BOARD GRANTS CASINO CABIN PLEA

Japs Seek Armistice; Dictate Peace Terms

Japan Suggests Powers Sound Out the Chinese

Nippon Fears Russians Will Send Troops To Aid China

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
PARIS, Oct. 28 (AP)—A high Japanese source disclosed to the Associated Press today what were said to be the minimum conditions on which Japan was willing to negotiate peace in China. This informant suggested interested powers, particularly the United States, start conversations looking toward an armistice, which he indicated the Japanese would like before intense winter cold begins in certain sections of China.

Japan, he said, was disposed to accept friendly conversations on peace in China and suggested the nine-power conference on the Chinese-Japanese war called for Brussels Nov. 3 might give interested nations a mandate to sound out the Japanese and Chinese governments on their minimum terms. The Japanese terms were said to be:

1. Temporary occupation by Japan of China's five northern provinces.
2. Creation of a neutral zone about Shanghai from which Chinese troops would be excluded and in which order would be maintained by an international police force of Japanese, American, British, French and Italian troops.

These terms, the Associated Press was informed, represented the views of Japanese diplomats in Europe and presumably those of the Tokyo government. The significant point of the Japanese attitude as understood here was that Japan intended to keep her armies on a line to the south of China's five northern provinces. The frankly admitted object of this was to prevent Russia from sending troops to China through Mongolia.

As the American delegation entrained for Brussels, the Japanese authority broached the idea of peace negotiations being opened simultaneously at Tokyo and Nanking.

Student Social Staff Announced For Next Year

The six student members of the university social committee were announced last night by Prof. Rufus H. Fitzgerald, director of the school of fine arts, chairman.

The three senior members are Herman Schmidt, A4 of Davenport; Bob Brooks, C4 of Dubuque, and Edward McDonnell, C4 of Davenport. The junior members are Harriet Ludens, A3 of Morrison, Ill.; Barbara Mueller, A3 of Davenport, and Robert Bell, M3 of Ollie.

Various groups on the campus submit their nominees, and the faculty committee makes the final selection. Each year three senior members and three junior members are chosen. The decisions are based on the grades, activities and character of the student.

Church Heads Flay 'Guzzling Women' At Boston Conclave

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—"Guzzling" women were decried today at the Methodist Episcopal church's council of cities.

"Go into public eating places and you will see women guzzling more liquor than men," said Dr. E. D. Kohstedt, executive secretary of the Board of Home Missions and church extension.

Dr. F. C. Moore, superintendent of Morgan Memorial Institutional Church of Boston, a welfare institution, told the delegates: "A deadly 'don't care' attitude is developing among the underprivileged youth of the city tenement districts reflecting the moral collapse which began with the World War and which is now reflected in degenerated home life.

"It used to be the fathers of the poor got drunk, but mothers held the children together. Now in a depressing number of cases fathers and mothers are both drunkards and children can go to the dogs."

Fierce Battles Near Shanghai Roll Westward

International Settlement Menaced By New Perils of War

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
SHANGHAI, Oct. 29 (Friday) (AP)—The tide of the great battle for Shanghai rolled westward today, bringing new perils to large sections of the International city.

Victorious at Tazang and Chapei, Japanese units were being steadily reinforced all along the northern bank of Soochow creek, the new front west of the International Settlement.

They apparently were awaiting the zero hour of an offensive designed to drive the Chinese back to new defense lines running through Hungjao, southwestern suburb, already under Japanese artillery fire.

The indicated area of the impending battle is a strip five miles wide, from Soochow creek on the north to the Whangpoo river on the south. Some of this territory is inside the British defense lines. The western districts of the French concession and International Settlement are threatened by the approach of the conflict.

Along the south bank of Soochow creek Chinese forces which had retreated from Tazang and Chapei, were preparing for a determined stand in a maze of trenches crisscrossing the fertile truck gardening area which supplies much of Shanghai's food.

Hungjao airdrome, about three miles southwest of Shanghai, was one of the principal Japanese objectives. There a Japanese naval officer and sailor were killed the night of August 9, a prelude to the Shanghai conflict.

For this reason the Japanese command assigned its capture to marine units, so they could avenge their naval comrades.

In Chapei an intrepid Chinese battalion continued its fight to the death against encircling Japanese forces, rejecting an Anglo-American offer of asylum within the International Settlement.

Torrential Rains, Swollen Rivers Menace Homes

By The Associated Press
One life was lost on the west coast and more than 200 families driven from their homes in the east last night by torrential rainstorms and flooded rivers.

A 60-mile gale lashed the coast of Washington, disrupting communications on the Olympic peninsula and causing one death. In the east, a steady downpour bloated the rivers of Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia, threatening a repetition of the floods that ravaged those areas early this year.

The situation at Cumberland, Md., became so menacing late in the day a company of the national guard was ordered out there for flood duty. The main business street stood under eight inches of water. The Potomac river continued rising, although at a diminishing rate. Downtown merchants moved their stocks to higher ground.

Half of Ridgely, W. Va., across the river from Cumberland, was under water. Up and down the Cumberland valley towns were inundated, schools were closed and residents were quitting their homes.

The river rose at Hancock and Williamsport, below Cumberland, and at the upriver mining towns of Kitzmiller and Shallmar, where 120 families were forced to seek higher ground.

But It's No Laughing Matter

This was one of the lighter moments at last night's hearing of the board of adjustment on the petition of Harvey Secor for the right to build cabins near his Casino roadhouse. Much of the time, Alderman George Bouck, second row, extreme right, was angrily denouncing the university for "trying to run Iowa City." Secor himself, front row, right, was intently listening to the proceedings or conferring with Attorney E. A. Baldwin, his lawyer, at his left. Attorney Thomas E. Martin, former mayor, extreme right on front row, has evidently just pulled a good one. Martin made several biting comments at the expense of Baldwin, former county attorney.

Mussolini Backs Hitler's Demand For Colonies

ROME, Oct. 28 (AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini today celebrated the 15th anniversary of fascism's rise to power with an open declaration for treaty revision that would give back Germany the African colonies taken from her at the end of the World War.

"Peace the Watchword
"Peace!" Mussolini declared was the watchword for the 15th year of fascist power. But he added: "For a durable and fruitful peace it is necessary Bolshevism be eliminated in Europe, starting with Spain. It is necessary some clauses of the peace treaties be revised.

"It is necessary a great people, the German people, have once more the place to which they are entitled and which they once possessed in the African sun."

First Open Declaration
The speech at Mussolini forum, in celebration of the 15th anniversary of the historic fascist march on Rome, was the first time Mussolini clearly and openly had thrown his weight behind Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's renewed struggle for colonial possessions for Germany.

Hitler first demanded return of Germany's colonies at the Nazi party conference at Nurnberg in 1936. Concentrated in Africa and the western Pacific, they form an area six times greater than the present Germany.

The African colonies to which Mussolini referred are now governed under League of Nations mandates by Great Britain, France, Belgium and the Union of South Africa and are German East Africa, German Southwest Africa, the Cameroons and Togoland.

Announces Year's Program
More than 100,000 blackshirt leaders heard Mussolini make what fascist commentators said was the announcement to the world of his program for the coming year. A German delegation led by Rudolf Hess, German minister without portfolio and Hitler's personal representative, was present.

Diplomats interpreted Mussolini's espousal of German colonial demands as the result of an agreement reached during his recent state visit to Germany by which Italy and Germany would march hand in hand in colonial matters.

Co-op Dorms Form Council For Activities

An inter-cooperative dormitory council, designed to widen the activities and place of cooperative houses on the campus, was organized at a meeting of the eight men's and women's organizations last night.

Plans for taking a more active part in university social affairs, campus elections and campus relations in general, were outlined. The organization will be a permanent one with weekly meetings.

James P. Egan, A4 of Missouri Valley, Manse, was elected chairman of the council. Other officers include Harold Hemmingson, C4 of Readlyn, Whetstone house, secretary-treasurer; Thomas M. Irvine, C4 of Galva, Gables, and Mary Margaret Schwab, A2 of Winchester, Ill., Breene house, co-chairmen of social affairs, and Don Lundberg, A4 of Red Oak, Wilson house, publicity representative.

The president and proctor of each cooperative dormitory will serve on the council. The other members, besides the officers are: Jeanne Watson, A1 of Council Bluffs, Tudor cottage; Claire O'Rourke, A4 of Dubuque, Tudor cottage; George W. Willoughby, G of Des Moines, Jefferson house; Everett Sterner, C4 of Bavia, Gables; Catherine B. Ascherl, A4 of Duncombe, Ill., Breene house; Elizabeth A. Berger, G of Wausau, Wis., Russell house.

Genevieve A. McCulloch, A2 of Cedar Rapids, Russell house; George A. Walker, A3 of Council Bluffs, Manse; Edwin B. Lancaster, A4 of Le Mars, Whetstone house; John Young Jr., A3 of Afton, Jefferson house, and Donald Kladtser, C4 of Newell, Wilson house.

Auto Crash Kills Six, Injures Two on Highway Near Vinton

VINTON, Ia., Oct. 28 (AP)—Six persons, including four generations of one family, were killed and three others injured near here tonight when two automobiles crashed head-on.

The accident occurred on a hill on state highway 218, five miles south of here, at 5:30 p.m. Two cars, one containing five Grundy Center, Ia., women and two children, and the other in which two Vinton brothers were riding, collided head-on.

County authorities could obtain no coherent account of the accident from survivors. They said they had located no witnesses.

The dead are: Mrs. Raymond Brown, 28, Cedar Rapids, Ia., an expectant mother; Marcia Lee Brown, 2, her daughter; Mrs. O. A. Newton, 82, Grundy Center; Mrs. Edward Shaw, 21, Grundy Center; Mrs. Harry E. Newton, 53, Grundy Center and John Roach, 70, Vinton.

The injured: Davey Roach, 50, brother of John, possible internal injuries and severe facial lacerations; Mrs. Art Robbins, about 50, and her son, Douglas, 3,

Harvey Secor's Casino Cabin Project Given Board's Approval

City Hall Jammed as Members of Board Of Adjustment Vote Three to Two In Favor of Disputed Proposal

BY MERLE MILLER
(Daily Iowan City Editor)

A vigorous, word-lashing battle ended in victory for Harvey Secor, proprietor of the Casino roadhouse, when the Iowa City board of adjustment last night climaxed an angry session by voting three-to-two to allow tourist cabins on the Casino property.

More than 200 Iowa Citizens jammed the city hall council chambers, hissing and booing while the Secor proposition was discussed. Overruling City Attorney Robert Larson's opinion that the board has no authority to grant Secor's request for the right to build cabins, Board Members Charles Chansky, Frank Belger and Jule Kasper approved the plan. Prof. F. G. Higbee and Attorney Henry Negus voted against it.

Chansky, booming charges at university morals, declared: "We're not here to decide some fool ordinance. We're here to do justice." Chansky is an old-time politician, a life-long democrat and a former city councilman.

"It's as corrupt as any place on earth," Chansky shouted, referring to the university. "Have you ever seen any of the moonlight dancing down at Iowa Union," he asked. "Well, I have, and I've never seen anything like it in my life. It's all the university's fault," he charged.

The last statement, shouted to the mingled hissing and applauding of those present, brought Prof. C. M. Updegraff of the college of law, assistant to President Eugene A. Gilmore, to his feet.

"I've attended some of those 'moonlight' dances," Professor Updegraff said. "The lights aren't very bright, but they are bright enough to see what's going on."

The meeting was held to act on Secor's application to amend a zoning ordinance which prohibits erection of business buildings in the residential district. An exception to the ordinance has already been made to allow Secor to build his roadhouse on its present site, just inside the city limits.

The "tourist" cabins Secor plans to erect have met with vigorous opposition locally, and several hundred persons had signed petitions protesting the proposal. At the first meeting of the adjustment board last week, university opposition—including the board of deans—was presented.

Councilman George Bouck, now serving his second term as alderman, last night entered the fight for the first time since he presented an ordinance to the council several weeks ago to allow the Casino in the business district.

"This is just another example of white-collar university interference against the rank and file of Iowa City," Bouck—long styled "no" man of the city council—told the board.

"The university controls practically everything in Iowa City," he charged. "The university wants plenty, and it takes it. But—when the city wants something—try to get it."

"Some day," he concluded, "we won't have to have board and councils in the local city government, and all we will have to do is ask the university for what we want."

"If the university has been trying to run the town," Professor Updegraff replied, "we certainly have had poor success." The university's purpose is not (See CABINS, Page 6)

Spanish Floods Defer Fighting

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, Oct. 28 (AP)—Flood waters of the Gallego and Ebro rivers today halted military operations in northeast Spain where the insurgent armies are attempting to end the civil war by cutting Valencia from Barcelona.

Military dispatches said government defenders had been forced to evacuate their trenches in the Pina Ozaera zone, southeast of Zaragoza, where intense artillery and infantry battles have been fought on the southern flank of the 100-mile front.

River Swollen
On the northern flank, below the French border, the Gallego was swollen to its highest crest in 20 years, military dispatches said, and overflowed into the government trenches in the Biescas and Sabinagosa sectors.

Reports reaching the border, but unconfirmed by war communiques of either side, declared fighting was general around Madrid. Dispatches said the insurgent Moorish troops had broken through government lines in the Usera sector of the long-besieged city and had advanced 800 yards along the Paseo de Rosales.

Government Attacks
The government concentrated its counter attacks in the University City area on the northwest, the dispatches said, while the insurgents drove against the southwestern barricades.

Iowa Debate Team Will Meet International Speakers Nov. 16

Holt And Hickman Will Defend U. S. Policy On Neutrality

Betty Holt, A3 of Iowa City, and Addison Hickman, G of Sioux City, will represent Iowa in the annual international debate Nov. 16. Prof. A. Craig Baird announced yesterday. This year they will meet David Seland-Jones of the University of Wales and Harold Munro of the Glasgow University.

They will discuss the question, "Resolved, that the United States should cooperate with Great Britain against Italy and Germany." Iowa will defend the negative.

This is the second time in the 16 international debates that a woman has been chosen as an Iowa representative. As a freshman Miss Holt was a member of the women's varsity debate team, winning the decision from the University of Minnesota.

Last year she participated in the western conference debate, against Wisconsin and Minnesota, winning the first and forfeiting the decision in the latter.

This will be Mr. Hickman's second experience as an international debater. In his freshman year, he was on the winning Iowa team at the Mississippi valley tournament and took first place in extempore there. He has participated in the western conference tournament for the last two years.

An Answer On Tourist Cabins

UNTIL LAST NIGHT we had believed Iowa City operated under a democratic form of government. Today we are not so sure. Three men thwarted the expressed will of several hundred Iowa Citizens for the will of one man when they voted that Harvey Secor can proceed with building his 17 tourist cabins.

Many men said things last night that they will later regret, and we believe the board of adjustment's three members who voted in favor of the Secor proposition ultimately will wish they had acted otherwise. All in all it is unfortunate that the incident has arisen, and it is particularly unfortunate that the fight has developed, for some few at least, in a "town and gown" battle.

We disagree with Alderman George Bouck, a councilman we have backed on former occasions, when he declares, as he did last night, that "This is simply a showdown between the university white-collared class and the rank and file of Iowa City."

It is nothing of the sort. By bringing forth such accusations, the main issue is being clouded. This is a fight to uphold the morals of a community, and most right-thinking Iowa Citizens would be as interested in keeping Harvey Secor's cabins out if the university were not here at all. It should be no battle of personalities.

This, we believe, is a fight for right, and despite last night's action we still believe right will win.

We cannot believe the University of Iowa is attempting to "run Iowa City," and when they bring up such trivialities as the number of ashes which the university gave local citizens last winter, we cannot believe the men who make such statements think so either.

Obviously, of course, the university could find many things on the campus which are not as they should be; but that fact alone is no reason for loosening the strings and giving opportunity for further criticism of the student body.

As almost any Iowa Citizen will admit, the university is not only the biggest but the only local industry. Iowa City—a town of 17,000—is known from coast to coast by the achievements or by the failures of the university. Harvey Secor's 17 cabins can do little to add to the prestige of either.

Next Friday when the city council hold a public meeting on the third reading of an ordinance to place the Casino property in the business district, we hope all of the several hundred persons who have signed petitions protesting the move will be present. We hope the city council will show its strength by voting against the ordinance and firmly reprimanding the adjustment board for its action.

If the board does not see fit to change its stand, then the matter will go to the district court. In the end, however, we believe Harvey Secor will not complete his cabins. Then Attorney Martin's prediction of "17 Little Casinos" will not come true.

Congratulations To City High School

WE WISH to speak a word of congratulation to Iowa City high school today. In the first place, today is homecoming at the school and in addition we feel that there is danger of Iowa Citizens overlooking—in their excitement over the university's Big Ten team—the fact that the local high school has one of the finest elevens in Iowa and has had for a number of years.

Until its recent defeat by the strong Franklin gridders from Cedar Rapids, Iowa City high had not been defeated on home ground for three years. The players have come out of that battle fighting, and there is every indication that they will win the game against the promising Marshalltown team tonight.

We want to assure Iowa City high school that all of Iowa City is behind it and interested in its progress. Many of us will prove that interest next week when we go to the polls to vote for a badly needed new building.

Meanwhile, we hope the team gets its victory tonight, but win or lose our hats are off to it.

Autumn's brilliantly colored leaves need not necessarily appear beautiful. It depends upon whether you see them clustered on the branch or all over your lawn.

Junior scoffs at the news report that the Russians consider their North Pole air expeditions a success. He points out they failed to locate Santa Claus headquarters.

Editorial writer worries because youth of Europe must bear the cost some day of increased armaments. Shucks, all the boys need do is join the army and let someone else pay the taxes.

Blind Man's Bluff—FORMER President Hoover recently gave an address. Almost immediately mud began to fly. New dealers lost no time sending out a general alarm. Despite his denial of any desire for another shot at the office of chief executive, this issue again became the focal point of attack. Some even plugged their ears and refused to listen to what they considered a "has been."

A few days previous to the Hoover speech, former Governor Landon spoke to the nation. Again cries of "has been" filled the air. Every form of personal vituperation accompanied the replies of the administration supporters. Again howls of "economic royalists" drowned out all else.

President Roosevelt makes another speech; he has made many recently. Again we find the usual barrage of dirt. Again we hear yelps of "dictator" and whines of "communism." No matter who airs his opinion on national affairs, he is much maligned by someone or other.

Criticism is well and good, but recent political exchange has consisted less of argument than of besmearing personalities. The attitude is taken by many that a man is either all good or all bad. Real issues are neglected. Little time is wasted, for example, in answering Hoover's charges, but plenty of time is spent in moaning to the moon over his alleged malicious designs on the presidency.

All of this would still have little effect if everyone concerned took such criticism with a grain of salt, but no such thing happens. John Q. Public glibly gobbles up all of the dirt that suits his liking, seldom taking time to investigate the matter. How often does the citizen read all of the text of the various addresses? How often does he consider both sides?

A true democracy can only be secured on the basis of toleration. A true democracy is absolutely dependent on individual thinking. We must all do our own analyzing. If we're big enough, we won't hesitate to accept constructive ideas of the other side.

To be sure, we must have leaders; but if we follow them blindly, we'll land up in some blind alley. Remember, in blind man's bluff it's the blind man who gets bluffed.

For attitudes "in conflict with duty toward the Reich," the Nazis have deprived 88 Germans of citizenship, including four children. Hitler won't take any sass—not even from the trawler.

An Englishwoman, age 81, has persisted in wearing a veil for the last 70 years. It took her a long time to get into style—but she has finally made it.

Red, according to a Chicago advertising expert, is woman's favorite color. Then why, the man at the next desk wants to know, do so many of them speed by it when driving a car?

The Hunting Season Is With Us Again!

Vitamin A Deficiency Causes Eye Diseases and Blindness

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. David Livingstone, the explorer, called Africa "The Dark Continent." There is just as much sunshine in Africa as any place else, so it is not clear exactly why he gave it this designation. One reason may have been that he found so many cases of eye disease among the natives. There were two kinds of ophthalmia, which he found—one due to trachoma, probably a germ disease, and the other due to lack of Vitamin A in the diet. Of course, Livingstone did not know about Vitamin A, but he did think the condition was due to dietary deficiency, and even in his day there was a little book published in Edinburgh called "A Treatise on Cod Liver Oil," in which it was claimed that cod liver oil would cure many cases of infection and running eyes in children. The condition is probably not common among your friends or the children of your friends, but wait until you have a nice war and you will probably find it. In 1907 Block, in Copenhagen, discovered dozens of cases among babies due to war conditions. Milk products were being exported to Germany, with the result that the Danish babies were not fed properly so they developed this eye disease. To this day in India, the most frequent cause of blindness in children is due to inadequate diet, lacking in Vitamin A. Another condition which is probably due to lack of Vitamin A is night blindness, which, as its name implies, is inability to see in a dim light. This has been known for a long time, ever since the days of the Father of Medicine, Hippocrates, who described it, and added as an extremely modern note that feeding ox liver would cure it.

Tuning In with Margie Fastenow

"Pop" Warner will lead the show tonight when the fast-moving Pontiac Varsity program travels to Temple university in Philadelphia for the fifth broadcast of this season's series of half-hour programs over the NBC-Blue network from 8 to 8:30. "Pop," now in his 43rd year of football, will be surrounded by campus talent consisting of everything from the university band to a student torch singer and composer. Ed Thorgersen, sports commentator who is picking the big football games twice weekly on Lowell Thomas' broadcasts on NBC, is doing some pretty accurate crystal gazing these days. Out of 16 major games of national interest, Thorgersen picked 14 winners, his two losers being the Minnesota-Nebraska and the Ohio State-Southern California games. Thorgersen, sports commentator for 20th Century-Fox's Movietone News since 1932, is appearing currently in the football musical "Life Begins in College" and is presented by Lowell Thomas at 5:45 every Monday and Friday.

General Notices

Graduate Students—Each student in the graduate college who expects to receive the master's degree, or the doctorate, at the forthcoming Convocation, Feb. 1, 1938, is requested, so far as he or she may not have done so heretofore, to procure for us, immediately, the official transcript of whatever graduate work he may have accomplished in another graduate school; so that this may be taken into the account in determining whether he or she fulfills the requirements for the higher degree sought. This should be done immediately since, otherwise, it is possible that we shall be unable to certify for graduation next February, a student who may have accomplished satisfactory graduate work elsewhere, just because we shall not have received the requisite official statement of it early enough. H. C. DORCAS, Registrar. "Iowa Transit"—Every undergraduate registered in the College of Engineering is entitled to a copy of the "Iowa Transit." Each engineer who did not receive his copy should call 3129 or leave a note in the Transit office. PARKE WOODWORTH, Circulation Mgr. Younkers tea room; Luncheon 12:30, Younkers tea room. Make reservations for the luncheon with Prof. E. S. Allen, Iowa State college, Ames. C. E. COUSINS, Secretary. Newman Mixer—All Catholic students at the University of Iowa are invited to attend a Newman Club Mixer on Friday, Oct. 29, from 9 to 12 p.m. at St. Patrick's Gymnasium, Linn and Court streets. All members are asked to bring the postal invitation that they have received during the past week. All non-members will be given an opportunity to join the Club which is a National Organization located on many college campuses. The Putnam Orchestra will provide the music for the dance. HERB McHUGH. Pershing Rifle—All Pershing Rifle active and pledges will report to the armory Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 2, at 4:15 p.m. They will report in uniform. CAPT. B. BLAINE RUSSELL. Zoology Seminar—The regular meeting of the zoology seminar will be held on Friday, Oct. 29, at 4 o'clock in room 307 of the zoology building. Dr. L. O. Nolf will discuss "Experimental Trichinosis." J. H. BODINE.

Recreational Swimming

The pool at the women's gymnasium will be open for additional hours of recreational swimming Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 4 until 4:45 from Oct. 27 until the close of the outdoor season, Nov. 17. MARJORIE CAMP.

February Graduates

Every student who expects to receive a degree or a certificate at the University Convocation to be held Tuesday, Feb. 1, 1938, should make his formal application on a card provided for the purpose at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, Dec. 11, 1937. It is of utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately, for otherwise it is likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester. Making application for the degree, or certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee ($15) and also the cap and gown fee ($1) at the time the application is made—the payment of these fees being a necessary part of the application. Call at the Registrar's Office for the card. The petition of the Association of Senior Class Presidents that a fee of $1 be assessed to cover the cost of caps and gowns for Commencement has been granted. Therefore, hereafter this additional fee of $1 is to be paid by each candidate for a degree at the time he pays his graduation fee. Heretofore the normal rental fee for bachelors' caps and gowns has been $2 and for doctors' caps and gowns and hoods $4-55. The service for handling the taking of orders, and the distribution of the academic apparel, will be explained to students when information about Convocation is sent out from the Alumni Office. H. C. DORCAS, Registrar.

Student Union

The first meeting of the American Student Union this semester will feature Prof. Herbert Feigl of the philosophy department as guest speaker. The meeting will take place Sunday, 7:30 p.m. in the north conference room of Iowa Union. Everyone is invited to attend. SECRETARY.

A.A.U.P.

There will be a meeting of the Iowa conference of the A.A.U.P. in Des Moines, Saturday, Nov. 6, Business meeting at 10 a.m.,

Sherwood

Despite the many stage hits he wrote that earned him thousands of dollars in royalties, Robert Sherwood, the tallest playwright on Broadway, still thinks one of the best plays he ever wrote was one that was a failure and probably didn't profit a penny. That was "Waterloo Bridge," the story of the homesick American soldier who finds love and loses it again during an air raid over London. Ironically, the first major feature on Broadway is in the lap of the Rockefeller, who has more money than anybody else. It was the lavish musical "Virginia" and it cost far more than any production on Broadway.

Irish Tenements

Somewhere in the West of Madison Square Garden is a block of red brick tenements, and almost all of the inhabitants are Irish. This might easily be designated as New York's Little Erin, except for the fact that you find Irish everywhere else. It is probably a fact that you could walk through the town and every third man you met would be touched with the Blarney of Kilkenney. Claiborne Foster's early forebears were governors of Louisiana. She is a contract bridge expert and writes plays under pseudonyms.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Maybe you haven't realized it yet, but you're supposed to be saying "Thanks a million" to Hollywood—and saying it with coin.

If you don't Hollywood will be in a sorry way. But Hollywood isn't worried about that, because it's pretty sure you'll do your part. Almost always, you have

This town is turning out million-dollar pictures with the conchance of a veteran gambler tossing in another stack of blue chips. Nearly 40 films, current or budgeted, will cost in the neighborhood of a cool million. Some will cost more. One is down for $2,000,000 ("Goldwyn Follies.")

Costs Have Rocketed—Quite a few pictures have cost that much and more, but not intentionally. The silent "Ben Hur" piled up troubles and took years to get back its $3,000,000-odd out. "Hell's Angels" cost $3,500,000, partly because of junking a silent version and microphoning it. The years have put the picture in the clear.

But only 23 years ago this village thought D. W. Griffith was cracked for sinking $105,000 into "The Birth of a Nation." That picture has grossed nearly $14,000,000. It was one of the first to show Hollywood that the more you spend the more you make. "It's gotta be big" is no mere wisecrack. It's gotta be big to get the kind of grosses and prestige Hollywood wants.

Griffith's picture, produced on comparable scale today, would cost approximately $1,100,000. Story, star, director, labor, material costs have rocketed. Lillian Gish got $250 a week then—big money. Irene Dunne, today, gets more than $100,000 per picture.

Cast Gets A Fourth—Much of the cost of a modern million-dollar movie is "insurance." Spending that much, the producer wants to be sure he has the right director, stars, story. Successful play or novel is one form of insurance. He'll pay what he must to get it, even if it's that staggering $250,000 for the play "Room Service" or $200,000 for "You Can't Take It With You."

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Gangster funerals in New York seem a thing of the past. There was a time when a deceased gunman would be honored in the manner of a sovereign. His tearful colleagues, stylishly bedecked in automatics, purchased goldplated caskets, bought up whole floral shops and gave him a send-off unrivaled in Yankee graveyard statistics.

But those days went out with illegal booze. The rule now is to leave a fallen pal to the tender mercies of the coroner and porter's field, unless some relative intervenes.

Despite the many stage hits he wrote that earned him thousands of dollars in royalties, Robert Sherwood, the tallest playwright on Broadway, still thinks one of the best plays he ever wrote was one that was a failure and probably didn't profit a penny. That was "Waterloo Bridge," the story of the homesick American soldier who finds love and loses it again during an air raid over London. # S.U.I. Faculty Members Will Attend State Teachers Meeting

Annual Session Meets Nov. 4 In Des Moines

Education Professors To Speak; Forty-five Plan to Attend

Forty-five faculty members of the University of Iowa will attend the 83rd annual session of the Iowa State Teachers association meeting in Des Moines next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Speakers on the program include several staff members of the college of education: Prof. Ernest Horn, Prof. E. T. Peterson, Prof. F. C. Ensign, Prof. T. J. Kirby, Prof. E. F. Lindquist, Prof. Harry Newburn and Dean Paul C. Packer.

The German department will be represented by Prof. Erich Funke, head of the department, and chairman of the German section of the meeting, Prof. Meno Spann, Milton J. Cowan and George Schulz-Behrend.

Those attending the conference from the college of commerce are Prof. E. B. Reuter, Prof. H. H. McCarty, Prof. C. Woody Thompson, Prof. C. W. Hart, Mrs. Irene Malumud and B. M. Clineard. They will attend the meeting of the Iowa State Association of Economists and Sociologists which is being held jointly with the convention.

From the women's physical education department will go Prof. Marjorie Camp, president of the Iowa State Physical Education association, Loraine Frost and Janet M. Cumming. Prof. David A. Armbruster of the men's physical education department will serve as chairman of this section at the conference.

From the history department the speakers will include Prof. Winfred T. Root, head of the department, and Prof. W. Ross Livingston.

Prof. Franklin H. Potter of the classical languages department will be chairman of the language section. He will be accompanied by Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, head of the department, and O. E. Nybakken.

From the psychology department three members will speak. They are Prof. Ralph Ojemann, D. D. Feder and Prof. Ruth Updegraff.

Other persons attending will be Prof. F. C. Higbee, head of the engineering drawing department, Prof. Roscoe Woods of the mathematics department, Prof. W. F. Loehwing of the botany department, Prof. Harry G. Barnes of the speech department, Prof. Edna Patzig of the graphic and plastic arts department, Prof. C. J. Lapp of the physics department, Juan Lopez-Morillas of the Romance languages department.

L. W. Cochran, supervisor of visual instruction, Dr. W. R. Miller of psychopathic hospital, Dr. Arthur Steindler of children's hospital, D. D. Pettit of University high school, Bernice Stormes

Philo Club Asks New Students To Next Meeting

All new students who are interested in the Philo club are invited to attend a meeting Sunday at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of Iowa Union.

Donald Mallett, manager of the housing service, will appear on the program with several vocal numbers. A reading will be given by Brammer Carlson, a graduate assistant in the dramatic arts department. The Philo executive committee will be in charge.

Kappa Beta Elects Dorothy Yeager To Position of Historian

Dorothy Yeager, A2 of Ft. Madison, was elected historian at the regular monthly meeting of Kappa Beta, Christian church sorority, Wednesday at Iowa Union, Virginia Jones, A2 of Des Moines, president, announced yesterday.

The members of the organization were entertained by a presentation of motion pictures, some of which were in color, given by Reuben W. Scharf. The films shown were taken at the Boy Scout Pep Jamboree in Washington, D. C., last summer and at Niagara Falls.

To Address Seminar Prof. L. O. Nolf of the zoology department will address the regular meeting of the zoology seminar at 4 o'clock this afternoon in room 307, zoology building. He will discuss "Experimental Trichinosis."

From the history department the speakers will include Prof. Winfred T. Root, head of the department, and Prof. W. Ross Livingston.

Prof. Franklin H. Potter of the classical languages department will be chairman of the language section. He will be accompanied by Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, head of the department, and O. E. Nybakken.

Annual 2-Day Foundrymen's Conference To Begin Today; Numerous Engineers Expected

H. Bornstein To Speak At Dinner Tonight In Iowa Union

Engineers from all over the United States will gather on the campus today to take part in the two-day annual foundrymen's conference under the auspices of the college of engineering, the Quad city chapter of the American Foundrymen's association, the Northern Iowa Foundrymen's association and the American Foundrymen's association.

The conference will be officially opened with registration at 9 o'clock this morning in room 100, engineering building. Following registration an open meeting will take place in the chemistry auditorium when Dean F. M. Dawson of the college of engineering will extend an address of welcome. The response will be given by F. T. Bancroft, chairman of the Quad city chapter of the A.F.A. of Moline, Ill.

During the forenoon the group will be addressed by speakers on the general topic of sand problems. Mr. Bancroft, Harry W. Dietert, president of H. W. Dietert company of Detroit, Mich., and C. M. Hardy, president of Houghland and Hardy company of Evansville, Ind., will present the morning lectures.

At 12:30 members of the conference will lunch at Iowa Union, and the afternoon will again be devoted to discussions concerning testing and melting, and melting practice. Speakers for the afternoon will be A. V. O'Brien of the mechanical engineering department, H. L. Daach of Iowa State college at Ames, John Fielding of the mechanical engineering department; John Ploehn, works manager of French and Hecht, Inc., Davenport; Lewis D. McClaren of Republic Coal and Coke company of Chicago, W. R. Bean, vice-president of Whiting corporation of Harvey, Ill., and Garnet Phillips of International Harvester company of Chicago.

The committee in charge of the arrangements includes Mr. O'Brien; T. J. Frank, chairman of the Quad city chapter of Frank Foundries, Inc., of Davenport; E. A. Gullberg and Horace Dean, both of Deere and company of Moline.

Average salary of white-collar workers in New York City is $30.89 a week, a recent survey disclosed.

Engineers Outline Bridge Projects

Construction projects were discussed at the meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers Wednesday afternoon in the engineering building.

Newell Forbes, E3 of Walnut, presented a paper on "The Proposals for a Mackinac Straits Bridge," outlining the present inadequate system of ferries at the Mackinac Straits in Michigan and giving the plans for a $35,000,000 bridge to span the four miles and carry traffic 400 feet above the channel bottom.

Claude Hage, E3 of Clinton, described his work of the summer with the state highway commission in northern Iowa, building a new type of highway shoulder for reducing the hazards of heavy transportation.

Preparations that are being made for the San Francisco world's fair were discussed and explained by John Kearns, E3 of Keokuk.

Carl Rantow, assistant engineer at the Rock Island arsenal, will address the society regarding government work on the Mississippi river.

Have Report Published

Lothrop Smith and the late Prof. J. N. Pearce of the chemistry department had their report, "The Potential of the Silver Thiocyanate Electrode" published in the October "Journal of the American Chemical Society." Smith received a Ph.D. degree in chemistry here in 1931.

Baird Appoints Members For Debate Series

Ten Freshmen Named To Present Talks November 9

The members of the freshman intercollegiate debate squad were announced yesterday by Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of debate. Those on the affirmative are William Rivkin of Davenport, Richard McMahon of Ft. Dodge, David Sayre of Ames, Conrad Schadt of Williamsburg and Stanley Roberts of Osage.

Roland Christensen of Iowa City, Everett Miller of Mable, Minn., Bryant Prichard of Onawa, Gerald Siegel of Vinton and Robert V. Smith of Des Moines will compose the negative squad.

The squad will debate on the question, "Resolved, that the several states should adopt a unicameral system of legislation."

Each member will deliver an eight-minute speech on his side of the question before the forensics committee in room 7, Schaeffer hall, Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 7 p.m.

During the year the teams will compete against various mid-western high schools and junior colleges.

Charles Macklin, an English actor, played Shylock, late in the 18th century, at the age of 99.

Hartstall To Offer New French Book For Composition

Prof. Paul K. Hartstall of the Romance languages department has announced the publication of a new French textbook, "Si Nous Ecrivons", meaning "Supposing We Write".

Professor Hartstall and Prof. James C. Babcock of the Romance languages department of the University of Chicago collaborated in compiling the book.

one of the Heath, Chicago series published by D. C. Heath and company. The book will be used in courses in French composition offered by Professor Hartstall.

Attend Picnic-Mixer Approximately 150 commerce students attended the "get acquainted picnic" yesterday afternoon in the City park. Students attending were from the classes of Prof. E. G. Blackstone, Mary Ferro and Earl Strong.

Speeches Published Before Given!

Robert King Writes Research Article for Speech Journal

It is not through a stroke of magic that the newsboy on the corner is able to start peddling the words of a famous speaker before the words have been uttered. It's all part of a carefully planned system in which newspapers are furnished with the manuscript and have it set up in type and ready to roll before the speech has been delivered.

That there may be considerable variation between the prepared manuscript and the speech as actually delivered is shown in an article written by a University of Iowa student, Robert D. King, G of Sioux City. The article, "Roosevelt's Second Inaugural Address" was published in the October issue of the Quarterly Journal of Speech, official publication of the National Association of Teachers of Speech.

Through the assistance of Stephen Early, assistant secretary to President Roosevelt, and station WHO, Des Moines, Mr. King was able to compare the manuscript used by President Roosevelt in his inaugural address with the recording of the actual speech.

In this way he checked the instances in which the speaker inserted, omitted and substituted words and phrases, variations from the manuscript originally released to the press.

In this particular study he found that the president made 41 alterations in the original manuscript, although most of them were minor and did not distort the intended meaning. This amounted to a change of only 2 per cent, which Mr. King feels is a relatively small discrepancy. He calls attention to another speech made by the president of a large mid-western university, in which the discrepancy was considerably more than 7 per cent.

Mr. King is the first to point out and furnish actual proof that there is frequent variation or discrepancy between the manuscript and the spoken address, even among the best speakers. He makes it clear that as we read the speeches of the day, we should remember that "they are after all, what the speaker intended to say, though not necessarily what he said."

Hawkeyes Leave for Game With Purdue

Lazzeri Ends Twelve Years With Yankees; Signs Bruin Contract

One Year Pact Given to Tony

Former New York Yank To Act as Coach, Utility Player

By WILLIAM WEEKES CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Tony Lazzeri turned his back on a dozen sparkling years with the New York Yankees today to start a new career in the National league with Chicago's Cubs.

After an hour of conversation with Owner Phil K. Wrigley the solemn little Italian, second baseman and spark of the world champion Yankees' infield, signed a one year contract as utility player and coach. As per custom in such matters, nothing was revealed as to the terms of the contract, but Lazzeri, who drew an excellent salary with the Yankees appeared perfectly satisfied.

The brief ceremony cleared up one of the major league baseball's best "mysteries." Owner Wrigley arranged with the New York club for 34-year old Tony's release, so that he might deal with him openly. He had heard Lazzeri was ambitious to land a managerial job and invited Tony to come from his San Francisco home for a talk. The opening of negotiations inspired rumors that the former Yankee might replace Charlie Grimm.

Grimm Will Stay Wrigley, who has insisted all along that Grimm will pilot the club again next year, once more made it clear that he plans no change in that department. He repeated he thought Lazzeri, ranked as one of the smartest of players, would be a big help in the campaign to bring the National league championship back to Chicago. The Cub owner said Lazzeri was brought into the organization with Grimm's enthusiastic approval.

"This is just what I wanted," Lazzeri said. "I will be ready to play any time the Cubs need me, and I want to learn about this coaching business. It's a great opportunity. It will add a lot to my baseball future and gives me a start toward reaching my goal of managing job."

With Yanks 12 Years "It will seem kind of strange not to be with the Yankees again," he confessed. "Twelve years is a long time to spend with one club. But I feel just like I'm starting all over again. I get a kick out of that."

Lazzeri, who joined the Yankees in 1926 after establishing a reputation as a home run hitter with Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast league, polished off his American league career as one of the chief Yankee world series heroes. He led both the Yanks and Giants in hitting with a .400 average and handled 27 fielding chances faultlessly.

His batting average for 11 seasons was .279, and he had an unofficial mark of .245 last season, a part of which was spent nursing injuries.

He will start his return journey to San Francisco tomorrow or Saturday to arrive in time for a celebration in honor of himself and his former Yankee mates, Joe Di Maggio and Frankie Crosetti.

Dorms To Stage Cross Country Run Tuesday Afternoon

Intramural cross country track will get under way next week, with the co-op dorm runners scheduled to jog over the nine-tenths of a mile course Tuesday afternoon.

Fred Beebe, intramural program director, mailed out applications to fraternity, Quadrangle, and co-op athletic managers, yesterday.

The run, which will start at the north end of the stadium, will circle around the southeast part of the gold course, ending on the university outdoor track.

U-High Tackles West Branch 11

Blues Favored to Win; Three Players Out With Injuries

Undefeated in five games, University high will invade West Branch this afternoon in an attempt to add another victory to their record.

The Blue and White eleven will take the field minus the services of Bernie Miltner, Bob Campion and Bruce Blackstone, regular tackle, guard and center respectively, who are out with injuries.

Miltner is lost for the season with two broken bones in his foot. Campion has several torn ligaments in his arm and will probably see no more service this year. Blackstone is suffering from a twisted knee, but will probably be ready to play in U-high's last game against Tipton next Wednesday. All of these men were injured in the Mt. Vernon game last week.

U High Favored University high will enter the game as the favorites on the basis of the records of the two teams this season. They have won four and tied one, while West Branch has won two, tied one and lost three.

At the present time the local team is in second place in their league, with two more games to play. A victory tomorrow would assure them of at least second place and would make their game with Tipton next week a battle for the championship of the league.

Good Blocking Team Despite the fact that West Branch's record is none too impressive, they are given a good chance of upsetting the local team. They are reputed to be the smallest and best blocking team in the league. Although they have not scored in their last four games, in their first two games this season they scored 95 points against none for their opponents.

One of these victories was a 51-0 victory over St. Patrick's of Iowa City. University high was only able to beat the Irish outfit 21-7. However, the local team has improved considerably since that game and West Branch has apparently gone into a slump.

Lineup Uncertain Coach Jack Sterrett was undecided yesterday as to what his starting lineup would be, but indicated that it would probably consist of Ernie Krogh and John McAllister at the ends, Bob Carson and Don Bender at the tackles, with Ed Brender and Bill Rarick at the guards flanking Bill Boiler at center.

In his backfield he will probably use Ham Ries at quarterback, Lewis Shimon at fullback, Duane Carson at one of the halves and either Ed Burns, Leo Tesar or Don Bridenstine at the other.

The squad will leave the University high gymnasium for West Branch at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Hawklets Still Hit by Injuries

Lewis and Beck Hurt On Eve of Battle With Bobcats

Probable Starting Lineups

Table with 2 columns: City High and Marshalltown. Lists players and positions like LE, LT, LG, C, RG, RT, RE, QB, LHB, RHB, FB.

The injury jinx struck with fury at the Red and White football camp last night as Coach Herb Cormack's proteges donned their moleskins for the last time before the annual Homecoming encounter with Marshalltown tonight.

Bob Beck, first string tackle, has been put in wraps with a badly sprained ankle, while Fullback Ted Lewis, slowed up by a charley horse, will be used only if Coach Cormack finds it necessary. George Devine became the third member of Iowa City's misfortune club when he sustained an injured ankle last night.

Hope was added to the Little Hawks' chances for victory, however, when it was announced that Eldon Parizek, leading scorer for the locals, would be in top condition against the Bobcats.

Stimmel at Tackle

Beck, who will probably be out for some time, has been one of the mainstays in the Iowa City forward wall. With his 6 foot frame carrying 190 pounds, Beck has been a bulwark on defense while performing consistently as an important cog in the Hawklet offense.

Earl Stimmel is being groomed to fill in at the tackle post for his injured teammate tonight.

According to indications in practice sessions this week, Quarterback Joe McGinnis will call signals for an intermingling of off-tackle smashes and razzle-dazzle plays in tonight's battle. Intricate offensive formations, with Ted McLaughlin doing a good deal of the ball carrying, will be introduced to local fans for the first time.

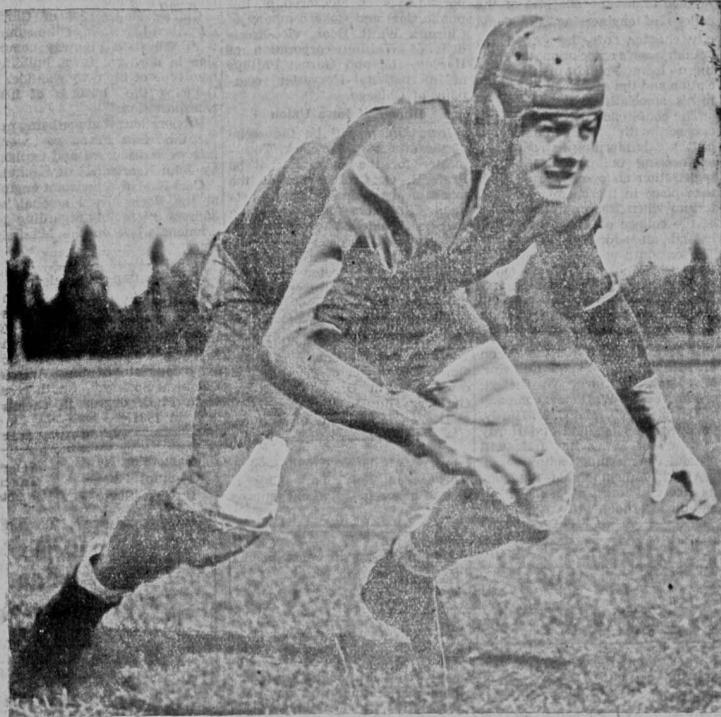

Bobcats Have Strong Attack Marshalltown's running attack features the swivel-hipped Ben Trickey, who tugs the pigskin behind the deadly blocking of Mann, stoutly halfback. The 190 pound plugging fullback, Whigham, looms as a constant threat when the Bobcats near their opponent's goal line.

While grid aspirants went through the final drill of the week the Iowa City high school band and student body marched en masse through downtown streets presenting one of the most spirited demonstrations of pep to be seen here in recent years. A rousing mass meeting around the bonfire at the south end of Shrader field last night topped off the pre-game celebration.

Cardinals to Take Sam Baugh South

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28 (AP)—General Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals said today the National league baseball team expected to take Sam Baugh south to its spring training camp next year.

Nuisance to Purdue

Bob Lannon, six foot Iowa end, will hurl his 195 pounds against the Purdue Boilermakers for the third and final time at Lafayette, Ind., tomorrow. One of the outstanding ends in the Big Ten for the past three seasons, despite last year's shoulder injury, he is enjoying his greatest year.

Lannon, pictured above, who hails from Winner, S. D., has been a thorn in the side of the Riveters in his last two meetings with them, with his spectacular line play.

Unbeaten Teams Clash

Irish, Wellman Tangle in Finale This Afternoon

St. Patrick's football team went through their last drill last night prior to their final game of the season with Wellman today.

This game will mark the final appearance of four Irish veterans, who will be engaging in battle for the last time for the Green and White. Don Newbiggen, Ed Ipsen, Paul Scannell, and Frank Rohner, seniors in the Irish lineup, will be lost from the southsiders' ranks next year through graduation.

Newbiggen Goes

Newbiggen's loss from next year's St. Patrick's team will be hard to take, as Coach Ryan's running attack has been built around him for the last two years. Frank Rohner, 190 pound tackle, has been a mainstay in the Irish line for two seasons and replacing him will be a problem for Coach Ryan. Paul Scannell, lanky center, is also a two year man; his play in the forward wall has been a great asset to the southsiders' attack.

Ed Ipsen, the remaining senior, is a comparative newcomer to football, but has shown a reasonable amount of natural ability and spirit which gained a starting berth on the team.

The game today will be the third meeting of the two teams. The Wellmanites have been victors in the last two encounters. However this season Wellman is not as strong as it has been in former years and the game should turn out to be a battle all the way. Standing low in the Ke-Wash conference, Wellman did score two touchdowns on Lone Tree, the powerful aggregation that swamped St. Patrick's 42 to 0 last week.

Probable starters in today's game for St. Pat's will be: Fitzpatrick and Holland, at end posts; Rohner and Beasley at tackles; Daly and Ipsen, guards, flanking Scannell at the pivot position. In the backfield, Ed Rohner will start at quarterback, Captain Newbiggen will play a leading role at left half, with Jack Fitzpatrick as his running mate. Jay Walden will hold down his usual position at fullback.

The squad will leave Iowa City at 1 p.m. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

By BILL BONI NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Eleven football teams which hold or share the lead in their respective conferences will put their records and title aspirations on the line this week end.

Outstanding eleven of these eleven undoubtedly is that of the University of California. Stub Allison's Golden Bears, winners of six games, three in the Pacific coast conference, will seek to clear another hurdle in U.C.L.A. The Bruins, who have beaten only Oregon in four league starts, hardly figure to make California falter on its march toward the championship—and cross your fingers—the Rose Bowl.

In the Big Ten, three contenders are tied for first place with two victories each. Ohio State, successfully converted from an aggregation of tricksters into a rolling-over Chicago. Harry Stuhldreher's well drilled Wisconsin Badgers, however, will be in danger of suffering their first conference defeat at the hands of Northwestern.

Minnesota vs. Notre Dame Meanwhile, Minnesota, the other pace setters, will attempt to cash in against Notre Dame on an extra week's rest.

Alabama and Vanderbilt, joint leaders of the southeastern set and members of the unbeaten-untied fraternity, each will attempt to run its conference string to three successes. The Crimson Tide hopes to engulf Kentucky, surprisingly one sided conqueror of Manhattan a week ago. Ray Morrison's Commodores, sailing along on the strength of their defeat of Louisiana State, figure to continue on an even keel despite the best aimed pot shots of Georgia Tech.

Baylor Surprises

Baylor, the cow and oil country's all-winning representative and surprise leader of the South-west conference race, will send its Bullet Billy Patterson and company against Texas Christian. If the Waco Bears, who already have defeated Arkansas and Texas A. and M., pre-season favorites, also can add T.C.U. to their list, they'll stand a good chance of finishing their conference slate unbeaten against Texas, Southern Methodist and Rice. This is a good spot for an upset, however.

Out in the Rocky Mountain confederacy, where Colorado U. and Western State have remained in the unbeaten-untied class while winning three conference games apiece, only one is likely to survive by Saturday night. Whizzer White and his Colorado mates, un-

With wintry blasts cutting across the rear of the fieldhouse, fraternity athletic managers are having day to trouble their tough footballers to get out and uphold the fraternity honor.

Competition and cold weather have eliminated those who could at first be pulled away from the books and trade the solace of their easy chairs for the smacks and beatings that one takes in this favorite manner of acquiring charley-horses and sore muscles.

The Phi Psi's, last year's cup winners, have been going to town in their division and, along with the D.U.'s, rank as favorites to win their respective sections.

The winner of the third division will be decided Tuesday afternoon when the Sigma Nu's and Phi Delta's, both undefeated to date, get together.

scored on in three league games, appear to have too much on, in front of and behind the ball for Colorado Mines. Brigham Young, on the other hand, is the likely favorite against Western State.

Duke, V.M.L. The Citadel and Clemson are unbeaten in, respectively, two, three, two and one Southern conference starts. The Blue Devils, slowed to a walk only in their tie with Tennessee, should ring up their third victory against Washington and Lee. Citadel and South Carolina will clash on Friday, Clemson will play Wake Forest, and V.M.L. temporarily will leave league competition behind to meet Army at West Point.

Only in the Big Six will both the top contenders be engaged in non-conference activity. Kansas, victor over Iowa State and Oklahoma, will face Michigan State's able Spartans. Nebraska, tied by Oklahoma but winner over Iowa State and Missouri, will meet Bo McMillin's strong Indiana array.

Other sectional leaders who will see action Saturday, are all-winning Yale and Dartmouth, who are likely to draw a record post-depression crowd of better than 60,000 to the New Haven bowl; Pittsburgh, facing neighbor Carnegie Tech; Fordham, going on the road for the first time in years to meet North Carolina; unbeaten-untied Detroit and Holy Cross, hosts to once tied Villanova and twice tied Temple, respectively; and unbeaten Montana, favored over Montana State.

By G. K. HODENFIELD Daily Iowan Sports Editor

The University of Iowa football team, 33 strong, will leave from the Rock Island depot at 9:20 this morning, for Lafayette, Ind., where they will meet the Purdue Boilermakers in Ross-Adams stadium tomorrow. The team will travel to Chicago on the streamlined 'Rocket' and will stay in the Windy City tonight and complete their journey on a regular train in the morning.

On past performances the Boilermakers must be given the edge in tomorrow's game. They have lost their only two Big Ten starts but have been improving all season and after an open date last week will apparently be in top form for the Hawkeyes.

If the contest is of the same pattern as recent games in the series, it will be a low scoring affair, with some sort of a break deciding the winner. Purdue has won the last three games, 12-6, 13-6, and 13-0 since Iowa upset them at Lafayette in 1933 on a long return of a punt for a touchdown by Joe Laws.

Hawk Spirit Revives The Hawkeyes, suffering from a letdown after the battle with the Wisconsin Badgers, Oct. 16, within the last two days have revived and again appear to be the hard-driving eleven that they were before the Michigan game last week.

Reports from the home of the Riveters indicate that although Purdue fears the power of Iowa's big line in the Dad's Day battle with the Hawkeyes, it is more fearful of the all-around brilliance of Nile Kinnick, Irl Tubbs' sophomore quarterback, who is generally conceded to be the outstanding first year 'find' of the Big Ten.

Purdue One Up Largely because of their rugged line and Kinnick's all-around ability, the Hawks will invade Ross-Adams stadium Saturday with high hopes of evening the series count with the Boilermakers. Last year's 13-0 triumph put Purdue one up on Iowa with eight victories as compared with seven for the Hawks.

In the face of the Iowa attack the Boilermakers expect to open up with a combined aerial and running offense that will be based on speed and deception, in an effort to chalk up their first conference win of the year.

Injuries, the Iowa bugaboo all season, will also hamper the Riveters in tomorrow's clash. There is a possibility that both Don Powell and Jim Zachary, veteran ends, may be able to resume their places at the wings, but the aggravating guard problem still exists with Andy Grant kept on the sidelines by a leg injury suffered in the last week's game.

Members of the squad who will leave this morning: Ends: Lannon, Prasse, Smith, Evans, Klumpar and Haight. Tackles: F. Gallagher, Neid, DeHeer, Harris, Irvine and Conrad. Guards: Herman, Brady, Allen, Farroh, Mangold, Vergamini and McCambridge. Centers: Anderson, Lindenmeyer and Poluga. Quarterbacks: Kinnick, Bush and Dean. Halfbacks: Eicherly, Lamb, W. Gallagher, McCall and W. Kelly. Fullbacks: McLain, Balazs and Olson.

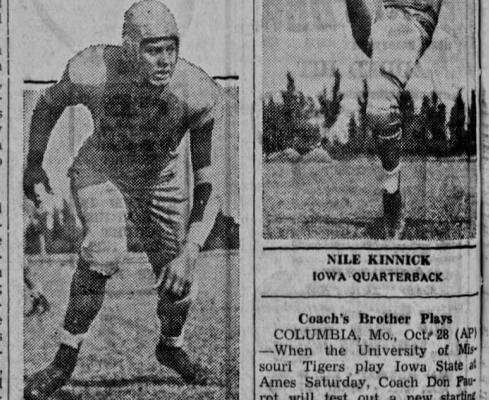

Coach's Brother Plays COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 28 (AP)—When the University of Missouri Tigers play Iowa State at Ames Saturday, Coach Don Purdy will test out a new starting backfield combination, including a sophomore quarterback.

Dean and Olson May Play Two of the Iowa cripples returned to action last night as Buzz Dean, halfback and Glenn 'Red' Olson, fullback, both ran through the light signal drill that was dished out by Coach Tubbs. Neither man was able to hit top speed in the drill however and their value to the Hawks tomorrow is doubtful. Bob Lannon, injured in Wednesday's scrimmage against the freshmen, was back at his right wing position in last night's workout.

Bill Gallagher will probably man one of the halfback posts for the Iowans but if his recent leg injury sends him to the sidelines he will be replaced by another Irishman, Bill Kelly, who has seen lots of action in this week's drills.

Lindenmeyer Injured Another possible change in the lineup may be at the guard position. Robert Herman, who has not seen very much action since the Bradley Tech game, has seen service at the left guard position in this week's scrimmages. Charles Brady, regular left guard, has been alternating with Herman for the last two nights. Fred Lindenmeyer, reserve center, has seen some action at one of the tackle posts and may break into tomorrow's lineup at that position. Lindenmeyer, however, has been hampered by an injured hand and may see little or no action.

Hawkeye defensive work in the last week has been concentrated on stopping the famed Purdue passing attack which features Cecil Isbell, whose losses last year set the Iowans back with a 13-0 loss. Members of the squad who will leave this morning: Ends: Lannon, Prasse, Smith, Evans, Klumpar and Haight. Tackles: F. Gallagher, Neid, DeHeer, Harris, Irvine and Conrad. Guards: Herman, Brady, Allen, Farroh, Mangold, Vergamini and McCambridge. Centers: Anderson, Lindenmeyer and Poluga. Quarterbacks: Kinnick, Bush and Dean. Halfbacks: Eicherly, Lamb, W. Gallagher, McCall and W. Kelly. Fullbacks: McLain, Balazs and Olson.

Kopp Wins Rotary Cub Javelin Throw With 159-Foot Heave

Vince Finazzo Takes Second Place in Meet

Buffalo Center Frosh Captures Traveling Trophy in Event

In the finals of the Rotary Club javelin throw yesterday afternoon at the west side track Karl Kopp's preliminary throw was good enough to garner him a first place in the all university event. Kopp, who threw the spear 159 feet two inches Wednesday afternoon in the preliminaries, is a three sport freshman from Buffalo Center.

Second place went to Vincent Finazzo, St. Louis, Mo., who tossed the javelin 148 feet two inches. Karl Ryerson, Cedar Rapids, annexed third place with a heave of 142 feet six inches.

The meet, the third in the all university intra-mural series of field events, was under the direction of Francis Cretzmeier and made possible by the Iowa City Rotary club which presented the traveling trophy. The winner is permitted to keep the trophy only one year and after winning the event once is no longer eligible to participate.

Awarded Medals
Kopp, Finazzo, and Ryerson will be awarded gold, silver and bronze medals for taking the first three places in the contest. Other entrants in the meet were Steve Surlentic, Duluth, Minn., Ray Davis, Ft. Madison, Hyman Booth, Des Moines, Herbert Boettcher, Traer, and Eugene Heffley, Missouri Valley.

Coach George Bresnahan announced the cancellation of the interfraternity and interterritory track meets, previously scheduled for this week, because of the condition of the newly rebuilt varsity track.

Next Tuesday the all university series will be continued with the running of the cross country number one and the holding of the jump triathlon at the west side track. All those interested in entering either of these all university events should get in touch with Francis Cretzmeier, or assistant track coach Ted Swenson. If for some reason it is impossible to contact the two above mentioned men, those interested may report at the track at 4 p.m.

Phi Gam's And Beta Theta Pi Play Deadlock

Seesawing up and down the field, the Beta Theta Pi's and the Phi Gamma Delta's battled to a 7-7 score yesterday afternoon while the Sigma Nu's were running up 37 points to Pi Kappa Alpha's none. The Delta Tau Delta's won their game by default when the Theta Xi's failed to appear.

The Beta's claim a victory in their tie game because they made a first down in the extra period, according to the rules, gives the game. However, the Phi Gam's are protesting this decision on the grounds that special rules were agreed upon at the conclusion of the regular playing time, by which victory could be won only by a touchdown. The Beta tally was due to a pass from Jim Brammer to Knipe and the extra point was also scored via the aerial route, Brammer to Mudge.

Tom Paul crashed through the middle of the line for the Phi Gam score and heaved a pass to Don Hess for the point. The Sigma Nu attack opened almost immediately at the start of the game and they pushed over two touchdowns in the first few minutes of the first half and added an extra point to make it 13-0. Four touchdowns and another extra point in the second half boosted their total to 37. Touchdowns were made by Francis Cretzmeier, who was the outstanding player on the field, Locker, Parker Crouch and Glenn Benke.

The only serious threat of the Pi K. A.'s came near the end of the first half when they connected with six consecutive passes, only to have the end of the half halt their drive on their opponents' five-yard line. Bob Tompkins played good ball in the losers' backfield.

Kischer Slated to Play
AMES, Ia., (AP) — The Iowa State Cyclones yesterday took their last look at Missouri formations as they completed heavy workouts for their Homecoming game with the Sooners here Saturday.

The regulars dopped Missouri plays with little difficulty. Everett Kischer, Cyclone passing ace, is slated to play at a part of the game and the Cyclones probably will uncover the passing attack upon which they have been working, Coach Jim Yeager said.

Notre Dame Entry into Big Ten Blocked By Cadet-Irish Relations

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — What is the world's heavyweight boxing champion, Joe Louis, going to do when the softball season is over? Max Schmeling, under the terms of his contract to meet Joe Louis for the title next June, can't box any of a half-dozen specified heavyweight aspirants, including all available ex-champions, but the German will get some fungo practice.

He's due to box in the Garden in December, before the home folks at Hamburg in January.

If it isn't the pressure of old blues that's keeping Larry Kelley out of professional football, it's another name for the same thing — "The eastern 'Ivy league,' with Yale and Cornell doing most of the talking, is about to set up an organized basis of athletic operations and put the lid down tight on the "more objectionable" features of football subsidizing and recruiting.

One reason why Notre Dame has no current desire to join Big Ten, even if there's slightest truth to talk of conference shake-up next year, is that fighting Irish won't break off relations with West Point. Army is barred by existing Big Ten edict because military academy still permits three years of varsity play by ex-colleagues.

Incidentally one of Army's best prospects is Bill Guckeyson, late of Maryland and an all-around back de luxe.

Add co-operative notes: Texas Christian loaned portable bleachers to Baylor for their big southwest conference game this Saturday in Waco. Pro battle of Chicago Bears and New York Giants at Polo grounds this Sunday.

Boilermaker Seniors Make Last Home Appearance in Iowa Game Saturday

Special To The Daily Iowan
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 28 — A great group of senior veterans who have been big factors in Purdue's gridiron successes of recent years will make the final home appearance of their collegiate careers here Saturday afternoon as the Boilermakers tackle Iowa in the sixteenth renewal of a spectacular series that will find the Hawkeyes striving to even the series count at eight all.

Included in the brilliant group of senior stars will be Captain Martin Schreyer and Clem Wolfman, the "tackle twins" who are playing their sixth year of football together; Cecil Isbell, brilliant halfback, who is generally recognized as the greatest all-around back in the middle west; Cody Isbell, quarterback strategist; Don Powell and James Zachary, pass catching ends; Andy Grant and Woody Knorr, sturdy guards; Bob Selby and Lowell Decker, halfbacks; Joe Fitzgerald, Harry Krause, and

HOD SHOTS

By G. K. HODENFIELD

You have often heard the expression, "won by a nose" or "won by an eyelash." Now it appears that Michigan won their game with Hawkeyes last week by a tooth.

Bill Smith, Wolverine tackle, blocked Jack Eicherly's try for extra point after the Hawkeye touchdown with his face and the ball broke a tooth off. Had it not been for Mr. Smith and his dental sacrifice, Michigan might have been forced to accept a 7-7 tie.

Iowa's line will have only a three pound average edge on the Purdue forwards tomorrow. The Hawkeyes average 194, the Boilermakers 191. The two heaviest men on the field, however, will be Capt. Martin Schreyer and Clem Wolfman, 216, Purdue tackles. That is, until Floyd DeHeer breaks into the lineup with his 335 pounds of bone and muscle.

After the Purdue game there is only one more jaunt left for the Hawkeyes. That will be to Lincoln for the Nebraska game which closes the season, Nov. 20. Minnesota Nov. 6 and Indiana Nov. 13 are the remaining home games.

The pep meeting staged by P.E.P. last night was very successful as have all the rest of them been this year. It seems to me that there should be a contest conducted to find some new cheers, however. They have to use the same ones over and over.

One former Iowa football player is making his mark in the business world. Al Haag, who played end on last year's edition of the Hawkeye eleven, has established a thriving business in Chicago. He has an agency for a jewelry company and supplies high schools with pins, medals, etc. The large 'I' pin that Frank Balaz wears around on his sweater is a present from Al.

And, regardless of what the radio announcers say tomorrow, Balaz pronounces his name like "ballast" without the 'l'.

To see Iowa win their first Big Ten title.

Frosh Cagers To Start Drills Monday Evening

With the first freshman practice set for Monday, under the direction of "Pops" Harrison, Coach Rollie Williams is getting his varsity cagers ready for scrimmages with the first year men.

To date Coach Williams has 12 men from which to pick his first string. At the close of football several fellows of varsity caliber will join the first team.

Practicing daily at the fieldhouse veteran cagers appear to have the call over the inexperienced sophomores. A fast, hard fighting quintet built around veterans Captain Johnson, Suesens, Stephens, Bratton, Drees, DeHeer, and Van Yseldyk is Williams' aim, but sophomores Lind, Hohenhorst, and Bastian are giving them quite a battle.

The veterans are familiar to all Hawkeye fans but many don't know of these three capable sophomores. Fred Hohenhorst is a Chicago boy with three years high school experience. He plays guard and shoots with either hand. Capitalizing on his six foot two inches Fred follows many of his long shots in with uncanny regularity.

Ken Bastian, usually found at center, is a product of Ft. Dodge. Ruggedly built, Bastian is a terror on defense. He is a little weak on adept ball handling but undoubtedly Coach Williams will remedy that.

Tom Lind, the smallest of the squad, comes from Burlington, Lind, like former Captain Suesens, was developed by J. F. Thomas of the river city. He was captain of Burlington's squad in his senior year and gained statewide recognition as a clever, dependable guard.

Goodman Shoots 68
MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Johnny Goodman, United States amateur champion from Omaha, and Don Schumacher of Dallas each posted a two under par 70 over the rain-soaked Mexico City Country Club course yesterday in practice rounds for the Mexican amateur championship tournament.

Goodman is defending the title. He and Schumacher went around today with Johnny Dawson of Chicago, who had a 74, and O'Hara Watts of Dallas, who shot a 71.

Sarron to Fight Armstrong For World Crown

Coast Negro Favored Over Syrian Boy In Title Fight

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Pete Sarron, Birmingham, Ala., Syrian, and Henry Armstrong, Los Angeles Negro, will usher in Mike Jacobs as boxing boss of Madison Square Garden tomorrow night with a 15-round battle for the featherweight championship of the world.

The match represents Jacobs' first Garden venture since assuming control of boxing in the big arena the late Tex Rickard built on Eighth avenue and Mike's sixth championship promotion in four months.

Starting with the Braddock-Louis heavyweight fight in June at Chicago, Mike followed with the Louis-Parr engagement in the Yankee stadium, then trotted out his carnival of champions last month in which three world title holders participated.

Predicts $40,000 "Gate"
Jacobs predicted his debut in the Garden would attract 16,000 customers and a "gate" of $40,000.

Armstrong, who has knocked out 21 of the 22 men he has fought this year, is favored at odds shifting from 3 to 1 to 3 to 2. The Negro can hit savagely with either fist. He is fast, shifty, game and particularly dangerous at close range.

Armstrong Heavy
On the other hand, he has never traveled the championship distance of 15 rounds. Those who like Sarron's chances are relying on this, together with the fact that the coast boy has had some difficulty getting down to the featherweight limit of 126 pounds.

Armstrong has weighed around 132 pounds for most of his fights and it remains to be seen whether he can lose off six pounds and retain his strength.

Sarron Tough
Sarron, who won his N.B.A. title from Freddie Miller in Washington last year, has successfully defended it twice, once against Miller and once against Baby Manuel at Dallas. The Syrian doesn't hit as hard as Armstrong, but he is aggressive and can take it. He has never been knocked out or even knocked down in eight years of ring campaigning.

Both Armstrong and Sarron have agreed to fight Mike Beloisie if returned victorious.

Dubuque Boy on Card
Frankie Blair, Camden, N.J., fights Jimmy Leto, Hartford, Conn., and Vittorio Venturi, Italy, meets Milt Aron, Dubuque, Ia., in two eight round preliminaries.

Five Gridders Reinstated After 'French Leave'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28 (AP)—Five Loyola university football players knocked on the door of the institution tonight, offered abject apologies for leaving the campus without permission, and asked to be reinstated.

Loyola's athletic heads expelled the group when they took "French leave" from the school and grid training rigors Tuesday and Wednesday.

Carl Hoveland, reserve end, acted as spokesman for the five and offered their explanation of the affair.

"We just got a notion Tuesday to take a trip down the coast, and lit out. We were tired of practicing football all the time and naturally we couldn't tell the coach we were going. We borrowed a friend's automobile and spent Tuesday night at San Juan Capistrano, and the next day the cops picked us up some place down there," Hoveland related.

"They wanted to know about the car we were in, and after they found out that the owner had lent it to us, we came on back. Then they kicked us out of school."

No Ill Feeling
Hoveland said there was no ill feeling or dissatisfaction with the team or the coach prior to the jaunt.

The five players were Hoveland, from Minneapolis; John Polich, Hibbing, Minn.; Bob Szwank, Madison, Wis.; Bela Andorkin, Loraine, Ohio, and Bill Magee, San Juan Capistrano, Cal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Chicago's Maroons, their spirits apparently higher than at any time this season, worked on offense instead of defense today in preparation for Saturday's invasion by the strong, highly favored Ohio State Buckeyes. Coach Clark Shaughnessy drilled his first team on passes, with freshmen providing the opposition. Capt. Bob Fitzgerald, injured against Princeton, will start the game.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 28 (AP)—Illinois, polishing off for the Michigan game Saturday, went through a spirited drill of new plays today. The Illini, opposing a freshman and third string eleven, looked impressive both on defense and offense, with Jay Wardley's passing featuring the session.

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 28 (AP)—Fred Vanzo, regular Northwestern quarterback and one of the finest blockers in the Big Ten, will not play against Wisconsin Saturday, Coach Lynn Waldorf of the Wildcats announced tonight. Vanzo injured a shoulder against Ohio State and the injury has not responded to treatment as expected. His absence is expected to weaken the Wildcat running offensive, but Nick Conteas, a sophomore, indicated against Ohio State that he is a capable substitute.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 28 (AP)—Coach Bernie Bierman sent his football squad through another two hour defensive drill against Notre Dame offensive maneuvers in a secret practice session today. Some time also was spent in perfecting Minnesota's pass attack. Both Notre Dame and Minnesota teams will go through light limbering up drills Friday, for the classic Saturday. The Notre Dame squad is due here tomorrow morning.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 28 (AP)—Coach Harry Stuhldreher put his Wisconsin Badgers through a long drill on forward pass offensive today in preparation for the important Big Ten conference game with Northwestern. The varsity stepped through everyone of its pass formations and tilted the air with footballs in a light scrimmage against the freshmen. Coach Stuhldreher was still uncertain of the lineup he will start against the Wildcats.

Judge J. Gaffney Hears Ten Criminal Cases At Johnson County District Court Yesterday

Three Cases Postponed, Rest Plead Guilty; One Absent

Ten criminal cases were heard in Johnson county district court yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney. One defendant, who was to be tried by the petit jury, failed to appear. Of the 10 cases tried, seven pleaded guilty, and three cases were postponed.

Lee Whetstone, John V. Halter, Louis Bursleson and Albert Slade, all indicted on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, pleaded guilty. Each defendant was fined $300 or, in lieu of payment, 90 days in jail. They are prohibited from driving on a public highway for a period of three months. The sentence of Slade, who is the father of five children, was suspended on good behavior, and he was paroled to Sheriff Don McComas. The four men were represented by Attorney E. A. Baldwin.

Brothers Plead Guilty

Frank Vermaec and August Vermaec, brothers, pleaded guilty to a county attorney's information of grand larceny. Tried separately, they both admitted the theft of corn valued at over $50 from the Dr. W. H. Donovan farm in Scott township.

August Vermaec, the older of the two, was sentenced to the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison for a term not to exceed 10 years. Frank Vermaec's sentence of not more than 10 years at the state reformatory at Anamosa was suspended upon good behavior, and he was paroled to Sheriff Don McComas. The Vermaec brothers were represented by Attorney Ingalls Swisher.

Fined $300

Walter E. Ellis pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with illegal possession. He was fined $300 and imprisoned for three months at hard labor. If the fine is not paid, the term will be extended another three months. The payment of $100 and costs will result in the rest of the sentence being suspended on good behavior. The liquor taken from Ellis will be given to Mercy and University hospitals. Attorney Paul Toomey defended Ellis.

Sebastian Vinciguerra, charged with the illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor, failed to appear in court. His representative, Attorney Carl Patterson of Des Moines withdrew, and the court issued a bench warrant for Vinciguerra's arrest.

The two cases against Lamar Tompkins and the case against E. J. Novak were continued. The last case on the docket, to be heard at 10 a. m., Monday is the manslaughter charge brought against O. C. Sorlien of Mason City, resulting from the death of Dr. C. L. Drain, acting head of the bureau of dental hygiene, in an auto crash June 5.

Genetics Head Lectures Here

Lindstrom Gives Second Baconian Lecture In Old Capitol

"Nature eliminates the unfit—those unadapted to the environment—and the world belongs to the fit," Prof. Edward W. Lindstrom, head of the genetics department of Iowa State college, declared in the second Baconian lecture last night in Old Capitol.

"Genetics originated in 1900, and America has progressed more than Europe because we accepted the Mendelian explanation which Europeans disregarded as too simple," Professor Lindstrom said, "but great truths of science are usually simple."

The application of laws of heredity to man are limited because we are more interested in the individual than in the race, he said. We are not altruistic enough, he continued. We do not have the ability to conceive the time needed for human experiment.

Improvement by wishful thinking is impossible, for that has been tried for 6,000 years, Professor Lindstrom asserted. Real progress has been made in the plant and animal kingdom where selection has worked wonders, the lecturer stated.

In discussing "The New Genetics," Professor Lindstrom said that "the average species contains about 10,000 genes, with 2,000 which are variable, so you can get an infinite number of variations and possibilities." This also accounts for resemblances as well as differences among related individuals.

This is explained by the gene-chromosome theory in which we have put our fingers on the simple mechanism that transports hereditary traits from one generation to another, he said. Inbreeding discloses the entire heredity and we can then recombine in different combinations by crossing.

Professor Lindstrom demonstrated how it is possible to locate exactly where specific factors, or genes, are located by seeing the structure of giant chromosomes. We can then see that a change in hereditary traits is due to change in chromosomes, he said.

with MERLE MILLER

Unfunny

I may be wrong, but it seems to me the new Jack Benny programs aren't as funny as those of last year. I'm hoping Mary Livingstone will soon come out with a new Labor day poem — or something...

And does anyone know the name of the college of commerce professor who sometimes wears sandals to his classes?

My personal vote for the neatest tie-handkerchief combination goes to Prof. Benj. P. Shambaugh, whose bi-weekly changes have the whole campus course enrollment talking...

There's an old lady who lives on North Dubuque street and who every afternoon at 2—with few exceptions—calls a local cab company to drive her around the town. Nearly crippled with rheumatism, it's the only outside activity she has. Her monthly cab bill is usually around $30.

And, speaking of oddities, a gentle old chap—Laurence Walsh by name—who in his hours off from his grocery-store job reads Shakespeare by the hour and can quote, verbatim, long passages from the comedies and tragedies of the bard...

Charity

Quite unknown and entirely unaided, there are half a dozen local business and professional men who put at least one or two young men or women through the university every year. They don't ask for thanks and sometimes don't get it, but they usually give twice as much as the publicity-givers whose every charity is headlined...

Rainer

My personal nomination for the screen's handsomest heroine is for Luise Rainer, whose performance in "Big City" ranks near the best she has done...

There are still half-a-dozen local hardies who play a round of golf every day or so on the local links. And one local doctor played the latest game of the year last season, just after the first of December. There was snow on the ground at the time...

Warm Spot

I have a definitely warm spot in my heart for those professors — I have heard of two or three — who yesterday dismissed all classes, and were gone with the breeze to some quietly restful spot, realizing yesterday's desperate need for relaxation...

Club

It isn't listed among the service clubs, but about eight local pros and business men meet in an outlying cafe once each week of an evening and chat about things unimportant until the wee small hours...

It's certainly true... I can point out a half dozen too-early local marriages that have retarded promising careers...

One of the longest week ends I've heard about is that of the Phi Kappa Sig who is said to have gone from Wednesday of last week until yesterday... He had allegedly gone home for the week end...

And, in case you haven't heard, at least half a dozen local heards, at least half a dozen localities have called to my attention the downtown business man who recently surprised all his friends by taking three-inches off his waistline during a single week in Chicago but won't tell how...

A campus official tells me, in passing, that there are more married couples on the campus this year than ever before...

Attorney Thomas E. Martin, who represented several local property owners protesting the suggestion, said property owners near the Casino oppose the "plan to expand the Casino into a lot of little Casinos."

Meanwhile, Attorney E. A. Baldwin, representing Secor, arose to speak. Baldwin, during his two-year term as county attorney, was often at sword's points with Martin, then Iowa City's mayor.

"I'd rather have my two growing daughters at the Casino than parked on a side road in a collegiate roadster," Baldwin stated. "During my two years as county attorney, there was never a complaint against the Casino," he told the board.

"When Attorney Baldwin was county attorney, he must have been afflicted with deafness," Attorney Martin retorted. "I had different experiences."

Martin urged the board to consider the intent of the ordinance and refer the question to the city council.

Chensky instituted a motion to allow City Inspector Harold Monk to grant Secor permission to erect the cabins, and it passed by a three-to-two vote. Attorney Negus voted "No—at this time."

City Attorney Larson, questioned after the meeting, said the only recourse would be through the district court.

"If any citizen wants to dispute the board's decision, it must be done in district court," Attorney Larson said.

Solicitors Make Initial Reports

Contributions To Chest Higher This Year Says Martin

Late last night 133 of the 228 solicitors in the community chest drive had reported on their first assignments, given them at the initial meeting Monday.

Commenting upon the fact that only about 60 per cent of the solicitors had reported last night, Attorney Thomas E. Martin, campaign director, said, "A piece-meal report on the general trend of subscriptions is all that will be possible today. The first summarizing report probably won't be out until Monday or Tuesday."

Alva Oathout, head of the business division in the drive, said last evening that he has found that, "Contributions on the whole are larger than they were last year, and many are giving who were non-givers last year."

It is urged by campaign heads that all the first assignment reports be turned into headquarters by this noon so that work can be begun on the second assignments to be distributed at the meeting either Monday or Tuesday. According to Attorney Martin, Monday noon would be more satisfactory, as conflicts with service club luncheons would be avoided. Final arrangements will be announced by Martin.

What is Your Gas HEAT Rate?

No. 4 of a Series

The total amount of money which you will pay for natural gas for heat depends entirely on the rate per therm charged by the gas company.

In this city, the rate starts at approximately 23¢ per therm for the first 15 therms with a discount of 1¢ for prompt payment. This means that you must burn 1,500,000 heat units before you get the next lower rate of 13¢, less 1¢ discount.

The lowest rate is approximately 7¢ per therm, less 1¢ discount, but to get this rate you must use over 5,000,000 heat units a month.

You must use about $7.50 worth of gas each month before getting the lowest price on the rest of your gas.

Only in the extremely cold months will you use enough gas to buy it at the cheapest rate.

When comparing the cost of gas with coal, we will use the lowest net rate—6¢ per therm—to give gas every possible benefit.

For a fair comparison, however, do not let the gas company persuade you to spend money for storm windows and insulating. Let the house remain as it is for a true comparison.

Also, try to get a written guarantee of your total cost.

Cadet Officers Select April 15 As Annual Hop

The Cadet Officers club, composed of advanced students in good standing, have selected April 15 as the date for the Cadet Officers Hop, their annual spring formal.

The qualifications for membership and plans for other parties were discussed, but final action was delayed until the next meeting which will be Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Iowa Union.

HOSTESS HINTS

The freshness of spring comes to the table in the salad. And, like spring, it's an excellent tonic for the winter droop without the touch of spring fever. So don't forget the salad, hostesses, and do try new ways of dressing old favorites. Here are three which should bring a cheer from your family.

Cottage Cheese Salad
Wash crisp lettuce leaves, drain and put in refrigerator. When ready to serve toss in French dressing till the leaves are well covered. Then place several on each plate, and with cottage cheese in center, sprinkle with black pepper and salt and put a well-chopped red radish on each.

Pond Lily Salad
Cut the whites of hard-boiled eggs into lengthwise pieces (about six to each egg) and arrange them on small lettuce leaves to form the petals of a pond lily. Grate the yolks, mix them with chopped olives and celery and then put the mixture into little mounds in the center of the white petals. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Bird's Nest Salad
Mix cream cheese with cream to make a dough, then with several nuts as a center, roll into eggs. Make a nest of shredded lettuce or some other green and lay the eggs in it. Sprinkle with black pepper. Put mayonnaise dressing in a ring around the eggs. The salad may be varied by using vegetable coloring of different shades for the eggs.

Town Coeds! Student Women Club Active at S.U.I.

Town Coeds! Who are they? What are they?

Town Coeds is an organization of 75 university women who live outside the university dormitories and who are not affiliated with sororities.

"The purpose of the club is to enable town girls to organize in order to enter campus group activities as well as to get better acquainted with each other and to sponsor their own social functions," Miriam Palmer, A2 of Newton, president of the organization explained.

There are meetings held every Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation rooms at Currier hall. The program throughout the year will be designed to appeal to all members of the organization. There will be discussion by the group, individual contributions and occasional outside speakers discussing topics of interest.

Tentative subjects for discussion will be drama and literature, new books and poetry, vocational guidance, religion and campus life, campus etiquette, personal appearance and music. Various other activities of interest to the group will be carried on.

Town Coeds will be represented in various intramural athletic contests by teams made up of its own members.

"Any girl who is interested in Town Coeds is urged to attend a meeting of the organization whether or not she has been called," Miss Palmer said.

STORY TELLER Party Guests To Hear Peggy Reagan

Because she likes to tell children's stories in Negro dialect and because she has been telling stories for the WSUI Children's hour, Peggy Reagan, A2 of Port Arthur, Tex., will tell stories to a group of children at a birthday party this evening. The party is for Cary Margaret Jones, 609 S. Summit street, who is 12 years old today.

When Mrs. Iliou T. Jones, Cary's mother heard Miss Reagan telling stories over the radio, she invited her to the party.

Fourteen girls will be present at Cary's home from 5 to 8 o'clock for dinner and story-telling afterwards.

Festivities Have Halloween Air

City Churches To Hold Parties, Spook's Masquerade

The spooks that haunt students this week end will not be the ghosts of the exams they've flunked. Halloween witches and goblins are in the air, and Halloween parties are the order of entertainment among student church groups tonight and tomorrow.

Methodist
 There will be a Spook's Masquerade tomorrow in the Methodist church dungeon at 8:30 p.m. Entertainment will consist of games, fortune telling, ducking for apples and other Halloween specialties. The guests will be dressed in costumes.
