House Begins Struggle Over Wage-Hour Bill

Opposition Will Attempt Delay Of Legislation

Republicans, Democrats From South Try To Defeat Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—A house split into sectional and economic blocs finally began consideration of the wage-hour bill, and the opposition frankly concentrated upon an effort to defeat the legislation by sending it back to committee.

The extent of its success obviously will be determined by the nature of the changes made in the bill when the time for offering amendments is reached tomorrow. If the measure can be made objectionable to certain voting groups, the opposition's chances will be greatly enhanced.

Opinions Expressed Statesmen Comment On Japan Sinking Of United States Boat

By The Associated Press

What they say about U. S. S. Panay sinking: President Roosevelt: "Deeply shocked and concerned" at "indiscriminate sinking." Japanese Foreign Minister Hirota: "I cannot possibly express how badly we feel about this." Japanese Ambassador Saito: "We would have had no reason to attack an American naval ship."

Japan's Profound Apologies

Officers Fear Gunboat Sinking May Nullify Friendly Efforts Toward U.S.

TOKYO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota today personally called at the American embassy and presented the Japanese government's "profoundest apologies" to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew for the sinking of the United States gunboat Panay.

As soon as news was received of the warplane attack on the American warship, acting as rescue vessel in the Chinese-Japanese war, high government officials hurried to a conference with members of the imperial headquarters at Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye's residence.

There was obvious dejection at the navy ministry as high ranking officers expressed fear their efforts to cultivate friendship with the United States had been nullified.

News of the bombing apparently stifled Tokyo's joy over the announced capture of Nanking. Lantern parades which had been scheduled were cancelled.

A brief version of the Panay sinking was broadcast shortly after nightfall and caused widespread dismay. Officials and private citizens anxiously asked their American acquaintances what the United States' attitude would be.

Earlier, publication of the story had been suppressed and the incident generally was unknown except for rumors on the stock exchange, where stocks reacted slightly.

While the student activity ticket is being considered by almost every group on the campus, A.F.I. senior men's honorary society, yesterday voted "in favor of the idea behind the movement" but went on record as opposed to the plan as it now stands.

Town Coeds, non-affiliated women's organization, last night turned down the proposal by a vote of 12 to 7, and Sigma Nu fraternity approved the measure.

"We believe that the idea of an activities ticket is a good one, that it would do much to help deserving activities and to promote school spirit," Jack Drees, president of A.F.I., said in a statement yesterday.

The Town Coed group opposed the plan on the grounds that the ticket is "too expensive and too inclusive."

The activity ticket will be considered by two other campus organizations today, the Women's Athletic Association and Gavel club, undergraduate speech organization. W.A.A. will meet at 4:15 this afternoon in the social room of the women's gymnasium.

A parliamentary discussion on the question will be conducted at a Gavel club dinner tonight at 7:30 in the north conference room of Iowa Union. Baker Waterman, A4 of Des Moines, will preside.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Dec. 13 (AP)—Nominations of candidates for Rhodes scholarships to enter Oxford university, England, under the will of Cecil Rhodes, will be made this week.

There are 590 candidates for the 32 scholarships. Each state group, at meetings across the nation Wednesday through Saturday, nominates two candidates to appear later before a district committee representing six states.

10 Americans And Foreigners Dead, Missing

Rescue Parties Search Banks of Yangtze For Victims

By The Associated Press SHANGHAI, Dec. 14 (Tuesday) (AP)—Ninety-one persons were reported dead or missing today after a grim 36-hour search for survivors of the four American vessels destroyed Sunday by Japanese airplanes.

One American seaman of the sunken gunboat Panay was dead. Fifteen of the 69 known survivors were wounded, at least one of them seriously.

Eight Americans and other foreigners aboard the Panay, Capt. C. H. Carlson of the cargo boat Meian and 81 Chinese of the crew of the Meian and two other Standard Oil company boats were unaccounted for. There was no indication any large number of the missing Chinese were dead.

Report Chinese Killed (A cable to the Socony-Vacuum corporation in New York from its China offices "expressed belief Capt. Carlson was killed.)

While Japan's highest officials in Shanghai, Tokyo and Washington accepted full responsibility and offered deepest apologies for the bombing, rescue parties from the British gunboat Bee combed the banks of the Yangtze river.

Although American authorities hoped for the best, the meager reports from the Bee, first mercy vessel to reach the scene, caused apprehension concerning the number possibly killed and drowned.

Japanese Watch Bombing The Bee radioed to the United States flag ship Augusta an account of the bombing which said Japanese troops lined the riverbank, 27 miles above Nanking, to watch Sunday's tragedy.

The Bee reported she had rescued 10 Americans, seven of them Panay seamen, three European officers of the Standard Oil boats and heard of two other persons safe ashore.

'BETTER DEAL' Hamilton To Select 100 Party Leaders

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton struck back sharply at his critics tonight as the republican executive committee tackled a "tough, three day job" of selecting a committee of 100 to inspire and increase the party's 17 million votes.

In a formal statement Hamilton dedicated himself to "the replacing of the new deal by a better deal."

Constable Releases Tramp, Life-Termer PALESTINE, Tex., Dec. 13 (AP)—Last week Constable Will Pagitt arrested a man for vagrancy, fingerprinted him, then released him.

Today the constable disconsolately reported he had learned the vagrant was Frank Urban, a life-termer escaped from a Pontiac, Ill., prison. There was a reward posted for his arrest.

Requiring 2 1-2 hours to transmit, it was the first complete newspaper page radioted from America to Europe, said officials of RCA communications, Inc.

Japs Declare Fall of Nanking; Chinese Deny Capture of City

Sinking Causes International Crises

The United States gunboat "Panay," carrying American embassy officials and refugees from Nanking, which was sunk in Chinese waters by an air bomb. It was reported that there were 54 survivors and that the names of "lost personnel" were not known.

Witnesses Say Panay Bombing Deliberate

HANKOW, China, Dec. 13 (AP)—Observers who witnessed the Japanese aerial attack on the United States gunboat Panay declared late tonight the bombing was unmistakably deliberate, precluding possibility of error.

Though the gunboat had American flags painted on her awnings and carried flags on every mast, observers said squadrons of Japanese planes bombed the Panay four successive times.

The British gunboat Bee, which rushed under forced draft to the scene of the incident, was in radio communication tonight with Hankow, present seat of the United States embassy.

Find 12 Survivors The Bee reported she had found twelve more survivors from the three Standard Oil company boats, bombed when the Panay was attacked, who were on the Yangtze river's south bank opposite Honsien.

American, British and other diplomats expressed bitter indignation at the attack on the Panay. Ambassador Nelson T. Johnston still lacked a complete and detailed list of American survivors.

Face Further Dangers The 54 Americans and three Italians who survived the Japanese attack on the Panay were facing further peril at Honsien, 29 miles up the Yangtze from Nanking where severe Chinese-Japanese fighting was in progress.

Japanese Make Pledges Japanese military officials promised they would try to prevent further fighting at Honsien until the stranded American survivors were evacuated from the danger zone.

England, U. S., Work Together On War Policy

LONDON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Great Britain and the United States worked in close concert tonight in the grave Far Eastern situation growing out of Japanese attacks on gunboats of both nations on the Yangtze river.

Members of the house of commons cheered Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's statement that British ships had fired on Japanese planes after they had been bombed and shelled.

Eden told commons the British ambassador to Tokyo had "made the strongest protests" to Japan for the shelling of the British gunboat Ladybird at Wuhu, up the Yangtze from Nanking.

Eden conferred with both Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Herschel V. Johnson, the United States charge d'affaires, before making his cautious statement to commons that the two Anglo-Saxon powers were "in consultation" on the serious international developments in Japan's undeclared war with China.

(In Washington President Roosevelt conveyed to the Emperor of Japan an expression of his deep concern over the Panay bombing.)

KILLING RACE Japanese Lieutenants Tie With 106

Invaders Claim Victory After Intense Fight

Army, Navy Cooperate In Attack from Air And Ground

SHANGHAI, Dec. 13 (Tuesday) (AP)—A Japanese communique announcing occupation of Nanking today hinted Japan's army would push on into the heart of beleaguered China. The Japanese gave no word of the 18 Americans still in China's abandoned capital.

The fall of Nanking, abandoned capital of China, was announced tonight by the Japanese military command.

Japanese officers said their troops had completed occupation of the shell torn city at sunset after bloody street fighting throughout the day.

Chinese sources, which said they still were in communication with the one time capital, denied it had fallen.

"Heavy fighting is going on in Nanking," they said. They also denied Japanese claims of the capture of Pukow, across the Yangtze river from Nanking.

"The Tientsin - Pukow rail terminal constitutes the only avenue of Chinese escape from Nanking," the Chinese said, "therefore, it is being defended strongly."

The official Japanese announcement said the fall of Nanking came after an intense attack in which the army in cooperation with naval fliers maintained relentless onslaughts from the ground and the air throughout the day.

The announcement said the Chinese defenders were driven (See NANKING, Page 6)

Truck Crashes Railroad Car; One Man Killed

One man was killed, and another injured when an automobile struck the small railroad motor car on which they were riding at a crossing one mile east of Kinross on highway 77 yesterday afternoon.

U. A. Bransfield of Des Moines was killed, and J. I. Buetlet of Davenport was injured.

The small railroad car was struck by a car driven by R. E. Burns of Des Moines, a drug salesman. The men were rushed to Keota, but Bransfield died before he arrived at the physician's office.

An inquest will be held at Keota today.

Pope Expresses Concern Over Present Wars

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 13 (AP)—Pope Pius today expressed his "grave anxieties" because of the wars in China and Spain at a secret consistory in which he created five new cardinals.

Following centuries-old ritual, the Pontiff opened the consistory by reading from the papal throne an allocution in which he asked God's assistance in his efforts to avert the perils of war.

"Looking toward the Far East," an official abstract of the 1500-word address said, "the Pope sees what great damages have been sustained there by the heralds of the gospel and by flourishing Christian communities; and what even greater damages may be feared for the future because of the upheavals which are the natural concomitants of armed conflict."

$500,000 Loss in Fire

Firemen Stage 8-Hour Battle Against Blaze

Plant Officials Ponder Future Plans For Razed Factory

The factory fire Sunday was the largest and most destructive fire in Iowa City during my 29 years of service on the fire department," Fire Chief J. J. Clark declared last night, commenting on the blaze which demolished the factory building of the National Hybrid Corn company Sunday afternoon.

The factory building — the largest plant of its kind in the world — was completely destroyed, as were nearly 50,000 bushels of corn stored in the huge structure. The entire loss to the company is expected to reach nearly a half-million dollars.

Chief Clark admitted that the fire was "the hottest I've ever fought." He stated that the nature of the building, which was of frame construction on the inside, without partitions to check the spread of the flames, was responsible for the intense inferno which at times forced spectators back more than 50 yards from the structure.

The fire was battled by 10 men of both shifts of city firemen and many volunteers for over eight hours.

Chief Clark said last night he did not believe any further investigation will be made concerning the origin of the fire. Investigations by company officials led to the belief that the fire may have started from an overheated stove in the watchman's quarters on the third floor at the northeast corner of the building.

No one was injured as the white hot brick walls crumpled to the ground although firemen fighting the blaze and spectators drawing too near the flaming structure narrowly escaped injury from falling bricks.

In spite of the intense heat, which melted snow for 300 yards around the building, firemen battled the flames in ice-covered clothes as a stinging north wind and low temperatures handicapped the work.

Firemen prevented the flames from spreading to near-by buildings, but the home of Wesley Hucle, nearest the flames, was damaged some from the intense heat. All the windows on the north and east side of the house were cracked and the paint blistered.

Only three lines of hose could be used in fighting the blaze — one was 1,000 feet long, the other two 600 feet in length. The great length of hoses resulted in a loss of water pressure from friction. Booster pumps on both trucks were in continuous operation in an attempt to increase the pressure.

The building itself was not adequately covered by insurance, but officials state that the stored hybrid corn and valuable equipment were insured more fully.

Company officials are uncertain whether to rebuild at an estimated cost of $100,000 or to discontinue operations in Iowa City. The destruction of the building has thrown 35 men off the company's payroll, but officials state that supply orders for corn will be filled at the other plants in Anamosa, Onslow and Center Junction.

Ray Baschnagel Appointed Head Of Farm Board

Ray J. Baschnagel, Iowa City realtor and secretary-treasurer of the Iowa City National Farm Loan association for the past nine years, was appointed yesterday to the position of director of the third district of the farm credit board of Omaha. He will serve a three-year term beginning Jan. 1.

Appointment as director of the federal land bank of Omaha, federal intermediate credit bank of Omaha, production credit corporation of Omaha and Omaha bank for cooperatives are also carried by the original appointment. The federal land bank district with headquarters at Omaha covers Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming, is the largest in the country and is the biggest lending institution of its kind in the world.

Directors of the board were elected by balloting of the 503 farm loan associations of the eighth district. Baschnagel received a majority of the votes cast.

He resides with his family at 1005 Muscatine avenue, and will maintain his office in Iowa City, although he will spend two days each month attending farm credit board meetings in Omaha.

Baschnagel has always lived in Iowa City and was graduated from the college of commerce in 1928.

Amendment Forbidding U.S. War Declaration Without National Approval Gains in Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP) — A constitutional amendment forbidding the United States to declare war unless the people approved in a national referendum gained additional supporters in congress today.

Three representatives signed a petition to force a house vote on the amendment. This brought the total number of signers to 208 — only 10 short of the figure necessary to make the petition effective.

Representative Ludlow (D-Ind.), author of the amendment, expressed belief bombing of the American gunboat Panay by Japanese airplanes was not responsible for the measure's progress, however.

Some legislators said privately they thought the incident might deter the movement to force a vote because members want to think a long time before backing a proposal requiring an election in time of national emergency.

Members of the house judiciary committee said Secretary Hull might testify at hearings on the amendment later this week. The bombing of the Panay developed sentiment both for and against joining other nations in severing trade with Japan.

Six peace organizations issued a statement urging the neutrality law be invoked and that American citizens and vessels be withdrawn from the war zone.

The six organizations are the national council for prevention of war, women's international league for peace and freedom, world peaceways, the fellowship of reconciliation, the emergency peace campaign and the public action committee.

'Japan Forced Our Hand,' Says Chinese Professor in Meeting

Round Table Discussion Undertakes Issues Of Conflict

National consciousness is not a new thing in China for whenever there is an onslaught it is always there, and it has been growing since the Japanese aggression, Prof. Tuan Sheng Chien of Peiping university, China, asserted in a round table discussion yesterday afternoon in the campus course library.

The two real issues in the present crisis are the clash between Chinese nationalism and expanding Japanese militarism, and conflict between Japanese militarism and restricting forces of a new world order, Professor Chien declared.

Professor Chien, who received a Ph.D. degree at Harvard university, left for Topeka Kan., last night. He was recently in Winnipeg, Canada, Grand Forks, Mich., and Minneapolis, Minn. Professor Chien spoke briefly to the campus course class yesterday morning and to a group at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Woods, 1100 N. Dubuque street, last night. He is a house guest at the Woods home.

"In the last six years since Japan occupied Manchukuo the Chinese have been taught to be more nationalistic, but they have been working to avoid a final clash with Japan. The Chinese government has continually given in, in the hope that war could be avoided. However, this time it was unavoidable for Japan forced our hand," Professor Chien declared. "China is depending very much on her ability to maintain her government. As long as she can do that, Japan will not have succeeded."

A new order has been gradually built up in the last century, in the Hague conference, the League of Nations and in the Nine Power treaty. This new order has been trying to solve the international problems by peaceful means but the Japanese have been encroaching upon that new order since 1931, Professor Chien declared.

China has made great progress in the last five years. It has built up aviation and its military forces out of nothing, put its currency on a sound basis and developed its communication and educational systems, Professor Chien said. It also has a more stable government in the Nanking government which has authority over the rest.

Nanking--

(Continued from page 1) northward through the city as the Japanese advanced from the southern and eastern sections. It said that the Chinese had bitterly contested every foot of the advance, but that the invaders had taken numerous government buildings which had housed machine-gun nests and snipers.

Japanese warships were reported steaming up the Yangtze and exchanging fire with Chinese batteries several miles below Nanking.

(The announced occupation of the city left in doubt the fate of the 16 Americans last reported inside its walls. There had been no direct word from within the city since 12:30 p.m. Saturday (10:30 a.m. Saturday CST).

The fall of the city came as the climax of a drive which started after the capture of Chapei by the Japanese Oct. 27. The Chinese then proclaimed that they had prepared defenses in the neighborhood of Soochow and other interior points which would hold up the Japanese inland march many months.

Chinese resistance, however, failed to stop the crushing Japanese offensive.

Japan's military policy in the near future remained undisclosed. The military was believed to want to continue the drive toward Hankow, but the conservative element of the Tokyo government was said to favor halting the conflict and giving China an opportunity to sue for peace.

Jury Selected To Hear $11,534 Damage Suit Brought Against City By Kansas City Company

The jury to hear the $11,534 damage suit brought against the city of Iowa City by the Burns and McDonald Engineering company of Kansas City, Mo., was drawn up in Johnson county district court yesterday afternoon.

The jurors selected to hear the suit growing out of an alleged broken contract entered into May 5, 1935, during the administration of the M. O. L. (Municipal Ownership League) council are: Addie P. Lechty, Clara Beal, Mae Huber and K. A. Deming, all of Iowa City; J. C. Fuhrmeister and Mabel N. Snavelly, both of Madison township; Rose Emanuel, Monroe township; Eldon Mineke, Washington township; Robert Fountain, Pleasant Valley township; F. W. Dvorsky, Big Grove township; Leonard G. Sifer, Cedar township, and Charles Swoboda, Jefferson township.

Attorney D. C. Nolan, representing the engineering company, opened the hearing before Judge Harold D. Evans. He pointed out that the engineering company was contracted to draw up plans and designs for a proposed municipal light plant. This contract was not carried out by the city council which came into office last spring, the plaintiffs maintain. The present administration, known as the C. N. P. (Citizens' Non-partisan league) abolished the plan for a municipal light plant in a council meeting last August.

Attorneys Kenneth M. Dunlop is also an attorney for the plaintiffs. City Attorney Robert Larson and Attorney Will J. Hayek, who opened the arguments for the city, are the defense counsels. Attorney Dan Dutcher has entered the case as an intervening taxpayer on the side of the defendant.

Grover C. Watson, city clerk, was the only witness called yesterday. He stated to the court that the minutes for the council meeting of May 3, 1935, include a resolution and discussion of the proposed contract with the engineering company which was drawn up two days later. Judge Evans reserved ruling on the contract and resolution of the M. O. L. council until later in the case.

Give Yourself a Break When You Get That Portrait Taken for Xmas Gifts

A heart or two may skip a beat if you send a photograph for Christmas, providing it is a good one. Nothing is more welcome than a good picture, nothing more disappointing than a poor one.

Whether it is a candid camera shot or a portrait made in the finest studio in town, it must show you at your loveliest. Whenever it is, concentrate on being beautiful until after the bulb flashes.

Experiment With Makeup
Special makeup can do wonders for you if it is properly applied. It will eliminate the necessity of too much retouching which often makes a picture look artificial.

If there is no studio nearby to help you, buy the essentials at a cosmetic counter and do a bit of experimenting yourself. If your skin is rough, foundation cream will leave it smooth as silk.

Eyes are especially important in a picture. If yours are lacking in depth and brilliance, use a bit of professional shadow and a stage pencil to outline them. If your lips are too thin put on more shapely ones. It's done with a lip brush.

Cameras have a tendency to make a long face look very long and a slender one far too bony. Camera makeup can tone down these defects like magic—it's all a matter of highlights and shadows, of using colors which the lens catches or subdues.

This makeup cannot be worn on the street but in experimenting with it, you will learn many new things about your own face.

Have your hair neither freshly cut nor waved the day that the picture is to be taken. The object is to look natural, not like a college freshman or a beauty parlor addict.

Brush your hair until it shines and apply a bit of brilliantine. If you do have it dressed, wear it in the most becoming, casual style and not in a fad that will soon make your picture look like grandma's.

Now you are at the studio and looking lovely. Forget that a picture is being taken. If the photographer says to smile, think of something pleasant and do so. If it's a laugh he wants, remember the funniest joke you ever heard: And if to look soulful will become you, start building dream castles. His picture will be done before yours is well started.

Census Used To Test Registration

John D. Biggers, administrator of the unemployment census, said the results of the test enumeration made in the country will be compared with those obtained over the same routes in voluntary registration.

Remember The Maine?

THAT BOMBING was a "serious" incident in the Yangtze river Sunday. Everyone — nations and individuals alike — seems well agreed on that. As to the degree of seriousness however, and as to what should be done about it, there is some disagreement.

Not so many years ago the deliberate bombing of a neutral nation's gunboat by a warring country would probably have meant immediate steps toward the neutral country's entry into war. In fact, in 1898, a very similar incident did mean exactly that. The war which ensued was probably the most foolish and quite the most useless our country has ever fought.

Today, incidentally, historians aren't quite so sure that the blowing up of the Maine was done by Spain at all. It may, they say, have been engineered by some disgruntled American sailors. The historians are certain, moreover, that the Spanish government knew nothing of the incident before it occurred. They are also certain that the entire war fever, the cry of "Remember the Maine" was merely the well-planned propaganda of a capitalistic newspaper publisher.

So we in America, most of us, are not being so hot-headed about Sunday's "intentional" bombing of our gunboat, the Panay. Most of us have learned our lesson. Unfortunately, however, there are some among us who haven't. Even in Iowa City we heard vague talk on the streets yesterday about what "ought to be done." Evidently those making the statements have an idea that we ought to repeat the unsuccessful experiment of 1898.

We disagree. One American sailor was killed Sunday; several were injured, including two officers. Later reports may reveal more deaths and more injuries. Of that we cannot say. We can say that we deeply regret the entire affair, and we send our sympathy to the relatives of those wounded and the one killed. There we stop.

We do not believe anyone could expect much more. In the first place, the men injured and the sailor killed did not go into the war zone unprepared. They surely must have known there would be danger. What happened was almost bound to occur in a district as war mad as the Yangtze river territory.

So we are not too alarmed about the Yangtze bombing. We certainly do not want to go to war over it; we do not want to send more ships there to show we are angry about Sunday's bombing. In fact we believe it might be wise to withdraw those ships of ours already on the spot. As for the three Standard Oil boats sunk, we would do nothing at all. That is the business of the Standard Oil company. That organization can do as it wishes; it is no concern of ours or our government.

President Roosevelt last night demanded from the emperor of Japan full compensation, apology, and guarantees against this repetition. From the expressions of regret from her officials, we believe Japan is willing to give those. Granting that, we are willing to forget the entire "incident." We trust our government will feel likewise principally because it, as we must also "Remember the Maine."

Let the People Decide

Representative Ludlow of Indiana recently presented a bill in congress providing for a constitutional amendment to forbid a declaration of war unless approved by a national referendum.

We believe this is a step in the right direction. As the constitution now stands, congress has the sole power to declare war but in the final analysis the rank and file of the people have to fight. Why not let them decide the issue?

During the last war it was the great mass of people who carried the brunt of the fighting, suffering and privation. Congressmen who declared that war didn't move out of their plush covered seats in Washington. Powerful industrialists, who no doubt influence many congressmen, reaped huge fortunes while America's masses struggled in the trenches or worked tirelessly at home for the boys "over there."

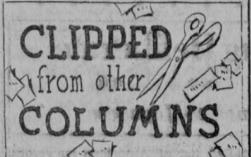

That war is over, but not paid for by any means, and now with our population still struggling under its terrific financial burdens we are constantly being reminded that another war may be in store for us.

Why shouldn't the people decide if they want to fight, suffer and perhaps die in this "next war"? We believe such a proposal would lessen the possibilities of an imperialistic war, sugar-coated with allusions to humanitarianism, democracy and culture, which can be profitable to only the few and which would mean dire disaster to the great mass of the American people.

A child's first disappointment is when he learns his chance to become president, while as good as anyone's, is still just one out of 127,000,000.

Women, according to a department store executive, purchase 85 per cent of all male attire sold. Judging by the look of neckties we see on the street, that sounds like a too modest estimate.

The loudest noise ever heard was the explosion of the volcano Krakatoa in 1883. But good old congress has been in there fighting to beat the record ever since.

SOPHISMS OF TYRANNY

The sophists of tyranny in all lands and ages are alike. They are quite simple. Too simple, one would think to deceive aught but fools. Apologists for tyrants resort to one of two intellectual tricks. They set up either false identities or false distinctions.

Let's see how it works. Hitler's defenders point to his election in a dragoned plebiscite as evidence that nazism is a more genuinely popular form of government than democracy. Stalin's friends now tell us that the fact there was only one party in Russia's recent "election" is merely a consequence of the solidarity of Russia, a proof that the Russian brand of "democracy" is the only genuine article.

Both are cases of counterfeit identity. Over here the would-be totalitarians resort more often to counterfeit distinctions. For instance, the National Labor Relations board, through its attorney, says the question of freedom of the press is not involved in the subpoena directed against Editor Hartley W. Barclay of the trade magazine Mill and Factory. The reason? Why, here it is: "The issue is whether or not the article was the creation of the Weirton Steel company directly or indirectly, whether or not it was created for the purpose of interfering with the rights of those employees, contrary to the Wagner act."

Patently a counterfeit distinction! The issue would still be freedom of the press, and also the right of every American to freedom of speech, no matter who inspired it, which is not even an issue.

What difference would it make whether the Panchen Lama of Tibet, the Sultan of Morocco or even Ernest Weir himself, inspired the article, wrote it or paid for its publication? Editor Barclay would still have the right to print it, publish it and distribute it, if the federal constitution is worth the paper it is printed on.

More than that, the employees of the Weirton Steel company have the same right to read the article that the editor had to publish it. Freedom of the press means also the right to read. The liberty of Mr. Weir's employees has been attacked by the National Labor Relations board just as certainly as infringement is sought of the liberty of Editor Barclay.

The insinuation that any American is deprived of any right by being given the opportunity to read an argument on any question is evidence of the mendacious depths to which Wagner act sophistry has descended.

It is also admission that, in the eyes of NLRB and its henchmen, American workmen are either children or morons, not to be allowed to read naughty news about their own affairs.

INAUGURATING THE COASTING SEASON

Tongue Condition May Show State of All Digestive Organs

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

In the old days, nearly the first thing the doctor did after hearing a patient's story was to say, "Let me see your tongue." Of late years, less and less stress is put on this, because there are better ways of finding out the functional state of the stomach and bowels and nutritional diseases in which the tongue is changed. Perhaps, however, there will be a revival in the practice of tongue examination because we are urged by several prominent men to pay more attention to it.

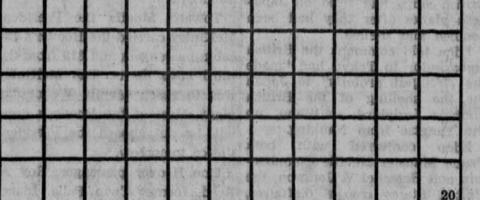

Often a physician will simply look at the tongue and immediately forget what he has seen, or else make no mental notation of its significance. The Chinese have two words that mean "look"; one is simply "to look at" and the other is "to look at and see" both. It is the look-see habit that is valuable in diagnosis.

"Raw red tongue, raw red gut" was an old saying. The white tongue was looked on as a sure sign that the stomach was out of order and that a dose of calomel was needed. This, however, is not believed any more, and it is known that many persons have a coated tongue in health, especially smokers.

The furred tongue is simply due to thickened epithelium covering the papillae of the tongue, plus some bacteria. The condition has been described as occurring in several stages: first, the dotted tongue; second, the coated or loaded tongue; third, the white strawberry tongue; next the furry or shaggy tongue, and, last, the dry, brown, crusted tongue.

Pigmentation of the tongue is an uncommon abnormality, but in certain cases of Addison's disease, the tongue may be covered with black patches.

HOLLYWOOD — Unreel parade: One of the beauties of the movie Christmas is the seasonal production slump which already has resulted in lay-offs at some of the plants. Here where sentimental tears are shed at the slightest provocation (if properly dramatized), a pink slip reading "until further notice" cheers many a workman's outlook on the glad season.

The Give-Me-Tovarich club split 50-50 on attending the preview. They say Garbo, who wanted Metro to buy the play for her and was huffed when she lost it, was present although this witness saw her not. But Kay Francis, who sued Warner Bros. for giving it to Claudette Colbert, was otherwise occupied.

Bentley Sizes Up Hollywood: The generality that Hollywood talks of nothing but pictures is false, if for no other reason than that half the time Hollywood talks of radio. The world, sweetheart, is waiting for a sponsor.

Today's quotation, from Master Robert Bentley, the one-man movie: "There's one thing about Hollywood that stymies the Broadwayite on his first visit. He finds himself lionized, made over and promptly forgotten. There are too many celebrities to go around. Everybody has just made a million dollars or a hit picture. Or lost a fortune. Either way he's famous. After your first week here, you think you've forgotten some article of apparel when a stranger looks at you twice."

The Nottingham castle set for "Robin Hood's" adventures in technicolor calls superlatives to arms, spreading as it does over a vast sound stage and occupied by hordes of banqueters. The mountains of food are mostly real, including the whole beef roasting on the spit and varnished at intervals to bring out its camera flavor. The amazing thing is that the huge grey "stones" are merely painted composition board, the heavy wooden doors so light that a two-year-old could open them easily — so light, moreover, that they had to add an artificial squeak to make them sound heavy!

Each student in the graduate college who expects to receive the master's degree, or the doctorate, at the forthcoming Convocation, Feb. 1, 1938, is requested, so far as he or she may not have done so heretofore, to procure for us, immediately, the official transcript of whatever graduate work he may have accomplished in another graduate school; so that this may be taken into the account in determining whether he or she fulfills the requirements for the higher degree sought.

This should be done immediately since, otherwise, it is possible that we shall be unable to certify for graduation next February, a student who may have accomplished satisfactory graduate work elsewhere, just because we shall not have received the requisite official statement of it early enough.

The University of Alabama football team has been picked for the fifth time to play in the Rose Bowl game. If this keeps up it won't be long before all our movies will have southern accents.

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It being the final spasm of the old year, your prognosticator takes a hitch in his swami robes, and makes these predictions for 1938:

At least one drama critic will have his face slapped by an irate actress resentful of his unkind criticisms. The governor of California will free Tom Mooney. Japan will carve out another chunk of Asia and thereby create another Era of Peace. Sinclair Lewis will write a novel declaring he doesn't know whether it can happen here or not. All the DuPonts will go over to the New Deal.

The N.Y. traffic department will try out a new system of lights on Fifth avenue before discarding it, as usual. Ethel Barrymore will retire gracefully from the stage and then come bounding back in a new play. Spain will return Alfonso to the throne and Ernest Hemingway will immediately become persona non grata west of the Pyrenees. Zion City will legalize cigaret smoking. Max Schmeling will regain the heavyweight title.

Gone With The Wind: Your swine-skin seer further makes known that Alabama will defeat California in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. Hollywood will actually start making "Gone With the Wind" into a motion picture, but the fellow who plays Rhett Butler will be somebody nobody ever heard of. Finally they'll decide the book is too complicated and revert to the old formula of Northern Boy meets Southern Girl. Northern Boy will win Southern Girl but the South will win the war, unless, of course, the scenario writers are carpetbaggers and sealaguers.

Windsors: The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will visit the United States and all the press agents will promptly go into mourning—with that couple in town, there won't be room in the papers for the daily blubs. Carl Hubble will win more games in the National league than anybody else, but what'll happen when he faces the Yankees is a distressing subject.

The war lords of Europe have just given the world a Christmas present by indicating they won't start any trouble — right away.

London has just experienced the worst fog in its history. Judging by the present diplomatic situation it must have spread all over Europe.

When television finally does come it will be the smart politician who will have his radio speeches "ghost read" for him—having, say, Clark Gable or Tyrone Power do his stuff for him.

University of Iowa Swimmers Leave for Florida Saturday

Hawkeye Men To Appear In National Forum

Mermen To Participate In Demonstrations Before Coaches

Coach David Armbruster and 15 University of Iowa swimmers will leave Saturday for sunny Florida via automobile. All of the Christmas vacation will not be spent basking on the warm Florida sands during the day and lolling 'neath the whispering palm trees at night, as the squad will have work to do.

The Hawkeye mermen will appear in the national swimming forum in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and they will participate in demonstrations at the meetings of the American College Swimming Coaches' association besides competing in an East-West dual meet.

Swimmers from Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois and Ohio State will be among the Big Ten competitors.

The following men, named by Coach Armbruster, have started packing their grips for Saturday's departure: Robert Allen, Chicago, Ill.; Albert Armbruster, Kansas City, Kan.; Robert Christians, Chicago, Ill.; Arnold Christen, Hammond, Ind.; Robert Clarke, Tulsa, Okla.; Bandford Cochrane, Chicago, Ill.; Francis Heydt, Wichita, Kan.; Jack Ryan, Gloversville, N. Y.; Ed Ryan, Clinton; John Sprout, Iowa City; John Stark, Cedar Rapids; Robert Sweitzer, Cedar Rapids; Al Tennes, Davenport; Ray Walters, Rockford, Ill.; and Melvin Witt, Williamsburg.

Capt. Bob Christians said late last night that the condition of eight members of the Iowa squad reported ill with "glandular fever" yesterday afternoon, was not serious enough to keep them from making the southern trip this week end.

12 New Members Initiated Sunday In Dolphin Club

More than 50 persons watched the initiation of 12 sophomores of the Iowa swimming squad into Dolphin Club at its annual banquet held at Youde's Inn Sunday evening.

The new members of the honorary swimming club are: Robert W. Sebastian, Chicago, Ill.; William Stipe, Clarinda; Edmond F. Gerber, St. Louis, Mo.; Edward Callahan, New York City; Ed Ryan, Clinton; George Brown, Chicago, Ill.; Charles Bremer, St. Louis, Mo.; James Ramsey, Burlington; Albert Armbruster, Kansas City, Kan.; Francis Heydt, Wichita, Kan.; Bandford Cochrane, Chicago, Ill.; and Harry Zweifel, of St. Louis, Mo.

Following the initiation, the banquet dinner was served, with Bob Lowry, president of the Dolphins, acting as toastmaster. The Queen and her attendants who presided at the recent Dolphin Show, were presented with felt shields by Lowry.

E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of athletics, spoke briefly on athletics at Iowa and Coach D. A. Armbruster discussed plans for the coming swimming season. Bob Christians, swimming captain Fred Beebe, intramural director and Elwin Shain, athletic manager, were called upon for short speeches.

Irving Weber, former Iowa swimmer, to whom this year's Dolphin Show was dedicated, recalled a few incidents about Iowa swimming. The committee in charge of the evenings program were: Victor Linnabom, Bob Reed and Gene Kershaw.

Johnny Revolva Sinks 20-Foot Putt To Win $10,000 Miami Biltmore Tourney

Winner Cards Score Of 282

Jimmy Thompson, Dick Metz Tie For 2nd With 283's

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Johnny Revolva of Evansville, Ill., sent a 20-foot putt curling into the cup on the final green today to win the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament with a 282, two under par for the 72 holes.

That long putt for a birdie gave Revolva the $2,500 top prize and averted a playoff with Jimmy Thompson of Shawnee, Pa., and Dick Metz of Chicago, who came out of a wild scramble down the home stretch with 283's. They split second and third-place money, each collecting $1,125.

All three, playing erratically in a breeze that permitted only three sub-par scores today, shot 73's on the final round, as did Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who finished with a 284 to win the $750 fourth money.

One Over Record

Revolva's 282 was one stroke over the tournament record set in 1935 by Horton Smith of Chicago. Smith's 72 today gave him 285 and $650. Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., E. J. Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., and Ed Dudley of Philadelphia tied at 287. Dudley had 71 while Harrison, until recently an amateur, shot a 74. Each of the three earned $450.

All of the pressure was on Revolva when he lined up his putt and sent the ball rolling across the green to drop into the cup while the crowd gasped, then roared congratulations. Thomson already had finished with his 283 and Metz, playing with Revolva, had put his approach putt next to the can to assure himself of the same figure.

Forgets Two-Iron

Revolva said the new 15-club limit, enforced in this tournament by agreement of the players, did not affect his score, although at least once today he wished for a two-iron he had left in his locker.

Johnny used only 11 clubs today, never touching his brassie, four iron or eight iron. He did, however, carry two sand-irons—and he found plenty of use for them. No less than four times he had to explode out of traps.

Once on the sixteenth—he wished for the No. 2 iron. He tried to squeeze down on a one-iron and sliced into a trap. Apparently disconcerted, he looked up on his next shot and wound up with a bogey five.

'Fighting Irish' Down Badgers In 33-31 Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 13 (AP)—A field goal by lanky Paul Nowak within 15 seconds of the final gun enabled Notre Dame to pull a thrilling contest out of the fire tonight and defeat a powerful Wisconsin net five, 33-31 before 4,000 fans. The Badgers, paced by Howard Powell and George Rooney, staged a great second half comeback to overtake the Irish.

At the outset the game looked like a rout with Notre Dame going out into a 10-2 lead. The Irish held a 20-13 lead at the half.

Just Missed

Reveals Hiding Place

PARIS (AP)—Eugene Weidmann, confessed expert in mass murder, yesterday told police where the body of his sixth victim was buried.

St. Pat's Meet Wilton Junct'n.

Fitzpatrick and Demery To Be Favorites In Tomorrow's Tilt

With one victory in three games behind them the St. Patrick's cagers will journey to Wilton Junction to take on Coach Lee Matthe's quintet tomorrow night. This game shapes up as a nip and tuck battle with either team bringing home the bacon.

Sunday afternoon the Irish took on an alumni outfit and met with considerable resistance in the early part of the scrimmage, but came back in the later stages of the session to score at will over the older aggregation that could not keep up with the fast pace. In this scrimmage Glen Fitzpatrick and Hod Demery were outstanding.

Fitzpatrick, who is improving rapidly, may find himself in the starting lineup of tomorrow's game. Demery, a fine defensive man who has a good eye for the basket, has been a mainstay for Coach Ryan in picking off rebounds and sinking his famed long shots.

The starting lineup will be: Bradley and Love at the forwards, Scannell or Fitzpatrick in the center post, and Demery paired with Carlton in the backcourt.

Rivermen Meet Tipton Tonight

Due to a conflict in schedules, the basketball game between University high and Tipton, formerly slated for Feb. 25, will be played tonight in U-high gym. This will be the first Little Eight conference game for the Bluehaws, while Tipton will be making its second appearance against loop competition.

In their first conference game last week end, Tipton lost to West Branch by a small margin. However, Tipton will be the favorite tonight as they were picked by pre-season dopsters to be one of the strongest teams in the conference along with West Branch because of the large number of returning varsity men in their lineup from their last year's team.

The Tipton team will have the advantage over the U-high team in experience as they have every regular performer from last year back, with the exception of Don Bahlmer who graduates this semester and is not out for basketball.

Bruce Alderman, reserve forward, was ordered by his physician not to report for practice yesterday following a nose bleed that lasted for some time. It was thought that he might have high blood pressure. It is not known yet whether he will be able to play tonight or not.

MAXIE HAPPY

Schmeling Wanted Workout—Got It

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Max Schmeling got what he came after and he is completely satisfied.

"Thomas didn't hurt me, but he was a hard fellow to hit. I found him harder to find than I did Louis. He is awkward and it takes some time to get next to his style. I didn't find myself until the fifth. I knew in that round that I would knock him out."

"My timing was very bad at the start," Max said, "I felt very strange in there."

Thomas predicted Schmeling will repeat his knockout of Louis when and if they meet next June. "I needed a stiff workout and I got it," said the Teuton after his eight round knockout of a game but outclassed Harry Thomas in Madison Square Garden tonight. "I'll take one of those rounds for each of the eight trips from Germany I have made since I beat Joe Louis last year."

Schmeling was breathing hard when he reached his dressing room more from pushing his way through the big crowd that jammed the aisles than from any exertion in the ring. He was beaming and genial. He stopped talking with newspapermen long enough to receive the congratulations of Dr. Hans Diekhoff, German ambassador to the United States and Dr. Hans Borchers, German consul general in New York.

"He is a sweet puncher, that fellow," said the battered Chicagoan. "He can fire that right hand of his at you like nobody's business. They hurt, too. I hit him, a number of good blows but most of them he took in stride. I don't believe he likes body punches any too well. I know I hurt him once."

Ted McLaughlin, Forward, Returns To Little Hawks

Coach Francis Merten's Little Hawk Basketball Squad Was Materially Bolstered Yesterday by the Return of Ted McLaughlin, Who Held Down a First String Forward Birth Before He Was Declared Ineligible Last Week, Has Ironed Out His Scholastic Difficulties and Will Rejoin the Red and White Roster at Least for the Remainder of This Semester.

Easing up after the Cedar Rapids victory of last week, Coach Merten sent his proteges through a light and varied workout last night in preparation for the invasion of the Dubuque cagers Friday night.

Special block plays have been prepared by Coach Merten for the Dubuque tilt. Dubuque uses a man-for-man defense, which necessitates use of the block for set shots. Several of the Hawklets are deadly shots from close range and, if the blocks are executed effectively, should provide the City high scoring department with an added threat.

School Board Files A Resolution On Selected Site

Twelve Iowa Citizens protesting the recent school election that designated the Morningside site as the location of the new $725,000 high school, must amend their notice of appeal before a date for hearing can be set, Frank J. Snider, county superintendent of schools, said last night.

The city school board's resolution confirming former action in deciding to locate the building on the Morningside site, was filed yesterday morning with Snider. It was adopted by the board Saturday night.

An amendment to the notice of appeal will be filed later this week, Attorney D. C. Nolan, who represents the protesting Iowa Citizens, said last night.

Retail stores in Iowa City will remain open tomorrow and Thursday nights to accommodate students wishing to do their Christmas shopping before leaving for the holidays, the retail trade division of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday.

Stores will be closed Friday evening but will be open every night until Christmas beginning Saturday. Most of the stores, with the exception of certain lines of retail business, will close at 6 p.m. Christmas eve.

2 Years Ago Cold as 1863 Old Timer Thinks Winters 'Way Back' No Worse Than Now

"Winters in the old days were not any more severe than they are now," asserts A. O. Ingram, 83, of Coralville. Ingram, who recalls the winters of Civil war days, has the opposite opinion of many old persons who claim that winters of "way back" were much more severe than winters now.

Ingram relates that "there was only one winter that seemed phenomenally severe. It was the winter of '63. The snow piled up over the fences, freezing so hard that it would support a team of horses and a heavy bobbed, he said.

However, the winter of '63 was "not any worse than the winter of two years ago," Ingram declared.

"Old persons who assume that the winters of their younger days were much colder and more stormy than winters now are just trying to convince us that they were able to stand the cold better than modern youth," Ingram maintains.

The winters of "back when" were seasons of enjoyable sports, according to Ingram. "I can't forget how we used to make our own sleds and, unable to guide them, ran into trees and bushes on the sides of the hills," he recalled.

Spelling matches, taffy pullings, popcorn parties, oyster suppers and quilting parties were the winter pastimes of Ingram's youth. "When we decided to have a taffy pulling we would hitch horses to a large bobbed and go from house to house gathering the boys and girls. When the sled was filled with young persons it was time to stop and have our party," Ingram recalls.

Quilting parties where women would gather and piece quilts while their husbands sat in another room and talked were also common in the old days, "and the temperature outside was never any lower than winter temperatures we have now," he added.

Keep Walks Clean Says Bender: Many Complaints Received

"Iowa Citizens are very lax about removing the snow from the sidewalks after a storm," Chief of Police W. H. Bender stated yesterday after several complaints had been made to police about the condition of the walks.

Chief Bender has instructed his men to report any properties on which the walks had not been cleared of ice and snow. If a walk is reported, men from the street commissioner's office will remove the snow, and the expenses will be assessed to the property, the chief said.

"Not only does the city ordinance require removal of the snow and ice within 10 hours after it falls, but it also provides that any person from whose walks the snow is removed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of $1 to $100," the chief warned.

Delinquent Tax Property Sold

Twenty-one pieces of delinquent tax property were sold for approximately one thousand dollars at the second delinquent tax sale yesterday at the county treasurer's office. Six bidders were at the sale.

At the first tax sale held a week ago 105 pieces of property were sold; a third will be held Monday in accordance with the state law making it mandatory for continuance of sales as long as bidders appear.

The remainder of the scavenger property list not purchased by bidders at last Monday's sale must be purchased by the county as soon as delinquent tax sales are over, County Treasurer W. E. Smith said.

AROUND THE TOWN with MERLE MILLER

"Peace on Earth" (Being an Account of Christmas Cheer in Chicago)

CHICAGO, Ill., (Special) — There's a definitely disheartening air about Christmas in a big city... The stores are filled with the Christmas spirit — and yet there's something lacking...

The toylands downtown are at times nearly deserted... Chicago mothers are taking no chances on the mysterious malady that's whiffed out the lives of a near dozen Chicago babies — coming, as it does, on the heels of the infantile paralysis epidemic...

And the loop streets are nearly barren of the usual Salvation army santas... Too many schemsters, it appears, were donning the proverbial uniform for private profit...

In one large department store last week half a dozen housewives were slightly hurt in a bargain-hunting crush — all of which, a newspaper friend relates, went unmentioned in the press...

Pessimist

And the business men are pessimistic... Business is good now, they say, but after the holiday, "who knows?" The loop theaters too are dark, many of them... Where a decade ago 15 to 20 legitimate shows would be running in December, now there are four — minus the federal theater projects...

It's whispered as well that one of the larger Balaban and Katz cinema houses may darken after the holidays... And labor trouble there is always with us... The C.I.O. headquarters, in a smart downtown office building, has a constant stream of ragged men and women marching in and out... The threat is that two of the department store employees are threatening trouble — unless higher wages during the rush weeks, this also a hint from the newspaper friend...

Warning

And on front of one of the LaSalle street haberdasheries a burly man with a sign demanding "Fairness at Manky's" stops each prospective customer with an, "I wouldn't go in there if I were you"... And few do...

These, then, on the debit side...

On the other hand, I observed last night the floor show at the Hotel Sherman's swanky-swank College Inn, a spot where only a cheapskate like myself can escape

Postmaster Announces Rules Concerning Christmas Mail

Postage stamps for the holiday mail will be sold at five windows at the Iowa City post office until Christmas, and Iowa Citizens are urged to buy their stamps now and avoid a stampede in the closing days of Christmas mailing, Postmaster Walter J. Barrow said yesterday. Four windows will be used to handle parcel post mail, he said.

Christmas cards containing nothing more than a greeting and left unsealed may be mailed any place in the world for one and one-half cents. If envelopes are sealed, postage is two cents within the city and three cents outside. Liquor sent through the mail will be confiscated.

Postmaster Barrow cautioned against sending messages in parcel post mail. If this is done, it is necessary to charge at first class rates. If anyone wishes a package and letter to arrive at the same time he may attach the letter to the package, providing he has paid the three cent postage on the letter.

Any fragile or perishable material should be called to the attention of the postal employee, who will then rubber-stamp it properly. A return address as well as the complete address of the sender should be placed on the package. No package should exceed 100 inches in length and girth nor 70 pounds in weight.

The public is urged to make use of the special delivery and insurance services. For quick delivery the sender may pay a special handling fee, and the package will be sent swiftly as first-class matter. Valuables such as jewelry should be registered.

If parcels are intended for their destination before Dec. 24, they should be mailed according to the following schedule:
