Nine Power Conclave To Be Called; France Great Britain U.S. Meet

Decision Made After Meeting Of 2 Officials

Three Agree To Parley In Order to Seek Eastern Peace

By JOHN LLOYD
BRUSSELS, Nov. 3 (AP)—A decision to call the principal nine power conference delegations to a meeting for consideration of a second Brussels conference invitation to Japan was reached tonight by the United States, Great Britain and France.

The decision was made after a series of evening talks which were begun when British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden dined with Yvon Delbos, the French foreign minister.

Delbos later called on Norman H. Davis, chief of the American delegation.

It was understood Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's delegate, had accepted an invitation to the meeting which would be attended in addition by the eight signatory powers which have gathered in Brussels. Only Japan has stayed away from the peace sessions, and the meeting tomorrow would consider a second bid to the conference.

If Japan refuses the invitation or if agreement could not be reached for extending the invitation, it was understood a committee would be formed of the chiefs of the principal delegations to seek some means of mediation even without Japanese attendance.

The expected "big three" front emerged today at the opening session of the Brussels conference when the United States, Great Britain and France agreed on the course they believed it should take in seeking peace in the Far East.

The British and French delegations subscribed to the proposal of Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation, that peace should be sought by direct negotiations between China and Japan. All three powers urged quick action lest the conference drift into dangerous and dilatory paths.

D. G.'s Lose Lead in Sale

Alpha Xi's, Chi O's Take First, Second As Badges Are Sold

The members of Alpha Xi Delta sorority gained the lead from Delta Gamma sorority, and Chi Omega sorority moved up to second place in the second day of the Homecoming badge sale, Dean Rudolph A. Kuever, chairman of the badge committee, announced last night.

The total sales of 7,472 for the first two days is 12 per cent short of the record set for the first two days of last year's sale, Dean Kuever said.

The total sales for each sorority are:

Alpha Xi Delta	2,527
Chi Omega	2,500
Delta Gamma	2,445

The members of the three sororities will continue to canvass the campus, business houses, university buildings, dormitories, fraternities, and sororities until the Minnesota-Iowa game starts Saturday afternoon.

"It's a very fine badge, and I think it's a fine idea to use the picture of the football coach. I hope the public will be inspired to support the team as much as he has inspired the team this season," Prof. Ernest "Dad" Schroeder, director of physical education and intercollegiate athletics, asserted when he bought his badge.

Election Result Puts Spotlight On LaGuardia

Presidential Campaign Possible for New York Mayor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—The full story of Tuesday's election results serves to center the nation's full attention on Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York City, who was returned to office by close to a half million majority. But it also increases confusion as to national portents to be read into the scattered verdicts of millions of voters.

That LaGuardia may receive consideration for a presidential nomination, perhaps without any intervening campaign for high state office, is the conclusion of many Washington politicians although they differ as to what sort of ticket he may head.

Only one other candidate in Tuesday's elections moved anything like as definitely on to the national political stage for 1940. He is United States Sen. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey, democrat, elected governor. His victory takes from republican hands one of the seven governorships they retained in previous democratic sweeps.

His candidacy for presidential, or vice-presidential, honors in 1940 has been expected ever since he disclosed willingness to abandon the remainder of his senate term to serve as New Jersey governor for the third time.

Aside from the New York City outcome, chief interest centered on organized labor's share in what happened at the polls. And labor claims far greater influence upon the political events to come than the mere balancing of its successes and failures on Tuesday. That claim was made by John L. Lewis, C.I.O. head and chairman of labor's nonpartisan league, which was a factor in President Roosevelt's reelection a year ago.

Iowa's Monument to Homecoming

The University of Iowa's annual Homecoming festivities will begin tomorrow night with the gigantic mass meeting. The center of attraction on the campus now is the traditional corn monument, located at Iowa avenue and Clinton street. The structure, built by students in the college of engineering, is covered entirely with Iowa corn, amounting to about 50 bushels. The names of Iowa and Minnesota are painted in black and red respectively.

Iowa Cheers Will Rule Supreme At Pep Rally For Homecoming Game

Iowa cheers will reign supreme tomorrow at the gigantic mass meeting as hundreds of students, townspeople and alumni gather to celebrate Iowa's Homecoming game with Minnesota Saturday.

The mass meeting—the university's largest pep rally of the year—will begin at 7:40 p.m. on the west approach to Old Capitol.

Torches will flash and trumpets will blare as the parade marches from the concentration points enroute to the steps on the west approach to Old Capitol. Parade centers will be in front of the Sigma Nu house on North Dubuque street, College Hill park on East Washington street, the Quadrangle and north of the top of the River street hill.

A raucous whistle on top of the engineering building will announce the rally. Music for the occasion will be supplied by the university band under the direction of Prof. Charles B. Righter.

The crowd will hear brief speeches by President Eugene A. Gilmore, Prof. Clarence Updegraff, chairman of the board in control of athletics, and Attorney Albert Jenkins of Cedar Rapids, president of the "I" club, the new letterman's organization. The entire program will not last more than 40 minutes.

The men who will lead the parade include Jack W. Firth, A4 of Davenport; John H. Hruska, A3 of Cedar Rapids; John C. Head Jr., C4 of Montrose; and Everett E. Feay, A4 of Iowa City.

Reckless Driver
FORT DODGE, Iowa, (AP)—A Webster county coroner's jury yesterday found that the car which Tuesday struck and killed Marjorie Rykhus, 11, was driven in a "reckless and negligent" manner by Frederick Peterson.

80 Killed in Sudden Air Raid As Rebel Planes Bomb Government City

Oil Companies Question Court Seat of Black

Renew Arguments Of Unconstitutionality Against Justice

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Justice Hugo L. Black faced a new challenge today to his right to sit on the supreme court.

His eligibility was questioned by three Florida oil companies in a petition which contended Black's appointment was unconstitutional.

The petition advanced two arguments on which the court recently refused to pass—that no vacancy existed at the time of Black's appointment, and that the justice had been a member of the senate which permitted members of the court to retire at full pay at the age of 70. The constitution prohibits a member of congress from taking an office he has helped make more remunerative.

These arguments were used previously by Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, and Patrick Henry Kelly, Boston attorney, in challenges to Black's eligibility. The court refused to consider their removal proceedings against the justice, however. It was contended they did not have sufficient interest.

Whether the Florida companies, as litigants before the tribunal, have sufficient interest remains to be decided.

Rally Honors Linemen

'Students Make The Team,' Line Coach Tells 1,000 People

"The team is what the students make it," Pat Boland, line coach shouted to a crowd of more than 1,000 persons at last night's "linemen" rally, the preliminary to the gigantic mass meeting tomorrow night.

Enthusiastic tribute was paid to the linemen of the team, introduced by Orval Matteson, A4 of Elgin, Ill., master of ceremonies. Prof. George D. Haskell, general chairman of all Homecoming activities, announced the remainder of the week's events.

"If you want your team to win you must tell them so," Boland declared. "They are your representatives, and it is your right to expect a victory."

Professor Haskell announced the plans for a continuous series of events to begin with the mass meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. and not to end until after the Iowa-Minnesota game Saturday.

"Everyone in Iowa City is urged to attend the mass meeting and show the team that you are backing it," Professor Haskell said.

Prof. Clarence M. Updegraff, chairman of the board in control of athletics, opened the rally with a plea for "100 per cent backing of the team."

Bombers Stage Second Attack In Two Days

40,000 Asturian Troops Make Way Back To Catalonia

MADRID, Nov. 3 (AP)—Dispatches from Barbastro tonight reported an estimated 80 persons were killed and an undetermined number injured in an insurgent air raid on the city 100 miles west of Barcelona.

Twelve tri-motored bombers suddenly attacked Barbastro, only 30 miles from Lerida where 120 were killed in a similar raid yesterday, releasing a complete cargo of bombs.

Reports from the city said the raid lasted only a few minutes, but was of terrific intensity.

Full details of the bombing were not known.

A government communique reported the recapture of positions near Fuentes de Ebro, on the Aragon front, which had been lost recently because of floods. The communique said only desultory firing occurred on the various war fronts today.

The arrival of a group of Asturian troops on the central front was reported semi-officially. They were said to have accomplished the seemingly impossible feat of penetrating insurgent lines 400 miles in a fortnight to win their way back to government lines after the fall of Gijon wiped out government resistance on the north coast.

About 40,000 Asturian troops and civilians were said to have arrived in Catalonia where they joined relatives and friends who previously had evacuated the north region in the face of the insurgent advance.

The Asturian troops were incorporated into the government's general defense army.

Madrid was subjected to a light bombardment late today, but few casualties resulted from the insurgent shells.

3 Men Seized; Gang Known In Dairy Burglary

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 3 (AP)—The police seized three men today and announced that in less than 17 hours they had accounted for all of the gang whose attempted dairy burglary ended in a gunfight and the killing of a policeman and one robber.

Detective Captain Adolph Kraemer said "they all admit" participation in the burglary. They were not formally charged immediately.

Michael Kohlmeir, alias James Stone and James Sweeney, one of the trio captured today, had bullet wounds in the abdomen and back. He was taken to the county hospital for an operation. His condition was reported critical. Kohlmeir said he lived in Detroit and was a former policeman.

The gang's leader, who said he was Fred Reardon, alias Young and Burchiel, was captured Tuesday night during the shooting at the Luick Dairy company's main plant.

The two taken with Kohlmeir said they were Patrick Connelly and Charles J. Coffey, alias Carney. They and Reardon gave Chicago addresses.

The slain burglar was Edward Atkins, alias Leonard, of Chicago. He was killed after a companion had slain Acting Detective George Raabe, father of six children, while fleeing from the dairy.

Today's capture was made at an apartment, less than a block from police headquarters, where Reardon roomed while here.

Legionnaires Take Charge of Education Week Program

Speakers and programs will be presented by the Roy L. Chopek Post 17 of the American Legion during the 17th annual education week in Iowa City, Clair J. Butterfield, chairman of the committee in charge, announced last night.

National education week is observed throughout the nation under the leadership of the National Education association, the American Legion and the United States office of education.

Forbes Dies

CHICAGO, (AP)—George S. Forbes, 57, a broker, died yesterday of a heart attack a few minutes after collapsing in the wheat pit of the Chicago board of trade.

Twins Celebrate Different Birthdays

ST. PAUL, Nov. 3 (AP)—Robert and Elizabeth Masterson are twins, but they will celebrate their birthdays in different months—and three days apart.

Robert was born Oct. 29 and his sister Nov. 1. Both normal and healthy babies, they are the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Masterson, St. Paul.

The interval separating their births, 68 hours and seven minutes, is usually long in the case of twins, their physician said, although intervals of three or four hours are not uncommon.

50 Private Detectives Fingerprinted Under New Illinois Statute

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Fifty private detectives were fingerprinted today, shadowed for a couple of hours and then bombarded with a lot of questions.

And tomorrow they're going to talk, see?

The routine was part of the requirements of a new state law for licensing private sleuths and watchmen. The law is designed to elevate the business by eliminating fly-by-night operatives and racketeers.

'Don't Run to Press'—Senator Roy Stevens

DES MOINES, Nov. 3 (AP)—Senator Roy Stevens (D) of Ottumwa, chairman of the legislative interim committee, told the members today that when they "have criticism to offer, I wish you would bring it to me personally, and not run to the press."

Iowa Citizens Vote on School Building Today

By TOM JOHNSON
A record vote today by Iowa Citizens will end the three-year controversy—"Shall we build a new high school?" and "Where shall it be located?"

Iowa Citizens will answer two questions on the unique two-proposition ballot, and the issue will be settled.

The first question—which will decide if the school is to be built—asks "Shall we bond $398,750 to supplement a $326,250 PWA grant to construct a new high school?"

And the second question—which will decide where to locate the school—asks "Shall we bond $90,000 to purchase a central site?"

Each question must be approved by at least 60 per cent of the voters today to become effective. If less than that amount approve the first question, the school will not be built at this time. If at least 60 per cent approval is given, the school will be built.

The modern $725,000 high school will be built on the Morningside site in East Iowa City if less than 60 per cent approve the second question. It will be located centrally if the second proposition is approved by at least 60 per cent of the voters.

Today's election is the third attempt by Iowa Citizens to solve the controversy in the last 27 months. The question—"Shall we build a new high school?" has not been decided at the last two elections.

More than 8,000 Iowa Citizens are eligible to vote today; and the record vote, established in 1936 when 3,498 voters were cast, will probably be broken.

The question "Shall we bond $600,000 to build a new high school?" was badly defeated last year by a 1,875 to 1,623 vote.

The high school proposal was also defeated in 1935 in a close race. Then 54 per cent of the voters approved the question, "Shall we bond $350,000 to build a new school if we apply for and obtain a $286,000 PWA grant?" The final vote was 1,370 to 1,137, only 65 votes short of 60 per cent approval.

If today's election fails to settle the argument, a petition which is being circulated, will be presented to the school board tomorrow morning.

The petition asks for a new election "To bond $478,750 to supplement the $326,250 PWA grant to build a new high school and purchase a definite central site—directly east of the present high school square."

The site directly east of the present high school has been named by the school board as a possible central location which will be considered if the second proposition is approved.

The other site which would be considered is located between Lucas and Governor streets, approximately 150 south of Burlington street.

It is illegal to name a definite location in the second question because the property is not owned by the school, the board has explained.

"Vote as you please on where to locate it, but vote to build it," prominent Iowa Citizens have said. "The $326,250 PWA grant is an actuality this time and not a hope as in 1935 and 1936."

George Griffith, state PWA engineer, and P. F. Hopkins, state PWA director, said that "The only purpose in awarding the $326,250 grant to Iowa City is to help replace the present inadequate buildings. They are fire-traps of the worst sort."

Under terms of the grant, the present junior high school building and the administration building would be razed if the new school is to be built, and the present high school would be used as a junior high.

Where Is Iowa Pep? Iowa Rooters' Head Says Organizations Haven't Cooperated

Only 11 of the 37 sororities, fraternities and dormitories on the campus have reserved their quotas of seats in the Iowa Rooters, the university's first organized cheering section, Orval Matteson, A4 of Elgin, Ill., chairman of the project, announced last night.

The groups that are listed on the "roll of honor" so far include Delta Sigma Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Jefferson house, the Mansie, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Alpha Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta and Wilson house.

Tonight is the deadline for reservation of tickets for the cheering section. Tickets may be reserved at Whetstone's No. 1.

"Although this may be Iowa's so-called 'new era in pep,' you would never know it by considering the results so far," Matteson declared. "The biggest organization on the campus, the Quadrangle, has failed to cooperate. The Quad has been considered the hot bed of school spirit, but now it looks as though it were a bed of cold coals instead."

All students, both affiliated and non-affiliated, are urged to reserve seats for the cheering section. The group will make its first public appearance at the Indiana-Iowa game Nov. 13.

proportion, the interim committee should give something from the $250,000 emergency fund toward the university coal bill.

Sen. Roy Stevens, chairman of the legislative committee, ruled that the situation does not constitute an emergency that would justify the committee in granting the request.

"If you go ahead and buy Iowa coal and later find you do not have enough money to operate, then we might do something for you," asserted Representative Leroy Mercer (D) of Iowa City. Galvin said the university's coal bill will be about $150,000, and that the Iowa coal costs about 16 per cent more than Illinois coal.

Iowa State college at Ames can buy Iowa coal more cheaply, because of proximity to the mine; the Teachers college at Cedar Falls can buy Illinois and Iowa coal at the same price, while the state school at Vinton must pay a premium of $200 for Iowa coal.

Edwin McCollister Wins Interfraternity Cross Country Run

Phi Kappa Psi Group Snares Team Honors

Sigma Nu and Delta Upsilon Grab 2nd and 3rd Places

Edwin McCollister, A2 of Iowa City, yesterday afternoon led 106 panting fraternity men to the tape as they struggled for individual and fraternity honors.

Phi Kappa Psi for the eighth straight year ran off with the coveted cup for first place, being an easy winner over its nearest competitors, the Sig Nu's who placed second and the D.U.'s who followed in third position.

Robert Waples, A3 of Cedar Rapids, brother Phi Psi to the winner, came in second; Fred Teufel, A3 of Davenport, Phi Epsilon Kappa, third; Carl Teufel, A2 of Davenport, Phi Epsilon Kappa, fourth; Robert Ivie, A2 of Iowa City, Sigma Chi, fifth; Richard Jenkins, A2 of Columbus Junction, Delta Upsilon, sixth; Miles O'Brien, A3 of Oelwein, Beta Theta Pi, seventh; Robert Sieh, A2 of Spencer, Sigma Nu, eighth; Edward McCloy, A2 of Iowa City, Delta Upsilon, ninth; and Walter Warner, C3 of Des Moines, Phi Kappa Psi, tenth.

The first two place winners will receive gold medals, third, fourth and fifth places, silver medals and from sixth to tenth places will be rewarded with bronze prizes.

The winners time was five minutes 37 seconds for the distance of approximately one mile.

Captain Eyston Sets 3 World Speed Records

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Nov. 3 (AP) — Captain George Eyston halted a distance run at 8:59 p.m. (CST) tonight after capturing three major world speed records — for 3,000 kilometers, 12 hours and 2,000 miles. He quit the speed run after shattering the 200-mile record with an average speed of 163.75 miles an hour. His new mark for the 12-hour run was 163.68 M.P.H., and for the 3,000 kilometers, 163.49 M.P.H.

The run actually gave him 12 new records — three marks in the world unlimited class, three in International Class A, and three each in American unlimited and American Class A.

Capt. Eyston announced he ended the run at the 2,000-mile mark to permit his men to start reassembling the "Thunderbolt," powerful sister of the "Speed Of The Winds" racing machine in which today's run was made.

Grapplers Work On Weaknesses

Coach Mike Howard has started to whip his wrestling team into shape two days a week for demonstrations with the entire squad and the other three days for individual instruction. He feels that each wrestler has weaknesses and that this is the best manner in which to correct the flaws.

He hopes to better his record of last season with a stronger team this year. The team won three meets, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Carleton, last year and was defeated by Minnesota, Iowa State and Nebraska and tied by State Teachers. The team had a perfect record in 1936 with no ties or defeats, and in 1935 Iowa State was the only team to defeat the Hawkeyes.

Little will be learned of prospects for the Little Old Golds as a freshman team will not be working out until after the Big Ten meets are over. The freshmen are put in physical education wrestling classes and then a tournament is held sometime in March. Some of the best boys are allowed to grapple with the varsity to gain experience.

Coach Howard has one freshman, Phil Strom, Ft. Dodge, who will probably be heard of in the near future, in the all-university meet and also in the freshman tournament. He is a heavy-weight and won the high school championship last year in the heavy-weight class. He is out for freshman football at the present time.

23 Football Teams Unbeaten to Date

California Bears, Alabama, Santa Clara Share National Spotlight

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP) — Twenty-three starters in the annual football sweepstakes will go into the first November Saturday unbeaten and untied. Of that happy handful, there are only seven whose performances will command attention beyond the limited area of their own cheering sections.

They are, reading from Berkeley, Cal., to Easton, Pa., in approximate geographical order: California, Santa Clara, Colorado, Montana, Baylor, Alabama and Lafayette.

The form chart says that of the spotless seven, all but Montana and Lafayette should get by this week's installment of the gridiron obstacle race without losing glamour in the process.

Bears vs Washington
The Golden Bears will square off against Washington, coast conference champions of 1936, in their latest bid for the 1937 title and the Rose Bowl nomination that goes with it. Not impregnable against a high-gear offensive, the Bears' defensive rec-

Birthday For Bob Feller

VAN METER, Nov. 3 (AP) — Bob Feller, who says he'd like to forget baseball for a few months, celebrated his nineteenth birthday today by helping with farm chores and doing a little hunting.

Bob, young pitching ace with the Cleveland Indians, gave the hired man a lift with the chores and took down his trusty automatic rifle for a jaunt into the woods.

He wouldn't say what luck he had, but confided he has his sights set for an owl which has been roosting in a tree near his neat farm home.

Gunning for Owl
"I may plug him some day. He'd look swell all stuffed and perched in our living room," laughed Bob.
The young pitcher declared he wants to forget baseball and get complete rest.
"But, my gosh, it's hard keeping my mind off the ball club."
Mrs. Feller had only the usual large noontime meal for the birthday dinner. No cake, no candles.
Sister Not Excited
The nine year old sister, Marguerite, didn't come home from consolidated school. She said she couldn't get excited about a birthday, unless maybe it was her own.
The important Feller arm? That's doing all right, Bob said. He doesn't expect a recurrence of the trouble which kept him from hitting his stride until late in the 1937 season.

By BILL BONI

Utah, beaten by Denver and Idaho, also seem in fairly secure positions to annex their sixth triumphs of the season.

Lafayette Underdog
The outlook for Montana and Lafayette is distinctly less promising. Lafayette, only one of the seven survivors to be unscathed as well as unbeaten and untied, is matched with a Rutgers outfit that has been scored on (6-0) and beaten only by Princeton and boasts the country's top scorer in Bill Travitt.

Montana's opponent will be Gonzaga, the team which held Washington State and St. Mary's to scoreless ties. One item in the Montanans' favor, however, is the fact that they whipped San Francisco, 13-7, whereas Gonzaga dropped a 7-0 decision to the Dons.

Two of the Northwest's best backs, George Karamatic of Gonzaga and Milton Popovitch of Montana, will form the spearheads of the rival attacks.
The form chart, of course, has been notably unreliable this season. Yet it still remains the best guide there is. If there were a better one, the experts long since would have found it.

Auker, Chase, Lee And Stratton Haul Edge Over Yankees

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP) — The American league probably could pick up some extra spending money this winter by putting Pitchers Elden Auker, Kendall Chase, Monte Stratton, Thornton Lee and Buck Newsom on exhibition around the National league circuit.

The five pitchers' claim to fame is that they pitched winning ball against the world championship New York Yankees. Between them, they won 15 and lost only four to the team that made most of Col. Bill Terry's Giant chuckers look like grade D flingers in the last world series.

Henry Pierpont Edwards, service bureau manager of the American league, dug up the surprising information which showed that Detroit's Auker was the chief Yankee buster with three victories and no defeats. Chase and Stratton each won two and lost none, Lee won five and lost three, and Newsom pitched .750 against the Yankee wrecking crew by beating them three out of four.

Others who withstood the Yankee artillery were Edgar Smith, Athletics, 3-3, Johnny Allen, Cleveland, and Joe Krakauskas, Washington, who each won one and lost none against the champs.
Every club had its pitching jinxes. Here are the pitchers, club by club, who licked them most frequently:
New York lost to Auker 3 out of three; Detroit lost to Jack Wilson, Boston, 5 out of 7; Chicago lost to Roxie Lawson, Detroit, 5 out of 8; Cleveland lost five straight to Gomez; Boston lost to Red Ruffing, Yankees, and Weaver of Washington lost four straight each; Lyons, Chicago, and Wesley Ferrell, Boston; St. Louis' jinx was Kelley; Tommy Bridges whipped Philadelphia 5 out of 7.

LATEST NEWS FROM

BIG TEN SQUADS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 3 (AP) — A light scrimmage wound up Purdue's preparations for Fordham here today. The Boilermakers will leave for New York tomorrow. Coach Mal Elward spent some time polishing up work on punting, place-kicking and passing. Coaches said the squad, on the whole, is in good shape.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 3 (AP) — Coach A. N. (Bo) McMillin sought today to unearth additional speed and shiftness in the Indiana University backfield preparatory to Saturday's tilt against Ohio State.
Concentrating on offense, the Crimson ran through a strenuous drill with Don Helstand, reserve halfback, holding down the regular berth occupied by George Fowler and Bill Adherson.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP) — A freshman eleven equipped with University of Chicago plays was unable to make headway today against the Michigan football varsity. Fred Janke probably will start at left tackle against the Maroons here Saturday. Coach Harry Kipke said Janke, a tackle a year ago, was moved to fullback at the start of this season. Replaced by Crawford Stanton, he has been on the bench most of the time since the opening game against Michigan State.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3 (AP) — Alex Schoenbaum, big left tackle, returned to the Ohio State University lineup today, virtually recovered from an ankle injury which has kept him from strenuous practice since the Chicago game last week. Coach Francis Schmidt sent the squad through its second consecutive long drill on "razzle dazzle" plays in preparation for the Indiana invasion Saturday.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 3 (AP) — The Illinois varsity spent a full practice period at defensive scrimmage today as Coach Bob Zupke worked to perfect a way of stopping Northwestern's powerful running and aerial attack. The drill lasted so long that floodlights had to be employed, and even then Zupke was not particularly pleased with the results, saying that he could see little chance of holding the Wildcats in check.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP) — Earl Pierce, a big sophomore lineman, was given a whirl at center on the Chicago football varsity today as Coach Clark Shaughnessy endeavored to fill the position in time for the Michigan game Saturday. Shaughnessy indicated that Pierce, ninth member of the squad to work at the position, would start against the Wolverines, because of his defensive ability.

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 3 (AP) — Burly Fred Vanzo, Northwestern's great blocking back and defensive star, may be on the sidelines again this week when

War Admiral Wins $5,680 In Pimlico Special

PIMLICO TRACK, Baltimore, Nov. 3 (AP) — Fortune, favoring the brave, smiled on War Admiral today and Samuel D. Riddle's doughty brown colt came from behind to win the mile-and-sixteenth Pimlico special on courage.

It was the eighth straight victory for the 3-year-old money-winning champion and the $5,680 prize brought his earnings to $166,500.

His grateful owner announced after the race, "I have given Trainer George Conway two months' vacation and the Admiral will not race again this season." The crowd of 15,000 gasped as their favorite broke third and trailed until the final turn. Masked General, Brandywine's gelding, carrying 100 pounds to the Admiral's 128, seemed to have victory cinched until he ran wide the Wildcats face Illinois. Defense against forward passes and a brief workout on their own overhead game occupied the Wildcats today.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3 (AP) — Coach Harry Stuhldreher's regular varsity encountered stiff competition today against a first string freshman team which used Purdue plays for the Badgers' next game a week from Saturday. Each team scored two touchdowns. George Paskvan, 200-pound freshman fullback from La Grange, Ill., attracted much attention.

War Admiral, quoted at 1-to-20, the season's shortest odds, paid $2.10 for $2.00 and Masked General pair $3.30. There was no show betting.

Proposition No. 1

Don't jeopardize Iowa City's chances of securing a P.W.A. grant by allowing certain forces to intimidate the voters into waiting for a later election to decide the school issue.

There is no definite assurance that another election will be held before March 1, the date for the regular school election. In order to secure the federal grant of $326,250, the plans and specifications must be completed,-- letting of contract and beginning of construction must take place by January 4, 1938.

This will all take time and there must be no lost motion, even now, in order that all P. W. A. requirements be fulfilled.

52nd STREET

with more than 20 stars headed by IAN HUNTER, LEO CARRILLO, ELLA LOGAN, PAT PATERSON, SID SILVERS, ZASU PITTS and KENNY BAKER

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: In 1912 Rufus Rondell shocked society on 52nd Street and estranged his elder sisters, Adela and Letitia, by marrying a show girl, Evelyn Macey. She died four years later, leaving their daughter, Margaret, now, 25 years later, Rufus is running a night club on 52nd Street in partnership with picturesque Fiorello Zamarelli, nearby the club run by Sid and Jack, his old vaudeville friends. With his night club profits Rufus supports his sniffling sisters, who are unaware that they were ruined in the 1929 crash. Meanwhile Margaret returns from her schooling abroad, falls in love with Benny, Fiorello's pianist son. On her return the staffs of both cafes stage a notorious party for her in Rufus' home. It ends up in a wild brawl and a patrol wagon ride, to the amusement of Margaret and the dismay of Rufus, who promised her mother to bring her up as "a lady."

Chapter Five

Margaret and her father were arguing it out in the Rondell library.

"My cellar was full," Rufus was trying to explain—"money came easy. I'm ashamed of all this, Margaret. The associations—"

"I like the people, father," she interrupted. "They're honest. You haven't been — with me."

"But I've tried —"

"Yes — for me. You love me. I believe that. Then why not give up the night club — turn it over to Mr. Zamarelli? You and I will go some place — any place — just to get acquainted."

At this Rufus demurred. There were "reasons" why he could not give up the business he despised.

"Another secret?" she inquired grimly.

"Oh, daughter — if I tried to explain — you wouldn't understand. Later, I can tell you everything — I promise you."

"Just as you promised to write me when I was in school abroad," she shrugged. "You hadn't time for it — you were doing big things. You're doing big things now — big secrets. All right. I'm of age. There's no reason why it won't work both ways!" And she was gone.

The next day Margaret was hard at work practicing hot dance steps to the accompaniment of her music instructor, Klauber. One thing was evident, Margaret had within her the talent to dance with the best of them.

After the lesson was over the faithful Klauber hurried to Rufus' home, to confront Rondell and his effervescent business partner and break the horrid news that Margaret was planning to dance in a night club.

"Go back and tell my daughter," Rufus directed rather pompously, "that I refuse to grant her permission to work in a night club. She left me without giving me a chance to explain. That's all."

Fiorello turned reprovingly to his partner. "Something tells me you ain't got no boarders in your upper flat. You should never cross your bridges till they are hatched."

Margaret walked blithely into Sid and Jack's, where Benny, not having heard from her for a week and more, was moping disconsolately, threatening to take to drink. When she appeared he made as if to greet her; then, remembering his grievance, he turned his back angrily. Margaret announced to Sid and Jack that she had come to apply for a job. But instead of offering her a job, they offered her unlimited advice. Sitting sternly on either side of her, they "gave it to her" by turns.

"You're actin' like a spoiled brat," accused Jack.

"We been nice to you all these years," added Sid, "just because we thought you was gonna be like your mother. Well, you ain't. She didn't turn down your father. He was no angel then — just a plain guy."

"But a good guy," Jack chimed in. "And he's your father!"

Margaret rose indignantly.

"Just a mo'," cried Jack, ever with an eye to the main chance, and conscious that Rufus Rondell's daughter would be a tremendous attraction to his customers. "You still want to work for us?" "I do," she declared. "Okay—then you do."

The next one who had to be won over to the idea was Benny. The place was not respectable, he argued, and she didn't need money — her father had plenty. Besides, her dancing in a night club would make him a laughing stock at this.

"Anyway," added Benny, "it takes experience to dance —"

"It does? Well, how do you know I haven't got it? Play that piano — something hot — anything!" And without waiting for the music, she brayed into a dazzling number. Benny, his last argument swept away, joined in enthusiastically at the piano, watching her admiringly as she executed the difficult steps with the ease of an old timer. Margaret definitely belonged — as the star attraction at Sid and Jack's.

Margaret had just finished a number in her late show, and before going to her dressing room she stopped in at the office of the café. There she beheld her father arguing with Benny — over her.

"Nobody's any worse than he wants to be — on 52nd Street or any other street," Benny told him. "She couldn't be bad if she tried."

Rufus saw Margaret standing in the doorway. "I want you to come home," he said quietly. "He gave you my answer," she replied. Rufus dropped his eyes, hardly able to speak in his bitterness.

"I suppose I have it coming to me," he muttered, and left.

Benny, having fought Margaret's battle, now turned on her. "You hurt him," he accused.

"Yes, and I'll hurt him again. I'm his daughter — I'm entitled to his confidence. If he can't give it to me, I'll do as I please!"

Benny, seeing in her now a new, a different Margaret from the one he had fallen in love with, turned on his heel.

"I guess I was wrong," he flung over his shoulder, and made for the door. But both were interrupted by the appearance of Porky, the dress-suit pluggish.

"Hello, baby," he clucked, advancing toward Margaret. "Pretty neat little number you did out on that floor. What do you say to a little supper after —"

Benny, fully cognizant of the three hard-looking gentlemen who were waiting for Porky right outside the door, wheeled around and floored the gangster with a hard left to the chin.

(To be concluded.)

Thomas E. Martin Announces Contributions to Community Chest Fund Total $14,006.61

Last Subscribers Are Residential Groups, National Firms

Contributions to Iowa City's Community Chest fund during the last 24 hours swelled the total audited to $14,006.61, according to Attorney Thomas E. Martin, campaign director. He reported late last night that 70.42 per cent of the campaign goal of $19,890 had been raised.

The most substantial gains since the last report are in the national firms and residential groups, he indicated. The total number of subscribers in the drive thus far is 1,804, being increased materially by an influx of contributions from the employees division.

Last night Attorney Martin said, "The field is not covered yet, but we are now at a stage in the campaign where, through the distributing of the second assignments, the field can be covered systematically." The returns on the second week assignments will come in over the week end with a slight lull in the reports expected today and tomorrow.

"Our job is not to high pressure but to give everyone an opportunity to give," remarked Attorney Martin, and added, "In that sense the campaign organization is a purely service group."

The total contributions in the eight divisions and the percentage of their quotas raised are:

Employees	$1,326	53.04
National firms	1,449	70.68
Professional	704	44.
Public schools	369	73.80
University	3711.94	79.83
Hospitals	1748.37	87.13

"I heard someone say . . ."

Not so long ago, people depended upon tales of returned travelers for their information about distant lands. Even when true, these tales were frequently misunderstood and misquoted. Often they were tall tales to begin with . . . There was no way to check up on these stories, no agency devoted to the accurate reporting of what really happened around the world.

Today journalism of integrity is an authoritative source on which to base stories, judgments and opinions. Furthermore, the published story can be referred to and reread in its unchangeable form.

Such journalism requires great care in its compilation, for it must withstand the strong light of publication.

During a half century of development The Associated Press has adhered closely to an ideal of journalistic integrity. That is the reason why newspapers of today can bring to their readers truthful and unbiased reports of what is happening all over the world.
