THAT Bang, bang, bang you heard during the autumn months by no means indicates that there will be fewer shoeing jobs this winter. If anything else, it will be no more an indication of that than will the sight of a football guard piling on the center's shoulders a great deal of a player. The shoeing business is a growth industry.

And even more important, you may wonder what's going to become of those old shoes. They're not going to be dropped into the cornfields and left to be picked up by the next winter's storms.

When followed the charge of the corn harvest rule of all time. From that time on the corn dogs started charging. And this is the time when the corn dogs are most active. They are now in the process of charging another batch of corn.

Every dog has his day, and this dog is no exception. He's been seeing quite a bit of action lately. He's been chasing off the corn dogs from the fields of corn, and that's no easy task.

In the United States, the herd of corn dogs is growing rapidly. They are taking over more and more of the corn fields. It's only a matter of time before they are the dominant species in the corn fields.

We Give You—Your Teeth!

Bluejays Face Drake Bulldogs In Crucial Tilt

Hillery, Sullivan Shine in Frosh Football Drill

St. Pat's Meet Without Jet I. This Afternoon

BITS about SPORTS

For tonight's action in the Big Ten games, the Bluejays have the inside track.

The chances are good that the Bluejays will be able to get a win in tonight's game.

The Bluejays have been working hard to improve their defense, and they will be looking to take advantage of any mistakes made by the Bulldogs.

Hillery and Sullivan, two of the Bluejays' top players, are expected to have a big impact on the game.

Injuries May Keep Dohnowled Out Of Oklahoma Game

Injuries may keep Dohnowled out of the Oklahoma game.

The Oklahoma Sooners have a tough defense, and Dohnowled may not be able to play tonight.

The Bluejays will need to find a way to get past Oklahoma without him.

Foreign News

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP) - More than 2000 foreign-born hawks will be affected by the draft.

The Federal Register will publish a list of all foreign-born hawks.

The draft will affect hawks from various countries, including Germany, Switzerland, and Italy.

The hawks will need to report to their local draft offices to be processed.

The process may take several weeks, but hawks will need to complete it in order to remain eligible for the draft.

Photos and videos will be collected to document the hawks' actions.

The hawks will be required to attend training as part of their service.

The draft is expected to have a significant impact on the hawks, who will need to balance their duties with their personal lives.

The hawks will need to stay informed and prepared for any changes that may occur.

The draft will affect hawks in various ways, and they will need to navigate through the process carefully.

The outlook for these hawks is uncertain, and they will need to work hard to achieve their goals.

The draft may have a long-term impact on the hawks, who will need to plan accordingly.

The hawks will need to consider the long-term effects of the draft, and they will need to make informed decisions about their future.

Introducing 4 New Stars

Everybody's Hero—Brick Bradford
Today... is the third anniversary of Iowa City's newest bank.

At 9 A.M. October 15, 1934, this bank first opened its doors to the people of the community.

Since that morning, deposits have continued to grow and are still increasing -- more and more people like the many services of this bank -- and the friendly spirit of its personnel.

Our progress in deposits

- Initial Deposits ... $000,000.00
- 1 Year ............ $1,529,049.17
- 2 Years .......... $1,979,388.70
- Today ............ $2,695,544.14

The officers, directors, employees and stockholders of this bank join together in expressing their sincere appreciation for the good faith placed in our organization by the people of this community.
