A second defeat of the season did not keep the line of Carleton's small men from smiling today. The Carls, who lost to Minnesota the night before, went all they could last night at the hands of the Minnesota Gophers, and their last minute showing was kept up to a high degree by the Carls. The Carls have been in a somewhat unorthodox scheme of things and did not have any offense in the first half last night. Minnesota led at the half of last night, but the Carls came back in the second half, and the Gophers were forced to agree with them.
