F. R. VOWS TO KEEP U. S. FROM WAR

Powers Agree On Anti-Piracy Sea Campaign

9 Nations Will Rely On British, French In Mediterranean

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
NYON, Switzerland, Sept. 11 (AP)—The nine-power Nyon conference tonight adopted a plan of campaign to sweep pirate submarines from the Mediterranean seaways.

The plan, embodied in a draft protocol, placed prime responsibility for that task on the navies of Britain and France.

But it left the way open for Italian participation on equal terms with the British and French, even for possible cooperation in the anti-pirate drive between Italy and Soviet Russia, whose accusations of Italian submarine attacks kept Italy from the council table.

Italy's Stand in Doubt

Italian adherence remained uncertain. The conference agreed to invite Rome to enter the anti-pirate patrol, but if Italy declines the others agreed to carry out without her their plan to eradicate one of the most dangerous offshoots of the Spanish civil war.

The plan did not mention German participation in the Mediterranean patrol. Germany stood aloof with Italy when the latter declined an invitation to Nyon because of Soviet charges that Italian submarines had sunk two Russian merchantmen in the Mediterranean.

Conference delegates said they believed the meeting, in the town hall of this sleepy little town, had achieved remarkable results within little more than 24 hours of its convening.

Litvinoff Satisfied

Although Soviet Russia was assigned a lesser part in the patrol—given charge of Black Sea operations but with the right to send her ships as convoys into the Mediterranean—Maxim Litvinoff, Moscow's foreign commissar, indicated satisfaction with the agreement when he said after the meeting closed:

"We have reached an accord as to how we are going to fight piracy in the Mediterranean."

Yesterday Litvinoff made thinly veiled charges that Italy was the "pirate" nation.

"Accord of Nyon"

The agreement reached probably will be known as "the Accord of Nyon." The draft protocol is to be submitted at once to the participating governments for approval. If this is given the delegates will reassemble early next week for the formal signing.

The submarine protocol to the London naval treaty of 1936, to which nearly all powers, including Italy and Germany adhered, is made the criterion of submarine piracy. This means that any undersea craft of whatever nationality which sinks merchant vessels without warning and without providing for the rescue of the crews will be outlawed and be liable to destruction on sight.

John and Deb "Just Friends"

Anne Lindsay Clark and John Roosevelt, Jr., youngest son of John Roosevelt, president of the state budget appeal board, are "just friends." Miss Clark, who was a guest at Hyde Park at the time Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., was married to Ethel duPont, awaited John's return from Europe. After which he accompanied her to her home at Nahant, Mass.

Budget Appeal Board of State Marvels at So Few Petitions

Eight Appeals Now On File; Two More Looked For

DES MOINES, Sept. 11 (AP)—The state budget appeal board marvels today that with so much agitation for reduced taxes, so few petitions have been filed under the provisions of the budget appeal act passed by the legislature.

Eight appeals are on file with the board now, and two more are expected. Last Monday was the deadline for filing the appeal petitions with the county auditor, who certifies them to the budget appeal board.

"Expected 50"

Ten appeals is an extremely small number, considering the number of taxing bodies in the state, including 4,000 independent school districts and 1,000 incorporated cities and towns.

"I would have expected at least 50 appeals, with as much advertising as the act has had, and the number of taxpayers' meetings that have been held," declared E. E. Cornwall, secretary of the board.

"People feel taxes are high, but they don't like to sign the petitions. They don't like to be put on the spot. They hate to put themselves down as criticizing neighbors who serve on these various boards," Cornwall explained.

One fourth of one per cent of those voting for the office of governor in the taxing district in the last election, but in any event, at least 10 persons must sign the appeal petition.

Man Withdraws Name

Petitions on file with the board now carry from 11 names to several hundred.

Another deterrent, Cornwall believes, is the dislike which many persons would have for appearing at a public meeting to voice their objections to a tax levy, against which they would use the "strongest language" they know how to use in private conversation.

Cornwall said a Des Moines man appeared at the comptroller's office yesterday to ask that his name be removed from the petition protesting the Des Moines school budget. The man explained that he feared it would harm "some interests" he has for his name to remain on the petition.

Storm Leaves 60 Dead Along Japanese Coast

Typhoon Causes Huge Property Damage; Many Injured

TOKYO, Sept. 12 (Sunday) (AP)—Japan today counted at least 60 dead in the wake of a 75-mile-an-hour typhoon which scourged her western and southern coasts, injuring hundreds and leaving scores missing.

The gale, accompanied by torrential rains, swept in from the Loochoo islands and yesterday morning struck Shikoku, the southern island, where its ravages were greatest.

At many places the winds coincided with high tides, sweeping walls of water inland, inundating hundreds of houses and trapping many victims.

Damage in Millions

Property damage running into millions of dollars was spread from the extreme southwest to the Tokyo-Yokohama area, a swath some 900 miles long.

Shipping suffered heavily. At least one ocean steamer was tossed ashore and great havoc done among scores of coastal steamers and hundreds of small fishing craft caught in the storm. It was feared the death list would be considerably increased when all returns are in from the Japanese fishing fleets, which may not be in some days.

In many places, especially in Shikoku, the storm destroyed rice and other grain crops of which part had been counted on to feed the growing Japanese armies in China.

200 Boats Sunk

At Takamatsu, in Shikoku, police reported 15 dead, 46 houses destroyed, thousands of homes inundated, 200 small fishing boats sunk.

Other parts of Shikoku also were ravaged, but disruption of communications prevented accurate tally of the death and destruction wrought.

In such great harbors as Osaka, Kobe and Yokohama shipping was at a complete standstill. In Osaka, Japan's western metropolis, 600 buildings were inundated. Gales backed tides up into low lying parts of the city until some streets were 10 feet under water.

Okayama, on the main island fronting the inland sea, reported 11 dead and scores missing, 124 houses wrecked, 52 small vessels destroyed or sunk.

To Restore Lash

Protests are being sent to Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia against his attempt to restore use of the lash on prisoners. The lash was abolished in Georgia in 1923 following nation-wide agitation against it. Since then Georgia has resorted to solitary confinement, bread and water, stripes and shackles as punishment. Many escapes from chain gangs have aroused the governor and he ordered escaping prisoners shot on sight.

Japan Thrusts Two Miles Into Chinese Lines

In Later Fighting North Of Shanghai Loses Part of Gains

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11 (AP)—Japan's army, backed by the big guns of her navy, thrust two miles into Chinese lines north of Shanghai today only to be forced to relinquish part of its gains at nightfall by surging Chinese counterattacks.

The drive was launched from the shore of the Yangtze estuary, where Japan for nearly three weeks has been trying to gain a footing for her growing Shanghai army. Its apparent objective was Yanghang, four miles inland from the Woosung forts.

At the end of 24 hours fighting the Japanese claimed an advance of two miles from their previous positions. They then appeared to hold about one-third of Yanghang. But Chinese later reported the enemy had only reached the outskirts of that town and that Chinese counterattacks had driven them back even from there.

Rush Reinforcements

Chinese rushed heavy reinforcements into the Yanghang battle in a herculean effort to throw back the invaders. The conflict was one of the bitterest, as it was among the most important, battles of the four weeks of Shanghai warfare. Casualties on both sides were reported heaviest of any single battle thus far.

In the early stages of their drive the Japanese were aided greatly by big guns aboard their warships anchored in the Yangtze estuary and by bombardments of their field batteries and airplanes. But that advantage was lost once they gained the town, where the Chinese swarmed forward to engage them in hand to hand combat with knives, swords and bayonets.

Fighting continued far into the night, with the outcome still in the balance.

Major Offensive

A Chinese military spokesman said the action constituted a major Japanese offensive, evidently designed to break the Chinese lines along the 20-mile front from Woosung to Liuhoo. Japanese forces from Woosung, Liuhoo and Lotien were said to have converged on Yanghang in the drive.

Shanghai, within and without the international areas, passed another day of death and terror. Japanese aviators in bombing raids over the Chinese districts of Nantao, Chapei and Lunghua dealt heavy punishment.

To Direct Census

John Biggers of Toledo, Ohio, who has been asked by President Roosevelt to direct the taking of a census of the unemployed, is president of Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company of Toledo, a position he has held since 1930. Born in St. Louis, and a University of Michigan graduate, Biggers is expected to accept the president's offer if and when he gets a leave of absence from his company. He is 48.

President Says War Situations 'Very Serious'

People Have Reason To Be Jittery, Nation's Chief Declares

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt made the solemn pledge today he was going to do everything in his power "to keep us out of war."

Describing world conditions as "serious" after an earlier press conference statement that people the world over were justifiably nervous over the far eastern and European situations, the chief executive told an outdoor meeting of the Roosevelt Home club:

"We are going to do everything we can in the United States, not only the people but the government of the United States, to keep us out of war."

The president said world conditions were very serious and they did not appear to be getting any better.

He addressed his remarks to a crowd of several hundred persons gathered on the lawn of Moses Smith, a Roosevelt tenant farmer and host of the informal occasion.

The crowd loudly applauded his peace pledge.

"Tinder Box," Says Baruch

Shortly before, Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier, who had called on the president to give his observations on a recent trip abroad, told newspapermen Europe "is a tinder box."

The president addressed the Home club extemporaneously, after Rep. Caroline O'Day (D-N.Y.), an earlier speaker, said Secretary Hull and the chief executive were "doing everything to keep war away from our shores."

The brief remarks about "keeping us out of war" were prefatory to his main theme—adoption of national planning and conservation methods by Dutchess county to preserve its natural resources.

"People laugh about planning," he asserted, "but keeping out of war requires some planning."

Whole World Concerned

At his press conference earlier in the day the president said people all over the world were concerned over far eastern and European conditions and rightly so.

Without discussing American policy, he agreed with a reporter's observation at a press conference that the fighting in China and the Mediterranean "mystery" submarine activities had developed a "jittery" feeling among the people in this country.

Accepting this definition of American reaction, the chief executive said the people were right in feeling this way, and he believed the people all over the world felt the same.

He said the nervousness was evident not only in financial circles, but in every home and every democratic government.

$1000 Donated To 1937 Class

Money Will Be Used To Construct New Therapy Pool

Weaver Witwer of the Witwer Grocer company, Cedar Rapids, has presented $1,000 to the 1937 senior class memorial committee for the construction of the proposed hydrotherapy pool, Staten Browning, chairman, announced last night.

This donation swells the amount of contributions to almost $4,000. The goal of the campaign has been increased from $10,000 to $12,000, a step made necessary because of rising construction costs.

The enlarged hydrotherapy pool, which will be located in children's hospital, will be three times as large as the present pool. It will be used in curing cases of infantile paralysis and spastic paralysis.

The pool is expected to be completed sometime next year.

Other members of the committee are Dr. T. R. Waring of children's hospital and Robert Neff, administrator of University hospitals.

Iowa State College Expects Increase Of About 250 Students

Registration in the Fall Quarter of Last Year Was 4,850, He Said, While the Total Number of Students Expected This Fall Is 5,100.

AMES, Ia., Sept. 11 (AP)—An increase of about 250 students is expected at Iowa State college this year J. R. Sage, college registrar, announced today.

Registration in the fall quarter of last year was 4,850, he said, while the total number of students expected this fall is 5,100.

The greater proportion of the increase is expected to be women, he stated, and dormitory space, while adequate, will be fully utilized. A new dormitory, recently constructed, has failed to take care of the increase in the past three years and the college recreational center, Memorial union, has granted the top floor to women's rooms. Another new dormitory is also under construction.

Demo Reports Show $129,287 Sale of 'Books'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The democratic national committee reported today to the clerk of the house of representatives that for the three months ending Aug. 31 it had sold $129,287 worth of 1936 campaign books.

Commissions for the sale of these books, paid to George Sweeney, business manager for John Gallagher company, New York City, totaled $95,843, according to the committee's statement.

The figures were contained in the committee's report for the third quarter of 1937. The report showed total receipts of $415,695. With expenditures during the same period of $388,910, the cash balance as of Aug. 31 was given as $26,785.

Receipts during this period were reported as follows: cash contributions, $118,949, victory day dinners $34,558, democratic campaign books $129,287, loans $80,000, other receipts $4,117.

Among the purchasers of the campaign book were the Premier Pabst corporation of Milwaukee, $8,000; Judge Curtis Bok of Philadelphia, $10,000; and Clara Driscoll Sevier, Corpus Christi, Tex., $10,000.

The committee report also showed that during this period the following disbursements were made:

To Samuel Kramer, New York City (for loan in full) $25,000.
Chase National bank, New York (for loan in full) $5,000.
Walter A. Jones, Pittsburgh (partial payment on loan) $25,000.
United Mine Workers of America $25,000 (partial payment on loan).

Youth Receives Life Sentence For Killing Girl

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 11 (AP)—Hollys Sagerster, high school sophomore, indicted for the "puppy love" slaying of Martha Markey, 15, pleaded guilty to a first degree murder charge here today and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The 16-year-old youth's plea came as a surprise after the murder indictment was read by Circuit Judge G. H. Hoetscher.

Asked if he understood the "consequence" of his plea, Sagerster murmured "yes" in a low voice.

"Then I have no alternative but to sentence you to life imprisonment," Judge Hoetscher said.

Sagerster told police he shot the Markey girl Aug. 26.

Jap Leaders Plan To Explain Situation

TOKYO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Japanese leaders today studied lists of available talent to head missions to the three great Occidental democracies, the United States, Britain and France, to explain the Japanese version of the war in China.

Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, former foreign minister and ambassador to Washington, and Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, member of the supreme war council, were prominently mentioned as possible heads of a mission to the United States.

Japanese officials have felt that the reasons for Japan's invasions of China have not been given a fair hearing abroad, especially in the democratic countries.

Muntz Carries Ouster Dispute To Court Room

DES MOINES, Sept. 11 (AP)—The scene in the contest between Governor Kraschel and Otto S. Muntz over the Greater Iowa commission shifted to a Polk county district court room this afternoon.

Attorneys for Muntz filed a petition to have the court set aside the governor's action removing Muntz from the commission of which he had been chairman since its formation two years ago.

Muntz charged in his petition that the governor "has violated and is violating and conspiring with others to violate the mandate and direction of the legislature of the state of Iowa to convert the Greater Iowa commission into a political body and to dominate, direct and control the same as a political organization."

The Greater Iowa commission was created in 1935 "for the purpose of coordinating the agricultural, the industrial, labor and commercial groups of Iowa for the betterment of economic conditions in the state."

Kraschel named Professor O. R. Sweeney of Ames, head of the chemical engineering department of Iowa State college, to succeed Muntz on the commission. State Senator Hugh W. Lundy of Albia and M. P. Christiansen of Algona are the other members.

Members of the commission serve without compensation, but the commission has a payroll of $587 per month, including an attorney, office manager and stenographer.

Muntz charged that Kraschel "demanded" that the commission be removed from its quarters at a Des Moines hotel to the executive office of the governor "with the intention of furthering the political interests of the said N. G. Kraschel."

Muntz further charged that the attempt to remove him followed his request for information as to the use of the $500,000 emergency conservation fund created by the legislature to be used in sponsoring CCC camps in the state.

Kraschel said earlier in the week that he had denied a request of Muntz for a $25,000 allocation from this fund. The legislative committee on re-trenchment and reform later allowed the commission $5,000 out of the $500,000 contingent fund at its disposal.

Seven thousand persons, jamming an auditorium half a mile out over the Atlantic ocean, thundered applause when a dozen judges, after much indecision, sifted 49 beauties from all sections of the United States to choose the winner of the national beauty pageant.

"I don't know what to say—I'm so happy," sobbed Miss Bertrand Island, as three dozen photographers rushed up, filling the stage with the flashes of photo bulbs for half an hour.

The Case of An American Aviator

MEDITATING ON the plea and picture of Mrs. Harold Dahl, beautiful sometime blues singer, General Franco, head of the Spanish insurgents, has promised that her young American aviator husband will not be shot for aiding the loyalist cause.

The case, dramatic as it is and with its apparently happy ending, has two serious implications.

It shows the savagery with which the civil war is being waged in Spain.

Neither side regards captured prisoners as enemies of war to be accorded the humane treatment demanded by international law. Instead each looks upon the other as composed of traitors to the country and prisoners are treated as such, instead of mere enemies. It is true that international sentiment has begun to put pressure upon the commanders of both armies and wholesale slaughter is no longer as common as in the earlier stages of the war.

Nevertheless, the firing squad at dawn is still too often used to take care of the captured enemy. There has been demonstrated again the fact that American citizens joining either fascist or government forces in Spain can not expect the protection of the United States. By their action in entering into any foreign war they forfeit the right to any such protection. The United States could have taken no official action to prevent Dahl's execution had Mrs. Dahl's plea not been successful.

Perhaps it is well that the incident occurred. It may serve as a deterrent to embryo volunteers who, like those who left the University of Iowa campus last spring, hear a call to arms upon a Spanish battlefield.

School days soon will be here and the children will be off to college to be educated in the arts and sciences. But papa, who stays home and pays the bills, will also get an education—in mathematics.

There is no truth in the rumor comic strip artists will picket designers of women's hat styles as infringing on their humor.

Story-Book Methods Coming to Life

SINCLAIR LEWIS, who may well be the greatest living American novelist, was at his literary best a few years back when he wrote a novel, "Arrowsmith," about a visionary young doctor whose dream it was to cure the world of all pain—a dream, to be sure, that is shared in part by every man and woman that takes the oath of Hippocrates.

Martin Arrowsmith, as a scientist, was supposed to test the value of an epidemic serum by denying it to half the sufferers so that the progress of those who received it could be compared. In the end, however, he only half succeeded. Men, Martin Arrowsmith found, were not like guinea pigs.

Last night Chicago scientists found out the same thing. Chicagoans had, angrily denounced their plan for scientific experiment with child sufferers. The suggestion was that an experiment be made aimed to determine whether injections of blood from persons who have had the disease helps to alleviate paralysis. The scientists, like Arrowsmith, had suggested that the blood serum be denied half the some 200 sufferers in Chicago.

"If such a half-and-half test as was suggested proved beyond a doubt the value of the serum, it would be a terrible thing for any man to know he had denied it to children who might have needed it," commented Dr. Herriand Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health.

Dr. Bundesen, being a scientific man himself, realizes, of course, that in denying the experiment he may be slowing research into the field of infantile paralysis by many years. No one can tell today whether the blood of former infantile paralysis victims is of worth in effecting a cure or not. Almost every Chicago sufferer has been so treated; of these some will live and some die, but the specific effect of the injection cannot be measured unless a selected group is segregated, part of them inoculated and part of them not. Theoretically such a plan would be an ideal experiment; practically it would be an impossibility.

Scientific research is the dream of every good doctor, but his first job is saving the lives of his patients. When he forgets that fact, he is not a good doctor. It's an old, old story, this; it is the story of idealism meeting reality again.

In the end, come what will, reality must always win.

CLIPPED From Other COLUMNS

LABELLED ATOMS

THE TISSUE-building foods—meat, eggs, milk are examples—are composed in large part of proteins. The proteins in turn are complex forms of nitrogen. By what chemical magic is a piece of beefsteak converted into living muscle? The complete answer may never be known, but if the atoms of nitrogen could be labeled for identification the physiologist would be in a fair way of finding out just how we utilize food and keep body and soul together.

Thus interpreted, the announcement made by the American Chemical society that Nobel laureate, Professor Harold C. Urey, and his collaborators, Drs. John R. Huffman, H. G. Thods and Marvin Fox, have succeeded in obtaining fairly large amounts of rare heavy nitrogen for experimental purposes is of the highest scientific importance. In order to label a protein, part of its ordinary nitrogen is displaced by the heavy variety. The chemical properties of the protein are so little changed that the cells are unable to distinguish one kind of nitrogen from the other. Whereupon the chemist examines tissues and organs to see what has happened to the labeled atoms. It was thus that Dr. Rudolf Schoenheimer of Columbia found that hippuric acid, a waste in food, is absorbed through the intestinal wall, and thus that one riddle of the alimentary canal was cleared up.

In principle this method of labeling atoms for the purpose of studying physiological processes is not new. It goes back to 1921, when Professor Hevesy first began to use radioactive lead as a tracer. Since then immense successes have been achieved with heavy hydrogen. With its aid Dr. Schoenheimer has been able to show that animals renew their fat every five to nine days and that if there is not enough fat in food it is manufactured out of starches, sugars and proteins.

Heavy nitrogen and heavy hydrogen and radioactive lead are called isotopes—variants of ordinary nitrogen, hydrogen and lead, but chemically indistinguishable from them. There are several hundred of these isotopes now. When first discovered it was realized that a whole new chemical world had been opened. Then it dawned on the scientists that a new biological world was opened, too—that a means had been found to penetrate deep into the mysterious processes of the living organism. What the end may be no one can foresee, but so far as medicine is concerned it is plain enough that mere speculating about what happens to food is destined to give place to exact knowledge, and that dietetic faddists will be forced into the outer darkness where they belong.

Ailments That Cause Spots Before Eyes Not Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

THE QUESTION comes about a middle-aged man who has complained of spots floating before his eyes for the last two years. They always are present, but exaggerated in the presence of bright light. At night, while driving, they are noticed floating in the glare of an approaching automobile. He says that more and more spots occur as time goes on, and he worries for fear he is going blind. Examination by an oculist shows normal vision and some spots seen by the ophthalmoscope in the liquid of the eyeball. The patient describes them as floating strings.

Spots before the eyes are of two general kinds—due to nervousness or actual opacities in one of the chambers of the eye. There are two chambers inside the eyeball, one in front of the lens and one behind it. The front chamber is filled with a thin fluid almost the consistency of water, and indeed named after water, as it is called the "aqueous humour". Opacities in this chamber are rare.

The fluid behind the lens, the vitreous humour, is thicker, liquid gelatinous in consistency. It is transparent and has no blood vessels (in adult life), but receives its nourishment from the retina and other surrounding structures.

It is Mr. Eddy's pleasure to capture the table talk on a concealed recording device; then at the conclusion of the dinner he has the record played back, usually to the mortification of some diners and to the delight of those in on the secret.

The British and French also want American support in the Orient. The British, especially, have huge interests there which Japan threatens. French interests, too, are important. But if Britain and France become involved with Italy and

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's neutrality law is not working at all satisfactorily from America's own standpoint. Its framers, however, are having the fun of seeing that it is proving exceedingly embarrassing to much of the remainder of the world.

Britain and France cannot conveniently go to the mat with Italy and Germany over the Spanish situation. If they do, it is on the cards that Uncle Sam will declare the existence of a state of war between their respective alliances, making it at least tremendously difficult for them to get needed supplies from this side of the Atlantic. True, they still will be permitted to buy from us if they pay cash and carry their purchases home in their own vessels. And Britain, at least, has the vessels. None of the European countries can afford to pay much cash, however.

In the Far East, Japan is in the same fix. It has ships to transport what it needs from our Pacific ports to its own shores, but it hasn't the cash to pay the bill at our waterfront.

No Help Here The British and French also want American support in the Orient. The British, especially, have huge interests there which Japan threatens. French interests, too, are important. But if Britain and France become involved with Italy and Germany they will be kept too busy nearer home to protect themselves against the mikado's activities in eastern Asia. Will the United States kindly attend to Nippon? Positively not, we have the neutrality complex.

New Yorker At Large

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Douglas Fairbanks was in town the other day and said he probably would do some serious motion-picture producing on the coast next year.

However, at the moment, he is occupied with plans for some winter skiing at St. Moritz, where he intends to do a lot of exhilarating. Skiing Douglas Fairbanks has replaced leaving over fences in the dewy dawn as Doug's favorite sport. He explained that the rugged up mountain sides was most invigorating and that no thrill was comparable to the experience of plunging down mountain sides at two miles a minute.

Doug said that Mrs. Fairbanks was also enthusiastic over prospects of another whirl at the winter sports, although she is not a skier herself. Her idea of fun is a hobbled-rumbling down a safe, wide course.

It is an established verity that a man getting around this town must pay between $40 and $50 a year for the privilege of wearing a hat.

One cannot enter a theater, a nightclub, or restaurant without exchanging one's hat for a little red ticket. This of course means a 25-cent tip, and in time these quarters do mount up.

However, the owners of the places themselves rarely pocket this largesse. They lease the hat-checking concessions for extraordinary sums, sometimes receiving as much as $3,000 a month. There are several corporations which make a regular business of buying up concessions, and establishing their own girls behind the counters.

Another little racket in New York has no such highly organized system, yet it has flourished for years. This takes the motorists, and when you park your car on any of the side streets a bum shuffles up, opens the door, and informs you that he will look after your car so that the street urchins will not steal the wheels or let the air out of the tires. Still uncertain, however, is the $29,000 FWA grant applied for by the city, half-promised by public works officials but not yet officially granted.

4 1-2 cups (2 lbs.) sugar
1 box Sure-Jell

To prepare fruit, peel about 2 1-2 pounds of fully ripe, soft peaches; pit and grind or crush thoroughly.

Measure sugar into a dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a five to six-quart kettle, filling last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary; place over hottest fire. Add Sure-Jell, mix well and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, add 1-4 teaspoon of butter may be added.) ## Budge Wins Net Crown

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Red-headed Don Budge of Oakland, Cal., today climaxed a successful tennis campaign as ever had been waged by any man by adding the national singles championship to the laurels he won at Wimbledon and in the Davis cup arena.

With strokes as brilliant as his gleaming hair, the California carrot-top subdued, for the third time this season, Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany, 6-1, 7-9, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1, before a crowd of 14,000 that jammed its way into the West Side tennis club's concrete horseshoe.

Thus Budge completed a year of international competition in which he did not lose a singles match and lost only once in doubles; in which he regained the Davis cup for the United States, brought back from Wimbledon the all-England singles, doubles and mixed doubles crowns, and waded through the national championships with the loss of only two sets.

Those were the two taken from him this afternoon by von Cramm, the blond, courtly German who was good enough to carry Budge through a two-hour battle, but not good enough to trip up the rapier-stroking Californian in his all-winning stride.

The titled German, hoping to add the singles championship to the doubles crown he and Henner Henkel won from Budge and Gene Mako at Brookline, outscored Budge on placements, set.

Long, Hard Workouts Feature Grid Drills as Coaches Push Conditioning Work for Hawks

By JOHN MOONEY Daily Iowan Sports Editor

With just two short weeks of grace before he must throw his untried eleven to the Huskies of Washington, Coach Irl Tubbs yesterday sent his 59 grid hopefuls through another day of strenuous work.

Stressing a passing offense and defense, the Hawkeye mentor, preparing for his first plunge into the Western conference wars, cut rest periods to the minimum while his assistants, Pat Boland and Ernie Nevers, sent the line-men and backs through two more long sessions.

Five complete teams swarmed over the already torn turf in the canvas-enclosed practice field, with two teams receiving most of the attention.

For one eleven, Fred Lindenmeyer was at the center position, Brady and Herman held down the guard spots; Gallagher and Ludeman performed at the tackle berths, and Captain Harris and Prasse at the flanks. In this combination, the backfield was composed of Nile Kinnick at the signal post, Al Schenk and Floyd Dean at the wingbacks, and Ed McLain at the fullback position.

The second eleven had Anderson at the pivot, Farroh and Allen as guards, Hefley and Irvine as tackles, and Lannon and Evans at end positions. In the backfield, Lamb called signals, Olson and Kelly played halves, and Balazs was at full.

Snappy signal drill featured the latter part of the afternoon drill as the coaches attempted to renew the plays taught last spring to their charges.

Although no practice is scheduled for today, it will be resumed bright and early tomorrow.

LATEST NEWS FROM BIG TEN SQUADS

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—More hard work was dished out to University of Minnesota football players today, with the first scrimmage sessions tentatively set by Coach Bernie Bierman for Monday.

Dummy scrimmage, tackling and blocking, and a long punting session took care of the day's schedule, which was interrupted in the afternoon by a downpour of rain. All of the players were in good shape after the first day's workout and Eldred Miller of Hutchinson, Minn., a strong tackle candidate, made his first appearance.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Thirty-three candidates for the 1937 Chicago Maroon eleven paraded in track suits today as Coach Clark Shaughnessy concentrated on signal drills. Double sessions will be held daily for three weeks, with the first scrimmage not scheduled for a week.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 11 (AP)—Coach Harry Stuhldreher and his aides apparently were pleased today as they watched the performance of a classy group of sophomores on the University of Wisconsin football squad.

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP)—Kicking, passing, signal drills and dummy scrimmage were on today's program for Northwestern football candidates as Coach Lynn Waldorf sent the squad through two brisk workouts.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 11 (AP)—Coach Francis Schmidt appeared today to be concentrating on building one powerful Ohio State football team—shunting aside his plan of former years of having two and three elevens.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 11 (AP)—Coach Francis Schmidt of Michigan today won a title voluntarily abandoned by his fellow townsman, Harris Coggeshall. He defeated Earl Calvert, Sioux City, 6-1, 7-5, 2-6, 6-1 in the semifinals.

Bob Sandler, S.U.I. Sophomore, Wins Northwest Missouri Meet TARKIO, Mo., Sept. 11 (AP)—Bob Sandler, one-armed University of Iowa sophomore from Des Moines, staged a rally today that defeated Wally Swank of St. Joseph, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2 in the finals of the Northwest Missouri tennis tournament.

Detroit Tigers Increase Lead Over Chisox

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—The White Sox were on the verge of going into second place today when they lost both ends of a double-header to the Detroit Tigers, 9 to 5 and 4 to 2. Now they're three games behind the current possessors.

The first game was a slug-fest with the Sox tossing in four errors to give the Tigers their margin of victory. A four-run second inning and a three-run eighth inning knocked out Bill Dietrich and John Rigney.

The Tigers came from behind with a three-run attack in the eighth inning of the second game to dispose of John Whitehead while Roxie Lawson and George Gill limited the Sox to five hits. A crowd of 25,000 fans saw the two games.

Sounds Like Sound Logic--

Blondy Ryan Believes Giants Will Win If They Stay Ahead

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Blondy Ryan, the slogan man of the league-leading New York Giants, has applied sound reasoning to the current situation.

Says Blondy: "They can't beat us as long as we stick in front." The Giants, win or lose, won't make the foot-racing mistake of looking over the shoulder in the stretch.

It sounds more like golf than baseball but Jack McCarthy, Giants' first sacker, started hitting after changing his stance and following through, instead of chopping at the ball.

Branch Rickey's proposal for a one-year Dizzy Dean moratorium sounds like nothing more than an early opening for the 1938 contract squabble.

Max Schmeling's contract to fight Joe Louis says he will collect only 20 per cent but the German got substantial cash bonus for signing and enough concessions otherwise to assure him close to $300,000.
