JAPANESE CRUSH TIENTSIN ATTACK

DEATH? NO, NOT EVEN A SCRATCH!

Imagine dropping 800 feet to earth in an airplane and then climbing out without a scratch! That's the lucky experience of Charles Larsen and M. J. Richardson, whose plane landed in this fashion when the controls stuck while flying over Austin, Tex. A maze of telephone wires broke the plane's fall and prevented possible death.

Submarines Fire Spanish Ship

Two Killed, No Trace of 21 of Crew After Fishermen Extinguish Blaze

NIMES, France, July 30 (AP)—The Spanish government freighter Audutz-Mendi, little more than a charred hulk after the guns of two unidentified submarines set her afire, brought her dead into the port of Le Grau du Roi tonight.

Only 11 members of her crew of 34 were known to have survived. There was no trace of 21 others, including six who fled the burning ship in a small boat.

White Flag

Fishermen, who put out to the disabled craft after she was attacked a short distance off the French coast, extinguished the blaze and brough ashore two bodies.

One was that of a seaman decapitated by a shell while he was going to raise the white flag of surrender. Such a flag, apparently a sailor's shirt, stil fluttered on the Audutz Mendi's staff.

The other victim was the ship's second officer.

Capt. Obdulio Castel, who came ashore with 10 of his crew, said the ship carried no refugees.

(Earlier reports from French coastal points had said the ship was carrying refugees from Valencia, Spain, and that two Spanish tankers, La Valetta and La Zorozza, also were fired on but managed to escape.)

Two Submarines

The captain said the Andutz Mendi was in French waters off Le Grau du Roi yesterday en route to Marseilles to load coal, when two submarines suddenly broke water on each side.

"I thought they were French," he related. "Therefore I was not alarmed."

Then, he said, one only 30 yards off machine-gunned his ship and fired a heavy gun, the first shots disabling the radio and sweeping the deck. He said most of the crew took refuge in the engine room until the 20-minute attack subsided and the submarines submerged.

Ranks of Rebels Torn by Revolt

VALENCIA, Spain July 31 (Saturday)-(AP)—Reports from the civil war front five miles from Granada early today said fighting apparently was continuing in a revolt in the insurgent-held provincial capital.

Bomb explosions could be heard and the Fabra (Spanish) news agency in a dispatch from Gibraltar said the uprising was more furious than at first believed. It said insurgent authorities were struggling desperately to localize the revolt.

The agency said the trouble started when Spanish soldiers were ordered from their barracks to make way for Italian volunteers fighting with the insurgents.

Evans Rules Nuns May Wear Ecclesiastical Garb in School

In a decision of statewide interest, District Judge Harold D. Evans ruled in district court yesterday it was not unlawful of Sister Mary Eugene Schwartz to wear religious garb while teaching, nor was it unlawful to turn all or part of her earnings over to the Catholic religious order while she was teaching in Cosgrove consolidated school.

The decision, contrary to the opinion written last year by former Attorney General Edward O'Connor, states that the school district must pay the plaintiff the sum of $100 per month for her last year's teaching.

School's Contention

The school district contended that it was not obliged to pay Sister Mary Eugene Schwartz because, for more than a year prior to the beginning of the action, she had been a member of the Sisters of Humility of Mary, an ecclesiastical order of the Catholic church, the members of which wear a characteristic religious garb, and that while teaching in the school the plaintiff wore the garb of a Catholic nun.

The school district also alleged the plaintiff was not entitled to recover in the action because she paid to the religious order a part or all of her compensation.

Attracted Interest

The case attracted much interest, because it was a test case of the opinion in which Attorney General O'Connor held that a member of a religious order could not teach in a public school while wearing her religious garb and that no salary should be paid to a teacher when it was transferred by the teacher to a sectarian institution.

Judge Evans said in his ruling: "There is no law in the state of Iowa that prevents the wearing of a religious garb while teaching in a public school" and that "it is the business of the teacher what is done with her salary, and not the business of the court."

Southern Senators Shout Opposition To Wage, Hour Limits

Rebellion At Hearing Led By Harrison

Bill Would Check South's Rise, Says South Carolinian

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Southern oratory of the old-fashioned full-voiced type reinvigorated today a movement to bury the administration wage and hour bill in a senate committee.

Led by Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a candidate only last week for the post of majority leader, and Senator Smith (D-SC), the southerners almost to a man banded together in outright revolt against the measure.

Harrison shouted the bill would set up a labor standards board which would destroy "business, large and small, by its administrative fiats."

Would "Check South"

Smith declared the measure is intended to "check the inevitable rise of the south from the lowly condition in which the war between the states left it."

"If South Carolina living conditions are so kindly," he said, "that it takes only 50 cents a day to live reasonably and comfortably, and in New England it takes a dollar and a half, then must we raise the wages in the south to a dollar and a half?"

Green Endorses Bill

Administration leaders, who earlier had counted the battle won when William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged the bill's passage, hurriedly checked the senate roll-call. They reported there were still enough votes to pass the bill, though they were obviously worried.

Another southerner, Reynolds of North Carolina, succeeded in obtaining approval of an amendment to exempt firms of 10 or less employes, but his triumph was short-lived. Administration leaders went to work in the cloak rooms and in the senate office building.

Reconsider

A motion to reconsider followed and by a vote of 52 to 31, the amendment was swept out of the bill. The result was generally considered a significant administration victory and the leading proponents of the bill were much encouraged.

Tall Corn Derby Nears Showdown

DES MOINES, July 30 (AP)—Like the caravans of old, bearing foods and rich spices, Wisconsin's corn derby caravan moved into Iowa tonight, bearing that state's entry in the "tall corn contest" and an assortment of its best products.

A 30-foot trailer, loaded with the tallest corn stalks Wisconsin grows, and a state conservation commission truck, carrying Wisconsin cheese, refrigerated fish and other delicacies, were reported tonight nearing Des Moines.

Wilbur G. Carlson, Wisconsin director of agricultural publicity, here to lay the ground work for tomorrow's judging, told Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel the trucks were decorated "like circus wagons."

Governor Kraschel, who wagered a dinner with Wisconsin's Gov. Philip LaFollette that Iowa could produce a corn stalk two feet taller than Wisconsin's best, will meet the badger state's chief executive here tomorrow morning.

Arctic Heat!

Snow Melts at Soviet North Pole Camp

MOSCOW, July 30 (AP)—It was so warm at the North Pole the snow melted around the camp of four Soviet weather observers, they reported today.

They had to haul more snow from afar to get drinkable water.

The prolonged "warm spell"—just above freezing—even endangered their camp, as the ice began to melt out from under it.

Their account of conditions where they are to spend the winter, studying the weather and advising polar fliers, was the first detailed report in two weeks. The wind had been too light to drive their windmill electric plant, and they had used their batteries only enough to send a brief message daily.

"Our tent is on an ice pedestal," today's report said. "We are taking heroic measures to protect it."

A deep stream runs past their tent door, the explorers said, and they have been out on it in their rubber boat.

Federal Jury Indicts 39 On Fraud Charge

Indictments Conclude 3 Month Investigation Of Insurance Racket

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—A federal grand jury here returned 15 indictments against 39 persons today as it concluded a three-months investigation of an alleged insurance disability racket.

"The racket is not confined to New York but has active participants elsewhere throughout the country," asserted U. S. attorney Lamar Hardy, announcing his inquiry would continue.

The indictments returned today to Federal Judge Sidney C. Mize of Mississippi, now sitting here, charge 10 physicians and eight lawyers, among others, with aiding policy-holders to fake disabilities and collect claims from major insurance companies.

The indictments charge that policy-holders located by "chasers" would be coached by attorneys to feign symptoms of heart disease, would be given medicine and exercise to disturb the heart action and then be taken to unsuspecting physicians for certification of their condition. Lawyers would pay the expenses in each case, the indictments allege, and be reimbursed from claims collected.

Roosevelt Authorizes Building of Six Ships

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today a bill authorizing construction of six naval auxiliary vessels at a maximum cost of $50,000,000.

Teachers Play

Try To Understand Modern Child

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Several hundred school teachers from the straight-laced little towns and villages of the midwest and south are whooping it up this summer under the amiable aegis of Columbia university.

As part of their courses at the summer session of Teachers college they are attending ball games, prize fights, night clubs, polo matches and yacht races.

They are eating in French and Spanish, Greek and Serbian restaurants in New York's old world neighborhoods; they are visiting the east side to discuss politics and child-raising with bearded pushcart peddlers, and touring Harlem and Little Italy.

The idea, as explained by their instructor, Roma Gans, as she took them to the ball game at Yankee stadium today, was to rub the corners off their schoolmarmish attitude and help them better to understand their young charges back home.

"The old-fogey teacher can't win the respect of her children because nobody is so modern as the modern child," said Miss Gans. "Nor can she hope to understand her children if she doesn't know what interests them, and why."

Rescuers Hold Death List To 4 in Ship Fire

Shipping Officials Begin Investigation, Order 50 to Hearing

BALTIMORE, July 30 (AP)—Quick action by a flotilla of rescue craft held the death list in the City of Baltimore steamship fire to not more than four, a check of survivors and passengers and crew lists established today.

Of the 93 persons aboard the Baltimore-Norfolk boat when the fire broke out in the hold an hour after she sailed, 89 were rescued alive. Two are dead and two missing. Six survivors were slightly injured.

Sees Sabotage

Shipping officials, rescue work completed, centered their attention on causes of the blaze which flared through the wooden superstructure of the over-night liner.

Almost at once, Capt. Charles O. Brooks, a veteran of 35 years in the Norfolk-Baltimore service and commander of the City of Baltimore, said the "amazing" spread of the fire suggested sabotage to him.

Visit Wreck

Federal steamboat inspectors visited the wreck today with company officials. The federal agency ordered more than 50 of the officers and crew to appear at a hearing tomorrow.

Doctors here said the two known dead, J. R. Polikoff, a passenger, and a retired merchant of Aiken, S.C., and Charles Wealton, of Crisfield, M.D., a member of the crew, drowned when they leaped from the burning boat.

SEES BILLION AND HALF RISE IN FARM INCOME

OMAHA, July 30 (AP)—Farmers will have at least one and a half billion dollars more to spend this year than they had last year, Harvey Hill, Chicago broker and former vice-president of the Chicago stock exchange, predicted in Omaha today.

"That's a lot of money," he said. "I can't even imagine it. My estimate is too low, if anything."

Mr. Hill asserted he believed the trend of grain prices, particularly of wheat, will be upward.

"The corn outlook is so good I'm afraid to contemplate it," he declared.

New Comet Visible For Next 3 Weeks

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP) — The most recently-discovered comet, seen first by P. Finsler of Zurich, Switzerland, on July 4, will be visible to the naked eye during the first weeks in August, astronomers of the Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago said today.

They said it would be visible between Aug. 1 and 21, moving across the Big Dipper group, from close to the Pole star to near Arcturus. Appearing in the evening sky, Finsler's comet will be brightest around Aug. 9, the astronomers said.

Keep Grip On Terror-Ridden Chinese Center

Japanese Dominate Region Between Sea And Yungting River

TIENTSIN, July 31 (Saturday) (AP)—Japanese field batteries shelled the outlying districts of this terror-stricken city again this morning—but the cannonades apparently were only for moral effect.

No shells were necessary; the Japanese control of Tientsin and her outskirts was virtually complete.

The area before the Japanese troops appeared cleared of all Chinese opposition. No answering shots were heard.

The Japanese forces dominated the whole region of China from the Pacific to the Yungting river, west of Peiping.

Thousands Flee

Thousands of homeless Chinese streamed out of the native sections of Tientsin last night, seeking escape from the terror of the past two days.

Japanese shells and air bombs fired buildings in the Chinese sections of the city again yesterday. Chinese said corpses still lay in the streets, but there was no estimate of casualties. Thursday, in the first day of bombardment, Chinese officers said thousands of non-combatant Chinese were killed or wounded.

From many points along the twisting 100-mile front between the coast and Peiping's western environs came Japanese claims of success for their army. Other accounts tended to show Chinese resistance had been smashed over a wide area.

University Bombed

The Japanese declared yesterday's Tientsin bombardment was necessary to wipe out centers of Chinese military preparation and to turn back a Chinese counter-attack. There had been rifle firing along the fringes of the Japanese concession, when suddenly Japanese air bombers and heavy artillery swung into action.

Among the targets was the science library of Nankai university, gift of the Rockefeller foundation to that institution, most important center of learning in the north. At the same time the preparatory schools of Nankai in the native city were bombed.

New Explosion Of Land Mine Rocks Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 31 (Saturday) (AP)—A land mine exploded with a terrific detonation at 2:15 a.m. today 50 yards from the police barracks on Devonshire street.

First reports indicated no one was injured, but residents of a wide area of the city were awakened in terror.

Families clad in night clothes rushed out into the streets as a disused building nearby toppled and scores of windows throughout the area were shattered.

The blast was a continuation of the disorders which began early Wednesday morning preceding the arrival of King George and Queen Elizabeth on their state visit.

Cresco Fire Razes 2 Store Buildings

CRESCO, July 30 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin tonight destroyed two store buildings here, with an estimated loss of approximately $1,000.

Supervisors Name New Welfare Board

Three members of Johnson county's newly-formed board of social welfare were named yesterday by the board of supervisors. They are Charles W. Lacina and Dan J. Peters, members of the board of supervisors, and Mrs. L. G. Lawyer, 402 S. Linn street. They will hold office until Jan. 1.

The board will direct the county old age assistance program, and the aid of the dependent children, blind and emergency relief.

Every Dog--And Cat--Has His Day at Pet Shows

Prize Playmates Bring Awards to Iowa City Children in Events at Three Playgrounds

Cats, dogs and pets of all shapes and sizes, friendly playmates of Iowa City boys and girls, were exhibited at Horace Mann and Henry Sabin playgrounds yesterday afternoon in the pet shows, while at Longfellow school a doll show was in progress.

Prize ribbons were awarded in all three events, conducted by Madeliene King, playground supervisor.

At the pet show at the Henry Sabin playground, prize ribbons were given to Ned Billick, for the smallest dog; Patty May Gibson, skinnest dog; Keith Fulton and Bessie King, best behaved dog; Dorothy Estella Nicola, largest dog and dog with longest tail, Reuben Schneider, dog with longest ears. Doris Jane Kilbourne, largest cat; Patricia Baldwin, smallest cat and blackest cat; Art Beasley, chicken; Donald DeWulfe, Chester Fisher and Joe Burns, rabbits; Doris Jean Bendure and Betty Lou Workman, birds; and Sonny Dean, most unusual pet, a frog. The staff of Henry Sabin school judged the contest.

Prize ribbons for the doll show at Longfellow playground were awarded to Mary Ellen Jones, for the largest doll; Margery Reed, smallest doll (made by South American Indians); Donna Lucky, prettiest doll; Peggy Rae Cook, funniest doll; Gwendolyn McComas, oldest doll (19 years old); Theo Hazard, best dressed doll; Kathleen Reed, most unusual doll; and Jeanne Ott, doll with prettiest hair. Judges of the contest were Mrs. Cromwell Jones and Edith Koontz.

A New Era In Egypt

FOR THE first time since the Ottoman empire crushed the Mameluke kings, 400 years ago, Egypt this week has an independent ruler.

He is Farouk I, son of Fuad I, who died last year, and a descendant of Mehemet Ali, who united Egypt 130 years ago. Fuad might have been Egypt's first independent sovereign in 400 years, but he died, unfortunately, just four months before the last Anglo-Egyptian treaty was signed in August, 1936.

Because Farouk was only a boy, a regency has been governing Egypt; but Thursday the boy became a man. On that day, by the Mohammedan calendar, Farouk was 18 years old, and he was conducted to the throne by his jubilantly celebrating subjects.

It was not only a happy occasion, but a significant one as well. Egypt, as a separate and responsible government, was taking on a king, answerable only to his own people under a popularly approved constitution. A new era was beginning after 55 years of British military occupation.

It was a long, arduous task to throw off the British yoke, and several attempts resulted only in imposing it all the firmer. Of late years, however, Great Britain has been more yielding, gradually relinquishing her hold until Aug. 26, 1936, when Egypt was awarded virtual independence.

Her status now is actually that of a country allied with Great Britain, but technically she is independent and a full-fledged member of the league of nations.

Egypt is enthusiastic and ready to control her destiny. Economically, she has all the essentials of an important, self-sustaining nation, lying as she does in the midst of the rich Nile valley. She also lies in a strategic position on the important Mediterranean sea, lately the focal point of world attention. This would seem to guarantee her a certain prominence by itself.

Her fiscal system is in order, one thing for which the British may be thanked, and extensive reforms are under way in sanitation, education, and social conditions. Railroads and highways are mushrooming up, and air routes are being widely established.

After several centuries of suppression, Egypt's ancient and early civilization is reasserting itself.

Once again Egypt stands ready to take her former place in world affairs.

Working With Wages and Hours

WITHDRAWAL OF C.I.O. support from the Black-Connery bill has placed it in jeopardy as far as passage this session is concerned.

Labor Leader Lewis demands that the bill be stripped of all its provisions except those of wage and hour regulation. He sharply opposes those terms which would give a federal labor board wide powers to manipulate these standards. And he is right in that the establishment of such a board would be neither plausible nor practical. Experience with the Federal Farm board should have taught legislators the inadequacy of a small group of men to police a large portion of the nation's industry.

The pending bill would empower a board to fix a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour and shorten the working week to 40 hours. It is possible, however, that a bureaucratic fixing of minimums might eventually lead to the fixing of maximums also; and if this does not happen, there is the allied danger that minimums might become maximums. In the words of Senator Borah, "The tremendous pressure brought by business interests to preserve the status quo will prevent any real increase where it is needed."

Borah proposes that congress write fixed wage and hour standards into the law instead of leaving the job to an administrative agency. With this provision, labor would be assured of consideration. Such a law, made on the basis of existing wages in the more progressive states, would avoid the introduction of drastic, unworkable changes by an erratic board, would encourage all states to adopt higher standards.

Congressional wrangling over the bill has revealed not only the necessity for careful revision, but the inability of this body, in its disgruntled state of mind, to act on such vital legislation.

The bill is important. It must be achieved. But the purpose should not be allowed to fail because wilted legislators are in a hurry to get rid of it.

Our Rendezvous With Destiny

"THIS GENERATION," said President Roosevelt during the campaign of 1936, "has a rendezvous with destiny."

It was a fervid sentence. It expresses the almost religious enthusiasm of a reforming leader and the faith he has in the lasting value of the recent evolutionary changes in the federal government.

But the opposition returns a cold, satirical answer. In an open letter this week, Amos Pinchot, one of the president's most trenchant critics, looks askance at this prophetic statement:

"Mr. President," he says, "sometimes I wonder at the state of mind of reformers—at their shining dreams and their sordid methods, at the recklessness with which they gamble with other people's lives and happiness. And above all, at the fortitude with which they bear other people's distress."

Here we have the historic conflict between the believer and the doubter—the struggle between those who think experimentation can solve social difficulties and those who believe we should follow the path indicated by tradition and convention.

Specifically, the matter narrows down to the question of the necessity for giving increased powers to the president. The president, although too politically wise to admit it in so many words, believes that only through increased executive power can the reforms of the past few years be consolidated and maintained. He thinks that the government will become a hopelessly complex and unwieldy machine unless he is granted powers of reorganization. Already the government is a giant octopus reaching its regulatory arms into every phase of life; and without a keen and powerful brain at Washington to coordinate its activities, it is likely to become muscle-bound and inefficient.

Hence the introduction of the executive reorganization bill. It would give the president power to consolidate independent agencies, such as the Interstate Commerce commission, under already existing departments and make other changes. He could increase the number of governmental employes and extend the limits of the civil service. The powers would not be restricted by the necessity of gaining congressional approval.

It is evident, therefore, that the bill is an attempt to increase the powers of the president—despite all assertions of the administration to the contrary. The debate should consider the matter from that basis. If the vastly extended authority and activities of the federal government require closer administration by the president, he should be given these increased powers. Certainly, it is difficult to see how the old and arbitrary classifications can be very efficient after the amazing expansion of the last few years.

Science Has No Holiday

"TAKE A 10-year holiday"—that was the advice given to science in 1927 by a certain Bishop of Ripon, who feared that discoveries were increasing too rapidly for man to keep up with them.

The 10 years have passed. It is evident that science did not heed his warning, for the period stands out as one of the most fruitful in history.

Think of the marvels which would have gone undiscovered had the world come to a standstill in 1927. We would not have the positron, a minute particle more powerful than radium, the discovery of which may lead to a cure for cancer. That remarkable hormone, insulin, which is successfully used in the treatment of diabetes, insanity, and even asthma, would be unknown. We would also be unaware of the possibility of growing vegetation without soil.

These are but a few of the important achievements of this period—achievements that may lengthen life, improve health, and be a blessing to all mankind. Their greatest value, however, lies not in their contribution to the field of knowledge, but in the stimulus which they have given to the minds of men. They have sharpened our perception of nature, and stand as a continual challenge for new ideas, new desires, and new methods of realizing them.

Tuning In with Lenore DeVries

To be a geologist was Harry Salter's one prayer until he started to study to be one. Then he decided to be anything but one and turned to engineering. But it wasn't very long before he had decided that was a bad move and transferred to the Chicago conservatory of music to study the violin with Prof. Leopold Auer.

Seasickness Often Mental, Not Physical, Disorder, Says Doctor

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"NOW THAT mid-summer is here, with all its heat, many of your readers will be taking ocean voyages. Won't you please tell us something about sea sickness?"

I hope many of you do take ocean voyages this summer. Nowadays the steamers are nearly all so large that there is very little motion. The novice in ocean travel dreads seasickness and usually finds his fears were all unnecessary. Most of these travelers, if they do have seasickness at all, have it from anticipation. They have mental seasickness.

Remedies Useless

Remedies are very little good. The seasickness preventatives you buy at the drug store before you sail are a waste of money. I never knew one to do any good.

Seasickness has nothing to do with your stomach. It is due to the disturbance of the semi-circular canals in the ear, which control equilibrium. Any sudden change of position upsets these and causes vertigo and vomiting.

The best preventative of seasickness is courage—a determination to enjoy the rolling and plunging of the boat, to glory in the wind and the spray.

If that doesn't work, about the only thing to do is go to your berth, and let nature take its course.

Cleanliness in Camp

If you are going camping or traveling this summer, remember that you can't suddenly slough off all the rules of modern living. Fundamental rules of health can't be ignored. Germs don't take vacation.

Neither a frilled dress nor a sweaty shirt is an appropriate costume for camp life. Wash your hands before and after each meal. Dirty dishes, even if they are tin, are just as disgusting in camp as at home. Soiled bedding out under the stars is no nicer than in your pink and white boudoir.

"One of the surest tests of the efficiency of a camp director is the cleanliness of his camp," says a Scout manual.

General Notices

Ph.D. Reading Examination in French

The examination for certification of reading ability in French will be given Monday, August 2, 6-9 a.m. in room 314 Schaeffer hall. Please make personal application and leave all material in major field to be submitted for the examination with Miss Knease by Wednesday, July 28. As the examination is two hours long candidates may come either at 6 or 7 o'clock but at no other time. Office hours: 10-11:30 daily, 307 Schaeffer hall.

ROMANCE LANGUAGES DEPARTMENT

Pi Lambda Theta

There will be an informal Pi Lambda Theta luncheon at the Union cafeteria each Thursday at 12 noon during the summer session. No reservations are necessary. Members of all chapters are most cordially invited.

ISABELLE MACDONALD, President

Corrective Class

On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3 to 4 p.m., any women students interested in individual conference or exercises for posture, weak feet, overweight, or other special needs, may report to the individual gymnastics room at the women's gymnasium. Posture pictures will be taken if desired.

LORAINE FROST

Student Employment

Students or non-students interested in earning board during the period from Aug. 6 to Sept. 20 are requested to report to the Employment Bureau immediately.

Most of these jobs can be worked on the basis of one hour at each meal time, and consequently there would be no more loss of time than that usually given to the meal hour.

The cooperation of all students or prospective students is especially urged, since as a result of the change in dates of the summer session, this period of work is causing an unusual problem.

LEE H. KANN, Manager

Recreational Gymnastics

The main gymnasium of the field house will be open every afternoon from 2 to 4 for the use of men interested in work-outs in gymnastic and apparatus work, under the supervision of Mr. Baumgartner.

E. G. SCHROEDER, Director

Department Picnic

The home economics department picnic will be held at the City park Monday evening, Aug. 2. Transportation will be furnished from the north entrance of Macbride hall at 5:30. Reservations must be made by Monday noon.

LUCY LANE, Home economics department

To Students in the Graduate College Expecting to Receive Degrees at the Coming Convocation:

Each student in the graduate college who expects to receive the master's degree, or the doctorate, at the forthcoming Convocation, is requested, so far as he may not have done so heretofore, to procure for us immediately the official transcript of whatever graduate work he may have accomplished in another graduate school. He should then advise the assistant university examiner of his selection of a major (both major and minor for the doctorate) so that his work may be transferred to his graduate record here.

This should be done early within the session. Otherwise we may be unable to certify for graduation a student who has accomplished satisfactory work elsewhere.

H. C. DORCAS, Registrar.

Recreational Swimming

Recreational swimming will be open for women at the women's gymnasium pool every afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock during the week and from 10 to 12 on Saturday mornings.

MIRIAM TAYLOR

Chemistry Lecture

Prof. L. Charles Raiford will lecture on "Effect of Composition of Acyl on its Ability to Migrate from Nitrogen to Oxygen" Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Chemistry auditorium.

GEORGE H. COLEMAN, Chairman

Conference

A conference on "Planning for American Education" will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 3, in Old Capitol, under the auspices of the Educational Policies commission of the National Education association.

Participants are Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of the Denver schools and president of the commission; Agnes Samuelson, superintendent of public instruction and a member of the commission; and W. E. Peik, professor of education, University of Minnesota, and a special consultant of the commission.

The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock and the afternoon session at 2 o'clock.

All persons interested are invited to attend the conference and the luncheon which will be held in Iowa Union at 12 o'clock on Tuesday.

SUMMER SESSION OFFICE

Bird Hike

A bird hike under the direction of Prof. F. J. Lazell will be held Saturday morning, July 31. Everyone interested is invited to join the party. The group will leave the east front of Old Capitol promptly at 6 a.m.

SUMMER SESSION OFFICE

Summer Convocation

The graduates' dinner will be held in the lounge, Iowa Union, at 6:00 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 5th. Tickets for candidates, their guests, and faculty will be available at the Alumni office from Aug. 2 till noon, Aug. 5.

The graduating exercises will be held on the west approach of Old Capitol, Friday evening, Aug. 6, at 8 o'clock, weather permitting. If the weather is unfavorable the exercises will be held in the lounge, Iowa Union.

Candidates who have supplied their measurements may secure caps and gowns in the Union Board room adjacent to the river room, Iowa Union, from 2:00 to 7:30 p.m., Friday, Aug. 6.

F. G. HIGBEE, Director of Convocations

Physical Education Films

A series of films showing women's physical education activities will be shown next Monday at 4 p.m. in the women's gymnasium. Tennis, "sports day," Danish gymnastics, posture and hockey, which includes a game between the Welsh team and the local team. R. E. Titus will also show a film on a new type of play apparatus he has made.

ELIZABETH HALSEY

Pi Omega Pi

The Epsilon chapter of Pi Omega Pi will hold a luncheon in Iowa Union at noon, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

Recreational Swimming for Men

The fieldhouse pool will be open for general swimming during the following hours:

Mornings from 9 to 12.
Afternoons from 2 to 9.

Any student may use the fieldhouse privileges without additional locker fee charge. However, he must present his tuition receipt at the locker room office and have a locker assigned.

D. A. ARMBRUSTER, Director of Gymnasium.

To Study Possibility Of Colonizing Arctic

OAKLAND, Cal. (AP)—To find out whether the Arctic regions are suitable for big scale colonization is the object of a 14-month research trip mapped by Dr. Victor E. Levine. He has taken a leave of absence from his chair of biological chemistry at Creighton university, Omaha, and sailed for Point Barrow, Alaska, on the coast guard cutter Duane.

"The population of the world is increasing at about 20 million persons a year," said Dr. Levine. "In years to come new areas will have to be opened up for human habitation.

"How the food and climate of the Arctic regions will react on people from tropic and temperate climates is what I hope to find out."

Dr. Levine, a veteran of four other expeditions into the far north, is being accompanied by Tu-tu, a pet, half-wolf and half-dog.

A New Yorker At Large

By JACK STINNETT

NEW YORK—Ray Block is writing the most unusual autobiography we ever heard of . . . a symphonic autobiography, divided not into the conventional four movements, but into the emotional sequences that have influenced his not-very-long span of years (he is only 35).

One of the first will be the time he was sitting at the piano of the Block home in Alsace-Lorraine, running scales for Baron Lorthy, his music teacher. Suddenly, there was a great explosion. The earth trembled. The lad was thrown to the floor . . . not physically harmed but terribly shaken emotionally . . . for that was his first contact with war.

Not long after, his home was shattered by a German shell; Baron Lorthy was led away to a concentration camp; and young Ray was hidden by his father under a carload of vegetables as the family made their escape to Paris.

There was, too, his first moment of musical triumph. The family had moved to New York. Ray still was in his 'teens. The church his family attended wished to organize a choir. Ray enlisted. But the choir was composed of such an unruly, boisterous bunch of rowdies that in a few weeks the choirmaster quit in despair. Ray took over and out of the group of young burlies, moulded a fine singing organization.

While still a youngster, Ray Block formed his own orchestral quintet, was persuaded by his booking agent to double its number . . . toured the country . . . and returned to sign a contract with one of the major radio chains. That was 13 years ago and he has been there ever since; musical doctor to asthmatic programs, conductor, arranger, coach.

In the last-named capacity, he has coached the Eton Boys, Benay Venuta, Margaret McCrae, Patti Chapin, Sally Singer, Del Casino. His latest credit was organization of a popular ether group, called the "Swing Fourteen."

SCREEN LIFE

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—People who work for Cecil Blount DeMille think he is a genius. Every time I see the man, I too come away convinced that he is a genius. And I have just seen him.

Tomorrow, when the hypnotic spell wears off, I may concede that C.B. is only a very smart fellow, a master showman, and a superb actor. Today, for my pennies, he is a genius. And not only that—he is making the greatest movie of all time.

He made no such claim for "The Buccaneer," story of Jean LaFitte, Louisiana pirate and patriot. He merely talked about it, about LaFitte and his stirring times and deeds. He merely related, with vigor and keen dramatic sense, a few highlights which he expects to record on film. He merely loosed a quiet, sparkling stream of enthusiasm which washed away all doubts, if any existed, concerning "The Buccaneer."

And while he talked, he worked. He received a seamstress who wanted approval of a costume; he answered calls, telephoned orders, received henchmen each of whom wanted a decision on some detail of production.

He talked to his production unit in Louisiana, discussed progress, gave directions as to a scene being made 2,000 miles away.

He was submerged in "The Buccaneer." Office walls were covered with Dan Sayre Groesbeck's lushly romantic paintings of scenes yet to be filmed. A table bore miniature sets yet to be erected in life size. There were Dwight Franklin figurines of pirates, and stacks of documents, photostatic copies of letters stained with pirate blood, books, histories, maps.

He was not yet in full directorial flower. His business suit was conservative, his haberdashery mild. Later he would don puttees, and vivid shirts, and become Ye Compleat Movie Director—with megaphone. Later he would bark orders, like a god from Olympus. Later he would flay his extras with verbal lashes, make his subordinates hop at the crack of his whip, make them hate him and love him and get his picture finished.

But now, in his office, he was urbane, serious and humorous by turns the scholar, the business executive, the genial human fellow of broad and cultured interests—and the genius.

And so powerful is the man's hypnotic charm that only now it seems amusing that, in the wake of this Olympian procession, there came a quiet, lonely-looking little man who walked, scarcely noticed, to another table. Merely Adolph Zukor, the president of Paramount.

Lewis, Dullnig Meet in Net Finals

Finalists Make Bids Today In 'Sippi Tourney

Prosser, Kenefick Will Compete for Women's Singles Championship

By JOHN MOONEY
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Although they teamed together to win the Iowa state doubles championship last week in Des Moines and have fought their way into the final today in this competition, there will be none of that friendly partnership in this afternoon's singles matches when Morey Lewis, state singles champion, meets his traveling companion, George Dullnig, for the singles championship of the seventh annual Mississippi Valley tennis tournament.

Lewis gained his place in the finals by trouncing the dark-horse entry, Forrest Hainline, 6-4, 6-2, while Dullnig was extended almost to the limit to defeat Ed Davis, 6-0, 0-6, 6-2.

In the women's singles matches yesterday, Mrs. Nora West Prosser trounced Mrs. Matilda Baseleon, 6-1, 6-2, and her rival for the championship, Thelma Kenefick, nosed Carol Mundhenke, Dubuque city champion, 6-4, 7-5.

Leonard Prosser and Ed Lorfing of Kansas City gained a berth in the final bracket by trimming Ed Davis and Ken Black of Peoria, Ill., 6-4, 6-1. The favored duo of Lewis and Dullnig made short work of the Hainline brothers, winning 6-1, 6-1.

Manager Ted Swenson announced yesterday that a small admission fee would be charged for the final matches today starting at 1:30.

Six More Entries Received For Country Club's Golf Tourney

Six additional entries for the Iowa City area golf tournament that starts Aug. 1 at the Country club swelled the total list to 34, according to Don Young, tourney manager.

Entries may be made during next week at the club, or at the sports desk of The Daily Iowan and the Iowa City Press-Citizen.

The $1 entry fee entitles each competitor to four 18-hole rounds of golf. Any Johnson county golfer may enter and play a practice, qualifying, first, and second or consolation round. Teesmen from West Liberty, Kalona and Wellman are also eligible to enter the meet.

Yesterday's entrants were Arnold Gleusing, runner-up for the club title, Marc Stewart, former university golfer, Ted Swenson, Herb Reichardt, Albert Schmidt Jr., and Fred Bleifuss.

The qualifying rounds will be shot between Aug. 1 and 7.

Down The Sports Trail

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW PORT, R.I., July 30 (AP)—Column on the America's cup yacht races by a landlubber for landlubbers:

BEGINNING. . . Very much peeved because British yachtsmen snubbed them and their boats, American ship builders and business men built a clipper yacht called "America" and sent it over to England to look for a race. In 1851, the "America" got its big chance, meeting and easily defeating the entire fleet of the fastest British yachts in a race around the Isle of Wight before Queen Victoria.

The victory did the trick. American yacht builders gained respect. Their business boomed. The "America" brought back the Royal Squadron cup, worth $500, re-named it the "America's cup" and dared the British to try to win it back. The British have tried 15 times, but came closer only twice. Most prominent of their defeated yachtsmen was Sir Thomas Lipton, who spent millions trying.

Until the cup is lost by American defenders, the races will be held in American waters, probably always off Newport, which cashes in with its fancy prices from visitors. Ten dollars a night for a hotel room, etc.

CHALLENGE. . . No time or date is set for challenges. The cup remains in a vault at Tiffany's, New York, until some Britisher—or anyone else—decides to challenge. The challenge is sent to the New York Yacht club, which calls a meeting and usually forms a syndicate to build a new boat to defend. This year, Harold Stirling Vanderbilt, successful defender in 1930 and '34, built the boat, Ranger, out of his own pocket, won the trials and is ready to go to the post against Thomas Octave Murdoch Sopwith, wealthy English airplane manufacturer, whose yacht is named Endeavor II. Sopwith raced against Vanderbilt's Rainbow in '34 and was beaten.

RACE. . . It's like the world series of baseball, the yacht winning that captures four out or seven races. Closest the British challengers ever came was in 1920 when Sir Lipton's Shamrock IV won two in a three out of five series from Resolute and in '34 when Sopwith's Endeavor I won the first two starts from Vanderbilt's Rainbow in a four out of seven series. Out of 47 races, the American defenders have won 42 and the challengers five.

COURSE. . . Two courses are used—the triangular and the windward-leeward, each measuring 30 miles in length. The triangular is equilateral or 10 miles each way. The other course is 15 miles against the wind and 15 miles with the wind—back and forth. Wind is necessary. If there's no wind, the race is postponed. If any "with the wind and against the wind" race isn't completed in five and one-half hours or in a triangular race in five hours, the race must be re-sailed. Races are held every day except Sunday unless one of the skippers asks a day's postponement for repairs.

RIVAL YACHTS. . . Ranger was built in Bath, Maine. Her body is steel, flush plated, and very smooth. There's considerable aluminum used in the fittings. To save money it is using many of Rainbow's sails—recut but the same cloth. Ranger weighs 164 tons. Endeavor II was built in Gosport, England. It is built of steel and weighs 166.5 tons. Each has a crew of 27, who are spurred on by good bonuses, some reaching $50, for each victory.

EXPERTS. . . More than 100 sports writers are on the scene but only about a dozen of them know what it's all about. Yachting glossary stumps them and so does the race because, unaccustomed to distance on water, they can't tell who's winning and why. Three of the best known old timers covering the race, fellows who know as much about sailing as Connie Mack does about baseball, are Bill Swan of the Boston Post, Jeff Davis, Providence Journal-Bulletin and Duncan Curry, New York Journal. When they say a yacht won by an inch and a half, why it won by an inch and a half. It's official. Three are several others like Tom Horgan of the Associated Press who know the sailing ropes, but the vast majority of "experts" get seasick and vow never to come back to the races—only to come back for another try.

Indy Morton, Edith Estabrooks Compete For State Crown

WATERLOO, July 30 (AP)—The women's state golf championship will be at stake tomorrow when Edith Estabrooks of Dubuque, defending champion, tees off against Indy Morton of Okoboji in the final match of the state tournament.

Miss Estabrooks advanced through today's semifinal round with a decisive victory over Jo MacRae of Ames. She turned in a 77 and won the match, 5 and 4.

The other semifinal match was a different story. Kathleen Carey, 17-year-old Cedar Rapids girl, gave Miss Morton the toughest battle of the tournament before the Okoboji par smasher won the match on the 19th green.

Twice Kathleen came from behind to even the count, staging a magnificent rally on the 18th, but she could not match her opponent's deadly accuracy on the 19th hole.

Alice Marble Triumphs

SEABRIGHT, N. J. (AP)—Alice Marble of San Francisco won a second leg on the Seabright bowl yesterday by defeating Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, Polish champion, in the women's finals of the 50th annual invitation tennis tournament of the Lawn Tennis and Cricket club. The scores were 6-3, 5-7, 8-6.

WOMEN'S SINGLES FINALIST

Mrs. Nora West Prosser was snapped yesterday as she executed a nice backhand return of Mrs. Matilda Baseleon's smash in their match in the woman's singles division of the annual Mississippi Valley tennis tournament now in progress on the library annex courts. Mrs. Prosser meets Thelma Kenefick for the women's title today.

BITS about SPORTS

by JOHN MOONEY

Had a long talk with George Dullnig yesterday. Dullnig, you will recall, won the state doubles championship in Des Moines last week with Morey Lewis, and he was in a mellow mood after his blistering victory over Ed Davis.

George is frankly tired of tennis tournaments. He wants to go back to San Antonio, Tex., and he thinks the Cedar Rapids tourney next week will be his last match.

In speaking of athletics and subsidization in the University of Texas, where George is a student, he was of the opinion that the situation was not as bad as was reported. Said he, "Some of the football players are given jobs in the filling stations, the rest of us, basketball, tennis, and golf players, and track men, have jobs in the athletic department similar to the way they do here."

"They have a new idea down there though since Bible has taken charge—the athletes competing in the spring sports are allowed to work out all their work in the winter when they would not be so busy, in this way, they are allowed their monthly stipend and they still have the time to study during their athletic season."

* * *

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Amos Rusie established the sublime and the ridiculous pitching records in the same season—1890—while a member of the New York Giants? He allowed 276 bases on balls, still the record, and he struck out 345 batters, a mark which still endures.

Yanks Receive Better Hurling; Defeat Browns

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—For the first time in a week, the Yankees received effective pitching today and they combined it with their customary clouting to trample the St. Louis Browns 8 to 2 in the current series opener.

Young Kemp Wicker, making his second start since he was brought up from the Yanks' International league farm at Newark, stopped the slugging Brownies with seven hits, and blanked them until the sixth as he chalked up his second straight win.

His chief assistants in the victory were Lou Gehrig, who clouted his 20th homer with a mate aboard in the first inning.

High School Will Test All New Students

Principal Announces Classification Exams To Be Given Aug. 10

Examinations for pupils expecting to enter grades seven to 12 will be given Aug. 10 prior to the opening of the 22nd annual session of University high school, Prof. Harry K. Newburn, principal, announced yesterday.

At the time of examination, pupils may also register for the fall session which will open Sept. 20 at 9 a.m.

The examinations for pupils entering grades seven, eight, 10, 11 and 12, are not entrance examinations but will serve for purposes of classification and guidance.

Because of the large number expected to apply for entrance to the ninth grade, the examinations will serve as a means of determining the quality of each applicant. No student who has not been previously enrolled in the school will be considered for admission to the ninth grade unless the examinations are completed.

Students who were enrolled in the eighth grade of University high school last year will take examinations for the purpose of classification, not for entrance.

The examinations will be given at 9 a.m. and 1:15 p.m. in the gymnasium. Entering students will attend both series.

Chapman Winner Of Last All-State High School Speech Test

Marvin Chapman, son of Mrs. Nate Chapman, 723 Oakland avenue, yesterday won the persuasive speech contest, the last in a series of all-state high school speech contests.

He placed first in the extemporaneous speaking contest Wednesday, and together with William Reeb of Dwight, Ill., won the debate contest Thursday.

Betty Cook of Burlington placed second in the persuasive speech contest yesterday.

School Board Will Take Roofing Bids

Bids for the installation of new roofs on the Henry Sabin and Horace Mann school buildings will be received Aug. 9 at 1 p.m., Charles S. Galiher, secretary of the school board, announced yesterday.

The bids should be submitted to the board at the superintendent's office in the administration building, Galiher said.

Home Economics Picnic

Students and faculty members of the home economics department will have a picnic Monday evening at the City park. Those persons wishing transportation should be at the north entrance of Macbride hall at 5:30 p.m. Reservations must be made by Monday noon.

Comliance Meeting Held

A compliance meeting, attended by 55 township committeeman, was held yesterday afternoon in the C.S.A. hall to instruct farm reporters on compliance methods. Don Fish, DIowa State college extension representative, conducted the meeting.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLER

MARSHALLTOWN — A chap I know is collecting what he calls Americana—sayings that have flared brilliantly for a time and then died out. . . Remember these—

"The cat's pajamas." . . . "Tell it to the marines." . . . "In a pig's eye." . . . "You're not cute; it's just the way your mother dresses you."—About 1926-29.

"You're tellin' me?" . . . "Oh, yeah?" . . . "Wise guy, huh?" . . . "Is zat so?"—In the early 30's.

Perhaps the most perennial of the lot, my friend reports, is the "Oh, yeah," comeback. . . It originated in a musical comedy, "Sailors Beware," it seems. That was in 1930, and a few out-platituded ones are still using it.

In Dr. Alexis Carrel's "Man, the Unknown," which I'm just now finding time to peruse, he declares it's better to want more than you can have. . . "Man naturally tends toward the satisfaction of his appetites, such as a craving for alcohol, speed and ceaseless change. . . But he degenerates when he satisfies these appetites completely." . . . A point worth remembering, for those who brag they haven't a single inhibition.

One of the most interesting charity jobs I know belongs to the Marshalltown woman who invades her neighbor's homes for books, the old ones they don't need.

She's gathered up about 5,000 in the last two years, and when they are collected she gives them to the local hospitals for patients during convalescence.

It sounds like a grand idea for Iowa City. . . If you'd look around, you'd probably find a dozen books someone else would appreciate.

If there should be any, a group of localites are gathering books for the Faith Cabin Libraries, for the Negroes of the Carolinas.

4-H CLUB FUND HITS $551 MARK; WORK FOR $750

The drive for funds to meet expenses of the county 4-H club show here Aug. 18 to 20 reached the $551 mark yesterday, County Agent Emmett C. Gardner announced last night. The goal is $750.

Ten teams, made up of businessmen and farmers, are conducting the campaign which will probably be completed next week.

MOL Council Will Hear City's Budget

The MOL council will meet for a public hearing of Iowa City's $244,498 budget at city hall Aug. 9 at 8 p.m., Prof. J. Van der Zee, MOL leader, announced last night.

Name Faculty To Freshman Week Group

President Gilmore Appoints Members To Plan Activities

Thirteen faculty members have been appointed by President Eugene A. Gilmore to serve on the freshman week faculty committee, it was announced yesterday.

The group will assist in making plans for freshman week Sept. 20 to 27. The chairman is Prof. R. H. Fitzgerald, director of the school of fine arts.

Other members are Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, dean of women, Dean Robert E. Rienow, Assistant Dean Lonzo Jones, Registrar H. C. Dorcas, Daniel D. Feder of the psychology department, Prof. Harrison J. Thornton of the history department.

Ted Rehder, manager of Iowa Union dining service, Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, head of the women's physical education department, E. G. "Dad" Schroeder, director of athletics, Prof. F. G. Higbee, director of convocations, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, and Helen Reich, adviser to student organizations.

Christian Church To Have Public Meeting

Ethel Hubler of Los Angeles, Cal., editor of the temperance tabloid "The National Voice," will address a public meeting at the Christian church, 217 Iowa avenue, Aug. 8 at 8 p.m.

A panel forum will be led by Mrs. C. E. Seashore, prior to Miss Hubler's talk. Ansel Martin will direct a group of high school singers in the musical part of the program.

LAST PLAY NIGHT

Singing, Dancing Will Be Featured

The last play night of the summer session, featuring community singing, theremin waves solos and social dancing, will be tonight, beginning at 7:45 and continuing until midnight.

Community singing, led by W. K. Streit, visiting instructor in the men's physical education department, will be on the lawn of the fine arts building. Joseph Saetveit, G of Iowa City, will play several solos on the theremin wave.

Dancing will begin in the men's gymnasium in the fieldhouse at 9 o'clock and continue until 12.

Scouts Will Present Indian Dance Tonight

The Indian troop and the troop on the hill, made up of Boy Scouts from all over the state, will present an Indian dance around the council fire at Camp Rotary at 8 o'clock tonight.

Owen B. Thiel, Iowa City scout executive, will be in charge. Games, contests and stunts will also be included in the program. Parents are invited to attend.
