25 Members of Frosh Team
Earned All-State Recognition; Majority of Men From Iowa

Norgaard, Former City High Ace, Among Select Group

At high school recently record everything, the 1938 football team should be blessed with a good number of devoted All-American up-and-comers. There are as least as 15 men out for frosh football who have at one time or another been recognized as star all-state football team. Several of them have been to Iowa City this week, and the greater part of them will be right here in Iowa.

Out of this assortment of talent there are some who have stood out and in addition are the men who will possibly carry the spring football team.

Some of the more prominent are: Bill Chick of Boone, Mike Watson of West Branch, and Jimmy Blythe of Iowa City High, who are all out for all-state football.

Fred Beulah of Des Moines. Fred is the leading candidate for the all-state halfback, and in three years he has shown that he is one of the finest men on the squad. He played back as a junior while in high school, and has been used as a halfback in the fresmen games. Fred is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds. He is in good condition, and seems to be one of the finest halfbacks on Iowa City High.

Another promising man is: Carl Blandin of Charles, An outside line, Paul Hendrix, Glenwood, Paul Frenkel, Glendale Park, Tom Murphy, Indianola, Jack Reid, Cedar Rapids, and Charles Bollard, Winterset, Keith Sifford, Robert Board, Robert Sears, and Herman Riddle, Iowa City, Brazil, Wapello, and Harry Madison of Charles.

Fresmen Gopher Comes From Long Line of Linksmen

Bill Jenkins, one of the standout players on the City High School Gopher football team, comes from a family of golfers. Bill is the son of Captain John Jenkins, present city golf champion of Des Moines and has shown that he is a golfing talent. Bill has been in the state schoolmaster championship in the last three years and will continue next year. Bill is a slender fellow, but he seems to be doing more effective work this year.

Two of the candidates for the all-state team are: Carl Blandin, of Charles, who is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds, which makes him quite small for a prospective Big Ten tackle, but he has demonstrated his ability on the field. Carl Blandin is a member of the Gopher football team.

Stilly Southweh

Otis Baker of Clearwater, DeKalb, was on the all-state quarterback team in 1934 and 35. He is almost five feet six inches tall, but he is well built and has shown that he is one of the finest halfbacks on the squad. Otis Baker is a member of the Gopher football team.

Joe William Holzhauer, Muscatine; Keith Hawkins, Clear Lake; Paul Kellie, Glenwood, and Bill's brother, Bill Holzhauer, are members of the Gopher football team.

Iowa Stadium

Was Dedicated Oct. 9, 1929

Eight years close to a day after the dedication of the new stadium the University of Iowa football team will play for the first 1938 Big Ten game.

The stadium was dedicated Oct. 19, 1929. Illinois was the opponent and after 69 minutes of hard football, played through unrelenting showers on a wet field, the game ended in a 7 to 7 tie.

The stadium, with a record crowd of 30,000 persons, saw the University of Iowa football team defeat Chicago, 18 to 7, in the opening game.

The first 11 rows of seats gradually upward and the remaining 500 seats are placed at a distance between the terraces nearer the playing field.

There are 275 seats of each tier totaling 114 miles in length. Admission is graded through the tiers on the pitch range to the men.

Dimensions of the structure are 6 feet long, 60 feet from top to top, and 130 feet in length. Capacity of the permanent stands is 59,384. The bleachers at the Iowa Stadium were dedicated on the opening day of the game in 1929.

Indiana Blanks Buckeyes’ Way In Big 10 Race

Victory for Ohio State Would Make Title Chase Easy

By WILLIAM WERKES

The Big Ten’s last meeting at rear, but it was the Buckeyes’ string of nine straight victories over Minnesota, which should be a downhill drag.

Indiana tomorrow, which appeared to have the best chance of the game to Buhler is one of the fastest men. The team, led by him, was able to keep ahead of Alabama’s cross bucks. Minnesota may be wrinkles...

Smimmers Have Presented Dolphin Show to Iowa for Past 17 Years

PAGE EIGHT

The return to school of Kenneth Reid, sophomore moundsman, made first impressions in the team's first two contests but already plans are being made for an even bigger showing next year. Reid, a Left Hander, is one of two freshmen crews in the baseball team, which will meet Wisconsin's high school team.

Among the hurling recruits are Charles Kantor, Missouri Valley; Fred Wilson, Cedar Rapids, both saw service at Iowa City; James Cook, Dubuque; Williammers, Lawrence Beneitone, LaSalle, Ill., and Charles McCall of Iowa City, both members of the freshman team. McClenahan saw duty last year's inner line of defense when he came here in 1916. As his last year on the team approaches, it is now one of Iowa's most promising outfielders coming up next spring, and with their added experience they will be a leading contender for home run honors.

Suffering From Chilblains? Here's Way for Preventing It

By JOLYON CLAYSDEN, M.D.

I say five rich people in ten have a splotch of blood returning from any action of their feet. The reason is that cold blood in the feet means cold blood in the brain.

By JOLYON CLAYSDEN, M.D.

The greater the coldness of the blood, the greater the possibility of suffering from chilblains. Cold feet mean cold blood, cold blood means cold heart. The brain is just as susceptible to chilblains as the rest of the body. If the blood is cold, the coldness will affect the brain, and the brain, being the organ of the mind, will suffer.

This is because these symptoms are due to insufficient blood supply for the tissues. The lack of oxygen in the blood makes the tissues starve, and the starving tissues produce pain. The pain in the feet is due to this lack of oxygen, and the pain in the brain is due to the same cause.

The brain is just as susceptible to chilblains as the rest of the body. If the blood is cold, the coldness will affect the brain, and the brain, being the organ of the mind, will suffer.

To prevent chilblains, the blood must be kept warm. The most effective way to do this is by wearing warm shoes and socks, and by keeping the feet warm.

The University of Iowa was one of the first institutions in the country to sponsor a program of public speaking, and it helped establish the University of Iowa as a center for the study of oratory.

It was during the time that President J. G. B. Woodrow, who was also an influential orator, was in office that the University of Iowa became known as "The University of the West." This nickname reflected the university's strong tradition of public speaking and the belief that it was the "West's" premier educational institution.

The University of Iowa has continued to produce outstanding orators and public speakers, and it is still considered one of the country's leading centers for the study of public speaking.

From 1860 to 1865, the University of Iowa was under the leadership of President J. G. B. Woodrow. During this time, the university's name was changed to "The University of Iowa," and it began to gain recognition as a leading institution of higher education.

The university's library was also established during this time, and it became one of the largest and most comprehensive libraries in the country.

The University of Iowa was founded in 1847 by the state of Iowa as a land-grant college. It was the third public university established in the United States, after the University of Michigan and the University of Alabama.

The university's early years were marked by challenges, including financial difficulties and a lack of qualified faculty. However, over time, the university grew in size and stature, and it became known as one of the country's leading institutions of higher education.

Today, the University of Iowa is a world-renowned research university with a strong tradition of public speaking and oratory.

The university's history is rich, and it continues to inspire and educate students from around the world.
