegation's mission is above reproach. Under international law, a nation may ask for help in quelling a revolt.

Davenport's treatment of Spain's representatives actually constitutes a diplomatic insult. Of course, in her pathetic condition Spain dares not protest.

It is to be hoped that this demonstration of the rights of free speech and peaceable assembly will not prove to be typical of the United States. The bill of rights has both spiritual and legal significance in this nation.

Wanted! A Better Parole System

THE PAROLE problem continues to plague every state administrative system. With each crime committed by a paroled convict, the public grows more hostile to any type of parole system.

But is the fault to be found in the principle of parole or in its operation? A careful study reveals that of all the badly managed state administrative departments, the parole board generally appears to be the worst.

The principle of the parole system rests on the fact that convicts must be supervised outside prison walls, during which parolees are subject to control by state authorities, is considered a necessary precaution.

Of all convicts sent to prison, 95 per cent will be released at some time. The functions of a prison sentence and a parole must ever be co-operative under such conditions. The prison sentence should serve as punishment for the offense and as a means of developing the offender into a person less likely to commit further infractions of the law. Likewise, parole has a two-fold purpose: first, to shorten the period of imprisonment, and secondly, to aid in reestablishing the prisoner into society during the difficult period following his release.

Flaws in our present system can be attributed to poor organization of the parole board, the lack of funds, and the lack of conscientious workers.

A parole board should be set up in such a way that it would be free from other tasks, and they should enjoy adequate compensation for their full-time labors. There should be a parole employment commission to aid the parolees, and a personal contact bureau.

The entire system should be incorporated into a federal plan to prevent the parolee from escaping to another state beyond the reach of the parole department.

Even if such a system is erected, the confidence and support of the public will be needed. We must realize the importance of the problem and the difficulty of its administration. Proper support, willingly given, will lead to the reduction of crime.

Nebraska Tries Unicameral System

NEBRASKA'S unicameral legislature, soon to assemble in Lincoln, is the subject of lively speculation on the part of numerous political writers. Nebraska editors have been waving their pens in defense of the new system, but the majority of out-of-state writers have condemned the experiment.

Theoretically, the unicameral system shapes up as an economical and rational scheme of government. Hostile critics maintain, however, that the one-house body will be perfect in principle, but full of holes in practice.

One of the most favorable features of the new plan is that no member will be able to deceive his constituents as to his position on proposed legislation. Every member must go on record by year or may vote when problems arise for solution. The practice of committee legislation, so often found in the bicameral system, will be eliminated. Fixers and lobbyists always have reaped their best harvests at committee conferences.

Since the one-house ship will be sailing an uncharted sea, much will depend upon the standing rules that are adopted. The experiment cannot be condemned for its record at the first session. Flaws are sure to appear, and it may take several years to perfect the system. Should the unicameral system fail, it will at least have provided the political scientist with a valid experiment in a new method of government.

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Two or three years ago I wrote an article suggesting that big business was crushing relatively small private business initiative, and proposing a remedy based on my own admittedly small knowledge of the situation.

My notion, as expressed, was that a business which is not too large to be handled by an individual or a partnership ought to have a free hand, within reasonable limits, but that a business so huge as to necessitate incorporation was so huge as to require governmentalization for the public safety.

To my surprise, I received about half a bushel basketful of letters, not from radicals, but from bankers and accounting agencies, commending my idea in principle. To be sure, the writers said I was mistaken in advocating governmentalization, but they agreed, with remarkable unanimity, that limited liability companies engaged in interstate activities ought to be federally incorporated.

Recently, under the new deal, a movement has been launched in favor of a federal incorporation law.

PRESENT METHOD

What is the present system? A vast corporation, intending to engage in interstate business, has its choice of the laws of 48 different states to be incorporated under. Some are very strict with their regulations; some are very lenient toward the corporations.

Most of them elect to incorporate in Delaware, where they are treated with much consideration. From that vantage point they operate under the kindly Delaware law—not only in Delaware but in all of the other 47 states, where laws are not so considerate of them.

Tuberculosis Curable, Victims Now Assured

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE KNOW now, as our ancestors did not know, that tuberculosis can be cured. The gloomy outlook that our ancestors took on the subject was that they thought of the disease in terms of what we call the "late" cases. Even these sometimes get well, but the early case can be assured of recovery in a very high percentage of instances.

The difficulty with the situation is that it is a very insidious disease and may become established before the individual has any sensation of illness. There is no pain attached to it, and pain is the thing that usually brings patients to the doctor. I have often said that the patient who has a hemorrhage is the lucky patient because, when this occurs in an early case, the dramatic onset may be so frightening that the patient will immediately seek counsel. We are bringing more and more of these early cases to the doctor, and the fact that we are has been the result of public instruction and the spread of knowledge of the nature of the disease.

Affects the Young It is a disease which particularly affects young people from the age of 15 to 45, and especially from 20 to 30. It is pathetic to think that one out of six deaths among young men, and one of four deaths among young women in the very height of what should be their happiest and most productive years, is due to this cause.

The symptoms show up at this period of life, but most cases probably date back to early childhood. Childhood tuberculosis is an entirely different sort of disease from adult tuberculosis, and may be confined to lymph nodes in the chest years before it invades the lung tissue itself. For that reason many schools, under the direction of the National Tuberculosis society, are advocating an annual tuberculosis test among the scholars. This test is given to students who desire it. It is simple, scientific, and has no ill effects. It has proved to be exceedingly valuable in many cases. The skin tuberculin test is valuable in childhood, and selects out many cases which by proper care can be healed, and thus prevent the development in the early years of adult life.

In the presence of such insidious symptoms as unexplained loss of weight, or persistent underweight, persistent cough, generally under-par condition—especially with cough and expectoration—all young people should submit to a complete examination in order to prove or disprove the existence of tuberculosis. Complete diagnostic examination should include a careful history, examination of the bared chest with the stethoscope, X-ray picture of the chest and a bacteriologic examination of the sputum, and a record of the temperature, morning and evening, for a week. With this means, the modern physician is able to spot the early case at least 95 per cent of the time.

from prison, and his final growth into a mature, hardened, warmly responsible individual make him the most interesting and unforgettable character of the book.

And Mr. Gorman gives us no small world from which to choose. For the portrait of Thomas Paine with whom David is associated is as brilliant as the portrayal of Robespierre, Danton and Mirabeau, of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, of Talleyrand or Cambonne or Dr. Guillotin. And wisely, the drift of characters with which the reader must deal as he reads has been simplified by the Thematic Overture with which Mr. Gorman begins. Here are gathered in separate introductory scenes the leading characters of the long book.

Mr. Gorman's narrative sense is superb, and as we pass from scene to scene we catch an upward push of meditative opinion which editorially endorses or rejects the spirit of these days in France. Perhaps the battle of Nantes which the author attempts to depict in 21 succinct sections, varying from brief narrative to historical exposition, is the least successful scene he presents. But in general, the reader passes easily and understandingly into these years of the French Revolution.

PASSING IN REVIEW

A Commentary on the New Books Conducted by American Prefaces

"THE MOUNTAIN AND THE PLAIN," by Herbert Gorman, Farrar and Rinehart, 1936. THE LONG LIST of Mr. Gorman's historical novels and critical biographies is augmented this season by this stirring novel of the French Revolution, which at no time loses either historical precision or the attention of the reader. The Mountain of conflict rises from the Plain of moderation, and we see the effect of the upheaval of three levels of society; it is described to us from three points of view.

David Livingstone, a young American, holds the position of the divided observer. His friendship with Anne-Marie Couetus, daughter of a kindly tempered and firmly aristocratic family, deepens into love. His acquaintance with Alain Gilhon, whose father was a footman in the Couetus household, deepens into a friendship which the Revolution knits inseparably. The constant relationship of these three withstands successfully inner misunderstandings and the outward shattering of the world they had known.

But the passage of Alain from a dreamy youth to a blind follower of Danton, his transformation out of rebellion at cruelty into mysterious Sans-Chaïrin whose cunning ventures rescue aristocrats superb, and as we pass from scene to scene we catch an upward push of meditative opinion which editorially endorses or rejects the spirit of these days in France. Perhaps the battle of Nantes which the author attempts to depict in 21 succinct sections, varying from brief narrative to historical exposition, is the least successful scene he presents. But in general, the reader passes easily and understandingly into these years of the French Revolution.

General Notices

Graduate Degrees To students in the Graduate College expecting to receive higher degrees at the university convocation to be held February 2, 1937:

Each student in the Graduate College who expects to receive the master's degree, or the doctorate, at the forthcoming Convocation, February 2, 1937, is requested, so far as he or she may not have done so heretofore, to procure for us, immediately, the official transcript of whatever graduate work he may have accomplished in another graduate school; so that this may be taken into the account in determining whether he or she fulfills the requirements for the higher degree sought.

This should be done immediately since, otherwise, it is possible that we shall be unable to certify for graduation next February, a student who may have accomplished satisfactory graduate work elsewhere, just because we shall not have received the requisite official statement of it early enough.

To all students who expect to graduate at the close of the present semester—February 2, 1937: Every student who expects to receive a degree or a certificate at the University Convocation to be held Tuesday, February 2, 1937, should make his formal application on a card provided for the purpose at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, December 12, 1936.

It is of utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately, for otherwise it is very likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester.

MAKING APPLICATION for the degree, or certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee ($15.00) and also the cap and gown fee ($1.00) at the time the application is made—the payment of these fees being a necessary part of the application. Call at the Registrar's Office for the card.

The petition of the Association of Senior Class Presidents that a fee of $1 be assessed to cover the cost of caps and gowns for Commencement December 2, 1936, at 4:10 p.m. in Schaeffer Hall Auditorium. Heretofore the normal rental fee for bachelors' caps and gowns has been $2 and for doctors' caps and gowns $4-35. The service for handling the taking of orders, and the distribution of the academic apparel, will be explained to students when information about Convocation is sent out from the Alumni Office, H. C. DORCAS.

Screen Life

By HUBBARD KEAVY HOLLYWOOD—James Hilton had only to say, in "Lost Horizon," that Conway, the long-lost adventurer, sat at a piano and played a Chopin study that Seiveking—who knew "everything Chopin wrote"—had never heard before.

But Dimitri Tiomkin had to write that music. Tiomkin, genial Russian arranger and husband of dancer Albertina Rasch, lost no sleep over the assignment. To him it was just part of scoring a motion picture. He says it was "quite simple, like that," snapping his fingers.

When Conway (Ronald Colman) tells Seiveking (Max Rabinowitz, concert pianist) that it is Chopin he is playing, Seiveking admits that Chopin might well have written it—"but I just know he didn't." To the consternation of his listeners, Conway says he learned the piece from a pupil of Chopin—the composer who has been dead 156 years.

He Copies Chopin It is important that music convey the exact feeling in the written text. Tiomkin explains, for it is through this that Conway's mind is carried back to the mysterious land of Shangri-La in Tibet.

"For that scene, a deliberate 'Chopin-esque' technique was employed," Tiomkin explains. "The Chopin figures, the style—it all is there. We used typical phrases which no one acquainted with his compositions will fail to recognize. And yet there will be nothing you can—how do you say it?—put your finger on."

"No, it was not difficult. I write a study like Chopin might have written. It amounted to knowing him and copying him. That was all," concludes Tiomkin.

A New Yorker At Large

By JACK STINNETT NEW YORK—It's a Big Town town but not always. As when a Wall Street broker whose net is good for a million or more on the floor of exchange, brought to a close his entertainment of six friends in the bar of one of Madison avenue's swankiest hotels by covering the $16 check with a $100 bill.

The waiter carried it to the cashier, who examined and called the bar manager. The examination was repeated. The manager brought the bill back to the table.

"What's the matter? Can't you change it?" asked the broker.

"Oh, absolutely sir," replied the manager, "but I wonder, sir, if just as a matter of courtesy, you would mind signing your name on it."

The broker measured his man as he would a sagging market. He looked around, slowly. Every eye within earshot was trained on the scene.

"Are you sure this is just a matter of courtesy?" he asked slowly and emphatically.

"Oh, absolutely, sir," replied the manager.

"Then all right. But first bring me my change."

It was brought with amazing haste; two 20's, three 10's, two five and four ones.

The broker flourished a fountain pen, signed his name across the $100 note.

"And now," he said, biting his words hard, "just as a matter of courtesy, you sign your name on my change."

The manager signed... 11 times... and the gentlemen in the bar tittered unmercifully.

But the horse is not always of that color.

A block west and a few uptown in the sabbie section of Fifth avenue, an apparently wealthy woman selected a $500 coat in one of the most fashionable repairment stores... gave adequate reason for wanting to take it with her... tendered a $1,000 bill in payment.

The department manager came, asked if madame minded waiting while the bill was sent around the corner to the bank for examination. Madame did not mind at all. She understood perfectly.

But the messenger's haste was not sufficient to prevent her exercising a prerogative. She became doubtful of the selection. And by the time the messenger came back with the bill and the bank's assurance that it was all right, madame had decided to look elsewhere. If she should conclude to take it after all, she would send her chauffeur for it.

A half hour later, the chauffeur came in, asked for the coat and again proffered a $1,000 bill.

Without delay this time, the coat and change were brought. Several hours later, the $1,000 bill was sent with the day's receipts to the bank. It was counterfeited. It was simply an elaboration of the oldest trick used in passing counterfeit money... the exchange.

Fashion At Auto Show

Empire Silhouette, Rich Fabrics, Colors Characterize Styles

By MARION LAMAR

Glamorous empire lines and richness of fabric and color characterize the trend in fashions for evening this season.

The very high waist line in front and the slight bustle effect in the back are most thrilling in a new daisies that is reminiscent of your dining room drapes, in heavy, flowing slipper satin or in metallic moire that meets grandmother's requirement that it "stand alone." Their lines brand these gowns definitely formal, with a total absence of back that is camouflaged by intricate arrangements of straps, most often rhinestones.

Lame coachman's coats add these gowns in doing smart double duty. Hemlines draw much attention with bands of velvet, rows of tucks or cords of color in contrast to the dress.

In dress materials there are also lighter weight but none the less luxurious chiffons, imported black laces, metallic laces, nets with wide velvet hems, and bright colored laces. Colors that will be seen all through the formal season are new and flattering. There is a beautiful shade of Maggie Rouff blue and a daytime blue that will do a world of good to blonds. An unusual shade that is almost cerise and al-

Even bare feet will never feel it!

OCCASIONALLY a telephone wire must be run under a rug or carpet. The twisted wire formerly used made an unsightly ridge.

So Western Electric—manufacturing, distributing and purchasing unit of the Bell System—produces a flat cord only one-eighth inch thick, seven-eighths of an inch wide. (Like this). Within this tiny space are four conductors of insulated wire. Under the rug or carpet this cord is not seen, not even felt with bare feet.

Even to the smallest detail, the Bell System is constantly on the lookout for the better way to make telephone service more satisfactory to the customer.

College men and women find after 7 P. M. a convenient time for making long distance calls. Moreover, most rates are lowest then.

Second Night Club To Open In Iowa City

'Dry' Dine and Dance Spot Patterned After Silver Shadow

A dry commercial night club will open its doors to 96 couples from Iowa City and vicinity in the first in a series of week end entertainments Jan. 8 on the second floor of Munn's grill.

Patterned after the Silver Shadow, University of Iowa dine and dance place, the establishment marks the second chapter in a new era of dry night clubs.

Each Friday and Saturday from 8:30 to 12:30 p. m. guests in informal attire will dance to the rhythms of the "Swing Maniacs," the band of two races, composed of University of Iowa students.

Liquor will not be served. "No Competition"

"The success of the Silver Shadow has proved that there is a place for a dry night club," said Wilton Lutwack, A3 of Buffalo, N. Y., business manager of the venture.

"We are not trying to compete with the Silver Shadow," Lutwack explained, "but we feel that there is room in Iowa City for two clubs." Jack Barlass, A4 of Des Moines, is publicity manager.

All Welcome

Admission will not be restricted to University of Iowa students, but Iowa City as well as patrons from other towns will also attend.

A floor show, supplemented by entertainers from the orchestra, is planned. Tap dancers, singers and instrumental numbers will feature the program.

Mayor Thomas E. Martin last night approved the plan for a dry night club.

Warren also scored high on two record books entered on second year heifers. His books entered in that division of the contest placed in fourth and eighth positions.

The Iowa State Dairy association awarded cash prizes to all state entries in the contest which were ranked as high.

AROUND THE TOWN

Lovers' Lanes

With the winter season so near the lovers' lanes have lost their popularity—what little they had. . . For affection is more publicly displayed now. . . The nearest to a lovers' paradise seems to be almost any front porch, a bus or a taxi. . . Couples may stop along the street to press lips—and they frequently do. . . But it strikes me with a hint of irony that it should be so. . .

The Other Half

To the more fortunate of us it is a bit ironical—or should be. . . Yesterday I chatted with a fellow student who lives—eats—on 50 cents a day. . . That includes 10 cents for breakfast, 15 for luncheon and 25 for dinner. . . His room rent he earns by helping his landlady with the Saturday cleaning and making nine beds each morning. . . More than half the students about a year and a half ago, he said. At that time there were more than a dozen men in the now-deserted jungle camp beneath the bridge. . . Last night there was only one colored boy—and, of course, himself.

He Stopped in Iowa City

There are only about one fifth of the university in some way help support themselves.

I wish sometime there would be a novel or a movie about college as it really is. . . The typical Joe College with a fraternity pin for every girl he meets and more money than is good for him scarcely exists any more. At any rate he is an oddity on the campus. . . I know fellows who have completed their college careers on less than $800. . . It can be done. . . It frequently is. . .

The girls have changed too. . . They seem to me to be more sincere, less glib. . . Almost any girl will smoke or perhaps drink a bit with her boy friend—but few think less of her for it. . . The day of complete feminine emancipation is not, then, far off. . .

But the man who works his way through the university, it seems to me, has little advantage. . . Life—and this is it—is not necessarily ruled by the grinder. . . The most successful persons I know are not the hardest workers. They are the most sincere workers, and they have the most imagination. . . Perhaps that is the answer to the riddle of life. Perhaps not. . .

And a talk yesterday with a blonde young giant who does not work at all—and thrives by it. . . He spent the night by a fire built late last night under the Burlington street bridge. . . He is 22 and has done no work since 1934—except occasional jobs on the pickup.

Auto Show--

George Nissen, Xavier Leonard and Jack Brown exhibited the fine points of balancing as the first part of their act.

Jean Hanlon, local tap dancer, presented two costume numbers—"Cane Dance" and "Double-time Rhythm."

The stars of the evening were The Harmony Four, a male quartet composed of graduate students. Singing both serious and light compositions, they concluded with a take-off on "The Quartet from Rigoletto."

Tonight Bagwell's will present at 8 o'clock a winter style show—featuring furs—as the main offering. At the intermission of the style revue and following it the Harmony Four, Griswold's tumbler and Jean Hanlon will entertain. Strub's will present a style show tomorrow night.

Cardinals Sell Catcher Davis, Infielder Gelbert to Reds

Dizzy Dean Remains in St. Louis Baseball Fold; Cincinnati Reds Plan to Use Players for Trades

MONTREAL, Dec. 2 (AP)—Dizzy Dean still was in the St. Louis gas house gang tonight, but two of his mates, the gallant Charlie Gelbert and Catcher Virgil Davis, were members of the Cincinnati Reds.

As smart baseball men began to bet even money with sports writers that the great Dizzy would keep right on throwing baseballs for the Cardinals for years to come despite big money talk by Cincinnati and the New York Giants, Infielder Gelbert and the veteran Davis were sold to the Reds in a straight cash transaction.

Cubs Sell Allen

The deal was easily the highlight of a day of furious rumors and little business, which included the sale by the Chicago Cubs of the veteran outfielder, Ethan Allen, to the St. Louis Browns. The Boston Red Sox, skinflints this meeting as compared with last year, signed up Catcher Johnny Peacock, who was lost to Cincinnati by a free agency ruling, for $8,000 which Peacock stuffed into his own pocket.

The departure of Gelbert, who probably will be used by the Reds as trading material in another deal, removes another of the famous Cardinal World Series heroes of the past and ends his gallant fight to make good with his mates after suffering a serious accident to his leg in a hunting accident in the winter of 1933.

Gelbert Series Hero

Gelbert was a hero in the campaigns and world series engagements of 1930 and '31. A remarkable fielder and a deadly hitter in the pinches, he was one of the leading factors in the Cardinals' winning pennant drives. Although he hit over 300 only one season in six with the Cards—in 1930 with a .304 average—he was one of the most popular players in the game. In the 1930 world series he batted .353. The next year he was a world series hero again though hitting but .261. His fielding plays and timely hits were largely responsible for the victory over the Athletics in '31.

While hunting between the '32 and '33 seasons, his shotgun went off accidentally, all but blowing his leg off. Gelbert was off the active list the next two years but amazed everyone by coming back with the help of a steel brace and playing good ball in '35 and '36.

Developments in the Dizzy Dean deal were stalled today because of the tardiness of Manager Bill Terry of the Giants. Memphis Bill missed his train to Montreal last night and the Giant delegation went on ahead without him. President Horace Stoneham was pretty much peeved with his manager for his inability to catch trains and didn't care who knew it.

Daffy Speaks!

Paul Dean Allows It Will Cost More Than $200,000

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 2 (AP)—Paul (Daffy) Dean allows $200,000 is "considerable money," but he hates to think even that goodly sum will dissolve the "me and Paul" mound combination.

Furthermore, Paul recklessly agreed to wager his winter headpiece that it would take more than $200,000 in cash to persuade the St. Louis Cardinals to part with his big brother Jerome Herman Dean.

Worth More

"Diz is worth a lot more than $200,000 in cash to the Cards," said Paul. "Mr. Bredon would never sell Diz for cash unless, of course, he could get the Cincinnati Reds to throw in Paul Derringer on the deal."

At St. Louis, Sam Bredon, president of the Redbirds, agreed.

Cincinnati has offered $200,000 for Dean but has made no mention of sending along Derringer, their ace right hander, with the check.

Griffith to Attend Grid Banquet

Big Ten Head To Come Here From Chicago

Election of Captain For '37 Slated; Solem To Award Letters

Maj. John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, will be the guest of honor at the annual football dinner tendered the University of Iowa football squad by President and Mrs. Eugene A. Gilmore who will be hosts to the football squad and some 50 guests, it was announced yesterday.

Major Griffith, who was a guest of the Gilmores at last year's football banquet, will come to Iowa City from Chicago where the Big Ten coaches convention will be held tomorrow and Saturday. The football dinner will be given in the river room of Iowa Union next Monday evening.

In addition to members of the Hawkeye squad, invitations will be sent to the members of the coaching staff and the board in control of athletics at the University of Iowa.

A football captain for the 1937 season will be elected by the squad immediately after the dinner which will be high-lighted by the awarding of major and minor "I's" to members of the squad by Coach Ossie Solem.

The board of athletics, adhering to an annual custom, will meet in the afternoon prior to the banquet to discuss 1937 season. A definite announcement on the football coaching situation is expected upon the completion of the meeting.

Co-Captains John Hill and Ted Osmalowski, Richard Bowlin, Ozzie Simmons, Don Simmons, Corney Walker, Don Nelson, Frank Jakoubek, and Eugene Liggett are the nine varsity men who will be lost to the squad for next year.

Rose Bowl 11's Named Today

Tournament Officials, Washington Athletic Heads in Huddle

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 2 (AP)—Rose Bowl officials promised today to announce within 24 hours the name of University of Washington's opponent for the New Year's day football classic.

Newly arrived athletic heads of Washington and Tournament of Roses officials went into an executive huddle today, came out a little drawn but smiling, and promptly went into another huddle.

Athletic Director Ray Eckman of Washington called time out during one session, and mopping his brow laboriously, declared:

"I hope to complete negotiations which we have been working on and have the entire matter cleared up in the morning. I can assure you that nothing will be done or announced before tomorrow."

WIN OPENING GAME

Complete Auto, Academy 5's Win Victories in Loop Games

Iowa City Industrial Basketball League Tilts Open Season

Completed Auto and Academy opened the schedule of the Iowa City Industrial basketball league last night in Roosevelt school gymnasium with decisive victories over Iowa Supply and Kelly Cleaners, respectively. Complete Auto battled out a 38 to 27 win and the Academy quietly whipped their less experienced opponents, 56 to 10.

The snappy ball handling and accurate shooting of the Academy men marked them as one of the outstanding candidates for league championship. Playing aggressively on both offense and defense the Academy five amassed a total of 32 points before Ancix, Kelly, Cleaver forward, was able to sink a long shot for his team's first tally of the game.

Sparkling plays were made repeatedly by Academy's fast forwards, Jean Reddick and Bus Glasgow, who together piled up 34 points. Glasgow led in individual scores with 11 field goals and one free throw.

Academy players who saw action in the contest include: Jean Reddick, Bus Glasgow, Happ, Jim Van Seyoc, S. Bush, Van Seibert, and Delaet. The Cleaner men are: Stanley Johnson, Ancix, Cudd, Doyle Ailsup, Ray Amerine, and Joe Miller.

Although early season raggedness and fumbling predominated in the Complete Auto-Iowa Supply contest, occasional bursts of speed and brilliant shooting enlivened the game.

Lanky Carl Lehman, center, was one of the bright lights of the Complete Auto aggregation as he used his excessive height to good advantage under the basket and tipped in 7 points. However, William Wallen, guard, forced himself into the limelight and overshadowed

Landis Will Decide That Bob Is a Free Agent—W. H. Feller

ROCHESTER, Minn., Dec. 2 (AP)—W. H. Feller of Van Meter, Ia., father of the sensational 18-year-old Bob Feller, ace of the Cleveland Indians pitching staff last summer, believes Judge Kenesaw Landis, high commissioner of baseball, will rule his son a free agent.

And should this happen, Feller said at one major league club will bid $100,000 for his services. The elder Feller is undergoing medical treatment at the Mayo clinic here.

The controversy over young Feller developed as soon as he donned a Cleveland uniform, Lee Keyser, president of the Des Moines club of the Western league protesting he had been a member of his team.

The elder Feller said that the first time his son got into organized baseball was when he joined the Cleveland team.

Baugh Outstanding

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Sammy Baugh, T. C. U. passer, was unanimously voted the Southwest conference's outstanding and most valuable player for 1935 by sports writers in the seven conference cities.

Other players on the floor. His cool deliberation coupled with steady aggressiveness was largely responsible for the 13 points which he garnered.

'Gloomy Gil' Dobie, Boston Coach, Injured

Automobile Crashes Into Bridge; Frank Murdock in Hospital

BOSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Gilmour (Gloomy Gil) Dobie, 57, Boston college football coach, moulder of championship eleven, and his assistant, Frank Murdock, 24, lay battered and bruised in adjoining wards of city hospital tonight—victims of an automobile crash.

Physicians said Dobie suffered a fractured jaw and cheek bone, and spinal tests showed Murdock had a severe head injury in addition to a fractured jaw. Although the names of both were on the hospital's danger list, doctors said their condition was "fair."

Police found Dobie unconscious in his automobile and Murdock standing dazed beside it after the car crashed into a bridge abutment. The machine, registered to Dobie, was badly damaged.

Apparently, police said, the driver of the car—they had not determined whether Dobie or Murdock operated it—misjudged the distance between two of three abutments at the bridge approach and, in an effort to avoid one, crashed into another.

Dobie, unconscious when brought to the hospital, regained consciousness later. He recognized his 18-year-old daughter, Jane, a freshman at Simmons college, who was summoned to his bedside.

Richard Millen Named Captain

Hawkeye Wrestlers Elect Minor 'F' Man For 1937 Meets

Richard Millen was chosen by his teammates to captain the 1937 wrestling team at a meeting of the varsity squad last night. Millen, a senior, comes from Gilman.

"A game little fighter and a fine little gentleman," said Coach Mike Howard in introducing him to the squad following the election. "This will be Millen's third year of competition here and this year he has shown an improved form in his workouts so far."

Howard stated at the meeting that although this year's squad could not expect to come up to the standards of last year's, due to the inexperience of the material, there was a chance of a fair season.

The definite schedule will be announced after the meeting of the Big Ten coaches and athletic directors this week end. It is, however, highly probable that there will be six dual meets, in February, with chances for an extra one in March.

The members of the squad who were present at last night's meeting and voted for captain were Charles Alcock, Lester Cottrill, Maynard Dix, Milton Felsen, Lawrence Hayes, Xavier Leonard, Harry Long, Don Maland, Maurice Mathews, Ralph James, Wilbur Nead, Samuel Peavey, Ned Thompson, John Tomplin and Carl Vergamini.

Dix, Lone Mat Star Back to Defend His Title in Annual Meet

Maynard Dix is the lone champion who will be back this year to defend his title in the all-university wrestling championship tournament next week. Dix last year won the 126 pound weight division, and has been working out consistently since this school session began.

There will be four of the 1935 runners returning who will have to be reckoned with in considering this year's favorites. Capt.-elect Richard Millen who was defeated in the finals by Kenny Bates has improved considerably this year. Carl Vergamini and Robert Brooks are two other second place men returning. Ralph Nead, heavy whom Frank O'Leary vanquished last year, is showing up for daily workouts now since the ending of the football season. Waldo Brooks, 135 pound champ of last year has not reported for practice yet and will probably not defend his laurels.

Weight Men Compete Today in Finals of Triathlon

Discus Throw Finals Slated For Hawks

Luebecke, Ellis Maintain Frosh Leadership; Harkness Favored

With the ultimate outcome hanging in the balance, entrants in the weight triathlon will throw the discus west of the fieldhouse this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Competition is especially keen in the freshman division where George Ellis and Henry Luebecke have shown almost equal all around ability. Since it has been decided to score the events on a points basis rather than by places won, Luebecke this afternoon will be attempting to throw the discus far enough to win.

Ellis has already completed his efforts in the three trials, having a final score of 1,655. Luebecke will have to score well tonight to make up the difference, as his present total is 1,148.

A third candidate who may press Ellis and Luebecke considerably turned up yesterday. He was Fred Smith, frosh football player. Although his points have not yet been compiled, his marks in the shot and weight events coupled with his known ability in the discus make him a real threat for first place.

Varsity candidates in their section of the triathlon have failed to produce the equal of the freshmen in the way of marks or a close race. Merrill Harkness seems to be the best of the varsity section, having a final score of 1,604 for the three events. A good shot put coupled with a discus toss of 130 feet 2 inches has given him a lead over the other participants.

Outstanding marks made during the competition Tuesday included a weight toss of 36 feet 4 inches by Luebecke which is believed by Coach T. Swenson to be the best in the eight years the triathlon has been held. Ellis has a 42 feet 10 inch mark in the shot put.

Five more men reported yesterday afternoon for the triathlon, making a total of 23 men engaged in the competition. This is by far the most men ever to report for the trials.

In addition to Harkness, those reporting in the varsity section are Manuel Brown, Bush Lamb, Leo Milner, Frank Balazs, Fred Lindemeyer, Kenny Suesens, Johnny Schmidt and Francis Cretzmeier.

Blue Cagers Lose 25-19 To Phi Gam Quint

Giving his University high school basketball squad a final opportunity to test its offensive tactics against an outside team before the Blues open the 1936-37 schedule against Wellman tomorrow night, Coach William Wood sent the Rivermen against the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity quintet in a three-quarter length battle which the Greek lettermen won, 25 to 19, on the river school's floor yesterday afternoon.

The game was stopped on several occasions for coaching instructions. Miller and Schneebelen, forwards; Hinman, center; Rios and Knebel, guards, played most of the time for the high school.

Kruse and Toomey, forwards; Schmidt, center, and Heldridge and Horn, guards, made up the visiting five.

The Blues will meet a veteran aggregation of Wellman sharpshooters on the latter's court tomorrow night. Wellman has three first team members of last year's squad out again this year, and enough returning lettermen to make up a quintet composed entirely of monogram winners.

Little is known of the opposition's style of play, for, like University high, Wellman has a new coach. The Wellman mentor is a graduate of Parsons college where he assisted with the coaching duties during his senior year.

The river school's sophomore quintet scrimmaged a recreational center team in yesterday afternoon's drill, losing by an 8 to 4 count in a two quarter fray. The sophomore's open their regular schedule in a curtain-raiser to the varsity; Wilton Junction game on the University high court, Dec. 11.

3000 Witness All Stars Tiff At Mason City

Marians Whip Alumni, 41-10

MASON CITY, Dec. 2 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Three thousand cage fans turned out to see Ozzie Simmons and his All Stars here tonight as they invaded the local court for the second game in the professional cage ranks, which like their opener, was lost. The visitors from Iowa City put on a stellar exhibition before losing the closely contested game 34 to 27 to the local Marshall and Swift quintet.

Iowa's "ebony elf" who made his bid for fame on the college grid-irons, tallied three baskets from his guard position and further delighted the crowd midway in the game as he flipped a neat shot through the Mason City basket. It was purely unintentional as Ozzie was mixed up in his directions.

The game was nip and tuck until the waning minutes when the veteran Marshall-Swift quintet forged into a late lead which they held until the final gun. The All Stars held an 11 to 8 lead at the first quarter and were trailing 17 to 16 at halftime. The score was deadlocked at 22 points each at the end of the third canto.

Dolphins Make Annual Club Banquet Plans

Ryan Drills Irish On Offense Plays To Bolster Attack

Captain Dick Westfield, Ray Walters, Bob Reed, and Bob Lowry comprise the Dolphin banquet committee appointed by President Harold Sears at a meeting of the Dolphin club in the fieldhouse yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The committee will set a date for the banquet, which will be in the very near future, and choose the place for it to be held. Eighty Dolphin members and participants in the Dolphin water carnival are expected to attend the annual affair.

President Sears pointed out that many new developments in recent years have made it necessary to draw up a new constitution for the club and Bob Switzer, John Stark, and Bob Christians were appointed to work out the new set of by-laws.

Little Hawks Prepare For Davenport 5

Blue Devils Rank Among the State's Best

Coach Francis Merten and his squad of Little Hawk cagers shifted their scene of activity last night from City high gym to the university fieldhouse court. Friday night the Iowa City team engages the Davenport high outfit on Davenport's big floor and the Hawkelet mentor wished to give his basketballers the feel of a large floor.

The freshman-sophomore team, which engages the Davenport sophomore quintet Friday night, accompanied the 12 man varsity squad. The personnel of the squad which will make the trip to the river city has not yet been chosen by Coach Merten, and those men whose status is in doubt remained behind on the high school court and scrimmaged a team of pickups.

Little is actually known of the caliber of the Davenport squad, as this will be their first game of the season. Little Hawks Prepare For Davenport 5

Coach Francis Merten and his squad of Little Hawk cagers shifted their scene of activity last night from City high gym to the university fieldhouse court. Friday night the Iowa City team engages the Davenport high outfit on Davenport's big floor and the Hawkelet mentor wished to give his basketballers the feel of a large floor.

President Sears pointed out that many new developments in recent years have made it necessary to draw up a new constitution for the club and Bob Switzer, John Stark, and Bob Christians were appointed to work out the new set of by-laws.

Ryan Drills Irish On Offense Plays To Bolster Attack

Naming the offense of the St. Pat's basketball team as his No. 1 worry, Coach Harry Ryan sent his cagers through a long drill on scoring formations last night. Failure to score under pressure resulted in a loss for the Irish dribblers in their game with St. Vincencius.

As a result, the entire squad took part in a practice session that consisted of basket shooting and ball handling. The surprise of the last game was the inability of Chuck Patterson and Dick Healy, veterans of the championship quintet of
