2 Divorces for 1 Wedding

Eleanor Holm Jarrett to Marry Billy Rose When They Get Their Divorces

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 12 (AP)—In an "all so simple" matrimonial deal the shapely Eleanor Holm Jarrett of the swim tanks and Billy Rose, self styled "master showman," offered today to swap two divorces for one wedding.

"As soon as our respective mates and divorce laws allow it Eleanor's future will be devoted exclusively to being Mrs. Rose and learning how to make good coffee," Rose said. He paused here en route to San Francisco with the smiling swimmer who popped her way out of the Olympic games last year with champagne corks.

All So Simple
"It's all so simple," chimed in Eleanor, wife of crooner Art Jarrett, now in Hollywood.

Rose is the husband of Com-dienne Fanny Brice, who said at Beverly Hills, Cal., she knew nothing of his plans.

In Denver where Rose disclosed the romance he declined to say whether he would seek a divorce.

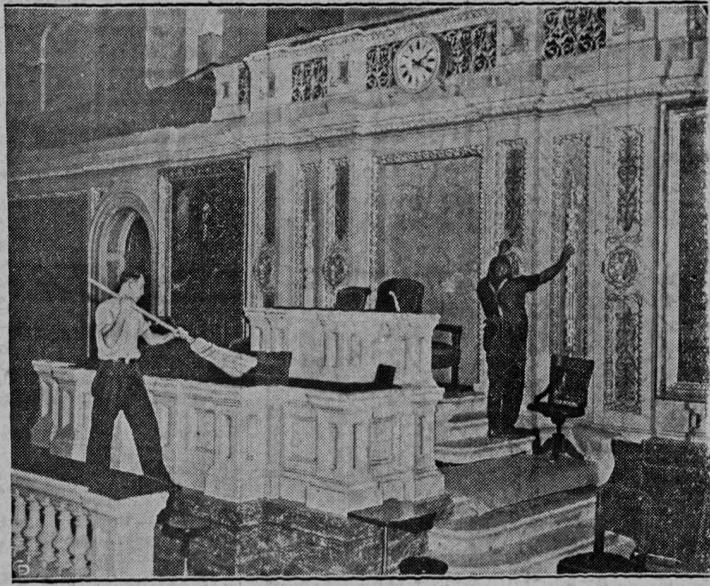

"I trust Miss Brice undoubtedly will get her divorce as soon as she can," he said, adding she was busy now on a picture.

Eleanor, a star of Rose's aquatic show at Cleveland last summer and more recently "Tarzan's mate" in a new film, said she would end her career with the marriage.

"I'm ready to dry off anyway," she declared.

Rose is en route to San Francisco to await the opening there of his latest show, Mrs. Jarrett is going to Hollywood for film retakes.

Capitol Made Spic and Span for Congress

Workmen finish redecorating house chamber

All is in readiness now for the special session of congress opening Nov. 15. Workmen have put finishing touches to their repainting-redecorating of congressional chambers. They are shown here working on the rostrum in the house chamber. Exterior also has been washed.

Europe's Problems May Be Settled by Informal Discussion

LONDON, Nov. 12 (AP)—A new attempt to settle Europe's pressing problems by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's favored method of informal discussion was developing today in diplomatic moves involving Britain, Germany and Italy.

Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler's insistent colonial demands and Premier Benito Mussolini's desire for recognition of Italy's Ethiopian conquest were believed to be subjects of the new negotiations.

These followed Chamberlain's speech Tuesday expressing a desire for better relations with Germany and Italy and the belief they could better be achieved by informal discussion than by "public declamation."

Conferences yesterday in Rome and London were seen by diplomats as a new approach to the Anglo-Italian understanding which is the cornerstone of Chamberlain's peace policy. Lord Perth, the British ambassador, met Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, in Rome, while Sir Robert G. Vansittart, permanent foreign undersecretary, conferred in London with Count Dino Grandi, the Italian ambassador.

The visit of Lord Halifax, lord president of the council, to Germany where he will see Hitler was regarded as an important diplomatic gesture to Germany.

Informed sources said Lord Halifax was not likely to raise any specific questions in Berlin on his "private" visit next week and warned against too much optimism.

With the troublesome Spanish civil war intervention problem temporarily shelved and Britain and the insurgents agreed on a commercial accord, the situation was believed by diplomats to be favorable for a new effort at European stabilization.

S.U.I. Student Missing 2 Days

Merle Austin Disappears Thursday; Father Notifies Police

Merle Austin, 17, of Emington, Ill., has been mysteriously missing since 1 p.m. Armistice day, residents at the house in which he lives reported yesterday.

His father, Matt Austin of Emington, Ill., was notified by J. A. Swisher, at whose home Austin rooms, of the disappearance, and he immediately drove to Iowa City. Austin and Swisher notified the police shortly before 10 p.m. yesterday.

Neither the father nor Swisher could offer an explanation for the sudden leave taken by Austin. When last seen he was wearing a brown suede jacket, dark blue trousers and was without a hat.

Austin is 17 years old, weighs 130 pounds, has blue eyes and brown wavy hair. Iowa City police request anyone seeing a man of this description to notify them at once.

MEDICAL EVIDENCE Blood Test Used Against Townsend

HAMPTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Attorneys for Dave B. Townsend, Jr., 23, of Waterloo, charged with driving while intoxicated, today assailed in district court the admission into evidence of the results of a blood test to determine intoxication.

The state contended that because Townsend's blood tested 206 milligrams of alcohol per 100 cubic centimeters of blood three hours after the accident he was intoxicated.

Townsend was arrested after an automobile collision near here on July 20 which resulted in the death of three persons.

He was acquitted in September of manslaughter in connection with the collision. The drunken driving charge was filed after that.

Street Bonds To Be Issued

Council Votes $18,852 To Cover Cost Of Paving Project

Street improvement bonds totaling $18,852.00, to cover the cost of the Madison street paving project, will be issued, the city council decided last night.

The bonds will be issued against assessments, also levied last night, against property owners adjacent to the street improvement.

The bonds which will draw five per cent interest, will be issued in amounts between $100 and $1,000. Bonds totaling $1,900 will mature May 1, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1946. Bonds totaling $1,752.99 will mature in 1948.

White Russia Scene of Administration Upheaval; Republic's President Ousted

MOSCOW, Nov. 12 (AP)—A new shakeup in the administration of White Russia was reported today with the removal of the republic's second president in five months.

A. S. Grad, acting president since the suicide of A. G. Cherviakoff last June, was freed from his duties by the central executive committee, of which he was chairman. He was succeeded by Mikolai Nalevich, Vice-Premier Ivan Yuravloff was also removed.

Cherviakoff committed suicide during the purge of alleged soviet enemies spread to White Russia—that part of the Soviet Union adjoining Poland—early in the summer and 45 of his colleagues were seized on charges of treason.

The White Russian shakeup came shortly after the reported recall of the Soviet ambassadors to Germany, Turkey and Poland. There was no indication whether they had been arrested as rumored or were called home in a realignment of the soviet diplomatic corps.

Tourists who recently visited the soviet embassy in Berlin said they were told Ambassador Constantine Youreneff had returned to Moscow. Dr. Youreneff was one of the leaders of the 1917 Petrograd revolution and helped organize the red cavalry in the civil war.

He was sent to Berlin last spring after a successful career as ambassador to Tokyo, where he negotiated the 1935 treaty by which Russia ceded her rights in the Chinese eastern railway to Manchoukuo.

Mikhail Karski, ambassador to Turkey, also an "old bolshevik," was transferred to that post from Lithuania at the same time Youreneff went to Berlin.

Other soviet figures were involved by the rumors as well as Youreneff, Karski and Yanov Davtchen, soviet ambassador to Poland since 1934.

City's Present Gas Rates Are Considered Just, Taylor Says

Iowa City's present 75-cent-per-month minimum rate "is just," according to a letter received last night by the city council from Roscoe E. Taylor, general manager of the Iowa City Light and Power company.

Mayor Myron J. Walker had requested the utility to explain why gas rates were not lower in Iowa City.

"On a minimum basis, our monthly per-customer cost is 77.5 cents," the communication stated. "In the other 72 Iowa cities using gas, the average minimum cost is 87.8 cents, and the minimum monthly charges range between $1.58 and 50 cents.

"Nineteen Iowa cities exceeding 10,000 population have an average minimum rate of 76.7 cents, and none is less than 50 cents," the letter stated.

Mayor Walker appointed Councilmen R. J. Phelps, Prof. John Reilly and Clarence Beck to study Taylor's report and advise the council at the next meeting, Dec. 3.

77 City Residents Protest Skate Rink

A petition signed by 77 Iowa Citizens protesting against the construction of a roller-skating rink at 317 E. Bloomington street, was received by the city council last night.

The rink will open Monday night. City Inspector Harold Monk recently issued a building permit for the rink's construction. It is inside the business district.

Officials Hampered by Poor Communications

MANILA, Nov. 12 (AP)—Shattered communication lines hampered officials tonight as they surveyed the toll of Thursday's typhoon which killed at least 15 persons and left thousands homeless when it lashed across seven Philippine provinces.

Casualty reports from six of the provinces were lacking. Several towns remained isolated and main highways were flooded.

Airport Head Undisturbed At Crime Hearing

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12 (AP)—Paul A. Wright, 38-year-old airport executive, listened unmoved today to a police version of the killing of his wife and "best friend"—a crime the officers said he admitted "because she was cheating on me."

With an air of detachment he sat through the inquest, took the stand briefly to identify himself and heard a coroner's jury return a verdict that he killed his wife, Evelyn, and John B. Kimmel.

Glendale's Police Chief V. D. Browne, to whom Wright gave a statement Tuesday morning after he called police and assertedly told them "I am a murderer," quoted the airport executive as saying he killed the couple in the living room of the Wright home when he surprised them in an embrace.

The police chief, reviewing the statement, said Wright told him "everything went white" when he saw Mrs. Wright and Kimmel kissing and that he went to his room, got a gun and returned to shoot the couple.

Another police officer, H. W. Reed, testified: "When we got the call we went to the house. We met Wright. He had a gun in his hand. He said 'I'm a murderer. I've shot my wife and best friend.'"

Reed said he and another officer found "Mrs. Wright, who still had a slight pulse," and Kimmel, "who was moaning," side by side on the floor of the living room in a pool of blood.

"The Wrights' Negro maid, Mrs. Leona Navy, said she was aroused by the arrival of an ambulance. "I went into the living room and Mr. Wright said to me 'Leona, I've shot and killed my wife. She was cheating on me.' I said, 'Oh, no, Mr. Wright,' and he said 'Yes, I did.' Then he said 'Whatever you do, take care of Helen.'"

Held for 12 Days Dr. Seder Escapes

Two Arrested; Kidnap Suspect In Seder Case Held by Police

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 12 (AP)—Federal agents sought a former convict today for the kidnaping of Dr. James I. Seder, 79-year-old former missionary, after charging Arnett A. Booth with extortion in a $50,000 ransom attempt.

Dr. Seder, one-time state anti-saloon league official of Huntington, escaped from his abductors and was found yesterday wandering, bruised and exhausted, on a lonely hillside in Wayne county. He disappeared 12 days ago.

R. E. Vetterli, of the federal bureau of investigation, said Booth was arrested last night and implicated Orville Atkins and John Travis.

In Washington, the federal bureau of investigation announced Travis had been arrested at 3 p.m. today in Huntington and issued a statement declaring the prisoner admitted participating in the abduction.

Atkins was still being sought.

Vetterli said the state would prefer kidnap charges against all three men.

No money was paid for Seder's release, the F.B.I. agent said, despite the demand in the ransom note for $50,000 "if you want your father back alive."

The note was delivered to the two sons of the man who once served as a missionary in China, Willard Seder, an official of the Bethlehem Steel company's Rankin, Pa., plant, and Arthur Seder of St. Paul, Minn., a railroad official.

Vetterli declined to disclose further contents of the ransom note. At Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the F.B.I., said Booth had admitted he participated in the abduction and writing of the note.

Ex-Sen. Atlee Pomerene Dies Of Pneumonia

CLEVELAND, Nov. 12 (AP)—Death ended tonight the political and public service career of Atlee Pomerene, 72, former democratic United States senator from Ohio who assisted in the prosecution of the Teapot Dome oil cases and later became chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation.

He died at 5:12 p.m. (C.S.T.) at his home here after an illness of several weeks with bronchial pneumonia. Dr. Harley A. Williams, his physician, said a stroke and high blood pressure contributed to his death.

His widow, the former Mary K. Bockius of Canton, Ohio, was with him when, Dr. Williams said, he "slept away" in a coma which had extended over a period of three days.

Pomerene first tasted national political prominence during the first term of President Woodrow Wilson when, as an Ohio member of the senate, he became a leader of that body. In 1916 he was the accredited representative of the president at the national democratic convention in St. Louis.

Throughout his 12 years in the senate he displayed independence in voting, winning confidence of both parties. In 1923, he was named by President Warren G. Harding as a delegate to the fifth Pan-American congress which met in Santiago, Chile. President Calvin Coolidge called him as special counsel, along with Owen J. Roberts, to prosecute the cases arising from the Teapot Dome Oil inquiry.

Explain Delay
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Guy Gillette (D-Iowa) said yesterday he would ask the rural electrification administration to "explain its delay" in acting on REA projects for a dozen north-west Iowa counties.

Japan Declines Second Invitation to Brussels Conference for Peace

Japanese Drive Anticipated On Chinese Capital

New Battlefields Break Out 20 Miles West Of Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13 (AP)—On new battlefields 20 and more miles west of Shanghai the Chinese-Japanese war raged today with all signs pointing toward an early Japanese drive on Nanking, capital of the Chinese nation.

It had become a rapidly shifting war of movement, covering hundreds of square miles.

After three months of terrific pounding, Shanghai itself knew peace once more. With the Japanese in complete possession of this metropolitan area, silence reigned, although great fires still burned in Pootung and Nantao.

Japan's refusal to cooperate with the Brussels conference's search for peace was received by Chinese as notice the war would go on. In Nanking a government spokesman commented:

"Japan's action is consistent with her policy of flaunting international agreements and her determination to continue aggression."

The final episode of 92 days of bloody fighting within and around this great city came during a downpour late Friday when Japanese bluejackets shouting "banzai!" ran their rising sun flag over a warehouse on the Nantao waterfront, some of the last forlorn Chinese stand.

The few defenders, it was reported, had withdrawn by a subterranean passage and reached the safety of internment in the nearby French concession.

Foreign experts estimated 400,000 Chinese and 200,000 Japanese were in the armies fighting, retreating and maneuvering west of here. Japanese reported the capture of Kiating, 18 miles to the northwest. Tonight their front was a rough arc from Kiating through Anting and Sungkiang to Kashi, in Chekiang province.

Two Missing, Police Called

Two-Sided Search For Davis, Stone; Robbery Suspected

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan stepped into the investigation of the mysterious disappearance of two business men today. Objects of the two-sided search were Wilson W. Davis, 24, owner of a North Side meat market and son of Rutherford Davis of Fontana, Wis., retired vice-president of the Walworth State bank; and Charles G. Stone, 44, special agent for an insurance firm.

Davis took leave of his wife, Harriet, 22, last Tuesday morning and promised to return for lunch. He drove to a commission house and purchased some liver. He has not been seen since. His truck was found near there the next day. Two men were reported to have been seen near the truck while Davis was making his purchase. His wife said he had $300 in his possession.

The detective chief took charge of the case at the behest of Davis' father-in-law, Hans Licht, proprietor of several west side paint stores.

Stone, carrying $450 in currency, has been missing since Wednesday night.

Capt. Eugene Barry said blotches on the front seat of Stone's car appeared to be blood stains. He theorized Stone had been waylaid and robbed.

Note Declares 9-Power Treaty Not Applicable

Authorities Hint U. S. Could Act Alone For Interests

TOKYO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Japan today declined a second invitation to the Brussels conference on her war with China and rejected the idea of a settlement within the framework of the nine-power treaty of 1922.

A Japanese note to the Brussels conference said that treaty, in which Japan and other powers agreed to respect China's territorial integrity, does not apply to the present conflict. The conference was convoked under terms of the treaty.

The Tokyo government, however, tempered its rejection of the Brussels invitation of Nov. 6 by a declaration that it would be glad if the powers would "contribute to the stabilization of east Asia in a manner consonant with the realities of the situation."

(In Brussels an authoritative Japanese source said the United States, acting for itself and not the conference, could always discuss peace with Japan on the basis of heavy American interests involved.)

The note, handed to Belgian Ambassador Baron Albert de Bassompierre, declared new Japan's military operations in China were self defensive, "forced on Japan by China's challenge," and were outside the scope of the nine-power treaty.

"It is certainly impossible," the note said, "for them (the Japanese government) to accept an invitation to a conference convened in accordance with the stipulations of that treaty after Japan has been accused of having violated its terms."

Japan's refusal pointed out that the conflict originated from special conditions in the orient, and, consequently, "the most just and equitable solution can be reached through direct negotiations between the two parties directly and immediately interested."

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

Bianco Awaits Hearing

DES MOINES, Nov. 12 (AP)—Warren Bianco, Des Moines high school youth, was held in the county jail tonight awaiting a hearing Monday to determine the degree of the murder charge to which he pleaded guilty today.

Bianco, charged with the death of Marvin Crane, filling station operator who died of a fractured skull after he was beaten over the head with a hammer in a $30 robbery, will be 17-years-old Sunday.

'Judas Iscariot'

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 12 (AP)—Edward Lamb, Ohio counsel for the C.I.O., in a speech prepared for delivery tonight over a radio network, called Gov. Martin L. Davey a "Judas Iscariot" and accused him of uttering "a deliberate falsehood" concerning the C.I.O. strike against "Little Steel."

Runaway Balloon

LONDON, Nov. 13 (Saturday) (AP)—A runaway royal air force balloon, trailing more than two miles of mooring cable, was believed headed toward Belgium today.

The balloon broke away from its mooring at an airfield near Ramsgate last night and crossed the English channel. The dangling cable struck high tension wires in France and cut off electric current in the cities of Bethune, Boulogne and St. Ouen.

Determined to Resign

BUCHAREST, Nov. 12 (AP)—A palace spokesman announced tonight Premier George Tatarescu was determined to resign and was merely waiting for King Carol to select his successor before presenting his formal resignation.

Britain Should Lead
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) of the senate foreign relations committee said yesterday he thought Great Britain should take the lead in working out a solution of the Sino-Japanese conflict at the Brussels conference.

Europe Turns To U.S. With Peace Efforts

BRUSSELS, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Brussels conference, rebuffed by Japan in its first effort to end the Chinese-Japanese war, tonight turned attention toward the United States as it groped for a new course of action.

Japan's flat rejection of the conference's peace overture of Nov. 6 coincided with the declaration of a high Japanese authority in Brussels that the United States, acting for itself, still had a "ticket of entry" to discuss peace in the Orient with Japan.

This authority said American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in Tokyo could always approach the Japanese foreign office to discuss the far eastern war from the standpoint of the heavy American interests involved.

But Japan's refusal to have anything to do with the Brussels conference and her denial of the applicability of the nine-power treaty of 1922 under which it was convoked were considered categorical and final. Her rejection was contained in a note which reached the conference through the Belgian foreign ministry.

Tonight many delegates were asking: what is the United States government prepared to do about the war in the far east?

Delegates showed particular interest in the opening of congress next Monday and speculated on chances congress would give President Roosevelt some lead which might result in a new American move. Most delegations seemed to be waiting for some initiative from the United States.

Some move to help China defend itself against Japanese invasion by sending war materials or opening credits seemed to be the course generally favored here.

Curbing Cribbing

WE WERE amused by the decision of the Grinnell college faculty "to remain in classrooms during examinations to avoid deliberately placing temptation in the way of students."

If cribbing is a problem at Grinnell and if students there have been accustomed to writing examinations unsupervised by faculty members, we predict that the new policy will not be wholly successful except, perhaps, in creating new and better ways of cribbing.

A survey of one denominational school in the state revealed that cribbing there had become a friendly battle of wits between faculty and students. Cards that snapped up their owners' sleeves and watch crystals that revealed formulae when breathed upon were among the more elaborate devices used to "out-slick" the professor.

The only effective remedy for cribbing lies in the skillful preparation of the examination questions. Objective tests, because of their length and detail, rarely can be "cribbed" successfully. Questions calling for student criticism based upon knowledge of the subject are equally resistant to cribbing methods. Some examiners have developed this type of test so highly that they request students to bring texts and reference material to the examination.

Cribbing is a habit. If tests were skillfully prepared with this problem in mind, however, we believe the practice would become as obsolete—yes, even as impossible—as dipping "pigtales" in ink wells or caricaturing "teacher" on a slate.

Hitler Moves Against Czechoslovakia

GOVERNMENT leaders in Czechoslovakia are having considerable anxiety these days watching Hitler's attempts toward bringing their nation within the German orbit of nazism. The reich has set its propaganda machine in full tilt in order to destroy the independence of Czechoslovakia and bring it under the sway of German power. Present German policy is directed toward political domination of all central Europe and the Balkans. Control of Czechoslovakia is the first step which Hitler must take in this direction.

Czechoslovakia has been the most democratic nation of all those established at the close of the World War. Hitler's current campaign is intended to destroy this democratic process which has flourished in the Slav nation since its first inception. Accordingly, Nazi agents are being sent across the border to stir up the German minority among the Czechs. The aim is to unite German nationals with other minority groups to bring pressure upon the Czech government toward forming a political union with Germany. The German press is aiding this cause by daily blaring forth a ceaseless and unceasing attack against Czech democracy which now prevents alliance with the reich.

Anti-nazi sentiment is exceptionally strong in Czechoslovakia but the pro nazi group, aided and abetted by Germany, is causing considerable trouble and annoyance. The Czech government is now in the hands of responsible leaders who are determined to maintain complete independence from nazi Germany. They can do little, however, to stem the tide of German propaganda that is flooding the nation and threatening its very existence.

The threat of armed force to bring Czechoslovakia under German rule is one factor which has made the peaceful Slav nation assume a warlike attitude. The Czechs are appropriating huge sums to bolster their military defenses against the Germans even though the likelihood of German troops marching into Czechoslovakia is exceedingly remote. Czechoslovakia has a military alliance with both France and Russia and both nations would immediately come to her aid as soon as Hitler crossed the German frontier. This would plunge all Europe into a holocaust which would be disastrous even to nazi aspirations.

Present events in Czechoslovakia bear close watching. The effect of nazi propaganda is still unknown. One wonders if Hitler, failing in his attempt at peaceful dominance of Czechoslovakia, will resort to armed force. The preservation of Czechoslovakian democracy will be a bulwark to the spread of nazi power in central Europe and the Balkans, and for this reason, we sincerely hope Czechoslovakia will successfully resist the encroachment of nazi doctrines and defeat the purposes of nazi policy.

Cousin Silas Sez About Long Livens

WELL THEY is a fello says we humans being will git to live to 1000 yrs. of age some day & it will be acct. a proper bal. of success, loves & fun wich wont wear us out in such a short time & if that gie thinks they is anybody wants to hang around after they gitten 100 yrs. of age he is daft & Y should anybody want to git in a weelchair for a couple centuris & then git pulled around on a stretcher the rest of there lives some 7 hundred yrs.

The only thing should everybody start living 1000 yrs. they would be a lot of this capital punishment stuff because the U. S. govt. aint got enough dough to kick in old age pensions for about 935 yrs. a each. They would have to set a limit of 100 or 150 yrs. & then quit or else electric chairize them or something equally unpleasant no doubt.

Also this here gie says in 500 yrs. it is going to be a sex battle between men & women & wear has been all his life. 500 yrs. dont meen nothing already it has been longer than that. Dint he never hear of Jiggs & Maggie? Dont he no no married folks? All I got to say he dont no much & I says women is going to run ever thing in 2937 wich is another foolishness of the head who does he think runs things now horses?

As far as that goes men aint turned out such a good job so far wait they do gitten themselves all killed & reckon farms & holl contries & its like shooting off guns & things wich aint so smart & if it was women had been runnen are contry & world probly would not of had a war nor nothing except maybe a few clashes full of pulling out of hair from wich all the soldiers come home safe & bald headed.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

TOP-HOLE AND CARRY ON!

Tallyho, you British chappies! The jolly old word comes over in the dispatches that you've all grown deuced war-minded. What if the skinny old drive for recruits has rather come a cropper? Your war minister is simply teeming with plans to elevate the blawsted old army in the esteem of civilians. New officer material is being developed from the "non-gentlemen"—y'know, those pukka fellows who rise from the ranks. And oh, I say! Reports multiply that the gentlemen themselves are spending less time in potting the silly old grouse and the bally old pheasant, and instead are studying the perishing old art of war. Definitely!

It all ties up with the ghashy experience of a visiting American who, this last summer, had done his bit of grouse shooting. Later, one night at a London dinner, he turned to a liberal and put what he thought is the correct question to Brits: "Have you been shooting recently?" "No," answered the Brits, "not since I was last in Flanders." "Indeed?" said the American. "And what did you shoot?" "Oh, I shot the Germans. It was during the World War."

Pretty grim, eh? But when liberals and labor leaders don't even beetle over to shoot grouse it's time for conservatives to study the art of war instead of peppering pheasants. Much better for the peace of the world, y'know. So carry on, you chappies! —Chicago Daily News

Psychology Offers Effective High Blood Pressure Remedy

By LOGAN CLFENDING, M.D.

A very sensible review of the present state of our knowledge of high blood pressure is made by one of the most distinguished Philadelphia physicians. He says, about extreme high blood pressures of 200 or over, that he has been following a considerable number of these for many years. One of them, a member of his own family, who had for over thirty years a pressure of from 200 to 275, was nearly 100 years old at death. Under treatment he makes the somewhat surprising but very sensible statement that the treatment of high blood pressure is psychologic. Patients with high blood pressure must be assured, he says, of the comparative harmlessness of the condition. Under the subject of diet, the doctor says that this is the weakest subject in medicine. He refers, of course, to dietetics in high blood pressure. In many fields, it seems to me to be the strongest subject in medicine. "One can find authority for almost any conceivable diet for any human ailment." (I do not quite subscribe to this statement, but I do admit it is true that you can find authority for any conceivable diet for high blood pressure.) At one time it was customary in high blood pressure to give a salt-free, low-protein diet. All this did was to make the patient's life miserable. Vihjalmur Stefansson has shown that one can subsist on an exclusive meat diet for a year without any elevation of blood pressure. Physicians are generally agreed that quantity is more important than quality in food, especially if the patient is overweight, as is so commonly the case. Moderation is the most important thing to teach the patient with high blood pressure.

Tuning In with Margie Fastenow

Tonight the air waves offer a variety of programs beginning at 6 o'clock with the Renfro Valley barn dance over station WLW and continuing through midnight with Griff Williams' orchestra over the NBC network. At 8 o'clock the National barn dance can be heard over the NBC network.

For those interested in news comments Bob Newhall will comment on sports at 5:30 this afternoon over WLW, and at 10 o'clock tonight Paul Sullivan can be heard with general news over the same station.

Jack Haley's Variety show will broadcast at 7:30 tonight over the NBC network, featuring several singers and comedians. At 9 o'clock another variety program can be heard over the same station, the Macfadden publications "Jamboree."

Phil Baker has been unanimously voted the man who has done most to foster the success of the National Association of Musical Merchandise Wholesalers. When Phil heard of his overwhelming victory, he mused, "It's the first time I ever won recognition with my pleaded piano when I didn't have to squeeze to do it."

There is one good reason why Jack Benny always gets so much out of his cast on his Sunday night programs. If he asks for a certain interpretation of a line at rehearsal and it is wrong, he admits it right away. If the character has difficulty with a line, Jack changes it.

Mark Warnow personally interviews Gabriel Heatter's "We, the People" guest stars at the dress rehearsals to gain a comprehensive idea of what each visitor is going to talk about at the microphone. When the musical director has collected his data, he then writes suitable melodies to cue each person's story.

Spencer Bentley, dramatic star of the "Betty and Bob" series, doesn't believe in resting on his laurels. Not satisfied with success in the acting field alone, he yearns to be a radio producer as well and for that purpose currently pays visits to the studios on off days, watching men like Howard Keegan and Henry Klein, producers of "It Can Be Done," whipping their show into shape.

During a recent rehearsal of his CBS show, Joe Penner revealed his belief that he would not have attained his present radio standing but for the unwitting support of another comedian. Some years ago, a neighborhood theater was conducting an amateur Charlie Chaplin contest. Penner entered—and won. From then on, the idea of becoming a professional comedian never left him.

February Graduates Every student who expects to receive a degree or a certificate at the University Convocation to be held Tuesday, Feb. 1, 1938, should make his formal application on a card provided for the purpose at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, Dec. 11, 1937. It is of utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately, for otherwise it is likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester. Making application for the degree, or certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee ($15) and also the cap and gown fee ($1) at the time the application is made—the payment of these fees being a necessary part of the application. Call at the Registrar's Office for the card. The petition of the Association of Senior Class Presidents that a fee of $1 be assessed to cover the cost of caps and gowns for Commencement has been granted. Therefore, hereafter this additional fee of $1 is to be paid by each candidate for a degree at the time he pays his graduation fee. Hereafter the normal rental fee for bachelors' caps and gowns has been $2 and for doctors' caps and gowns and hoods $4-$5. The service for handling the taking of orders, and the distribution of the academic apparel, will be explained to students when information about Convocation is sent out from the Alumni Office. H. C. Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, D. C.

Editor William Allen White, in his Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, recently nominated Mayor Fiorella H. La Guardia of New York for the leadership of a resuscitated republican party. This is another suggestion that just isn't logical. Mayor La Guardia has plenty of excellent qualities. He is one of the brainiest public men in the country. He is a human dynamo. He is a radical of an exceedingly rational type. His record in congress was a brilliant one and it generally is agreed that he has given New York City a first rate administration. He consists of the stuff that leaders are made of. But he could not possibly be the kind of leader that the G.O.P. needs at this juncture. He's Pro-New Deal The G.O.P. has got to be an anti-New Deal party. If it is a pro-New Deal it simply is not a separate alignment. Not being a separate alignment, it could have no place, at its head, for a separate leader. Now, La Guardia is, in effect, a New Dealer. President Roosevelt could quite consistently pick him as his choice of a successor. No matter that he has been known as a republican, the mayor does not care a cent's worth for a party label. Once the republicans in his Manhattan district turned him down for a renomination to congress, "Take ours," invited the socialist. La Guardia promptly accepted, won and served a term as a socialist. Today he is a republican as well as a fusion mayor.

As G. O. P. Sees It Well, the New Dealers (they should not be confused with the old-time democrats) are a more or less radical party. Conservatives (mostly republicans and a big group of democrats) contend that the New Deal's trend is toward a dictatorship. Nevertheless, on the way, it seems to conservatives to be radical. Are conservatives, then, likely to unite on La Guardia, a more radical radical than Roosevelt, as their leader against the latter? And who are our conservatives? They are, of course, the bulk of the republicans plus a sizable contingent of old-fashioned democrats. Imagine such an alliance behind the miscellaneous republican-socialist-fusionistic La Guardia! And the only reason why he hasn't been a democrat also is that he hasn't been urged to be one.

Hawkeyes To Battle Indiana Today

Juniors Played Halfback, End On 1937 Team

Nineteen Letter Winners Named at Meeting, Five Seniors

In a meeting of the letter winners of the 1937 football season yesterday, Duane Carson and Ernie Krogh were elected co-captains of the University high grid team for next year.

Both of these boys are juniors and played regularly on the U-high football team this year. Carson played at halfback and Krogh at an end.

Carson was one of the Blues' leading offensive threats, being able to kick, pass and run with the ball. He is an exceptionally good ball carrier and many times this season broke away for long gains on off-tackle thrusts. He was not used regularly as a punter, but often made quick kicks that were well placed and averaged about 30 yards.

Krogh hampered by injury
Krogh was hampered all season with a bad knee, but was still able to start every game but two and played bang-up football. The outstanding feature of Krogh's play all season was his defensive work. He has the ability to diagnose plays quickly and it was seldom that opponents found him out of position.

The letter winners in football for University high were also named yesterday. Nineteen letters are to be awarded, five to seniors and the other 14 to juniors and sophomores.

Letter-Winners
The letter winners are: Bruce Blackstone, Bill Boiler, Ed Breder, Bob Campion, Bob Carson, Owen Morgan, Bernie Miltner, Bruce Alderman, Ernie Krogh.

John McAllister, Duane Carson, Leo White, Ham Ries, Don Bridenstine, Leo Tesar, Ed Burns, Lewis Shimon, and Clarence Hightshoe. Dick Neff was awarded a letter as student manager.

Students Asked To Participate In Intramurals

Fred Beebe, intramural program director, announced yesterday that organization data had been mailed to 300 students living in private homes, inviting them to participate in the intramural town basketball league. This list does not include all eligible out-of-town students or any of the students who maintain a permanent residence here.

The league is open to all men registered in the university provided they are not basketball letter or numeral winners. Varsity men in other sports are eligible if it is not during the season of their sport.

The city is divided into 10 sections which coincide with the official university housing service plan, with each area entering as many teams as they wish.

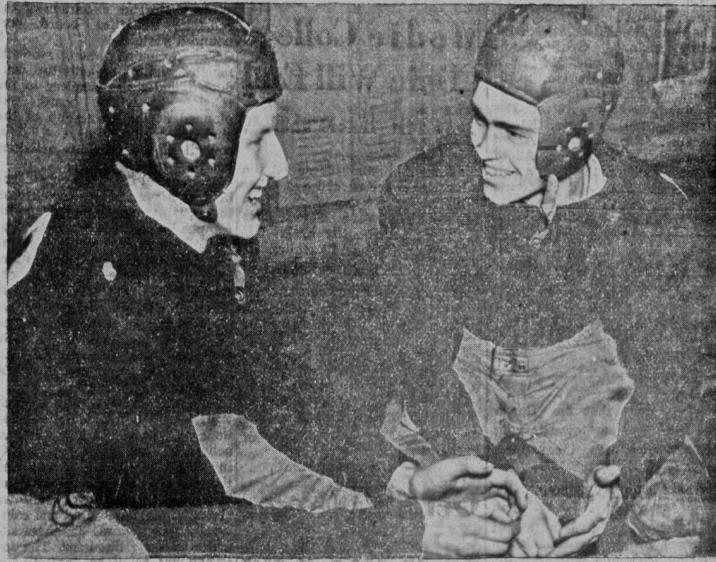

Basketball practice and team organization will be the main issue next week with league play starting after Nov. 22. The practice schedule drawn up by Beebe is as follows:

- Monday
Section 2—7 p.m.; section 3—8 p.m.; section 4—9 p.m.
- Wednesday
Section 5—7 p.m.; section 6—8 p.m.; section 7—9 p.m.
- Friday
Section 8—7 p.m.; section 9—8 p.m.; sections 1 and 10—9 p.m.

Public Apology
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Frank McCormick, University of Minnesota athletic director, made public apology to Northwestern's coaching staff for a stunt of the Minneapolis Junior Association of Commerce, which had an ambulance meet the Wildcat football team at a railroad depot here yesterday.

Coe Downs Grinnell
GRINNELL (AP)—A scoring excursion into Grinnell territory early in the second quarter netted Coe college a 7 to 0 triumph over Grinnell here yesterday.

New Blue and White Captains

Ernie Krogh and Duane Carson, newly elected co-captains for University high's 1938 football team, are pictured above as they talk over next season's prospects.

Both of these players are juniors and they both played regular on the U-high team this season.

Krogh plays at an end post, where he stamped himself as one of the best defensive players in the city, while Carson is a triple threat halfback and did the bulk of the U-high ball carrying this season.

Daily Iowan Sports Editor
The University of Iowa Hawkeyes, floundering in the depths of the Big Ten cellar, will have their last opportunity to win a Big Ten game this afternoon when they take their farewell appearance in Iowa stadium against the fighting Hoosiers of Indiana university.

Just as been the case all year, the Iowa team goes into the battle tomorrow rated as the underdogs. The Hoosiers have shown the second best defense in the Western conference and their backfield operates back of the 'best line in the Big Ten,' according to the words of Rollie Williams, Iowa coach who scouted the Indiana team.

Behind the scenes of the Old Gold practice field this week intensive drills have been carried on in the passing department, with Bill Kelly and Russ Busk, diminutive wingback who supplanted strapping Ed McLain, drawing part of the passing assignment. Jack Eicherly, whose pass-snatching in the Minnesota-Iowa game was one of the bright spots, snagged passes consistently throughout the drills and undoubtedly will play a major part in today's encounter.

Boland Sings Blues
Line Coach Pat Boland sang the blues more intensely following the final scrimmage this week because his top-ranking guards were still in questionable physical condition. Capt. Homer Harris, Erwin Prasse and "Tarzan" Herman were among the indefinite starters, and Frank Gallagher, whose sterling defensive play was a highlight of the Wisconsin game, will see no action whatever.

Because of the doubtful condition of these first string linemen Tubbs will make no attempt to rely on power or line plays, but expects the bullet passing of Nile Kinnick, Busk and Kelly to supply the offensive punch.

Assisting Eicherly on the receiving end will be veteran Bob Lannon, who has been one of the standout wingmen of the Western conference this fall. Lannon's defensive play in every game has been of all-American caliber, and Indiana plays around his end will be checked today, if pre-game performances have any bearing on Iowa's final home clash.

Balzaz Starts
Frank Balzaz, brawny fullback, Bill Gallagher, Oskaloosa half, Eicherly and Kinnick will comprise the starting backfield, with McLain, Olson, Busk and possibly Dean and Bush Lamb slated for relief duty.

Lannon, DeHeer, Brady, Anderson, Allen, Nead and Evans will probably draw the forward wall assignments, but numerous replacements will see action, if the drills this week have any indication of what is to come in the Indiana encounter.

With a record of 48 per cent completions in their passing attack, Indiana threatens to beat Iowa at their own game. One noticeable weakness in the Minnesota game was Iowa's secondary pass defense, and, although (See HAWKEYES, Page 5)

Hawkllets Fall Before 11 From River City In Night Tilt

By JACK WATSON
Daily Iowan Staff Writer
BRADY STREET STADIUM, DAVENPORT, Nov. 12 (Special to the Daily Iowan)—Davenport's touted Blue Devils, still smarting from their 14 to 0 setback at the hands of Dubuque last Friday, wrought vengeance on an invading band of Little Hawks from Iowa City in this arena tonight, engineering three quick scoring thrusts to gain a decisive 17 to 0 victory.

It was the final game of the season for the visitors, last year's claimants to the state title, and the third loss in three years for the Cornacmen.

The two teams entered the game almost on even terms, with a slight edge given to the Rivermen, who perennially produce crack gridiron clubs. Iowa City had earned its pre-game prestige mainly because it had held the strong Dubuque team, conquerors of Davenport, to a six-all deadlock in a mid-season struggle.

Two Blue Devils Star
The game tonight was featured by the rapier-like darts of two stellar Blue Devils, Capt. Leonard Lucier and his brilliant backfield mate, Bob "Spots" Bender, the "blond boomerang."

Lucier himself accounted for the first 10 points, scoring them all in the last two minutes of the first half by booting a difficult 30-yard field goal to break a scoreless stalemate which had prevailed throughout the first half, and then, after Bender had set the pigskin up for another score, snaking through for a touchdown just a few plays before the gun fired to end the half.

Even though there was a noticeable pickup in both the offensive and defensive tactics of the losers in the second half, they were nevertheless unable to puncture the powerful forward wall of the locals for any appreciable gains, and it was not until late in the game that the Hawkllets tallied their only first downs, and both of them were through the air lanes.

Can't Stop Bender
And the Hawkllet defense, fully aware that Bender was the man to watch, still couldn't cope with the flashy little halfback. The second half had scarcely been born when Bender, the Blue Devils' nominee for all-Iowa honors this year, demonstrated just why he is so highly regarded in state prep circles. Eldon Parizek returned Davenport's second-half kickoff 13 yards to his own 18. On the next play the ball fell loose in the scramble and the ever-alert rivermen pounced on it, on the visitors' 20.

Iowa City, furious over their unfortunate break, nailed Blue Devil ball carriers twice for insignificant gains, Earl Stimmel, Hawkllet guard, aggravating an old back injury on the second play, had to be carried from the field. On the next play Bender bolted outside right tackle, dodged in and out of the Iowa City secondary and sped unmoled to the pay stripes 18 yards away.

Hawkllet Blocking Poor
Again the faithful unerring Capt. Lucier scooted the pigskin through the uprights for the extra point, bringing his night's work to a close as far as scoring was concerned. Soon after Davenport had assumed its ultimate victory margin Coach Jesse Day started sending in replacements, but even against them the injury-riddled Little Hawks could not concentrate a scoring drive.

Poor blocking contributed mainly to the downfall of the Cornacmen. And the usually shifty Parizek was hampered considerably by a hip injury, in a game where the difference in the outcome lay between a speedy back or a backfield composed of average runners.

In the invading line Lawrence Paul was consistently the best performer, even though he was playing on the side of the line opposite Mahoney, who played a crackerjack game at tackle for the winners. Orrie Pitts, hefty Negro, played a whale of a game at the other Davenport tackle.

The contest was the season finale for the visitors, who won four, lost two, and tied three games this fall, scoring 58 points to their opponents' 64, the first time in three years that the Hawkllets have not compiled a larger aggregate score than their opponents.

Iowa State Cyclones To Tackle Marquette

Packed Stands For Today's Headliners

30,000 to See Army-Notre Dame Clash, 71,000 for Pitt-Nebraska

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—From whatever angle you scan tomorrow's pigskin panorama, it looks like either a sellout or a knockout.

From Hanover, N. H., to Houston, Tex., more collegiate arenas will be packed to capacity by the Army-Notre Dame and Pittsburgh-Nebraska headliners but the East also will give a classic proof that commercialism isn't the only gridiron objective. Only 15,000, all the little stadium can accommodate in the New Hampshire hills, will see Cornell challenge Dartmouth in an "Ivy league" showdown that would fill any park in the East. Even in the "Ivy league," however, this hurts.

Duke Plays North Carolina
Minnesota has lost two games but not its drawing power, as indicated by the prospect of a nearsellout crowd of 62,000 for the game with Northwestern. The South's biggest turnout, 40,000, is expected to pack the stadium at Durham for a renewal of the rivalry between Duke and North Carolina. Rice, back in the Southwest chips, has the S.R.O. sign out for its tussle with Texas A. and M.

Thus the box-offices look like the only sure winners on a day offering few safe spots for the football pickers. Here's how they look from this corner tonight:

Intersectional Features
Pittsburg - Nebraska (71,000) Biff Jones, the old artilleryman, has his Cornhuskers primed to take aim and shoot the works. That means another tough defensive hurdle for the Panther to clear but Nebraska doesn't figure to have enough stuff to check Goldberg, Stebbins, Patrick and Co. all afternoon, Pittsburg.

Army - Notre Dame (80,000) —Notre Dame's "cripples" seem to have made a remarkable recovery. Rainy weather and the precedent of underdog uprisings in this brilliant rivalry may help Army's long-shot chances. Otherwise it's difficult to figure the Soldiers beating the team that downed Navy and Minnesota and led Pittsburgh for three periods, Notre Dame.

Pennsylvania - Michigan (35,000)—Michigan has swung three in a row by one point. During all that time he was never seriously hurt and only once was time taken out for him in a game. Several days ago he slipped on a rug at his home and the ensuing fall resulted in three broken ribs!

Sectional Headliners
Minnesota - Northwestern (62,000) — Just an echo of the 1936 "game of the year," which marked the end of the long Gopher winning streak. Minnesota, shooting for revenge and Big Ten honors, should win.

Alabama - Georgia Tech (25,000) — Tech's razzle dazzle may achieve an upset here, if the Tide defense wavers, but Alabama is the choice.

Louisiana State - Auburn (37,000) — This might be a scoreless tie or a touchdown spree. On a reverse to the weak side, Auburn.

Duke - North Carolina (40,000)—On the power side. Duke. Yale - Princeton (50,000) — More tradition than argument, Yale.

Dartmouth - Cornell (15,000) Cornell's line may force the breaks and spill those deep reverses but Dartmouth, on its backfield versatility, figures to win.

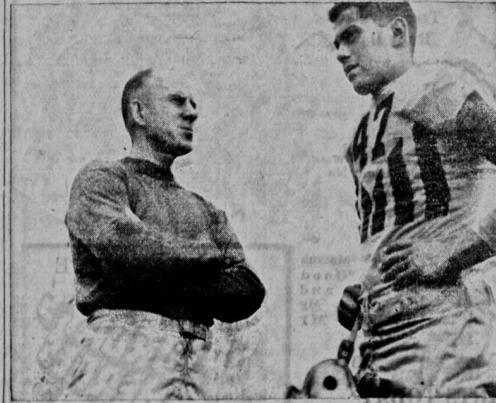

Rice-Texas A. & M. (20,000)—Here's the logical spot for the weekly southwest upset. Rice, going nowhere a month ago, now leads the league. The altitude may make the Owls dizzy but they rate the choice.

Oregon-California (25,000) — After last week's let down or knockdown, it's up to the Golden Bears to prove they are the class of the coast conference, California.

Santa Clara-St. Mary's (scheduled Sunday)—The Gaels of St. Mary's have been galloping in the wrong direction. Not even that maneuver will keep them out of further trouble. They play Fordham in New York next week. This week: Santa Clara.

Completing the circuit: East: Syracuse over Columbia, North Carolina State over Manhattan, New York U. over Georgetown, Kentucky over Boston college, Harvard over Davidson, Penn. State over Maryland, Holy Cross over Brown, Amherst over Williams, Rutgers over Ohio university, Lafayette over Washington & Jefferson, West Virginia over Toledo, Temple over Bucknell.

Iowa Board of Strategy

Captain Homer Harris, conferring (above) with Coach Irl Tubbs, will play his last Big Ten game against Indiana in Iowa stadium this afternoon. Harris will lead Iowa in search of their first 1937 conference win. Harris will probably play at tackle this afternoon. During his first two years, he was an outstanding wingman and received all-conference mention.

Hod Shots

By G. K. HODENFIELD

This will be a happy week end for Henry Luebecke. The giant Iowa tackle, who was injured after the Washington game and was lost to the Hawkeyes for the rest of the season, will have his cast removed today and will throw his crutches into the ash can. Six weeks is a long time to hobble around on one leg.

The Indiana team is singing the praises of Nick Wasyluk, Ohio State backfield ace, who almost broke loose for several touchdown dashes in the Indiana-Buckeye game last week. Bo McMillin says the Ohio Stater is about the best open field runner that has performed in the Big Ten in the last decade. Please don't forget Ozzie Simmons, Mr. McMillin.

Seems that the University hospital is a good place for the Iowa football team. They spent last Friday night there and the next day, against Minnesota, they lost only one man because of injuries. Last night they again had a special section reserved for them in the huge west side dormitory.

Following is the route that will be followed in the big parade this morning at 10:45—Starting from the music building the procession will go west on Iowa to Lima, south to College, west to Dubuque, north to Iowa, west to Clinton, south to Washington, west to Madison and north to the Iowa Union.

Iowa, Indiana Bands Will Perform At Final Home Game

'Hoosier Hundred' Will March With 3 Iowa Organizations

Both Groups To Lunch As Guests of Campus Societies

Adding pageantry to the Hawkeyes' last home game of the season, the University of Indiana's 132-piece military band will join the University of Iowa band and the Scottish Highlanders in a parade through the business district this morning at 10:45.

The "Hoosier Hundred," attired in blue-gray uniforms with scarlet-lined capes, will meet the 148 Iowa band players, the bagpipers and a contingent of Pershing Rifles and Pontoniers at the music studio building. They will march to Iowa Union where a joint subscription luncheon for the Iowa band, Stadium Singers and Scottish Highlanders and a complimentary luncheon for the Indiana band will be served in the river room.

Funds for the complimentary luncheon for the Hoosier bandmen have been contributed by A.F.I., Pi Epsilon Pi and auxiliary, University Women's association, Mortar Board, Quadrangle, men's cooperative group, interfraternity council, women's panhellenic association, Currier hall and Eastlawn.

Seated at the speaker's table will be Maj. Roy N. Hagerty, officer in charge; F. E. Green, musical director of the Indiana band; Prof. Charles B. Richter, director of the University of Iowa bands; Hugh Gunderson and Walter Cleveland, band assistants; Col. George F. N. Dailey, organizer; William L. Adamson, pipe major of the Scottish Highlanders.

Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department; Victor Grabel and Otto J. Kraushaar, visiting bandmasters; Harry L. Johnson, executive assistant in the extension division, and the drum majors of the two bands. Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, will serve as toastmaster.

After the luncheon the musicians will be transported to the armory to make arrangements for the display between the halves of the Indiana game.

The Hoosier musicians will present their maneuvers during the first eight minutes of the 12-minute program, and the Iowa musicians will appear during the last four minutes.

The combined bands will play the national anthem under the direction of Mr. Green for the flag raising ceremony.

Iowa band maneuvers will include a formation 60 yards long and the width of the playing field representing a football, another spelling the name of Coach Irv Tubbs in letters conforming to the shape of a football. The last formation will be accompanied by the playing of the new Iowa rouser song, "Iowa, On to Victory."

Tribute will be paid to the Legionnaires present by a medley of army songs played by the two sections of the bands as the other units form "I's" at opposite ends of the field.

Members of the Indiana band will be honored at a reception at Currier hall tonight at 8:30.

Porter To Address Economic Society

Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department will speak at a meeting of the Order of Artus, honorary economic organization, at Iowa Union Tuesday noon. He will talk on a program for the special session of congress.

Bose Contributes Essays in Honor Of Indian Leader

Sudhindra Bose of the political science department is the only contributor from the United States to a volume of essays written in honor of Har Silas Sarda, one of the greatest living Indian statesmen.

Mr. Bose, in recognition of the sesquicentennial celebration of our constitution this year, wrote his essay on the "Making of the American Constitution."

The essays, compiled and edited by the president of Government college in Ajmer, were contributed by legislators, scholars, historians and other leading men to give a concrete demonstration of the nation's good will and appreciation to a living leader in political and social reform.

Branscombe Visits Libraries on Tour Of U. S. Institutions

Harvie Branscombe, director of libraries at Duke university, Durham, S. C., visited University libraries yesterday in connection with a survey being conducted by the Association of American Colleges.

Mr. Branscombe is visiting a selected group of colleges and universities throughout the United States in a study of college libraries as educational agents. The survey is chiefly concerned with libraries in relation to undergraduate work.

American Prefaces Features New Poem by Paul Engle

"For Gabe's Seventieth Birthday," a poem by Paul Engle, well-known Iowa poet and lecturer in the school of letters, is one of the features of the October issue of American Prefaces. The university literary publication begins its third year with the October issue.

Another of the month's highlights is "Pastoral," a short story by Eleanor Saltzman of Mt. Airy, which pictures a phase of the life of a country girl. Miss Saltzman wrote the novel, "Ever Tomorrow," and is a former member of Iowa Child Welfare Research station.

Warren Smith, who last summer received a master's degree in drama from the University of Iowa, is the author of the one-act play included in this issue. "The Day" is an amusing view of an imaginary political situation. Another of his plays, "A March for the Conquered," was produced by the University experimental theater last winter.

'Beat Indiana,' Is Asked

** * * * *
'Iowa Will Have Steam,' Says Devine;
1,500 Attend Mass Meeting

"The team tomorrow will show as much steam as the engineering whistle has displayed tonight!" shouted Glenn Devine to the enthusiastic mob gathered about a 20-foot bonfire on the lot south of Iowa Union last night.

The "Beat Indiana" pep meeting attracted a crowd of 1,500 university students including the new Iowa Rooters section which will perform for the first time this afternoon at the Iowa-Indiana game. The section is to become a permanent organization at the university.

Mr. Devine told the group that Iowa's chances for beating Indiana tomorrow were very good. "And I hope we do!" he said.

"We haven't given you much to yell about so far, but we hope to tomorrow!" promised Ernie Nevers, backfield coach. "When the Iowa team takes the field, either here or somewhere else, it may be beaten but it will never be licked!" John Koester, A3 of Davenport, acted as master of ceremonies for the gathering which was organized by Pi Epsilon Pi, pep fraternity. Immediately preceding the meeting freshmen cheerleaders serenaded dormitory and sorority women and urged them to attend the rally.

After the rally the crowd snaked through the downtown business district.

The committee in charge of the meeting included George Sudimack, A4 of Bayonne, N.J.; William Yarwood, A1 of Eldora; Colburn Strack, A1 of Grundy Center; John Collinge, A2 of Des Plaines, Ill.; Dan Hays, E1 of Grinnell; John Koester, A3 of Davenport; Lucile Mullen, A2 of Davenport; Peggy Reagan, A2 of Port Arthur, Tex., and Catherine Niles, A2 of Anamosa.

Roses For You

Young Men Believe Party Nights And Roses Go Hand-In-Hand

Party night — the excitement and glamour of soft light, sweet music, colorful gowns and the scent of flowers.

After you are togged out in slinky satin, demure velvet or sophisticated crepe, after you have coaxed each curl into its right place, as soon as your powder is just right — then open the box from the florists and see — your flowers.

Nine out of 10 times it will be roses, since most young men seem to believe that the rose is the only flower that grows. If he is a bit broadminded there will be a fresh-petaled gardenia nestling in the green waxed paper.

But if they're roses? Well, make the best of them. If you put them on the shoulder of your gown be sure that the flower faces are turned toward your face. Don't droop them down toward your toes.

Perhaps the corsage is too heavy for your dress — then tear it apart and tuck a few of the roses in your curls. It's a flattering trick and will keep the flowers from crushing when you dance.

Gardenias, roses, violets, sweet peas, daisies, bird-of-paradise flower, iris and orchids are favorites on this campus. The sweet peas and other small flowers are put into wrist corsages; daisies, gardenias, violets and orchids are worn in the hair. But roses are the most popular to tuck in your belt or over your shoulder.

Most florists are of the opinion that all flowers can be worn — a little care in choosing color, type and arrangement are the most important things in your choice.

If you're wearing an extra special dress and want extra special attention in the way of posies, why not drop a gentle hint — "Have you ever seen orchids so nice as they are this year? Just what my dress needs."

Even if after such an effort orchids aren't forthcoming, do your best with what you get and try something new in the way of tucking them behind the ear, in the girdle of your dress or clinging to the roll of your curls.

Almost every flower can be worn. All flowers will flatter. Wear them correctly and make the next party perfect.

Student Council Seeks Financial Support Of Students

The women's pan-hellenic association, interfraternity council, Town Coed club and other campus organizations are cooperating in the religious activities financial drive which will begin Monday, William Morgan, executive of the religious activities board, announced yesterday.

The campaign among students for the support of activities conducted under the auspices of the religious activities board was planned at the suggestion of the students of the student religious council of the religious activities board.

The annual freshman conference held each year before registration to acquaint new students with campus life and activities is a project of the student religious council. An outgrowth of the conference, four discussion groups attended by approximately 100 freshmen this year met for five weeks under the leadership of Prof. and Mrs. Stephen H. Bush, Prof. and Mrs. Mason Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Mallett and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Feder.

The student religious council will assist the international relations commission of the religious activities board in the joint meeting with the Chinese group, and the student alliance Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the foyer of Iowa Union. The background and solutions of the Chinese-Japanese situation will be discussed. The international relations commission is also working with the national student peace movement.

Social service work in the hospitals is a program of the student religious council whose members are Deana Krantzman, A3 of Marshalltown, president; Dale Weeks, A4 of Indianola, chairman of international relations commission; Hillis Hauser, A3 of Marshalltown, chairman of the commission on work with new students; Harold Hemington, C4 of Readlyn, chairman of social service commission.

No. 1 Asset Women Think Poise Important Now

By JOAN DURHAM AP Feature Service Writer It's the woman with poise who holds the world's attention today.

Poise is to the 1937 woman what glitter was to the belle of the 90's and vitality was to the postwar flapper.

Three Characteristics Women in these troublesome days realize they must have more than glitter. The Duchess of Windsor is one only of them.

A well-poised woman appears always to be at ease with herself and the rest of the world.

She has at least three outward characteristics; good posture, no waste movement, controlled speech.

She doesn't fidget — with her fingers, her dress, or the pearls about her neck.

She doesn't have to resort to a cigarette or a cocktail to have something to do with her hands — as her grandmother had to resort to knitting when the conversation died down.

She has learned just what to say and when to say it — either through an innate feminine sensitivity to people or through careful practice. For poise is both born and made.

Ten Candidates Who are the American women with the most poise?

Here's a list of 10 to start on: Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, Lena Madson-Phillips, president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, Maude Adams, Josephine Roche.

HOSTESS HINTS

"Above all, study well your sauce; if it fails disaster is inevitable; if it succeeds place aureole leaves in your hair, for you will have conquered. A woman who has mastered sauce sits on the apex of civilization." — The Feast of Antiochus.

Indeed a sauce is needed to give the finishing touch to many dishes. It is the sauce that makes or mars the dish. A perfect sauce is a marvel of smoothness, glossiness and flavor. Happy is the woman who can make a perfect one an every-day attainment.

Brown Or Espagnole Sauce
1-4 cup butter
5 tps. flour
1-2 tsp. salt
1-2 tsp. pepper
1 1/2 cups standard beef broth
1-2 cup tomato puree
1-4 cup dried mushrooms

Scant the measure of mushrooms; let soak for some time in cold water to cover; add water and mushrooms to a cup or more of cooked or raw tomatoes and let simmer 10 or 15 minutes. Strain and reserve half a cup for the sauce. Make a brown roux of the first four ingredients; add the broth and puree and stir until boiling.

Mint Sauce
1 bunch of mint
1-4 cup boiling water
1 or 2 tsp. sugar
Juice of one lemon or 4 tsp. cider vinegar
1-4 tsp. salt
1-4 tsp. pepper

Wash the mint and shake and dry on a cloth. Pick the leaves from the stems and chop them fine. Add the boiling water and sugar, cover close and let stand for half an hour. Add the acid and condiments, and it is ready to serve. Use principally with lamb.

Hawkeyes--

Indiana, with wins over Illinois, Ohio State, Centre, and Cincinnati, reigns a decided favorite, and with such men as Filchook, Corley Davis, and Graham in the backfield and Olmstead, Haak, Petrick and Capt. Jack Kenderdine, slippery pass-snatching end, in the forward wall, today's fans will witness a rugged exhibition of football.

The one blot on the Hoosier record is the 6 to 0 defeat administered by the Minnesota Gophers. Thousands of fans witnessed the Hawkeye-Gopher game last Saturday, and, although Iowa's passing attack produced a 10 to 0 lead in the first quarter and a half, the Hawkeyes' faltered before the onslaught of power and football finesse of the Norsemen. Whether or not Iowa's passes will click for 60 minutes may hold the key to the game.

The seniors who will play in their final home game include Bob Lannon, right end, Dick Anderson, center, Bush Lamb, back, Capt. Harris, tackle and end, Floyd DeHeer, giant tackle, Frank Gallagher, tackle, Shipley Farroh, guard, Emil Klumpp, end and back, and Donald Lude-mann, tackle. All these men will complete their college football careers against the potent Nebraska Cornhuskers next week at Lincoln.

'Keep Off' Signs Are Common On European Airways Today

LONDON — "Forbidden zones" are the aviator's bugaboo in Europe today, and woe to the transgressor! Each country now has its list of areas closed to ordinary flying—on penalty, in some cases, of being shot down.

The forbidden areas include military fortifications, munitions factories and dumps, military camps and airfields, and large manufacturing centers. International frontiers especially are restricted. Where not to fly is a problem. Commercial planes are squeezed across international frontiers in narrow "air lanes."

No Mercy For Violators
It's a natural consequence—all these aerial traffic rules—of a rearm Europe where suspicion runs high and where military secrets must be safeguarded from aerial photography.

Military planes police these closed areas in some instances. Ground crews with high-powered glasses and "electric ears" do the rest. Penalties include heavy fines—and imprisonment. And aviators go miles out of their way, in seeking a destination, to avoid these prohibited areas.

Narrow Lanes Into France
France provides a good example of how severe the restrictions on flying have become. The French frontier is marked with forbidden zones (notably the famous Maginot line of fortifications). Only three narrow passages, in parts only four miles wide, are open to planes along the 250 miles of French-German border.

The French-Italian border also is heavily restricted to aviation, there being but one small passageway—three miles wide—at Modane. The Franco-Belgium border has four routes over which planes may fly, and the short Franco-Luxembourg border is entirely blocked off. The boundary convention ground of the Nazi party, and Hamburg, principal seaport.

High spots of the rebuilding program of the German metropolises are two giant avenues intersecting the city and permitting columns of parading soldiers to march 24 abreast, and a great road encircling the entire city.

Nuremberg will have the world's largest stadium, seating 100,000 and the largest congress hall in the world, seating 40,000.

Nazis To Rival Napoleon In Rebuilding of Cities
BERLIN (AP) — Convinced that their regime will last for centuries, Nazi authorities have worked out plans for the reconstruction of Berlin surpassing the rebuilding of Paris by Napoleon.

Today With WSUI

P.T.A. To Meet Tuesday Night Mrs. Poulter To Conduct Business Meeting At City High

The American Education week programs will be brought to a close tonight at 6:50 when John C. Fielding of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary speaks on "Life-Long Learning."

When the Iowa Hawkeyes go to battle with Indiana today for their last home game—and last Big Ten game of the season—Jack Drees, A4 of Eau Claire, Wis., will be on hand to give a play-by-play description over station WSUI. The broadcast begins at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A program of music "that was popular in grandmother's day"—that is the Yesterday's Musical Favorites program broadcast daily at 10:15 a.m. Announcer Max McCullough, A4 of Crawfordsville, Ind., is behind the microphone with rhyming introductions for the selections.

Mrs. R. W. Poulter will be in charge of the business meeting of the Iowa City high school P.T.A. Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Mrs. Harry Jenkinson will direct the program. The program will include group singing directed by Mrs. I. A. Opstad, a solo by A. O. White, a reading of selected poetry by Elenore Lee White and a chorus by members of the Horace Mann Mother singers.

Florence Churchill will be chairman of the social session. The refreshment committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caywood, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Slade, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Keyser, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Sample and Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Leighton.

Council Gives OK to Clark's 2 Appointments

Fire Chief James J. Clark's appointment of Firemen Ray Morgan and H. T. McNabb as acting assistant fire chiefs was approved by the city council last night. Clark's $1,000 surety bond as fire chief was also approved by the council.

California Water System Almost Done

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The great metropolitan water district's Colorado river aqueduct, 392 miles in length, including its distribution system, and costing approximately $220,000,000, was 95 per cent complete by October. Stretching across California from the Arizona boundary, the aqueduct will bring water to 13 southern California cities in the water district.

Civilians to Aid Army In Defense of Ethiopia

ROME (AP) — Mussolini has ordered the establishment of a permanent militia force to aid the army in defending Italy's new East African empire. Workmen and civilians will be recruited among Italian nationals just as they are at home. The militiamen will be grouped under one high command — that of the viceroy — in Addis Ababa. The viceroy will give his orders to a lieutenant general of militia.

Croft Named Head of Smoke Hazard Group

Committee Will Assist City Inspector In Smoke Campaign

Prof. H. O. Croft of the college of engineering was appointed chairman of an advisory committee to aid in lessening the smoke nuisance in Iowa City by Mayor Myron J. Walker yesterday. George P. Zeithamel and M. E. Rice were named by the mayor to complete the committee, which will assist the city inspector in conducting an educational campaign for the abatement of the smoke nuisance.

The board is to make recommendations to the smoke inspector for lessening the smoke nuisance, according to Mayor Walker. The committee plans to distribute instructions for the proper manner of fuel combustion to all residents in the city.

The municipal code has the following provision regarding the emission of dense smoke:

"The production or emission of smoke, the density or shade of which is equal to or greater than number three from any stack except that of a locomotive, for a period of two minutes or more in any period of 15 minutes and the emission of such smoke from any locomotive for a period or periods aggregating one minute of more in any period of eight minutes hereby is prohibited."

Number three smoke is defined as smoke so dense at the top of the smoke stack that it is impossible to see blue sky through it on a clear day.

Station WSUI Will Broadcast Education Talk

John Fielding, instructor in the college of engineering, will close the American Legion observance of education week with a 10-minute speech over radio station WSUI at 6:50 this evening.

In the program arranged by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, Fielding will speak on "Life-Learning." Clair J. Butterfield, chairman, Roy Bartholomew and Fred L. Jones were the members of the committee appointed by the Roy L. Chopek Post No. 17 to arrange the schedule of programs for the week's observance.

Koser Services Set for Sunday

Funeral service for Alexander Koser of Blairstown, who died Thursday morning in a local hospital, will be at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the residence and at 2 p.m. in the Evangelical church at Blairstown. Burial will be in Blairstown cemetery.

Mr. Koser was a former resident of Iowa City.

Inspector Monk Issues Permits

Plans for two new homes were approved yesterday by City Inspector Harold J. Monk and building permits were issued for their construction.

C. A. Giblin will construct a residence on Franklin street, and Howard Moffit will build a house at Jackson and Dearborn streets.

Small—Unusual—Fun!

Easily the smallest and certainly the most unusual of Iowa City's dozen and more men's organizations is the Columbus club (The members won't tell its meaning). Meeting every two

Nomination

My personal nomination for the silliest conference in months is that now going on in Brussels. . . Has any such meeting ever accomplished anything?

It's amazing to me to observe that the most brilliant men—and those most successful—are not the ones who adhere to the strictest code—but occasionally throw discretion to the winds for the good time. . . The straight and narrow are occasionally as dull in business as well. . .

This month's Frivol, I'm told will reveal those in command there can't take it on the chin and will retaliate with a barrage against yours sincerely. . .

Oblivion

Nomination for Oblivion—W. R. Hearst's new and silly red-baiting campaign—probably the best fascism breeder in existence. . . It was the fight against communism which paved the way for the rise of Herr Hitler. . .

In George Kaufman's "I'd Rather Be Right," the supreme court—all of its members made up to look like Chief Justice Hughes, pulls a final coup by declaring everything but itself unconstitutional. . .

"I'm old and bent!" Grandfather sighed; "I'm young and broke!" Grandson replied.

Concern

There's a young fellow who's causing local tavern keepers much annoyance. . . He wanders into their establishments, orders a beverage, steps out for a moment and never returns. . . The beverage he always leaves untouched and unpaid for. . .

I know one local couple whose marital happiness is always assured. . . Come every four weeks the wife or the husband vacations alone—in Chicago or another nearby city. . .

Better

Seems to me it's better by far to know half a dozen persons intimately than half a hundred casually. . .

Anna Neagle's "Victoria the Great," which I recently previewed, is the clearest insight into the most popular English queen I've yet seen. . . Gives a more concise insight into the part Prince Albert played in Victoria's life than any biography I've read. . .

Key

The new Magic Key broadcasts are easily the best of the week's air shows, although their listeners don't number half those of such silly air shows as the Bing Crosby Thursday evening hours. . .

Affected

And to Bing Crosby, a screen favorite of mine, a hiss for having the most affected personality on the air. . .

A campus psychologist, busy watching such things, finds the average campusite seldom, if ever, reads an editorial page—rarely peruses more than half a dozen of the front page news stories in any paper. . .

My own vote for the most wife-like screen star goes to Myrna Loy, who manages to have a sense of humor even in the most trying spots. . .

Auxiliaries To Aid Red Cross Drive; Will Announce First Results Tonight

Two local units, the American Legion auxiliary and the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, have donated their services in the local American Red Cross roll call.

The Legion auxiliary is canvassing the First Capital National bank building, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary are enrolling members in the Iowa State Bank and Trust company building. James T. Gwynne, chairman of this year's roll call, said yesterday the Red Cross drive in Johnson county is making "excellent headway." He also said first reports on the progress will be in to him tonight.

Automobile License Plates To Go On Sale Dec. 1, Says Smith

New Plates Will Have White Background, Blue Numbers

Automobile license plates for 1938 will go on sale Dec. 1 at the county treasurer's office, W. E. Smith, county treasurer, announced yesterday.

The plates for the coming year follow procedure used in the past of reversing the color of background and numbers over preceding year. A white background with blue numbers will be used on the 1938 plates.

City High Will Give 'Mikado'

Different Departments Working Together On Operetta

Vocal, instrumental and dramatic departments of Iowa City high school are collaborating in the production of the "Mikado," an operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan, to be given Dec. 1 and 2.

The story of the "Mikado" centers around the romance between Nanki-Poo, the Mikado's son, and Yum-Yum, ward of Ko-Ko.

Nanki-Poo, masquerading as a minstrel to avoid having to marry Katisha, comes to Ko-Ko's palace in search of Yum-Yum, who, he discovers, is engaged to marry Ko-Ko, the Lord high executioner.

The Mikado threatens to abolish the office of the Lord high executioner unless someone is beheaded within a month. Nanki-Poo agrees to be executed within this time if he is allowed to marry Yum-Yum at once.

The Mikado now enters the scene in search of his son. He is informed that the execution has just taken place. Katisha, reading the death certificate, reveals the fact that Ko-Ko has just beheaded the Mikado's son.

However, Nanki-Poo has not been executed, and he and Yum-Yum are about to start on their honeymoon. Ko-Ko then declares his love for Katisha, and the operetta ends happily.

The production of the "Mikado" is one of the projects of the Iowa City high school music auxiliary to raise money to send the high school band and orchestra to the national music contest.

The high school theater orchestra will provide the instrumental accompaniment for the operetta. Members of the theater orchestra are Joan Freund, Catherine Donovan, Jean Opstad, and Albert Muenzer, first violins; Dorothy Lorenz, Versa Poulter, Marion Pickering and Betty Ellett, second violins.

Patricia Trachsel and Marion McEwen, violas; Jean McKnight and Ruth Plass, cellos; Edward Sybil and Shirley McRoberts, basses; Donald Key and Betty Ivie, French horns; Dorothy Soucek and Katherine Ruppert, flutes. Marjorie Sidwell and VirJean Peterson, clarinets; Warren Burger and Barbara Ricketts, oboes; Anne Serup, bassoon; Eldon Parizek and Arthur Stevens, trumpets; Bob Simpson, trombone, and Robert Dunlap and Dorothy Smith, drums.

Community Chest

Contributions to the Iowa City Community Chest totaled $16,188.06 last night, according to Attorney Thomas E. Martin, campaign director. This total is $19.99 per cent of the goal of $19,890.

Bowman Invited To 3 Day Safety Meet at Ames

C. A. Bowman, president of the Johnson County Safety council, has been invited to attend the highway safety conference at Iowa State College at Ames, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Safety officers from Iowa's 99 counties will join with engineers, public officials, educators and safety directors from 15 states in the three-day session.

Prominent speakers include Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, head of the street and traffic section of the National Safety council. Governor Hoffman will speak Friday.

Transient Gets Choice; Leaves

In police court yesterday Police Judge Burke N. Carson gave Wesley Brena, a transient, his choice of paying a $100 fine or leaving town immediately. Brena chose the latter.

Fines of $1 each were given to J. Safranek, Herman Boyson and Marian Maris for street storage, and to Wayne Anderson for parking in an alley. Paul Sparks was fined $2 and costs on a charge of malicious mischief.

Otto Catek Estate Will Be Heard In District Court, Nov. 29

The claim of Henrietta Jawsa, Marak brothers, Frank J. Catek and Libbie Catek against the estate of Otto C. Catek will be heard in Johnson county district court at 9 a.m. Nov. 29.

The claimants joined in making objections to the final report of Elsie C. Catek, administratrix of the estate.

Attorney E. P. Korab will represent the four claimants. Elsie C. Catek will be represented by Attorney Joseph Mekota of Cedar Rapids.

A. J. Hillier Fined $25 for Overloading

A. J. Hillier of Muscatine was fined $25 and costs yesterday for overloading a truck.

Justice of the Peace J. M. Kadlec fined Hillier, who was summoned into court by Patrolman M. G. Swords.

Council Issues Three Permits

Cigarette permits were issued by the city council last night to the Iowa Grill, 10 S. Dubuque street, and Piper's Candy shop, Jefferson hotel.

A class C beer permit was issued to the Humer grocery, 803 S. Clinton street.

Car Use Tax Totals $1,095

62 New Automobiles Sold In County Last Month

Almost two-thirds of the 99 vehicles registered for new licenses during October were new cars, W. E. Smith, county treasurer, announced yesterday.

Licenses were issued for 81 passenger cars, 62 of which were new. Truck operators received 13 licenses, and five trailers were registered last month.

A total of $1,095 was collected by the treasurer's office for the two per cent state use taxes on new cars.

be in Cedar county at 61 bushels, the report shows. Benton and Muscatine counties will average 59 bushels, and Iowa and Scott counties, 57.

Do You Remember....!

The First Capital National Bank of Iowa City has on display in the lobby of the bank a set of the posters that were used during the World War in 1917-18 for the sale of Liberty and Victory Bonds. Most of the students in the University have never seen these posters. Any who are interested are cordially invited to call at the bank and see them.
