Manufacturers Call for Entire Revision of Wagner Labor Act At Close of Annual Convention

Industrialists Battle Over Law at Last Three Days' Session

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers closed its annual convention today with a call for sweeping revision of the Wagner labor relations act.

The last of three days' sessions was entitled "labor day," and was attended by some 3,000 industrialists.

The demand for revision of labor laws followed a "closed session" at which Charles W. Fahy, general counsel of the national labor relations board vigorously opposed revision of the Wagner act, and called upon the manufacturers to observe to the letter of the law.

Previously Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, asserted labor strike had cost America five billion dollars in 1937, "the worst and most costly period of labor turmoil in our history," and declared the government's attitude was "one of the worst stumbling blocks to a rational get together."

The association later adopted a report by its board of directors, which said: "Government should protect the right to engage in lawful strikes, by lawful means, but its primary obligation is protection of the right to work."

The report urged both federal and state governments prohibit not only unions but business corporations from making political contributions.

It also urged unincorporated labor organizations such as MOT unions, and unincorporated associations of employers, be legally responsible and sueable in the courts.

Advice To Republicans Vermont Governor Expresses Views To Republican Leaders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Governor George D. Aiken, a weather-beaten Vermonteer, stepped into the middle of the national political scene today and gave the republican party this tip:

"Millionaires and college professors never won elections." The governor, who drew nationwide attention earlier this week by advocating a "purge" of the republican leadership, arrived in the capital to oppose the administration's regional planning bill.

He talked with reporters at a press conference, where he sat between Senator Gibson and Austin, republicans from his state, and later conferred with National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton.

Hamilton has been seeking advice from republican congressional leaders and others about the selection of a committee of 100 to formulate a new party program. The national republican executive committee is to meet in St. Louis Monday to establish the program group.

Governor Aiken told reporters most of the names he had seen mentioned for membership on the committee were those of millionaires or college professors, and added, "They never won elections."

Minor Crisis Chills Fire Laddies' Ardor

EASTON Md., Dec. 9 (AP)—The fire department here would love to have a fire — not one to fight — just one to heat the fire house, where the boilers broke down.

Magistrate Pleads For Barkless Dogs In New York City

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Magistrate Michael A. Ford called upon the dog breeders of the nation today to give New Yorkers dogs without barks. "I am convinced," he said, "that one of the crying needs of this city is a barkless dog."

Plants Close As Drivers Strike

Dunn Escapes Murder Attempt As Labor Troubles Grow

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 9 (AP)—A labor leader's story of an apparent attempt to kill him in the same way Patrick J. Corcoran, to whose union office he succeeded, was slain November 17 and a drivers' strike complicated Minneapolis' troubled labor situation today.

Myles Dunn, named secretary-treasurer of the teamsters' joint council after Corcoran's death, said three men attempted to ambush him Tuesday night near the garage at the rear of his home, but fled when he noticed them and stopped his car without getting out. Corcoran was shot just after putting his car away.

Approximately 900 workers were idle as a result of the strike for increased wages called by General Drivers Union No. 544 in 12 wholesale grocery houses and food store warehouses. The plants closed after the strike was called.

An employers' committee asserted the strike was called without notice while negotiations were under way.

Joe Bellini, who came here from Chicago to work as a labor organizer, was freed on a writ of habeas corpus, but immediately rearrested charged with disorderly conduct. He was first arrested Saturday at the request of County Attorney Ed J. Goff who was assembling evidence for presentation to the county grand jury in its investigation of labor strike.

Five Killed In Burt Railroad Crossing Crash

BURT, Ia., Dec. 9 (AP)—Five men were killed instantly tonight when a south-bound Chicago and Northwestern road gasoline train crashed into their car at a crossing a mile north of here.

The victims, all from Elmore, Minn., ranged in age from 18 to 28. The dead are: Herbert Curtis, 28. Elmer Meisner, 21. Louis Shamburg, 26. Ervin Richter, 20. Harry Blondon, 28.

Dr. R. A. Evans of Algona, Kosuth county coroner, said three of the bodies were taken to Algona and two to Bancroft. He said relatives were enroute to Algona tonight to claim the bodies there.

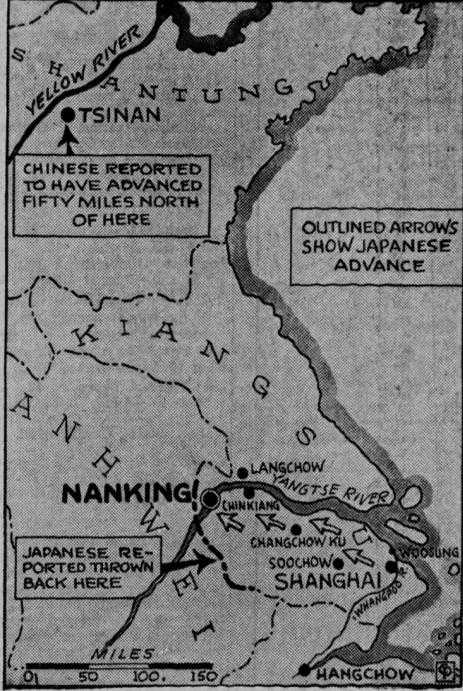

Dr. Evans said the motorman of the gasoline train was S. E. Billings of Ames. The coroner declared that Billings told him the train was traveling about 35 miles an hour when it struck the car.

Thinking that the driver of the car intended to stop at the crossing, Billings said he did not apply the brakes until he saw the car driven onto the tracks.

Britain Builds Six Destroyers For Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Brazilian government today signed a contract with three British firms for construction of six destroyers at a total price of about $14,400,000.

Japanese at Gates of Nanking

This self-explanatory map shows Japan's drive on Nanking, China's capital. The city became a "deserted shell" as the Chinese removed valuables. In the north, however, the Chinese were reported to have advanced 50 miles near Tsinan — a setback for the Japanese. It is believed that the Japanese possessing Nanking will set up a puppet government for China that will "co-operate" with the Japanese.

Sam Rivette, 40-Year-Old Lifer, Back in Prison After Escaping

Convict Enjoyed Brief Freedom by Drilling Through Ceiling

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 9 (AP)—Sam Rivette, 40, Texan serving a life term in the Nebraska penitentiary, was back in the prison hospital tonight with only sprains and bruises to show for his brief freedom after a break from the prison in near zero weather early today.

Rivette was recaptured in a downtown rooming house. A companion, John Latham, 36, got no farther than the foot of the prison walls and two other prisoners failed to get off the prison roof, retiring to their cells through the hole the men drilled through the steel ceiling and roof.

Prison officials said Latham descended the 40-foot prison wall first on a rope made of bed sheets. The makeshift rope parted, hurling Latham to the ground. Rivette strengthened the rope with an additional sheet and clambered down. The rope broke again, and the two remaining prisoners hauled the remnants back to the roof, officials said.

Monkeys May Solve Disease

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Scientists experimented with 15 Rhesus monkeys today in an effort to ascertain the causes of the baffling disease which brought swift death to 11 babies. The Simians were rushed here by plane from New York to be inoculated with germs taken from the bodies of the infants who recently succumbed during an outbreak of an infective diarrhea at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, reported several of the eight tiny survivors were still in serious condition.

"One is in desperate condition," he said, "two are seriously ill, two are still sick but improving, two are in fair condition and one is ready to go home."

Omaha Judge Stops Defense Motion As End of Trial Nears

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 9 (AP)—Federal District Judge Thomas C. Munger today overruled a motion by David A. Fitch, attorney for the Chicago and Great Western railroad, for a directed verdict for the defense in the $50,000 personal injury suit filed against the railroad by Sam Robinson of Des Moines, Ia.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 9 (AP)—A folding bed sprang shut and collapsed, "squeezing, striking and battering" Emeline L. Hansen, she charged today in a $51,078 damage suit against two apartment operators.

Italy May Leave League Of Nations At Saturday Meeting

League Ruling Believed Cause Resignation Imminent Since Interference In Ethiopia

ROME, Dec. 9 (AP)—Indications came from high quarters tonight that the fascist grand council, summoned for one of its dramatic midnight sessions Saturday, might announce Italy's resignation from the League of Nations.

However, official confirmation was lacking of the widespread belief Premier Benito Mussolini had decided on such action, often reported imminent since the league enforced sanctions against Italy during the Ethiopian war.

Diplomats speculated as to whether withdrawal from the league—if it comes—would mean Il Duce had given up hope of coming to terms with Britain and France over his African conquests and his position in the Mediterranean sea.

Some diplomats expressed belief Mussolini had cast in his lot wholeheartedly with Germany and Japan, both resigned from the league and both recently linked with Italy in the Rome tripartite anti-communist pact.

Japan resigned from the league in 1933 because of the league's condemnation of her conquest of Manchuria and establishment of the "independent" state of Manchoukuo. Germany withdrew in 1935, claiming she was not accorded equal rights with other powers.

Diplomats recalled recent authoritative press attacks which said bluntly democracies were trying to strangle the totalitarian governments. Some of these were believed to have come from Mussolini's own pen.

George's First Year As King To End Today

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—King George VI went about his engagements today on the eve of the first anniversary of the abdication of King Edward VIII which brought him to the throne.

Quietly and methodically the king inspected Great Britain's latest bombers in the making. It was the 88th important engagement of his first year on the throne—a prosaic ending to the year of royal and romantic drama.

On Dec. 10, 1936, after days of tense uncertainty, Stanley Baldwin, then prime minister, made his dramatic announcement that Edward VIII would renounce his throne to wed a twice-divorced commoner.

Edward in Exile
Now Edward is H. R. H., the Duke of Windsor, self-exiled in Paris with his duchess, the American-born Wallis Warfield.

The Daily Express—almost alone among newspapers recalling the gloom of last year's abdication week—pleaded that Windsor, as well as his brother the king, be given something useful to do for the empire he served so long as Prince of Wales and king.

Edward abdicated Dec. 11, parliament ratified the act Dec. 11 and the Duke of York acceded as King George VI. There will be no imposing state ceremonial Saturday to mark the accession, chiefly because it would disrupt the London season and draw crowds away from Christmas shopping.

When Bed 'Strikes', Woman Brings Suit
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—Paul A. Wright, president of the Union Air terminal until a blazing gun took the lives of his wife and close friend exactly a month ago, pleaded insanity at arraignment today but his attorney indicated he was not abandoning an "unwritten law" defense.

Dusenberg Meets Dusenberg

And World's Richest Girl Takes Lessons From World's Best Tap Dancer

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The "richest girl in the world" today wound up a one week course in hoofing with one of the best—and richest—tap dancers in the world.

The girl of course, is Mrs. James H. R. Cromwell, the former Doris Duke, and the dancer is Bill (Bojangles) Robinson, dusky buck and wing luminary and unofficial mayor of Harlem.

As Mrs. Cromwell left for Honolulu it became known every afternoon for the last week, in the strictest secrecy she spent two hours on the dance floor of Broadway's Cotton club learning terpsichorean tricks from the maestro.

POOR ACTOR! Cost to Force Close Of Theater

DES MOINES, Dec. 9 (AP)—Excessive "per man-month" cost will force the discontinuance of the Iowa federal theatre project January 1, State WPA Administrator George Keller said today.

Every effort will be made to place the 24 persons in the project in other activities, he said. The man-month cost of all WPA projects in Iowa is $59.44, he added, while the theatre's expense averaged $121.35.

Director C. H. Talbot will leave the WPA December 15 to take a radio position here, state WPA headquarters announced, and Rob Roy Brewer, who is playing one of the leads in "Arms and the Man," will direct the project in its final two weeks.

Paul McCarty Murder Case Before Jury

CENTERVILLE, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Paul McCarty murder case went to the jury at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The state charged the Mystic, Ia., trucker killed his wife early Sept. 5 when they were returning home from a wedding celebration at Unionville, Mo.

The defense counsel contended Betty McCarty fell from the truck and that her death was an accident.

In his closing argument to the jury County Attorney E. P. Powers charged that McCarty beat his wife so severely with a hammer that he sought to cover up his act by crushing her head under the dual rear wheels of his truck.

Defense Attorney George Milani cited the absence of blood on Betty's hands to refute state claims that she wiped blood from her head on her handkerchief and skirt.

Milani asserted the state produced no motive with its evidence, and declared that the fact no official action was taken at the time of Betty's death indicated officials thought it was an accident.

General Matsui Warns Chinese To Surrender

Demands Evacuation Of Capital Stronghold By Noon Today

SHANGHAI, Dec. 10 (Friday) (AP)—Radio reports from Wuhu this morning said Japanese forces had broken through the city's defenses and were engaging the Chinese defenders in bloody street fighting.

The Chinese defenders desperately fought to hold the important Yangtze river port, a key point in the Nanking defenses which lie 90 miles to the east.

No word was received of the fate of foreigners still in the city. Last reports said there were 24 Americans still there.

All gates in the massive walls of Nanking were reported shut. The Japanese army, with 100,000 men poised for a final assault, presented an ultimatum demanding the capital's surrender by noon today.

General Iwane Matsui, commander in chief of all Japanese forces in the Shanghai-Nanking area, addressed the ultimatum to General Tang Seng-Chi, veteran Chinese warrior who has assumed command of the defense of the abandoned capital.

An intensive Japanese bombing caused the United States gunboat Panay to move up the river. Hundreds of city were burning around the city.

Foreign sources said Japanese columns had taken Chinkiang, capital of Kiangsu province. The city, with a population of 150,000, lies 40 miles east of Nanking.

The strategic Yangtze river center was said to have fallen after the Japanese broke through its defenses and mopped up the Chinese in house to house fighting.

British Group Favors Lower Tariff In U.S.

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Federation of British Industries declared today in the promised negotiations for an Anglo-American trade treaty the United States should make "substantial reduction of her tariff" as the first step toward balancing trade between the two countries.

The federation, most influential organ of British industry, sent Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain a statement containing this declaration and urging the United Kingdom to "retain freedom of action" in dealing with the American trade situation.

The statement declared "a recession of trade of which the magnitude and duration cannot at the moment be forecast is unfortunately in progress in the United States." It continued: "There is thus every inducement for her (the United States) to seek openings both in Europe and in British markets overseas for a surplus of goods which her internal market under present conditions cannot absorb."

"It may well pay America to dispose of such surplus production at whatever prices may be necessary to surmount the tariff barriers of other countries."

Hitch-Hiker Plays Lead in Drama

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 9 (AP)—A serio-comic drama in three acts: Tuesday night Eugene Mohler, a truck driver, falls to come home from hunting trip and wife notifies police. Wednesday: Police find Mohler's automobile abandoned on highway. Today: Police return to Mohler home for more information, telephone rings, Mrs. Mohler answers it, then reports: "It's from him. He says his car broke down and he hitch-hiked but went the wrong way and woke up in Chicago. He's coming right home."

German Admits Five Murders

ST. CLOUD, France, Dec. 9 (AP)—The body of Jean de Koven, a strangler's cord still cutting deep into her neck, was dug up by police today after a German fugitive confessed the pretty American dancer was the first of five victims he killed to get "money to eat."

Police were seeking a blonde "mystery woman" who spoke French only with difficulty. They expressed belief she had taken part in the killing of four men victims.

Eugene Weidmann, a German runaway from military service, led police to the isolated St. Cloud villa where he had lived more than four months with the 22-year old Brooklyn, N. Y., girl's body buried in the clay behind the front porch.

We Look At Ourselves

AFTER MULLING over the problems of congress, floundering in the meshes of international complexities and wringing our hands in unison with national business, we find considerable satisfaction in turning our back on it all to look at Iowa City in this holiday season.

Merchants are anticipating a busy and profitable holiday. Shoppers are already hurrying along the streets with gaily wrapped packages, but we take more pride in other evidences of the Christmas spirit—evidences not altogether seasonal in character.

Like Marley's ghost we enter the homes and business places of Iowa City, and this is what we see: We see the close of another successful community chest drive. In this campaign some 2,500 donors have taken nearly $18,000 from their own pockets to be used in promoting the welfare and happiness of those less fortunate.

We see Iowa Citizens enrolling in the national Red Cross membership drive, taking their part in work prompted by both the Christmas and the Christian spirit. We see men and women—even school children—buying Christmas seals to aid in the great national fight against tuberculosis.

Up on the hill in the Children's hospital we see doctors, nurses and attendants snatching a few moments from clinics, test tubes and charts to conspire for the happiness of those in their care. We see individuals and groups giving generously of their time and money for the delight of those unfortunate.

We see—but what matter, these things cannot be hidden. They twinkle and gleam like the gay-colored lights over Iowa City's streets, and, seeing them, we cannot refrain from waving our editorial spoon and crying with Tiny Tim, "God bless us every one!"

The American Man Hates Perfume

A FEW years ago, some master of advertising evolved the idea of perfumes to match the personality, an inspiration still being exploited with great success. Mannikin paraded before the clients of smart stores while experts explained the affinity between each model and her chosen scent.

A later trick was the perfume bar, complete with brass rail, behind which a maestro mixed various ingredients experimentally until he finds one exactly suited to the customer—and how a woman loves the thought of a perfume which interprets herself alone!

"Perfume to match the personality," however, had its limitations, since it implied only one perfume for each woman. Hence the creation of "perfumes to match the mood."

forgery than to have it said of him that he uses perfume. Manufacturers have devised perfumes with all kinds of masculine overtones—the scent of leather, of mint and of new-mown hay. They have put these in severely masculine bottles and tried to associate them with the strong, silent man. But all to little purpose so far.

The only hope for the future seems to be that men do and will use perfume if it is disguised in soap, hair tonic or shaving lotion. We don't mind it. Do you?

Walk—And You Walk Alone

THIS AGE of perfected transportation has pushed walking back into the annals of history along with the handle-bar mustache and hoop skirt. Our parents and grandparents considered five miles merely a pleasant stroll—their modern sons and daughters must ride around the corner for a package of cigarettes.

The average college student feels mistreated if his parents turn a deaf ear to appeals for a car, any kind of a car. Why should young America be forced to walk to school? It's old-fashioned. The country child trudging two or three miles a day is now largely a thing of the past, belonging to the little red schoolhouse era eulogized by poets and gushing politicians.

Business and professional men ride to work, sit in over-heated offices, ride home again, and wish for the good old days when they could eat anything and everything without pills for dessert.

Historians tell us there was once a time when pedestrians were frightened by automobiles. With walking becoming so unusual we predict that, in the not too distant future, the only time the pedestrian will be frightened is when he meets another pedestrian.

Our Readers' VIEWPOINT

Letters must be signed and should not exceed 250 words. Opinions expressed by our readers do not necessarily reflect our views.

Editor, The Daily Iowan: At a meeting Wednesday night the Quadrangle association discussed the proposed activities ticket. It has been proposed that an inclusive semester fee be charged for University activities such as, "I" book, concerts, plays, lab deposits and fees, locker fees, Iowa Union activities, a week's hospitalization, Hawkeye photographs for juniors and a university publication for every student.

- 1. Do we want an activities ticket system? 2. How much do we want to pay per ticket? 3. How much can it be issued for and be economically sound? 4. Does a majority of the student body agree to this figure? 5. After this has been determined, does the University administration approve? 6. Submit to the State Board of Education for consideration.

This is the procedure which, we believe, will be fair to all concerned and which will give the truest picture of how the students feel about the plan. It will give every man and woman a chance to express his or her wishes on the ballot. Regardless of whether any individual or group is in favor of the plan or not, we urge that the opportunity to vote be used.

CARL GUSTAFSSON, MITCHELL MARCUS.

Editor, The Daily Iowan: This may seem like an attempt to toss a monkey-wrench into some admirable machinery.

Now I really think this proposed activity ticket is a fine idea. Fundamentally it will act to reduce the cost-per-student for admission to university functions by increasing the attendance. It is sort of a mass-production of the best sort.

But why must it subsidize and encourage military training? By paying the military fees now charged first and second year students, the activity ticket will act to make military training seem less objectionable by merely concealing the cost—and spreading it over four years.

Personally, I shall probably not be in school here next year. But if I were, I should object strenuously, on grounds of conscience, to being forced to subsidize military training for the freshmen.

Entire Body Functions Ruled By Action of Thyroid Gland

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. Yesterday I pointed out that excessive weight loss of the body is rapid, and increased intake of food, even to an excessive extent, does not result in replacement of the weight lost. Another thing that the thyroid undoubtedly helps to maintain is body temperature. All of our functions are carried on best at the exact level of 98.2 degrees F. Our functions do not operate well when we are chilled or when we have fever, and by many intricate processes the body maintains this exact temperature for its own efficiency.

Mussolini's son has written a book glorifying war. Judging by what some of the critics have had to say about it, the tome has already won this year's Piehlitzer prize.

Russia is about to have an election. The office optimist has been busy for over a month trying to find someone who will bet that Stalin won't get every one of the 100,000,000 votes cast.

The fighting in Spain seems to have quieted down for a spell. Maybe the boys are getting set for a big bombing attack, say about Christmas eve.

A Mickey Mouse film was banned from Yugoslavia by the royal censor. This helps to explain why some observers think there is no hope for progress in Europe.

Why The Change? This is rather peculiar. Traditionally official relations between the Argentines and Brazilians have been, not exactly unfriendly, but not overly cordial. Only as lately as a few months ago, when there was talk of the lease of half a dozen small obsolete Yankee warships to Brazil, Argentina resented the suggestion hotly.

Why so sudden a change in the Argentine attitude? It is nice to think of pleasanter terms between these two big Latin American countries, but not so nice to think of it as at the expense of an honest North American news correspondent.

I know John White very well. I believe him to be the best North American newspaperman south of Key West in this hemisphere. He has lived below the equator for 30 years. Many journalists, long away from home, lose touch with sentiment in the land of their origin. John White, somehow, remained a North American. At the same time, he has soaked up Latin American feeling. He speaks Spanish and Portuguese like a native. He has a Latin American wife and family. In short, he is a South American—and yet, a North American.

HOLLYWOOD—Twenty minutes of sound and fury entitled "The Hurricane" to a place among the important movies of film history. Until the fictional storm of Novelists Nordhoff and Hall is realized on the screen, "The Hurricane" is a fairly routine treatment of reliable cinema stuff that can be catalogued in the Island Idyll bracket. It is done with photographic beauty, generally good acting, and all the customary trappings of this type of film: innocent, happy, carefree natives cavort in sarongs and leis, eat mammoth banquets from nature's abundant hands, and swim and run and dance as a colorful background for the story of the native youth Terangi and his bride Marama.

The tale of Terangi, who loved freedom enough to accumulate a total of 16 years' jail sentence through repeated attempts to escape, has its quota of excitement, pathos and adventure, especially in the escape sequences. But the real money's worth in the picture is that 20 minutes of wind, rain, and tumultuous water which constitutes the screen's most realistic and terrifying depiction of the elements to date.

Aided by the furious moaning whine of the sound track, by the wild tempestuous music, and by a little imagination, you can share in the terror of the human beings who are washed and blown away with their pitiful houses by the "wind that overturns the world," and then you can marvel that there are survivors—Terangi and Marama among them.

The hurricane itself is so overwhelming that individual performances, even those of Raymond Massey as the duty-obsessed governor and Thomas Mitchell as convict Dr. Kersaint, do not stand out as they might in a less realistic film.

John Hall as Terangi exhibits promise, a handsome physique, and prowess as a swimmer and diver. His effectiveness in the prison sequences indicates a possible future, as actor as well as athlete. Dorothy Lamour makes a beautiful heroine, and C. Aubrey Smith brings ruggedness to the priest's role. Mary Astor is sympathetic as the governor's wife, a role not over-taxing her talents.

Washington World

By CHARLES F. STEWART WASHINGTON D. C.—When dictatorial-governed Brazil becomes so dominant in South America that a North American news correspondent is ordered out of the Argentine Republic because Brazil disapproves of him the Latin American Fascist trend begins to appear so obvious that one would think Uncle Sam really must start to do some worrying concerning it.

Recent dispatches relate that such an expulsion decree had been issued in the case of John W. White, chief South American representative of the New York Times, with headquarters in Buenos Aires, the Argentine capital.

It was not, it seems, that the Argentine authorities had any particular fault to find with him, so far as they themselves were concerned. But his news reports, appearing in the United States, were giving so much offense to the Rio de Janeiro (Brazil) dictatorship that Brazilian President Vargas told Argentina he would consider it "unfriendly" if the latter country continued to "harbor" him. Evidently Argentina preferred not to be so considered.

Why The Change? This is rather peculiar. Traditionally official relations between the Argentines and Brazilians have been, not exactly unfriendly, but not overly cordial. Only as lately as a few months ago, when there was talk of the lease of half a dozen small obsolete Yankee warships to Brazil, Argentina resented the suggestion hotly.

Why so sudden a change in the Argentine attitude? It is nice to think of pleasanter terms between these two big Latin American countries, but not so nice to think of it as at the expense of an honest North American news correspondent.

I know John White very well. I believe him to be the best North American newspaperman south of Key West in this hemisphere. He has lived below the equator for 30 years. Many journalists, long away from home, lose touch with sentiment in the land of their origin. John White, somehow, remained a North American. At the same time, he has soaked up Latin American feeling. He speaks Spanish and Portuguese like a native. He has a Latin American wife and family. In short, he is a South American—and yet, a North American.

Russians Topic Of Lecture By Prof. A. Miller

"In spite of many general inefficiencies the Russians under their present regime are making great progress in the development of their natural resources and their industries," Prof. A. K. Miller of the geology department declared in a Baconian lecture last night in Old Capitol.

Professor Miller spoke from his personal experiences in Russia this summer while attending the International Geological congress in Moscow.

Imbued with the ideal of communism, the Russian people feel that it is their duty to do their utmost to further it. They work industriously and though many of them are poor and ragged, they are happy and friendly. Although they received salaries commensurate with their ability they are required by the government to spend them.

Russian women have done a great deal to make this development possible, he asserted. They enjoy equal rights with the men, working side by side with them in all kinds of labor. However, they often weaken under the physical strain, showing their age early.

With better organization, the country is richer now than it was under the czars. Recent advances have been made in the oil industry and coal and potassium salts mining. Coal and oil yield is second only to that of the United States, Professor Miller declared.

Science and scientists are held in high esteem in Russia, and the federal government contributes greatly toward their work. "Due to the fact that much of their vast country, one-sixth of the total land area of the world, has never been scientifically prospected, geologists are able to get almost phenomenal results," Professor Miller said. They outnumber geologists in all other countries except the United States.

Illustrating his lecture with pictures he took while on field trips in the Ural mountains, Professor Miller showed the Permian outcrops of red sandstone and shale at the base of the Urals and the limestone reefs of the southern Urals, which were studied by the members of the congress. He also included pictures of the homes, wheat and oat fields of the peasants.

Professor Miller was able to bring back only 25 illustrations because picture taking in Russia is hazardous and government censorship is severe. Laws prohibit photographing of any industrial plants, bridges, airplanes or railroads. All films have to be developed before they are taken out of Russia.

Badgers Win Talkfest With Iowa Debaters

The University of Wisconsin women's debaters won the Western conference debate with the University of Iowa team last night in Schaeffer hall on the question, "Resolved that the United States should ally itself with Great Britain and France against Germany and Italy."

"Let us be sure that England and France are always right and justified in their actions and that Italy and Germany are always wrong, before we align ourselves with England and France," was the plea of Ruth Thompson, negative debater for the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Thompson and Betty Botz, her colleague, maintained that the European problems are none of our business and that alliances with foreign nations are against our traditional policy of no foreign entanglements.

The affirmative speakers, Mary Ellen Hennesy, Al of Council Bluffs, and Dorothea Pierce, A3 of Beaumont, Tex., contended that anything which involves the great democracies of the world would vitally affect the United States. We should ally ourselves with Great Britain and France to insure democracy for the world, the affirmative maintained.

"If we align ourselves with Great Britain and France, the aggressor nations will be forced to see the futility of conquest and agree to peaceable cooperation with the world," Miss Hennesy declared.

"If we make it known what our position now is in aligning with England and France to indicate what our future action may be, it would result in immediate war," Miss Thompson stated.

The constructive speeches were 12 minutes and the rebuttals five minutes. Prof. F. H. Knower, head of the foreign department of the University of Minnesota, awarded the decision to the negative for concentration of argument and speaking ability.

Zeta Phi Eta, women's speech organization, entertained the debaters after the debate. Dorothy Keyser, Al of Iowa City, and Dorothea Guenther, Al of Davenport, will represent the University of Iowa in a debate against the University of Illinois on the same subject tonight.

HAWKEYES DOWN CARLETON TWICE

Michigan Board Of Athletics 'Fires' Kipke

Coach Finishes Ninth Year As Grid Director

Alumni Dissatisfied By Minnesota and Ohio State Defeats

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 9 (AP)—The University of Michigan, one of football's strongholds since the turn of the century, was in the market for a new coach tonight.

Harry G. Kipke, onetime All-American pupil of Fielding H. Yost, was notified today by the university board in control of athletics that his contract would not be renewed when it expires June 3, 1938.

Kipke served as head coach at Michigan for nine years during which his teams won 46 games, lost 25 and tied four. In the last four years, his elevens have been unable to hit winning strides.

The board gave no indication as to Kipke's successor, merely announcing a committee had been selected to interview "qualified coaches" who might apply for the job.

Kipke Surprised
Kipke said the announcement was a distinct shock and he had not made plans for the future. He intimated he would consider several offers he had received to enter business.

"I was looking forward to a splendid season next year," he said, "with the help of the good freshman material we had last fall."

Dismissal of Kipke, who is president of the American Football Coaches association, marks the only change in the Western conference coaching lineup since the 1937 gridiron season ended.

Alumni Dissatisfied
Failure of recent Michigan elevens to cope with Minnesota and Ohio State successfully aroused alumni dissatisfaction. In the last five years, Minnesota ran up 139 points while holding Michigan to only six.

Kipke was a football, basketball and baseball star at Michigan in his playing days. He captained the 1923 football team. He served as assistant coach at the University of Missouri and at Michigan, and as head coach at Michigan State college before taking over the coaching reins here from Elton E. (Tad) Wieman in 1929.

Wins Title Twice
After an average season in 1929 in which his team won five and lost three, Kipke embarked on a winning streak that lasted until 1934. Michigan tied for the conference title in 1930 and 1931 and captured it outright the next two years.

Prior to the 1937 season, Kipke said his team should win four games. One point victories over Iowa, Illinois and Chicago and a one-touchdown win over Pennsylvania fulfilled his prediction.

Because of the .500 record, it had been felt in many quarters that Kipke would keep his job for at least another year.

Dorais Mentioned
Rumors as to the identity of Kipke's successor swept the Michigan campus immediately after the dismissal announcement. Prominently mentioned were Irwin Uteritz, former Michigan quarterback now backfield coach at University of California, and Charles E. (Gus) Dorais, coach at University of Detroit.

Rams Elect Co-Captains
NEW YORK (AP)—Fordham's football squad, departing from the usual custom of a single leader for the grid season, named Henry Jacanski, end, and Mike Kochek, guard as co-captains for the 1938 campaign.
Both are seniors, with two years of varsity play back of them.

Marians Play At Oxford Tonight

St. Mary's basketball team will leave Iowa City for Oxford tonight at approximately 6 o'clock, where a double-header is scheduled between the two schools. The first game will begin at 7 and the feature at 8.

Coach Suplee dismissed his first five early last night as a precaution against them getting too tired before the game. Before he let them go, however, he told them that he was not satisfied with the brand of ball that they displayed in nosing out U. High 23 to 21 Wednesday night.

The light workout which the first team took included ball handling and shooting, the two departments in which the Ramblers were weak Wednesday night. The reserves were sent through a rather lengthy scrimmage among themselves after the first five had been dismissed.

Collier's Announces All-American Team

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Clint Frank of Yale, Sam Chapman of California and Byron (Whizzer) White of Colorado, backfield trio, were the only unanimous choices for the All-American football eleven picked this year by Collier's magazine. No college had more than one representative on the team, which follows:
Ends, Andrew Bershak, North Carolina, and Jerome Holland, Cornell; tackles, Vic Markov, Washington, and Edmund Franco, Fordham; guards, Leroy Monks, Alabama, and Joseph Routh, Texas A. & M.; center, Carl C. Hinkle, Jr., Vanderbilt; quarterback, Clinton E. Frank, Yale; halfbacks, Marshall Goldberg, Pittsburgh, and Byron White, Colorado; fullback, Samuel Chapman, California.

Hawklets Play McKinley Five On Local Court

Iowa City high's cagers are favored to enter the win column in their second league start of the season against the McKinley team from Cedar Rapids on the local court tonight at 8 o'clock.

In a short drill last night Coach Francis Merten spent most of the time sharpening the basket eyes of his candidates. After a week of drill concentrated on basket shooting, the Little Hawk mentor will put a team on the floor that should be able to capitalize on a majority of its field goal attempts.

Putnam and Burger at Guards
Capt. Wayne Putnam and "Cabby" Burger are probable starters at the guard posts in the Cedar Rapids game. Putnam is a rangy man who turns in consistently good performances as a defensive standout while Burger is the scrappy sentinel of the Iowa City rear court and especially valuable under the basket.

Having recovered from an injured back to rejoin the squad only a week ago, Russell Hirt will add his dexterous ball handling and dribbling to the Little Hawk attack. Hirt will probably start at center.

Covert and Devine
Likely beginners at the forwards tonight are George Covert and George Devine. Both men are good shots and have displayed agility in floor work in early season games. Wheeler, Lemons, McGinnis and Rogers are also sure to see service in tonight's tussle.

Coach Herb Cormack's freshman-sophomore quintet will also go into action in its second league start of the season. The junior Hawklets now enjoy the benefits of much needed experience which they have gained in their four appearances to date.

Lilliek Pushing Laughlin
Virgil Parker, Bob King, Ted Lewis, Jack Laughlin and Merrel Goldberg will probably start for Coach Cormack's five. In practices this week Mark Lilliek has been pushing Laughlin for a first string berth and will probably be used in part of the game.

Last night the youngsters were working on the two styles of offense that will be used against zone and man-to-man defenses. The McKinley fresh-sops lost to Roosevelt last week but are expected to give the locals plenty of competition.

University Mat Meet Scheduled For Next Week

In order to keep the varsity wrestlers in trim up till Christmas vacation and to find any likely varsity material that has not been discovered in the university, Coach Mike Howard has arranged the annual all-university wrestling tournament for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The starting time will be 4:15 each day.

Any undergraduate student in the university is invited to enter and can do so by seeing Coach Howard either in his office at the fieldhouse or in the wrestling room above the swimming pool. Gold medals will be awarded to first place winners in each class and silver medals to second place winners.

Twenty-four men have entered to date. The deadline for entries is Monday at 2 p.m.

The entries, including some of last year's varsity and freshmen performers, are Bill Sherman and Bob McDowell, 118; John Cunick, Ed Lybbert, Phillip Millen and Howard Bailey, 126; Louis George, William Friedrich, Charles McMahon, and Cloyce Gray, 135; Kenneth Kingsbury, Wayne Hardin, Howard Krause, Fred Muhl, Hein Koters and Ed Shannen, 145.

In the 155 pound class are Leslie Boatman, Ralph Denny, and Clarence Kemp. George Smith is the lone entry in the 165 pound class. Carl Vergamini, John Day, Allan Williams, and Frank Murphy are registered in 175 pound class. The heavyweights are Wilbur Nead, Cloyce Campbell and Phil Strom.

The tournament will be conducted under the National Collegiate Athletic Association's rules with nine minute periods for each bout. Single eliminations will be used to determine the winners.

Carls Pull Up
With the score 13-5 against them midway in the first half the Carls went on a scoring spree and pulled to within one point of the Hawks but two baskets by Bratten and Lind's free throw pulled the Iowans again into the lead.

Iowa came back after the half-time rest period and managed to stretch their lead from 25 to 18 to 38 to 27 before the final gun sounded. Fred Hohenhorst was high point man for the Hawks during the first game with 11 points. Lockram led the Carleton cagers with 10 markers.

Suesens Stars
The second game, which saw the Iowa 'A' squad in action, was featured by the remarkable shooting of Stephens and Johnson and the splendid defensive game turned in by Kenny Suesens.

St. Pat's Tangles With Immaculate Conception Quint

St. Patrick's Shamrocks will play hosts to the cagers of Immaculate Conception Academy of Cedar Rapids here tonight at 6. Last week the Parlor City boys were taken into camp by Parnell and earlier in the season the Irish also were beaten by the Iowa county quint; therefore tonight's game should prove to be a real battle between the two well-balanced teams.

The Cedar Rapids aggregation has a real scoring threat in Bill Green, I-C captain, who tallied nearly half of his team's points in the Parnell encounter. Joe McGillicuddy, clever back-court veteran, is also expected to cause the Green and White plenty of trouble before the fracas is over.

Tonight will mark the first appearance of the southsider's in their home floor. Coach Ryan indicated that he will start lanky Paul Scannell at the center post. He will also have two capable reserves in this position.

Hod Love who recently returned to the Irish camp from a mild attack of influenza, is expected to start at one forward position, while Junior Bradley will handle the other. Bradley has yet to reach last year's form but he is expected to come through on the home court tonight.

Bernard (Pee-wee) Carleton and Hod Demery will handle the back-court assignment, with diminutive Don Black expected to see quite a little action also.

Stephens, Johnson And Suesens Star As Iowans Begin Season With 38-27 and 44-20 Victories

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

The Iowa Hawkeyes opened their 1937-38 basketball season in auspicious style last night as they rolled up a double victory over Carleton college in a twin bill, taking the first game, 38 to 27, and winning the second, 44 to 20.

Benny Stephens was the outstanding offensive player on the floor as he pushed in nine field goals and two free throws in the second game for a total of 20 points. Capt. Sam Johnson, running mate of Stephens at forward tallied 13 points to take the runner-up honors.

With three sophomores in the starting lineup, the Iowa reserves had a little difficulty in pulling away from the visitors but once they got under way they were never headed. Ely opened the game with a shot from far out on the court but Berry went in on a set up to tie the game. Free throws by Beneitone and Ely sent the Hawks ahead again and they continued to pull away from the northerners.

Carls Pull Up
With the score 13-5 against them midway in the first half the Carls went on a scoring spree and pulled to within one point of the Hawks but two baskets by Bratten and Lind's free throw pulled the Iowans again into the lead.

Drees Shows Up Well
The four veterans in the second game all played good ball for the season's first contest. Jack Drees was a thorn in the side of the northerners as he snared Carleton passes out of the air and grabbed most of the rebounds from the Iowa basket. Stephens and Johnson were hitting the basket from all angles and gave promise of a potent Iowa offense this year.

The second game, which saw the Iowa 'A' squad in action, was featured by the remarkable shooting of Stephens and Johnson and the splendid defensive game turned in by Kenny Suesens.

Neat Play
One of the smoothest plays of the evening aided the Iowans in this rally. Kenny Suesens dribbled far down the court and pulled three Carleton defensive men over to cover him. Just when it seemed that the veteran Nile Kinnick gave a good account of himself but seemed a little stiff from the recent gridiron campaign.

Coach Rollie Williams substituted freely during the last period and the play was a little looser than during the first half. Stephens accounted for six of the Hawkeye points as he broke under the basket three times for set-up shots.

Early-season raggedness was much in evidence during the game, especially in the first till. Hohenhorst and Lind gave promise of being candidates for first team positions, displaying nice floor games and nice ball handling.

Smith Lectures On Decorations

Speaker Stresses Use Of Simplicity In Table Setting

Prof. Lula E. Smith of the home economics department was the speaker at the University club kensington yesterday afternoon in the clubrooms in the Iowa Union. She talked on "Christmas Table Decorations."

"It is important to use the simple things at hand, such as evergreens, pine cones and attractive arrangements of fruit and vegetables in table decoration," Prof. Smith said. She discussed table setting as a problem of design and told about using the centerpiece to accent and unify the table. She also stressed the importance of harmonizing the table itself, dishes, silver, clothe and even the food. The last should be in keeping with the general theme of the dinner.

"It is much easier to secure materials for table decoration since cellophane paper and metal foil paper have been on the market," Prof. Smith stated.

Different arrangements of candies and the use of little Christmas figures made of plywood, metal or wood were also discussed.

HOSTESS HINTS

In former generations, and even now in Europe, housewives spent days and weeks in preparation for Christmas. There were traditional goodies of every description that were ready for the holiday tables days before the holiday guests arrived. But Christmas was not a one-day celebration in those days; it lasted for two weeks at least.

Our business world cannot take so much time to observe a holiday, nor can the housewife spend so much time preparing food in advance; nevertheless, all of us have a special spirit for Christmas and expect something special from it. Among our expectations is the anticipation of delicious food, for instance—

Devilled Spring Turkey With Ham

Singe, cut head and feet off a spring turkey of five pounds, slit open through back without separating, draw, pull out breast bone and cut away spinal bone. Envelop the turkey in a course towel, flatten with a cleaver, season with a teaspoonful of salt and half teaspoonful pepper and rub bird all over with a tablespoon of oil.

Arrange on a broiler, set slowly to broil for 10 minutes on each side, then remove. Spread with devilled butter on both sides, lightly roll in fresh bread crumbs, reset on broiler, broil for two minutes on each side again, remove and dress on a hot dish. Cut six very thin slices of Virginia ham, broil for two minutes on each side, place over turkey and serve.

Devilled Butter

Ingredients—half ounce butter, two teaspoons ground English mustard, one teaspoon of white wine vinegar, one teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoon of salt, half a teaspoon of cayenne pepper and one egg yolk. Mix thoroughly and use as required.

Road Numbers Change Today: 161 Now 218

The number of U.S. highway 161—known as the Iowa City-Cedar Rapids road—will be changed to U.S. highway 218 today, R. S. Mushrush, division maintenance engineer of the state highway commission, said last night.

Three crews of men from the Johnson county office of the commission will begin erecting "218" signs from Iowa City north toward Cedar Rapids and south towards Keokuk. They will erect the signs only in this country. Signs outside the county will be put up by other highway commission units.

Highway 218 ends at its junction with U.S. highway 30 approximately 19 miles west of Cedar Rapids. The markers of former U.S. highway 161 between Dubuque and Cedar Rapids will be changed to 151, Mushrush said.

U High Gives 'Wilde' Play Kuever Enacts Role Of 'Wicked Woman' In Humorous Comedy

BY PHYLIS GREEN

A delightful, humorous comedy was enacted last night when the special English class at University high school presented "Lady Windermere's Fan"—by Oscar Wilde.

The play, which was written toward the close of the 19th century, tells the story of Mrs. Erylne, a so-called "wicked woman," and Lady Windermere, the wife of a prominent Englishman.

Mary Carolyn Kuever excellently portrayed Mrs. Erylne, a clever scheming woman who turned heroine in the final act of the play. She was a woman with a past—a present—but rather an indefinite future.

Lady Windermere's part was duly taken by Dorothy Keppler. Miss Keppler, in portraying Lady Windermere, was a woman with Puritan ideas and was a leader in society. She was the kind, sweet adoring wife who suspected her husband of loving Mrs. Erylne.

Police Set Record; Find Stolen Car In Twenty Minutes

Twenty minutes from the time its theft was reported until the car was recovered was the record set by the Iowa City police last night.

Marshall O'Harra reported to police after the basketball game that his car had been stolen from the parking area at the fieldhouse.

Patrolmen James Ryan and Harlan Sprinkle began searching immediately for the missing car in the police patrol car. The O'Harra car was found, backed into the row of hedges west of the fieldhouse.

After an unsuccessful attempt to start the car, the patrolmen discovered the gas tank had been drained. O'Harra told Night Captain Arthur Schnoebelen that he had filled the tank just before attending the game.

DES MOINES (AP) — Nearly 350 persons, including motion picture executives from throughout the country last night helped A. H. Blank of Des Moines celebrate his twenty-fifth anniversary as a motion picture exhibitor.

"Local Incident"
SAN CRISTOBAL, Dominican Republic, (AP) — President Rafael Trujillo yesterday minimized as a "purely local incident" the trouble between his state and Haiti in which the Haitian president Wednesday said 8,000 of his countrymen were killed.

Lord Augustus Norton, supplied almost all of the comic element of the play—the Duchess of Berwick with her high-pitched voice and Lord Borwell with his amusing English profanity.

The play was fast-moving and entertaining in every way; and in spite of Prof. M. F. Carpenter's apologetic remarks before the play, the lighting, the costumes and scenery were all good.

Mah Jong Makes Exit As Japanese Pastime

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of Japanese mah jongg players have given up the game, for the duration of the China war.

On the ground that such amusement is not in keeping with the seriousness of the times, members of the Young Men's Association of Osaka, Kyoto and Tokyo recently passed a resolution condemning the game.

Santa Claus Overladen? Toy Industry Reaches Seven Year Peak With Playthings Valued at $225,000,000

By MARY E. PLUMMER
NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP) — Santa Claus is carrying a $225,000,000 pack of toys in the United States this Christmas — a seven year peak for the American toy industry.

The toy manufacturer's association, at its annual meeting today, announced the estimate, and said the 1937 load of Yule toys will top that of 1936 in volume by at least 5 per cent.

The toy pack this Christmas backs the country's neutrality policy. Less than one per cent of the playthings are miniatures of military equipment.

The G-man, the engineer, the cowboy cartoon celebrities and Hollywood stars have replaced soldiers, that toymakers said, as the nation's playroom heroes.

Parlor games based on crime solving, business, sports and chance outnumber battle strategy games 1,000 to 1.

Some of the toys include: An electric train that runs 100 miles an hour, and whistles to boot.

"Social climbing games" — a parlor sport that amuses children because they're "like real situations."

A dial telephone in television model. (It's done with mirrors.)

A road construction set complete with "men working" signs.

A fashionable doll that has 20 pairs of shoes and airplane luggage.

Even the classic baby rattle has been improved. It has a rubber head — so Junior can thump it and develop his muscles.

Considers Case
BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — A federal court jury of 12 men last night had under consideration the case of four men charged with conspiracy to extort money from four famous opera stars.

'I Once Played Fiddle With Jack Benny'

Prof. Kirk Porter Played in Same Orchestra with Radio Comedian

"I played fiddle with the Czar" might well be Prof. Kirk H. Porter's paraphrase of the popular melody — if he wanted to sing from the roof-tops.

For back in Waukegan, Ill., Professor Porter, a small boy of 14, played alto-violin in an orchestra. In that orchestra, Jack Benny, an ace radio comedian, made his debut as a public entertainer playing a violin.

"A mighty fine violinist he was, too," Professor Porter declared. "No, he didn't try to play 'The Bee' in those days, but he was the best violinist in that orchestra."

Can you visualize Jack Benny, the noisy, friendly and likeable character of the air as a retiring youngster? "Believe it or not," Professor Porter reflected, "Jack Benny was very quiet and retiring. He was the youngest in the group and small for his age, a slight little fellow."

"In spite of all the wisecracks he makes about being at the foot of his class," Professor Porter said, "Jack Benny was exceedingly bright and the most skillful in the group with his instrument. This little orchestra may have been the factor which gave Jack his start as he sat in the corner saving away on his little violin."

The superintendent of mails in Waukegan, William L. Farmer, organized the 20-piece orchestra, for the enjoyment of it, the first of its kind in Waukegan, but they did play for a few civic functions. It was a great pioneering job for what is being done in most of the schools today, Professor Porter asserted.

Although the stories of Jack Benny's early years are colored up a bit for radio, those comical references to his home surroundings have in them a considerable element of truth, Professor Porter said. "But the people of Waukegan feel very cordial to him and are proud of him. When he goes back, as he frequently does, he doesn't high-hat his home town and his home background," Professor Porter declared. "There is no affectation about him."

Professor Porter's family is still living in Waukegan, as they have for over 30 years. When they first settled there, it was larger than Chicago was then, 36 miles to the south down the lake shore.

Good Luck Salt Vanishes From Japan

TOKYO (AP) — War economy is abolishing an ancient custom, dear to the hearts of the Japanese. A small mound of salt usually stands in the doorway of Japanese public establishments, particularly restaurants. It signifies purity and is believed to prevent evil spirits from entering. It corresponds to the horse-shoe in America. But salt is expensive. So during the war, authorities are discouraging its use.

More Cold Weather Today Will Follow Yesterday's 2 Above

Iowa City's cold wave will continue today, municipal airport weathermen forecast last night. Temperatures here yesterday—in the wake of a bitter west wind—ranged from 2 degrees at 7 a.m. to 17 degrees at 2 p.m.

The strong wind has blown most of the snow that fell Tuesday night, from the city streets and sidewalks, but pedestrians and motorists were still warned against the slippery concrete.

Temperatures here yesterday were below 10 degrees until 10 a.m. and as high as 17 after then. It was 11 at 6 p.m.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLER

Denouncement

Robert Hutchins' virulent Sat-tempest denouncement of modern education is quite the talk about the campus. . . Many campusites remember Hutchins as the fellow who now recommends the humanistic approach in education but shunned such subjects in his own undergraduate days. . .

Hutchins it was too who quite endeared himself to many an Iowa citizen a few years back when here for a lecture by declaring he'd dismiss a professor for only two reasons—immorality and incompetence. . . "And I wouldn't bother about immorality unless it were public," he said.

A loud, personal hiss to those property owners who don't shovel their sidewalks, because I know a dozen collegians about who'd do the job for a song. . . Seems to me it's a part of being a citizen to take care of such things.

You'll be reading in the journals not many weeks hence the surprising story of a localite who's soon to leave for the east and a big job there as personal adviser to one close to the Roosevelt headquarters.

The star that I see Through the prong of a tree Is never so far As another star.

Whose nebulous girth Is a dot in the sky With nothing on earth To measure it by. —L.H.

Whisper There's a local whispering campaign now going on, I hear, regards the Roosevelt health. . . They're saying the "ulcerated" tooth the news sheets allege brought PDR back to Washington is only a cover-up for a more serious ailment.

The whole thing is slightly reminiscent of the G.O.P. propaganda preceding the 1932 election which shushed that Roosevelt wouldn't last a year after he was elected. . . I'm betting he'll out-live the ex-first man now dreaming away in California.

Nomination My own nomination for the best—and the nastiest—of the new season's books goes to James Cain's "Serenade." . . Those who remember his "The Postman Always Rings Twice" will find this newest a bombshell of frankness.

And a professor I know has no classes three days of any week end and spends those days in a nearby city working on a critical book that's to be issued in the spring.

Hint A campusite hints, by the by, that 1940 will not see Roosevelt out of politics. . . He suggests, as others have done, that the White House may sit in the senate next term.

Campus Candid: She comes from a small, intimate Iowa town where everyone talked about everyone else. . . She aspired to great things when she arrived on the campus last year and this summer, still a charming, naive youngster, achieved them. . . She was an instant hit! . . . When she returned to her small town, they hailed her as the world's ninth wonder—as some on the campus had erred in doing.

Now she's the picture of spoiled affection—and is headed for a quick down-fall in most estimations. . . I'm wishing some one would warn her.

And an orchid to the one professor—I'm sure he must exist—who is not giving an exam just before the holiday begins.

Imagination

I'm told Prof. W. F. Bristol of commerce received the shock of his life on a recent day. . . Standing in an oil station near here and waiting for a wrecker to pull his car out of the ditch, Bristol saw a young chap drive by in what he thought was his car.

But it wasn't his imagination because when the wrecker arrived from North Liberty, the garage man couldn't find Bristol's car in the ditch. . . The auto was gone with the breeze.

Service Frat Plans Ice Rink

Alpha Phi Omega To Clear Off Lagoon In City Park

An ice skating rink in the City park by tomorrow will be made possible through the members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity composed of Former Boy Scouts, and the city, Mayor Myron J. Walker and Scout Executive O. B. Thiel announced yesterday.

Some of the members of the fraternity, with an improvised snow plow, are expected to clear off the park lagoon tonight. Firemen will "flush" the ice when it becomes rough so that it will be smooth the next day. Floodlights may be erected to light the lagoon for night skating, Mayor Walker said.

Intermediary Druggist Serves You Before M.D. Arrives

"Your Druggist Links You and Your Doctor by Service" is the motto of the window display at the pharmacy-botany building this week.

On the right-hand side of the case is a slogan, "Our Motto is Accuracy and Cleanliness," and to prove this statement are samples of clean tubes, balance weights in a glass case and containers for the medicine.

"Call Your Druggist in an Emergency" is the theme of the left-hand side. Supplies such as tape, cotton and bandages are shown.

Pauline A. Levendall, P2 of Harlan, Lawrence F. Kinney, P2 of Ochevedan, and Van B. Saunders, P2 of Minot, N.D., are the students in charge of this display.

6th Basketball Team Formed

Boys Can Register At Recreation Center For Squads

The sixth of eight basketball teams in the Iowa City Recreation Center's older boys' league was formed yesterday, Eugene Trowbridge, director, said.

Boys between 14 and 18 years old who wish to play should register at the center, 121 Iowa avenue, Trowbridge announced. Two more teams will be organized Monday at 7 p.m.

Girls may still register for tap-dancing classes on Wednesdays and Fridays at 4 p.m. Frances Jones, A4 of Iowa City is the instructor.

An eight-team cage league for boys less than 14 years old will be organized at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Chief of Police Opens Two Coasting Hills on City Streets

Two of the four hills designated by Chief of Police W. H. Bender for coasting were opened yesterday afternoon with a guard on duty at each hill.

The chief said both Prentiss street from Dubuque street to Maiden Lane and Washington street from Muscatine avenue to Pearl street were in good condition for sliding.

The Brown street hill was not opened because the high wind yesterday blew the snow off the street and ashes placed on Benton street impaired sliding there, the chief added.

Barricades with signs in red and white warning the public that the street is closed for children to coast upon, are used by the guards at each hill. The barricades are in place and the guards on duty every day that coasting is possible from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m., the chief announced.
