

Iowa Faculty Members Voice Protest to Frank's Dismissal

By MARY BURKE
Campus Editor
Faculty members on the Iowa campus last night vigorously protested the dismissal of the University of Wisconsin's president, Glenn Frank.

In 1935, criticizing the "present trend toward the intimate government dictation of the detailed procedures of the nation's enterprise."
Many indignant
Learning of the discharge, many Iowa staff members were indignant. Others reserved comment, saying they "had not studied the case enough to say anything about it."

Prof. Christian Rucknick of the psychology department characterized Governor La Follette's interference with university affairs as "unpardonable." "I don't think this is the last we shall hear of Dr. Frank," he predicted. "He will undoubtedly continue to fight this matter. And surely the Wisconsin alumni will take some action of protest."

Dean Francis Dawson of the college of engineering, on the other hand, called the board of regents' action the "end of the affair." Beyond saying he "expected the discharge," he made no comment.

Asserts Hearing Unfair
Prof. Kirk Porter of the political science department protested President Frank's lack of opportunity "to state his side of the case. He certainly did not have a fair hearing," Professor Porter declared. "We all have been waiting to hear both sides in order to judge, and we did not have that opportunity."

Dean Wiley B. Rutledge of the college of law, commenting on the matter, said, "While not an admirer of President Frank, I regret that the manner of his departure must bring injury to the university. The close division among the regents, the apparent if not real injection of political influence and activity on both sides, and the general character of the formal charges and counter-charges leave the merits of the decision in confusion. This cannot be other than harmful to the institution.

"If any clear conclusion can be drawn at this time without more intimate acquaintance with the facts than I possess, they are, first, that some method of selecting regents less political in character than that which prevails in Wisconsin should be found, and second, that the president of a great university serves best by devoting his energies primarily to that job."

New Version of NRA Being Prepared by Roosevelt

Experts Sift Through All Bills Offered

Most Discussed Plan Gives More Power To Trade Commission

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Informed sources predicted tonight the administration would support in congress a streamlined version of NRA which would omit the cumbersome device of code authorities.
Determined to pursue the objectives of that outlawed agency, President Roosevelt had experts at work sifting scores of legislative proposals and hunting a way to meet the views of the supreme court in the NRA and Guffey coal decisions. But if no sure formula is found, advisors expected him to go ahead anyway.

DEALINGS PROGRESS WITH KIDNAPER

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 7 (AP)—A new "contact" advertisement today signified dealings were in progress between the kidnaper of Charles Mattson and his family but tight secrecy covered preparations for the climax. The advertisement, fourth of a dramatic series in the Seattle Times, said: "Mable—I am getting all the notes. Police are not intercepting them. I accept your message of identification. All requests have been carried out. I will do as instructed without anyone knowing. Ann." This was construed to mean Dr. W. W. Mattson was telling the kidnaper his messages were being received, all surveillance stopped and the way made absolutely clear for him to proceed.

JULIANA WEDS GERMAN PRINCE

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Jan. 7 (AP)—Plump and smiling Crown Princess Juliana, future queen of the Netherlands, was married today to the German Prince Bernhard Zu Lippe-Biesterfeld in civil and religious ceremonies of a typical Dutch wedding. Two million subjects of the land of wooden shoes and winding canals, tulips and windmills, cheered in gala celebrations and lined streets of the wedding procession. Thirty-three members of Europe's royalty attended the religious rites, including the Duke of Kent who figured nervously at the long wait. A thoughtful minister passed a box of chocolates.

PROPOSE OUSTER OF FOREIGNERS

BERLIN, Jan. 7 (AP)—Germany proposed tonight that all foreign participants be ejected from the Spanish civil war, "including political agitators," a note apparently directed at communists. Acting with Italy, the German government informed France and Britain she is willing to accept on her own conditions the plea that foreign volunteer enlistments to Spain be stopped. But, the German note said, the Nazi government felt an embargo now "would profit only the Bolshevik side in Spain, which obviously is already sufficiently filled out with foreign volunteers."

MOTHERS PRAY BEFORE GOVERNOR'S APARTMENT FOR CONDEMNED MEN

Mothers and friends on sidewalk in front of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's New York Park avenue apartment. Praying for a stay of execution for six youths condemned to die in Sing Sing prison for the murder of a subway employe. The women are led in prayer by Clemente Giglio, Italian radio commentator. Their prayers were partly successful as Governor Lehman commuted the sentences of four of the youths to life imprisonment. The other two went to the chair last night.

Possibility Of Conclave Seen

DETROIT, Jan. 7 (AP)—Gov. Frank Murphy said tonight that there was "possibility of a joint conference later tonight" between executives of General Motors corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America to begin negotiations to settle the widespread automobile strike.
The Michigan governor made his statement as he and James F. Dewey, federal conciliator, went into a conference with William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors.
Murphy and Dewey had just left a lengthy conference with Homer S. Martin, president, and other officials of the United Automobile Workers which was attended also by representatives of the committee for industrial organization.
The C. I. O. has been aiding the U. A. W. A. in its labor dispute with the mammoth automobile company.

Post Office Goes 88 Million Into Red for Last Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—James A. Farley's post office department went $88,316,324 into the red last fiscal year, but Farley hastened to explain today that free mail for congressmen and other "non-postal items" were largely responsible.
He reported that the "net deficit"—that is, the deficit incurred in the "normal postal service rendered to the public for hire"—was only $16,000,000.

17 Cents for Old Age Benefit

Uncle Sam Pays Ernest Ackerman, 65, On Jan. 2, 1st Social Security Pension

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7 (AP)—Ernest Ackerman has a pension coming from Uncle Sam. It will amount to 17 cents.
The social security act became effective Jan. 1. Ackerman, Cleveland street car motorman, was 65 Jan. 2.
He asked the social security board to close out his account.
"I'm not thinking of retiring for a good many years yet," he said, "and when I do I'll have enough to get along without the government's help."
The 17 cents, however, will not be net profit. Uncle Sam deducted one per cent of Ackerman's New Year's day pay. The contribution amounted to a little less than five cents. Under the pension plan he is entitled to 3 1/2 per cent of his day's wages.
Ackerman said he'd probably "blow" the 12 cents net "on my friends."
"I'm not thinking of retiring for a good many years yet," he said, "and when I do I'll have enough to get along without the government's help."

DEATH TAKES THOMAS LEWIS IN 91ST YEAR

Thomas L. Lewis, 528 N. Dubuque street, died at his home on his 91st birthday at 6:15 last night. He had lived in Iowa City for 38 years, and had been in ill health for two weeks.
Mr. Lewis' body was taken to Beckman's funeral home, where the funeral service will be tomorrow at 1 p. m. Burial will be in Washington, Ia.
Mr. Lewis was born in Washington county where he attended the schools and college. He was married Jan. 27, 1870, and his wife, Mrs. Lucy Lewis, died Jan. 2, 1934. Two children died in early childhood.
He is survived by two sons, H. C. Lewis and A. B. Lewis; two daughters, Gertrude Lewis and Mrs. E. W. Hostetter; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren, all of Iowa City.

Chain Letters Bring Uncle Sam $31,669

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Chain letters which credulous thousands mailed in 1934 poured $31,669 into Uncle Sam's cash till during the fiscal year 1936.
In his annual report today, Postmaster General Farley said that undelivered chain letters, opened after a lapse of a year, contained $31,669.43.

Packed Sleet Halts Traffic

State Patrolman Says Stay Off Highways After Long Storm

Motorists and pedestrians may look forward to another day of struggling through sleet deposits, comparable to rock salt, from yesterday's continuous 17 hour sleet storm, the weatherman said last night.
With city traffic nearly at a standstill due to the unusual "packing" qualities of the snow, State Patrolman S. J. R. Shaffer asked "all motorists who possibly can to stay off the highways."
At an early hour this morning the glass-like sleet was still falling. Approximately .72 of an inch fell from noon to 7 p. m. yesterday.
The lowest temperature recorded in Iowa City was 10 degrees at 8 a. m. and the highest was 16 degrees at 7 p. m. last night. It dropped from 38 degrees Wednesday night.
The highway commission was clearing roads with the hope that highways would be safe for traffic in a short time.

Lee Allen Painting In Traveling Exhibit

"Paul Bunyan and the Blue Ox" by Lee Allen, U of Iowa City, is one of 45 paintings invited from the 200 in the American show of the Art Institute in Chicago to make a western tour.
The exhibit opened in the San Francisco Museum of Art yesterday. From San Francisco, the paintings will be sent to the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center, Colorado Springs, Col. and will complete the circuit in the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, Dallas, Tex., May 2.
Mr. Allen's picture was hung in the student salon of art last March.

Regents Board Votes to 'Fire' President by 8 to 7 Vote After Stormy Twelve-Hour Session

Dismissal Not Effective Until June But Dean Of College of Letters Will Be Acting Head Of University Until Successor Is Named

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 7 (AP)—The University of Wisconsin board of regents voted tonight, 8 to 7, to discharge Glenn Frank, 49-year-old president of the school since September, 1925.
The vote came after a final stormy session of the board, amid scenes of wild disorder by students who jammed the regents' small meeting room. The students hooted, howled and pounded on the doors.
Two days of bitter argument in the public hearing over Frank's qualifications as an administrator failed to shake the determination of Governor La Follette's appointees on the board to seek a new president, the progressive bloc, headed by Harold M. Wilkie, chairman, voted solidly against the retention of the educator.
Effective June
The dismissal will not become effective until the end of the current

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 7—Madison policemen were called tonight to clear Bascom hall of overflowing students who were milling about corridors hooting, whistling and howling as the vote on the ouster of President Glenn Frank was being taken.
For a long time, they delayed the proceedings with shouts of "one-two-three-four—open the door."
Campus sentiment leaned toward a strike of students because of the dismissal of Frank.

Only 2 of 6 Go To Death Chair

Governor Saves 4 Of Holdup Gang From Sing Sing Execution

OSSENING, N.Y., Jan. 7 (AP)—Both protesting innocence, two men instead of the originally scheduled six, were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison tonight for the $240 holdup of Edwin Esposit, 22-year-old subway coin collector.
After a day of dramatic excitement rivaling a movie thriller, Theodore Didonne, 31, and Joseph Bologna, 24, followed one another to the chair while their four fellow gangsters, saved by executive clemency almost at the last moment, began serving life terms.
Didonne, a former longshoreman, shuffled into the death chamber with a half leer on his swarthy face.
He kissed the cross proffered by the Rev. John P. McCaffrey, Catholic chaplain.
Then facing the two score witnesses, he said:
"This is where injustice triumphs."
Three minutes later, at 11:03 p. m., eastern standard time, he was pronounced dead by Dr. Charles Sweet, prison physician.
Then the door opened noisily and Bologna appeared between two guards. He eyed the witnesses soberly as they led him toward the chair.
"These gentlemen the newspaperman?" he asked.
Without waiting for an answer he went on.
"You made a fine mess of things," he said, "putting it in the paper that I was a tough guy and all that stuff."
"It is not true."
"I have always been a good kid." Then he sat down and kissed the cross.

Gates Makes Motion

The motion for Frank's dismissal was made by Regent Clough Gates, who with Chairman Wilkie led the fight against the president.
The resolution adopted provided that until a successor is named Dean George C. Selley of the college of letters and science shall act as president.
"It is significant," Frank said bitterly, after he heard the resolution read, "that I had been ordered to discharge George Selley as one of my first duties when I came here 11 years ago."
Before the vote Frank turned on his foes today with a charge he had been urged—and had refused—to swing a dictatorial "big stick" in his job as president.

Iowans Contest Californians; Debate Scheduled for Tonight

Livesay, Freutel S.U.I. Speakers, Defend Affirmative Side

University of Iowa debaters will defend the affirmative of the question, "Should Congress set maximum hours and minimum wages in industry?" when they meet two University of California speakers at 8 o'clock tonight in Schaeffer hall auditorium, room 221A.

Ray Compton and Harry Roberts, both seniors who have had wide experience in forensic speaking, will represent the California school, while Robert Livesay, A3 of Toledo, and Edward Freutel, A2 of Los Angeles, Cal., will debate for Iowa.

The debate will be the fourth encounter on the visiting team's three weeks' tour. Mr. Compton is a forensics commissioner at the University of California and chairman of the forensics council. Mr. Roberts is president of the Senate, men's debating society.

The California school has for the last 15 years observed a policy of non-decision debating. They have a squad of approximately 30, both men and women, and, contrary to Iowa's custom, use mixed teams as a rule.

Their two-fold program, campus and non-campus, includes three or four symposiums, meets with all possible of the traveling teams in the vicinity, radio debates, debates with nearby schools and college programs before business men's clubs, farmers' clubs and discussion groups.

During the coming year, the university will be host at the annual Pacific Coast speech congress. Representatives of various schools meet and debate in parliamentary fashion leading contemporaneous problems. It is not a school team affair, but a joint enterprise in which public problems are discussed and the congress as a whole goes on record favoring certain social reforms.

Two Mexican Medical Societies Elect Dr. Steindler to Groups

Dr. Arthur Steindler of children's hospital was elected a member of two Mexican medical societies during his vacation in Mexico City, Mexico over the Christmas holidays.

He was made honorary member of the National Congress of Industrial Medicine of Mexico and corresponding member of the National Academy of Sciences and Arts of Mexico.

Dr. Steindler visited Dr. Juan Frull, orthopedic surgeon, while in Mexico City and returned to Iowa City Jan. 1.

Thompson to Speak On Embryos Today

Vincent Thompson of the zoology department will speak on "Effect of Various Ions on the Typhoid Movement of Embryos" at a zoology seminar this afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 307, zoology building.

Mr. Thompson presented a paper on this topic at the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Atlantic City, N. J., during the holidays.

New Books

The causes that resulted in the Spanish civil war are fully bared in Edgar Allison Peer's "The Spanish Tragedy, 1930-1936," one of nine new volumes chosen from this week's additions to the university libraries with an eye to student interest.

The other eight books are: "Akiba," Louis Finkelstein; "The Fate of the Family," Arthur E. Holt; "The Book of Margery Kemp," Margery Kemp; "America After Sixty Years," Morgan Phillips Price; "Hindu Civilization," Radhakumuda Mukhopadhyaya; "Two Cycles of Corporation Profits," Laurence H. Sloan; "Beauty Begins at Home," Katherine Wellman, and "Principles of Art History," by Heinrich Wolf-Flin.

Flying On High Students, Faculty To Organize Collegiate Flying Tonight

A Collegiate Flying club will be organized tonight by air-minded students and faculty members at a meeting in Iowa Union at 8 o'clock. The club is to be under the direction of Prof. T. R. Thoren of the college of engineering. Such an organization has been prompted by student and faculty interest in flying.

Universities and colleges throughout the country have made rapid strides in this respect through the National Intercollegiate Flying clubs under the supervision of the National Aeronautical association. The purpose of the club is to promote better flying and to advance interest in aviation. All students interested in joining the club are invited to attend the meeting.

Water Colors By S.U.I. Professors In National Exhibit

"Fisherman's Son" by Prof. Catherine Macartney of the graphic and plastic arts department and "Morning Light" by Edith Bell of the same department are now showing at the 41st annual exhibition of the Washington Water Color club in the Corcoran Art gallery, Washington, D. C.

The exhibition opened last week and will run throughout January. A jury of nine selected approximately 200 pictures from the 700 that were submitted. The exhibit is made up mostly of water colors, although some prints, etchings and lithographs are included.

'Art Not Mere Formula' Says C. Okerbloom

"When you get art that isn't a result of your experience and observation, but the result of a formula of hats, wrinkles, and shoes, you don't have a work of art," Charles Okerbloom of the graphic and plastic arts department told members of the Art guild at their meeting yesterday afternoon.

Art must carry a message in order to be a work of art, he declared.

Co-Ed Sports
