AMERICA FACES CRISIS--ROOSEVELT

Spanish Rebels Accuse Russia Of 'Sub' Piracy

Franco To Give 'Proof' To Committee In London

LONDON, Sept. 18—(Saturday)—(AP)—Insurgent Spain today formally accused Russia of submarine piracy in the Mediterranean, a Reuter's dispatch from Salamanca, Spain, reported.

The dispatch said Generalissimo Francisco Franco's headquarters claimed "irrefutable proof" that Russian submarines have attacked merchant shipping in the Inland sea.

Franco's communique said the facts would be submitted to the European "hands off Spain" committee in London. It charged that "at least two of the pirate submarines in the Mediterranean belong to the Soviet fleet." It described the submarines as 950-ton craft, each of which carried 22 torpedoes.

"Their mother ship, under the command of Captain Wassilieff of the Soviet republican navy," the communique added, "left them there and proceeded to Idessa (Russian Black sea port) in order to take on fresh provisions and munitions for them."

Non-Intervention Patrol Abandoned

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Great Britain and France abandoned the ineffectual non-intervention patrol of Spain today to concentrate all their available naval strength on the "more urgent" task of ridding the Mediterranean of "piracy," the mysterious attacks on merchant shipping that have grown out of the Spanish civil war.

Simultaneously the Nyon powers in a meeting at Geneva climaxed a week of swift diplomacy by broadening their nine-nation accord to provide for war on not only "pirate" submarines but airplanes and surface vessels.

Clearly showing they intended to go ahead regardless of German and Italian diplomatic thunder, London and Paris mustered warplanes and warships armadas in the Mediterranean of virtual wartime strength. More than 150 fighting ships with plane complements were assembling in the sea.

In the face of these sharp rebuffs, Premier Benito Mussolini was not expected to make any serious move until he could personally seek Chancellor Hitler's active support.

Pryor Quits As State Chairman Of Relief Work

DES MOINES, Sept. 17 (AP)—J. C. Pryor of Burlington today resigned as chairman of the Iowa Emergency Relief committee, Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel announced today.

Governor Kraschel said Pryor gave the "pressure of personal business and the distance he lives from Des Moines" as the reasons for the resignation. He said the problem arising from the Polk county relief situation, in which the board of supervisors and county relief committee are at odds over a director, was not given as one of Pryor's reasons for leaving the post.

Pryor became state chairman June 27, 1935. He tried to resign several times, the last occasion being in January of this year. The position has carried a $250 monthly salary since that time.

The former relief director is district counsel for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. He was president of the state bar association last year.

One of his last acts before leaving office was an effort to bring the warring factions together in the Polk situation. His suggested compromises were not accepted, however.

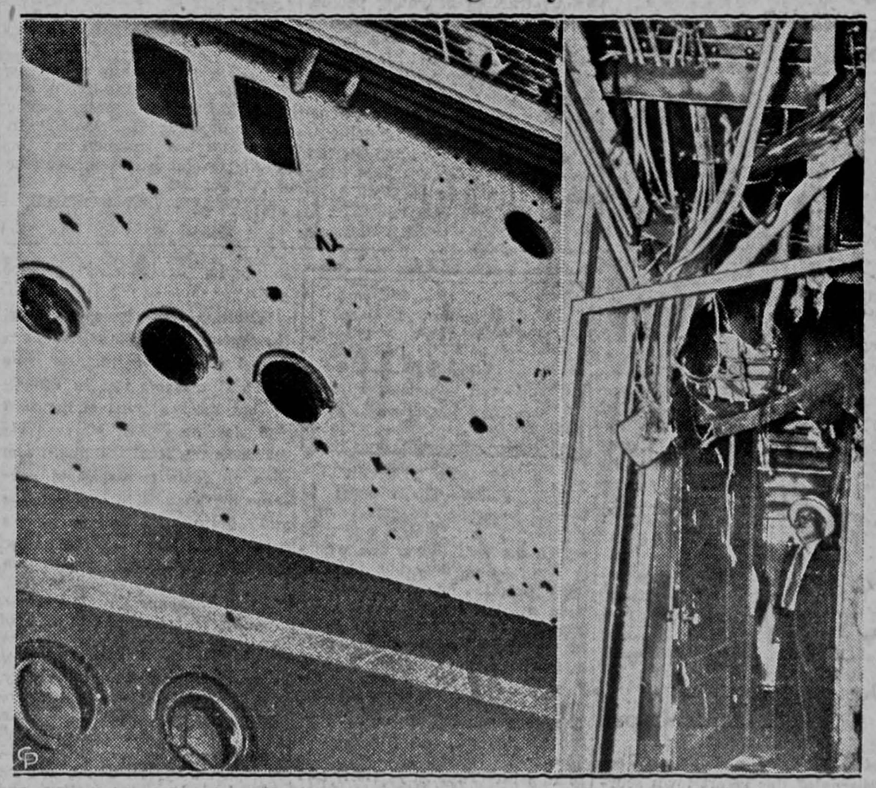
How U.S. Liner Was Damaged by Chinese Bombs



Closeup of holes caused by bomb fragments | Wreckage of companionway

Damage to the Dollar liner, President Hoover, which was struck by Chinese bombs as it neared Shanghai, Aug. 30 is pictured. The steamer was on a return voyage to evacuate Americans in the war-torn city. At the left is the wreckage of the companionway. At the right is a view of the holes in the ship's side caused by bomb fragments. One man, a sailor, died from injuries and several others were injured. Chinese representatives apologized for the accidental shelling, offering to make full restitution for injuries and damages. The Hoover, after the bombing, changed its course to Hong Kong instead of Shanghai, then narrowly escaped a typhoon at Hong Kong.

Freshman Conference Opens

100 Selected Men and Women To Get Preview of Campus Life

New students will ask questions about university life, and faculty members and upperclassmen will attempt to answer them today as the sixth annual freshman conference opens. A group of 100 selected freshman men and women will attend the two-day session.

Prof. William H. Morgan, adviser for student religious activities, is in charge of the affair, which is under the auspices of the religious activities board and the student religious council.

President Gilmore Speaks

President Eugene A. Gilmore will address the group at a 6 o'clock dinner tonight. The Rev. Edwin E. Voigt, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will also speak briefly. Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, will preside during the dinner, which will be in the river room of Iowa Union.

The day's program will open with an informal reception in the lounge of the law commons. This will be followed by a picnic style lunch and the singing of college songs, led by Don Mallett, manager of the housing service.

Prof. Stephen H. Bush, head of the Romance languages department, will talk on "Getting What We Want From Iowa" at 1:30 this afternoon. "Life at Iowa" will be discussed by faculty members and students alike at 2:15. Speakers will be Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, dean of women, Robert E. Rienow, dean of men, Daniel Feder of the psychology department, Coach Irl Tubbs, Jane Ballard, A4 of Waterloo, and William Creasey, A4 of Kingsley.

Chat Groups

Freshmen will meet faculty members and upperclassmen in chat groups at 3 o'clock. Taking part will be Mr. and Mrs. Feder, Prof. and Mrs. Claude Lapp, Mr. and Mrs. Mallett, Professor and Mrs. Morgan, Prof. and Mrs. C. Woody Thompson.

Betty Bauserman, A4 of Des Moines, Edward Greer, A2 of Iowa City, Margaret Leeper, A2 of Waterloo, Deana Krantman, A3 of Marshalltown, Mary Margaret Schwab, A2 of Winchester, Ill., and George Sudimack, A4 of Bayonne, N. J.

The only event on tonight's program will be social recreation in the women's gymnasium under the direction of Mary Stewart of the women's physical education department.

Vesper Service

The principal event on tomorrow's program will be the afternoon vesper service with Prof. Edward A. Steiner of Grinnell college as speaker. The program has been designed not only for members of the freshman conference but for all new students, their parents and friends.

Student co-chairmen of the conference are Hillis Hauser, A3 of Marshalltown, and Miss Leeper.

Neff Elected As Hospital Head

ATLANTIC CITY, N.Y., Sept, 17 (AP)—The American hospital association wound up its annual convention today with the election of Robert E. Neff, administrator of University hospital at Iowa City, Ia., as president for the coming year. He succeeds Dr. Claude W. Munger of New York City.

Dr. G. Harvey Agnew of Toronto was tentatively chosen to succeed Neff a year hence.

15 SUNDAYS

Farmer Must Work, So Law Yields

ANKENY, Sept. 17 (AP)—The prospect of 15 Sundays in jail faced Emil Dennler, 24-year-old Lincoln township farmer tonight.

Justice of the Peace Jerry Donaghy imposed the sentence following Dennler's plea of guilty to a charge of driving a car without a drivers' license.

"I believe the law should take its course," the justice said, "but not to the extent of keeping a farmer from his work. This sentence will give him a chance to keep up his farm work and satisfy the law, too."

Paralysis Patient Rushed to 'Lung' In Des Moines

DES MOINES, Sept. 17 (AP)—Des Moines' first "iron lung" was called into use today for the first time when 17-year-old Mrs. Vera Barrett of Shenandoah was rushed here from Iowa City, suffering from infantile paralysis.

Doctors said Mrs. Barrett's condition was "very critical." The disease was first noticed early this week but respiratory paralysis did not develop until today.

Both respirators at Iowa City were in use so an ambulance rushed the young woman here. She was placed immediately in the respirator. Doctors said she could not have lived much longer without the "iron lung."

Now, they said, she has an even chance of recovery.

The ambulance came from Iowa City, 119 miles away, in two hours.

The respirator, a gift of Mrs. Edwin T. Meredith, had been installed in the hospital 12 hours before Mrs. Barrett's arrival.

Urges 'Repudiation' Of U.S. Leadership

RAPID CITY, S.D., Sept. 17 (AP)—Standing before the face of Abraham Lincoln, carved out of solid rock on the steep side of Mt. Rushmore, Senator Edward R. Burke (D-Neb) said today in a Constitution day address "there should be instant repudiation of the doctrine recently expressed that the American people are so well satisfied with present leadership, or perhaps helpless to do otherwise, that they are willing to accept anything the master suggests."

Buses or Trolleys? Rapids Must Decide

CEDAR RAPIDS, Sept. 17 (AP)—The city council today decided to put up to the voters the question of whether they want bus service instead of the present street car service. A special election will be held sometime in October.

Capital Observers See Roosevelt Gesture In Black Case

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gov. Bibb Graves of Alabama, linked with the Ku Klux Klan by the same stories that have alleged associated Justice Hugo Black's membership in that organization, sat just at President Roosevelt's left tonight as he delivered his Constitution day speech.

Washingtonians, quick to notice this fact, wondered if it contained any significance—if Mr. Roosevelt, who has said he would have no further comment until Black returns from Europe, was indulging in a calculated gesture.

Both Named

The newspaper stories which told of Black's receiving a life membership in the Klan in 1926 said Graves had such a membership conferred on him at the same time. Black had just won the Alabama democratic senatorial primary and Graves had just triumphed in the gubernatorial primary.

Governor Graves was accompanied by Senator Graves—his wife, whom he appointed to the senate seat made vacant by Black's elevation to the supreme court.

Earlier, John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the republican national committee, had issued a statement saying it was "inconceivable that President Roosevelt would knowingly have appointed a member of the Klan to the supreme court."

"Impossible," Says Shouse

At the same time, Jouett Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, in the first statement issued by that organization in months, said it was impossible Mr. Roosevelt did not know of the persistent reports linking Black with the Klan.

Hamilton said that "all must hope Mr. Roosevelt will be successful in finding a solution of this difficult problem compatible at once with the dignity of the supreme court and of his own high office."

"It is a matter of regret to republicans no less than democrats that the president should have remained in ignorance of the evidence regarding the affiliations of Mr. Justice Black," he said.

"In any issue of such seriousness affecting as it does the integrity of our fundamental institutions there is no proper place for partisan criticism."

Meanwhile, the justice department revealed the government has already paid Black 12 days' salary, $666.66, as a member of the court, although he has yet to sit upon that tribunal.

The American Liberty league, virtually dormant since the election of last November, returned to the political wars with a statement contending President Roosevelt must have known of Black's alleged Ku Klux Klan connections when he appointed him.

At the same time, Senator Bankhead D-(Ala) issued a statement in Jasper, Ala., denying he assured his senate colleague, prior to the vote on confirmation, that Black was not a member of the Klan.

Chochow Falls Before Japan's 'Steam Roller'

Move Isolates 50,000 Chinese Troops On Railway

PEIPING, Sept. 17 (AP)—Japanese army headquarters announced tonight its steam-roller offensive south and southwest of Peiping had rolled over the walled city of Chochow, Chinese advance base on the Peiping-Hankow railway 40 miles from here.

The fall of Chochow, the Japanese declared, had isolated five Chinese divisions, some 50,000 men, along the railway north of that city. Two Japanese columns, moving pincher-wise from either side of the railway, threatened to entrap and destroy this force.

The Japanese drive, launched with 60,000 men with the crossing of the Yungting river 30 miles south of Peiping Tuesday, gained added momentum and advanced 12 miles in the last 24 hours.

Part of the force continued down the railway toward the main Chinese base in this area, Paotingfu, 80 miles from Peiping. Japanese airmen bombed troop concentrations there.

The Japanese also reported rapid advances for their highly mobile column penetrating Shansi province—west of the Peiping battle area—from the north. They said they had taken Hengyuan, 40 miles southeast of Tatung, main railway town of north Shansi, and Laihsien, on the Shansi-Hopeh border.

Chinese Plea Fails To Swerve Hull

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The United States stuck tonight to its partial embargo on war implements for China and Japan despite a fervent protest from China.

Showing unmistakable signs of an emotional upset, Chinese Ambassador C. T. Wang called on Secretary of State Hull to declare the embargo was a blow to his country.

Replying to the ambassador, Hull merely declared the president's action in complying on the export restrictions was a government order which spoke for itself.

President Revives Judiciary Fight, Warns of Dictatorship Unless Living Bases Raised

Appeals to Nation to Support Constitution And Not Its 'Misinterpreters'; Hits Liberty Leaguers Again

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned aggressively to the battle for the reorganization of the judiciary tonight with an appeal that the nation give its "fealty to the constitution and not to its misinterpreters."

To a scathing criticism of the "odd man on the supreme court," he added a warning that unless permanent social reform is quickly assured, America may well be caught in the tides of dictatorship that have engulfed other lands.

He spoke on the 150th anniversary of the signing of the constitution at a gala open air mass meeting which climaxed Washington's observance of Constitution day. His audience spread across a vast amphitheatre just below the Washington monument.

Only by raising the living standards of the masses, he said, "can we ensure against internal doubt as to the worthiness of our democracy and dissipate the illusion that the necessary price of efficiency is dictatorship with its attendant spirit of aggression."

"Crisis"

He added:

"That is why I have been saying for months that there is a crisis in American affairs which demands action now—a crisis particularly dangerous because its external and internal difficulties reinforce each other.

"Purposely, I paint a broad picture. For only if the problem is seen in perspective can we see its solution in perspective.

"I am not a pessimist. I believe that democratic government in this country can do all the things which common sense people, seeing the picture as a whole, have the right to expect. I believe that these things can be done under the constitution, without the surrender of a single one of the civil and religious liberties it was intended to safeguard."

"Unending Struggle"

But, he continued, while the framers of the constitution produced a "layman's document," for 150 years "we have had an unending struggle between those who would preserve this original broad concept of the constitution as a layman's instrument of government and those who would shrivel the constitution into a lawyer's contract."

Striking at the lawyers' committee of the American Liberty league, he said:

"Less than two years ago 58 of the highest priced lawyers in the land gave the nation (without cost to the nation) a solemn and formal opinion that the Wagner labor relations act was unconstitutional. And in a few months, first a national election and later the supreme court overruled them."

Much of the president's speech quickly took his audience back to the bitter days of last spring when the chief executive was fighting for enactment of his bill to name new supreme court justices on the plea the judiciary had fallen behind the times and was in need of "new blood."

Still His Goal

Defeated on that issue, Mr. Roosevelt nevertheless made it plain his objective of a reorganized judiciary was still before him. Tonight, he made it doubly plain that he has not given up that battle.

Tonight's speech was prefaced by a reference to foreign events as they affect America, in the course of which Mr. Roosevelt termed the dictatorships of Europe a threat to civilization.

When the constitution was signed, he said, the new government was thousands of miles removed from the affairs of Europe, but today that situation has changed.

"Now what we do has enormous immediate effect not only among the nations of Europe but also among those of the Americas and the far east, and what in any part of the world they do as surely and quickly affects us."

Our own generation has seen democracies replace monarchies and dictatorships replace democracies, he said, and from this has come a "challenge to the democratic form of government." The dictators, he added, "laugh at all constitutions" and predict that their own methods will be copied throughout the world.

"Both that attitude and that prediction are denied by those of us who still believe in democracy—that is by the overwhelming majority of the nations of the world and by the overwhelming majority of the people of the world," he said.

Roosevelt Will Start Western Trip In Week

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt announced tonight he would leave Hyde Park the middle of next week for a trip to the west coast.

The White House announced the president would leave Washington tomorrow night for Hyde Park and start the trans-continental trip Wednesday night, returning to the capital probably early in October.

No formal speeches have been arranged for the trip but the president will stop at Yellowstone park and inspect a number of the larger government projects, including the Bonneville, Ft. Peck and Grand Coulee dams.

Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany the president on the trip and they will visit their daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger, in Seattle.

White House officials emphasized detailed plans for the trip had not been finally determined and that the full itinerary would not be completed for a day or two.

The announcement conditioned the trip upon the absence of "unforeseen" developments which might prevent its being made.

Kidnaper Holds Man, 63, for Eight Hours in Cave

Man With 'Only Year To Live' Confesses Abduction of Former Employer, Says He's 'Sorry'

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP) — State police said tonight after the arrest of a 35-year-old apartment house superintendent that Julius Redlich, wealthy 63-year-old Wingdale, N. Y., resort owner was kidnaped Sept. 4 and held prisoner for eight hours in a weird man-made cave 10 miles away at Millbrook, N. Y.

Inspector F. S. McGarvey said the prisoner, booked as Franz Hanawald, readily confessed the kidnaping.

Awakened at 2 A.M.

Redlich, owner of the sumptuous Berkshire country club in Wingdale, a Manhattan wine importing firm and a Miami, Fla., hotel, reported the kidnaper awakened him at gunpoint about 2 a.m., while he was sleeping on the ground floor of his home near the club.

He drove him to the cave, Redlich related, and demanded $20,000 ransom. Redlich told him he didn't have that much money, and they haggled over the amount for several hours.

Then the man went away, returned with some food, and released him with no ransom payment, the inspector said Redlich told him.

Redlich, exhausted, staggered two miles to a farmhouse and reported the crime.

The cave, located by state police with bloodhounds, was hidden in a lonely wooded section. It was eight feet long, six feet wide and two feet high and lined with concrete.

An officer quoted Hanawald as explaining the crime:

"A doctor told me that I had something the matter with my liver and that I had only a year to live and I figured I might as well have some money during that year and that was the best way to get it."

Hanawald, a thin, slight taciturn man, was confronted with Redlich, Redlich's wife, and his son, John, 34, at the Hawthorne barracks during officers' intermittent questioning.

"I did it—I'm sorry. I don't know why," he told Mrs. Redlich.

Store

Redlich, a red-faced, heavy-set man, partly bald with a fringe of white hair, displayed no emotion as he confronted his former employe to identify him.

Dutchess County District Attorney John R. Schwartz said he would call the grand jury Tuesday to consider the case and that Hanawald would be taken to the county jail at Dover Plains tomorrow.

150 Years Of The Constitution

ONE HUNDRED and fifty years ago today the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, a Philadelphia newspaper, printed the news that a constitutional convention "broke up about four o'clock yesterday afternoon."

As simply as that was treated the completion of a document which was to become the most famous, the most powerful and the most enduring in all history. England's Magna Charta gave certain rights only to the rich and noble barons. The constitution was to give the rights of life, liberty, property, and the pursuit of happiness to all men, rich or poor, who chose to live within the United States.

For 150 years now the constitution has stood as a barrier against the winds of misrule and oppression which forever blow from some spot or other in the world. It has been rigid in defense of our liberties.

In other matters it has been flexible, submitting to the necessity of broad interpretation as new situations arose. This flexibility has not been a weakness. Instead it is the secret of the strength which has enabled the constitution to continue while in other countries similar documents were being cast aside.

We are today in the midst of a controversy with the constitution as the central issue. New deal opponents charge that the president seeks to make it but a tool of his office, subject to his will. The president retorts that he is guided in his actions by the same principles which brought forth the birth of the constitution so long ago. Both president and opponents are sincere in their beliefs.

To those who charge that the president is seeking to subvert the constitution to his own uses we say that a document which has so steadfastly held its own for 150 years is not likely to be greatly changed by any man.

And to a president who believes that a changed interpretation of the constitution is necessary before the social well-being of all United States citizens is assured, we say that if such changes are necessary they will come—as they have in the past.

All men, even presidents, come and go. The constitution apparently continues forever, just as Washington and Jefferson and Franklin and Hamilton and Madison and all the others who helped frame this "greatest document of all time" meant for it to do.

Whippets do not eat before a race and a lot of humans who bet on them don't eat afterward.

A British scientist says there are 27,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 drops of water in oceans, rivers and lakes of the world. He's safe—no one can prove he's wrong.

In some of those all-star-pro football games the professionals were slapped around so badly by the ex-collegians that they very nearly regained their amateur standing.

Germany Is Hungry —Ask Hitler

ADOLF HITLER wound up the National Socialist congress at Nurnberg with a typical display of nazi fireworks. He defied Russia, violently denounced bolshevism and Jews, and declared that he will not tolerate the existence of a bolshevized Spain. Such tantrums by Hitler are not unusual. They become unusual, however, in the light of his frank confession that Germany cannot feed herself any more.

Hitler admitted that in time of war, with imports shut off, Germany could feed 90 per cent of her population, which would allow the other 10 per cent the privilege of going hungry. Or, he admitted, she could deal out 90 per cent rations to 100 per cent of the population.

They would not be luxuriously, comfortably, or even adequately fed. Germany needs a breadbasket, and Germany's breadbasket, according to Hitler, might well be the Ukraine, Russia's granary to the south.

The Ukraine has had a wide and varied history. Shortly after Lenin and Trotsky seized the government and the White Russians were threatening on all sides, it was up to the peasants to decide whether they wanted their rulers to be white or red. Lenin won them by offering them the land they had tilled as tenants under the czar.

This coup of Lenin's was a smart stroke, particularly since he later took the land back.

The farmers refused to ship their produce to the cities because the cities had nothing to give them in return. In order not to starve to death, the cities sent soldiers and took the crops and cattle from the land.

Now it would be a smart move on Hitler's part to offer the Ukranians the same thing as did Lenin.

The Ukranians always have been a group unto themselves. In the days of the czars, they regarded themselves as different from other Russians. The Moscow government has recognized their yearnings for autonomy by permitting them their own language and central government. Long before the war, Germans began to settle the rich Ukranian countryside; and when Russian resistance to Germany collapsed in late 1917, the central powers (Germany and Austria) negotiated for a separate treaty with the Ukraine. Such a treaty was signed in February, 1918, and for the rest of the World war that state supplied the central powers with the food they needed so badly.

The discontent in Russia, evidenced by these endless executions must be greatest of all in the Ukraine; it may be that if Hitler promises to give the farms back to the peasants he would be received there as Napoleon was received by the Poles—as a liberator.

It is autumn, however, in Russia. Hitler himself has admitted that fall and winter are bad times for wars. The dirt roads present difficult problems to marching troops and supply systems in the winter. We doubt that Hitler's attack on Russia, if it is to take place, will occur this fall. Napoleon made such a mistake once, but Hitler knowing it is not likely to repeat it.

CLIPPED From Other COLUMNS

FOR BUSINESS offices, advice of the New York Telephone company that "hello" should be dropped as the opener of telephone conversation is good enough. The suggested practice of immediate identification in place of "hello" saves time and avoids classification as a telephoner of archaic habit. But the old-fashioned "hello," which the company would ban along with the cagey "yes," is not as easily banned from home and other private sallies.

Telephones have as many users now as there are motives and modes in the human race. If you are expecting a call from an annoying acquaintance, or if such may be likely, are you going to start right off by identifying yourself? You are not. And what's more, there are all manner of incoming calls you can handle more to your own satisfaction if you can spar for a moment before the caller who has your number gets your name and perhaps your goat. The word "hello," as used in telephone practice since the art had its beginnings, and its equivalent opening words, are to the telephone user what a smart maid or doorman is to the householder. Identification at once is a good idea, but there's no modern invention that equals "hello" as a screen behind which to hide until you learn whether the caller wants to borrow a five or buy you a dinner.

Recipes for Diabetic Cases Listed Here By Dr. Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

THE FOLLOWING recipes, which have been used at the New England Deaconess hospital for years in the treatment of diabetes, may help to relieve the patient's longing for some of the foods he used to eat.

Squash Gingerbread

One hundred eighty grams vegetable marrow (cooked and mashed), 20 grams butter, one egg white, one tablespoon ginger, 60 cc cream.

Flavor vegetable marrow with salt, melt butter and add it to vegetable, add ginger. Beat egg and add to mixture. Spread one-fourth inch thick and bake for one and one-fourth hours in moderate oven. Serve hot with 60 cc cream whipped stiff and flavored with saccharin.

Food value: Carbohydrate, eight; protein, 11; fat, 28.

Bran Cookies

Two cups washed bran, one tablespoon India gum, one tablespoon mineral oil, salt and saccharin to taste, one-half teaspoon ginger, cloves, anise or caraway seed, if desired.

Mix dry ingredients and add bran and mineral oil with enough water to make a stiff dough. Knead with finger tips. Pat out and cut into thin cookies. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven until crisp.

Cellu-Flour Sponge Cake

One egg, one tablespoon water, one-half teaspoon extract, one to one and one-half tablespoons cellu-flour.

Beat white and yolk of egg separately. To the yolk add water, extract, salt and saccharin. Then add cellu-flour from one to one and one-half tablespoons, according to consistency of the yolk. When the mixture is almost brittle, add the egg white, being careful not to beat it too thoroughly. A pinch of baking powder may be used if desired. Bake in a quick oven about 15 minutes.

Food value: Carbohydrate, 0; protein, 6; fat, 6.

Variations: With strawberries and whipped cream, as allowed in diet, a shortcake can be made; 15 grams nuts, chopped, may be added if allowed in diet, or 30 grams blueberries, if desired.

Agar-Agar Jelly

One teaspoon agar-agar (powdered), one and one-half pints water, strained coca shells or coffee; one teaspoon flavoring extract (vanilla, lemon, strawberry).

Mix agar with a little of the water until a smooth paste. Add rest of water and boil 10 minutes. Strain, flavor, color and sweeten with saccharin as desired. Pour into molds and cool at room temperature.

Gelatin

One teaspoon gelatin to two cups hot water, dissolved, may be added to one teaspoon of vanilla, lemon, orange, strawberry or coffee extracts and saccharin to taste. Gelatin is used very little because of high protein content. Gelatin may be used when agar-agar is too laxative.

Ice Cream

One hundred fifty cc cream (30 per cent), saccahrin to taste.

Whip cream. When moderately well whipped, flavor with diabetic vanilla and continue whipping until stiff. Put mixture into mold, pack in salt and ice and leave for from two to three hours. This makes a light, fluffy and quite bulky ice cream.

Food value: Carbohydrate, 8; protein, 8; fat, 45.

Deer Causes Panic At Michigan Resort

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP)—Citizens of this resort town scurried for cover recently when a large eight-point buck strayed into town, became frightened and fled, leaving a trail of wreckage behind.

The deer hurdled an automobile in the business district, narrowly missed a plate glass window in a store and dashed through the front door of a garage and plunged out the rear window, smashing the glass.

A New Yorker At Large

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There seem to be few "average" citizens in any of New York's foreign quarters. Either the individuals are wholly ignorant or they are surprisingly bright. Most of the alert ones, priding themselves on their adaptability, and asking no quarter in the struggle to establish themselves in a new land, make a point of keeping abreast of the times in all things possible. They are conversant on all current topics of importance—they know who is who and are familiar with Tammany Hall and Joe DiMaggio.

However, the dull ones are amazingly in reverse. Not only are they unacquainted with doings here—they are astonishingly ignorant of conditions at home. For instance, in a restaurant which makes a specialty of Hungarian waitresses, the talk between a party of men was on European politics, and one of them turned to the girl.

"You're Hungarian, aren't you?" . . . She admitted this, and then the fellow said, "Well, would you favor a restoration of the monarchy?"

The girl looked at him blankly. "What is a monarchy?" she wanted to know. She's wasn't kidding. The word simply meant nothing to her.

New York's Roumanian colony is small but well-behaved. The only disorders occuring there are internal ones, brought on by arguments disputing Carol's rights to the throne.

The Italians still have a "Little Italy" on the East Side, but there are so many of them that they are all over town. Far in excess of a million, there are more Italians in New York than in Rome.

The English, as a rule, maintain their dignity and their serenity even in Manhattan heatwaves, clinging to the tradition that no Britisher worth a saddle of mutton ever permits himself to be affected by economic or climatic disorders.

Panting into the office on a recent day when the thermometer was flirting with the 100 mark, I got into the elevator with the New York correspondent of a London newspaper. He was, as usual, his immaculate self, collar freshly starched, wholly untouched by the humidity. I noticed with some astonishment that he even wore a vest beneath his tweed jacket.

Ourselves, we were in a disheveled state and carried our coat on our arm, a circumstance which seemed to leave him wildly astonished.

"Reahlly," he said in honest protest, "does one geow around in his shirt sleeves?"

SCREEN LIFE

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The years are so SHORT:

1. The flaming-haired lady was hurt, incredulous, and not a little indignant. For all that she was beautiful.

"I don't know why he should say things like that," she declared. "Always before our relations have been of the friendliest and never have I said or done anything to make him angry at me. I can scarcely believe it."

The lady was worried, too. Her principal success in films had been with this man, and here, just as the team was about to be reunited, he had been quoted as protesting the reunion, objecting to playing in another picture with her.

Within a day or so, however, the "misunderstanding" had been ironed out. The picture was made. It was his last in America, but the beginning of her first real stardom. "The Merry Widow" was the final teaming. From then on Jeanette MacDonald became the "name" in her pictures, and Maurice Chevalier—he's back in France. Remember gay Maurice of the underslung lip?

Smith, Jones Or Brown

2. He was one of a group of minor actors who came into the Hollywood late spot for a snack. None of them looked too happy, and this fellow—he was introduced as Mr. Smith, or Mr. Jones, or Mr. Brown. I couldn't remember which the next day—seemed unhappiest of all.

He had done one picture, and he had backing from all present in his opinion that he hadn't been done right by. "But what could you expect of Hollywood?" was the tenor of the squawks, for these gentlemen were all from Broadway, and Hollywood was new. The turn of Mr. Jones (Smith, Brown's) lips was decidedly down.

But the next time I saw him, some months later, those lips were taking an upward trend. Hollywood had begun to find out about Joe E. Brown.

Chick Chandler of "Look Out, Mr. Moto" raises bees—and cleared $800 from the honey last year. . . Glutton for punishment is Shirley Ross. . . She has nine radios in her home—and it's not a big house either. . . John Barrymore, under Elaine's wifely eye, is looking trimmer than he has in months. . . Eddie Cantor is writing a piece called "Get Thee Behind Me." . . . It's about trailers. . . Twentieth Century has the Oriental war situation well in hand, no matter who comes out on top, with Charlie Chan and Mr. Moto both under contract.

Paul Whiteman, who broadcasts on NBC from the Ft. Worth Frontier Fiesta, tells of a visit he once made to an institute for the feeble-minded. Strolling about the grounds, he was accosted by an inmate.

"What's your name?" he demanded of the bandman. "Paul Whiteman," answered Paul. "Oh, well," remarked the other, "they'll soon take that out of you here."

A student who is a little dull holds an edge over his brilliant classmate, Dr. Rollin H. Walker, famous 70-year-old educator, declared in an interview on the Let's Talk It Over program over NBC.

"It's almost an advantage to be a little dull," he said, "for then you have to hold to a task not only until you have memorized the material and seen the point of it, but also until the fires of feeling are lighted. The smart student leaves off before his emotions are stirred, and it is only the man who feels deeply who accomplishes great things."

The clarinetist is Sonny Salad, who has been heard on smaller radio stations for the last six years.

Grasshoppers Feast On Seats of Autos

WALLACE, Neb. (AP)—Dee Raney brought a new automobile, gave it a good tryout, then locked it up tightly while he retired at home for a night's rest.

When he unlocked the car the next morning, the upholstery showed signs of wear and tear, with many a hole.

Wallace found he had locked up a number of hungry grasshoppers which had promptly decided on a good meal.

Kathryn Rose Holliday Wed To John B. Worley Tuesday

In Ceremony at Boonville, Mo., Iowa City Man Married to Boonville Girl; Will Reside At 103 S. Cinton Street

The marriage of Kathryn Rose Holliday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Holliday of Boonville, Mo., to John B. Worley of Iowa City was solemnized Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Nelson Memorial Methodist church at Boonville. Mr. and Mrs. Worley will be at home at 103 S. Clinton street after Oct. 1.

The Rev. J. C. McDonald performed the ceremony, before which Mary Donahue of Kansas City, Mo., sang "Because" and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Luther T. Spayde of the Central college conservatory played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin for the processional down the white-carpeted aisle and Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional.

The bride wore a princess gown of white velvet made with a heart-shaped neckline, long tight sleeves and a three-tiered court train. Her long net veil fell from a diadem of white sequins. She wore a gold cross at her throat and carried a white prayer book with lilies of the valley.

Matron of Honor

Mrs. Bonham Chancellor of Boonville, matron of honor, was gowned in gold taffeta with a veil of gold illusion. She carried a fan made of Talisman roses, pink and yellow daisies and purple ageratum.

The bridesmaids, Mary Redd of Mexico, Mo., Georgia Mary Dorrill of Salisbury, Mo., and Louise L. Worley, the bridegroom's sister from Ely, wore taffeta dresses of plum, Nile green and blue with matching hats and veils and carried flower fans. The flower girl, dressed in pink taffeta, was little Phyllis Sanders of Boonville and Fritz Schupp, the bride's cousin, was ring bearer.

Best Man

Luther Worley of Ely attended his brother as best man; and ushers were David Evans of North English, Richard Snakenberg of Sigourney, Ronald Shumway of Arlington, all Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and Ralph Kennedy of New Hampton.

After the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception in their home. Immediately afterwards the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding trip to Wisconsin Dells.

Mrs. Worley is a graduate of Central college at Fayette, Mo., where she was Ragout queen and Homecoming queen. She has been dramatic coach in the Salisbury and Boonville schools since graduation.

Mr. Worley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Worley of Ely, received a B.A. degree from the University of Iowa. He is assistant manager of the Bu-payne company here.

Robert B. May Wed Yesterday

Marries Barbara Baugh In Ceremony At Des Moines

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Baugh of Ericson, Neb., announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Lee, to Dr. Robert B. May of Omaha, Neb. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stoddard Lane in the Plymouth Congregational church of Des Moines yesterday.

The bride was graduated in 1935 from the school of nursing at the Bishop Clarkson Memorial hospital in Omaha.

Dr. May received a B.A. degree from Drake university in 1932 and an M.D. degree from the University of Iowa in 1936. He is affiliated with Phi Beta Pi, medical fraternity, and is now resident physician on the psychiatric service of the Clarkson hospital.

After a short trip the couple will make their home at 552 S. 25th avenue in Omaha.

Flier To Use Penny For Luck Over Pole

CHILDRESS, Tex. (AP)—James Mattern, famous flier, will carry a Childress penny in his shoe when he makes his projected trans-polar air trip to Moscow next year.

H. C. Preslar of Childress received the coin from a fortune teller with the suggestion it would bring him luck if he carried it in a shoe.

Soon after Preslar did as instructed, Childress received a much-needed rain. Preslar took credit.

When Mattern heard the story, he borrowed the penny.

University Debaters Will Meet Team from Britain in October

Will Make 14th Year Foreign Team Has Debated Here

An international debate between the university and a selected team from British universities will occur here in October, Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of debate, announced yesterday.

It will be the 14th straight year that university men have debated a team from another country. No date or subject yet has been chosen, Professor Baird said.

Britishers On Tour

The British speakers will be picked from leading debaters of such large institutions as Oxford and Cambridge university and will make an extensive tour of American universities.

Giving balance and breadth to the campus speaking program, international debates since 1924 have been held with Cambridge, Oxford, German universities, University of Philippines, Trinity college of University of Dublin, Robert college of Turkey and University of Sydney, Australia.

Plan Other Debates

Prof. Baird also announced that university speakers again would compete in the Western conference debate league, with contests to be held in November and February. Iowans will compete in several tournaments too.

Forensic work will be organized at a general meeting Oct. 5, and preliminary tryouts for the intercollegiate squad will occur Oct. 12 and 13.

Moose Women Plan Second Card Party

The second in the series of four public card parties at which the Women of the Moose are entertaining will take place next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Moose hall.

Prizes at the first party Thursday evening were won by Mrs. John Novak and Mrs. F. Smith in bridge and by Mrs. Frances Kershner, Mrs. Fred Wagner, Mrs. John Lemons and Mrs. Fred Robinson in euchre.

Woman's Club Begins Season

90 Members Present At First General Meeting

About 90 members were present yesterday afternoon at the season's first general meeting of the Iowa City Woman's club, in the new meeting place, 322 N. Clinton street. Mrs. F. B. Olsen, president of the club, and Mrs. Joseph Howe, head of the garden department which served as host, presided at the tea table.

The executive board, meeting just before the general session, passed a resolution favoring a $29,000 PWA grant for rebuilding a community center in Iowa City. The resolution was passed in connection with the American Legion campaign for the grant in which every community organization in town is being contacted.

The afternoon's program included a review of the book, "The Garden Grows" by J. Leming, presented by Mrs. Joseph E. Baker who illustrated her talk with diagrams of the garden discussed in the book. Mrs. Alexander Ellett sang three songs, "My Heart is a Garden" by Edward Kurtz, "Autumn" by Mary Turner Salter and "Overtones" by Joyce Kilmer Rasbach.

The room was decorated with a display of zinnias, marigolds, petunias and pansies, arranged by the garden department.

Members of the committee in charge were Mrs. W. T. Goodwin, Mrs. I. A. Rankin, Mrs. Edward F. Mason, Mrs. Peter Laude and Mrs. Charles H. McCloy.

Parties Honor Alice Lampe

Bride-to-Be Entertained Frequently Before Wedding, Oct. 2

One of the most popular brides-to-be of the season is Alice Lampe, daughter of Prof. M. Willard Lampe, 120 Fairchild street, who is being entertained at frequent parties in honor of her approaching marriage, Oct. 2.

Miss Lampe will be the guest of honor at a luncheon a week from today at 1 p.m. in the Cedar Rapids home of Mrs. C. D. Sheperd. There will be guests present from Iowa City, Davenport and Cedar Rapids.

Among the 15 or 20 women present will be the wives of the members of the Cedar Rapids agency office of the National Life Insurance company of Vermont. Miss Lampe's fiance, John B. Heidel of Cedar Rapids, is a member of the agency.

A week from tomorrow, Margaret Anderson, 322 N. Clinton street, will be hostess at a breakfast in Miss Lampe's honor at 9 a.m. in the foyer of Iowa Union. The guests will present a shower of kitchen gifts to the bride-elect.

Miss Lampe will be entertained tonight by Eunice Howell, 227 S. Johnson street, at a linen shower in her home. Miss Howell's other guests will be Mrs. Stewart E. Wilson, Mrs. Maynard A. Wood, Evelyn Benda, Jeanne Doran, Betty Lampe, Nell Ellis and Miss Anderson, all of Iowa City, Mrs. Harold Wickham of West Branch and Mrs. John Thede of Dixon.

Sons of Veterans Honor Departing Couple at Party

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stanfield, 38 Lincoln avenue, who will leave Iowa City within a few weeks, were guests of honor at the meeting of the Sons of Union Veterans and their auxiliary last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Swisher, 710 Kirkwood avenue.

The meeting was in the form of a farewell party for the Stanfields. A gift from the two organizations and a shower of gifts from the individual members were presented to them. The program after the picnic supper was in charge of Jesse Richardson, commander of the Sons of Union Veterans.

Rye Planted in '35 Sprouts This Year

VALENTINE, Neb. (AP)—It may take time to raise a crop on the Pine Ridge reservation, but it can be done.

Henry Krauss planted some rye in 1935, but hail beat it to the ground before it got a good start. It was so dry in 1936 it failed to sprout.

This year it finally made the grade. Krauss reported a yield of about seven bushels per acre.

Ted Lewis, sophomore fullback, scored a fourth quarter touchdown from the 30 yard line to climax a steady drive down the field to give Iowa City high school a 6-0 victory over the invading Decorah football team on Shrader field here last night.

The Hawklets outplayed their lighter opponents all through the game but were unable to cross the pay line until the last quarter drive. Midway in the first quarter the Little Hawks drove through to the invaders' 16 yard line but the scrappy Decorah machine held and took the ball on downs. Five plays later the locals were pounding at the pay door again but a fumble on the four yard stripe lost them their chance. The half ended with the ball in City's high possession on the Decorah 13 yard line.

Third Quarter

Most of the action in the third quarter took place in Decorah territory. The northerners made a determined rally at the start of the period but the Hawklets' line stiffened and the visitors were forced to punt.

The fourth period opened with Decorah in possession of the ball on their own 32 yard line. Symonds made six yards through the center of the line and then punted. The ball went almost straight into the air and was downed on the Decorah 38 yard stripe. Bill Buckley made four yards off-tackle and then turned the situation over to Lewis.

First Down

The sophomore star went inside tackle two times to make it a first down in midfield. On the next play he went between guard and tackle, slipped through the grasps of several would-be tacklers and was finally downed on the 40 yard line. An attempted pass gave Lewis time for a deep breath before he again got underway. A double reverse with Lewis carrying the mail took the ball to the 31 yard line and paved the way for the game-winning score.

With the packed stands chanting "We want a touchdown" the plunging fullback tucked the ball into his stomach and drove through a large hole between guard and tackle. Cutting sharply to his left, he evaded the lunges of the Decorah backs and outran the safety man to the goal line. The smash at center for the extra point was stopped at the line of scrimmage.

Decorah Passes

For the remainder of the game the Decorah team filled the air with passes but failed to complete any of them. One of their passes was intercepted by McLaughlin but the Hawklets were unable to pierce the Decorah line and were forced to punt.

The game ended with the Little Hawks making another determined touchdown drive. Lewis made seven yards, almost breaking into the clear again, when the gun went off leaving the ball on the 16 yard line.

City High won the game mostly by virtue of their superior punting. The best the Decorah backs could do was about 25 yards while Parizek was consistently putting the ball to coffin corner. Twice he kicked over the goal line from midfield, once he put the oval out on the six yard line and once on the four.

The vaunted passing attack of the Hawklets was not as good as expected. Neither team completed a pass, the Little Hawks intercepting two and the Decoran team intercepting one.

Irl Tubbs Sends Hawks Through Two Scrimmages

By JOHN MOONEY
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

With just eight days remaining before the Iowans must trot out on the field to meet the Huskies of Washington, Coach Irl Tubbs yesterday sent his charges through two two-hour scrimmages.

Using what most observers thought to be his first team against a better-than average team of reserves, Tubbs sent the men charging and running through his repertoire of tricks in an effort to find a combination which will "click."

Cripples Come Back

Injured players began to reappear in the line-up, leaving only Bob Allen, guard, Frank Balazs, fullback, and Charles Irvine, tackle, on the injured list.

Al Schenk, veteran halfback, and Capt. Homer Harris and Bob Lannon, veteran ends, were excused from the practices.

First Team

On this first string, Tubbs used Erwin Prasse and Dick Evans, sophomores, at the flanks, Frank Gallagher and Shipley Farroh at the tackles, and Chuck Brady and Henry Leubcke at the guard positions, with Dick Anderson at center. In the backfield, Nile Kinnick, a sophomore, called signals, with the veterans Bush Lamb and Jack Eicherly at halves, and Ed McLain at fullback.

Pitted against this eleven, Tubbs used Rubert Haight and Fred Smith at ends, Floyd DeHeer and Wilbur Nead at tackles, Carl Vergamini and Robert Herman at the guards, and Emil Klumpar at the pivot.

Busk at Quarter

In the backfield, Russell Busk called the plays at quarterback, Bill Kelly and Buzz Dean were at the wing-backs and Glenn Olson was at the tail-back.

Late in the afternoon, Tubbs withdrew his first string backfield, leaving the defensive line with no secondary to back them up. The second team backs broke through several times, but with the secondary back in they were held in check fairly well.

Eicherly and Lamb stood out on offense yesterday with Gallagher's work in the line gaining attention.

A regular practice game is slated for this afternoon, and it is expected that the first squad will scrimmage with a reserve squad using the Washington plays early in the week.

Chicago Cubs, New York Giants Defeat Rivals to Hold Positions

New Yorkers Rally to Whip Cincinnati, 6-3

CINCINNATI, Sept. 17 (AP)—The New York Giants started out to hand the Reds a ball game today, but apparently spurred by word of a victory for the Cubs in Chicago, they changed their minds and their tactics and pulled out a 6 to 3 decision.

The win, third straight for the New Yorkers and fourth in the five starts of their current western swing, enabled the Giants to maintain their 3 1-2 game lead in the National league pennant parade, despite the lop-sided victory the second place Cubs scored over the Phillies.

Sammy Snead Leads Golfers

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17 (AP)—"Slammin' Sam" Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., ignored a cold heavy wind today to blast out a par-shattering 68 to gain a 2-stroke edge over the field at the end of the first round of the 37th annual Western Open Golf championship.

On the heels of the long driving and sure putting mountaineer were Dick Metz of Chicago, making his first big league start since being seriously injured last spring in an auto accident, and Jimmy Thomson, the siege gun from Shawnee-on-Delaware, who fashioned sub-par 70's in spite of the adverse weather conditions.

At even par, four strokes off the pace, were Ky Laffoon, the Chicago Cherokee, who tossed away a chance to tie for the lead after clipping 3 strokes off par on the front 9; Ben Hogan of Ft. Worth, Tex., who skidded to 38 on the back nine after going out in 34; Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., who matched par all the way with a pair of 36's; Paul Runyan, the "Little Poison" from White Plains, N. Y., who scorched the first nine with a 33 and then slipped 39 coming home; Horton Smith, the erstwhile "Joplin Ghost"; and Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the defending champion, who staggered out in 39 and then came roaring down the stretch in 33, three under even figures.

Revived Bruins Lambast Three Phillie Hurlers

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Powering across six runs before a man was out in the first inning, a revamped Cub team went on to defeat Philadelphia, 10 to 2, today to remain three and one-half games behind the league-leading New York Giants, who won at Cincinnati. Larry French held the Phils to five hits for his 14th victory of the season and his third in succession.

Gabby Hartnett led the revival that saw the Chicagoans, after five games in which they couldn't pass the seven-hit mark, put on their biggest inning in more than a month and pile up 12 hits, including two triples and four doubles, against Wayne LaMaster, Orville Jorgens and Elmer Burkart.

Pitchers Aid Yankees

'Bump' Hadley, Monte Pearson Return to Pitching Form To Aid Yanks in Present Hitting Slump

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Those terrible Yankees haven't shown much more punch in their own ball yard than Joe Louis did on same premises recently, but the return to pitching form of Bump Hadley and Monte Pearson, plus continued fine work of Lefty Gomez and Charley Ruffing, is chief reason why champions now are 1 to 3 shots for world series... Hadley and Pearson each posted decisions over Giants last October but it's somewhat optimistic to expect both will repeat...

Giants owe vote of thanks to schedule-makers who arranged for Chicago Cubs to open final home stand against those buzzing Boston Bees while the New Yorkers belted their Pittsburgh "cousins" around... Bees have won five of last seven games played against top two National league clubs and 10 out of 18 altogether from New York this season, with two double-headers at Polo Grounds to go... Yet Bill McKechnie's outfit has only outside chance of getting into first division money...

Only backward double somersaults can keep three well-qualified performers from carrying off major batting prizes of the big league campaign... Jarring Joe Medwick of the Cardinals and Charley Gehringer, gifted second sacker of the Tigers, have the hitting crowns about clinched... Joe DiMaggio, with 42 circuit clouts, should take the home run honors with something to spare... It will be the first time any one of this trio has been on top...

Walter Arlington (Arlie) Latham, one-time lieutenant of John J. McGraw and a top-ranking laugh-producer on the ball field in his day, is now press-box attendant at the Yankee stadium ... Bemoaning modern baseball's lack of good bunters and so-called "inside play," Arlie wisecracks: "To watch 'em swing nowadays, you'd think they were playing with a rubber ball and golf sticks"... Latham recalls that old Philadelphia Nationals, for years, carried an expert sign snatcher on its payroll... The eagle-eyed gent, equipped with spyglass, operated from vantage points outside the parks and used wig-wag system to tip off opposing signals ... Connie Mack's first great pennant machine, which won four championships from 1910 to 1914, was adept at intercepting opposing signs... They swiped everything but the uniform of the Cubs in the 1910 world series...

Make no mistake about Cleveland's Bob Feller... He's still just a growing boy, with lots to learn and poise to acquire, but he has the greatest natural pitching equipment of any youngster we've seen come up to the majors in 15 years... He hasn't as much speed as Walter Johnson, most observers agree, but he's got better curve now than the "Big Train" ever had... Steve O'Neill, manager of the Tribe, thinks Bob's big hands, giving him freer grip, are answer to what makes his fast ball dip...

Down The Sports Trail

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—He's nearing that dangerous era of the forties, he's lost most of his riches, and it's hard for him to recall offhand when last a salvo of cheers from happy railbirds echoed his once magic name, but he's Happy Sande in the paradise of King Horse.

Looking as young and alert as he was in those lush days when he booted 'em home to the acclaim of millions, Earl Sande was found at fashionable Belmont Park where he's training horses for Maxwell Howard, the Dayton, O., publisher. He refused a cigarette, motioned to the only chair in the stable office and talked eagerly on riding until he thought of his weight.

Weigh Too Much

"I still could score if I didn't weigh so much," sighed Sande. "But weight got me. Always, always, I had to fight it to stay around 115 pounds. Now I scale 125 though I still eat wisely. Nope, my days are over as a jockey. My mount these days—I'm 38—is an old polo pony—Buck is his name. I sorta used to dread the day when I'd have to dismount and get behind the racing scenes but it isn't bad at all. I'm happy—and not very rich."

He smiled at this and rolled along.

Rode 960 Winners

"Over my jockey career I rode 960 odd winners—three Kentucky derby frets—for a winning average of 27 per cent. I made lots of dough. But I lost most of it—the crash, you know—in stocks and real estate. I haven't any racing horses of my own any more but I have got some breeding stock—five in all.

"I had some once and one broke my heart. That was Nassak. In the fall of '29, he looked like he was worth twice the $35,000 I paid for him. He won a $10,000 stake race at Bowie, trimming Sun Beau and a lot of good ones in a gallop. I entered him in a $40,000 stake the next Saturday and everybody, including myself, thought he was a cinch. But he broke down, finished third on three legs and his career was over. The day before that race I refused $60,000 for him. That's racing luck."

No Luck Now

No, Handy Sande hasn't had much luck since he dismounted. With those hard dollars his charm doesn't seem to click any more. But with Howard horses, a small string, he's done well.

"I only rode Man O'War once but he's number one on my list," said Sande. "The other nine great greats, not in order though, were Sir Barton, Grey Lag, Gallant Fox, Crusader, Sarazen, Cudgel, Chance Shot, Zev and Mad Hatter. I won the Kentucky derby on Zev, Gallant Fox and Flying Ebony but I wouldn't put old Ebony in that first 10. The Fox was a great horse. So was Zev but Man O'War—ah."

Almost a No-Hitter

Rambler Pitcher Strikes Out Twenty Men; Yields One Hit in Seventh Inning

SOLON, Sept. 17 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—A no-hit, no-run baseball game, the goal of every pitcher from the sand lots to the majors, was within the grasp of Pitcher Amelon of St. Mary's of Iowa City this afternoon, but a sharp single over third base in the seventh inning by Syrovy drove in Stahle, who had reached first base on a dropped third strike.

The first man up in the inning struck out swinging but Catcher Schindhelen missed the ball and the batter went to first. While two outs were being made, Stahle reached third base. Syrovy stepped up to the plate and waited while Amelon worked the count to two balls and two strikes against him. Then, with only one more strike needed to end the game and give Amelon his cherished game, the hitter rapped out the hit that spoiled the game.

Hofer, pitching for the locals, hurled fine ball, allowing nine scattered hits, and although he was defeated 10 to 1 by the Ramblers, his cause was hurt by three Solon misplays.

Centerfielder Langenberg for the visitors lead the nine hit attack on Hofer, hitting three singles in four times at bat.

The game, which was the opening game of the year for the Marians, marked the first defeat handed the Solon nine this season.

Government Looks Like Only Sure Winner This Grid Season

By DILLON GRAHAM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Even before any major team boots the first kick-off, it's simple to forecast accurately that the big winner this football season will be your Uncle Samuel.

It will take a long autumn of Saturday scuffles to decide the national championship. And Thanksgiving turkey will be eaten before the business minds, checking back over defeats and unfavorable weather, can decide whether the season financially is in the red or black columns.

But win or lose, rain or shine, snow or sleet, Uncle Sam can't lose. Every gridiron season tosses about $1,000,000 into his jingling pockets.

While there are a few teams whose season "take" is in the neighborhood of a million dollars, the gate is far from a million net. There are salaries, traveling expenses, equipment and the principal and interest due on the big stone stadia.

But for the government, the gridiron games produce a million net. The sum is realized from the 10 per cent federal amusement tax paid on tickets to every game in the land.

Federal collectors, however, have their troubles. Some state-supported schools feel the government has no right to tax their games. Several have taken the issue to court. And there's a chance Uncle Sam will go to the supreme court for a final ruling, perhaps as early as next spring.

Georgia and Georgia Tech, Minnesota, and IOWA are among the schools mentioned in the court suits. Others have signified their intention of fighting the government's tax demands. The big majority are awaiting developments before taking a stand.

The government's position is that college football is an amusement and is taxable. Some state-supported colleges feel athletic contests are a part of their state governmental functions and, as such, are not taxable.

Inexperienced St. Pat's Eleven Loses 1st Game of Season 51 to 0 to Hooverites

WEST BRANCH, Sept. 17—(Special to The Daily Iowan)—A light inexperienced St. Pat's eleven from Iowa City invaded the stronghold of the Hooverites this afternoon, but although game to the last, could not match the powerful thrusts of the locals and were defeated, 51-0.

Having only 17 men to fashion a squad from, Coach Harry Ryan was forced to use a light eleven, depending upon speed to make up for the lack of power. The forwards of the home eleven charged through to smear the trick plays designed to shake loose the speedy backs before they could even get started, while on offense, the heavy line ripped large gaping holes in the Irish front line to send the backs galloping through for long gains.

For the St. Pat's team, little Donnie Black sparked the team in the losing cause, and played a whale of a game all the way. Fitzpatrick and Beasley also stood out in the invaders' line-up.

Hale's Homer Enables Allen To Win No. 12

John (Unbeaten) Allen Bests Newsom In Tight Struggle

BOSTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Odell (Bad News) Hale whacked a 3-2 ball out of the park with two mates on base and two out in the seventh inning today to break up a keen pitching duel between Johnny (Unbeaten) Allen and Buck Newsom and give the Cleveland Indians a 4-1 victory over the Red Sox.

The win, Allen's 12th in as many starts this season, moved the visitors into a virtual tie with the Red Sox for fourth place.

The Red Sox made four hits and Newsom held the opposition to three, two homers and a triple. "Moose" Solters drove his 17th four-bagger of the year over the left field screen in the fifth.

BIG SIX

(By the Associated Press)

Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs came back to baseball's batting Big Six yesterday. He hit three-for-four to boost his mark five points to .354 and skyrocketed from fourth place to a tie with Paul Waner for second place in the National league. Johnny Mize of the Cardinals dropped out of the top half-dozen, although getting two-for-three. All members of the American league trio in the top half dozen were idle.

Standings of the leaders (first three in each league):

Ready for Test

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Twice frustrated by unfavorable weather conditions, Greyhound, the great trotter owned by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., took his final workout yesterday in preparation for an assault this afternoon on the world's one mile trotting record of 1:56 3-4, set by Peter Manning in 1922.

Pioneers Take Workout

GRINNELL (AP) — The Grinnell college Pioneers went through a strenuous, four-hour drill here yesterday in preparation for a practice game today.

Milling, Christy Draw

CHICAGO (AP)—Varias Milling, Filipino battler formerly of Los Angeles and now making his home here, fought a 10-round draw with Jimmy Christy of Chicago in a fast match at White City arena last night. Milling weighed 128 1-2 to 132 for Christy.

The camel, though related to deer and cattle, has no horns, no second and fifth toes, and three stomachs instead of four.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—Lou Fette, one of Boston's two outstanding rookie pitchers, tried hard for his 18th victory today but ran into Johnny Mize's home run in the eighth and St. Louis won, 2 to 0.

The Tate house in Portland, Me., built in 1755 by George Tate, contains eight fireplaces and fine 18th century woodwork.

BIG TEN BRIEFS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 17 (AP) — Coach Harry Stuhldreher sent football candidates at the University of Wisconsin through a light workout today, confining the session to a drill in punting and tackling the dummy.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 17 (AP)—Several freshmen teamed with the reserves today in a light scrimmage against the Indiana university varsity football team.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 17 (AP) — Purdue university's football squad took it easy today with light work on kick-offs and signaling in plays.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 17 (AP)—Final polishing of the attack for the annual intra-squad game tomorrow kept University of Michigan football players busy today.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 17 (AP) — Coach Francis Schmidt sent the Ohio State university football squad through two light workouts today, warning players they must show considerable improvement before next Saturday if they expect to beat Texas Christian in the season's opening game.

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 17 (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats went through a long signal drill today in preparation for tomorrow's first scrimmage of the season, which will come in the form of an inter-squad, full-length game.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Chicago's first scrimmage of the training season today brought to light a sophomore who may see much action this fall as a passer for the Maroons.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—Coach Bernie Bierman called off scrimmage for the University of Minnesota football squad today and issued a number of new plays.

Passing, both lateral and forward, occupied the attention of the varsity. Andy Uram, left half, did most of the tossing, and was the key man in the running plays.

No Regrets

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A bulge in Humbert Ciacci's shoe kept him from chasing a man who rifled his pockets as he dozed in an automobile at the side of the road. But Ciacci had no regrets. The bulge was a $200 roll of bills.

Outlook Brightens for Civic Center Grant; Woman's Club Latest To Join in Campaign

City Council May Take Action at Meeting Monday

The outlook for Iowa City's American Legion building appears favorable this morning, with a third organization having passed a resolution asking a $29,000 PWA grant and a promise of WPA funds should the first grant fail.

The executive board of the Iowa City Woman's club yesterday afternoon passed a resolution favoring the granting of a $29,000 PWA allotment, for rebuilding the community center. The resolution was passed in connection with the American Legion campaign for the grant in which every community organization in the city has been asked to cooperate.

The Lions club has already passed such a resolution, following the launching of the campaign Monday night by Roy L. Chopek post 17 of the American Legion.

Unofficial sources last night said the possibilities of Iowa City's receiving the grant have increased considerably since the Legion's campaign opened Monday.

If Iowa City should not receive the grant, however, the city will receive first consideration in application for relief labor to remove the debris in the building before work of repairing has been done, state WPA officials have said.

If the WPA relief labor can be obtained it will save the city several hundred dollars in the total cost of repairing the structure.

Definite action on making application to the WPA for assistance probably will be taken by the city council at its special session Monday night.

Also at Monday night's council session $35,000 worth of bonds approved at a recent city election for work on the building will be placed on sale.

Text of Legion Post's Resolution

For the benefit of organizations which have not acted on the suggestion of Roy L. Chopek post 17 of the American Legion to pass resolutions favoring the granting of a $29,000 PWA grant for work on the community center, The Daily Iowan below reprints the local American Legion post's resolution. The resolution has since been dispatched to public works officials in Washington, D.C.

The resolution follows:

In re Project: CLCds—1380 Docket, Iowa, the Roy L. Chopek post 17 American Legion, at the regular meeting held Sept. 13, 1937, passed the following resolution:

Whereas, the City of Iowa City has done everything within its power to accomplish the reconstruction of the American Legion Community Building as follows:

1. The city has acquired title to the property and has established an official body to supervise and administer the same.

2. The city has prepared plans and specifications for the reconstruction of the building which have met with the approval of the Iowa public works administration.

3. A special election has been held at which time a $35,000.00 bond issue was approved by the necessary legal majority of voters.

4. The city has caused the Iowa legislature to pass an act legalizing this special election and has secured a legal opinion from the firm of Chapman and Cutler, Chicago, Ill., stating that all proceedings in connection therewith are legal.

5. The city has advertised the sale of $35,000.00 bonds to assist in financing the reconstruction of the building, this sale to be held Monday, Sept. 20, 1937.

6. The city has prepared specifications asking for bids on the reconstruction of the building.

7. The city has made application to the federal emergency administration of public works for a grant in the sum of $29,000.00 to assist in the reconstruction of the building.

Survey

And Psychologist Dan Feder, who is interested in finding out about people, has some startling statistics about university girls, gleaned from a survey made of 100 average upperclass women last year...

Of the 100 questioned all but two or three—"and we don't believe them," Feder declares—want to get married, but only 17 per cent have taken or plan to take courses in marriage, sociology or home economics, anything to help make marriage a success ... Most of the girls said they hadn't picked their husbands yet either, but, although this wasn't a part of the survey, that is probably why they are here...

Sixty-six per cent of the girls questioned declared they would invariably take the ideal husband over the ideal job... And few knew for sure what they want as a career anyway...

Few of the girls said they had or planned to make up their minds about who the future husband will be in the university... Many high school romances have a habit of turning into marriage, even more so than those of college...

Pithy

One of the pithiest lines I've recently read comes in George Kaufman-Edna Ferber's Hollywood nut-cracker, "Stage Door." ... "If you really believe in something," the hero declares, "you've got to be willing to starve for it."... Most of those who make the grade do find time to starve somewhere along the way...

My personal vote for the campus' pleasantest secretary goes to Dean Kay's Eula Van Meter...

Ethel Barrymore, who retired for the fourth time last summer, is opening in a new play this fall... Her next retirement for life is not expected before 1939...

And there's excited talk that University theater may open its new season with "First Lady," the George Kaufman-Katherine Dayton comedy of Washington manners... It's a comedy I'm personally looking forward to...

Those on the lookout recognize several localities in the Iowa News Flashes now showing at the Strand theater...

First impressions aren't usually best after all... Seems to me the wittiest ones on first acquaintance turn out to be the most shallow in the end... Nothing marks a person quite so much as the number of times he tells his favorite jokes...

There may be a fraternity or sorority active who will not ask every prospective pledge, "and what is your major?"... But the chances are against it...

And those who marveled at the soft-spoken modulation of Jim Farley's voice last week may not have realized that, although he had only a grammar school education, he used to go to the theater when he was young to study the voices of the actors...

Those extra-nonchalant ones that you notice are the freshmen ... It's the same principle as in the big cities... The city-dwellers ease by, stare at the cloud-brushing buildings while the tourists, afraid to be spotted, hurry by without a glance to right or left...

Escapes, Then Slays

One-time attorney general of Hawaii, Lorrin Andrews, Los Angeles attorney, surrendered on a federal indictment charging him with alleged attempts to tamper with witnesses in a recent white slave case, and in which he acted as counsel for three defendants. Andrews, released on $1,000 bond, bitterly denied the charges. Andrews is specifically charged with slipping "Don't talk" notes to young women witnesses as they were about to be quizzed by grand jury members.

Methodist Church Plans Service for Annual Homecoming

The Methodist Episcopal church will have its annual Homecoming service tomorrow at 10:15 a.m., the last meeting of the home group before the return of the students. The Rev. Edwin E. Voigt will return from Waterloo, where he has been attending the annual Methodist conference, to preach the sermon on "The Spirit of Expectancy."

The church quartet, including Hazel Chapman, Herald Stark, Mrs. Stark and Dnoald Mallett, will sing. Mr. Stark will give the ofertory solo, "Green Pastures" by Sanderson. Mrs. Maude Whedon Smith has chosen for the organ numbers "Andante in A flat" by Foerster, "Meditation" by Kinder and "Pilgrim's Chorus" by Wagner.

Robert Hoffman Hamill, assistant minister, was also present at the annual conference in Waterloo last week.

County Corn Free From Frost Danger

County Agent Gardner Says Only Severe Frost Would Injure Crop

In spite of the first nip of snappy fall weather felt during the early part of the week, County Agent Emmett C. Gardner forecast that Johnson county's bumper corn crop is now so well matured that nothing but a severe frost would inflict any great loss.

In recent years corn has been so delayed or weakened by drouth or late planting that it has hardly been considered safe until in the bin, but despite late planting and a serious threatened grasshopper menace, the county's crop has come through with flying tassels.

Husking should get underway during the first week of October if fair weather continues. And October brings thoughts of Johnson county's annual husking contest. While a field has not definitely been decided upon, a committee is working on the affair, the county agent announced.

The fly-free date—next Wednesday—when danger from the Hessian fly has been removed, will begin the planting of winter wheat. However, only a small acreage is expected in this region, Gardner said.

171 Families In County Get Aid

Relief Cases in State Total 15,422 For August

One hundred seventy-one families in Johnson county received unemployment relief during August, according to a monthly survey by the Iowa emergency relief administration. Ninteen other counties in the state had more than that number on relief rolls, the survey shows.

Iowa cases receiving unemployment relief during August totalled 15,422, or 2,661 less than in the same month in 1936, the report said. IERA figures listed 25,056 Iowans on federal works programs in August, 1936, compared to 18,355 for the month this year. The decline is 6,701.

The decline in aid is probably caused by the harvest employment and the reopening of Iowa coal-mines, the report states.

Tammany Feels Crushing Blow In Mayor Vote

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Tammany's old guard was left gasping tonight under an avalanche of votes that pushed both major parties behind pro-Roosevelt candidates for the November mayoralty election.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, republican-fusionist and supporter of the president, was renominated by a wide margin in yesterday's primary election over Sen. Royal S. Copeland, Tammany democrat who sought the backing of both parties on the strength of his anti-new deal stand in Washington.

In the democratic primary, Senator Copeland was overwhelmed by the pro-Roosevelt candidate, Jeremiah T. Mahoney, who rolled up a plurality of almost two to one.

Copeland, after "mulling it over" for several hours, accepted defeat and announced he would not run on an independent ticket.

A striking feature of the election was the democratic write-in vote for Mayor LaGuardia, who conducted what virtually amounted to a sit-down campaign while the two other candidates were slamming away at each other in the bitterest primary seen here in years.

With all but 50 of the 3,797 precincts accounted for, the vote stood:

Mahoney 412,887
Copeland 240,886
LaGuardia 56,099

Goering Establishes Nazi School of Art

KRONENBURG (Eifel), Germany (AP)—Hitler's prime minister, General Hermann Goering, has founded a school of painting here "to express the German character in art." Professor Werner Peiner of the Prussian Academy of Arts has been named director.

And So the Evening Was Ruined

It was a cool fall evening.

He had been thinking all afternoon about a good thick steak.

She had prepared a steak for dinner that evening but it was thin, coarse, tough and dried up.

You won't have the evening ruined if you order your steak cut exactly as you want it, from choice beef, at—
