LA GUARDIA WINS BY LARGE MARGIN

Dewey Victory Marks Biggest Vote in History

Fusion Party Smashes Tammany Hall To Set Records

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP) — With a vote that seemed certain to top any ever cast before a New York official, Fiorello H. LaGuardia was reelected mayor today — the first "reform" candidate ever to beat the city democratic machine twice in a row.

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, his democratic opponent, conceded defeat shortly after 8 o'clock tonight (CST) and before midnight the LaGuardia plurality rose beyond 275,000 of a total of more than 1,500,000 counted.

At that time, LaGuardia had 927,791, far exceeding the aggregate 868,522 he got upon his initial election in 1933, and there were more than 1,000 election districts to report of a total of 3,910.

This it appeared inevitable that his total would rise beyond the previous all time high of 1,054,324 cast for democratic John P. O'Brien in 1932.

The leaders of Tammany Hall, which in the century and a half of its life always had been heretofore to beat down any second term challenge to city hall control, were silent for the most part, but Tammany Chief of Staff Christopher Sullivan commented that the returns were "bum figures."

With LaGuardia into office went Thomas E. Dewey, a special rackets prosecutor who defeated the Tammany candidate for district attorney of the borough of Manhattan, Harold W. Hastings.

Farley Support to Loser
The mayor, squat, hot tongued and politically unconventional, went into power four years ago when the democratic party was split. This time it was united outwardly at least, with Postmaster General James A. Farley, the democratic national chairman, coming home to New York to go to the stump for the Mahoney ticket.

Tammany's loss of the district attorneyship made its defeat crushing.

The hall retained that office in the LaGuardia sweep of four years ago, as well as majority power in the board of estimate.

LaGuardia took with him to victory Newbold Morris, candidate for president of the city council, whose democratic opponent, Max J. Schneider, followed Mahoney and Hastings in conceding defeat.

Detective Shot In Gun Battle

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 2 (AP) — A detective and a burglar were killed in a gun battle here tonight when two police squads caught three men trying to open a safe at the Luckey Dairy company. In the exchange of shots two other policemen were wounded.

Detective Lieutenant John Niederkorn said one of the gunmen who gave his name as Fred Reardon of Chicago, had been captured. Another escaped and is being sought by police.

Niederkorn said the dead man was Detective George Raabe and an unidentified man who had a label in his pocket bearing the name, Ed Atkins, of Chicago.

Niederkorn said an unidentified woman had telephoned and told him a burglar was in progress at the dairy. He dispatched the police squads, but Raabe and Detective George Legge, who shot the gunman, preceded them to the scene, Niederkorn said.

The three burglars rang a bell at an alley door and displaying guns, forced two dairy employees to admit them.

One of the men had the combination of the safe written on a piece of paper, the dairy employees told newspaper reporters, and had just started to work on the safe when the police arrived.

Fred W. Tegge, dairy cashier, told newspaper men he and his wife had been bound by six armed men who appeared at his home early in the evening and that he had been forced to give up the combination of the dairy safe.

Russia Makes Concession In Spanish Parley

Britain Reported To Be Planning Insurgent Trade Pact

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP) — A guarded Soviet concession on belligerent rights today led to an 11th hour agreement by the nine-power non-intervention subcommittee on procedure for getting foreign armies out of Spain.

At the same time the subcommittee, including British, Russian and Italian representatives, sidestepped the still unsettled soviet - fascist dispute over when belligerent rights actually should be granted the warring Spaniards.

British Prepare Agreement
Thus the future was left open to possible deadlocks while Britain was understood to be preparing regularization at least of her trade relations with insurgent Spain by a commercial agreement.

Informed sources were "optimistic" about the subcommittee's progress but admitted that the date had not been set either for the beginning of foreign troop withdrawals or for the departure of commissions to Spain to determine how many volunteers are fighting there.

Refer To Full Committee
The subcommittee agreed to ask the full 27 - nation committee which meets Thursday to pass on the redrafted British proposals to end foreign participation in Spain, for authorization to approach Spain's two warring factions seeking approval for evacuation of foreigners.

The agreement came after Russia's representative, Ivan Maisky, made a conciliatory speech saying "the road is clear."

"Please Proceed"
"Please, gentlemen, proceed. If your efforts result in deeds not in words—mark you, words are not good enough nowadays—and these deeds convince us that we were mistaken in our skepticism, well and good, we might reconsider our present attitude," he said.

Russia has refused consideration of granting belligerent rights until all volunteers are removed from Spain.

Nazi Officials Say Free City Will Not Unite

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP) — German officials tonight staunchly maintained that the Free City of Danzig would remain a separate entity despite a forecast by its Nazi leader that "the time will soon come when the flag of the third reich will be the state flag also of the Free City of Danzig."

The prediction, made last night by District Leader Albert Forster, was described authoritatively here as merely "a rhetorical twist of speech."

Trial Balloon
The general view in foreign quarters, however, was that Forster's statement was intended as a trial balloon in the direction of Danzig's ultimate union with Germany.

(The town of Danzig, Baltic seaport, was a part of Prussia before the World war. It was established, with surrounding territory, as the Free City of Danzig under protection of the League of Nations in 1920.)

Office Spokesman
A foreign office spokesman here expressed the opinion that what Forster really meant was: "Just as the Nazi party in Germany on assuming full power raised its party flag to a national emblem, so the Danzig Nazis, now that they fully control the little free state, will also make their party flag the state emblem."

Danzig Will Not Join
The spokesman asserted that "under no circumstances can the deduction be made that Danzig will be joined to the reich when the Danzig people adopt our flag as theirs."

(Forster, who told his audience he had spent last Thursday with Chancellor Hitler, also announced a series of laws in harmony with those of Germany soon would be promulgated. He asked housewives not to buy in Jewish shops.

New Obstacle Arises on Eve Of Conference

China Will Not Consider Terms Except For Jap Evacuation

By JOHN LLOYD
BRUSSELS, Nov. 2 (AP) — A new obstacle to settlement of the Far Eastern situation arose tonight on the eve of the Brussels conference when China declared she would consider no peace terms which did not provide for Japanese evacuation of Chinese territory.

There was serious doubt among the delegates that Japan could be induced to give up her position in North China and Inner Mongolia.

Efforts to find a formula to bridge the abyss between the two countries went ahead, however, in a series of hotel room talks with Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation, as the central figure.

Consult Davis
Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and his associates spent three hours with the American delegation. Immediately afterward Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, head of the Chinese delegation, arrived to consult Davis.

Davis, it was learned, declined an unofficial bid to preside at the conference, which will be opened tomorrow morning with a speech by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Spaak. Speeches by heads of the various delegations will follow.

Assert Terms
A Chinese spokesman asserted there was no sense in attempting any formal peace talks except with the understanding that they would consider no terms which did not provide for Japanese evacuation of Chinese territory.

The spokesman said China would welcome conciliation, but only with this understanding. He added the Chinese also would welcome Japanese representation at the Brussels conference.

Extend Invitations
A move to extend a second invitation to Japan as soon as the conference gets under way found favor among a majority of the delegates, but little hope was felt that the Japanese would see fit to reverse their original decision to stay away.

The suggestion of an armistice seemed frustrated by China's refusal to suspend hostilities without definite commitment by her enemies to quit Chinese territory.

Stodgell Wins Husking Derby
OSKALOOSA, Nov. 2 (AP) — Smiling Lee Stodgell, 41, of Morning Sun, the oldest of the 18 finalists, tonight was the 1937 champion cornhusker of Iowa.

A finalist in six previous state meets and 1934 Iowa title winner, Stodgell thudded a net of 33.3 bushels against his wagon's bang-board during the 80-minute period to dethrone Defending Champion Carl Carlson of Audubon in the 16th annual contest held here today.

John Middlekoop, 32, of Oskaloosa, runner up, and three other huskers picked net loads which bested Carlson's 30.8 bushels.

A record crowd of 30,000 spectators, Arthur Thompson of Wallace's Farmer, contest sponsor, said tonight. He said today's crowd "exceeded by far" that of any previous contest.

Stodgell, a wiry 160-pounder whose black hair is beginning to gray, and Middlekoop, of the same general build, will represent the state in this year's national contest Thursday near Marshall, Mo.

"I'm getting a little old, but I still like to shuck corn," Stodgell told the crowd through the public address system as he received the championship trophy.

Farmer Killed
MUSCATINE (AP) — George Danz, 72-year-old farmer living eight miles southwest of here, was killed here last yesterday when his light pickup truck was struck by another car near his home.

Leonard Hildebrand of Letts, sports official, escaped serious injury though his car was overturned after striking the Danz truck.

Guardsmen Arrest Sheriff

Harlan County, Old Trouble Center, Is Scene For New Disturbances

HARLAN, Ky., Nov. 2 (AP) — State police and Kentucky national guardsmen patrolled Harlan county tonight after arresting High Sheriff T. R. Middleton, three of his deputies and 31 precinct officers in election day disturbances.

State police who guarded the Harlan county courthouse, where the men were held incommunicado, declined to say what charges had been placed against them or who ordered their arrests.

Augment Local Troops
Approximately 100 national guardsmen were rushed to Harlan to augment the local troop. Capt. Ben Herndon of Barbourville was in charge of the combined units.

Circuit Judge James M. Gilbert came from Pineville late today and conferred with Commonwealth Attorney Daniel Boone Smith but declined to comment.

Arrested with Middleton were Special Deputies Ben Unthank, Lee Fleenor and Frank White.

County Judge Pro-Tem Ray O. Sheehan declared late today "Harlan county is virtually under martial law." He expressed the belief the state police in making the arrests were acting "outside their jurisdiction."

Sheriffs Armed
At Frankfort, Gov. A. B. Chandler in ordering out the troops said he had received reports that "deputy sheriffs armed with rifles were taking charge of the election" in Harlan county.

The governor declared the reports which came from both representatives of the republican and democratic parties said feeling in Harlan was intense.

"The troops have orders to disarm anyone found armed at the polls and interfering with the election," the governor asserted.

Attorney Ries Discusses Plans For School Building Campaign

"It's up to Iowa City to hit the ball this time," Attorney Herbert J. Ries, lawyer for the city school board, said last night. "The $326,250 PWA grant is definitely ours if we vote to erect the new school," he said.

Attorney Ries addressed a meeting of the education study group of the American Association of University Women and the welfare department of the Iowa City Woman's club in the city hall council chambers.

"In the 1935 election," he said, "the ballot asked if the money should be bonded 'provided we receive a PWA grant' — but this time there is no doubt about that. The $326,250 grant has been made and formally accepted by the board."

Members of the board and Attorney Ries answered questions at a forum during the meeting. The answers to several questions were:

"The PWA will give Iowa City 45 per cent of the school's total cost. If the building costs less than the estimated $725,000, PWA will still contribute 45 per cent, and Iowa Citizens the remaining 55 per cent."

"The building will not be built on the Morningside site if the second proposition — to bond $90,000 for a central site — is approved. Nor will the school be located centrally if the second proposition is not approved."

"If the school is to be erected on the Morningside site, the cost of ground improvement, such as approaches and landscaping, will be covered in the total $725,000 expenditure. Additional money need not be bonded."

Two Men Killed In Auto Crash; Inquest Held
LIVERMORE, Iowa, Nov. 2 (AP) — Two men were killed near here late this afternoon when the car in which they were riding collided head-on with another.

One of the victims was identified as H. C. McLaughlin, 51, an insurance adjuster from Des Moines. His companion was believed to be Lowell Kruse, 20, of Westside, Ia.

The McLaughlin car rolled over into a ditch following the crash and burst into flames. Both bodies were badly burned, making identification difficult.

The crash occurred about 5 p.m. at an intersection a mile east of St. Joe, Iowa.

Coroner R. A. Evans of Kosciusko county said he would conduct an inquest tomorrow.

McLaughlin, an insurance adjuster, was here to investigate the automobile crash near here Friday night in which three persons were killed.

Panic In Streets
The communique said people ran in panic through the streets in a desperate effort to find shelter. Flying bomb fragments mowed them down. The planes' machine guns swept the streets.

Though 120 bodies have been recovered, the government dispatches asserted there probably would be many more, making the casualty list one of the greatest of the war.

Vicious Civilian Attack
Lerida, a city of 43,000 population, lies only about 75 miles west of Barcelona, government capital. It is a key point in the government's defense at Catalonia as it is also only about 70 miles from Zaragoza, insurgent stronghold on the Aragon front.

Negotiate for Demilitarization Of Nantao Sector in Shanghai

Area Adjacent To French Will Get Protection

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2 (Wednesday) (AP) — A Japanese spokesman today officially announced negotiations are in progress for demilitarization of Nantao, Shanghai's old Chinese quarter adjacent to the French concession.

The spokesman declared representatives of a neutral power approached the Japanese with a plan to neutralize the area of Nantao immediately adjoining the French concession with the view toward avoiding endangerment of foreign and Chinese non-combatant lives.

He explained the general purpose of the proposal was to assure that no Chinese troops would enter the northern part of Nantao.

Up to Chinese
A similar proposal has been made to Chinese authorities, said the spokesman declaring that the final decision was now up to the Chinese.

(Nantao lies just south of the French concession where hundreds of foreigners have crowded for safety. Grave apprehension has been aroused by the Japanese drive west of Shanghai aiming at encircling Shanghai and capturing Nantao.)

The spokesman said Japanese authorities were prepared to give the proposal favorable consideration which was interpreted to mean that if the agreement were signed the Japanese would refrain from bombing Nantao or attacking the areas immediately adjacent to the French concession.

The Associated Press learned authoritatively that the unique proposal originated from Father Jacquinet, the famous Catholic priest chairman of the international refugee committee, who was fearful of the conflict might wipe out thousands of non-combatants and refugees who had flocked to the area from outlying districts.

Separate Agreements
Under the proposal both the Chinese and Japanese would sign separate agreements with Father Jacquinet providing for demilitarization for purely humanitarian reasons without infringing on the sovereignty of the Chinese government, pledge the Chinese to withdraw military forces from the area and pledge that the Japanese would not attack the section.

Definite details of efforts also to neutralize the famous Sicaewai area to the west, including the Sicaewai observatory and church structures, were still unsettled.

FREE PRESS?
FIGHT VALIDITY OF TAX ON NEWSPAPERS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 2 (AP) — The power of a legislature to tax the press is "a power to destroy," Elisha Hanson, attorney for the American Newspaper Publishers association, contended before a three-judge federal court today in attacking the validity of the Arizona sales tax.

The statute levies one per cent on the gross income of newspapers.

If the law is upheld, Hanson told the court, the legislature will be conceded the power to control the press of the state, "even to destroy it."

Hanson said the privilege sales tax, such as the one in effect in Arizona, is "a condition precedent to the publication of a newspaper," and if valid the legislature "can lay down any other condition it so desires."

The rate might be increased, he said, "even to the extent of confiscating the entire gross income of the press."

We're No Angels

We believe it's time to start explaining the University of Iowa. We believe there are people in the state who might be misled by those newspapers which have published sensational "news" stories about the campus.

The call "all aboard," used on railroads, originated in ship travel. Ninety per cent of Russians are now literate, compared with 25 per cent in 1897, according to government figures.

The Abraham Lincoln national monument, near Hodgenville, Ky., contains the log cabin and part of the farm where Lincoln was born.

Iowa City is probably no more nor no less moral than other cities of its size. There is some drinking, but what Iowa town of 20,000 population can boast that it is bone-dry?

Now, lest we be misunderstood, there is drinking among the student body. But we challenge any organization in the world to assemble 6,000 young men and women and get by without liquor.

There are a dozen other favorable comments that might be added about the university and its students. More than 50 per cent of our work at least a part of our way through school. A few of us work 10 and even 15 and 16 hour days six and seven days weekly.

We—but, why go on? We want it understood that "we're no angels." Neither, however, are we decadent libertines. We are human beings and would like to be treated as such.

The Challenge To Iowa City

JOHNSON COUNTY has been cut from state relief rolls. Winter is nearly upon us, and a financial aid which has carried much of the unemployment relief load has been withdrawn. We are on our own.

Here is a challenge to the people of Iowa City to meet this emergency and prove to the state that "charity begins at home." Will the people of Iowa City show themselves capable of carrying on their relief work independent of outside aid?

In spite of improved economic conditions, the needs this winter will be great. The 1938 community chest drive now being carried on must succeed. The goal of $19,890 must be reached and, if possible, exceeded if unemployment relief and social service agencies are to remain a bulwark against suffering and privation in our community.

Stranger Than Fiction

FROM ADA, Okla., comes a story that will certainly start the superstitious thinking. It concerns the deaths of five people who had accepted invitations to speak before the East-Central Education association.

The meeting seems to have a curse on it. Last summer Sen. Joseph T. Robinson was asked to speak at the meeting. His sudden death shocked the nation in July. Amelia Earhart was next invited to speak. She accepted, then flew away on a trip from which she never returned.

The third person to accept was Dr. H. H. Cherry, president of the Bowling Green, Ky., Teachers college. He died in a few days. The fourth scheduled speaker was a member of the University of Minnesota faculty, Dr. M. E. Haggerty. His death came not long after his acceptance of the fourth bid.

Last Friday the meeting convened with assurance that the jinx was broken. Congressman R. P. Hill was to speak that day. The members of the association soon heard, however, that Congressman Hill would be unable to speak. He was dead of a heart attack at his home in Oklahoma City.

No one today believes in the supernatural, but an occurrence such as this makes one stop to think. It is nothing more than a most unusual coincidence, one which would arouse considerable derision if it should form the basis of a detective story, as it very likely will. Be that as it may, it is convincing proof that truth is stranger than fiction.

If young Mr. Dewey continues to mop up on crime and criminals in New York City it's a cinch historians of the future will refer to the late admiral as a distant relative of Tom's.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

"IT CAN BE DONE" The title of "Star Farmer of America for 1937," with the pecuniary reward going therewith, was awarded at Kansas City last week to Robert Lee Bristow of Virginia.

Two years ago his parents died, leaving a none too productive 200 acre farm long under cultivation and suffering from depleted soil. It was encumbered by a federal land bank mortgage and a federal commissioner loan, the total indebtedness being $2,451.

In the first year as farm operator the youngster cleared $600 from poultry, eggs, and hogs, and $12 from the operation of a grist mill he rigged up from parts of an old motor car. He paid something on his debt, increased his farm equipment, and this year expects net earnings much larger than for 1936.

Facial Nerve Neuralgia May Often Resemble Aching Tooth

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. I am asked to discuss the question of neuralgia of the teeth. This has a familiar sound, and nearly every patient who has neuralgia of the facial nerve sooner or later thinks it is due to the teeth. Many teeth have been sacrificed for that reason.

When a large number of teeth begin to ache at the same time, it probably is due to neuralgia of the fifth nerve, which is the nerve that supplies sensation to the structures of the head and face. The nerve is called the trigeminal nerve because it has three branches, one of which goes above the eyes, one to the upper jaw, and one to the lower jaw.

The one which goes to the skin above the eyes will produce a severe headache, localized in the forehead, and this is frequently ascribed to eye trouble or eye strain, although, as a matter of fact, the eye has nothing to do with it.

Just as an experiment, the British War Department practiced bringing down one of its own robot-driven planes. The experiment was a success. Cost: $10,000.

Neighbors Some people live in New York for years without seeing many of its treasures. The idea, of course, is: "Why rush? I will see it some day." However, that some day is a long time in coming. For instance, I have never been to the Statue of Liberty. I have seen it from shore and from passing ships thousands of times, but I have never been out to it and climbed its back-breaking stairway.

A fine example of how remote one may be in this town to the experience of Jim Crowley, the football coach, and Grantland Rice, the sports columnist. They are next door neighbors, but last year they saw each other only twice—in Berlin and in Los Angeles.

Joe Smith Music lovers rubbed their eyes when they read in their newspapers of the debut of a young baritone—Joe Smith by name—in New York the other night. He seems headed for the Metropolitan stage, but his name would have stunned New York a generation or so ago.

When his teacher suggested he pursue his career under the name of Giuseppe Fabbro, its Italian equivalent, Smith declined. "It is outrageous to think that American names and American teachers can not produce good singers."

So he billed himself under the honest but wholly unromantic name of—Joe Smith.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Strange it may be, but the person most vitally concerned in a movie love scene is neither of the principals but the director.

Your stars, unless they're very new at the business, may be quite blasé about exchanging osculations and embraces for the camera, but your director never is. His realization of the importance of sincere and beautiful love scenes to his picture makes him, for the time, a Lothario without portfolio. He knows so thoroughly the mood he wants that you are sure, watching his sideline excitement, he could give a better performance than his stars.

Some Find Ridicule Useful Sometimes he does, too—better and funnier. That is when he undertakes to "show them how." Archie Mayo frequently acts out scenes to demonstrate the effects he wants. Archie weighs around 200, unless he's reduced some more. He did not take Gary Cooper's place with Sigrid Gurie in the "Marco Polo" rehearsals, but he would recite the love lines to himself, and the replies, emphasizing the desired inflection. Archie thinks inflection is the big thing in movie love passages.

Michael Curtiz, excitable Hungarian, does not "act out" movie romances. He comments, criticizes, suggests. "That kiss—she would not melt butter. Don't hold her like she was a hot potato. Crush her. Maybe you break a rib. That is all right if we get a good scene!"

DeMille, hawk-eyed on every scene, is the same when his players must make love. Sometimes he uses ridicule along with blandishments to spur them into the "mood." Another showman-director, Von Sternberg, has found ridicule useful.

Others Believe In Coaxing Busby Berkeley belongs to the act-it-out school. He acts it out in rehearsals, then during the "take" he stands behind the camera, going through the motions while his players perform before the lens.

Irving Cummings, once an actor himself, uses the soft voice method, and beams benignly as he watches his scene, step by step.

Blaine Williams, Secretary. The Campus Camera club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in room 18 of the fine arts building. Ruben Scharf, local photographer, will show motion pictures in color of the 1938 Boy Scout Jamboree and scenic views of Niagara Falls.

Hawks Go Through Aerial Offensive Drill

City High Drills On Air Attack

Parizek Given Passing Duties

Hawklets Practice For Tilt with Geneseo Friday Night

More new passing formations were on the menu as Coach Herb Cormack assembled his City high footballers last night in preparation for Friday night's game with the Geneseo, Ill., eleven.

Cormack's latest concoctions will be added to plays used to effectively in last week's encounter to make the Red and White aerial raid complete. Adoption of the new plays found lanky Wayne Putnam receiving the tosses of Eldon Parizek, who does his heaving from the port side. However, Justice and McGinnis also took turns at flinging the ball to Dave Kerr.

Paul Out

Although dismissed from heavy drill, Larry Paul appeared in uniform for a light workout. Paul, suffering a leg injury sustained in the Marshalltown battle, will not be used against Geneseo. Bob Beck, recuperating from a sprained ankle, will be used sparingly if at all this week. Both men will be withheld, if possible, for the important Hilltopper engagement at Davenport the following week.

Joe McGinnis, regular quarterback, is being groomed to take over the tailback position on punting formations when DeWayne Justice is not on the field. McGinnis' booting was on a par with that of Justice yesterday afternoon as he brushed up on the kicking assignment.

In a light scrimmage the first team was composed of Jenkinson at center, Snider at right guard, Mueller and Stimmel at the tackle posts, with Kerr and Putnam as flankers. The five backfield berths were filled by McGinnis, Parizek, Justice, Lewis and Buckley.

Roberts Scores 2024 Points To Win Triathlon

Dale Roberts, three sport man from Villisca, captured the annual jump triathlon yesterday afternoon at the fieldhouse by annexing 2,024 points in the event.

Roberts, a junior, took first in the pole vault by clearing 11 feet, tied for first in the high jump with five feet six inches, and won the broad jump with 20 feet six inches.

Jack Alderdice, freshman from Davenport, was second with 1,982 points and Fred Muhl was third with 1,408. Alderdice tied Roberts in the high jump and would have won the broad jump had he not fouled on all four of his attempts.

Nelson Barnes, varsity pole vaulter last season, won the traveling trophy and gold medal for first place in the event for the first semester of last year and the trophy is now in the possession of Bush Lamb who won it during the second semester of last year.

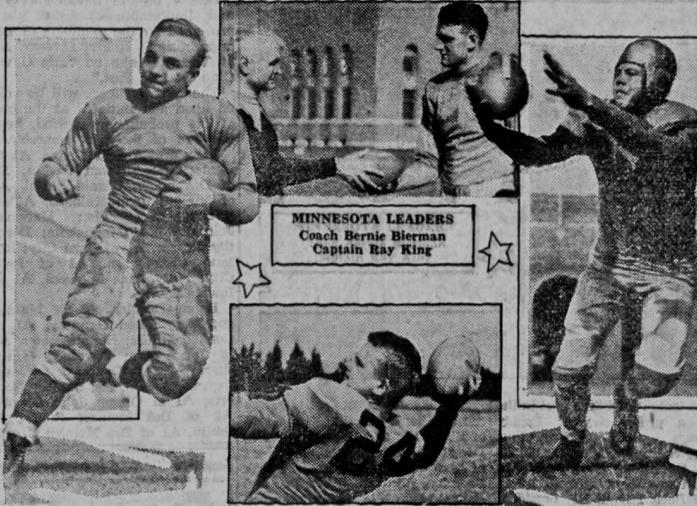

Cretzmeyer Holds Record

Frances Cretzmeyer, who was in charge of the event, amassed the highest total number of points in the history of the all university jump triathlon two years ago when he collected 2,327 points.

The winner will be presented with a traveling trophy and a gold medal while silver and bronze medals will go to second and third place winners.

Those entered in the competition were Dale Roberts, Jack Alderdice, Harold Cregs, Fred Muhl, Lincoln Stewart, Delbert Steiner, Karl Ryerson, and Edward Baird.

Erickson Wins Numeral Run

Wind Hampers Men in Cross Country Race

Merlin Erickson, of Waterville, led 13 weary cross country runners to the tape in the running of the annual freshman cross country numeral run yesterday afternoon.

Running into the teeth of a biting north wind Erickson covered the mile and one third in six minutes 27 seconds. The time, considering adverse running conditions, was exceptionally good for the distance.

Ray Davis, Oskaloosa, ran Erickson a close second in the event by covering the difficult course in six minutes 30 seconds. Harry Cuthbert, Upper Darby, Pa., was third with a time of seven minutes.

The course is laid out in such a fashion as to permit the start and finish on the west side of the varsity track. The competitors leave the west side track and progress north and west over the golf course to finally end again at the starting point.

The meet was held under the direction of Frances Cretzmeyer with Bob Nelson, varsity track letter winner, acting as official starter.

Gehring Receives 1937 Player Award

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Charley Gehring was named by the Baseball Writers' association today as the American league's "most valuable player" for 1937, thereby climaxing the biggest season of his 14-year career with the game's most cherished award.

At an age when many players are on the way down—and out, the Detroit Tigers' "strong silent man" thus found his 34th year, already marked by the league batting championship, topped off by two much sought after goals.

Fraternity Cross Country Run Is Scheduled Today

One hundred and fifty contestants are expected to line up at the starting post this afternoon as the interfraternity cross-country run gets under way at 4:30 on the north side of the stadium.

All fraternities are allowed to enter as many contestants as they desire and points will be awarded to all who finish within the time limit of nine minutes set for the nine-tenths mile course. Fraternity participation points are based on one point for the first 10 men of each fraternity plus one-third point for each man thereafter.

Ten prizes will be given to those individuals who finish in the first 10 places including two gold medals, three silver and five bronze.

Dormitory Cross Country Event Won By Gables' Runner

Sixteen co-op dorm cross country runners raced around the mile and three tenths hill-and-dale course yesterday afternoon, with Gables' lone entry, Kenneth Crist, coming in first with a time of 6:38.

Donald Lettow, Jefferson, was second; Allan Lang, Manse, third; Henry Lapp, Manse, fourth; and Bob Ward, Manse, fifth.

In participation points, the Manse team led with 14 points, Jefferson was next with three, with Gables trailing with 1.

With a cold wind making passing and ball handling difficult, the Delta Upsilon touch footballers yesterday overwhelmed the Phi Gamma Delta by a 39-0 score.

The 35-man Gopher squad will not leave Minneapolis until Friday noon when it will enroute for Newton, Ia., where the party will spend Friday night. The Gophers will move into Iowa City Saturday noon.

Kischer Returns

AMES (AP)—Everett Kischer took his place in the Iowa State lineup yesterday for the first time since he was injured in the Nebraska game early in October. The little triple threat artist took over his kicking, passing and running duties with no signs of rustiness.

Reports emanating from the Minnesota drill field indicate that the Gophers are confident of a victory in Saturday's game. Despite their one point setback at the hands of Notre Dame, the northerners are showing the same cockiness that has been their trademark since their powerful eleven started clicking six years ago. Determination was again the Gopher attitude as it has been after each of the three defeats Minnesota has suffered in the last six years.

Invasion!

Several thousand Minnesota supporters will accompany the team, making the jaunt by train, auto and air. Most of the Gopher contingent will leave Minneapolis Friday night, arriving in Iowa City Saturday morning.

The Iowa first team, as displayed by Tubbs last night had Allen and Brady at guards, Nead and DeHeer at tackles, Klumpar and Evans at ends, Anderson at center, Kinnick at quarterback, McLain at fullback and Eicherly and Balazs at the halfback posts.

Three Injured Players Return To Grid Squad

Iowans Scrimmage In Stadium Against Frosh Team

Nearly 200 spectators braved the cold north wind sweeping through the Iowa stadium yesterday to watch the University of Iowa football team go through one of its snappiest drills of the season.

The workout assumed a cheerier note than it had Monday as three of the four injured Hawkeyes returned for duty. Capt. Homer Harris, Bob Lannon and Erwin Prasse, all ends were in uniform for last night's drill but it could not be learned whether they would be able to start against the Minnesota Gophers in the Iowa Homecoming game Saturday.

Frank Gallagher, injured tackle was the only member of the injured quartet who was not in uniform.

Aerial Attack

Spectators at Saturday's game can look for plenty of Iowa passes if last night's workout was any indication of the offensive tactics that Tubbs intends to use against the Gophers. With Kinnick on the throwing end the Hawkeyes completed pass after pass against the freshman team using Minnesota's pass defense.

The Iowa mentor devoted most of the time to a scrimmage session with the freshmen opposing the varsity. The Minnesota power attack is causing a great deal of worry to the Hawkeye coaches but they are not overlooking the slippery runs of Rudy Gmitro and Harold Van Every, Gopher backs.

It appears that Minnesota will start a team with only one sophomore, Van Every. The line is large and experienced, with Bob Weld, guard; Lou Midler, tackle; and Capt. Ray King, end, as the best men.

Gophers Cocky

Despite their one point setback at the hands of Notre Dame, the northerners are showing the same cockiness that has been their trademark since their powerful eleven started clicking six years ago.

Tipton Favored Over U-High 11

Hod Shots

By G. K. HODENFIELD

A motorman's holiday—Glenn Devine and Ernie Nevers of the Iowa football coaching staff spent all week in teaching the gridiron sport. Last week end they traveled to Lafayette, Ind., to see the Iowa-Purdue game and went from there to Chicago to see the Chicago Bears and the Cleveland Rams in a professional game.

Sunday night as they returned to Iowa City on the streamliner, they spent more than half their time mapping out football plays on the backs of letters and envelopes.

Why shouldn't Iowa beat Minnesota? The Hawkeyes and Illinois are equal (on paper) since they both lost, 7-6, to Michigan. Illinois tied Notre Dame, who beat Minnesota last week. Of course if you figure that Minnesota beat Michigan, 39-6, that puts another slant on the story.

Two years ago, Dick Crayne had a bad ankle when he played in the Homecoming game against Minnesota and was, far from his usual form. This year Homer Harris, victim of a shoulder separation, will probably captain the Hawkeyes from the bench.

Even in defeat Nile Kinnick is attracting attention as the outstanding sophomore in the Big Ten. While not going so far on the limb as predicting an Iowa victory against Minnesota Saturday, I still think that if the Hawkeye signal caller can display the same accuracy with his passes that he had against the freshmen last night he will cause those Gophers a lot of trouble.

Tonight on the east steps of Old Capitol, the Pi Epsilon Pi pep fraternity will stage what they hope will be the largest mass demonstration of student spirit to be seen on the Iowa campus in many years. Pat Boland, former All-American and present line coach for the Hawkeyes, will be the principal speaker. Members of the Iowa line, the forgotten men of football, will be presented to the cheering fans.

Pi Epsilon Pi has been the directing force behind the "new era in pep" on the Hawkeye campus and they really deserve a lot of praise and co-operation.

Loop Leaders Doped to Win

Blue and White Travels To Tipton For Final Game of Year

"I predict that Tipton will win the conference title handily and if we hold them under three touchdowns I will consider that we have made a creditable showing," said Coach Jack Sterrett yesterday as he watched his University high football team go through their last practice in preparation for their game with Tipton at Tipton today.

On the basis of the records of the two teams this season, Tipton is an overwhelming favorite to defeat the local team today. Tipton is leading the conference with seven victories and no defeats. University high has had a successful season with four wins, one tie and one loss.

Tipton in defeating Anamosa last week end stretched its winning streak to 15 straight victories, including last year's record. They will enter the game the favorites and will have a weight advantage in their favor of about a 175 pound average per man against a 150 pound average for University high.

This is the last game of the season for both teams and win, lose or draw Tipton will emerge the conference champions as they are at least a game and a half ahead of every team in their conference. The outcome of the game, however, means a great deal to University high, as a victory would assure them of at least a tie for second place and a loss might push them into third or fourth place in the league.

Looking Glass Reflections

By VERA SHELDON

Mothers' apron strings have loosened, and girls of the teen age are swinging out in gores and flares of their own choosing. Independence and self-reliance for girls are exemplified in clothes designed especially for them.

It's smartest to look your age, high school students. Sports clothes are the type to wear to school. Skirts and sweaters or blouses are nice both from the standpoint of smartness and convenience. The newest skirts for youthful figures are gored and flared.

Plaids are good, but dark colors still lead in favor with blues, browns, blacks, greens and maroons vying for first place. Those which "zip" are most popular with these vivacious young ladies. One especially attractive skirt has a very high waistline bordered by a tiny belt. It comes in black lightweight wool with a full-length zipper. In another skirt we counted 12 gores.

New and different touches make sweaters exciting. Most widely shown are those with boat necks in a variety of weaves and a multitude of shades. One model in kelly green has a boat neck bordered by a Roman-striped band. Another uses this trim in two tiny triangular pockets above the waistline.

An unusual sweater is one of pure white wool made with a snug waistline and high neck. It has sparkling studs for buttons. For wear on wintry days there is a turtle-neck sweater of powder blue.

Taking the high school world by storm are the very new corduroy suits. One style in dark maroon is shown with a short zipper jacket; another in brown has a longer, belted jacket of the Norfolk type. The skirts are plain.

The combinations in which these suits can be worn make them very smart and practical. Shirtwaist blouses or sweaters with ascot ties make interesting changes. The suits are grand for street wear this fall and will keep out every speck of wind when worn under coats.

By the way, coats should be untrimmed sports models with straight fronts and semi-swagger backs. Princess lines are good for juniors and seniors. Remember to keep those skirts short. From 15 to 16 inches is right for sports wear.

Accessories to complete outfits usually are a contrast in color. Hats preferred are off-the-face. The most popular model is the "campus flip" which may be worn turned up or with a snap brim. Don't fail to have a variety of suede calots. Clever girls choose them in high school colors.

To Vote on School Tomorrow

Tomorrow Iowa Citizens will vote for the third time within 27 months to decide if their "fire-trap" school buildings shall be replaced with a modern one.

A letter from C. A. Hill to The Daily Iowan regarding Thursday's bond election has been answered by Dr. George Maresh, school board president.

Hill writes: "I am opposed to the Morningside site and under no consideration do I want my vote to be counted for the Morningside site."

Maresh has replied: "Anyone who votes 'Yes' on both propositions will cast a vote against the Morningside site. Anyone who votes 'Yes' on the first question and 'No' on the second will cast a vote against a centrally located site."

Two possible central locations have been named by the board. They are the entire block directly east of the high school square; and the site between Lucas and Governor street and approximately 150 feet south of Burlington street.

By using this kind of a ballot Iowa Citizens can decide the two questions separately: "Shall we build it?" and "Where shall we build it?"

The first question on the ballot asks "Shall we bond $398,750 to supplement the $326,250 PWA grant and build a new high school?"

And the second question is "Shall we bond a sum not to exceed $90,000 for the purchase of a site within the school district?"

Each question must receive the approval of 60 per cent of the voters to be effective. If the second question is not approved and the first one is, the school would be built on the Morningside site.

Only 46 per cent of the 1936 record vote approved the plan and it was badly defeated 1,875 to 1,623. Again no central site had been available and it was generally believed the school would be built on the district's Morningside site.

The entire question was reopened by an announcement August 19 that PWA had allotted $326,250 for construction of the high school.

Iowa City's application which was filed in August, 1935, received two years consideration by PWA officials and no allotment was made until the present buildings were examined by PWA inspectors.

State PWA Director P. F. Hopkins said that "The only purpose of the grant is to help Iowa City replace its school 'fire-traps' with a safe, modern building."

Two-Question Ballot The city school board was offered the grant late in September and it was accepted Oct. 2. Plans for an election Thursday were immediately drafted and it was decided that the ballot should be of the two-proposition type.

Five polling booths, one in each ward, will be open between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. tomorrow. They will be at the First ward (including school district voters living west of the Iowa river and outside of the city limits), the Johnson county courthouse;

Second ward, city hall; third ward, Horace Mann school, 521 N. Dodge street; fourth ward, high school administration building, 530 E. Jefferson street; and fifth ward (including school district voters living east of the Iowa river and outside the city limits), Henry Longfellow school, 1130 Seymour avenue.

Three election judges and two clerks will be at each polling station. The votes will be canvassed at the city hall station before midnight tomorrow.

Santa Claus Starts Work

Local Stores Begin To Prepare Stocks For Yuletide Season

Santa Claus, unused to Indian summer, has taken off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and plunged into action in preparation for a bigger and better Christmas, according to reports received from Iowa City retail merchants.

Local stores are already unpacking holiday shipments and creating a Yuletide atmosphere for the busy season. Christmas stock orders have been placed and others are on their way but the majority of them are already here.

Toys occupy front and center counters, and the selection shows a diversity ranging from tiny die autos to $50 miniature automobiles. One local store, recalling the ice of last winter, ordered 100 sleds this week. Another received its complete toy stock two weeks ago.

Christmas trees at this early date have been ordered so that local merchants may be assured of a good supply. However, they will not come until the second week of December so that the danger of falling tree needles is reduced to a minimum.

Since this is not leap year retailers fear a drop in the sale of mistletoe, but all other Christmas stock is expected to show increased sales over last year.

New York Sets Pace But Santa Claus has not confined his activities to Iowa City. The whole nation is making preparations with New York setting the pace.

The big department stores there have had displays devoted entirely to Christmas merchandise since the beginning of the week.

A. C. Lorack Lists Competitive Exams For Federal Jobs

Examinations will be given for the following positions: Associate meteorologist, $3,200 a year; assistant meteorologist, $2,600 a year; junior medical officer (rotating internship), $2,000 a year; junior medical officer (psychiatric resident), $2,000 a year.

Mrs. Ralph B. Freyder will serve as assisting hostess.

Pythians To Meet

A business meeting followed by refreshments will be the program for the Knight of Pythias at their meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the K.P. hall.

PERSONALS

Robert M. Frederick of Moline, Ill., and Erwin G. Striegel of Des Moines visited the college of pharmacy Monday. Striegel, who graduated in 1922, is a representative of the John Wyeth drug company. Frederick was a student in the college of pharmacy in 1927 and 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bussey and their sons, Jim and David, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Sedgwick Rogers of Chicago will be guests at the home of Prof. and Mrs. A. C. Trowbridge, 1182 E. Court street, this week end.

Attorney and Mrs. Carl Riese, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Cady and Attorney and Mrs. Raymond Wright, all of Burlington, will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Walker, 233 Melrose avenue, this week end.

Lillian Anderson of Fairfield spent the week end in Iowa City with Phyllis Armstrong, 520 S. Clinton street.

To Vote on School Tomorrow

Tomorrow Iowa Citizens will vote for the third time within 27 months to decide if their "fire-trap" school buildings shall be replaced with a modern one.

"Approximately 8,000 Iowa Citizens are eligible to vote tomorrow," Mayor Myron J. Walker announced. There are also about 200 school district voters living outside the city limits who are eligible, the school board stated.

The general question has been voted on twice and has been defeated each time because the required 60 per cent approving vote was not obtained.

More than half of the voters—54 per cent—approved the question at the first election Aug. 20, 1935. Then 1,370 approved it, and 1,137 voted against it.

The 1935 ballot asked "Shall we bond $350,000 to build a new school if we apply for and receive a $286,000 PWA grant?"

Opposition to the Morningside site in East Iowa City was believed responsible for the question's defeat. No site was specified on the ballot, and it was assumed the Morningside ground would be selected because the school owned no available central site.

Second Election A record school bond election vote—3,498—was cast at the second election May 26, 1936. The question was "Shall we bond $600,000 to build a new high school?"

The 1936 question was put to the voters and no mention was made of a PWA grant. It had

Bureau, College May Offer Farmers Free Seed Testing Service

Johnson county farmers may be offered a seed testing service by the farm bureau and Iowa State college. Iowa farmers suffer a great loss from uncontrollable small grain diseases which the proposed service would eliminate by cleaning and treating the grain before it is planted.

A questionnaire is being mailed to county farmers to obtain their reaction to a seed treating service in the county. The cost of the treatment ranges from 5 to 10 cents a bushel, depending on the volume of seed treated.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: The year is 1912, and in New York's 52nd Street high-hatted elegance reigns supreme. But not with Rufus Rondell, who marries Evelyn Macey, show-girl, estranging his straight-laced older sister, Aelia and Letitia. Evelyn dies leaving Rufus with a three-year-old girl, Margaret. Evelyn's friends, Sid and Jack, whom Rufus had backed in the first 52nd Street night club venture, prosper exceedingly. They give Benny Zamarrilli, son of Rufus' picturesque friend Fiorello, a job as piano player, much to the disgust of Fiorello who wanted the boy to be a great concert pianist. Margaret, now grown up, comes home from abroad for a visit and falls in love with Benny. Rufus and Fiorello join in establishing a night club near Sid and Jack's, hoping to drive them out of business and Benny back to serious music. The club is a great success, unfortunately for the Rondell sisters, whose fortune is wiped out in the 1929 crash but whom Rufus continues to support lavishly through his night club profits unknown to them.

Chapter Four

Sid and Jack were in their private office, dividing the week's profits. Oddly enough, Jack's pile of currency towered high above that of Sid, who, in his groping way, suspected that something was wrong without quite being able to put his finger on it.

His doubts were swept away by the magnificent, unanswerable logic of Jack's explanation. "Fifty-fifty— that's our arrangement, ain't it? I get half of what we make and half of what you make."

They were interrupted by the arrival of Benny and his father. "The latter as volubly incoherent as ever. But Benny was strangely silent.

"What are you sit there like a idiot for?" Fiorello suddenly asked him.

"I was just thinking of Margaret," replied Benny. "Back tomorrow night— boy, oh boy, oh boy!"

"Tell you what," spoke up Jack. "We'll give her a party— and Rufus Rondell won't know nothing about it. It's too late to stop us!" Here, for once, was something they could all agree on. They fell to discussing the party plans with more animation than practical good sense.

Rufus Rondell had met his little girl at the pier, and was taking her home in his limousine. On the way he planned her homecoming celebration— just a nice, quiet little dinner at home for two. Then Rufus broached what was uppermost in his mind. He wanted Margaret to call on his embittered sisters— whom she had never seen— and bury the family hatchet.

Margaret demurred. "My mother wasn't good enough for them, and still you want me to —"

"Please, Margaret. It's just for your own good —"

"I'm sorry, father," the girl spoke out of the depth of her feeling of pride. "Not only do I refuse, but if you ever did what you want me to do, I'd never speak to you again."

While the Rondells were speeding homeward, their spacious living room had been taken over by Fiorello, Sid and Jack, and the staffs of their respective hot spots.

While they waited, an old girl was hogged between the loyal am-

City Community Chest Campaign Passes Two Thirds Mark

Total Reaches $13,388.61; A Week Remains

Martin 'Very Pleased'; Warns Solicitors Trouble Ahead

Iowa City's 1938 community chest campaign for $19,890 passed the two-thirds mark last night with contributions totaling $13,388.61 reported by officials at campaign headquarters, 110 S. Linn street.

Attorney Thomas E. Martin expressed himself as "Very pleased with the additional response manifested yesterday," adding, "I believe that we can get to the quota if we can get enough solicitors to thoroughly canvass the field during the last week of the drive."

There is need for more solicitors, for a large number of prospects not seen in the opening week of the drive are included in the second assignments made up and distributed by the eight divisional directors to their solicitors yesterday.

Individual contributors in the campaign now total 1,714. The eight divisions and the percentage of each quota raised as recorded last night are:

Employees	$1,214.	48.58
National firms	$1,299.	66.39
Professional	$ 704.	44.
Public schools	$ 369.	73.80
University	$3,668.94	78.90
Hospitals	$1,743.37	86.17
Residential	$ 741.80	54.95
Business	$3,648.50	58.38

The business division showed the greatest gain during the past 24 hours, leaping from last to fifth place in the divisional percentages. The university hospital division continues to lead with 87.17 per cent of the quota raised.

Attorney Martin last night warned solicitors that from now until the close of the campaign Wednesday the work of solicitation will be more difficult but emphasized the great importance of meeting the quota.

Faber To Talk To Elks Lodge

Sergeant Faber, in charge of the West Liberty post of the Iowa state highway patrol, will speak to the Elks lodge on highway safety at the bi-weekly meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Elks clubrooms. The address is in honor of national traffic week.

The program committee is composed of R. H. Justen, chairman, Police Judge Burke Carson and Joe Dolezal, assistant police chief.

A lodge of sorrow, in memory of Philip D. Ketelsen, former trustee of the Elks lodge whose death occurred Saturday will take place during the meeting.

Three Couples Get Marriage Licenses

Three marriage licenses were granted by the Johnson county clerk's office yesterday. They were issued to the following:

Ellis Flax and Betty Hahn, both of Iowa City; Merrill H. Heiner of Brooklyn and Mildred Fern Wagner of Guernsey, and John Hoover and Lula Smith, both of Cedar Rapids.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLER.

Reservation

I've been reserving comment on Sunday's Des Moines Register splurge about university morals, awaiting campus reaction. . . . Luckily everyone I know has been unpleasantly indignant. . . . It's my own feeling the write-up showed a lack of discrimination on the parts of the newspaper, the writer and—not forgetting—the localites who ranted the university in the public prints. . . .

I, for one, challenge the former county attorney to name the sorority which, a few years back, "wouldn't pledge a girl if she were virtuous." . . . I don't believe he can; because I know, as much every other campusite, that no such sorority could exist on the Iowa campus — or any campus — for a month. . . .

False?

That, of course, is the difficulty. . . . I know these things, and so do you. . . . But how many of the Register's some 308,000 readers—some of whom send their children to the university, or who might—know them to be false. . . .

The facts are these. . . . Iowa City is perhaps the state's most misunderstood town. . . . Almost every year some issue comes up which, fanned by that part of the press interested only in headlines, grows into a state-wide minor scandal. . . . This year it was the possibility of Harvey Secor's "tourist" cabins. . . . Next year it will be something else. . . .

It's a matter of indisputable record that college life is the least understood part of the American scene. . . . Stories like Sunday's Register article can do little to foster understanding. . . .

I personally doubt if the man who misquoted the Ten Commandments and who found the parties at Iowa Union to be immoral has ever attended an all-university party. . . . I personally am skeptical if the former county official who declares he finds immorality in the professor's backyards can produce a single concrete example. . . .

I personally believe, moreover, that more persons with authority should speak to explain Iowa City and the university to Iowa than those who seek, for personal advantage, to cloud the issues with untruths. . . .

It's true, of course, that any slight discrepancy in a university town is a headline, while it might be forgotten anywhere else. . . . Iowa State college seems to have escaped the unfavorable headlines, though; and so have the other state educational institutions. . . . Why Iowa City has been less fortunate is, I think, a matter for exhaustive investigation. . . .

Yesterday's mail brought a terse, biting little note regards Sunday's drugstore note and reporting a local pharmacy stu-

Station KAWP Begins Sending Trial Messages

W. H. Bender, chief of police, yesterday received permission from the federal communications commission to begin the testing period on radio station KAWP.

Arthur Schoebelen, night captain, and T. A. Hunter, chief operator, transmitted messages last night to Sheriff Don McComas and to the airport.

When the receivers which are to be placed in the Iowa City police car and Sheriff McComas' car arrive, full time operation of KAWP will begin.

Under the commission's rules, KAWP can operate for a period of 30 days without a station license to permit testing of the transmitter. Chief of Police Bender has filed application for the station license.

KAWP operates on a frequency of 2466 kilocycles with a power of 50 watts. Schoebelen and Patrolman Beye Ham will serve as operators.

Company Will Put Up Lines

A 25-year franchise was granted the Iowa City Light and Power company for the erection of approximately three miles of electric lines by the county board of supervisors yesterday.

The line will be constructed from a point on U. S. highway 6 between Iowa City and Coralville west to the county poor farm road and from there to the borders of Iowa City.

Work will begin on the project as soon as possible, company officials have announced.

dent went into a drugstore to buy a "few" prescription bottles and found that — although the place had everything from magazines to malted milks — there wasn't a prescription bottle in the house. . . .

The note also records that there's a move now afoot to abolish the "drugstore"—as such. . . . It seems too many are dithering the experiences already related. . . .

Fined $300 On Driving Charge

Novak Pleads Guilty Of Intoxication Before District Court

E. J. Novak pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving before James P. Gaffney in Johnson county district court yesterday.

Novak was fined $300 and court costs or 90 days in the county jail. He is also prohibited from driving a car on any highway for a period of three months. Pending good behavior, $150 will be deducted from the fine, and the remainder may be paid at the rate of $50 each month.

The case was to be tried before the petit jury this morning, but Novak, through his attorney, A. C. Cahill, pleaded guilty before Judge Gaffney in an open court.

This was the last case on the September docket. The November term of the district court opens Nov. 15.

Pay Your Gas Bill --- Or No Heat!

No. 7 of a Series

Natural gas is sold in this city by the gas company and it has a monopoly on such sale.

Rules and regulations for the sale of natural gas are made by the gas company without fear of competition.

Gas is billed out at a high rate with a discount (amounts to over 15% on the lowest rate) for prompt payment of the bill.

But if the discount is not taken and the bill remains unpaid, the company turns the gas off.

You, the consumer, cannot use any other fuel for a natural gas burner spoils the furnace for coal or oil. So—regardless of any circumstances, you must pay your gas bill or freeze. Those great big bills in December, January, February and March must be paid. Christmas, interest and taxes can go. The gas company must be paid. It will not give you the credit that many enjoy each year from their coal dealer.

Before signing up for natural gas, ask the salesman:

"Will you give me a written guarantee from your company that if circumstances beyond my control—illness, financial reverses or loss of employment—cause me to be unable to pay my gas bill, will you continue to furnish me with heat the rest of this winter?"
