Eighteen Day Truce Prevails On General Motors Strike Front

Conciliation In Auto Row Will Start Monday

Company Agrees Not To Attempt Reopening Of Closed Plants

By the Associated Press

DETROIT, Jan. 15—An 18-day truce prevailed on the far flung General Motors automotive strike front tonight, leaving for negotiators the composition of widely varying viewpoints necessary for a permanent settlement.

Conferences between officials of the giant automobile concern and leaders of the United Automobile Workers of America will start Monday, after "sit down" strikers occupying corporation plants have vacated.

Agreement

The agreement which removed this obstacle to peace negotiations provided that General Motors will not try to reopen strike-closed plants, nor will it remove equipment or materials "except for export."

Gov. Frank Murphy announced the truce at Lansing before dawn today as the close of a 17-hour conference in his offices to which he had summoned William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors, Homer Martin, U. A. W. A. president, and their associates.

Brass Band

In the wake of the truce today were these developments:

Martin and Knudsen will meet Saturday to arrange details of the settlement conferences starting at 11 a. m., Monday in General Motors offices.

The union announced plans for a brass band to lead "sit downers" out of plants at Anderson, Ind., Detroit and Flint, Mich.

National guardsmen 2,300 strong quartered at Flint since rioting and bloodshed outside a Fisher body plant held by "sit down" strikers Monday, received orders for gradual demobilization.

General Motors announced it would reopen on a reduced basis, "in order to alleviate distress," some plants closed by parts shortages.

Strikers See Victory

Varying reaction to the truce came from the strikers engaged in "sit downs" although some hailed it as a union victory.

Martin, declaring the agreement constituted recognition of the union, hailed it as forming a "basis for real collective bargaining." General Motors, pledging there will be "no discrimination" against any employes because of union affiliation, added that "no rights of any workers not represented by the union will be prejudiced in any of the proposed negotiations."

Country Club Elects Keil As New President

Dr. W. B. Keil was elected president of the Iowa City Country club to succeed V. B. Bales last night at the annual business meeting and election of officers.

The other officers elected were Attorney F. B. Olsen, first vice-president, and F. L. Hamborg, second vice-president. The board of directors elected includes H. L. Hands, Mr. Bales, Myron J. Walker and G. W. Buxton.

Plans for the year's work will be drafted at a meeting soon.

'CHAIN STORE' BILL PROPOSED

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 15 (AP)—A license measure apparently aimed at "chain stores" was introduced in the South Dakota senate this afternoon. Presented by Sen. A. W. Odell (R) Montrose, the bill would provide annual license fees ranging from $1 to $250, based upon number of stores under one ownership.

Troops Leave Strike Scene After Truce

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Demobilization of 2,300 national guardsmen began here tonight while "stay in" strikers prepared to end their 17-day vigil in two General Motors plants.

The strikers, who said they would "do whatever the union tells us to do," about leaving the Fisher Body plants they have held since Dec. 30, were to hear tonight from Wyndham Mortimer, first vice-president of the United Automobile Workers, the terms of a truce arranged with General Motors.

Due Ceremony

Union officers said the evacuation of the plants required by the truce would be carried out with due ceremony tomorrow or Sunday. Robert Travis, union organizer in this area, said picket lines would be established about the plants when the "stay in" strikers leave to make certain that General Motors neither attempts to operate the plants nor moves equipment from them. Those stipulations were included in the truce.

Demobilization orders were received this afternoon by the 63rd national guard brigade, which has occupied Flint since Wednesday to prevent any repetition of rioting that occurred Monday night.

125th Infantry

The 126th infantry, first to arrive, began moving out tonight. One battalion of the 125th infantry will remain until the evacuation of the striker-occupied plants has been completed.

Col. Joseph H. Lewis, military representative of Gov. Frank Murphy in the strike zone, said several days would be required to complete the demobilization. Movement of the brigade into Flint, which began Tuesday, was not completed until yesterday afternoon.

The cost to the state of keeping the 2,300 men under arms was estimated at $11,500 a day.

Senator Backs Foreign Trade

J. Hamilton Lewis Hits At Restrictions Of Neutrality Plans

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (AP)—Sen. James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, democratic whip of the senate, advocated for the United States today a new policy of neutrality—with no restrictions on foreign trade "justified by righteousness."

J. Hamilton Lewis

"Let not the United States be caught again in the trap sprung upon her international trade by competing nations of Europe," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the Chicago bar association.

"America must not yield to the demand for an act of congress forbidding 'all material of every form' to be sold or shipped where such could be called by our rival nations 'war munition.'"

Senator Lewis proposed instead a general law "declaring our nation as neutral in all conflict of nations."

"Then," he said, "vest in the president of the United States the right to advise our country constantly of the uses or purposes of material sought from the United States for war zone land.

"If such is for only war uses or in a major sense for such purposes only, let executive order of the president forbid the shipment or its uses.

"We must inform the world by action," the senator said, "that while we will do nothing to aid war and will do all possible to obstruct and defeat it, yet this America will do everything necessary . . . to oppose wrongs done our nation purposed by our rivals by that which would follow the enactment of legislation that would cheat and betray our people."

Fascist Press Begins War On Reds in France

Says Communists Bar Non-Intervention Move in Conflict

PARIS, Jan. 15 (AP)—The chamber of deputies voted unanimously tonight—591 to 0—to give Premier Leon Blum power to halt the flow of volunteers from or through France to the Spanish civil war. Heeding the premier's warning that the volunteer question had become one of "saving Europe from war," the deputies responded overwhelmingly to his appeal to show France's "will for peace, good will and respect for international agreements."

ROME, Jan. 15 (AP)—With apparent government consent the Italian press began a campaign today against communist influence in France, presented as a bar to effective non-intervention in the Spanish civil war.

Heralding the second day of Nazi Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering's conferences with Premier Mussolini, newspapers charged frontier provinces in France are ruled by communists who refuse to obey the Paris government.

Government Endorsement

An official inferred government endorsement of the campaign, asserting the Italian government had reports of much communist activity in the French provinces facing Spain. He did not, however, confirm directly the endorsement of the newspaper charges.

La Tribuna commented that "news on the international situation in France cannot but worry governments which at this moment are making reply to the English memorandum on non-intervention.

Arms Passage Continues

"In the frontier zones, passage of arms and volunteers continues unhindered.

"How can one guarantee non-intervention in France, where the government is without authority, or practically so, and what would be the purpose of non-intervention by others without French non-intervention which should be in the front line?"

Anti-Communist Bloc

Fascist circles said Italy's own price for non-intervention, also that of Germany, would be British adherence to an European anti-communist bloc.

(British observers pointed out the empire is endeavoring to keep clear of either fascism or communism and doubted the nation would join in such a bloc.)

Similar Campaign

The newspaper campaign followed a similar one begun several days ago in Germany. The combined movement was believed by Rome diplomatic circles to have a definite purpose—perhaps a prelude to Italo-German demand that an international commission be placed along the French frontier to see that any non-intervention agreement is enforced.

Byrd Fails In Fight Against Powers of RFC

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va), who has dedicated his life to lopping branches off the spreading tree of government, watched with vexation today while the senate gave a long lease of life to one of the largest boughs.

Vainly, Byrd struggled to change a resolution extending the lending powers of the reconstruction finance corporation until June 30, 1939.

He argued for a one and a half year extension, contending that if the RFC's life were prolonged further, 14 other lending bureaus would be treated likewise. This, he said, would mean a long delay for his cherished plan to abolish some agencies, merge others, and cut the cost.

But the senate passed the administration resolution, with only Byrd dissenting. Subsequently the house banking committee also approved it.

COLONELS FROM IOWA

Shortage of Gasoline Delays Return Trip From Mine Camp

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 15 (AP)—Rescuers reached four persons stranded more than a week in a desolate, snowbound mine camp in the desert 125 miles from here today but shortage of gasoline delayed the return trip.

The rescuers carried food to the hungry men and women. A fifth member of the party died early this week.

Ted Homan, who sighted the rescuers from an airplane, said they had started back with the body in a truck. He dropped a note asking if they needed supplies.

"Gas," was the cryptic reply, spelled out in the snow.

Early this week an airplane had sighted the words "one dead—three sick—need medical aid" written in snow at the mine. Lee Prettyman, mine operator who is among the rescuers, said before leaving he did not know which one was dead.

Gasoline will be sent to the rescuers tomorrow.

Lynch Threats Bring Guards To N.Y. Negro

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Extra guards were assigned today to Major Greene, 33, Negro porter who has confessed the hammer slaying of Mrs. Mary Harriet Case, as a result of an umbrella assault on him last night by a crowd of women.

Sheriff Arthur G. Jaeger of Queens county, taking cognizance of the crowd's cries of "Lynch him," said a group of guards would surround the Negro hereafter when he travels between court room and jail cell.

"There shall be no lynch law in Queens," the sheriff said. "A small spark like a woman's scream may lead to violence and bloodshed."

Deputy Chief Inspector John P. Ryan, who directed the whirlwind investigation of the case, said the police department also would take added precautions.

Greene, who was arrested within 36 hours after the body of the pretty Jackson Heights housewife was found in the bathtub of her apartment Monday, was indicted yesterday on a first degree murder charge.

He has signed a confession saying he killed the woman with a mechanic's hammer in an attempt to rob her. Feb. 1 has been set tentatively as the date for his trial.

FIND PLANE IN DENSE JUNGLE

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Mexican aviation company announced late today an airliner missing three days had been found in a dense jungle in Vera Cruz state, with all its nine occupants apparently killed when the plane crashed and burned. The disaster, which occurred while the plane was making a regular run between Mexico City and Minatitlan, evidently raised the week's toll in Mexican air accidents to 12.

CANADA VOTES ITS LOYALTY

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Canadian house of commons unanimously voted loyalty to King George VI of Great Britain today, but not until J. S. Woodsworth had taken strong objection to the procedure by which his majesty became king of Canada. The sharp voice of the bearded leader of the co-operative commonwealth federation injected the only note of controversy into the adoption of the address of loyalty.

DEATH TAKES JUDGE CLARK

MASON CITY, Jan. 15 (AP)—Judge Joseph J. Clark, 85, member of the bench of the 12th judicial district for 29 years and member of the local bar for more than 60 years, died at his desk in the courthouse here this afternoon of heart disease. The judge, sitting in his private office, had just finished entering a court order for Attorney C. F. Johnston of Sheffield when he was stricken.

Coach Company Buys 2 Buses For West End Service

Purchase of two new buses by the Iowa City Coach company at a cost of about $7,000 was announced last night by Attorney Henry Negus, manager.

The new buses, which appeared on Iowa City streets last night, are 21-passenger General Motors yellow coaches, similar to those already in use, except that the driver's seat is farther forward.

With the new buses the company plans to improve bus service to the western part of Iowa City by dividing the Manville Heights route into two parts, Attorney Negus said.

Justice Agents Seek Degenerate as Killer Of Charles Mattson

Divorce Action Ends Caliban, Ariel Romance

Bride of Two Months Charges Barrymore With Cruelty

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP) — Elaine Jacobs Barrymore filed suit for divorce in superior court here late this afternoon against John Barrymore, actor. She charged mental cruelty.

Mrs. Barrymore, known on the stage as Elaine Barrie, asked the court to award her temporary support, but at her Beverly Hills home she declared she did not intend asking for permanent alimony.

The divorce action followed by little more than two months their marriage at Yuma, Ariz. They separated New Year's eve when Barrymore left his wife at a night club, following disagreement over her plans to appear in a stage play.

Complaint

Elaine, in her complaint, accused Barrymore of striking her at a New Year's eve party, and of threatening to "kill or seriously maim" her.

She alleged the actor called her "vile, violent, obscene, indecent, profane and opprobrious" names.

Barrymore had no comment to make concerning his wife's suit.

"After long and considerable thought I found the only possible course was to proceed with this action," Mrs. Barrymore said. "I am regretful that our difficulties could not have been smoothed out and we could have gone on together, but that was impossible.

Quarrel Over Career

"I now plan to concentrate and devote all my time on my career."

It was her career, Mrs. Barrymore said after the actor had left her, that formed the basis of their quarrel.

"He was jealous because he could take no part in it," she declared when she disclosed their separation. "He was jealous of the actors who were to play with me in my first play in the west and jealous of the stagehands, too. I was determined he should not interfere and went ahead and signed the contract."

That serio-comic affair — the "Ariel" and "Caliban" romance of Barrymore and Miss Barrie—began in a New York hospital in the summer of 1935 when the actor was recuperating from illness.

The marriage was Nov. 9, 1936—when the elderly actor and his 21-year-old protege eloped by plane to Yuma, Ariz.

U.S. Aviator In Spain Receives $1500 Monthly

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Back from a month of dropping bombs on behalf of the Spanish loyalist government, Eddie Schneider, Jersey City, N. J., aviator, said today he was signed up by a New York lawyer to serve in the Spanish war at $1,500 a month.

Schneider was questioned by Assistant U. S. Attorney John F. Dailey Jr., who announced he would seek indictments from the federal grand jury next week against several New Yorkers in connection with the enlistment of American aviators for Spanish service.

Interviewed as he entered Dailey's office, Schneider said the lawyer negotiated with him for his services and handed him his steamship ticket for transportation to Spain.

The flier said he quit the war to comply with President Roosevelt's neutrality policy and that the Spanish embassy in Paris advanced him his fare home pending payment of his salary.

Schneider said he participated in daily bombing raids in Spain for three weeks, flying remodeled sports planes and dropping bombs through a hole in the cockpit floor.

WPA Workers Demand More Wages, Jobs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Twenty-five hundred WPA workers, chaperoned by Washington police, marched from the White House to Capitol Hill today chanting a demand for more relief jobs at higher pay.

Their leaders said they had come from 25 states and were members of the Workers Alliance of America.

Demands

Their demands, presented by committees to the White House and both houses of congress, included:

A deficiency appropriation of $1,040,000,000 to carry WPA until July 1 (President Roosevelt asked congress for $650,000,000); employment of 2,800,000 WPA workers until that date; and a 20 per cent increase in monthly wages.

Records

WPA records show 2,284,000 at work on relief jobs on Dec. 12.

The workers marched four abreast down Pennsylvania avenue carrying banners and shouting "we want jobs" after the fashion of a college football crowd. As they passed President Roosevelt's office their cry changed to:

Yes and No

"Before election, 'Yes,' after election, 'No'."

A delegation of 10, headed by President David Lasser of the Workers Alliance, called at the White House. Other groups dropped out of the parade to confer with Harper Sibley, president of the United States chamber of commerce, Vice-President Garner and Speaker Bankhead.

President Roosevelt did not see them, but Marvin McIntyre, a White House secretary, promised them their demands would be laid before the president.

Student Held For Blackmail

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Austin Ryan, 16-year-old high school student, was in jail tonight charged with suspicion of blackmail because, according to the police version, he "just wanted a thrill" and thought he could "get away" with a $10,000 kidnap-extortion plot.

When he appeared in the police lineup, the six-foot youth told police how he had followed closely the Mattson kidnap case and then wrote ransom notes demanding $10,000 to Bert J. Young, of New Rochelle, N. Y., whose son, Robert, a school chum of the prisoner, has been missing since Jan. 4.

To Inspector Joseph J. Donovan, Ryan stuttered miserably:

"I'd been reading about the Mattson case out west and I thought I'd be able to get some money so I could travel around the world."

He said his desire to emulate the "snatch racketeers" was inspired by reading detective stories.

"Don't you think the Mattson boy killers will get caught?" Inspector Donovan asked.

"I—I don't know. I guess they will," the youth said, sobbing.

Community Center Rebuilding Awaits Allotment of Funds

Contracts for reconstruction work on the Community Center building will be let as soon as funds are available to cover the PWA grant.

The project has been approved by all PWA examining divisions and is awaiting additional allotment of funds to cover the grant, Mayor Thomas E. Martin was informed yesterday from Washington, D.C.

When the funds will be available is not definite, but the work on preparation of construction plans will continue, so that bids may be called when funds are available, Mayor Martin said.

Federal Men Probe Files Of Local Officers

Ex-Convict Still Held As Mattson Family Prepares To Leave

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 15 (AP)—A reliable source indicated tonight justice department agents are seeking a degenerate for the kidnap-murder of 10-year-old Charles Mattson but do not know his identity.

The source said the agents secured tonight from local authorities records of numerous persons involved in criminal trials, including a number implicated in degeneracy cases.

No Clues

From the number of records requested, the source deduced the hunt has not produced clues sufficient to center the agents' attention on any particular person.

The theory an unbalanced person was involved frequently has been expressed, due to certain odd circumstances indicating the abduction Dec. 27 was not the work of a "professional" kidnap gang. Tonight's revelation was the first definite support for that supposition.

Body Found Nude

Charles' body was found nude in a clump of brush Monday, 15 days after he was stolen from the living room of the family home. The odd sum of $28,000 ransom demanded added to the belief the crime was the work of a person either demented or interested in revenge, rather than one seeking a profit. Dr. W. W. Mattson's comparatively moderate financial status was also cited as proof the crime was not a "professional" job.

It was understood Dr. W. W. Mattson, father of the victim, would leave Tacoma with his wife and two remaining children after a press conference tomorrow.

Conference

The conference was announced as designed to give Dr. Mattson an opportunity to clear up some of the mystery still veiling the 15 days of suspense between the abduction and the finding of Charles' beaten and frozen body last Monday.

Some sources recalled that the children, William, 16, and Muriel, 14, who witnessed the kidnaping, evidently had not been summoned to look through the police rogues' gallery for possible likenesses of the brutal abductor.

Might Know Identity

One informant said this might be taken to mean the federal agents knew the identity of the abductor.

The projected departure of the Mattsons suggested their presence here no longer was required by officers.

Ex-Convict

The hunted ex-convict, Fred Orrin Haynes, 46, walked into the Seattle police station this morning, sat for 15 minutes without being recognized and then announced:

"They've got me all wrapped around this kidnaping. I didn't have anything to do with it."

Although Haynes was booked on signed orders of Federal Agent A. E. Deere and Seattle Detective V. E. Webb, and questioned for more than an hour, Detective Captain Marshall Scrafford said he had "no apparent connection" with the Mattson case.

S.U.I. Needs Central Library

A library is but the soul's burial ground. It is the land of shadows.
—Harry Ward Beecher.

Our Governor Speaks

"No activity of local and state government is more important than the education of our youth." Thus did Governor Kraschel begin that section of his inaugural address dealing with education.

Speaking in general terms, our new governor still displayed a thorough grasp of the situation in Iowa, and also a sincere desire to do something about it. The problem is one of harnessing an adequate school service with reasonable economy and Mr. Kraschel has not only recognized this, but stands ready to find a solution.

Salary reductions, made necessary by the depression, have resulted in the loss of many valuable teachers, greatly weakening our educational structure. Now that prosperity shows its face again, it is time these reductions be restored. In addition to readjusting salaries, something must be done to improve equipment and buildings made obsolete or worn out by the depression.

The University of Iowa is a striking example of the ways in which education has been allowed to degenerate in this state, but it is probably no less striking than many others. All need treatment, for, as Mr. Kraschel says, the evils exist from kindergartens on up.

Two recommended books for insomnia sufferers should be those two recently published, highly popular tomes, "Awake and Remember" and "Arouse and Beware."

We still believe in civilization but, after following the front page news for the last few years, we can't help but come to the conclusion the Indians probably enjoyed this country more than we do.

Spanish influenza is in this country again. That gives you an idea of how tough the revolution is over there. Even the germs can't take it.

The next European war may not be so horrible after all. War mad nations are building so many planes and training so many pilots there won't be anyone left on the ground to bomb.

Two Million Shop for Mates

Wanted—a mate. This seems to be the ache in about two million hearts in this country, according to a survey recently conducted by The American Magazine. More than that, these two million aches seek solace through matrimonial agencies. Americans suffering from this malady each year spend $4,000,000 in dues for membership in "lonely hearts" clubs, and $9,000,000 in postage.

You woud think that a few marriages would result from this lonely hearts business, and you're right. According to estimates, 5,000 weddings are consummated annually. At that, this marriage "mart" is only one half of one per cent effective.

You don't have to ring in technical psychology to explain this low marriage rate. Rarely are club members attractive, most of them over-rate their own desirability, and not half of them know what kind of mate they want. Most of them are middle-aged bachelors and maids who "got marriage religion" somewhat late in life. These battered sticks of human driftwood have been cast up on new shores, and they don't know what to do about it.

Surprisingly enough, a good many of these "lonely hearts" are college graduates. Needless to say, many of them are teachers. It's even possible that more than one sedate college teacher has contributed stamps and membership dues to this "industry." Maybe it's all a part of liberal education.

". . Our Dream Is Heaven"

In the untimely death of Prof. Harry Thatcher of the music department, the University of Iowa loses an accomplished young musician who had already shown great promise as a composer.

Professor Thatcher composed a sonata and various short pieces, and had also written for string and vocal groups. His Symphony in E minor, composed as partial requirement for his Ph.D. degree and dedicated to Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department, was given its premier performance by the university symphony orchestra last May.

It was once wisely written, "Music is harmony, harmony is perfection, perfection is our dream, and our dream is heaven"—a fitting tribute to the short but full life of Professor Thatcher.

Amateur Artists To Exhibit

Amateur art will be in the spotlight this spring as students at the University of Iowa are working with paint-brush and chisel preparing entries for the student salon of art.

The salon, which will be in Iowa Union from April 25 to May 7, is the fourth annual art show under the auspices of Union Board.

Any student in the university is eligible to submit for the show his work in oil, water color or pastel, monochrome or sculpture. From the entries, a number of creations will be chosen to hang in the salon. At a formal showing April 25, awards for the winning works will be presented.

A surprising amount of talent among university artists has been discovered in past exhibits. Other art galleries throughout the country have hung the pictures first shown at the university's student salon. "Paul Bunyan and the Blue Ox" by Lee Allen, a winner in the show last year, is now in the San Francisco Museum of Art.

The student salon is not only a pleasing exhibition, but it offers unknown artists an opportunity to test the value of their work.

An average American is a fellow who, on hearing of Andrew Mellon's offer of $19,000,000 worth of pictures to the government, expresses surprise at learning that Andy was in the movie business.

We wise guys know better. But, say, wasn't it a misprint or something? It must have been Rockefeller and not Mellon because the story distinctly said the pictures were really oil paintings. On second thought, Mellon does own an oil company, so all is o. k.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The republicans will not cut a particle of partisan ice at this session of congress, but they may have considerable fun.

They will do no fighting among themselves. It will not be worth their while, there are so few of them. It will be a wonder, however, if their opponents do not get into a good bit of pretty bitter intra-democratic jangling. Huge congressional majorities almost always fall into conflicting factions, and the present democratic majority is so overwhelming as to be well-nigh ridiculous. G. O. P. statesmen, on their side, will be in a position to derive nothing but unqualified enjoyment from the probable turmoil; occasionally, perhaps, throwing a few handfuls of their own shavings on the fire, to make it flare up all the more brightly.

Not but that the majority is large enough to put through the administration's program practically in its entirety.

Still, it promises to be a snappy session.

NOT HARMONIOUS

To begin with, the contest between Congressman Sam Rayburn of Texas and Congressman John J. O'Connor of New York for the majority leadership of the house of representatives did not end up in a fashion prophetic of future harmony.

Oh! O'Connor took his defeat in sportsmanlike style, to be sure, pledging his support to Rayburn.

Doubtless he means it.

Still, if there's anything in human nature—

Rayburn can afford to be forgiving; he won.

As to his vanquished rival! Well, on the opening day of congress I heard a good, influential, organization democrat say, "My gosh, I hope it won't be necessary to discipline O'Connor."

What Is Modern, What Old In Treatment of Disease

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE HEAR a great deal about the latest improvements in treatment and yet, as was suggested in the article yesterday, the most reliable methods we have are those which were available and used in Greece and Egypt and China thousands of years ago.

Dr. Clendening

We probably apply them a little more scientifically, and undoubtedly our implements are more convenient. The modern bed is a better bed to rest in than those which the ancients had. The ancient could get heat applied to an aching part but not so well as with the modern electric pad or hot water bottle.

Drugs are still a very important part of treatment, but most of the ordinary drugs which are used the most frequently are very ancient in their derivation. The better the doctor, the fewer the drugs he is liable to use. The great Dr. James Jackson, of Boston, considered opium, mercury, antimony and quinine the greatest drugs. Antimony, and quinine (except in malaria), have dropped out of fashionable use, but opium and mercury are certainly used in one form or other as much as any drugs. Both of them are of great antiquity.

Castor oil was used by the Egyptians. Sodium bicarbonate has been used for many years. The salicylates are fairly modern, but have enjoyed a popularity for over 150 years. Ether and chloroform are not quite 100 years old, but are standard drugs for their purposes. Iodide of potash would be on most men's lists and it has been used over 100 years. Digitalis, the heart remedy, has also over a century behind it.

Cathartics Ancient

Of the cathartics, besides castor oil, calomel is a preparation of mercury; senna and aloes are of great antiquity, and magnesium sulphate, or Epsom salts, was introduced when Epsom Well became popular. Ephedrine, which is very popular now, has been used by the Chinese for centuries. Arsenic is an old and still valuable drug.

Aside from serums, vaccines and glandular products, the only drugs which are commonly used in internal medicine of modern date are adrenalin and the barbiturate hypnotics.

The modern skin specialist, so far as his local applications are concerned, could get along pretty well with mercury, sulphur, zinc oxide, salicylic acid and camphor—all of hoary respectability.

Diet has been used in a rough and ready manner for many centuries, but its scientific application is a quite modern, even contemporary, affair.

Surgery, though modern, has not made striking progress for a good many years, and many of its practitioners think that it is static. The X-ray and radium, which came in after surgery, are taking away much of its work in certain fields.

Physical therapy, massage, the use of water, are all quite old. They are at present enjoying a considerable revival.

Electrical treatment, except in the form of diathermy, has little application in modern medicine, although, of course, it is relatively modern.

Blood transfusion is a strictly modern and useful procedure, frequently necessary.

Much more than in diagnosis, the tried and true methods are the ones that stick in the art of treatment.

General Notices

To all students who expect to graduate at the close of the present semester—February 2, 1937:

Every student who expects to receive a degree or a certificate at the University Convocation to be held Tuesday, February 2, 1937, should make his formal application on a card provided for the purpose at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, December 12, 1936.

It is of utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately, for otherwise it is very likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester.

MAKING APPLICATION for the degree, or certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee ($15.00) and also the cap and gown fee ($1.00) at the time the application is made—the payment of these fees being a necessary part of the application. Call at the Registrar's Office for the card.

The petition of the Association of Senior Class Presidents that a fee of $1 be assessed to cover the cost of caps and gowns for Commencement has been granted. Therefore, hereafter this additional fee of $1 is to be paid by each candidate for a degree at the time he pays his graduation fee.

Heretofore the normal rental fee for bachelors' caps and gowns has been $2 and for doctors' caps and gowns and hoods $4-$5.

The service for handling the taking of orders, and the distribution of the academic apparel, will be explained to students when information about Convocation is sent out from the Alumni Office. H. C. DORCAS.

Screen Life

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD—When Jean Harlow let her hair go natural last year, she started a vogue. She was the first Hollywoodite of prominence to give the bleachers the air.

And so 1936 will go down as the year when the blondes decided to accept the hair nature gave them. Harlow became a brownette and it softened her appearance. Carole Lombard's hair is three or four shades darker now than it was last year; perhaps it's natural now. Joan Blondell has, happily one guesses, become an indefinite blonde—her hair is becomingly streaked with brown.

Both Irene Dunne and Jean Muir have darkened their locks, or allowed them to darken. Alice Faye got rid of that so-called platinum effect and she, too, is a brownish blonde. Incidentally, true platinum blonde hair is not desirable—it's a mouse blonde. "Platinum blonde" was just a press agent's phrase to help put over an actress, the girl in the case being Harlow.

Isabel Jewell hasn't fallen in line yet. Her tresses look like finely combed excelsior, which is intended as a compliment, even though excelsior in a packing box isn't a beautiful sight.

Fashions For 1937

Here is a brief, composite picture of women's fashions for this year as seen in the exhibits 17 motion picture designers got up for the year's big fashion show:

Shorter skirts. Sleeves ending four inches above the wrist. Narrow shoulders. Shallowed hat crowns.

Movie stylists believe the forthcoming coronation will influence spring styles, bringing in metallic accessories, heavy jewelry and the spring use of fur.

Made in Africa

Eleven doors, which he flew to Portland, Ore., to purchase, have just been delivered to Edward Everett Horton. The doors, 11 feet high and 51 inches wide, will be used as panels in a Hampton room, one of many additions in the Horton ranch house.

Horton got the doors, which were carved in South Africa and shipped to Portland about 1849, from the company that wrecked the mansion where they were in use. It cost him more to ship them here than he paid for them.

A New Yorker At Large

By JACK STINNETT

NEW YORK—We sat at luncheon with two gentlemen so firmly tempered in the Broadway fire that you couldn't make a scratch on either with the diamond of the "sweetest story ever told."

"When I came out of 'The Women,'" said one, "I wanted to take a ball bat and go about cracking every woman I ever knew into complete insensibility."

"Well, I didn't feel that way," said the other. "It got me in the pit of the stomach . . . as if I were being pushed off a cliff into water 18 inches deep without knowing anything about the technique of high-diving."

When a couple of mugs who have been pickled in the bath of Broadway prohibition days and dried in the bright lights of a street whose emotions fluctuate with box-office returns talk that way, you know the Rialto has sprouted a fruit that the boys can't swallow.

In the case of "The Women," it is no lemon either, although its juice is pure acid. Claire Boothe has written a play which may make a million dollars, as one observer predicted, or may run its course on the drama shoals long before anything like that amount of money shows up in the till. With that we are not concerned . . . But it has Broadway and Park avenue talking the same language for the first time this season.

Structurally, it is a 12-scene three-act play, with 35 women in the cast and not a man. It moves swiftly from bridge party to the hairdresser's, to the fitting room, to a lying-in hospital room, to kitchen, to reducing school, to a Reno hotel room, to Park avenue bathroom, to the powder room in a night club.

It takes a group of what may generously be termed society women through their man troubles . . . and picks up on the way considerable comment from what some might refer to as less fortunate ladies. It's a cross-section cartoon of the weaker sex, done with a little too much truth to be thoroughly funny, but a little too deeply etched in the acid of satire to be completely veracious.

Mrs. Stephen Haines (the first) loses her husband to a vicious little blond hussy and wins him back by the old Hindu method of passive resistance, plus the wisdom to strike when the time finally ripens. Her difficulties are heightened considerably by a group of tongue-wagging friends, each of whom has her own problem.

Margaret Miller Named as S.U.I. Honorary Cadet Colonel

Zed Burriss Gets Post Of Cadet Colonel

Eugene Gilmore Confers Honor; Col. Dailey Presents Swords

By JANE NILES
Daily Iowan Society Editor

Margaret Miller, daughter of Mrs. Ada Miller, Rocky Shore drive, and Zedford Burriss, A4 of Des Moines, last night took their places in Iowa's court of honor when they were commissioned honorary cadet colonel and cadet colonel respectively, at the Military Ball by President Eugene A. Gilmore and presented with swords by Col. George F. N. Dailey.

The identity of the queen and king of the regiment was revealed to 700 couples in attendance when they were announced by Colonel Dailey as they entered the east door of the main lounge of Iowa Union and marched to the presentation platform at the west end of the lounge.

Honor Squads

Following the presentation of the swords to the honored couple, Lieut. Col. Robert Schulz, A3 of Davenport, of Scabbard and Blade; Lieut. Col. Robert Clasen, E3 of Davenport, of Pontoniers and Cadet Colonel Burriss of Pershing Rifles made Miss Miller an honorary member of each of their squads.

Colonel Dailey awarded medals to Mr. Burriss and Mr. Cox after reading a letter from Frank C. Bowes, major general U. S. army commanding, who commended them on their rifle teams that won national recognition in the 1936 rifle team matches.

Formations

Following the presentation of Miss Miller and Mr. Burriss, the crack squad of Pershing Rifles captained by John Head, C3 of Montrose, performed intricate formations in a routine that was set off with illuminated guns, clicking heels and military precision.

As the Queen and King of the regiment stood at salute the new bagpipe unit, dressed in flashing imported Scottish kilts, stood in circle formation and played "Old Gold," led by Sergeant Herbert W. Wendlandt.

Congratulations

After Pershing Rifles and the bagpipe unit marched out the east door, military students rushed to the platform to offer congratulations to Honorary Cadet Colonel Miller and Cadet Colonel Burriss.

Miss Miller, of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, was chosen from among five candidates for the military honor on the basis of scholarship, leadership, personality and campus activities by the advanced military students. A member of Mortar Board, Miss Miller is president of the art guild, president of Orchesis, chairman of the 1936 and 1937 coffee hours, art editor of the 1937 Hawkeye, a member of Seals, U.W.A., W.A.A., Y.W.C.A., and Frivol Frolic committee.

Delta Upsilon

A member of Delta Upsilon fraternity, Mr. Burriss was a member of the varsity debate team in 1934 and 1935, a member of Gavel club, the German club, the French club, captain of Pershing Rifles this year, a member of the 1936 Junior Prom committee and has fired on the varsity rifle team.

Mayor Martin Advocates City, University Cooperation in Talk Before Women's Club Group

Sketches Measures To Be Considered By New Official Force

Speaking before members of the Iowa City Woman's club at their regular meeting yesterday in the Trinity Episcopal church, Mayor Thomas E. Martin outlined issues which will face the new city administration and listed some qualities the new mayor should have.

"The first issue is to maintain a friendly relationship between the city and the university," Martin said. "While the city owes the university its support the university cannot wash its hands of city affairs. They need our help to make persons living in the 99 counties of Iowa want to send their children here to school."

Liquor Control

Because Iowa City is a college town, it is looked upon critically by inhabitants of the other cities throughout the state, Mayor Martin said. "It is particularly important for strict liquor and beer control in the city because of the large student element," the mayor declared.

As a possible solution for bootlegging, Mayor Martin suggested lowering prices in liquor stores.

In speaking of the traffic and gambling problems, Martin declared there should be consistency in making penalties when there are violations.

Elections

The conduct of elections in Iowa in Iowa City was discussed.

The mayor suggested that there may be need for even more precinct division in order to procure the desired efficiency in handling votes.

"PWA offices in Washington, D.C., have approved the reconstruction of the community building as a project and we are now waiting for the allotment of funds," Mayor Martin said.

Other questions listed were the appointment of three firemen and policemen; the public utilities, natural gas and electricity; city employees' salaries; juvenile delinquency; the building of runways at the airport, and acquiring equipment and housing facilities for the equipment.

City High Whips Davenport

Mertenmen Conquer Old Jinx, 24-21

Subs Spark Hawklets To First 'Devil' Win Since 1929

By NEWMAN TOOMEY

The ghosts of former greats invaded City high gym last night as the fighting Little Hawks battled their way to a sensational win over their favorite jinx team, Davenport, by a 24 to 21 score. Not since 1929, when such Red and White immortals as Moffit, Glick and Erbe cavorted to an easy victory over the great Davenport state championship quintet, have the Iowa Citians defeated the Blue Devils.

It took a pair of substitutes to finally turn the trick for the locals, Arlo Rogers and "Gabby" Burger providing the spark that set the Hawklet five ablaze with the victory fever. Inserted in the last quarter, these two scrapping benchwarmers literally pulled the Mertenmen to their feet with their dashing, alert play to spark the red shirted boys to their most satisfying triumph of the season.

Iowa City high will entertain Clinton tonight at City high gym in a game originally scheduled for Jan. 8. Victors over Davenport last night, the Hawklets will have Al Miller in the lineup for tonight's contest.

Hora Also Stars

Rogers and Burger were by no means alone in their hero roles, however, as the entire Hawklet lineup played heads-up ball. To dynamic Keith Hora went the game's scoring honors with nine markers, while Kenny Gardner and Wayne Putnam rose to defensive heights, taking the ball off the bankboard on defense with almost monotonous regularity.

Starting fast, the Davenporters jumped into a 5 to 1 lead, and then continued into a 7 to 3 margin. Capt. Paul McCune and Keith Hora then hit the basket on short shots in quick succession to tie up the score, with Maher's free throw giving the Red and White an 8 to 7 lead at the quarter.

Invaders Lead in Fourth

The Hawklets lengthened their lead in a low scoring second period as Gardner and Hora scored to end the half, 12 to 9. In the second half the lead see-sawed back and forth. In the last period Davenport shot into a 19 to 15 lead on baskets by Dohse and Lucier and a free throw by Dohse. A free throw by Putnam brought the count to 19 to 17 and set the stage for a beautiful one handed shot by Rogers which tied the score. Hora's basket and free throw gave the locals a lead which Burger lengthened with a nice short shot.

Coe College Pilot in Running for Post At University of Iowa

This is the second of a series of articles concerning prominent and successful football coaches whose names have been linked with the University of Iowa position left vacant by the resignation of Ossie M. Solem.

MORAY L. EBY

Will Moray L. Eby, a former assistant football coach at the University of Iowa, return to his alma mater as athletic director or coach?

Eby, now director of athletics and football coach at Coe college in Cedar Rapids, is in the running with Prof. E. G. Schroeder of the Iowa physical education department, for the post of athletic director of the Hawkeye institution.

Organized Clubs

Recently, organized clubs in Clinton, Des Moines, Ft. Dodge, and several other smaller Iowa towns, have sent petitions to board members in Iowa City, favoring the Coe pilot for the Iowa berth.

Eby was graduated from Adair high school in 1893, received his B.S. degree from the University of Iowa in 1901 and LL.B. degree from the same school in 1899.

Coached West Liberty

Before he joined the Coe faculty, Eby was football coach at Woodbine Normal from 1901 until he joined the West Liberty high school coaching staff as an assistant football coach from 1909 to 1913. He is affiliated with Phi Delta Phi and Phi Kappa Phi educational societies and Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The Coe mentor is married and has two children, Frances Louise and Robert Nichols. Bob is a freshman football player at Coe.

Eby's Record

Moray Eby has compiled a good record since the days of his "point-a-minute" team in 1914. He went to Cedar Rapids originally with the intention of practicing law but he never did after his first year at Coe. Last fall 38 different colleges and universities had been met on the football field since the advent of Eby at the Cedar Rapids college. The dean of Iowa coaches can boast a victory in 64 per cent of the 170 games played.

A recent check of records, based on averages complete in the fall of 1935, shows that the Kohawks, under Eby's tutelage, have won 108 games, lost 46 and tied 13. During all this time Coe piled up a total of 2,495 points while opponents amassed 1,023, an average of 14.94 points per game for Coe and 6.12 for the opposition.

MORAY L. EBY

Eby's first team at Coe piled up 330 points in eight games while only 43 points were registered against him. Since that time, only three Coe elevens have fallen below the .500 per cent mark, those of 1924, 1925 and 1931.

Queen Chosen By Tracksters Will Reign

One of Five Remaining Beauties to Become First Relay Queen

Iowa's 17th annual all university relays will get under way this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the fieldhouse.

With the first running event, the final of the 60 yard high hurdles beginning promptly at 2:15, the program is scheduled to be run off rapidly through the final event, the inter-sorority relay at 3:30. Other contests in the individual competition are to include the finals of the 60 yard dash, 60 yard low hurdles, shot put, 25 pound weight, pole vault, broad jump, and high jump. Relays in addition to the sorority medley run will include the inter-fraternity, inter-quad and inter-co-op dorm races.

The sorority relay will take a partner as the feature of the afternoon when the first queen of the relay carnival is presented to the crowd. The queen will be one of five girls nominated from an original field of 16 by the track squad. The choice of queen was made by the 16 captains of the sorority relay teams. Today's queen will come from this quintet: Elinor Rodgers, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Georgine Walter, Alpha Delta Pi; Faith Patton, Breene-Tudor; Virginia Middleton, Pi Beta Phi;; and Dorothy Yeager of Phi Mu.

Captains of the 16 women's houses represented in the medley race include: Willie Thomsen, Russell house; Gaylord Hodenfield, Eastlawn; Bob Cozad, Kappa Alpha Theta; Dale Motis, Currier; Jim Barron, Gamma Phi Beta; Ed Haas, Alpha Delta Pi; Cameron Campbell, Delta Gamma; Martin Stiller, Breene-Tudor; Jack Mayer, Pi Beta Phi; Van Phillips, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Don Purvis, Delta Delta Delta; Johnny Schmidt, Chi Omega; Milton Billig, Alpha Chi Omega; Paul Nelson, Alpha Xi Delta; Jimmy Lyle, Sigma Delta Tau; and John Graves, Phi Mu.

The sorority run will go into two sections, the fastest time of the two winning teams deciding the victor. The first heat, from the pole outward will include Kappa Alpha Theta, Eastlawn, Chi Omega, Sigma Delta Tau, Alpha Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta, Breene-Tudor and Delta Gamma. Starters in the second heat from the pole out will be Alpha Xi Delta, Russell house, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, Alpha Delta Pi, Currier, Delta Delta Delta and Pi Beta Phi.

Fraternities entered in the fraternity relay will also run in two heats, as will the Quad entries. The first section of the fraternity run will see Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Theta Xi and Sigma Phi Epsilon grouped together, and the second heat of the Greek houses will combine Delta Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Upsilon and Phi Epsilon Pi.

Heat one in the Quad races will put upper B, upper A, and lower D together, and upper C, lower C and upper D will run against each other in the second bracket.

Walters Eligigle for Badger Swimming Meet Here Tonight

Swimming hopes soared higher yesterday when it became known that Ray Walters, national sprint champion and All-American swimmer, would be eligible for the season's opener with Wisconsin tonight. Walters has just made up an "incomplete" incurred during the final semester of last year.

With Walters back in the lineup and Bob Reed, high scorer of last year's Wisconsin fray, who has been a doubtful starter due to sickness, apparently recovered, it looks like a dark evening for the invading Badgers, who took a 57-27 shellacking from the Hawkeyes last year.

The only first place the Badgers captured in a nine-event program last year was won by their captain and ace diver, "Ike" Simonsen, who has since graduated. This year's Badger outfit is classed as a dark horse contender, composed mostly of sophomores. Their only known threats are Grudzina, a flashy sprinter who gave the Hawk stars no end of worry last year, and Wagner, a powerful distance man.

Allen vs. Grudzina

Pitted against Grudzina in defense of the Hawkeye cause will be Bob Allen, Albert Johann, and Walters in the 50 yard race and a quartet of veterans including Bob Reed, Capt. Dick Westerfield, Allen and Walters in the century sprint.

Wagner will get plenty of competition in his favorite 440 yard free style distance event from speedy Bob Christians, Irv Parsons, and Reed. The diving will be taken care of by Arn Christen, who carried the whole diving load last year in Iowa's meteoric rise to fame, and John Stark, his promising aide.

Iowa National Champs

The three positions on the 300 yard medley relay team will be filled by one of the two outstanding candidates for each position; for the first lap, either Captain Westerfield or Harold Sears; in the second lap, either veteran Fred Haskins or sophomore Bob Lowry, and the anchor position will be filled by either Reed or Johann.

The final event of the evening, the 400 yard sprint relay, will find the Hawkeyes exhibiting their prowess in the event in which they hold the national championship. The team will be composed of the leading sprint stars, Allen, Captain Westerfield, Walters, and Sears or Christians. Tonight's meet starts promptly at 7:30.

Broadcast: WSUI, telegraphic report, 7:30 p.m.

Iowa's high flying Hawkeyes, after winning from Northwestern and losing closely contested games to Indiana and Purdue, will strive for their second conference victory tonight on the Illinois floor at Champaign, Ill.

The Illini, happy as they are over their upsetting Indiana, realize they cannot rest on their laurels, for the Hawkeyes are a formidable outfit and will be out for blood in tonight's fracas.

Stephens, Gaddis

The Iowans, showing considerable improvement with every game they play, will probably have the same outfit starting the game that has proved so effective in recent contests. High scoring Ben Stephens will team with veteran Walley Gaddis at forward, Jack Drees, lanky pivot man, will open at center, and Capt. Ken Suesens and Joe Van Ysseldyk will protect the Old Gold with their defensive ability.

Tom Nisbet might be inserted in tonight's starting lineup by Coach

Society Plans Compilation Of Iowa Volumes

Shambaugh Proposes Scheme as Part Of State Centennial

Observance of the centennial of Iowa's admission into the Union in 1946 will be accomplished by a project of permanent educational value if tentative plans of the State Historical society mature.

Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department and superintendent of the society, has recommended the compilation of some 50 readable volumes, dealing with every phase of development within the state, to be placed in every Iowa public library.

Nine Years

Professor Shambaugh has pointed out that it will take all of the nine years between 1937 and 1946 to complete the work and it could not be finished in that period if it were not for the researches already published by the historical society.

The university man sketched the chronology of events leading up to the admission of Iowa Dec. 28, 1846.

Constitution

Aug. 3—Constitution ratified and adopted.

Sept. 9—Formal proclamation by Gov. James Clarke declared the ratification and adoption.

Paintings by S.U.I. Staff Members In New York Exhibit

Three paintings by Edith Bell and one by Prof. Catherine Macartney, both of the graphic and plastic arts department, are now showing in the 70th annual exhibition of the American Water Color society in the fine arts building, New York.

From about 2,000 entries, a jury selects 400 pictures for the exhibition which runs through the rest of January.

This is the first time the pictures have been shown, with the exception of Miss Bell's "Low Tide, Eastport" which was in the Philadelphia Water Color club exhibit last fall. The other pictures are "Wilson Fisheries" and "An Old Wharf" by Miss Bell and "South End Harbor, Eastport" by Professor Macartney. The pictures were painted last summer in Eastport, Me.

Hawkeyes---

Doug Mills of the Illini. Nisbet, victim of a pulled tendon from a slip on the floor at Madison, played part of the Hoosier game but was slowed up by his disability. He will be greatly improved condition tonight and may see a lot of service, replacing Jim Vopicka at guard.

Combes Ready

The performance of Harry Combes against the Badgers and Hoosiers added greatly to the Illinois hopes. Harry, partially hampered by a bad leg, slipped through 16 points against Indiana.

After tonight's encounter, the Hawkeyes will leave immediately for Madison, Wis., where on Monday night they will play the Badger quintet.

The Illinois game tonight will be broadcast over WSUI at 7:30 p.m. and the Wisconsin game will likewise be broadcast over the same station, by means of telegraphic report, at 8 o'clock.

Score at half: U. Hi 17; Sharon 8

By TOMMY THOMPSON

Snapping Sharon's string of victories with a rousing 26 to 23 victory last night, University high combined speed with accurate shooting and gave the highly touted visitors a lesson in the art of playing basketball. The winners led at half-time, 17 to 8.

Both teams relied on teamwork rather than individual play, but if outstanding players were to be chosen, the honors would probably go to Miller of the locals and Capt. G. Hirt of Sharon. University high forced their type of game on the Red team from the start until the late stages of the game, and held the fast breaking Sharon crew to a low score of 23 points, considerably different from a 72 point score rolled up by the same team earlier this week.

With a nine point disadvantage against them at the half, the red-shirted team started out in the opening minutes of the second half as though they were going to make up the difference in short order when they scored three times from the field. Not to be outdone, U high came back with three field-goals of its own, and then settled down to hang on to its lead.

Sharon's slight advantage in basket shooting was overcome with a margin to spare by the superior teamwork of the local contingent, this probably being the difference between victory and defeat. The last half of the encounter kept the University high gym in an uproar, as each team's supporters urged their cohorts at the top of their lungs to come through for them. And come through U. high high did, as they kept one of the fastest traveling scoring machines in the eastern half of the state at a slow walk throughout the entire game.

Budge-Parker Duel

lead down to a 21 to 19 margin. Healy, the outstanding man in the floor, sank an over hand shot and Pinney made a free throw for the Irish quintet but the Rambler forces added two free throws as the quarter came to a close with St. Pat's leading 24 to 21.

In the last period the Marians, urged on by their captain, Bill Schlenck, outscored the Irish in a wild and wooly exhibition to tie the ball game up at 26 all as the final seconds ticked away to end the regular playing time. The overtime play found the Irish quintet weakened by the loss of Healy, Patterson and Demery through the personal foul route and Gerber and Schlenck made the victory secure with two baskets.

AROUND THE TOWN with MERLE MILLER

I know at least a dozen local girls are married, keeping it a secret because of their jobs . . . Why is it most employers object to married employes?

There are the girls I knew back home . . . On the campus their superior attitude makes me a mere acquaintance . . . They're the kind who become country school teachers and never marry—chiefly because they are never asked.

Strangely enough I have never known a very successful man who was very handsome . . . Most of the men who know the latest dance steps, know the right things to say at the right times spend the rest of their lives doing just that. . .

Those who talk the most usually do the least.

First page news the other morn was the horrible story of little Charles Mattson's murder, that of the murder of Mrs. Mary Case, the horrible battle at Flint, Mich. . . . But between the strikers and the murders the good will toward men is discoverable . . . On the inside pages was printed a story that Dr. Glenn Frank had an offer to be chancellor of Syracuse university—Ossie Solem's destination . . . Some men lose their jobs, and the demand for them is great . . . Another man loses his position . . . "He must be no good," they say. "He lost his job."

ADD PEEVES: Honey-voiced radio announcers who seek favor for some product no one would want between musical numbers . . . Women over 50 years who smoke cigarets, don't know how . . . Elder ladies with daring evening gowns.

I don't have time to read a lot of fiction—most persons don't . . . But just thinking it over—I remember the following: Somerset Maugham's "Of Human Bondage;" Ernest Hemingway's "Farewell to Arms;" "Unfinished Cathedral" more or less by T. S. Stribling; "Nana" by Zola; "Candid" by Voltaire; "State Fair" by Phil Stong; "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," Anita Loos. . .

We gasp with horror at the heathen Chinese who shoot dope peddlers in the back before 10,000 spectators . . . Such bloodthirstyness can't be understood by us occidentals . . . Over here we find the bodies of 10-year-old boys brutally beaten; we find 15,000 persons witnessing an execution, tearing the body of a lynched Negro apart, keeping parts of clothes and hair for souvenirs . . . Also Negroes are lynched, their bodies soaked with kerosene, tied atop school houses.

Yes, over here we are civilized. . . Undoubtedly the heathen Chinese could learn much from us. . . We are Christians. . .

Why is it the persons with the most money live the most futile lives?

Sometimes ambition and work and plans can't be a substitute for even a few of the pleasures of youth.

It always struck me with an enormous incongruity that the usual Phi Beta Kappas, 4-point students make such a mess of life . . . Perhaps the reason is, they never discover the leaders of American thought sometimes appear at Macbride hall, the world's greatest singers, orchestras are appearing at Iowa Union.

The most valuable hours I've spent are between the hours of 2 and 4 a.m. . . . It's the quietest time of the 24-hour period . . . More thought.

Make Additions To Veteran Druggists' Museum at S.U.I.

An ancient vaporizer, a perfume atomizer more than 45 years old, and samples of old drugs such as bugle weed and wild yam have been added to the veteran druggists' museum at the University of Iowa.

Dean W. J. Teeters of the college of pharmacy reported that the collection is from the store of the late Walter Shumway of Arlington.

The vaporizer, an elaborate device, has an alcohol lamp to heat the water, and the resulting steam is forced through a small glass tube. After passing over the medicinal liquid, the vapor emerges from a funnel before which the patient sits.
