Soviet Russia Issues Warning To 'Bourgeois Democratic' Countries

U. S., England, And France Urged To Act

Italo-German-Japanese Alliance Against Communism

MOSCOW, Nov. 10 (AP)—Russian newspapers warned "bourgeois democratic" countries today that they, as well as the Soviet Union, were threatened with war by the Italo-German-Japanese alliance against communism.

Both Izvestia, the government organ, and Pravda, mouthpiece of the communist party, refrained from specific threats of retaliation but Pravda urged collective action by the United States, Great Britain and France.

Izvestia lamented that the "solidarity" among fascist powers was "not noticeable in the camp of sympathizers with peace."

Pravda, charging that the real purpose behind the anti-communism agreement was to take colonies from Great Britain and France through war, declared:

"The interests of peace call for opposition to block the fascist war incendiaries by a united front of countries interested in strengthening collective security on a basis of the indivisibility of peace."

"Italian and German fascists and Japanese militarists must be made to understand that attempts to provoke a new world war for territorial plundering will bring collective resistance from all peaceful countries."

These reactions were the first authoritative Soviet expressions on the Italo-German-Japanese protocol signed last Saturday in Rome, bringing Italy into an earlier German-Japanese pact.

Although Izvestia said the agreement showed "all three parties in the pact were thinking about war against the U. S. S. R.," it was evident that "Italy cannot aid Japan and Germany" to prepare for such a war.

Italy, the government paper asserted, is too far distant from Russia and "besides her forces have been tied up in Africa and on the Spanish peninsula."

"The anti-communist label on the triple agreement appears even less convincing," it added, "than did the Japanese-German agreement."

The newspaper cited two reasons for Russian skepticism: 1. It was unnecessary, it charged, to conclude international treaties to combat communism; 2. "Japan and Germany are so occupied with workers' struggles within their own countries they would be unable to help their Italian colleagues."

Man Is Doomed Future Sex Battle Predicted With Women Emerging Rulers Of The Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—A serious "sex battle" with women emerging as rulers of the nation 1,000 years from now was predicted today by Dr. William Moulton Marston, noted psychologist, formerly of Harvard university.

Man as the "boss," he said, is doomed.

"The next 100 years will see the beginning of an American matriarchy—a nation of amazons in the psychological rather than the physical sense," he said.

In 500 years, there will be a serious sex battle. And in 1,000 years, women will definitely rule this country.

That isn't all, either, not according to the professor, whose "who's who" niche fills 38 lines.

By the year 2937 A. D., said Dr. Marston, people will be living to be 1,000 years old, because by that time the three great motivating forces of life will be properly balanced—success, love, and fun.

"There is no physiological or biological reason why man shouldn't live 1,000 years," he said. "Once the nerve strain, the poison of emotional conflict has been eliminated and the human body has become mentally and physically balanced, people can live 10 centuries with ease."

But to get back to the women—"Women have twice the emotional development, the ability for love, that man has," he explained, leading up to his theory of an Amazonized America. "Thus women have been driven to loneliness or naughtiness."

"Today, realizing that their love motive has no sustaining force, nothing to feed on—in fact," he interjected, "they're just out of luck as far as men are concerned—so today women are diverting their energies into other channels. And as they develop as much ability for worldly success as they already have ability for love, they will clearly come to rule business and the nation and the world."

Women don't want to rule, he said—"They are being driven to it by a desire for love."

Iowa City Granted Three-Month Extension on New High School

Regional PWA officials have granted Iowa City a three-month extension of the Jan. 4 date by which to start construction of the new $725,000 high school, the city school board learned last night.

Several minor contracts, such as excavating, must be let by Jan. 4 to comply with the terms of the $326,250 grant, but the bulk of the work may be started by April 1, Attorney Herbert J. Ries, the board's lawyer, said.

Attorney Ries and Architect John Hamilton of Chicago, Ill., conferred Tuesday with Lloyd Canfield, PWA engineer in charge of Iowa projects, at Omaha, Neb.

The extension was granted so that careful plans may be laid for the new building. Hamilton has said he would need "about two or three months" to furnish complete plans and specifications.

Hamilton, who returned to Chicago Tuesday night, will probably be called to Iowa City soon, the board decided. Several changes in the size and capacity of class-rooms will have to be made, and Hamilton must incorporate them in his blueprints.

Several Contracts Left For Filling; Work Begins April 1

Monthly Report Shows Balance In School Fund

There was a $139,761.61 balance in the Iowa City school district general fund Oct. 31, the monthly financial report shows. The monthly receipts were $65,257.89, and the expenses were $22,057.02.

The school house fund showed an Oct. 31 balance of $30,658.93, according to the report. The receipts were $9,519.61, and there were no expenses.

Getulio Vargas To Rule Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 10 (AP)—Pres. Getulio Vargas today assumed dictatorial powers to rule Brazil for an indefinite period by a coup in which he dissolved all legislative bodies and proclaimed a new constitution with corporative features.

The new constitution was put into effect immediately by a presidential decree at the same time Vargas issued a manifesto declaring the new regime would suspend payment on all government debts abroad.

The president, who thus took a stronger grip on the nation which he has ruled largely by decree since 1935, declared that the swift move was caused by fear of armed revolution.

It was believed that the army gave its full support to the president's move.

The foreign relations ministry declared that Vargas' coup was purely national in scope and unconnected with European ideologies, denying reports that Brazil planned to join the German-Japanese-Italian pact against communism.

The move cancelled January elections, which had been scheduled under the old constitution, and Minister of Justice Francisco Campos announced that the opposition presidential candidate, Armando Salles Oliveira, had been placed "under vigilance for his own safety."

Vargas, in whose hands thus was concentrated more power than exercised in Brazil since the Braganza emperors two generations ago, declared that party government, as under the old constitution, increased the "sombre likelihood of the class struggle."

Eastern Waterfront Of Nome Damaged; Loss Over $125,000

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 10 (AP)—The eastern end of the Nome waterfront, extending over a mile, was wrecked today by pounding seas.

Hardly a building in the district remained intact after a terrific storm. Business men estimated the loss at more than $125,000.

One of the city's largest hotels (Lincoln) was vacated for fear of collapse.

The storm, the worst since a tidal wave swept over the city in 1913, continued unabated through the forenoon. Several waterfront buildings disappeared in the waves. Others were tipped over.

The main business street was piled with driftwood and splintered debris.

Ring Broken

HARRISBURG, Pa., (AP)—A counterfeit ring with tentacles extending into the middle west that dumped more than $10,000 in bogus $10 and $20 bills in Pennsylvania, has been broken up, U. S. secret service agents said yesterday.

Pomerene Loses Ground

CLEVELAND (AP)—The condition of Former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene took a turn for the worse today and his physician, Dr. Harley Williams, said "the end may come in a few hours."

Jap Operations Indicate Drive Against Center Of Chinese Resistance

Britain Grants Courts 'Death Penalty' Power

JERUSALEM, Nov. 10 (AP)—Great Britain today empowered military courts to exact the death penalty from gunmen and bombers in the Holy Land in what was considered the first step toward martial law.

The action was taken under a Palestine defense order-in-council to deal with a long reign of terror climaxed yesterday by the murder of five Jews.

Three new shootings followed upon the court announcement. Sheikh Ansari, an active opponent of the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, was seriously injured by an assailant who fled into the mosque of Omar.

An Arab was killed and a Jewish porter seriously injured in incidents in other parts of the city.

Sixteen Arabs were arrested today by British troops in a search of the hills near Jerusalem for an Arab gang believed responsible for yesterday's ambush slaying of five Jews.

At the same time, an ordinance was issued to give effect to the government's declaration of July 7 limiting Jewish immigration in all categories to 8,000 persons from August, 1934, to March, 1938.

The Palestine royal commission on July 7 recommended the volume of Jewish immigration be limited to 12,000 persons annually for five years. The recorded immigration of Jews in 1933 was 30,327; in 1934, 42,359; in 1935, 61,854, and in 1936, 29,727.

The ordinance was described as an interim measure pending the development of the plan to partition Palestine.

The royal commission recommended that Palestine be divided into Jewish and Arab states with a third part under British mandate. Palestine at present is administered by Britain under mandate.

No new immigration applications will be accepted until January.

The military courts which will begin functioning November 18, will try persons arrested for discharging firearms at anyone or carrying arms, bombs or the like. The crimes will be punishable by death.

President Roosevelt Pays Tribute Today To Unknown Soldier

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—A presidential pilgrimage to the tomb of the unknown soldier will symbolize this nation's observance of Armistice day tomorrow.

President Roosevelt, accompanied by military aides, will motor to nearby Arlington national cemetery at the Armistice hour of 11 o'clock to lay a wreath on the block of white marble where the unknown is buried.

Later in the day, associates and friends of Woodrow Wilson will gather at the Washington cathedral tomb of the World War president to pay tribute to his memory.

Nipon's Forces Mass Armies Near Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Nov. 11 (AP)—Two Japanese operations south of Shanghai today indicated imminent offensives to wipe out the last Chinese resistance here and to launch a motor drive toward Nanking, China's capital.

Japan's army and navy appeared to be massing power in the Nantao area, bordering the French concession on the south of Shanghai, to end the resistance of an estimated 6,000 Chinese soldiers left there when the main defense forces withdrew to the west.

Further south, the Japanese landed reinforcements on both sides of Hangchow bay. About 20,000 troops reached the Chappoo area on the north shore. A division landed on the south shore, about 70 miles east of Hangchow, port at the head of the bay.

Objective Is Hangchow

The objective of the two landing forces was said to be Hangchow, main city of Chekiang province, capture of which could sever one of two railroads linking Shanghai and Nanking.

In North China, meanwhile, Japanese reported entering Taiyuanfu, captured capital of Shanxi province. They said they found the bodies of 1,000 Chinese and considerable destruction from artillery bombardments.

Japanese units advancing into South Shansi were said to have captured Pingyao, about 20 miles southwest of Fenchow on the Tatung-Pukow railroad.

Possible Peace Discussed

Discussions of a possible peace between Japan and China were deferred at least until Saturday when the Brussels conference, seeking a formula for mediation, adjourned until then. It was informed Japan's reply to a second invitation to participate might be expected by then. Japan rejected the first invitation.

Mrs. Crow, 70, Dies Following A Heart Attack

Mrs. Elizabeth Crow, 70, well known local resident, died soon after she suffered a heart attack while walking home yesterday at 5:45 p.m.

Mrs. Crow, who lives at 79 Olive court, was walking down Melrose avenue when the attack occurred.

She fell to the sidewalk, and was taken into a nearby house where she died a few minutes later.

Mrs. Crow was born Feb. 28, 1867, in Switzerland, and came to the United States when six weeks old with her parents who settled in Ohio.

Coming to Johnson county in 1879 with her parents, she spent the remainder of her life as a local resident.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Irvin Goodrich of Oxford, Mrs. Lowell Myers of Fairfax, Mrs. Howard Argubright of Downers Grove, Ill., and Mrs. George Brater, of Iowa City. Other survivors include four sons, Frank of Oxford, Arthur of Ames, Dr. F. L. Crow of Iowa City and Nathaniel of Iowa City; three sisters, Mrs. Lena Weath and Mrs. Kate Roberts of Iowa City, and Mrs. Nelson Taylor of Wellman.

Twenty-three grandchildren also survive. The body is at the Oathout funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

Utility Officials Back Reforms

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Public utility officials said today they regarded President Roosevelt's proposal for rate reforms as a hopeful augury of a truce in the five-year conflict between the federal government and privately owned power companies.

In power circles the president's utility comment, made yesterday at his press conference, was seen as a "conciliatory" gesture of more than ordinary significance because it was made after considerable recent friendly conversation between representatives of the power companies and officials in Washington.

Most comment for publication was cautious but friendly. The statement of Floyd L. Carlisle, chairman of the board of Consolidated Edison company and Niagara Hudson Power company was fairly typical. He said:

"The utilities companies with which I am identified will welcome an opportunity to explore and consider practical steps to remedy the serious condition with which utility enterprises are concerned."

In less formal comment, however, important figures in the industry were skeptical of its ability to accept unreservedly the president's formula for setting up new rate bases.

The president suggested the power companies radically alter their methods of determining value of properties as an approach to a new system of rate making which would give consumers lower service charges than they are now paying.

Hahn Defense May Appeal

CINCINNATI, Nov. 10 (AP)—Appeal from a death sentence imposed upon Anna Marie Hahn will be taken to the U. S. supreme court if necessary, Defense Counsel Joseph H. Hoodin said today.

The blonde 31-year-old mother was convicted Saturday as the poison-slayer of Jacob Wagner, 78, one of four elderly acquaintances who died, the state contended, as a result of her ministrations.

"The appeal would be made at our own expense," Hoodin said, "because Mrs. Hahn has no money left with which to continue her fight."

Despite assurances to matrons, "not to worry, I won't commit suicide," Mrs. Hahn is under extra guard, day and night.

A defense motion for a new trial, recording exceptions on seven grounds, will be argued Monday before Trial Judge Charles S. Bell.

Loyalist Troops Block Enemy's Supply Lines

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Nov. 10 (AP)—Spanish government forces tonight reported militia men blasted a railroad bridge deep within insurgent territory in northeast Spain to cut their enemy's supply line.

The bridge was located near Havasa, on the Jaca-Sabainigo road, behind the Gallego river front in the upper Aragon.

(This region lies between the Franco-Spanish border and the insurgents' front lines in Aragon.)

The foray was represented as evidence of the government's strategy of harassing insurgent communications in an effort to block the massing of troops for Generalissimo Francisco Franco's expected offensive against Catalonia, whose capital, Barcelona, has become the seat of the Spanish government.

Franco's forces were said to occupy positions of "first importance" in the Gallego river valley and were reported constructing a heavily fortified line from the Guara mountains to the French frontier.

The river positions, insurgent dispatches said, would be the base for a drive east and south across northern Spain against the government and Catalonian forces.

Rancher Wins Bloody Duel

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Nov. 10 (AP)—An aged rancher emerged victorious tonight from a fantastic duel to death with a hooded, knife-wielding marauder who couldn't match his sword and pistol defense.

The intruder entered the home of Thomas Elliott, 79, on the pretext of delivering a telegram last night.

Elliott, who lives alone, said the visitor, hooded in a burlap bag with slits for peep holes, brandished a butcher knife and said:

"This is a robbery. I want your money!"

Elliott fled upstairs, snatched an old sword and whirled to battle the stranger.

Slashing out by the light of the invader's electric torch, Elliott severed the marauder's left hand and it fell to the floor.

The intruder picked it up, stuffed it into a pocket and fought back with such ferocity he had the rancher yelling:

"I surrender! I'll get the money."

Elliott said he was permitted to rise and he went to a cupboard.

Instead of picking up his cash, Elliott grabbed a pistol from the cupboard and fired. The intruder fled dead.

Bleeding and with his clothes slashed to shreds, Elliott ran a quarter of a mile to a neighbor's home.

Sheriff Harry Patteson said the intruder later was identified as James T. Jenkins, 67, a retired mail carrier who had lived nearby for years and was mentally ill.

Physicians said Elliott would recover, barring complications.

ENGLAND MOURNS

J. Ramsay MacDonald On Way Back

LONDON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Great Britain mourned tonight the death of James Ramsay MacDonald, her first labor prime minister, from the austere, red benches of the house of commons to wind-whipped Lossiemouth, his birthplace.

MacDonald died last night at the age of 71 while en route with his daughter Sheila aboard the liner Reina del Pacifico for a holiday in South America.

It was expected that the family of the statesman, who thrice was Britain's prime minister, would be offered the opportunity to bury him in Westminster Abbey.

Definite arrangements, however, will not be made until the arrival of the body in Bermuda for the return to England and it was believed his sons and daughters would follow his wish that he lie in the tiny cemetery of Spynie Kirk at Lossiemouth.

There he would be buried among his "sain folk" beside his wife, Margaret.

In that event there will be a memorial service in Westminster Abbey.

Paul A. Wright, Confessed Killer, Tells Visitors He 'Sees Faces Constantly'

GLENDALE, Cal., Nov. 10 (AP)—Paul A. Wright, 38, president of Union Air terminal, who shot to death his wife and his best friend when, he said, he found them embracing in his home, told visitors in his jail cell today "I see their faces constantly."

Mrs. Wright and John B. Kimmel, 32, operations manager at the terminal, were shot early yesterday. Kimmel was married.

"I see their faces constantly," Jerry Geisler, Wright's attorney, quoted him as saying. "My mind automatically reviews over and over again the madness that swept over me when I saw them in each other's arms."

Geisler said Wright asserted he underwent a sterilization operation after birth of the couple's three-year-old daughter, Helen.

"My doctor advised me another childbirth probably would be fatal for my wife," Geisler quoted him.

"I couldn't stand the thought of Evelyn going down into the shadow of death again—I couldn't stand the thought of her being hurt at all."

The shooting followed return of Wright and Kimmel from a round of conviviality in Hollywood. Wright said he left Kimmel and Mrs. Wright in the living room while he took a nap and found them embracing when he arose later.

NO 'PUMP PRIMING' Cut Expenses, Advises Morgenthau

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Opposing a revival of "pump priming" as unnecessary, Secretary Morgenthau pledged the Roosevelt administration tonight "to balance the budget through cutting expenditures."

In what appears to be an effort to encourage business to pull itself out of its current slump, the treasury secretary hinted that tax "defects" would be remedied.

He advocated balancing the budget by a $695,000,000 reduction in new year's federal expenditures. Specifically, he called for less spending on relief, highways, public works and agriculture—apparently striking a blow at some of the farm aid proposals slated for consideration at the special session of congress next week.

Comparing present conditions with those of four years ago, the administration's official spokesman said:

"We deliberately used an unbalanced federal budget during the past four years to meet a great emergency. That policy has succeeded. The emergency that we faced in 1933 no longer exists."

General Johnson's NBC Radio Speech Banned by Officials

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson said his prepared radio broadcast tonight was banned by National Broadcasting company officials because it dealt with the subject of social diseases.

Johnson's broadcast was cancelled shortly before he was to go on the air and a pianist and "standby" orchestra substituted.

So They're Talking War Again

So they're talking war again—Such might be the thoughts of one who has lain these 19 years in one of the great war cemeteries in France. We wonder what he would say were he able to take the platform today in place of any one of the thousands of Armistice day speakers.

So they're talking war again—Such might be the thoughts of one who has spent these 19 years, sightless, legless or wheelchair-bound in one of the great veterans' hospitals. What would he say if he were to speak?

So they're talking war again—Such might be the thoughts of a mother whose son was sacrificed on the war god's altar. Would she want to condemn another mother's son to the same immolation?

WE HAVE heard much about war in the past few months. Do we want it? Are we prepared to pay the exorbitant price it exacts in manpower and in money?

These are the thoughts we should be thinking, and while we are pondering them let us turn our ears to the pleas of those who have been affected in the past and ask ourselves if we are willing to pay the cost.

Take a Tip From Mussolini

THE UNITED STATES is exceeding its income and living on its capital. We're not talking about the budget this time—we mean babies.

Unless the average size of American families increases, the population of the country is due for a decline even if present favorable death rates continue. At the moment there are enough babies voraciously making known their arrival each day to produce an excess of births over deaths.

But the present size of families and present mortality cannot continue to give us such an excess because the proportion of women of childbearing age in the population is diminishing. As a result, even without change in the mortality and the average size of families, the birth rate will in time fall below the death rate.

In Russia, we read, when sport fans dislike an umpire's decision they whistle at him. There goes another illusion. Up now we thought they yelled "Perge that umpire!"

Heroes And Hero Worship

WE AMERICANS, noted for our hero worship, are prone to pay homage to the wrong individuals. We worship the spectacular, and too often the superficial person. The person who puts on a good show—the industrial magnate, the outspoken politician or the wealthy philanthropist.

But are they? A recent article in the Commentator raised a doubt in our mind. To be sure, the industrial magnate may awe us with his display of financial power, business cunning and lavish standard of living.

The real heroes in the American drama of national progress are the men bending over their test tubes, intricate gadgets and innumerable calculations, often in the face of ridicule and always at the expense of enjoying the so-called life worth living.

The world at large may think them queer—these quiet unassuming men of science—yet the world owes to their ingenuity, fortitude and ceaseless labors the ever increasing luxuries of our expanding civilization.

Large Lady's Lament

"I don't ever have any fun; The fellows my company shun; And why this should be I really can't see!"

Tammany hall's future, according to an editorial in a New York daily, is in doubt. The reason being, of course, because there is no doubt about Tammany's past.

BIG-SWORD MEN

Night fell. Snow fell. Up and up the mountain defile toiled the troop of invaders. Not even the icy flakes could quench the hot greed in their hearts. Beyond the heights and down in the valley lay a city of peace ripe for the plucking.

So through the long centuries, and no less today, these fighters have fleshed their swords and struck mortal fear upon every foe. At close quarters they have never been beaten. Only by horse and arrow could the Huns, Tartars and Mongols pierce their attack.

By no means, today is China's courage limited to the rush of the big-sword men. Every week, every hour, attests the sheer fury or indomitable patience of soldiers trained to machine gun, big gun and air bomb. Where are the sloth and decadence attributed to the Chinese by those historians and publicists who praised the brave Japanese for adopting modern weapons and ruthlessness?

Decadence does not exist unless it is believed by the heart. Nor is China's fighting power limited to her brigand armies. While the Japanese cling to the tactics discredited by the World War, while they display blind mass discipline and robot frontal attack, the Chinese counter—as they have done through the ages—with initiative, enterprise, individual address. Under every and any condition, drilled troops are better troops for having minds of their own.

THE STRANGE INTERLUDE!

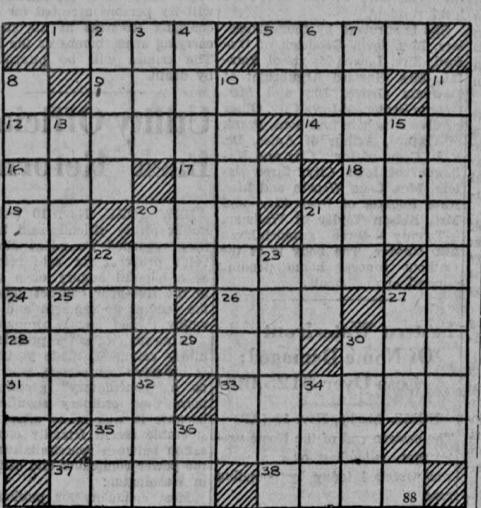

Nature of Detective Helpful To Doctor Diagnosing Skin Ills

The modern dermatologist or skin specialist has to develop the Sherlock Holmes side of his nature. Some of the very commonest forms of skin eruption demand detective work of a high order to find the cause.

Not Stumped The dermatologist, however, was not stumped yet. He found that the shield he had used was an old one and had been worn several times, so he asked her to bring a new shield and applied tests with it. The shield, according to the manufacturer, was made of pure Ceylon rubber compounded with insoluble pigments.

Tuning In with Margie Fastenow

One of the best musical variety programs tonight will be the Schaefer Revue, featuring Leo Reisman and his orchestra. Songs for this program will be led by Ed Smalle, former "Revelers" head.

"Northern Lights," a dramatic program, will be offered over NBC-Blue network tonight at 10:30. Players in this sketch enjoyed many seasons in New York and are experienced in drama.

For those interested in dance music Rudy Vallee's orchestra can be heard over the NBC-Red network between 7 and 8 tonight. At 10:30 George Olsen's orchestra will be on the air over the CBS-WABC network. Later in the evening Frankie Masters and his orchestra can be heard over the same station.

Cliff Arquette probably turns down more movie offers than any other person in Hollywood. His work as Grandpa Sneed on the Charles Butterworth program won him four different offers last season—all of which he rejected.

Pursuing a hobby often brings unexpected returns, as Wilbur Hatch can testify. The CBS music conductor entered radio purely as a sideline, his vocation at that time being engineering. A chance came to play the piano accompaniment for a singer. He took it and liked it. That was in 1922, and Hatch has never been out of radio since.

Out of character, Bottle and Beetle, Phil Baker's two insane stooges, noted for their merciless heckling of each other, are the best of friends. One is scarcely ever seen without the other in Hollywood.

If George Fischer ever tires of letting the public "see" Hollywood by ear, he can give them a first-rate "picture" of it. For the noted "Hollywood Whisperer" is a photographer by hobby and his collection of cinema beauties and male stars is one of the most complete in town.

B. A. Rolfe never dares to wear brand new shoes to a radio broadcast. The reason is that Maestro Rolfe has a habit when conducting, of swaying from side to side on his feet, and he fears that brand new shoes might squeak into the microphone.

Don Voorhees frequently loses several pounds at a rehearsal. He puts so much vigor into his work that at the conclusion of each "Cavalcade of America" practice session his face is flushed the color of a Harvard banner, his hair covers his eyes, and his collar is wilted.

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON D. C. — There is a good bit of talk in Washington of Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia as a conservative democratic candidate for president in 1940. It is tentative talk, not to say premature. Who knows what element will control the Democratic party in 1940? The nominating primaries next spring will begin to tell. If a preponderance of congress' present anti-New Deal democrats are renominated for senatorial and representational seats the inference will be that the party has swung away from Rooseveltianism. If, on the other hand, the nominations go to new men the suggestion will be that the New Deal still is in the saddle. The ensuing election is a different matter; I am speaking only of the primaries' indications as to party control.

SUPPOSITIONS

Suppose for the sake of argument, that the anti-New Deal democrats make an overwhelming cleanup. Then the conclusion will be that Rooseveltianism has been repudiated and that some such presidential candidate as Senator Byrd is indicated. Suppose, however, that the an-

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — A movie gag man must be brazen and shameless, and have a hide thick as an elephant's. Otherwise—in a gag conference—he'll blush and be confused and lose the opportunity to contribute something that might possibly be funny. Sat in on a gag session for the new Laurel and Hardy feature. It's about a couple of guys with a better mousetrap, many better mousetraps. The traps are ingenious, nutty, and Rube Goldbergish, each designed to exterminate a mouse humanely. The session, when it gets under way finally after a general informal discussion of who wrote which music in what musical comedy 20 or 30 years ago, with side bets on the matter, is called to order—if any—by Stan Laurel. He comes in, settles down at his desk, and puts his feet up. Oliver Hardy is absent, and this—now I know it—is why he's fat one. He hasn't anything to do with the gag sessions.

Looking For Laughs

Stan is neatly dressed in grey business suit; Felix Adler, of the davenport, is coatless. Pretty soon he has loosened up his tie, too. Jimmy Parrott sits in a corner. Charlie Rogers, who's been with Stan since his old days with the Fred Karno troupe (Chaplin was in it then too) paces around coatless, in a vivid red shirt. Art Duquette, the script clerk, hovers nearby silently, waiting to "make a note" if anything's said that Stan thinks is worth noting. Felix Adler is telling a yarn about his neighbor's kid when Stan, without ado, replies cryptically: "We gotta get rid of the car," and then most of the faces present drop. (This is business, boys.)

Follows some discussion of ways and means of getting rid of the car, but they've got to decide names for those mousetraps. "Something cute, that'll fit into a song, and yet not give away the gag in the trap," specifies Stan. Out of the silence comes a suggestion. It's terrible. Another that brings a smile to Laurel's face. Still another that brings a laugh. Felix Adler makes a pun, so terrible that he and all the rest break out laughing. "That's so lousy I have to laugh at it myself," he says.

As Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Despite its abrupt and hard-boiled attitude, Broadway occasionally breaks out in a rash of good old homespun sentimentality. There was the blind musician who eked out a bare livelihood on his accordion near Radio City. Ted Friend, a Broadway reporter, noticed him and decided to see what he could do. So he stepped up to the fellow one day and said: "Tell me your name. Perhaps I can do something for you." The fellow seemed startled at this generous note on a street known for its callous atmosphere. But he had nothing to lose. "It's Phil Goldfarb," he replied. "All right," said Friend, "I'll keep in touch with you." Later he went to see Meyer Horowitz, who owns the Village Barn, night club in Greenwich Village. "Why don't you give this fellow a job?" Friend demanded. "He could be made into a star, and you would be doing him and yourself a good turn."

Clothes Question

Horowitz was receptive to the proposal. "Bring him down here," he agreed, "I will pay him $45 a week. I will also pay his dues to the Union, so that he may keep the whole $45 for himself." The reporter was delighted, and then he remembered that Phil couldn't very well star in a night club dressed in ragged street clothes. So he called Billy Taub, a famous Broadway clothier to followers and others of the sports world. "If you hadn't come to me," Taub declared, "I would have been offended. Bring him down and we will be delighted to prepare his evening clothes." Other good deeds followed so swiftly that they tumbled over themselves. A shoe dealer sent shoes. A clothing store supplied the haberdashery. So today Phil Goldfarb, with a new $1,000 accordion which a kindly soul loaned him, is a featured entertainer in a leading night club. He hears the cheers of the audience where only a few days ago he heard only hurrying footsteps and occasionally the clink of a small coin in his tin cup.

Religious Board Begins Financial Drive

Student Solicitor Teams Will Canvass Campus Organizations

Campaign Planned For More Support Of Group Aims

A campus and city-wide financial drive for the support of student activities conducted under the auspices of the religious activities board will begin Monday, William Morgan, executive of the religious activities board, announced yesterday.

The drive will have the support of all campus organizations, which will be canvassed by student leaders with a team of student solicitors. Fraternities will be canvassed by selected women students under the direction of Mildred Maplehorpe, A3 of Toledo, and Anne McPhee, Y.W.C.A. secretary, and the sororities will be canvassed by men students.

In announcing the drive, Mr. Morgan declared that there is hardly another university comparable with the University of Iowa that is trying to carry on with such a limited staff, quarters and funds. This work must be brought up to a basis which will make it possible to effectively reach the board's goal, Mr. Morgan explained.

Team captains will meet this afternoon at 4:10 in the religious activities office. Team captains of the non-affiliated students include Orval Matteson, A4 of Elgin, Ill., Quadrangle; Robert Christensen, A2 of Davenport, town men; Monica Hayes, A2 of Winterset, town women; Jane Anderson, A3 of Cedar Rapids, and Dorothea Guenther, A1 of Davenport, Currier hall. Eastlawn and the law commons will also be represented.

Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. organizations, freshman conferences, freshman vespers, orientation groups, the peace plebiscite, deputized crews and the international relations commission are included in the activities of the religious board. Other projects are the

Story of Quintuplets Given In Skit By Pocahontas Lodge

Several members of Pocahontas lodge impersonated the principals in the story of the Dionne quintuplets in a skit presented at a lodge meeting last night. The members entertained guests at a potluck supper in the K. P. hall, followed by the skit and an evening of games.

The cast included Mrs. John Holdt as Cecilia; Mrs. Ernest Thomas, Marie; Mrs. Frank Tallman, Yvonne; Mrs. O. L. Rees, Emily; Mrs. August Westfall, Arnette; Mrs. Martin Aaron, Mrs. Dionne; Mrs. C. H. Horst, Mr. Dionne; Mrs. Charles Anciaux, the doctor, and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Carl Howell and Mrs. George White as nurses.

freshman discussion groups and the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. dancing school.

The present religious activities board was inaugurated in June 1937. The board grew out of the work started in 1930 by the school of religion with funds made available by John D. Rockefeller Jr. The funds are now exhausted.

The members of the board represent the university at large, different religious affiliations and campus religious societies. They are Prof. J. H. Bodine, chairman; F. L. Hamburg, treasurer; Mrs. E. W. Lane, recording secretary; Prof. M. W. Lampe, the Rev. Edwin E. Voigt, Prof. C. Woody Thompson, Prof. Edna Patzig, Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, Prof. R. H. Fitzgerald, Prof. Herbert Martin, D. D. Feder, Prof. E. G. Schroeder, Dean George D. Stoddard, Prof. H. O. Croft, Mrs. Andrew H. Woods, Dean Wiley B. Rutledge and Dr. F. R. Peterson.

Will Debate Here Tuesday

DAVID SEALAND-JONES UNIVERSITY OF WALES

Two of Britain's most talented debaters, David Sealand-Jones of the University of Wales, and Harold H. Munro of Glasgow university, will come to the University of Iowa campus Tuesday for an international debate with a University of Iowa team. Iowa's debaters will be Betty Holt, A3 of

'Beat Indiana' Pep Meeting

Freshman Cheer Leaders Serenade Dorms, Sororities

The fighting spirit of Iowa will voice itself again at the "Beat Indiana" pep meeting tomorrow on the lot south of Iowa Union at 7:30 p.m.

Freshmen cheer leaders will serenade dormitory and sorority women before the pep meeting and invite them to the rally.

The Pi Epsilon Pi committee in charge of the rally includes George Sudimack, A4 of Bayonne, N. J.; William Yarwood, A1 of Eldora; Colburn Stark, G of Grundy Center; John Koester, A3 of Davenport; Lucile Mullen, A2 of Davenport; Peggy Reagan, A2 of Port Arthur, Tex., and Catherine Niles, A2 of Anamosa.

attended several national and international meetings. In connection with the international student service, Mr. Munro organized the first student unemployment camp in Scotland. He has long been a member of the Student Christian movement, attending two international conferences of the world Student Christian federation in 1933 and 1937. He has also been prominent in the Scottish Youth Hostile movement since its inception in 1933.

Munro was the editor of the student's handbook in 1932 and president and editor of the university magazine during the jubilee year. He has been outstanding in his forensic work from the beginning of his university career. He won the freshman debating prize and participated in four large debates conducted annually by the Student Union society in the parliamentary model debates as well as in the intercollegiate debates. He met an American team in Glasgow in 1936.

University Debaters Will Meet International Team Tuesday

Duo From Wales And Glasgow To Open Debate Year

Opening the forensic season with the only international debate of the season, the University of Iowa will meet representatives from the University of Wales and Glasgow university Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Macbride auditorium.

This international debate team will be met by Betty Holt, A3 of Iowa City and Addison Hickman, G of Sioux City. They will carry on a verbal battle on the question "Resolved, that the United States should cooperate with Great Britain against Italy and Germany." Iowa will uphold the negative.

Representing the University of Wales, David Sealand-Jones has not only an outstanding forensic career but has also been prominent in other fields. He is a member of the student representative council of the University of Wales, chairman of the college debating union and was formerly a member of the University of Wales labor party. He represented his college against the American team in England in 1935 and again in 1937.

Beside his extracurricular work, he is an honor student in European history and won the Roberts prize in history of the University of Wales. He has also had considerable experience as a politician, speaking on more than 100 platforms in South Wales during 1937. He also accompanied George Lansbury and Herbert Morris on most of the Welsh Member of Parliament election-campaigning tours in Wales.

Harold Munro, Glasgow university representative, was leader of the Scottish delegation to the international student conference in southern Bavaria and Switzerland and since then has

S.U.I. Alumnus Speaks Tonight At Old Capitol

Paul Engle Will Discuss 'Poetry and Iowa' At Lecture

"Poetry and Iowa" will be discussed by Paul Engle, Iowa poet and lecturer in the school of letters, at the third Baconian lecture tonight at 7:30 in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Mr. Engle, a native of Cedar Rapids, has had published three

PAUL ENGLE long works, "American Song," "Worn Earth" and "Break the Heart's Anger."

He was the first to write an imaginative thesis, "One Slim Feather," which won the Yale younger poets prize and was later published under the name of "Worn Earth." His first published book of verse, "American Song," sold 12,000 copies.

Of his most recent work, "Break the Heart's Anger," J. Donald Adams said, "Paul Engle is a poet to be watched, a writer who will play his part in the resurgence of creative force that will mark this decade in our literary history."

Mr. Engle, now living at Stone City, received a B.A. degree from Coe college in 1931 and an M.A. degree here in 1932. He attended Columbia university on a Lydia Roberts scholarship in 1932 and was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford from 1933 to 1936. Mr. Engle won the $200 prize offered by the Century of Progress for the best poem at that exposition.

Henderlider, Kistle Will Debate Against University of Chicago

Clair Henderlider, A2 of Onawa, and Addison Kistle, A4 of Council Bluffs, will represent the university in a debate against the University of Chicago Nov. 18 at Chicago, Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of university debate, announced yesterday.

The argument on the question, "Resolved, that the several states should adopt unicameral systems of legislation," will be broadcast over station WBBM at 3:30 p.m. The first affirmative speaker will be allowed two minutes to introduce his issues before he may be interrupted by any of the other three speakers during the remaining five minutes of his time. The procedure will be repeated for each of the following speakers.

Frosh Use Indiana Plays Against Varsity

Nov. 25, 26, 27 To Be Dates Of Water Pageant

Swimmers Working On Comedy Diving And Drill Formations

"Gypsy Fantasy" has been selected for the name of the 18th annual Dolphin show to be presented at the fieldhouse pool three successive nights, Nov. 25, 26 and 27.

"Gypsy Fantasy" was chosen from 50 names submitted by members of the varsity and freshman swimming teams. Other typical names included "Gypsy Interlude", and "Moonlight and Gypsies", all centered on the gypsy theme around which the pageant is built.

Various units of the show are rounding into shape. Bob Lowry, president of the club, reports, and special attention is being placed on drill teams, comedy acts and other features of the annual show.

Comedy Diving

Comedy features are in charge of Harold Sears, Ed Callahan, John Stark and Bob Winter. Stark and Winter are featured in comedy diving, always one of the main attractions of the Dolphin pageant.

Drill teams, under the eye of Al Tennes and Ray Walters, are working out, and about 28 boys will take part. One drill team of 16 men has begun practices, and a second to be composed of eight or 12 men, will begin shortly. The smaller team performs the more difficult acts, which require smoother performance and more unity of movement.

Don Ameche Picks Queen

Besides the actual water entertainment there will be tight-wire performances, singing, and string ensembles performing at intervals during the show.

One queen reigns over the show, and four attendants remain beside her throughout. Don Ameche, famous radio and movie star, is making the selection of the queen and four attendants.

Divers from the varsity diving squad will give exhibitions in regular diving, apart from the comedy diving. Dives required in Big Ten competition will be demonstrated.

Three Players Get Ten Goal Ratings in Polo

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Stewart Iglehart and Cecil Smith, the robust ex-cowboy from Liana, Tex., share the distinction of being the world's three "perfect" polo players, each handicapped at the ultimate 10 goals, in the new listings announced today by the United States Polo association.

For Hitchcock it means the retention of an honor the "old master" of Long Island's playing fields has held in 16 of 17 consecutive years. For Smith it is a return to glory, as he reached the pinnacle once before, in 1934. Iglehart, teammate of Smith on the all-conquering old Westbury team, retains the peak rating given him a year ago.

The revised list boosted the total handicap of old Westbury to 34 and graphically explained that team's brilliant victories in the open championship and the Monty Waterbury cup tournaments. Michael Phipps, who rode at No. 1 for the champions, has been hiked from 8 to 9 goals, sandwiched between his two 10-goal teammates, C. V. (Sonny) Whitney, the team's back and captain, rose from 4 to 5 goals.

On the other hand, Greentree, which met old Westbury in the final of both big events, dropped a goal from its aggregate handicap when J. H. (Jock) Whitney was reduced from 6 to 5. Hitchcock at 10, Gerald Balducci at 8, and Pete Bostwick, 7, remained put.

In all, there were 152 handicap changes in the big shuffle, which goes into effect November 15. The boosting of Phipps from 8 goals to 9 and the reduction of Eric Pedley from 9 to 8, at the request of the California committee, left Phipps the only American one notch from the top, though Captain C. T. I. Roark of England also is listed at 9.

Colgate and Chicago Added to Football Schedule Next Year

The 1938 football schedule for the University of Iowa released by E. G. Schroeder, director of athletics is as follows:

Oct. 8—Wisconsin at Iowa City
Oct. 15—Chicago at Chicago
Oct. 22—Colgate at Iowa City
Oct. 29—Purdue at Iowa City
Nov. 5—Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Nov. 12—Indiana at Bloomington.

Nov. 19—Nebraska at Iowa City. This schedule is complete with the exception of a non-conference opening game which has not been booked as yet. Chicago has been added to the schedule in place of Michigan in the Big Ten and Colgate, who Iowa last played in 1935, is again on the list of the Hawkeyes' non-conference opponents.

Hawklets Have Long Workout

Cormack Continues To Practice Squad On Aerial Offense

For the first time this year the floodlights were used to illuminate Shradre field as the Little Hawks went through a hustling and inspired workout prior to the season's finale at Davenport tomorrow night.

It was a lengthy workout but heavy contact was avoided because of the dreaded injury jinx that has dogged the team all year. The squad should be in the pink of condition with the possible exception of Bob Beck, junior tackle who continues to favor his sprained ankle.

Yesterday's workout, which saw the entire squad participating, was concentrated on plays which point to continued use of aerial formations that have played a major role in Iowa City's previous victories.

Practice Kicking

Joe McGinnis and DeWayne Justice spent part of the evening perfecting their long spiraling punts, while Herman Miller tried for distance on kickoffs. If Iowa City loses the toss and Davenport chooses to receive, Miller will be used to do the booting as his placekicking excels that of the other squad members.

Co-Captain Bob Snider rested his injured hip last night, but will be in good shape for the climactic encounter of the current season.

Duros In Backfield

Nicky Duros alternated with Ted McLaughlin as the fifth man of the backfield and George Devine, junior back, was being groomed to act as understudy to co-captain Bill Buckley.

Reports from the Brady street stadium in Davenport are that Coach Jesse Day is drilling his men intensively on fundamentals after their loss at Dubuque last week. Jack Mahoney, star end of the Hilltoppers, who was withheld from the Dubuque game, will be in condition and ready to go against the Cormackmen.

Schricker Ready

Halfback Schricker, brilliant sophomore blocker, has come back from a three week's stay in the hospital and is also fully recovered. An infected arm has held Schricker back for most of the season.

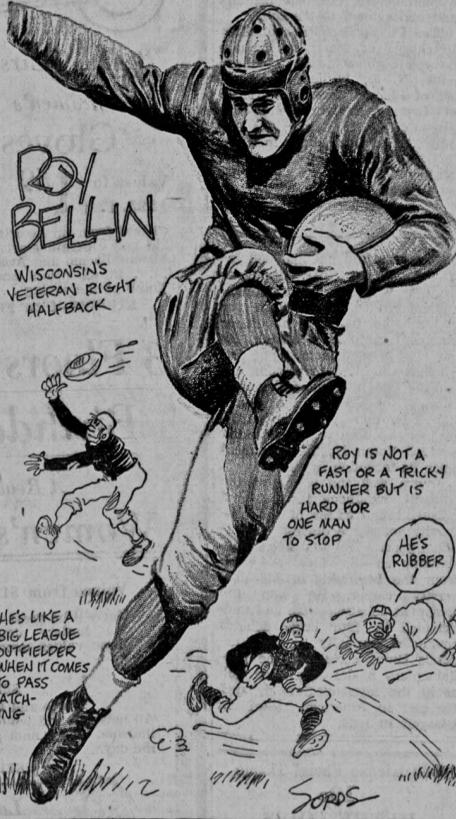

The Davenport offense will be centered around the triple-threat performance of Bob Bender. Bender has done the lion's share of the Blue Devils' scoring this year on long runs originating from punt formations. Kicking, passing, and fancy ball carrying all come into the line of duty of this promising halfback.

A position among the top-flight teams of the state is generally conceded the Daymen, who are undefeated on home soil. The Iowa Citizens enter the game as underdogs despite their draw with Dubuque, victors over the Hilltoppers. With high regard for the Red and White, Davenport footballers are anxiously awaiting Friday's meeting.

HOD SHOTS

By G. K. HODENFIELD

Notes on the Hawkeye-Hoosier battle in Iowa stadium Saturday—Frank C. Lane, graduate of Detroit who will referee the Iowa-Indiana game, will have his first look this season at the Hawkeyes and Hoosiers. He refereed the Pittsburgh-Notre Dame game last Saturday. Lane is connected with the Cincinnati Reds in the National baseball league.

***

***

It's about time the Iowa backs and the Indiana backs broke loose on a real scoring spree. In the first four games, 1912 to 1922, 138 points were scored by the Hawkeyes as they won all four games. The Hoosiers were limited to 13. But in the last five contests, 1931 to 1937, only 43 points have been scored by both teams. Indiana has won two of the contests and three games have been ties, two scoreless.

***

With all those fruitless afternoons of the last six years behind them the two teams are about due to break some scoring records. Saturday might be that day, too, with both teams relying on an open attack.

***

The game Saturday will be in the way of a homecoming for W. Harris Thom, assistant coach of the Indiana team. Thom was a wrestler in 1923 and a substitute back on the title-sharing Iowa team of 1922. Famous for his Indiana wrestling teams, Thom was coach of the American Olympic matmen in 1936.

***

If past performances are any criterion, Nile Kinnick will have the edge in the punting Saturday. The Iowa sophomore, already being mentioned as an All-Big Ten backfield prospect, has booted out a 43.1 yard average in six games this year. Hoosier kickers have a 39 yard average, which is better than most of Iowa's previous rivals at that.

***

Ed McLain has the best average attempt among the Iowa backs—3.55—but Nile Kinnick has gained more yards, 150. Frank Balazs has the second best average, 3.39. Six backs have scored Iowa's 36 points this season, with Kinnick making one third of the markers.

***

I wonder if this year's clash will produce any play as thrilling as the 102-yard punt that Dick Crayne booted when the Hawkeyes and Hoosiers met in 1934 at Bloomington, Ind. Crayne stood behind his own goal line and the ball went out of bounds on the Indiana two yard line. That game was one of the three in the last series that ended in a deadlock.

***

Next year's schedule has Chicago and Colgate in place of Michigan and Washington. It's too bad that schedule couldn't have been in effect this year. The Maroons are sure to turn up with another Berwanger in 1938.

Expect 80,000 at Army-Irish Encounter Saturday; Crucial Games on Schedule

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Sectional and inter-sectional football battles that may have far reaching effects on conference standings, Rose Bowl bids and hopes for unbeaten seasons dot the nation's gridiron menu Saturday.

Each game will, of course, attract its own thousands of customers into the home stadium of one or the other contestant. Yet the largest crowd of all, some 80,000, will stream into a neutral park to see a game between two teams that can have little to do with settling any sort of supremacy except each other's.

That game is the 1937 renewal of the Army-Notre Dame rivalry at Yankee stadium. Opened at West Point in 1913 when Gus Dorais and Knute Rockne gave the future generals a 35-13 forward passing lesson, the series has been a thriller ever since.

Scalpers Doing Well

The Irish come up to the current episode badly bruised and beaten by Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech. Army has lost to Yale, been unimpressive on other Saturdays. Yet scalpers are getting as much as $17.50 for $4.40 seats between the 40-yard lines, and 80,000 more probably would put cash on the line if there were any seats to be had.

That crowd, third successive capacity house for Notre Dame, will top any other collection of Saturday.

Officials, Coaches Meet at Wellman

The southeastern Iowa association of high school basketball coaches and officials will meet at Wellman Monday night to discuss various basketball rulings, Lawrence (Pops) Harrison, organization president, announced yesterday.

Following the dinner Coach Leo Frank of Parsons college will discuss basketball without the center jump and Ted Sauer of Fairfield will present an interpretation of the new basketball rules. The meeting is open to all interested basketball men in this part of the state.

Hawkeyes Bottle Up Yearlings' Aerial Attack; Bob Herman, Brady Are Still on Injured List

The University of Iowa Hawkeyes were given their first preview of Indiana plays yesterday when Coach Irl Tubbs sent his regulars against a freshman team using Hoosier plays. The scrimmage lasted for an hour.

Most of the freshman plays were based on the aerial attack used by the Indiana team which invades Iowa stadium Saturday for the Hawk's final home game of the year. Determined to overcome their season-long jinx, lax pass defense, the varsity allowed the frosh team to complete only a small number of their attempts. Preceding the scrimmage place of Prasse and left Floyd DeHeer at the left tackle spot in place of Capt. Homer Harris. Harris and Prasse were both injured in the Purdue game two weeks ago.

Russell Busk, diminutive speedster from Clinton, held down a first team berth in Hawkeye backfield. Busk was used in place of McLain, leading ground gainer for the Iowans. The other members of the Iowa backfield were Nile Kinnick, Jack Eicherly and Glenn Olson.

Iowa to be Underdog

The return of Harris, Prasse and Frank Gallagher will strengthen the Iowa line for the Hoosier game, their last chance to win a Big Ten contest this year. The Hawkeyes, however, will be the underdogs in the game against the team that knocked Ohio State from the joint leadership of the Big Ten last Saturday.

A crowd of between 12,000 and 15,000 is expected for the game if weather conditions are favorable. Unless the weather is poor and the gridiron soggy, they can expect to see a wide open game as both teams feature a brilliant passing attack.

The Hoosiers are conceded to have the strongest line of the two teams. With a crew of veterans on hand this year, Coach 'Bo' McMillin has molded a forward wall that has proved to be the best in the Western conference. It has five seniors and two juniors, led by the giant tackles, Charles McDaniel, 200, and Bob Haak, 220. Capt. Jack Kenderick, end, and George Miller, center, are the lightest men and they tip the scales at an even 190 pounds. The average weight for the line is 200 pounds.

Herman Still Injured
Robert 'Tarzan' Herman, injured right guard, was not out for the practice. His left knee, believed at first to be only bruised, refused to respond to treatment and he may not be in shape for Saturday's game. An X-ray picture is to be taken this morning to determine the extent of his injury.

Charles Brady, the other injured member of the Iowa line, was in uniform but did not participate in the drill. Brady is also a guard.

New faces continued to dot the Iowa lineup as the Iowa mentor used Dick Evans at right end in

University High Cagers Complete Inter-squad Tournament

Coaches Select Varsity, Soph Squads Today

U-High Mentor Has Six Lettermen Back This Season

The finals of the University high inter-squad basketball tournament was played yesterday at the U high gym and Coach William R. Wood announced that he and his assistants, Jack Sterrett and Don Fiester, would select a varsity and sophomore squad today on the basis of the ability the different players have shown in this tournament.

The winning team was composed of Eugene Bridenstine, Van Martin, Howard Wombacher, Robert Glaspey, Hugh Ribble and George Miller. They defeated, in their final game, a team made up of Murray Dawson, Duane Carson, Buster Smith, Donald Spencer, Donald Zeman and Howard Berry.

The leading scorer of the tournament was Ham Ries who scored 36 points in four games. Leo White was second with 21 points in three games and Murray Dawson, third, scored 16 points in three games.

Coach Wood will have six members back from his last year's varsity squad to use as a nucleus for his team this year. Members of last year's squad back this year are as follows: Captain George Miller, Ham Ries, Bruce Alderman, Bob Carson, Ed Burns and Duane Carson.

In addition to these men, he will have eight members of last year's sophomore squad. They are Ernie Krogh, John McAllister, Bill Barick, Scott Lawe, Ed Bender, Clyde Williams and Bob Bowers.

The Blue and White cagers open their current basketball season Nov. 26 against Roosevelt high of Cedar Rapids. The game will be played at Iowa City.

From Hayloft To Cage Court

Nile Kinnick, Iowa Star Sophomore, Played Basketball in Barn

It may seem like a long way to most folks from the floor of a barn to the basketball court of a Big Ten university, but that is the path that Nile Kinnick, versatile sophomore athlete of the University of Iowa, seems destined to travel.

Kinnick, who was an Iowa boy through and through before he moved to Omaha, Neb., following his junior year in Adel high school, was not favored with a good basketball floor in a high school or Y.M.C.A. during his early athletic years on which to learn the fundamentals of basketball.

Kinnick never was on a gymnasium floor until he graduated into high school from junior high back in Adel. There was no junior high team in his day, and every night after school the high school varsity occupied the floor. Indeed there was not time for junior high boys to play.

Not daunted by the situation, Kinnick and his father set up two baskets in the barn in back of the Kinnick residence, and it was there that he first began to bang in the set shots which brought him high praise and all-star recognition in both Iowa and Nebraska before he came to Iowa.

The barn was not over 25 feet long, and as the boys raced back and forth in the small floor area Kinnick developed an almost uncanny basket eye.

Time and again the cry of "Watch Kinnick" echoed and re-echoed through the small confines. It was, however, to no avail, for there was no one capable of stopping the serious youngster from dropping in numerous buckets.

And so the story goes. During his high school year before he went to Omaha, Kinnick averaged 20 points a game, and was the main cog in the strongest basketball team that ever played for Adel high. The Adel floor was one of the smallest in the state, and had an extremely low ceiling, but this did not bother Kinnick. His play during that year netted him 420 points, and Jack North of the Des Moines Register placed him on the second all-state team at forward.

Neale Enjoying Hilarious Season

Chief of Yale Board of Strategy Gets Kick out of Grid Headaches

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—This department's nomination for the coach who gets more soul-satisfying enjoyment out of football's headaches and shenanigans than any man in the risky business goes to Earle "Greasy" Neale, chief of Ducky Pond's board of strategy at Yale.

"Greasy," a native of Parkersburg, W. Va., who's played major league baseball and pro football in addition to 22 years of football master minding, is enjoying one of his most hilarious autumns, as the Yales, led by Clint Frank, march on undefeated. Between licks at his backfield duties, "Greasy" is holding court and spinning some of the doggondest yarns associated with the pigskin industry.

He's no Yale grad, so he'll never be head coach of the Elis. He's only in his fourth season with the Big Boys Blue but already he's almost as much of an institution there as the Yale Bowl.

Newspapermen actually elected him as their institution the day he over-ruled a Yale request on his handle—"Greasy," a nickname given him by a neighborhood kid down at Parkersburg. Neale called his chum "Dirty" and the kid retaliated with "Greasy" when he discovered Neale eating bread and butter with the butter spread thicker on his face than on the bread.

No objection to "Greasy" "Yale or no Yale," Neale told reporters when he heard that Yale officials had asked them not to call him "Greasy" out of consideration for Eli dignity, "if you fellows want to call me 'Greasy' go ahead." You've often heard that an elephant never forgets. Well, "Greasy" is like an elephant in that respect, only he has something to remember. He's seen and heard plenty of football—he played against Jim Thorpe when he was with the Canton Bulldogs of pioneer pro fame—and he never forgets. His memory is seamy and astounding. In the tightest games, "Greasy" has been known to come up with a long forgotten play, teach it to a sub on the bench and then have it work for Yale to win a close one.

Ingenious He's a great rival of Pop Warner and Bob Zuppke in football ingenuity, credited with the invention of the fake reverse, man to man defense on passes, triple passes and the "dance play" which Yale is using so effectively today.

The "dance play" is the reverse play with 1937 trimmings. One halfback takes the ball from center, another halfback rushes over as though to take the ball fakes back a few steps, pauses but the first back hides it, fakes back a few steps, pauses and then dashes to the opposite side from where the play evidently was headed. When the back takes his backward steps he looks like he's dancing—hence the name.

"Greasy" gave the late Wally Steffen the fake reverse play in time to help Carnegie achieve its famous upset victory over Notre Dame in '26.

Neale's favorite story concerns Charley Fenwick, Virginia's star kicker back in '22. Virginia was playing Georgia and Fenwick missed three chances to kick field goals. Each time he missed the announcer would say the goal was "missed by inches," not mentioning Fenwick's name.

"Take that guy inches out of there," yelled a fan, "and put Fenwick in." Herb Kopf, now assisting Lou Little at Columbia, played on Neale's W & J team in 1922 and Neale gave him an inside kick play in which Kopf would line up behind the kicker and make a dash for the ball after it was kicked. But West Virginia caught on. In one attempt, Kopf was hit simultaneously by six opponents. Kopf finally staggered to his feet, hobbled over to the W & J bench, looked at Neale, shook his head, waved his arms and then shouted so all could hear: "The hell with that play!"

Celebrates 45th Birthday

Neale, a stocky fellow with patches of gray hair, celebrated his 45th birthday by watching his protegee, Frank, score three touchdowns against Brown. Frank's his greatest triumph—he thinks he's the best back he ever saw—but he delights in ribbing his star. In drill one day, Frank carried five scrubs on his back for several yards and finally started to fall. "Greasy" yelled: "There goes that Frank—falling down again."

Wilson House Wins

19-0 Game to Cop Dormitory Crown

Wilson house won the 1937 co-op touch football title yesterday afternoon as they overwhelmed a valiant band of Manse gridders, 19-0.

Wilson scored early in the game as Boyd Walker took Burdell Marshall's long pass in the end zone. A few moments later, Walker flipped another touchdown pass to Clemens Erdahl over the goal line. Don Kladrup scored the final tally just before the half ended, going 30 yards behind beautiful interference.

After Manse had outplayed the winners during the second half with four minutes to play, Bob Ward and Jim Shirley, led a march deep into Wilson territory, but lost the ball on downs on the one yard line.

Hoosier Back

BILL ANDERSON—BACK

Hinkle Leading

Scorers in Pro Football League

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Only one new leader has cropped up in the individual statistics released today by the national football league. Bill Shepherd, star Detroit Lions' back, took over first place in the long distance field goal kicking division by booting a 45-yard placement against Cleveland last Sunday.

That bettered the previous best effort of the Giants' Ward Cuff by three yards.

Clark Hinkle, Green Bay fullback, continues to set the scoring pace with 53 points to 45 for Earl (Dutch) Clark, Lion player-coach who was tops in 1935 and 1936. Hinkle's 387 yards gained puts him third in that department behind Cliff Battles of Washington, with 507, and George Grosvenor, Chicago Cardinals, with 458.

Bob Monnett of Green Bay and Sammy Baugh of Washington continue as leaders in passing efficiency. Monnett's 28 completions in 55 attempts give him 50 per cent. Baugh has a record of 47 per cent on 56 completions in 118 tries. Among the pass receivers, Gaynell Tinsley of the Cardinals, with 28 catches, is two up on Don Hutson of Green Bay.

Both appear good bets to surpass the record of 34 set by Hutson last season.

Fraternity Athletic

Managers to Meet At Fieldhouse Today

A meeting of the athletic managers of fraternities will be held this afternoon at 4:15 in room 201 of the fieldhouse. Dr. Frederick Beebe announced yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting is to draw up plans and schedules for the basketball season which will get under way in the early part of next week.

Class A teams and the pledge team lists are being turned in while class B teams will begin at a later date.

Jacobus Heads P.G.A. Group For 5th Term

Chosen President Of Pro Golfers Over Loud Opposition

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—George R. Jacobus of Ridgewood, N.J., won his battle for a fifth term as president of the Professional Golfers' Association of America today over loud, but futile opposition by the Illinois section.

Irked over several happenings in Jacobus' administration, the Illinois group had campaigned since early last summer to oust him, when the roll was called, 57 delegates voted to retain the eastern pro, two, the Illinois delegation, voted for Alex Cunningham, the opposition candidate, and two other delegates passed their votes.

Highly pleased over his easy victory, Jacobus regarded it as a solid vote of confidence in his policies. The Illinois opposition had arisen over the dismissal of Robert E. Harlow as manager of the tournament bureau a year ago, and the abandoning of the Radix cup, a trophy given for the last three years by Henry E. Radix of Chicago, for the pro finishing the tournament season with the lowest average score per 18 holes.

Along with Jacobus, all of last year's officers, with the exception of R. W. Treacy of Grand Rapids, Mich., were re-elected. Frank Sproggell of Detroit was elected to fill the midwestern vice-presidency left vacant by the resignation of Treacy. Tom Walsh of Chicago and Jack Mackie of New York continue as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Vice-presidents reelected were Ed Dudley, Philadelphia; Willie Maguire, Dallas, Tex.; Dewey Longworth, Oakland, Cal.; Tom Boyd, New York; Grange Alves, Cleveland; Al Collins, Kansas City, and Ray Hall, Pullman, Wash. President Charles W. Hall, Birmingham, Ala., and Vice-Presidents Walter Hagen and Robert Tyre Jones, were reelected to honorary offices. Arthur H. Hilly of New York, attorney for the PGA, was elected to honorary membership.

Canadian Riders

Win International Jumping Crown

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Climaxing their most successful invasion of the National Horse Show, the Canadian army officers tonight won the coveted international military team jumping championship before a crowd of more than 15,000 in Madison Square Garden.

Paced by the fine performance of Lieutenant Marshall Cleland on Roxana, the Canadians compiled the low aggregate of 12 faults to turn back the officers and picked mounts of the United States, Irish Free State, Belgium and the Netherlands.

The victory, coming after 12 years of failure, gave the Canadians, led by 43-year-old Captain Stuart Bate, two of the major military trophies of the show, which closed tonight with one of the largest crowds in its history packed the big Eighth Avenue arena. Previously, the dominion officers had won the three night competition for the low score challenge trophy.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 10 (AP)—Expectations that Johnny Rabb, Ohio State fullback, would participate in the game with Illinois Saturday received a setback late today when Trainer Ken Stark said "I don't see how it will be possible for Rabb to be ready." Rabb suffered a knee injury in the Indiana game.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Golden Gophers, riding on the crest of the Western conference football standings, got in another lengthy secret practice session today for their homecoming game with Northwestern on the Minnesota field here Saturday. The team, reports from the field said, was given a hard offensive drill. It is expected that all injured players will be available for the Purple contest which will be witnessed by a throng of more than 62,000 spectators.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—Capt. Bob Fitzgerald put in a busy day today as Chicago's reserves prepared to meet Beloit Saturday and the varsity drilled for the Illinois game next week.

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 10 (AP)—John Goldak, a sophomore, was given the starting assignment at right guard for Northwestern against Minnesota Saturday, when Coach Lynn Waldorf learned today that Mike Calvano's injury will keep him out of the Wildcats' final conference game of the season.

Aim for Increase Over Membership Mark Of Last Year

The annual roll call drive of the American Red Cross begins today, with roll call committee members of the Johnson county chapter seeking new and renewed memberships. There were two major accomplishments of the local chapter of the Red Cross this year. One was the aid given farmers living in the Iowa river bottom south of Iowa City when their livestock was endangered by high water during the flood stage of the river last winter.

The other outstanding aid was that given a family of Ohio valley flood sufferers brought to Iowa City after inundation of their property by the disaster.

Legion Enrolls 271 Members

Ricketts, Director, Gives Campaign Report During Dinner

Two hundred seventy-one members have been enrolled in the American Legion membership drive announced B. M. Ricketts, campaign director, at the Preparedness-for-Peace dinner in Reich's pine room last night.

At the time the division heads Reich's pine room last night, reported there were 268 listed, three more members being reported during the dinner. The report by divisions was Maj. H. W. Graham's division, 106; Maj. H. H. Jacobsen's group, 99; Brass Hats, under the leadership of B. M. Ricketts, 60; unclassified, 3.

George Sheets was awarded the button for obtaining 29 members, one more than Lou Clark, who won second place in the drive for members.

According to Ricketts, this year's campaign is 48 members ahead of the drive last year, which had recorded 223 members at the same stage in the campaign. The drive ends tonight.

Col. Ramsey Gives Talk

Tells Iowa City Legion Post Of Ordnance Advances

"We compare very favorably with any other country in regard to the extent and development of our ordnance department," Col. Norman F. Ramsey, commandant of the United States arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., told members of Roy L. Chopek post 17 of the American Legion in Reich's pine room last night.

Colonel Ramsey was the principal speaker at the Preparedness-for-Peace dinner, addressing the 85 Legionnaires on the subject, "Developments in Ordnance Manufacture in the United States."

Developments since the World war along all phases of war equipment used by the army were discussed by Colonel Ramsey. He pointed out that there has been a great advance in the field artillery equipment, saying, "The old forms of the French 75 have been modernized and mounted on high speed trucks equipped with rubber tires."

"The problem of locating planes at night has become greater with the increased speed of modern bombers, but a new development makes possible the location of the plane by sensitive sound controls long before it is within range," explained Colonel Ramsey.

Col. George F. N. Dailey, professor of military science and tactics, introduced Colonel Ramsey.

As Two Active Children in 'New Fires' Betty Crum, Edward Oldis Steal Show

Two very active children stole the show from the rest of the cast of "New Fires" by Charles Quimby Burdette, junior class play of Iowa City high school, as they kept the audience laughing throughout the three acts of the comedy.

Betty Crum and Edward Oldis portrayed the two youngest children of Stephen Santry, an author who attempts to bring to his family a sense of material values by removing them from the constant activity of Chicago to a quiet farm in the Missouri Ozarks.

John Whinnery was a dominating Stephen Santry as he overcame the combined efforts of the other members of his family to return to their life of leisure in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Santry, whose elopement is announced in the opening scenes, and the betrothal of Olive Santry and Dr. Lynn Gray at the final curtain over-cultured campusite who must use three-syllabled words even to order a sandwich . . . And there are many among us.

The day of the much-burlesqued, unintelligent college athlete is almost, not quite, gone . . . There are half a dozen members of men out for football whose grade points are around the three mark. . .

By one of those queer quirks of fate, Prof. Erich Funke and Dean Francis M. Dawson fought on opposite sides during the World war — and, indeed, at various times, almost on the same spots — in opposite trenches, of course.

Propaganda
I'll bet at least seven-eighths of those who declare they'd never go to war would enlist in a week if the wheels of propaganda worked as effectively as they did in 1917.

Discouraging
Yesterday's report on Iowa's collegiate dress brought a definitely discouraging note from a scout . . . "As a graduate of an eastern college I challenge the statement of the chap who's here from an eastern school about the way eastern college boys dress.

"And in the same breath I highly disapprove the manner of dress of many young men on the Iowa campus . . . Whenever I look out of my office window I see any number of painted leather jackets, shapeless sweaters, baggy trousers, open collars. . .

"On the other hand, the women dress very well on this campus. Possibly your visiting friend referred to our university women as good dressers . . . your own observation should have corrected this if he meant our men.

"Five men at this moment are sitting on the steps of Old Capitol . . . Two of them are wearing leather jackets, two sweaters. One is garbed as he should be. . . The letter, in passing, is from a professor. . .

One of the most energetic of localities seems to be Attorney Thomas E. Martin, by a far more lethargic soul, I wonder how he manages to be in so many activities. . .

It's amazing indeed for me to notice that the most aggressive campus men have the quietest, most housewifely wives. . .

S.U.I. Grad To Marry Nov. 20

Approaching Marriage Of Eversmeyer Announced

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Geraldine Coatsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Jones of Des Moines, to Attorney Bernard Eversmeyer, son of Attorney and Mrs. F. W. Eversmeyer of Muscatine, was made Nov. 4 in Muscatine.

The wedding will take place Nov. 20 at the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Attorney Eversmeyer was graduated from the University college of law. The couple will live in Indianapolis, Ind., where he is superintendent of agents in the state of Indiana for the Farm Bureau Life and Automobile Insurance company.

Hatch-Minette

At home in Ft. Dodge are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent N. Minette, who were married Nov. 4 in Clear Lake.

Mrs. Minette, formerly Marnis Hatch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hatch of Washa, attended the National Business college in Sioux City.

Mr. Minette, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Minette of Clear Lake, was graduated from the university, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is now employed in Ft. Dodge by the Standard Oil company.

Warren-Wickersham

Gertrude Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren of McGregor, was married to William Wickersham of McGregor Oct. 31.

Miss Warren was a former student at the University of Iowa and Drake university. She was a member of Kappa Phi sorority.

Mr. Wickersham was graduated from Iowa State Teachers college. The couple will live in Davenport.

Len Carroll To Play for Co-op Party Nov. 20

Tickets for the Intercooperative Dormitory dance Nov. 20 in the main lounge of the fine arts building are now on sale. Len Carroll and his orchestra will play for the informal dance from 8 to 12 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased by residents of the cooperative dormitories from one of the social chairmen of the eight houses.

Girl Scout Troop Will Hike to Camp Cardinal Tomorrow

Eligible Bachelor

—Daily Iowan Engraving
AL SORENSEN

First in a series of pictures of the most eligible bachelors on the campus we present Al Sorenson, A3 of Ames. Each day until the day of the Spinners Spree, Nov. 19, a picture of one of the bachelors will be printed. The president of a sorority or dormitory will explain the reasons why he was chosen by her group. The three most eligible of the eight will be presented at the Spinners Spree.

Madge Jones, A4 of Cedar Rapids, Pi Beta Phi president, says, "We chose Al Sorenson as a candidate for eligible bachelor because we thought him to be one of the more representative students on the campus. Obviously he is editor of Hawkeye and doing a swell job of it. All the pledges voted for him because he made such a big impression at the open house. After the ohs and ahs died away they all took a vote and decided he looked like Don Ameche. Al really is a bachelor—that is, he dates around without being tied down at any one spot. He has about everything an eligible bachelor should have—a good fraternity behind him, looks, activities and maybe even a brain or two. And he really isn't conceited—yet."

WSUI Presents New Program

Tonight at 7:45 the first in a series of radio programs on "Faculty Women at Work" will be presented over station WSUI. The programs are sponsored by the American Association of University Women. They will be given the second Thursday of each month at 7:45 p.m.

Members of the sociology and social administration departments are in charge of the broadcast. Prof. Grace Chaffee of the college of commerce, Prof. Grace Ferguson, director of social administration, and Prof. Agnes McCreery of the social administration department will discuss aspects of their work. Emma Felsenthal, representative of A.A.U.W., will introduce them.

Matteson Talks At Y.W.C.A. Meeting

Looking Glass Reflections

BY VERA SHELDON

Fads and fashions come and go, but curls are here to stay as leaders in coiffure styles—at least for this winter's season.

They may turn up, under or over. They may be flat, round or casually brushed. Regardless of where they are in the design they are still curls. Their purpose is one of beauty. To serve it they must be well-groomed.

Meticulous care both in the formation and dressing of these intricate parts of the coiffure are necessary if they are to be attractive. There is nothing beautiful about hair that is not combed. The first essential in the care of curls is that they be well-combed and thoroughly brushed as soon as they are dry. Brushing gives the hair a healthy sheen and a natural elasticity which helps to hold each hair in place.

There are ways of combing curls which make their own look straight out of the traditional handbox. Most convenient are combs made especially for this purpose. On one end there are fine teeth for combing; the other end is a long tail which, when inserted in a curl, will roll it up like magic, and it is there to stay.

Not everyone has a special comb but in every household there may be found an almost forgotten marcel iron. It need not heat for it is to be used cold. Roll the curl up on the iron and be careful to click and turn at the same time when removing it. After a few turns you'll be an expert and marvel at the professional appearance of your results.

A tiny bit of colorless lacquer on the inside of the curl during the combing process and on the outside when it is finished will do wonders to make it permanent.

The use of a small bristled brush for finishing touches will give a perfect smoothness to the surface of the curl.

Finally, don't forget the vital nightcap. Nets now are cleverly made of silk cord and have convenient drawstrings which hold them securely in place. A pin fastened in the end of each curl will take only a few seconds of your time and the results will be a real asset to that morning smile.

Club Group Will Have Guest Day

The social science department of the Iowa City Woman's club will have its annual guest day luncheon at Youde's inn tomorrow noon. Mrs. F. C. Ensign is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the luncheon.

Her committee includes Mrs. Gertrude Bustard, E. Belle Durant, Mrs. Arthur M. Miller, Mrs. Ben S. Summerwill and Mrs. C. W. Wassam. A talk will be given after the luncheon by a guest speaker.

Club Will Meet Today

The Social Neighbors club will have an all-day meeting today with Mrs. Charles L. Berry of lower Muscatine road as hostess. Mrs. Clara Rarick will serve as assistant hostess. Each member will bring a covered dish and table service.

Smartness in Wool

Fall, winter or early spring—how's this for that extra special date dress? A coed need not be a featured player to star in this versatile cornflower wool voile dress, correct at the bridge table, at luncheons, teas and dances. The cinnamon suede sash held with a huge silver safety pin and the fluid draping of the shoulders lend the wool material that special touch that makes it equal to many occasions. Virginia Bruce, the model, is currently appearing in M.G.M.'s "Bad Man of Brimstone" with Wallace Beery. She prefers suede accessories and a hat which uses an underbrim band to effect a widow's peak at the hair line.

P.E.O. Chapter Plans Meeting At Taylor Home

Chapter HI of P.E.O. will meet at the home of Mrs. R. E. Taylor, 521 N. Dubuque street, tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. F. G. Higbee will serve as assistant hostess.

Woman's Club To Meet at Spence's

Mrs. W. E. Spence, 521 Park road, will entertain the garden department of the Iowa City Woman's club this afternoon at 2:30.

The program will include a speech by Mrs. Ernest Bright on "Bulbs to Flower From Christmas to Easter" and a presentation of "Magazine Highlights" by Mrs. I. A. Rankin.

Fifteen Friends Of Benners Honor Them At Dinner Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Benner, 308 N. Linn street, were honored Tuesday evening at a dinner at the S.P.C.S. hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Benner will leave Saturday for Topeka, Kan., where Mr. Benner has accepted a position with the social welfare board of Kansas. His former position was assistant executive of the Iowa City Social Service league.

The 15 friends of the couple who were guests played cards during the evening, after which a farewell gift was presented.

Pharmacy Sorority Pledges Helen Kouba

Kappa Epsilon, pharmacy sorority, announces the pledging of Helen Kouba, P4 of Iowa City, and Phyllis Smith, P3 of Davenport.

The pledging ceremony took place at a dinner last night at the Town and Gown hotel.

Cedar Rapids Man Will Be Dinner Host

C. H. Hamburg of Cedar Rapids will be host to salesmen of the Cedar Rapids Candy Display company at a dinner at 7:30 tonight in the blue room of the Iowa grill.

Forty guests will attend.

An average of about 85,000 persons live in each square mile of New York City.

Christmas And Formals Wraps In Limelight As Designers Prepare For Holiday Parties

By BETTY HARPEL

With Christmas coming and our thoughts turning holidayward evening clothes are taking the limelight. The very special rosy-hued limelight goes to the wraps—newer, more bizarre and more fun to wear than any other item in your formal wardrobe.

Who would have thought of tweed for an evening wrap? It's being done—and very smartly, too. There is a striking full length reefer coat of black tweed that makes you feel as sophisticated as all-get-out. Designers let themselves go on a black tweed cape that is lined with blood-red velvet and can be reversed for variation. Tweed capes are also shown in royal blue lined with fuchsia velvet.

Black Velvet

For a dramatic entrance not quite so extreme black velvet is always good. There is a black cape with a hood trimmed with moire ruching reminiscent of a lady's bonnet and with shoulder epaulets of moire.

Black and white is always an eye-catcher. A demure variation is a fitted black velvet wrap with a Peter Pan collar and patch pockets of white coney.

After your wrap has dramatized your first appearance, you will want to hold the attention of your audience. If your formal have all been seen before, try one of the new gold beaded jackets to change the scene. A pet young creation is the gold-studded bolero fashioned of black, red or blue.

Longer Jacket

The longer jacket can do much for beautifying and slenderizing the hip line. You will be sure to win a crown of laurel if you try one of black crepe trimmed with gold kid laurel leaves.

So many thrilling new trends in formal style make us feel like writing Santa a book-length letter this year.

Duchess 'Ex' and Friend to Wed

Mary Kirk Raffray

Ernest Simpson

Another scene is being played in the drama of the former Wallis Warfield, the Duchess of Windsor, although she has no direct part in it. Mary Kirk Raffray, school friend of the former Baltimore belle, is in Reno, Nev., to obtain a divorce from Jacques L. Raffray, New York insurance broker. Then, when the divorce becomes final, Mrs. Raffray is scheduled to wed Ernest Simpson, ship broker, second husband of the duchess. Simpson, now in New York, has admitted the marriage will take place.

FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

Alpha Xi Delta

Theta Tau

Dinner guests at the house last night were John Maddox of Shenandoah and Robert Arnold of Shrub Oak, N.Y., both E2.

Students Judge Exhibits at Tiffin School Opening

Four home economics students judged the exhibits of the Tiffin homecoming event yesterday. The two-day event celebrated the opening of the new high school building in Tiffin.

The students were Elma Daggers, A4 of Cantril, and Rena Kogers, A4 of Rock Valley, who judged the clothing and art goods exhibit, and Mary Ann Hunter, A4 of DeWitt, and Pearl Holmes, A4 of Red Oak, who judged the food products.

They were accompanied by Prof. Edna Hill.

Characteristics Of Iowa Rivers Stick To Definite Pattern

Stream flow and flood characteristics of Iowa rivers conform to a well-defined pattern, Prof. F. T. Mavis and Edward Soucek, both of the college of engineering conclude in the Transactions of the American Geophysical Union.

Stream flow data for 21 stations on seven major Iowa rivers, tributary to the Mississippi river, were included in the analysis. The aggregated draining areas equalled in size two-thirds the area of the state, and the length of records at particular stream gauging stations ranged from a minimum of seven years to a maximum of 33 years.

Despite differences in size of drainage basin, physical characteristics and length of record, the authors observed characteristic similarities in both low-water flows and in floods which were strikingly similar for all streams included.

On the basis of an analysis of past records, diagrams were constructed to show for a given size of drainage area how often a flood of a certain magnitude is likely to be equalled or exceeded.

Tillie, the Toiler, Lives!

Advanced Secretarial Science Students Gain Experience in Offices

Tillie, the Toiler, in plural! The advanced secretarial science students have taken over the secretarial duties of the commerce professors' offices. They are typing their letters, taking dictation, using the mimeograph and ditto machines and in general taking care of their offices.

Prof. Earl G. Blackstone has discovered that 50 per cent of the members of these advanced classes do not want to be teachers after they are graduated. To solve this problem he uses a plan whereby these students are given practical experience by working as secretaries in the offices of the commerce professors. Each student remains six weeks in one office and at the end of that period is shifted to the office of another commerce professor.

About 45 students are working in these offices, and the plan has proved very successful. Mr. Strong, when an instructor of commerce at Manasquan, N.J., high school, practiced this method and consequently placed 90 per cent of his pupils in positions after graduation. The success of Professor Blackstone's plan is in fitting the student more ably for the business world.

Another special group has been planned under the leadership of Professor Blackstone and Mr. Strong. Each Wednesday night, a group of students will meet for a course of rapid dictation designed to develop the speed required for court reporters.

Chandler Meets With University Study Officers

H. W. Chandler, chairman of the board of university examiners at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., met with the committee on courses of study yesterday afternoon in the office of Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts.

Mr. Chandler, who received a B.A. degree at Coe college in 1920 and an M.A. degree here in 1922, has been conferring with the administrative officers regarding the organization and curriculum of the colleges of the university.

At the University of Florida, a new plan was instituted in 1935 whereby all students attend general college for two years prior to attendance in any of the professional colleges.

Consequently prospective doctors, lawyers, engineers and teachers are being grouped together in the general college to achieve a minimum of general education before they are permitted to pursue exclusively the specialized curriculums offered by the upper divisions.

The choice of a vocation or a professor is in this way postponed until the student knows more of his capacity and disposition to undertake a specific field.

Engineers Will See Moving Picture At Meeting Tomorrow

"Refining the Crude," a silent motion picture, will be shown at the meeting of the University of Iowa student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers tomorrow at 4:10 p.m. in chemistry auditorium. The film shows the treatment of crude petroleum in the refinery of the Gulf Oil company.

Half the menus in London seem to be printed in French.

Meteor Shower May Be Seen Tuesday A.M.

The November Leonid meteor shower next week will reach its maximum in the early morning hours Tuesday, Prof. C. C. Wylie, University astronomer, said yesterday.

No extensive observations have been planned for the viewing of the shower because the moon's brightness will make it difficult to see the flashing streaks in the northeast sky. The moon will be full next Thursday.

The display is expected to be smaller than usual because its peak came in 1931 and 1932, and the spectacular flights occur only in 33-year cycles.

"Although the chances are small that the display will be interesting to the casual observer, I should be glad to have reports about any large meteors which are seen at any time," Professor Wylie said. Two fairly large bright ones were spotted here Monday night.

Women's Sports

Mixed Volleyball Tournament
A mixed volleyball tournament under the auspices of the women's intramural organization began last night at the women's gymnasium. Teams will be composed of three men and three women and will draw for opponents each night they play.

The mixed tournament is the second volleyball tournament which has been offered this year by the intramural organization.

Handcraft Club

The Handcraft club held its first meeting Wednesday night in the social room of the women's gymnasium to organize for the year. Plans for November are to make Christmas gifts.

Hockey Club

The Hockey club, composed of three teams, will begin its annual intra-club tournament this week. A spread open to any university woman who has been out for hockey was held yesterday afternoon in the social room of the women's gymnasium. Annabelle Hinkle, A1 of Valparaiso, Ind., is in charge of arrangements.

Five New Books Added to Library

Five new books have been added to the law library, Helen Moylan, librarian, announced yesterday.

They are: "Wage Determination" by John W. Riegel; "Unauthorized Practice Decisions" by George E. Brand; "Symposium of the Robinson-Patman Act," correlated by the department of research of Forrest B. ### Characteristics Of Iowa Rivers Stick To Definite Pattern

Stream flow and flood characteristics of Iowa rivers conform to a well-defined pattern, Prof. F. T. Mavis and Edward Soucek, both of the college of engineering conclude in the Transactions of the American Geophysical Union.

Stream flow data for 21 stations on seven major Iowa rivers, tributary to the Mississippi river, were included in the analysis. The aggregated draining areas equalled in size two-thirds the area of the state, and the length of records at particular stream gauging stations ranged from a minimum of seven years to a maximum of 33 years.

City Will Observe Anniversary of Armistice Day This Morning

Schedule Parade, Memorial Service for Program Today

F. Miles Will Speak At Old Capitol After Parade Ends

Iowa City will observe Armistice day with a parade of legionnaires and ex-service men and a memorial ceremony at Old Capitol this morning.

The parade will form at 10 o'clock at Iowa avenue and Clinton street and will march through the business district at 10:40. The marching is sponsored by Roy L. Chopek post No. 17.

Frank Miles, editor of the Iowa Legionaire, will speak after the memorial ceremony at Old Capitol. A bomb will explode at 11 o'clock, designating the start of a one-minute silence, and two more bombs will explode at 11:01.

The post firing squad will fire three volleys, and Jack From, director of the junior drum and bugle corps, will play taps.

Col. Will J. Hayek, parade marshal, will lead two divisions during the morning parade. The university band and the mounted units will head the marching division, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars' junior drum and bugle corps will lead the second group.

The parade will pass south on Clinton street to College street, east to Linn street, north to Washington street, west to Clinton street and north to the ceremony at Old Capitol.

There the post buglers will play the call to the colors, and the post chaplain, the Rev. F. J. Barry of Cosgrove, will deliver the invocation.

Thomas Martin Speaks Today

'Big Apple,' Dance Fad, Captures Local Dancers' Interests

What is it that looks like a panicle on the Stock Exchange, sounds like a pep meeting and feels like the tail end of a tornado?

The "Big Apple," America's most recent dance fad, has taken the nation by force. In Iowa City the local dance halls, night clubs and movie houses feature the dance in one form or another while the audiences clamor for it.

The belief is that a group of collegians named the dance after the Negro night club in Columbia, S. C., where it originated. Although the dance steps are not consistent in all parts of the country, "shagging," "truckin'" and "shine" are the most popular.

"Shaggin'" the first step of the shuddering, twisting affair, consists of loose hopping alternated by resting the weight on one foot and tapping with the other. The dancers are in a single circle, and at this point they join hands in tapping with the right foot, and suddenly break into a "swing" followed by "truckin'."

"Truckin'" is an ambling shuffle in which the participants point with index fingers alternately skyward and floorward and keep up unlimited shuddering of the body. The men and women "truck" separately in single file forming two circles.

In the "shine," the high point of the dance, a single circle is formed, and couples or individuals go to the center of the circle to "shine" in whatever step they perform best.

Many persons invent their own steps or mix the "shagging," "truckin'" and the Charleston together, while the remainder clap their hands and stamp their feet.

In the original "Big Apple" a leader shouted "Praise Allah!" The cry was echoed on all sides, and everyone rushed to the middle of the floor, ending the dance.

Church Holds Supper Tonight

Edward S. Rose Will Discuss Plans For Anniversary

The Christian church, 217 Iowa avenue, will hold a church-night supper meeting in the church parlor tonight at 6:30.

Plans for the 75th anniversary of the church will be discussed by Edward S. Rose, and the Rev. Caspar C. Garrigue will report on the International Convention of Disciples of Christ which he attended recently at Columbus, Ohio.

The dinner meeting is sponsored by the social committee: Attorney Arthur O. Luff, Dr. C. I. Miller of the university student health department, Jo Harding, Mrs. G. O. Kircher and Mrs. George Hildenbrand.

Each family is asked to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and table service.

C.C.C. Accepts 12 Men From This County

Johnson county had 12 CCC applicants accepted in the last enrollment period. Camp officials accepted 1,733 Iowans during the enrollment period ending Oct. 31, but the state fell 175 enrollees short of the quota.

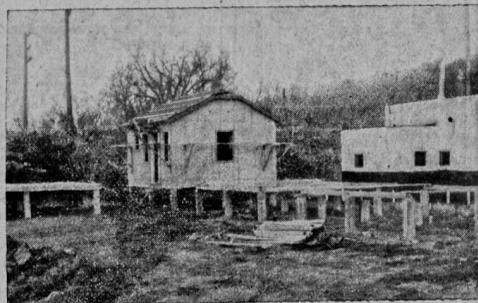

Woodbury county led all other counties in the October period; Pottawattamie was second and Polk third.

A. G. Miller, state selection supervisor, predicts that the application total will be above the quota in January because of the completion of the corn harvest and the recent lifting of the relief roll.

Licenses For Everything

City Hall Scene of Varied Activity In Its Daily Procedure

Of all the trades known to mankind there is only one that neither advertises nor solicits business in any way, yet nevertheless each year countless dollars are passed from hand to hand in paying for hundreds of licenses.

Fortune tellers, clairvoyants and phrenologists in Iowa City may lay claim to super-powers, but one thing they fail to produce magically is a city license. No license. No fortune telling is the rule at the city hall.

Fortune telling licenses are few, however, as compared to the various and sundry other kinds.

A typical scene at the courthouse, another license center, shows Mr. and Mrs. Prospective Newly-wed coming hand-in-hand into the clerk's office to take out a marriage license. Across the hall a man emerges from the recorder's office, holding a gun case in one hand and hunting license in the other.

In a third doorway a pathetic incident is taking place. A small boy, with tear-stained cheek is clutching a dog license in a tiny hand, so that he may now obtain freedom for his dog, picked up without a license the day before. On the top floor of the courthouse drivers and auto licenses are issued.

In the downtown cafe one might ask the proprietor about the licenses he must pay for, and he will immediately point out cigarette, milk, restaurant, beer and numerous state licenses for which he grievously pays.

There's even a license on talking, as in the case of the auctioneer and one on the man who takes away junk or the man who fixes the radio. Circus licenses are issued to the operators of the "big tops," and their prices run from $100 up. If the circus company wishes to parade, it must license itself for that also.

The housewife who purchases silk hose from the peddler at her door, may not know that he has somewhere in the confines of his person a city license which allows him to peddle unmolested. Theater, bowling alleys, shooting galleries, pool halls, and skating rinks are other amusement centers which must exhibit licenses to operate.

Last are the taxis, house movers and plumbers. Even they must have a license.

Just one more proof that the guy who originated the saying, "It's a free country," was definitely wrong.

Walker Urges Community Support As Annual Red Cross Drive Opens Today

Mayor Myron J. Walker issued the following proclamation yesterday, urging the membership support of Iowa City citizens in the annual Red Cross roll call which opens today and ends Thanksgiving.

"Once again the time has come for our community to demonstrate its concern for maintaining a very necessary part of our civic welfare program — the work maintained by the Johnson county chapter of the American Red Cross.

"It is not necessary for me to remind citizens of our community that the work of the Red Cross is a vital contribution to our community welfare. We have all seen, during the last year, how effective Red Cross is, both from the standpoint of the year-around program and that done during times of great national emergency.

Perhaps never before has the work of this great national agency been so universally endorsed as in this year during the gigantic relief operation in the devastating floods in the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys. It was a great work, done in an efficient manner, and truly deserves our most sincere commendation.

"Our community, I am pleased to say, carried its full share of the responsibility for making this great relief work possible through contributions of our citizens.

Nov. 11 to Thanksgiving day. Membership enrolled during that time will support the work for the year ahead of us. The Red Cross asks little from the community, yet contributes much to the general welfare of our people.

"I give me great pleasure, as mayor of Iowa City, to set aside the designated period as the time when all members will be asked to renew their memberships and those who have not enrolled before are urged to add their names to the ranks of Red Cross members in our community.

"Signed:
"Myron J. Walker,
"Mayor of Iowa City."

Police, Short of Funds, Make Own Ammunition

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The pioneers who made their own bullets and measured out their own powder haven't a thing on the Grand Rapids police department.

Confronted with budget limitations which hindered pistol practice for the department, Supt. Frank J. O'Malley ordered Patrolman Walter F. Weber to see what could be done about it. Weber recently reported that more than 39,000 cartridges had been made from reclaimed cases, lead and tin since Aug. 1, 1936, at a cost of $160 as compared with the $800 the ammunition would have cost new.

3 Fined Yesterday For Disregarding Parking Ordinance

In spite of repeated warnings and arrests, Iowa City residents continue to disregard the city ordinance which prohibits parking on the streets for more than 30 minutes between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m., Chief of Police W. H. Lender stated yesterday.

Police Judge Burke N. Carson in police court yesterday fined E. R. Kesselring, F. E. Rollins and R. E. Eustick $1 each for violating the parking ordinance.

Hunt Season Closes Jan. 10

Official Trapping Of Various Animals Already Begun

The official trapping season on badger, skunk, opossum, civet cat, raccoon, mink and muskrat opened yesterday in Johnson county. The open season will extend until Jan. 10.

The hunting season on rabbits, squirrels, ducks, jacksnipe and mudhens began several weeks ago.

Johnson County 4-H Girls Will Meet Saturday

The Johnson county 4-H Girls club will hold a meeting Saturday at 1:30 p. m. for the county committee, officers and leaders.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the past year's work and to make plans for the next year's project. County Agent Emmett C. Gardner announced yesterday.

Registration Shows October Increase

During the month of October there were 67 new car registrations at the office of the Johnson county treasurer, an average of more than two a day.

New car registrations thus far this year total 9,386, nearly 100 more than last year's total of 9,289. The all-time record is 9,531 for 1929.

Love, Allen Will Give Last Speeches for Education Week

Iowa City high schools during education week will be given this morning at 11 o'clock at St. Patrick's and university high schools.

Dr. Frank L. Love will speak to the St. Patrick's students, and Prof. Ethan Allen of the political science department will address the university high school.

Attorney Kenneth M. Dunlop will have "Schools and the Constitution" as his subject when he speaks on the fourth radio broadcast of education week. The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce is presenting the program over station WSUI at 6:50 this evening.

Tomorrow will be the last day on which the public is invited to attend open house at the city's schools. A committee appointed by the Roy L. Chopek Post No. 17 of the American Legion has been responsible for the schedule of events for education week.

Mrs. C. L. Woodburn, president of the Iowa City P.T.A. council, will speak on "School Open House" during the fifth radio program tomorrow at 6:50 p. m. The program has been arranged by the Iowa City P.T.A. council.

Artist Explains Painting With Puzzling Poem

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The world will know what happened to Narcissus—if it can figure out the poem artist Salvador Dali has written to explain his painting "Metamorphosis of Narcissus" in the 1937 Carnegie International Art exhibit.

But it won't be easy, because this is the way the poem goes: "Narcissus loses his being in the cosmic vertigo / In the deepest depths of which is singing / The cold and dionysiac siren of his own image."

Dali, a No. 1 surrealist, has painted a plaster-like figure of Narcissus and a big hand holding an egg.

The guide book to the exhibit says the way to appreciate the painting is to stare at the figure of Narcissus until it isn't a figure any more but only a hand holding an egg.

There you have it: that's just what happened to Narcissus. He started at himself until he turned into a hand holding an egg. Then the egg hatched. From there on you are on your own.

Slays Mother's Suitor

Steven Foster Gee... "protects" mother

Here is the 15-year-old Muskegon, Mich., high school boy, Steven Foster Gee, who shot and killed Floyd Peterson, 43-year-old newspaperman at his mother's home at Whitehall, near Muskegon, to "protect" the mother from what he believed was impending harm. No charge has been placed against the boy. According to the boy's story, Peterson, a guest at Mrs. Ruby Gee's home, became intoxicated and threatened Mrs. Gee with a gun.

One of the seven kings of Rome was an ex-slave, Servius Tullius, who ruled in 578 B.C.

Natural Gas Is Expensive!

Last of this Series

In this series you have learned how to figure the cost of natural gas heat for your own home; how to guard against inconvenience, loss or damage, and to insist on adequate life insurance from the gas company.

You have learned that more automatic and more even heat may be obtained from a coal stoker at one-third the cost of gas.

Finally, you can learn today that while the gas company may wish to confuse you by selling you gas by the cubic foot but making you pay for it by the "therm," you can check up on gas heat once you understand the therm and what it means.

The gas company "therm" is 100,000 heat units.

If 100,000 heat units cost 6c (which is the lowest net cash possible cost in this city), then easy arithmetic will figure that you pay 1c for 16,667 heat units.

Pocahontas stove coal at $11.00 per ton figures out that you pay 1c for 26,726 heat units.

And stoker coal at $6.75 per ton will deliver in your heating plant for 1c some 37,000 heat units.

Under identical circumstances, therefore, natural gas heat will increase your winter cost of fuel by between 50% and 60%. It is approximately 2 1/4 times as expensive as stoker heat.

Before consenting to try natural gas in your house, insist on this protection:

"Will a responsible officer of your company guarantee in writing that my heat cost will be within the limit of your estimate?"
