U. S. FORMALLY CONDEMNNS JAPAN

Government Joins League in Assailing Violation of Treaties

School Board Selects Nov. 4th As Date Iowa City Will Vote On Two Proposed Bond Issues

Petition Demanding Duo Ballot Accepted By 5-2 Margin

Iowa Citizens will vote Nov. 4 on whether to issue $398,750 in bonds for the construction of a modern $725,000 high school and whether to issue $300,000 in bonds for the purchase of a centrally-located site, the local school board decided unanimously last night.

A petition demanding the two-proposition ballot and signed by 241 voters was accepted by the board after a three-hour open session.

By a 5-2 vote the board decided not to grant a petition demanding that a centrally-located site be purchased and the structure built from a $398,750 bond issue. It was signed by 214 Iowa Citizens.

"Misunderstanding" The petition was rejected because it was based on a misunderstanding of the use of PWA funds, a motion incorporated in the records by dissenting board members stated.

"It demands that a site be purchased and the structure built from a $398,750 bond issue supplementing a $326,250 PWA grant," their opinion stated.

"No portion of a PWA grant is available for the purchase of real estate. Iowa City's grant covers only the construction and equipping of the high school," the motion said.

State PWA Director P. F. Hopkins advised Dr. George Maresh, board president, and Attorney Herbert Ries that "the PWA is not in the real estate business. Any site must be purchased from local funds."

Resolution Rejected A resolution by Prof. Thomas Caywood, board member, that the rejected petition be accepted and that Nov. 8 be set as the election day was defeated 5-2.

Professor Caywood and Elza Means approved the measure, and Dr. Maresh, J. M. Kadlec, Dr. W. E. Spence, Willis Mercer and William R. Horrabin voted against it.

The propositions accepted by the board are "Shall $398,750 bonds be issued to supplement a $326,250 PWA grant for the construction of a $725,000 high school building?"

And, "Shall bonds not to exceed $300,000 be issued to purchase a site within the school district limits for the erection of the building?"

"A school district law prevents naming the exact location of the site on the ballot in the special election and in the petition," Dr. Maresh said.

"If proposition number 2 is approved by a 60 per cent vote," Dr. Maresh said, "the board may select the site. The first proposition must also be approved by 60 per cent to build the school."

Five Voting Booths The polls will be open between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. on the election day, the board decided. Five voting booths, one in each ward, will be erected.

Their locations are: First ward (including school district voters living west of the Iowa river and outside the city limits), the Johnson County courthouse.

Text of State Department's Message

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Here is the text of the state department's condemnation of Japanese military operations in China:

The Department of State has been informed by the American minister to Switzerland of the text of the report adopted by the advisory committee of the league of nations setting forth the facts of the present situation in China and the treaty obligations of Japan. The minister has further informed the department that this report was adopted and approved by the assembly of the league of nations today, Oct. 6.

Offered Assistance Since the beginning of the present controversy in the far east, the government of the United States has urged upon both the Chinese and the Japanese governments that they refrain from hostilities, and has offered to be of assistance in an effort to find some means, acceptable to both parties to the conflict, of composing by pacific methods the situation in the far east.

The secretary of state in statements made public on July 16 and August 23 made clear the position of the government of the United States in regard to international problems and international relationships throughout the world as applied specifically to the hostilities which are at present unfortunately going on between China and Japan.

Abstention From Force Among the principles which in the opinion of the government of the United States should govern international relationships, if peace is to be maintained, are

America Gives Moral Support To Geneva In Efforts To Halt Clash Between Oriental Powers

State Department Accuses Nippon of Breaking Nine-Power and Kellogg-Briand Pacts; Silent On League's Invitation to Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The United States government formally condemned Japan tonight as a treaty violator in China, thus throwing its full moral support behind efforts of the League of Nations to halt the far eastern conflict.

Shortly after the league had voted similar condemnation of Japan's invasion and had proposed a conference of this and other nations which signed the nine-power treaty, guaranteeing China's sovereignty, the state department announced:

"The conclusions of this government with respect to the foregoing (alleged treaty violations) are in general accord with those of the assembly of the League of Nations."

Closely following President Roosevelt's appeal at Chicago yesterday for concerted international action to restore world peace, the department's statement accused Japan of violating the nine-power treaty and the Kellogg-Briand pact, renouncing war, and the principles which "should govern the relationships between nations." The pronouncement did not say whether the United States would accept the league's proposal for a conference of nine-power signatories to consider action, but it was predicted in authoritative circles that the proposal would be accepted.

Until a formal bid to the proposed nine-power parley arrives, Secretary Hull and his aides refused to make any comment on the projected meeting.

League Calls For Action Against Japan GENEVA, Oct. 6 (AP)—The league of nations put pressure on Japan tonight to end her undeclared war on China.

The league assembly threw its "moral support" to China, called on the nine-power treaty group to act and told Japan there might be other measures if she did not quit her war.

Adopts Committee Report The assembly, in which 52 nations sit, first unanimously adopted a report of its advisory committee which named Japan as the guilty nation in the far eastern strife and warned of the possibility of international action unless Japan agrees to peaceful nine-power settlement.

Then Aga Kahn, president of the assembly, dispatched letters to league members who are signatories of the Washington nine-power treaty, to guarantee China's territorial integrity, inviting them to call a conference to consider what steps may be taken to end the fighting.

Assembly Adjourns Although the assembly adjourned, it left machinery running to deal with the war through the plan to call league-member adherents of the nine-power treaty and through its advisory committee on Sino-Japanese affairs, on which the United States sits as an observer.

The advisory committee was expected to meet again within a month and it was believed the assembly would be called back in a special session should the far eastern situation develop a crisis.

The nine-power signatories also were expected to assemble quickly. Representatives of league members involved said the conference might be held in London within two weeks.

Jury Discloses Jayne Died Of Skull Fracture

Fatal Blow Inflicted By Unknown Person; Verner Held

SPENCER, Oct. 6 (AP)—A coroner's jury this afternoon found that Frank Jayne, 65, died of a skull fracture "inflicted by some person unknown to the jury."

Mrs. Lena Jayne, 47, wife of the murdered man, testified that the first she knew of his death was when the body was discovered by R. K. Axtel, a next-door neighbor, Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Jayne was found slumped over an old-fashioned phonograph, his head split open. An autopsy disclosed he suffered a compound skull fracture from the top of the head to the base of the skull. Death was placed at sometime Saturday night.

Heard Footsteps Mrs. Jayne told of hearing heavy footsteps rustling in the corn fields back of their home Saturday night when she came home from town with a son, Floyd, 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Jayne were separated, and although they lived under the same roof they occupied separate quarters, barred by locked doors. The children live with Mrs. Jayne.

Robert Verner, 16, and Paul Verner, 19, step-sons of Jayne, testified that Jayne swore at them the only times he spoke to them and declared they did not know he was living in the house.

No Confusion Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Cole, who roomed at the Jayne home, and M. E. Chase and Axtel, neighbors, testified that no confusion had been noticed there Saturday night.

Axtel testified Jayne had complained to him of dizzy spells Friday and that when he was notified of a light burning in Jayne's part of the home, he thought the man might have suffered such a spell.

Paul Verner, who with his mother had been questioned by authorities this morning, was returned to jail after the inquest.

Present Enrollment Equals That For Fall of Last Year Practically no change in the number of students at the university during the first semester of 1937-38 as compared with the enrollment last fall has been reported by the registrar's office.

Charles H. Maruth, assistant registrar, said yesterday that the figure is "almost identical" with the record total of a year ago. The 1936-37 figure was 6,645 campus students, and with non-campus students included, the total mark was 7,796.

Miners Laugh, Hold Sit-Down in Tunnel

Munch Sandwiches, Play Cards While Union Leaders, Company Ponder

LANSFORD, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP)—Well fed and warmed by three tiny stoves, 43 coal-blackened miners huddled deep in a dark tunnel today, determined to sit there until their demands for higher wages were met.

More than 1,300 feet below the surface, the men—all married—munched sandwiches and played pinochle while union leaders and the Lehigh Navigation Coal Co. pondered what to do about it.

Enough food for two days was brought to the mouth of the Coal-dale colliery in eastern Pennsylvania, center of the largest anthracite-producing region in the world. Relatives carried baskets of coffee, milk, potatoes, cold meat, bread and butter and the company lowered the stuff in a cage.

Ultimatum All night the miners stayed there in hand-fashioned bunks after they delivered their ultimatum: Payment by the yard on coal and dirt removed in opening the new eighth level rather than the daily wage rate of $6.78.

The company, one of the largest in the business, replied: "The trouble arises out of a grievance of two miners who refused to drive abreast, at the contract rates of the colliery rate sheet. This method of mining is

REACTION AT GLANCE

(By The Associated Press) Here's how the world reacted to the United States action condemning Japan as a treaty violator:

GENEVA—Quick steps to halt the Sino-Japanese conflict now are assured, diplomats at the League of Nations said.

TOKYO—Foreign office called emergency conference; newspaper extras sold like hot cakes.

LONDON—American statement interpreted as acceptance, in effect, of a proposed invitation to a nine-power conference on the far eastern situation.

PARIS—France gives "unanimous and unqualified approval" of the United States declaration, foreign office spokesman said.

VIENNA—Semi-official Austrian quarters termed American action a definite contribution to world stability.

ROME—Official reaction withheld pending receipt of text of American statement which was seen, however, as falling athwart of an Italian tendency to justify Japanese activity.

States action condemning Japan as a treaty violator. Simultaneously, newspaper extras began appearing with the bare text of the pronouncement issued in Washington. No comment was published immediately.

Excitement spread through the streets as crowds clustered around the newsboys. Government officials said they were awaiting official notification from the Japanese ambassador to the United States, Hiroshi Saito, on the pronouncement issued by the state department in Washington.

Though comment on the league's action was declined, the oft-repeated statement of the foreign office statement was recalled: "Since Japan is not a member of the league's political organization, we can not be concerned by any attitudes or positions the league may take."

Mussolini Gets 24 Hours Grace

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—France and Great Britain tonight gave Benito Mussolini 24 hours grace to respond to their joint bid for tri-power discussion of Spanish volunteer withdrawal.

The two governments, alarmed by new Italian aid to the Spanish insurgents, strongly indicated their patience with Il Duce is not unlimited after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden conferred lengthily with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Ambassador Charles Corbin of France.

"The two governments have agreed on the desirability of receiving an early reply from Italy," said a statement issued following the conferences.

Feeling grew in authoritative quarters that a stern show of Anglo-French force may be the only way to get blackshirt legions out of Spain, a problem that worries Britain as much as does the far eastern crisis.

The President Speaks His Mind

WHEN President Roosevelt lays aside the cloak of politics, forgets the supreme court, satirical digs at reactionaries and the dozen and one pettinesses of things political, there are few friends or enemies who will deny that he can say more and say it more effectively than any contemporary statesman.

Yesterday reverberations of the Roosevelt address were heard from every corner of the world. In Geneva the league of nations, for weeks tangled up in its own complexities in regards to the Sino-Japanese situation, yesterday came out with a sharp, clear denunciation of Japan's atrocities in China and her violation of the nine-power treaty guaranteeing Chinese territorial integrity.

A few minutes later there flashed across the news wires of the world word from Washington, D.C., for the last few weeks as inadequate as the league, that the state department has come out backing the league action to the hilt. Other capitals of the world—both members of the league and non-members—have also expressed satisfaction with the Roosevelt demand for action in the far east.

Roosevelt named no names in his Chicago address; the meaning of his speech was by implication alone, but of implication there was plenty.

Aides said his unexplained reference to epidemics of international "lawlessness" and his statement that America was searching for peace could be interpreted as meaning the president is exploring every field.

They admitted, the Roosevelt aides, that it might mean at some future time, an effort toward isolating those who engaged in acts of war or aggression from world commerce—or anything that might stop warring and insure against a general world upheaval.

The whole tone of the message was bold and strong, although the president made very clear he is determined to follow a policy of peace.

Nations, it seems to us, are much like persons. Those weak-chinned, head-nodding individuals who constantly avoid any positive statement frequently find themselves in more serious difficulties than those who have the courage to speak their minds.

We believe the Roosevelt speech was a clear, admirable stand on the atrocities of the far east. We believe his words crystallized the thoughts of many of the world's leaders but thoughts some had been afraid to express. We believe the speech has had wholesome effect on the world's outlook toward the far east. We believe if enough pressure is brought to bear Japan, like it or not, may be forced to take notice.

The Windsors Plan An American Trip

THE DUKE and Duchess of Windsor, familiarly known to millions who have never seen them—and who never will—as Edward and Wallis, are planning a trip to the United States now that they have obtained unwilling permission from the British government.

The Windsors will come here as private citizens and should be treated as such without the molestations so common to visiting celebrities. This is what both the United States and the British governments undoubtedly wish. And there is little doubt that the British wish it rather fervently.

But with typical British indirectness they are taking the wrong approach to the problem of what to do with their former king, just as they took the wrong approach towards Edward's plans for marriage. Then they thought that if the news of the affair between the king and Mrs. Simpson were kept suppressed the whole thing would die quietly down.

Now the proposed visit of the Windsors to America, when most reports stated that they really wanted to go back to England, shows that despite its declarations, the government still feels that he is a threat to the security of the present king.

As long as the British government adopts this attitude, then the British people will keep it. When the government drops it then the people will drop it, something which for the sake of both the Empire and the Windsors is heartily to be desired.

At present the British government's attitude seems to be that Edward should stay bottled up in some Central European country. Failing to keep him there, however, they will let him come to America.

Frailty, Thy Name Is Woman

THE CAMPUS heart is fickle. Ask any fraternity man whose pin proves a boomerang.

Ask any university Juliet whose Romeo apparently does not know that the Pica Ball is even scheduled until he appears there with a blonde from another house.

Iowa's latest example of the inconsistency of the campus in general and woman in particular is the furor caused by the Pica Ball's handsome Latin bandsman. It is said that even before appearing on the campus, Carlos Molina is threatening to walk away with the "ladies' man" title that belonged last year to Ted Weems.

Currier hall has invited the Valentino of the air waves to have dinner at the dormitory tomorrow evening. Rumor further has it that there's a Carlos Molina club at one of the sororities.

The chairman of the ball has even gone so far as to announce that he will request a police escort to protect Molina from the enthusiasm of feminine fans.

So if you don't take your girl to the Pica Ball, you're out of favor, and if you do she'll probably give you the air for the air waves' Valentino. Man, as usual, gets it coming and going.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

ROMANCE OF WAR

IN JUST one more campaign they would go on. They were fed up with harder and higher mountains to climb, remoter strongholds to escalate, wider deserts to cross under a monstrous sun. What need to plan or conspire? Each one knew how the other felt and how all the hearts of men, with more than enough years of romance, travel, wealth, women, wine and war. Every soldier was riding or footing it back to the wife and child of his own blood, the blessed vision and habit of his own sky and field and hill and sea. By Dionysius! The army was going home.

So uprose the sitdown strike of the Macedonian veterans under Alexander the Great. There they were stuck in far-off, ancient India. What cared they if their adored king had taken them from dull, poor hovels to dower each one with glory, gold and brown-skinned beauties? And, by Zeus, they went home!

So it has been through the ages, under despot or democratic leader. Read through the written records and harken to popular tradition. Even when at Legion conventions or in men's clubs he dreams back to that night in Paris, he knows it full well for the one bright star mired by endless hours of drill, routine, fever, rats, lice and boredom. Forever it is the chosen few who seek war as the adventurous escape from taxes, the home and the same old boss. Give man his fill of "romance" in war and hear him cry: "What's all the shooting for? I want out!"

In our own day—in the World War—romance made her last appearance on any field. It was reserved alone for the knights of the air, who fought in chivalrous onset, dropped a wreath on the conquered one's grave, or met in later peace to swap stories and beer. But unlike the troops of yore the modern average soldier does not amass gold nor does he get away with a sidown strike.

In the present "undeclared" war in China romance has died—of shame. The Japanese knights of the air rain death upon helpless women and children in Shanghai, Nanking and Canton. Nor will the Chinese aviator drop peach blossoms on the grave of his foe, or swap stories over a bowl of rice wine. The romance of war? Tell it to the Chinese.

Remains Best Reducing Rule Lowered Food Consumption

By LOGAN OLENDENING, M.D.

In the treatment of overweight, it is becoming more and more the idea that simply cutting down food intake is all that is necessary. The use of exercises, massage, baths or reducing diets or ductless gland extracts do not contribute materially to the result. Eat less and you will reduce: it is all very simple and mathematically logical.

The overweight often refuses to accept this, especially the implications as to cause. Most of them say they do not eat as much as other people—that some mysterious process inside the body operates to keep some people fat and others thin.

Thin People Not Hungry I know a number of thin people who support this view from self observation. They say they are never hungry.

There is enough in this to make one believe that if a thin person forced himself to eat an adequate or slightly overadequate diet, he would gain weight. The problem is more difficult in practice than reducing the overweight. But to a certain extent it can be done.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Most places, typing is an occupation. In Hollywood it's an affliction.

The movie-makers will do the funniest things. They've done it, most recently to Stella Adler, now known-by-her own request so it will spell as it sounds—as Stella Adler. Stella of the blonde hair and gray-green eyes made her name on the stage in grippingly dramatic portrayals. There probably isn't a custard pie in any of the plays of Maxwell Anderson, Paul Green, or Clifford Odets, in whose works Miss Adler appeared on Broadway. So Stella's first movie is "Love on Toast," in which cakes—nice, gooey cakes—appear in important roles.

Heavier Roles For Sophie — If this goes over, Stella Ardlie may become the screen's funny girl, and have to beg for a chance to be dramatic — just as Mary Boland has done before her. Mary Boland was an actress of parts on the stage, but in pictures her first was comedy. With one exception—unsuccessful because audiences wouldn't take it—Miss Boland has been being funny ever since.

Just the reverse happened to Gladys George. Gladys George clicked in bawdy comedy — in "Personal Appearance" which was lusty enough to be chosen by Mae West as a movie vehicle. Sophie Tucker is next in line. The "red hot mamma" business is going to be cooled off in the smiles and tears of comedy-drama. She tried it out in "Broadway Melody of 1938," with a catch in her voice and a tear in her throat, and from now on things are going to be different for Sophie.

Once in a while, among the established picture-people who have been typed in one-part or another, comes a similar radical departure. George Raft in "Souls at Sea" left behind him the gangster and foppish dancer assignments of his past and made a new impression as a sympathetic character.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Now that Broadway's producers, grimacing like gargoyles, are up to their hips in their night, it seems sensible to report the doings of Maxwell Anderson and Burgess Meredith, who make up the fanciest writing-acting combine in the business. Max writes 'em and Burge acts 'em. Mr. Anderson has come out of South Mountain Road, in the up country near Haverstraw, and is settled in his town house. Yet he remained quietly at home with his pipe and slippers when his new play, "The Star Wagon," opened the other night. The thick-chested poet never attends a premiere, and so he had no inkling of what took place the other night until his next door neighbor, who happens to be Meredith, came in around midnight.

Meredith is the enthusiastic, shouting type, and Anderson is of the placid, unemotional mold, so it would be interesting to know what happened when the actor burst in on the playwright. Meredith probably let out a wahoo-o-o that startled the dead, and Anderson, in spite of his reserve, probably started up with, "How was it—what happened—what'd they say?" This is their third serious drama in concert, yet it is the first one that hasn't been written in verse. Their first was "Winterest," in which Meredith gave an amazing performance, and then last year there was "High Tor," an imaginative fantasy with the Hudson Palisades as its locale. Meredith and Anderson both have estates within sight of the very promontory about which the play was written. The star's home is a white neat dwelling in a rustic background of apple orchards and maple trees. Anderson has a somewhat larger abode with a tiny hut far in the background, to which he retreats whenever guests clutter up the premises.

Mr. Anderson wrote three plays last year and probably has another one for this season. It is said of him that he rarely ever makes a change in script, once the dialog is on paper. Much of his composition is done standing up, and all of it is done in longhand. He doesn't like the typewriter.

The work covered by the zoology seminar is research in character. Each lecturer will present the results of his own personal investigations.

Tennis Club Opens Its Fall Program At Today's Meeting

The Tennis club of the Women's Athletic association will open its fall program this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the social room of the women's gymnasium. All women interested are invited to bring their rackets and balls to the meeting.

Jane Norman, A3 of Keokuk, student head of the Tennis club, has announced that the organization will hold at play day for women in nearby colleges again this spring.

ETTA KETT

By Paul Robinson

Well, Blow Me Down!

"Blow the man down," says Margaret Leeper, A2 of Waterloo, as she spurred Neva Simonsen, A1 of Davenport, down the line at the W.A.A. Play day yesterday. This game was one of the many played at the get-acquainted meeting conducted by W.A.A. The object is to blow the paper cone from one end of a string to the other, grab it quickly and slide it back to the next person.

Four On a Ball

Yes, it takes four of them to handle a cage ball. These four freshman women are shown as they played "cage ball" at the play day on the women's athletic field yesterday afternoon. They are part of one of the 16 teams which competed in a series of games from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Other games on the afternoon's program included bowling, hit-pin baseball, quilts and volleyball.

Huston Lauds University For Progress in Journalism Field

The University of Iowa is "a pioneer in the vanguard to realize the need for faculty members with a tutorial newspaper experience," writes John Huston, publisher of the Ottumwa Courier, in the October issue of the Iowa Publisher and Bulletin of Iowa Press association. He also commends the practicability of the work of the school of journalism in a review of the speech he made at the dedication of the Press-Citizen building in Iowa City last spring.

Mr. Huston calls attention to the fact that a balance between theory and practical methods has been attained. The school of journalism, he says, is a training school, both in the presentation of a background and in actual laboratory training. The magazine is edited by Prof. Edward F. Mason of the school of journalism and Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school, is business manager.

Presenting Dean and Mrs. Kuever

President and Mrs. Eugene A. Gilmore entertained last evening at a formal reception in the main lounge of Iowa Union to present Dean and Mrs. Rudolph A. Kuever to the faculty of the university. Dean Kuever is the new dean of the college of pharmacy. Members of the faculty and administrative staffs of the university were guests at the reception. During the evening they heard a musical program presented by Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, and Prof. Hans Muenzer and Thomas Muir, two members of the department staff. Facing the camera in the receiving line above are Helen Reich, hostess at Iowa Union, President Gilmore, Mrs. Gilmore, Dean Kuever and Mrs. Kuever.

Two Ring Rite Used for Noon Wedding Here

Ruby Zimmerman And William S. Cozine Repeat Vows

Ruby Romell Zimmerman and William S. Cozine, both of West Branch, were married at noon yesterday in the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Iliot T. Jones was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony. Wedding attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cozine of Davenport, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Music was furnished by Prof. Herbert O. Lyte at the organ. The bride was dressed in a white satin gown and finger-tip veil, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The matron of honor wore blue taffeta and carried yellow button chrysanthemums. After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home on their farm east of town. Mr. Cozine is a former student at Parsons college and at the University of Iowa.

University Club Will Give Tea

Members Will Model Furs for Lecture By Cownie

An Alaskan tea, the University club's first fall meeting in the clubrooms of Iowa Union, will take place this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Charles Cownie of Des Moines will speak on "The Romance of Furs," and coats and scarves will be modeled by Mrs. William J. Petersen, Helen Reich, Mrs. Harry K. Newburn, Mrs. Rufus H. Fitzgerald and Mrs. L. B. Higley. Decorations for the tea will carry out the Alaskan motif. The table at which Mrs. Mason Ladd, past president of the club, and Mrs. Frederic T. Mavis will preside will have as its centerpiece a miniature igloo carved in ice and will be illuminated by blue lights. Arctic flowers will decorate the room. The platform for the speaker and models will be transformed into an Indian trading booth, complete with pelts, pack saddles, reindeer horns, blankets and Indian handwork, which have been loaned to the club by Iowa City visitors to Alaska. In the receiving line will be the officers of the club—Mrs. A. Shannon Fout, president; Mrs. F. D. Francis, vice-president; Ellen Mosbek, secretary, and Mrs. Walter F. Loehwing, treasurer. Parlor hostesses include Dean of Women Adelaide L. Burge and the wives of the deans. As Mr. Cownie is driving from Des Moines, his talk is scheduled for 3:30 rather than 3 o'clock as originally planned. The style show and refreshments will follow.

Molina Sets Feminine Hearts Aflutter

Tango Band Leader Destined To Succeed Weems As New Heart-Throb

The "ladies' man" title has a challenger. Carlos Molina, the Pica Ball's heart-throb band leader, before even appearing on the campus is providing strong competition for Ted Weems, who was supreme with the feminine half last year. Currier hall has extended an official invitation to the handsome South American to have dinner at the dormitory tomorrow evening. If he arrives in Iowa City in time he will be the guest of honor of the Currier residents — who will then be one up on the rest of the rest of the 2,000, less forethought than their Currier sisters. The latest demonstration of Molina's popularity was the disappearance of the box containing request numbers to be played at the party. Until yesterday afternoon it stood on the desk at Iowa Union. Now a new box stands there, graced with only one picture of the musician instead of three. The original box — with the three pictures — probably stands on some smitten coed's desk. The committee has announced that in spite of the disappearance of the box, a request program will be played. If the first requests cannot be recovered, the program will be chosen from those in the second box. The musician who takes such potent pictures will be protected by a police escort if rumors of a pending mob scene continue, the Pica Ball chairman, Herman Schmidt, A4 of Davenport, has announced. "If as many girls are scheming for personal introductions to Molina as I've heard it rumored," he said, "we'll need help to keep him intact until we get him safely on the band platform." The Latin musician whose pictures have turned campus heads and hearts will not arrive in town until tomorrow. He will play at the Pica Ball in Iowa Union lounge from 9 to 12 p.m. Molina will come to Iowa City directly from the Aragon ballroom in Chicago. He has been playing there since completing an engagement at the Stevens hotel in Chicago. His NBC broadcasts, together with his dark hair and the whimsical quirk of his eyebrows, have earned Molina the title of Valentino of the Air Waves. But his campus name is ladies' man at Iowa.

P.E.O. Chapter To Meet Friday

Chapter HI of P.E.O. will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Homer Dill, 1127 Dill street. Mrs. A. O. Ingram will be assistant hostess. The program will include a travelogue presented by Mrs. A. C. Trowbridge, who toured England and the European continent this summer with her daughter, Carolyn.

Mrs. Kindl Hostess To Club Members

Mrs. Frank J. Kindl, 732 E. Davenport street, was hostess to members of the U-Go, I-Go club Tuesday at 8 p.m. Members of the club spent the evening playing euchre. Prizes were won by Mrs. John Holdt, 411 E. Bloomington street, and Mrs. John Soukup, 1225 Rochester avenue. The next meeting of the U-Go, I-Go club will be Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Albert Brant, 720 E. Davenport street.

Theta Rho Will Hold Final Drill Monday

Drill practice will follow the business meeting of Old Gold of Theta Rho Monday evening in the Oho Fellows hall. It will be a final preparation for a trip to Des Moines, where the members will stage an initiation before the state Rebekah assembly Oct. 20. The drill team which is to make the trip will be chosen after Monday's drill.

Today's Clubs

Women's Missionary society of the Welsh church, Mrs. Ervin Hughes, route 7, all-day meeting. Friendship circle of King's Daughters, Mrs. B. G. Shella-dy, 409 E. Brown street, 10 o'clock. Ruth Millet Writes Syndicated Column

Ruth Millet, former Alpha Delta Pi student at the University of Iowa, is now writing a syndicated column, "We, the Women," which appears in five newspapers. After graduating from the university, Miss Millet wrote a campus etiquette book, "As Others See You." While on the campus, she was a Hawkeye beauty and a Dolphin attendant.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Griffith, 308 N. Clinton street, have as their guest Mrs. Gertrude Wilson of Portland, Ore. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Snavely and their daughter, Elva Jean, left for their home in Washington, D.C., yesterday morning after a three weeks' visit at the home of Mrs. Elva Snavely, 1038 E. College street. Dr. C. S. O'Brien, head of the ophthalmology department of the college of medicine, will speak on "Effective Plastic Operations for Deformities About the Eyes" at the Linn county medical meeting in Cedar Rapids tomorrow at 6 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Summerwill, 601 Oakland avenue, are leaving tomorrow night for a two weeks' vacation in the east. They will attend the American Bankers association convention in Boston, Mass., and will visit in Washington, D.C., and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ewers, 351 Magowan avenue, will have as their week end guests Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bullock of Atlantic. Prof. James C. Babcock of the University of Chicago was in Iowa City over the week end. He is a former member of the Romance languages department at the University of Iowa. Mrs. Murray Baylor of Oskaloosa was a visitor in Iowa City last week. Mrs. Baylor was the former Elisabeth Barbou, instructor at the university. Donald Foerster, a graduate student at the University of Chicago, visited here recently for a few days with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. Norman Foerster, 421 Woolf avenue and McLean street. Dr. George C. Albright, Dr. W. F. Boiler and Dr. F. J. Rohner attended a medical lecture in Cedar Rapids Tuesday. Dr. Gordon B. New from the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., spoke at the Montrose hotel. The speech was part of the cancer program put on by the speaker's bureau of the Iowa State Medical society.

Freshman Groups Give Wiener Roast

Three freshman orientation groups, under the leadership of Hermina Brandt of West Liberty, Jane Anderson of Cedar Rapids and Deana Krantman of Marshalltown, all A3, had a wiener roast in City park last evening. About 45 girls attended.

Woman's Club To Hold Drama Meeting Today

Members of the drama department of the Iowa City Woman's club will meet in the north conference room of Iowa Union today at 2:30.

A one-act comedy directed by Mrs. Ellis D. Crawford will be presented. Mrs. John H. Moorman will give a thumb-nail sketch of Katharine Cornell.

Mrs. Moorman is chairman of the committee for the meeting. Other members of the committee are Mrs. E. J. Anthony and Mrs. D. F. Goddard.

The drama department broadcast two plays over station WSUI yesterday at 8 p.m. which Mrs. M. M. Crayne directed.

The first play was given by Mrs. A. C. Martin, Mrs. Goddard, Mrs. Ronald Tallman, Mrs. Anthony, Mrs. Irving King and Mrs. C. A. Bowman.

O. A. White and S. W. Harris presented the other play. Members of the home department of the woman's club met at the home of Mrs. H. H. Gibbs yesterday at 2 p.m.

Mrs. L. V. Dierdorff gave a display of trimmed woolen articles from a local department store. Other members of the home department worked on leather pocketbooks.

Mrs. A. Shannon Fout and Mrs. Dierdorff comprised the committee for the meeting.

Student Nurses To Hold Initial Party at Dorm

Student nurses at Westlawn will entertain at their first guest night of the year tomorrow from 8:30 to 12 p.m. in the recreational room at Westlawn. Admission will be by ticket only.

YANKEES BLAST HUBBELL, WIN 8-1

Big Sixth Inning Rally Gives Yanks Seven Runs, Ruffing To Face Cliff Melton in 2nd Game

By ALAN GOULD
YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP) — Loopholes in the usually impeccable defense of the Giants, followed up quickly by a burst of baserunners, enabled the world champion Yankees to rout Carl Hubbell and romp off with an easy 8 to 1 victory today in the opening game of the fifth all-New York series for baseball's highest honors.

For five innings the screwball mastery of the lean southpaw ace of the Giants dominated the fog-shrouded stadium and thrilled a surprisingly big crowd of 60,573. For five frames Hubbell held the Yankee powerhouse to one lone single and outpitched his left-handed rival, Vernon Gomez, as the Giants gained a one-run margin. Then came the deluge.

Striking with characteristic suddenness, in the sixth inning, the Yankees took advantage of the breaks to drive Hubbell from the box, roll up seven runs, and remove all doubt about the outcome of the game.

Hubbell paved the way for his own downfall by lapsing in control and passing Gomez at the outset for the fatal sixth. Then, after Frank Crosetti singled sharply to left, came the costliest "break" of the inning. With Red Rolfe at the plate, Captain Gus Mancuso of the Giants had Gomez trapped far off second base with a snap throw to Dick Bartell, only to have the Giant shortstop drop the ball. Gomez scrambled to safety, Rolfe singled to left to fill the bases on a short fly that Joe-Joe Moore couldn't quite reach, and the doors were wide open.

Joe DiMaggio cracked the first pitch to left-center, to bring home the first two runs, and the parade was on. DiMaggio got an extra base on the throw in, Lou Gehrig was intentionally passed to fill the bases again, Bill Dickey scratched a single off Whitehead's glove, Myril Hoag hit into a force play at the plate, and George Selkirk belted a single to right that brought home the fourth and fifth runs.

Hubbell Leaves
Selkirk's baserunners drove Hubbell from the box and introduced a comedy touch to an otherwise tragic cracker for the National league champions. A slipup in announcing the southpaw's replacement forced the Giants to send Harry Gumbert to the box as first relief, instead of Dick Coffman, who was Manager Bill Terry's intended selection. Gumbert pitched to only one batsman, Tony Lazzeri, whose sharp grounder went through Whitehead's legs for an error and brought over another tally.

Coffman then took the hill and promptly forced over the seventh and final run by walking Gomez and Rolfe in the process of finally getting the Yankees out.

All told, an even dozen Yankees went to the plate. The seven runs were manufactured by only five singles, combined with two errors and four bases on balls. Gomez, by walking twice in the same inning, set a world series record.

Hubbell's defeat, his second at the hands of the Yankees in as many years, but his first in three opening game assignments, was a bitter blow to the National leaguers. It put the issue for tomorrow's second game squarely on the towering shoulders of Cliff Melton, sensational freshman southpaw, who will match throwing arms with Charles Rufus (Red) Ruffing, Yankee right-hander.

FIRST INNING
GIANTS: Moore grounded out to Gehrig unassisted. Bartell singled on a sharp bouncer just inside the third baseline. Ott lifted a high fly to Gehrig. Leiber fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

YANKEES: Crosetti walked. Rolfe fanned. DiMaggio, singled past Ott. Crosetti stopping at second. Gehrig lifted a high fly to Leiber. Dickey drove a long fly to Leiber, who made a nice running catch. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

GIANTS: Ripple flied to Hoag. McCarthy lined to Lazzeri who took the ball off his shoetops. Mancuso lined to Selkirk. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

GIANTS: Crosetti made a neat stop of Whitehead's bouncer behind second base and threw him out. Hubbell lashed a long drive that Selkirk caught on the bank a few feet in front of the stands. Moore was thrown out, Gomez to Gehrig. The pitcher made a good stop of a hard hit grounder. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

City High to Face Clinton Tomorrow

Coaches Shift Lineups; Seek Aerial Offense

Little Hawk footballers were given another tough scrimmage session last night as coaches Herb Cormack and Francis Merten pointed to the road game at Clinton tomorrow.

Switching of lineups continued as the Red and White mentors concentrated on offense. In an attempt to pep up the aerial department Coach Cormack has pulled Dave Kerr out of the line to alternate between tossing and receiving the ball.

Jack Hirt, out for his first year of football, is pushing co-captain Bob Snider for a first string guard position. Crumley may be replaced by Wayne Putnam, lanky Hawkleet basketball center, who has shown improvement in his fight for the wing post.

Because of his strong defensive ability, Herman Miller will probably see a good deal of action in the Clinton invasion. Miller is also the City High place-kicking expert.

Good punting will be featured by the Iowa Citizens, despite the fact that Joe McGinnis, who has been a consistently good booter for the Little Hawks, will be replaced by DeWayne Justice at halfback. Justice kicks equally as well as his rival.

Ted McLaughlin is still nursing the sprained ankle he sustained in last week's practice. Bill Buckley's wrist is healing quickly and will probably not keep him out of the game.

Lund, 195 pound battering fullback, and Swanson, fleet star of the Clinton track team, will be standouts in the River City's attack on the clean slate of the Cormackmen.

Back to Fundamentals
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's football team went back to fundamentals yesterday as hard drills ended for Saturday's western conference game with Northwestern at Evanston.

Tabbs Juggles Lineup; Sends Varsity Against Frosh Gridders in Scrimmage

New faces continued to appear in the varsity line-up yesterday as Coach Irl Tabbs sent his gridgers through a snappy scrimmage against the freshman teams.

The varsity, on offense all the time, had little trouble puncturing the yearlings' line and did not resort to any form of offense save line bucks, mixed with a few short aerial thrusts.

Yesterday's encounter was the first chance for the frosh to show their mettle against the varsity.

The first team yesterday had Fred Smith and Erwin Prasse at the flanks, Wilbur Nead and Charles Irvine at the tackle positions, and Bob Allen and Bob Herman at the guards. Dick Anderson was at center. In the backfield, Russell Bush started at quarterback, with Bill Gallagher and Jack Eicherly at the wing-backs and Ed McLain at fullback. Bush, Lamb, Frank Balazs, and

'Knot-Hole Club' To See Iowa Games At Barga Prices

The "Knot-Hole Club," the Hawkeye's noisiest gang of rooters, will be present again this year in their usual section of the Iowa stadium. The "Knot-Holers" are pupils from Iowa schools who see the University of Iowa home games at bargain rates upon endorsement of their membership cards by school officials.

The club has its special section at the north end of the stadium, where the members will pay their dues on the day of each game. The charge for each game will be 25 cents for 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grade students, with children in the lower grades paying only 10 cents.

A large turn-out of pupils is expected for the first game with Bradley Tech, Saturday. Other dates are: Oct. 23, Michigan; Nov. 6, Minnesota; and Nov. 13, Indiana.

Cross-Country On Quad Fall Schedule

For the first time in the history of the Quadrangle athletic activities is being planned with the tentative time being set for two or three weeks from now. Each section will organize a team and compete for the crown.

This meet is being planned for the purpose of filling the lull in sports events between the football and basketball seasons. More definite plans will be announced in a week or two.

The head of the Statue of Liberty is large enough to accommodate 40 persons standing upright.

Yanks Lay Strategy

Joe McCarthy
Manager Joe McCarthy smiles confidently as he talks over plans for today's world's series game with his red-headed right-hander, Charley Ruffing. The Yankees, behind the six-hit pitcher, of their ace left-hander, Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, defeated the Giants 8 to 1. Today the Yanks will face the southpaw slants of Cliff Melton, the hill billy hurler who is the Giant's No. 2 hurler.

Charlie Ruffing

BITS about SPORTS
by JOHN MOONEY

A column of world series side-lights as gleaned from the radio accounts of the opening battle by a sports editor who still hopes that Giants will win, but who lets sound reasoning sway him into picking the Yankees.

"GOAT" . . . every series must have a goat and a hero . . . thus far, Dick Bartell earns the dubious honor of being the erring one . . . his dropping of Gus Mancuso's peg in the sixth inning after Gomez had been trapped off the bag started the fireworks which blasted Hubbell to the showers.

BONEHEAD . . . the real bonehead play of the series so far it seems to me, was the mix-up on the Giants' bench when Harry Gumbert was announced as the relief hurler . . . Gumbert was relaxing on the Giant bench all the time and in reality it was Dick Coffman warming up in the bull-pen . . . due to a technicality in the rule book which said that once announced, a pitcher must pitch Gumbert faced one batter and walked him.

TOUGH . . . King Carl Hubbell, the Giants' starting hurler, yielded a hit in the first inning to Joe DiMaggio and then settled down and retired the next 15 batsmen in order before the blow-up came in the fatal sixth . . . it was one of the finest exhibitions of control and pitching strategy ever seen for those few innings.

DRAMA . . . Vernon Gomez, the Yankee starting hurler, had yet to lose a world series game . . . Carl Hubbell, his Giant rival, had yet to lose an opening game when the two were announced yesterday . . . Gomez now needs one more win to tie the record established by Jack Coombs and Herb Pennock.

STUFF . . . "I didn't have all my stuff today," said Gomez after the game, "but it was good enough. I had it when I needed it. What'll I do next time out? Hey, don't quote me as predicting." Dizzy Dean's in the National league.

UMPIRES . . . said Gus Mancuso, "They're all high ball umpires in the American league. They missed a lot of Hub's strikes that curled around their knees."

KING . . . said Carl Hubbell, erstwhile king of the hurlers, "I had some stuff, but it wasn't enough. Say, that Gomez is a right good pitcher, isn't he?"

PREDICTION . . . the daily guess by this writer has the Yankees again beating the Giants.

Carleton Bests Lyons, Dietrich

White Sox Nine-Game Winning Streak In Series Halted

By WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP) — The National league Cubs fitted up a 15-hit assault with Tex Carleton's brilliant pitching today to conquer their American league rivals, the White Sox, 7 to 3, and end their long victory famine in Chicago city series warfare.

The Cubs, second place team in the older league, and for the first time in years the underdogs in this civic baseball strife, spotted the Sox a two-run lead in the second inning, then opened up with an attack that drove 37-year-old Teddy Lyons out of action in the sixth inning, and did Bill Dietrich no favors the rest of the way. A crowd of 14,589 in Comiskey park, home of the Sox, saw the southsiders vanquished in the first game of the series.

The triumph ended the Sox series winning streak at nine straight, and was the Cubs' first victory since the sixth game of the 1931 renewal.

Irish Prepare For Game With St. Joseph Team

Coch Ryan sent his gridders through a stiff workout yesterday in preparation for their game with St. Joseph of Rock Island Sunday. The drill consisted of a hard scrimmage followed by signal and passing practice.

The Irish lineup was bolstered with the return of Paul Scannell and "Fozzy" Neubauer. Scannell, a veteran end, has been placed at the center position, while Neubauer, a nine semester man, will be at end. "Fozzy" will be permitted to play in the coming game by special permission of the Rock Island school.

Records this season show that St. Joseph has a strong outfit, having tied Rock Island high school and held St. Ambrose Academy to 7 points.

The ends, which have been weak all season, have received special attention from Coach Ryan as has Neuburger whose passing in the U-Hi game did not come up to expectations.

third. Mancuso hit into a double play, Crosetti to Lazzari to Gehrig, while Ripple crossed the plate with the first run of the game. Whitehead lashed a double off the right field line. Hubbell grounded out to Gehrig, unassisted. One run, three hits, no errors, one left.

YANKEES: Hoag lifted a high fly to Bartell. Selkirk hoisted to Ripple. Lazzari went down swinging as Hubbell retired the Yankees in order for the fourth straight inning. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING

GIANTS: Moore dribbled a single through the middle of the diamond. Bartell fled to Selkirk. Ott fouled to Dickey. Leiber flit deep to Hoag. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

YANKEES: Gomez walked. Crosetti singled sharply to left, Gomez stopping at second. It was the first hit off Hubbell since the first inning. With one ball on Rolfe, Mancuso threw to Bartell and Gomez was trapped off second. The Giant shortstop, however, dropped the ball and was charged with an error as Gomez scrambled back to safety. Rolfe dropped a single into short left, filling the bases. DiMaggio cracked the first pitch to left center for a single, scoring Gomez and Crosetti. Rolfe ran to third and DiMaggio reached second on the throw in.

Gehrig intentionally was passed to fill the bases again. Dickey singled off Whitehead's glove, scoring Rolfe and leaving the bases filled. Hoag grounded to Ott and DiMaggio was forced out at the plate. Selkirk singled sharply to right scoring Gehrig and Dickey and sending Hoag to third. The Giants clustered around their southpaw ace while activity increased in the bull pen. It was decided to take Hubbell from the box. He was replaced by Dick Coffman. The announcer erroneously reported that Harry Gumbert had been selected to replace Hubbell. Manager Bill Terry came out to talk with the umpires. The hitch was over the announcement that Gumbert was to pitch. Accordingly Gumbert was ordered to the mound instead of Coffman.

Lazzari's sharp grounder went through Whitehead for an error. Hoag scoring and Selkirk striking third. Coffman replaced Gumbert in the box. Gomez walked. It was his second walk of the inning and filled the bases again. Crosetti lifted a short fly to Moore. Rolfe walked, forcing Selkirk across the plate. DiMaggio flit to Leiber. Seven runs, five hits, two errors, three left.

SEVENTH INNING

GIANTS: Ripple flit to Hoag in short left. McCarthy rolled out, Gomez to Gehrig. Mancuso hoisted to DiMaggio in short center. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES: Gehrig walked. Dickey walked on four straight pitches and the Giants' bull pen went into action again. Hoag hit into a double play, Ott to Whitehead to McCarthy, as Gehrig reached third. Selkirk grounded out, Bartell to McCarthy. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

EIGHTH INNING

GIANTS: Whitehead flit to DiMaggio. Berger batted for Coffman. He hoisted to DiMaggio. Moore dropped a Texas league single in left. Bartell lined to Hoag. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

YANKEES: Al Smith, a southpaw, went to the box. He was the fourth pitcher for the Giants. Lazzari hit a home run into the lower left field stands. Ripple made a one hand stab of Gomez' line drive after misjudging the ball. Crosetti lined to Ott. Rolfe hoisted to Moore. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING

GIANTS: Ott went down, swinging. Leiber lined to DiMag-

Two Quadrangle Teams Open Football Season Next Monday

Opening games in the two quadrangle touch football leagues will be Monday, Oct. 11, when Upper A will meet Upper D in the Upper League and Lower A will play Lower D in the Lower League. Martin Pertl, Quad athletic director, has arranged the schedule so that games will be played twice a week on Mondays and Wednesdays, in both leagues.

The league playoff will be held shortly after the regular session is closed at which time the winners of each league will play a two out of three game series to determine the championship of the Quad.

The complete schedule of games of each league with the date of the contests is as follows:

University High, West Liberty To Meet Tomorrow

With three changes in his first string line, Coach Jack Sterrett sent his grid proteges through a stiff practice session yesterday afternoon in their last scrimmage before their game with West Liberty here tomorrow afternoon.

The changes in the line saw Bill Boiler replacing Bruce Blackstone at center, Ed Bruns halfback, was converted into an end to take over Bruce Alderman's wing post. The rest of the starting line remained intact, with John McAlister at end, Bob Carson and Russ Butechek at tackles, and Cy Beye at the other guard.

The backfield was unchanged with Ham Ries at quarter, Don Bridenstine and Duane Carson at the halves, and Owen Morgan at fullback.

Coach Sterrett concentrated on the first team's offensive attack. Duane Carson looked particularly impressive, breaking away five times for runs of fifty yards or more.

Appoint Moyle As Mitt Coach

Athletic Director E. G. Schroeder announced yesterday that William (Bill) Moyle, who was recently hired to succeed Bob Rush, will have charge of all intramural boxing tournaments this year in addition to his departmental work.

Moyle, who earned his Master's degree here last year, is at present working towards a Doctor's degree. He did his undergraduate work at LaCrosse State teachers college where he was a seven letter man.

While representing this relatively small Wisconsin school in boxing he defeated the welterweight champions of both Minnesota and Wisconsin universities. Upon completion of his school work at LaCrosse in 1932, he played 3 seasons of professional football with the LaCrosse team of the Northwest Professional league and engaged in 20 boxing matches, winning 16 and drawing 4.

For the past two seasons Moyle has been head coach at Eldora high school. Besides being engaged in teaching and boxing, he will assist in handball, swimming, tennis and badminton.

taste defeat in championship battle. He needs only one more triumph to match the world series records of Jack Coombs and Herb Penneck, each of whom achieved five victories, without a single setback.

Whitehead Doubles

The Giants collected half of their six hits and their only run in the fifth, when a double play aided Gomez in escaping from serious trouble. Red-haired Jim Ripple and Long John McCarthy started this frame with basehits. With runners on first and third and none out, it looked like the break of the game. Ripple scored and Mancuso grounded into a double play, Crosetti to Lazzari to Gehrig. Whitehead stroked a two-bagger down the right-field corner but Hubbell rolled out to Gehrig.

Otherwise no Giant got past first base. Bartell's single was wasted in the fifth. Moore started the sixth with a single to center, but the big guns of the batting order couldn't do any damage. Mel Ott and Hank Leiber were held hitless all afternoon by Gomez, who displayed speed as well as control from start to finish. The Yankee southpaw didn't issue a pass until Ripple walked with two down in the ninth.

Hubbell started shakily, but quickly recovered control. Crosetti walked and DiMaggio singled in the first frame but Gehrig and Dickey were easy victims on high flies to Leiber. Pitching deliberately and seemingly getting better

Newark Bears Win Fourth Straight To Take Little Series

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 6 (AP)—Newark's Bears, winners of the International league pennant by a 25 1-2 game margin, defeated the Columbus Red Birds, 10 to 4, tonight for their fourth straight victory to capture the 1937 little world series, four games to three.

Fahrenheit, German physicist, was the first to use mercury instead of alcohol in thermometers.

World Series Busts Up Hunger Strike In Illinois Prison

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees just about knocked the props out from under the hunger strike at the stateville penitentiary today.

Warden Joseph Ragen reported only 60 of the 3,477 inmates refused to eat their noon meal. At supper time the number of strikers was reduced to 21.

One reason for the wholesale desertion of the abstainers ranks was hunger. The other was the ruling that convicts could not listen to the broadcast of the world series over the loud speaker system until conditions returned to normal.

Largest Auto Show in Recent Years Planned by Lions Club

Style Show and Exhibits On Program For Annual Event

A bigger and better auto show than ever will be held in the field-house Nov. 16, 17 and 18, J. Harold Simmen, general chairman of the annual Lions club show, forecast at the weekly meeting of the club yesterday noon in Reich's pine room.

Besides exhibiting the latest things on wheels, a style show and other entertainment will be on the program. Local business houses and civic groups will have scores of booths open to the public.

Committee chairmen for the show follow: house and decoration, Prof. E. W. Hills; booths, Irving B. Weber; publicity, Harry S. Bunker; entertainment, George Nagle; style show, Ray Slavata, and tickets, Attorney F. B. Olsen.

Proceeds from the show will be used, as in the past, to finance child welfare work in Iowa City.

Scout Leaders To Meet Tonight

Scout masters, assistant scout masters and troop committee will meet tonight at the Boy Scout camp Rotary to discuss plans for the organization of troops and the problems of scout masters.

The program for the balance of the year will be decided. Gordon L. Kent, district Boy Scout commissioner, will be in charge.

Police Court Has Only Two Cases

Police Judge Burke N. Carson had only two cases in police court yesterday. On a charge of intoxication, "Red" Keyes was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail. The Witmer Grocery company paid $1 for overtime parking.

Postal Department Will Issue Three New Stamp Series

Three new series of three-cent stamps will be issued during the next two months, according to information received yesterday from the United States post office department by Postmaster Walter J. Barrow.

First of the series, an Alaska commemorative series, will be available Tuesday. The stamps will be purple in color and bear a sketch of Mt. McKinley. Collectors who want first day cancellations should send their orders in time to reach Seattle by Oct. 30. The first day covers will be mailed from Juneau, Alaska.

The next issue will go on sale Nov. 25 at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Also purple in color, these stamps will be a Puerto Rico commemorative series, and bear a sketch of the old governor's palace, "La Fortaleza." Orders should be mailed in time for sailing Nov. 11 for first day cancellations.

The third series is a Virgin island series to be on sale Dec. 15 at Charlotte Amalie. Collectors wanting first day cancellations should send their orders in time to assure sailing before Dec. 1.

Clark Scheduled To Broadcast on Fire Prevention Tonight

A true story of a fire that badly burned the legs of Glenn Cunningham, America's great mile runner, will be told by Acting Fire Chief James J. Clark over radio station WSUI at 8:45 tonight.

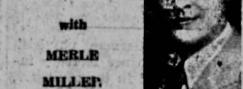

Clark will be interviewed by Darold Jack, A3 of Cedar Rapids, on fire prevention as part of the national observance of fire prevention week.

'Not So Bad,' Says Walker Mayor Defends City Dairymen; Says Milk Supply Under-Rated

"The condition of Iowa City's milk supply is not as bad as it is painted by the particular sponsors of the public health ordinance," stated Mayor Myron J. Walker last night. Recent inspections by state public health service agents have occasioned much controversy; however, according to the mayor, the case has not been presented clearly with the result that the local milk supply was under-rated.

Mayor Walker said that the cleanliness of dairies providing milk for Iowa City is now much better than five or six months ago. According to the mayor, the city milk inspector, Dr. L. P. Graham, has found that most of the city's dairymen are attempting to maintain their establishments in accordance with the latest scientifically approved methods.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLER

Lasting
One of those marriages that lasts belongs to Beatrice and Bruce Gould—now co-editors of Ladies' Home Journal and frequent collaborators on Statepost yarns. . . All through high school and into the university here they were inseparable. . . Gould hung his Kappa Sig pin the first day he was pledged, I'm told by a friend. . .

Wisdom
So few persons I know ever seem to have heard Voltaire's wise remark to the effect that, "A well-phrased silence is worth a dozen ill-phrased words." . . . And I can't remember who said, "It's better to be silent than inadequate," but it's a good idea. . .

Out-Dated
And, while speaking of out-dated magazines in professional offices, I neglected to mention the local M. D. who has only one decoration on his waiting room wall—a 1932 calendar. . . The only mags available, I've observed, are two National Geographics, dated 1934. . .

Count
By actual count, a scout reports, radio station WHO—locally and through its chains—repeated "Josephine" 13 times in a 24-hour period last week end. . .

Add Americana: Faith Bacon
—who started her career as a fan dancer—is reported to be doing the "big apple" in a New York night club, clad, appropriately enough, only in a large apple. . .

Rules
This month's Cosmopolitan asserts—and I'm inclined to agree—that not more than one-eighth of the millions who attend football games every Saturday actually have even a vague idea of what the rules of play are. . .

The Roosevelts, by now, seem to be pretty well agreed that John did not throw a bottle of champagne at the mayor of Cannes. . . He just happened to be in the way. . . Remember the W. C. Fields reply after his car smashed into a statue, "It just ran in front of my car," he alibied. . .

Seems to me the smoothest of the newer radio bands is Shep Fields' rippling rhythmers. . . Fields was ousted from his fraternity at Northwestern—strangely enough because he would leave school for weeks at a time to play with collapsible bands. . . He's said to have registered at Northwestern 11 times—never got a degree. . .

Sportsmen Pay License Fees For September

Johnson county hunters, fishers and trappers bought 356 licenses during September. County Recorder R. J. "Dick" Jones received $376 for licenses which sold at $1 and $1.50 each. Those issued at $1.50 were for combined resident hunting and fishing permits, while all others selling at $1 were for single and non-resident permits.

Permits received during September included 10 resident fishing permits, 300 resident hunting permits, 40 resident combined hunting and fishing permits, three resident trapping permits, and three non-resident fishing permits.

Contested Case Occupies Court

Ten Thousand Dollar Double Indemnity Demanded

The case of Wall against Mutual Life Insurance company of New York occupied most of the time of the district court yesterday.

Mrs. Veronica Wall is suing the insurance company to recover $10,000 double indemnity on the policy of her husband, Joseph P. Wall, accidentally electrocuted by a fallen wire in August, 1925.

The insurance company contends that the policy was discontinued prior to the accident because of Mr. Wall's failure to pay a premium due in July, 1925. The plaintiff argues, however, that the accident occurred before the time limit for the premium had expired.

The fundamental issue to be decided by Judge James P. Gaffney is when the policy began, which will determine whether Mr. Wall met his death before or after the time allowed for the payment of the premium.

The case is the first of the civil cases assigned to this term of court. The criminal cases will be tried after these cases have been completed.

Gaffney Announces Administratrices For Two Local Estates

Agnes G. McGinnis yesterday was appointed administratrix of the estate of her sister, Henrietta Gynne, by Judge James P. Gaffney. Bond was set at $2,000.

Judge Gaffney also granted the application of Leona Kaspar to be appointed administratrix of the estate of Ambrose Kaspar, fixing the bond at $8,000.

County's Share Of State Ton-Mile Tax Totals Over $1,000

The state commerce commission has announced that Johnson county will receive $1,101.20 as its September share of the state ton-mile taxes.

The tax is paid by bus and motor freight companies operating vehicles through the state. Buses pay two mills per ton-mile and motor freight carriers pay 2.5 per ton-mile.

It was stated that 18 firms operated 302 buses during the month and 231 motor freight carriers operated 2,209 trucks and trailer units.

September collections for August operations totaled $41,931, the commerce commission stated.

Fire-Fighting—But No Fire

Iowa City's firemen were on the job yesterday afternoon with hook and ladder to "save" a fellow worker from the "burning" city hall. But it was all in fun. The fire-fighting demonstration was a part of the observance of national fire prevention week here.

Firemen Give Demonstration

Before an audience of 250 persons assembled in front of the post office, the Iowa City fire department yesterday afternoon gave a demonstration of fire-fighting procedure in conjunction with the observance of national fire prevention week.

At 2 p.m. both trucks left the station house in opposite directions. Engine 1 arrived from the south with H. L. McNabb driving. The engine platoon laid two lines of hose and connected the pumper to the hydrant at the intersection of Washington and Linn streets.

At City Hall Ray Morgan drove engine 2 south on Linn street in front of the city hall. Extension ladders from this truck were raised to the windows of the second floor of the building. The entire platoon then raised the 50-foot ladder to the window in the city hall attic.

Hoses were put up each ladder and water played from each nozzle into the street. Then the company began a demonstration of maneuvers which are a part of their daily training. Morgan and William Vorbrich descended to the ground by means of hooks in their safety belts on ropes attached to the extension ladder.

Donning gas masks, Morgan and Rittenmeyer returned to the second floor to "rescue" Louie Villhauer. Having been carried down the ladder, artificial respiration was applied to him. On an improvised stretcher, Villhauer was carried from the scene.

Showing that water is not a good extinguishing agent for gasoline, the firemen placed a wood tray in the street and poured gasoline into it. When showered with water, the gasoline spread into the street and continued to burn.

From two ladders rigged with ropes, the men erected a tower designed to permit working on wires where there is no building to support a ladder or to bridge an alley or court between two buildings.

Cellar fighting tactics were demonstrated from a platform constructed in the street. A standard auxiliary nozzle, two revolving nozzles and a Baker cellar pipe were shown.

Under the direction of Acting Chief James J. Clark the following men took part in the hour and a half demonstration: Albert Dolezal, Theodore Fay, Harley McNabb, Ray Morgan, Adrian Rittenmeyer, Ivan Rose, Vernal Shimon, Edward Sulek Jr., Louie Villhauer and William Vorbrich.

Bus Schedule Altered And Rates Reduced For Wisconsin Tilt

A reduction of the round trip bus fare from Iowa City to Madison, Wis., Oct. 16, and a change in bus time for the trip were announced yesterday by R. J. McComas at the Union bus depot.

The fare has been reduced to $6 for the round trip. According to the revised time schedule, the specials will leave the local depot at 7 a.m. Saturday and will arrive in Madison at 12:30 p.m. The time of departure had previously been set at 6:30 a.m.

The buses will leave Madison for the return trip at 7 p.m., arriving in Iowa City at 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

Reserved seat tickets for the football game, which will celebrate the University of Wisconsin's homecoming, may also be purchased at the regular price of $2.50 at the bus depot, McComas announced. The original plan provided a round trip ticket to Madison and a ticket to the football game for the flat sum of $10.

The 215-mile run will be made through Dubuque, McComas announced. "While no deadline for the excursion has been set, reservations should be made as soon as possible," he said.

Similar excursions will probably be offered to the Iowa-Purdue game at Lafayette Oct. 30 and to the Iowa-Nebraska game at Lincoln Nov. 20, according to McComas.

Did this ever happen to you?

You might be standing right next to the most attractive person you ever met, but you don't know it until you are introduced . . . until you get acquainted.

And you don't know how much pleasure a cigarette can give until somebody offers you a Chesterfield.

Certainly this is true: Chesterfields are refreshingly milder . . . they've got a taste that smokers like.
