Trucks Remove Crash Victims' Bodies; Plan Three Investigations

Newsreel Men, Filming Safety Picture, Killed

Uncertain Terrain Puts Added Burden On Salvage Crew

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 19 (AP)—Trucks bore the bodies of the 19 victims of the nation's greatest airplane disaster from the mountain crash scene to Evanston, Wyo., mortuaries tonight, United Air Lines officials here said.

"I have been informed that all of the bodies have been taken down from the scene of the wreck," Bob Johnson, public relations agent for the air concern, asserted.

"They will be placed in charge of the corner at Evanston for identification and other arrangements. A number of the bereaved relatives already have assembled at Evanston to claim their dead.

Deep snow, steep, slippery canyon walls, and the ever-present menace of landslides forced caution in the grim task of removing the victims.

Postal inspectors and bureau of air commerce representatives prepared to visit the scene of the disaster. The United Air Lines proceeded with its study, and the Utah Department of Aeronautics announced it would make a complete survey.

The weather, at least a contributory cause of the tragedy, had cleared today, but mud and melting snow added to the difficulties of workers who must bear the stretchers by hand down the steep ridge slope for more than a mile before their burden can be transferred to pack trains.

Then bodies of the victims will travel eight miles by pack train to a wagon road, 18 miles by wagon to Knight, Wyo., and seven miles by motor to mortuaries at Evanston, Wyo.

The mighty "Mainliner," pride of the United Air Lines fleet, was en route from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Salt Lake City Sunday night when it shattered on the granite face of snow-crowned Chalk Peak, 80 miles east of here, at an altitude of 10,000 feet.

Included among its passengers were a bank president, an expectant mother, a noted pathologist and two newsreel men making a picture of "safety of trans-continental flying."

Pilot Bob Bergesen, member of a large aerial searching party, sighted the wrecked craft yesterday, 14 hours after the plane made its last radio report.

Another pilot, Ralph Johnson, after an all night climb, was the

One Dollar a Breath

Fred Snite's Journey to Miami Costs $20,000 A Day on the Average, Says Father

ATLANTA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Fred B. Snite estimated today he was spending $1 for each breath drawn by his paralyzed son, Fred, Jr., on the 1,497-mile train trip from Chicago to Miami.

The $2,300 "iron lung" encasing young Snite functions at the rate of 15 times a minute.

The father, a wealthy banker, said a Swedish specialist had been retained for testing a new small-sized respirator.

He cited the charter for a section of four railway coaches, one outfitted as a hospital car, and pointed out that "there are seven nurses, two doctors and two male orderlies in constant attendance.

Snite said the cost, roughly, was $20,000 a day.

"But that doesn't matter, of course."

Similar to Plane Which Carried 19 to Death

This mainliner is the type which crashed near Evanston, Wyo., on a flight from Chicago to Los Angeles, killing the 16 passengers and the three members of the crew. Three separate investigations into the probable cause of the accident have been ordered.

Alf Landon Urges Nation's Republicans To Insist Upon "Workable Legislation"

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 19 (AP)—Alf M. Landon summoned the nation's republicans tonight to shut off "too much power" for the Roosevelt administration and to insist upon "workable legislation" achieved by constitutional methods.

The 1936 republican presidential nominee addressed himself to an unusual "radio meeting" of his 17,000,000 supporters in the last election.

Landon asked of President Roosevelt: "How far does he intend to go?" in pursuing international peace.

"We are faced with a situation," said Landon, "where he may make a mistake that would indeed be tragic, that might lead to war. . . . Close observers have increasing doubt if he thought his recent international declaration through to its logical conclusion. Moreover, congress adopted a neutrality act at the last session. The president took it upon himself to repeal the principle of the act.

"Now the job for the congress will be to decide whether the president's own policy is to be followed or whether we are to adhere to the policies which the last congress adopted."

Landon called for "workable" revision of the Wagner labor and social security acts and in general charted a republican viewpoint for the forthcoming special session of congress. He assailed in particular the administration's governmental reorganization proposal and said:

"Under His Thumb"

The government reorganization bill, he said, "has for its main purpose the placing of practically every federal employe under the thumb of the president. . . . As long as he (Roosevelt) uses lack of power as an alibi, he will never make any real progress. Most of the mistakes he has made have been because he has been given too much power."

Landon asserted that "the real reason why progress has lagged in America during the last four and one-half years is the failure of the president of the United States to follow our constitutional method of government, and his failure as an administrator."

Administration's Failure

After reciting what he called the progress-stopping failure of various new deal measures, the speaker said troubles were due to administration failure to turn legislation over to congress where he said "legislation that was workable" could have been perfected by hearing the opposition and plugging loopholes the opposition pointed out.

He lumped the NRA and proposed substitutes, the social security act, relief and taxes among the measures which he said were failures for lack of adherence to "constitutional methods."

He offered this prediction in connection with the Wagner labor relations act:

"That once more you will find an unworkable, muddled-up piece of legislation that will have to be done all over again. True, it is a step in the right direction. It is a move in the direction of collective bargaining. Despite its present weakness and failings we should place our feet squarely upon this act. The wisdom and fairness of the people will eventually bring about a modification so that justice and equality of all rights, including that of the public, will be recognized."

Poet Dies

Hunting Accident Is Fatal to Writer

CEDAR RAPIDS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Jay G. Sigmund, 51, Cedar Rapids poet and one of the mid-west's most prominent writers and lecturers on literature, died in a local hospital at 9:30 tonight following amputation of his left leg after a hunting accident near his summer home in Waubeek this afternoon.

Mr. Sigmund was accidentally shot in the leg by a discharge from his own shotgun as he lost his footing while walking up a slight incline pursuing a rabbit he had wounded. The discharge almost tore his leg off but he maintained consciousness. It was a half hour, however, before his shouts attracted help. A physician and ambulance were summoned and he was removed to the hospital here. He suffered greatly from shock and loss of blood.

Bombers Raid Japanese Lines Near Shanghai

Mystifying Absence Of Anti-Aircraft Fire Against Planes

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20 (Wednesday) (AP)—Chinese bombing planes raided Japanese lines in the Shanghai sector today with a mystifying absence of Japanese anti-aircraft fire.

Instead of blasting the heavens as they have done until now, the Japanese did not fire a shot against the Chinese, who made a lightning incursion, dropped a half dozen bombs and sped away. The damage was not disclosed.

The Japanese launched another major offensive on all fronts, apparently to expel the Chinese from the Shanghai zone before the nine power conference starts October 30 at Brussels to discuss the far Eastern conflict.

Japanese authorities served notice that all trains, stations, warehouses and railroad equipment now are considered military objectives for bombing operations. They declared Chinese railways are transporting military supplies and some trains are armed with machine guns.

At the same time, advices from Hangchow asserted that repeated Japanese air raids on stations and passenger trains of the Hangchow-Shanghai line have killed or wounded more than 100 civilians within the past week. The report said none of the trains or stations contained war materials.

Japan's war machine in North China was definitely slowed and in some places completely halted, Peiping reports said. Dispatches from northern Shantung province reported actual withdrawals of Japanese forces.

Although Japanese bombing planes gave Nanking, China's capital, its most severe pounding of the month yesterday, the city's apprehensions of renewed night raids during the full moon apparently were baseless.

G-Men Enter Kidnap Case

Police Bait Trap For Mobsters Who Hold Ross Prisoner

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—A nationwide hunt was pressed today for the treacherous kidnapers who collected $50,000 ransom but failed to release aged Charles S. Ross.

Spurred by the knowledge the family had been double-crossed, federal agents and state attorney's detectives hurled their full force into the search for the snatch gang.

A trap similar to that set in the Lindbergh case was baited across the country. The government sent a complete list of serial numbers of the 5,250 bills given to the abductors to department of justice bureaus, police stations, newspapers, banks and business houses from coast to coast in the hope that the mobsters would be caught when they sought to cash in on their crime.

Some investigators held the belief the Ross case would prove to be a parallel to the Lindbergh tragedy with the ransom collected after the victim had died.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan favored that theory. He pointed out the retired manufacturer had been missing for 24 days.

The official premises were these:

1. Ross, 72, and suffering from heart disease, had succumbed in the hands of his captors or had been murdered to prevent their identification.

2. He was still held captive somewhere in the United States until the snatchers can perfect plans for a flight.

A double - time investigation was started at 8 a.m. today — the deadline fixed for Ross' delivery. The gangsters had been warned by Mrs. Ross that if he had not been returned at that hour not law enforcement agencies would take the trail without further regard for her husband's safety.

Earl J. Connelley, famed federal ace who figured in the solution of a number of major crime mysteries, led a corps of government operatives into the quarterless hunt.

They disclosed the ransom consisted of $10,000 in $5 bills, $25,000 in $10 bills and $15,000 in $20 bills. With one exception, all $10 and $20 bills were federal reserve notes issued by the federal reserve bank of Chicago.

Bond Proposal Gets Approval

Endorsement Given By Junior C. of C. At Meeting

The proposal to bond $398,750 to supplement a $326,250 PWA grant for the construction of a modern Iowa City high school building was endorsed by the Iowa City Junior Chamber of Commerce at a dinner-meeting last night in S. P. C. S. hall.

Iowa Citizens will vote on the proposal Nov. 4 in a special election. They will also be asked whether to bond an additional $90,000 for the purchase of a site within the school district.

Clark Succeeds Herman Amish As Fire Chief

Acting Fire Chief James J. Clark was appointed permanent fire chief last night at the council meeting by Mayor Myron J. Walker. His appointment was unanimously approved by the city council.

He succeeds Herman Amish, who resigned Aug. 7. It was then that Clark was appointed to the post of acting chief. From 1912 to 1928 Clark served as chief of the department, and in 1928 he was named assistant chief.

No Stubs Drivers License Stub Ruling Made

DES MOINES, Oct. 19 (AP)—The office of Attorney General John N. Mitchell ruled today that stubs may not be detached from Iowa automobile drivers licenses for violations of city ordinances regulating the operation of motor vehicles.

The attorney general's opinion, written by Assistant Attorney General Dan W. Bunting, held that the "legislative intent" in the motor vehicle law was that stubs may be detached only on violation of state laws.

It is the practice in most Iowa cities to prosecute persons accused of speeding, reckless driving, etc., under city ordinances. A state charge would be applicable but in the event of a conviction and fine, the state and not the city would get the revenue.

The attorney general's office said Tuesday it had information that in some Iowa cities, stubs from drivers licenses had been detached after convictions for violations of ordinances. Such detachments are not legal, the attorney general held.

There are two stubs on Iowa drivers licenses and the regulations of the motor vehicle department call for one stub to be detached by the judge on conviction of a minor offense.

Will Not Close Stock Market

Informed Sources Say Roosevelt Intends To Pass Issue

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Informed sources said today President Roosevelt would refrain from invoking his power to close the New York stock exchange.

While further stock declines failed to draw any statement from chief executive himself, officials let it be known he had no intention of asking the securities and exchange commission in Washington to suspend trading. He has that authority under the stock exchange regulation act.

The president threw no light on what plans, if any, are under consideration by federal officials to check the downswing in security values.

He had no thought of referring to the subject in his speech in Washington tomorrow afternoon dedicating the new federal reserve board building. There had been speculation he might in view of the efforts by some of the board to reduce its 55 per cent margin requirements to ease the market.

The president turned toward Washington tonight after a week at the summer white house. He will return here Saturday to remain until after election day Nov. 2. He received the newspaper men before giving final instructions to Norman H. Davis, who sails for Brussels tomorrow as head of the American delegation to the nine power treaty conference which will attempt to mediate Japan's undeclared war in China.

Williams Goes To Washington

Frank D. Williams, vice-president and cashier of the First Capital National bank, is attending the dedication of the new federal reserve board building in Washington, D. C., today. Williams, a member of the board, left Iowa City yesterday morning.

'Blaze' Of Fanfare To Mark Pep Rally

Unnamed Coed Will Set Off Huge Bonfire; Speeches To Follow

The ceremonial lighting of the Dad's day pep meeting bonfire, an event which will become a tradition at the university, will be enacted for the first time Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the lot south of Iowa Union, on the eve of the Iowa-Michigan game.

A representative woman student, whose identity will not be revealed until Friday, will cut a ribbon which will permit a 16-foot flaming torch to fall at the base of oil-soaked boxes. The ceremony will symbolize the kindling of the flame of Iowa's spirit for Saturday's game.

After preliminary yells and band music, Jack Drees, A4 of Eau Claire, Wis., president of A. F. L., the organization in charge of the rally, will announce the establishment of the new ceremony, and introduce the woman selected to light the blaze.

Preceded by a fanfare by trumpeters and a long roll of drums, Bob Reuben, A3 of Fort Dodge, head cheer leader, will escort the coed to a low flight of steps at the base of the torch. As she severs the ribbon, the band will play "On Iowa."

With the cooperation of Col. George F. N. Dailey, head of the military department, a squad of uniformed men will be delegated to patrol a roped-off area, in the center of which, the ceremony will occur.

Four buglers and two drummers will provide the fanfare, and the university band will furnish the background music. The entire ceremony will take about five minutes.

Speakers at the pep meeting will include Ernie Nevers, Iowa's backfield coach, Attorney Leo B. Leeper of Waterloo, president of the Dad's Day association, and Judge Michael L. McKinley, chief justice of the criminal court in Chicago.

A former Hawkeye football star, Judge McKinley received a degree in law from the university in 1895.

A possible fourth speaker will be a member of the University of Michigan coaching staff.

A dummy in a football uniform, an effigy of Michigan, will jangle among the mounting flames. The football uniform will be donated by Elwin Shane, equipment manager of the athletic department.

Boxes for the fire will be gathered by the fraternity pledges, who will mark the boxes with the Greek letters. As in the past, fraternity pledges will compete to see which organization can bring in the most boxes. The record height for the fire was 60 feet.

The band, under the direction of Prof. Charles B. Richter, will close the pep meeting with the playing of "Iowa Fights."

Thirty Thousand Armenian Residents Of Syria Ask Death Penalty For Slayer

BEIRUT, Syria, Oct. 19 (AP)—Thirty thousand Armenian residents of Syria and Lebanon today addressed a petition to the Syrian government demanding the death penalty for Muegurdich Karayan, accused of slaying United States Consul General James Theodore Marriner.

The body of Marriner, who was slain last week by an Armenian who believed the American official had refused his request for re-entry to the United States, was escorted from the Anglo-American church to the American export liner Excambion today for return to the United States.

Roadhouse Will Be Included Within City Limits Says Council

The proposed plan to include the Casino, a roadhouse west of here on U. S. highway 6, within the business district, was approved last night by the owners of property near the building.

The Iowa Railway and Light company and the Iowa Electric Light and Power company of Cedar Rapids notified the council that they do not object to the plan.

Their communication was received by the council and placed on file. The council will consider an ordinance which would include the Casino within the business district at a regular meeting Nov. 5.

Two surety bonds totaling $2,500, presented by City Engineer Fred Gartzke, were accepted and approved last night by the city council.

Market Rallies After Heaviest Selling Avalanche Since 1934

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Amid confusion and bewildering reminiscence of '29, the stock market came back strongly late today after the heaviest selling storm experienced in Wall Street since the federal government began "policing" the exchanges in 1934.

Under a downpour of selling at the opening, prices of leading issues fell as much as $10 a share or more, as they did on Monday.

A sense of equilibrium came after the noon hour. In the last hour between 2 and 3 o'clock, with prominent shares displaying in some instances a striking comeback, there was a general rally in which many stocks wiped out all initial losses and closed higher for the day.

Congressional Leader Urges Drastic Action To Prevent Crash

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—A congressional leader, Representative O'Connor (D-NY), demanded drastic action today to prevent another stock market crash "and prolonged business recession."

Both the stock market and regulatory authorities at Washington should act immediately, O'Connor said. The former should "clean house," he said, and the latter should relax certain restrictions on the exchange, if necessary.

In a telegram to the Federal Reserve governors, he declared the 55 per cent margin required for stock purchases should be considerably lowered "and short sales should be stopped or the margin greatly increased."

Any harmful "snooping" by the securities commission should be stopped, he declared, and if restrictions against insiders buying or selling stocks of their own companies are hampering the market, they should be modified.

"Business and employment just cannot stand another stock market crash," O'Connor declared.

lowan. This year, no longer a doubtful experiment, the Silver Shadow steps to the fore, confident of its success. All of which goes to prove that college students do not consider drinking as a prerequisite to a good time. Magazines and movies have given collegiate youth a black eye as far as imbibing is concerned. They like to fancy every last one, bottle in hand, running rapidly down the giddy road to ruin. Yet Iowa students flocked to the dry Silver Shadow every night it was open, to dance, drink cokes, and have themselves an evening. Nothing is as bleak as painted—not even our younger generation. We now have an answer to throw back to all those surfaced pessimists who are sure that every college student is headed down into the deep, deep valley of perdition. And that answer is the success of the Silver Shadow.

Gratitude—Where It Is Due

"France and Yugoslavia renewed their treaty of friendship today for another five years." This brief notice was to be found in the writer of news last week, hidden among stories of the slaying of two desperadoes by G-men; the renewal of Anglo-Japanese tension; the conflict between two labor organizations; the assassination of a United States consul; the death of nine in a plane crash; the death or injury of 15 in a fire aboard a tanker; and the progress of the Sino-Japanese war and the Spanish uprising.

How surprising was such a story of peace turning up in the midst of wars, slayings, fatal accidents and ill-concealed hatreds! Maybe it wasn't worth the banner line in every newspaper; perhaps Mr. Ripley will overlook its worth in his cartoon; probably it will not rate the Nobel peace prize, but at least it earns our most sincere gratitude for the cheerfulness it provides at the present time.

The Japanese are still the most polite people on earth. Each time they blow a great Chinese city off the map they bob up with a very mannerly "Excuse it, please."

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THE CRANBERRY FROM NANTUCKET Island to the Oregon slope the nation is beginning to harvest the year's cranberry crop. The labors of the pickers in the boggy or partially bogged cranberry bogs of Wisconsin are especially interesting. There one-sixth of the 1,000,000 bushels of vegetable rubies are gathered annually, and a large part of the pick in that neighbor state will appear later decoratively and tooth-somely on dinner tables as cranberry sauce, jelly, tarts or pies, done in madder, alzarin, venetian or some one of the other 70 possible shades of red.

From Wisconsin Rapids comes the announcement that 1,200 Winnebago and Oneida Indians are encamped in the vicinity of the cranberry bogs thereabouts and, having duly participated in the crowning of this year's cranberry queen, are now denuding the bejeweled vines. It is the unwritten law in these chivalrous United States that no sort of fruit may be gathered in quantities until some officially lovely maiden is made queen of the harvest. Whoever is deputed to gather her from between the hedgerows is expected to choose a queen whose beauty, such as it is, and whose smile, reasonably permanent as per contract, shall not be of a nature to make the garnered fruit unpleasantly acidulous. This is especially important in the case of the cranberry queen. Fortunately, this year's queen is reported to possess a safe margin of pHuritude.

The American cranberry, as all patriots are glad to know, is superior in size, in color and in flavor to the pauper cranberries of other lands. Its imported name, cranberry—cran for short—indicates, perhaps, that some ancient Aryan thought legs like a crane's were required to wade the bogs in which it grew. But because it, like the noble American turkey, is an essential part of the Thanksgiving feast, turkeyberry would be a more fitting name for it. By whatever name it is called, its tart sincerity, its ineffable tang, hits the happy diner unerringly in the right spot. It is everybody's candid friend among viands; it jolts him and makes him like it.

Whether plucked by the red fingers of an Indian squaw or raked out mechanically from its low-lying evergreen leaves, the cranberry, with its carmine perfection, its seductive contour, is the Cinderella of fruits. To know it is to love it for what it is, for what it symbolizes and for what as when to the appetite, it does to the not too intrepid diner at crucial moments.

Clendening Gives Treatment For Troublesome Ringworm

With the return of the fall season, the population in gymnasia is increasing, and the old problem of what is called "athlete's foot" again is a matter of important consideration. The common name generally used by doctors for it is "ringworm," and here, again, there is some confusion, because it is not due to a worm and does not always form in rings. The commonest form is an acute eruption of blisters which itch and which occur on the soles of the feet. Very common also are the chronic forms which occur in between the toes in the form of a red, weeping eruption. Either of these, especially if excessively scratched, may become infected from the nails with a secondary pus infection. Chronic forms include a scaly, eczematous type on the upper surface of the foot and the toes.

To Integrate Or Not To Integrate

WHETHER THE Johnson County Bar association will approve or reject integration of the bar tomorrow night will be the subject of a long, serious and perhaps bitter debate. There are few of the county's practicing lawyers who do not have a definite opinion on the proposition—either antagonistic or favorable. In some states—20, according to the latest figures—integration of the bar is already an accomplished fact. In others the plan, now reaching the scope of a national problem, is up for consideration, and in still others half-way-integration has been accomplished. Early this year the idea was presented to the state supreme court; but the court deferred action, waiting for several of the local bar associations to vote resolutions expressing their opinions. So far about four-fifths of the county associations have backed the suggestion, while a minority have disappeared.

As it appears to our layman's mind, integration of the bar is a simple process which will accomplish, among other things, the building of a compact, forceful and active group out of the present state bar association to which not more than half of the state's practicing attorneys belong. Should integration occur, every attorney who practices would be required to join. Protagonists of the proposition declare that it will raise the standards of law practice, now admittedly at a new low in Iowa's educational standards for admission to the bar, and this is indeed necessary considering the fact that our state ranks third from the bottom in educational requirements.

Those who oppose the suggestion point to Missouri where leaders have foreseen that the idea might be carried beyond the limits of practicability. It might conceivably happen, they say, that railway officials would not be allowed to issue tickets without legal barriers, that hundreds of those who now work for insurance companies would be driven out of their jobs. Some attorneys charge that the idea will place too much power in the hands of too few persons, and still others declare the proposal to be but another step in the "long march of regimentation."

The Iowa county bar association rejected the plan, and soon after tomorrow night's meeting of the local association, the two groups will meet to vote jointly as a judicial district. We cannot say how Johnson county's lawyers will vote. We do not believe that we should. Integration is an important and serious step, warranting serious consideration. Our only hope is that tomorrow night's meeting includes all of the county's bar-risters and not the same few men who turn out time after time for such meetings.

The time for action is now; the problem has been before the state bar association since 1931, and the delay has been costly. Action is bound to come within a few years, but it would seem to us that there is no time like the present.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood isn't the place for an actor who practically grows up in the movies. He may have done the best of jobs in every picture he had, and he may be a good boy, but around the lots he's stamped. He's "just a kid." That's why it looks as if Frank Albertson will be heading for New York, to be gone a couple of years at least. Frank is 28. He's been in pictures nearly ten years. He learned about acting the hard way—by acting. He wasn't very good at first, didn't have the "youth pictures." But he learned, and the boy is good now. Frank isn't a hard-luck story. He can get jobs any day in the week, and he can get contracts. But in Hollywood he figures he's always been just someone who's been around a long time, playing "brother" roles.

He's Still 'Frankie' "A lot of people still call me 'Frankie,'" he explains. "Not that I care—but that's what I mean. I'd sign a contract, and maybe I'd get good parts and maybe I wouldn't. After a year or two I'd have collected salary, but what would I have besides? If I didn't get good parts, I'd be off the studio, the way a lot of us do. If I leave now, I know I can make a living, at least, and I'll have a chance of doing more—at least trying to amount to something on the stage." Frank's from Fergus Falls, Minn., but he's been around Hollywood since he was in show pants. He worked around the studios before he ever faced a camera, and you can gather that the "romance" in picture-making has worn pretty thin for him by now. Last season he clicked on Broadway in his first stage play "Brother Rat." (There's irony in that—even on the stage the "brother" angle followed him. The comedy was bought for pictures, and Frank was considered for his original role, but the studio wasn't sure he was "type." Wayne Morris is getting the part, which is all right with Frank, too. "I haven't the name, and I know it," he says.)

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By TERENCE RATTIGAN (Author of "French Without Tears," doing a column for George Tucker.) NEW YORK— I am still a bit amazed at the way publicity functions in the United States. As you may know (or if you don't know, I shall have Gilbert Miller's press representative drawn, flogged and quartered. I am the author of "French Without Tears," which Mr. Miller recently presented at Henry Miller's Theater. No fuss at all was made over me in England when the play has been running since last November. Much fuss was made over the actors and over the play itself, and occasionally a school friend of mine would meet me on the street, slap me on the back, and say, "I hear you have a play at the Criterion. Fine, old boy." But that was about all. The newspapers usually disposed of me with a sentence.

Here, however, much to my amazed embarrassment, there's a difference—and what a difference! Even before I had actually landed—while I was tramped somewhat bewilderedly down the gangplank of the ship—an identified gentleman pushed a microphone in front of my face and crowded, "Won't you say something, Mr. Rattigan?" I prepared I mumbled a few words that must have been as banal as "It'll be right home, mother, it was a great fight..." and then I was trampled off through a whirling maze of luncheons, dinners, suppers, etc. And all because I was a playwright!

You Americans seem to have an idea that anyone who has an play produced automatically qualifies as a medicine man and a seer, a person expert enough to diagnose the world's ills and then prescribe for them. That may be true to a certain extent in this country, where your men of letters grapple in their plays with problems of politics, economics, sociology, and what have you—but it certainly does not hold in England.

For the English theater—and I say this without any shame—"escapist" plays is, it prefers amusing. That is, it prefers playing. It deals in entertainment, not serious tracts. In England playwrights are writing gay, inconsequential pieces of "theater," and so they are not regarded as oracles of wisdom, as is, say, a member of Parliament.

University Theater To Present Play By Maxwell Anderson

Comic Satire To Open Community Series November 1

Five productions, including Maxwell Anderson's prize play, "High Tor," will be produced by University theater in its regular community series this year, Prof. Edward C. Mabie, director, announced at a meeting of all dramatic arts majors in the dramatic arts building last night.

The other plays include "Call It a Day" by Dodie Smith, "Richard of Bordeaux" by Gordon Daviot, "First Lady" by Katharine Dayton and George Kaufman, and "Pride and Prejudice" by Jane Austen.

The revolving stage, which was installed in the new theater building last year, will be used in two of the plays, "High Tor" and "Call It a Day," for the first time.

"First Lady," a comic satire on Washington life, will open the series the week of Nov. 1 to 6. This year a new policy in University theater productions will be the feature of a week's run for each play.

Rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks for "First Lady." Dorothea Carlson, A4 of Battle Creek, has the leading role. The play is directed by Professor Mabie.

"High Tor" is a phantasy drama which won the Critics' Circle award for this year. Anderson won the same award for his "Winter-set" last year. The play takes its name from a mountain in the Catskills.

A day in the life of an average English family is the theme of Dodie Smith's popular play, "Call It a Day." The English playwright drew her inspiration from two lines of an English folk-poem: "On the first spring day The devil's to pay."

Gordon Daviot's "Richard of Bordeaux" will be the theater's

Phi Beta Kappas Set Date of Banquet For Dec. 4

Prof. John A. Scott of Northwestern university will be the principal speaker at the autumn meeting of the University of Iowa chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Dec. 4, Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, local president, announced yesterday.

New members will be initiated in the late afternoon and afterward a dinner will be held to which the members may bring guests. At 7:30 Professor Scott will lecture on the subject, "Solved and Unsolved Problems of Government." Professor Scott is head of the Greek department of Northwestern University.

As Founders' day, Dec. 5, falls on Sunday this year, the ceremony is to be a day earlier. Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest Greek letter society in existence was founded Dec. 5, 1776.

Other members of Phi Beta Kappa not affiliated with the Iowa City chapter are invited to attend.

The lecture will be open to the general public.

Enthusiasm Is Shown in Pep Club Meetings

Initial meetings of Pi Epsilon Pi, pep fraternity, and the women's auxiliary opened with enthusiasm last night in Iowa Union. The men's group planned activities for the rest of the year, and the auxiliary elected officers.

Mary Steck, A3 of Los Angeles, Cal., was elected president of the women's organization; Katherine Woods, A2 of Des Moines, vice-president, and Helen Evans, A4 of Ft. Dodge, secretary-treasurer. The men's meeting was devoted chiefly to introducing new members. Several transfer students addressed the group.

Kappa Phi Will Stage Last Of Rushing Parties

Kappa Phi, Methodist sorority, will entertain at a candlelight hour tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist student center. It will be the last of a series of rushing parties.

Madelyn Pedrick, A2 of Douds, will be in charge of the program. Devotions will be in charge of Rexine Wardman, A3 of Union. Martha Bell, A2 of Mt. Pleasant, will have general supervision of the entertainment and Arlene Finch, A4 of Iowa City, will supervise the music.

The invitation committee includes Ruth Hastings, A4 of Paton, president; Eugene Richter, A2 of West Newbury, Mass., publicity chairman; Anna May Taylor, A2 of Van Meter, membership chairman, and Miriam Pharis, G of Ft. Dodge.

Marshmallows will be toasted at the open fireplace, and fortune telling will be the feature of the evening.

Honorary Group To Hear Three Staff Members

Three staff members of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station will speak at the Soiree of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific research society Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in room E-105, East hall.

Prof. Kurt Lewin, Prof. Beth Wellman and Prof. Amy Daniels will be the speakers on the program.

The meeting is under the auspices of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station.

Ernest Jaqua Meets With 2 Iowa Deans

Shirley Ann Briggs Writes Article In October Palimpsest

Last year a tree older than the Declaration of Independence was cut down on the campus. This tree is the subject of an article by Shirley Ann Briggs, A3 of Iowa City, entitled "In the Lifetime of a Bur Oak," appearing in the October issue of Palimpsest, which is being distributed today.

Almost 200 years ago a little bur oak sprouted in a shallow ravine over the crest of the bluff above Iowa river, and only last year it died.

Mrs. Briggs states in her article that, when the little bur oak was 14 years old, the colonial patriots signed the Declaration of Independence, and 63 years later a celebration was held in its shade because the site had been chosen for the capitol of the territory of Iowa.

"In 1857 the capital was moved to Des Moines. Only the presence of the State university lent distinction to the community otherwise destined to become an agricultural market place like hundreds of other towns."

"It was on the eve of the centennial of the life of the towering tree that the career of an institution dedicated to the highest aims of civilization was dawning beside it," writes Miss Briggs.

There are two other pictures of early Iowa depicted in this issue of Palimpsest.

The first article by Walter E. Kaloupek, a graduate student in the political science department, who received an M.A. degree here in 1936, relates the pioneering of James R. Graham from 1852 to 1871, in the vicinity near Iowa City.

William J. Petersen of the history department closes the issue with a vivid story of a forceful pioneering character, Asa Whitney, who, he states, "... was no idle dreamer... Whitney was a man of action as well as vision."

Robert D. King Again Head Of Debate Group

Robert D. King, G of Sioux City, was reelected president of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, at a meeting in Iowa Union yesterday noon.

Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of the debate board for the second year.

A member of the debate team for three years, Mr. King is also a member of Gavel club and Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity.

During yesterday's meeting a regular schedule of meetings was made. The fraternity will meet every second and fourth Tuesday noon for dinner and a business meeting.

16 Students Named To Governing Board

Sixteen students—eight undergraduates and eight graduates—were elected to membership on the board of governors of University Players at the meeting last night. Junior, senior and graduate majors in the dramatic arts department were eligible to vote.

The undergraduates include Dorothea Carlson, A4 of Battle Creek; William Corington, A4 of Gower, Mo.; Robert Dierlam of Denver, Col.; Max Ellis, A4 of Ft. Madison; Rodney Erickson, A4 of St. Joseph, Mo.; Kathryn Hausen, A3 of Villisca; Florabel Houston, A4 of Nevada, and Paul Robinson, A3 of Portland, Ore.

The graduates are Mary Eloise Anderson of Des Moines, Bramer Carlson of Warren, Pa., Walter Fleischmann of Talmage, Neb., Robert Graham of Iowa City, John Leland of Moline, Ill., Hayes Newby, Rodney Stewart of Iowa City and Ronald Van Arsdale of Greenwood, Ind.

Professor Mabie also formally announced the appointment of Mr. Leland as business manager of the theater and of Mr. Ellis as his assistant. Mr. Carlson will be the house manager of the theater during the coming year.

Language Fraternity To Discuss Values Of Classic Studies

An open forum discussion on "What Value I Find in the Study of the Classics" will be held by Eta Sigma Phi, honorary classical languages fraternity, at a meeting tomorrow at 4 p.m. in room 109, Schaeffer hall.

Members of the fraternity have been asked to come prepared on the subject in order that they may participate.

Home Department Of Woman's Club Works On Projects

Thirty members of the home department of the Iowa City Woman's club worked on leather and yarn projects at the home of Mrs. William Anderson, 906 E. Burlington street, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. L. V. Dierdorf displayed yarn articles from a local department store and several which she had made herself. Mrs. Irving King gave instructions in leather tooling.

Women who were not interested in working with leather or yarn devoted the afternoon to their own projects.

The Last Word is never spoken at Western Electric

The urge to "make it better" is always there.

WHEN you approach old problems with a fresh viewpoint, you often get outstanding improvements. For example: wires for telephone cable had long been insulated by a spiral wrapping of paper ribbon. Refusing to accept this as the "last word," a Western Electric engineer mixed a wood pulp solution in a milk bottle—poured it on a wire—the pulp stuck. The systematic development of this idea resulted in a new and more economical insulating process—making an insulating covering of paper right on the wire!

Such originality leads to improved manufacturing processes and better telephone apparatus for the Bell System.

Coach Excuses U-High Squad From Practice

Date of Game With Mt. Vernon Changed To Saturday

Coach Jack Sterrett prescribed a much needed rest from practice for his undefeated University high football team yesterday when he learned that the date of their game with Mount Vernon this weekend has been changed from Friday to Saturday.

Although no injuries were sustained in their game with Monticello last weekend, Coach Sterrett felt that the team had reached a peak for that game and a rest from practice would do more to remedy the situation and keep them from going stale than anything else.

The only men out with injuries at the present are Owen Morgan and Don Bridenstine, regular fullback and halfback respectively. Both of these men are suffering from leg injuries and were unable to see any action in the last game. However, barring any new injuries, they should be sufficiently improved to see action Saturday.

Hightshoe Plays Well

Coach Sterrett indicated Monday that he was well pleased with the performance of Clarence Hightshoe who played in his first game last Friday. If Hightshoe continues to show the class he did against Monticello, Owen Morgan may find a lot of competition for his fullback post when he returns to the lineup.

At the present time University high is tied for second place in their conference with West Liberty. They have three more loop games to play against Mount Vernon, West Branch and the league leading Tipton aggregation. A victory in all three of these games would clinch the conference championship for them.

Mount Vernon, the Blue and White opponents this weekend, have had an unsuccessful season to date, having won only one out of four games. They have played only two loop games and lost them by decisive scores, losing their last game to West Liberty 30-7. The fact that University high played a close 6-6 tie with West Liberty seems to establish them as the pre-game favorites over Mount Vernon.

HOD SHOTS

By G. K. HODENFIELD

An apology — in yesterday's column I said that Harry Kipke booted the field goal that helped beat Iowa, 9-3, when the Wolverines played here in 1923. Here's the whole story.

It was the first visit that a Michigan team had made to Iowa City and it matched the Big Ten co-champions of the year before. Late in the game the score was tied, 3-3. Blott of the Wolverines and Fisher of Iowa having kicked field goals earlier in the contest.

Kipke punted from the Iowa 40-yard line, a low hurried kick as the Hawkeye linemen charged in. Several Iowa linemen tried to block the kick. One almost did but the flying ball ticked his fingers and sailed away.

Wes Fry, sophomore quarterback, was playing in the end zone for the Hawkeyes. He hadn't heard the tick, but Blott, all-American center had heard it and he knew that the ball belonged to the team that recovered it. While Fry watched, the ball lit on the five yard line and skidded into the end zone. That Fry thought would be a touchback and would give Iowa the ball on their own 20 yard line.

Blott charged in on the ball at Fry's feet. Up went the referee's arms and Michigan had won the ball game, 9-3. The fans went wild but Howard Jones, coach of the Iowa team settled it with the statement that he had heard the ball tick the Iowa player's hand. The score—Blott 9; Iowa 3.

And after all this was written Art Snider dropped in and insisted that Kipke DID boot the field goal for the Wolverines. I don't know, I only heard.

Add to your list of forgotten men — Andrew Payne. In 1928 he won the C. C. Pyle "bunion derby" from Los Angeles to New York. He completed the "dash"

Co-ops To Play 2nd League Tilt Today

The co-op dorm touch football league will sponsor its second game tonight, with the well-trained Gables team matched against a Wilson team of unknown strength. Both teams played mediocre ball last season, but reports are that league competition will be tougher this year. There are only five teams in the league this season.

With Gables getting the test against Wilson tonight, only Whetstone will remain untried in league competition, and are gunning for their opening game with the strong Jefferson team next week.

in 513 hours and a few minutes. And Cincinnati was leading the National league. That MUST have been a long time ago.

Let's hope that history, ancient history that is, doesn't repeat itself. Michigan beat Iowa in 1901, 50-0 and in 1902 mauled them around to the tune of 107-0. After that the two teams didn't meet for 21 years. No wonder.

The Michigan eleven won the last game, a 10-6 affair at Ann Arbor in 1933. Iowa's only victory in the series was in 1924 when they won, 9-2. The two teams played a scoreless tie in 1929. The Wolverines won 10-7 in 1928.

With all the sports experts picking the winners of each week's games, I'm going them one better and pick the Rose Bowl contestants for New Year's day. Alabama will represent the east and California will play for the west. The Texas Aggies are going to be a power in the south and will play in one of the 'bowl' games. Oh, yes, it will be the Cubs and Yanks in the next world series.

For seven long years I have been a Cub and Yankee fan. The Yanks have done fine during those years, but the Cubs — well that's another story. Now the Cubs are going to have a former Yankee working for them (I hope) and everything looks rosy. Hot stove league has the Cubs and Pirates breaking up their teams in an effort to produce better results. From this corner, that all sounds a wee bit fishy. It makes good newspaper copy during the football season but when the spring training trips start, you can bet that the Cubs will have practically the same outfit that gave them second place last year. They may have a few new faces in the lineup but they won't be replacing Herman and Jurgas as some writers would have you believe.

Phi Delta's and Phi Psi's Beat Pi K.A.'s And Phi Epsilon Pi

Playing under weather conditions that made footing insecure and ball handling difficult, Phi Delta Theta defeated Pi Kappa Alpha 13-0 and Phi Kappa Psi beat Phi Epsilon Pi 19-7 in two interfraternity touch football games yesterday afternoon.

In the first half of the Phi Delta-Pi K. A. game, Bob Eby ran over the goal line for the initial touchdown after receiving a long pass from Bud Newbold. The point after touchdown was scored by Lewis Naeckal, also on a pass from Newbold. The only other touchdown of the game came in the last half when Henry Gerdes blocked a Pi K. A. kick near their goal line and Dick Edmonds ran over for the score.

Outstanding in the game for the Phi Delta's were Eby, Naeckal and Bud Newbold while Johnny Evans, Dean Callis and Hugh Stevenson were responsible for a lot of good work in the Pi K. A. lineup.

Isaacson Scores

The Phi Psi's opened their scoring with a pass from Dick Hoak to Jim Hoak, the latter drop-kicking the extra point. The Phi Psi's contributed their only score next with a pass from Oppenheim to Isaacson with their extra point also being kicked by Isaacson. The other two Phi Psi scores were accounted for by a pass from Jim Hoak to Lozier and on an intercepted pass with Johann on the receiving end of the ball.

Both games were hard fought on a muddy field with a stiff wind blowing making it hard for all concerned.

Dolphins to Give Show Nov. 25-27

The 18th annual Dolphin Pageant, swimming and water carnival show, will be presented by members of the Dolphin club, and both varsity and freshman swimming squads, on November 25, 26 and 27. Thanksgiving weekend, it was announced yesterday by Bob Lowry, president of the Dolphins.

New Hawkeye Star

Shown here is Robert Allen who started his first game for Iowa at Madison last Saturday against Wisconsin and played bangup ball for the entire 60 minutes of the contest. Allen never played the gridiron sport in high school but has rapidly developed into a topnotch player. He does not confine his athletic interest to football, being an outstanding swimmer on the University of Iowa swimming team as a breaststroker. Hailing from Chicago, Allen stands 6 feet 1 inch and weighs 192 lbs.

LATEST NEWS FROM

BIG TEN SQUADS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 19 (AP)—Although their date with Michigan is almost two weeks away, Coach Bob Zupke plunged Illinois' gridiron warriors into heavy work today for the battle with the Wolverines. Most of the regulars and all the second string went through a long session in the rain as Zupke started rebuilding the offense, with Jay Wardley who returned to duty yesterday after a pre-season injury, as the spearhead.

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 19 (AP)—A driving rain forced the Northwestern squad to drill under the stands today, retarding preparation for Saturday's battle with Ohio State at Columbus. The Wildcats dummy scrimmaged against the freshmen who demonstrated Ohio State formations, instead of holding a full defensive scrimmage as Coach Lynn Waldorf had planned. As the Wildcats left for Columbus Thursday night, tomorrow's session will clean up heavy practice for the game.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 19 (AP)—Plagued by rain for the second successive day, Coach Francis Schmidt ran his Ohio State grid team through an offensive drill today and concentrated on a study of Northwestern plays. Forrest Fordham, fullback replacement for John Rabb, appeared in uniform but took no active role in the drill due to an injury suffered in the Southern California game.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Search for a replacement for the injured Andy Uram, pass defense work and preparation for meeting Notre Dame Oct. 30 occupied Coach Bernie Bierman and his University of Minnesota football players today. Bierman put Harry Ed Barrow of the Yanks revealed today.

Chicago Asked For Lazzeri's Release

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Although Tony Lazzeri maintains he knows nothing about that offer from the Cubs, it was the Chicago club that suggested his release by the Yankees, Secretary Ed Barrow of the Yanks revealed today.

Barrow said the Cubs had requested Tony's release in order that they might deal with him without fear of violating baseball law involving tampering with players. When the Yankee organization was satisfied the veteran second baseman had a chance to become a manager or assistant, Col. Jacob Ruppert arranged to let him go.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 19 (AP)—Defying a barrage of the elements which included wind, rain and sleet, the University of Wisconsin varsity sloshed through a heated dummy scrimmage against a first string yearling football team today in the first vigorous workout preparatory to Saturday's game against last year's Rose Bowl champions at Pittsburgh. John Doyle and Al Dorsch, injured sophomore guard and tackle, still were absent from the squad.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 19 (AP)—Rumors that James H. Lincoln, a tackle, would be the fourth member of the University of Michigan squad to resign this fall were given credence tonight by the fact he has not reported for drill this week.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 19 (AP)—Acting Coach Mal Elward continued a "rest cure" for his Purdue university football squad today. With an open date on the schedule this week, Elward staged only a light drill and did not take the Boilermakers outdoors.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 19 (AP)—"Be" McMillin, preparing the Indiana football team for Saturday's game with Cincinnati, emphasized blocking today. McMillin criticized the downfield blocking of his men in the Illinois game last Saturday and said they must improve in this department if they expect to get anywhere in the Nebraska game Oct. 30.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—The University of Chicago gridiron squad, which has an open date Saturday, was let off today with another short drill. Rain gave the Maroons a chance to practice handling a slippery ball during the brief session.

Maranville Signs

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 (AP)—Walter "Rabbit" Maranville, today signed a one year contract to continue as manager of the Montreal Royals of the International league. Hector Racine, club president, announced the midge manager, had been given a "satisfactory" increase in salary.

Monopoly Mike Up A Creek

Jacobs Having Trouble Finding Trouble Wants A Fight Started

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Michael Strauss Jacobs is in a fine pickle. He's worse off than the sport who's all dressed up with no place to go.

All his life Mike wanted to be a czar but now that he's reached his goal as the most monopolist of boxing he's a most unhappy, restless man. Except for a few barbs here and there nobody battles him and Old Michael can only sit around with no maneuvering or phengaling to do. It's slow, quiet murder, that's what Czar Mike calls it.

"All's still on the western front," he groaned as he spread his hands on a desk clear of cablegrams, telegrams, letters, contracts and messages for the first time in years. "Everybody's signed, sealed and ready for delivery and nothing to do. Can't one of you sports writers start a fight? Go over and stir something so we can do some maneuvering."

Someone mentioned that Jimmy Johnson, ex-Madison Square Garden firebrand, was always ready for a fight and that he might give the czar a harder run than he figured as soon as he lines up his promotional venture.

Jacobs, the Rascal

"That's what I figured," said Mike, "but what does he do? He blames the State Athletic Commission for all his troubles—for getting him fired out of the Garden. I'm the rascal. Let him take a poke at me and I'll take some back at him. I hope he makes a living and I'll help all I can if we can get some excitement."

"I feel like an All-American football player after the season's over. Just sit around, and that's no fun. I may have some fun in Miami this winter at that with a fight and an ice carnival starring Sonjie Henie. We're going to pick 75 of the purest girls in the south for the ballet. Can you imagine keeping ice in Florida and boarding 75 hungry girls all at once?"

Gets New Apartment

Michael, whose chief bit of phengaling this week was to rent a swanky apartment in town for the winter months, arises at 7 a.m. daily, gulps down a half gallon of orange juice and gets a good rubdown by Jack Donnelly, an old fight referee. Every day except Sunday, he's at his desk no later than 9 a.m., but he's so restless with nothing else to do that he's driving his staff into nervous breakdowns.

"I hope all hell breaks loose in this boxing business very soon," moans Walter St. Denis, his chief press agent. "Mike is so restless he won't let us do a thing without him having a hand in it."

Marco Polo. . . One of the most interesting fighters in the business is Pety Sarron, who defends his featherweight title against Henry Armstrong, hard hitting Los Angeles Negro, at Jacobs' inaugural Madison Square Garden show Oct. 29. Pety's specialty is fighting home town prides right before their home folks. Pety, an Assyan boy who came up from Birmingham, Ala., has fought 150 fights and looks it. His eyes are cut, his ears are hard and flat and he's broken his left hand three times, his right once.

He's just returned from a tour of New Zealand, South Africa and England, where he picked up plenty of coconuts.

Likes Locals

"Fighting home town prides is duck soup for me," says Pety. "When you fight one, the crowd looks only at him, not you. And he's conscious of it. And most of the time, the home towners get a great kick out of seeing their boy wonder get licked and Pety always tries to please. Once in a while it works the other way. When I was in New Zealand I fought Tommy Donovan and kayoed him in the seventh round. The referee, a home townner, was counting him out when all of a sudden he turns to me and says I lost on a foul because I hit him on the back of the head."

"I was arrested in New Plymouth, New Zealand, because I didn't want to fight. I signed for a small guarantee for an indoor show and when they took it outside before 25,000 customers I demanded a percentage. They pinched me, and I had to go through with it."

Bulldogs Scrimmage

DES MOINES, Oct. 19 (AP)—Coach V. J. Green sent his Drake Bulldogs through a long scrimmage here today as he went about mapping out a plan of attack against the Iowa State Cyclones, who will invade the Drake camp Saturday.

Captain Herb Hedlund was the only regular on the bench today. He has a bruised chest.

While the regulars scrimmaged with the freshmen, the second stringers scrimmaged with the third stringers.

The end of the football season will add four more members to a growing varsity basketball squad, Nile Kinnick, Omaha, Neb.; Erwin Chasgo, Chicago, Ill.; Dick Evans, Chicago, Ill.; and Floyd DeHoer, Oskaloosa, Ia., all donning basketball uniforms in favor of their gridiron outfits.

Beebe Mails Entry

Blanks for Meet

Fred Beebe, intramural program director, announced yesterday that entry blanks are being mailed to fraternity athletic managers for the inter-fraternity track meet which will be held Oct. 25 and 27.

The events, which will cover two days, are: 60 yard high hurdles, 100 yard dash, high jump, pole vault, shot put, 110 yard low hurdles, 50 yard dash, discus throw, running broad jump, and 440 yard relay. Two starters from each house may be entered in each individual event.

Besides first and second place individual winner's medals, trophies will be awarded to teams placing first and second.

Ball Carrying Gets Attention In Long Drill

Bill Kelly Takes Over Halfback Job; Red Olson Still Out

Offensive tactics were the order of the day for the University of Iowa football team yesterday as Coach Irl Tubbs sent his men through a long scrimmage session in preparation for the Michigan game here next Saturday.

The Hawkeye mentor scrimmaged both of his first two teams and alternated the two teams at carrying the ball. The first team was made up of Smith and Prasse at the ends, Irvine and Gallagher at the tackles, Herman and Allen at the guards and Anderson at center. Bill Kelly, Chicago sophomore and Jack Eicherly were at the halfback posts, Kinnick at quarter and Ed McLain at fullback. Several of the members of the starting lineup in last week's game against Wisconsin, were excused from the drill.

Ball carrying came in for a great deal of attention as Tubbs endeavored to discover the reason for the fumbling jinx which has bothered the Iowa backs in their last two games.

Olson Still Out

Glenn Olson is still on the sidelines with a foot injury received last week but it is thought that he will be ready to start against Michigan.

Although Michigan dropped a 39-6 decision to Minnesota's powerful Gophers last week they are considered much stronger than the score indicates. The Wolverines have a stronger line this year than they have had in the last five years. The forwards outplayed the Northwestern line in their recent clash but a forward pass scored the winning touchdown for the defending Big Ten champion.

Passes Click

The Iowa coaches are well pleased by the offensive drive shown in the Wisconsin game when the Iowans marched 70 yards on a sustained drive for a touchdown. The Hawks have also displayed a powerful passing attack, completing six out of nine passes in the Badger game.

Tomorrow's drill will wind up the active work for the Michigan game and the remainder of the preparations will be largely mental.

Huskies Lack Punch

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 19 (AP)—Coach Biff Jones scored today to install some lancing power in the Nebraska football team and his efforts were rewarded as three teams tallied 12 touchdowns against the freshmen. Eight players participated in the scoring.

The Biffer worked three backfield combinations with Bill Anderson, Bill Callahan, Max Plock and Jim Mather in the number 1 stations.

Bad Weather Prevents Little Hawk Eleven From Practicing

Red And White Outfit is Eighth In Conference

West Waterloo Leading Loop; Locals Play McKinley Friday

The weather man put a damper on the City High grid practice yesterday by saturating Shrader field with a steady rain. Coach Herb Cormack excused the entire squad, but planned to send his proteges through a severe scrimmage tonight.

Still out of the win column in Mississippi Valley competition, the Little Hawks are now resting in eighth place in league standings with three ties and a loss. Games this week will find Wilson and Franklin in at intra-city tussle at Cedar Rapids, Iowa City at McKinley in Cedar Rapids, Rock Island at Davenport, Dubuque at Clinton, Abraham Lincoln at Council Bluffs at West Waterloo, and East Waterloo at Ft. Dodge.

The results of last week's engagements were as follows: Dubuque scored a victory over Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids, Wilson of Cedar Rapids tied with McKinley of the same city, West Waterloo swamped Clinton, Davenport established themselves as city champions by edging out St. Ambrose, East Waterloo nosed out LaCrosse, Wis., and Franklin high of Cedar Rapids broke Iowa City's undefeated status to the tune of 15 to 0.

Four teams are still undefeated in conference competition. Two of these, Dubuque and Franklin, face the probability of being dethroned this week when they play Wilson and Clinton respectively. West Waterloo, at the top of the heap, has only one more conference game to play and that with the east end representative of their own city later in the season. Davenport is host to Rock Island in a quad-city game, while the two Waterloo schools meet strong opponents in Ft. Dodge and Council Bluffs.

Coach, Squad Rebuild Track

As rain and a biting cold wind sweep out of the northwest, Coach George Bresnahan and his track team labor diligently to complete the rebuilding of the Iowa cinder path. The inclement weather and condition of the track bid fair to cause a postponement of the intrafraternity track meet this week.

The track, now in the third stage of reconstruction, will be one of the finest in the country when fully completed. A feature of the track is the new steel rail curve. This curve, the only one in the United States, gives the track greater durability, more accuracy and increased drainage. Along the steel rail curve the track will have a width of 33 feet and a straightaway of more than 220 yards.

Coach Bresnahan stated last night that uniforms are still being issued and that some of the members of the varsity are working out individually. Freshman practice, however, has been held up by the bad weather and few have reported as yet. Despite weather conditions the cross country team is having its daily work-out.

When asked as to the time of completion of the track Bresnahan said, "Young man, I have been trying to answer that question for six years and am not able to do it yet."

Look Here! Figures Show Iowa Grid Strength

Iowa's football team, according to the official statistics released yesterday, is leading its opponents nearly two to one in first downs made against three rivals so far this season. In touchdowns, however, the fighting Hawkeyes are trailing, three to five.

The Hawkeyes have garnered 622 yards in every department, while their opponents have gained 401 yards. The Iowans' running attack has netted them 432 yards to their opponents' 219. In passing, the Iowans have a slight edge also.

Good Pass Average
The Hawkeyes have completed 12 out of 29 forward passes thrown to the opponents' 10 out

Gould Starts Picking Stars

Line Play Stands Out in Early Season Games; Harris' Play Lauded

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—It's still a trifle early in college football's annual rodeo to distribute the all-star accolades with much degree of conviction. The crucial tests have yet to be passed but October's swift pace already has produced a flock of individual headliners, some of whom may be hard to overtake in the stretch drive.

Rugged and effective line play, with an unusual wealth of fine erds, features this week's Associated Press roll call, first in a weekly series preparatory to selection of the 1937 All America combination.

Ball carriers continue to grab the spotlight or excite the popular imagination, but close students have thus far observed a higher calibre of line play than at any corresponding stage of the past few seasons. The work of the hard charging forwards was primarily responsible for such upsets as Syracuse, Fordham and Carnegie achieved at the expense of Cornell, Pittsburgh and Notre Dame, respectively.

"Seven Blocks of Granite"
Teeth jarring tackles by Fordham's current edition of the famous "seven blocks of granite," including charter members in Wojciechowicz, Franco and Barbarsky, stopped Pitt's attack, one of the best in the country, and dimmed the ball carrying prowess of Marshall (Biggie) Goldberg.

Marty Glickman, Syracuse Olympic sprinter, scored the two touchdowns that beat Cornell, but Ossie Solem's aggressive line refused scoring threats by the big red powerhouse. Carnegie's center and captain, Charles Miskewics, was the No. 1 answer to Notre Dame's failures in scoring territory.

Monky Leads 'Bama
Alabama's big but speedy forwards, led by a star guard in Captain Leroy Monky and flanked by two sterling ends, Warren and Shoemaker, softened Tennessee for the versatile exploits of Joe Kilgore, a great running and passing back.

Columbia's triple threat back, Sid Luckman, has turned in three wonderful performances in succession.

Frank Outstanding
Yale hasn't forgotten Larry Kelley, but the Elis already have uncovered a glue fingered replacement in Johnny Miller, whose scoring catch of one of Clint Frank's passes helped beat Army. Frank, all America choice for left halfback last season, remains the dynamo of Yale's offense, and a 60-minute player who knows all the answers.

Other ends who have caught critical eyes thus far: Jordan, Georgia Tech; Holland, Cornell; Huggins, Duke; King, Minnesota; Eershak, North Carolina; Hamilton and Benton, Arkansas; Dreher, Denver; Kelker, Western Reserve; Benz, Wisconsin.

Gophers Lose Uram
Minnesota lost a potential all America ball carrier when the of 27. They have intercepted five passes while their rivals intercepted four.

Edward McLain, sophomore fullback, although withheld from the Wisconsin game, is still leading Iowa ground gainers with 99 net yards in 26 tries, for an average of 3.80. Bill Gallagher, plunging halfback, has amassed a total of 80 yards in 22 attempts, for a 3.63 average. Glenn Olson has garnered 26 yards in 8 attempts, for an average of 3.25 yards.

Iowa has a good edge in kicking, with punts averaging 44.5 yards to opponents 37.1. Iowa kickers have booted a total of 980 yards in 22 attempts, while in 31 trials rivals have compiled 1152 yards.

Powerful Lone Tree Gridders To Play Irish

The Irish of St. Patrick's have won their letters as the result of a victory over Wilton Junction last week, but they really have something on their hands this week when they meet Lone Tree Friday.

The tackles come big and strong, as usual. Among those in the front ranks so far: Matisi, Pittsburgh; Franco and Babarsky, Fordham; Toll, Princeton; Shinn, Pennsylvania; Midler, Minnesota; Kinard, Mississippi; Gatto, Louisiana State; Shirey, Nebraska; Harris, Iowa; Sprague, Southern Methodist; Kevorkian, Harvard; and Hale, Texas Christian.

Judging from comments by Coach Ryan, the Irish prospects in this game are anything but bright. So far this season the Lone Tree outfit has been very impressive, winning all of their games by large margins. An example of their offensive ability is the 74-0 score they compiled against Wilton Junction.

Last night Ryan expected to send his men through a scrimmage with U-Hi, but his plans were cancelled by bad weather.

Irish Improving
In games thus far this season the Irish have lost four and won one. However, they have been improving with each game and should be in top form for their battle with Lone Tree Friday.

It is not certain as yet whether "Fozzy" Niebauer will be allowed to compete in this game, but if Lone Tree gives its permission the lineup will be greatly strengthened. "Fozzy" holds down one of the end positions and is very adept at catching passes which would bolster the Green and White offensive game considerably. This is "Fozzy's" ninth semester in high school.

Newbiggen Shines
In Monday's practice, Don Newbiggen showed more speed and deception in his running than he has all season, and if he keeps this up he will be a real threat Friday. Walden, who is the sparkplug of the Irish backfield, received a head injury in the last game but is expected to be able to play in Friday's fracas.

Allen Hurley put his freshmen through a series of physical capacity tests.

Out to Beat Varsity, 25 Frosh Paddlers Begin Semi-Weekly Drills at Fieldhouse

Twenty-five freshman swimmers are reporting to Coach Al Hurley twice a week for practice. With the given threat to beat the varsity before the season closes, the frosh tank men are progressing rapidly as a squad.

Crawl stroke men are plentiful, with many likely candidates for next year's varsity among them, while the backstroke and diving entries are fewer although of good quality.

Iowans Predominant
Contrary to precedent, only two of the freshman swimmers are out-of-state men. For the first time in some years, native Hawkeyes almost completely dominate the squad.

Adding confusion to the coaching duties is the fact that six men on the squad answer the call of "Bob."

Included on the squad is Jim Haskins, Des Moines, whose two brothers earned letters in the Hawkeye tank and Bob Leighton, Ft. Dodge, another crawl stroker, whose father was an "I" man.

Competitions Close
In the breaststroke the competition is close, with Merlin Armbruster, Iowa City, and Lincoln Stewart, Des Moines showing good possibilities. In the backstroke and diving classes the competition is so close that no particular man could be named as outstanding in the group at present.

24 Schools In Cross Country Meet Saturday

Prep Competition For Three Classes In Harrier Clash

Twenty-four school have sent in entries for the state high school cross country meet which will be run over the University of Iowa's 1.9 mile course Saturday morning.

The meet will be run in three separate races, with schools of the same class competing against each other. Last year the race was run without class distinction.

East Des Moines Strong
Oskaloosa, winner of last year's meet, is expected to be up against some stiff competition in East high of Des Moines, who walked away with the class A championship in the state mile team race two weeks ago. Nashua and University high of Iowa City will probably be near the top battling for the class B title. LeClaire, winner of the class C championship in the state mile team race, is expected to make another strong bid for class honors.

Late Entries Probable
Coach George Bresnahan, director of the meet, said Tuesday that 24 schools had entered a total of 160 boys, with the possibility that several more schools will enter later.

To date, the roster includes 11 schools in class A, seven in B, and 5 in C. There will be a team and individual championship awarded in each enrollment class.

The entries are as follows: Class A: Iowa City, Franklin, Wilson, McKinley and Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids, Ft. Madison, Bluffs and Bob LaBarre, Algona.

Breaststroke: Bill Hillis, Iowa City; Merlin Armbruster, Iowa City and Lincoln Stewart, Des Moines.

Backstroke: Dale Williams, Newton; Marvin Brown, Wilton Junction and Russell Engstrom, Moline, Ill.

Diving: Bob Hurst, Sioux City; Howard Clark, Burlington and Bob Winter, Davenport.

Kistler Becomes New Freshman Basketball Coach

J. W. Kistler, former University high football and basketball coach, was appointed the University of Iowa freshman basketball coach by E. G. "Dad" Schroeder yesterday.

In six years as coach at University high, Kistler produced teams with excellent records in football and basketball, and also acted as athletic director for the school.

During this fall he has been assisting in the coaching of the university freshman football squad, and will take over his new basketball duties at the end of the present gridiron season.

Ottumwa, Burlington, Ames, Oskaloosa and East Des Moines.

Class B: Nashua, Vinton, Lamont, Moville, University high of Iowa City, Mechanicsville and Thompson.

Class C: LeClaire, Conesville, State School for Blind, Vinton; Finchford Consolidated of Janesville and Clarence.

Will Complete Community Building in Four Months

Will Finish Community Center In 4 Months, Says Contractor

Council Takes $22,592 Smith-Burger Bid For Contract

Iowa City's modern community center will probably be completed in four months, Herman Smith, contractor, said last night.

Smith is a member of the contracting firm of Smith and Burger, 228 E. College street, whose low $22,592 bid for the general contract was accepted by the city council last night.

Work on the project will probably start within a week, Smith said. The contractors must sign the contract and furnish bond before work can officially start.

The $2,525 low bid of the Law company, 227 E. Washington street, to install plumbing in the building was also accepted by the council.

The electrical work will be done by the Jackson Electric company, 108 S. Dubuque street. Their bid was $1,779.10.

Bids on the painting contract will be considered at a special council meeting later this week, it was decided. The bidders will be Stillwell's Paint store, 216 E. Washington street, and Gilpin and Whiter's, 208 E. College street.

The community center will be erected upon the site of the partially-destroyed American Legion building, Gilbert and College streets.

The former American Legion building was gutted by a $45,000 fire in July, 1936, and the wreckage has been exposed to the weather since then.

An application for a $400 WPA grant to clear the debris before reconstruction is pending federal approval.

A $35,000 bond issue for the building's reconstruction was sold recently to the White-Phillips corporation of Davenport.

Madison Street Paving Project Is Satisfactory

The Madison street paving project has been satisfactorily completed, Harold Monk, who as acting city engineer supervised the work, told the city council last night.

The cost of the project will be $18,759, according to Monk's figures. An additional $273 must also be paid for advertising and supervision.

The project, which includes paving on Davenport street and two alleys, was completed by the William Horrabain Contracting company.

Monk Gives Permit To Rebuild Porch

City Inspector H. J. Monk yesterday issued a building permit to Vance Carlton to rebuild the back porch on a house in East Iowa City at an estimated cost of $100.

Parade
I've been hearing much talk breezed about these last few days about the possibility of a Homecoming parade through the downtown streets Nov. 6 — a practice which, in passing, was a popular one not many years back. . .

Seems to me an idea worth consideration. . . Anything to put the kind of homecoming spirit I saw at Wisconsin Saturday in the Iowa celebration would be a move in the right direction. . . Perhaps, I'm thinking, one of the local merchants or one of the local service clubs not already contributing to the decoration contest could offer a cup or cups to the sorority, fraternity or dormitory which entered the best float. . . The whole idea is a practice most schools our size follow anyway. . . Why not here?

Any project that brings 40,000 to 50,000 revelers and thousands of dollars of business to a community this size in a single week end is worthy of complete backing by every citizen—and certainly every student as well. . .

If you approve the suggestion, I'd like to have any suggestions for making the parade project a permanent part of the Homecoming tradition at Iowa. . .

"Noblesse Oblige"
Jay Franklin's column printed in yesterday's papers should be engraved in sheepskin and presented with the degree to all college graduates, I'm thinking. . . He writes on "noblesse oblige"—which means, according to Franklin, "that the people who get the breaks from American society should in turn give American society the breaks."

It's something most—and those who are getting the "breaks" are the college students — never remember. . . "Instead of recognizing any moral obligation to a country which has given them a head-start, they assume that their own superior virtues and abilities are solely responsible, and use their special advantages for self-enrichment and self-advancement."

Indictment
"The greatest single indictment I know of collegebred classes," Franklin continues, "is that the overwhelming majority go in for business and the profession on a money-success basis and become iron-clad supporters

Set Date For Sorlien's Trial In Drain Death

Headlining the 12 cases assigned for trial in district court Oct. 27 is the O. C. Sorlien case, in which Sorlien, a Mason City resident, is charged with manslaughter as a result of an accident in which Dr. C. L. Drain, acting director of the University of Iowa bureau of dental hygiene, was fatally injured, four miles north of Iowa City on U. S. highway 161.

Sorlien was indicted by the Johnson county grand jury in September. Since then he has been free on bond. Charges of drunken driving were prevalent among the remaining 11 cases.

May Purchase Police Cruiser

Mayor Myron J. Walker last night appointed Councilmen Clarence Beck, John Grady and R. J. Phelps as a committee to consider whether a new police car should be purchased or the present one repaired for further use. They will report at the next council meeting Nov. 5.

Police Chief William H. Bender was authorized to order a police radio from the Collins Radio company of Cedar Rapids by the city council last night.

Fifty per cent of the transmitter's cost of $796 will be paid by Johnson county and the remainder by the city.

The short-wave radio, which will be installed in the police station for instant communication with the cruising police car, will have 50 watts power.

The radio will transmit on a frequency of 2,466 kilocycles, according to a license issued recently by the federal radio commission.

of the status-quo. . . For one Roosevelt who goes through Groton and Harvard to a career of public service, there are a hundred miniature Morgans and vest-pocket Vanderbilts who sweep on to a career of private enrichment."

To which I, of course, add my own humbly-felt endorsement, recalling meanwhile William James' definition of all education as "an ethical awakening," thus saying in three what most have failed in 500 words. . .

Kiwanis Names Nominees In First Balloting

Dane and Stark Placed In Line for High Club Office

Primary balloting at the Kiwanis club meeting yesterday resulted in the names of H. J. Dane and Herald Stark being placed in nomination for the Kiwanis presidency, while Prof. H. J. Thornton and Prof. Frank L. Mott were nominated for the vice-presidency and E. B. Raymond and Ben S. Summerwill, for treasurer.

The following Kiwanians were nominated for the five directors' positions:

Prof. Mason Ladd, the Rev. Edwin E. Voigt, Dr. Ray V. Smith, Prof. F. T. Mavis, Edward S. Rose, Dean Ewen M. MacEwen, H. H. Gibbs and Albert B. Sidwell.

Final Balloting
Final balloting for officers, whose terms will begin Jan. 1, will occur Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Welsh church southwest of Iowa City. The annual election will follow a chicken dinner for members and their wives.

An exchange of guest speakers between the Iowa City Kiwanis club and the West Liberty Rotary club brought Robert Brooke, a West Liberty attorney, to the Kiwanis meeting yesterday.

Attorney Brooke spoke briefly on the topic, "Whence Morality Came." Prof. Mason Ladd appeared at the Rotary luncheon at West Liberty at the same time as a representative of the Kiwanians.

Urges Cooperation
Attorney Thomas E. Martin, director of the community chest drive, spoke briefly at yesterday's Kiwanis meeting. He urged cooperation in the coming chest drive.

President Ernest Jaqua of Scripps college of Claremont, Cal., a guest of Dean George F. Kay, president, also spoke briefly.

Guests present at the luncheon yesterday were O. F. Serviss of Indianapolis, Ind.; Brooke, Attorney Martin, Prof. C. T. G. Looney, A. L. Alwell of Rutland, Vt., and Ernest Jaqua.

first today to reach the crumpled plane from the ground and to determine definitely that all its occupants were dead.

"The front part of the plane had been burned as though the gasoline tanks had exploded when the ship struck," he said.

"Several of the bodies apparently shot out through the nose of the ship, and some of them were buried in deep snow."

Bill McDougall, Salt Lake City newspaper man, said "the right motor hurtled 200 feet forward up the ridge, and the left came to rest 150 feet forward. In between, buried in deep snow, were bodies, seat cushions, blankets and other evidence of terrific impact.

"The plane struck on a ridge between two peaks. It sheared 10 pine trees as though they were matchwood."

The plane was 15 miles south of its regular course. Observers conjectured a sudden blizzard had swept it into the unpopulated, remote mountain country.

Manning the ill-fated craft were Pilot Earl Woodgerd and Co-Pilot John Adams of Denver and Hostess Leah Derr of Salt Lake City.

Injured Man Asks Hospital Expenses In Council Petition

Jack O'Brien of Iowa City, injured in a fall while repairing an overhanging sign last summer, requested payment of hospital expenses from the city council last night.

O'Brien, in a petition to the council, said he fractured an elbow, a pelvic bone and heel while repairing a sign over the sidewalk at the Larew Plumbing company, 227 E. Washington street. The sign was improperly erected, O'Brien claims. He said he was confined in Mercy hospital for 30 days.

The matter was referred to the City Attorney Robert Larson.

Martha Enochs A.A.U.W. Guest

S.U.I. Chapter Holds Special Luncheon; 23 Present

Martha C. Enochs of Jackson, Miss., was guest of honor yesterday at a noon luncheon at Iowa Union foyer at which the board and members of the American Association of University Women entertained. Twenty-three women were present.

Miss Enochs is director of the southern section of A.A.U.W., which includes Mississippi, Kentucky, Louisiana, Alabama and Tennessee, and is in charge of organizing branches of the club. She spoke at the luncheon on some of her experiences in organizing clubs.

Miss Enochs organized one branch while traveling in an airplane from Los Angeles, Cal., to Jackson. At Montevallo, Ala., she began another branch just as the king of England was abdicating. "I didn't realize I had chosen such a momentous occasion," she said.

Miss Enochs came to Iowa City to gather ideas for programs for her section. Prof. Norman C. Meier of the psychology department will go to Louisville, Ky., to speak on the psychology of art program of the branch there.

Miss Enochs arrived in Iowa City Monday and expects to leave Friday. She has been visiting the University pre-school and the Child Welfare Research station. She is one of the two women on the board of education of Mississippi and was appointed for a nine-year term.

Bill Robinson, the Negro tap dancer, lists as his only hobby "ice cream."

Society Will Make Fall Festival Plans

The Altar and Rosary society of St. Patrick's church will meet in the school gymnasium tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. to make plans for the fall festival Nov. 3.

Style in the Stadium

Ann Rutherford, Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer star of "Live, Love and Learn," demonstrates a classic method for keeping a football date's mind off the game. Ann cheers for the home team in a coat and dress ensemble of amber basketweave. Square knock-on-wood buttons march down the front of her dress, and everything else is notched - collar, pockets and coat revers. Ann has an amber breton and a goatskin bag to match her suit and dark gloves and pumps for a contrast. For chilly November days when the wind whistles through the stadium she'll be wise to change her coat for a warm fur swagger or belted polo coat. But whether the day is freezing or just brisk she'll be ready to appear in style at an after-the-game tea dance or coffee hour.

Old Friends Agnew Popular With Iowa Dancers

Iowa students, partying with Wisconsin homecomers last Saturday night, had a preview of what's in store for them next week end.

Charlie Agnew, who will start the fireworks Friday night at the beginning of Iowa's Dad's day celebration played for Wisconsin's party after the football game with Iowa Saturday. More than 350 tickets for the I-Blanket Hop, Agnew's next night at Iowa, had been sold by yesterday.

"It will be just like coming back home to play for you," the cheerful bandmaster told Iowa students as they stopped to talk with him at the Wisconsin party.

Agnew's popularity here has called him back for several repeat performances in the last few years. He played at the Spinster Spree and the Mecca Ball in 1935 and at the Aesculapian Frolic last year.

Several of the musicians in the band are former Iowans. Agnew's first successes were in Des Moines.

He is on tour in the middle-west now and will arrive here Friday for the I-Blanket Hop.

Missionary Society Postpones Meeting

The meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church scheduled for Thursday has been postponed to Nov. 3.

The meeting will be a session of the groups of the surrounding towns and will be an all-day affair. It will take place in conjunction with the monthly missionary meeting.

Miss Rohrbacher Gets Y.W.C.A. Post

Charlotte Rohrbacher, A3 of Iowa City, was appointed conference chairman of Y. W. C. A. cabinet, it was announced yesterday.

Jane Anderson, A3 of Cedar Rapids, was also appointed to fill a vacancy on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

PERSONALS

New Wedding Announcements Include Graduates of S.U.I.

A. C. Sorenson Weds Margaret Bagley In Davenport

Recent announcements of weddings include those of several former university students.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Margaret Bagley of Chicago to Dr. A. C. Sorenson of Davenport, son of Mrs. Amelia Sorenson, 935 E. College street.

The ceremony was performed in Davenport Saturday in the office of Justice Elmer Beston, who officiated. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bechtel of Davenport.

The bride wore a brown silk ensemble with brown hat and accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of Talisman roses, and pom-pom chrysanthemums in the autumn shades.

The bride received her education in the Davenport schools and the nurses' training school of the Washington Boulevard hospital in Chicago.

Dr. Sorenson is a graduate of the college of medicine of the university. He has been practicing his profession in Davenport for seven years and the couple will make their home there.

Campbell-Readinger
The marriage of Ethel Marie Campbell, daughter of Mrs. L. L. Campbell of Bridgewater, to Dr. Ivan Readinger of Guthrie Center took place June 27, 1934, in Bentson Harbor, Mich., and has just been announced.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Readinger were graduated from the university. They are now living in Oklahoma City, Okla., where Dr. Readinger is internist at the university hospital.

Netolicky-Helmer
Alma Netolicky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Netolicky of Mt. Vernon, and Glen G. Helmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Helmer, 1014 E. Market street, were married Monday in St. Mary's rectory in Lone Tree.

For the last four years Mrs. Helmer has been employed at the City bakery. Mr. Helmer has been employed at the Engle Ice company and the Pastime theater. The couple will live in an apartment above the City bakery.

Van Damme-Douglass
In a ceremony performed Friday in the Immaculate Conception rectory in Cedar Rapids, Mary Van Damme, niece of Mr. and Mrs. August Venhorst of Cedar Rapids, became the bride of Ben Douglass, son of Mrs. F. B. Douglass of Cedar Rapids. The Rev. Maurice A. Mullin officiated.

After a reception in the Venhorst home the couple left for Maplewood, Mo., where Mr. Douglass is head coach in the senior high school.

Mrs. Douglass attended the Immaculate Conception high school in Cedar Rapids. Mr. Douglass is a graduate of Grant high school in Cedar Rapids and Grinnell college. He has studied for his master's degree in the university.

James-Yoder
Mildred James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James of Wellman, was married to Lester W. Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Yoder of northwest of Kalona, Monday in the East Mennonite church north of Kalona.

The bride's gown was of white satin and her corsage was of lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor was Marjorie Yoder.

Mrs. Yoder attended the Wellman schools and for the last year has been teaching in a rural school near Wellman. Mr. Yoder attended the Kalona high school and the university. For the last year he has been employed by the Co-operative creamery in Wellman where the couple will live.

HOSTESS HINTS

Wheat has been called the staff of life, and so it is, for bread is used in many attractive ways today. In many foods in which you would least expect to find bread, it is one of the most important ingredients. Cabbage leaf rolls, toasted mushroom sandwich and butterscotch pudding, the recipes for which are given below, are but three of the many delicious recipes which require bread.

Cabbage Leaf Rolls
1 small head of cabbage
1 pound ground beef
1-4 pound ground pork
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups soft bread crumbs
Brown sugar

Core cabbage and parboil about 10 minutes, just long enough to make the leaves soft and pliable. Mix together the remaining ingredients except the sugar. Drain cabbage and break off the leaves. In each leaf place a portion of the meat mixture. Fold the leaves neatly around the meat. Place in baking pan, cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour. Remove cover, sprinkle with brown sugar and return to the oven for 15 minutes.

Fad--Costume Jewelry Now

Idea Inspired By Jewel Cases, Chests And Artists' Studios

By ADELAIDE KERR
NEW YORK (AP) — This season sees the greatest vogue for costume jewelry the fashion world has known in years. Victorian chests, the studios of modern artists and European jewel cases have been raided for inspiration in the design of intriguing baubles that range from cameo lockets to jeweled bugs. You will be wearing them on throat and wrist with almost every frock before snow flies. The 1937-38 mode of black-form-fitting frocks is said to have done much to inspire the jeweled vogue.

Necklaces Important
It has brought necklaces back to a brighter place in the fashion sun. This year, with high necked frocks, they are being worn at the base of the neck with the collar of the frock showing above. Pearl and gold bead necklaces of many strands, antique lockets that swing from heavy chains, and ropes of coral and turquoise are much in vogue. Bracelets and earrings to match are smart. And much that glitters is gold. "Antique" brooches, necklaces of tinkling temple bells and massive modern bracelets are made of the metal Midas loved. Its simulation fashions a veritable jewel mountain of others so modestly priced that even slim purses can afford them.

Back To The 1900s
The suave 1900s, that have left a mark on all fashions, are a big influence in costume jewelry designs. Brooches, clips and bracelets of cameo or onyx rimmed in pearls and set in gold, of carved jet or shimmering "garnets" are very smart.

Modern jewels such as clips of gold metal grapes, or bracelets strung with gold-framed canceled stamps and "romantic" pieces like jeweled feather pins are in the picture too. Together they offer a wealth of colorful accents for a simple dress. Try these suggestions on one of yours:

Wrap a rope of glittering gold beads around the high neckline of your form-fitting black frock. Let a locket dangle in a heavy gold plaque over the front of your favorite cocktail dress. Get a garnet star and set it shimmering at the décolletage of a dinner gown. Buy a bright jeweled bug for the lapel of your fall suit.

Dr. E. F. Cook Of Philadelphia Visits Pharmacy College

Prof. E. Fullerton Cook of Philadelphia, Pa., chairman of the revision committee of the United States Pharmacopoeia, visited the college of pharmacy yesterday afternoon. Professor Cook is a faculty member of the Philadelphia college of pharmacy. Mrs. Cook accompanied him. They are motoring to Seattle, Wash., where Professor Cook will speak at the dedication of a new building for the college of pharmacy at the University of Washington.

Pythians Will Meet

The rank of knight will be conferred on Attorney Arthur Leff and William Zeithamel at the meeting of the Knights of Pythias tonight at 7:30 in the K. P. hall. Following the ceremony refreshments will be served.

fresh mushrooms
One 3 1-2 ounce can pimientos
1 small slice onion
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
3-4 teaspoon salt
Cayenne pepper
Chop the mushrooms, pimientos and onion. Cook in melted butter in a saucepan over low heat for about five minutes, stirring occasionally. Sprinkle the flour over the mushrooms and stir until thick. Season with salt and cayenne. Cool. Spread slices of lightly buttered bread with the mushroom mixture. Put together in pairs and toast. Cut into strips and serve piping hot. The recipe makes two dozen small sandwiches.

Butterscotch Pudding
2 eggs, separated
1-2 cup brown sugar
1-8 teaspoon soda
1-8 teaspoon salt
2 cups bread cubes
1 cup coffee
1 cup milk
1-4 cup chopped nuts
Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Mix together sugar, soda and salt and add to yolks. Add coffee and milk. Pour over the bread cubes. Whip egg whites until stiff and fold into bread mixture. Pour into greased baking dish, sprinkle the nuts over the top and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until a knife comes out clean when inserted into the pudding.

Fifth Grade Pupils To Hear Dean Kay At Geology Building

Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts will talk on "The Glacial Period in Iowa" before the fifth grade pupils of University Elementary school in the lecture room of the geology building at 9 a.m. Friday. Dean Kay and his daughter, Marjorie, wrote a geography of Iowa a few years ago which is now being used in the fifth grade classes throughout the state.

Bartow Home From Europe

Attends Convention Of Chemists' Union Held in Paris

Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department, has returned from Paris where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of the International Chemical Union, of which he is a representative from the United States. Professor Bartow is vice-president of the union. The meeting was called to consider plans for the International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry to be held in Rome, Italy, May 14 to 21, 1938.

While in Paris he attended the 17th annual meeting of the Societe Chimie Industrielle during which the 20th anniversary of the foundation of the society was celebrated. He also attended a Congress of Physics, Chemistry and Biology held in connection with the Palace of Invention of the Paris Exposition. Delegates from foreign countries were present at these meetings.

Hope was expressed that a meeting similar to the one held at the Paris Exposition might be held at the coming exposition in New York in 1939.

Mrs. Bartow accompanied Professor Bartow on the trip. They were gone one month.

11 Appointments Made at First Council Meeting

Margaret Leeper, A2 of Waterloo, was appointed Y. W. C. A. representative to the student religious council at the first meeting yesterday. The council selected Harold Hemingson, C4 of Waverly, as the student chairman of the commission on social service, Hillis Hauser, A3 of Marshalltown, chairman of work with new students, and Dale Weeks, A4 of Indianola, student chairman of the commission on international relations.

Other members of the council include Deana Krantman, A3 of Marshalltown, president; Betty Bauserman, A4 of Des Moines, and Ben Biever, A4 of Council Bluffs, inter-church council representative. ### St. Mary's P.T.A. To Meet at School Building Tomorrow

Because of a conflict in dates the St. Mary's Parent-Teacher association will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the senior room of the school house instead of Friday.

The main topic of discussion will be "Approaching School." The discussion will be based on material taken from the national Parent-Teacher and Iowa Parent-Teacher magazines.

Mrs. George Suplee will outline the development of music from the early Christian era to modern time. Appropriate musical numbers will be given to show the stages of progress. Margaret Schindhelm will demonstrate correct record book methods.

The program will be in charge of the first and second grade

Club To Present Varied Program

Mrs. John Moorman and Mrs. H. H. McCarty will present a one-act comedy at the meeting of the drama department of the Iowa City Woman's club in the north conference room of Iowa Union tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

Grace Meyers will give a summary of new plays. The 15-voice verse-speaking choir of the Woman's club, directed by Mrs. M. M. Crayne, will present its first concert at the meeting. The choir is the first of its kind ever to be organized in Iowa.

The committee for the meeting includes Mrs. H. R. Ferguson, chairman, and Mary Donahoe.

Based On A Story by ARTHUR RICHMAN

Serialization by ALBERT DUFFY

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: Returning from a marital vacation during which he played poker with his old gang (His wife, Lucy, was told he was in Florida), Jerry Warriner finds that Lucy is not home. She returns with Armand Levelle, her handsome voice teacher. Returning from a dance, they explain their car broke down and they stayed overnight at an inn. Jerry will not believe that their accident was entirely innocent and, in the heat of the argument, they broke down and they stayed overnight at an inn. Jerry will not believe that their accident was entirely innocent and, in the heat of the argument, they broke down and they stayed overnight at an inn. Jerry will not believe that their accident was entirely innocent and, in the heat of the argument, they broke down and they stayed overnight at an inn.

Toots smiled warmly in their direction. She was wearing the costume of a belle of the Civil War days with a little plumed hat, lace panties, hoop skirt and she carried a tiny parasol. Toots began her song in a small, sweet voice. At the end of the first chorus Toots removed her bonnet and tossed it with her parasol aside. She continued to sing and then, with another graceful movement, she stepped out of her dress — hoop skirt and all. Jerry turned and smiled at Lucy. "Cute isn't she?" he asked and he started to applaud again. Toots turned toward their table — she was now wearing only a flimsiest of panties and a brassiere — and shook her finger roguishly at Jerry. "There," Jerry said triumphantly, "what's what I mean by elfin charm." Dan, who had been watching the performance, aghast, recovered his breath. His eyes were popping as he watched Toots. "Why never in all my born days," he began. "She can't possibly —" "You watch!" Jerry asked. At that moment two burly, rough-looking men walked out on the floor. "Hold it, sister," one of them said.

Chapter Three

With their engagement settled, Lucy and Dan began a feverish round of theatres and night clubs, for Dan had never been to New York before and was anxious not to miss a thing. They wound up one night in one of the smaller clubs on Fifty-second Street and had hardly been shown to their table when Jerry Warriner came and smiled broadly at them. "It's a small world, isn't it?" he said. "Lucy, I want you to meet a little friend of mine." Jerry turned to the vivid, platinum-haired girl beside him. "This," he announced, "is Toots Binswanger. Toots this is my wife, Mrs. Warriner and this is Dan Leeson the man she's going to marry." Toots smiled and tried not to appear too bewildered by the introduction. Jerry signaled the waiter to bring more chairs. "We'll stay for just one little drink," he beamed, "to celebrate your engagement." "You can stay, sugar," Toots said. "I must be getting back for my number." She smiled at Lucy. "Ah work here you see, an' it's almost time for me to go on. I'll be back as soon as I've finished." Toots nodded brightly and hurried off. "Charming girl, isn't she?" Lucy commented. "Does she sing well?" Dan asked. "Well, her singing isn't up to Lucy's," Jerry said gallantly. "But there's something more to Toots' work — a sort of elfin charm — a little something you can't see what I mean."

"I think I do," Dan said. "These Southern women have a sort of natural grace and Toots — I mean Miss Binswanger — is the exact opposite." "Exactly," Jerry beamed. "But enough of Toots. Tell me about yourselves." He turned to Lucy. "So you're going to live in Oklahoma? How do you like Oklahoma?" Jerry closed his eyes ecstatically. "Lucy, your a lucky girl. Is it to be Oklahoma City?" "Tulsa," Dan interposed. "Jerry was even more enthusiastic. "Ah, Tulsa. Peace at last, Lucy. Trail's End and Kismet. No more knocking around from one night club to another of an evening, no miserable prowling in New York shops. I shall think of you on every opening night and I shall say to myself, 'She's well out of it.'" "Jerry, you were marvelous," Lucy whispered under her breath. "Thank you."

Jerry winked at her maliciously. "Finest bit of perjury I've done in years," he muttered. "By the way, how is Armand Levelle?" "He found it out. That's all there was to it. Lucy is above suspicion and relief has been." "Mrs. Leeson sighed with relief. "I'm glad to hear you say that," she said. "I assumed Lucy's character was above reproach but, considering the prestige of the Leeson name in Tulsa, I just had to ask you."

"I'm sure," she said, with exaggerated sweetness, "I shall enjoy living in Tulsa." "Say, I've just remembered," Dan interrupted. "Lucy's been telling me about the coal mine you and she own jointly. I'd like to buy your interest in that mine, Warriner." "I don't know that I want to sell," Jerry replied. "I know that this isn't the place to talk about it," Dan continued. "I'm extremely interested. Could you discuss it with me tomorrow?" "If you insist," Jerry agreed. At that moment the lights went out. "Shhh!" Jerry admonished. "Here comes Toots." A spotlight stabbed the darkness and Toots stepped onto the floor. Jerry applauded enthusiastically and Lucy and Dan joined him politely.

As the detectives led the protesting Toots from the floor Lucy turned and smiled sweetly at Jerry. "What ever will you do with the next sixty days?" she asked. "Don't worry about me," he assured her. "I'll do all right."

The next afternoon Jerry met with Lucy and Dan Leeson, as he had promised, to discuss the sale of their coal mine. They had not been talking long when they were joined by Leeson's mother, an austere, forbidding looking woman obviously bending every effort to improve her social prestige. This afternoon she was unusually dour. When she had been introduced to Jerry she turned to her son, questioning. "Warriner?" she asked. "Did you say Warriner?" Dan nodded and looked slightly uncomfortable. "But isn't Lucy's name, also?" "Yes, Mother," Dan explained patiently. "This is Lucy's — er — former husband. We're discussing a business proposition."

Members Will Discuss Plans To Remodel Club House

Mayor Myron J. Walker will be the speaker at the bi-weekly meeting of the Elks club tonight at 8 o'clock at the club house. Mayor Walker, a retired naval commander, will speak on "The Significance of Navy Day."

Plans for a building and remodeling program at the local club house are still in the hands of the building committee. An additional report is expected at tonight's meeting. H. J. Reichardt is chairman of the building committee, the other members of which are M. B. Guthrie, Herbert Bates and Henry Louis.

The house committee will serve a lunch following the business meeting at which Gus A. Pusateri, exalted ruler, will preside.

Coach To Talk To Lions Club

Ernie Nevers, member of the University of Iowa coaching staff and former all-American back, will be the speaker at the Lions club meeting today at noon in Reich's pine room.

Robert Lorenz, club president, will preside at the luncheon meeting.

G. L. Marlas Paid $1,500 in Court Case

A settlement has been reached between counsel for the litigants in the claim of George L. Marlas against the estate of Tom L. Marlas.

The case has been heard in Johnson county district court by Judge James P. Gaffney.

A payment of $1,500 to George L. Marlas resulted in dismissing the claim against the estate. Two other cases involving the estate were likewise dismissed.

According to the provisions in the settlement, the court costs are to be divided equally between the litigants.

Community Chest Campaign Is To Be Formally Launched

Solicitors Will Get Last Minute Instructions At Luncheon

Iowa City's 1938 community chest campaign will be formally launched at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Jefferson hotel, according to Attorney Thomas E. Martin, campaign director.

Approximately 150 workers are expected to attend the meeting. Divisional directors in the campaign and members of the board of trustees of the community chest will also be present, Attorney Martin said.

Martin to Speak

The meeting is for the purpose of giving last minute instructions to the solicitors before the drive begins. No outside speakers are slated to address the group; however, Attorney Martin will speak briefly to the workers and staff in general, after which divisional heads will discuss final details of soliciting with their workers.

The meeting will be brief, according to Attorney Martin, so that more of the solicitors may attend. He expects the business discussions to be concluded by 1:30 p.m.

Directs Publicity

Announcement was made at campaign headquarters yesterday that William T. Hageboeck will direct the campaign publicity in the absence of Paul Ruth, who is out of the city.

In accordance with a motion passed by a joint meeting of the board of trustees and campaign division directors, the list of subscribers to the community chest who subscribe $10 or more will be published each week, after the complete returns are made by the solicitors.

Subscribers Grouped

The subscribers will be grouped for publication by divisions which are maintained in carrying out the campaign.

The divisions are University, University hospitals, professional, residential, business, employees, public schools and non-resident corporations.

Within each division the subscribers will be grouped according to the amount of their subscriptions as follows:

- $10 to $23 inclusive
- $24 to $49 inclusive
- $50 to $99 inclusive
- $100 to $500 inclusive

The amount of the contribution will in no case be published, emphasized Attorney Martin, but merely the name of the contributor.

Boys Form Cooking Club U. High 'Doughboys' Assume New Role, Learn Culinary Art

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach—" true enough, but sometimes he prefers to be responsible for his own indigestion and express himself in the culinary arts.

Fifteen of the boys who attend University high school have formed an organization called "The Doughboys." Its purpose is to give its members a chance to prove their supremacy in the kitchen as well as at the table.

The Doughboys operate under the following rules:

1. A prospective member must have attained the status of at least an eighth grader, or, in lieu of that, be a faculty member of University high school.
2. He must be unwed.
3. He must be of the male sex—"We don't know any girls who want to learn," say the Doughboys.
4. He must be able to prove satisfactory financial condition.

Because every club must have some means of raising enough money to keep it financially secure, another article of the con-

Boy Scouts Exert Wide Influence Over 400 To Participate in Iowa City Community Chest Drive

"Be Prepared" and "Do a Good Turn Daily" are the mottos symbolic of the citizenship and educational program which the Boy Scout organization communicates to its members.

The Boy Scouts are one of the six agencies participating in the Iowa City community chest. Next week when the 1938 campaign begins more than 400 men and boys will indirectly appeal to the people of Iowa City for contributions to the chest which will insure the continuation of the scouting program here.

Supplies Needed

The Iowa City Boy Scout area has been supplying a need in the lives of boys in this territory for more than 15 years. During this period more than 2,500 men and boys have had the advantages of the scouting program, according to Owen B. Thiel, local scout commissioner.

A report by Gordon L. Kent, district commissioner, shows that more than 400 men and boys have been enrolled in the scout troops during the last year; one-fourth of this number joined during the last 12 months.

Eagle Scouts

Beginning as a tenderfoot the scout passes tests and progresses through the ranks of second-class scout, first-class scout, star, life and eagle. The tests become more difficult as a boy progresses, qualification for the highest rank in scouting—the eagle scout—necessitating study and practice in 21 trades and professions.

The boy who has attained the rank of eagle scout as a result of earning his 21 merit badges has in reality completed a thorough course in vocational guidance, which may lead to the selection of his life work.

Six Iowa City scouts have achieved the highest rank in scouting during the last year. The boys are Bill Hills, Robert Hess Jr., David A. Armbruster Jr., Harold A. Hudachek, Scott Walker and Robert White.

Summer Camps

During the winter the scouting program includes regular weekly meetings, inter-troop competition, handicraft work, various religious and civic advancement projects and the passing of tests to advance their position of rank. With the closing of the schools, scouting activity becomes more intensified. Each summer the local organization conducts a camp at the Rotary Boy Scout reservation.

During the last summer 75 scouts and their leaders attended the three-week camping period. At camp many boys learned to swim. All out-of-doors activities were engaged in including intensive nature study.

Boy Scout Council

Men also take part in the scouting program as scout masters, commissioners and council members. Iowa City men who are members of the Boy Scout Council are Prof. Elmer W. Hills, president, Edward S. Rose, vice-president, Gordon L. Kent, district commissioner, Thomas Farrell, treasurer, Ray L. Short, council commissioner, Prof. Edward Bartow, Prof. W. J. Burney, Arthur J. Cox.

Attorney Thomas E. Martin, the Rev. Edward Neuzil, Attorney R. G. Popham, Ralph Reeds, A. B. Sidwell, Dean Wilber J. Teeters, County Attorney Harold Vestermark, Merritt Speidel, Dean C. A. Phillips, Dean Wiley Rutledge, Prof. J. J. Hinman Jr., and Harry Bremer.

This year the Boy Scouts have been allotted $3,990 as their portion of the community chest goal.
