Wallace Wants Farm Support For Labor Bill

Declares Proposal Will Definitely Benefit Farmers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—A new administration bid for enactment of wage and hour legislation came today from Secretary Wallace.

The agriculture department chief expressed hope that representatives from farm areas would support the side tracked labor standards bill at the regular session of congress beginning in January.

He told reporters that the bill was necessary to promote a "more constructive balance" between labor and agriculture. Saying that representatives from farming areas had helped send the measure back to a house committee for revision, Wallace added: "Many city representatives supported the administration farm bill when its fate was in doubt. Representatives of agricultural constituencies were not quite as considerate of labor as representatives of labor constituencies have been of agriculture."

Help Farmer
He declared the bill to fix minimum wages and maximum working hours would help the farmer rather than hurt him.

Wallace's stand led to speculation that President Roosevelt would make another vigorous plea for the wage-hour bill in his January message to congress.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, predicted after a visit at the White House that the president would deliver that message in person.

Word already had spread about the capital, following a conference between Mr. Roosevelt and a group of liberal senate supporters, that he would re-state administration objectives and contend the current business recession was largely psychological.

Denounce Critics
Leaders leaving the capital today in the wake of the special session defended its record and denounced critics of the administration.

Speaker Bankhead said that if congress had enacted all the measures on its special session program it would have "made for poor legislation."

He cited the undistributed profits tax, now an object of widespread business criticism, as an example of hasty legislation.

Tax Committee Has Bill Preview

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The house subcommittee on taxes was given a preview of the 1938 tax bill in a series of "tentative decisions" reached during the special session of congress.

Primarily in response to complaints that the tax on undistributed corporation profits contributed to the current business recession, it decided to abandon that form of levy so far as 80 or 90 per cent of the nation's corporations were concerned. It agreed to retain the principle of the levy, however, for the remaining corporations.

In addition, the committee decided to "smooth out" the capital gains tax, also the object of much vehement criticism, and to recommend several minor changes to simplify tax accounting and permit small and usually controversial deduction.

JAMES 30 TODAY

Roosevelt Family Will Celebrate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Roosevelt Christmas reunion will get an early start tomorrow when members of the clan gather at the White House to celebrate the 30th birthday of the president's oldest son, James.

John Roosevelt, youngest son, is expected in the morning. The president's mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, and his half sister-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Roosevelt, will arrive from New York later in the day.

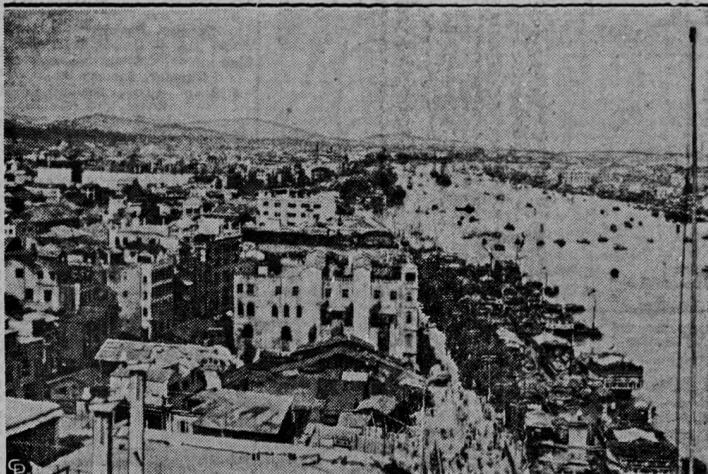

Two events traditionally held on Christmas eve, have been moved up to tomorrow because Friday is a holiday for government employes.

New Trouble Zones in China as Japs Move on Southern Cities

Places shown on map are mentioned in latest dispatches

View of Canton, southern Chinese metropolis, where Great Britain has large interests

New trouble zones on the Sino-Japanese war front are shown here. While it was believed Japan planned a major offensive on the southern metropolis of Canton, shown above, where there are large British interests, U. S. warships reached Tsingtao, 300 miles from Shanghai, to help evacuate Americans in a new trouble zone there. A Japanese naval attack was feared at Tsingtao as a result of destruction of rich Japanese cotton properties there by Chinese troops. At the same time it was believed the Japanese army would begin large-scale landing operations on the Kwangtung coast north of British Hongkong for a drive to bring the southern coastal provinces under Japanese sway. (Map above shows various places mentioned.)

Roosevelt Cites Economy Need

Lays Responsibility For Excess Budget On Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt called on members of congress today to be content with smaller slices of federal funds for their pet projects, in order that the budget may be approximately balanced.

After reciting what he termed "unpalatable" but "perfectly true" facts about the necessity for economy, he said in a letter to Representative Cartwright (D-Okla.):

"More than three thousand counties in the United States are glad to get every possible expenditure of federal funds within their counties, but I know you will agree with me that if we legislated with that as the principal objective in mind, there would not be any democratic party and there would not be any solvent government after a few years."

"The congress," the chief executive said, "has a perfect right constitutionally to exceed the budget, but, if the budget is exceeded, obviously the congress must accept full responsibility, and obviously the democratic members, which have such a large majority in the congress, must equally accept the full responsibility."

Three to Hang For Kidnaping

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Dec. 22 (AP)—Three ex-convicts were sentenced today to be hanged together on March 21 for what the judge called the "most appalling crime in this or any other community," the kidnaping of aged Dr. James I. Seder.

Arnett A. Booth, 46, convicted by a jury of the kidnaping of the 79-year-old retired minister. He was kidnaped Nov. 1, found Nov. 11 near an abandoned coal mine, and died four days later of pneumonia resulting from exposure.

John Travis, 25, and Orville Adkins, 24, went silently while Judge Warth pronounced the death sentences.

Travis, who was married five days after Dr. Seder was kidnaped, told the court he had been reading the Bible since his trial and quoted a passage: "Fear not those who can kill the body and can do no more."

Bert Behrens Dies Of Gasoline Burns

Stork Derby Ruled Legal

Courts Still Have Task of Determining Who Should Get Money

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 22 (AP)—The famous stork derby will of Charles Vance Millar is legal. All the courts have to do now is to determine who gets the money.

Canada's highest court ruled today that the rich and eccentric Toronto attorney had a perfect right to bequeath his fortune—estimated at more than $600,000—to the mother who bore the most children in Toronto during a ten year period dating from his death; but it ruled also that illegitimate children don't count.

Today's supreme court decision left the stork situation like this: 1. The petition of Millar's "next of kin" challenging the will is disallowed and the document stands valid unless the judiciary committee of the privy council in London—the highest court of appeals in the British Empire—should decree otherwise. An appeal there is considered hardly likely.

2. The courts now must determine what mother, or mothers, bore the most children under the terms of the will. Today's decision came simultaneously with news from Toronto that Mrs. Martin Kenny, the leading contender for the fortune, was out of danger following the stillbirth of a child—her sixteenth.

Loyalists Celebrate 1st Major Victory Since June Offensive

Severe Cold Adds To Injured Misery At Teruel

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Dec. 22 (AP)—Spanish government troops, surging on through conquered Teruel, were reported tonight to be driving through disorganized insurgent lines toward Albarracin, 15 miles west.

A government communique said reinforcements of 25,000 fresh troops smashed the retreating foe as the captors of strategic Teruel consolidated their occupation of the city.

Jubilant troops, having mopped up the last insurgents in hand-to-hand bayonet combat, marched singing through the streets to celebrate the government's first major triumph since last June's offensive west of Madrid, government dispatches said.

Insurgent officers, who confirmed the fall of Teruel, said Generalissimo Francisco Franco had launched a counter-offensive north

Madrid Stores Show Christmas Goods But War Motive in Toys Not Apparent

MADRID, Dec. 22 (AP)—Despite all the hardships of the second winter of the civil war, Madrid is making a brave and impressive effort to celebrate Christmas, an occasion obscured last year by the confusion and dangers of strife.

Merchants have loaded their show windows with toys and gifts and even Christmas cards once more are seen on display.

The religious motive is missing entirely.

Lines of fancy dolls, marshalled like marionette choruses along the sidewalks, flaunt their skirts rhythmically in the cold December winds.

At a curb a peddler sells sunflower seeds—which, by custom, are eaten in Spain at Christmas time.

A mild buying spree is under way, inspired by a campaign to provide every child, refugee and soldier with a gift.

Long-Rumored Fight Breaks

Three TVA Directors in Battle; Accuse Chairman

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22 (AP)—A long-rumored "family quarrel" among the three directors of the government-financed Tennessee valley authority broke into the open today when two directors accused Chairman A. E. Morgan of making statements with "false and malicious" inference.

The charge was contained in a statement issued by H. A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal.

They attacked testimony given by the chairman Monday at a condemnation hearing to determine the value of mineral and marble leases held by Sen. George L. Berry, (D-Tenn) and others in the TVA's Norris dam reservoir in east Tennessee.

They accused him of an attempt to "discredit" TVA attorneys in the Berry case after disregarding their advice and of giving a prejudicial account of an agreement by a majority of the directors to conciliate the Berry claims in 1936.

Chairman Morgan testified he opposed the conciliation move because he believed the leases were purchased with "intent to defraud the government." He said the other two directors had been advised by experts the Berry marble deposits had no value.

The agreement, in which John W. Finch of the U. S. bureau of mines was to be conciliator, was reached July 13, 1936.

Reports Healy Died Naturally

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22 (AP)—The unexpected death of Ted Healy, film comedian was due to natural causes and there will be no inquest, Coroner Frank Nance said today after an autopsy.

Detectives Joe Filkas and William H. Baker, who witnessed the autopsy, indicated they would drop their investigation of reports Healy engaged in a fist fight with an unidentified man outside the Trocadero cafe, film rendezvous, early Monday morning.

The autopsy and the investigation were ordered to determine whether injuries supposedly suffered in the fight contributed to Healy's death.

Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner reported, however, cuts and bruises on Healy's face and head "were entirely superficial in nature and did not cause or contribute to death."

Harry L. Hopkins Quickly Recovering

ROCHESTER, Minn., Dec. 22 (AP)—Mayo clinic physicians said tonight that Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins is making "excellent" progress in his recovery from an operation Monday for removal of a stomach ulcer obstruction.

His pulse and respiration are normal, the medical report showed. Physicians said he will be given liquid nourishment starting tomorrow.

Britain Orders Fresh Troops; Japanese Say Hangchow's Fall Next

Hongkong Will Get 700 Men From Bombay

England Demands More Territorial Right Guarantees

LONDON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Great Britain today ordered fresh troops to Hongkong and in a new protest to Japan sought guarantees that her territorial rights in the crown colony would be respected.

The troopship Dunera left Southampton to transport the second battalion of the Royal Scots from Bombay to Hongkong, where the normal army strength is 8,000 men.

The fresh troops numbering about 700 men are intended nominally to replace the Royal Welch fusiliers, who were at the Hongkong garrison but at present are on duty in Shanghai and scheduled to go to Port Sudan.

Increased Threat
But an increased threat of the Crown colony of the South Chinese port of Canton by a possible extension southward of the Chinese-Japanese conflict, now a growing concern of the British government, was considered likely to result in holding the fusiliers in the Far East.

The cabinet in two sessions was understood to have made plans to meet any urgent situations which might arise in the Orient during parliament's holiday recess.

Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British ambassador to Japan, was instructed to deliver a note to the Japanese government—the 16th since the outbreak of the Far Eastern conflict—protesting against infringement of territorial waters of Hongkong.

Informed sources said the Japanese ship was outside Hongkong's territorial waters while the Chinese boat was inside when the firing occurred.

They added that after the Chinese boat was beached Japanese sailors entered the waters in motorboats and towed it away.

Sir Robert was instructed to ask the Japanese for assurances they would respect Hongkong and its territorial waters in the future.

Alfred Duff Cooper, first lord of the admiralty, told the house of commons after the first cabinet session that Japanese naval movements in the vicinity of Hongkong were "being carefully watched."

Naval
He declined to answer a question whether he was satisfied British naval forces in China were "sufficient in view of any possibilities that may arise."

It was understood the advisability of dispatching some ships from the Mediterranean to China was discussed by the cabinet. Britain now has 34 naval units in the Far East.

Kellogg Called Champion of Peace By World Leaders; Praise Public Career

ST. PAUL, Dec. 22 (AP)—World leaders today praised Frank B. Kellogg whose death last night ended a long public career, as a champion of peace.

Scores of men prominent in the governmental affairs of this and other nations sent messages of condolence to his widow. Plans for funeral services here and in Washington were completed.

Services here will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, with the Rev. Conrad H. Gesner, rector of the church, officiating. The body will be taken to Washington Saturday night and funeral services will be held in the national cathedral at 2 p.m. Monday, with burial there. Pall bearers for the St. Paul services will be the senior members of Kellogg's law firm.

STRAY BULLETS Japs Say Panay Gunned Unintentionally

TOKYO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Japan admitted today "there might have been stray bullets" flying toward the United States gunboat Panay after she was bombed by Japanese aircraft, but said the vessel was not machine-gunned intentionally.

The new statement on the Panay incident was contained in an "interim report" issued by the foreign office. Previously the Japanese had denied reports by American eye witnesses that surface boats had fired on the Panay.

"The shooting was aimed at the Chinese vessel, the Linta," the foreign office said, "and the American ships were never objectives. It is supposed the allegation of the machine-gunning of the Panay was made on the part of those who mistook this and it is supposed there might have been stray bullets flying toward the Panay."

The foreign office report was issued in the midst of popular excitement caused by the arrest of 370 suspected agitators, accused of plotting "a general revolution based on communism."

Report Shows Sharp Fall Off In Employment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The labor department reported today that industrial employment fell off 5.8 per cent last month. Although a November drop is usual, this year's was the greatest since 1920. Altogether, 570,000 workers lost their jobs. Of that total, 480,000 worked in factories.

Secretary Perkins attributed the decrease—and the current business recession—to an oversupply of manufactured goods. She told a press conference that a similar sharp drop followed by speedy recovery occurred during recovery from the 1921 depression.

Last month's decrease brought total employment to about the same level at which it stood in November, 1936. Weekly payrolls, however, were $11,000,000 greater.

Board Vessel
Many Americans, taking the advice of United States consular authorities, were preparing to board the vessel.

Chinese authorities said they were prepared to defend Tsingtao to the end, declaring they believed their newly built fortifications would withstand the assault.

Mrs. Johnson Sues Company

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Osa Johnson, explorer and lecturer, who has pending a suit for $502,539 over the death of her husband, Martin E. Johnson, in an airplane accident last Jan. 12, filed suit today for $204,000 for injuries to herself in the same crash.

The action, directed against Western Air Express Corp., United Airports Co. of California Ltd., and others, charged the defendants and their employes were negligent in flying the plane in which she rode.

Fire Fighters Work To Bring Flaming Wells Under Control

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Crews worked feverishly late today to bring under control a flaming gas well at El Segundo.

The well, drilled by the Richfield Oil company to 7,539 feet, blew in yesterday as a gasser. Mud, rocks and water shot high in the air. The derrick and other drilling equipment was ripped apart and sank into the widening crater, with damage estimated at more than $100,000.

As crews sought to stem the gas flow today, it caught fire, hurling a huge column of flame and smoke into the air and attracting hundreds of spectators.

The flames reached a height of more than 200 feet. The gas was estimated to be flowing at the rate of 60 to 70 million cubic feet a day. Other wells in the field were not endangered.

Civilians Flee From Soldiers Invading Cities

Attacks Expected On Several Interior Settlements

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
SHANGHAI, Dec. 23 (Thursday) (AP)—Japanese declared today the fall of Hangchow was imminent while thousands of foreign and Chinese refugees fled from Canton, Tsingtao, Hankow and other widely scattered cities where attacks were expected.

A Japanese spokesman said the invading troops were approaching Hangchow, seaport south of Shanghai, and were hopeful that the Chinese would withdraw to prevent destruction of the famous beauty spot and Buddhist Mecca.

Foreign sources reported that the Hangchow defenders were offering stiff resistance in the vicinity of Wuksang, but that Japanese armored trains had advanced to within 16 miles of the city along the Shanghai-Hangchow railway.

Japanese said approximately 100,000 Chinese troops were in the Hangchow-Kashing area.

Massing Troops
Reports that the Japanese were massing troops for an attack on Canton, South China metropolis, increased the evacuation of natives to enormous proportions. Thousands fled westward into the interior and toward Hongkong.

Unverified reports said Japanese had attempted to land forces in Bias bay, northeast of Hongkong, but had been beaten off and now were planning a second attempt.

At Tsingtao, 390 miles north of Shanghai, three United States warcraft—the cruiser Marblehead, the destroyer Pope and the gunboat Sacramento—were standing by to evacuate the 300 Americans in the event of an expected Japanese attack.

Board Vessel
Many Americans, taking the advice of United States consular authorities, were preparing to board the vessel.

Chinese authorities said they were prepared to defend Tsingtao to the end, declaring they believed their newly built fortifications would withstand the assault.

Ramblers Fall Before Catholic Central High By Score Of 37 to 15

Maroon Team Too Rangy For Marian Cagers

Capt. Kokjohn Leads Invading Team To Easy Victory

Playing under a height handicap, St. Mary's basketball team fell victim to the smooth-passing attack of the Catholic Central high quintet of Ft. Madison by a 37-15 score on the City high floor last night.

The Ramblers were able to hold their opponents on even terms throughout the first half, but a lack of size in the reserve department spelled the doom of the Stuppelmen.

Iowa City grabbed the lead midway in the first period when Paul Hennessey made good on a one-handed push shot from the side of the court after several minutes of scoreless play. The home team held a 5-3 advantage at the end of the initial quarter and stretched it to 9-4 before the Maroon machine began functioning. Central was out in front by two points as the half ended in a 10-12 score.

In the third stanza the Maroons went scoreless while Abel, McCannon, Budke and Danley each registered field goals and Captain Kokjohn hit the hoop twice for the visitors to finish the quarter with a 23 to 10 margin.

As the tiring Blue and White regulars were replaced by mid-grade reserves in the last frame, the Ft. Madison five pulled still farther ahead with little resistance.

With their height average hovering about the six foot mark at all times, the Maroon cagers had little trouble grabbing rebounds and working the ball in for close range shots. In the closing stages of the game the diminutive representatives of the Blue and White institution, unable to reach the ball, were able to offer resistance only by getting in the way of their towering opponents.

Point-making for the local five was well distributed, with Hennessey leading his team with three markers and George Chadek, Jack Bock, Pete Bannon, Don Schmidt and Bill Bock registering a field goal apiece.

Kokjohn, the rangy center and captain of the invaders, took top honors for the evening by virtue of his six baskets. Abel, leading scorer for the Central outfit this season, was second to his teammate with nine points.

St. Mary's will remain idle until they invade Cedar Rapids on Jan. 6 to play the St. Patrick's quintet of the Parlor City.

Pate Says Budge Probably Won't Play Pro Tennis

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—Doubt that Donald Budge ever will turn professional was expressed today by Walter Pate, chairman of the United States Davis Cup committee during the past year.

Pate, who captained the victorious American team abroad and was for months closer to Budge than perhaps any other person, said he and the redhead many times had discussed the advisability of his turning pro.

"What his parents say is entirely correct," Pate agreed. "It's up to Don to figure out his own future, and nobody is going to blame him for a minute if he decides to play tennis for money."

"However, I have talked to him about it many times and I am inclined to doubt that he ever will give up his amateur standing. I did not advise him at all. But he told me he realized that in turning professional he would be giving up many things, that his standing would be changed completely."

"I know he hasn't yet made up his mind, despite all the stories to the contrary."

Kilrain Dies Of Old Age 'Man Who Fought Sullivan' Was One Of Ring Immortals

QUINCY, Mass., Dec. 22 (AP)—The fighting heart of old Jake Kilrain, which beat bravely on under the terrific blows of the great John L. Sullivan in the ring's last bare-knuckle heavyweight championship fight, finally stopped today, "kicked" by old age and diabetes.

Kilrain died at a private hospital at the age of 78—just two years short of the 80 years that had hoped to live. His death stirred a host of memories among those who followed boxing in its bare-fisted days.

During 16 years in the ring, Kilrain—his real name was John Joseph Kilrain—faced 150 battles but his bout with Sullivan under a blazing July sun at Richburg, Miss., in 1889 was easily the high spot of his life.

The pugilist and hundreds of their supporters fled police interference at New Orleans and squared away at Richburg.

Sullivan and Kilrain fought 75 rounds before the "Boston Strong Boy" won. But Kilrain always insisted "I licked Sullivan."

In later years, Kilrain said he was determined to end the fight in that 75th round "and I hastened out to do so."

"John L. was slow coming out from his corner," said Kilrain, "and just as I was getting set for my final blow someone in my corner tossed in a sponge. That ended the fight and that unauthorized act disqualified me. I never learned whether the second who did the tossing was over-excitable or in Sullivan's pay."

Bookies Must Have License

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—The city council voted tonight to license "pari-mutuel brokers" to handle bets on horse races.

The unprecedented ordinance—designed to take the multi-million dollar business out of the hands of the so-called "book makers"—drive hoodlums from the trade, and raise $2,000,000 a year in revenue—was adopted by an overwhelming margin of 43 to 4.

Protracted debate over its legality preceded passage of the measure aimed at drawing the cloak of legality over that form of gambling.

Alderman J. F. Healey contended the ordinance conflicted with Illinois statutes against wagering on the ponies away from the tracks.

Tony Manero Leads Pro's In Warmup Round

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 22 (AP)—Tony Manero, with a pair of 34's, was the only golfer to break the tricky par 70 of the Miami Springs municipal course today as the pros tuned up for the $2,500 Miami open starting tomorrow.

Other scores over the windswept layout ranged as high as the 76's of Craig Wood and Wiffy Cox and the 77 of Paul Runyan as the golfers readjusted themselves after the easy layout they played in the Nassau, Bahamas, open last week end.

The field of 160 compared to last year's 153 and was almost as large as those of the days when Gene Sarazen ruled the king in Florida winter golf.

Jack Dempsey. The old Manassa Mauler belongs because he almost hanged a wrestler in a press agent stunt.

Babe Ruth. Didn't he lick the "Great Montague?"

Colonel Bill Terry. His knack for making enemies was so superb he made a lot of people sorry who never saw him.

Dizzy Dean. You can't keep ol' Diz out. He took the "biggest flop derby" prize in great stride and made all his critics like him all over again.

Donie Bush. Smartest baseball pilot of the year is Donie who turned down the Boston beehive job to stay at Minneapolis.

Ice Skating Rink Lacks the Ice

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Last summer a WPA ice skating rink was constructed here at a cost of about $2,000, but the question of water to fill it did not arise until this winter when it was time to open the new rink.

Then it was discovered the nearest available fire plug was two blocks away and the city had no hose long enough to reach it.

So, temporarily at least, it is a skating rink without ice.

Chow dogs, now popular as pets throughout the world, were raised as food by the ancient Chinese.

Notre Dame Wins From Xavier Five In 45 to 26 Game

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22 (AP)—Notre Dame's rampaging basketball team, undefeated for 18 games, added the 19th victory tonight before 4,500 fans, dropping a hard fighting Xavier university quintet, 45 to 26.

Notre Dame scored in the first minute of play when Paul Novak, all-American center, found the bucket for the first of his six field goals of the night.

Xavier came right back and soon the score was tied at 4-all, but a minute later Moir made a gift shot good and put the Irish ahead by a point and for the rest of the night. The halftime score was Notre Dame 24; Xavier 14.

Seabiscuit Out Of Santa Anita Xmas Handicap

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit was declared out of the Christmas day handicap at Santa Anita today, leaving a field of 22 candidates eligible to race for the $5,000 purse.

Howard withdrew his handicap champion after the California racing board declined to rescind a suspension tacked on jockey "Red" Pollard, the 'Seabiscuit's pilot, at the recent Tanforan meeting.

With Seabiscuit out, Horace A. Luro's foreign entry, Amor Brutto, will carry the top impost of 120 pounds.

Pollard was ruled off the track until the first of the year for illegal riding practices.

Defeat Second Straight For Touring Hawks

EAST LANSING, Mich., Dec. 22—Travel weary and hit hard by the loss of Benny Stephens, high scoring forward, the touring University of Iowa basketball team lost its second straight game here tonight when a clever Michigan State quintet outscored them, 52-37.

For the first five minutes of play the teams appeared evenly matched but the Michigan State strategy board connected a play that soon put the Iowans behind and the visitors trailed for the rest of the contest.

The Spartans pulled the Iowa team under its own basket with a series of short passes and then sent the ball back to Leo Callahan, flashy guard, who could score from outside the free throw circle. Callahan swished in four field goals and four free throws to lead the scorers for the evening.

DENVER, Dec. 22 (AP)—Purdue's clever passing basketball team crushed a green Denver university quintet, 72 to 41, in an exhibition game tonight.

Denver shot away to a 6-0 lead but Purdue lost little time in overhauling the Pioneers and ran up a 41 to 19 edge at the half.

Big Ten In Bowl Games? Bierman Would Like Abolition of Ban On Post-Season Tilts

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Bernie Bierman, University of Minnesota football coach, said today he would like to see the Big Ten conference abolish its ban against post-season contests, particularly the Rose bowl game. At the same time he emphasized he thought there were too many "bowl" games.

Here to help coach the eastern team for the annual East-West charity game New Year's day, Bierman made his remarks during a meeting of the Northern California Football Writers' association.

He explained his attitude on the Big Ten conference post-season game ban was strictly a personal matter.

"I have nothing to do with the conference administrative affairs and no authority to speak for it, but personally I would like to have my own team eligible for such as the Rose bowl game," he said. "I believe practically every Minnesota alumnus would like to see the team in the Rose bowl in a championship year and I know the players would be tickled to get the opportunity to play there."

"This matter of 'bowl' games is getting beyond control, however. If it keeps up, there will be so many of them it will be a joke. One of these days football will wake up to find the public isn't taking it seriously any more."

Both teams were cashing in on their charity tosses as the Hawkeyes made nine of 11 and Spartans made good on 12 of their 14.

Five Out of Seven

Tonight's loss was the second in seven games for the Hawkeyes. They were undefeated until they met a 59-39 setback at the hands of the Toledo Rockets and had won games from Carleton, Washington, Butler and Xavier.

The Iowa players will return to their homes for a brief Christmas vacation but will return to Iowa City to begin practice for the Marquette game which will be played at Milwaukee New Year's day.

Monk Monksy Hurt in Drill

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 22 (AP)—LeRoy Monksy, captain and guard of Alabama's Rose Bowl-bound football team, suffered a deep cut over the eye today in a signal drill here, when he bumped heads with Lou Bostick.

The All-America guard was taken to a hospital and five stitches were taken to close the wound. Coach Frank Thomas said Monksy's injury would not keep him out of the Rose Bowl game January 1.

The Alabama squad worked out for 90 minutes here.

California Bears Hold Scrimmage

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 22 (AP)—University of California's Bears, preparing for their Rose Bowl football date with Alabama, New Year's day, boomed through a tough scrimmage session again today.

Injuries to two players yesterday in the first contact work in several weeks failed to deter Coach Leonard "Stub" Allison in his intention to "get the boys hardened up in the only way possible."

Chicago City Council Passes Ordinance At Meeting

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—The city council voted tonight to license "pari-mutuel brokers" to handle bets on horse races.

The unprecedented ordinance—designed to take the multi-million dollar business out of the hands of the so-called "book makers"—drive hoodlums from the trade, and raise $2,000,000 a year in revenue—was adopted by an overwhelming margin of 43 to 4.

Protracted debate over its legality preceded passage of the measure aimed at drawing the cloak of legality over that form of gambling.

Alderman J. F. Healey contended the ordinance conflicted with Illinois statutes against wagering on the ponies away from the tracks.

Connie Mack, Still Going In Baseball, Has 75th Birthday

'Grand Old Gentleman' Intends to Manage Till Eighty

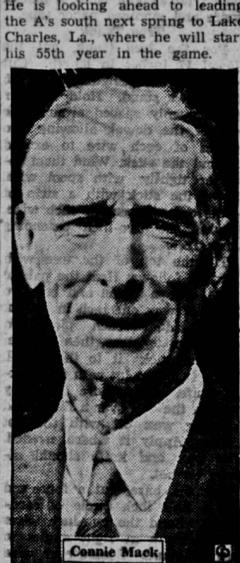

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22 (AP)—Like Tennyson's brook, "For men may come and men may go—" Connie Mack seems to go on forever in baseball. Tomorrow he celebrates his 75th birthday.

The "grand old gentleman" of baseball, spending most of his time these days recovering his strength lost in an illness during the late baseball season, says he is going to continue managing the Philadelphia Athletics as long as he can.

"I don't intend to quit managing until I have passed my 80th birthday," he told friends.

Connie is the oldest big league manager and holds the record for continuous service as a manager. He became the manager of the A's in 1901 when the American league established clubs in the east.

Looking ahead and not backward as many men do at 75, Mack is anticipating a better year for his Athletics next season.

HOSTESS HINTS

If you've served turkey for Thanksgiving, make it a ham for Christmas and a leg of lamb or a big roast of blue ribbon beef for New Year's. By combining the flavor of ham with homemade sweet pickled cherries you'll produce a ham with all the glamour of a Christmas tree and a marvelous taste.

Make the sweet pickled cherries the day ahead by boiling some of the juice and the fruit gently with a little vinegar, brown sugar and spices, and then letting the cherries absorb the flavor overnight.

To prepare the ham, remove it from its wrapping, but do not remove the rind. Rewrap it in the glassine wrapper and place it on a rack in an open baking pan, fat side up. Roast it in a 300 degree F. oven from 18 to 20 minutes to the pound. An hour before it is done, remove the wrapping and the rind, score the fat and stud with whole cloves. Cover the ham with 3-4 cup of brown sugar.

While you finish baking it, baste it often with the thick red syrup from the cherries. Just before you serve it, garnish the ham with whole cherries stuck on with cloves.

For an additional festive garnish use little scooped-out halves of oranges notched around the

Perfect '36' NG in 1938

Model Expert States New Specifications For Coming Year

By BETTY CLARKE

AP Feature Service Writer

It won't be the "Perfect '36" in '38. Next year's glamour girl will measure the same around the hips and the bust—34. And her waist must measure 10 inches less.

These are the specifications of James Dowd Jr., director of Models Preferred, New York school in which girls are groomed for professional fashion and beauty work.

She Should Be Tall

Furthermore, says Mr. Dowd, Miss 1938 should be at least five feet seven inches tall—in her stocking feet. Five feet, nine would be even better.

Dowd, aided by his wife, who is the school's fashion counsel, picks potential beauties not only by height and figure. Character, personality and facial structure enter.

The best faces, say the Dowds, have high cheekbones, eyes fairly far apart, noses short and fairly small.

High cheekbones often are accompanied by large jaws, but those may be disguised by careful rouging of powdering the jaws a shade darker than the rest of the face.

Six Long Weeks

Eyes can be made to appear farther apart by plucking the brows in the middle and lengthening their line at the ends. Bringing the rouge in close will minimize a broad nose.

Two of the hardest phases of training models are prescribing—and enforcing exercises and diets for hips and bust.

Posture, carriage and make-up are three beauty fundamentals the school drills on, every day of the six-week course.

Top like a picket fence, as containers for cherries around the platter's edge. To make them, drain the juice of a No. 2 can of red pie cherries into a bowl. Mix and boil 3-4 cup of brown sugar, 3-4 cup of white sugar, 1-2 cup of vinegar and 1-2 cup of cherry juice.

Add a stick of cinnamon and 24 whole cloves. Then add the cherries and cook gently for 15 or 20 minutes until the juice is syrupy. Cool and serve in the orange peel cups.

With such a gorgeous ham as the main dish we suggest fluffy mashed potatoes, creamed peas and mushrooms and either buttered beets or cauliflower. A cranberry gelatin salad repeats the red color, and a blazing plum pudding with brandy sauce or a flaky mince pie completes a meal everyone will enjoy.

For a final fillip serve hot buttered nuts and very minty little candies with your after-dinner coffee in the living room.

Transparent Drinking Straws Suggest Means of Attractive Christmas Trees

Your pride will glow like the tree itself when you display to Christmas guests the clever Christmas trees that can be made of transparent drinking straws.

The frounced tree will give a touch of glamour to your holiday table, and the small "porcupine" trees will solve the question of what to use for individual favors. And your family will enjoy helping in the creation of the fragile ornaments.

The materials required for making the frounced tree are 10 packages of transparent drinking straws, three sticks of sealing wax, one 3-8 inch dowel stick, No. 15 wire, one spool of white wire, one sheet of white crepe paper, an alcohol lamp, a palette knife and gummed paper tape.

Tree Trunk
For the tree trunk, cut the dowel 17 inches in length. Cut four nine-inch lengths of No. 15 wire for a stand. Hold the four wires evenly spaced around one end of the dowel, allowing two inches of each wire to extend beyond the stick. Wind them together tightly with spool wire. Cover the stick with a strip of white crepe paper one inch wide, leaving the two-inch extending wires free.

Tip the top of the tree with wax, as follows: Heat the palette knife over a flame and cut two pieces of wax one inch in length; heat a side of each piece and stick them together, then heat an end and stick it to the dowel. Shape it to a point with the heated knife. Add more wax by holding the end over a flame and scraping wax off with the hot knife. Apply it where needed. The wax and knife should always be hot.

For the base, cut a four and one-half inch circle of cardboard. Bend the two-inch wires of the trunk at right angles to make it stand. Secure each wire to the circle with gummed tape.

Drop hot wax on the circle and smooth with the hot palette knife.

The lower frounce is made first. Cut four packages of drinking straws into six-inch lengths. Tip one end of each straw with sealing wax. Hold end of wax over flame until soft and touch it to the end of each straw. When the straws are all tipped, hold them around the tree trunk with the tipped ends two inches from the base and the trunk in the center of the bunch. Wind the spool wire twice around the untipped ends one inch down.

Pull the wire very tightly and twist it together to hold it. The straws will spring out. Use two packages for each remaining frounce. The second frounce is cut five and one-half inches long and the third, five inches. Tip the straws with wax and secure to the tree trunk in the same manner as the first one, about two and one-half inches apart. The top frounce is cut four and one-half inches and tipped with the red wax at both ends. Secure it to the tree with the tips meeting the wax point at the tree top.

Cone-Shaped Tree
The small cone-shaped tree is easier to make than the frounced one. Bunch 150 drinking straws tightly together with ends even and wind spool wire around them, two inches from one end. Pull the wire tight so the straws will flare out. Then twist the wire, spread the straws evenly and cut into tree form.

Tip a few of the cut ends with red sealing wax. This is done by holding one end of a wax stick over the flame until soft and then merely touching the ends of the straws. For the base cut an orangewood stick two and one-half inches in length and insert one end up the center of the straw, placing the other end in the hole of a wooden button or disc.

Pictured as they received congratulations in the flower-decorated rooms of the bride's home are Mr. and Mrs. Mark C. Hagerman, whose marriage ceremony was performed by Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, yesterday afternoon. The bride is the former Alice Raiford, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. L. Charles Raiford, 814 N. Linn street. Her wedding gown which she made herself is of royal blue velvet, and her bouquet is of white chrysanthemums. When she left with her bridegroom for a wedding trip in the east she wore a dress and jacket of gray wool and black satin and a black seal coat and turban. The couple will be at home after Jan. 5 in Towanda, Pa., where Mr. Hagerman, son of Mrs. Rose E. Hagerman of Towanda, is a dairy owner and farmer.

How to Wrap Gifts Smartly

Color Combinations Will Make Desired Effect for Christmas Spirit

"If I could only wrap gifts smartly" is milady's chief desire now that the time for wrapping presents is here. Color tricks with transparent gift wrapping will solve the problem by adding a glamorous touch to the package.

Holiday packages become distinctive with the use of subtle combinations of transparent wrapping film based on the same principle as that used in mixing paint colors, and most of us have enough experience in home painting to understand what that means. If you want to paint a chair lemon yellow, for instance, and can't find the desired shade already mixed, you add a light green to amber yellow and there you are!

When it's lemon yellow wrapping instead of paint that you want, you make the same color mixture by laying amber film over light green.

Turquoise Effect
Or suppose you want a turquoise package; first wrap the box in light green film, then spread it over a sheet of light blue. The green will filter through the blue and give it the desired turquoise shade.

If you have a friend on your list with a fondness for the rich color of dubonnet, you can develop a dubonnet gift package by combining amber and violet transparent wrapping. Or make two-thirds of the package amber and the rest dubonnet.

For this trick, wrap the whole box with amber and then cover two-thirds of the top and one end with violet film and lay five or six pleats crossways at the

How to Address Letter And Package

By JOAN DURHAM

AP Feature Service Writer

Want to send a Christmas letter with your package so both will arrive at the same time? There are two ways. One will cost a lot of money. The other won't.

If you enclose the letter in your package you'll have to pay first-class rates on the whole package. That's costly.

But if you attach the letter to the outside of the parcel you'll only have to pay first-class rates on the letter.

The package will go second, third or fourth class, depending on the contents.

You Must Use Labels

This is how to do it: Buy a package of labels printed: "This parcel contains merchandise which may be opened for inspection." You can't write or stamp those instructions on the package—but the label fulfills postoffice requirements.

Wrap your package securely with heavy cord. (Don't use twine.) Put your own (return) address in the upper left corner. The address of the person to whom the gift is going belongs in the lower half—in the center if possible, otherwise in the lower right corner.

Then glue or tie the letter to the package.

Two Addresses Needed

The address must be on both letter and package.

If your package—or greeting card—is going to a woman: Address it "Miss" if she is unmarried—no matter how young or old she is.

Address it to "Mrs. Noel Yuletide"—if the woman is or has been married. Using the husband's first name holds whether the husband is alive, dead or divorced unless the husband is to be a mix-up or the woman is known in business by her own name. Then you may use "Mrs. Martha Yuletide."

If the mail is intended for an entire family address it "Mr. and Mrs. Noel Yuletide and family." That lets the children in on the fun of opening the package.

2 More Shopping Days Till Christmas

By VERA SHELDON

A 1937 grandmother isn't often faded and worn, though she may spend a good bit of her time in the bay window rocking chair, and she probably bends a sharp glance at your overshoe-less feet when you leave the house. But grandmother is still young at heart, and her eyes will still glow at a Christmas gift from someone who is dear to her.

When you choose your gift for her, think of her as a person and not just as a grandmother. Think of the stories she has told you of her younger days and remember the things which she admires.

Personal Gifts

Most grandmothers like personal gifts. We know one who loves handkerchiefs. She already has dozens but delights in a fresh square of white linen to bury away among the lavender.

Grandmothers like little intimate gifts. A dainty jacket of crocheted angora yarn would please her. There are beautiful shoulderettes and snug, flannellette nightgowns or more modern ones of heavy silk with long sleeves. Some grandmothers like light woolen hose; and others prefer them as sheer as those you wear to parties. Be sure you know your grandmother's preference.

Convenient Handbag

She'd be delighted with a handbag, but be sure it has a handle and plenty of convenient compartments. Gloves of kid to match would be grand. And get her a frivolous chiffon scarf—of pale pink or blue or lavender.

Grandmothers Love Jewelry

Small brooches, for instance, some that are old-fashioned copies of garnets, others with cameo faces. They like earrings, the kind that clip on or a pair for pierced ears if hers were done years ago. Flowers for her dress or coat would be nice, violets or bright little nosegays.

Cosmetic Set

And don't forget cosmetics. Grandmothers are proud of their beauty today. A bit of talcum powder might have done when grandfather came a-courting, but today grandma must have her daily facial. Get her a complete set of cosmetics—with bath powder, toilet water and a bottle of delicately scented perfume. You know her favorite flower; find its equal in bottled perfume.

Robes and warm slippers are lovely for older ladies. Wash dresses she loves in gay prints and frilly, perishable aprons, nice when serving tea.

When her personal gift has been chosen, think of things she'd like for her room or home. Does she like little statuettes to set above the mantle? Does she admire vases? Fill them with flowers when you give them to her.

Your Picture

Give her a set of warm woolen blankets for her bed, an indirect reading lamp for her table or a fine linen luncheon cloth with napkins and tea service for six.

Grandmother would more than appreciate a picture of you or a gift which you had made for her yourself. Make her a cross-stitched silhouette, paint her a picture or a set of chinaware if you're artistic or give her a footstool of your own creation.

Don't forget to include several books. Especially recommended for older women are Della Lute's "Home Grown," "The Persian Journey" by the Rev. Ashley Ward and a book to be enjoyed with the family, "Christmas Carols" by Van Loan. Any one of the books about that ideal grandmother, Mrs. Meigs, would please yours.

What a far cry from the flappy carpet slippers and stereotyped black leather d'orsays are this holiday season's crop of frivolous, stylish mules, scuffs, d'orsays and cossacks.

The warm furry cossacks are wonderful for winter wear; their high bunny cuffs will keep your ankles warm and cozy.

For sheer elegance with your sophisticated satin lounging pajamas try sequin mules. Mules of gold satin with cross straps fashioning the toes are good with brocade housecoats.

For use with your warm pajamas and new flannel robe the high booties are just the ticket. They'll make you feel like a small child again. Booties are wonderful for taking on trips for they are so-soled and can be compressed into a very small space in a trunk. Of course the most elegant and classic traveling slippers are little satin ones that fit into a case.

Embroidered

Embroidered scuffs are a new fad and make a very dressy shoe. If you choose them in a bright red or blue you will feel as elegant as an Indian potentate.

D'orsays trimmed with paillettes or with rhinestones are still good. Embroidered ones made of velvet and those decorated in the new metal trim are nice variations and will delight women who find it difficult to wear mules.

With all these new wrinkles shopping for slippers has become a joy instead of a bane, and it's hard not to buy every pair in town.

Santa Falls In Boston Harbor From Airplane

For Climax of Party Parachute Tragedy Horrifies Many

BOSTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—High over Boston airport, a brightly costumed Santa Claus tonight stepped from a circling plane and drifted lazily down, suspended by a wind-caught parachute, to drop and disappear in dusk-blanketed Boston harbor as a Christmas party of children looked on horrified.

An hour after he fell, coast guard, army, navy and harbor police craft, searching the murky waters as pursuit planes dropped flare after flare, had failed to find any trace of the parachute jumper, 35-year-old Harold Kramer of Winthrop.

Soon after the search started, an army plane, taxiing to a landing, and a police automobile, rushing under-water searchlights to the scene, crashed, sending Sgt. Edward J. Seibold, Boston police ballistics expert, to East Boston Relief hospital critically injured. Less seriously hurt was his assistant, Patrolman John Clorn.

Boat Upsets
Almost simultaneously, a small boat in which two enlisted army men, Richard Miller and Earl Jordan, were searching for the parachute jumper, capsized. Coast guards pulled the men, half drowned, from the frigid water. They, too, went to East Boston Relief hospital.

The accident came at the climax of a party for children of members of army air corps detachment at the East Boston airport.

Jumping up and down with glee, the children eagerly awaited the descent of Kris Kringle from the air when:
"Private Kramer stepped out of the plane," reported Capt. Richard E. Cobb, commanding officer of the detachment and pilot of the ship. "His chute opened. We were about 1,500 feet above the airport. There was a 40-mile an hour wind blowing."

Lands in Water
"The wind caught the parachute. Kramer landed in the water about 150 to 200 feet from the airport. He struggled to free himself from the parachute."

Cobb landed his plane at the airport, seized a cork life preserver, look off again, and dropped the preserver at the spot where the parachute made a light splash against the water.

"I don't know whether he got it," Cobb said, "but he seemed to be above water then."

Kramer, an enlisted man and a veteran parachute jumper, is married and has one child.

Cobb returned to the station. Alarms went out to the army, navy, coast guard and police stations. Pursuit planes roared away from the airport, piloted by civilian clad officers who were at the party. Red flares cut brilliant streaks across the water.

The 100-odd children, their cheeks wet with tears, straggled home.

"Won't Santa," sobbed one little girl, "won't Santa come now?"

See Yourself Talk As Others Hear You

Cowan's Four Years of Research Now Enables Photography of Voice

By BERNARD HURWITZ

Have you ever seen your voice? Probably not, but J. Milton Cowan of the German department and other members of the psychological and phonetics laboratory in the university have seen hundreds of voices.

This new power of seeing is one of the results of scientific developments in the study of speech sounds, Mr. Cowan, who has just completed four years of research in the phonetics of French, German and English languages said yesterday.

"Scientific observation has succeeded the observation by unaided human ear," Mr. Cowan continued. "Until recently scientists

Seven Escape Death In Mad Flight From Burning Apartment

DES MOINES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Seven persons, including three small children, escaped death here today by fleeing from the burning rooming house in which they lived.

Trapped on the second floor, Francis Kelso, 26, suffered a possible broken right ankle when he leaped 20 feet from a second story window.

Another man, James H. Cox, 51, an occupant of the third floor of the house was found unconscious on his bed, overcome by smoke. Firemen carried him to safety.

Mrs. Kelso carried her two small sons, Robert, 1, and Billy, 3, to safety down the burning stairway. Her husband, recovering from appendicitis, said he jumped rather than risk escaping through the smoke filled house.

Louis Palmer carried his year and a half son to safety. Firemen estimated the damage at $400. They attributed the blaze to an overheated furnace pipe. The fire started at 5 p. m.

trade in the latter is not brisk. Money is spent on necessities rather than luxuries.

Curiously enough, the military aspect is not very apparent in toy shops.

What dates!
Ahead of the 60 cabs roared a special motorcycle escort of Maryland policemen. At the District of Columbia line capital cops took over the assignment.

What dates!
A 32-mile ride and not one of the girls bothered her middle with a question. Not one brought up the question of last month's Army-Navy game.

And then the strangest thing happened. When the fleet of cabs reached Washington's busiest intersection the middies ditched their dates.

The dates, you see, were—dolls. The navy men brought them as Christmas presents for the children of Washington's poor.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in a statement expressing the had to rely on an observer's hearing for determining the quality of such things as stress, intonational patterning, accent, emphasis and the length of sounds in languages. Because no two people are said to hear exactly alike, unstable and varying results followed.

The university laboratory is one of the best equipped sound laboratories in the country, and all of the equipment can be applied to study the characteristics of languages.

Most important in the investigations is the photographing of the sound waves of the voice, a process called phonography. While the voice waves are being recorded on film, they are simultaneously being cut on a phonograph record. The double reproduction makes it possible to check the listening method.

Mr. Cowan expects to publish his research results on this subject soon in the form of a practical handbook for classroom use. It will show records of the auditory and scientific analysis side by side.

In the tests native speakers of various languages are recorded speaking their native tongue. Individual speech sounds are measured from the sound waves. Norms for pitch, loudness, quality and duration are determined from these measurements. The information derived from these tests makes it possible to compare the languages comparatively.

Mr. Cowan will present the results of some of this research in papers which he will give at conventions in Chicago during the holiday recess. Mr. Cowan's first paper on "The Actualization of Phonemes in Continuous Discourse" will be given before the Linguistic Society of America Dec. 27.

The paper deals with a linguistic unit, the phonemes, in terms of sound wave analysis made in laboratories. Characteristics of the speech sounds in different languages are ascertained from the sound waves on the film and quantitative comparisons may be made of the languages.

This technique may be applied to any foreign language, Mr. Cowan remarked.

Mr. Cowan's second paper will be given Dec. 29 before a section for experimental phonetics at the meeting of the Modern Language Association of America in Chicago.

The topic of his paper is "An Electro-Acoustical Investigation of French Intonation." This paper gives the results of the research which William Galvin of the Romance languages department and Mr. Cowan have made in the last year on French intonation. This work will be the basis for the handbook which Mr. Cowan will publish.

Mr. Cowan has also written a book, "Pitch and Intensity Characteristics of Stage Speech," which presents one of the most extensive analyses of the English language employing scientific methods yet published.

The main achievement of experimental phonetics has been the introduction of scientific methods to study the languages, but Mr. Cowan hopes that in the future the results gained from such investigations will have an ever increasing importance in the practical problems of foreign language teaching.

Limitations Law Cited by Judge In Tax Ruling

DES MOINES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey ruled today the federal government can collect only $3,707.24 of the $16,459.44 which he held Horace M. Havner, former Iowa attorney general, owes in delinquent income tax.

Judge Dewey's opinion held the $3,707.24 must be collected before Jan. 25, 1938, and that the government can only ask Havner to pay the $12,752.20 balance.

The federal internal revenue bureau sued for $22,496 which it claimed Havner owes in back taxes assessed from July, 1929, to November, 1931.

The ruling, which the judge said is based on the statute of limitations, stops proceeding to enforce the internal revenue bureau's judgment.

Pittman Talks Against Adopting New Amendment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Chairman Pittman (D-NeV) of the senate foreign relations committee predicted today that adoption of the Ludlow constitutional amendment calling for a referendum on war would eventually involve the United States in a "disastrous war."

Pittman said that many house members committed a "thoughtless act" when they signed a petition to force house consideration on the measure, which would make it necessary to hold a plebiscite before war could be declared.

Less than half the people would express an opinion in such a referendum, he asserted, "and that one-half," he asserted, "would inevitably be influenced by violent and misrepresentative propaganda, not only from foreign sources but from subversive forces in our own country."

"It would delay action where action might be necessary. It would destroy the prestige of our government. Instead of preventing war, it would, in my opinion, sometime result in a disastrous war."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Golf professionals who work independently of their clubs do not have to pay social security taxes — but barbers who conform to shop rules and get a percentage of shop receipts are to be regarded as employees and must pay such taxes.

The internal revenue bureau announced these rulings today, and at the same time explained that persons claiming errors in their social security taxes need not protest at the time of payment to get refunds.

In clarifying the status of golf professionals the bureau ruled that pros who give lessons and sell equipment without direction from their clubs can not be re-

Chapter IV

"You've been a Chamberlain and I a Lady-in-waiting — and so why should we not be a Butler and a Maid!"

Tatiana threw her arms about Mikail in high elation as she said it.

"But that was in Petersburg, darling — for the Czar!"

"And this is in Paris — but still for the Czar!"

"My sainted darling!" cried Mikail enthusiastically, as the possibility dawned on him, "I believe you are right! I know we could do it!"

"Certainly, my pigeon! Don't you remember me doing the fair hair of Her Imperial Highness... fetching her gloves... and..."

...and her consort!"

"When can you come to us? We are in a great hurry!"

"We, too... I mean... we could arrange to start... let us say... tonight!"

"Your luggage?"

"It has... er... ceased to exist, madame..."

"We have the clothes of your predecessors... They may not fit!"

"We shall be proud to adjust ourselves, madame," murmured Tatiana sweetly.

"There are four of us here... My husband and myself and our really quite grown-up children, Mademoiselle Helene and Monsieur Georges!"

"Who were your previous employees."

"And I see myself again..."

Mikail broke in, "throwing open the windows of the Imperial Chamber, and announcing, 'Majesty, this morning there is snow!'"

Tatiana hopped from the bed where she had been dancing and ran to him clapping her small hands ecstatically. "We were good servants then," she said, "we will be good servants again!"

"Absolutely, my pigeon! But what about references?"

"We must provide them at once! Sit down and write!" they did so.

They set forth in high spirits — the Russian colors about Tatiana's neck as a scarf — the sword of Alexander III tucked inside Mikail's trouser-leg — the 'want ad' and the references safely put away!

The landlord tried to waylay them but again they evaded him.

M. et Madame Dupont might have advertised for a butler and a maid! Their home was in wild commotion — only old Louise the cook — doing duty as butler, parlormaid and general factotum! Madame needed her hair dressed! Monsieur Charles had lost a shoe! Bells were ringing, buzzers buzzing, telephones shrieking and doors banging! In short, it was a mad-house!

Monsieur coming out from under the bed where he had been looking for the shoe, announced dolefully that he had the worst headache of his lifetime! Madame Fernande threw up her hands. "If it isn't one end of you that's in trouble Charles," she cried "it's the other! And tonight it's both! We shall never get to M. Chauffeurier-Dubieff's house for dinner!"

At this moment Louise announced the applicants for the positions.

Tatiana and Mikail advanced a few steps into the room, he doing his best to conceal the sword. "Sir — Madame" he said with a stiff bow, to which Tatiana added an extremely agreeable, "Good evening!"

"Who were your previous employees?"

"His Excellency, General Prince Ouratloff... and his wife..." said Mikail proudly. "No!" added Tatiana with fine dignity, "Her Imperial Highness, the Grand Duchess Tatiana Petrovna

The questioning finally ended and the deal was consummated. Tatiana was set to arranging Madame's hair, Mikail to hunting Monsieur's shoe! Georges wanted his tie pressed — Helene wanted her gown hooked! All four wanted the same thing at the same moment! Then a shriek from Helene: "Fifi is lost!"

Madame went into a frenzy! Her darling Pekinese! He must be found! Her life will be shattered! Tatiana must look for the darling! Mikail must look! What does the dinner matter! The lost shoe! What does anything matter! If Fifi is not found within five minutes butler and maid will be fired! Tatiana was almost in tears at the prospect! But within a split second of the deadline — in trotted Fifi with the shoe in her mouth!

Delight followed despair. The new servants were marvelous! Mikail offered to telephone to M. Chauffeurier-Dubieff, of the Bank of France that the Duponts would be on hand! They wondered how he knew so great a man! At last Monsieur and Madame were off to the dinner! Georges and Helene upstairs and Tatiana and Mikail in their room. "It is!" sighed Tatiana, "Paradise!"

From their window they could see the cross of a Russian Church and the bells were ringing. "God be praised," said Mikail, "especially for the bed!"

Loud knocking at their door, disclosed young Georges with fencing foils, mask and gloves. "I want you to clean these spees," he said curtly, "I'm using them tonight and I'm late!" When Helene came down with her guitar later, she was amazed to see Georges and Mikail fencing with terrific gusto!

Later there were cocktails of Tatiana's mixing in the kitchen — music of Tatiana's making on the guitar — wild Russian songs in which all joined and much talk of a certain Russian night club (not named) — Not a Bolshevik place where the comrades hailed each other as 'Tovarich' — but a gathering place of the aristocratic refugees — the White Russians! The butler and maid might be going the next night possibly — just to look on! Georges and Helene glanced at each other knowingly!

Protest on School Site Filed With County Superintendent

Morningside Purchase Is Illegal, Cost High, Says Group

Allegations that the purchase of the Morningside site was "illegal" and that the proposed construction cost of the new Iowa City high school is "excessive" are contained in the amended notice of appeal protesting the city school board's selection of the East Iowa City site for the structure.

The protest was filed yesterday with County Supt. Frank J. Snider by John G. Fink, one of 12 Iowa Citizens who are demanding a hearing of the appeal. Attorney D. C. Nolan is their lawyer.

The appeal states that an Iowa law limits schools to five acres, and claims that the Morningside site is 29 acres. It is alleged for that reason that the site is not legally owned by the school district.

Must Be Sold
The Morningside site is "held in trust for the taxpayers," according to the document, "and it must be sold and the money restored to the general school fund."

Fink states in the appeal that he is informed that the board proposes to purchase additional property near the Morningside site, and that the proposed purchase "would be illegal."

"The proposed per-pupil-cost of the school will be more than $800, Fink states that he has been informed. The school's capacity will be 1,000, and it should not exceed $550 per pupil, the appeal claims.

Too Costly
Fink alleges that if small construction contracts are let rather than a general contract, the final cost would be "unreasonable and excessive."

Charges that the board ignored a petition signed by 500 Iowa Citizens demanding a special election for the issuance of bonds for the erection of a school on a central site, were also hurled in the appeal.

Fink alleges that if the school is located on the Morningside site, the pupils would be subject to "inconveniences and hardships."

Too Far
Junior and senior high school pupils in the band or orchestra or physical training classes would have to travel many additional miles daily for practice and study unless separate teaching staffs will be available, at a duplication of the personnel, Fink claims.

Some teachers instruct in both the junior and senior high schools and the erection of the building on the Morningside site would require additional instructors, Fink charges.

"Since some pupils attend both the junior and senior high schools, to require attendance in both buildings would result in another hardship," according to the petition.

To travel between home and the school for evening functions and activities would also be a "hardship" for pupils and their parents, Fink claims.

12 Protesting
The 11 other Iowa Citizens who are protesting with Fink are: Helen J. Thomas, Edna P. Woodburn, Thomas Christensen, Lilian P. Plass, Ralph M. Tarrant, Sue M. Scales, Alfred Altenecker, C. A. Conklin, Oral G. Smith, Gilbert Winkler and Marvin Booth.

They also contend that the building would be impracticable to use for a community center because of its distance from the center of the city. A central site for a community center would be more desirable, they claim.

Fink has been informed, according to the petition, that it is proposed to have only one-half hour recess periods for lunch at the East Iowa City site. The pupils would have to bring their lunches or eat at the school cafeteria, he claims.

Central Location
The savings that could be effected if the school was located centrally, were listed by Fink. He claims they would be:

"Saving in original cost, saving and elimination of cost of additional instructors and teachers, savings in costs of transporting pupils to and from the Morningside site.

"Savings in cost of heating by having a central heating plant, savings in cost of opening, maintaining, improving and paving and buying roadways for new streets to the Morningside site.

"Elimination of an expensive and elaborate cafeteria system in the building and a savings by reason of a great majority of pupils being able to go to their homes for lunch rather than being compelled to either bring or buy lunches at the proposed Morningside site."

Snider to Judge
Snider, who has jurisdiction over the case, will be the sole judge. The only appeal from Snider's decision will be to the state superintendent of education.

The date for hearing is expected to be set soon. Attorney Nolan represents the protesting Iowa Citizens, and the law firm of Dutcher, Ries and Dutcher will represent the board.

The members of the city school board named in the appeal are Dr. George Maresh, president, and W. W. Mercer, Prof. Thomas Caywood, W. R. Horrabin, Dr. W. E. Spence, John M. Kadlec, and Elza Means.

Horrabin resigned from the board Monday. Snider said yesterday that the charges are against the board as a whole rather than against any individual member.

AROUND THE TOWN with MERLE MILLER

Notes on Nothing: Easily the best of the new tunes is "This Little Ripple Had Rhythm," particularly as Shep Fields does it in his Pallmer House broadcasts. . . If you're in Chicago Christmas, be sure to drop in to see Alexander Wolcott's opening performance in "Wine of Choice" at the Great Northern. . . And it's scouted about that Claudette Colbert's "Tovarich" performance is the best thing she's done. . .

Harry Hansen's New York World-Telegram column errs in declaring Look magazine is edited in Des Moines. . . In actuality 90 per cent of the editing is done in the New York office of the publication. . .

The be-whiskered news hawker who peddles his wares on the corner of Dubuque and Washington street has a story sadder than most. . . If he's in a talkative mood, his tale is worth the hearing. . .

Snipe
And it's unbelievable, but a local business man had never heard the snipe story. . . So one recent night a group of friends decided to teach him his lesson, took him eight miles outside town, left him holding the sack. He got back into town about 6 a.m. . .

Burdened by an aching tooth the last two days, I've had a dozen "sure-cure" remedies, none of which have done the trick and to the dentist to find the best temporary relief for an aching molar is a simple clove. . .

One of the sweetest looking old ladies about emerged yesterday afternoon from Governor Kraschel's distillery to tell me she'd bought a supply of spirits for each of her sons. . . "I knew they'd drink," she averred, "so I've always taught them to like the best liquors."

Adoption
A local couple are spending their pre-Christmas days visiting near-by orphanages. . . They plan to have adopted a baby boy before Saturday. . .

And among the joys the more fastidious-mannered will never know is that of an over-excess of catsup for everything from sandwiches to French fries. . . Or even apple pie and cream, which I'm told is frowned on in new editions of Emily Post. . .

I can't remember where I read the report that Mrs. Post has solved that oft-perplexing problem of the crumbs left by hard dinner rolls. . . When she's finished the rolls, an observer reported, she merely scrapes the crumbs into her hand, shakes them a time, throws back her head and joyously tosses them into her mouth. . . It's a precedent to follow. . .

When it comes to fetch-it personalities, my own vote goes to the English theater's box-office girl. . . And Vera Hansen of the city clerk's office has as pleasing a manner as any I know. . .

Voice
For telephone voices, I'd say Night Police Captain Art Schnoebelen's gruff greeting suggests his profession as well as any. . . And Mayor Myron Walker's mild tones are—probably because of his naval commanding — as forceful as any I've heard when he wants something done. . . Most amiable voice I know is that of Charlie Bowman of the chamber of commerce. . .

It may be only my own experience—but it appears that, though many husbands have more education than their wives, rarely is the situation vice versa. . .

And it's my observation that one of the most gruff-mannered employers in the city is allegedly the most hen-pecked in his home.

Miller Elected To Fill Term

School Board Chooses New Member For Vacancy

Verne R. Miller, 423 Melrose court, was unanimously elected to fill the unexpired term of W. R. Horrabin who resigned Monday, at a special meeting of the city school board yesterday.

Miller was a member of the board from 1929 to 1932. He is now deputy Johnson county treasurer. His term of office will expire April 1, 1938.

The new board member is married and has two children, Fletcher, in high school, and Eileen, in Roosevelt grade school.

Federal Agents Say They Will Arrest Rooney

DES MOINES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Federal agents announced tonight they will arrest Dellmar Rooney, 20, of Fairmont, Minn., on a warrant charging him with the robbery of the Iowa Trust and Savings bank branch at Cincinnati, Ia., last Nov. 24.

Rooney is in a serious condition in a Bismark, Mo., hospital, suffering from wounds.

L. M. Chipman, head of the federal bureau of investigation field office here, said Rooney and Robert Burdick, 20, also of Fairmont, have been identified as the bandits who robbed the bank of $715.

Burdick was slain in an attempted drug store robbery at Bismark last Friday. Rooney suffered gunshot wounds in the same robbery, Chipman said.

The warrant for Rooney's arrest was issued by United States Commissioner John R. Hamilton today. It followed a complaint filed by Assistant U. S. District Attorney Clويد Levinger charging Rooney with putting the life of John Browitt, manager of the bank, in jeopardy by threatening Browitt with a revolver.

Warm Weather Halted Short By Cold North Wind

A cold north wind lowered Iowa City temperatures 21 degrees within seven hours yesterday afternoon and threatened to break a short warm spell.

The mercury stayed steady at 37 between midnight and 5 a.m. yesterday, then slumped slightly but rose to 37 at 10 a.m., according to municipal airport weathermen.

The strong wind which traveled between 35 and 40 miles an hour at times lowered the temperature to 16 at 5 p.m.

State Society Picks 2 Iowa Citizens In Election Yesterday

Two Iowa Citizens were elected to membership in the State Historical society at a meeting of the board of curators here yesterday. They are George D. Koser, 480 Golfview, and Lorraine Frick, 715 N. Linn street.

Seven other persons were also elected to membership. One member, Carl Fritz Henning of Boone, was appointed a life member.

I'd formerly admired much walked into a downtown store with her small daughter this week. (The daughter, a nasty-tempered minx, is aged two and-a-half.) . . . Putting the child on the counter and asking an over-busy clerk, "Please watch her," the lady searched for a gift which she couldn't find. . .

Then she stepped out of the store into another near-by, returned to the first store half-an-hour later with a gift she'd purchased and picked up the daughter with not a thanks to the clerk. . .

Workman Sues For $60,000 as Damages

OMAHA, Dec. 22 (AP)—Hugh B. Howland, 34, of Council Bluffs, Ia., filed suit in district court here today asking $60,000 damages from the Tri-States Theaters corporation.

Howland, a railroad car repairer, stated in his petition he was helping a theater employe, Otto Schneiderwind, pull up an asbestos curtain after the evening show Sept. 13, and that a pulley and 250-pound weight struck him after falling 55 feet. He stated he has been in a hospital with a fractured femur since the accident and must remain in the hospital at least four months longer.

Murray Identified
Omaha (AP)—County authorities last night identified the body of a man found hanged by a belt strap from the end of a government river dike on the Iowa side of the Missouri river south of here as that of Mike Murray, 40, Council Bluffs.

Bond Exonerated; Cost Taxed to Johnson County

The case against Mrs. M. A. Faherty, pending since her arrest following the municipal election of March 25, was dismissed by County Attorney Harold W. Vestermark yesterday. Her bond was exonerated, and the cost taxed to Johnson county.

Mrs. Faherty, Iowa City notary public, was accused of improperly acting as a notary by appending her official sign to the absent vote of Mary D. Fulton.

The case was continued March

Iowa City Youth Arrested For Selling Marijuana Cigaretts

Until Brammer Leacox is able to provide a bond of $750, the 19-year-old Iowa Citizen will remain in the Scott county jail in Davenport. Leacox was arrested Tuesday by federal agents on charges of selling marijuana cigarettes, according to Associated Press reports.

When he was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Albert Block on the violation of the federal narcotics act, Leacox pleaded guilty. Commissioner Block bound Leacox over to the next term of the federal court.

The federal agents arrested Leacox after an investigation, made at the request of Chief of Police Bender who reported that the young man was selling the marijuana cigarettes in Iowa City. After he was arrested, Leacox told the federal agents that he picked the weed along the highways, cured it himself, and sold the cigarettes for 20 cents each, the report said.

Leacox was carrying a tobacco can containing two ounces of marijuana weed at the time of his arrest, the report said.
