Will Fannie Brice Agree?

Rose-Holm Affair Has Background Of Comedy and Drama

By MARK BARRON
NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Theatrical troupers have been gossiping about Fannie Brice and Billy Rose for years, and today their colorful chat tingled with news the sad-voiced comedienne who wept her way to fame singing "He's My Man," is waiting for a word with her producer-husband.

Rose, nearing San Francisco with effervescent Eleanor Holm whom he says he is going to marry, still has to explain to his present wife, Miss Brice.

"My husband and I have never discussed divorce," she said in a telephone conversation from Hollywood. And there the matter rests until Rose arrives to convince her, or at least make the attempt, she should no longer think of him when she sings "He's My Man."

The shapely swimmer, awaiting the time until she is divorced from the silent orchestra leader, Arthur Jarrett, to wed Rose, the modern P. T. Barnum of producers, has changed the line to "He's the boss."

The scenario, in brief, is this: Rose and Miss Holm want to get married and they are asking, in proper order, that Miss Brice and Jarrett, their current mates, divorce them. But, in the background is a comedy-drama of careers and domesticity that out-Barnums any of the extravaganzas ever produced by the imaginative Rose.

Treasury Sees Deficit—Asks Costs Be Cut

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt's drive toward a well balanced budget appeared today to depend upon how well he can whip up business recovery with one hand and keep a close rein on congress with the other.

The treasury reports that the president should end this fiscal year next June 30 with a 12-month deficit of $895,000,000. But in the following fiscal year, the one beginning July 1, the administration hopes the money spent by the government will be equal or less than the amount it takes in as taxes.

Secretary Morgenthau said in his New York speech Wednesday right that such a balance should be achieved by cutting expenses. He suggested cuts in relief, highways, public works and agriculture — all forms of expenditure for which congress has a tender feeling, especially in a pre-election year session.

To bring about an upturn in business the administration's approach is vastly different from the methods of its early years when federal funds were pouring into private industry, directly and indirectly, at the rate of millions a day.

NEW TRAILS

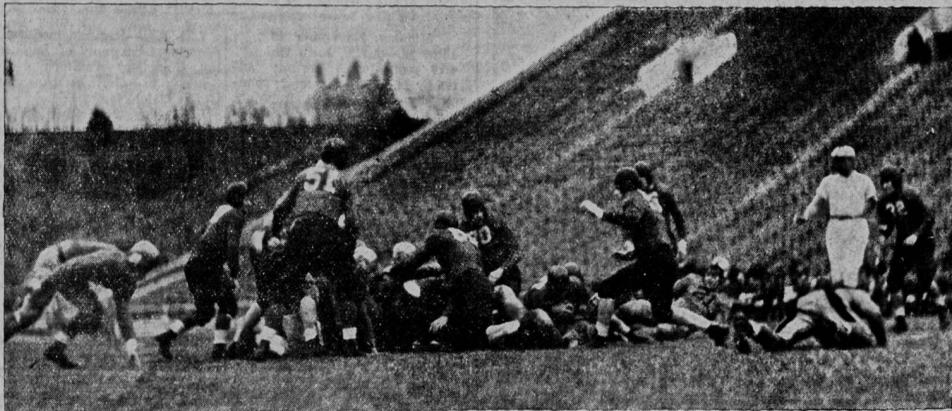

Search Reveals Route Of Mormons

DES MOINES, Nov. 13 (AP)—A trail believed first broken by Brigham Young's wagon wheels today aided planning board researchers in determining the route taken by the first Mormon caravan across Iowa in 1846. Under the sod of nearly a century, the tracks have been located in virgin timber five miles east of Exline in Appanoose county, planning board officials said. The board is marking the trail, broken by the first of several waves of Mormon migrations, by 142 signs across the state.

The evidence in the earth checks with the information in copies of old records sent to Iowa by the Mormon church authorities in Utah, the planning board announcement said.

The church record, written by Andrew Jensen, assistant historian of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, tells of the journey across Iowa of the Mormons in the winter and spring of 1846, their possessions loaded on nearly 500 wagons. The sect, led by Brigham Young as spiritual leader, was driven out of Nauvoo, Ill., in the dead of winter and picked its way over the hilly southern Iowa country on the first leg of the long journey to Utah.

Balazs Stopped After Short Gain

is Erwin Prasse, Hawkeye end, to his left is Corby Davis, sensational Indiana fullback who is a candidate for All-American honors. Other Hoosier players shown are John Janzaruk (51) in the foreground and Paul Graham (70) directly behind Sirtosky. Don Heistand (32) Indiana back, is at the right.

Hoosiers Rally to Beat Iowa

BY G. K. HODENFIELD
Daily Iowan Sports Editor
After being pushed all over Iowa stadium by a fighting crew of Iowa Hawkeyes, the crimson and black Hoosiers of Indiana University struck with sudden fury in the third and fourth periods to garner a 3-0 victory over the Iowans before 10,000 fans yesterday.

The Hawkeyes led the Hoosiers in almost every department of the game but could not find the necessary scoring punch when they penetrated within the victor's 20 yard line. The Indiana eleven failed to make a first down during the entire first half and their net yardage gained during the game was 87 as compared to Hawkeye's total of 259. The Indiana goalward drive began late in the third stanza. Kinnick's pass to Lannon was intercepted on the Iowa 42 by Graham who returned it to the Hawkeye 34. It was the first time in the game that the Hoosiers had crossed midfield. Corby Davis, Indiana's candidate for All-American honors, alternated with Heistand in carrying the ball to the eight yard line. On the last play of the period Davis hit right tackle for two yards. Miller Kicks Goal

A plunge at the center of the Hawkeye line and an incomplete pass over the goal line made the count fourth down and four yards to go for the rejuvenated Hoosiers. Weiss came into the Hoosier lineup at center and Miller dropped back to try for the field goal. Standing on his 12-yard line the Indiana center booted the ball squarely between the upright for the three points that were to mean the margin of victory.

From that point on the wily Hoosiers fought with only one thought in mind, to protect their lead. They departed from their famous air attack and held strictly to ground plays. Kinick Passes to Kelly
The Hawks were able to make only one more threatening thrust in the game, that coming in the fading minutes of play when Nile Kinick completed a long pass to Kelly on the Indiana 32 yard line. The rally was cut short, however. (See HAWKEYES, Page 5)

Lindbergh Law To Be Invoked In Kidnap Case

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 13 (AP)—Dr. James I. Seder, kidnaped veteran anti-saloon league leader, lay at the point of death tonight as the state invoked the Lindbergh law against his accused abductors.

Dr. A. K. Kessler said he had "no hope" for recovery of the 79-year-old victim, and that oxygen administered in an attempt to check pneumonia failed to rally the sinking man.

Meanwhile, Arnett Booth, 46, and John Travis, 24, were held under $50,000 bond. Both pleaded guilty to a federal charge of attempted extortion of $50,000 for the return of Dr. Seder, who told his rescuers he had been held captive 10 days in an abandoned mine.

Orville Atkins, 24, was scheduled for arraignment later before U. S. Commissioner Charles F. Steed.

Assistant Prosecutor T. W. Peyton of Cabell county announced the state would prosecute the trio under the model kidnap law, which carries a maximum penalty of death for conviction. Secrecy surrounded the release of Dr. Seder and the capture of the three men. Neither federal agents nor county authorities would divulge the details. Agent R. E. Vetterli described the three as ex-convicts.

Congress Will Hear Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Administration leaders today made government reorganization the first order of business for the congressional session opening Monday.

Monday's session will be devoted solely to the routine formalities of opening, with congress getting down to work on Tuesday. The message was expected to mention at least four proposals for action during the special session — a new farm program, wage and hour regulation, regional planning and government reorganization.

Farm legislation has been set as the first order of business in both houses when congress adjourned last August, but neither the senate nor the house agriculture committees have bills ready.

Midway Wits Battle

University of Chicago Students Struggle Over Freedom of Thought

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—A struggle for the independent intellectual of editorial columns threatened the academic serenity of the midway today.

The 36-year-old University of Chicago student newspaper faced opposition. And football, the menace or darling of collegiate Pulitzerz, was the immediate raison d'etre (1).

Four multi-syllabic word weeks ago, William H. McNeill, editor of the Daily (four times a week) Maroon, brought forth upon the midway a campaign against inter-collegiate athletics.

In editorials bristling with sesquipedalia verba (2), Editor McNeill propagated the policy: abolish intercollegiate sports, secede from the Big Ten, use the athletic appropriation (3) for intramural games and subsidization of discussion groups to ponder crises and economic fluctuations.

On the eve of a homecoming game with Ohio State, with prospects good for Chicago winning at least one game sometime this season, the Daily (four times a week) Maroon announced a student vote on its program. The election was delayed several hours. Somebody swiped the paper's ballot boxes. Four days and the next edition later, the Maroon announced it lost.

At a pre-game pep rally, voices were raised in pungent, one-syllable words suggesting Editor McNeill should be dunked in the botany lily pond.

McNeill ducked the ducking, but fraternity and club leaders rallied to a meeting call from one Edgar Faust. Faust proposed and the others agreed, to found a paper that "will represent student opinion."

Of Faust and the meeting, wrote Miss Lillian Schoen, terse Maroon columnist:
"The Faust committee for the perpetration of campus listlessness has lapsed into incoherence. . . It is difficult to see what he is so intensely opposed to an organization endeavoring to rid the campus of the antitheses of intellectuality. . . perish the thought!" (4)

Faust and his conferees—including two second string football players—were blunt today.

"There will be a paper," they said, "within the next 10 days."
Editor McNeill admitted he had precipitated the schism; he cited the alleged Faust lack of monetary resources to finance a mimeographed four-folio publication at two cents per copy.

"But," dark deadly serious Mc-

Pioneer Slain For His Money

SIDNEY, Neb., Nov. 13 (AP)—Cheyenne county authorities, pressing their investigation into the "torture" slaying of W. F. Moore, expressed belief today the assailant of the 87-year-old Nebraska pioneer, obtained "less than ten dollars."

Sheriff W. W. Schulz said he and his assistants "are working in the dark," but investigation so far reveals the person or persons who attacked Moore left his battered and strangled body in the bedroom of his home early yesterday apparently believing he had a large sum of money cached somewhere in the house.

County Attorney P. J. Heaton described the killing as "one of the most revolting crimes in the history of the county."

Work for Acquittal

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Attorneys for defendants in the federal government's gasoline price-fixing case worked yesterday on motions for directed verdicts of acquittal which they will offer before Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone tomorrow.

Tanker Saves Six Men Adrift In Life Boat

ABOARD S. S. SWIFTSURE,
OFF CAPE HATTERAS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Six members of the crew of the Greek freighter Tzeny Chandris, which went to the bottom with its captain and several men, were taken aboard this tanker today shortly after 9:30 a.m.

The survivors were sighted about 30 miles northwest of the Diamond Shoals Lightship, drifting in a battered, water-logged lifeboat.

They were brought aboard while a rough sea was running, in heavy rain and wind squalls. They said the Tzeny Chandris rolled over on her beam and sank at 4 a.m. after her bunkers and engine room had flooded.

The rescue men said several other members of the crew went down with the captain, Nicholas Patronas. They managed to haul themselves into a lifeboat after the steamer sank.

They saw eight others, in life belts, struggling through the sea toward the boat, but the men never reached it. The Swiftsure proceeded to the scene but found nothing but a floating cargo boom. Visibility was very poor due to the rain squalls. This ship searched until 11 a.m. without finding any more survivors.

The rescued men are in good shape with the exception of one, who suffered minor head injuries.

They gave their names as Demitrios Yannaukakis, steward; Christos Avaleotis, carpenter; George Gicas, fireman; Antonis Katheries, fireman; Antonis Charopolis, fireman; and George Kapropoulos, fireman.

The Swiftsure is bound from Corpus Christi, Texas, to Boston.

Broadway Closes Shakespearean Play

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Broadway revival of Shakespeare's tragedy, "Anthony and Cleopatra," with Tallulah Bankhead as the siren of the Nile, closed tonight after five performances.

Miss Bankhead's husband of less than three months, John Emery, appeared as Octavius Caesar in the production, which was declared by one New York critic as a "ponderous ineptitude."

200,000 Chinese Held In Lines of Japanese Trek Toward Nanking

Italian Delegate Leads Against U.S. Resolution

Powers Deadlock At Brussels Meeting To End War

BRUSSELS, Nov. 13 (AP)—The powers seeking peace in the Orient apparently were deadlocked tonight as Italy led opposition to an American-sponsored declaration that Japan's military action against China was illegal and defied the whole world.

Count Luigi Aldovrandi-Marescotti, the Italian delegate, told the private meeting he needed time to study the proposed declaration and believed, in any case, his government would be unable to accept it in whole or part.

At the morning session Italy, who has acted as Japan's best friend at the conference, dramatically opposed a Chinese demand for virtual sanctions against Japan.

"That is entirely ruled out. We are not here for that. It is entirely outside the scope of the conference."

Differing Opinions
Before the evening session convened some delegations indicated they might insist on referring to their home governments the draft prepared by the United States, Britain and France after Japan's second refusal to work with the conference called under the Washington treaty to respect

Other, smaller delegations stated they might seek to tone down the resolution publicly blaming Japan for prolonging the war by boycotting the conference. Australia and Portugal, however, expressed immediate support and Mexico accepted it with reservations to be specified later.

Draft of Declaration
The draft of the declaration declared it was clear Japan's concept of the issues and interests involved in the conflict "is utterly different from the concept of most of the other governments of the world."

The declaration asserted the war was a violation of the nine-power pact and the Kellogg-Briand pact outlawing war as an instrument of national policy. Japan is a signatory of both.

After Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, the Chinese delegate, urged action "now that the door to conciliation and mediation has been slammed in your face, Norman Davis the head of the American delegation stated there were "compelling reasons for Japanese cooperation."

While he expressed hope Japan still would see her way clear to cooperation, he stressed respect for treaties was the only basis "for an equitable, lasting solution of the Chinese-Japanese conflict."

Roads Blocked To Sioux Falls

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Nov. 13 (AP)—Pickets patrolled snow-swept highways into Sioux Falls tonight as truckers prepared to continue into the second day a strike blockade of highway shipments.

After calling the strike Friday night, members of the transfer section of the General Drivers and Helpers union local halted incoming and outgoing trucks throughout Saturday and a spokesman said tonight picket lines will remain on duty 24 hours a day "until we get what we want."

The spokesman, E. G. Holstein, Minneapolis, said he was business agent for the striking group, which is an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

Strikers said union recognition was the only issue at stake, maintaining operators had refused to meet with representatives of their choosing. The operators replied they were willing to meet with a committee comprised exclusively of their own employes.

Peasant Party Of Rumania Refuses Plan

BUCHAREST, Nov. 13 (AP)—The peasants' party tonight declined King Carol's request it cooperate with the anti-semitic nationalist party to form a new cabinet.

It was uncertain whether Ion Mihalachi, peasant party president, would return the commission to form a cabinet or suggest to Carol that he proceed without nationalist help. Earlier in the day the king accepted the resignation of Premier George Tatarescu and commissioned the peasant leader upon condition that he cooperate with the nationalist president, former Premier Alexander Vaida-Voevod.

Brazil's Move Believed Local

Experts Deny European Influence in Coup By Vargas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Informed opinion here views Brazil's sudden leap into full dictatorship with some fascist verbal trappings as primarily a maneuver in domestic policies rather than a definite foothold in Latin American for Italo-German governmental theories.

There is no disposition to challenge Brazilian spokesmen who describe the move of President Vargas as neither fascist nor communistic in trend; but designed to restore ultimately a democratic basis of ratification of the new constitution.

What chiefly concerns government experts at the moment in watching developments in Brazil is apprehension that the Vargas coup might inspire similar tactics elsewhere in Latin America.

Implications that the bitter clash in Europe and Asia between fascism and communism has intruded into Pan American affairs are discounted. There is small fear that any realistic alignment of Brazil with the German-Italian-Japanese anti-communistic pact may follow. And short of such a development in a form that meant a direct threat to the Monroe doctrine, President Roosevelt's good neighbor policy prescribes a present role of interested onlooker for Washington.

That is a striking departure from the policy laid down by President Wilson of non-recognition by Washington of Latin-American governments springing to power by unconstitutional means. The effort of the Wilson administration, growing chiefly out of the prolonged Mexican revolution, was aimed at coercive preservation of democratic constitutional methods in Latin America. Many governments to the south, duly recognized by the United States, have been established since then with complete disregard of constitutional procedure. No problem of recognition arises for Washington, presumably, in connection with the Brazilian coup. In President Wilson's day, the Monroe Doctrine represented a cause for which the world was on definite notice that this country would fight as a matter of self defense. It was enumerated by the Wilson administration in 1915-16 as one of the two "abiding" national policies on which national defense plans should be based, the other being avoidance of entangling alliances.

Memorial Service Installs Remnant Of War-Ace's Airplane

LE HAVRE, France, Nov. 13 (AP)—A remnant of the airplane in which Quentin Roosevelt crashed to his death July 14, 1918 in the World War was installed today aboard the French gunboat "Quentin Roosevelt" with a memorial service.

Roosevelt, a son of Theodore Roosevelt, 26th president of the United States, was an ace of the Lafayette squadron.

Soochow Road Disorder Holds Up Departures

Warning Sent Urges Flight of Natives In Industrial Area

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13 (AP)—Some 200,000 Chinese civilians were trapped by disrupted transportation in Soochow tonight, unable to heed a Japanese ultimatum to evacuate the ancient city in the path of their advance toward Nanking.

A Japanese spokesman announced yesterday Soochow and the neighboring city of Wushui would be bombed because of their "industrial area in which Chinese military supplies are manufactured." Leaflets from Japanese warplanes warned the populace to flee by midnight.

The Japanese advance swept 30 miles west of Shanghai pursuing the Chinese legions retreating to their "Hindenburg line," 50 miles west of the city. A Japanese spokesman announced that the vanguard of the center column was approaching the outskirts of Kunshan, its immediate objective 20 miles east of Soochow.

Japanese Front
The Japanese front, which yesterday was a great arc, quickly changed tonight into a snake line from Kiating, 18 miles northwest of Shanghai through Kunshan, to Kashan, 40 miles southwest of Shanghai. The spokesman said the northern and southern columns were pressing westward after occupation of Kiating and Kashan.

United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss, in Shanghai, was negotiating with Japanese officials to establish a safety zone at Soochow, known to Chinese for 2,000 years as "paradise under heaven."

Reports to Shanghai, however, said that all foreigners as well as wealthier Chinese had evacuated the ancient city which is one of China's cultural centers.

Wright Arraigned In Murder Case

GLENDALE, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—Paul A. Wright stood mute and pale today at his murder arraignment even as prosecutors discounted his "jealous rage" account of killing his pretty young wife and a close friend in his luxurious home here Tuesday.

The 38-year-old airport president waived, through counsel, the formality of reading the complaint that charged he murdered his wife, Evelyn, 29, and John B. Kimmel, 32, his operations manager.

"If my conclusions are borne out by subsequent developments," said Eugene Williams, district attorney's chief investigator, "the state will attempt to prove that Mrs. Wright and Kimmel were killed in cold blood, their deaths being premeditated and possibly accomplished by entrapment."

Wright told police immediately after the shooting that he emptied an automatic pistol into his wife's and Kimmel's bodies when he found them cowering on a piano bench as he entered his living room after awaking from an alcohol-induced nap.

Williams said investigators' examination of physical evidence led them to believe the two were shot at close range and not from a distance as Wright said.

Jerry Geisler, Wright's attorney, said he would plead innocent at the preliminary hearing Thursday. That would preclude the possibility of an insanity defense. Under California law, a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity results first in a trial of the facts, then trial of the prisoner for his sanity.

Geisler indicated, however, he would try to show that Wright had become emotionally unstable because of incidents in his married life. He previously said Wright had related he underwent a sterilization operation after the birth of a daughter three years ago when a physician advised that another childbirth would be hazardous for Mrs. Wright.

The BOOK PARADE

Another 'Wild West' Shown To Americans in New Book

'The Turning Wheels' Depicts African Farm Life

'The Turning Wheels' by Stuart Cloete. (Houghton Mifflin company, 1937, $2.50.)

Unknown to many Americans, ours was not the only Wild West. There was another, even wilder, where ferocious buffalo put our mild bison to shame, where black aborigines outdid our red ones in stealth and guile, where pioneers also moved in, facing the usual hardships of death and disease, and many others.

This is the West depicted by Stuart Cloete in "The Turning Wheels," current selection for book of the month. His West is Africa where scattered bands of Boers made the Great Trek into the Transvaal in 1836. These men were lusty, God-fearing farmers, and none was more lusty or more God-fearing than Hendrik van der Berg. Holding a Bible in one hand, he shot Kaffirs, Zulus and lions with the other.

He also shot Herman, his own son, when Herman had illicit love with Sannie van Reenen whom Hendrik also coveted. Hendrik was a wealthy and powerful man, and with his son out of the way, he took the seductive Sannie for his wife.

Not Enough. But Sannie was not enough; there was also Louisa, the honey-colored maid servant of Anna de Jong. And as Sannie was not enough for Hendrik, neither was he enough for her. First there was Otto von Rhule, the Prussian schoolmaster, and then Zwart Piet, the mighty hunter who talked the language of animals and witch doctors.

Unable to stand Hendrik longer, Sannie finally runs off into the hinterland with Zwart Piet. Att-

But if you're an admirer of Leacock, you'll read it anyway.

Putting in his usual number of good, funny jokes, Leacock here introduces readers in the United States to western Canada. And almost any reader will admit there is perhaps no place on the face of the globe whose geography he knows less about, partly because it happens to be so near at hand. Probably a school child who, blindfolded, could draw a map of Africa couldn't trace the map of Canada. That country's contours seem to be generally neglected in our educational system.

Besides having its share of spontaneous humor, this new Leacock volume has a penetrating analysis of the social, economic and financial conditions facing the western Canada of today.

Those who remember Professor Leacock from his lecture on the campus two seasons back will recall him as a pleasant, red-faced fellow with a Will Rogers-like wit and a surprising amount of common sense. This new book of his will impress them in the same way.

J. Coignard's Book Revued

'The Spectacle Of A Man' Tells Life Of Good Engineer

'THE SPECTACLE OF A MAN' by John Coignard. (Jefferson House, 1937, $2.50.)

This is a story of the most important year in Arnold Harvesting's life—the year in which he discovered himself. He was 32, a successful engineer, but possessed with an amazing inferiority complex. He was self-conscious to the point of disease, unable to look anyone in the eye or to talk without stammering.

His was a lonely, pathetic existence. He would go to the theater only to loiter in the lobby, thus persuading himself that he was, after all, a part of society. Then came the crisis—he met Mary, a lovely, intelligent woman. Somehow she became interested in him, made the advances which he found impossible. But much as she loved him and much as he loved her, he failed to respond and, in despair, she dismissed him.

Recognizing his deficiencies, he finally saw a psychoanalyst—Dr. Coignard—and after a few treatments was able to go back to Mary, to pick up life with her on a fairly normal basis. Gradually gaining confidence as he gained understanding of himself, he soon realized that it was not Mary whom he loved after all, but the image of his mother that she represented to his subconscious mind.

The most important person in the world to him then became merely a friend, but it was not long before he found another—this time honest—love interest, and although the book did not carry us that far, we may assume that Harvesting eventually married her.

These, then, are the simple rudiments of the plot from which Dr.

Coignard has filled out his book. Whether you take it as a novel or as a case history in analytical psychotherapy, either way you will find it interesting. It is an absorbing love story, and also a comprehensive exploration of the subconscious mind.

Dr. Coignard writes with simple clarity and with the authoritative touch of the true scientist. He gives a faithful presentation of Freud's philosophy of sex and the dream and yet, at the same time, a dramatic picture of everyday life. It is not unlikely as the publishers suggest, that the book has opened up new and unexplored possibilities for the development of the novel. But important or not, the book still makes fascinating reading.

An only objection may be a depressing effect it is likely to have. While Harvesting is freed from unhappiness and torturing jealousy, and learns to live successfully, the process is sometimes so morbid as to leave the reader in a decided state of pessimism.

TIPS on the Shopping Market

By Marion Lamar

COME one—come all—hear and dance to JOE SANDERS and his orchestra at SPINSTER SPREE. They're on a tour of personal appearance out of the Black Hawk restaurant in Chicago and they're nothing to sneeze at, pals. I can feel my toes tingle now, almost a week early.

Orchids and cellophane to BETTY OSNOWITZ, S. D. T. for finally breaking the record of WALT HERSTIENER, PHILIP, as an habitual woman hater from the word go!

The season is here, mark Spinster Spree plans, for formal attire with all its gorgeous accessories, as they are featured at YETTERS. You will have the time of life picking out gilt and silver feathers or red ones for your hair, a "big Red Apple" or an antique brooch to wear at the neck of that very severe black or white gown or a paillette and steel-beaded evening bag. You will be at your wit's end when it comes to a choice among fine mesh, Queen's lace of dark-heeled hosiery. However, there are two things about which there will be no question at all. You absolutely must carry a large chiffon "Rumba" handkerchief fastened on with a ring or a bracelet of brilliants. The other necessity is the new "kit-stick" that YETTERS are carrying. All in one little container that looks like a lipstick, you can carry your cleansing cream, foundation cream, eye-shadow, rouge and lipstick.

GIRLS! Don't forget to send your dates bouillonieres from CURTIS GREEN-HOUSE for the Spinster Spree next Friday. After all, you might as well do the thing up right.

If you have tried the new IOWA GRILL for a party, a lunch or an evening meal, you know already that the food is wonderful. No foolin' it's really fine—you really should investigate the matter and when you do you'll find your tummy directing you IOWA GRILL want regularly. You'll want their home-baked rolls 5 times a day.

THESIS time will be with you soon, graduate students. MARY BURNS, public stenographer in the Paul-Helen building, is a capable helper in such a time of need. Not only does she do expert typing but memographing as well. So you might as well smother those sighs, you're safe again.

Now all you people who were clamoring for Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are going to get a treat—by special request "TOP HAT" is being brought back to the PASTIME THEATRE starting Tuesday. That grand old lady of the screen is here now in "Woman in Distress," a swell mystery play, and as with it "THE MAN WHO LIVED BEFORE," a story with a different twist. Don't fail to see them today or tomorrow.

FOR the big time that is coming up Friday you will want a formal and a wrap from WIL-LARD'S APPAREL SHOP. Their new stock of formals equals any page in Vogue for style, with a wide selection of the time-honored brocades, slipper satins and taffetas, as well as the stream-lined mood in crepe, velvet and satin. Their wraps are the newest in fur-trimmed velvets, full length and otherwise, with hoods and whisker bows. Brocade plays a second roll, too, in the formal wrap.

If Ruby the Roadster is kicking a little about the cold weather, drop around to JONES STANDARD SERVICE and have them fix her up with a swig of Anti-freeze and change her to winter oil. She'll feel like new and step right along again in spite of the elements.

WHEN you are studying late do you get a rather hungry feeling? It's very simple to call the MAID-RITE hamburger shop for free delivery on sandwiches and soft drinks. They get there Johnny-on-the-spot, too.

Juniors, it's really very simple to solve your Christmas gift problem. Why not have your junior picture taken now at SCHARF'S STUDIO and have several of them made to give to your friends for Christmas.

Very unique was the arrangement of the lighted pins at the Men's Panel dance. With all due respect to the artistic ability of the Panel men, maybe the affect was due to the feminine touch of HATTIE BURNETT, ALPHA CHI.

WHITE or natural jersey blouse with a giddy pleated skirt.

Christmas is coming along for sure! You busy lads and lasses will want a quick painless way of doing your shopping, so that its all over before the last minute exam rush. The present that lone-some parents and the "love" you left at home are crying for is a picture of you. Let KADGHIN'S make you one that will do you justice and then some. Juniors get busy, make an appointment.

Red tuxedo ties and scarves.

Striped taffeta cocktail jacket.

Who are they? The DOLPHIN queen and her four attendants. That's one of the things you'll see at the 1937 DOLPHIN SHOW on Thanksgiving weekend, Nov. 25, 26 and 27. It will be a musical comedy hit with a swimming demonstration by members of the DOLPHIN club, Iowa's top-notch swimmers.

THE GILCHRISTS are going to the National Hair-dressers' Show in Davenport this week—we bet our boots (and it's getting cold) that they'll come back with some Knock-out ideas about hair-styling. Friday, when you have your doubts about being fit for a party—the party—after a hard week, one of GILCHRISTS' expert beauty operators will put you in the pink.

It is reported that DOC GRIMM, PHI DELT, is being trailed by two attractive girls with '37 convertibles and although DOC isn't running very fast he seems to be pretty busy reviving an old high school romance with JEAN PARSONS, D. G. pledge.

THE FIRST with the latest is LENOCH & CILEK in the hardware field. The modern store with modern merchandise—stoves and paints in their new 1937 styles.

And have you seen DOMBY'S new formal shoes. They have the big moment in brocade, satin, gold and silver. You can find any of these in the proper mood for any gown and for Spinster Spree. Attention is being directed this year to smartness of cut in formal shoes and DOMBY'S are certain to have it.

BUPANE tops the list in service. Having a regular Bupane store in your locality, it again comes to the front as the only bottled gas service on monthly rates. BUPANE GAS STORE, 23 East College St.

BETA'S STEVE SWISHER seems to have put SIGMA CHI and A. T. O. in the background in the hot Dubuque street rivalry over FRANCES REIDY, GAMMA PHI pledge.

The KARMEK KORN SHOP in the Jefferson Hotel building knows the way to please all of the people all of the time. Buy a bag of their delicious Karmekorn and munch to your heart's content! The Shop's carrying cigarettes—it's up to you to carry them out.

AHOY GIRLS—the Spinster Spree is coming up and you will have a chance to do it up brown and show the current love. For grand new buoyancy try one of the STAR BEAUTY SALON'S newest coiffures—just right for your personalities. Yes, I know, you have just about come to the end of that allowance. But never you mind—the STAR has the lowest rates in town.

Minnesota Gets Revenge For 1936 Loss To Purple Eleven

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13 (AP)—A Northwestern forward pass that backfired for a 53 yard Minnesota gain set the stage for a 7 to 0 Golden Gopher victory today, putting the latter within one game of undisputed possession of the 1937 Big Ten title.

With the contest less than five minutes old, Captain Ray King grabbed a Wildcat forward on his own 30 and raced down the field to the Northwestern 17.

Then the deadly Van Every-to-King passing combination produced the only score in a fiercely fought battle that found Minnesota dominating play in all but a few instances.

The only undefeated outfit in the Western conference, the Golden Gophers can clinch the championship by beating Wisconsin in the season's finale here next Saturday.

Victory Keeps Bucks in Upper Bracket of Loop

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 13 (AP)—Ohio State's belligerent Buckeyes converted a pass, a penalty and a plunge into three touchdowns today to defeat Illinois, 19 to 0, before a homecoming crowd of 41,921.

The unexpectedly high score was the second largest an Ohio team ever had run up on the battling Illini. It evened the all-time series at 12 victories and two ties each, and kept the Bucks in the upper bracket of the Big Ten.

Held to three first downs, all on passes, the Illini never were in the game. They gained but 52 yards by rushing, and lost 48 by the same route, winding up with a net gain of four yards on the ground and 61 through the air.

Bucks Use 34 Players

Ohio, despite the fact that Coach Francis A. Schmidt used 34 players, with a make-shift lineup in the game most of the time, rolled up nine first downs, five by rushing and four on passes, to advance 91 yards by rushing and 153 on passes. The Bucks completed seven of 14 passes, while the Illini made good on five of 16.

Dick Nardi, senior halfback, playing his last game in the Buck stadium, counted two touchdowns, both on short line plunges, while Co-Captain Jim McDonald, shifted to fullback from his usual signal-calling post, scored the other in the first four minutes on a pass from Nick Wasyluk. McDonald threaded through a broken field for 63 yards.

The Golden Gophers got revenge for that 6 to 0 loss at Northwestern last fall when the Wildcats snapped a 21 game winning streak and became the first team to defeat the Golden Gophers in 28 games. Play in the return engagement today was just as vicious as last year.

Van Every to King

The Wildcats held for three downs, but on the fourth down Harold Van Every, carrying on for the injured Andy Uram, fired a short pass straight over the line of scrimmage. The six-foot-two-inch Captain King leaped out of reach of two Northwestern backs, speared the ball on the four yard line and charged over the goal line. Horace Bell, Negro guard, converted.

Columbia Tied By Syracuse, 6-6, On Slippery Gridiron

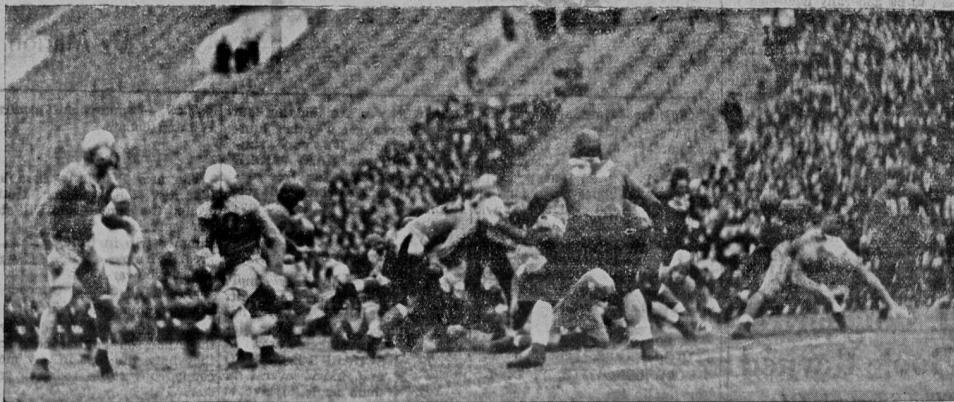

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Jupiter Pluvius won the decision over both Syracuse and Columbia today, as the two elevens slipped and splashed on a muddy field to a 6 to 6 tie before 12,000 rain-drenched persons at Baker field.

After two brief scoring spurts in the first half, one by Columbia in the opening period and the other by Syracuse in the second, the game became a muddy battle in midfield.

Columbia had its first victory in a month in its grasp when, after Bob Taylor had slammed over center for a touchdown Sid Luckman kicked the ball squarely between the goal posts. But a holding penalty nullified the point and, when the Lions' end Hub Schulte tried a second kick 15 yards back it was off, and the New Yorkers had to be content with six points.

Syracuse, shook Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, fleet halfback, loose for a 41-yard touchdown romp in the second. Singh went wide around his right end and took a lateral from Ruth. He swept down field behind fine blocking for the score. Jim Bruett's place kick, which would have won the game was wide.

Eicherly Hits Line For Three Yard Gain

a three-yard gain, by George Miller, Hoosier center, who kicked the winning field goal. Corby Davis, number 57, the winner's

bur Nead, Iowa tackle, who partially obscures Nile Kinnick, quarterback, in the background.

Notre Dame Whips Army, 7-0

Irish Outclass Cadet Gridders

78,000 Watch Winners Conquer Foe On Muddy Field

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Displaying no particular signs of wear and tear from one of the country's most formidable football schedules, the Fighting Irish rushed up and down a muddy, rain-swept gridiron today to give Notre Dame a decisive victory over Army.

The final score was 7 to 0 but the Soldiers were back on their heels from start to finish and outclassed in everything but the bravery of their goal-line stands.

A crowd of 78,000 spectators, including 15,000 who defied the season's worst weather to sit in the Yankee stadium's open stands, saw the Irish capitalize a first-period "break" to register the game's only touchdown and then miss five additional chances to score.

Four times the Irish lacked a scoring punch, twice inside the Army's five-yard line, but the game was nevertheless a rout from a ground-gaining standpoint.

Simonich Paces Irish

Notre Dame's "show-troop" backfield, paced by Big Ed Simonich at fullback, put across the deciding points early in the game after a fumble by Army's Jack Ryan was recovered on the Cadet 13 by Joe Beiner, star left tackle of the Fighting Irish. Simonich bulled his way over the goal line in four plays, the last from the 4 yard mark, and Charley O'Reilly, second string quarterback, place-kicked the extra point.

Thereafter Notre Dame, using three full teams, held possession of the slippery pigskin fully 80 per cent of the time and conducted a series of forays deep into Army's territory. Twice the Cadets held for downs inside their own five-yard mark. On other occasions a Notre Dame fumble and an intercepted pass ended Irish thrusts. The game ended as Notre Dame substitute back, Harold Gottsaker, came within four yards of crossing the goal line on the final play.

So completely was West Point outclassed, offensively, that the Cadets crossed midfield only twice with the aid of long passes and penetrated only once as far as Notre Dame's 31-yard line.

Texas Christian Beats Texas, 14-0

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 13 (AP)—Davey O'Brien personally conducted Texas Christian university to a 14 to 0 gridiron victory over the University of Texas today, scoring every point the Horned Frogs counted.

Texas Christian's first marker, resulted from a 75-yard sustained drive the first time it got its hands on the ball. After O'Brien had hurled one to Don Looney on the Texas 11, Davey charged through left tackle for the touchdown and added the extra point.

Michigan Noses Out Pennsylvania By 7 to 0 Score

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13 (AP)—Michigan seized a second period opportunity, struck quickly through air for a touchdown and then adopted its time-honored custom of kicking and letting the other fellow worry to whip Pennsylvania 7 to 0 on rain-swept Franklin field before 25,000 fans today.

It was Michigan's fourth successive victory and the Wolverines only intersectional game of the year.

Both offenses bogged down in the slippery slush and it was soon apparent only a break might prevent a scoreless stalemate.

That break came to Michigan when Ralph Heikkinen grabbed a lateral pass thrown by Pennsylvania's end, H. I. Gustafson, on Michigan's 35. Another followed quickly when officials said Walter Shinn, Pennsylvania tackle, struck at a Michigan player and Pennsylvania was penalized 33 yards, half the distance to its goal.

Michigan promptly cashed in. Stark Ritchie arched a pass to Norman Purucker that carried 19 yards to Pennsylvania's 14. A pair of running plays picked up six yards and then, gambling on the slippery ball, Ritchie tossed to Purucker on the three yard line.

The ball nearly eluded him but he handled it like a polished juggler and carried it over for a touchdown. George Marzonic rushed out from the bench and, with Douglas Farmer holding, booted a perfect placement.

Satisfied, Michigan showed no further real interest in scoring. Purucker kept banging his foot into the ball on early downs, forcing Pennsylvania to run the chance of fumbling.

First downs were even at seven each, but Pennsylvania's net rushing gain was 94 to Michigan's 74.

S.M.U. Triumphs Over Baylor, 13-7

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 13 (AP)—The old-time Southern Methodist aerial circus, revived for a few minutes by a sophomore, made the fall of mighty Baylor complete today in a 13-7 triumph. Baldish, freckled George Ewing, a sophomore, calmly dropped two long touchdown passes into a bewildered Baylor secondary—one in the first period and the other in the fourth.

The Mustangs trailed for a few brief minutes after Bullet Bill Patterson fired a 40-yard touchdown pass to end Frank Huessner, 45 seconds before the half, but they were good for another surge that brought victory.

Duke Beaten

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A brilliantly fighting University of North Carolina football team outplayed a favored Duke University eleven here yesterday afternoon to dump the Blue Devils from the undefeated column, 14 to 6.

Wisconsin And Purdue Play To 7-7 Deadlock

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 13 (AP)—Wisconsin's last slim chance of sharing in the Western conference football championship was wiped out today in a 7-7 tie with Purdue's second division gridmen.

The Badgers, with a record of two victories, one defeat and one tie, will meet Minnesota in the season's finale at Minneapolis next week.

A crowd of 23,000, held below expectations by unfavorable weather, watched Purdue and Wisconsin concentrate their scoring thrusts in the second period and then see-saw back and forth in a wide open style of play. Fumbles and pass interceptions made it the most spectacular game the Badgers have played this season.

Purdue outplayed its old rival on the ground, piling up 12 first downs to 10, but Wisconsin repeatedly pulled itself out of tight spots with passes. The Badgers tossed 20 passes, gaining 102 yards on nine completed, while Purdue tried 15, completed 3, and gained 91 yards through the air.

Although Purdue started the game with a second string backfield, Coach Mal Eward sent his regulars in to halt a Badger drive early in the first quarter and thereafter Cecil Isbell, left halfback, Cody Isbell, quarterback, Louis Brook, right halfback, and Tony Juska, fullback, led the Boilermaker attack.

Albert Dorsch, tackle, scored for Wisconsin early in the second period when he dropped on a fumble by Cecil Isbell in the end zone. Another tackle, Bob Eckl, kicked the extra point. In the fourth period Eckl missed a field goal kick from the 32.

Cecil Isbell helped even the score in the same period when he threw a 45-yard pass to James Zachary, right end, on the Wisconsin 25 yard line and Zachary romped to a touchdown. Isbell kicked the extra point.

U.S.C. Tied By Oregon State

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13 (AP)—Oregon State dazzled Southern California with an aerial attack today and held the Trojans to a 12-12 tie.

Troy made its first score in prosaic fashion, Ambling Ambrose Schindler passing and running the ball across the goal on a 40 yard drive.

Granville Lansdell, sub quarterback, engineered a second drive of 27 yards that netted the final Trojan score.

Late in the second quarter Halfback Joe Gray of Oregon State passed six times and mixed in a couple of running plays for 65 yards and the first score.

Chicago Downs Beloit for First Victory of Year

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Chicago's Maroons, after five straight defeats, broke into the winning column today for the first time this season, trouncing Beloit college of Wisconsin 26 to 9 at Stagg field.

The Maroons, however, had more trouble achieving their first victory than the score indicated. Beloit scored within the first four minutes of play, Bob Gates going over from a yard out after a 65-yard kickoff return by Bruno Virgili had set the stage.

Chicago, with regular replacing reserves, took the lead early in the second period as Solie Sherman touched end for 18 yards and a touchdown. Valor converting. But the invaders came right back to regain the lead on Brown's field goal from the Maroon 20 and at the half Beloit held a 9-7 margin.

Chicago's attack started clicking in the final two periods, however, and after Hamity had scored on a short plunge in the third period to climax a long Maroon drive, the issue was never in doubt. Sherman shot a 30-yard touchdown pass to Fitzgerald and in the final quarter Davenport tallied after another long Chicago march.

Cyclones Whip Marquette, 3-0

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 13 (AP)—Rowland Rushmore, an end, kicked a 26-yard placement and gave Iowa State a 3 to 0 victory over Marquette here today in a football game which saw the Cyclones outplay the Golden Avalanche in nearly every department.

The Cyclones threatened often and kept the play in Marquette territory most of the time.

Marquette never threatened and only on one occasion, in the third period, were they able to get beyond Iowa State's 40-yard line. That thrust was halted quickly with a pass interception.

Iowa State cleverly mixed quick opening line smashes, laterals and forward passes, with Gordon Reupke, Everette Kischer and Al Waite in the feature roles to put Marquette on the defensive deep in its own territory early in the game. The first attack went to the Marquette two-yard line before it was halted.

Frank Stars In 26-0 Yale Win

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 13 (AP)—Yale's great Clint Frank for the second straight Saturday scored all his team's touchdowns as the Bulldogs trounced their traditional rival, Princeton, 26 to 0, in rain-swept Yale bowl.

In his three scoring runs against Brown a week ago, the shifty, hard-running Eli leader added four more today, two of them on spectacular, weaving trips from past midfield that brought the sodden crowd of 40,000 to its feet. He didn't play the fourth quarter, or the damage might have been worse.

What made the All-American star's performance the more brilliant was the fact the field was a lobbly, fit neither for man nor beast, and there was a wind blowing lengthwise of the bowl that turned umbrellas inside out. Just to prove he needed no favors from the elements, Frank scored twice with the wind, then twice against it.

Marquette never threatened and only on one occasion, in the third period, were they able to get beyond Iowa State's 40-yard line. That thrust was halted quickly with a pass interception.

Iowa State cleverly mixed quick opening line smashes, laterals and forward passes, with Gordon Reupke, Everette Kischer and Al Waite in the feature roles to put Marquette on the defensive deep in its own territory early in the game. The first attack went to the Marquette two-yard line before it was halted.

Cornell Concludes Undefeated Season

MT. VERNON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Cornell college of Iowa wound up an unbeaten, untied football season here today by capitalizing on its breaks to beat Carleton 13 to 6.

The victory was the ninth straight for the Purple and gave the Iowa school the distinction of beating every other Midwest conference school in its march to the circuit championship. The victory was a homecoming gift to a large crowd of Cornell fans.

James Watson blocked a Carleton punt in the second minute of play and Franklin Cole recovered for Cornell. Two plays later Ben Petersen dashed 41 yards for a touchdown. Carleton tied the score at 6-all a short time later on a 18-yard pass from Harry Martin to John Euckert.

Cole again recovered for Cornell in the second period after Gordon Riegel fumbled on the Carleton 14. Petersen passed to Bob Maloney, sophomore, end, for the touchdown. Cole converted.

Panthers Blast Huskers From Unbeaten Class

Victors Score Twice In Last Ten Minutes To Win, 13 to 7

By PAUL MICKELSON

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13 (AP)—In a copyrighted last period surge that lifted 71,000 stunned spectators off their seats, Pittsburgh's Panthers of football broke loose again today to blast surprising Nebraska from the ranks of the undefeated, 13 to 7.

The big white lettered clock showed nine minutes and 55 seconds left to play and Nebraska ahead, 7-0, when the Panthers clawed out of their cage with a relentless attack and a choice bit of luck to come from behind to a thrilling conquest for the third time in as many weeks. First, they marched 80 yards on 13 plays, missed on a placement to tie the score, and then grasped a Nebraska fumble to push over the winning score with less than five minutes to go.

The huge crowd, second largest ever to cram gigantic Pitt stadium, and the largest ever to see a Nebraska team play, was limp with excitement at the finish which found the elated Pitt students swarming on the field doing the "Big Apple".

This was the sequence of events in the dramatic struggle that was billed to be just another Pittsburgh runaway.

Third period—Cautious Nebraska out-slicked the city slickers as Harris Andrews took Bill Stapulis' punt on his 40, made three steps to his right and then lateraled to Jaek Dodd, who cut down the left side of the field for a beautifully-blocked run of 60 yards for a touchdown. Lowell English place-kicked perfectly for the extra point and Nebraska led 7-0 as shudders reverberated through the concrete bowl.

Fourth period—it opened with Pitt on its own 35, after starting out late in the third from its 20. They gave the ball to Carly Stebbins and then to Marshall Goldberg who got good interference for the first time and carried the ball to Nebraska's 9. Fullback Frank Patrick and Stebbins smashed through to the two and Patrick lunged over for the score. Frank Souchak jumped off the bench to kick the extra point, but the ball hit the right upright and skidded off the wrong side and it looked like Pitt was licked 6-7.

Nebraska took the next kickoff. On the first play Irvn Plock fumbled but recovered on his 32. On the second play, a pass from center bounced off substitute halfback Bill Anderson's knee and Albin Lezouski pounced on it for Pitt on Nebraska's 33. Dick Cassiano almost single handed ran the ball to Nebraska's two and Stapulis plunged over for the winning touchdown. This time Souchak did not miss the kick and that was the finish.

Desperate Nebraska passed from its own goal line failed and Pitt, paced by a 20-yard sprint by Stapulis, had the ball on the Cornhusker 32 as the game ended and the "Big Apple" dance began.

Oregon Loses To California

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13 (AP)—University of California's undefeated football team trounced University of Oregon, 26 to 0, in their Pacific coast conference game played on a muddy, rain-swept field here today before 20,000 fans.

The Bears, favorites to represent the coast in the New Year's day rose bowl game at Pasadena, punched over three touchdowns in the second period and added a fourth in the third.

Anderson, California fullback, crashed to a touchdown on the two-yard line on the second play of the second quarter, after the Bears had marched from their own 48.

Halfback Bottari ran a punt to the Oregon 23 to touch off the second drive. Anderson slashed through tackle to the 15. Fullback Chapman made it first down on the three, then circled the Oregon left side for the touchdown.

Seven players from Iowa City high, four from University high and one from St. Patrick's represent the best of the 1937 Iowa City prep football crop on the Daily Iowan all-city first team. The wealth of outstanding players from the three schools made the task of selecting the mythical team this year a difficult one. However, after a careful review of the different candidates' performances during the past season, the following have been selected as the best of Iowa City's grid talent:

Dave Kerr, left end: Kerr is a tall, rangy lad whose ability to snag passes played an important role in Iowa City high's aerial attack. Not only was Kerr a potent threat offensively, but he combined good defensive play with an ability to diagnose plays which made it nearly impossible to out-manuever him. His best game of the season was against Geneseo, Ill., when he grabbed a long pass, in the fourth quarter, and outran several would-be tacklers for the first touchdown of the game.

Bob Carson, left tackle: Playing his third season as regular tackle for University high, Carson was the mainstay of the Blue and White forward wall. He weighs 200 pounds and is exceptionally fast for his size and it was seldom that any plays made gains around his side of the line. He was named on the Daily Iowan second team last year and was a unanimous choice as tackle on the first team this year.

Bob Snider, left guard: Playing lines. In mid-season Coach Cormack shifted the husky senior to the wingpost opposite Dave Kerr, where he played powerful and consistent football. However, it was at tackle that his play was most outstanding.

John McAllister, right end: Defensively, McAllister, University high end, was one of the best wingmen in the city. His outstanding game of the season was against Mt. Vernon, when he set the Little Corneliens back for losses on every attempt around his end. As a flankman John was the first man down the field on punts to hold opposing backs to short returns.

Ham Ries, quarterback: An all-city center on last year's Daily Iowan all-city team, Ham was converted into a quarterback where he performed exceptionally well as field general. He did all the punting for University high, having about a 30-yard average per kick. Although he was a good ball carrier, he was seldom used in this capacity because Coach Jack Strrett did not want to take the risk of injuring so valuable a man.

Bill Buckley, right halfback: Buckley, co-captain of the Iowa

ever, when the Hoosiers took the ball on downs. With the first half drawing to a close the Hawkeyes made their first serious scoring threat. Taking Davis' punt on his own 35, Kinnick brought the ball to the Iowa 47. With the Iowa sophomore flash and Frank Balazs carrying the ball through the Indiana line, the Hawkeyes made a first down on the Hoosier 28. Three more plays took the pigskin to the 17, but there the Iowa attack bogged down. Three plays later the gun sounded ending the half with the Iowans desperately trying to cover the 15 yards to the goal.

Hawks Come Back
The Hawkeyes came charging back when play was resumed, determined to show the thrilled stands that their first half offensive was not a fluke. The third period was only minutes old when Kinnick fired a pass to Lannon that was good for 16 yards and a first down on the Hoosier 48. One more line plunge and again the Iowa aerial attack was brought into play.

Kinnick dropped far back and shot a pass into the arms of Gallagher, who made a spectacular catch on the 20 yard stripe and raced down the sidelines to the Hoosier 13 where he was run out of bounds. Gallagher was hurt on the play but was ready to go after a time out had been called.

Attack Bogs Down
Just as in the first half, the Iowa attack bogged down when it found itself within scoring distance. Three plays took the ball to the nine yard line and Gallagher dropped back to try for a field goal. He was kicking into a cross wind and the ball went wide to the left of the crossbars.

Those two drives were the sum total of the scoring threats of the Hawkeyes, although they pushed their rivals all over the field when they were in mid-field. The Indiana team failed to register a first down until late in the third period when they started their trip to the goal line, and were constantly on the defensive because of Kinnick's long accurate punts.

Hoosiers Play Safe

lines. In mid-season Coach Cormack shifted the husky senior to the wingpost opposite Dave Kerr, where he played powerful and consistent football. However, it was at tackle that his play was most outstanding.

John McAllister, right end: Defensively, McAllister, University high end, was one of the best wingmen in the city. His outstanding game of the season was against Mt. Alabama Stays In Unbeaten Class By Victory Over Tech

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 13 (AP)—The Crimson tide of Alabama, outplayed most of the way by Georgia Tech, overhauled the Engineers, 7 to 0, today in a whirlwind finish before close to 26,000 spectators.

The closely-won decision, coming on a 43-yard drive with a little more than four minutes to play remaining, left only the Thanksgiving day encounter with Vanderbilt between Alabama and the Southeastern conference championship.

Georgia Tech, under the leadership of Captain Fletcher Sims, twice threatened the Crimson goal in the second period, once on a drive to the one foot line where many believed the Jackets scored despite an adverse ruling.

Captain Joe Kilgore set the stage for Alabama's winning touchdown after the tide had advanced to the Georgia Tech 31. The Alabama field general went through tackle, reversed the field and raced 28 yards before being run out of bounds on the three yard stripe by Dutch Konemann. Line thrusts netted one yard, but on fourth down Kilgore rifled a pass over center to End Tut Warren who caught it barely a yard-over the goal. Kilgore then kicked the seventh point.

Georgia 7, Tulane 6
ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—A pass-snagging pack of Georgia Bulldogs nosed out Tulane 7 to 6 yesterday and nipped the Wave's hope of avenging last season's defeat. Vassar Cotte dashed 37 yards to score in the first period and Ims added the point. The Bulldogs stiffened in crucial moments to hold Tulane scoreless until the final period. Six thousand fans saw the game.

Jones Denies Leaving U.S.C.
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California denied published reports yesterday that he had tendered his resignation, to be effective at the end of the current football season.

High-Scoring Andy Farkas Runs Wild

DETROIT, Nov. 13 (AP)—Led by anvil Andy Farkas hard running halfback who returned to the lineup after a week's idleness because of an injury, University of North Dakota 40 to 0 in an intersectional football game here today. A crowd of 9,000 watched the battle through a steady drizzle.

Farkas jumped back into the race for individual scoring honors by tallying 19 points to bring his season's total to 55.

George Washington Wins

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Washington university lashed the Bisons from North Dakota yesterday to brand the invaders with a 33 to 0 defeat in a muddy football spectacle. Paced by the brilliant Vic Sampson, George Washington halfback, the Colonials hammered North Dakota State's tackles and skirted the ends almost at will to score one each in the second and third periods and thrice in the final quarter.

Tulsa Swamps Washington
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Tulsa university, leaders of the Missouri Valley football conference, overwhelmed Washington 32 to 7 yesterday to remain undefeated in the circuit.

Michigan State Beats Carnegie

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 13 (AP)—Michigan State took to the air to down a fighting Carnegie Tech eleven 13 to 6 here today before a homecoming crowd of 20,000.

All of the touchdowns were scored in the first nine minutes of the second period.

The strenuous first half pace left the rival teams so weary they were unable to cash in on scoring chances in the last two periods.

The Spartans dominated the play in the final period, smashing deep into Carnegie territory twice. On both occasions Leslie Bruckner tried place kicks that went wide.

Vandy Nips Tennessee
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Vanderbilt's brilliant passing clicked yesterday as the Commodores defeated Tennessee 13 to 7, in a football thriller before 23,000 spectators.

Texas Aags Tie Rice
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Burly Ernie Lain, the ball tossing sophomore of the Rice Owls, scored with three minutes to play yesterday to give the Southwest conference leaders a 6-6 tie with Texas A. & M.

Fourth Annual Auto Show to Open in Fieldhouse Tuesday

Entertainment Provided For Each Night of 3-Day Affair

Lions Club Child-Aid Program To Get Proceeds

Iowa City high's national champion orchestra, Norma Jean Leoney and Jean Irwin with Dusty Keaton's orchestra, Art Sheppard, radio station WMT's question man and a style show by 20 models will provide entertainment at the fourth annual Lions club auto show in the fieldhouse Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Each day at 6:30 p.m. the doors of the field house will open to admit visitors to see a display of 45 1938 model cars, 30 booths sponsored by local merchants and the stage acts.

Tuesday night the Iowa City high school orchestra, under the direction of Lloyd F. Swartley will present a program of music from the stage at the east side of the armory.

Sheppard will walk through the crowd as they view the displays, selecting persons at random and asking them questions. A public address system will broadcast the questions and answers to those attending the show.

Norma Jean Leoney, 14, and Jean Irwin, 12, will present a dance act accompanied by Dusty Keaton's orchestra Wednesday night. Miss Leoney will present tap and toe selections, and Miss Irwin will do a military tap acrobatic exhibition. The two will then give a double tap acrobatic dance.

Thursday night 20 models under the direction of Mrs. Frank Seibach will present a style show. They will display 75 garments of the latest styles selected from Willard's apparel shop.

Admission to the show will be 10 cents, Robert H. Lorenz, president of the Lions club, has announced. The funds from the show will be used to carry on the club's child welfare program which includes furnishing glasses to children whose eye-sight is defective and whose parents can not purchase glasses, and to give under-nourished children milk at school.

The show will be presented on the armory floor of the fieldhouse. Twenty-eight booths containing the displays of the local merchants will be located in a row beginning 40 feet west of the basketball court.

At the west side of the basketball court will be a raised platform upon which the entertainment for each evening will be presented.

In a horseshoe-shaped curve extending around the booths, 45 of the latest models of motor transportation will be displayed by local dealers.

J. Harold Simmen is general chairman for the show. Assisting him as heads of committees are: Attorney F. B. Olson, tickets; Prof. E. W. Hills, house and decorations; Irving Weber, booths; Hary S. Bunker, publicity; George Nagle, entertainment; and Ray Slavata, style show.

M. B. Guthrie, who has been assisting Weber in the sale of the booths, announced last night that they are all taken. The complete list of exhibitors includes Larew company, Iowa City Light and Power company, Dane Coal company, Nelson Norge store.

Sears Roebuck and company, Underwriters association, Bremer's, Strub's, Modern Paint store, River Products company, Stillwell Paint store, Iowa City milk dealers, Montgomery Ward and company, Iowa Water Service company (for the recreational center).

Automobile Appliance company, First Capital National bank (for the Boy Scouts), Iowa State Bank and Trust company (for the Girl Scouts), Breneman Seed store, Aldous Flower shop, Iowa City Plumbing and Heating company and the Iowa City Press-Citizen (for the 4-H clubs).

Durham Lends Car; Borrower Doesn't Return as Agreed

When a friend to whom he had loaned his car failed to return it at the appointed hour last night, Wesley Durham filed charges of taking a car without the owner's consent with the police.

A description of the car was broadcast immediately over police radio station KAWP to the state police network station KGHO in Des Moines.

Durham's car is a 1932 Chevrolet coupe, 1937 Iowa license plates 52-7155.

Pickworth Reports Pocketbook Stolen

Felix W. Pickworth, 403 S. DuBuque street, reported to the police that his pocketbook containing $13 was stolen from his pants at the water works between 7 and 8 p.m. yesterday.

Pickworth asked police to request that, if the purse was found, it be returned to him because it contained valuable papers.

Contributions to the community chest total $16,233—$1.62 per cent of the $10,000 goal—according to a report from Attorney Thomas E. Martin, campaign director.

General solicitation ended yesterday with 2,184 individual contributors recorded. This week will be given over to general assignments and clean up work, which should be completed on or before Saturday, Attorney Martin said.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE

Back-Slappers

Say what you will about the back-slappers, I'll bet there aren't half a hundred persons in Iowa City who are fooled by the back-slappers, heart-on-sleevers. . . Sincerity has a way of making itself felt. . .

A large hiss to those impatient football fans whose minutes are so valuable they must start streaking out of the stadium, onto the field before the final whistle is blown. . . Seems to me it's an indication of rather bad taste. . .

Spirit

And a hint to P.E.P. . . If you'd really like to see some Iowa spirit get those in the know to schedule a game between Iowa and Iowa State. . . I'll predict there'd be a sellout and S.R.O. signs . . .

Seems to me, incidentally, that any professor who's in the business of education can do twice as much outside the classroom as in. . . There's too little personal friendship between student and faculty on the campus. . .

The parts of college you'll probably remember—as will I—are not the hard, cold printed facts you've crammed—but the persons you've met, the music you've heard, the friendships you've made. . .

On many a campus—and there are a handful at Iowa who follow the custom—it's a weekly practice to invite the students who are interested, to the professor's home on a Sunday afternoon for a tea and a fireside chat. . .

Job

The truth is too many facultyites consider teaching a job rather than a profession. . .

I don't know if it has already been said, but someone should point out that a profession is a job that lasts 24 hours a day, a job only eight. . .

And a scout writes anent my recent remark concerning mousy wives for aggressive men. . . "Has it ever occurred to you that the background wives are that way because their men are so dominant, rather than that the men are aggressive because of the b.g. attitude of their wives?"

Entities

"Marriages generally start with two entities: then begins the absorption process of the stronger, be it man or woman, of the other. . . Finally the marriage has lapsed into the status of one entity and one non-entity. . .

"In other words, the background wife is apt to be that way in spite of herself—not because by so being she can further the aggressiveness and success of her mate."

After viewing "Dead End" for a second time, I'd wager you'll vote the show the most spine-prickling movie of the year. . . Makes you feel like going out and tearing down a slum by yourself.

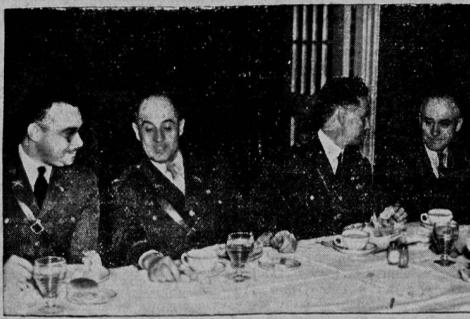

Case in Point

The movie "Dead End," in passing, is a case in point of my own belief that Hollywood can, sometimes does outdo Broadway with its adaptations. . . Having now seen both the stage and screen show, I'd vote the movie as effective and good drama in every case. . .

With a none-too-active imagination, I appreciate the fact that on the screen there is real water instead of merely imagination, a real tenement instead of a cardboard front. . .

It's a fact most Broadwayites won't admit these days, but the

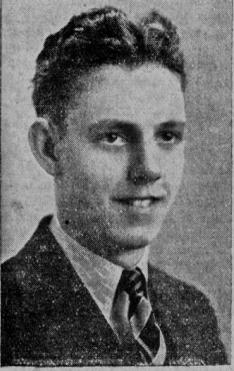

Hawk Bandsmen Honor 'Hoosier 100'

The University of Iowa band feted the University of Indiana's military band—the "Hoosier Hundred"—at a luncheon in Iowa Union yesterday noon. Left to right are Lieut. M. M. Radcliffe, drill master of the Hoosier musicians, Col. George F. N. Dailey, commandant of the Iowa Scottish Highlanders, Maj. Roy N. Hagerty, officer in charge of the Indiana band, and Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division. Members of the Indiana band were guests at a reception given by Currier hall residents last night.

Disappears

Merle Austin, Al of Emington, Ill., has been the object of a search by police, newspapers and radio since his disappearance about noon Armistice day.

Austin lived, said the boy when last seen was wearing a dark suede jacket, dark blue trousers and was bareheaded. Austin is 17 years old, weighs 130 pounds and is five feet eight inches tall.

Scrooby Club Will Discuss Germany's Politics and Church

The Rev. Evans Worthley will begin a new series of weekly Scrooby club discussions today in the Congregational church lounge, Parke Woodworth, E2 of Ipswich, S. D., announced.

This series of meetings deals with the religions of the interesting countries of the world, governmental attempts to suppress them and the relation between the church and politics in these countries.

The Rev. Mr. Worthley will lead the group in a discussion on "Germany, the country of the Hitler youth movement and the leader in Jewish suppression."

movie industry has as many geniuses per square inch as the theater lanes. . . And the one-syllabled movie mogul is no longer the case. . . Sam Goldwyn, who started out in the clothing business, now produces as smart pictures as the movie screens know. . .

Yesterday's game, you'll agree, was the first of the year Iowans could say the Hawkeyes should have won without a blink of the eye. . . When this season's football history is written, put down for Iowa the worst series of bad breaks in the conference. . .

It's probably no real criterion for judging humanity, but a local hotel man tells me about 60 per cent and more of his guests take a towel or some other souvenir when they leave their hotel rooms. . .

City high football team, is recognized as one of the most alert moleskins in recent years. Opponents knew Buckley as a hard blocker and a deadly tackler. His blocking was instrumental in paving the way for many of Eldon Parizek's long runs.

Eldon Parizek, left halfback: He's fast, he's deceptive, he's hard to put down — he's Eldon Parizek, shifty ball-carrying ace of the Cornackmen. Coming out for his first year of football last year, Parizek was the team's leading scorer. This year he repeated his spectacular tallying feats to again lead the scoring for Iowa City high. Several times Eldon broke loose on off-tackle plays and wide end runs for long gains and sometimes for touchdowns.

Jay Walden, fullback: Although playing on a weak St. Patrick's team, Walden's work at the fullback position was outstanding. Only a sophomore, Jay carried the brunt of the kicking and ball carrying on the Irish team. Not only did Walden shine as an offensive player, but he was a valuable man defensively, with his stellar work at backing up the Irish forward wall.

DeWayne Justice, alternate: A trained toe was the distinguishing feature of DeWayne Justice. Booting the ball as far as 75 yards at times, DeWayne out-kicked every opposing team this year. In addition to this he was an accurate passer and did most of the heaving for the Little Hawks.

Second Team

On the second team, Ernie Krogh and Wayne Putnam of University high and Iowa City high respectively, were chosen as ends because of their stellar defensive play and adeptness at receiving passes.

Although injured in the latter part of the season, Earl Stimmel was selected as a tackle on the second all-city football team because of his brilliant early season performances. Weighing only 155 pounds, Earl combined speed and coordination to make himself one of the bulwarks of the City High line.

Beasley At Tackle

"Bruising" Bruce Beasley is another of St. Pat's sensational sophomore gridsters. He was named as the other tackle on The Daily Iowan second all-city team because of his fine work on both defense and offense. Bruce carried his 180 pounds well and should greatly strengthen Irish teams of the future.

Ed Brender, regular guard on University high's team all season, won himself a guard position on the second team with his steady, alert playing in every game this season. Ted McLaughlin, picked as Brender's running mate, played the roving guard for City high. Ted did his best work on pass defense allowing few enemy tosses to get by him. The second team center position goes to Bruce Blackstone, 130 pound U high center. Exceptionally light, Bruce was used as roving center on defense and stamped himself as one of the hardest tacklers in the Little Eight conference. Handicapped by a bad knee, Bruce was still able to give a good account of himself in every game he was able to play in.

Joe McGinnis

The reserve quarterback berth on the honor team is filled by Joe McGinnis of the Red and White institution. Joe shared the passing duties with DeWayne Justice and gave him teammate only a slight edge in the kicking department.

Martin Dicker is another of Herb Cormack's proteges to rate all-city honors. Dicker was chosen second team halfback because of his spirited play in the defensive and offensive departments of the game.

Duane Carson, Dicker's running mate at halfback, was the leading ground gainer for Coach Jack Sterrett's University high eleven this year. Weighing 150 pounds, and well proportioned, he was an exceptionally good open field runner. He also handled some of the kicking and passing assignments on the Blue and White team.

Lewis Shimon

Lewis Shimon, reporting late for football because of a back injury received last summer, quickly proved his worth as a ball carrier and blocker and held down the fullback post on the U-high eleven for the greater part of the season. He is a vicious and deadly blocker and a hard-hitting line plunger who should prove a great asset to Coach Sterrett's team next year.

Don Newbiggen was selected as backfield alternate on the second all-city football team because of his accomplishments in the St. Pat's backfield. A hard runner, he often made gains while running with no interference.

Paul Larson

Daily Iowan Engraving

Alpha Xi Delta's Lucile Mullen, A2 of Davenport, voices the opinion of her sorority when she tells why the members nominated Paul Larson, E4 of New Hampton, as one of the most eligible bachelors on the campus. Mr. Larson is one of the eight most eligible bachelors, three of whom will be presented at the Spinsters Spree next Friday. Miss Mullen says, "Besides having a very high scholastic average, Paul is president of his social fraternity and a member of the honorary engineering fraternity. He is also a member of the university orchestra, which shows that his interests are well rounded. He is a perfect gentleman at all times. He has brains and personality, which is a rare combination. Paul is well-known and well-liked on the campus and besides all of this, he is really a lot of fun."

Methodists Will Meet Wednesday

The Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the church for a turkey luncheon.

Mrs. C. J. Lapp, in charge of the supply work, will speak on "The Second Mile." Mrs. James Lons will talk to the group about her trip to Bingham canyon, Utah, where the supply work of the church is sent.

J. Sanders' Nighthawks To Play at U.W.A. Party Friday

Large numbers of the women students in eight o'clock classes will be absent tomorrow morning. They will be in line at Iowa Union to buy Spinster Spree tickets which go on sale at that time.

University Women's association will entertain at its annual party Friday in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Joe Sanders and his Nighthawks will furnish the music for dancing from 9 to 12 p.m. Although the party will be informal the women will wear long dresses.

Chaperons for the party will be Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Petersen, Prof. and Mrs. John W. Ashton, Prof. and Mrs. Rufus D. S. Putney Jr., Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Lapp and Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Hart. Dean of Women Adelaide Burge and Helen Focht, her assistant, will be guests.

Tea will be served to the chaperons and members of the committee on the balcony during intermission. Carolyn Coe, A4 of Springfield, Ill., and Katherine Kraft, A4 of Des Moines, will pour.

Joe Sanders, "the ole left hander," and his Nighthawks have become popular favorites while playing at the Blackhawk restaurant in Chicago. More recently they have been on a personal appearance tour.

Jane Kaye, the bands' song stylist, will appear as featured entertainer.

University Club Will Entertain

Bridge Party, Supper And Tea To Occur This Week

A bride's tea, a Sunday-night supper and a bridge party will be included in University club's activities this week.

The bridge party Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. will take place in the clubrooms in Iowa Union. Mrs. Erling Thoen and Mrs. Chester Miller are in charge of arrangements for the party.

Recently married members of University club will be guests of honor at the brides' tea to be given in the clubrooms Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Bridal costumes of former years and those of the present day will be modeled. Several foreign brides will be present.

Mrs. E. W. Chittenden is chairman for the tea. Her committee includes Mrs. George J. Keller, Mrs. E. P. T. Tyndal and Mrs. M. Willard Lampe.

Prof. Harry G. Barnes of the speech department will give several readings at the supper Sunday at 6 p.m. in the clubrooms.

Mrs. Arthur W. O'Brien, Mrs. Clarence P. Berg, Katherine Mears, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. H. S. Ivie and Mrs. Ethan P. Allen are members of the committee in charge of the supper arrangements.

University club entertained at an informal radio dance and open house last night in the clubrooms for its members and their guests. Senorita Concha Hernandez, U of Mt. Prospect, Ill., gave a Spanish dance specialty.

Several novelty dance numbers were presented, directed by Katharine Warsaw, A4 of Waterloo. The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums.

Dr. and Mrs. Barnes Will Give Tea For Group of 20 Today

Dr. and Mrs. Milford E. Barnes, 211 Myrtle avenue, will be host and hostess at a tea in their home this afternoon.

They will entertain about 20 alumni of Monmouth college who are instructors and students at the University of Iowa.

Professor Ladd To Address Muscatine Bar on Thursday

Prof. Mason Ladd of the college of law will address the Muscatine County Bar association at Muscatine Thursday night. After a dinner at 6:30, Professor Ladd will discuss decrees determining heirship in probate proceedings. A legal clinic and round table discussion will follow.

Professor Ladd has announced that the state bar association is planning a program of legal clinics and open forum discussions throughout the state in which faculty members of the college of law will participate.

Campus - Wide Fund Drive Begins Monday

Donations Will Further Religious Activities Says Morgan

The campus-wide financial drive for the support of student activities conducted under the auspices of the religious activities board will begin tomorrow. The campaign is to replace former Rockefeller donations so that student religious projects may continue, William Morgan, executive of the religious activities board, has explained.

The donations will be budgeted by the board for the benefit of all student religious activities. The university and the school of religion provide the salary of the executive during the academic year. Consolidation of all activities under a central board unifies the religious activities of the campus and results in a single request for donations.

A mass meeting for all solicitors will be held tomorrow at 4:10 p.m. in the university women's rooms, in Iowa Union. Team captains with a corps of student solicitors will systematically canvass all university students.

Elizabeth Mills Will Speak
Social service work in hospitals, juvenile homes and recreation centers is a project supervised by the religious activities board. Elizabeth Mills, director of social service of University hospital, will speak to the social service committee of Y.W.C.A. tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the north conference room of Iowa Union.

The contributions that volunteer workers can make at the hospitals will be explained by Miss Mills. In charge of the meeting will be Margaret Kennedy, A4 of Estherville, chairman of the social service committee, and her council, Charline Saggaw, A2 of Denison, and Elzena Gross, A2 of Warrens, Wis.

An all-Y meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the north conference room of Iowa Union. Dean-Emeritus Wilber J. Teeters of the college of pharmacy will discuss the growth and importance of pharmacy. Piano selections will be played by Darold Jack, A3 of Cedar Rapids.

Arthur Rideout, A3 of Dubuque, will explain the new organization of the Y.M.C.A. Instead of the numerous committees, the activities of Y.M.C.A. will be directed in two channels, that of vocational guidance under the supervision of D. D. Feder of the psychology department, and the deputation crews. Group singing and refreshments will close the meeting.

The Deputation Crew
The deputation crew is an organization whose purpose is to carry the message of the value of a university education and a true picture of the principles underlying college life to the churches and schools in the surrounding community. The first of the series of programs was presented at Oakdale sanatorium. The deputation crew will go to Tipton next Sunday. Students who will participate include Walker Sandbach, A3 of Sheffield; Arthur Rideout, A3 of Dubuque; and George Sudimack, A4 of Bayonne, N. J.; speakers; Robert Gaskill, A2 of Des Moines, and Carolyn Metcalf, A1 of Merville, soloists.

Co-Hostesses Will Entertain Wednesday

Mrs. H. F. Smith and Mrs. E. B. Raymond will be co-hostesses at a dessert-bridge Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. They will entertain in Mrs. Smith's home, 424 Oakland avenue.

Sixteen guests have been invited to the party. Chrysanthemums will carry out the fall atmosphere in the decorations.

Buffet Supper For Philo Club Tonight

Prof. and Mrs. Moses Jung, 1 Oak Ridge, will entertain at a buffet supper tonight. The executive committee of the Philo club and other guests will be present.

Mueller Hostess To Catholic Study Club

Mary Mueller, 420 E. Jefferson street, will be hostess to the St. Paul's unit of the Catholic study club Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

The Rev. E. J. Neuzil will speak on the papal encyclical, "Divi Redemptoris." The pamphlet, "Why Catholics Condemn Communism," will be reviewed by Mrs. D. J. Peters.

A section of Gilson's "The Philosophy of St. Thomas Aquinas" will be reviewed by Mrs. Bruce Mahan.

Copds Will Discuss Personalities Monday

"Know Yourself" will be the theme of the Town Coped meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation room of Currier hall. This will be the first in a series of personality studies. Each member will analyze her personality on the basis of questions read to the group.

Phi Beta Kappa Election To Be Held Nov. 23

All Candidates Must Earn 3.2 Average For Four Years

The fall election of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, will be Nov. 23. Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, president of the local chapter announced yesterday.

Those eligible for election are June and August graduates and seniors who will be graduated in January. Five juniors, whose scholastic records indicate eligibility, will also be elected. Requirement for election is a 3.2 scholastic average.

Initiation will take place Dec. 4 at 5 p.m. in Old Capitol. After the initiation a founder's day dinner will be served at the Jefferson hotel. The fraternity was founded Dec. 5, 1776.

Following the dinner Prof. John A. Scott of Northwestern university will address the members of Phi Beta Kappa at Old Capitol at 7:30 p.m. The subject of his address will be "Solved and Unsolved Problems of Government, Ancient and Modern." The address is open to the public and will be broadcast over station WSUL.

Prof. Flickinger Named To Committee

Professor Flickinger has been elected to the Phi Beta Kappa nominating committee for a nine-year period, it was announced yesterday.

Professor and Mrs. Flickinger were the official delegates from the Iowa chapter at the triennial council meeting of Phi Beta Kappa at Atlanta, Ga., in September. The council adopted a new constitution providing that the chapters be divided into seven districts and also set up a committee of nine members to nominate national officers. The committee members will be elected for terms of three, six and nine years.

Professor Flickinger was also elected chairman of the north central district which includes 15 chapters in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri.

Tampa Girls Prefer Careers to Marriage

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Pretty Tampa high school girls, ranging in age from 14 to 19, are little interested in marriage but strong for careers.

Of 216 voting in a poll of the Girls' Reserve club at Hillsborough and Plant high schools, only four said they were thinking of matrimony.

Thirty want to be stenographers, 25 nurses, 17 teachers; 59 have their eyes on other careers, and 18 plan college courses. Sixty-three haven't made up their minds.

Tickets for University Lecture May Be Obtained Tomorrow

J. B. Priestley, English Novelist, To Speak Wednesday

Free admission tickets for the university lecture by J. B. Priestley, English novelist and critic, will be available to students and faculty members tomorrow and Tuesday at the main desk in Iowa Union. Any tickets which remain Wednesday will be available to the general public.

Mr. Priestley's lecture, the first of the 1937-1938 series of university lectures, will be in the main lounge of Iowa Union Wednesday, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Priestley first spoke on the campus at a university lecture in 1931 on his first lecture tour to America. He has recently published two popular novels, "The Good Companions" and "Angel Pavement." He returns on this tour after publication of "Midnight on the Desert," an introspective and analytical group of essays.

Not until Mr. Priestley had established his position as an essayist and critic did he turn to writing novels. His latest novel, "They Walk in the City," published in the fall of 1936, portrays life in modern London.

During the last few years Mr. Priestley has produced several successful plays. Among these are "Dangerous Corner," "Lamburn Grove," given by University theater in January, 1936, "The Roundabout," "Eden End" and "Cornelius."

J. B. PRIESTLEY

Although Mr. Priestley is best known as a novelist, dramatist and essayist, he prefers the role of a student of world affairs and critic of life in general.

The senate board on university lectures is not announcing the subject for the lecture but is leaving the selection to Mr. Priestley. He listed three subjects for his present tour and will choose the one most appropriate for the university audience.

All Tell Time Clocks Made in Many Unusual Styles

Time marches on! Although clocks are common utilities, many modern ones have unusual sizes, shapes or other additional features.

A clock in a local restaurant has no face or numbers of any kind. The timepiece consists of only the hour and minute hands; but keeps perfect time, for another clock is attached to the opposite side.

Another clock with no machinery except a face, hands and lever, connected with a geyser which shoots out an immense column of hot water every 38 seconds is an unusual feature in a little American backwoods town. Every time the water spurts up it strikes the lever and moves the hands forward 38 seconds, and the spouting never varies to the 10th of a second.

In Switzerland clocks are now being made which do not require hands and faces. The timepiece is of the standing type, and one presses a button when by means of photographic internal arrangements it calls out "Half past one," or "Five minutes to eleven," as the case may be.

Another new device, invented by a Munich professor, is a remarkable sickroom clock. When a button is pressed, an electric lamp behind the dial throws the shadow of the hours and hands magnified upon the ceiling so that the invalids see it from bed without craning their necks.

Cheers and Sneers

These are personal opinions for which The Daily Iowan assumes no responsibility.

Is there anything that could be said or done to correct the very noticeable tendency to help those students who have the biggest pull rather than those who are the most needy? I know of cases where sorority women are allowed to leave loans from the university; yet they seem to have enough money to pay their dues and dress like queens. So many people on this campus are facing the possibility of having to leave school in mid-year, or at the most at the end of this year because they are entirely self-supporting and cannot get a job—jobs that should be open to them but are closed because somebody knew somebody who knew somebody who was influential with somebody who could get them a position. It makes me sick. They tell me that's the way it is after college, too. The more people you know who have money, the better job you get, regardless of qualification. Something ought to be done, don't you think?

L.M.R.

There is nothing more aggravating to me than to have someone sit behind me in classes and keep jarring my chair by putting his feet on the back of it. I can't figure out whether he does it purposely or is just innately rude enough to be unaware of the fact that it is extremely annoying.

J.M.

Of all the well-dressed people on this campus, I think the professors should come in for their share of the glory. They are on the whole better dressed, more particular of their personal appearance and have better tastes in shirts and ties than any group of college or university professors I have ever seen.

Judge Delivers 83 Judgments

Gaffney Hands Down Decisions During September

Eighty-three judgments were handed down by Judge James P. Gaffney during the September term of the Johnson county district court. Sixteen of the judgments were divorce cases.

A total of 643 orders were given to the court — 203 probate cases and 440 civil cases.

Judge Gaffney stated that he is taking three important equity cases to Marengo for settlement. He opens the November term of the Iowa county district court at Marengo tomorrow morning.

The Johnson county district court opens the November term tomorrow morning with Judge Harold D. Evans on the bench.

Cone Administratrix Chosen by Gaffney

Judge James P. Gaffney appointed Mabel E. Cone administratrix of the John C. Cone estate in Johnson county district court yesterday. Bond was fixed at $1,000.

Work Starts On House

West Side Home Designed in French Architectural Style

One the rise between the two gullies that form Iowa City's "roller coaster" on Lexington avenue, excavation has begun for the new residence of Dr. H. P. Smith.

The house will front on McLean street to the south. According to Paul Ruth, member of the firm of Pisk and Ruth who designed the home, it will be in the formal French type of architecture.

On a poured concrete foundation will rise the brick walls of the building topped with a steeply sloping tile roof. The windows on the north, east and south sides will be shuttered.

A two-story, steel casement bay-window will feature the west elevation, which will give persons sitting in the living room or in the master bed room full advantage of the view to the west.

Rock wool will be used throughout to insulate the house and to deaden noise. Winter air-conditioning will be installed and provision made for cooling by means of a well at a future time.

The first floor plans include a living room, dining room, kitchen, study and a lavatory. Except in the kitchen and the lavatory, oak floors will be used exclusively. The living room and dining room will open onto an octagonal terrace on the north which may be used as a dining terrace. A fireplace will be built opposite the bay window in the living room.

On the second floor there will be three bedrooms. The master bedroom suite is directly above the living room with the large bay window extending up the west side. Two guest rooms, a lavatory and linen closets occupy the remainder of the floor.

A gravel drive will enter the yard from Lexington avenue. Ample area will be provided for cars to drive into the garage which is on the ground floor of the house.

The Hunzinger - Wagner company is constructing the house, which is expected to be ready for occupancy May 1, 1938.

Libraries Open Book Week With Child Exhibits

Book week will be observed this week in the libraries and book stores throughout the city, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Jessie E. Gordon, head librarian at the public library. Exhibits of both the old and the new in children's books have been arranged.

The exhibit at the public library will be in the club room and will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day of the week; however, the exhibit will not be open to children any day after 6 p.m.

Book week was originated by Franklin K. Mathews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts, who with other librarians, educators, publishers and booksellers arranged exhibits and displays to stimulate an interest in books for the child's own library.

Tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. the Treasure Seeker's club and the Hobby club will present a play for parents and teachers.

Judge Gaffney Fines P. Viers For Contempt

District Judge James P. Gaffney yesterday found Paul Viers guilty of contempt of court for failure to pay alimony to Neva Viers.

The judgment, handed down in Johnson county district court, orders Viers to pay $100 to the clerk's office. Failure to make payment will result in a 900-day jail sentence in the Johnson county jail.

Attorney Will J. Hayek represented Mrs. Viers. Paul Viers was defended by Attorneys Newman and Newman of Cedar Falls.

Wesley Brena Dodges Chance, Lands in Jail

Wesley Brena is spending the week end in the Johnson county jail because he failed to take advantage of his opportunity to escape a jail sentence.

Friday morning in police court, Police Judge Burke N. Carson gave Brena his choice of paying a $100 fine or leaving town. Brena, a transient, chose to leave town.

Yesterday, the police again arrested Brena on a charge of intoxication. Judge Carson immediately sentenced Brena to four days in the Johnson county jail.

Transferred to Marengo G. H. Lyon, PWA inspector engineer of Iowa City, has been transferred to Marengo. His place will be taken by L. R. Beals who is being transferred from Vinton. Beals was formerly assistant city engineer in Iowa City.

Justices of Peace Have Sideline In Performing of Marriage Ceremonies

Justices of the peace have an important sideline to their court work — that of officiating at marriage ceremonies.

The simplest and most painless marriage ceremony is that of the justices. This simplicity, low fees and the absence of publicity make the justices' courts the scenes of many weddings.

Iowa City has two justices of the peace, T. M. Fairchild and J. M. Kadlec, who perform many marriages each year.

"I don't mind being called out of bed to perform a marriage," Justice Kadlec said, "but I do wish that couples would bring witnesses along. I sometimes need to call up my friends in the dead of night to act as witnesses."

He added that the majority of these night marriages are for out-of-town couples, sometimes from other states.

"Most students want their marriages to be a secret, so they go to some other city," he said in explaining why so few couples attending the university are married in Iowa City.

Couples who are not nervous during the ceremony usually have been through it before, Kadlec said. "Women are usually emotional at the end of the ceremony, and men suddenly acquire a rather frightened air," he continued.

During the time he has been in office, Kadlec has married couples from the ages of 16 to 60.

By law, the justice of the peace is entitled to a fee of $2 for a civil ceremony. "It is seldom that I am given more than that," Kadlec said.

Judge Suspends Fine

A fine of $2 and costs was given to Raymond Hanrahan by Police Judge Burke N. Carson in police court yesterday for reckless driving. Judge Carson suspended the fine, and the defendant paid the costs.

English film producers made their first big bid for Hollywood stars in 1922.

The 1939 HAWKEYE

State University of Iowa Annual Year Book

126-130 Iowa Avenue
Iowa City, Iowa

Perry Osnowitz
Business Manager

Dear Mr. and Miss S.U.I.:

The "1939" HAWKEYE is on its way! All facilities are being organized for a bigger and better annual than ever before.

We take pleasure in announcing at this time our official sales campaign. The campaign starts tomorrow, November 15th, and will last until December 15th.

Order your HAWKEYE now for this year. There will be a "DeLuxe" and "Standard" edition. We are giving all early buyers the chance to reserve the new, padded-cover, DeLuxe HAWKEYE for the same price that the regular or standard one will sell at. The cost will be only $4.00.

The HAWKEYE gives you a complete history of the school year! Besides its historical value it is a means by which photographs are exchanged! Don't be the missing one when your girl friend or boy friend wants to show the folks back home your picture.

For the small sum of $4.00 the HAWKEYE gives you complete coverage of ADMINISTRATION, COLLEGES, ORGANIZATIONS, ACTIVITIES and ATHLETICS. Hundreds of pictures and thousands of words covering the Old Gold school year come to you in one grand, perpetual record!

Reserve your HAWKEYE now and get the "DeLuxe" edition. There is a representative in your house. Remember—"it's fashionable to have a HAWKEYE."

Sincerely yours,
