With little to gain and everything to lose the University of Iowa's Hawkeyes will open their home season today at 2:00 p.m. against the strong Bradley Tech eleven.

The Iowans, defeated 14 to 0 in their first game of the season against the University of Washington's Huskies, will attempt to thwart a better-than-average Bradley team before an estimated crowd of 13,000 fans.

It is expected that at least five sophomores will be in the starting line-up, although Coach Irl Tubbs has not made any form of announcement as to his starting eleven.

Five Sophomores
Nile Kinnick, Bill Gallagher, and Ed McLain are all first year men who are expected to get the starting job.

Bells, whistles, horns, balloons that will pop, or anything else that makes noise will be welcomed at today's Iowa-Bradley Tech game as one more campus group will attempt to establish a little zip, pep, noise, etc. at Iowa's football games. One thousand seats will be reserved between the 40 and 50 yard line on the east side of the field for dormitory people from the Quad, Currier Hall, Eastlawn, and all the co-operatives who will sit as a body to try out an experiment to see if a mass cheering section would prove successful at future football games.

ing call in the Iowa backfield, while Fred Smith and Erwin Prasse will probably get the starting assignment for the end posts.

Only two Iowans are expected to be missing from today's game. Fred Lindenmeyer, reserve center, and Al Schenk, reserve back, are expected to be held on the sidelines to recuperate from injuries.

Hawkeyes Drill
Yesterday afternoon, the Hawkeyes ran through a brisk signal drill and had another look at the Bradley formations. Iowa still appeared vulnerable for a passing attack such as has been employed by the Technicians.

Bob Lannon, a varsity end of last year, will probably see plenty of action, although Prasse and Smith are scheduled to start. Dick Evans, another yearling, is scheduled to get into the fray also. Floyd DeHeer, the boy who played the All-American game as a sophomore against Minnesota, will get into the fray as a replacement for either Capt. Homer Harris, playing his first conference game as tackle, or Frank Gallagher.

Bob Herman and Chuck Bradley are scheduled to start at the guard position, but Bob Allen and Shipley Farrah are likely reserves.

In the backfield, Tubbs has Frank Balazs, Buzz Dean, Bush Lamb, Russell Busk, and Lawrence Benetone to rush into action if Kinnick, Eicherly, Gallagher and McLain turn sour.

Tech has split in two games this season, but is expected to present the strongest team in years this afternoon in an effort to defeat the Iowans and break their long victory string.

It was erroneously reported that the game would start at 2:30. Today's game will get underway at 2 o'clock.

Crowd of 500 Joins In Opening of 1937 'New Era in Pep'

An enthusiastic crowd of 500 students last night joined Pi Epsilon Pi and the University football band in opening the campus "new era in pep" by participating in a lively "Beat Bradley" demonstration on the west approach to Old Capitol.

Orval Matteson, A4 of Elgin, Ill., who led 100 cheering students from the Quadrangle to the pep rally, made a short speech asking for moral support in today's game with Bradley Tech. A short speech by cheerleader Robert Reuben, A3 of Ft. Dodge, several numbers by the band and a round of cheers concluded the rally.

Rosenblatt Tells Labor To Take Responsibilities

By JOSEPH L. MILLER
DENVER, Oct. 8 (AP)—A former NRA official told the American Federation of Labor convention today that labor must accept its responsibilities or face loss of its privileges.

Rosenblatt of New York, arbitrator of labor disputes in the garment industry and former NRA administrator of the movie code, complimented the A. F. of L., however, for what he said was its "unsullied" record for keeping its contracts.

"The recognition of labor's rights under the laws of the land must not be disturbed, and so long as agreements are kept and performed, they will not be disturbed," he said.

"But the old distinction between us and abuse still holds. The same congress and the same state legislatures which have enacted measures to protect collective bargaining may withdraw those statutes and laws because experience may have demonstrated that labor was unwilling to recognize its responsibility under those laws."

I. M. Orburn, secretary of the federation's union label department, told the convention the women of this country could play "a dramatic part" in stopping the Sino-Japanese conflict by boycotting Japanese goods.

"Our nation is the greatest purchaser of oriental products and, consequently, so long as we buy these goods, we are financing their war," he added.

Police Catch 3 Refugees From Prison at Joliet

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Three prisoners who escaped from the state penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., yesterday were surprised in a Chicago hideout tonight and captured.

One of the fugitives was shot in the abdomen in a fight which preceded the capture. He was taken to Bridewell hospital and his two companions were taken to the Lawrence police station.

The search for them spread immediately through Illinois and into Indiana.

Earlier today, Leonard Tosleslin, of Chicago, identified pictures of two of the fugitives as those of the men who abducted him and an unnamed Indian in between Kankakee and Joliet last night.

Tosleslin said the Indian had given him a ride and that they picked up the two men on U.S. route 45. The strangers drew guns, took $10 from Tosleslin and the driver and one of them took the wheel after asserting, "We're not going back to that pen."

Jayne Will Leave Estate To Widow

One bequest of $3,000 was provided for the First Church of Christ at Spencer. Opening of the will may be delayed several days, authorities said.

Following the first cabinet meeting since the summer holidays, British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, left, and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden leave Whitehall Gardens in London bearing traces of anxiety. They had just conferred on the outspoken note sent jointly by Great Britain and France to Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy demanding withdrawal of "volunteers" from Spain and threatening that failure to do so would result in France throwing open her frontier to permit the entrance of men and munitions to aid the Spanish Loyalists.

Council Unanimously Appoints Gartzke As Engineer for City

University Graduate To Take Over Duties October 15

Fred E. Gartzke, 619 Ronalds street, was appointed city engineer by the city council last night. He succeeds Allen Wallen who disappeared Aug. 17.

Gartzke was the unanimous selection of the city council. John Barry and Acting City Engineer Harold Monk also applied for the post.

Gartzke will assume the position Oct. 15, the council decided, and will hold the position for the remainder of the administration's term serving also as street commissioner.

Monk will be acting city engineer until Gartzke takes the office. Monk, who is also city inspector, will hold that office thereafter.

Gartzke was graduated from the college of engineering at the university in 1923 and has been associated with the county engineer's office in Linn and Johnson counties. He held the office of assistant city engineer here between 1933 and 1935.

Gasoline Prices Raised

So Says Government Witness in Trial Of Major Oil Companies

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 8 (AP)—Carl Berth of Chicago, an independent oil operator, testified before a federal court jury today that at a stationary level during the period that 23 major oil companies are alleged to have "rigged" the market in 10 central states.

Berth was the first witness summoned by government prosecutors to support their charge that the big companies, which are on trial for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, fixed an artificially high price on gasoline to independent merchants.

Berth testified that in March, 1935, about the time the major companies are charged with entering into a conspiracy, prices as reported by the Chicago Journal of Commerce began to rise. He said the cost of gasoline to his firm,

Alabama Asks For Dismissal Of Negro's Plea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The state of Alabama asked the supreme court today to dismiss the appeal of Heywood Patterson, one of the nine Negroes involved in the famous Scottsboro case.

Patterson has asked the high court to review his conviction in the state courts where he was sentenced to serve a 75 year prison term for an alleged attack upon a white woman. The high court twice has saved Patterson from the death penalty.

The state's brief, filed by Attorney General A. A. Carmichael, asserted that "the record does not disclose that Patterson's conviction was the result of anything other than legal evidence."

Patterson's contention was that his trial should have been transferred from the Morgan county court to the North Alabama Federal District court because of the "utter impossibility of obtaining a fair trial in Morgan county."

Charges against four of the nine Negroes were dropped recently after they had spent six years in prisons. Another, Clarence Norris, faces the death penalty. The other have received prison terms.

Japan Charges China with War Responsibility

Condemns Opponents In Formal Reply To League, U.S.

TOKYO, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Japanese foreign office charged China with the responsibility for the Sino-Japanese conflict today in a formal answer to condemnations of Japan by the United States and the League of Nations. It stated:

"It is the Chinese government which is violating the spirit of anti-war pact and menacing the peace of the world."

Observers considered the statement a mild one after it had been predicted freely the Japanese government would denounce the nine-power and Kellogg pacts.

The text of the statement: "The League of Nations regards Japan's action in China as violation of the nine-power treaty and the anti-war pact. The United States statement published a statement to the same effect.

"This was due to misunderstanding Japan's true intentions. The Japanese government extremely regrets this misunderstanding.

"The present conflict was caused by Chinese troops' irregular attacks on Japanese troops which were stationed in North China according to treaty stipulations. Japanese were maneuvering at Lukouchiao with a small number of troops, as Japanese garrisons were widely scattered during peacetime."

"After the outbreak of the trouble Japan tried to settle locally and the action of the Japanese troops was nothing more than a measure of self defense. Japan has no other intention whatever.

General Gives Reason For Japanese Invasion

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9 (Saturday) (AP)—General Iwane Matsui, Japanese commander-in-chief at Shanghai, told the Chinese public in a statement today "The sole aim of Japan's armed expedition in China is to eradicate as any cost China's anti-Japanese policy."

The commander's statement came on the heels of his proclamation yesterday of Japanese invasion. Chinese considered the proclamation, in which Matsui declared the Japanese army "is now prepared to use every means to subdue its opponents," as the equivalent of a diplomatically formal declaration of war.

Rain Hampers Both Sides In War in Spain

HENDAYE, FRANCO - SPANISH FRONTIER, Oct. 8 (AP)—Heavy rain and windstorms slowed up both Spanish government and insurgent armies in Spain today.

After a brief period of fair weather a downpour flooded roads and trenches and made fighting almost impossible. In Northwest Spain Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops were said to have made a slight advance toward Gijon, but on other fronts, communiques said, government and insurgent forces were comparatively inactive.

Earlier government militiamen were said to have counter-attacked insurgents at Covadonga, 30 miles southeast of Gijon, last government stronghold on the northwest coast.

Insurgent headquarters reported the government suffered heavy losses at Covadonga, and government advisers were that insurgents lost more than 500 men.

Insurgent sources announced opening of a heavy artillery duel in the Jaca sector on the Aragon front of Eastern Spain, object of repeated government attempts to stab into the strategic rail gateway to France.

Late this afternoon Monsignor Ildebrando Antoniutti, Papal Nuncio to Salamanca, handed his credentials to the foreign secretary of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's insurgent regime. They held a long conversation.

Ask Labor Injunction
DES MOINES, Oct. 8 (AP)—A Petition for asking temporary injunction to restrain a group of Des Moines labor leaders from interfering with officers and employees of the Iowa Fibre Products Co., was filed today in federal court.

President Gilmore Gives Approval Of Proposed Excursion

University approval of the proposed trip of University of Iowa students to the Iowa - Wisconsin football game at Madison next Saturday was extended last night by President Eugene A. Gilmore in an open letter to all university students.

The trip is being arranged under the auspices of several campus organizations, including Pi Epsilon Pi, pep fraternity, A.F.I., honorary senior men's organization, Mortar Board, honorary senior women's organization, and a university committee headed by Prof. Bruce E. Mahan.

The letter follows: "In cooperation with other nearby universities in the Big Ten conference, this university is endeavoring to have recognized by the student body the policy of designating one out-of-town game to which Iowa students will go.

The game thus designated will be this one, the attendance which will be regarded as with the approval of the administration of the University.

This year the Wisconsin-Iowa game is the one so designated.

A committee has been appointed, of which Mr. Mahan is chairman, to arrange for a train to convey the band and drum and bugle corps, and all students who wish to go on the proposed trip. Due to hazards of traveling by automobile, the trip by private automobile is discouraged, and only the trip by train is approved by the university administration.

May I urge all students and faculty members wishing to make this trip to cooperate with the committee to make it one which will reflect favorably on the university.

Iowa's Schools Need Changes

Educators Maintain We Lag Far Behind Other States

Iowa's school system today is worse than that of pioneer days, Prof. Elmer T. Peterson of the college of education declared in an address before one of the concluding sessions of the 24th annual conference on administration and supervision yesterday.

Iowa is one of the two or three states which is not taking up new steps in changing its school system, Professor Peterson declared.

As a corrective measure he proposed that the boundaries of school districts be reorganized from township districts to districts made in regard to attendance. "Thus we would be using natural factors instead of surveyors' lines on a map," Professor Peterson explained.

One-room Schoolhouses
"Iowa would then be getting rid of her one-room schoolhouses," he said. "If this proposal were adopted the number of high schools in a county would be increased from 100 to 160. The enrollment would be increased in high schools, and 16 times as many children would attend elementary schools, Professor Peterson added.

"We in Iowa can't afford to sit by and do nothing. We have to start impressing the citizens with our problem of inadequacy and discuss terms of readjustment," Professor Peterson concluded.

In another of the conference sessions W. W. Theisen, assistant superintendent of schools at Milwaukee, Wis., stressed the matter of vocational adjustment. "To solve this important problem educators must bring in their curricula something to acquaint boys and

Representative Louis Ludlow

Alarmed over the tense international situation, a national committee of 40 prominent citizens is being formed to press for a constitutional amendment sponsored by Representative Louis Ludlow of Indianapolis to prohibit a declaration of war without a nationwide referendum.

Bumper Cotton Crop Calls For Special Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A government forecast that this year's cotton crop will be the second largest in history drove prices for the staple downward today and increased prospects for a special session of congress to enact new crop control legislation.

Cotton prices declined immediately from recent low levels, dropping $1.70 to $2.15 a bale at New Orleans.

Secretary Wallace had an opportunity to discuss the situation with President Roosevelt at a conference late in the day.

Talking with reporters afterward, the agriculture department chief reiterated that he favors a special session but declined to say whether the president had decided to call one.

Previously, the president told reporters he might not decide whether to call a special session until after he returns next Wednesday to Hyde Park, N. Y., for a speaking engagement.

To Use Special Fund for Bonds

According to a resolution passed last night by the city council, street improvement bonds issued May 29, 1936, will be paid from a fund of special taxes.

Bonds two to nine, purchased by the Iowa State Bank and Trust company, had been paid from a special assessment fund, and the holders petitioned for the change. The value of the bank's street improvement bonds is $7,899 which includes a premium of $425.

Farm Hand Sentenced

EMMETTSBURG, Ia., Oct. 8 (AP)—Lee Rankin, 39, Graettinger, Ia., farm hand pleaded guilty here this afternoon to a charge of larceny of domestic animals and was sentenced to serve five years in Fort Madison penitentiary.

Five Break Prison; 1 Slain, 4 Captured During Gun Battle

LA GRANGE, Ky., Oct. 8 (AP)—One of five convicts who overpowered and disarmed a guard at the state prison farm near here late today was slain half an hour later in a gun battle with guards near the prison. Another prisoner was wounded. The other three were recaptured.

The dead man was identified by Warden James Hammond as Jim Russell, 27, of Harlan county, who was serving a five-year sentence for storehouse breaking.

Hillard Spicer, 19, of Breathitt county, was wounded in the arm, Hammond said. He was serving a 21 year sentence for robbery.

The other three convicts, the warden said, were Charlie Denny, 26, Jim Dowell, 30, and Jesse Bowling, 19. They were returned to the farm.

English Leader Lauds F.D.R.'s Stand in Crisis

President Meets With Cabinet, Diplomats In Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—An international conference to discourage Japanese aggression in China was a step nearer reality tonight.

Hugh Wilson, for the United States, and V. A. L. Mallet for Great Britain began a discussion of preliminary arrangements, with the result a date and place for the meeting may be announced within a few days.

Their meetings at the state department was preceded by significant developments both here and in Great Britain.

President Roosevelt
Returning from the western trip in the course of which he suggested that war-like nations be "quarantined," President Roosevelt devoted much of his attention to the troubled Far Eastern situation.

With Secretary Hull, Undersecretary Welles and Norman H. Davis, ambassador at large, he spent two hours in a "general discussion" of developments. Later, the cabinet met and the situation was canvassed again.

Meanwhile, in England Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain praised Mr. Roosevelt's stand on world peace and pledged his government's "whole-hearted" co-operation.

Chamberlain Speaks
"Hitherto it has been assumed the United States, the most powerful country in the world, would remain content with a frankly isolationist policy," he said. "But Mr. Roosevelt has seen if what he calls an epidemic or world lawlessness is allowed to spread, no country will be safe from attack.

"In his declaration of the necessity for a return to belief in the sanctity of treaties he has voiced convictions of this country as well as his own, and in his call for concerted effort in the cause of peace, this government will be wholeheartedly with him."

From within this country, however, there came a less enthusiastic statement, and one possibly foreboding trouble when congress reconvenes. Senator Nye (R-ND), chairman of the old munitions investigating committee, said he would propose legislation limiting the president's discretion in imposing the neutrality act.

"I will not be alone in this matter," he said. "I believe the movement for a stricter neutrality policy has been given impetus by all that has recently happened."

Roosevelt's Call Arouses Controversy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's call for international action to "quarantine" aggressor nations has revived a congressional controversy that probably will find vigorous expression in the next session.

There are some in congress who believe America should be protected from the danger of war by legislation strictly limiting the president to certain lines of action when hostilities develop elsewhere.

There are others who are of the opinion complexities of international developments are such the president should be free to choose his own course when such delicate situations arise.

Train Hits 2 Cars; Kills 7 Occupants

GARY, Ind., Oct. 8 (AP)—A few seconds after two automobiles collided at a crossing here tonight a nickel plate train crashed into the cars, killing seven occupants and injuring four others, one critically.

The impact hurled the dead, the injured and the wreckage of the automobiles in all directions, holding up traffic more than an hour.

Police Sergeant Ben Perry said the occupants of the automobiles "did not have a chance" to escape before the train bore down on them.

Another Chance For Iowa City

SEVERAL months ago an explosion destroyed the consolidated school at New London, Tex., killing 450 pupils and teachers.

That shocking tragedy aroused concern in many American communities over the safety of their children at school. Surveys disclosed that many fire traps existed and were being used as school buildings; many of the buildings were old and seriously overcrowded; still other schools had burned, leaving their pupils to be taught in temporary and often inadequate quarters.

When congress last June extended the life of the public works administration for two years, it specified that part of the funds available to this agency should be used in eliminating or correcting school hazards to the life and health of children.

Now President Roosevelt has approved 200 PWA allotments for school construction projects in 41 states. Their total cost is estimated at $37,714,378. Of this amount the federal government will grant school districts $17,091,658 an lend a few of them $941,800 more. As a result, in 280 communities, dangerous schools will be enlarged and made safe or new buildings will be constructed. Later allotments will be made to attack health hazards.

These new projects, worth more than half a billion dollars' worth of school construction and repair which PWA has helped to finance in the last four years, will not, unfortunately, guarantee absolute safety to every American child in school. But they represent a great advance toward security for pupils and peace of mind for parents. The government has made few better investments. The victims of the New London disaster will have, throughout America, the most appropriate memorials that could have been provided.

In Iowa City PWA has already granted $326,000 for a major part of the cost of building a new high school. When PWA officials surveyed the schools of Iowa, the local high school building, admittedly a firetrap and for years overcrowded, was placed near the top of the list. Almost immediately the grant was made available.

Iowa Citizens will go to the polls Nov. 4 to express their opinions on two projects regarding the building of a new high school; the voters, for the first time, will be able to decide in what part of the city the school shall be placed. We believe there is little doubt that the bonds for constructing a modern, safe, fireproof building will be issued by the voters. The memory of New London's tragedy is too new not to take advantage of all our opportunities.

Making A Futile Gesture

WHILE WE in America may commend heartily the stand against Japanese aggression taken by our state department Wednesday, we need stronger weapons than paper, to silence the booming guns of Nippon's war lords. For reasons that are twofold, protests by impassive nations are but futile exemplified.

In the first place, we must realize that North China offers to Japan an escape from economic chaos. Japan's main industry is the manufacturing of imported raw materials. But the cost of these materials has been rising tremendously in the last few years, although her industrial plants have been working night and day, shrinking markets abroad made it impossible for her to keep up with prices paid for imported cotton, oil, rubber, wool and iron.

During the first half of 1937, the import surplus set up a new record, amounting to 720,000,000 yen. Her gold reserves were rapidly drained, and vast amounts of bonds were floated in an effort to meet remittances due on imports. But the public couldn't absorb these bonds and government banks had to buy them back, leaving the yen on the verge of collapse.

What was Japan to do? Inflation spelled disaster, and present conditions pointed to catastrophe. But, Japan wondered, was it absolutely necessary to buy these raw materials abroad? If they could be procured without payment, so much the better. There was North China across the sea with a wealth of raw materials. And equally important, there was a large population to produce them and also to absorb Japan's finished goods without fear of another economic disappointment such as Manchuria. Here was relief to be had by quick action, and driven by internal conditions, Japan has acted.

The second factor against the efficacy of the placid disapproval lies in the precedent of ineffective neutral protests back in 1932 when Japan invaded Manchuria. Japan laughed at American protests of the abrogation of the nine-power treaty, declaring it "an example of nebulous phraseology which need be revised," and the United States took this answer calmly.

The exact truth of these contentions is confirmed by Japan's answering the league's protests of the bombing of Nanking with still more bombs. We in America may bewail China's plight all we want, but we certainly can't expect Japan to be halted in her drive merely by formal, forceless protests. It hasn't been effective in the past, and with Japan economically on the brink of chaos, we can't expect it to be effective in this situation.

The white collar class will disappear, means a pessimistic editorial writer. Judging by the number of those new colored shirts we see around this office, it already has.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THESE NEWSMEN EVERY SO OFTEN youthful aspirants wire, write, phone or try to "crash" the managing editor. Their shining morning faces mantled by the first dawn of fame, they express their humble willingness to follow the time-honored routine whereby cut reporters first make a gorgeous "scoop," and then, after a brief listing as editorial writers, embark as special war correspondents.

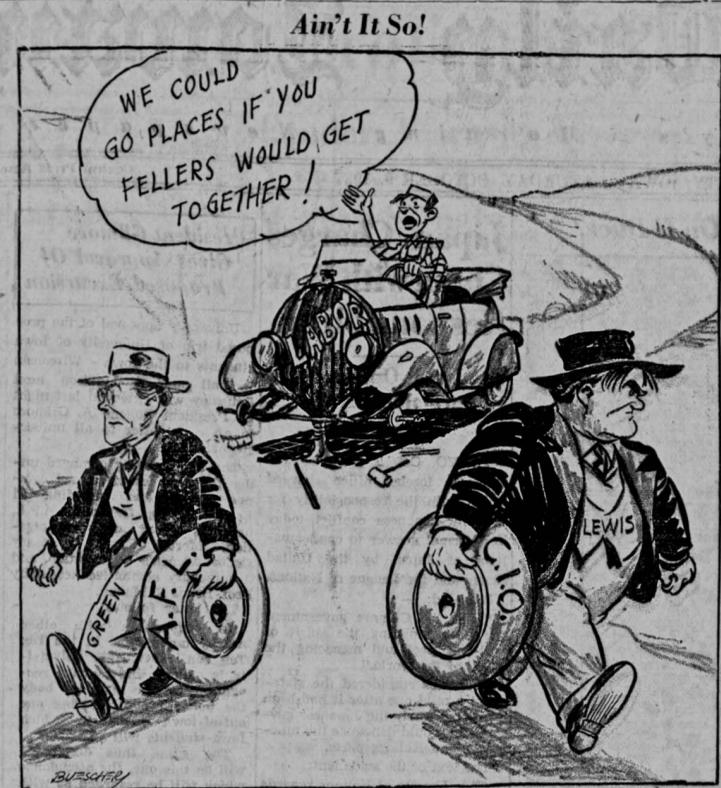

No less than these children of the moon is the public bewitched by the stage, the screen, and the short stories of O. Henry. In recent years the myth flooded to high tide in "Front Page" wherein that fine actor, Osgood Perkins—whose recent death was so sudden and tragic—bodied forth the managing editor as one who yells into three telephones at once and pulls gin, girls, and gangsters from his desk while he shivers reporters with marine curses and gives an eight-column-line story with a by-line to the unlicked cub who has just turned in a shaggy bear of a "scoop."

Hardly ever does the enraptured audience stop to realize that newsmen leading this kind of life would fall in heaps from the jitters, and the paper would have no time in which to get itself published. But the facts of life do not supply material for art! At the office, newsmen are generally resourceful, patient plodders and out of hours they are generally not Don Juans and Robin Hoods but quiet homebodies. The stage or screen actuality of newspaper production would lull any audience to slumber. How then does art come to the rescue?

Just try and calm your beating heart as the "star" reporter polishes off one assignment by cleaning up city hall, trapping the big shot of the crime ring, beating the detective to the capture, putting the kibosh on his rival newsman, and breaking the case to the state's attorney. All the while he has as his subaltern the girl reporter who combines wit and beauty with a prehensile genius for climbing fire escapes and getting the "in" on the council of foreign spies just about to blow up the whole United States in the twinkling of a bomb.

It is therefore with cynical hope that newsmen—those veterans of an innocuous desuetude—look forward to the ultimate appearance of a moving picture titled "The Fourth Estate," in which the screen writers have promised to do right by our Nell. If they do, it will be a sure-fire yawn for a disillusioned public. If they do not, the newsman can go right back to pounding typewriters just to fill up the long winter evenings.

Drinking of Hard Water Does Not Harm Healthy Individual

Is hard water harmful? This question troubles some part of the population from time to time, and faddists seize on it to sound the alarm.

Hard water is water with calcium salts dissolved in it. Water softeners simply take calcium out of such water, usually by means of the chemical, potassium-sodium-aluminum silicate—often called "green sand."

The body contains about 1 percent of calcium, or nearly one and one-half pounds, and as it is constantly being lost, it must be replaced. Especially is this true during periods of growth, and for the mother who is bearing a child. The daily requirement for the unborn child at four months is 150 milligrams of calcium; a quart of milk contains this and more.

Nutritional experts tell us that calcium is more likely to be deficient in the average American dietary than any other important element. If that be true, hard water should be beneficial rather than harmful.

Indication Against Harmfulness The fear usually stated is that it contributes to hardening of the arteries and to chronic rheumatism. Undoubtedly calcium is deposited in the arteries in old age, and is the ingredient in the nodules around the joints of rheumatism, but there is no evidence to show that these processes are accelerated when the amount of calcium in the water is increased.

Many physicians are of the opinion that after chronic rheumatism has started, the use of hard water for drinking purposes should be stopped. This is a matter of discussion, and it must be admitted there is some justification for such a view. The cause of the deposit in chronic rheumatism is the laying down of calcium in and around spots of inflammation in the joints. The calcium will not be laid down under conditions of health, no matter how much is in the blood.

We may conclude, however, that hard water is not harmful for drinking purposes in health.

The Lopez corps of entertainers, including Johnny Morris, singing drummer, Fred Lowery, the whistling troubador, Lois Still, song stylist, Bob Little, ballad singer, and Ernie Mathias and Bob Snell, singing comedians, will be heard every evening except Monday over WGN.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD — The son of the Duce went to the most brightly, freshly painted studio in town when he came to the movie colony with Hal Roach, who is showing him around.

But the brightness and freshness weren't necessarily in honor of Vittorio Mussolini (of Rome, Italy), who's in Hollywood — or strictly speaking, in Culver City — to learn about American movies so he can go back to papa and tell those gallons of paint weren't in honor of Hal Roach, either. Roach didn't know about it until he got back from his Roman expedition—if then. Almost anybody passing the lot can tell things have happened, but Roach never looks around as he drives through the studio gate. So maybe it won't be until after Christmas that he knows he has what looks like a new movie factory on his hands.

The old homestead of "Our Gang" has been done over in New Orleans Colonial. The Roach gang points that out when it is decorated for the Italian Renaissance, they insist. "Why, all this work started before we even heard the Duce's boy was coming."

Up From Two-Reelers What does it mean, then? "Topper," of course. Three years ago you saw the same thing happen to Columbia, once the queen of Poverty Row. From a drab, scaly brown eyecore the place was transformed into a shining stucco monument by "It Happened One Night," and "One Night of Love."

The Roach studio was not poverty-stricken. It was just ambly along, rather lazily, turning out two-reelers for laughs. It wasn't an eyecore. It was just plain, old-fashioned and comfortable-looking. Big stars didn't work there—just comedians. The atmosphere was somewhat goosy with custard.

There've been several features made there. Some hit and some missed. Until a year ago, they couldn't get a "name star" within a block of the place. About this time Roach signed on a 33-year-old executive named Milton Bren. And whether it's Bren, or Roach, or the combination, the studio has gone plain.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — Clark H. Getts is an unusual sort of technical adviser. He accompanies his clients wherever they go in addition to handing out practical advice. For instance, he is now in East Africa, with Mrs. Martin Johnson's new expedition, and here is a note from him. It is dated Arusha, Tanganyika, E. A., September 10th:

"Just back in civilization after two months in the interior and have managed to survive the impact of luxuries like cigars, porcelain baths, and a spring bed again. We have been so much delayed by rains in Kenya and by grass fires in Tanganyika that we are now cutting all corners, but it has been a grand trip. I have got back some of my Cape Hatteras tan and my farmer's appetite, and I guess I am pretty well sold on Africa and camp life.

"But it has been terrific work all along for it is a tremendous responsibility to maneuver so many men and so much equipment through the jungle. We have had 150 to 500 natives and 20 whites, plus 26 trucks with Indian drivers. The feeding problem alone is a whale, but Mrs. Johnson is in her elements here and surely knows how to swing people around. We have had the most delightful table imaginable, thanks to her.

"The camp looks like an army outfit—I have some shots to show you when I return—and we have a British army captain giving it an army discipline. The blacks haven't fought very much, and the Hollywood boys have been extremely well behaved and have taken to the jungle with surprising speed in view of the fact that none of them has ever roughed it before. Some of the boys have been bitten by insects and others have had other ailments, but I have survived about a thousand tsetse fly bites and a million mosquito bites with no ill effects to date—all this without the inoculations which all but Mrs. Johnson and myself took.

"Lack of time forces me to cut this short. But wait till you see the pictures I bring back—pictures which I took myself. I have always felt that artist-management was an all-round education, but I never dreamed that it would compel me to become a cameraman." Signed: CHG.

Routh Selected As Instructor For University

The appointment of J. I. Routh of Logansport, Ind., as an instructor in biochemistry was announced yesterday by Prof. Henry A. Mattill of the biochemistry department.

Mr. Routh received a Ph.D. degree in biological chemistry last June at the University of Michigan. While there he made a study of the chemical constitution and properties of wool proteins. At present he is working on the chemistry of biologically important sulphur compounds.

He took his undergraduate work at Purdue university, receiving a B. S. degree in chemical engineering and an M. S. degree in 1934.

Iowa Schools--

girls with the jobs in the world today," he declared.

"In 1880 the schools assumed no problems of citizenship or leadership. The three 'r's' were emphasized, and they were offered with a 'take it' or 'leave it' attitude. School administrators today, however, must take care of all these to completely educate the pupil," Mr. Thiesen asserted.

Changes are needed in school curricula, Prof. E. F. Lindquist of the college of education declared in an address on "Implications of Test Results for Curriculum Revision" yesterday afternoon.

"The results of the Iowa Every-Pupil Tests definitely point to needed changes in curriculum," he said. "Teachers take for granted that there is no need for solution of individual differences in high school subjects. I would suggest achievement tests to discover the pupil's possibilities," Professor Lindquist explained.

Evaluation Standards

Three tests to apply in evaluating books, plays and movies were set forth by Franklin Snyder, vice-president of Northwestern university, at the concluding session in the chemistry auditorium last night.

Is it interesting? Is it true? Is it well-written?—these are the standards outlined by Mr. Snyder.

He suggested that teachers try to develop a sense of values among students to make the facts of literature more significant than they now are. "Most teachers' training is concerned with facts and not values," Mr. Snyder declared.

Teaching Music

Another phase of education—music — was discussed by Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department in an afternoon session. "A mistake of the musical profession today is to send all students with promise on the professional stage. Those with less promises are encouraged to teach," Professor Clapp said.

"My advice in picking a music teacher would be to get someone who likes music, is able to perform it and knows something about it," Professor Clapp declared.

Physical Education

"Physical education is a profession which is just coming over the hill," Prof. Delbert Oberbauer of Ohio State university said in an address yesterday morning.

Because it is one of the youngest branches of education, it has never been fully explored and developed, but it still remains a basic, fundamental way of learning, Professor Oberbauer declared.

The Importance of TIME

"Time is money," wrote Benjamin Franklin in his Advice to a Young Tradesman. This sage advice, true in 1748, has gained added force with the years.

Today, alert individuals and business concerns pay by check, because checks save time. It is a simple matter to sign a check and mail it. The minutes saved grow into hours during the years—hours for extra work, or extra leisure.

If you believe that time is important, we invite you to open a checking account at this bank.

Monte Pearson Twirls Air-Tight Ball As Giants 'Blow'

By ALAN GOULD

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—The world champion Yankees 'crashed through gaping holes in the defense of the luckless Giants today, captured their third successive game, 5 to 1, and now need only one more victory to complete the worst rout ever faced by New York's National leaguers in world series competition.

The Giants, for the third straight day, came apart in so many places under pressure there was no room left for argument and nothing but a frustrated ninth-inning rally to give their followers anything approaching some excitement.

The Yankees, as usual, made the most of nearly every scoring opportunity. They had the benefit of four Giant errors and six base on balls but banged Hal Schumacher, star right-hander, for nine solid hits. They scored all their runs off Schumacher within the first five innings and then coasted easily to triumph behind the five-hit pitching of Monte Pearson.

Pearson, curve-ball specialist, repeated his 1936 conquest of the Giants but was the first Yankee pitcher unable to go the route. After yielding the home team's only run in the seventh, on Jim Ripple's single and Jack McCarthy's double off the left-field wall, Pearson lost control completely in the ninth.

The Giants, making their last stand, filled the bases with two out on Mel Ott's single and successive passes to McCarthy and Lou Chiozza. Pearson was taken from the box after pitching eight straight balls. Johnny Murphy, ace relief hurler for the world champions and a right-hander, quickly squelched the threat by retiring Harry Danning on a short fly that Joe DiMaggio caught in left-center.

The opportunity was open for a home run to tie the score in the closing frame but that's the closest the Giants have come to being within gunshot of their rivals in three straight games.

The smallest world series crowd since 1933, numbering 37,385 defied a sudden cold snap to see the National league champions take it squarely on the chin once more. In keeping with the football weather the Giants kicked the ball around and otherwise convinced one and all they are definitely licked and outclassed, for the time being.

Manager Bill Terry will come back tomorrow, in the fourth game, with his veteran southpaw ace Carl Hubbell, who was knocked out of the box in the opener at the Yankee stadium. His pitching opponent will be Irving (Bump) Hadley, a right-hander who gained one decision over the Giants last year.

Hadley's nomination by Manager Joe McCarthy was somewhat of a surprise. It was believed the Yankees would shoot with their ace southpaw, Lefty Gomez, in quest of another clean sweep, but the world champions evidently believe they have their neighbors so badly on the run it doesn't make much difference now who starts.

SECOND INNING
YANKS: Dickey lashed a long drive that Chiozza grabbed in deep right center opposite the 440-foot mark. Selkirk walked. Hoag singled to left, Selkirk stopping at second. Lazzari drilled a single to center, scoring Selkirk and sending Hoag to third. Pearson walked on four straight balls as Schumacher lost anything resembling control. The bases were filled. After Schumacher threw two balls to Crosetti the Giants clustered about their pitcher and Melton started warming up in the bull pen. Crosetti hit into a force play, Ott to Danning. Rolfe four-

McGinnis' punt was blocked on the following play and recovered by Luckritz, brilliant Clinton right end, for a touchdown. From this point the tussle settled to a nip and tuck fight with both teams threatening to score again. An aerial circus was performed for the 2500 fans who witnessed the game as Clinton completed six out of ten attempts while the Little Hawks made good on 4 of 6 tries through the air. Play throughout the evening was marred by a number of off-side penalties on both sides. Eldon Parizek was the field's outstanding performer, while Justice, who made the touchdown pass for Iowa City, also looked good. Co-captain Snider, Paul and Jenkinson were line stars for the CORMACKS. Lund, 195 pound triple threat man, Bulow, and Luckritz kept the River Kings' attack going at full speed. Iowa City's footballers were consistently on the wrong end of the "breaks" which featured the game. The Little Hawks now have three tries to show for their play in league games, having drawn with Wilson of Cedar Rapids and Dubuque in previous contests. Clinton holds a victory over McKinley of Cedar Rapids. The Hawklets will play host to Franklin of Cedar Rapids Friday night.

Highlights On World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—They tossed some genuine football weather—fur coats, blankets, hip flasks and all—into the world series today and, at the end of the third period, the score was: Yankees, 21, Giants, 3. The Giants may be good in their home park, the Polo Grounds, but this afternoon they acted like total strangers. At the end of the day's work, that also was the way they were being treated by their most devoted supporters. Hal Schumacher is supposed to be a good cold-weather pitcher. His main trouble today was that he never got warmed up and, before he knew it, the Yanks had him—and the game—on ice. The only flag left flying when the game was over was a bright red one over the Giant clubhouse. A distress signal, no doubt. Six errors for the Giants, none for the Yanks—somebody must have slipped up and forgotten to tell the Terry-men that they were the tight-fielding ball club. George Selkirk has hit safely in nine straight series games. The Giants made it easy for him on his second time up today, though. He got to second on a double error by Johnny McCarthy; then came home on Myril Hoag's single that Chiozza fumbled in center field.

Manfredo Asks Bout DES MOINES (AP)—Al Manfredo, California welterweight, said here last night his manager, Sney Welch of Los Angeles, intends to post $5,000 with the National Boxing association to get a title match with Barney Ross of Chicago.

Hoag Slides Into Second Base

Meryl Hoag, Yankee leftfielder, is pictured sliding into second base in yesterday's ball game which the Yanks won 5 to 1. Prince Hal Schumacher made a gallant attempt to stifle the Yankees' big guns but allowed the Ruppert Rifles nine hits. Hoag, considered a weak link in the American leaguers' offense, has sparked the hit parade that has prevented a Giant hurler from finishing a game and has won three straight for the Yanks.

The official rating are given out. Each runner will receive the number of points congruent to the position he finishes in the race. The team with the lowest number of points will be declared winner of the race. Last year all three classes ran in the same race, but this year the race will be run so that only teams from the same class will compete with each other. This will make it easier for the judges to score the finish.

55,000 To See Trojans Battle Buckeyes At Los Angeles

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP) — Paced by a half dozen or so of headliners, which have established their importance by potent early-season performances, the country's leading football teams face further severe tests tomorrow everywhere from Princeton, N. J., to Los Angeles.

Indications are that attendance, with well over a half million expected at 15 leading games, will make the world series crowds look like the street-corner gatherings around scoreboards and radio cabs during the past few days.

Los Angeles is looking for 55,000 paying customers at the Ohio State-Southern California tilt, brightest spot on the shining intersectional slate. Another 50,000 or so likely will turn out to see Pitt and Duquesne wage their annual intersectional struggle at Pittsburgh and a similar crowd is expected to watch Illinois and Notre Dame clash at Champaign, Ill.

Minnesota is looking for 45,000 fans when it begins its comeback attempt against Indiana at Minneapolis while other noteworthy crowds expected are 40,000 for Michigan-Northwestern and 35,000 each for the Princeton-Cornell, Duke-Tennessee and California-Washington contests.

Buckeyes-Trojans
Representing conferences which, individually and as a whole, probably play the best football of any groups on the list, Ohio State and Southern California deserve the top spot on the day's card. Since Minnesota's gold was slightly tarnished by Nebraska, the Buckeyes have earned the No. 1 spot in the Big Ten. Despite the long trip west, they should be able to beat U. S. C., loser to Washington in its first major test.

In the absence of proof to the contrary, Pitt and Cornell are the ranking eastern teams right now. Although Coach Carl Snavely of Cornell appears to fear over-confidence they can safely be picked to beat Duquesne and Princeton, respectively. The Dukes gave Pitt its only defeat last year and are sure to be tough, but upsets of that sort don't happen twice in succession. Cornell isn't likely to hand Princeton as bad a thumping as it gave Colgate, but the relatively inexperienced Tiger line hardly looks strong enough to hold the big red.

Iowa Over Bradley
The day's best opening for an upset lies in front of Illinois against Notre Dame. Off the records, the Irish are the choice, but Bob Zuppke is pointing for this one and it should be close.

Minnesota, on the rebound, should romp over Indiana while the Nebraska team that whipped the Gophers has nothing to fear from Iowa State. Northwestern looks good enough to edge out Michigan, which failed to produce against Michigan State.

Wisconsin over Chicago, Iowa over Bradley, Purdue by a shade over Carnegie Tech, Southern Methodist over Washington of St. Louis and Detroit over Texas Tech are other choices in the mid-western sector.

In addition to the Cornell-Princeton tussle, the Ivy league offers two of the best contests in the East with Yale meeting Pennsylvania at New Haven and Army playing Columbia at West Point. The first must be listed as a toss-up, but this corner is inclined to favor Penn's good line over the Elis.

California Strong
Harvard and Navy shouldn't have much more than good work-outs against Brown and Virginia, respectively. The East, however, comes out on the short end of the intersectional list. North Carolina should edge out New York University and Michigan State looks stronger than Manhattan. However, Villanova should come through against Auburn.

California, which has surged back into power in the coast conference, ought to come out well ahead of Washington State, and the 1936 champion, Washington, is strongly favored over Oregon State. Other indications from the far West are U. C. L. A. to defeat the twice-beaten Stanford team, Oregon to down Gonzaga, St. Mary's to whip Nevada and Santa Clara to conquer San Francisco in a Sunday clash.

Playing at home, gives Utah a slight edge over Idaho in an inter-conference contest while Colorado should beat Utah State in the Rocky Mountain loop.

Chiozza bunted the first pitch along the first base line and beat it out for the first hit off Pearson. Danning forced Chiozza, Crosetti to Lazzari. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING

YANKEES: Rolfe dropped a hit into short right field for a two bagger. DiMaggio grounded out, Bartell to McCarthy, as Rolfe remained at second. Gehrig hoisted to Whitehead behind second base. Dickey bounced out, Whitehead to McCarthy. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SEVENTH INNING

YANKEES: Selkirk flied to Ripple. Melton stopped Hoag's hard smash but threw wildly past McCarthy and Hoag ran to second on the error. Lazzari was intentionally passed for the second time. Pearson hit into a double play, Whitehead to Bartell to McCarthy. No runs, no hits, one error, two left.

GIANTS: Ott lofted a high pop fly to Lazzari. Ripple poked a single between Gehrig and Lazzari. McCarthy smashed a double off the left-field wall and Ripple scored the first Giant run as Hoag juggled the rebound. Chiozza grounded out, Lazzari to Gehrig, as McCarthy ran to third. Danning was thrown out by Crosetti. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

EIGHTH INNING

YANKEES: Chiozza took Crosetti's line drive. Rolfe walked on four straight balls. DiMaggio flied to Ripple. Gehrig flied to Ripple. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

GIANTS: Whitehead was thrown out, Rolfe to Gehrig. Leslie batted for Melton. Leslie fouled to Dickey near the Yankees' dugout. Crosetti tossed out Moore. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING

YANKEES: Don Brennan, a right hander, went to the box for the Giants. Dickey lined to Ripple. Selkirk popped to Ott. Hoag lined to Bartell. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

GIANTS: Bartell lined to DiMaggio. Ott singled to left. Ripple forced Ott at second, Crosetti unassisted. McCarthy walked on four straight balls. Chiozza also walked on four straight balls and the bases were filled. There was a huddle by the Yankees and Pearson was taken from the box. Coach Art Fletcher came out to accompany Pearson to the bench.

13 yard line. In this play the ball passed through the hands of John Healy, John Ruess, Aikens and Lane.

U high took time out and Lloyd Wachs made five yards over center when play resumed. Lane carried the ball to the five yard line for a first down, but an off-side penalty set them back to the eight yard line on the next play. Wachs was stopped at the line of scrimmage in an attempt to knife through the line, but on the next play he heaved a seven yard bullet pass to Ruess who stepped over for the touchdown. Lane was stopped dead when he attempted to plunge over for the extra point. The score was 6-0 in favor of West Liberty.

U high chose to receive, and Duane Carson took the boot on his own 10 yard line, and carried it up to his own 40 behind perfect interference. Owen Morgan threw a pass to Ries but it was long. Don Bridenstine took the ball on the next play and snaked his way around left end 37 yards before he was downed on the West Liberty 33 yard line. Another play around left end with Morgan carrying the ball was good for 11 yards and another first down. In the next two plays Bridenstine gained five yards around left end and was thrown for a two yard loss in a drive at center. Morgan then threw Bridenstine a pass and he was downed on the visitors' 2-yard line. Morgan smashed over for the touchdown in two tries. Bob Carson's kick for extra point was wide, tying the score at 6-6.

The last half was packed with thrills as both sides unleashed a deceptive aerial attack which carried the ball from one end of the field to the other. West Liberty made its most serious threat in the fourth quarter when they recovered Bridenstine's fumble on the local team's 20 yard line. Paced by Wachs, the visitors carried the ball to the Blue and White 10 yard line, where Ries crumpled their hopes by intercepting a pass thrown by Wachs.

With but a minute and a half left to play the U high team let loose with a barrage of passes which carried them to their opponents 20 yard line. They were apparently on their way to a touchdown but a penalty for unnecessary roughness set them back out of the danger zone as the game ended.

Gophers Open Drive For Big Ten Grid Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Minnesota, its dream of an unbroken victory string smashed, starts its quest for the western conference championship tomorrow.

The Gophers, upset by Nebraska a week ago, meet Indiana at Minneapolis, and the Hoosiers probably will feel the full blast of Minnesota's wrath, much as Iowa did a year ago, when the Gophers trounced the Hawkeyes 52 to 0 a week after Northwestern had trimmed the mighty men from the North.

Two other games on tomorrow's schedule will have bearing on the championship.

Northwestern will open its title defense meeting Michigan at Evanston for the first time in four years. The Wolverine line is improved over last, but Northwestern's splendid backfield, in addition to a good line, gives the Wildcats the edge. A crowd of 40,000 probably will witness the contest.

Chicago meets Wisconsin at Stagg field in the third game of championship ranking, and the Maroons figure to take it on the chin from Harry Stuhldreher's improved Badgers.

Notre Dame plays Illinois at Champaign in the first game between these institutions in 39 years.

Plans of Fake Student Foiled

Commerce Committee Uncovers Project Of Solicitor

An advertising promoter, claiming to be a university student, was brought before Chief of Police William Bender yesterday for selling an advertising scheme to local merchants without the sanction of the special advertising committee of the local chamber of commerce.

The committee had previously refused the promoter the right to sell his plan to Iowa City merchants. Although he presented text books to prove his student status, the registrar's office had no record of his enrollment. The promoter then stated that he had not yet paid his tuition because an expected check had not arrived.

After further questioning, the man was released on the condition that he would not attempt to sell his advertising plan before getting a health examination from University hospital and a solicitor's license from the police department.

The special advertising committee has been able to save Iowa

Tax Rate Goes Up 5.13 Mills; Slightly Lower School Tax

The Iowa City tax rate total for next year will be 40.53 mills or $40.53 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation, it was revealed yesterday by County Auditor Ed Sulek.

This rate exceeds the total of last year by 5.13 mills in accordance with the demands of increased expenditures, even though the school tax rate has dropped .09 mills.

Blakley Gets Ten Years In Prison

Victor Blakley was sentenced to the state reformatory at Anamosa for 10 years yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney.

The defendant, represented by Attorney W. F. Murphy, pleaded guilty to a charge of uttering a forged instrument Sept. 14, 1937.

City merchants over $8,000 since Nov. 1, 1936, chamber of commerce officials announced. Information about solicitors may be obtained by telephoning either the police department or the chamber of commerce.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLET.

Runner
And speaking of faculty athletes, I've neglected to mention Lieut. Col. George P. N. Dalley held a record at West Point that remained unbroken for 14 years . . . Colonel Dalley was a headline runner in his younger days . . .

Add Did - You - Knows: The university alone uses 800,000 gallons of water a day, as much as 2,000,000 on some summer days . . .

A scout has mentioned that there's nothing quite so annoying to the average male as opening a door for a lady and having no reply . . . It's such a small thing to say, "Thank you," and it means so much . . .

Character
It seems to me it was Dean Lonzo Jones who once told me, "You can tell the worth of a man by the way he handles himself in an emergency." . . . And it was Goethe who said, "Talent is built in the silence, character in the steam of the world."

There's only one compensation in the fact that "anticipation is greater than realization." . . . That is that nothing is quite as bad as it looks beforehand . . .

And who was it who said, "Graduate students are those who don't know enough to go home after the big show is over"? . . . In passing, few seem to know about them, but the concerts of recorded classics in campus library every Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. are something to hear on a drab day . . .

Tip to Coeds: Most fellows I know like a girl who is intelligent enough to appreciate them but not smart enough to know more than they . . .

Why?
And preceding last night's Pica Ball I had half a dozen calls from indignant campusites wondering why the party wasn't broadcast . . . Probably three times as many listen to the air dance as can attend, and it seems to me there's no better advertising for the university than the big-name band broadcasts . . . I'm told indignant students are circulating petitions demanding that the broadcasts be reinstated, and I personally favor the idea.

After a perusal of the current magazines I'm wishing someone would write an article on college life as it really is . . . Perhaps it might help if the author had been to college within the last quarter-century . . . one of the most degrading of the present wild-youth-and-college series is that extremely silly old maid article in this month's Forum . . . Read it and laugh . . .

I'll agree with this month's Forum writer, though, that there is probably as little reading for pleasure among collegians as among any other group . . .

I'll bet there aren't half a dozen persons on the campus who know the identity of the faculty man who has, at one time or another, been a boxer, a sailor, a barber, a salesman . . .

Add Nominations for Oblivion: All renditions of the none-too-singable "Josephine" . . . Those persons who dance when they haven't had a lesson—and wonder why everyone glares at them. Girls who stick out their smallest finger when they hold a cup of tea . . . Fellows who believe it's smart to wear slightly dirty slacks

Iowa Citizens Spend $107,000 For Home Construction in 1937

Homestead Relief Act Causes Increase In Building

Iowa City home owners spent $107,000 in home remodeling and building up to Oct. 1 this year. The city is one of the state leaders in increase of home construction, according to a recent survey.

Homes built within this period exceed last year's total by four, but valuations are behind the program of last year. This quickening of growth is common throughout the state and is an indication of the results of the homestead relief act the survey reported. In almost every part of the state home construction exceeds the figures of a year ago, and the county records show a rising market for houses in general.

Ten per cent of the bill is the average tip given to a waiter in a public dining place.

and sweaters even at the most dignified gatherings.

Who was it who said, "He's never learned to play; therefore he can't know how to work"? . . .

Will Complete Nine Miles Of Roads by Jan. 1

Nine more miles of roads will be completed in Johnson county before Jan. 1 it was announced yesterday by F. J. Krall, chairman of the county board of supervisors. This is in addition to the 24 miles of road already built this year.

Mr. Krall stated that the additional roads will be built in the northeastern part of the county. Work involving the resurfacing of 50 miles of highway is nearly 75 per cent finished and will probably be completed in the next 10 days.

Tavern Owner Indicted

DES MOINES (AP)—A Polk county tavern owner was indicted here yesterday for illegal possession of a gambling device in a test case to determine whether the new Iowa law on gambling devices applies to slot machines.

Can You Take It?

"You Can't Take It With You" Will Be Chest Drive Slogan

With the slogan "You Can't Take It With You" Iowa City's 1937-38 community chest campaign will be launched at noon Oct. 25, it was announced yesterday.

The goal for this year's drive has been set by the board of trustees at $19,890. As in former years the donations will be divided among the several participating agencies: the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, unemployment relief, city rest rooms, social service and the recreational center.

Campaign headquarters this year are located at 110 S. Linn street.

Carson Fines Two For Intoxication

On a charge of intoxication, Police Judge Burke N. Carson in police court yesterday sentenced William McClelland to three days labor at the city park. On a similar charge, "Cappy" Proches was fined $10 and costs.

You Can't Take It With You!

The Story of Our Slogan

It was midnight when the night editor of a great New York newspaper slumped into his chair for a little relaxation after putting the morning paper "to bed" on the big presses that roared out their endless string of paper. This edition was carrying a big story, for the city's foremost citizen was dead. All day long the wires had been kept hot with incidents of this man's unselfish life, and the news staff of the paper had been taxed to its capacity to produce a fitting tribute to a noble life.

This man was esteemed by the rich and poor alike. Flags were at half-mast, and business men walked softly in their places of business. He had given largely to charity and benevolences, and when other industrialists sought refuge from enraged workers, this man went about freely unprotected and unmolested.

It was now two o'clock in the morning, and the night editor had fallen asleep, for the sound of the great presses was music to his ears. But there was a pull at his sleeve, and the man awakened. The copy boy stood before him with a piece of coarse paper in his hand.

"What's this?" exclaimed the editor, rubbing his eyes.

"A black-bearded man came to the door and gave it to me," replied the boy; "said it was for the editor."

The editor glanced at the title, and then at the signature. It was Joaquin Miller, the famous poet of the Far West! The editor rushed to the door and ran out into the street, but the eccentric genius had disappeared into the night.

Returning to his desk, the editor read the poem scribbled on a piece of wrapping paper. It was dedicated to the great man who had just passed on. Two lines — two burning lines which have since adorned the private domains of nearly every great philanthropist — riveted the attention of the editor, and these two lines caused the editor to stop the presses and emblazon the words on the front page of the paper. These were the lines:

"For All You Can Hold In Your Cold, Cold Hand--Is What You Have Given Away."

This is a thought that claims attention. A man is rich only according to his charities. WHAT IS THE MEASURE OF YOUR WEALTH?
