BENDER NAMED NEW POLICE CHIEF

Official Dismissed By Martin In 1935 Is Reappointed Here By CNP Mayor Myron Walker

Spectators at City Hall Applaud Vigorously As
New Chief Is Named at Meeting of CNP
Council; Succeeds Paine as Head of Force

William H. Bender, Iowa City police chief from 1933 to 1935, was last night reappointed to that position by Mayor Myron J. Walker at a meeting of the C.N.P. city council. The new chief takes over his duties this morning. Bender's appointment was vigorously applauded by more than 100 spectators who filled the council chamber at the city hall to watch the meeting, a continuation of Monday night's recessed session.

The new department head succeeds C. O. Paine, named chief by former Mayor Thomas E. Martin April 1, 1935, following Bender's dismissal.

For the last two years Bender has waged a fight in the courts to be reinstated as police chief on the grounds that he was entitled to continue in office under the Iowa law granting preference in such appointments to war veterans.

Although Bender won his fight for reinstatement in district court the state supreme court upheld Martin's appointment of Paine by the five-to-three decision when the city appealed the case. A rehearing of the case was refused by the supreme court.

Recommendations
In announcing his selection last night Mayor Walker declared the appointment was made chiefly on the basis of recommendations of civic groups and an examination which he gave all applicants.

The new chief received 69.2 points on a possible 80 points on the basis of recommendations and the examination, according to Mayor Walker. Bender's war service and the mayor's estimate of his ability to cooperate with the city administration raised his total to 82.2 of a possible 100 total as compared to 73.4 points for the next highest applicant, the mayor said.

Following his appointment last night Bender, who was present at the council meeting, made the following statement: "It is gratifying to be able to reenter the position that I once held. In spite of the fact there was some criticism during the time of my recent litigation with the city—criticism which I am sure I will be able to overcome—it is my desire and ambition to cooperate with all the city's organizations and its individual citizens."

"I am open to suggestions at all times and any person who comes to me for any reason will receive fair and courteous attention. I shall consider it a part of my duty to see that every member of the police force does the same."

To Mayor Walker's declaration: "We will not tolerate gambling joints or bootleggers," Bender agreed, "That's absolutely right."

Besides his two years' experience as police chief, Bender also served for three and a half years as deputy sheriff of Johnson county from 1923 to 1926.

During the World War the new chief saw overseas service. He was enlisted in the United States army from May, 1918, to February, 1919. From 1923 to 1929 he served in the National Guard, taking special training in marksmanship and firearms.

Born in New Hampton
Bender was born and reared at New Hampton. He came to Iowa City in 1922.

Joe Dolezal was renamed as deputy marshal for the police department.

Other appointments made by Mayor Walker and the council last night included: George Kaspar, fire chief; Herman Amish, first assistant fire chief; James A. Clark, second assistant fire chief; Allen J. Mufford, city plumbing inspector; Catherine Welsh, secretary to city engineer; Grover Watson, city auditor; and Allen Wallen, street commissioner.

The council also affirmed by roll call vote the appointments of city officials made Monday night.

Spectators
Included among the spectators last night were Grover Watson, named city clerk by the new council; Harold Monk, C.N.P. building inspector; former City Attorney Sam Whiting Sr., and former

Plan 'Partial' Operations In Factory Today

Premier Hepburn Sees 'Showdown' in Lewis Canadian Strikes

TORONTO, Ont., April 9 (Canadian Press)—General Motors officials decided tonight to resume partial operations at the Oshawa plant tomorrow in what Premier Hepburn predicted would be a showdown in the strike inspired by the John L. Lewis labor organization. The parts department at Oshawa will be opened under government protection, if necessary, the premier said.

Determined to guard against any disorder and vigorously opposed to the Lewis committee for industrial organization, the premier concentrated mounted and provincial police here—35 miles from Oshawa and ready for a dash to that city at a moment's notice.

No indications
As there were indications the strike might spread to other industries, four representatives of the Oshawa local of the United Workers of America union, which is affiliated with the CIO, came here to confer with Hepburn.

In addition to the 3,700 workers out at Oshawa plant, 500 others were idle at Windsor where General Motors itself closed down.

A union meeting was called at the McKinnon industries plant, a General Motors subsidiary at St. Catharines, Ont., for a vote on joining the strike. The plant employs 1,700 men.

"We know what these agitators are up to," Hepburn exclaimed of the CIO workers. "We were advised only a few hours ago that they are working their way into the lumber camps, the pulp mills and our mines. Well, that has got to stop—and we are going to stop it. If necessary, we'll raise an army to do so."

Advised that General Motors had decided to reopen the parts department, the Ontario premier predicted "that is when the showdown will come," adding that General Motors "will get all the protection from this government that they require."

He said he was told that union leaders would try to prevent moving of parts from the factory and declared that such an effort would be illegal.

CIO Organizer Hugh Thompson said the strikers would decide "later" whether to permit partial operations but had agreed with General Motors that parts necessary for ambulances, trucks, milk trucks and other utilities' transport machines may be taken from the plant without interference.

165 City High Students Win 14 'Superiors'

With the completion of yesterday's competition in the district music competition at Washington, Ia., Iowa City high school's 165 representatives had received 14 superior ratings.

In the individual competitions Douglas Brooks was given superior rating on both the trombone and baritone, Jean Ostpad in the violin competition and Catherine Donovan in the viola section. Ed Hicks was rated superior on the string bass. Chester Bennett on the tuba and Duane Means on the snare drum.

Betty Ellet was given excellent in the piano solo division.

The small vocal group for girls, the boys' glee club and the mixed chorus Iowa City was also given superior ratings. Keith Smith, tenor, was rated excellent. The small vocal group of boys and Catherine Reeds, contralto, were given a good rating.

The string ensemble woodwind ensemble, brass ensemble and concert band were given superior ratings. The flute, clarinet, oboe, saxophone, bassoon, French horn and trumpet solo competition will be this afternoon. All contestants with superior ratings are qualified for state competition here next month.

Arrested

Mrs. Ray Blottiaux

Among several women arrested in Chicago following street fight at the strike-bound Nelly Ann Dress company was Mrs. Ray Blottiaux, shown in her jail cell. According to police, who quelled the fighting, the melee began when striking pickets tried to prevent other workers from entering the plant.

75 Sitdowners Ejected From State Office

Delegation Demanding An Increase in Poor Relief Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 9 (AP)—Deputy sheriffs, swinging clubs, late today forcibly ejected a delegation of 75 men and women who staged a two-day sit-down in the office of Gov. Martin L. Davey.

They demanded a $50,000,000 poor relief appropriation.

Five of their leaders, including Ben Gray, 29, president of the Ohio Workers alliance, were jailed for investigation.

The sit-downers, shouting, screaming and cursing the officers, were driven from the state house and dispersed through the streets.

Two men suffered head cuts and bruises when they fell or were struck. One was removed to a hospital.

Courtesy
Governor Davey said "We tried to be very courteous to them, fed them, and tried to make them comfortable. Of course, there is a limit to all things."

The group arranged to hold a meeting in a hall tonight.

Those jailed were John Monarch, 54, of Dayton, an organizer for the Workers alliance; Jessie Josephson, 21, of Cleveland; Morris Jaffa, 31, of Cleveland; and a Negro woman who said she was "Johnnie" Williams, 40, of Cleveland.

Authorities said they would be confined for 72 hours and would be permitted to see no one except an attorney.

Reception Room
The richly furnished reception room of the governor, with its deep cushioned leather chairs, red plush rug and paintings of famous men, appeared tonight as if a tornado had struck it.

The delegation had been asked to leave at 5 o'clock so that the place could be cleaned.

Officer Warns Danger of Man In Death Case

Says Slayer of Model 'Stark Mad'; Must Be Captured

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Admittedly without a clue as to the whereabouts of Robert Irwin, latest suspect in the Gedeon murder mystery, Assistant Chief Inspector John A. Lyons tonight warned that the missing sculptor's mental instability made him "a danger to the citizens of the community wherever he might be."

"Irwin is definitely a sick man," he said. "He is stark mad and must be picked up."

Background
Because of his psychopathic background—he formerly was a voluntary inmate at the Rockland county hospital for the insane—Irwin probably never would be prosecuted for the triple slaying on Beckman hill Easter morning, Lyons said.

"In my opinion he will be judged insane and placed in an institution," the inspector added.

Suicide
A belief that the fugitive had committed suicide was expressed during the day by the superintendent of the Rockland county hospital, Dr. Russell E. Blaisdell, who said his former patient had been in frequent communication with him until lately.

At the same time Dr. Blaisdell said he doubted that Irwin had anything to do with the crime. The missing youth's tendency to quick remorse never would have permitted him to remain in the Gedeon apartment for several hours, Dr. Blaisdell said, waiting for the third victim—beautiful "Ronnie" Gedeon—to return home.

Senator Gets Friendly Ride

Ia. Solons 'Investigate' Dynamic Mason, But It's 'All in Fun'

DES MOINES, April 9 (AP)—The Iowa senate took its most explosive member—E. I. Mason of Brooklyn—for a friendly little buggy ride this afternoon and decided at last that he wouldn't have to walk home.

With solemn faces and tongues in their cheeks the senators voted to "investigate" Mason, who has been the prime mover in the investigation of Harry C. White, state chamber member. Then the chamber went back and expunged the vote and resolution.

Sen. A. E. Augustine (D) of Okaloosa, who said he hated to do it but thought it was necessary, introduced the "resolution" to investigate Mason. The document read in part:

"Whereas the said senator has used language on the floor of the senate chamber which is loud, boisterous, belligerent and unbecoming...

"Whereas the said senator has attempted a raid upon the treasury of the state of Iowa through claims which have been questioned by the honorable house of representatives..."

The resolution then went on to authorize appointment of a committee of six to "determine if corrective measures might be taken to remove the cause of such action by means of medicinal or chiropractic treatments."

Backers of Coal Control Bill Hope For F.R. Signature

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—House supporters of the Guffey-Vinson coal control bill said today they hoped the legislation would go to President Roosevelt for his signature by Monday.

The senate adopted today a senate-house conference report compromising differences over the legislation.

Representative Vinson (D-Ky) immediately presented the report to the house and later said he hoped for a vote on Monday.

Opponents of Court Bill Indicate Fight on Change

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Opponents of the Roosevelt court bill indicated tonight they might fight any attempt to "soften" it by amendments which would tend to win wavering senators to the support of the measure.

This strategy, though not finally agreed upon, was being favorably discussed as the bill's foes prepared for approaching executive sessions of the senate judiciary committee.

In these sessions, the committee will express its sentiments on the bill and decide in what form it should be presented to the senate.

The opposition worked quietly between committee sessions at which three more witnesses testified against the bill. One of them, Dean William Z. Masterson of the Uni-

Defenders Of Madrid Reveal Major Gains

PUSH BIG OFFENSIVE TO WESTERN FRINGE OF SPANISH CAPITAL

MADRID, April 9 (AP)—Madrid's defenders declared tonight important successes were gained today in a major offensive on the capital's western fringe designed to break once and for all the insurgent ring of steel which has been pressing on the city for five months.

General Rose Maja, defense commander, jubilantly reported thousands of enemy soldiers had been isolated in the University City sector by a thrust which cut their line of communications with comrades in the Casa de Campo.

Maja, directing the largest government offensive in this sector since General Francisco Franco's forces reached the capital's suburb last November, was reported to have scored important advances against all insurgent positions.

Use Tanks
In at least two sectors the government forces, using tanks, artillery, machine guns and waves of infantry, pushed far into the enemy lines.

In addition to these advances in the University City and Casa de Campo sectors, western suburbs of the city, government officers asserted the insurgents were beaten back along the Coruna highway, which borders Casa de Campo, and in the suburb of Carabanchel, southwest of the capital.

Bomber
A huge four-motored bomber made its first appearance over the capital, flashed with and routed a fleet of insurgent planes in plain sight of Madrid's residents.

Government troops were reported to have surrounded Garabitas hill in the Casa de Campo district, from which insurgents have pumped shells into Madrid for weeks.

However, WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who also attended the conference, told reporters the group wanted work relief kept at its present level of 2,200,000 employees. Under plans announced by Hopkins several months ago, the rolls would be cut to 1,600,000 by June 1.

At the conference concerning relief curtailment today were Governors Herbert H. Lehman of New York, Philip F. La Follette of Wisconsin, Elmer A. Benson of Minnesota and Robert E. Quinn of Rhode Island, and Representative McCormack (D-Mass) and Leo M. Lyons, Illinois relief administrator.

Lehman, their spokesman, said afterward that the group had no appointment to see the president again before he sends his relief recommendation to congress.

Bob Randall Takes 1st In Declam Meet

Robert Randall of Big Grove township won first prize in the county declamatory contest in the courthouse here last night with the selection "So Was I."

Darlene Kinney, who gave the selections "I'm Hiding" and "Which Loved Best," placed second. Earl Fry of Liberty township took the third prize of $1.00 with the readings "Hiding" and "The Raggedy Man."

Twenty-four contestants selected in five district contests in the county this week appeared in the competition.

Readings included story telling, music reading and poetry reading. Music by a vocal trio from Liberty township school 6 and the rhythmic band of Newport township school 5 preceded the announcement of the winners.

Heleen Jean, chairman of the rural teachers' association, was in charge of the program.

Mayor Walker Reveals New Traffic Drive

Plans To Rid City Of The Double Parking 'Menace'

Mayor Myron J. Walker announced a general campaign to improve the Iowa City traffic situation at a brief meeting of the new CNP city council last night.

"The double parking method is a menace," Walker told the council. He indicated the campaign to eliminate double parking will be one of instruction with arrests only in the cases of habitual offenders.

The mayor warned that the traffic problem must be dealt with carefully. "I feel that we should not cancel the traffic regulations we have now until we get something better," he declared.

Walker told the council that Charles J. Larkin, manager of the Checker Cab and Yellow Cab companies, had volunteered to make a survey of the double-parking problem in the city.

Aldermen George Bouck and Clarence Beck suggested the painting of traffic lanes at street intersections to prevent the slowing down of through traffic by motorists who make right-hand and left-hand turns. The pedestrian problem was also discussed.

Bonds
The council accepted bonds which have been posted by the following CNP council city appointees:

Allen Wallen, city engineer, $2,500; E. F. Gerken, caretaker of the city hall, $500; and J. F. Sprout, superintendent of the sewage disposal plant, $1,000.

Bonds posted by Mayor Walker for $3,500; City Treasurer E. B. Raymond for $10,000, and Attorney Burke N. Carson, police judge, for $500 were also accepted.

Building Inspector
The bond of building inspector appointee, Harold Monk, incumbent, does not expire until August.

A cigaret permit was issued to I. C. Nickols, 812 S. Summit street.

The report of the police and fireman's pension fund from March 31, 1936 to March 31, 1937, was accepted and placed on file.

The council also granted Fred Racine permission to drill a well on the east side of Racine's No. 1, Washington and Dubuque streets, under supervision of the city engineer.

A.D.Pi Soror Girls Escape Quarantine

Members of Alpha Delta Pi sorority will not be placed under quarantine for scarlet fever, student health officials said last night.

The house was temporarily quarantined when Helen Kaufmann, 22 of Muscatine, was taken to University hospital Thursday night suffering from scarlet fever.

Urges Vocational Education
WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Otha Wearin of Hastings, Ia., urged the house appropriations committee yesterday to make ample provisions for vocational education.

Ask A Pension For Fire Chief George Kaspar

Attorney Files Petition Applying For Pension Of Local Head

Attorney Stewart E. Wilson, representing Fire Chief George Kaspar, yesterday filed application with the city clerk for Kaspar's retirement on pension from active service in the Iowa City fire department.

The city police and fire commission will probably meet to act on the application toward the end of the month.

Kaspar, who is 54 years old, was reappointed head of the fire department by Mayor J. Walker at a meeting of the C.N.P. city council last night. If the commission accepts the fire chief's petition for retirement, Mayor Walker will have to appoint a new chief.

While he awaits the commission's action, Kaspar will take a two week's vacation with pay.

The chief has been a fireman for 34 years and is the veteran of many Iowa City conflagrations. In 1903 he joined the local volunteer fire fighters and in 1911, the regular fire department.

Kaspar was named department head April 4, 1934 after having served as second assistant fire chief for several years.

Nazis Publish New Decrees To Conserve Metals in Germany

BERLIN, April 9 (AP)—Germany forbade today the manufacture of silver guitar cutters and restricted the gold-content of cups and saucers.

New decrees to conserve gold and silver were published today.

They banned the complete gilding of ornamental cups and limited the width of gilt borderings on table services to from about 1-25 to 6-25 of an inch.

The quantity of silver permitted in forks and spoons was curtailed and manufacture of the silver table services, women's handbags, toilet articles, umbrella handles and cigar cutters was forbidden.

Defeat Bond Issue

HUMBOLDT (AP)—Weaver township voters defeated, 46 to 44, a $23,000 bond issue proposed to finance construction of seven rural schools.

Mayor J. J. Carroll, named beer inspector by the new council.

City Clerk William L. Condon, whose term does not expire until July 1, acted as clerk for last night's meeting.

Two policemen, Dolezal and Art Schmoebelen, were on duty in the council chamber throughout last night's meeting.

The M.O.L. council, four of whose members insist that they are of the official governing body of Iowa City, pending an investigation of alleged fraud and bribery in the city election, March 29, did not appear at the city hall last night.

"Why should we go?" asked M.O.L. Alderman J. Van der Zee last night. "We have our council meeting next Friday night."

Another Public Hanging

MISSOURI WAS treated to its second public hanging of the year last week at Kennett, where 1,100 persons jammed into an enclosure built to hold 400, to see Fred Adams, 21-year-old farm youth, executed. Quite appropriately, under the circumstances, the affair took place in a boxing arena.

A few weeks ago a similar crowd gathered to see another man hanged at Ste. Genevieve. Citizens of that city maintained that few, if any, of their own people attended. Probably residents of Kennett would make the same claim to lessen the embarrassment which was forced upon them by official sanctioning of the barbaric custom. The question is, shall the proper state and county authorities take steps to end the practice, or shall we make the next hanging a real spectacle and hold it, say, in Sportsman's Park? —St. Louis Star-Times.

Our Readers' VIEWPOINT

Letters must be signed and not exceed 250 words. Opinions expressed by our readers do not necessarily reflect our views.

EDITOR, The Daily Iowan: Spring is in the air, but do these faculty members who talk endlessly for hours realize it?

Most of my instructors don't. And furthermore they don't realize that any of their students could say in 10 minutes what it takes them an hour to say.

A teacher I had in high school once said that his pupils got more out of a lesson if he let them out 10 minutes early. I certainly wish some of the university faculty could get the same idea.

And just to prove there is virtue in being brief, I will close this letter right here, without going into the detail my teachers feel is necessary. Maybe some of them will take the hint.

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Signs multiply that President Roosevelt and congress decidedly differ as to the best method of reorganizing governmental machinery in the interest of greater compactness, enhanced efficiency and reduced expenditures.

The presidential plan calls for more executive authority over Uncle Sam's use of his money.

Congress apparently is disinclined to yield it.

The issue is mightily important. Congress always has been supposed to have control over the national purse strings. The theory is that the president can't get far with any scheme of his executive own unless it is legislatively financed.

Congress' Attitude
Congress, traditionally has been hostile to any attempt to deprive it of the least modicum of this veto power, hitherto exercised by it, over presidential policies.

However, it has been inconvenient for the legislators to keep an eye upon each item of executive spending.

Therefore, something more than 15 years ago, it created the office of comptroller general of the United States, to be filled by a functionary charged with the job of checking each item of executive output, and with congressional authority to overrule it if he saw fit, speaking in congress name, regardless of the White House's opinion in the matter.

Post Unfilled
In order to keep this official entirely independent of political influences it was provided that the incumbent was to be guaranteed a 15-year term, irremovable except for misconduct, but ineligible to reappointment.

John Raymond McCarl got the post.

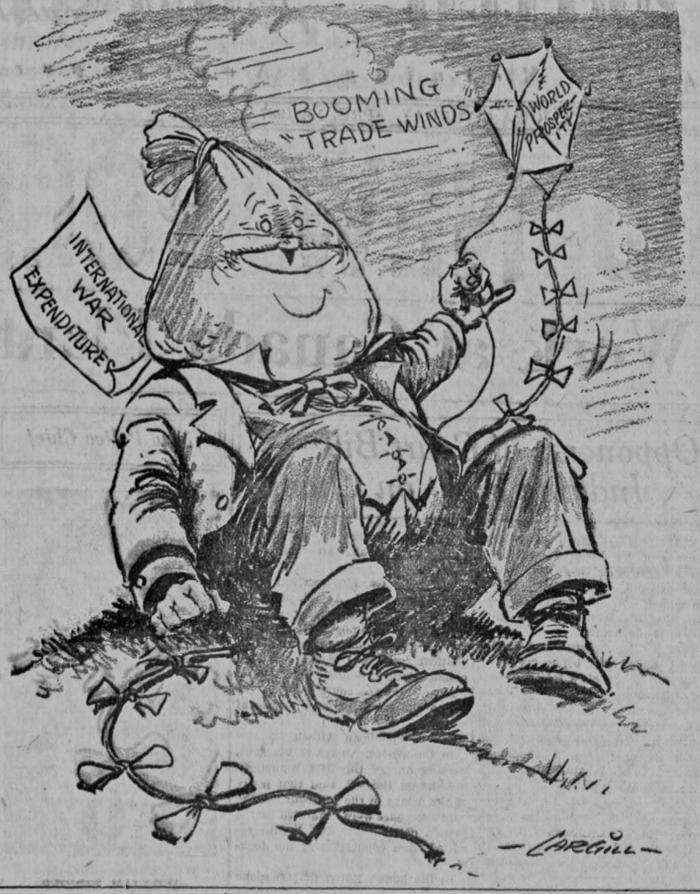

He proved to be an ideal deputy from congress' standpoint, everlastingly overruling expenditures which executive folk considered all right; but of course his decisions have been anathema to the government's executive branch.

But, recently his 15-year term expired.

Since then the president, who is supposed to refill the office, has not done so. Richard N. Elliott, previously McCarl's assistant, has been acting comptroller general—not on a 15-year basis but from day to day.

A Difference
Naturally this makes Elliott a purely political office holder, dependent upon executive tolerance. It is not a satisfactory situation as a permanency.

How Best to Practice The Art of Shaving
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

JEROME EPHRAIM'S forthcoming book, "Take Care of Yourself," contains many pieces of advice applicable to daily life. He does not soar in the clouds, but makes explanations of everyday practices. As an example, I take the liberty of abstracting his remarks on shaving.

Shaving, in the first place, is the best way to get rid of superfluous hairs. This goes for males and females. The most important element in a comfortable and successful shave is a good razor. Nothing, says Mr. Ephraim, has replaced the old-fashioned hollow-ground, open razor. It is the most efficient shaving instrument ever devised by man.

Dr. Clendingen

I have no doubt that is true, but it is also true that it is an temperamental as a prima donna, and only an expert can keep it in good condition. Of the modern safety razors, some of them are of the hollow-ground type, and they are just as difficult to keep in condition as the old-fashioned open razor. The double-edged water blade safety razor, as compared with the open razor, is an inefficient shaving instrument, but it is safe, easy to use, and its cheapness makes it possible to get a good shave every day.

It is quite true that there is a wide variation in sharpness and durability not only among the blades of a single brand, but also among blades in a single package, and even between the two edges of an identical blade. This is due to the method of mass production. These water blades used to be individually sharpened at home, but today they usually are made in reeds of thousands. In this form they are carried through the name-stamping, sharpening and honing processes, and broken up into individual blades only when they are packed. The sharpening is uneven, which accounts for the rough blades that cut the face so badly. For this reason a safety razor blade always should be honed, or stropped at least, before using.

Safety Razor Best
The form of the usual safety razor makes it necessary for the blade to flex in its holder, and this requires a soft steel that cannot be sharpened and does not hold its edge as well as harder metal. Still, it seems to me that the safety razor blade is a great advantage over the old-fashioned hollow-ground razor, for it took too much artistry to keep the latter in shape.

Of the soaps and creams, the form is unimportant—most of them are about the same. Their function is "to soften the hairs so that they can be cut more easily, to soften the skin so that it will give before the razor, to provide a matrix to support the hairs so that the razor can cut them at an angle, and to lubricate the razor so that it will glide more easily over the skin." These functions are only partially performed by the soap and cream, because it is the water used to form the lather that accomplishes the actual softening action. Hairs are coated with a natural protection of oil, and soap must be used to remove this coat and permit the water to get to the hair. Lather holds the water on the hair so it will not flow away.

Brushless creams are not soaps but vanishing creams with a large proportion of water. Most of them release practically no alkali in the presence of moisture, and people with dry or tender skins may, therefore, find them less irritating.

Cooling soaps and creams are made with menthol, which not only cools but acts as a local anesthetic.

General Notices

To All Students Who Expect to Graduate at the Close of the Present Semester—June 7, 1937:

Every student who expects to receive a degree or a certificate at the University Convocation to be held Monday, June 7, 1937, should make his formal application on a card provided for the purpose at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, April 10, 1937.

It is of utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately, for otherwise it is very likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester.

MAKING APPLICATION for the degree, or certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee ($15.00) and also the "cap and gown fee" ($1.00) at the time the application is made—the payment of these fees being a necessary part of the application. Call at the Registrar's office for the card.

"The petition of the Association of Senior Class Presidents that a fee of $1 be assessed to cover the cost of caps and gowns for Commencement has been granted. Therefore, hereafter this additional fee of $1 is to be paid by each candidate for a degree at the time he pays his graduation fee. Heretofore the normal rental fee for bachelors' caps and gowns has been $2 and for doctors' caps and gowns $4.55.

The service for handling the taking of orders, and the distribution of the academic apparel, will be explained to students when information about Convocation is sent out from the Alumni Office.

Respectfully, H. C. DORCAS, Registrar.

Screen Life

By HUBBARD KEAVY
HOLLYWOOD—Peculiar habit here, calling everyone "Dear." Or, more sweetly, "Honey." It gets me down, especially when waitresses inquire, "More coffee, dear?" I won't be deared into gin, much less coffee.

HUBBARD KEAVY Hollywood.

A movie hostess, falling into Hollywood speech habits before a dining multitude, once told the butler "Please pass the beans, dearie!"

They All Take Bows
The bows that people all over the Universal lot are taking for production of "Three Smart Girls," even after all these months, are amazing when you know the story.

Joe Pasternak ("Call me Joe") who used to be a waiter in the Universal studio cafe, years ago, first saw possibilities in the yarn. Having worked up to a producership by slow stages, he wanted his first picture to be a good one. Henry Koster, an idealist with ambitions similar to Joe's, was Joe's choice as director. Koster had no reputation in Hollywood; he had directed films in Europe.

Surprise Hit
Pasternak and Koster fought for months to get the picture into work. They operated on a slim budget and the picture was made only because a picture of some kind had to be made by a certain date. It was the surprise picture of this year.

They will operate on Deanna Durbin's next, "100 Men and a Girl," in which Stokowski will be featured. They'll have all the money for sets and actors and retakes they want, too.

A New Yorker At Large

By JACOB MINNERT
NEW YORK—America is becoming "mural-conscious," says Dean Cornwell, and all because the government worried its way into the field of art.

Dean Cornwell was well named back in those Lexington, Ky., days when the 19th century was in its last decade. For he has become the dean of American illustrators and one of the few "commercial artists" who has made an enviable place for himself in the realm of "the art."

Less than a decade ago, the great murals in the United States could almost be counted on the fingers of one hand, and the total examples of mural art in the whole country could still be finger-counted if a dozen or so counters stood in line.

Now every hamlet that boasts a postoffice can also boast its murals, and many of them by artists of such note that the town's leading banker couldn't purchase a like work if he skipped his income tax for a couple of years.

But the popularity of mural art has extended far beyond the walls of the new federal buildings. Public edifices of every nature now have to have murals. They are as much a part of the modern hotels as the house phones. Even in the bars and saloons, murals, almost invariably by recognized artists, have replaced the nude atrocities of pre-prohibition days.

Which gets us around to Cornwell's job of the moment: the Warwick's new "Sir Walter Raleigh room," a night spot which will, to say the least, be one of the most distinctive in its decor of any in Manhattan.

The greater part of this decoration, the important part, is the seven big panels, depicting the activities of that old cloak-slinger, Sir Walter, but what will engage the attention of most of the customers, irrespective of its artistic value, is a frieze of 68 "coats-of-arms."

Cornwell, himself, is author of the idea and in giving birth to it, he let himself in for no end of trouble. In the first place, there was the business of selecting the 68 outstanding personalities whose "coats-of-arms" were to be caricatured on the frieze. The second was to get those selected to unobtrusively themselves sufficiently to give Cornwell a "clue. The artist had to become a man-about-town, with a sufficient knowledge of the foibles of the near-great to depict them in symbol.

Little Hawks Hold First Outdoor Grid Drills

Hawklets Open Outdoor Work On Calisthenics

Coach Herb Cormack Expects Absent Men To Report Soon

After numerous delays, spring football practice at City high began last night, with 24 candidates reporting to Coach Herb Cormack at Shrader Field. Forty-one suits have been issued to prospective candidates but because of a conflicting band appearance many of the boys were unable to turn out.

The initial practice lasted only an hour, with calisthenics and general warmup work comprising most of the drill. Most of the candidates, following the calisthenics, passed the ball around and did some kicking, with a short charging drill concluding the practice.

Next week Coach Cormack expects the remaining candidates, including several lettermen, to report for drill. The following men reported for practice last night: Lawrence Paul, Virgil Paiker, Dave Wright, Joe McGinnis, Kenneth Sleichter, Ted Lewis, Bob Vogt, Stuart Mueller, Fred McLaughlin, Kenneth Walsh, Jack Hill, John "Dusty" Maher, Nick Doros, Robert King, Wayne Brown, Wayne Putnam, "Dutch" O'Connor, James Herring, Clifford Heacock, Everett Hughes, James Swater, Clarence Crumley, John McGreevey and Bob White.

P. Waner Signs Contract; Ends Long Holdout

DALLAS, Tex., April 9 (AP)—Paul Waner, three-time National league batting champion, signed his contract here today, ending his prolonged holdout with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Waner came here from Sarasota, Fla., enroute to Oklahoma. Manager Harold (Pie) Traynor, who had come to Longview with the Pirates, met Waner at a Dallas hotel. They talked things over for about 30 minutes, then "Big Poison" signed a contract which was believed to call for from $18,000 to $20,000.

Waner expressed complete satisfaction and said he would be in the lineup tomorrow when Pittsburgh plays the Chicago White Sox at Ft. Worth.

Waner said he was in good condition, having worked out with the Boston Red Sox and golfed in Florida. He will play five innings tomorrow.

The Pittsburgh management does not announce salaries but if Waner got the amount reported he will be the highest paid player the Pirates ever had. It will be his 12th season with the Bucs.

From Longview President Bill Benswanger of the club said the contract represented "a nice increase" over last year's salary but that no bonus was attached.

Says No Increase Yesterday, at Memphis, Waner said he had not received an increase, adding:

"Last year I signed a contract with a $1,000 cut on the understanding I'd get the money back if I had a good year. Well, I had one of my best years and the Pirates did too, and I didn't get the bonus. When Benswanger sent me my contract this year, he enclosed the check. I didn't sign and I didn't cash it."

Great Season Waner had one of his greatest years at the plate in '36. In 585 trips he batted 218 hits, including 53 doubles, for a final average of .373—six percentage points better than Brooklyn's Gordon Phelps. It was the third time "Big Poison" had paced the league. He belted across 94 runs.

Only Charles (Red) Ruffing, New York Yankee hurler, and Dolph Camilli, Phillies' first baseman, remained among the major league's "big shot" holdouts.

Drake Enters Relays DES MOINES, (AP)—Coach Franklin P. Johnson of Drake university announced yesterday he has entered 17 men in the Kansas relays, April 16 and 17.

The Bulldog entry includes both the two-mile and distance medley teams which won their events at the Texas relays last week.

To Be Played At 1:30 P.M. On Net Court

New Playing Field Not Ready for Use As Game Is Canceled

An intra-squad game at 1:30 p. m. today will replace the scheduled clash with Carleton that was to open the home season for the University of Iowa baseball team.

Yesterday's warm weather brought hope that the freshman field could be worked into shape for the game but the plan was finally given up and the tilt was postponed until a later date.

To Use Many In the practice session today Vogel hopes to use as many men as possible, giving them all a chance to show what they can do under game conditions. The tennis courts south of the fieldhouse, scene of all the outside drills so far this year, will be used.

With the Carleton game postponed the diamond men are pointing for their road trip next week, when they will open their Big Ten campaign against Chicago. Wheaton college of Wheaton, Ill., will be the opponent. Thursday, and the Hawks will meet the Maroons in the windy city in a two game series on Friday and Saturday.

First Game With Wheaton The Wheaton game will mark the first with that school. They have played only one game so far this year, losing to Chicago, 9-4.

Providing that the work on the new field goes as well as it has been the past few days, the Iowa team will open their home season against Michigan the following week end. Michigan won the conference title last year when they defeated Iowa in the final Big Ten game of the year, 8 to 6.

Other conference games scheduled for Iowa City include two-game series with Wisconsin, Northwestern and Minnesota. The Hawkeyes have the best home card of any Big Ten team as they play only four conference games on the road.

Dunkelberg To Meet Hunter

PINEHURST, N.C., April 9 (AP)—James T. Hunter, 45-year-old golf veteran of North Adams, Mass., and 17-year-old Bobby Dunkelberger of High Point, N.C., battled successfully through two rounds today to provide the annual North and South amateur tournament with a finale matching the oldest qualifier against the youngest.

Hunter, the tourney medalist, conquered Carl Dana Jr. of Orlando, Fla., 2 and 1, in one semi-final match while in the other young Dunkelberger, overwhelmed by a 5 to 4 margin Tom Jamison of Greensburg, Pa., who this morning eliminated George T. Dunlap Jr., five times winner of the North and South.

Was Even Par Dunkelberger was even par 36 through the first nine holes as he mastered Jamison, who slumped badly after his 3 and 2 quarter-finals triumph over Dunlap, the former national amateur king. The 15-year-old Dunkelberger, who first gained notice by ousting Francis Oulmet here last year and prepared for the North and South this season by pacing the Florida open circuit, defeated Charles Whitehead, New Jersey champion, on the 19th hole in the quarter-finals.

Hunter came through the morning round with a 5 to 4 victory over Frank Strafeel of Brooklyn, N.Y., one-time national public links champion.

Close Call Dann, twice Florida state champion, defeated Johnny Johnston of Lumberton, N.C., two up in the quarter finals, and gave Hunter a close call in the afternoon round.

Pollard at Drake DES MOINES, (AP)—Fritz Pollard Jr., North Dakota university's all-around athlete and member of the United States Olympic team last year, will compete at the Drake relays here April 23 and 24. Jack West, director of athletics at the North Dakota school, notified relays officials yesterday.

Pollard, who finished third in the high hurdles at the Berlin games, also may compete in the broad jump and pole vault.

Postpone Iowa Net Tilt for Lack of Facilities

Two of First Four Positions Change Hands

Iowa's opening tennis meet with Coe college of Cedar Rapids has been postponed due to bad weather and inadequate indoor facilities.

Inability to stretch a canvas top on the basketball floor because it will be in use today prevents playing any doubles matches, as the courts alongside the floor permit only singles play.

O'Connor Advances A heated week of challenge matches saw only two of the first four position change hands. Fran O'Connor beat Claude Douthett of the number two spot and Bob Stansbury nicked Harold McCollum to take him from the fourth berth. The first four, named in order, are Captain Fleming, O'Connor, Douthett and Stansbury.

The match with Grinnell will be played next Saturday as scheduled, with a promising outlook that the squad will be able to go outdoors at that time. If the weather is bad, the basketball court will be available.

Cincinnati Solon In Attack on 'Sadistic' Modern Wrestling

CINCINNATI, April 9 (AP)—Councilman Nicholas Klein said today that wrestling shows in Cincinnati had "degenerated into sadistic spectacles," and hinted he might ask council to investigate the sport.

Furthermore, he asserted, "we have now a referee who is so near-sighted he cannot see what is going on." Unless a new referee was named, he said, he would insist on an investigation.

No Comparison Klein contended the old Greco-Roman style of the sport "was bonafide wrestling and not comparable with the modern 'grunt and groan' exhibitions.

"Everybody with an insight into the game knows that modern matches are simply sadistic shows or exhibitions cleverly put on by athletic tumblers. Sadistic natures are aroused and men and women scream in a frenzy. They cry for the blood of the 'villain' and want him torn to bits."

Some 50,000 American tourists visited Mexico City last year, remaining an average of 10 days in the republic and spending about $200 apiece.

FIFTH ANNUAL IOWA CIRCUS IS PAST HISTORY

By PHIL NORMAN Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Two awards climaxed the final showing of the Iowa circus last night.

Surprise award of the evening was the "Circus Sally" award to La Vera Seibert, voted to her unanimously by the performers in the fifth annual circus. Miss Seibert took part in six acts, performing on the Roman rings, double trapeze, with the "Flying Hawkeyes," "Gypsy Night," the Arab tumbling troupe, "Anchors aweigh," and the revolving trapeze. On the revolving trapeze, her specialty, she broke her previous record by going around the number two spot and Bob Stansbury nicked Harold McCollum to take him from the fourth berth. The first four, named in order, are Captain Fleming, O'Connor, Douthett and Stansbury.

The match with Grinnell will be played next Saturday as scheduled, with a promising outlook that the squad will be able to go outdoors at that time. If the weather is bad, the basketball court will be available.

"Big Shot" Wins For the first time this year different groups were asked to present acts. The award was given to Pi Kappa Alpha for its, "The Big Shot." Jack Brown was the big shot and the others were Bud Roberts, Larry Hayes and Hop Eggers. The act, a laugh from start to finish, was done without mirrors. The big shot's valets broke the mirror and in order not to make him mad they brought in the frame and had another fellow take his part on the other side. They even cleaned the mirror and washed it.

Judges Judges for the group acts were Prof. H. D. Sellman, Prof. H. C. Harshbarger, D. A. Armbruster, swimming coach; G. T. Bresnahan, track coach; and Glenn Devine, assistant director of athletics. They were seven acts from which they picked the winner, "The Big Shot."

The acts included musical numbers, comedy, magic, and dances—all were good.

1,500 Fans The second performance of the "greatest collocation show on earth" went off much smoother than on the opening night. It ran for its final performance before a packed house of 1,500 excited and enthusiastic fans.

Acts were rearranged somewhat to make the show a more compact and entertaining one. The ground crew moved and removed props in part order to facilitate the smooth running of the show, climaxing the fifth presentation, the "Flying Hawkeyes" went through their routine in marvelous form with Bob Barry doing a somersault over the bar to the end catcher and Wilson Fall doing a one and one-half somersault to Xavier Leonard, the end catcher. It was a marvelous show, history making in its splendor.

Sam Snead Takes Lead In Golf Meet

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 9 (AP)—Piercing gale-like winds with his whistling drives and approaching deadly, Sam Snead, the 24-year-old golf rookie from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., resumed the lead today in the 72-hole $5,000 Tournament of Gardens.

Young Snead cracked par by one stroke to move out in front of the field with a 54-hole total of 209, four blows under par and two ahead of Henry G. Picard of Hershey, Pa.

Picard LaSs Picard, winner of the Gardens' top prize for the last two years, took a miserable third-round 76, five strokes over par, and dropped back two blows behind Snead after leading the Virginia by four strokes at the end of 36 holes.

Along with lockerroom talk of a possible "sit-down" strike by some of golf's older heads should the local rules committee reverse an early ruling, W. Lawson Little of San Francisco, Cal., the former world's amateur champion, was disqualified for improving the line-of-flight of his ball in dropping from a ditch.

In Ditch The committee held that Little, whose second shot on the eighth hole landed in a drainage ditch, dropped the ball into the fairway from behind trees when he should have followed U.S.G.A. rules and dropped it on the other side of the ditch.

"They'll be making the biggest mistake of their lives," one veteran remarked, and another suggested a "sit-down" if the committee reconsidered its ruling, disqualifying Little, who was in seventh place after 36 holes with 144.

Played With Picard Little was playing with Picard, halfway leader with 135 strokes and followed by a large gallery. Picard was one over par with an outgoing 35 and needed 39 strokes coming in. He three-putted four greens.

Not to be outdone by Snead, who carded a 36-34, Jimmy Thomson, the blond belter from Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., put together a pair of 35s for a 70, one under standard figures, and advanced to third place from sixth, gaining six strokes; on Picard and remaining even with Snead.

BITS about SPORTS

By JOHN MOONEY

There seems to be a question bothering all the Iowa Circus goers—"What became of the proposed Circus Sally who was supposed to replace the 'traditional circus queen'?" We were as interested as any of the others so we inquired from the various societies, in fact we called some nine of them on the telephone last night, and from everyone we received the same answer: "We had planned to enter an act and a candidate for the Circus Sally crown, but Miss Blank wrote us a letter saying that we didn't belong in the Iowa Circus so we were forced to withdraw."

IT MAY BE SO that the University of Iowa coeds are too nice to participate in the Iowa Circus, but we doubt it. We think that we have as fine a group of young ladies here as there is anywhere in the United States, and it doesn't seem to us as if competition in a show like the Iowa Circus would hurt anyone. The girls have little chance to compete in any form of stunts and this seemed a logical place to stage such an exhibition.

What seems a shame to us is the fact that the announcement barring competition was not issued until all the plans were made. In previous years, members of sororities have taken part in the show and nothing has ever happened to "spoil" the young ladies. What was the reason this year? We don't have any idea as to the cause of this rumour. Some called it petty jealousy between the women's and men's physical education departments; we would hate to think that such a thing as local prejudices would interfere with a show as big as the Iowa Circus. Certainly there must have been some good reason.

Query—How did it happen that the construction of Iowa baseball field was postponed for so long? It always has rained in Iowa in the spring and it will always continue to rain; why put off 'til tomorrow, or next season, what we can do today? Surely, the Iowa-Carleton baseball game will be played sometime, but this game was scheduled as a warm-up tilt and the boys need the practice now more than they will later in the season.

In a conversation with Valdo Geiger, local sports authority, yesterday, we learned of a "sunrise tournament" to be held on the local golf links next week. From what we could gather everything will go, except that if anyone is so unfortunate as to be caught cheating, he will be given an extra stroke. It is all for fun and fun for all as far as the divot-diggers are concerned. At present about 20 John Henrys are decorating the dotted line and Geiger expects more before the Sunday night deadline. Sounds fun, but OUI that "430 in the morning stuff!"

State record holders and outstanding college stars are strongly in evidence on the list of more than 200 entrants in the state Y.M.C.A. swimming and diving championships which open at 10 p. m. this morning in the fieldhouse pool with the diving preliminaries.

Prominent among the diving entrants are Walsmith of Cedar Rapids' defending champions, who won the senior diving title last year; Marion of Newton, the Junior B division diving champion; Nissen of Cedar Rapids, versatile Hawkeye athlete and leading varsity diver this year; and Waita of Waterloo.

Westerfield, Sieg College swimmers entered in the swimming events which begin at 1 p. m. are: Dick Westerfield of Cedar Rapids, Iowa's varsity captain and one of the leading backstrokers in the nation; Jack Sieg of Davenport, a 1936 Iowa star who swam on the national championship sprint relay team and introduced the Dolphin Kick to the swimming world; and Wilson of Davenport, who swam on Yale's eastern intercollegiate championship team three years ago.

The swimmers are divided into age groups, and although a swimmer may enter in a higher age group than he is placed in, he may enter and compete in only one division. The divisions are: Junior A, nine to 12 years inclusive; Junior B, 13 to 15 years inclusive; and senior, 16 years or over.

Individual Winners Two individual trophy winners for high point men are back from last year. Ross of Cedar Rapids, the junior A winner is also the state record holder in both the 20 and 40 yard free style events in his division. He will swim in the intermediate division this year. Dillon of Clinton is the other scoring champion and is regarded as one of the best sprinters entered in the competition.

Other state record holders entered this year are: McLellan of Davenport, Junior B breast stroke record holder who will swim in intermediate competition this year; Draves of Waterloo, intermediate 220 yard free style record holder who is entered in the senior division; and Maciejovsky of Cedar Rapids, record holder in the intermediate century sprint who will also swim in the senior event this year.

Many other outstanding paddlers are scattered through the long entry lists of 30 events, among them being Ahgren, Des Moines city champion in the intermediate 100 yard free style, and Moore of Clinton, an outstanding intermediate sprinter.

Cedar Rapids, the defending champion, will be hard pressed by Clinton, Des Moines and Davenport to finish at the top of the pack during tonight's finals, which begin at 7:30 p. m. Other teams entered are: Marshalltown, Ft. Dodge, Waterloo, Newton, Washington, and Dubuque.

No admission will be charged for the meet, and spectators may witness the meet from the upper balcony. Varsity swimmers will assist in officiating as five place winners are to be picked in each of the 30 events.

Stratton Hurls For Chicago White Sox

LONGVIEW, Tex., April 9 (AP)—Monty Stratton allowed but one hit in five innings today as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 3.

Rip Rauteriff and Dixie Walker, Sox outfielders, were the main cogs in the Chicago attack. They paired hits for a run in the first and each

Blues' Squad Competes At Mechanicsville

With Vinton high offering the chief competition, the University high school track team will contend with nearly a score of prep aggregations from this section of the state for the title of the Mechanicsville relays at Mechanicsville today.

Thirteen members of the Blues' squad leave Iowa City this morning to participate in the preliminary events. The remaining contingent of 11 men will leave at noon today to supplement the squad in the finals which begin at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Favored The Rivermen, after their showing in the state meet here last week, will be conceded a good chance to capture the title. Vinton, due to the victory which it took from the Blues in the quadrangular meet held here in the fieldhouse on March 23, is rated as the Blues' opposition.

University high's best possibilities for first place awards will be in the field events and the relays. In the high jump, the Rivermen will be well represented by George Miller, whose consistent improvement enhances his chance to take first honors.

Hinman Should Win Ted Hinman, who placed fourth in the state indoor meet pole vault event here last week, should have little trouble against the competition he will meet today. Although Orville Schnoebelen should be one of University high's chief point winners today, the Blues' athletes may find tough competition in the broad jump, but with a normal performance in the shot put, Schnoebelen should chalk up a first place with little difficulty.

The meet will be divided into classes in all the relay events, giving the class B schools—schools with less than 100 students—an equal opportunity to win. With a fine group of middle distance men, Coach M. F. Carpenter will start a formidable two mile relay quartet which should win by a good margin.

Sprint Relays In the sprint relay events, Vinton will contend strongly. In all probability the Rivermen will necessarily have to be content with a possible win in the half mile relay. However, a bad baton pass by either quarter will probably be expensive.

Those who will make the trip for University high and the events in which they will compete follow: Ries and Blackstone, (120 yard hurdles); Kent and Shebika, (100 yard dash); R. Wombacher and Blackstone, (200 yard low hurdles); Hinman and White, (pole vault).

Schnoebelen Schnoebelen and Bowery, (broad jump); Knebel and Schnoebelen, (shot put); Schnoebelen and Carson, (javelin); Schnoebelen, (discus); Hager and G. Miller, (high jump); Adams and Meyers, (mile run); and Campbell and Kinney will be used as utility men.

Relay teams will be made up as follows: 440 yard relay—Heightscho, Kent, Shebika and D. Wombacher, 880 relay—Heightscho, Kent, Schnoebelen and Shebika, One mile relay—Alderman, Blackstone, Hinman and R. Wombacher, Two mile relay—Krogh, S. Miller, Meyers and Spencer.

Student Journalists Finish Editions of Community Papers

The last of the staff members who published special editions of community weeklies returned to Iowa City yesterday, displaying copies of the papers on which they worked.

There were special editions of two Decatur papers, both edited by John Lahn, 44 of Bloomfield. The Public Opinion was a 16-page paper, and the Journal was an 18-page paper.

The Williamsburg Journal-Tribune, edited by David Griffith, 43 of Elder, was a paper of 16 pages. The What Cheer Patriot-Chronicle, whose editor was Edythe Clayton, 44 of Mt. Airy, consisted of 20 pages.

"Both Prof. Fred J. Lazell and I were very much pleased with the publications," declared Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism.

Pep Nominee

Maxine Asher, A3 of Spencer, is the sixth coed to be named by the Pep Jamboree committee as one of their 10 candidates for pep queen. Miss Asher is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Hawley Finds New Letters By Whittier

Several previously unpublished letters of John Greenleaf Whittier concerning Whittier college in Salem, Ia., have recently been incorporated in an article by Prof. Charles A. Hawley of the school of religion in the April issue of "The Iowa Journal of History and Politics." A reprint of the article has also been made.

Among the letters is one granting permission for the college to be named Whittier. Others concern sums of money and books donated to the college by Whittier.

One letter expresses the poet's view on a life of letters as a career in answer to the query of a student.

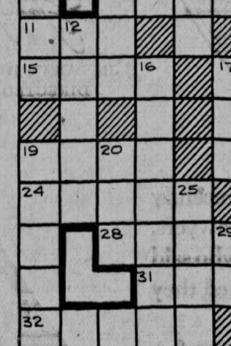

Poetry "Unprofitable" "As regards poetry, let me here say that to make it the end and aim of life seems to me an unprofitable endeavor. I do not undervalue a literary reputation; but it alone can do little towards making any one happy," wrote Whittier.

Much of Whittier's interest in the college, according to Professor Hawley, was due to the fact that Salem was a quaker community and one of the stations of the underground railroad in which the poet was greatly interested.

Centenary Professor Hawley discovered the letters while working on a story of the 100th anniversary of Salem in Henry county.

Westermarck Plans Opposition To New Trial For Rhodes

Court to Hear Opposing Pleas On Wednesday

Hayek to Carry Case To Supreme Court If Overruled

A resistance to Attorney Will J. Hayek's motion for a new trial, exceptions to instructions to the jury and an arrest of judgment in connection with the first-degree murder case of Walter "Dusty" Rhodes will be filed this morning by County Attorney Harold W. Westermarck.

The motions and petitions were filed at the county clerk's office yesterday afternoon by Hayek. If the motions are overruled by District Judge James P. Gaffney, the case will be taken to the Iowa supreme court, according to Hayek.

To Be Argued Wednesday

The motions and the resistance by Attorney Westermarck representing the state in the case will be argued before Judge Gaffney Wednesday at 10 a.m. If the motions are overruled sentence will be passed by Judge Gaffney Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Rhodes was convicted of murdering his wife last Wednesday after 18 hours deliberation by a jury composed of seven women and five men. The death sentence was recommended.

Exceptions

Exceptions to rulings of the court during progress of the trial consist of most of the reasons given by Hayek for a new trial. Forty-one reasons are given.

In the motion in arrest of judgment, Hayek sets forth objections made in the demurrer filed when the second county attorney's information was filed.

It is also claimed the jury was not properly selected for the reason listed in the challenge to the jury panel.

Strength in Art Is Force In Maintaining Styles, Says Frey

Today's Program
9:30 a.m.—Senate chamber, Old Capitol, Dean George F. Kay presiding.
Address of welcome, President Eugene A. Gilmore.
Lectures by Victor D'Amico and Wallace Baldinger.
12 noon — River room, Iowa Union, Prof. Bruce E. Mahan presiding; announcement of awards in the Iowa high school exhibition of graphic and plastic arts, Prof. R. H. Fitzgerald.
2 p.m. — Lounge, Iowa Union. Lecture, Prof. Eugene Savage.
4 p.m.—Tea, exhibition lounge, fine arts building.

Explaining that the changes in art style today show efforts devoid of art, while styles change more slowly when art contains a degree of strength, Erwin Frey, associate professor of fine arts at Ohio State university, addressed the conference of teachers and supervisors of graphic and plastic arts last night.

Speaking on aspects of art in general Mr. Frey also demonstrated clay modeling and showed slides of the casting process in building a large statue.

Sculpture
"The sculpture of China, Egypt, Greece and Gothic maintained a constant level over centuries of time without any marked change in style. It seems true that whenever you have a constant change in style every few months, you have ample proof that what is being accomplished is of relatively small value. Rapid changes in style are a mark of weakness in the artist or the period," he explained.

No one today is capable of accepting all the arts with equal understanding, the speaker contended. A person may appreciate many fields, but specialization and man's many reactions prevent a well rounded growth in more than a few fields of art.

Dangers of Isolation
Professor Frey warned those trying to understand sculpturing and the fine arts to guard against the dangers of isolation and to avoid separating one medium or style from another.

"Attempt to accept all arts as possessing a universal quality. Strip them down to the core and make judgments—many of them. It is the only way to develop an appreciation," Professor Frey asserted.

He said the rise of individualism and the industrial revolution have left their mark on sculpture. "There are too many war memorials from Maine to Oregon proving beyond a doubt that whatever outlet early civilizations found in sculpture for their spiritual and religious needs—something quite different has taken its place."

"With architecture, sculpture is the most permanent art form we have and it furnishes us with practically the only record we have of past civilizations."

Concluding with a word of advice, he said, "Don't let anyone tell you what art is. Attempt to find out for yourself and encourage others to do likewise."

With quick accurate finger strokes he modeled a man's head in clay, pointing out the essentials a good sculptor must bring out in his work.

Meeting the problems of painting one at a time is a great advance in the technical side of painting over the practices of a few years ago, Prof. Eugene Savage of Yale university declared yesterday in a lecture.

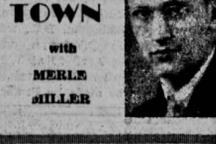

Mistaken Idea
"Formerly the painter took the palette of paint in his hand and undertook to paint a picture, meeting all the problems in one fell swoop. This is a mistaken idea," Professor Savage contended.

He discussed the problems of line composition, value, color and arrangement. Professor Savage illustrated by lantern slides the changes in painting from the first century to the 16th and showed several slides of his own paintings of the Florida Indians. Most of these are on display in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Victor D'Amico, head of the fine arts department of the Fieldston school, New York, N. Y., will speak this morning on "Recent Trends in Art Education and Their Implications."

Professor D'Amico is an author and lecturer on art education, he has exhibited paintings and etchings about the country and worked pro-

Dr. Plant Describes Study Of Drug Addiction in Speech Here

Estimates About 85 Per Cent of "Cured" Return to Drugs

Making drug addicts out of dogs, University of Iowa pharmacologists have been experimenting in an attempt to find a cure for addiction, Dr. O. H. Plant of the college of medicine declared in a Baconian lecture last night in chemistry auditorium.

Estimating that about 85 per cent of the so-called "cured" addicts return to taking drugs, Dr. Plant said that no cure for the "disease" of drug addiction has yet been found.

Dogs Best

Dogs are the best laboratory animal to use for such experiments, according to Dr. Plant, who asserted that a group of dog "addicts" can exhibit the same phenomena noticed in a group of human beings.

Dr. Plant and his colleagues have carried on a series of experiments to test the validity of a pharmacology theory which states that non-users of drugs excrete more morphine when given an injection, than do habitual users.

No Difference

They have discovered that there is no difference between the amount of morphine excreted by dog "addicts" and those who have not been forced to form the drug habit.

However, he declared, they have discovered that habitual users of drugs store up most of the morphine before excreting it, while the non-users excrete it without storing the drug.

He explained that more than 20 per cent of the injection is never recovered; that the rest appears to have been destroyed by the tissues.

Still Efficient
Increasing the consumption of oxygen 100 per cent above normal, Dr. Plant and his associates discovered that this storage of morphine still remains efficient in spite of the increased oxidation.

About one million drug users live in the United States, Dr. Plant said, basing his figures on a recent governmental bulletin. Addiction must be treated just as pneumonia, tuberculosis or any other serious disease, he declared.

Stressing the need for finding a real cure for opium addiction, Dr. Plant said that before real progress can be made, scientists must discover how morphine produces tolerance—the ability of a habitual drug user to withstand 100 times

THE FINEST TOBACCO— "THE CREAM OF THE CROP"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Cooper verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies.
