300 American, British Women, Children, Balked in Endeavor To Escape War-Stricken Area

U. S. Embassy Ready To Move From Jap Advance

SHANGHAI, Dec. 21 (Thursday) (AP)—Three hundred American and British women and children attempting to flee war threats in central China today were turned back by a military boom obstructing passage down the Yangtze river.

British dispatches said the party was aboard the 3,426 ton British river steamer Woosung, preceded by the British gunboat Gat and followed by the British cruiser Capetown, which has been bottled in the upper Yangtze for months by the Chinese-Japanese war.

Hankow dispatches Sunday said the United States embassy was preparing for its own evacuation and that of 300 of its nationals from Hankow in view of the Japanese armies' advance up the Yangtze valley toward that provisional capital of China.

Hankow is about 60 miles by river from Shanghai and 400 miles above Nanking, the former capital, captured by the Japanese a week ago.

General Iwane Matsui, commanding Japanese forces in the Yangtze valley, announced the advance into the interior would be continued shortly unless the Chinese ceased all resistance.

Reports from South China said it was believed large Japanese army landing operations would be made soon at Bias bay, hitherto noted haunt of Chinese pirates just north of the British colony of Hongkong. Canton would be the objective of such a thrust, which was expected to increase materially the friction between Japan and Great Britain.

U. S. Reaffirms Protection Policy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—The United States government reaffirmed today a policy of maintaining protection for Americans in the Sino-Japanese war zone.

Answering a letter from Senator Smathers (D-N.J.), who favored withdrawal of American ships and citizens from the danger zone, Secretary of State Hull said the present "does not seem an opportune moment."

The secretary asserted the government long had expected to withdraw American ships and citizens from the far east, but only "when their appropriate function is no longer called for." "In a situation such as now prevails," he wrote Senator Smathers, "many of our nationals cannot suddenly disavow, or cut themselves off from the east, nor can the American government suddenly disavow its obligations and responsibilities."

State Officials Hand Rawlings Facsimile Files

DES MOINES, Dec. 21 (AP)—Woodbury County Attorney Maurice E. Rawlings was scheduled to return to Sioux City tonight with a brief case filled with photographic copies of federally collected evidence pertaining to alleged violations in Sioux City of the state liquor law.

The state liquor commission said it turned over the file of facsimiles, obtained from the federal alcohol administration to Rawlings here today.

Following the conference Rawlings issued a statement saying he would submit the evidence to the Woodbury county grand jury in January. Rawlings said a "hurried examination" of the evidence inclines him to the belief that "it does warrant the attention of, and further investigation by, my office."

WASHINGTON—Secretary Hull says time is not opportune to withdraw American Nationals and armed forces from China.

LONDON—British cabinet reported about to decide to send six capital ships to Orient because of Japanese threat to Hongkong and British interests.

MOSCOW—Soviet police head declared United States Pacific coast and Panama Canal swarmed with Japanese spies and American intelligence agents are active in Japan.

Soviet Charges Spies in U. S.

MOSCOW, Dec. 20 (AP)—The assistant chief of the Soviet's secret police today mentioned the United States and Japan in a statement that capitalist countries are sending agents to other countries for espionage, sabotage and spreading subversive propaganda.

M. P. Frinovsky, vice commissar of internal affairs, said: "America, particularly the Pacific coast and the Panama canal, is overrun with Japanese spies, and Japan in its turn appears to be an arena for American intelligence services."

His statement appeared in an article in Pravda, official communist newspaper, in which he discussed the execution of eight once high-ranking communists.

Leo M. Karakhan, former vice commissar of foreign affairs, and seven others were shot for crimes ranging from espionage to formation of rebel cells in Joseph Stalin's native Georgia, which has been "purged" intensively for several months.

Frinovsky said Karakhan "for many years had betrayed his country by selling to fascist intelligence services secrets of special government importance."

GRAVE CRISIS

British Replace Chinese Ambassador LONDON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Great Britain emphasized her grave view of the Far Eastern crisis tonight by naming a new ambassador to China to replace Sir Hugue Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, who was wounded last August when Japanese planes machine-gunned his automobile.

The foreign office announced Sir Archibald Kerr, veteran diplomat who has been ambassador to Baghdad since 1935, would take over the China post "as soon as possible."

The announcement said "recent events in the Far East" made it essential Britain should be represented in China "by a diplomat of ambassadorial rank and that arrangements to such an end should be made with the least possible delay."

President's Mother

WHITE PLAIN, N. Y., (AP)—A jury described by State Supreme Court Justice Mortimer Patterson as "generous" yesterday awarded a New Rochelle glove salesman $21,000 in his automobile injury suit against Mrs. James Roosevelt, the president's mother, and her chauffeur.

Court Outlaws Tapping Wires For Evidence

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Evidence secured by tapping wires is taboo in federal tribunals, the supreme court ruled today in a major decision that forced United States law enforcement agencies to reconsider their strategy.

In trying to ensnare persons suspected of crime, the government had been relying on a 1928 decision which, in effect, permitted wire tapping.

Since that time, however, congress passed the communications act of 1934. The supreme court, in today's 7 to 2 decision, declared this act outlaws such methods.

The department of justice had contended congress did not intend to prohibit wire tapping to obtain evidence, but Justice Roberts who read the majority opinion, insisted the law included federal officers "within its sweep."

The decision means four men convicted in New York of smuggling alcohol will receive new trials. They are Frank C. Nardone, Austin L. Callahan, Hugh Brown and Robert Gottfried. Nardone drew a three year sentence and the others one year and a day each. Evidence obtained by wire tapping was used in obtaining their conviction.

Fines End Case Of Memorial Day Riot

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 (AP)—Sixty-three small fines were entered in the records of felony court today as a quiet ending to the bloody Memorial day steel strike riot which cost 10 lives.

The fines were assessed against members of the crowd which clashed with police outside the gates of the Republic Steel Corp. plant in South Chicago.

Fifty-seven of the defendants, identified as steel employees, were fined one dollar and one dollar costs each.

'BAD MEN' Face Murder, Robbery Prosecution

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Dec. 20 (AP)—No longer the swaggering self-imagined prototypes of western "bad men," Harry Dwyer, 27, and Henry Lorenz, 22, were bound over without bail today for trial next month in district court on charges of murder and train robbery.

Sober-faced and frightened, they heard witnesses at a preliminary hearing, describe their Thanksgiving day attempt to stage a holdup of the "Apache," crack Southern Pacific flier, as it crossed the desert stretches of southern New Mexico.

The murder count has entered for the shooting of W. L. Smith, a railroad employe. They were charged with train robbery under an old territorial statute.

Both charges are punishable by death.

Jury Accuses Labor Leaders

Cleveland Group Says Four Unprincipled Racketeers

CLEVELAND, Dec. 20 (AP)—A grand jury today branded four Cleveland labor leaders "unprincipled racketeers" and charged them with "exacting tribute" by threatening to tie up construction work unless builders met demands totaling $4,800.

The jury urged the investigation continue and be "vigorously prosecuted until Cleveland is free of this menace." Safety Director Elliot Ness said the inquiry "is only beginning."

Conviction on today's indictments, brought under state extortion statutes, would bring sentences of one to 25 years for the defendants, all representatives of unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Housing Action Will Pass Soon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—The senate banking committee revised the administration's housing bill today and sent it to the senate for quick action.

Although the revised measure differs in four major respects from the version passed by the house Saturday, Democratic Leader Barkley forecast conferees of the two houses could adjust the differences in an hour's time.

Senate committeemen eliminated a provision to revive modernization and repair loans up to $2,500. This feature was retained in the house measure.

The senate committee extended possible amortization period on loans for small homes to 25 years. Members said this would reduce monthly payments of purchasers buying homes costing $6,000 or less.

Coroner Reports Murder, Suicide

FORT DODGE, Ia., Dec. 20 (AP)—Dr. J. Robert Forbes, Webster county coroner, reported that Aaron Decamp, 47, widower of Lehigh, Ia., shot and killed Mrs. Clifford Pigman, 29, mother of seven children, and then ended his own life.

The shooting occurred early today at the Pigman home near Evanston, Ia. Dr. Forbes said he had heard reports of "bad feeling" between Decamp and the Pigman family.

One of the Pigman children said Decamp came out of the woods, carrying a shotgun, soon after Mr. Pigman, a WPA worker, left home this morning.

Sino-Japanese War Rated as 1937's No. 1 News United Fascist Front, Business Recession and Roosevelt's Supreme Court Fight Next

By VOLTA TORREY News Review Editor of the AP Feature Service

If some Rip Van Winkle historian should say, "I've slept all this year—what happened?" you might tell him: First, Japan and China waged the worst war since the World War, fatal to Americans and British bystanders, and prompting America to reventure into peace parleying.

Second, fascist nations formed a united front, and on or near Spain the arms of five of the world's seven powers were used. Third, the earth was good to U. S. farmers, but the stock market broke and business receded, disturbing Washington. Fourth, Roosevelt lost a Supreme Court enlargement fight that split Democrats, but won some decisions and made Hugo Black a judge. Fifth, CIO, while battling AFL, went through the most violent steel strike in history, soon after whopper auto plant shutdowns.

Assuming Rip, the scholar, also to be a gentleman who buys "extras," you might continue: Sixth, the Hindenburg burned, but 63 persons got out alive. Seventh, a Texas school blast killed nearly 300 children. Eighth, fierce floods flushed down the Ohio and Mississippi. Ninth, a heart-tearing South Sea search for Amelia Earhart failed. And tenth (lest Rip think you are overemphasizing dismal developments), exploratory flights for new air services linking Europe and America were successful.

Undoubtedly Rip would ask about the Windsor wedding and George VI's coronation—the biggest 1937 stories anticipated in December, 1936, when Edward abdicated.

Personal Items

You might mention, too, the Windsors' failure to visit America, the Lindberghs' surprising return, the du Pont - Roosevelt nuptials, and the death of John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Mellon, Ogden Mills, Guglielmo Marconi, Ramsey MacDonald and Jean Harlow.

As a historian, moreover, Rip ought to hear about Russia's public - officials purge, French Premier Blum's fall, Baldwin's retirement and Britain's plan to split Palestine, Germany's church conflict, Britain's totalitarianism

Committee On Rhodes Award Names Smith

Son of Local Woman Wins Scholarship To Oxford

Courtney Smith, 21, son of Mrs. Sam Smith, 322 N. Clinton street, a senior at Harvard university, was one of the four young men awarded Rhodes scholarships, Alvin Waggoner of Phillips, S. D., chairman of the Rhodes selection committee, announced yesterday, according to the Associated Press.

Another Iowa candidate awarded a scholarship was Edward Weismiller, 22, a senior at Cornell college, Mt. Vernon. Although Weismiller was listed as an Iowa student by virtue of his attendance at Cornell, his home is in Appleton, Wis.

The other two successful Rhodes candidates of this district were Harry D. Flory, 20, Pawnee, Neb., a University of Nebraska student, and Gerald L. Brown, 22, Chamberlain, S. D., a student in the Yale university law school.

The Rhodes scholarship committee selected the four young men from 12 who were interviewed yesterday in Des Moines. They will receive $2,000 scholarships to Oxford university in England.

The six states from which the candidates came were Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and South Dakota.

Senators Dally With Speeches

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—The "address to the American people," drafted last week by a bipartisan group of senators, received acclaim of a half dozen members on the senate floor today.

While the senate committee waited for its banking committee to complete action on the administration housing bill, Senator Burke (D-Neb.) injected the subject into debate. He was questioned immediately as to the author or authors of the document, which urged thorough tax revision and other policies to hasten business recovery.

Senator Bailey (D-N.C.), among others, promptly claimed authorship and proceeded to read the statement. He added an argument that, unless prosperity were restored, the demand for a "collectivist" system would become overwhelming.

In general, it was a speech-making day at the capitol. Neither branch of congress had any specific business before it, so a dozen or more members seized the opportunity to deliver addresses long clamoring for utterance.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) urged adoption of his child labor amendment to the federal constitution. His proposal is a modification of the amendment long pending before the states.

Tokyo Children Die In War Film Fire

TOKYO, Dec. 21 (Tuesday) (AP)—Forty-eight children were dead or missing today after a Chinese war film caught fire and destroyed the village school of Tomita, Wakayama prefecture.

Twenty others were injured. The 300 children and 150 adults in the school auditorium were thrown into great confusion when the fire broke out.

NAZIS MOURN General Ludendorff Dead at 72

MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 20 (AP)—General Erich Ludendorff, considered the master mind of Germany's world war armies died today at the age of 72. He will be given a state funeral with highest military honors Wednesday in Munich's field marshals' hall, a shrine of nazi Germany. Tomorrow the body will lie in state in the flag hall of the general command of the seventh army corps.

The streets will be cloaked in black and silver for the funeral march from there to the field marshals' hall, where in November, 1923, Adolf Hitler, then almost unknown, and the general strode side by side in the nazis' abortive "march on Berlin."

It was understood that Hitler and Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg, reich war minister, would speak at the funeral.

Britain Building Ten Battleships Report Reveals

LONDON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Great Britain today was reported building or planning 10 new battleships to increase her number of capital ships to 25 in a new world race for naval supremacy.

The 1937 edition of Jane's fighting ships, the authoritative British yearbook on the world's navies, disclosed the race for sea power was limited only by the supply of men and materials.

Jane's disclosed Britain has 12 battleships and three battle cruisers in service, five battleships building and "rumor has it five more battleships will be provided for in the 1938 and 1939 estimates."

The first two of the five battleships now being built—the King George V and the Prince of Wales—were laid down Jan. 1, 1937. Of a revolutionary design, the 35,000-ton, $40,000,000 battleships were the first to be built by Britain since 1925.

In addition to the five 35,000-ton warships, Jane's said, the British program for 1937—the most important undertaken since the war ended—included two aircraft carriers, seven cruisers, 16 destroyers and many other craft.

Loyalists Drive Insurgents Out

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, Dec. 20 (AP)—Three government columns were reported today to have captured the center of besieged Teruel, driving out the insurgent defenders of the key city on the eastern front at bayonets' point.

A violent house to house battle was reported raging within Teruel, from which the civilian population was fleeing in terror.

Government advisers said the city, completely cut off from the rest of insurgent Spain, was expected to fall in a few hours. A column of insurgent Moors and legionnaires was reported destroyed by government planes when it tried to raise the siege. Government machine - gun nests and fleets of planes ambushed the motorized column, the advisers said, and its convoy of insurgent warplanes fled.

Group Accepts Withdrawal At Late Meeting

The surprise resignation of W. R. Horrabin from the Iowa City school board was accepted without comment at a special board meeting late yesterday afternoon. Horrabin, who was not present at the meeting and whose three-year term would have expired April 1, 1938, stated in his letter of resignation that "I sincerely feel that I cannot conscientiously devote ample time to school affairs without penalizing my personal affairs."

Letter States Business Pressure Reason For Action

To Fill Vacancy A board member, to replace Horrabin as the fifth ward representative, will be appointed at a special board meeting "later this week," Dr. George Maresh, president, said last night. Board members may nominate candidates for Horrabin's post, and they will vote to elect one, according to the school district law.

Board members may nominate candidates for Horrabin's post, and they will vote to elect one, according to the school district law.

The resigned board member, who is connected with the W. H. Horrabin Contracting company, dated his resignation Friday and submitted it to Charles S. Gahler, board secretary, Saturday. It was brought before the board only once.

Horrabin, as a resigned board member, may now submit bids for the excavation contract of the Iowa City school project. Board members, according to law, are forbidden to do so.

Letter to Board

Horrabin stated last night that "The reason for my resignation is included in my letter to the school board."

The letter, "To members of the city school board," said "The writer wishes to herewith tender his resignation as a member of your board to become effective at once.

"I sincerely feel that I cannot conscientiously devote ample time to school affairs without to some degree penalizing my personal affairs.

"Fully realizing that you other men are sacrificing considerable time on school affairs, it seems rather unreasonable that I should feel privileged to shift responsibility, but as practically all of my work is carried on in other parts of the state and not confined to Iowa City, this necessitates my absence a great deal of the time.

"I have spent considerable time and thought in arriving at this decision and believe you will readily appreciate my action.

"Regretting the necessity of the above, I do however wish you gentlemen to know that my association with you for the past three years has been, to say the least, exceptionally pleasant, and have enjoyed very much the privilege of being one of the board."

(Signed: W. R. Horrabin).

Burning

Japanese Labels

ONE OF the most futile and useless demonstrations brought on by the Sino-Japanese war is the recent burning of Japanese-made goods by a labor group in East Liverpool, Ohio.

The destruction of these goods cannot in any sense be regarded as an economic blow to Japan. The loss was borne directly by the 109 merchants who had voluntarily taken the goods from their shelves.

We do not think the action will greatly reduce the demand for Japanese-made goods in East Liverpool or anywhere else.

The difficulties of an effective boycott are almost insurmountable. Even the boycott on English goods in 1775 was far from 100 per cent and at that time we were fighting for our life as a nation.

This Is No

Postman's Holiday

ALONG ABOUT this time of year when most people's smiles are quicker and their steps lighter, there is a small army of public servants who, we think, would be fully justified in turning into modern Scrooges and muttering, "Christmas—Bah! Humbug!"

They are the United States postal employees and to them—especially to the postmen—we would like to express our gratitude for their daily and special holiday service.

Because it is the holiday season and the time for expressing unexpressed sentiments, here is our own personal vote of thanks to the postman.

We refuse to react to radio advertising until some announcer comes clean with "This isn't the greatest product of its kind, folks. But it's good. Won't you try it?" We will.

What Have

We To Fear?

THERE'S A LOT being said and more being written these days about a so-called "business recession." One nationally syndicated political commentator declares 2,000,000 more men will be unemployed by February; another declares we are headed straight "toward another crash as resounding as that of 1929."

Yet, from New York, comes a report of the United States Chamber of Commerce that pre-Christmas business the nation-over is at its highest point since 1930.

There are fewer strikes now in progress in the nation than at any time during the last year.

And despite the opinions of columnists, unemployment is decreasing by the month—although relief remains at about the same level.

Babson reports that the last five months of 1937 "show a promising and encouraging business upturn."

It appears, then, that business is good. The fear seems to be for the future.

Now we are not experts in economics. It is possible a slump or "recession" may be just around the corner. But we believe worrying about it will do little good.

Also we agree with Franklin Roosevelt when he declares the "only thing we in America have to fear is fear itself."

Japanese troops invading China are using camels for transport. What with the war having proven, so far for them, something of a "white elephant", it looks as though they will soon have a complete circus.

We can't wait until the government puts through its new "net worth" income tax return, which demands listing of every item of assets. Then we'll really find out what the boss thinks of this column.

A New York columnist believes that the wearing of a lapel flower (boutonniere to you, you aristocrat!) is a sure sign of success. Wow, what complete failures George Washington and Abraham Lincoln must have been!

COMBERS plunged like mountains and broke in huge impact and spume over the deluged bow. Caught between roaring wind and snarling wave, the liner dove on the reef to cling and list on a spine of rock.

All at once up spoke a jack-tar; "Messmates, these be trying conditions. All hands to a sit-down strike, 'cept they gives us an extra bonus, and a five-day week with shorter hours in a storm, d'ye see?"

It could not happen? It never happened except when the crew were not seamen but nondescript hired and discharged from port to port? It has happened. Passengers report that before and after the President Hoover grounded on a reef in Formosa the crew denied the authority of officers, displayed conscious inefficiency, insulted woman passengers, and, basest of all, threatened to flood the ship's engines unless the cooks and stewards were awarded bonuses, or sent home. Women and children last; they can swim!

It can be believed. Only the other day, in Baltimore, 14 seamen were convicted of mutiny on the high seas for holding a sit-down strike on a government-owned freighter. For years have gathered criticisms of our merchant marine identical in content with the scene in Formosa.

Who has denied a cause to the seamen? Who wants to reconstitute the evil old days of the marlin spike and the black hole? No one refuses to the discontented their right to be heard in court or by collective bargaining—on land. But everyone insists there must be the age-old, the incontestable, the not-to-be-broken law of the sea—whereby the captain has sole command, seaman and passenger unite in the fellowship of danger, men risk their life for the weak and the little children, and honor demands fealty to that code without which, in calm seas or foul, man drags down to the primeval status of savage brute.

Have you ever wondered what the wives of radio's bright and shining lights would say if they were asked to comment upon their prominent husbands? Here are statements from a group of them...

Mary Livingstone (Mrs. J. B.): "Jack Benny would rather hear you praise his violin playing than his comedy..."

Julia Sanderson (Mrs. F. C.): "Frank 'Song Shop' Crumit is too pleasant. I wish he would quarrel with me occasionally so that we could say we are just like other married couples..."

Nellie Guest (Mrs. E. G.): "Edgar Guest tells me that I have been the inspiration of many of his poems. Can a wife ask for a nicer compliment?"

Ruby Keeler (Mrs. A. J.): "Al Jolson sends me a bouquet of roses every day and buys Albert Jr., a new toy daily..."

Enough of that! Carlton Kaddell tells how he came within an ace of missing the call that gave him the "Big Town" announcing assignment because his way-down-south colored maid answered the phone and said: "Mista Kaddell, he ain't goin' in no big town. He stay right here!"

Today With WSUI: Attractive wrappings for gifts of all sizes and shapes will be described by Derelle Atkinson, A3 of Des Moines, on the Home-maker's Chat program at 11:15 this morning.

Washington World: By CHARLES P. STEWART WASHINGTON, D. C.—What this country needs is bigger and better airports.

He's Better Known On Stage: "The last time," he explained, "I think I didn't stay long enough. Made 'Whistling in the Dark' and 'The Warrior's Husband' and skipped within a week, figuring that was time for someone to speak if there were any great demand that I stay."

Do Not Pay Way: The trouble is that airports do not pay the folk who operate them. Undoubtedly they are paying to aviation, in general, and perhaps they are indirectly profitable to the communities to which they are adjacent.

TODAY'S PROGRAM: 10 a.m.—Illustrated musical chats, Marion Harris; 11 a.m.—Program calendar and weather report; 11:15 a.m.—Homemaker's chat; 11:30 a.m.—Yesterday's musical favorites; 11:50 a.m.—Farm flashes; 12 noon—Rhythm rambles; 5:30 p.m.—Musical moods; 5:50 p.m.—The Daily Iowan of the Air; 6 p.m.—Dinner hour program; 7 p.m.—Children's hour; 7:15 p.m.—WPA program; 7:30 p.m.—St. Mary's High School Glee club, Muscatine; 8 p.m.—Santa Keeps His Word, Rodney Stewart, director; 8:15 p.m.—Opera in miniature, Onabelle Ellett, director; 8:45 p.m.—The Daily Iowan of the Air.

Capital Balks: Of course private capital balks at investing itself in a probably losing venture. Municipalities balk similarly. Either they have not the money, or their taxpayers would be infuriated by such evidence of extravagance on the part of their local ruling bodies.

Federal Grants? Why, what a foolish question! If many neighborhoods want something that they prefer not to foot the bill for, what is simpler than for all of them to unite in demanding that the federal government put up the money? That is what the aviation conferees did demand.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Parties of four who plan to spend New Year's eve in any of the major hotels or nightclubs should count on shucking out anything from $30 to $100. There are a few places advertised at $5 to $7.50 a plate, but a majority are $10 and $15 a plate.

Drinks are always extra, and at 60 cents to $1 a throw it doesn't take four people long to run through a $20 bill. Wines and champagne will come from $5 to $15 a bottle. Add transportation—taxi fares, plus hotel accommodations, and your weekly salary sails right out the window.

Incidentally, the dancing scene in the New York clubs is seldom larger than your living room. About 14 by 16 feet. For this there are from 500 to 1,000 dancers. Don't forget your shoulder-pads.

What to Believe: It's getting so now a body doesn't know which way to turn. For instance, Mr. Walter Winchell, the Broadway columnist, had this to say the other day: "Freddie Bartholomew, whose soprano voice hasn't changed yet, sounds like a grown woman via the networks!"

Then along comes Louella Parsons, the Hollywood columnette, with this announcement: "Freddie Bartholomew's voice is changing and they are in a panic at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, for 'Boystown' is set to go into production next month. Personally, I think it would be charming to let Freddie play a part even if the crack in his voice becomes discernible."

Whither, Freddie, high C or bass?

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Ernest Truex came in from a golf game for lunch, and across the table opined that golf was a great game for worriers.

This five feet three inches of dapper stage fame didn't say he was worried, not in so many words. He just brought out the fact that in several cans of celluloid at three different studios his image is awaiting preview.

Moreover, with a new movie contract, he has done an unprecedented thing for him—leased a home for two years, meaning he'll stay, come what may, in Hollywood.

"We made another picture," he recalls, "and I thought it was a great idea—but then Jack Pickford came along doing the same type of parts I was doing..."

Wants To Stay This Time: "Back on the stage a while, then I got in with George Fitzmaurice, George Seitz and Ouida Bergere on our own film company. We ran out of money after three reels, so we produced a three-reeler... More stage, then Vitagraph... Shirley Mason, Louise Huff, Norma Talmadge, and then no more pictures until 'Whistling in the Dark'... I'd always sidestep or just miss accepting offers... Once I went to England, stayed for four years... The stage was always so certain, pictures seemed otherwise."

By G. K. HODENFIELD

Just 15 years ago today Walter Ekersall, noted Big Ten official and sports writer for the Chicago Tribune, announced his All-Big Ten football team. Three Iowans were given first team posts on the honor eleven along with Rollie Williams, Iowa basketball coach since 1929, and Harry Kipke, recently ousted mentor at Michigan.

Michigan Routs Dartmouth 5

Wolverines Win, 42-17; Hold 21-1 Lead At Halftime

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 20 (AP)—The clever University of Michigan basketball team routed Dartmouth, 42-17 at the Westchester county center tonight.

Pat Donovan led Xavier in its first-half drive, scoring six of his team's 10 points. However, he was unable to get going in the second half.

Xavier played a deliberate type of ball, working the ball slowly through the loose Iowa man to man defense. The Iowa attack was always fast breaking.

Iowa meets Toledo university at Toledo, O., Tuesday in the third game of its road trip.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20 (AP)—A smooth-passing Temple university basketball team stamped itself as one of the outstanding quintets in the east tonight by defeating Illinois co-champions of the Big Ten, 51 to 38, before a crowd of 5,000. It was Illinois' first defeat in five starts.

The Westerners, conquerors of St. John's of Brooklyn in impressive fashion in New York Saturday night, were outplayed all the way by the tall Temple five.

Led by Captain Don Henderson, Meyer Bloom and Ed Boyle Temple stepped away to a 26 to 15 lead at halftime and held a 42-20 edge late in the second half before an Illinois spurt reduced the advantage.

Spurred by a chilling wind, the regulars snapped back when they got the ball, and drove repeatedly down the field.

Thomas said his squad was "in fine shape". Forty players and six coaches will leave tomorrow morning by special train for Pasadena. Workouts at San Antonio and Tucson en route will break the monotony of travel. Arrival at Pasadena is scheduled for Friday morning.

Joe Kilgrov and Charlie Holm, offensive aces of the Tide in its unbeaten 1937 schedule, were standouts in today's drizzle. Charlie Boswell, a third string left halfback, was impressive in impersonations of Chapman and Bottari, California stars, and may get a chance to show his wares at Pasadena. Boswell, a sophomore, was handicapped during the regular season by injuries.

No fanfare is in prospect when the team leaves tomorrow. The university campus is virtually deserted, classes having ended last week for the holidays, and only townspeople will be at the station to bid for their favorites.

The special train of 14 cars will take approximately 200 fans with the team.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry Jeffra, bantamweight champion from Baltimore, met obstinate opposition from Armando Sicilia of Chicago tonight but punched his way to a unanimous decision in the main eight-round fight.

Jeffra weighed 123 3-4, Sicilia 124 1-3. It was a non-title battle.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 20 (AP)—Little Petey Sarron, 134 1-2, making his second start as a lightweight since losing his featherweight crown to Henry Armstrong in New York several weeks ago, flailed his way to a decisive 10 round decision over Ray Ingram, 135 1-2, here tonight in a fast bout that at times resembled a brawl.

By ART GOLDBERG Daily Iowan Sports Writer

SOLON, Dec. 20 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Displaying a superior brand of passing and ball handling, St. Mary's basketball team coasted through to an easy 44 to 15 victory over the Solon quintet.

Tonight's game was a repetition of the performance given when the Blue and White defeated Solon in the season's opener in Iowa City. The Marians experienced little difficulty working the ball in for setup and close range shots.

Coach Francis Suplee used his reserves during most of the game in an effort to save the starting five for the tough assignment it must fulfill tomorrow in meeting the strong Central high quintet of Fort Madison.

At the forwards, Cole at center and Bill Bock and J. Chadek in the rear court played about two thirds of the game.

Paul Hennessey, bespectacled guard of the Suplees, who scored 11 points, walked off with top honors for the evening, despite the fact that he played only a few minutes of the game.

G. Chadek, another first stringer, was only one point behind Hennessey with 10 markers, while Rushek's four points led the attack of Coach Roy Eastwood's outfit.

The Marians rang up 10 points to their opponent's two in the first period and the reserves stretched the lead throughout the game. The Solonites, representing only the third edition in the basketball history of the Orange and Black, could not cope with the deft floor game of the visitors.

Jack Bock was unable to make the trip because of illness. The Bock family was well represented in the person of Bill Bock, however, younger brother of the first string forward. Young Bock turned in a sterling performance in the back court and shows great promise of developing into another of the St. Mary immortals.

In spite of the one-sided score, play throughout the evening was held at an interesting pitch by the lack of personal fouls, a total of only 15 miscues being called on both teams.

St. Mary's meets a potential state diocese title contender in the Central high quintet tomorrow. Central is rated along with Ottumwa as its strongest cage team in this diocese.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 20 (AP)—The University of Minnesota basketball team's speed, conquered the height advantage carried by Nebraska tonight and although outshot in field goals, the Gophers came through with their fourth non-conference victory of the season, 33 to 28.

The game was the closest of the season here and was in doubt until only three seconds remained, when Johnny Kundla, Minnesota's leading scorer, dropped in a free throw and a field goal to pull away after the Nebraskians had closed a six-point gap.

IOWA WESLEYAN WINS

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—Iowa Wesleyan romped to an easy 47 to 30 victory over Washington Junior college here last night.

As previously stated, quarterback is the name of a position and placing Williams in this given position would not impair his great offensive ability. Anyone who has seen the Badger in action this year is well aware of the fact he is entitled to any honor which can be given him. He has been a marked man, but always delivered. Fearless on defense and dangerous on offense, he was a great player with enough football intelligence to lead the team in any sort of battle.

Ekersall also had a lot of nice things to say about Kipke. Maybe the former Wolverine coach should have gotten out his scrapbook when he was fired several weeks ago.

According to a picture of Rollie, taken at the time of the honor team selection, the head man of Iowa-basketball used to have black curly hair. Since he has taken over his duties at Iowa, it has turned snow white. Maybe if he loses some more good men via injuries or inelegibility, he won't have any left at all, white or black.

Walter Frederick, director of publicity, said today virtually all the tickets were in the mails, most of them headed for California alumni who were given the right to purchase six tickets each in line with a conference policy.

California continues to be California's favorite, but many fans, remembering Alabama's past triumphs in the big bowl, dodged the Golden Bear bandwagon, waiting for a close up of this year's edition of the tide.

Snead added a third straight par 70 to his opening 66 to draw down top money of $740 as Victor Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., the 54-hole leader, faded to a 73 today and finished one stroke back. Ghezzi earned $550.

The West Virginia belter, pacesetter for two rounds in the recent $10,000 Miami Biltmore open before dropping to fourth place, thought he had blown his chances on the closing holes today. He found a trap on the 16th hole and three-putted the 17th green for bogey, but Ghezzi also ran into trouble. The tall New Jersey par ruined his chances at the 11th, where a low hook off the tee found the trees, and the 17th, where he missed a six-foot putt.

It was Snead's first victory since he won the St. Paul open this summer. His 276 was four under par for the route. He maintained his record of coming from behind in every tournament he has won.

The golfing caravan boarded a boat late today for Miami, where the $2,500 Miami open begins Thursday.

Overlooking no scoring possibilities, the City high meter watched his men as they rehearsed their charity work in a free throw contest which occupied the latter portion of the workout.

Marshalltown's power this year is still somewhat of an unknown quantity. Although the Bobcats took a healthy drubbing from the West Waterloo outfit earlier in the season, they retaliated by knocking off a strong Ames quintet in a tight battle last week.

Ben Trickey and Ike Hooven, who caused Iowa City a good deal of trouble on the gridiron this year, have discarded their football tactics to become the big guns in the Marshalltown cage attack. Trickey has transferred his speed to the hardwood court where he leads his team in the scoring department, most of his points being registered from close range. Hooven follows his teammate closely with a deadly eye from far out on the court.

Iowa City's freshman-sophomore team will remain idle until they join the varsity to invade the West Waterloo gym next week.

Is Santa's Face Red?

His Seven Children Expect Storeful Of Gifts on Christmas

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—Santa Claus, who has handled the problems of boys and girls for years without a complaint, was stumped tonight by his own seven children.

They saw him in a department store, and they couldn't understand why they shouldn't get everything in the place for Christmas.

"If you can give that stuff to other kids," they asked, "what's the matter with us?"

It was a tough blow to Santa, who has always prided himself on having all the answers.

Santa himself (his name is Harry Fisher and his home is the east side except when he pinch hits for Santa Claus in chief at Christmas time) was far too wise to let his children know the nature of his job. But he couldn't stop the neighbors, and one of them talked.

Being very wise themselves, the children didn't let their father in on their secret until after several weeks of being very sweet to him. Then they popped the question:

"Papa, now that you're Santa Claus, how about it?"

"I hate to disappoint those kids," he told his employer, Charles Hamid, the Santa Claus expert. "But I'll have to spend all my salary on Christmas presents if they're to get everything they think they're entitled to."

And down the east side seven children were waiting for a showdown on whether this Santa Claus business is real.

A Christmas Party at Teacher's House

It shouldn't have been hard to find entertainment at the Christmas party at which 13-year-old Jean Irwin entertained 19 members of her dancing class yesterday in her home, 615 S. Clinton street. There was talent in every pair of young feet at the party.

4 More Shopping Days Till Christmas

Do you have a junior girl on your guest list? If so, think long and hard before you choose her gifts for Christmas. Remember that she has outgrown Santa Claus and is at the age when she feels grown up, even if she isn't. Make her Christmas a happy one with a gift which will flatter her valiant attempt to be like "big sister."

If she is from 10 to 14 she will be jewelry-minded. Satisfy this decorative inclination with a tiny cross—plain gold or pearl—almost like one "sis" has. Or please her with a compact with which she can actually powder her freckled nose! There are those made especially for small girls with loose powder containers and covers on which dance dainty silhouettes or intriguing scotties.

She'll love a bottle of perfume—really good perfume so that she will no longer need to use mother's when mother isn't looking. Thrill her with a charm bracelet from which dangles a tiny golden perfume ball. In this little ball which opens at the top there is a place for a bit of cotton to be saturated with perfume.

She may lay the bracelet among the scores of pretty handkerchiefs which you will give her. She'll prefer those which are embroidered in felt, and she'll like one in the corner of which is her favorite movie hero.

Why not "tickle her pink" with her first end curl? Get her several hair ribbons and bows to wear among the ringlets. Slip in a package or two of bob pins and an atomizer full of special oil with which she can keep her hair lovely. Add a fine hair-

University of Iowa Improves National Ranking in 3 Divisions

More Students Enrolled In Graduate Work During 1937

Attainment of improved ranking among American state universities by three divisions at the University of Iowa and retaining of last year's position by two others has been revealed.

Graduate, pharmacy and extension courses are the divisions which improved their enrollment rank over that of 1936, the report of 602 approved institutions indicated.

The graduate college, with 371 full-time students, moved from 10th to ninth place, the pharmacy college became the eighth largest, while the 1,718 students in extension courses ranked that unit 10th.

Commerce, with 311 students, retained 10th place and the engineering college, enrolling 382 students, held 13th position, according to the report's summary.

The university had 8,486 resident students for the year ending Nov. 1, 1937, giving it the position as 10th largest state university. Ranking above Iowa are California, Ohio State, Illinois, Texas, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Washington.

Full time enrollment and positions of other university units are: Medicine, seventh with 364; summer session, ninth with 2,845; teaching staff, 10th with 526; law, 11th with 228; and dentistry, 11th with 142.

Dr. F. Smith and Dr. H. Kornes Of Medical Staff Named Editors

Two faculty members of the college of medicine have been elected to positions on the staff of the American Heart Journal, it was announced yesterday. Dr. Fred M. Smith, professor and head of the theory and practice of medicine department, will be editor-in-chief, and Dr. H. M. Kornes of the same department will serve as one of the magazine's three associate editors.

Dr. Smith and Dr. Kornes will assume their positions Jan. 1. The American Heart Journal, issued at St. Louis, Mo., is the official publication of the American Heart association. The new positions will not require either faculty member to leave Iowa City.

Dr. Smith has been a member of the editorial advisory board of the magazine for several years. He will be the second editor-in-chief since the journal was established in 1925. Dr. Smith was graduated from Rush Medical college and came to the University of Iowa as a professor of medicine in 1924.

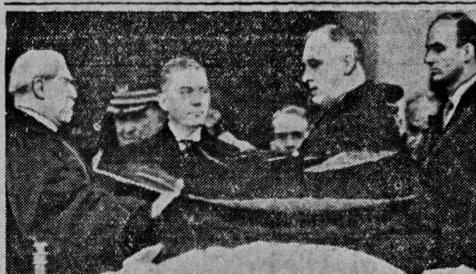

Dr. Kornes was graduated from the medical college at Western Reserve university in Cleveland, Ohio, and has been connected with the university since 1927.

fended Madrid, British and French fleets chased Mediterranean "pirates." The Rome-Berlin axis whirled: London and Paris reached "full solidarity." And don't forget the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo anti-communism pact, Hitler's yips for colonies, or Britain's $7,500,000,000 arms program.

Ask At The Union Desk

Those Who Know Not Inquire For And Concerning Anything

"Yes, I'll go, but shall I wear a long dress, John?" Mary asks. "Ge, I don't know, but I'll call the Union and find out," John answers. Such is the practice of many students and city people who call the information desk of Iowa Union when there is something they want to know and don't know where else to secure the information.

At the beginning of the school year while students are unfamiliar with the campus and city, the desk clerks are requested to locate every imaginable building in the city and on the campus.

During the year when students decide to pay a call on their instructors and don't know in which room to find them, the desk clerk will find the information and the office hours in a course book.

Button Off Coat?
 What would you do, if you were walking to class and a button came off your coat? You might stop at the information desk in the Union. The girl behind the desk will produce a needle and thread and even sew it on for you, if you ask.

"What time does the lecture begin?" and "What orchestra is going to play for the dance?" are everyday questions. Before the holidays there are usually calls asking when vacation starts or for an explanation of the university rule regulating class "cuts" before and after vacation.

The desk clerks do not always know all the answers to the questions, but they try to refer the inquiries to people who do know. If you should call to ask about the weather, as many students do, you will be referred to the municipal airport.

Transportation Schedules

Should you be interested in bus, train or plane schedules, you'll find them under the glass cover on the desk. Candy bars and magazines may be purchased at the Union desk.

When you lose your fountain pen or something in the vicinity of the Union, don't go searching for a janitor. The desk is the place to ask for it.

Besides all these services, the desk checks out playing cards and ping pong paddles, sells tickets for everything held in the Union and is a sub-station of the post office.

1937's biggest news, because it was closest to Americans, was the industrial worry and the labor strife.

Big News At Home
 As the year ends, the business bump is foremost. But for months, labor conflicts splattered U. S. streets.

And in this country, especially to politicians, the Supreme Court fight, Van Devanter's retirement, Joe Robinson's death and the Ku Klux Klan roar was as big, if not bigger, news than two wars abroad.

Planes And Stuff
 The two explosions, the Hindenburg and the Texas school-house, were the press wires' sharpest "flashes." The spring flood sufferers' SOS brought relief contributions clear from China. And the Earhart disappearance—remember those radio reports from no-one-knew-where?—had more suspense than fiction.

But over the Atlantic, American and British planes purred smoothly. Russians succeeded in two out of three attempts to hop over the North Pole to America,

Chapter II

"Good evening, Monsieur et Madame Courtois! So nice of you to pay us a visit in our own . . . ah . . . room!"

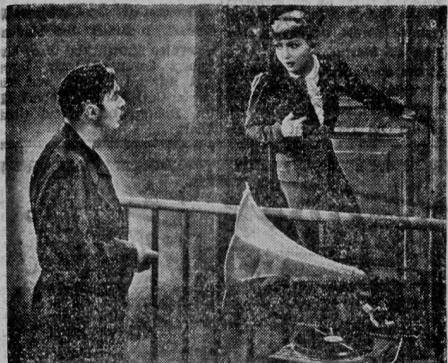

Mikail hopped through the window with great agility as he said this, helping Tatiana over the sill, and going on before his landlord could have time to reply. "Her Highness and I are extremely sorry we were out when you came! We were participating in your celebration of the . . . er . . . fall of the Bastille! It was so charming, was it not, my darling?" "Ah, yes, yes," gushed Tatiana, not needing his wink for her cue. "Yes — the music — the dancing — the gaiety —"

I shall bring back ninety francs! I shall buy some outlets of horse and some potatoes, and shall bring back ninety-five francs and two artichokes!"

Mikail, staying in bed, called reverently on the Father of All Living to look the other way, so that He might not see the Grand Duchess Tatiana Petrovna . . . niece to the Czar . . . (here Mikail crossed himself) arrested for stealing artichokes.

"Nonsense!" cried Tatiana. "I am never arrested! It is the intervention of God — and God is a Russian!" and was gone.

At the door she bumped into two important-looking gentlemen — who proceeded upstairs. They knocked on Mikail's door, and getting no response walked in and found him under the bed-clothes.

"Save me, pigeon . . . police are outside!"

"My good man . . ." began Tatiana, ingratiatingly. "Don't you 'my good man' me! I don't want words! I want my money!"

"Monsieur Courtois, you are a godly man — and you, Madame, are a godly woman! Your kindness to us entitles you to a great reward!" Tatiana noted her words were having a gracious effect on the old lady who dearly loved royalty. She went on: "Therefore, I have decided to confer on you the title of Count and Countess! Henceforth you will be known as the Count and Countess of — of — Courlande!"

"You made me a Count last week — and then borrowed twenty francs?" growled Courtois.

"Then you shall be elevated!" Tatiana cried. "You shall be Duke and Duchess!" "Really, a Duchess?" inquired Madame, hearing at the thought. She pleaded with her husband so ardently that he at last consented to kneel with her and have the titles of Duke and Duchess conferred. The moment after, however, he arose crying fiercely. "But just remember — a Duke or not — you two still pay me my eighty francs tomorrow — or out you go! Come on, Duchess!"

After the old couple went Tatiana had an intimate talk with Mikail about what they still had left that could be sold! Not the sword of Alexander III! Not the flag of the Imperial Guard! Not the ikon! At the height of the discussion Mikail decided that for the moment, bed was best!

"Darling, darling, darling!" cried Tatiana ecstatically, as they embraced. "How good it is to be Russian!" sighed Mikail. They kissed. "And insane!" added Tatiana. They kissed again. "Life for us is so sad!" Mikail murmured. "And so beautiful!" whispered Tatiana.

Early the next morning Tatiana — all in the shoddy things that became beautiful when she put them on — went out to get the rent. "I swear by St. Peter and St. Paul, pigeon," she cried gaily, "to bring back eighty-five francs!"

Apologies on all sides followed — and an introduction which disclosed one of the visitors to be Monsieur Chaufourier-Dubieff, Governor of the Bank of France. The other was none other than Count Feodor Andreievitch Brekenski, Aide to His Imperial Highness, the only and the one, pretender to the Russian throne.

M. Chaufourier-Dubieff — for the benefit of M. Brekenski — explained that His Majesty the Czar, in the dark days before the Revolution had given into Prince Ouratieff's hands the major portion of his gold, instructing him to place it in the Bank of France under his own name till better days! When the Prince returned to Russia he was seized by the Bolsheviks — but later escaped! The funds, with interest, now amounted to the rather neat sum of thirty-nine billion, nine hundred and eighty-three million, two hundred thousand and sixty-two francs, sixty-five centimes!

"And you want me to turn over these funds to the bank of France?" inquired Mikail. "Yes, Your Highness! His Imperial Highness is ready to reconquer the sacred soil of Russia," cried Mr. Brekenski impressively, "whenever these funds are forthcoming! . . . And you, Prince Ouratieff will be the liberator of Russia! The restorer of the Throne . . .!"

"My fortune at the present moment," said Mikail, "is twenty francs! . . . As for the forty billion — it was a crowned Czar, not a pretender who gave it to me! To a crowned Czar only, will I return it!"

At this moment, Tatiana — breathless, frightened and furious — burst into the room and slammed the door — which was immediately bombarded by a genedarme, a grocer, three grimy urchins and a crowd of curious on-lookers!

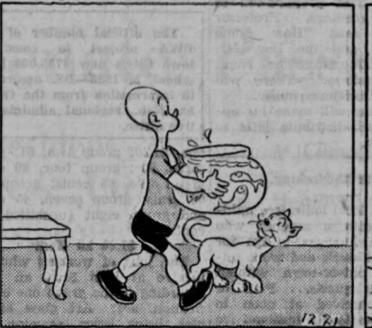

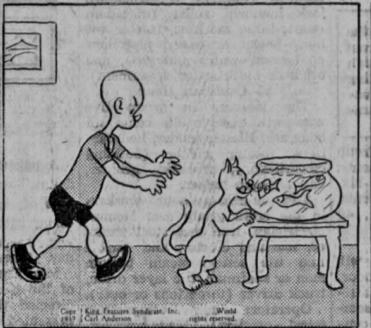

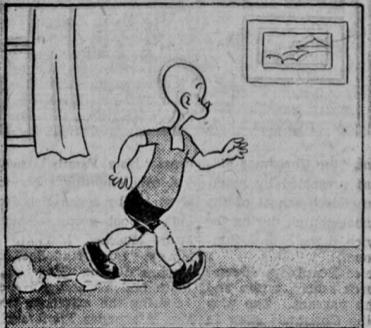

"Mikail!" she shrieked. "St. Christopher has caught me! The police are at the door! Save me, pigeon, save me!"

Kiwanis Club Will Honor 36 Children with Turkey Dinner

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLER

Rev. O'Reilly, Mott To Read; Santa Claus To Give Gifts

Thirty-six children will be the guests of the Kiwanis club at a special turkey dinner at noon today at the Jefferson hotel, it was announced yesterday by Paul Ruth, program chairman.

Prof. Frank L. Mott and the Rev. P. J. O'Reilly will offer a part of the children's entertainment with their presentation of Christmas readings. Professor Mott will read "How Come Christmas?" and the Rev. Mr. O'Reilly will read "The Night Before Christmas." There will be special Christmas music.

Santa Claus will make his appearance and distribute gifts to the children.

READER'S RAMBLINGS:

Most misunderstood of the magazines is For Men Only, which I find in better taste and livelier written than Esquire. . . . "Punchdrunk Sonata" in the January number is the best expose of the fight racket I've read. . . .

Add recommendations for the "encore" stories now in Red Book. . . . Dorothy Parker's "Big Blonde" in the current issue is my vote for the best short story she's ever written. . . .

And if you've time, Gladys Hasty Carroll's "Neighbor to the Sky," which I perused this week end, is superb in its satirical treatment of the fallacies of higher education. . . . It's true what she writes of psychologists' methods, some campuses I know should hang their heads in shame. . . .

Racket!

Around the town goes the well-authenticated rumor of the none-too-young paper boy who's working a smooth Christmas racket. . . . Seems he sees a smart-looking couple still in the romantic stage, rushes up to them with his paper cry, then bursts into tears. . . . When questioned he'll say his mother is ill, his father gone and the outlook for Christmas dismal. . . . The fellow of the couple, usually anxious to make an impression, nearly always hands the boy a bill. . . .

I know the boy has worked the gag at least twice — on different couples. . . . As a matter of record, his mother is working, his father on relief. . . . The kid probably spends the money on movies. . . .

Christmas charity is fine in its place, but it's better to get the spirit through a charity organ such as the local Social Service league. . . . Nine-tenths of tear-in-eye begging is a racket. . . .

It's hard to understand why the new Warner Brothers air program is not better. . . . Both that and the MGM show seem to prove big names are not enough. . . . Perhaps, after all, Bing Crosby and the Vallee lad do have something to do with the pleasant taste their air shows leave. . . .

Gift

The Charles Posters on Yewell street have a pedigreed springer spaniel that they'll give to a dog lover for the asking.

About six local ladies are mildly angry with a seventh who scheduled a luncheon-bridge for one day last week and went unexpectedly out-of-town without warning her guests. . . . Four of the ladies arrived at noon to find only the lonely husband ice box snacking in the kitchen. . . .

And one of those gentle-eyed old men who frequently wander into the office to peruse the papers came in last night with word that he's hitch-hiking to Los Angeles for Christmas with his daughter. . . . He insisted she's a rising young player in the films. . . .

He confessed, shamefacedly, that he himself had seen better days, that he once played Polonius in Edmund Kean's Hamlet. . . . a chronological impossibility. . . . But the tale he spun was so humanly impossible and revealed such a rich imagination, it was worth a quarter to listen before he wandered on his way. . . .

Late last week one of those shaking-up incidents occurred which make the younger among us wonder about the whys of newspaperdom as a profession. . . .

A ruddy-faced fellow of 40 or so, he swore he'd labored for Fremont Older on the San Francisco Bulletin. . . . His story was one of unvarying ill luck. . . . Now, he said, he is on his way to New York where he has a half-promise of a job on the World-Telegram. . . .

But for the fact that there was liquor on his breath as he spoke, I might have believed him. . . . Instead I shamelessly refused even a dime and ever since have been troubled lest what he said was true. . . .

Russia is second to the U.S. in railroad mileage with almost 52,000 miles.

Church School Presents Christmas Pageant

A pageant, "The Christmas Madonna," was presented by members of the church school of the Congregational church during the vesper service at the church Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Eunice Beardsley, director of the church school, wrote and directed the pageant. The play presented the Christmas story in modern way, differing from the usual "Holy Family" treatment. A candlelighting ceremony was presented by seven girls from the high school group. They were Jean Moacha, Marjorie Heidt, Mary Lou Rutledge, Adelle Hughes, Regina Gingerich, Doris Jones and Katherine Houck.

During the afternoon program, Mrs. Alexander Ellett and Ansel C. Martin, director of vocal music at Iowa City high school, sang solos.

A robed choir of 30 children from the church school presented Christmas carols under the direction of Martin.

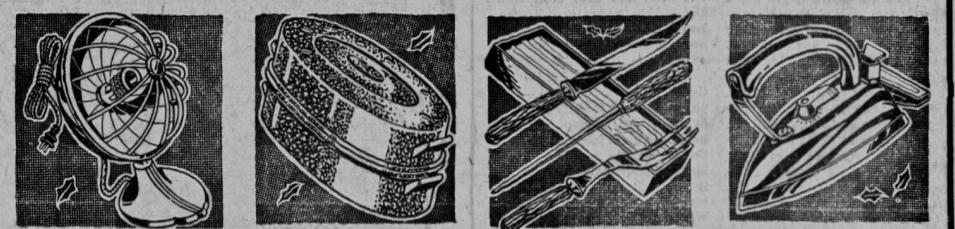

At the opening of the pageant, the heralds, Gladys Parizek and Mary Lambert, read the prophecy from the Old Testament and the fulfillment from the New Testament.

The cast of "The Christmas Madonna" included the Madonna, Brownlee Martin; the three kings, Robert Owen, Murray Dawson and Edward Korab; and shepherds, Carl Martin, Robert Martin, Robert Jones and Charles Ellett.
