Congress Prepares To End Torrid Session Today

In Steamy Heat House Argues Reindeer Deal

Irate Lewis Queers Last-Day Cheer With Attack on Leaders

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Congress coasted comfortably along toward adjournment today with just a few more issues to be settled before the legislators say a willing farewell to the steamy heat of a Washington summer and the even more torrid controversies of the past session.

Officially and definitely, party leaders in both houses fixed the adjournment hour at late tomorrow afternoon, or sometime tomorrow evening.

Throughout the afternoon, the senate happily added items to the $138,000,000 third deficiency appropriation bill, while the house debated the advisability of buying reindeer for the Alaskan Eskimos, and of sending a delegation on an autumnal junket to Honolulu.

THEIR JOB IS TO 'CLEAN UP' FCC

T. A. M. Craven
Frank R. McNinch

For the job of overhauling the federal communications commission, President Roosevelt has named Frank R. McNinch of North Carolina and T. A. M. Craven, left, FCC chief engineer, as members of the commission. McNinch will be chairman.

Mattern Takes Up Search For Russian Fliers

Soviet Ice Breaker Reported Carrying Planes into Hunt

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP)—Signal corps officers said late today they were not receiving scheduled position reports from Jimmie Mattern, Texas aviator who took off from Fairbanks earlier in the day for a flight into the arctic in search of six missing Soviet fliers.

The Russian ice breaker reached Barrow, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP)—Eager to repay his own rescue four years ago, America's Jimmie Mattern soared out of Fairbanks toward the arctic coast today to take up the week-old search for six lost Russian trans-polar fliers.

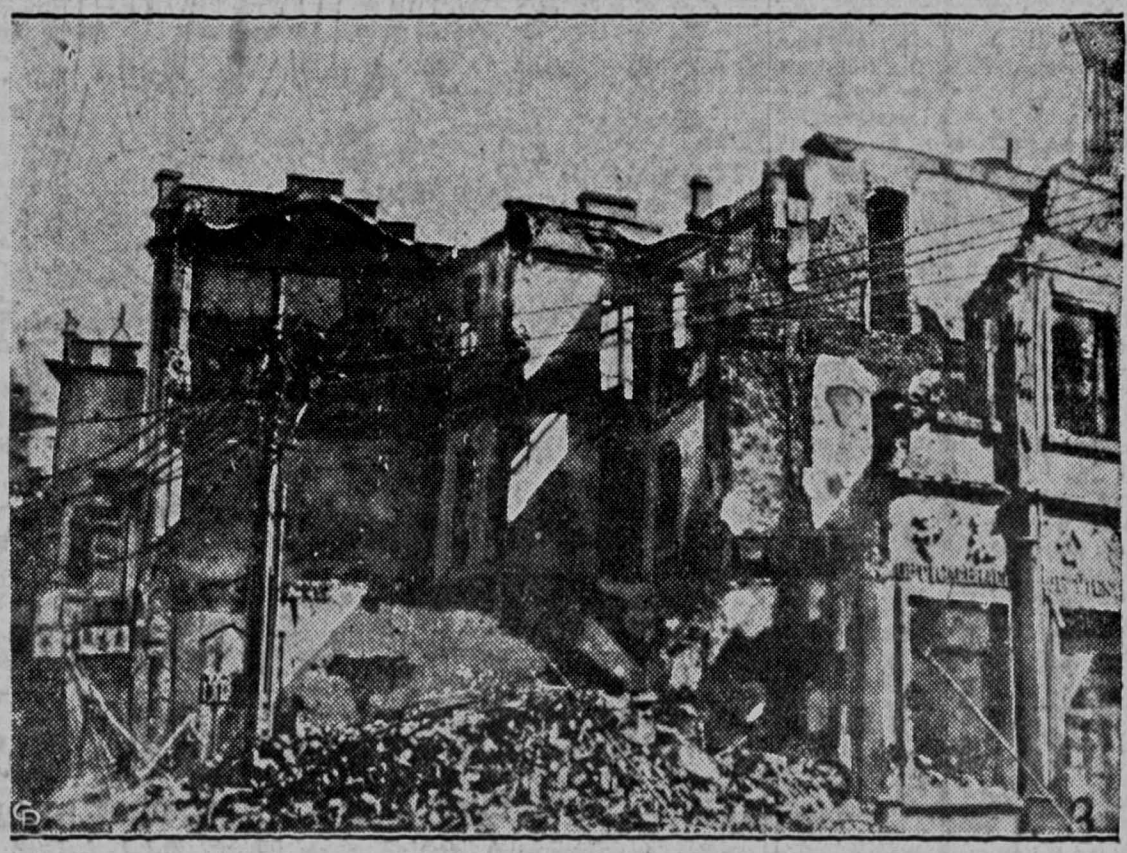

Russian sea and aircraft joined the far flung search almost as Mattern got away after having been weather-bound at Fairbanks for days.

Ice Breaker
The Soviet ice breaker Krassin, reputedly carrying planes, stood somewhere off Point Barrow.

In a great flying boat Sir George Hubert Wilkins, British explorer, and four flyers raced across far northwestern Canada to establish a rescue base near the Alaska border, preparatory to going into the hunt.

The Russian flier Zaidoff reached Point Barrow last night, joining Bob Randall, Canadian flier who had been searching along the arctic coast for three days.

JAPANESE SAY CHINESE DID THIS DAMAGE

Wreckage of the Tientsin municipal government building
All that is left of the municipal government building in Tientsin. The Japanese censor permitted the wording: "After shelling by Chinese troops during a surprise attack." The Chinese later tried to recapture the Japanese in capturing the city and previously bombed it from air and land, leaving much of it in ruins. The Chinese later tried to recapture it, but failed.

Japanese Shell Struck Cruiser, Officials Learn

Government Takes No Action in Death Of American Sailor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt's weekly cabinet meeting discussed at length today the Sino-Japanese situation. One cabinet member said afterward the meeting was told it was a Japanese shell that fell on the deck of the American cruiser Augusta, killing one sailor and wounding 18.

Whether any official action from Washington was contemplated in connection with the Augusta incident was not made known.

One member of the cabinet, however, said there had been no decision "as yet" to invoke the neutrality act.

Previously President Roosevelt had disclosed at his press conference he had put up to American officials at Shanghai the decision as to what this nation should do about the shelling of the cruiser.

Among these officials is Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the Asiatic fleet.

Former Iowan

Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, whose Asiatic fleet flagship, the U. S. S. Augusta, was struck by an anti-aircraft shell which killed one sailor and wounded 18 yesterday, is a brother of the late David L. Yarnell, associate director of the Institute of Hydraulic Research, who died here Mar. 9.

Admiral Yarnell was born at Independence Oct. 18, 1875.

City Refuses To Repay $28,000 PWA Grant for Municipal Plant

Officials Ask Return Of Funds Advanced On Electric Project

The city will not pay back a $28,000 advance on a $415,000 PWA grant unless suit is brought by the public works administration. City Solicitor Robert Larson declared last night.

PWA representatives in Washington, D. C., said yesterday that Iowa City must return $28,000 advanced for legal fees and engineering in connection with the proposed municipal light plant before PWA will consider dropping the project.

They said they consider the city legally bound by contract, although city officials had been represented as no longer wanting the project for which $415,000 was allotted by PWA.

The project never was started, and the city council earlier this month passed a resolution to send back the application for the $415,000 grant and announced it will not go ahead with the project. The PWA grant was made in 1935.

Officials of the public works administration yesterday announced it is "customary" to return money advanced for a project "when the applicant asks that an allocation be rescinded."

Twenty thousand dollars of the advance has already been spent, city officials said last night. The money was used for attorneys' fees and engineering expenses.

District Judge Harold D. Evans in 1935 issued an order restraining the city from using any money for attorneys' or engineering fees that would have to be repaid by the taxpayers, but after Attorney Harley Stipp appeared in court, declaring he believed the advance grant would not have to be repaid, Evans modified his original injunction so that the city could make use of the advance.

The new council was elected on a platform opposed to the building of a municipal light plant, and at the time they sent back the application for the grant councilmen announced they did not plan to repay the $28,000.

Iowa Citizens Enjoy Month's Coolest Day

Temperatures here yesterday ranged from 72 to 79 degrees as Iowa citizens enjoyed the coolest day of the month. The maximum reading was obtained at 8:41 a. m. by municipal airport observers.

Approximately 1.8 inches of rain fell during the past three nights, hydraulic laboratory observers said.

Possibility of showers last night was voiced by the airport weathermen. The weather today will be generally fair, they said.

Packer's Son Dies a Hero Drowns in Okoboji While Trying To Save Wife's Life

SPRIT LAKE, Aug. 20 (AP)—Exhausted attempting to save the life of his young wife, Tom Foster, 25, Sioux Falls, S. D., drowned in the waters of lake Okoboji today while the wife was saved from a similar fate by the arrival of boatmen.

Suffering from shock and exposure, the wife, Juliana, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Everist of Sioux City, told of Foster's heroic attempt to save her and himself after she had fallen from their sailboat into the lake a half mile from the north shore.

Foster, son of W. H. T. Foster, head of the Morrell Packing company of Sioux Falls, embarked shortly after noon in their sailboat for the south shore, where they expected to pick up her brother, Rick. As she plunged accidentally from the boat into the water, Foster dove in after her, she said. Floundering about as the boat drifted beyond their reach, Foster shouted words of encouragement and told his wife to clutch his bathing suit.

This she said she did until her husband, sensing exhaustion, said "let go" and then dropped from sight beneath the surface of the lake.

The boat in the meantime had drifted to the other shore and its arrival resulted in a call to the north shore where an alarm was immediately sounded.

Twin Quakes Turn Manila Into City of Terror As First U. S. Refugees Arrive From China

By RAY P. CRONIN

MANILA, Aug. 20 (AP)—Twin earthquakes—Manila's worst in 40 years—converted this haven of safety into a darkened city of terror tonight for the first American refugees from embattled Shanghai.

City lights, snuffed out by the first shock, were restored to reveal streets strewn with broken masonry and glass. Hospitals treated many injured but no deaths were reported.

The first and most devastating quake came at 7:59-1:2 p. m. (5:59-1:2 a. m. CST). Broken windows cascaded down the fronts of buildings and into the streets.

"Another War?"

Residents fled in terror from their homes. Fires broke out in many places, but few proved serious.

"Is this another war?" cried one girl from among a screaming group of women refugees who five days previously had run a gauntlet of bullets to escape Shanghai.

The first wave of terror was just beginning to subside when the second quake shook the city, at 8:24 p. m.

Seismologists said the force of the first tremor was of an intensity of between No. 5 and No. 6 on the recognized scale which measures the lightest shocks as No. 1 and the heaviest on record as No. 16. The second shock was classified as of No. 4 intensity.

The Associated Press correspondent was writing the story of the arriving refugees when the first shock came. The lights went out and his typewriter swayed until it nearly toppled to the floor.

Foundation Sinks

The foundation of the great Eastman hotel sank four inches. Guests fled to the streets, some of them in night clothing.

Shattered plate glass and other debris was strewn for blocks along the Escolta, Manila's main street.

Movie audiences stampeded into the streets and some injuries were incurred in those rushes. Water gushed from broken mains.

The Insular Life building was badly cracked. Many churches and other large buildings on the outskirts apparently were damaged to a considerable extent.

Center Near Town

The shocks centered only 3-1.2 miles from the downtown area and were felt as far away as Baguio, Philippine summer capital 175 miles to the north.

Seismologists were unable to determine the direction of the quake epicenter from the downtown area because the shocks put their instruments momentarily out of commission. They said secondary shocks could be expected for some time.

MITCHELL WOULD PUT NO LIMIT ON STRIKE PICKETS

DES MOINES, Aug. 20 (AP)—Attorney General John H. Mitchell today suggested no limit on the number of persons who may picket an establishment, provided they are striking employees of the firm being picketed.

The picketing must be done "in a peaceful manner," the attorney general held.

The recommendations were not in the form of a legal opinion, but were contained in a letter to Jasper county attorney Luther M. Carr of Newton.

Carr had ruled that the number of pickets should be limited to one.

TO A COW They Make News In Berlin, Shanghai

By The Associated Press

Cows were electrified around butter tubs in Nazi Berlin today; they were bombed in bloody Shanghai.

Expert "butter tasters" hovered about the 349 kinds of butter from 53 countries at the World Milk Products exposition trying to select the 19 best. Concurrently, an art gallery displayed thousands of paintings and etchings glorifying milkmen, cows and milkmaids of all countries.

It was different at Shanghai. Japanese air bombs killed 100 American cows on an American owned dairy farm near the city's Hungjiao airfield.

Ask If Senator Can Hold Job Question Attorney General Regarding Elthon Appointment

DES MOINES, Aug. 20 (AP)—The legislative committee on retraction and reform voted today to ask the attorney general whether a legislator can accept a "lucrative position" and draw a salary from public funds between sessions.

Representative Gustave Alesch (D) of Marcus raised the question when he challenged the right of Senator Leo Elthon (R) of Fertile to sit as a member of the interim committee.

Elthon recently accepted an appointment from Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel as field man under the coordinator named by the governor to supervise expenditure of the $250,000 annual emergency conservation appropriation. The pay is $10 a day.

Elthon holds his seat in the interim committee by virtue of having been chairman of the senate appropriations committee in the last session of the legislature.

Senator I. G. Chrystal (D) of Coon Rapids is the emergency conservation fund coordinator, but he is not a member of the interim committee.

U. S. WARSHIP STRUCK BY SHELL

One American seaman was killed and 18 wounded when a shell of unknown origin struck the U. S. S. Augusta, flagship of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, while fierce battle raged between Chinese and Japanese forces at Shanghai. The Augusta is shown above.

Mrs. Graves Takes Oath

The senate's day began with one of its most unusual scenes, the administration of the oath of office to a woman senator. It had happened only three times previously in the senate's history, with Mrs. Rebecca Felton of Georgia, Mrs. Hattie Caraway of Arkansas and Mrs. Rose McConnell Long of Louisiana.

Today, Mrs. Dixie Bibb Graves presented credentials attesting her husband, Gov. Bibb Graves of Alabama, had appointed her to the senate seat left vacant by the elevation of Sen. Hugo L. Black to a place on the supreme court.

Then, the senate got to work on the deficiency bill, last appropriation measure of the session, carrying some $138,000,000 for purposes which have arisen since the regular departmental appropriation bills were passed or which were overlooked in the bill's preparation.

$500,000 for China Crisis

To this the senate added $500,000 to meet emergencies arising from the war in China, ordered earmarked the sum of $2,905,000 for the purchase of land increasing the area of the Yosemite national park in California, and wrote in an item of $50,000,000 for benefit payments under the sugar marketing bill.

Then with southern senators assuring senators from the wheat states they will help if an emergency arises in wheat, the senate ordered $55,000,000 of customs receipts made available for subsidy payments on this year's cotton crop.

Pass Sugar Bill

The house meanwhile approved the sugar control bill and sent it to the White House, where it is assured of a cold reception because of restrictions imposed upon imports of sugar from Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Ask If Senator Can Hold Job

They said they consider the city legally bound by contract, although city officials had been represented as no longer wanting the project for which $415,000 was allotted by PWA.

Two Hurt in Crash

CEDAR RAPIDS, (AP)—Mrs. G. D. Gordon and her mother, Mrs. Henry Vandebunte, 69, both of Allegan, Mich., were injured yesterday afternoon when the car driven by Mrs. Gordon skidded into a ditch 10 miles east of Cedar Rapids.

Warm Water Revives 'Dead' Humming Birds

CHICAGO, (AP)—"Sorry, but they're dead," said the expressman as he delivered three South American humming birds to Karl Plath, curator of birds at Brookfield zoo, Chicago. But Plath bathed the birds in lukewarm water. Then he breathed gently upon them to warm them. They stirred and Plath worked fast. He mixed honey and distilled water, adding a few drops of brandy and put the nectar into glass feeding cups. The little birds were wobbly but they got the idea when Plath propped them against the cups. They sipped and eventually fluttered their wings and took interest in their new home.

1936--A Year of Records

Petersen Reviews High Spots in August Issue of Palimpsest

A year of records was 1936—the hottest and coldest as well as a banner year for industry and agriculture. The high spots of 1936 are described by William J. Petersen of the State Historical society in the August issue of Palimpsest, society publication, issued yesterday. Although Iowa's winter was the coldest in 117 years and the summer the hottest ever recorded, farm incomes were biggest since 1930, and business best since 1929. The harvest—$561,431,000—was more than double the farm income of 1932 and $67,000,000 greater than that of 1935. The average farm income was $2,596 compared with $2,530 in 1935. American Weekly figures showed that Iowa stood among the 25 states that have the most people with the highest living standards. Bank deposits increased 190 million dollars between January, 1933, and June, 1936. Gains ranging from two to 18.5 per cent were registered in every major business. Employment increased; by April, industries were employing 10.6 per cent more workers and paying 13.9 per cent more in total wages. With an increase in incomes, Iowans once more began "luxury buying." Gasoline and sales tax collections increased, as did cigaret and beer sales. On July 31, 1936, there were 619,979 automobiles registered in Iowa, or more than 2,000 ahead of the total 1935 registration. A travel bureau representative estimated that 3,343,700 tourists would spend $31,621,000 in Iowa in 1936—a larger sum than the federal government spent on its agricultural program. In spite of the general upturn in business conditions the Iowa emergency relief administration spent more than three and a half million dollars. Mr. Petersen reviews the 1936 political campaign—calling it the "costliest of any in Iowa history." Fully $400,000 was spent by the political parties. Summarizing the year's statistics, Mr. Petersen writes "Agriculture and industry went hand-in-hand along the road to recovery. The year 1936 was one of genuine optimism throughout Iowa. Boiling weather and red-faced politicians may have been conspicuous features of the year, but the merry jingle of the cash register continued in spite of such temporary diversions and reached a hallelujah chorus in a lucrative Christmas trade. By that time most of the people could count 1936 as a year of economic fruitfulness." The Palimpsest is edited by Prof. John E. Briggs of the political science department.

2,000 Iowa City Home Owners To Receive Tax Exemptions

Homestead Relief Will Total $73,000 Here on 2nd Payment

2,100 Rural, Small Town Taxpayers To Benefit From Law

Two thousand Iowa City home owners will receive homestead tax exemptions aggregating $73,000 when the second tax payment is due Sept. 1, County Auditor Ed Sulek said last night.

Under the homestead tax exemption act which the 47th general assembly enacted in the past session, Iowa home owners will receive credit on their homestead tax values "not to exceed 25 mills per $1 of assessed value."

Unofficial estimates place the Johnson county exemption rate at approximately 20 mills. An exact estimate of the millage levy exemption will be announced by County Auditor Ed Sulek in September.

Leland Stock of Lone Tree has been announced as winner of the boys' judging contest in the 4-H club show which ended yesterday afternoon.

Donald Spencer Ranks Second And Leslie Crow Third

Donald Spencer of Iowa City and Leslie Crow of Oxford were second and third place winners. Harold Crow of Oxford was fourth.

The winners of the first three places will compose the judging team which will represent Johnson county at the Iowa state fair next week.

Stock's score was 496 out of a possible 500 points. Beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs and horses were judged by the boys.

Marjorie Schwimley and Miriam Williams, representing the "Sharon Hustlers" 4-H girls club, won first place in the 4-H girls' club demonstrations.

The girls demonstrated decorating with block prints. Their club leader is Mrs. Eldon Miller of Sharon.

Second place in the contest was awarded to Elizabeth Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer, and Florence Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Nolan, both of Pleasant Valley township.

Phyllis Ludwig won a red ribbon in the conservation of record event. Blue ribbons in the record memory book contest went to Louise Warren and Wilma Hudson.

In the crocheted rugs contest, blue ribbons were awarded to Fae Baldrige, Helen Mueller and Darlene Lackender, with white ribbons going to Darlene Lackender and Jean Ford.

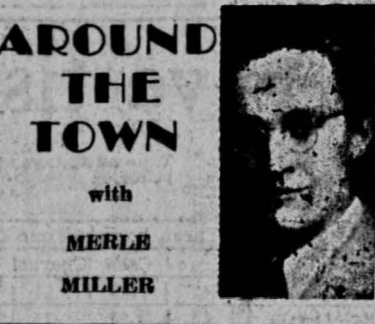

In the reclaimed picture frames event, blue ribbon winners were Marian Williams, Martha Warren, Wilma Lee Hudson, Dorothy Stocks and Lena Krall.

Heifer Owned by Duane Stock Wins 4-H Show Championship

Stock's entry, first in the Hereford baby beef division won $7. Second was Leland Stock, $5, third, Leland Stock, $4, fourth, Louise Warren, $3, fifth, Duane Stock, $2, and sixth Maurice Nevins $2.

Robert Cress, winner in the Shorthorn baby beef contest, won $3.

In the colt contest, Donald Sehr won $5 with his winning entry in the yearling division and took second place and $3.50 with another entry.

In the suckling division Lloyd Probst was awarded $7 for his winning entry, followed by Ralph Donohue, $5, third, Richard Apfel, $4, Lloyd Plecker, fourth, $3.

Francis Donohue fifth, $2, and Calvin Nif-feneger, sixth, $2.

Entries in the livestock contests included 28 Hereford baby heaves, 19 Angus baby heaves, six Shorthorn baby heaves, two Angus purebred beef heifers, nine Hereford purebred beef heifers, one Shorthorn purebred beef heifer, 11 first year Holstein dairy calves, five first year Guernsey dairy calves, nine second-year Holstein dairy calves, four Holstein third-year dairy calves, 10 entries in the special cow and calf class, 60 head of hogs, 20 head of lambs and 12 colts.

William Hunter's winner in the Angus purebred heifer class will be purchased by the Iowa Angus Breeders' association and awarded to the winner of the grand championship in the purebred Angus calf contest at the Iowa State fair.

According to County Agent Emmett C. Gardner, this year's entries were better than average. Prof. W. F. LaGrange of Iowa State college especially lauded the quality of the colt and purebred heifer contestants.

William Hunter And Robert Cress Show Runner-Up Cattle

By a narrow margin, "Homestead Lassie," purebred Hereford heifer owned by Duane Stock of Lone Tree, won the grand championship in the purebred beef heifer class at yesterday morning's session of the Johnson county 4-H club show.

The margin was so narrow that reserve championship honors were divided by the two runners-up, an Angus owned by William Hunter of Iowa City and a Shorthorn by Robert Cress.

In the Hereford baby beef class, Duane Stock and Leland Stock, brothers, won four of the prizes. It was a duplicate victory for Duane, who also won the purebred baby beef heifer championship with his entry in 1935.

Ten-year-old Donald Sehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sehr Jr., of Sharon won the colt club championship with his filly, "Blue Bell."

Lloyd Probst of near Iowa City won the reserve championship in this class with a colt entry which won the suckling class section of the contest.

William Hunter won the $4 award for the first place in the Angus baby beef contest, followed by Earlis Rohrer, who was given $3. Duane by Delbert Collicott and Beulah E. Wagoner, both of Cedar Rapids and of legal age; Daniel S. W. Miller, 22, and Viola E. Beachy, 22, both of Kalona, and Hugh Joseph Fatter, 25, of Jesup, and Mary Ellen Clark, 18, of Independence.

Plan Rites For Philetus Mott

Funeral service for Philetus G. Mott, 66, who died yesterday morning in Mercy hospital, will be tomorrow at 4 p.m. at Beckman's. Bural will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Mott, head of the orthopedics appliance division of children's hospital since it was established in 1919, became ill with septicemia two days before his death and was removed to the hospital immediately.

Mr. Mott was born in Scranton, Pa., May 4, 1871. After working in Des Moines he came to Iowa City 22 years ago and did orthopedics work at the old University hospital before children's hospital was opened.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida M. Mott, and one son, Victor R. Mott.

INDIAN VILLAGE HOLDING ANNUAL TRIBAL POW-WOW

Aboriginal dances and ceremonies will be re-enacted this week end during the Mesquakie Indian pow-wow on the Tama Indian reservation near Tama.

In the Indian village, tribal dances such as the war dance, friendship dance, buffalo head dance, snake dance, soldier dance and swan dance will be performed in the afternoons and evenings.

The pow-wow, which started Thursday and ends tomorrow, is the 24th annual ceremonial to which white people have been admitted.

Tomorrow afternoon visiting tribesmen will compete with the Mesquakies for the Indian-dancing championship of the west.

War councils and treaty-rites will be re-enacted in Indian tepees, wigwams and wick-ups.

Ancient tribal festivities, foot races, squaw games and lacrosse and ball games will show the spectator the recreational activities of the Indians.

In the council lodge will be a display of American Indian art.

Iowa's only Indian reservation, the Mesquakies are situated near the Iowa river west of Tama and their homes disclose many objects of historical and educational value.

County Clerk Issues Marriage Licenses To 4 Couples Here

Four marriage licenses were issued yesterday by R. N. Miller, clerk of courts. One was issued to an Iowa City couple, Lester J. Rogers, 23, and Anna Grablin, 23.

The other three were obtained by Delbert Collicott and Beulah E. Wagoner, both of Cedar Rapids and of legal age; Daniel S. W. Miller, 22, and Viola E. Beachy, 22, both of Kalona, and Hugh Joseph Fatter, 25, of Jesup, and Mary Ellen Clark, 18, of Independence.
