U. S. Sends Delegate To League Hearing On Sino-Jap Conflict

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The United States agreed today to send a representative to the League of Nations advisory committee convening tomorrow night to consider the Sino-Japanese conflict.

At the same time, the United States informed the league it would not say to what extent it would be able to cooperate with the committee until informed about the functions it will be expected to perform.

A state department announcement said these facts were communicated to the secretary general of the league by Leland Harrison, American minister to Switzerland. Harrison was designated to attend the forthcoming meeting of the committee as this government's representative.

33 Meeting Recalled
It was specified that the American minister would attend the session "in the same capacity and for the same purposes" as those fulfilled by Hugh Wilson, former minister to Switzerland, when he represented the United States on the committee in 1933.

At the same time, the advisory body was created to consider the Manchurian crisis. The United States agreed to be represented on it, at the invitation of the league, only in a consultative capacity. Wilson attended its sessions on that basis, which did not give him the right to vote in the committee's deliberations.

The United States communication to the league emphasized that this country believes "thoroughly in the principle of collaboration among states of the world seeking to bring about peaceful solutions of international conflicts."

Earlier Evacuation
Earlier today, American officials took pains to make clear the departure of the United States ambassador from Nanking was no slight to China.

Dispatches from Nanking had said the ambassador's action had aroused resentment among Chinese, who believed it indicated a lack of respect for the Chinese cause.

Officials at the state department emphasized the move did not constitute abandonment, even temporarily, of American representation in the area. They said Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson expected to carry on his duties aboard the patrol boat Luzon.

Wilkins 'Asleep,' Not Missing In Arctic Wastes
FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sir George Hubert Wilkins, unreported for several hours after landing in the big flying boat at a lake near Akklavik, was asleep and not missing, Soviet flight representatives here were informed tonight.

Alarm was felt for the noted explorer in the 17-ton flying ship when the Wilkins radio faded out as he attempted to make a landing at a lake near the Mackenzie river delta.

But radio advices received here from Akklavik tonight said: "Wilkins was landing and his signals cut. He didn't go on the air again from late afternoon yesterday until noon today. He is in the delta somewhere. He doesn't know his position but thinks he can find Akklavik as soon as weather clears. Akklavik is in communication with him all the time now."

Iowa 'Crash' Mother Shows Improvement
DES MOINES, Sept. 20 (AP)—Hospital attendants tonight said they noticed "some improvement" in the condition of Mrs. James Welborn, "crash" mother who underwent a brain operation Saturday in an effort to restore her consciousness.

Fewer Turkeys
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Turkeys for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners won't be as plentiful this year as last, federal economists reported yesterday.

Britain Ready To 'Take Lead' In Arms Race

Eden Warns Fascists In Speech Before League
GENEVA, Sept. 20 (AP)—British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, tempering his severity with a note of conciliation, warned the fascist powers tonight Britain is committed irrevocably to a policy of rearmament unless other nations cease competing for supremacy at arms.

Speaking before a hushed League of Nations assembly which had voted government Spain out of its council for the next three years, at least, Eden struck a note of mingled hope and pessimism. Despite the dark picture he painted and his implied rebukes at Germany and Italy, he emphasized Britain's determination still to strive for peace.

Touches on Spain
Significantly, his listeners believed, the British foreign secretary emphasized British hopes for peace when he touched on Spain.

"One pledge I can give unequivocally to this assembly," he said, "is that the government I represent will spare no endeavor to prevent war from engulfing Europe."

Eden, mindful of "many good reasons to be satisfied with the economic history of the past year," envisaged trade as a road to international harmony.

"Differences of political ideology," he declared, "need not stultify economic cooperation or even prevent political tolerance."

"Must Choose Peace"
"But there must be agreement on one point and that is that the restoration of economic conditions should be regarded as an objective policy and so, in political as in economic spheres, the world must choose peace."

Eden left little doubt his warning was addressed primarily to Germany and Italy. He attacked their demands for colonies and access to raw materials.

Officials Confer On Davenport's Liquor Control Problems
DAVENPORT, Sept. 20 (AP)—Officers of Scott county and Davenport met here tonight in an effort to solve Davenport's liquor problems.

The conference was called by County Attorney Leon A. Grapes, who has been advised by state authorities to enforce the law as the result of a statement of Mayor Merle F. Wells in which it was revealed that liquor by the drink is available in Davenport in opposition to the state law.

Attending the conference were Chief of Police Sam Kelly and Sheriff Walter H. Beuse. Mayor Wells said he was unable to attend.

MBADRID (AP)—A devastating exchange of explosives shook Madrid yesterday from dawn until after darkness.

Freshmen Hear President Gilmore

Qualifying examinations were over for these freshman students last night when they attended the liberal arts assembly in Iowa Union. President Eugene A. Gilmore was the speaker. Besides briefly addressing the group, Iowa's class of 1941, he also introduced the deans of the various colleges. Freshman week, which began yesterday, continues today with library tours, recreational swimming and a play night for both men and women. (Story on page 3.)

Americans Take Refuge As Nanking Ultimatum Expires

Capital Makes Feverish Plans To Defend Self

By C. YATES MCDANIEL
NANKING, Sept. 21 (Tuesday) (AP)—Seventeen American civilians under the leadership of J. Hall Paxton, second secretary of the United States embassy, took refuge in the legation today as a Japanese warning to flee the city expired.

United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson reluctantly evacuated his staff and office to the warship Luzon to escape the threatened bombardment of the Chinese capital. Japanese were believed determined on utter destruction of Nanking.

Stays at Post
Paxton, veteran of the China service, volunteered to remain at his post and the 17 other Americans stayed with him. All other foreign embassies remained in the city, at least temporarily.

As the Japanese ultimatum to evacuate Nanking or face death at the hands of air raiders expired at noon (11 p.m. EST Monday) Chinese made feverish preparations for defense of the city.

Shelters
Bombproof underground shelters were scooped out of the numerous hillsides and dug in vacant lots; almost all private houses had prepared their own refuge.

Evacuation of the United States embassy staff began after the third Japanese air raid on this city of more than 1,000,000 population within two days. The raid, in which 40 homes were demolished and at least 40

Trap Animals of 'Lost World' Scientists Hunt Clues to Evolution In Isolated 'Sky Forest'

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Sept. 20 (AP)—A safari of science tonight trapped tiny animals of a "lost world" that may open the way to a story of evolution 100 centuries old.

Dr. Harold E. Anthony, mammalogy curator of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, reported catching rabbits, squirrels, chipmunks and mice in the 275-acre "sky forest" of Shiva Temple—separated from the rim of the grand canyon by a moat, 1,200 feet deep and a mile wide which was denuded of vegetation shortly after the ice age.

A message today from Dr. Anthony said he had not yet trapped "the specimens I want" but expressed confidence the expedition would succeed. The scientists plan to stay atop the mesa a week or ten days.

The scientists believe they are the first persons to scale the 7,500-foot peak in at least 1,000 years. Artifacts found in the saddle between the formation and the north rim of the canyon indicated, said Don Louis Schellbach, assistant park naturalist, that a people perhaps different from any other found in Arizona may have inhabited the Grand Canyon about 10 centuries ago. Two stone knives belonging to these people were found atop the plateau.

Although thus isolated, thousands of tourists have peered at the rugged sides of Shiva Temple through telescopes and field glasses since the Grand Canyon became a world attraction.

Although there is no fresh water on the temple, the scientists have a plentiful supply of drinking water, dropped from a plane yesterday in 20-gallon cans.

8 Die As Paris Train Crashes

ANGAULME, France, Sept. 20 (AP)—Eight persons were killed and 30 injured tonight when the second section of the Bordeaux-Paris express smashed into the first section about 10 miles from here.

The first train had stopped while tracks were being repaired. Officials said the standing train hid semaphore lights so that the engineer of the second train was unable to see them.

Patterson's Execution Stayed
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Alabama supreme court granted a stay of execution in the 75-year sentence of Heywood Patterson, Negro convicted of rape in the Scottsboro case, pending outcome of an appeal to the United States supreme court.

"Too Unhappy"
Johnson supervised hurried packing of embassy documents and material preparatory to moving up the Yangtze to Wuhu, about 30 miles from Nanking.

"I am too unhappy to speak," he told this correspondent. "For the first time in 30 years of service I am forced to leave my post, but I am doing it under instructions from Washington. I cannot risk the lives of the members of my loyal staff."

Hasegawa's warning urged that United States and other foreign warships move "at least 11 miles upstream." Japanese officials declared Japan would not accept responsibility for loss of foreign life.

Legion Called To Fight for Democracy
NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—In the high emotion of two decades ago, the American Legion was called today to fight again—for democracy, for liberty, and for peace.

Twenty thousand men, 19 years out of the khaki of an older and a more stirring day, sat in Madison Square Garden's lofty auditorium to open their annual convention—and the memory of a war president dead now this half a generation was stirred again in what the speakers said.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York welcomed them, but not as men with a job all done since the 11th day of November of 1918.

As Woodrow Wilson had cried out to them 20 years ago that they must "make the world safe for democracy," Lehman summoned them anew to an old campaign:

F.R. Discloses Plans for His Western Trip

Speaking Tour To Open With Talk in Foe's Home Town

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt will open his west coast speaking tour with a train platform talk Friday morning at Cheyenne, Wyo., home town of Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), one of the leading opponents of his supreme court enlargement plan.

A tentative itinerary for the two weeks' wing announced at the summer white house late today also lists two more appearances in Wyoming the same day, one at Wendover and the other at Casper. The president will spend an hour in the latter city and may make a drive through the town.

To Visit Canada
The trip also includes a visit by naval destroyer from Seattle to Victoria, B. C., where the president and his official party will be luncheon guests Sept. 30 at the mansion of Lieut. Gov. Eric W. Hamber.

The president already had announced he would speak Oct. 5 at Chicago on his return trip. Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre said except for an address at Bonneville Dam, on the Columbia river near Portland, Ore., Sept. 28, the president would deliver "no formal major" speeches.

He added some senators and other local leaders probably would board the ten-car special en route, but he could not list them at this time.

Central Route
The president will travel the central route on the way to Seattle and return by the northern. He will leave here at 2 p.m. C.S.T. Wednesday, traveling via Chicago and Omaha, but making no appearances until the train reaches Cheyenne at 9:30 Friday morning, local time, where he stops for half an hour.

He reaches Casper about 4:30 p.m. the same day, then proceeds overnight to Gardiner, Wyo., by way of Billings and Livingston, Mont., arriving at Gardiner next Saturday morning.

Here the party will detrain for a motor trip to Yellowstone National park where the president will spend Saturday and Sunday at the Mammoth Springs hotel, boarding the train Sunday afternoon at West Yellowstone.

'Victim's' Brothers Shoot War Veteran In Kentucky Street

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Sept. 20 (AP)—The case against Kentucky's portly Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, charged with the murder of his fiancée, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, came to a spectacular end tonight in a fusillade of bullets.

The 61-year-old former Spanish-American, Mexican and World War veteran fell dead with seven bullets in his body, and Mrs. Taylor's three brothers immediately surrendered to Patrolman Jephtha Tracey.

Tracey said that Roy Garr admitted firing the fatal shots. He, with Jack and Dr. E. S. Garr, was placed in jail.

Denhardt and Rodes K. Myers of Bowling Green, his chief counsel, after discussing final details of the trial which was to have started tomorrow at nearby New Castle, were returning to the Armstrong hotel here after a late supper.

Mistrial
Denhardt on a $25,000 bond after a mistrial due to a hung jury in the first attempt to convict him last April of shooting the comely widow, whose brothers had prosecuted him.

"We had started across the street to the hotel," Myers said, "when I told General Denhardt, 'There are the Garr boys.' Almost as soon as we saw them the firing began. Denhardt ran towards the hotel and I dashed in another direction. The first two shots missed. Another struck the general in the back and he fell."

"You Are the —"
Myers said that as Denhardt lay on the street the firing continued and he declared that Roy Garr shouted "You are the — who killed my sister—and I am going to kill you."

Myers threw up his own hands, he said, and exclaimed "I haven't done anything to you" as one of the brothers threatened him. "You are the — who defended the — who killed my sister," Myers declared one of them shouted. Myers said Denhardt was not armed.

Patrolman Tracey and Claude Hammon came running up and the three brothers quietly surrendered and were taken to jail as a huge crowd gathered, Myers said.

Murder Verdict
"Murder by a bullet wound through the head and another through the heart" was the verdict returned by Coroner D. F. L. Lapsley. The undertaker said, however, Denhardt had been wounded seven times.

Tracey said that Roy Garr told him "I did it" as he surrendered. Tracey and Hammon said they took a .45 calibre revolver with two discharged shells from E. S. Garr and a .38 from which all shells had been fired from Roy. They said Jack Garr was not armed.

So far as could be learned Denhardt died without making any statement. Commonwealth's Attorney H. B. Kinsolving Jr., who unsuccessfully prosecuted Denhardt on the charge he shot and killed Mrs. Taylor during an automobile ride last November, ordered that no one be allowed to talk to the Garr brothers.

Stormy Career
Denhardt, a veteran of three wars, lawyer and newspaper publisher, had led a stormy military and political career in his native bluegrass state.

He was elected lieutenant governor on the democratic ticket in 1923 and later served as adjutant general during Gov. Ruby Laffoon's administration, resigning that office when Gov. A. B. Chandler was elected. He held the rank of brigadier general in the Kentucky national guard.

While serving as adjutant general, Denhardt led military investigations in Harlan and Kenton counties during labor troubles.

Rattler's Bite Kills Scientist, Former Iowan

RAPID CITY, S. D., Sept. 20 (AP)—The body of Dr. Paul D. Emerson, 50, victim of a rattlesnake bite, was found late today by fellow officials in the soil conservation service in a lonely canyon eight miles west of here. He formerly was connected with Iowa State college.

The senior soil scientist of the SCS, nationally known as a soil expert, apparently had died late Friday after a futile effort to save his own life.

A. E. McClymonds, acting regional conservator, said Emerson had gone out Friday afternoon to collect soil specimens for a lecture at a soil science meeting in Chicago early in December. When he failed to report for work today, McClymonds notified the U. S. forest service, fearing Emerson had become lost in the dense pine west of here along Rim Rock trail.

Late today a party of soil conservation officials, headed by McClymonds and John Clark of Washington, D. C., special investigator for the SCS, drove along the Rim Rock trail.

They found his body slumped against his machine. Around his left leg, just below the knee was a tourniquet he had applied to prevent poison from the bite on his left ankle from reaching his heart.

He also had used a razor blade to make an incision in the wound and apparently was in the act of taking off his sock to apply a suction pump to the bite when he slumped against the car, dead. The suction pump, part of the equipment he carried in a new snake-bite kit, was in his hand.

Five Gassed By Cinema Strikers
NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Five persons were injured tonight when tear gas bombs exploded in seven Manhattan and Bronx motion picture theaters.

The series of bombings was the worst since the night of Sept. 12 when more than 50 theater patrons were injured as chemical mixtures were exploded in 21 theaters in what police said was a continuation of dispute between two organizations of motion picture operators.

Sailors Kill One
TUNIS Tunisia (AP)—Forty sailors from two Italian training ships raided the headquarters of an anti-fascist organization in this French port yesterday and killed one of its members.

Publisher
He was associated with his brother in publishing the Times-Journal at Bowling Green, Ky., where he was born March 8, 1876. In earlier life he served as prosecuting attorney at Bowling Green.

The President Speaks His Mind

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S address on the constitution was, it seemed to us, the most uplifting statement of his attitude toward the document we yet have heard. If he was sincere in what he said, and we believe he was, he outlined an attitude that modern and liberal Americans should take toward the constitution of the United States.

The tiny group of men who signed the constitution at Philadelphia 150 years ago actually did form a "layman's document, not a lawyer's contract."

In considering the fundamental powers of the new national government they did use "generality, implication and statement of more objectives, as intentional phrases which flexible statesmanship of the future could adapt from time to time to fit the circumstance."

They did treat "even the supreme court with that purposeful lack of specification."

We have had for 150 years "an unending struggle between those who would preserve this original concept of the constitution . . . and those who would shelve the constitution into a lawyer's contract."

The lay rank and file of political parties, as distinguished from some lawyer members, has demanded that congress, executive and court be "efficient; that all three be independent as well as interdependent and that all three work together to meet the living generation's expectations of government."

It is true that "whenever legalistic interpretation has clashed with contemporary sense on great questions of broad national policy, ultimately the people and the congress have had their way."

Modern history does prove that "reforms too long delayed or denied have jeopardized peace, undermined democracy and swept away civil and religious liberties."

With all of that we can and do agree unreservedly. What the president has stated appears to be not only his creed concerning the constitution but the creed of many clear-minded thinkers also. And it has seldom been better phrased.

Without attempting to read into the address any inference beyond the plain meaning of the president's words, we know that many who have heard him wondered, and still wonder, by what method he proposes to make the constitution work "now."

We are sure it should not be the method he proposed some seven months ago and which the senate rejected after a bitter and disastrous struggle—namely, "packing" the supreme court.

That method would have made the court not an interdependent and independent branch of government but a branch dependent on and subject to the executive. To those millions who constitute the great mass of the people it would have "denied confidence in that justice, their security and their self-respect." We quote from the president.

As Roosevelt has pointed out, the attitude of the court did change after he proposed his plan. The "odd man" did overrule himself. That altered attitude, we think, will be an enduring one. But if the court should turn away from contemporary sense and back to legalistic interpretation, a better way than "packing" the court can surely be devised.

Roosevelt must learn, what he apparently has not as yet, that the needed reforms he wants, as do we all, can and should be accomplished through democratic processes to make the constitution serve democracy.

What Shall We Pay for Land?

IN THE days immediately before and after the end of the World war middle-western farmers, eastern investors, speculators from all over the country were enthusiastically buying land at what seems now to have been fantastic prices—expecting, of course, to sell it at a still more fantastic price.

Those were the days when Iowa farmers sold their farms, took a part payment and a mortgage, and moved to California, intending to spend the rest of their lives there. Some of those farmers are still in California. Most of them are back, working again on the farms which fell back on their hands when the purchasers failed to keep up payments.

Those were the optimistic days when there were many who believed that there was no limit to land values and that there should be no limit, since all wealth of society came first from the land.

Recent land sales in eastern Iowa indicate that the $50 an acre land of the depression days is a thing of the past. Some of the better farms have been selling for as high as $175 an acre. All of which leads to the question: are we in for another land boom, and if so, what will be its effects?

In an article in the October issue of The Country Gentleman are presented statistics and opinions of farm leaders which seem to show that there will be a more decided rise in land values within the near future.

Undoubtedly, however, prices will rise more slowly than they have in the past. Land buyers now recognize that it takes more than fertile acres to make a successful farm. There must also be a working capital, equipment, livestock and good management. Gone are the times when 160 acres and a plow could make a man a fortune. Today if he is to make farming pay he must not only have the 160 acres, but also the best equipment and livestock. This is the greatest single factor tending to hold land prices down.

Against this new conception of land values are set recent government efforts to lower interest rates and to aid tenants in purchasing farms, and by economic slight-of-hand to force farm prices upward. Unintentionally and against its will the government is becoming largely responsible for whatever rise in land values may take place. And as land prices shoot upward the speculative urge grips those who have a little money to invest.

As the Country Gentleman says, "A continued rise in land values would be of more harm than benefit to farming, but the chances seem to favor it."

And there seems nothing that can be done about it, unless it is to urge those fortunate few who do have money to invest, to turn thumbs down when offered 300 acre farms at a bargain price of $300 an acre.

CLIPPED From Other COLUMNS

CONSERVATION CRIME SECRETARY ICKES was roused to wrath the other day, and it was righteous wrath. The spectacle that so moved him was that of logging crews at work in a 7,200-acre tract of rare sugar pines adjoining Yellowstone Park, slashing and felling these magnificent trees, some 240 feet tall and described as unequalled anywhere, although congress and the president had taken steps to preserve them. A bill was passed July 2 to purchase the tract for addition to the park. But because the logging company continued its operations at top speed, heedless of requests by the National Park Service to stay its axes and saws.

To Mr. Ickes, this was "the conservation crimes of the 19th century repeated." He was bitter over the fact that "a commercial interest, to which the government is prepared to offer just recompense, is extracting its last pound of profit against a declared public policy and in defiance of a formal government request."

Fortunately, the tract was saved at the 11th hour from further ravishment. Just before adjournment, the senate agreed to a conference report approving the deficiency bill item of $2,005,000 for purchase of the tract. Though irreparably damaged in part, the tract's future is assured. But the episode proves that, although public lethargy on conservation had been overcome, there is still need to fight continually the ruthless greed of private interests in the movement to preserve the country's natural resources.

One Battle Decided!

Use Anti-Retentional Diets To Aid in Reducing Excess Weight

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. Anti-retentional diets are designed to eliminate retained liquids in the body.

There are many conditions in which water retention in the body apparently plays a role. Indeed, in simple overweight itself the loss of weight which should immediately follow a restricted diet is likely not to make itself evident for a week or more on account of water retention. Then if the diet is kept up a balance appears, the body loses water rapidly, and the expected weight loss occurs in a day or two. This is especially seen in the added weight that accumulates about the time of the change in life in women. Just before a monthly period also women are likely to store water and gain a few pounds; during the menopause this is exaggerated, and the increased weight is at least partly water retention.

In certain other conditions such as migraine (sick headache) and some of the convulsive states, water retention has been suggested as a cause of the attacks. The use of diuretics—medicines which stimulate the kidneys to action—might seem a logical way to accomplish water loss. But the diuretics are unreliable and unnecessary because we can arrange a diet which will accomplish the same purpose just as well. For instance, liver is a good diuretic, and can be given in the form of liver extract, the same as that used in pernicious anemia, for this effect.

In general the carbohydrate foods—sugars and starches—favor water retention. So do fats, especially if eaten in combination with the starches and sugars. The proteins, on the other hand, tend to free water and are anti-retentional. Salt is likely to aid water retention and is therefore restricted to some extent. And naturally liquids are restricted.

An anti-retentional diet is built along these principles: Daily Allowance Proteins—About 1 gram per pound of body weight—roughly 4 to 5 ounces for a person of average weight. Carbohydrates—About 1 to 2 grams per pound of body weight—roughly 5 to 10 ounces a day for a person of average weight. Fats—Are fixed at about an ounce and a half a day. Minerals—Salt restricted. Sometimes a salt free diet is used. No salt in cooking and only a small amount added at the table. Liquids—Are restricted to about a quart or a quart and a half a day. This includes coffee, tea and other beverages as well as water. Vitamins—Are freely utilized, but only in their natural state—fruits, eggs, cheese, milk, butter,

A New Yorker At Large

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—The summer of 1937 is moving quietly towards the bourne from which no summer ever returns, and since the memory of man is sometimes short, it might be well to say at once that, far from being dull in New York, this summer produced in headline entertainment—

The big champagne party for women in Col. Jeremiah Beall's Park avenue apartment and two casualties when one guest socked another with a ginger ale bottle and was socked in return with a champagne bottle, vintage 1906, empty.

The hair-on-the-chest, rock-me-to-sleep-with-a-manly-fist literary battle between Sluggo Ernest Hemingway and Sluggo Max Eastman, or the Enjoyment of Laughing at Bull in the Afternoon.

The annual cruise of Father Divine's angels up the Hudson to the Heavenly Kingdom near Kingston with nothing for the inner man but fried chicken and corn on the cob, and for spiritual uplift one of Harlem's best swing bands. Also the defection of Faithful Mary, the stabbing affair in the main kingdom of Harlem's little brown messiah, the arrest of Father Divine in the coal bin of one of his Connecticut heavens, and the subsequent celebration when he was freed by a New York court.

The brawl on the sidewalk outside the night club, or who started the free-for-all that landed Adela Rogers St. John and her pals in the pie wagon.

The episode of the handsome movie star (manly Robert Taylor), his surrender to autograph hunters and the cute trick of the press agent who planted two of them, young, feminine, and good looking, under his bed on the Normandie just before he sailed.

The return of Honey Johnson to these shores without David, last of the Marrying Mdivanis, her denial of a romance with the Georgian prince, and the famous line of Jesse Livermore, Jr., friend and traveling companion: "I could marry her myself in a minute—if I wanted to."

The determination of Tommy Manville's fourth mate to go to Reno for a divorce if Tommy would sign a settlement for a quarter of a million dollars.

The artist, who becoming bored with the rapid conversations of his friends, gave a party at which the place cards were unflattering caricatures of his guests—so unflattering that one of the pests threatened to punch him until it became known that the artist was also an expert amateur pugilist.

The editor of a small mid-western weekly newspaper who visited New York and fetched along a flock of homing pigeons so that any news stories which might develop could be hurried back to his typesetter-in-waiting.

And, finally, the lady from out of town who began throwing pretzels when she had one too many, and that other gal who, denying from the depths of the psychopathic ward that she was crazy, explained: "I just had 20 or 30 scotch and sodas, that's all."

Student Class Sunday morning, September 19, the English Lutheran Church School will organize a new class especially for students. Mr. Henry E. Vollmer, who has for many years been associated with the religious training of young people, will serve as teacher. The life and teachings of Jesus is the theme which Mr. Vollmer has selected for the year's work. A sincere invitation is extended to all interested students. The English Lutheran church is located at Dubuque and Market streets. The church school hour extends from 9:30 to 10:30. MYRTLE KEELEY, Registrar's Office. Lip Reading Mrs. Hortense B. Gray, instructor of lip reading, announces that with the opening of the fall session, classes will be held at East hall. Two types of instructions are offered—individual lessons, and class instruction. Although not on the list of regular courses offered at Iowa, this course has the endorsement of heads of departments housed at East hall. Any details concerning this course will be given on application. Please write to Mrs. Hortense B. Gray, 1930 Park Ave., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, or call at East hall, 1st floor sun room, (south east corner of building) on Fridays, from 9 to 12 a.m. LEE E. TRAVIS. Closed Tuesday A.M. The library reading rooms in Macbride Hall and the library annex will be closed to the public on Tuesday morning, Sept. 21, in order that the freshmen may be introduced to the main sections of the library. Tuning In with Lenore DeVries

Gertrude Niesen, glamorous songstress of stage, screen and radio, will be the guest of Ben Bernie and all the lads on the American Can company program tonight at 7 o'clock over the NBC-Blue network.

In addition the old maestro will present the versatile Vass family and Colonel Manny Prager, specialist in novelty numbers. Both Bernie and Miss Niesen are in Hollywood working in movies. Bernie will be starred with Simone Simon in the forthcoming picture, "Love and Hises."

Andre Kostelanetz will give himself over to a musical pun tomorrow night when he swings "The Man on the Flying Trapeze" as the highlight of his program from WABC-CBS from 7 to 7:30. Another feature of the program will be his special arrangement of "Raggin' The Scale."

Accompanied by the Kostelanetz orchestra, Frank Parker will sing Noel Coward's song, "I'll See You Again," as well as Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine."

The first double feature of the air will begin a week from tonight when Camel Caravan opens the fall season with two completely independent half-hour programs, Jack Oakie college and Benny Goodman's Swing school.

The programs will be adjacent on the dial, Oakie's half-hour of fun-making from Hollywood, followed by the Goodman swing show, which will come from New York. They will be heard Tuesday from 8:30 to 9:30 over WABC-CBS.

Tours, Play Night To Acquaint Freshmen With Campus Life

Postpone Open Football Drill And Pep Rally

Stag, Coed Party Will Highlight Program Tomorrow

TODAY'S FRESHMAN WEEK PROGRAM
8:30 a.m.—Library tours. (Students interested meet in Iowa Union according to alphabetical schedule: A-G, 8:30 a.m.; H-N, 9:30 a.m.; O-Z, 10:30 a.m.)

4 p.m.—Recreational swimming. Fieldhouse and women's gymnasium.
7 p.m.—Play night. Women's athletic field and women's gymnasium. (For both men and women.)

While hundreds of upperclassmen have yet to arrive, members of the freshman class are already in Iowa City taking part in Freshman week. Library tours, recreational swimming and a play night for both men and women make up today's program.

Three separate tours will be held for students interested in being conducted through university libraries. Groups will leave Iowa Union at 8:30, 9:30 and 10:30 and will be taken to the library annex and general library where staff members will explain library facilities.

Pep Session Postponed
The open football practice and pep session originally scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon has been indefinitely postponed. The University of Iowa football team will be making preparations to leave for the Washington-Iowa football game.

Both indoor and outdoor sports will be on tonight's program. Athletic and social games of all kinds will be played on the women's athletic field and in the women's gymnasium beginning at 7 o'clock. The library tours are under the chairmanship of Adele Anderson, A4 of Honey Creek. Several upperclass students will serve as assistants. Mary Stewart of the women's physical education department is in charge of play night.

Two Parties
The highlights in tomorrow's program will be the Freshman Stag and the Coed party. Both events will be at 8 p.m., the Stag in Iowa Union and the Coed party in the fine arts building lounge. Campus tours will be held tomorrow at 9 a.m. All students who are interested will meet in Iowa Union.

All freshmen in the college of engineering and in the college of pharmacy will meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Engineering students will meet in room 103, electrical engineering building, while pharmacy students will meet in room 308, pharmacy-botany building. Attendance is required.

McAdoo Urges Special Session

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo (D-Cal) said today it is imperative that a special session of congress be held in November for benefit of farmers.
"There cannot be general prosperity unless the farmers are prosperous," he said in an interview. "In 1936, the farming population received but $182.49 per capita of the national income, while the per capita for all others of our population was $580.75."

"What we do in the way of agricultural legislation should be done early, so that its results may be felt for the farming season of 1938. For that reason especially I hope the president will call the special session."

FRIENDS AGAIN Hoffman, Boake Carter Settle Suit

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 20 (AP)—Counsel for Gov. Harold G. Hoffman announced tonight friendly settlement of the governor's pending $100,000 libel suit against Boake Carter, Philadelphia radio commentator, and several broadcasting companies.

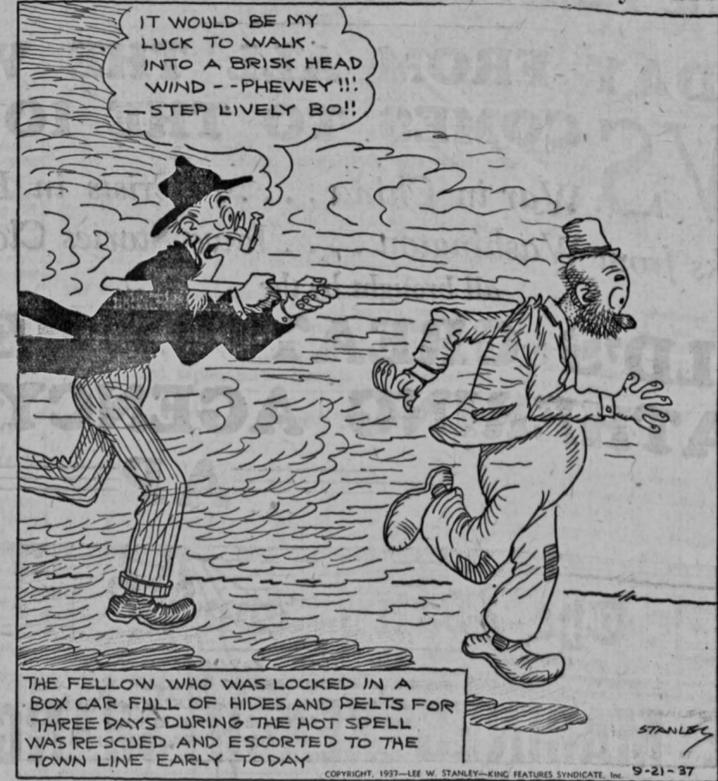

Harry Green of Newark, the governor's personal attorney, said Hoffman had granted "general releases to all parties involved," following an exchange of conciliatory letters with Carter.
The governor instituted supreme court suit on the charge Carter's broadcast remarks concerning the Bruno Richard Hauptmann case caused him to "suffer scorn and ridicule... and become liable to being prosecuted for crime and subject to impeachments."

Men Over 40 Preferred

Sales Executives Turn Thumbs Down On 'Young Bucks'

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Men over 40 are preferred to their younger rivals for executive and selling jobs by New York city's foremost group of sales executives, the members of the Sales Executives club.
These men represent some of the nation's largest businesses. Their report will be made tomorrow at a meeting of the club to which are invited members of the American Legion who are campaigning on behalf of more work for men over 40.
Eighty per cent of the members of the Sales Executives club reported they preferred men over 40. The survey was made by Charles C. Stech, research specialist of New York city.
The reasons for preference of older men, in order of importance, were:
1. They are likely to turn out more production.
2. More likely to be con-

S.U.I. Ranks Second Only to Harvard In Psychology Fellowships Received

Only Harvard outranks the university in number of scholars selected by the National Research Council for fellowships in psychology.
Information received from the council yesterday shows that nine Iowa men, winners of doctorates here, have been awarded fellowships by the organization during a period of years.
Harvard has had 15 and Johns Hopkins university equals Iowa's nine. A total of 84 fellowships has been granted to men from 21 different institutions.

Mrs. Seashore Will Entertain Church Women

Mrs. Carl E. Seashore, 815 N. Linn street, will be hostess to the Women's association of the Congregational church at the first fall meeting tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. The theme of the program will be "The March of Time in Religion."
Mrs. Charles A. Hawley will lead the devotions and will present a resume of the Edinburgh world conference of religion, at which 50 churches were represented last July. She will also lead the group in community singing of hymns.

Two talks will be given, one by Mrs. M. A. H. Jones on "Our Own Church, Looking Backward," and the other by Mrs. Paul C. Paeker on "Our Own Church, Looking Forward."
Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. J. H. Bodine, Mrs. John Howell and Mrs. Beulah Cheok. An invitation is extended to wives of university students.

High-Speed War! Army's New Tanks Deal Death at 50 Miles an Hour

By RICE YAHNER
INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP)—Special 24-hour sentries guard the United States army's new light tanks—biggest secret of eight division maneuvers here.
Veritably, these 50-mile-an-hour war machines fly over gulleys, splash through creeks and tear the underbrush of Pennsylvania's 12,000-acre military reservation, 20 miles east of Harrisburg.

And their fire, from a machine-gun forward and two in a swinging turret might mean quick slaughter to any mass of unprotected men.
Those facts are apparent—as is the general idea, formed upon a walk around one, that the squat, wide-nosed dealers of death are about the length and height of a light department store delivery truck. Officers will let you watch a four-man crew climb into a tank, but they keep you far enough away that the inside remains a mystery.

Defense Sought
Now, the army air corps and the artillery are trying to figure out adequate defense against these land speedboats. Uncle Sam is sure no other nation has anything like them, but he wants to be prepared.
A couple of fliers went for their first trip in a tank today. One compared it to a boat ride but he didn't appear as though he had been drowsing in salt air. He had been bounced over wide gutters and dropped into and jerked out of ravines at 25 miles an hour.

The tanks are driven on an endless rubber-padded track by a roaring motor. The driver sits on the left side. He gets his orders via radio. One of each company of five of the tanks has a sending set.
Bullet-Proof Glass
One gunner sits to the driver's right and two are above and behind him, manning the turret. Prepared for battle, the crew has only narrow slits, protected by bullet-proof glass, through which to see. The motor is in the rear but the specifications are secret.

For the first time since they were adopted, the light tanks of the 66th infantry are on mass maneuvers away from their post, Ft. Meade, Md. During the next two weeks they'll be in battle practice with the other units of the eighth division.

No Armored Cars For Liquor Board, Stewart Declares

DES MOINES, Sept. 20 (AP)—State Liquor Commissioner Andrew Stewart said today when the commission's trucks start hauling liquor the cabs will not be armored nor will the drivers carry revolvers.
"We'll haul liquor just like a grocer hauls groceries," Stewart said.
Under private hauling contracts, operators of the truck lines resorted to bullet-proof truck cabs and other armament as a precautionary measure against highway robbery.
Stewart said the commission does not consider these precautions necessary since all liquor entering the state already carries the state liquor seal and it would be difficult to dispose of such liquor.
The commission decided to lead over the transportation of liquor after severing the contract of the J. J. Brady Transfer and Storage company Saturday.

Largest Dam East of Mississippi

New view of the Tygart river dam near Grafton, W. Va. Finishing touches are being applied to the Tygart river flood control dam, an $18,000,000 structure, near Grafton, W. Va. It is expected to be completed this autumn. The dam is 1,900 feet long and 260 feet high and will help protect Pittsburgh from flood waters. Two miles upstream from Grafton, the dam is described as the largest east of the Mississippi river. It will form a lake with 68.8 miles of shoreline.

Senator Burke Warns Nation To 'Stop' Roosevelt

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 20 (AP)—Sen. Edward R. Burke, Nebraska's junior democratic senator, predicted in a radio interview here tonight "unless people of the country make it known they do not want their independent court tampered with, President Roosevelt will go ahead with his plan to make over the supreme court."
Efforts to "rejuvenate" the court may take some different approach than the one blocked at the last session of congress, he continued.
Burke, who was one of the leaders in the fight against the president's court plan during the last congressional session, recalled his fight against the appointment of Sen. Hugo Black of Alabama to the supreme court, adding:
"If the individual members of the senate had been certain at the time the vote was taken that Hugo Black is now a member of the Klan, I know he would not have been confirmed."
Earlier today, the Nebraskan urged President Roosevelt make a major address in Nebraska during his western tour and said he would "gladly join" with Nebraska democratic leaders in extending such an invitation.

Probe Death Of Wisconsin Coed

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 20 (AP)—The body of Barbara Martin, 18, University of Wisconsin coed, was enroute to her home in Birmingham, Mich., tonight as Coroner A. C. Fischer awaited a toxicologist's report on the cause of the girl's death.
A coroner's jury was ready to investigate the freshman girl's death in the event laboratory tests indicated she died of other than natural causes.
Miss Martin was found dead in bed in her room in Ann Emery hall Sunday morning after she had made frantic attempts to telephone for aid. A post mortem failed to reveal the cause of death, and a further examination of her organs was ordered. There were no signs of violence.

Andrew Mellon Will Filed; Leaves Millions to Charity

CAMERA'S EYE SPOTS— Faces in The Day's News

While no confirmation is forthcoming from Washington political observers say that Robert J. Watt, Scotch-Irish secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor, will become the new assistant secretary of labor, a post recently vacated by Edward F. McGrady. McGrady now is labor relations director of the Radio Corporation of America.

"Twice dead," Ronald Carlstrom of Chicago is alive and apparently on the road to good health. Physicians injected powerful stimulants into the 15-month-old boy's heart twice within an hour to save him. Ronald is with his mother, Mrs. George Carlstrom.

Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, wife of Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Lauer of New York, faced a threat of fines, penalties and duties totaling $10,000 following customs' seizure of her baggage as she and the justice returned to New York from European vacation. According to inspectors, Mrs. Lauer's declared list of purchases in Europe did not include one bracelet valued at $1,500; another at $2,500; miscellaneous items of wearing apparel packed into six large trunks and many other odds and ends of "souvenir gift jewelry."

The newly confirmed U. S. supreme court justice, Hiram W. Evans of Alabama, is not now a member of the Ku Klux Klan and there is no such thing as a Klan "life membership" card—so says Dr. Hiram W. Evans of Atlanta, Imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, to charges made that Black is a life member of the secret organization.

Snipers Pepper Spanish Rebels

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 20 (AP)—Fierce guerrilla fighting by the government's Asturian forces in the mountain wilderness on the Bay of Biscay coast harassed the insurgent drive tonight against Gijon, last government-held port in northwest Spain. Snipers peppered the rear flanks of the insurgents in northern Leon province but were unable to stall their relentless drive across the high Europa mountains.

Suggestions On Black Problem Flood Capital

Fate May Hinge Upon What Justice Has To Say for Self

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Washington, while awaiting some word from Associate Justice Hugo L. Black on his alleged membership in the Ku Klux Klan, is receiving a flood of suggestions for dealing with that situation. Much depends, of course, upon what, if anything, Black himself has to say upon his return from Europe later in the month. To date, he has studiously avoided reporters and declined to comment. The proposal most frequently discussed, and one resting upon the assumption that the case against Black has been proved, would have the president demand that the justice resign. Several critics of Black have suggested this.

Defend Him

On the other hand, some prominent persons have gone to the defense of Black. Senator Reynolds (D-NC) said he voted for Black's confirmation and would do so again "because I know he is honest and able."

Mr. Roosevelt, in his only comment on the charges leveled at his only nominee to the supreme court, made it obvious several days ago that he expects some sort of statement from Black.

Apart from the proposed demand for Black's resignation, a second suggestion, advanced by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), would have the chief executive appoint an impartial commission to investigate the evidence and reach conclusion on the charges. Such a spectacular course would be much to the liking of this sensation-loving capital, especially if open hearings were held. Whether the Wheeler plan has been given any consideration by the administration, however, is unknown.

A third idea is the uncommon course of impeachment. Chairman O'Connor of the house rules committee has said that, by request, he is canvassing house sentiment with regard to such action, but has not said what he has found it to be.

Impeachment proceedings would raise a point that has been much discussed here, whether Klan membership in itself legally disqualifies a man for membership on the court.

Would Let Court Act
A fourth idea, unrelated to the Klan charges, would have the court itself appoint a lawyers' committee to determine whether Black is technically eligible for court membership. This suggestion was made by Patrick Henry Kelly, a Boston attorney.

He referred to the argument whether the retirement of Associate Justice Van Devanter actually created a vacancy and if so whether, as a member of the senate which approved the retirement bill, Black is eligible under the constitution.

A fifth course, not so much a proposal as a prediction made in some quarters, is that nothing more be said by Black, or by the president. Mr. Roosevelt apparently will be on the west coast when Black returns. Under present plans, he will not be back in Washington until after the court has held its first session.

$180,000 Goes To His Servants And Employes

Estimates Put Fortune Between 100, 200 Millions

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20 (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon's will was filed today and left his millions to charity with only two exceptions. The household furnishings in the Mellon mansion in Woodland road were left to his son, Paul, and his daughter, Ailsa—Mrs. David K. E. Bruce.

The former secretary of the treasury left $180,000 for distribution among his servants and personal employes. The rest of the vast fortune, estimated between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000, was bequeathed to the A. W. Mellon Educational and Charitable trust.

$500,000 Surety
But no estimate of its value was made by the three executors of the estate, Paul Mellon, David K. E. Bruce, the son-in-law, and Donald D. Shepard, personal attorney to the former financier.

By arrangement with Register of Wills John M. Huston, a $500,000 surety was provided for Bruce and Shepard in securities of the Mellon estate to be placed in the Union Trust company under a custodian agreement.

The son was allowed to serve as an executor without bond.

State to Collect
While the bulk of the estate was directed to the educational and charitable trust, the state's tax experts said Pennsylvania would collect up to 10 per cent of the fortune.

The percentage, they explained in Harrisburg, would be collected through the state's transfer inheritance tax, which does not exempt charitable bequests.

In Washington, treasury officials said they would examine the activities of the trust to determine whether it is subject to federal taxes.

If it is determined that the trust is engaged only in charitable activities no federal estate levy will be made. If it is adjudged otherwise, Pennsylvania would receive 80 per cent of the tax collected by the federal government.

Expresses Satisfaction
Mr. Mellon, who died last Aug. 26, expressed satisfaction with the manner in which his children have managed the personal fortunes he turned over to them before his death. In the will dated July 2, 1936, he stated:

"I have from time to time made gifts to my children and their families and therefore I deem they have been adequately provided for. It is on this account that I make in this will no bequest to my children and their families."

"In transferring properties and business interests to my children I followed a precedent set by my father, who desired to impose responsibility on his children as fast as he thought they were prepared to assume it."

"It has been a satisfaction to me that during my lifetime I could see how well my children could manage such affairs and at the same time be believed in my later years of some of the responsibilities of business and give more attention to other matters in which I have been particularly interested."

Gave Art Away
Attorney Shepard announced that Mellon had given all his works of art, now estimated by experts at $50,000,000, for exhibition in the National Gallery of Art. In addition, he gave $10,000,000 for construction of the gallery in Washington.

The financier left $50,000 for employes in his residences in Pittsburgh and Washington and $100,000 for personal employes in business but provided the executors could increase these amounts by 20 per cent. Shepard said this additional $30,000 would be added. Individual beneficiaries were not named, the executors being directed to use their own discretion in distributing the bequests.

The planet Pluto was located years after its presence was predicted by Dr. Percival Lowell of the Lowell Observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz.

Mrs. Kurtz To Present Report

Will Give Review Of P.E.O. Convention At St. Louis

Mrs. Edwin Kurtz, who represented Iowa City and Tipton at the supreme convention of the P.E.O. sisterhood in St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 14 to 17, will present her report to chapters HI and E at a meeting Friday afternoon in the University clubrooms.

At 1 o'clock today Mrs. Kurtz and Mrs. George Gay, corresponding secretary of chapter HI, will be the guests of chapter DY of Tipton at luncheon, and Mrs. Kurtz will report on convention activities.

At 2:30 p.m. Friday, chapter HI will have a business session before meeting with chapter E at 3:15 p.m. to hear Mrs. Kurtz's talk. After her report chapter E members will be the guests of chapter HI at tea.

Mrs. George Easton, chairman of the reciprocity committee, is in charge of the tea. Her assistants are Mrs. Ted Rehder, Mrs. John Ashton and Mrs. W. L. Bywater.

The convention which Mrs. Kurtz attended was the 33rd biennial meeting. There were 878 delegates present, representing 29 states, the province chapter in British Columbia, Canada, and the chapter at Honolulu, Hawaii. The meetings took place in the Hotel Jefferson at St. Louis.

Mrs. Chellie Stevens Wright of Denver, Col., was elected president, succeeding Mrs. Hallie Newell of St. Louis.

Russell N. Knott, University Grad, Wed Saturday

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Geraldine Ingraham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Ingraham of Council Bluffs, to Russell Nelson Knott, a graduate of the university and member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

The wedding took place last Saturday at 3:30 p.m. in the Grace Presbyterian church at Council Bluffs.

The couple will make their home in Ft. Worth, Tex., where Mr. Knott is employed by the Shell Oil company.

Girl Scouts Start Fall Schedules

Two troops of Girl Scouts are beginning their fall schedule of meetings early this week.

Ruth Sumner, Girl Scout director, will entertain troop one of Iowa City high school at supper tonight at 8 o'clock in her home, 923 Iowa avenue. Plans will be made for the year's work.

Troop four's first get-together of the school year was last night at the home of Mrs. I. A. Rankin, 714 Burlington street. The members cooked their supper at the out-door stove on Mrs. Rankin's lawn. The troop is composed of Iowa City junior high school students.

The First Plunge Is the Coldest—

The town is strange. The hotel is unfamiliar, and so is everyone in it. The next few days will be an entirely new experience, crammed full of new faces and new places and parties, parties, parties. No wonder it's a bit hard to hold the pen steady when registering at the Jefferson hotel for rush week. But it's excitement and fun of the unknown—not apprehension—that jiggles the pen.

When Greek Meets Prospective Greek

Early in the evening smiles are bright, and conversation friendly and spontaneous. Enjoying the excitement of the first hour of rushing at the Delta Delta Delta house are, left to right, Betty Beason, A2 of Audubon, Tri Dell, Betty Mosier of Waterloo and Geraldine Jakway of Oelwein, both rushees, Hilda Kae Haubrick, A3 of Mapleton, and Mary Roach, A2 of Bevington, two more actives. As the evening wears on, smiles grow a bit stiff, and it's a welcome relief to everyone when the party is over, and rushees and actives alike can drop down in their rooms and kick off their shoes. But in the morning the parties ahead look as exciting and as much fun as ever to both hostesses and guests.

Hello, There—Won't You Come In?

Countless times in the last two days this scene, at the door of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority house, has been acted, with a different cast and a different setting but always the same plot. On the doorstep are the rushees. Just inside are their welcoming hostesses. For half an hour or so there will be punch and cakes and conversation and then back out will go the rushees and off to another house to start all over again. From left to right are Mary Hope Humphrey of Postville, Frances Rae Allen of Akron and Beverly Barnes of Colman, S. D., all rushees, and Muriel King, A4 of Hancock, Wanda Byrnes, A3 of Durant, chapter president, and Georgette Mach, A4 of Wellsburg, sorority actives.

Rushees, Attention!

Attention is called to the fact that unless a rushee has turned in her registration card and paid her $2 registration fee, no sorority will be permitted to pledge her.

There was a meeting of rushees Sunday afternoon in Macbride hall auditorium for the purpose of registration, but anyone who failed to turn in her card and fee at that time may do so now at the Panhellenic office in Iowa Union.

at the Gamma Phi Beta house, has appointed Eleanor Appel, A4 of Dubuque, to plan the Russian breakfast at which the sorority will entertain this morning from 9 to 11 o'clock.

At the reception tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock, the crescent motif, the emblem of the house, will be carried out in decorations. Marcea Smith, A3 of Davenport, will be hostess.

Kappa Alpha Theta Betty Garland, A4 of Oskaloosa, is planning Kappa Alpha Theta's Modern tea this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The Theta party this evening from 8 to 10 o'clock is entitled "An Old Southern Custom," and Betty Saar, A4 of Donnellson, is in charge.

Kappa Kappa Gamma From 10 to 12 o'clock today Kappa Kappa Gamma will entertain at a Circus breakfast, planned by Dorothy Ellen Rambo, A4 of Creston, and Jeannette Hemingway, A4 of Waverly.

Phi Mu Phi Mu chapter members will be hostesses at an Alice-in-Wonderland breakfast from 9 to 11 o'clock this morning. Refreshments—the cakes and teas which suddenly increased and decreased Alice's height—will be served in Alice's garden. Flowers and chairs will be grouped around a bird bath and a doll, dressed to represent the heroine. Dorothy Benson, A2 of Ft. Madison, will be hostess.

Phi Mu will entertain at a formal southern dinner tonight, the preferred party. A jable centerpiece of pink and white asters will carry out the sorority colors. A program of dancing and singing has been planned by Margaret Preston, A4 of Radcliffe. The party is scheduled for 7 to 9 o'clock.

Pi Beta Phi Welcoming rushees at the door of the Pi Beta Phi house from 2 to 4 o'clock today will be Edith Leahy, A3 of Pt. Washington, N. Y., Mary Helen Scott, A4 of Keokuk, and Sally Fortune, A4 of Bloomfield. The committee in charge of the tea includes Jeannette Peterson, A4 of Davenport, Catharine Niles, A2 of Anamosa, Nadgie Rohrbach, A4 of Cedar Rapids, and Jean MacIntosh, A4 of Wellman.

The committee for the Pi Phi reception from 8 to 10 o'clock tonight includes Marian Loetscher, C4 of Dubuque, Margaret Yavorsky, C4 of Belle Plaine, Mary Lou Means, A4 of Cedar Rapids, and Alice Eaton, A3 of Iowa City. Hostesses at the door tonight will be Frances Zoeckler, A4 of Davenport, Helen Ries, A3 of Iowa City, and Mary Lee Moore, A3 of Ft. Madison.

Sigma Delta Tau At the Sigma Delta Tau house

a Plantation breakfast will entertain rushees from 10 to 12 o'clock today. Guests and hostesses will join in dancing the "Big Apple," a dance recently popularized in the south. Della Izen, A4 of Asheville, N. C., will call the dance, and Maxine Leibovitz, A3 of Council Bluffs, will be hostess.

Zeta Tau Alpha At the Zeta Tau Alpha house rushees will attend a School-daze luncheon from 11 to 1 o'clock. Jane McNeill, G of Onawa, will be the old-fashioned schoolmarm and the sorority actives, dressed

Vivian Adrian's Marriage Told

Mr. and Mrs. George Boyd Making Home in Iowa City

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Adrian, 1158 Hotz avenue, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Vivian, to George Boyd, son of P. H. Boyd of Ainsworth. The wedding took place early this month at St. Wenceslaus church.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boyd, 228 E. Bloomington street, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa City high school, and her husband was graduated from St. Patrick's high school. He has been employed by the Iowa City Light and Power company. The couple are making their home in Iowa City.

Accepts Position

Harold Benzing of What Cheer, a June graduate of the university, has accepted a position on the Rochelle Leader at Rochelle, Ill., for the next three weeks, after which he will take charge of the weekly paper at Oregon, Ill.

in skirts, sweaters and hair ribbons, will be her students. The house will be a typical school room, filled with improvised desks and chairs. Dorothy Ackemann, A2 of Elgin, Ill., is planning the party.

The sorority will entertain at its preferred party tonight, a Castle banquet from 5:30 to 7:30. The chapter colors, blue and silver, will be carried out in the table centerpiece, a lighted castle of gray stone with blue cornerstones. The castle candlelighting service will conclude the banquet. Alliene Baker, A4 of Sergeant Bluff, is chairman.

The Rushing Record

More than 200 rushees have survived the first hectic day of making the rounds and will set forth again this morning for as many breakfasts, luncheons and teas as the day will hold.

At the sororities they will be pleasantly surprised by the warm personal welcome they will receive from hostesses adept from much practice at remembering names and faces.

Alpha Chi Omega The Alpha Chi Omegas have planned a tea this afternoon to begin their day's activities. From 3 to 5 o'clock they will entertain at a Powder Puff tea, with Doris Teegarden, P3 of Corydon, in charge.

At 8 o'clock tonight the Cotton Club review will begin at the Alpha Chi house. Until 10 o'clock, rushees will be entertained at a simulated night club in charge of Mary Alexander, A4 of Guthrie Center. There will be black and white candles on the tables, and the sorority members will be dressed in black and white frocks. The Avalon orchestra will play.

Alpha Delta Pi The garden and pool into which the Alpha Delta Pi house has been transformed will be the scene of a tea today from 3 to 5 o'clock. The committee in charge includes Gwen Tudor, A2 of Olin, Marion Belgarde, A2 of Independence, and Phyllis Barnes, A3 of Cherokee.

Tonight from 8 to 10 o'clock the chapter members will receive guests at a party in charge of Neva Melton, A3 of Muscatine, Joyce Stanzel, A2 of Des Moines, and Geraldine Grose, A2 of Des Moines.

Alpha Xi Delta The Alpha Xi Deltas will begin their day's rushing early this morning with a 9 to 11 o'clock Kentucky breakfast. Ruth Ann McMahon, A2 of West Liberty, chairman, has planned a program of tap dancing and singing. The entertainer will be Tom Nelson of Durant. Georgette Mach, A4 of Wellsburg, the Alpha Xi Delta Kentucky girl, will sing.

At tables gay with red and white checked cloths, southern biscuits and honey, sausage, coffee and melon will be served. Southern cabins will center the tables.

From 8 to 10 o'clock tonight the sorority will entertain at The Quill. Refreshments will be served in the downstairs lounge at tables centered with feather quills representing the sorority pin. Wanda Byrnes, A3 of Durant, is in charge and the Avalon orchestra will play.

Chi Omega The Chi Omega preferred party, a Shipwreck luncheon, will take place from 1 to 3 o'clock this afternoon. Ruth Ludwigson, A3 of Armour, S. D., hostess, has planned a color scheme of cardinal and straw, the sorority colors. Luncheon will be served at small card tables and the ice cream, molded to represent ships, will carry out the theme of the party.

The Chi Omega circus will put on its first act at 7 o'clock tonight. Until 9 o'clock there will be a program of side shows, fortune tellers and skits in full swing, with pink lemonade, hot dogs and all the circus trimmings. Virginia Reints, C4 of Clarksville, is planning the party.

Delta Delta Delta Hilda Kae Haubrick, A3 of Mapleton, will be hostess at the breakfast at which Delta Delta Delta sorority will entertain this morning from 9 to 11 o'clock.

The house will end its day of rushing tonight with a formal dinner from 7 to 9 o'clock. Dolores Hubby, A3 of Mason City, Ill., is making the arrangements.

Nile Kinnick, highly-regarded sophomore quarterback from Omaha, Neb., was one of the first of the regulars to report Sunday and receive his new Old Gold uniform. Each piece of equipment was given a thorough scrutiny by Kinnick, under direction of Trainer Bill Frey. The new shoes and headgear were given special attention. This type headgear clamps on the back of the head, preventing the helmet from coming loose with possible injury to the player.

Socks, silk pants and hip and shoulder pads in place, Nile prepares to slip into his snug wool jersey. These pants, made of silk, instead of the usual sateen finish, have a special Tubbs invention in the elastic strip up the back. Trainer Frey also saw to it that elastic was inserted in all points of strain in the pants to prevent binding. Shoulder, thigh hip pads, and helmet, are made of special reinforced fibre to give lightness and strength.

This complicated maneuver consists of the final step in the dressing of a football player. It is the "shaking-down, squeezing-in, and lacing-up process" all in one. Pads must fit snugly and in place or they will prove more a menace than a protection to the wearer. Fundamentally, pads are the same for high school, college, university or professional elevens—the chief difference comes in the quality of the product.

And here's the finished product. All set and rarin' to go. That ad, "No metal can touch you," has nothing on these modern warriors in their armor. Many of the various pads, especially shoulder pads, have special steel braces in them to prevent bodily injury to the wearer. When you sit in the stands this fall and see those stalwarts hurling themselves at each other, think back and remember that all the work in football isn't done on the field.

Hawkeyes Foil Huskies' Plays in Scrimmage

Deceptive Washington Plays Fail To 'Click' Against Old Gold 11 in Yesterday's Workouts

By JOHN MOONEY

Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Meeting for the first time the deceptive Notre Dame system of attack, used by the University of Washington's Huskies and demonstrated by a reserve Iowa eleven yesterday afternoon, the Hawkeye first team had little trouble fathoming the hidden maneuvers of the opponents and were never in danger, as Tubbs sent his men through the opening drills of the week in preparation for the Washington game Saturday.

The varsity eleven which frustrated the attempts of the reserves so thoroughly was composed of Fred Smith and Erwin Prasse at the ends, Frank Gallagher and Charles Brady at tackles, Wilbur Nead and Henry Leubcke at the guard positions, and Dick Anderson at center. Nile Kinnick called signals with Bush Lamb and Jack Eicherly at fullbacks and Frank Balazs at halfback.

Harris Injured
Homer Harris, stellar left end and captain of this year's team, was not in action in the afternoon session. He injured his ankle in attempting to clear away a tackler in the morning's scrimmage.

Bob Lannon, regular right end, was also absent from both sessions as was Ed McLain, fullback. Harold Patterson, reserve end, broke his nose in the morning workout and will be absent for several days.

Little "Dope"
Actually, little could be gathered from comparing or contrasting the effect of the Washington plays on the Hawks: In-man power and in actual finesse in running of the plays, the seconds were far inferior to the first team, but there was a noticeable tendency for the Iowa forwards, long dormant, to charge through the interference to break up plays.

Tomorrow night, after morning and afternoon practices, the Hawkeyes will leave for Cedar Rapids to board the streamliner, "City of Portland," for the 33-hour trip to the coast.

More Scrimmages
More experiments are expected along the lines of yesterday's scrimmage, with the reserves working the Huskies' plays against the varsity until there will be nothing new in the way of surprises, it is hoped.

Blocking, tackling, punting, passing and place-kicking occupied the remainder of the day, with Lamb and Kinnick showing up the best in the return of kicks. Washington is supposed to have a superior team to the last year's eleven which mopped up the Pacific coast conference. The strength of the Iowa eleven is questionable, very questionable, at times looking like the proverbial "million" and at other times resembling greatly a two-cent piece.

'Lefty' Gomez Defeats Detroit For 20th Victory

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Lefty Gomez became big league baseball's first 20-game pitching winner of the year today, with a classy four-hit whitewashing job against the Tigers.

His fine flinging, coupled with timely hitting by Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, who belted his 44th homer of the year, and Bill Dickey gave the Yankees a 5 to 0 victory over Detroit in the finale of their season's series.

It was Lefty's fourth straight win and second straight shutout. The big league strikeout king fanned nine during the game to boost his season total to 184. In his last 36 innings, during which he has won four straight, he has allowed only 18 hits and fanned 30 batters, and, with today's game, ran his shutout streak to 24 consecutive scoreless innings.

Orioles Win
BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles defeated the Montreal Royals, 4 to 2, last night to win their semi-final series in the International league's post-season playoffs and enter the final round against the champion Newark Bears for the Governor's cup and the right to represent the league in the little world series.

Six Hundred and Fifty-Five Pounds

Floyd DeHeer, Oskaloosa senior tipping the scales around the 235 pound marker, and Henry Leubcke, 270 pound Chicago, Ill. sophomore, posed obligingly Sunday with Russell Busk, 150 pound sophomore from Clinton. DeHeer and Leubcke give Iowa the two largest tackles in the country this year, either in college or professional ranks. Busk, a tricky little back, is expected to be used chiefly as a game breaker type of runner. All three are wearing the new Iowa uniforms.

Dethroned Match-Maker Looks Back

Jimmy Johnston Blames Mike Jacobs For Spoiling Madison Square Job

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—As his trusted handy man, old Sam McQuade, affectionately stripped the faded green walls of his priceless collection of autographed pictures, matchmaker Jimmy Johnston began moving out of his Madison Square Garden haunts today. Rage, bitterness and then a "what the hell" sort of forgiveness alternately played on his haunted thoughts as he backtracked his stormy six years as Garden matchmaker in the prize fight business where the double-cross sometimes seem to be the most popular blow. At the finish he tossed his hands up and said: "Hate to Move
"Sure I hate to move out to make way for that other crowd from Sixth avenue (Promoter Mike Jacobs, who takes over the Garden's boxing Oct. 1) but maybe it's the best thing that ever happened to me. I'll make more money on my own as a promoter. Mistakes? Aw, I don't know. Maybe I made a million of them here in the Garden but I had my moments, too. I ran 35 world's championship fights, five of them for the heavyweight title, and the Garden never lost a thin dime."

"What one thing finally beat you at the Garden?" I asked.
"Several items," he replied as his eyes flashed, "but foremost of all was the New York State Athletic Commission's Gen. John J. Phelan and Bill Brown. They did everything in their power to block me so Jacobs and his 20th century mob could go before our board of directors with an exhibit to prove the necessity of hiring a smart man like Jacobs. They blocked and stole dates away from me, they turned down fighters and then turned right around and gave them to Jacobs. It was so bad that they convinced me that Phelan and Brown must have an interest in Mike's 20th century outfit."

Johnston's rage turned into bitterness when he was asked what he figured as his greatest Madison Square Garden promoter.
Greatest Thrill
"The lifting of James J. Braddock from the relief roles to the heavyweight championship of the world," he began. "It gave me my greatest thrill and my biggest headache. I'll never forget the day he and his manager, Joe

Giants Maintain Margin Over Chicago; 'Crucial' Series Today

Brooklyn Rally Falls Short As Bruins Win, 5-4

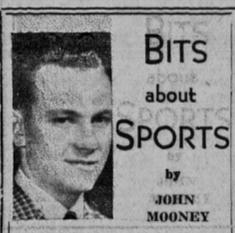

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs stopped a big Brooklyn Dodger rally with the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth inning today to squeeze out a 5 to 4 victory and stay 2½ games behind the Giants in the National league dog-fight. Getting their final tune-up for the start of their crucial series with the league leaders tomorrow, the Cubs had smooth sailing through the first eight innings as Bill Lee limited the Brooklyn to two hits. In the ninth, however, the Dodgers belted Lee and his successor Clay Bryant to the showers with a rally that netted all their runs and fell just one short of deadlocking the count.

And yesterday received a long clipping from an unidentified sender, a certain J. E. C., who penciled, "Well, at least your team is getting in the paper, anyhow." The clipping was from the New York Sun, April 18, and I will set down some of the brighter thoughts.

"Ira Irl Tubbs, the smallest fellow, who has invented several royalty paying gadgets used in the football trade, now is engaged in the task of inventing some touchdowns for the University of Iowa."

"This is Tubbs' first experience in fast geared football, his previous experience being with high schools and minor colleges. Those who know the man say that he is a first class instructor who understands all angles, and that Iowa made a good choice. His first choice was to bring in Ernie Nevers as chief assistant, and between the two Iowa's football fortunes should be improved, inasmuch as they cannot drop any lower."

"Iowa will have the largest tackles of the season, if not the best. The senior, Floyd DeHeer, tips the scale at 250 and Henry Leubcke, a sophomore, at 270. When those two are in, the Iowa line will reach from Iowa City to Keokuk, with enough left over to equip three high schools."

"That line (of Lannon, Harris, DeHeer, Leubcke, Farroh, Gallagher, and Anderson) will average 214 pounds and is likely to be the largest on either college or professional field."

"The backfield really is promising. Nile Kinnick, a sophomore from Omaha, is slated for quarter and it is predicted that he will become one of the outstanding players in Iowa's gridiron history. For a sophomore, he is displaying fine tactical ability, and (See BITS, Page 7)

"Ed McLain, a 203-pounder, has done the 100 yard dash in less than 10 seconds and will furnish the Hawks with the best offensive drive since Gordon Locke became an alumnaus."

"Iowa faces a murderous schedule in Tubbs' freshman year, opening with Washington at Seattle and meeting five conference teams and Nebraska. PENNANT RACE

Yankees Need Three Games for Crown

(By The Associated Press) The Giants and Cubs remained just as they were in the National league pennant race yesterday, with the New Yorkers 2 1/2 games in front by their victory over the Cardinals. The Cubs stayed in the thick of the battle by whipping the Dodgers.

Gould, came into this office and pleaded with me to put him on for a preliminary fight on the Max Baer-Primo Carnera fight. General Phelan told me he'd suspend me if I gave Braddock the fight—he said Braddock was unfit to fight—but I did. Braddock became champ and then repaid me by walking out on me. But I don't blame him as much as I do his manager."

Johnston's biggest thrill came the night Jack Sharkey won the heavyweight title from Max Schmeling. "Why?" he asked, "because Jack had tried so hard to win it. He was and is a fine man and one of the best heavyweights we ever had. I don't care what they say."

Baseball's Big Six

(By The Associated Press) Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals added another point to his batting average yesterday, hitting two-for-four for a .379 season mark, thereby boosting his National league lead to 21 points. In the American league side of baseball's Big Six, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees picked up a point on pace-setter Charley Gehringer of the Tigers, although each hit safely once in four chances. They wound up with Gehringer way out in front with .382 to .359 for the "Iron Horse."

Council Sells $35,000 Legion Bond Issue to Davenport Firm

Definite Action Seen Thursday On Bid Taking

Aldermen Recommend WPA Project For Debris Removal

A $35,000 bond issue to raise funds to reconstruct the fire-damaged American Legion building into a modern community center was sold by the city council at a meeting last night.

The council agreed to meet Thursday at 8 p.m. to take definite action concerning advertising for contractors to submit bids for the reconstruction project.

The bids would probably be received by Oct. 15, and work on the project could start in November, it is believed.

Urge WPA Project

A WPA project, for the removal of weather-beaten debris from the interior of the structure, should be obtained immediately, the council moved.

The bonds, which will bear two and three-quarters per cent interest and will mature Nov. 1, 1955, were sold to the White-Phillips corporation of Davenport. Their representative at the meeting was H. Reichert.

The Davenport bonding firm outbid the First Capital National bank of Iowa City to obtain the issue. White-Phillips offered a $10 premium above the Iowa City bank's two and three quarters per cent interest offer, and it was accepted by the council. Frank Williams, cashier, represented the Iowa City bank.

Civic Headquarters

The building, when reconstructed, will contain the offices of every civic organization and will also contain recreational facilities such as a gymnasium, an auditorium and handball courts and shower-rooms.

The bonds, which are of the city hall general obligation type, are in $1,000 denominations. Their date of issue is Sept. 1, and they will be paid for by a .3 of a mill tax levy.

White-Phillips also outbid three Des Moines bonding houses in obtaining the issue. They were Jackley and company; Shaw, McDermott and Sparks, and the Carleton D. Beh company. No sealed bids were submitted.

Payments Start in '39

The first redemption will occur Nov. 1, 1939, and the amount due will be $2,000. Identical sums will also be due annually until 1944.

Between 1944 and 1947 no bonds will be due. But, starting in 1947 and until 1950, $2,000 amounts will be paid annually. Five annual $3,000 payments between 1951 and 1955 will erase the debt.

The city council was authorized to issue the bonds Dec. 11, 1936, by a special election. The American Legion building was gutted by a $45,000 fire July 29, 1936, and has since been exposed to the weather.

Iowa City's application for a $29,000 WPA grant to assist in the reconstruction project has not been granted yet.

Farmer Finds Ring Lost for 20 Years

AUBURN, Neb., (AP) — Carl Gebers, Auburn farmer, knocked off a piece of dirt containing a gold ring recently when cleaning the shovel of his cultivator.

He told the editor of the Auburn newspaper about it, and a little more than a week later received a letter from Mrs. Henry Unland of Jordan, Mont., who said she had read the story and recalled she had lost a gold ring 20 years ago when the Unland family lived on the farm now owned by Gebers.

Gebers sent the ring to Mrs. Unland.

1937 Soil Compliance Check Slowed Up For Map Completion

The checking of farms for compliance with the 1937 soil conservation program in Johnson county has been slowed while the county office awaits the aerial maps of the county being made for the state soil conservation committee.

Reports on the preliminary checks are now being made by township chairmen and are coming into the office. However, compilations of acreages are delayed until the aerial maps are received.

County Agent Emmett C. Gardner has made a special request that Johnson county aerial maps be completed as soon as possible.

And a conscientious soul I know has it all figured out mathematically—and I don't know how—that the Chinese-Japanese fighting isn't so terrible after all. . . In two years twice as many persons are killed on the American highways as have died this far in China, he writes—"and no less horribly." . . The figure, for your memorandum, is close to 80,000. . . To get the full brunt of it, the chap adds, you may add those so far killed in the Spanish conflict and executed thus far in Russia and still not reach the American highway total since the World War. . .

And the papers barely mentioned it, but the death last week of Dr. Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, 87, founder and first president of the Czechoslovakian republic, was the only contemporary to have "invented" a country. . . ## W. R. Hart Announces Tentative Schedule for Farley's Visit

'Genial Jim' To Tour 1st District; Inspect 3 Postoffices

A tentative schedule for Postmaster-General James A. Farley's tour of the first congressional district Nov. 1 was announced last night by Attorney William R. Hart, democratic first district committeeman.

Leaving his train at Burlington at 2:55 p.m., Farley and the official party will drive to Mt. Pleasant to inspect the new postoffice there. Two or three stops may be made at smaller towns en route, Hart said.

The next stop will be at Fairfield where a tour of the post office will be conducted and dinner served. A short stop will be made at Batavia for a post office inspection before driving on to Ottumwa where Farley will speak at 8 p.m.

In the official car, which will be driven by V. W. Nall of Iowa City, will be Farley, his assistant, Ambrose O'Connell, Hart and Rep. Edward C. Eicher.

Several other cars from towns en route are expected to join the party.
